WASHINGTON NEWS BUDGET

The Senate Adjourns Out of Respect to the Late Senator Voorhees. After Listening to A Eulogy on His Life and Work by the Blind Chaplain.

PRESIDENT'S RETURN TO WASHINGTON

The Supreme Court Hands Down a Decision in the Famous Litigation Known as the "Stock Ticker" Case, Originating in the Circuit Court for the District of Massachusetts.

Washington, April 12.—The senate met at noon for the first time since the death of ex-Senator Voorhees, who until a recent day, was a conspicuous member of that body. In his opening prayer, Rev. Dr. Milburn, the blind chaplain, made eloquent reference to Mr. Voorhees' brilliant talents, impassioned ardor, kindly eloquence, genuine patriotism, and unselfish devotion to his people, human and divine, which enlisted his career. Immediately following prayer, Senator Gorman, of Maryland, moved that as a mark of respect to their late associate, the senate adjourn, adding that many senators desired to attend the funeral. The motion prevailed and at 12:05 p. m. the senate adjourned.

HOME AGAIN.
President McKinley and his party returned today on board the dispatch boat Dolphin.

DECEASED THE MOTION.

The United States supreme court today denied a writ of certiorari in the case of the American Bell Telephone Company vs. The Western Union Telegraph Company, appealed from the Circuit court of appeals, for the first circuit, to certify the case to the Supreme court. The case involves a question of royalties claimed from the Bell company, by the Western Union company, and was originally brought in the Circuit court for the district of Massachusetts to secure an account of these royalties. It is understood that about $500,000 is involved. The case is known as the "Stock ticker" case.

UNDOING CLEVELANDIANS.

The sweeping order of President Cleveland, affecting the consolidation of pension agencies, will be revoked by President McKinley, if his present plans are carried out. Though it is stated that no conclusion has been reached on this matter, the president it is learned, has practically become convinced, that it should never be allowed to become operative.

BEARDSLEY HAS REFORMED.

London, April 12.—Ambrey Beardsley, the artist, has been formally received into the Roman Catholic church. His health which has been precarious for a long time past, is no better and he has gone to the Riviera.

SENATORIAL CONTEST.

The situation in the Kentucky Legislature, concerning the late charges of bribery against the late Governor, is looking for a settlement.

LOUISVILLE, KY., APRIL 12.—A special to the Evening Post from Frankfort says:

The latest rumor that has gained currency is to the effect that within the next 48 hours, a sensational resolution is to be introduced in the house by Hunter, censuring and denouncing Governor Bradley in the most severe terms, for taking part in the alleged bribery charges which have been brought against Dr. Hunter. The followers of the latter openly charge that Governor Bradley, as well as the silver Democrats, had a hand in investigation of the bribery charges. Governor Bradley's friends vehemently deny that he had any connection with it, and say, if such a resolution is introduced, Governor Bradley will at once go upon the floor of the house, and make a speech that will be full of sensations from end to end. It is said that an effort will be made to dissuade Governor Bradley from this step as it is feared serious trouble might result. Congressmen Wilson and E. T. Franks, Hunter Republicans, who are implicated with the latter in an alleged attempt at bribery, were summoned before the grand jury this morning, on the recommendation of Attorney-General Taylor. Representative W. A. Baird, sound money Democrat from Davis county was also served with a subpoena. The situation here is grave. Feeling runs high, and personal altercations are looked for. When a vote was taken today the opponents of Hunter broke the quorum by refusing to vote.

DEATH OF A RACE HORSE.

Detroit, Mich., April 12.—The runner "Eastons," the property of Conover & Co., died at the Windsor race track yesterday.

A ST. LOUIS BLAZE.

St. Louis, April 12.—A five story building at Main street and Park avenue, occupied by the St. Louis Refrigerator and Woodengutter Manufacturing Co., was entirely destroyed by fire this afternoon. Loss $60,000. Two firemen and a boy were seriously injured by falling walls but will recover.

LAST HONORS.

Washington, April 12.—Funeral services over the remains of late ex-Senator Voorhees of Indiana, were held at St. John's Episcopal church shortly after noon today. The church could not accommodate those who desired to pay a last tribute of respect to the Indiana statesman. Members of the senate were present in a body, and among others in attendance were many prominent men in official and social life.

THE FLOOD SUFFERERS.

An Army Officer Arrives at Memphis Charged with the Duty of Distributing Supplies Provided by the Government.

MEMPHIS, TENN., APRIL 12.—This morning,

Lieutenant Rowan in company with Captain Fitch, left this city aboard the Isaac. Helena is the objective point. Captain Fitch will make another inspection of levees, while Lieutenant Rowan will aid in the proper distribution of supplies, purchased with a part of the government appropriation.

Operations Resumed.

Chicago, April 12.—The Illinois steel works at south Chicago, resumed operations this morning. About 100 rail finishers, whose striking involved 2,600 men, were not reemployed. The finishers were not upheld by the officials of that union.

CUT ITS WAY OUT.

The Turkish Garrison at Baitina Cuts Its Way Through a Greek Column with the Loss of 30 Men Killed.

London, April 12.—A dispatch from Trikhalas says that the Turkish garrison of Baitina, numbering about 800 men, which was besieged by Greek insurgents, cut its way through the Greek ranks with a loss of 30 men killed. It is added, that the fighting was stubborn. It was only at the fourth attempt, that the Turks were able to issue from their barracks. The insurgents continued to march into Macedonia, and have captured the town of Kratia. They pursued the Turks close to Cipria, which is only two hours distant from Grevena. Throughout these operations which have been so successful for the insurgents, the latter have lost only three men killed and four men wounded, according to a special dispatch. It is reported that the Turkish frontier detachment, yesterday fired on and killed a Greek private, and a peasant, who were carrying dispatches to Calcolivri.

AN INVASION ORDERED.

The Turkish Forces Ordered to Move for an Attack on Larissa, the Greek Headquarters.

Constantinople, April 12.—The Turkish porte informed the representatives of the foreign embassies on Saturday, that in consequence of the Greek invasion of Macedonia, Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, was marching on the Greek headquarters at Larissa. According to authentic information obtained today, however, the Turkish army has not yet started, and it is supposed at the instigation of Edhem Pasha's orders to advance were countermanded. Nevertheless the Turkish government still seems to have the intention of attempting to seize and hold Larissa, until the Greeks shall have evacuated the island of Crete. It is pointed out that Larissa, a town in Macedonia, which is believed to be in the hands of Greek insurgents, and the scene of the present invasion, is an important strategic position, threatening Edhem Pasha's communication with Janina, the Turkish headquarters in Albania.

MACEDONIAN INVASION.

A Proclamation from the Greeks Calling Upon the Oppressed Macedonians to Strike for Freedom.

Thessalonica, Thessalia, April 12.—The plan of the insurgents was to occupy Baitina on the frontier of Macedonia in order to prevent the Turks from taking up a more advanced position. Directly the Greeks crossed the frontier, their leaders issued a proclamation calling upon all Macedonians and Epirotes to rise for freedom. There is an unconfirmed rumor here at this hour, that the insurgents are commencing to advance, unchecked by the Turks. Twenty five of the Italian volunteers have returned here, being unable to stand the cold weather.

Suicide of a Duke.

Cannes, France, April 12.—The fact became public today, that the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin whose death was announced as having occurred at 9 o'clock on Saturday night, committed suicide.

HE ASSUMED AUTHORITY.

Webb McCall, State Insurance Commissioner of Kansas, Unable to Indictment for Attempting to Solve a Legal Question.

Topeka, Kas., April 12.—Webb McCall, state insurance commissioner, has secured a legal victory in a battle with three big eastern life insurance companies, to which he refused a license on the alleged ground that they had not paid the famous Hillman claims. Judge Foster of the U. S. court holds that McCall's action is not punishable by a penalty for contempt, and dismissed the case brought by the insurance companies in court. However he instructed the grand jury to inquire into McCall's action, and if they thought intimidation or anything to obstruct justice to the companies had been used, to bring an indictment against McCall. The court also held that the commissioners action was not justified by law or justice, and that McCall had assumed authority in attempting to determine the question involved in the Hillman case.

A REPORTED VICTORY.

Turks Said to Have Capitalized in the Engagement at Baitina.

London, April 12.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Larissa says that the fighting at Baitina lasted throughout Saturday and late that afternoon. The Turks were reported to have capitalized. Casualties on both sides under 100. There is no news regarding Turkish prisoners.

VERY PROSPEROUS OUTLOOK

Indications Throughout the Territory Point to a General Revival in Business Interests All Along the Line.

CAPITAL REMOVAL SCHEME ON FOOT

The New Mexican's Special Traveling Correspondent Writes of the Business Outlook in and About the Bustling City of Albuquerque.

Albuquerque, N. M., April 10.—The prospect of a stiff tariff on wool is having its effect on industrial matters in this city, and in less than a month the wheels will go around in a business that has been idle for years past. Mr. James Wilkinson, of Los Angeles, Cal., has leased the old wool scouring plant located on the east side of the Santa Fe tracks, north of the depot, and a large force of men is busy preparing the concern for business. The building is being remodeled and much new machinery added. Today a fine engine and a large boiler were placed in position, over which a house will be erected, while the old scouring machines are receiving necessary repairs, and new ones will be installed. When ready for work the plant will have a capacity of about 15,000 pounds per day.

Mr. Wilkinson will establish a market for wool of all grades in Albuquerque, buying it and preparing it for the western market.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

At Gross, Blackwell & Co's. establishment I was cordially received and a general outline of business conditions in the territory given me. Confidence in a large measure has returned, merchants are buying freely and there is a much stronger indication of improvement, wholesalers are selling to persons who, a few months back, could get goods only for cash. Prices are better, and all things taken into consideration, business is far better and in a much healthier state than a month ago. There is yet much to be desired, but the improvement in the past 30 days is so marked that a speedy return to prosperity is predicted. Should the senate consent to a tariff on cattle, hides, and wool which will afford ample protection to these interests in the southwest, New Mexico will experience an old-time revival in business of all kinds before a twelvemonth passes.

MINING IN HELL CANON.

Over in Hell canon a number of men interested in mining, are making some practical tests which will decide the value of the claims located there, one way or another, in a short time. A small stamp mill has been quietly erected, and in a few days it is expected the treating of ore will begin. After a run of three or four weeks a clean-up will be had, and then— If the results are satisfactory, mining in the canon will be pushed for all there is in it. Several mills will be put up, ore hauled to the ground and things will move in a lively manner. If the clean-up at the mill just mentioned should prove a failure, then—but what's the use of looking at that side of the question, time and the experiments now making will settle it.

GEN. CARR AND THE GOVERNORSHIP.

I called on Gen. Carr at the Commercial club today, and found him entirely recovered from the injury to his ankle, from which he was suffering when last seen, and otherwise enjoying the best of health. When approached on the subject of his candidacy for the governorship, the general said: "Well, Mrs. Carr would like to live in Santa Fe, first-rate, and I—well, it would give me something to do, and I believe it would be agreeable all around. But you can depend on one thing, I shall make no fight for it. I sent in a formal application for the position at the request of friends, and with that considered my part in the matter was at an end. Stranger things than the appointment of Gen. Carr to the governorship of New Mexico have happened in Washington."

NOT FOR THE CAPITAL IN 1901.

Last night I listened to a detailed account of the plans maturing for the removal of the territorial capital to Albuquerque, four years hence, which is interesting for the completeness of arrangements. The story as told me runs something like this: Albuquerque is going to have the capital. Had everything been in readiness when the last legislature was in session the removal would be under way now. The bill was introduced for the purpose of serving notice on New Mexico people that Albuquerque was still in the field, had not given up the fight, and that so soon as everything was ready a delegation would come up to Santa Fe, grub up the capital grounds by the roots and tote the whole shooting match, grounds, buildings, furniture and officials over some afternoon.

In 1901 Albuquerque will be ready for the change, and then look out. When the legislature convenes that year a committee will appear before the solons, and submit plans and specifications of a building to cost $200,000 a minute plat of the grounds upon which that building will be placed, and the committee will say: "Gentlemen of the Thirty-fourth legislative assembly of New Mexico, all these things, and much more, will we give you for a few words commanding the commonwealth to get up and move down to the city of Albuquerque." And then the earth will tip in the direction of Albuquerque.

BRYAN'S TUMBLE.

The Popocratic Talking Machine Still Suffering from His Fall in Florida.

Washington, April 12.—William J. Bryan returned to Washington today from Florida. He is still suffering as a result of the accident at St. Augustine, and is considerably bruised. The worst injury is in his left side, which pains him greatly, when going about. The force of the fall can be judged from the fact that the silver watch safe which Bryan carried in his vest pocket, was crushed completely out of shape.

Friedrichshue, April 12.—Prince Bismarck is much improved in health.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Liberal Party Managers Offered Because the Cretean Policy Could Not Have a Rerun, Before Adjournment.

London, April 12.—On motion today of Mr. Balfour, the government leader, that the house of commons adjourn over Easter, Sir Charles Dilke, radical member of the Forest of Dean division of Gloucestershire, expressed regret that the government before adjourning had not afforded the house an opportunity of discussing its policy in regard to Crete. The Liberal party, Sir Charles added, was strongly united in this matter, in spite of reports to the contrary.

BOLD BANK ROBBERY.

Yonkers, N. Y., Savings Bank Robbed by Two Masked Operators Who Escape With Their Booty.

New York, April 12.—Two men held up a cashier in the Yonkers Savings bank about noon today, and secured $4,420 mostly in bills and a small amount in checks. They made their escape and up to the present time have not been apprehended. Two men entered the bank together, and while one engaged the cashier, Lyman Cobb, Jr., in conversation, the other slipped behind the counter and presented a pistol at the cashier's head. At this moment the man on the outside grabbed the money, and both men disappeared.

IMPORTANT MINING DEAL

Hillsboro Gold Placers Sold—$35,000 Paid for the Locations, $25,000 for Water Rights.

The Rich and Extensive Gold Placers of Sierra County to Be Worked to Their Full Capacity.

Information reaches the NEW MEXICAN from Hillsboro that an extensive placer mining deal has been consummated in that section. This is great and good news, as not only will Hillsboro and Sierra county be greatly benefited by this enterprise, but the whole territory will be the gainer.

Within a few miles of Hillsboro there exist, as is well known, many thousands of acres of gold placers, gold bearing gravel and gold bearing cement. For some time, indeed for several years, a company which W. S. Hopewell, W. H. Bucher, W. B. Childers, J. T. McLaughlin, John A. Lee and others are members, has had several thousands of acres of these placers located. For a year past some Pittsburg capitalists have carefully investigated the problem of working these placers, tested the gravel and cement in every known scientific way and in every practical manner, spending over $50,000 in this work. These capitalists have now closed a deal for the placer claims, it is understood, paying $32,000 for them.

The water to work the placers and for use on them, has been sold to the new concern by Hon. W. S. Hopewell who controls and owns extensive water rights on the headwaters of the Animas and Pecos rivers in Sierra county. The water supply is deemed ample for all purposes and will be brought to the placers by a system of open ditches and pipes, about 15 miles of the latter and about ten miles of the former. It is reported that Mr. Hopewell received the sum of $25,000 for these water rights, which are on patented government lands and to which the title is perfect.

The deal is virtually closed and means the expenditure of much money and the employment of many men in the enterprise from now on, as the Pittsburg people have all the financial backing to make the enterprise a great success.

Experts who have been on the ground for months and have diligently and patiently examined the gravel and cement supply, have reported, that, considering the supply of water to be had now and the possible supply that can be obtained by the erection of reservoirs, it will take many years before the supply of rich gravel can be worked out. The gravel is said to run from 35 cents to $1 a yard. It is believed, and it will prove so, that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad will extend its line from Lake Valley to Hillsboro, as soon as active work on its purchase by the Pittsburg company commences, and this will be within the next few months.

Talks With Travelers.

Yes sir! The most enjoyable trip I ever took to New York was over the Wabash. Only one change of cars in St. Louis; the finest passenger station in the world. Fine restaurant and cafe. Got an elegant supper for 50 cents.

We arrived in St. Louis at 6:00 p. m., and left on the Wabash New York Limited at 7:00 p. m., in the elegant through sleeper, reaching Detroit at 9:15 the following morning. Niagara Falls at 4:37 that afternoon, and arrived at New York, Grand Central Depot at 7:30 a. m., just the right time to get breakfast and attend to business.

Oh! the Wabash is the route for New York.

By the way just write to C. M. Hampson, Commercial Agent, Denver, for particulars. I may have forgotten something.

MONDAY, APRIL 12.

Mr. McKinley, please act, so that we may have a rest on guessing who will be governor. Appoint one and be done with it. We will get along with him somehow.

The indications point that there will be some railroad extensions in this territory before the end of the year of our Lord 1897. Good enough! cannot commence any too soon for all concerned.

The Santa Fe school board has $9,400 worth of unpaid warrants. The Albuquerque school board has nearly $8,000 cash on hand—Albuquerque Democrat.

Correct you are! You cannot get up any argument on that proposition. The Albuquerque school board is Republican; the Santa Fe school board is Democratic.

The county commissioners and city authorities of the several counties and cities in the territory must get to work if they would comply with the new law as to the funding of county and municipal indebtedness as the law directs. This word of caution should be heeded by the officials interested.

The picture of Jerry Simpson butting his head against the solid wall of Speaker Reed's Republican majority, would make even a Populist smile. It really did not hurt Mr. Reed to listen to Simpson's little rant, and it probably relieved Jerry's mind, more than the average finite mind can appreciate.

Lieut. Peary now fixes the price of reaching the North Pole at $150,000. He says with that amount to equip an expedition he can accomplish the result which so many daring adventurers have failed to achieve. This is a high price to pay for a pole, but if it will knock a persimmon, for the sight of which millions have been vainly spent, it may be worth while to let Peary go ahead.

The New York Journal wishes to know where New York people should spend the summer. Easy enough that, friend. In New Mexico, in the northern and central part of it, and about as nice a place for a fine summer climate as you can choose is Santa Fe. Stand not upon the order of your coming, but hurry up and send New York people here; the more the better all around.

The people of this city and county expect Assessor Hudson to do his full duty. It is understood, several rich men have made ridiculously low tax returns. It is the duty of the assessor to correct these returns, if this be the fact. All confirmed and patented land grants should also be justly assessed, justly alike to the owners and to the commonwealth.

EX-DELEGATE DENNIS FLYNN, of Oklahoma, is now said to be slated for a membership of the Dawes Indian commission. A better qualified man for such a position could not be found in Oklahoma or elsewhere. Too many eastern men are on the commission anyway. Appoint a man, who has seen Indians and knows something about them and put some common sense into the acts of the commission and you will be doing well away back there in Washington.

The plan of the Northern Pacific and the great Northern to form a close traffic alliance with uniform rates may be defeated by reason of the recent Supreme court decision in the Transmissary Traffic association case. The attempt to consolidate these two companies failed some time ago on account of a state law which prohibits competing companies from co-operating, and as the proposed scheme would accomplish that result by indirection, it will probably encounter fatal opposition.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is the only man who was ever paid by the United States $400,000 on salary account as president. President Grant got $300,000, his compensation being $100,000 for his first term and $200,000 for his second. Possibly General Grant's pay and allowances while in the army amounted altogether to $100,000, but it is hardly possible that it reached that amount. Mr. Cleveland therefore has the distinction of having drawn more money from the United States treasury than any other officeholder in the history of the nation. It would take a member of congress at the present rate of pay, forty years to draw as much as the president's salary for a single term.

REPRESENTATIVE WALKER of Massachusetts, was both ungracious and unjust in opposing the appropriation from the federal treasury, in aid of the flood sufferers. The proposition to help the sufferers was not only humane, it was legal and proper. The Mississippi river is a natural artery of commerce under the control of the government, and congress is not open to a charge of unlawful conduct, when it appropriates government funds for the aid of people who have been ruined from an overflow of this great water way. President McKinley took this rational view of the matter, and with the single exception of Mr. Walker, every senator and representative concurred in his opinion. The generous impulse which prompted the president to urge congress to act in this matter was sustained by reason and by precedent. Similar appropriations have been made in other cases, and it was no more an infringement of constitutional authority than the improvement of Mr. Walker's own Boston harbor would be, and there has been a good many appropriations for this latter purpose.

ARMOR PLATE RIDDLE.

The press dispatches indicate that the navy department officials are in a quandary over the armor plate situation which is likely to put the government to a great deal of expense and trouble. The secretary of the navy has recommended that he be authorized by congress to readvertise for the much wanted armor, but it is difficult to understand how such action would tend to solve the question, unless the price offered is changed. This might bring more than a single response which was all that appeared in evidence as a result of the first attempt at advertising. Meantime three American ships of war are waiting for their armor.

A good way to solve this corporation riddle, would be for the government to carry out its original intention as stated, and put up an armor plate manufactory of its own. In fact this would seem to be the only solution, for the last advertisement has proved conclusively that armor cannot be obtained at the price which the government has decided to pay. The only feasible method is for the government to manufacture its own armor plate.

A SHAMEFUL SPECTACLE.

The sultan has expressed in an autograph letter his gratitude to the czar of Russia, and he probably expects that it will be passed around among the other powers as including them in his expressions. This is the least the sultan can do. He is under as great obligations to one as to another—to Great Britain as to Russia.

The sultan began by murdering his subjects in Armenia with every attendant circumstance of fiendish outrage that the mind of man or devil could suggest, and the powers stood calmly by giving at least their passive encouragement. The Cretans rose in insurrection, threatened with the fate of the Armenians, when the admiration felt by the powers for the sultan and his methods, advanced from a passive to an active form, and they interferred to aid in the suppression of Crete. British ships bombarded Crete when they seemed in a fair way to whip the Turks. British soldiers were landed in support of the sultan's authority, and Greece is bullied and threatened as the staunch friend of the oppressed Cretans. The sultan in dispensing his favors should make no distinction. The alliance is one of which Christian England has no reason to be proud, and it is doubtful if she would board as a treasure, the thanks of this barbarous ruler, for the inspection of posterity.

THE EL PASO COLLECTORSHIP.

A Washington dispatch announces that Captain Moses Dillon, of El Paso, is to be appointed collector of customs of the El Paso collection district. It is said that the Republicans of Texas have given him their united support. This say does not make it so, however, as it is a fact that many Republicans of western Texas have endorsed Colonel Philip Motherill for the position. No mistake could possibly be made by the appointment of Colonel Motherill. We presume Captain Dillon is a very good man and all that. But what is the use of appointing a Texas Republican, when a New Mexico Republican, worthy in all respects, and who could do the Republican party a great deal of good within the next four years, can be appointed. As a matter of recognition of New Mexico Republicans, as good politics and in order to appoint the best man, the president and the secretary of the treasury should select Colonel Motherill. New Mexico forms the largest portion of the El Paso collection district; it has never had a collector. The Republicans of New Mexico and many prominent citizens of El Paso are strongly supporting and endorsing Colonel Motherill. Therefore, should the administration heed these demands and appoint him to the position for which he is strongly inured, and for which he is remarkably well fitted.

BET SUGAR EXPERIMENTS.

The experiment station of the United States department of agriculture, commonly known as the government experimental station, is working vigorously to introduce the cultivation of the sugar beet, and the consequent manufacture of beet sugar in the state of Missouri. The experiment should and no doubt will succeed.

If beets will not grow in Missouri, the one state that produces both corn and cotton, owing to its range of soil and climate, then it may be inferred that they will not grow anywhere in the United States. There is plenty of room for experiment in the beet sugar industry, which is experiencing a general revival throughout many of the western states and territories. New Mexico for example has demonstrated during the past year that sugar beets can be successfully grown in her soil, and the making of beet sugar, bide fair to become one of her most important industries during the next five years.

Arizona with a similar soil and climate is progressing steadily toward success along the same lines. California has several large factories in operation, and more in course of construction. It seems to be more a question of climate than of soil, in the successful production of the sugar beet. The sugar comes mostly from sunshine, and is not drawn from a rich soil, as might be supposed. Any locality that has a great deal of sunshine, can grow beets successfully. Thus it happens that New Mexico, Colorado, and Arizona are well adapted to sugar beet culture.

The United States, in a few years will produce the sugar, that now figures among our foreign imports. Of this there can be no question, and the sooner this condition of affairs is brought about, the better.

NEWS FROM LAS VEGAS

City Politics—Inside Items of the Last City Election—The Political Game As It is and Is to Be Played in Las Vegas and San Miguel.

A Correspondent Who Knows What He Is Talking About.

Special Correspondence of New Mexican.

Las Vegas, N. M., April 10.—The course of the Optic in keeping alive the questions which were passed upon last November is causing some considerable remark here. Its editorials would lead people to believe that the issues fought out in the city campaign were whether the United States should have free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, or that the defeat of Billie Bryan was a public calamity. The editor of the Optic is to be congratulated on finding food for thought on these great subjects in the defeat of Mr. Sporleder and the election of Dr. Olney to the office of mayor. Mr. Sporleder was as pronounced in his silver views as was Dr. Olney and both voted for Ferguson and neither participated in anyway with the Republican party in the November campaign. The Optic must needs be hard up for excuses when it seeks to make it appear that free silver caused Mr. Sporleder's defeat. The truth is the leaders of the Republican party in this city were not disposed to fight Dr. Olney in his desire for a re-election and would not have done so had there not been a patent attempt on the part of his followers to disrupt the Republican party organization. The loss of a party organization of the true blue stripe is more disastrous than the loss of an election covering city issues. The mayor's office here has been well filled by Dr. Olney, and while he is not personally popular, everybody recognized that he was entitled to a re-election if he so desired and solely on account of his stewardship of the office. Dr. Olney has been a first-class official and he got many votes which otherwise would have gone to Mr. Sporleder and simply because it was believed that he would continue to give four-fifths of his time in the looking after the people's business without pay.

The Republican party here should have no fight with Dr. Olney; he has been at least consistent; he never participated in the primaries last fall and was an out and out Bryan man from start to finish. The Republican party has a fight, however, with those misguided followers after the free silver Nemesis who are trying to hang on to the party coat tail and yet doing all they can to disrupt its organization. It may be pretty trying for them to say farewell to the party which has been theirs for the past 30 years but there is no straddling, for the issues have been made and the battle won. They are either fish, flesh or fowl and the actions of several would indicate that they belong to the last named breed.

To a man occupying a lofty position in a neighboring tree top, it would seem that the Mr. Felix Martinez has had a hand in this little game as declared in the Optic. He wants to keep alive the intestine fight knowing that only he can profit by it when the real elections come around two years hence. The Republican party is the only party which has an organization in every precinct in San Miguel county and this organization is what Don Felix fears or at least would like to destroy, and there was an individual of very dark complexion concealed in the political woodpile when the Forsythe resolution was introduced at the meeting of the city Republican committee. If a politician wishes to keep the whole party during every one of the 365 days and nights in the year, particularly the nights, Don Felix is what may be termed in modern slang "a very warm political baby;" he is a "sure thing," a matter which was the cyclone comes from the writer has heard him declare in the legislative council of this territory that he was not a Democrat and yet the members of the Democratic party would like the hands that smote them; the writer has heard him abuse the people of East Las Vegas in a way that ought to bring shame to their faces, and yet during the last fall campaign, the heretofore leaders of Democracy fell down and worshipped this political Poo Bah and why? There is but one solution. They fear him and fear commands respect, particularly in New Mexico politics. Felix can out hold and outplay any politician in the Democratic party and these alleged Democratic leaders in the new town of Las Vegas know it. When Felix needs a card to fill up his hand he goes and gets it even if he has to go into the Republican camp to obtain it and oftentimes this is not necessary, as he calls for it from the Republican dealer and gets the card just the same. The game of politics in San Miguel county is worthy of close political study. The more attention you give to the matter, the less you know about it.

Don Felix was a little "bby" or strength during the last legislature but what did that matter? Not a whit to the elegant Felix. He immediately adjusted himself to conditions and claimed everything that was good as emanating from himself and jumped right in and participated of the pie to his heart's content. Felix is a great adjuster. He ought to be an agent or adjuster for a fire insurance company. You can rest assured that the settlement would be only one way.

Why is it that the Democratic leaders fear him? Every Democrat of consequence in new town has large property interest at stake or he is a lawyer representing large interests. What do they behold? Felix is clerk of the court. Necessarily to some extent he has what plenty of lawyers strive to get—the ear of the fountain of justice. Be his influence good or bad, he is supposed to have influence and the fact that he is clerk is demonstration sufficient to many that he has plenty. Then he controls the board of county commissioners, at least he has that reputation and who will say him nay. Then he is collector of taxes and in these hard times a little leniency from that source accomplishes wonders. Again he edits and owns the Voz del Pueblo, which is a powerful factor among the native people. It always pays to read that paper. Ten to one you will find something editorially that wouldn't sound well if printed in plain English. It is not intended to be read by any English speaking people.

What is it that has made this man the power that he is? There are many answers and few that are satisfactory. Some are plausible. The writer believes that he is the outgrowth of the conditions that have obtained in this county for the past ten years. What was the power which disrupted the Republican party in San Miguel county? Was it a desire on the part of the people to cast down the party? No. Rather was it the desire on the part of one faction to destroy the other. Felix was smooth enough to see this and combined with one faction and practically destroyed it, and the following campaign combined against the other faction and it went away of all flesh as well. What is the result? The master hand takes in the political jack pot and instead of sitting just to fill up the game now runs a little game of his own and gets the entire "rake off."

It is almost certain that Don Felix was behind the movement to run no straight Republican ticket in the city election. Those who believe in free coinage at 16 to 1 may care to see its opponents turned down at every throw, but the old political maxim that "you are either with us or you are against us" applies with peculiar force just now. Felix had best put up some other scheme. He is only playing his long suit, and that is a rule that is seldom overlooked. Two years may make some changes, however. The coming of good times to New Mexico, which is to be hoped for and its possibility not cried down, may offset the heart burnings of silver's defeat, but you can rest assured of one thing and that is that a Republican organization will be maintained even if there are none but members of the committee who will vote to sustain it.

Socially, Las Vegas has been dull. There is the usual round of private entertainments, the dance at the club and other mild Lenten frivolities. Soon the Easter hat and its natural concomitant, the Easter dress and wrap, so joyful to the female heart, will be in most pronounced evidence, and after that the deluge of shopkeepers' bills.

After a while, some more.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1896, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is applied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

THE SUN SHINES more hours in the day and more days in the year in Eddy and Chaves counties, New Mexico, than in any other section of the west.

124 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beet; 84.1 per cent purity.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet roots, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

GOOD SOIL makes the seed germinate.

WATER makes the plant grow.

SUNLIGHT puts the sugar in the BEET.

THE ONLY THING left to be desired that the Pecos Valley has not on hand in abundance is PEOPLE. We need thrifty farmers; 500 heads of families each on a 40-acre farm.

NO FAIRER terms or conditions of sale of beet and fruit lands were ever made.

But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organs and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the pains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blades, the nausea, headache, yellowness of the skin,

SANDY BEND'S COURT.

JUDGE HOKE OFFICIATES AS JUSTICE,
JURY AND COUNSEL.

He Settles a Little Affair Between Peters and Jones That Should Have Been Wound Up With Pistols Out of Court.
The Law and His Liquor.

"This yere court," began Judge Hoke of Sandy Bend as he laid a gun on the table
before him and looked around the room,
"this yere court is now open and ready for bizness, and that Chinymen with a cough had better hang on to it or get outdoors."
"First and foremost," resumed the judge,
after getting his pipe alight, "this yere court didn't want to be a court, kase he don't go much on law, and havin bin appointed a court, he's determined to do ahead and do the best he kin. The case before us is that of Jim Peters versus Abraham Jones, and the critters are present and ready to do any amount of lyning to win the case. Abe has demanded a jury trial, I believe, but he won't git it. When a critter demands a jury trial in this court, it's a shakedown on the court herself, and anybody redneck in the court wants to be mighty handy with a gun."
"No reflection was meant, your honor," said the lawyer for the defendant as he arose.

"That you, Sol Jackson?" queried his honor as he lifted his eyes. "Waal, now, you sot down and stay nailed to your chair." This court knows a redneck from a jack rabbit and can't be bamboozled and toyed with. She feels herself perfectly competent to decide any case which may be brought before it, and that hain't no need for any talk from the lawyers. If you differ with this court, Sol Jackson, now's
the time for sayin so and producing yer dockuments."

Mr. Jackson had no "dockument" to produce, and, turning to the lawyer who represented the plaintiff, his honor continued:

"And the court don't want to hear from you either, Jim Burden. Lawyers' gab is all right in sartain cases, but in this case we don't want any. I'm judge, jury and lawyer for both sides, and if any critter finds fault with my decision he kin hev
it out with me arterwards. The case should never hev cum before a court of law, but it's yere and it's as follows: Jim Peters and Abraham Jones own a horse in partnership. It's a pecky ole hoss, blind in one eye and lame in all four legs, and nobody but a Chinymen would gin $20 for

it. They uses that ole hoss in the diggin's and gets along all right till three days ago.
Then Abe comes to Sandy Bend and gin drunk, and when a Chinymen cum along and offers Jim $20 for the ole hoss he can't take the rhino quick 'nuff. When Abe sobers up and goes home, he wants to know about that ole hoss. Jim tells him to go to. He's got the money and he means to keep it.

"Now, then, when does Abe do under the circumstances? What would this yere court or most any other decent critter do?
Why, he'd out with a gun and demand that that hoss money and git it in three shakes, and then go over and lick the Chinymen and git the hoss back fur his own."

The judge paused to look Abe over from top to toe in a contemptuous way, and then, striking the table with his fist, he exclaimed:

"Ar! Abe Jones a man or a rabbit? If he was a man, would he hev walked away from Jim Peters and cum down to me at the Red Dog saloon, whar I was rushed with bimess, and demanded justice? That's what he did, and he hain't two guns buckled around him and knowed that his pard wasn't 40 rods off. If this yere case was carried to the supreme court, Abe Jones would be hung to the nearest tree, and nobody would attend his funeral, but it ain't gin up thar. It's gin to be settled right yere and now and forever. As I say, he cum to me as I was ruinin the drinks fur the Bar City crowd, and he has tears in his eyes as he says:

"Judge, I'm a pilgrim as has been wronged."

"Wronged as how?"
"By my pard sellin me out."
"And what d'ye want yere?"
"Justice, judge—justice. I'm appealin to the law fur a squar' deal."

Whether by bribe, by flattery or by both history does not say, but by some means a mother and daughter managed to gain access to Paderewski's sanctum. The mother was proud of her daughter, as mothers will be, and, as for the daughter, she had aspirations. She had been taught to play.
She thought she played well, and, to make a long story short, she ardently desired
Paderewski's opinion of her prowess.

She came, then, saw the piano and attempted its conquest. Paderewski listened, or appeared to, while the mother had time approvingly. At last, with a final crash, the girl rose from the stool, and the mother flushed with pleasure.

"Tell me," she whispered to the artist,
"tell me in confidence. What do you think of her?"

Amiably the artist rubbed his hands together.

"I think she must be very charitable."

"Charitable! Charitable!"
"Yes," Paderewski sweetly repeated,
"charitable. Surely she must have her left hand know what her right hand doeth."—Scottish Nights.

Kindly Meant.
"My son," said the long, grimy man with nothing to do, "do you know that that banana peel you have thrown on the sidewalk is likely to trip some passing pedestrian?"

"You don't care, do you?" retorted the small boy.

"Certainly I care. Why should you waste banana peels in tripping pedestrians when it would be much more exciting to throw them in the street and do a scorcher?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Prepared.

Domine! My dear erring brother, are you not aware that you are liable to be called at any time?

Rounder (winking the other eye)—
That's all right. I always carry a couple of aces in my sleeve in case of emergency.
—New York Sunday Journal.

Useless Oratory.

After listening to a parliamentary candidate's fervid appeal a shrewd old farmer was asked what he thought of the speech. His reply was simply, "Well, I dinna ken, but I think six hours' rain would 'a' done us a deal more good."
—Tit-Bits.

As She Expressed It.

Tottie—Oh, dear, there are two men,
and I promised to dine with each of them.
Dottie—Well, what of that?
Tottie—Oh, I'm too tired for an encore.
—Truth.

Who Knows?

What fate may place to place within our way
We cannot know. We should not trouble ourself.

The festive Eastport herring of today
May be the French sardine we eat tomorrow.
The gentle butter, by a halter led,
Tomorrow today will feel her heart's last utter.

And she may be spread upon your bread
As also, which you'll accept as butter.
The soft and guileless cotton seed, down south,
Where oxtongue, mulatto and creole live,
Tomorrow may be melting in your mouth
As genuine Italian halle d'olive.
The soft and guileless cotton seed, down south,
That drags the stage with tottering instability.

Next week, who knows, his steak may form a course.

In your own meal—the piece of resistance.
The little English sparrow of the street,
On whom we look as being but a low bird,
May on some Occasion's board be placed to eat.
Dignified beneath the alias as snowbird.

The cat that walks upon his haunches and fends
And tortures you with his nocturnal habits
May scotch your palate scarce an evening
hence.

And taste delicious as ragout of rabbit.
The egglets of the haddock, humble fish,
Tomorrow may just where others today are be-Silly, on some epicure's exultative dish.
Mayhap, they will read Russian caviare be.
The butt of that cigar which you have smoked
And in the gutter carried off by fire, O
May, on some epicure's exultative dish,
And puffed and praised as cigarette be.

Fate rules the world with her peculiar law.
She holds the cards; we shut our eyes and draw.

HE STOLE A MARCH.

And Afterward Had Plenty of Time to Repent at Leisure.

When I was running the Geville Beacon Light of Liberty, one of my patrons from a way back district came into the office one day late in the fall. Joy was beaming from his face like a candle shining through the holes in a jack lantern.

"Tol de rol, de rol, de raddy!" Tol de rol, de rol, de raddy!" was his first remark
as he cut a series of backwoods pigeon wings around the room. It was court week, during which event the Geville Beacons were wont to set forth to their eager patrons a tipple that had won much fame
for the promptness with which it took dull care by the neck and tossed it out of the window, and I at first thought that my friend from way back had been in fond and too protected dalliance with the insinuating bowl, but such was not the fact.
After he had warbled and plumed out his first burst, he glunked down in a chair and said:

"I'm goin ter give yer a piece fur yer paper bettin' noss stealin, or runnin off with somebody else's wife, or burnin yer neighbor's barn! Ye know the Widder Buggles, an ye know the Widder Buggles' pleasure?"

I told him I did.

"How old d'ye s'pose the widder is?" he asked, and I told him I had no idea.

"Why, dod durn it, she's 68—68 past!
An ain't she humbly? She's so all-fired humly that she sot in her corn patch this season an' actly skinned the crows away!
That's pooty durn humbly, ain't it? An ain't she thin? An ash saplin's got more meat on it than the widder has! Fact!
She's doer'n a post, too, an her off eye is out, an you couldn't raise white beans on that clearin of her'n! For agricultur'l purposes that clearin ain't worth a shillin an acre. But, do ye know, she won't sell the durn place for any price. She says if any feller wants that clearin he's got to take her with it! An who d'ye think's ben edgin round the widder, anxious to git the clearin on them diskerign terms? Actly ly willin to marry the Widder Buggles to that clearin! Why, Pete Sykes! An why is he so durn willin to git the clearin on them diskerign terms? 'Cause he's found out that the clearin has got this yere
on it, that's why."

My friend, from way back took a handful of glittering, heavy bits of ore from his pocket and showed them to me. Then he danced joyously again, shouting:

"Gold, by thumps—gold! Tol de rol, de rol, de raddy! Gold on the Widder Buggles' clearin! She's old an rattly as a dried gourd an deaf an short an off eye, an her clearin ain't worth 9 shillin an acre for agricultur'l purposes, but she's got on her clearin —tens an tons of it! An Pete Sykes, he's found it out somehow an is willin to marry the widder! He told me so! But he don't know that the widder's dead sot on me! Pete's goin to ask her tonight!
Tol de rol, de rol, de raddy! An the widder don't know she's got gold on her clearin! She don't know it, an Pete can't tell her! She's old enough to be my mammy, but she's got gold! Say, ain't this goin to be a piece fur yer paper
that'll make things rattle?"

I took the specimens my way back friend handed me. They were iron pyrites.
I put them on a shovel and held it in the fire. Presently they vanished as if they had never been. The look on my visitor's face was a sight to see.

"That's what they call 'fool's gold,' Jaggers," I said. "It's entirely worthless.
You couldn't get a dollar f a thousand tons of it. Now ye had a new escape
You might have married the decept
Widder Buggles and her worthless clearin.
Let Pete Sykes have the widow if he wants her."

My friend at last awoke to the true situation. He stamped and thumped and knewed and gawped and yelled and swore until things looked blue.

"Let Pete have the widder!" he yelled.
"Why, great crackin heels of Julius Ce-sar's ghost! There ain't no widder! The Widder Buggles, old an rattly an deaf an without an off eye, ain't the Widder Buggles! She's dead sot on me, an she's thumps (or I stole) much on Pete an married her this mornin'!"

And my friend from way back dashed out of the office and away. I never put his piece in the paper.—Ed Mott in New York Journal.

BILLY AND THE BEAN.

A Helpful Little Boy Who Was a True
Philosopher.

First.—On a bright spring day up in New Hampshire little Billy Blowngun was watching his papa plant the garden.

Second.—Why did little Billy Blowngun's
old man plant the garden?

Third.—Because little Billy's father was poor and had to do so, that he might be able to furnish his numerous family with a winter's grub stake. They were so poor that they never had any other kind of steak. This is why little Billy helped his papa. Every time old Billy would take a hole in the earth with his boot heel little Billy would steal slyly behind and drop in a seedling potato; then he would cover the hole up. Oh, children, is it not a beautiful thing to be able to assist our parents as they are in need?

Fourth.—As Billy Blowngun put his right hand to his pocket to see if he still continued to drop seeds with his left his fingers touched two beans that were left over from last Sunday's hunt with his little blowngun. Running to his papa, he exclaimed in childish glee: "Oh, papa, see what I have found! Two large kidney beans. May I plant them and have the crop for my very own?" "Yes, Billy, if you can get them to grow, that I may in time become a bean merchant!"

Fifth.—So old Billy gave him the desired permission, and all that summer little Billy watched his bean vine grow.
Quoth he: "When I sell my beans, I shall buy my dear mamma a new sealskin sack and my dear papa a new top hat, and the old one is strong enough to kill a hen."

Sixth.—One bright day in July a little bean was born.

Seventh.—But, though he watched long and earnestly, no more beans grew upon the kidney bean vine. Resigning himself to the in-ev-it-able, he said: "Well, by chow, my dear papa, I'm sorry. This is not evidently a bean year, and I am lucky to get one bean for next year's seed. I must hope for the best. Ma and pa, I know, will wait another year for their present if I ask them." So Billy hoped on.

Eighth.—But one September morn, when billy was playing in the yard, little Susie came running to her mother, who was also Billy's mother, and said, "Oh, mamma, billy has picked Billy's bean when I wasn't looking and put it up its dear little nose."

Ninth.—Alas for Billy, with his only seedling bean in the baby's hand, he had lost the Billy bean and curse at his ill luck!
No. Billy was made of better stuff, and besides he loved his little baby brother.
So he swallowed his disappointment and felt better. He wished billy might swallow the bean as easy. "Anyhow," he mused later, "I just intended the process of my bean for pe and ma, and billy got 'em. It's all in the family anyway."

Try, children, and imitate little Billy Blowngun's unselfish example.—New York Sunday Journal.

Feminine Precautions.

I may be over-careful, she said, as she hid the paste spoons and her curling irons in the bottom of her trunk before she went out shopping, but I just can't bear to run any risks.

Thus she pinned her gold watch to the outside of her dress by a blue ribbon and went down town.

AS TO GAMING LICENSES.

Official Opinion of Solicitor-General
Fall to Assessor Hudson.

Captain J. R. Hudson, County Assessor, Santa Fe, N. M.

Santa Fe, N. M., March 27.—Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter dated March 24, requesting my official opinion as to gaming licenses. Under the law (laws of 1891, page 116) your official adviser is the district attorney for this judicial district. As Mr. Crist is absent from the territory, it seems proper for me to comply with your request. The question about which you make inquiry is fully covered, except in one particular, by chapter 27 of the laws of 1887, as amended by chapter 30 of the laws of 1893. As you doubtless have these laws, I do not quote them in full. These acts establish, first, that the license fee is on each gambling table or apparatus of any kind whatever and that not more than one game shall be played on the same table at any time, the name of said game to be mentioned in the license issued for running said table; second, that such gaming licenses shall only be good and apply to the place of business mentioned in the application for such license. You are further advised that there is no provision of law authorizing any public officer to make or enter any transfer of a gaming license from one person to another. I have also received your letter dated March 25, asking for an opinion as to the proper construction of certain bills, passed by the Thirty-second legislative assembly. The matter is of some importance and I shall advise you fully as soon as I have had time to give it satisfactory attention. Respectfully yours, ALBERT B. FALL, Solicitor-General of New Mexico.

Penitentiary Notes.

Lorenzo Sanchez, of Taos county, was released this morning from the territorial penitentiary, on a pardon issued on Saturday by Acting Governor Miller. His sentence was for three years for murder in the third degree. He had served one year and left for his Taos county home this morning.

Francisco Flores, of Socorro county, sentenced to one year for burglary was discharged today on account of expiration of sentence. This was his second term in the institution. But as he has behaved himself well during his term of imprisonment, he received an allowance of time and restoration of citizenship.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Sheriff Kinsell returned this morning from Cerrillos.

Acting Governor Miller visited Albuquerque yesterday.

Rev. A. Aguirre took today's D. & R. G. train for Embudo.

Hon. H. L. Waldo, solicitor for the Santa Fe, is in Las Vegas.

Rev. G. S. Madden is expected to return from Washington the latter part of this week.

E. B. Leamen of Kansas City, went to Antonito this morning via the narrow gauge.

Hon. A. Staab left this morning for Alamosa via the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

Delegate H. B. Ferguson expects to remain in Washington for the coming three months.

Mrs. T. J. Helm left this morning over the D. & R. G. for Portland, Ore., on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Kilbourne.

Ex-Surveyor-General Edward F. Hobart is in the city from his extensive farm in the northern part of this county. Hon. F. A. Manzanares, president of the bureau of immigration and one of New Mexico's leading citizens, is in the city from Las Vegas.

W. M. Cook, of Chicago, is at the Palace. He is confidential man for a Chicago banking firm that is figuring on purchasing some territorial securities.

Cabell E. Conway, ore buyer for the Silver City reduction works, has been visiting the Cochiti district and is well pleased with that section of New Mexico from a mineral standpoint.

Mrs. A. J. Fontaine and family, removed from Mesilla to Las Cruces last Monday, and are now occupying part of the Duper building east of R. L. Young's law office.—Rio Grande Republic.

W. P. Shields returned Tuesday from a two month's visit to California. Owing to sickness Mrs. Shields and the little son could not return home with him and yet remain at Los Angeles.—Tulacosa Chief.

Samuel K. Smith of Fort Hueron, Mich., is a healthseeker in the city. Mr. Smith is a friend of Mrs. Hicks, well remembered in Santa Fe, and he expects to make a permanent home in this city. His wife and three boys will join him shortly.

County Assessments.

Assessor J. R. Hudson was in Cerrillos last week on business connected with the duties of his office. He has carefully examined taxable property in that section and will scrutinize all tax returns from that part of the county. He leaves tomorrow for Golden, San Pedro and Galisteo on similar business. The people elected Captain Hudson to see to it that a just assessment is to be had and he will do his best to fulfill their expectations.

Arbor Day.

This being a territorial holiday, it is generally observed throughout the territory by the school children. All the school children of this city were out today planting trees and shrubs. A unique procession visited the territorial superintendent of public instruction, this morning. Professor Flavio Silva, teacher of the public school of district No. 3 in this county at the head of a class of over 40 children, boys and girls, paid his respects to the superintendent. All the boys carried spades on their shoulders and the girls carried small trees and other plants which were to be planted along the borders of the academy. Professor Silva is one of the most progressive teachers. He is a native of the territory and has been a successful instructor for the last 25 years.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday was clear with high northern winds. The temperature was slightly above the normal, maximum 65 and minimum 36 degrees. The minimum this morning was 27 degrees. The mean relative humidity was 22 per cent. Fair and cooler weather is indicated for tonight and Tuesday.

If you want photographic cameras or supplies, go to Fischer & Co's.

CITY NEWS ITEMS.

The street sprinkler should be kept going.

The new city officials take office next Monday.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: fair, cooler tonight and Tuesday.

Regular convocation of Santa Fe R. R. Chapter No. 1, at Masonic hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Arbor day today. The postoffice was accordingly closed this afternoon, the day being considered a national holiday.

The bureau of immigration met at 2 p. m. today but transacted no business. It is to meet at the call of the chairman in adjourned session.

The Denver & Rio Grande train that came in this afternoon brought in eleven cars of straight freight for Santa Fe.

Telegraphic advices from Washington indicate that action on the pending appointment of a governor for New Mexico will be taken up tomorrow, and still that is not certain.

The board of trade should shake itself together and do something toward the reopening of the dining room of the Palace hotel. That will be something useful and in the line of business.

The county commissioners will be in session on the first Monday in May next for the purpose of funding all floating indebtedness against the county. If you have any such get it ready for presentation.

The best and cheapest job work, brief work and book work in the territory is done by the New Mexican Printing company. Patronize home institutions and thereby help yourself, help the town and help the territory by doing so.

Railroad business over the Antonito division of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad is increasing. Last month about 1,400,000 pounds of freight were turned over by the Denver & Rio Grande to the Santa Fe at this shipping point.

The Rev. R. M. and Mrs. Craig left this morning for Taos, where the Presbytery of Santa Fe convenes on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Presbytery meets in the same place during the meeting of the Presbytery.

A rumor is afloat that the Sisters of Charity here are to be succeeded by another order, who will assume charge of the hospital and orphanage, etc., and in addition will erect and maintain a new, large and handsome sanitarium.

Hon. T. B. Catron telegraphs the New Mexican from Washington to the effect that the information upon which an item recently published in these columns, stating that he was not supporting Mr. Peoria or Mr. Morrison, but was supporting Mr. Hugh N. Price for governor, is incorrect and untrue and asks correction, which is herewith and hereby made.

For clothing, boots, shoes and hats, go to the Cash Store.

Death of Mrs. Ives.

Mrs. A. E. Ives, wife of Dr. Ives, of Detroit, Mich., for more than a year a health seeker in Santa Fe, died at a health resort, two weeks ago, and was buried at Detroit last Monday. Mrs. Ives was a musician of very superior ability, the possessor of an exquisite voice and for several years participated in the many musical events of her native city. While residing here Mrs. Ives made many warm friends and admirers, who now offer to her husband and family sincere condolence in their great loss.

WEATHER BUREAU REPORT

Second Annual Report of the Climate and Crop Service of the Weather Bureau for New Mexico.

Mr. H. B. Hersey, observer of the weather bureau and director of the New Mexico section, has just issued his second annual report of the New Mexico weather and crop service for the year 1896. "The growth of the service during the past year," says the report, "has been steady and substantial and desired results are being realized in the increased numbers of people coming to enjoy the great climatic advantages of this territory."

"The interest shown in the climatology of New Mexico by members of the medical profession throughout the country is equally encouraging."

"Monthly reviews have been published throughout the year giving the complete record of the weather and facts of climatic and agricultural value. These reviews have been well distributed and have been the means of interesting many people in our climate and resources."

The report contains a list of the meteorological stations in New Mexico, 42 in number, and then follows brief monthly summaries dealing with climatic conditions for the year 1896. The remaining portion of the work, some 50 pages in extent, is devoted to well arranged tabulated data dealing with the technical questions of the service, but so simplified as to be interesting reading for those desiring to know all about the climate of New Mexico. These tables deal first with the mean temperature and total precipitation for the year compared with normals, the latter being worked out for the whole number of years, that observations have been taken at the various stations. In some cases these observations cover a period of 37 years, and the value of deductions of this character are apparent.

A valuable table for the ordinary observer, is that showing the daily maximum temperature in New Mexico, 42 in number, and the daily precipitation for each of the 42 stations on the New Mexico section, for the entire year. A glance at this table will give a stranger for example a very fair knowledge of the climate of the various parts of the territory.

Notice.

To the Creditors of Santa Fe County, New Mexico, and to All Others to Whom This May Be of Concern.—Notice is hereby given, that under and by virtue of the provisions of Chapter 25 of the session laws of 1897 entitled, "An act for the purpose of funding the floating indebtedness of counties, boards of education, municipal corporations and school districts and for other purposes," approved March 12, 1897, the board of county commissioners of Santa Fe county, New Mexico, will meet at the court house in the city of Santa Fe in said county on the first Monday in May, A. D. 1897, for the purpose of ascertaining and determining the outstanding and floating indebtedness of the said county of Santa Fe, other than bonded indebtedness and such other indebtedness as cannot be considered floating, and as coupons unpaid and the like. The board of county commissioners will be in session for a sufficient term to pass upon all claims of floating indebtedness and unpaid accounts and vouchers, approved and unapproved, that may be presented then and there. All persons holding any such claims against the county, such as unpaid bills and accounts, vouchers approved or unapproved, certificates of indebtedness or unpaid warrants of any kind, however evidenced, are hereby notified to present such claims at the said meeting as provided by the law above quoted.

By order of the board of county commissioners of Santa Fe county, Santa Fe, New Mexico, this 13th day of April, 1897.

SANTA FE, N. M.

OJO CALIENTE
(HOT SPRINGS.)

THESE Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Barrancas Station on the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages run to the Springs. The temperature of these waters is from 90° to 122°. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 5,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. These waters contain 1,686.34 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon; being the richest Alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficacy of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attested to in the following diseases:—Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Consumption, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilis and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc., etc. Board, Lodging and Bathing, $2.50 per day.
