ADROIT NEW YORK STRADDLE

Smooth Mr. Whitney Defeats Hill's Plans and Makes Concessions to Silver.

FREE COINAGE IDEA'S BIG VICTORY

The Cleverly Constructed Financial Plan Which Whitney Will Favor at Chicago National Democratic Convention.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 25.—The platform adopted by the Democratic state convention favors the free coinage of silver under international agreement and pledges the support of the party to bring about such agreement. The financial plank was the work of Wm. C. Whitney. It was prepared after a conference lasting for the better part of the afternoon and evening, between Mr. Whitney, ex-Gov. Flower and Senator Hill. Flower endorsed the Whitney plan. Hill protested against it and urged that the paragraph be reversed, so that the first declaration should be for the existing gold standard and the second in favor of free coinage under international agreement. The senator sought by every means to have this change effected, but Whitney and Flower would not concede the point.

Hill threatened to carry the fight into the committee on resolutions, but a canvass of the situation forced him to yield to the Whitney idea. He is greatly worked up over the matter and expressed some regret that he had urged Whitney to forego his European trip.

STRADDLERS IN A ROW.
The party machinery is slipping away from Hill, and already Whitney is recognized as the leader of the Democracy in the state. The ex-secretary is supported by Flower and the friends of Senator Murphy. The Tammany delegates also endorse his course with respect to the currency question. The silver sentiment here is growing. It has reached unexpected proportions during the past thirty days and many of the delegates favored a much stronger declaration for the white metal than that prepared by Mr. Whitney.

There was no talk of a bolt in Saratoga. The truth is that the New York Democrats are preparing for what is known in political parlance as a "dog fall." They realize that concessions must be made to the advocates of free silver and that the best policy to be pursued is a policy of conciliation. If the national convention will make a moderate declaration for silver the Empire state Democrats are ready to fall in line and work for the ticket. That was the secret of Mr. Whitney's presence in Saratoga. He was here to prevent an out and out declaration for gold and to keep New York in line with the national Democracy. He does not favor a bolt and he discards the idea that there will be a bolt.

VERY ADROIT STRADDLE.
The platform is a most adroit straddle, and in this respect creates a sensation not only at the east but throughout the country, especially in those states where Democrats, in obedience to suggestions from New York party leaders, have been induced to adopt out-and-out gold platforms. The action of New York coming in with a straddle at the eleventh hour will undoubtedly weaken the influence of the Empire state Democrats in the Chicago convention. The platform says:
Gold and silver—the money of the constitution and our fathers—each at a parity with the other in purchasing power, has been the platform of principles proclaimed by every national Democratic convention which has thus adopted and reaffirmed to each declaration of party faith for a century the wisdom of Thomas Jefferson, who said: "The monetary unit must stand on both metals."

The action of a Republican congress and a Republican president deprived silver of its equality with gold for money, and the currency of the nation from this act (for which the Democratic party was in no wise responsible) and from the action of other nations following in the same course, it has resulted that silver has greatly declined in commercial value and there now exists a wide departure of the two metals from a coinage standard of value, bringing disturbance to the financial systems of European countries as well as to our own and awakening there, as here, the earnest apprehension of statesmen and financiers.

The restoration of the equilibrium of the two metals thus disturbed is a problem for solution which is of the greatest consequence to the prosperity both of this country and Europe, and wholly beyond our power without the co-operation of other nations. Such co-operation by the united efforts of statesmen and wage earners here and elsewhere is believed to be near at hand.

WALL STREET'S PRIDE.

The proposition to separate ourselves from the great nations of the world and adopt the monetary standard of Mexico and China does not comport with the pride and conceit of the states of New York or the United States. It should be resisted with a favor of both partisanship and patriotism by Democrats everywhere, when the adoption of such a course threatens, as it does, untold evils to our nation's commerce and industry.

For these reasons and with these convictions the Democrats of New York, in convention assembled, make the following declaration of their principles and appeal to the Democrats of other states to join them in incorporating these principles in the party platform to be adopted at Chicago: First—We favor gold and silver as the standard money of the country. We are opposed, as a permanent financial policy, to gold monometallism on the one hand or to silver monometallism on the other hand.

The pledge contained in the repeal of the Sherman law, which repeal was passed by a Democratic congress and approved by a Democratic president, should be faithfully carried out, wherein it was declared that the efforts of the government should be steadily directed to the establishment of such a safe system of bimetallicism as will maintain for all times the equal power of every dollar coined or issued by the United States in the market and in the payment of debts.

OPPOSED TO FREE COINAGE.
We believe such bimetallicism to which the nation is solemnly pledged can only be secured and permanently maintained as a co-operation of all the leading nations of the world. Neither this country nor any other country independent and alone is able to maintain it, and it would be folly to attempt it. Being so convinced we are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the absence of co-operation of other great nations.

We declare our belief that any attempt on the part of the United States alone to enter upon the experiment of free silver coinage would not only prove disastrous to our finances but would retard or entirely prevent the establishment of international bimetallicism. Until international co-operation for bimetallicism can be secured, to which end all our efforts as a government and as a people should be in good faith directed, we favor the rigid maintenance of the present gold standard as a means of preserving our national credit, the redemption of our public pledges and the keeping inviolate of our country's honor. We insist that all our paper and silver currency shall be kept absolutely at a parity with gold. A resolution expressing sympathy with the principles of the platform was introduced by Congressman Sulzer and adopted. The following are the delegates-at-large: David B. Hill, Roswell P. Flower, Edward Murphy and Frederick R. Condit.

COLLEGE BOAT RACE.

Harvard, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell crews will race on the Hudson at 5:30 P. M.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26.—New men predominate in the crews which are to row for Harvard, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell. This is a departure from the practice of former years, when seasoned oarsmen have been preferred. There were heavy clouds, mists, showers and generally threatening weather conditions early in the day, but toward noon the prospect is brightening somewhat.

In the final practice this morning Harvard showed the best form and Pennsylvania the best speed, but the water was choppy and a hard wind blowing. The race will be rowed about 5:30.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasant or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. Newton's drug store.

Notice for Publication.

[Desert land, final proof.]

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
Santa Fe, N. M., June 12, 1896.

Notice is hereby given that C. Leon Allison, of Santa Fe, N. M., has filed notice of intention to make proof on his desert land claim No. 349, for the sec 1/4 of nw 1/4, and lot 3, section 8, tp 16 n, r 9 e, before the register or receiver, at Santa Fe, N. M., on Saturday, the 18th day of July, 1896.

He names the following witnesses to prove the complete irrigation and reclamation of said land:

Mathias J. Nagle, Nieves Romero, Jefferson Hill, Diego Gonzales, of Santa Fe, N. M.

JAMES H. WALKER, Register.

Rio Arriba Mines.

T. G. Erb, writing to the Las Vegas Optic from the new mining district of Hopewell, Rio Arriba county, says:

Hopewell is situated twenty-two miles northwest of Tres Piedras. Tres Piedras is ninety-six miles north of Santa Fe, on the Denver & Rio Grande railway. There is a good wagon road from Tres Piedras. There has been placer mining going on here for several years, but the placer ground is almost all worked out and the miners have turned their attention to lode mining and are making some fine showings. The mineral belt is about ten miles long by five miles wide, and is on government land. There are about 150 miners working and prospecting in the camp. We have one hotel, two general stores, one butcher shop, one barber shop and an assay office and a number of new buildings are being constructed, making in all over twenty-five buildings in the town.

The ore bodies are continuous and go nearly straight down. A few of them have reached out in length, but not one has run out in depth. The rich gold is found in iron ores and all the ores in the camp carry a good per cent in iron.

Through the kindness of E. C. Sterling, the assayer at this place, we give you a list of his assays made last Thursday and taken from his books. As he can not furnish the names of the mines or prospects they are made from, will number them only:

No. 1.—Silver, $9.10; gold, $100.
No. 2.—Silver, $8.50; gold, $65.00.
No. 3.—Silver, $8.00; gold, $20.00.
No. 4.—Silver, $6.00; gold, $154.00.
No. 5.—Silver, $6.70; gold, $8.00.
No. 6.—Silver, $1.50; gold, $8.30.
No. 7.—Silver, $9.32; gold, $240.00.
No. 8.—Silver, $2.10; gold, $16.00.
No. 9.—Silver, $1.40; gold, $24.50.
No. 10.—Silver, $2.10; gold, $4.50.
No. 11.—Silver, $1.80; gold, $16.00.
Two other assays show traces of gold and silver. These assays were made for men that were mining and prospecting and in most all cases are fine prospects, not over fifteen feet deep.

SILVER DEMOCRATS STRONG

Chicago Tribune Figures That Silver Wings Only Lack Thirty-four of Two-thirds Majority.

NOTABLE SILVER CONFERENCE CALLED

It Will Be Held in Chicago Next Week and Have a Far-Reaching Influence—Teller Not Seriously Regarded as a Candidate.

Chicago, June 26.—The Tribune says: "A canvass of the delegates of every state and territory on the currency question shows 578 of the delegates to the Democratic national convention to be, either by instruction or personal preference, for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1, against 328 delegates instructed for or favoring the continuance of the present gold standard."

Gorman Will Not Be Misled.

Baltimore, June 26.—Senator A. P. Gorman will not go to Chicago. This is final. "If I were to go," said the senator, "what more could I do than can be done by the gentlemen who compose the delegation elected by the state convention? Nothing." Gorman does not think that there is any chance at this late hour to stem the free silver tide which he believes will sweep over the Chicago convention. Asked whom he thought the Democrats would nominate, he replied: "It looks like Boies."

Silver Conference in Chicago.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—The conference of free silverites, to be held at the Sherman house, Chicago, next Tuesday, will be of even more far-reaching importance than the Democratic convention itself, for it will then be determined whether or not there is to be a coalition of all the free silver forces in the coming campaign, or whether the Democrats will act independently. The bimetallic Democratic national committee has received word from the following state committees that they will attend:

Alabama, John W. Tomlinson; Arkansas, Carroll Armstrong; Florida, Frank G. Harris; Georgia, Patrick Walsh; Idaho, George Ainslie; Illinois, G. W. Fithian; Indiana, B. F. Shively; Iowa, S. B. Evans; Kansas, Daniel J. Overmyer; Kentucky, H. A. Sommers; Louisiana, M. K. Cunningham; Massachusetts, Frank K. Foster; Michigan, George P. Hammer; Mississippi, Robert H. Taylor; Missouri, Lon V. Stephens; Montana, W. A. Clark; Nebraska, C. J. Smyth; Nevada, L. H. Dennis; North Dakota, William N. Rosch; Ohio, Allen W. Thurman; Oregon, Thomas O'Day; South Carolina, T. D. Maynard; Tennessee, J. M. Hendrix; Texas, Horace Chilton; Virginia, Peter J. Otey; Washington, C. H. Warner; West Virginia, Daniel B. Lucas; Wyoming, J. E. Osborne; Arizona, William H. Barnes; New Mexico, W. S. Hoppewell; Oklahoma, A. J. Beale.

Committeemen Thomas J. Clinch, of San Francisco; C. S. Thomas, of Denver; T. J. Jarvis, of Greenville, N. C.; and O. W. Powers, of Salt Lake City, Utah, have notified the committee that they can not be present, but that they will have representatives on hand.

Some interesting information was secured to-day at the silver headquarters on the prospects of coalition. The Democratic leaders have decided that it would be beneath their dignity to extend a formal invitation to the Populists and bolting Republicans to come to Chicago and meet with them. However, they expect representatives of both these bodies to be in Chicago, and if they do come of their own accord they will be given a cordial welcome in the Democratic free silver council. Their suggestions will be listened to, and it is said that the Democrats will, if they can consistently with their ideas of party dignity, make some concessions. If no satisfactory understanding is arrived at before the Democratic nomination, Senators Jones, Harris and other leaders will go to St. Louis when the Populist convention is held and endeavor to secure an endorsement of their candidate and platform.

The Teller boom is received very frigidly by the Democratic free silver leaders in Washington. With Harris as most positive in his opposition to the Democratic party taking Senator Teller up as a presidential candidate, and Senator Jones is also strongly opposed to any such action. Both favor Boies. At the same time they are not pushing the Teller candidacy and have in fact been advising against instructions everywhere. Bland now has ninety instructed votes and Boies thirty. Senators Jones, Harris, and even Blackburn, all announce that a southern man is not to be thought of on either end of the ticket. Senator Blackburn's state instructed for him, but he will at Chicago declare that, while he appreciates the compliment, for patriotic reasons he must decline the proffered support.

Why Then Didn't He Walk Out.

Chicago, June 26.—The Record prints an interview with Senator Teller, of Montana, who says that Senator Teller should be nominated for president by the Democrats. The senator said that he was in full sympathy with the silver men who walked out of the St. Louis convention.

A New Mexico Republican's View.

As a silver representative from silver Sierra to the Democratic national convention no better choice could have been made than in Mr. Hoppewell. The gold-bug Republicans of Sierra county, who after playing the part of tail-smellers to the McKinley-Catron gold combination, were not able to secure a delegate to the Republican national convention. Tail-smellers to corrupt and dishonest gold-bug politicians are only used as tools for carrying out low methods, and are not recognized in the elevated plane of political society in the promotion of so-called "gold-bug morals" that are being enacted at the national Republican convention under the influence of Mark Hanna's bar!—Chloride Black Range, Republican.

Crown Surveyor Released.

Washington, June 26.—Minister Adrade, of Venezuela, to-day received a telegram from his government announcing that the British crown surveyor, whose arrest caused strained feelings between the two governments, has been released by order of the Venezuelan authorities.

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A Negro Hanged in Washington for Murdering a Young Girl—Double Tragedy in Pullman.

Washington, June 26.—Irving L. Ford, the negro, whose brutal murder of Elsie Kreglo, on May 4 last, formed one of the most atrocious crimes in the police annals of Washington, was hanged at 11:32 to-day. Ford made a statement denying that he attempted to outrage his victim. Ford also expressed regret for the influence of liquor and did not know what he was doing when he committed the crime. He walked to the scaffold with a firm step.

DOUBLE POISONING CASE.

Chicago, June 26.—Lewis Roseland, of Pullman, ended his own life and that of his 3-year-old daughter last night by poison. This morning his wife found his dead body in bed. By his side lay the little girl's corpse. Roseland was employed at the Pullman works.

NEW MEXICO NEWS.

W. S. Burke, late editorial writer on the Albuquerque Citizen, is growing a big crop of alfalfa on his ranch south of the city.

Clarence Campbell, colored, was arrested in Albuquerque yesterday for beating his wife, and was committed to jail, in default of $200 bail, to await the action of the grand jury.

Lucas Garcia, one of the oldest residents of Candelaria, died on Monday at the age of 74 years. The funeral services were held in old town of Albuquerque yesterday and the remains will be buried in Santa Barbara cemetery.

About 150,000 pounds of Navajo wool, purchased from Albridge & Dodge and C. C. Cottou on the reservation by Gistmann Bros. reached Albuquerque from the west yesterday morning, and was stored away for future shipments to eastern markets.

The Eureka lodge No. 13, A. F. & A. M., of Albuquerque, met on Wednesday night and installed the following officers: C. A. Bruce, W. M.; C. Pulliam, S. W.; J. W. Ball, J. W.; A. J. Steele, treasurer; T. K. Lawes, secretary. S. T. Ellsworth officiated as installation officer. After the lodge ceremonies, the members and their wives and in-laws indulged in a dance, followed by a supper.

Information has been received by Macario Gallegos, of Mora, that his brother, Dicoletto, who disappeared from Raton about February 8, is alive and well. There is a rumor in the upper country that Mr. Gallegos had deserted his family and moved to Texas with a certain widow, a woman, late of this city. It is explained in the letter received by the brother:—Las Vegas Optic.

A decree was entered in the district court at Albuquerque yesterday against the receiver in the case of the United States Trust Co. vs. the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, requiring the receiver to pay over the amount of taxes upon the additional assessment made by the assessor in 1893-4-5, amounting in all to about $42,000. From this order the complainant and receiver prayed for an appeal to the supreme court, which appeal was granted.

This morning, T. Y. Maynard, the jeweler, brought the news to the city on his bicycle of the marriage of H. G. Whitcomb, of Camp Whitecomb, and Mrs. S. Parker, of this city, the ceremony being performed at the camp last night at 8 o'clock by Rev. Thos. Harwood before an interested crowd of about thirty city folks who are at present enjoying their outing at the above well-known mountain resort.—Albuquerque Citizen.

P. H. Mellen, one of J. E. Hurley's clerks, will leave this evening, for Juneau, Alaska, via San Francisco, Cal., where he will spend some time with his brother, Henry W. Mellen, a United States commissioner at Juneau. After visiting his brother, he will pay a short visit to Sitka and the gold mines, returning by way of British Columbia, stopping at all important places. His little brother, Lee, will accompany him to Alaska, and remain with his brother, if he likes it.—Las Vegas Optic.

McKinley Magnates Insist That Tariff Not Money Question, Will Be Paramount Issue—Pie-Counter Patriots at Canton.

Cincinnati, June 26.—A Times-Star special from Canton says: McKinley and Hanna deny that any selections have been made for the national executive committee except that Quay has been offered the chairmanship.

There will also be an advisory committee. H. H. Kohlman, of Chicago, will probably be a member; also Cornelius N. Bliss, of New York.

Thomas McDougall, of Cincinnati; Charles Emery Smith, of Philadelphia; and Chris Magee, of Pittsburgh, are here and the matter of the advisory committee was discussed with them. McDougall said: "There is but one issue—the tariff."

RECEPTION TO GOV. MCKINLEY.
Canton, Ohio.—The reception to Gov. McKinley, Mrs. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, Jr., arranged by the women of Canton and Stark county, took place this afternoon at the residence of the late Jacob Miller.

Mrs. Alice Jones, spokesman for the ladies, in a happy speech, extended the best wishes of the women of Stark county to Gov. McKinley and hearty congratulations to his wife and mother. Gov. McKinley responded briefly.

Then the crowd passed through the parlor to shake hands with the guests of honor.

A DEAL AT LA BELLE.

The Midnight Mine Bonded to a Strong Ohio Company—A Large Spot Cash Payment.

The deal on the Midnight mentioned in the last La Belle Cresset has been closed, all parties on the part of both the purchasers and sellers having signed. The property has been bonded and leased to a strong Ohio company, represented at this place by C. C. Cotton who have paid a large part of the entire consideration in cash and hold the property subject to the further payment of $15,000 besides the expenditure of $500 per month during the year, the time which the lease runs for development and improvement. Mr. Cotton received a telegram Tuesday directing him to put a force of men to work at once. The Midnight has a 65-foot shaft with some 300 feet of drift. The vein is 8 or 10 feet wide and the pay streak about 20 inches, all of which shows cube hematite specked with gold. The property has been one of the pillars of the district and in the hands of the company to which it has passed it may be expected that it will be a producer in a short time.

FRIDAY, JUNE 26.

A RIGHT UP-TO-DATE newspaper—the NEW MEXICAN.

WELCOME the rain—it falls on the just and the unjust!

WHEN Maine Democrats begin to talk free coinage and Gov. Flower's home county in New York instructs for the great question, we are bound to admit that the voice of the people is abroad in the land.

THE New Mexico delegation cast its entire vote for H. Clay Evans for vice-president.—Albuquerque Citizen. Indeed? There has been some question about this. The Citizen, as a true and loyal Catronist organ, should inform itself about such matters before it gives them out officially.

"McKINLEY as an Investment," expresses a whole volume of doubtful patriotism and uncertain fealty to party principles. The millionaires, the creditors, the shooting loudly and jubilantly over the gold plank of the McKinley platform. The plain people will have their say after Democracy meets at Chicago.

THE following appeared in the Rio Grande Republican of recent date: "We sincerely hope that ex-Gov. Prince in his speech on silver will kindly remember the Albuquerque Republican Pie Bites' convention which so skillfully dodged that question." Is the Hon. John R. McKie hedging a little in hopes of defeating Mr. Catron for the nomination for delegate in congress? It begins to look just a bit that way.

THE Kansas City Star, Wall street organ, says: "Admiration and sympathy for Senator Teller are not increased by the knowledge of the fact that he has been plotting and planning with free silver Democrats and Populists for weeks, with the view of working with them instead of the Republicans in the campaign." The simple answer to the foregoing unsupported assertion is: The allegation is false and the allegator knows it.

AND SILVER BOBS UPWARD.

It is a significant fact that when the Republican party declared its allegiance to the single gold standard the price of silver never wavered a point, but on the day that the last Democratic state convention was held, and a majority of 116 for free coinage was shown for the national Democratic convention, silver went to 89½, the highest quotation in a year for the white metal. What do the mining men of the west think of that?

CUT 'EM GRABBED.

The last of the Democratic state conventions were held yesterday when Georgia and North Carolina added forty-eight votes to the solid silver phalanx which is marching on to Chicago. The Democratic silver wings have a majority of 116 in that convention and lack but thirty-six of having a two-thirds majority. With Florida, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Delaware to draw on for fresh recruits we should not be at all surprised if the full two-thirds majority were on deck before the committee on credentials presents its report. Vox populi, vox Dei! We are the people this year and Democracy's triumph is in sight. The trusts, trade combines, national bank conspirators, corporation tax dodgers, etc., should take due notice—get into the Democratic band wagon and behave themselves.

DEMOCRACY'S BIG FOUR.

Following in the wake of Col. Morrison, of Illinois, and Mr. Whitney, of New York, Gov. Campbell, of Ohio, has given it out that he can not run for president on a free coinage platform. This seems an idle superfluity, for no true free coinage Democrat had counted on thrusting honors upon these distinguished gentlemen. Still, it was best that they should have gotten out of the path of the silver ground-swell. Now the situation is narrowing down perceptibly, and at this moment it looks as if the big four in this contest would be Stevenson, Boise, Bland and Matthews. Stevenson has not yet broken his long silence. Boise is actively in the race, though some are opposed to him on the ground that he is a free coinage "convert." Bland, as everybody knows, stands for the 16 to 1 proposition as its veteran champion. Matthews has blown neither hot nor cold, but has with dignity and discretion maintained himself as a Democrat favoring free coinage, just and equal taxation, a tariff for revenue with incidental protection for home products, and we predict now, while detracting nothing from the other aspirants named, that he will be found forging rapidly to the front during the next two weeks. The admirable action of the Indiana Democracy to-day will serve to give an impetus to the Matthews boom that will extend to all parts of the country.

PRESS COMMENT.

A Catronist Organ Speaks.

The Albuquerque Citizen extends its hand to "Governor" Morrison. Just a little premature, Brother Hughes, as you will learn when Hon. Pedro Perea is appointed.—Kincaid Weekly.

Hon. F. A. Manzanares.

The selection of Hon. Frank A. Manzanares, of Las Vegas, as national Democratic committeeman for New Mexico should give satisfaction to every Democrat in the territory. He is one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of New Mexico, has always been prominent in Democratic politics, has worked cheerfully and zealously for the success of Democracy and has been over-modest in claiming any honors for himself. While he has always been an influential member of the party he has kept aloof from all internal quarrels and no man or set of men within the Democracy has any grounds for personal grievance at his actions in the past. While Mr. Manzanares has been conservative he has never failed to do his duty fully when duties were thrust upon him, and as the territory's representative upon the national Democratic committee he will make his influence felt during the coming campaign, both for the good of the Democracy and the territory.—Roswell Record.

Sectionalism Disappears.

Not the least significant news item of the year is that which tells of Maine's selection of delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Until a few weeks ago it was very generally taken for granted that the Democratic party was split across the Allegheny mountains on the coinage question. For many months, it is true, rumors have come of a very respectable public sentiment for bimetalism in Pennsylvania and New York, but until this week delegations east of the Alleghenies and north of the Potomac have been uniformly for gold.

The result in Maine takes from the coinage issue within the Democratic party its most dangerous element of sectionalism. Two of Maine's four districts send instructed silver delegations to Chicago. In the state convention of Maine Democrats, resolutions favoring the free coinage of silver were defeated by only eight votes in a total of 194.

A state that somewhat resembles Maine in the political temper of its people is Pennsylvania, which, from the time of George Washington, gave its electoral votes without a break for Democratic candidates until the revolution came that turned them to Lincoln Republicanism. In a square contest between bimetalism and the gold standard the silver vote of Pennsylvania is going to surprise some very wise political weather prophets.

Taking the further fact that the Democrats of Gov. Flower's district in New York are for silver, the truth begins to be visible that the coinage issue in the United States this year is not sectional but national.—Republic.

SCROFULA

Miss Della Stevens, of Boston, Mass., writes: "I have always suffered from hereditary Scrofula, for which I tried various remedies, and many reliable physicians, but none relieved me. After taking bottles of SSS I am now well. I am very grateful to you, and I feel that it saved me from a life of untold agony, and shall take pleasure in speaking only words of praise for the wonderful medicine, and in recommending it to all."

NEW MEXICAN PRINTING COMPANY.

The PECOS VALLEY of . . . NEW MEXICO

OFFERS unequalled advantages to the farmer, fruit grower, live stock raiser, dairyman, bee-keeper, and to the home-seeker generally.

The soil of the Pecos Valley is of high average fertility, and under irrigation produces bountiful crops of most of the grasses, grains, vegetables, berries and fruits of the temperate and some of those of the semi-tropical zone. In such fruit as the peach, pear, plum, grape, prune, apricot, nectarine, cherry, quince, etc., the Valley will dispute for the pre-eminence with California; while competent authority pronounces its upper portions in particular the finest apple country in the world.

Enormous yields of such forage crops as alfalfa, sorghum and Egyptian corn make the feeding of cattle and sheep and the raising and fattening of hogs a very profitable occupation.

The cultivation of sawlogs—a tanning material of great value—is becoming an important industry in the Pecos Valley, a home market having been afforded for all that can be raised, at a price yielding a handsome profit.

The climate of the Pecos Valley has no superior in the United States, being pre-eminently healthful and health restoring.

Land with perpetual water-rights are for sale at low prices and on easy terms. The water supply of the Pecos Valley has no equal in all the arid region for constancy and reliability; and this with the superb climate, productive soil and the facilities afforded by the railway which extends through the Valley's entire length, will cause these lands to enjoy a constant, and at times rapid, increase in value.

The recent completion of the Pecos Valley Railway to Roswell will cause the more rapid settlement and development of the upper portions of the Valley, including the rich Fells section. The company has recently purchased many of the older improved farms about Roswell, and has now for sale lands to meet the wants of all—raw lands, partially improved lands, as well as farms with houses, orchards and fields of alfalfa and other crops. In the vicinity of Roswell several pieces of land have been divided into five and ten acre tracts, suitable for orchards and truck farms in connection with suburban homes. Certain of these tracts are being planted to orchards, and will be cultivated and cared for by the company for three years at the end of which period they will be handed over to the purchasers. Write for pamphlet fully describing the terms and conditions on which these several classes of tracts are sold.

Health Destroying Vapors.

Water impregnated with the seeds of malaria, produce inculcable misery throughout vast portions of the North and South American continents. The most effective medicinal defense against these producers of physical miseries is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Wherever the great epidemics, chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are prevalent, the Bitters is like the chosen preventive and remedy. In Mexico, Guatemala, on the isthmus of Panama, and in South America, no less than in the United States, it has demonstrated its superlative efficacy, and has received the commendation of the medical profession. It remedies rheumatic, kidney and stomachic ailments, nervousness and debility, and counteracts a tendency to premature decay and the troubles attendant upon advancing years. Appetite and the ability to sleep are both aided by it. Use it with persistence, as it well deserves to be used, and the trial will avail you much.

If it required an annual outlay of $100 to insure a family against any serious consequences from an attack of bowel complaint during the year there are many who would feel it their duty to pay it; that they could not afford to risk their lives and those of their family for such an amount. Anyone can get this insurance for 25 cents, that being the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of bowel complaint before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. One or two doses of this remedy will cure any ordinary case. It never fails. Can you afford to take the risk for so small an amount? For sale at Ireland's Pharmacy.

GRAND OPERA REALISM.

Tyler Writes an Act to Prove How Funny the Show Is.

Tyler paid $7 for two opera tickets. Although he slept through one duet he felt fully repaid for going, because Mrs. Tyler raved over the opera and wasted her superlatives on it. The music was "heavenly," the prima donna a "superb" and the tenor "magnificent." There is nothing so irritating as a real enthusiasm as the presence of calm scorn.

"Don't you like it?" asked Mrs. Tyler as she settled back after the eighth recall of the motherly woman who had been singing the part of a 16-year-old maiden.

"I like the music, my dear, but grand opera drags so. Then the situations are so preposterous they always appeal to my sense of humor. When I see Romeo and Juliet die, both singing away as if they enjoyed it, I have to laugh."

"The idea!"

"You take it in this last act. Those two fellows came out with the soldiers and announced that they were conspiring and didn't want to be heard by the people in the house, and then they shouted in chorus until they have been heard two miles away."

"Oh, you are prejudiced."

"Not at all. I'll tell you, a grand opera is the funniest kind of a show if you only take the right view of it."

Thus they argued, and even after they arrived home she taunted him and told him he could not appreciate the dignity of the situation.

It was this nagging which induced Mr. Tyler to write an act of grand opera.

He chose for his subject an alarm of fire in an apartment house. The one act, written solely for the benefit of Mrs. Tyler, is here appended:

ACT I.

(Scene.—The apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Tyler. Mr. Tyler is discovered reading a newspaper. Enter Mrs. Tyler, who advances to the center of the room.)

Mrs. Tyler—I think I smell smoke.

Mr. Tyler—She thinks she smells smoke.

Mrs. Tyler—I think I smell smoke.

Mr. Tyler—Ah, what is this? She says she thinks she smells smoke.

Mrs. Tyler—What does it mean?

That we'll be burned. Oh, awful fate!

That we'll be burned.

Oh, h-h-h, awful fate!

Mr. Tyler—Behold the small grows stronger yet!

The house is burning. I'd regret to perish in the curling flames.

Oh, horror! Oh, horror! Oh, horror!

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler—(duet)—Oh, sad is our lot, sad is our lot, sad is our lot, sad is our lot.

To perish in the flames so hot!

To curl and writhe and fry and sizz.

Oh, what a dreadful thing it is!

To think of such a thing!

Mrs. Tyler—What must escape!

Mr. Tyler—Yes, we must escape.

Mrs. Tyler—We have no time to lose.

Mr. Tyler—Ah, bitter truth! Ah, bitter truth! We have no time to lose!

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler—(duet)—Oh, sad is our lot, sad is our lot, sad is our lot, sad is our lot.

To perish in the flames so hot—

Sad is our lot!

Mr. Tyler—Hark! What is that?

Mrs. Tyler—Hark! What is that?

Mr. Tyler—It is the alarm of fire!

Mrs. Tyler—Ah, yes! Ah, yes! It is the dread alarm!

Mr. Tyler—The dread alarm strikes on the ear

And chills me with an awful fear.

The house will burn. Oh, can it be?

That I must die in misery?

That I must die in misery?

The house will burn. Oh, can it be?

That I must die in misery?

Mrs. Tyler—Come, let us fly!

Mr. Tyler—Tis well! Tis well! We'll fly!

(Enter all the other residents of the fifth floor of the apartment building. They range themselves in a semicircle behind Mr. and Mrs. Tyler.)

Mr. Tyler—Kind friends, I have some news to tell—

This house is burning. It is well

That we should haste ourselves away

And save our lives without delay.

Oh, let us not remain too long.

Remain too long, too long, too long!

Oh, let us not remain too long!

Women of the chorus—

What is this he tells us?

It must be so.

The building is on fire,

And we must go.

Grand chorus—

Oh, hasten! Oh, hasten! Oh, hasten away!

Our terror would not be cooled,

And language fails to express the alarm

That in our hearts we feel!

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler—

Oh, h-h-h, language cannot express the fear

That in our hearts we feel!

(Enter the janitor.)

Janitor—Hold, I am here!

Mr. Tyler—Ah, I am the janitor!

Mrs. Tyler—Can I believe my senses,

Or am I going mad?

It is the janitor!

Janitor—Such news I have to tell.

Mr. Tyler—Ah, I might have known!

He has such news to tell.

Mrs. Tyler—Speak and break the awful suspense!

Mr. Tyler—Yes, speak!

Janitor—

I come to inform you

That you must quickly fly:

The fearful blaze is spreading:

The floors underneath you

Are completely burned away.

They cannot save the building.

So now escape, I pray!

The flames are reaching loudly.

Oh, what a fearful sound!

You can hear the people shrieking

As they leap and strike the ground.

Oh, horror overtakes me.

And I merely pause to say

That the building's doomed for certain.

So haste, oh, haste away!

Mrs. Tyler—Oh, awful message!

How it chills my heart!

Yet we will sing

A few more arias

Before we start.

Mr. Tyler—Yes, yes! A few more arias.

And then away.

Grand chorus—

Oh, hasten! Oh, hasten! Oh, hasten away!

Our terror we cannot conceal.

And language fails to express the alarm

That in our hearts we feel.

This was as far as Mr. Tyler could go.

He didn't want to make his principals actually "hasten away," as they could have been a violation of opera tradition.

His theory is that they remained and were burned.—Chicago Record.

THE LEAP YEAR BALL.

The Freshman, the Junior, the Maid and the Plot That Failed.

Teddy was hilarious. In his excitement he strode up and down the floor, his hands thrust deeply into his breeches pockets.

"Fellers," he yelled at the top note in his voice, and as if moved by mechanism, the "fellers" tumbled into the doorway from both directions. "Gaze at that," he cried, flourishing a letter in the air. "It's an invitation to the leap year ball at the gym, and it is from Kate." He had never before spoken of her in public as Kate, and the gang laughed and said, "Is it?"

"Think of it," cried Teddy in great glee, "she has actually given me the preference over that big junior Hayes, the varsity half back and first bass on the glee club."

"The duse she has," said the gang. "Read it," said Teddy, and the gang stuck their heads together and read:

KAPPA ALPHA THETA HOUSE,
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 22.

DEAR MR. COLLINS—May I presume upon your well known good nature and offer myself as your escort to the leap year ball on the afternoon of the 29th? Sincerely,

KATHERINE KELLER.

A week later, on the afternoon of the ball, Teddy was in his apartments dressing rapidly. Bradley, who for some guessable reason was not going, acted as his valet.

"Lend me a collar, Brad, tallest one you have, and, say, may I wear your patent leathers?"

Mine are cracked, and the governor was not caught up the dogs for a new pair."

As Bradley tossed in the articles mentioned Buttons came to the door and announced that Mr. Collins was wanted.

"Be down in a moment," he answered.

"There she is now, Good Lord, help me on with this infernal collar. Ah, that is better; looks swell when you once get the thing on. How do I look anyway? Gorgeous, ain't it?" The old girl will be proud of her Teddy, don't you think?

"And say, dear boy, can you let me take that solitary ring of yours—the one

Blanche returned you—guess you will not be likely to use it again. I've always wanted a diamond. Don't promise me one for Christmas, but let me have it when you like it. I'll buy it, if you know."

"You won't go and give it away, will you?"

"Why, of course not—that is—oh, come now, Brad, let loose on it! I will give you more than you paid for it. And Teddy trod the stairs with the shiver in his vest.

As Miss Keller led him to the carriage his pride overcame him, and he devoutly wished that Hayes might see him at that moment leaning on her arm.

Alas, his wish was soon gratified!

Comfortably settled in the carriage was the big football man himself, with his complacent grin and nasty, easy ways.

Somehow he tumbled into the seat opposite the junior, while Miss Keller took her place beside the latter. Oh, it was awful! He saw through it all now.

Whoever preference she might have for one or the other was effectually concealed by this stratagem.

Teddy crouched in his corner, taking but a listless part in the conversation, while the half back wiggled his legs and looked at the girl in the seat next to him.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.

"What was that?" he asked.
