CABLED FROM FOREIGN LANDS

Violent Gales Prevail on the English Coast—Shipping Has Suffered—Queen's Birthday.

THE ANTI-MISSIONARY RIOTS IN CHINA

Some of the Reformers in Prison at Pretoria Are Seriously Sick—Parliament Rumors—Four Death Sentences Commuted.

London, May 20.—Violent gales have prevailed all along the coast and the shipping at Hull suffered considerably. A large vessel was driven ashore near Port Patrick, Scotland, this morning. It is feared that there has been great loss of life.

CELEBRATING VICTORIA'S BIRTHDAY.

The official celebration of the queen's birthday, which occurs on Sunday, took place today throughout the country and the empire in general. On the parade ground of the horse guards there were the usual ceremonies, which were witnessed by a large crowd of distinguished people, including the Prince and Princess of Wales. The attractiveness of the ceremony was marred by rain.

Anti-Missionary Riots in China.

Shanghai, May 20.—Details regarding the anti-missionary riots at Kiang Yen, on May 12, during which the mission was looted, show that the disturbance was caused by the admission of a native child to the hospital. The mob demanded the child, and upon the refusal of the missionaries to give it up, wrecked the mission buildings, which were American property. The missionaries escaped.

Reformers in Serious Trouble.

New York, May 20.—A special from Cape Town, Cape Colony, says: Captain Mein, an American, one of the Johannesburg reformers in prison at Pretoria, is ill. Buckland, still another of the reformers, is sick with typhoid fever. He has been removed to a hospital. The imprisoned reformers are having a serious time, thirty-two of them being confined in a tin shanty 15x32.

REMOVED PRISONERS HAVE BEEN PARDONED.

London.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Jos. Chamberlain, had not received any news this morning of the final decision of the executive council of the South African republic regarding the commutation of the sentences of the Johannesburg prisoners. It was rumored on the stock exchange that all the prisoners were to be released unconditionally.

A Private Dispatch from Pretoria.

That President Kruger has pardoned fifty-nine of the prisoners condemned to imprisonment and banishment and to a fine of $10,000 each. No mention is made of Rhodes, Hammond, Phillips and Farrar.

FIFTEEN YEARS INSTEAD OF DEATH.

Pretoria.—The sentences of the leaders of the Johannesburg reformers, it was announced today, will stand over for the present and meanwhile sentences of fifteen years' imprisonment have been substituted for the sentences of death imposed on Col. Rhodes, John Hays Hammond, Lionel Phillips, and George Farrar. The other prisoners are discharged.

Gold Exporters at Work.

New York, May 20.—Heidelberg, Lohle, and Co. will ship $500,000 in gold coin to-morrow. Other leading shippers expect to send out gold.

Cleveland Strike Ended.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 20.—The 1,000 men, who have been idle ten days as a result of the strike at the ship-yards of the Globe Iron company, returned to work today. The company submitted a proposition offering a substantial advance in wages, and after an hour's discussion the men voted to return to work on condition that all be taken back.

STRIKE OVER AT KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City.—The striking firemen of the Armour Packing plant, who went out on May 6 for increased wages and fewer hours, compromised their differences today. They lifted the boycott against the company's meats and will return to work to-morrow morning. One thousand or more employees of the different departments, who were laid off because of the lack of work, will be reinstated. The firemen get an increase of 15 cents an hour for eight hours, practically all they demanded.

Another Cyclone in Kansas.

Wichita, Kans., May 20.—Reports from Rock, Cowley county, where five houses were demolished by a cyclone late yesterday, are to the effect that no one was killed and nobody was seriously injured.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE

is SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. Don't forget to take it. Now is the time you need it most to wake up your liver. A sluggish liver brings on Malaria, Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, and many other ills which shatter the constitution and wreck health. Don't forget the word REGULATOR. It is SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR you want. The word REGULATOR distinguishes it from all other remedies. And, besides this, SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is a Regulator of the Liver, keeps it properly at work, that your system may be kept in good condition.

FOR THE BLOOD take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. It is the best blood purifier and corrector. Try it and note the difference. Look for the RED Z on every package. You want find it on any other medicine, and there is no other Liver remedy like SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR—the King of Liver Remedies.

Object Lesson for Goldbugs.

New York, May 20.—Dresser & Goodridge, commission merchants, have attached the Goodridge Rubber company, of Newport, R. I., for $165,000. Dresser & Goodridge have only a slight interest in the company, but have made advances of money on goods manufactured. A hasty examination of the rubber company's affairs showed that it was unable to meet its liabilities.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Book Agents at Cincinnati and New York—Sale of Liquors in National Capital Denounced—Bancroft and Theatre Going.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 20.—The Methodist conference has re-elected Louis Curtis and H. C. Jennings book agents at Cincinnati and Dr. Mains agent at New York with Dr. Eaton.

Resolutions denouncing the disgraceful sale of intoxicating liquors in the capital at Washington, and recommending the bill reported by the house committee prohibiting it, were adopted.

The committee on state of the church reported in favor of no change in the rule prohibiting the use or encouragement of liquor, dancing, games of chance, theater going, circuses and horse races.

The recommendation was greeted with great applause and adopted.

NATIONAL POLITICS.

ONLY HIS SPEECHES QUOTED.

New York.—A World special from Canton, Ohio, says: "William McKinley issued a circular letter to-night of 5,000 words 'defining' his position on the money question in answer to the universal demand, 'Where do you stand on the supreme issue of the year?' The answer which he makes is, in effect, that he is afraid to tell. The circular contains nothing but extracts from his speeches in congress and upon the stump, and these speeches are absolutely unintelligible as bearing upon the present issue. They contain sentences which have been used by silver advocates in the far west to the wildest expressions of joy and they also contain declarations which any sound money man in the east can cordially approve. Nothing in the speeches tells where McKinley now stands. His eastern friends are absolutely sure that he is for gold. His far western friends are equally sure that he is very friendly to silver and really opposed to the single gold standard.

"The circular which the soon-to-be Republican nominee for president has sent out was compiled by Private Secretary Boyle under McKinley's personal direction and was mailed in envelopes marked 'Return to box 143, Canton, Ohio, which is McKinley's private box.'

IF THE GOLDBUGS CONTROL.

Washington.—If the sound money men control at Chicago Senator David B. Hill will write the Democratic platform. The senator, for personal reasons, is anxious to perform this office, and the sound money leaders are willing that he be so honored. The personal reasons which actuate Senator Hill have to do with his contest for the senatorship in New York. He is anxious to get into the national platform three planks which he believes will help him in his fight for the senatorship. One is to declare against all currency legislation; the second is to pronounce the A. P. A. an un-American organization, and the third is to favor local option.

Senator Hill believes that with these three planks in the national platform and a declaration for sound money the Democrats can triumph in New York. He will then succeed himself as United States senator.

ANTI-MCKINLEYITES TO UNITE ON ALLISON.

Washington.—Thomas C. Platt, of New York, came over to Washington and was driven directly to Senator Quay's house. A conference was held at the Quay mansion between prominent anti-McKinley men. It is reported that an understanding was reached that unless McKinley's failure in the convention was assured that the anti-McKinleyites would unite on Allison and rest on the hope that western pride would bring votes to the Iowa statesman when it became apparent that the swinging of a few western states would nominate him.

As a Base Ball Town.

Santa Fe is a base ball town through and through, from the Mexican and Indian boys who peep through the knot holes in the fence, to the governor who usually sakes for the score in the evening. Base ball is the topic of the day over there, the slang of the different favorites in the team, the antics of some would-be Latham are all gone over in a manner that would make the national league players turn green with envy. In a city of cathedrals and church institutions, such as Santa Fe, one would scarcely expect to find Sunday base ball, but the Santa Feans do not seem to notice anything unusual when the good Brothers of the Catholic school for boys, clothed in their priestly robes, with white and spotless bibs, marched with reverential tread from the church buildings to the grand stand, keeping in line some 500 boys, who were given comfortable seats in the amphitheater.—Las Vegas Optic.

PERSONAL.

At the Exchange: T. C. Long, Hillsboro; J. P. Sands, Walla Walla; A. P. Wagner, Topeka.

Mrs. M. P. Moore left last night for a six weeks' visit to her mother who resides near Wichita, Kas.

Mrs. Catherine Darnell has gone to Keen's Canon, A. T., to enter upon her duties in the Indian school there.

Mr. Ernest Meyers, of Albuquerque, treasurer of the bureau of immigration, was a pleasant caller at the New Mexican sanatorium this afternoon.

Dr. J. M. Harris, special agent for the D. & R. G. road, left for Denver yesterday after a pleasant visit to the historic city. He is a business man through and through.

NATIONAL CAPITAL BUDGET

Enormous Accumulation of United States Gold Coins in Coffers of Russia.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL DISAGREEMENT

Senator Gorman Has Offered an Amendment to Fortifications Bill Authorizing Issue of Certificates of Indebtedness by Treasury.

Washington, May 20.—The state department has received a report from United States Consul General Karel, at St. Petersburg, that he had seen no less than $300,769,119 in United States gold coin in the coffers of the Russian government. When he asked how this amount of United States gold came to be in the hands of the Russian government, the consul informed him that the Russian minister of finance had purchased it at Berlin, Paris and London.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL DISAGREEMENT.

The conference on the river and harbor bill has decided to report a disagreement on the Santa Monica and San Pedro deep water harbor amendment. The contention of the house is that, in case the commission provided for in the senate amendment should report in favor of San Pedro, it would give that place two large contracts. It is claimed by the house conferees that the commission should report to congress that all the other items have been agreed to.

CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS PROPOSED.

Senator Gorman has offered an amendment to the fortifications bill in the senate providing for the issuing of certificates of indebtedness in denominations of $20, $50 and $100, bearing interest at 3 per cent per annum, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, not to exceed $100,000,000. The certificates are to be issued by the secretary of the treasury when authorized by the president. The certificates are to pay the appropriations of this congress or the last.

Mr. Gorman said that he had submitted the amendment to the committee on appropriations and it had been rejected. He thought the amendment was subject to a point of order.

Mr. Mills, of Texas, made a point of order. He said that congress should not adjourn without making some provision for the treasury.

Mr. Sherman said that this important matter should not be considered without a quorum and a roll call was ordered.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

Dry Weather, High Winds and Cold Nights Have Retarded Growth of All Kinds of Vegetation—Rain Much Needed.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Weather Bureau, Santa Fe, N. M., May 19, 1896.)

The week ending May 18th, which is the three preceding weeks, was characterized by extremely dry weather, high winds and generally cold nights. Sharp frosts occurred on several nights, which, in some localities, were very injurious to fruit, especially grapes. The heaviest frost of 0.20 of an inch at Santa Fe, and this was quickly dried out by high dry winds.

Unless rain and warm weather come soon most crops will suffer severely. The relative humidity has been extremely low so far this month and the records at Santa Fe station show only three days this month that the relative humidity has been above 2 per cent at 6 p. m.

Crops have made scarcely any progress during the past week and in some localities have been blighted by the dry winds and cold nights.

The stock ranges are growing worse every day and stock falling off. It appears that fruit has been severely injured all over the territory and in some localities practically destroyed.

The following extracts from a few of the reports received at this office will be found of interest:

Aztec.—Prof. H. H. Griffin.—High winds and frosts have been very detrimental to vegetation. The severe frost on the 10th proved to be very destructive of small and tree fruits and injured all vegetation except the most hardy. This has been an exceptionally cold, windy and dry spring.

Old Albuquerque.—A. Montoya.—Strong winds all the week. Killing frosts on the 12th and 13th. All crops set back by recent frosts. Grapes badly injured. Plenty of water in the acequias.

Bernalillo.—Brother Gabriel.—Cold nights and dry weather all this week. Crops about on a standstill. Little progress noticed in any shape. Grapes vines in many localities much injured by frost.

Corrales.—Brother Gabriel.—Cold nights and dry weather all this week. Crops about on a standstill. Little progress noticed in alfalfa during past week, while in past years it was ready for cutting at this time. Potatoes doing pretty well up to present time. Fruit all gone in general with the exception of a few apples.

Cliff.—C. J. Clark.—The frost on the night of the 11th killed all the corn and vegetables. Range very dry, water in the Gila getting lower. Stock falling off for want of feed on the ranges. Windy days and cold nights. Vegetation makes slow progress.

Engle.—E. J. Westervelt.—Windy most of the week. Very dry, effects of which is being felt by the cattle on the range.

Espanola.—F. H. Leese.—From 11th to 14th inclusive the wind was very dry and cold. From 15th to 17th the weather much warmer, first good growing weather we have had this spring. Crops are at least four weeks behind. No rain has fallen. Water keeps up in ditches yet. Wind has blown more or less every day this week.

Farmington.—J. G. Willett.—Cool weather with cool nights. Alfalfa growing slowly. No rain and west winds. Plenty of water for irrigation in the river. Everybody planting corn. Everything will be late. Considerable fruit still blooming.

Hillsboro.—E. A. Nickle.—General complaint from everybody and everywhere that the high winds and cold nights are delaying all vegetation of every kind and in some exposed districts has simply blighted and dried up tender plants and vegetables.

Galinas Springs.—J. E. Whitmore.—The past week has been so dry and windy that nothing is growing. Corn planted on the 20th of last month just coming up, will dry out entirely if no rain comes.

Gila.—C. H. Lyons.—No rain yet, range very dry and cattle looking poorly.

Plenty of water in the ditches for irrigation. Farmers busy getting in their crops. The frost on the 10th and 11th did considerable damage to early vegetables. There will be no fruit in this vicinity this year.

Lower Gila Valley.—J. E. Casper.—This has been a late spring with high winds and cold nights. The frost on the 10th did considerable damage to early vegetables. There will be no fruit in this vicinity this year.

Las Cruces.—Fabian Garcia.—The week has been quite windy and on the whole clear and no precipitation has occurred. Vegetation did not make any noticeable growth and tender plants injured some by winds. The low relative humidity dryness of the winds were noticeable in the withering of vegetation. First crop of alfalfa is being cut.

Las Vegas.—Dr. F. H. Atkins.—Although we had 0.11 of an inch of rain the 11th, the weather has been windy and on four or five nights tolerably sharp frosts have occurred. The total result has been unfavorable for agriculture, but reports of serious damage do not come in.

Los Alamos.—Wm. Frank.—A slight rain in the afternoon of 12th. All kinds of grain and vegetables backward from dry winds. If rain does not come soon it will be hard upon sheep men. Cold spells killing many of the lambs as soon as they are dropped.

Los Lunas.—R. Pohl.—Frost on the 13th inst. destroyed almost all the grapes. High wind nearly every day during the week. Farmers are planting corn. Wheat and alfalfa growing very slowly.

Lower Pecos.—H. von Boese.—Warm days, nights pleasant, hot, dry southwest winds blowing nearly all the week. Crops doing well, corn making good progress, small grains doing splendidly. Don't think there are any peaches on trees and cherries and apples. The writer has strawberries the size of marbles and Crandall currants fast ripening. Vegetables making good growth.

Oente.—E. M. Cosner.—The weather the past week has been generally unfavorable for crops, grass and fruit, with freezing temperature and high winds. All kinds of fruit are totally destroyed in this section. Rain is very much needed and very soon to make wheat.

Puerto de Luna.—P. R. Page.—The week has been cold, dry and windy, and growth of all kinds of plants has been very slow. A great many lambs have been lost on account of cold, dry winds.

Rincon.—C. H. Raitt.—There is general complaint among farmers here of crops being backward. The yield of wheat will be materially lessened and corn planting has been delayed. Ranges need rain badly.

Springer.—Dr. L. Hines.—High winds and cool weather. Nearly all fruit killed by frosts and winds. Crops that are planted not growing. Rain badly needed. Plenty water yet for irrigation.

MURDERERS CONVICTED.

Paris, Texas, May 20.—The shanty boat murder case, in which Silas Lee and Hickman Freeman are charged with killing Ed T. Canary, Jeff Daddow and Panley Redgate, of Red River, near Arthur City, on the night of November 13, 1894, was tried yesterday morning. The jury finding both men guilty. The men attempted to escape while being taken from jail to the court room yesterday morning.

Socorro Democrats.

A convention of the Democratic party of the county of Socorro is called to meet in the city of Socorro on Tuesday, the 4th day of June, for the purpose of electing nine delegates to the territorial convention of the Democratic party to be held in Las Vegas on June 15, 1896. The precinct primaries will take place on Monday evening next.

Produce Your Authority.

"News comes from Santa Fe that Felix Griego, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary for rape and murder, has been pardoned by the governor, besides those who control, was Governor Thornton, the name to be granted on the 28th ult, provided these votes would be thrown to the Democrats in the recent city election, over there. They were, but the pardon has not yet been granted."

The above appears in the Las Vegas Optic at hand this morning. The governor was called upon and asked about it. He said:

"This is all news to me. I didn't know there was such an individual in the penitentiary. I never before heard of him or of this affair, and I defy the Optic or anybody else to substantiate the statements set forth in that paragraph."

Sterry to Be Promoted.

W. J. Hunsaker, solicitor of the Southern California railroad, with headquarters at Los Angeles, has resigned. The Los Angeles Express says: "His successor has not yet been named, but it is thought that C. M. Sterry, general attorney of the Atlantic & Pacific with headquarters at Albuquerque, will be appointed to fill the vacancy."

It is understood here to-day that Judge Sterry has been appointed and will henceforth be located at Los Angeles. As to who becomes attorney for the A. & P. "deponent sayeth not."

In the territorial district court at Socorro a large number have pleaded guilty, says the Advertiser. The record to date is as follows: Frank Vincent, one year for horse stealing; Pablo Tribuna, two years for horse stealing; received one year for burglary; Fred Watson, one year for burglary; Mateo Kuegel, eighteen months for robbery; Milano Jaramilla is sentenced to penitentiary for life for outraging and killing an old woman at Polvadera.

The case of the territory against Elfigo Bec, for assault to kill, is occupying considerable time, as the defense desires to invalidate the indictment, claiming that Benjamin Sanchez, foreman of the grand jury, is disqualified because of holding a United States commission as postmaster and Pablo Padilla because of his age.—Socorro Advertiser.

TUESDAY, MAY 19.

DEMOCRATIC CALL.

HEADQUARTERS DEMOCRATIC Territorial Central Committee, Santa Fe, May 2, 1896.

Whereas, At a meeting of the Democratic territorial central committee, held at the city of Santa Fe on the 5th day of February, 1896, it was ordered that a territorial convention be held at Las Vegas on June 15, 1896, for the purpose of electing six delegates to the national Democratic convention to be held at Chicago on July 7, 1896.

Now, therefore, pursuant to said order, and in accordance with the general authority in us vested, a convention of the Democratic party of New Mexico is hereby proclaimed to be held at Las Vegas on June 15, 1896, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., to be constituted according to the order of this committee made at its said meeting as follows, to-wit: One delegate from each county for each 100 votes cast for Antonio Joseph for delegate to congress at the last general election, and one delegate for each fraction of 100 votes so cast amounting to 50 or more.

Upon this apportionment of delegates, so authorized, the various counties will be entitled to delegates to said convention, as follows:

Bernalillo county	12
Chavez county	2
Colfax county	2
Dona Ana county	12
Eddy county	4
Grant county	4
Guadalupe county	4
Lincoln county	6
Mora county	6
Rio Arriba county	16
San Juan county	2
San Miguel county	2
Santa Fe county	15
Sierra county	3
Socorro county	3
Taos county	9
Union county	5
Valencia county	5

Total delegates.....135
The county central committees of the respective counties are hereby requested to call county conventions to be held in due time for the selection of the authorized number of delegates to said territorial convention in accordance with the rules and regulations, or the usages and practices of the party in each county. It is suggested that primaries be held in the various counties not later than May 30, and that the county conventions be held not later than June 6, 1896.

In carrying out the orders of this committee at its said meeting, all Democrats and all those who intend to act with the Democratic party are hereby invited to participate in the primaries in the respective counties.

In view of the great weight which the Democratic delegation from this territory had in the last national convention in the selection of candidates for president and vice president, and in view of the magnitude of the interests involved in the coming national convention and of the recurring possibility for the exercise of potent influence by New Mexico's delegation, particularly in silver's cause, the Democrats in all counties are urged to make their voices heard in the primaries and in the county conventions to the end that our territorial convention may be a largely attended and representative one, thus assuring the election of a delegation to the national convention composed of Democracy's strongest and truest sons. This is a vital year for silver's cause and it is the hope of this committee that New Mexico Democrats will take a vital part, beginning down at the primaries.

RAFAEL ROMERO, J. H. CRIST, Secretary, Chairman.

Hvs KISTLER is doing some clean and clever editorial work on the Optic these days. Wonder if the people over there appreciate it!

It is encouraging to note that Boston has caught on to the fact that J. J. Hagerman is about to extend his Pecos Valley road northeast to the Texas Panhandle as "a feeder for the Santa Fe."

Gov. STOVER should read Gov. Hadley's book, "Danger Line Reached," before he again writes to the Albuquerque Citizen eulogizing Gov. McKinley. Here is a case where the Republican governors appear to differ most decidedly.

It is probable that Christ never would have been crucified if he hadn't cast the money changers out of the temple. The silver men are now attempting to do precisely what the peerless Nazarene did nearly 1900 years ago and the modern money changers would crucify every mother's son of them if they could.

In all the McKinley announcements New Mexico is put down for four votes in the national convention, but there is no dead sure thing but that the other two will be in a better fix to get at the pie-counter in St. Louis than these four. The Boston, New York and Philadelphia Republican press is making a bitter fight on McKinley, and it seems that the fun has only just commenced.

The New York Post sent a reporter out to interview the New York bankers on McKinley a few days ago. Eleven were seen and asked this question: "Would you be satisfied with the nomination of McKinley for president on his record on the currency question as it stands today?" Six expressed themselves in the negative; one announced his intention of voting for McKinley if nominated, and four declined to answer.

A vast number of very pious people of all varieties of religious professions, who were unutterably shocked at the atrocious treatment of the Armenians by the Turks, do not seem to be in the least disturbed by the equally barbarous treatment the Cubans are receiving from Butcher Weyler and the cruel Spanish soldiers who do his brutal bidding. It is the old, old story. Mrs. Jellyby was so intensely occupied in providing little stockings and drawers for the heathen children in remote Borrioboola-Gha that she had positively no time to attend to such absurd and frivolous matters as the urgent needs of her own children.

REPUBLICAN EXTRAVAGANCE.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND may have an opportunity to put a veto on a bill which emphasizes the fact that members of congress are not above grabbing fat perquisites if nobody is looking. A bill was railroaded through the house of representatives last week which provides for the payment to each member of $100 per month for clerk hire during the recesses of congress. Although it was reported from committee with an adverse recommendation, this bill was put through by a vote of 130 to 112. This raid on the treasury will amount to $216,000 if the bill should receive senatorial and presidential sanction. These freebooters of congress are going too far. If there are any members among them who feel that they can not afford the luxury of a clerk while congress is not in session, they might either work a little themselves or resign. There would be little difficulty in finding substitutes to fill out their terms. The people are in no humor to indorse a further depletion of a slim treasury by their elected servants.

PRESS COMMENT.

A Green Lieutenant's Mistake.
It is reported that a great lieutenant named Averill, just out from West Point, so far forgot the traditions of the army, the articles of war and the respect he owed his superior officers as to follow on an Indian trail fast enough to catch the Indians who made it, and having caught up with the Indians charged their camp, killing one Indian, scattering the rest and capturing a squaw and the camp outfit. The lieutenant will probably be cashiered. The Wilcox News says this took place somewhere between the Southern Pacific road and the City of Mexico, and intimates it was across the border. This is supposed to be the same gang that murdered Alfred Hand, and that Masas, the man who escaped from the soldiers in Kansas, at the time Geronimo was taken east, is a member of the gang.—Lordsburg Liberal.

REWARD.

Whereas, Frank Reitz was recently found and brutally murdered near Gallinas Springs, in the county of San Miguel, by unknown parties, who are fugitives from justice;

Now, therefore, for the purpose of procuring the arrest of the perpetrators of this crime, I, W. T. Thornton, governor of the territory of New Mexico, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby offer a reward of five hundred dollars ($500) for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of Reitz, such reward to be payable out of any money in the territorial treasury appropriated for the payment of rewards for the forty-seventh (47) fiscal year.

Done at the executive office, this the 14th day of May, A. D. 1896.
Witness my hand and the great seal of the territory of New Mexico.

W. T. THORNTON, Governor of the Territory of N. M.
By the governor: LORION MILLER, Secretary of New Mexico.

ECZEMA
From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure.

NEW MEXICAN PRINTING COMPANY.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.
The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.
Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.
The cultivation of canebrake—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.
The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.
Lands with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant and at times rapid, increase in value.
The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Feliz section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

SUNBEAMS.

A Saco (Mr. girl) has a pet pig which she leads about the streets as other girls sometimes lead a poodle. The pig is young and wears a broad bow of scarlet ribbon about its neck. It ambles along contentedly as a poodle would, except when its mistress walks take it past an inviting puddle, when there is usually a sharp and noisy struggle for a minute or two before the poodle can be persuaded to pursue its promenade.

A Disastrous Failure.

Financial convulsions which disturb the equilibrium of the business world are productive of far less mischief than the failure of the kidneys to perform the office assigned to them by nature. When these organs become inactive the circulation acquires impurities which bring on dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel, catarrh of the bladder and other maladies. To impart to the kidneys and bladder a healthy impetus, very different from the excitement produced by a non-medicated alcoholic stimulant, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest diuretic in existence. This excellent remedy for inactivity of the kidneys is also of the greatest service in malarial, dyspeptic, bilious and rheumatic troubles, and has received the unqualified sanction of eminent physicians. The nervous, the elderly and infirm and convalescents derive unspeakable benefit from its use. Use it with persistence and at fixed intervals, and anticipate with confidence the happiest results.

The news editor prepared an article in which he said: Mr. Dash is hopelessly ill. Before going to press Mr. Dash, died and a hasty obituary notice was made in the paper. When Mr. Dash's friends read in their paper that Mr. Dash is hopelessly dead, they were naturally shocked.

How to Treat a Wife.

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders in chasing from her brow all clouds of gloom.—To this we would add always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. It is the best and is sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. For sale by Ireland's pharmacy.

A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by Ireland's pharmacy."

For your Protection.—Catarrh "Cures" or Tonics for Catarrh in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodine of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by sudden change to cold damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and, if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrh will follow: severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, loss of hearing, and offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to allay inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

Eczema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases it can be permanently cured by applications of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure Piles. Newton's drug store.

Shall they be vanishing, faded with bliss? No, by the gods! We will blot out the score.—Frank Payne in Academy.

SAMBUK'S FORTUNE.

Trophime Cogolin, generally known in the district as Master Trefume, had so often related the story of Uncle Sambuk and his fortune that he had finally come to believe it himself. The simple truth of the matter was that Peter Sambuk, a ne'er do well who had given his parents no end of trouble, had shipped as an ordinary seaman on a three master one fine day in the year of grace 1848, and had never been seen or heard of since. These hard facts were too ridiculously simple for the worthy friends and relations of the vanished Peter. They could not understand how any one could set out for America without reaching that continent and making his fortune. So the worthy people gradually evolved the idea that Uncle Sambuk had gone and done likewise and would one day return rolling in riches—of course, to die in due time and leave his fortune to them.

So the years rolled by, and Uncle Sambuk's fortune grew bigger in the imagination of his people. The older relatives died, and Master Trefume became heir to his uncle. Now, it happened one day that Trefume met a sailor whose acquaintance he had made a year or so previously. This man had just returned from a voyage to the States, and Trefume seized the opportunity to offer him a glass of brandy (contraband) and ask him if he had heard of Uncle Sambuk while on the other side. The sailor, probably out of politeness, and in order to please Trefume and his wife, informed them that he had a distinct recollection of having on several occasions met an individual (on the quays of New York) who was undoubtedly very wealthy indeed and was the exact image of Sambuk. Trefume and his wife, however, could no longer be any doubt that Uncle Sambuk had reached America and made his pile, as any other reasonable person would do.

On the following day Trefume again met the sailor—or perhaps it was the sailor who met Trefume at the meeting. Be that as it may, the result of the meeting was another glass of brandy for the sailor, further questions about Uncle Sambuk and a confidential communication to the effect that the stranger in New York was really the long lost Peter, for he had spoken to the man concerning his relatives and had dropped mysterious hints as to his intentions toward them.

The Trefumes became the envious ones of the neighborhood. Uncle Sambuk and his fortune—especially his fortune—were the chief topic of conversation for many a day among the inhabitants of the whole district. The Trefumes lived happy and contented, patiently waiting the time when they would have their share of the millions amassed by Peter Sambuk.

A few months passed away. One morning when Trefume was least expecting it he received a letter from New York. The letter bore the seal of the French embassy. Trefume carried this precious letter about with him all day without breaking the seal in order to show it to his friends. Not till the evening in the presence of his wife and children did he venture to open it. It was somewhat bulky—probably it contained bank notes. The papers were taken carefully from the envelope and proved to be—Sambuk's death certificate and a brief note from the embassy.

"So he is dead!" said his wife. "Of course he is," replied Trefume. "Doesn't the ambassador say so?" There was silence. None of them had known the dead man, but they had thought so much about him that it seemed as though they had been on intimate terms with him, and they were able to squeeze out a tear.

"The ambassador doesn't say anything about the fortune," observed Trefume's better half, wiping her eyes. "I suppose you want him to tell us all about it straight off before the man is fairly dead," replied Trefume sarcastically. "We can wait, and he knows it. He'll write again in a day or two."

He looked again at the envelope and noticed that it was addressed to "M. Sambuk or M. Cogolin." As all the Sambuks were dead and he was the only Cogolin it was natural that the letter should have been delivered to him, and the vagueness of the address did not inspire in the simple man any misgivings as to the fortune any more than did the brief note from the embassy.

But, strange to say, the ambassador omitted to write that other letter. As time went on surprise deepened into anxiety; a veritable fever—a gold fever—took possession of them; they lost interest in everything; they could think of nothing but Sambuk's millions and wonder what had become of them. At length their anxiety reached such a pitch that Trefume announced his intention of undertaking a journey to New York—a decision which met with the full approval of all concerned.

"I shan't be away more than a month—or two," said Trefume, "and the boy can look after the boat. A hundred francs won't break us. Besides I know I will be ill if I don't go and see what's going on over there." I have said that every one approved the decision. I may add that, had it been otherwise, it would have made no difference. When Trefume got an idea into his head, it wanted some getting out. He traveled to Havre and embarked on a vessel bound for New York. He knew absolutely nothing of the great city which he was approaching. He could not speak the language. He was as helpless as a child in a wood. He began to get very anxious and looked around for somebody to confide in and obtain assistance from. He tried the under steward, a fellow countryman, but the latter was too busy to be bothered. Trefume, however, refused to be shaken off, and the under steward, in desperation, glanced about for somebody to whom he could refer the persistent fisherman, and so got rid of him. "Here," he said, pointing to two of the passengers. "Those are the men to help you. They know New York so well that they could lead their way blindfold where in the city. Try them."

Trefume looked at the men and thanked his compatriots heartily. He was delighted at the thought of meeting two people who were so well acquainted with New York. They were two shifty looking Yankees, who had been left very severely alone on the voyage. He went toward the two passengers, who, after exchanging a word or two between themselves, walked away before he could reach them. Trefume walked after them, but they still avoided him and began conversing earnestly together. The fisherman hesitated. He thought they had something private on, and he did not wish to intrude. He never entered his head that they were avoiding him. He did not intend to lose his chance, so he continued to walk after them at a respectable distance. Two or three times, when he thought the moment opportune, he approached them, hat in hand, and attempted to speak to them in his best French, but was met with a scowl and a growl which made him retire. He put it down to American, or English, manners, and, with a sigh, he withdrew for a few minutes.

The two Americans were evidently much perplexed at the strange conduct of their fellow passenger. They were worried about it, but finally they spoke to the under steward concerning Trefume. The official was more busy than ever, but was foud of a joke and thought he might as well enliven the routine of the day by a little fun.

"You know that there has been a big robbery in Paris," he said in a confidential whisper. "Well, I wouldn't mind betting that this man is Jean Ernest, the cleverest detective in France, who is on the track of the thieves and has disguised himself as a fisherman from the south."

The two men looked at each other, thanked the under steward and dived into the cabin, from which they only emerged when the ship was actually alongside the quay. Poor Trefume looked for them in vain. They got off the steamer unobserved by him, and he was left to find his way about New York as best he could.

How he went through the rest of that day, where he lodged at night, he never knew. He began again on the following day looking for the embassy, asking the way in his provincial French and being laughed at and treated with contempt as an impostor until, sick at heart and thoroughly discouraged, he sat down on a doorstep and began to cry. Uncle Sambuk might have journeyed to his native country to die and thus have made things easier for his heir.

After a few minutes he plucked up courage and determined to try again. He had just reached the street when he saw one of the Americans to whom the under steward had referred him on the steamer. He had changed his clothes and cut off his beard, but Trefume was positive that was the same man.

"Monsieur, monsieur!" he cried, running toward the man. Whether the man heard the words or not, he took to his heels as soon as he saw the Frenchman running.

What Trefume thought to himself in an indignant rage, the man knows New York as well as I know Endoume, and he won't help me. I'll see about that." Away they went, the American and Trefume. In vain the former doubled his corner and that. His pursuer stuck to him until, thoroughly exhausted, the American took refuge in a bar and awaited the arrival of his pursuer.

"So I have you at last," exclaimed the Frenchman. "Why did you run away and give me all this trouble? Now you must—" "Hush!" interrupted the American, turning his eyes to the door. "Don't make a fuss," he continued in excellent French. "That will be of no use. Come and sit down in this corner."

"Ah, that's better," thought Trefume. But he simply looked knowingly at the man and took a seat.

"I know what you have come to New York for," said the man. "Good again!" thought the fisherman, but before he could speak the American continued:

"We can arrange this little affair, can't we, without further delay?" "Of course, we can!" exclaimed Trefume, thinking still that the man was talking about Uncle Sambuk's fortune. "That's agreed. Now, how much do you want?"

"My fair share, of course!" replied the Frenchman. "I'll give you this pocketbook—it has 100,000 francs in French notes—I have not had time to exchange them for American money. They are good. You need not be afraid that they are bad or stopped. Will that satisfy you?"

One hundred thousand francs! It was an immense sum, but was it a fair share? How much was Uncle Sambuk worth?

"Is that my fair share?" asked Trefume doubtfully. "How much do you expect?" asked the other irritably. "It was a good thing, but it wasn't a gold mine, and there are several to share it. It's either that or nothing!"

"Well, I'll take it!" said Trefume, beginning to fear that he might lose all. "Very well. Now, you have this on condition that you go back in the Bretagne, and the Bretagne starts in two hours. And, remember, you have never seen me!"

"Done!" exclaimed Trefume. The pocketbook was handed to him, and he scrutinized the notes. They were all right. He tried to explain it all to himself. He was not clear on some points, but the more he tried to think it out the more confused he became. Only one thing was clear—he had succeeded in getting a good slice of Uncle Sambuk's fortune and was now a rich man.

They remained where they were for an hour, then the American went with him to procure a ticket, saw him safely on board and watched him until the ship started on its voyage across the Atlantic. Thus it came about that Master Trefume, having had the good fortune to be taken for a detective, became the heir of Uncle Sambuk, who had died penniless in a hospital a few weeks before.

As to Trefume, he was never able to arrive at any proper understanding of the affair, but he did not worry himself much on that head. Later on, when he had given up work and done a week's coast, he used to shake his head and declare, with much gravity, that in business matters those American fellows were far ahead of any other people. See how quickly they settled that little matter of Uncle Sambuk's fortune.—Strand.

Presence of Mind.

Peasby (concluding story)—Thus I was saved by mere presence of mind. Bolger (gloomily)—Great thing, presence of mind. I might have been a rich man today if my presence of mind had not failed me at one time.

Pugsby—Indeed! When was that? Bolger—You remember my Uncle George—rich old duffer. Well, sir, I was with him one day when he was taken with a fit. I was so frightened that I lost my presence of mind and called in a doctor, and Uncle George is living yet.—London Fun.

Did you ever think how readily the blood is poisoned by constipation? Bad blood means bad health and premature old age. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills, overcome obstinate constipation. Newton's drug store.

Bobby (presenting a friend)—Mamma, do you see Tommy Jones? Mamma—Yes, Bobby, but I met Tommy before. Did you know him? Bobby—But you know him, that you said yesterday that I was the naughtiest boy you ever saw. So I wanted you to see Tommy Jones.

SEEMS sometimes as if all the wrong seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things we eat, and indigestion follows. Let us have a gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature helps her best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them, when you have eaten something that disagrees with you. They are not violent in their effect, do not derange the system at all, and may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favor. You can get the "Pellets" at any drug store. If you are a country doctor, an unscrupulous druggist sell you something on which he makes more money, it is your own fault if you do not get well.

—ABSOLUTELY— A GREAT BOOK GIVEN AWAY! Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book of 1008 large pages and contains over 300 illustrations—some of them in color. It is a complete family doctor book. It is written simply and concisely, and is indexed so that reference to it is made easily and quickly. Over 600,000 copies have been sold at the regular price of $1.50. The profits on this enormous sale enable the publishers to distribute 50,000 copies absolutely FREE. A copy bound in strong paper covers, with therefore be sent gratis to any one who will send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. GEMS IN VERSE.

To the Laborer. The skilled mechanic of years ago. Fruit of a practical workaday age. Keen of eye, but with afternoon show. Often a looker-on at the great things, He nuzzled away. Heigh ho!

One man turned out the family shoes, Several sizes of varied design. And the sturdy farmer learned to use Tools that the various trades combine. No chance would he refuse.

To throw a lever and pull a wire Makes not a ripple on sea of thought. To some ideal man must aspire. That hand is shaping around has caught. That he never dream of tire.

Study kind nature's fair, open page; Enter and dwell in the world of books; Then seat labor will build thee no cage. And mind, unfettered like limpid brook, Shall bring a forthright foe.

—Arthur Howard Hall.

In School Days. A roused ledger summing by the road, A roused ledger summing by the road, Around it still the suns grow. And blackberry vines are running.

Within the master's desk is seen, Deep scarred by raps official; The warping floor, the battered seats, The jackknives carved initial.

The charcoal frescoes on its wall; Its doer's worn sill, betraying The feet that, creeping slow to school, Went storming out to playing.

Long years ago a winter sun Shone over it at setting, Lit up its western window panes And low eaves' icy fretting.

It touched the tangled golden curls And brown eyes full of grieving Of one who still her steps delayed When all the school were leaving.

For near her stood the little boy Her childish favoring, His cap pulled low upon a face Where pride and shame were mingled.

Pushing with restless feet the snow To right and left, he gazed As restlessly her tiny hand The blue checked apron fingered.

He saw her lift her eyes; he felt The soft hand's light caressing And heard the tremble of her voice, As if a faint confessing.

"I'm sorry that I spelled the word. I hate to go above you, Because—the brown eyes lower fell—'Because, you see, I love you!'"

Still, memory to a gray haired man That sweet child face is showing. Dear girl! The grasses on her grave Have forty years been growing.

He tries to learn, in life's hard school, How few who pass above him Leave their trust and their lives, Like her—because they love him.—Whittier.

The New Woman. Ah, Elsie, I think it is time, my old man, For me to pack up and just quit. I live and labor the best that I can, But the world I am weary of it.

I'm just a back number, an old amusee That dangles in dust on the sill. A faded old woman still living, slack! Whose bones should be under the hill.

For forty long years as a lover and wife Have I toiled for the children and you, So patiently bearing my part in the strife, As I thought it my duty to do.

No task ever set me by love was too hard; No trouble my heart could stand by: My home was my heaven, your love my reward.

As the beautiful years rolled away, But now the new woman has brushed me aside. A selfish, what is far worse, she betrays A feeling of pity she scarcely can hide.

For me and my old fashioned ways. The pettiest preacher is now in the van; The doctor in bloomers and high heels; Old nature, it seems, is reversing her plan. And I never can keep up if I try.

Why, home, my dear man, is a place out of date Where old fogy women like me Can sit by the fast fading embers and wait For the summons that's shortly to be. And now, as they welcome the woman that's new.

God bless the other, who creeps Out of sight to her grave when her mission is through. And hallow the spot where she sleeps.—J. N. Matthews in Chicago Inter Ocean.

Live It Down. Has your life a bitter sorrow— Live it down. Think about a bright tomorrow— Live it down.

You will find it never pays Just to sit, wet-eyed, and gaze On the grave of vanished days— Live it down.

Is disgrace your galling burden— Live it down. You can win a brave heart's guard— Live it down.

Make your life so free from blame That the lustor of your name Shall hide all the olden shame— Live it down.

Has your heart a secret trouble— Live it down. Do not grieve and make it double— Live it down.

Do not water it with tears, Do not feed it with your fears, Do not nurse it through long years— Live it down.

Have you made some sinful error— Live it down. Do not hide your face in terror— Live it down.

Look the world square in the eyes; Go ahead, as one who tries; To be honored ere he dies— Live it down.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Ye Bicycle Mads. Sing high, sing high, for the peerless maid Who rides forth on a bicycle In all the pride of youth arrayed And as cool as an arctic icicle.

Who spins along with an eager zest And trills her pet song merrily, Who ne'er has a fall to the earth confessed Because she wheels so wisely.

Sing high, sing high, for the glow of health That blooms the cheek so cheerily, Or who toll all day unwearily. For the sinews firm, the strength like steel, For the muscles large, dimensional, That come to the maid who rides the wheel, Despite all rules conventional.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Weather Vane. A man so various that he seemed to be Not one but all mankind's epitome; Stiff in opinions, always in the wrong. Was everything by stars, and nothing long. But in the course of one revolving moon Was preacher, printer, doctor and buffoon.

Funeral of Hon. J. B. H. Hemingway
Beautiful Tribute by the Members of the Bar.

The funeral of the late J. B. H. Hemingway took place at the Palace hotel at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was a large gathering of the friends of the dead man and his family in attendance. In the hotel parlor an impressive service was held over the remains, Rev. G. S. Madden officiating. The full choir of the M. E. church rendered the music. The pall bearers on behalf of the family were: Gov. Thornton, Judge Laughlin, Secretary Miller, Hon. E. L. Hall, Hon. Geo. P. Money and Hon. Geo. L. Wyllys; on behalf of the bench and bar Hon. B. M. Read, Hon. John P. Victory, Mr. W. H. Pope, Hon. Geo. W. Kusebel, Mr. A. B. Kenyon and Mr. J. H. Sutherland. The remains were interred in Fairview cemetery with due solemnity.

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE OF THE BAR.
At the incoming of the territorial district court at 9 o'clock this morning, Judge Laughlin presiding and twenty odd members of the bar being present, Hon. Eugene A. Friske submitted the appended tender and beautiful tribute to the memory of the late Hon. J. B. H. Hemingway, who ably served as United States attorney for New Mexico during the past three years.

We, your committee appointed to draft and report suitable resolutions upon the death of Hon. J. B. H. Hemingway, a member of the bar of the territory, respectfully report the following for adoption:

Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler, in his wisdom, to take from us by death our professional brother and friend, Hon. J. B. H. Hemingway; be it therefore Resolved, That, in the years we have intimately known the Hon. J. B. H. Hemingway as a member of this bar and a citizen of this territory, his pure, unblemished professional and private life, his correct and manly sense of professional and social obligations, and his unswerving zeal, in comforting his acts as a lawyer and Christian gentleman to his high ideals of duty, have greatly endeared him to us all and left us as a fitting and lasting monument to his memory the record of a life work worthy our imitation and applause. That, while bowing with humility to the divine decrees, we sincerely mourn his decease and we tender to his bereaved widow and children our heartfelt sympathy in their affliction.

That the presiding judge of the district court for this judicial district is requested to direct that these resolutions be spread upon the records of that court and that a copy thereof be duly certified and delivered to the family of the deceased.

EUGENE A. FRISKE,
Chairman,
GEORGE P. MONEY,
L. BRADFORD PRINCE,
R. E. TWITCHELL,
L. L. WARD,
FRANCIS DOWNS,
Committee.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted and Judge Laughlin ordered that they be spread upon the records of the court and that a certified copy thereof be transmitted to the afflicted family.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair to-night and Thursday; cooler to-night.

The New Mexican Printing company is now shipping out the assessment rolls to the different counties.

Hon. M. G. Reynolds and Page B. Otero leave on Saturday for a ten days' hunting and fishing trip to the Jemez country. Judge H. S. Wooster, who holds level the inexorable scales of justice in East Las Vegas and is a terror to evil doers, is a visitor at the capital on business before the United States land office.

Mr. E. E. Sluder, the newly appointed register of the U. S. land office at Las Cruces, is engaged in getting up his official bond in the sum of $10,000 preparatory to entering upon his official duties.

The regular meeting of the Carleton post, G. A. R., will be held to-night at 8 o'clock. Every resident member is requested to be present, as it is important that the services at the National cemetery be more than usually impressive this year.

Mr. George C. Reed, who has recently taken a heavy surveying contract from the government, is to-day busy outfitting and preparing to take the field. He last night purchased the Trujillo team of mules paying $250 therefor.

It is intimated that the A. T. & S. F. is already figuring on a new time card. The trains at present are unable to handle the passenger traffic. It is said a double daylight train service will be put on between El Paso and La Junta, there to connect with the Chicago-Denver fast train service at present in vogue.

Mr. T. F. Abbott, who has been a resident of Bland since the foundation of the town and who has good reason to believe that his Cochiti mining interests will make him a nice stake, is in Santa Fe on a business errand. He will return to Bland in the morning.

Mr. Geo. P. Money, assistant U. S. attorney, is an applicant for appointment as U. S. attorney to succeed the late J. B. H. Hemingway. Many citizens have endorsed him. Hon. E. V. Chavez, of Socorro, is also an applicant for the place and very strong endorsements in his behalf have already gone forward to Washington.

Little George White, the bright New Mexican paper seller, who was stabbed night before last, hopes his regular customers will not allow themselves to be ensnared by any other paper sellers while he is hors de combat.

Dick Stephens, who is now engaged on the night-shift of the Washington mine, is in from Cochiti district. He says affairs in the great camp are steadily improving and the wage earners are looking forward to a lively summer. Mr. Stephens is here to arrange for his marriage soon to take place with Miss Chouita Baca, daughter of Mr. Esequio Baca, of Pena Blanca.

Death of Miss Shannon.
Miss Fannie B. Shannon, recently so ill in Denver and who was taken by her brother, Hon. C. M. Shannon, to St. Louis for treatment at St. Vincent hospital, died there last night. Mr. Shannon was on his way to Clifton when he received the news at Denning this morning and took the first train back to St. Louis. The deceased was a most excellent woman. She will be kindly remembered as a visitor here last year.

Those Missing Men.
Jesus Villaseca, who had been associated with the Green boys in some of their ventures, has returned from Trinidad with the information that the general belief up there is that Billy Green, a man named Kelly and Miguel Uibarrri have been killed by cattle thieves, whom they were pursuing. It is also thought that a man named Rivera, who was being run to earth, was made to bite the dust in the encounter. A woman is said to know where the bodies lie, but she is afraid to reveal the place while the rustlers are yet in the vicinity.—Optic.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Hearing of Lincoln-Lucky-Lee Injunction Matter Before Judge Laughlin this Morning—Motion for New Trial in White Ash Cases.

The matter of the motion to dissolve the injunction procured by A. M. Hendry et al. against the Lincoln-Lucky & Lee Mining company, so as to enable F. J. Spencer, trustee, to operate the properties of the company pending the settlement of the litigation between it and the Anaconda people, came up before Judge Laughlin in the territorial district court this morning. Attorneys H. M. Orabold, of Denver, H. L. Warren, of Albuquerque, and Francis Downs, of Santa Fe, are supporting the motion, and Messrs. Noll B. Field, of Albuquerque, and Charles A. Spiess, of Santa Fe, are resisting the same.

At the conclusion of this hearing it is understood that Attorney R. E. Twitchell's motion for a new trial in the three cases of Josephine Deserant, administratrix, against the Carbon Coal Railroad company will be argued.

It will be remembered that these cases grew out of the White Ash coal mine disaster in February, 1895, and the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, assessing her damages at $25,000 on account of the loss of her husband and two sons. Messrs. Field and Clancy prosecuted and Mr. Twitchell defended. The former two attorneys will resist and Mr. Twitchell will urge the motion mentioned.

IRRIGATION CONVENTION REPORT.

Prior to his departure for the south on Monday, Col. Frost, chairman of the territorial commission of the Fourth National Irrigation congress, negotiated with the New Mexican book and job department for the publication of the entire proceedings of this organization's annual convention held at Albuquerque last fall. The book will consist of about 400 pages. The copy is now in the hands of the printers and will be issued shortly when copies will be sent to Mr. Fred. L. Allen, of Los Angeles, secretary, and other officers of the irrigation congress for distribution.
