TUESDAY, MAY 11.

And now for the rebuilding of the capitol.

The new capitol building should be completed and ready for occupation by June 1, 1898.

The majority rules and the majority in the house of representatives sustains Speaker Reed.

It is several days since the arbitration treaty was voted down in the United States senate and the country still lives.

During 1896 the people of New Mexico were the owners of 2,700,000 head of sheep and of 810,000 head of cattle. Not a bad showing this.

Even the Madrid newspaper are condemning Weyler's atrocities and atrocities in Cuba. The situation in Cuba must be bloody and shocking indeed.

ATTORNEY GENERAL McKENNA's order stopping the erection of dams in the Rio Grande valley in this territory, will be the cause of a good many d—no doubt.

The capitol rebuilding commission, now that funds are in hand, should start active operations for the rebuilding of the capitol at once. There is no time to be lost.

The plans are ready; the money is here; penitentiary labor can be had as soon as asked for. The capitol rebuilding committee should commence the rebuilding of the capitol.

DR. GODFREY HUNTER, unsuccessful candidate for the United States senate from the sovereign state of Kentucky, may be sent as minister to Peru. The farther away the better. The people will not object.

The beer brewers of the country now demand that soda water, sarsaparilla, root beer and other soft drinks, and maddening drinks be also taxed, if beer is to be taxed $1.50 a barrel. These brewers are soulless and callous individuals and not to be trusted.

The monthly treasury statement shows a decrease of $2,440,000 during April in the volume of money in circulation, by reason of the greater sum collected by the government in taxes than was expended during the month. The total currency in circulation now is $126,000,000 more than it was a year ago, so that the withdrawal of a few millions from circulation through the collection of surplus revenues will not be missed.

It is pleasant to hear that official Europe is now hoping for a Greek victory to curb the annoyance of the triumphant Turk. But official Europe has been hoping for Turkish victory and not only hoping, but helping the Turk to win. Germany has supplied the Turk with officers to organize his forces and place his campaigns. Christian Europe has supplied him with the sieges of war and with improved arms. If the Turk is arrogant and vents his arrogance in oppression and bloody deeds, official Europe is responsible.

It is difficult to see any excuse for litigation or even contention in the Rio Grande dam construction matter. Full rights were granted the defendants in the case by Secretary Hoke Smith. Now comes the War department with a claim that the dam corporations were acting without authority, and have thus laid themselves liable to criminal prosecution. There is a screw loose somewhere, no doubt, but upon a general running up, it is safe enough to assume that the dam people will come out all right. The character and standing of the men engaged in this great work is sufficient guarantee that they would not be found ranshing into a proposition of this kind with their money, without first having been advised as to the legality of the proposition.

The commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic has invited General John B. Gordon of Georgia, to deliver his lecture on "The Last Days of the Confederacy" to the old Union soldiers at the national reunion at Buffalo this year.

This incident is worthy of more than passing notice inasmuch as it is an indication that the wounds of the late war are fast healing. The time may and probably will come when the association of Confederate veterans, and the Grand Army of the Republic will be united in one great organization of patriots. It is eminently right and proper that it should be so. No good can come from keeping alive the cruel animosities that rent the country in twain between 1861 and 1865. The questions involved in the great struggle have been forever settled, and the two sections have been merged into one harmonious whole.

PROSPEROUS DAYS.

The number of new incorporations that have taken place during the past month in and for the territory of New Mexico, is one of the most encouraging indications of returning prosperity. The number of new companies organized for the development of territorial industries during the past 30 days exceed the number organized for the same period in 1896 by about 50 per cent. This alone is ample evidence of improved conditions all around. Everything points to a mining boom in the territory of such proportions as will remind the old timers of the flush days that have gone, when everybody was making money. As a matter of fact the boom is already on, and the way to keep it going is for everybody to do a little something in the matter of advertising our resources throughout the eastern states. One does not require capital to write to friends and relatives of the splendid advantages in New Mexico for the invalid, the homeseeker and the man with money to invest in mines, stock or agriculture. Every little helps. Tell your friends of our climate, and the great chances here for making happy homes. The great need of the territory is immigration, and this fact cannot be insisted upon too often. New Mexico has homes for the million, almost for the asking. Her fertile valleys are waiting for the hand of the agriculturist and the horticulturist. Her mountains are mighty storehouses of the precious metals, and will yield their untold riches at the magic touch of capital.

IMPORTANT WORK DELAYED.

The order of the attorney-general at Washington stopping all work on New Mexico dams along the Rio Grande river, and ordering the criminal prosecution of all corporations engaged in the work, will be a serious blow to New Mexico. Her greatest hope for future prosperity was found in the possibility of constructing large dams holding water enough to make the irrigation of large tracts of land practicable and profitable. Small dams do not accomplish the desired results, and it is only through big enterprises such as those now under way along the Rio Grande, which will make possible the redemption of large tracts, that New Mexico can hope to derive any extensive benefit. The ground upon which this work has been stopped would seem entirely inadequate. A contention is set up that the war department was not consulted in the matter. It is true that no permission has been obtained from the present administration, but it is also true that Hoke Smith, acting as secretary of the interior for the administration that has now passed into history, granted all the permission that the best legal talent in the west deemed necessary for a prosecution of the work. Upon this permission the work was commenced, and large sums of money have already been expended in good faith. Interference with construction at this time would not only delay a work of which the territory stands in sore need, but would discourage the investment of capital in the future, and in many other ways would very materially injure the interests of New Mexico. No doubt an amicable adjustment will be arrived at within a few days, thus allowing the work to proceed, a consummation, which means a great deal for the future of this territory.

SUGAR BEET CULTURE.

Under the sub-heads of soil and fertilization the farmers' bulletin, recently issued by the department of agriculture at Washington, has some interesting things to say concerning sugar beet culture, which are reproduced for the benefit of those interested in this industry:

"The sugar beet does not require a particular kind of soil for its proper production. In general, soils are described for practical purposes as clayey, sandy, loamy, or alluvial soils; all of these soils will produce beets. The black prairie soils also have been found, with proper cultivation, to produce excellent beets. Generally, the least favorable soils for the sugar beet are a stiff clay, which is cultivated with difficulty and readily packs under the influence of hard rains and hot sun, and virgin soils or those especially rich in organic matter or alkaline salts. Perhaps the best soil may be described as sandy loam; a soil containing a happy equilibrium between organic matters, clay and sand.

"Two kinds of fertilizers are employed; stall manure from the farm, and artificial manure generally known as commercial fertilizer. For general purposes, stall manure is desirable. It should be applied, in a well rotted condition, in the autumn before the ground is plowed. The quantity per acre depends, of course, on the fertility of the soil; but in any case it is not best to apply a very heavy dressing. In poor soils it is best to supply the fertilizer for several years in succession, rather than to apply enough at once to bring it up to the required state of fertility. Two copious applications of stall manure is apt to produce overgrowth in the beets, which makes them ill suited to the manufacture of sugar. If the fertilizer be applied in an unrotted condition, it is apt to seriously injure the crop in case of dry weather.

"Of commercial fertilizers three classes are employed containing, respectively, nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash. In some instances these three elements are found combined in the same commercial fertilizer. Nitrogenous manure should be applied with great care to sugar beets. It tends to produce a very heavy growth of the beet, and thus to diminish its content of sugar. Potash and phosphoric acid can be applied with great freedom to beet fields; in general they are much better in conjunction than when applied separately.

"The principles of fertilization depend upon the fact that a soil of good quality should have returned to it all that the harvest has removed, and a poor soil be supplied with those elements in which it is deficient.

"Nothing can be more certain than that a soil to which this restoration is not fully made will gradually lose its facility to produce plants in normal quantity and composition. Culture experiments with artificial liquid manures have not been carried so far with the beet as with some other plants, and therefore the dependence between the composition of such liquids and the evolution of the beet has not yet been determined. The basis is also wanting whereon the direct working of the manure on the beet can be predicted; and here is met the wellknown difficulty of getting the manures into those layers of the soil from which the beet chiefly draws its supplies of mineral plant foods."

In the matter of the claim for the $14,000 for legal services presented to this board by N. B. Langhlin, Thomas Smith and Gildersleeve & Preston and for $1,425 interest on the same at 6 per cent for five and one half years, Mr. C. H. Gildersleeve appeared before the board and made an oral argument as to the justice and correctness of the same and urged upon the board to allow the same and to issue bonds in payment thereof under the provisions of the Bateman law. He claimed that the claim was justly due for services rendered the county as attorneys in the suit of Uter and Coler against the county to test the validity of certain railroad bonds issued by the county.

The claim being of great magnitude and the board not being fully satisfied as to the states of the same, took the claim under advisement and will announce a decision after due consideration and investigation thereof.

The clerk was directed to buy the proper record to record all accounts as provided by the Bateman law.

The sum of $2,000 raised by the board in the assessment report of Mrs. W. H. Manderfield for 1896 was rebated provided the taxes be paid at once.

The collector was directed to receive the sum of $18.30 in full payment of the taxes of Candelario Lucero for 1892-93-94-95-96.

The board adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

FOR THE LADIES.

A GREEN CASHMERE.

A pretty combination in sage green cashmere and white lace. The lace appears in two insertings across the vest of black taffeta which is tucked. The lace also edges the jacket front, the sleeves and the flaring collar and forms the belt.

Both edges of the lace are covered by a black cord.

The skirt is cut with a narrow front gore and a bell back, with the fullness drawn close to the center back and laid in side plaits which meet.

A fold of black taffeta covers the foot of the front gore and extends up over the seams to within ten inches of the top where rosettes of the silk and lace are placed.

The blouse vest is finished with a ruffle at the left side where it fastens. The ruffle partially covers the left revers. The back of the waist simulates a short jacket with a slightly bulging underwaist of the black silk.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is applied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

THE INJUNCTION DISSOLVED

Judge Laughlin Hears Arguments in the Red River City Townsite & Mineral Company's Injunction Suit Against Alleged Squatters.

SEVERAL EJECTMENT SUITS TO COME
The Court, After Considering the Pleas-ings, Decided to Sustain the De-murrer and Dissolve the Injunction.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Judge Laughlin heard arguments in the injunction suit of the Red River City Townsite & Mineral Company vs. certain squatters who have taken up residence upon a certain tract of land, claimed by the company and known as the Gilt Edge Placer mining claim.

Some time since the corporation obtained a temporary injunction at Albuquerque, in the absence of Judge Laughlin. The argument yesterday was on a demurrer to the bill of complaint, which was accompanied by a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction referred to above.

The corporation was represented by C. A. Spies, while J. H. Sutherland of this city, and P. J. Dugan of Pueblo, talked for the defendants.

Mr. Spies in his argument, set up a contention to the effect that, inasmuch as his people held a title by reason of a valid contract to the property in question, namely the Gilt Edge Placer mining claim, that a court of equity had jurisdiction, and a right to protect such title against trespassers who had gone upon the property, by injunction.

The opposition held on the other hand, that inasmuch as the squatters held possession by being upon the land embraced in the Gilt Edge Placer claim, they could not be removed by injunction proceedings, notwithstanding the admitted fact that they held no title to the property in question, and were simply trespassers. It was further argued by the attorneys of the defendant, that the only action which could legally be instituted, would be an action of ejectment.

The court after listening to the arguments decided to sustain the demurrer and dissolve the injunction, holding that under the pleadings, while it would restrain by injunction persons from going upon the property in question, and interfering with the right of possession of the Red River City Townsite & Mineral Company, it could not require those persons who had already entered upon the property to depart therefrom, by injunction proceedings, but would require suits to be instituted for that purpose in eject-ment.

Attorney Dugan left last evening for Red River City to take testimony proving the character of the land, for submission to the land department. The deputy mineral surveyor has already returned the land in contention as mineral land. When all this evidence has been submitted, determining the character of the land in question, Mr. Spies as attorney for the company, proposes to commence ejectment proceedings, by which he deems it possible to remove the alleged squatters from the property to which the Red River City, Townsite and Mineral Company claim title.

NEW MEXICO CROP BULLETIN

The Condition of Crops Throughout the Territory As Gathered by the Local Weather Bureau Official.

THE OUTLOOK GENERALLY FAVORABLE

The Rainfall to Date Gives Ample Assurance of An Abundant Harvest Throughout the Whole Territory.

The week ending May 10 was very favorable to New Mexico. Frequent copious showers and steady gentle rains occurred over most parts of the territory.

The rainfall was the heaviest in the northern part, where from half an inch to three inches of rainfall occurred.
Some of the heaviest reported were Fort Union with 3.45 inches, Ocate 3.36 and Gallinas Spring with 2.35 inches, and a number of other stations with an inch or more of rain during the week.

The lower Rio Grande valley and the southwestern portion of the territory report but very little rain, but everywhere water for irrigation is abundant.

Mild temperatures prevailed with generally very little wind, and in fact everything seemed to come about right for New Mexico.

The lambing season is on and a splendid increase is reported, some flocks reporting 100 per cent increase.

Feed on the ranges is excellent and water abundant.

Stock of all kinds are improving steadily. The first cut of alfalfa is being made in the northern part of the territory.

Fruit trees in good condition and a very heavy crop is now probable.

Some hail occurred during the week and a few localities report some damage, but the area thus affected is small. Fruit and gardens in the vicinity of Roswell were damaged by the hail.

The following extracts from a few of the reports received at this office will be found of interest:

Albuquerque—M. Custers—Favorable conditions have prevailed here during the past week. Abundant rainfall and mild temperatures were the prevailing conditions. Highest temperature 80, lowest 41.
Total rainfall during week 0.77 of an inch.

Alma—Wm. French—Everything growing well. Fruit of all kinds except apricots in splendid condition. Some thunder showers that we have had, have helped greatly on the alfalfa.

Albuquerque—H. H. Griffin—Perfect conditions have prevailed. Three hard rains in all amounting to 1.04 inches, have been of incalculable value. The moisture insures abundance of grass and all crops are coming on nicely. Fruit prospects could not be better. No frost to damage anything.

Bernalillo—Brother Gabriel—Fine weather during the week. Fruit fairly advanced. Alfalfa, wheat and vegetable gardens in very fine condition since the rain; ranges in very fair condition; abundant water for irrigation. Total precipitation during week 0.74 of an inch; average maximum temperature 74; average minimum 47, and average sunshine 89 per cent.

Bluewater—Col. J. S. Van Doren—Thunder, lightning, snow and rain on the 3rd. Planting had to stop for two days, ground being too hard to handle. Corn and root crops mostly in. We have had no high, dry winds this week; season promising extra good. Reservoirs full with good streams over the waste ways.

Eddy—L. O. Follen—The weather during the past week has been of a decidedly cloudy character, with frequent rain; water for irrigating very plentiful, both reservoirs of the irrigating company being full. Farmers are putting in beet seed rapidly; every indication points to a good crop year for sugar beets and all other products.

Esplanade—Jim Curry—Showers first part of week; everything growing finely; fruit is beyond danger of frost. The Rio Grande is higher today, the 10th, than any time this spring.

Farmington—J. G. Willett—Warm showers and gentle rains first of week increase fine grass; hills are green; alfalfa is growing fine; fruit all well and every tree in this county is loaded full; corn is being planted; gardens are looking well; stock in fine condition. San Juan county has never seen a finer spring.

Fort Union—M. C. Needham—A week of frequent showers with some hail; considerable cloudiness with frequent lightning and thunder. Since first of the month we have had 3.45 inches of rainfall. Everything doing well.

Gallinas Spring—J. E. Whitmore—The grass and crops are coming forward well but we need more sunshine. All kinds of stock are doing well. There has been some loss in lambs the past week as we had two days with some fine hail but not large enough to hurt fruit. Total rainfall for the week 2.35 inches.

Las Cruces—C. E. Mead—The past week has been generally very calm and clear. The highest temperature was 89 and the lowest 41. Crops all look very well. There is considerable fruit and orchardists are beginning to "thin out." In some sections farmers are cutting the first crop of alfalfa. There has been no rain during the week.

Las Vegas—D. Harkness—Good rains on the 3rd, 4th and 5th. Crops in fine condition. Alfalfa large and growing fast. Pastures ready for grazing.
Grass is already better than it was by the 10th of July last year. Fruit trees in full bloom and small fruits the same.
Cabbages and other garden plants ready for marketing.

Los Alamos—Wm. Frank—A very rainy week has kept all farm work practically at a standstill, but the week closes bright and warm so it is probable that next week will give people a chance to work again.

Mangus—T. J. Clark—Fruit is safe.
Stock looks fine. Grass is good but needs rain. Corn planting under way.
Plenty of water in the Gila for all purposes. Our spring is three weeks late.
Alfalfa is eight inches high. No rain to amount to anything for over a month.

Osage—E. M. Gosser—The last week ended with 3.36 inches of slow, steady rainfall, thoroughly soaking the ground.
The crop and grass prospects are most flattering. Grass is already good on the ranges and stock are getting along nicely.

Ojo Caliente—Hon. A. Joseph—We have had magnificent rains during the week. The crops generally are looking very promising. All the fruit trees are covered with blossoms and an abundant crop is expected. Alfalfa is two feet high and the crop will be harvested before the end of the present month. The elevation of this place is 6,000 feet.

Pueblo de Santa Fe—P. B. Page—We have had good rains this week and grass all over the country is good and lambing will be the best for years. Crops are all doing well and alfalfa will be ready to cut next week. Rainfall for week, 1.30 inches.
Raton—W. M. Oliver—Good showers have put ground in good condition.
Crops are coming along nicely. Nights are getting warmer. Prospect for good grass early is excellent.
Roswell—W. M. Reed—A heavy hail storm occurred on the afternoon of the 3d followed by another the same night.
The second one did the greater amount of damage. Gardens were injured to a great extent and fruit suffered considerably. peaches, plums and cherries being hurt much. Apples hurt some, but a fair crop left, as the trees were heavily loaded before the storm.

Santa Fe—U. S. Weather Bureau—The weather conditions during the past week were as nearly perfect as could be desired.
All crops have advanced splendidly and are in perfect condition. Apples in full bloom. Peach and apricot blossoms have mostly dropped. A big crop of fruit of all varieties is expected.

Springer—Dr. L. Hines—Total rainfall for past week, 1.30 inches. Best prospect for crops and fruit in this section for many years. Grass on range already three inches high.

a change of venue in the case of Garver

This afternoon Judge Laughlin will hear argument in the following cases:

posed of this afternoon.

The Land Court.

The U. S. court of private land claims heard argument this morning upon the question of the approval of the survey of the Canada de Santa Clara land grant.
The U. S. attorney, Mr. Reynolds, opposed the approval of the survey alleging that the survey contained more land than the decreed grant. The court took the matter under advisement.

In compliance with a mandate from the U. S. supreme court, the Santa Fe land grant case was redocketed and then formally dismissed by the court.

The Weather.

Partly cloudy pleasant weather prevailed yesterday. Highest temperature 68 and the lowest 46 degrees. The lowest temperature this morning was 45. Fair
