WASHINGTON NEWS BUDGET

President McKinley Sends a Special Message to Congress Asking for an Appropriation of $50,000 for Suffering Americans in Cuba.

FAVORABLE ACTION IN THE SENATE

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Reported a Resolution Carrying into Effect the President's Message Regarding Cuba, and It Passed That Body Without Division.

Washington, May 17.—The president today sent the following message to congress:

To the senate and house of representatives of the United States: Official information from our consuls in Cuba, establishes the fact that a large number of American citizens in that island are in a state of destitution, suffering for want of food and medicine. This applies particularly to the rural districts of the central and eastern parts. The agricultural classes have been forced from their farms into the nearest towns, where they are without work or money. The local authorities of the several towns, however, kindly disposed, are unable to relieve the needs of their own people, and are altogether powerless to help our citizens.

The latest report of Consul-General Lee, estimates that from 600 to 800 Americans are without the means of support. I have assured him that provisions will be made at once to relieve them. To that end I recommend that congress make an appropriation of not less than $50,000 to be immediately available for use under the direction of the secretary of state.

It is desirable that a part of the sum, which may be appropriated by congress, should be at the discretion of the secretary of state, to be used for the transportation of American citizens, who, desiring to return to the United States, are without means to do so.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Executive Mansion May 17, 1897.

FAVORABLY RECEIVED. The senate committee on foreign relations has decided to report a resolution, carrying into effect the president's message in regard to Cuba.

A resolution appropriating $50,000 for the relief of destitute Americans in Cuba has passed the senate without division.

KATE NOMINATIONS. The president today sent the following nominations to the senate:

Treasury.—Frank A. Vanderlip of Illinois, to be assistant secretary of the treasury.

War.—Brigadier-General Zeuss R. Bliss, to be major-general.

TRIALS POSTPONED. The trials of Hovey and Seale, president and treasurer respectively of the American Sugar Refining company, for refusing to answer questions before the senate sugar trust investigating committee, have been postponed until Tuesday, the 25th inst.

WELLINGTON'S OPPOSITION. The Morgan Cuban resolution was taken up in the senate at 2 o'clock. Senator Wellington of Maryland, made a vigorous speech in opposition to it. He said the Republican party come in power to relieve people of this country of distress. The first duty of congress, he said, was not to Cuba, but to the American people.

Wellington said, as a Republican he emphatically and heartily approved of Grover Cleveland. He was entitled to the thanks of the people, because he would not rush this country headlong into a war with Spain.

Senator Pettus, of Alabama, asked, "who are the jingoes?" The question brought out loud applause from the galleries. Senator Wellington replied that jingoism was a spirit which would drag the country into war regardless of all reason.

The only speech in the senate concerning the Cuban relief resolution was by Gallinger, who said the most effective relief would be a demand by this government, that the Cubans be released from bondage in towns and permitted to go where they could get food. However, he would not oppose the resolution. The entire matter consumed only 18 minutes.

INFORMATION ASKED FOR. The senate adopted a resolution from Butler, calling on the president for information as to the authority by which proposed sale of the Union Pacific railroad had been agreed on between the executive and a combination of purchasers.

CHAPMAN RESOLUTION. Senator Hoar reported from the judiciary committee in favor of taking no action on the Chapman resolution, as Chapman had made no application for pardon. Without debate the report was adopted and the resolution went to the table.

BAILEY'S OBJECTION. In the house Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, asked for the immediate consideration of the bill appropriating $50,000 for the relief of destitute Americans in Cuba, but Bailey, of Texas, said he must object, unless an amendment embodying Senator Morgan's resolution for recognition of the insurgents be added. Dingley objected to the amendment, whereupon Bailey objected to the bill, and the Cuban question was side tracked.

THE RELIEF MEASURE. If the Hitt's bill, for an appropriation of $50,000 for the relief of American citizens is called up again in the house, Bailey will offer Morgan's resolution for a recognition of belligerency. If, as reported, the committee on rules reports a special rule for consideration of the bill, which will prevent amendment, Bailey will present a minority report from the committee, which permits amendments, and insist on a vote on the minority report.

Republicans leaders say the president's message presents a business question, which they do not wish to complicate with a question of recognition.

DINGLEY VS. BAILEY. The house rejected (the conference report on the union Pacific lands by a vote of 36 to 73, and voted to ask for another conference. Mr. Hitt called up the senate resolution appropriating $50,000 for American citizens in Cuba. Mr. Bailey asked for a consideration resolution and for a recognition of belligerency, whereupon an amendment "We will attend to a time" Mr. Dingley said. "You'll attend to both or neither" said Mr. Bailey. The speaker declared that an objection was made. Mr. Bailey asked unanimous consent for a consideration of the two resolutions, but the speaker recognized Dingley right to make a motion to adjourn, and roll call was forced on this question.

NO ACTION. The house did not act on the senate resolution for the relief of American citizens in Cuba, and at 3:40 p. m. adjourned until Thursday, by a vote of 90 to 71.

RAILROAD LANDS. The senate adopted a resolution introduced by Pettigrew, directing the committee on Pacific railroads to investigate as to whether any lands had been fraudulently issued to the Union Pacific railroad.

AN EXPORT BOUNTY. The silver Republican members of the senate and the house met at Senator Pettigrew's house last night and decided to support a proposition providing for an export bounty on agricultural products. Senator Cannon will offer it as an amendment to the tariff bill.

KILLED BY CYCLING. London, May 17.—H. B. Chamberlain of Denver, was killed while bicycling at Staines yesterday morning. Chamberlain was formerly president of the Chamberlain Investment company of Denver, and was connected with several New York insurance companies.

CRACK BICYCLE RIDERS. Chicago and New York Teams Will Contest for Racing Honors, Represented by Two Teams of Six Men Each.

Chicago, May 17.—Representative riders from New York and Chicago began the seventy two hour relay bicycle race at 11 a. m. today. It will last 6 days, the riders competing 12 hours in 24 hours. The teams are composed of six men each, George Deane, Louis Gimm, Frank Waller, John Lawson, Harry Wood and Fred Schinner, William Dearday, Vincent McCarty, George Hannan, Fred Weaghe and Henry Stewart comprise the Chicago team. The men are divided into three squads, two men from each team racing for 4 hours. At 11 o'clock Major Harrison fired the starting pistol.

TRAIN WRECKED. The Chicago & Galveston Express on the Santa Fe Road Goes Through a Trestle in the Indian Territory, Injuring 15 Persons.

Ardmore, I. T., May 17.—The south bound passenger train on the Santa Fe road, known as the Chicago and Galveston express, went through a trestle 15 miles south of here yesterday. Fifteen passengers and trainmen were injured. A heavy rainstorm amounting almost to a water spout, caused a sudden rise of all the small streams. The accident occurred where a deep and narrow gulch was spanned by a wooden trestle. The foundation supporting the trestle was undermined by a sudden stream, and the trestle went down under the heavy weight of the train. The engine and tender, express, mail and baggage cars, and one passenger coach, passed over the narrow chasm, though the trucks of several of these cars went to the bottom, 20 feet below. The baggage car telescoped with a passenger coach, and the latter was demolished.

Most of the injured were riding in the coaches. J. M. Grider, the Wells Fargo express messenger, was so badly crushed by a heavy car chest that he cannot live. E. T. Sparks of Oklahoma, I. T., was crushed in the wreck of the smoker, and is also mortally injured.

DEMANDS OF TURKEY. Constantinople, May 17.—The porte has replied officially to the note of the powers, and declines to agree to the armistice, until the following conditions are accepted:

The annexation of Thessaly, and indemnity of 10,000,000 pounds (Turkish money). The porte proposes that the plenipotentiaries of the powers meet at Paris and discuss these terms of peace, and it declares if the conditions are declined that the Turkish army will continue to advance.

It is regarded as quite certain that the powers will not consent to the retrocession of Thessaly.

THE GREEKS DISLOADED. Constantinople.—The governor of Janina telegraphs that a division of Turkish troops, under Osman Pasha, after having fought two days before Arta, against superior forces, succeeded in inflicting great losses and finally dislodged the Greeks from their strong position.

A GENERAL ENGAGEMENT. Lamia, Thessaly.—At 3:30 p. m.—Fighting, as this dispatch is sent, is in progress all along the line.

A ROMANIAN PROTEST. St. Petersburg.—The newspapers of this city protest vigorously against the "excessive and unacceptable" conditions which Turkey demands as a price of peace with Greece. Novoe Vremya says that in case of Turkey's insistence the powers will have to take practical measures to preserve Greece from pretensions which threaten her national existence.

FIGHTING AT DOMOKOS. Athens.—Fighting at Domokos began shortly after noon today. A dispatch from Crown Prince Constantine dated at Domokos at 8:30 this morning says, the Turks, numbering about 30,000, had appeared in sight, marching on Domokos. Another dispatch from the crown prince dated at noon today, stated that the Turks were about four and a half miles distant. Immediately after the receipt of this dispatch, M. Ralli, the premier, hastened to the foreign legations, visiting each in turn, and protesting against the Turkish attack on Domokos and Almyros, when Greece at the instance of the powers was acting purely on the defensive.

Revolution Ended. Montevideo, May 17.—The Uruguayan troops have defeated the insurgents under Lamas and Saravia. It is officially announced that the insurgents have been completely routed and the revolution ended.

GALLINGER'S EXPOSE.

He Reads Letter Giving Some Inside History of the Policy of the Cleveland Administration Relative to Cuba.

Washington, May 17.—An extraordinary revelation was made by Senator Gallinger when he read yesterday, at the Cuban mass meeting, the following extracts from letters said to have been addressed by ex-Assistant Secretary of State Rockhill to one of the American consuls in Santa Clara province: "I advise you to make your reports less favorable to the insurgents hereafter, as the administration wishes to avoid all possible friction with Spain. Hereafter when you have matters of this kind to report, mark your communications, confidential, so that if senators demand the consular reports from Cuba your report need not be given the senate."

Have Raised a Loan. Madrid, May 17.—The Liberal says that the Cuban insurgents have raised a loan of $3,000,000 in New York.

PIUTE MURDERERS.

The Body of Judge J. M. Morton Found in a Cabin Shot Through the Head.

Kingman, May 17.—The sheriff's posse has returned from White Hills from a chase after Ahvots, the Piute Indian murderer. They report that the body of Judge J. M. Morton was found in a cabin at Gold Bug, seven miles below Eldorado canon, shot through the head. Morton lived 36 hours after being shot. Below the canon the bodies of five Ahvots victims have been found. Deputy Sheriff Burroughs left here last night with a posse to arrest Morton, another Piute Indian murderer. The Wallapai Indians held a big pow-wow yesterday and expressed a desire to exterminate the southern Nevada Piutes. They say that for years Indians have reported the killing of whites by this band of renegades. Chief Levy has offered the services of 100 warriors for the purpose of driving all Piutes away from the Colorado river.

OPPOSITION IN THE SENATE. The Silver Democrats in the Kentucky Legislature Decide That Lieut.-Gov. Worthington Must Vacate the Chair.

Frankfort, Ky., May 17.—The fight over the Stephenson fusion bill was renewed in the senate today, the silver Democrats insisting that Lieut.-Governor Worthington should vacate the chair pending an appeal from his decision on a question "indisputing members who are present but refuse to vote."

Governor Worthington refused to vacate the chair and Senator Goebel, president pro tem, who was presiding pending an appeal from Worthington's decision, took a seat beside the clerks, and the two bodies were in session amid the wildest confusion. The Worthington senate adjourned, till 3 o'clock. The Goebel senate, which while in minority, is backed by the clerks and all other officers, adjourned till 2:55. The gold Democrats and Republicans again secret caucus preparing to reorganize.

Matias Contreras, Felipe Peralta, Tomas Cordova, Sylvester Esquivel, Gabriel Pino, Julio Cisneros, and Nicholas Macarinas, all of La Joya, in Socorro county, are in the city at the Exchange hotel. They are here as witnesses in the case concerning the approval of the survey of the Cervillita land grant, which is being alleged and claimed by the owners of the Belen land grant just north of Cervillita, and that the north line of the Cervillita, as surveyed by the U. S. deputy surveyors, takes in more land than the decree of the court of private land claims grants and than is lawfully or justly due the claimants of the Cervillita tract. The hearing in this case is set for tomorrow, but may not be reached until the cases now pending are out of the way in the court of private land claims.

IN PICTURESQUE OLD MORA

The New Mexican's Special Correspondent Writes of a Trip from Las Vegas to Mora.

MANY GREEN AND FERTILE VALLEYS

Aside from Being the County Seat, Mora is the Center of a Fine Agricultural Region and a Business Place of Importance.

Mora, N. M., May 13.—From Las Vegas, the county seat of San Miguel county, to Mora, the capital of Mora county, the distance is 32 miles. A journey from the one place to the other must be made by team, over one of the best wagon roads in the territory and through a country pleasing to the eye. The way is guarded on either side by mountains, and winds in and out among the foot hills; valley after valley is crossed, and the scenery is constantly changing. Physically, the trip is tiresome; mentally, it is a delight.

THE VILLAGE OF SAPELLO. Thirteen miles from Las Vegas the Sapele river is forded, and near the ford lies the little village of Sapele. Here Mr. Henry Goke conducts a large general mercantile business, and judging from all appearances New Mexico has not dealt unkindly with the genial Henry's purse and health. He greeted Hon. C. A. Spies and your correspondent this morning very cordially. Had he lived in "ye olden" he would have called off the dogs and yelled from his door, "light, strangers, light," but as he lives in New Mexico he took us in and cared for our wants in a manner that made the remaining miles of the drive much more pleasant—we did not longer wonder where dinner was to be had.

THE MORA VALLEY. The pretty Cebolla valley was crossed, and there from the top of a divide the western Mora valley burst on our view. Green, well watered and bordered on all sides by high mountains, many of them capped with snow, the Mora valley may well be claimed by its inhabitants to be the prettiest spot in northern New Mexico. The western valley is about 25 miles in length, having an average width of three miles, and the Mora river runs through its entire length, furnishing water for irrigation and power for mills.

Beauty without utility is desirable in some places and in some things, but where the problem of living enters into the proposition, mere beauty fails to satisfy. But in this valley beauty is a direct result of the uses to which man has put that which nature has supplied with a lavish hand. Mora is what might be termed strictly an agricultural county, with wheat and oats and alfalfa as the principal products. Some corn and barley are raised, but these are merely side crops. Sheep are another important source of revenue, but wheat and oats are the staples and the standbys.

A GOOD REASON. The present season has been very favorable for sowing and the growth of the cereals. The whole valley is "under ditch," and crops are nearly always certain, but this year the rains began immediately after the seeds were sown, and they at once sprang up, covering the plowed fields with a delicate green, and forcing the crop season far ahead of what it is usually. The acreage of cultivated ground is larger this year than ever before, and the farmers feel as if fortune were unusually kind to them. Of water there will be no lack the coming summer, and when harvest time comes plenty and pleasure will be the lot of the people who live in this vast hollow of the Rocky mountains. While grass and grains are in an advanced stage of growth, the observation has been backward, and the prospects for a large yield of fruit is excellent. The birds have been held back until this time and danger from late frosts is past. The same condition obtains in the orchards of Mora county as in the southern part of the territory. Unless a portion of the growing fruit is picked the trees will suffer from breakage. The sheep men are in better spirits than they have been for several years past. The increase in the flocks will average over 85 per cent, while the increased prices of wool and lambs makes the flocks valuable.

On the Mora river in the western valley are fine floating mills, all run by water power. These mills have a combined grinding capacity of between 500 and 600 bushels of wheat per day, and run nearly the entire year on wheat grown in the valley, and if it were not that some of the grain is shipped away, would be kept busy all the time. The flour made is all sold at home, going into the mountains and surrounding country, and the flour trade is a large item in the annual business done by the merchants.

THE TOWN OF MORA. The town of Mora is very old, and there are places of interest in and around it. Situated in the broadest part of the valley, surrounded by green fields and embowered among blooming orchards and green foliage, it is a pretty, as well as a quiet place at this time of the year. To the west about 25 miles rise lofty mountains that are covered with snow, and this afternoon a furious snow storm hung over them, which could be plainly seen from the town. The Mora river flows through the place just back of the business houses, and all day long the roar of waters can be heard. To the Mora river the valley owes its fertility and prosperity, and its noise is an ever present reminder that running water and crops go hand in hand in New Mexico. Aside from being the county seat, Mora is a place of much importance as a business point. It is connected with the outside world by a long distance telephone from Las Vegas, and has a daily mail service. Three large establishments, run by Mr. P. D. St. Vrain, Lowenstein, Strousse & Co., and Charles V. Strong, with a view to comprising everything needed in an agricultural community, supply the country for miles around. At the west end of the main street stands the county county house, one of the handsomest public buildings in the territory.

CLEVELAND VILLAGE. Three miles west of Mora one finds the little village of Uppertown or San Antonio, with the euphonious postoffice name of Cleveland. Here J. Doherty & Co., Lowenstein & Co., and Simon Vorenberg do the business of the community and supply the people with their wants in the line of provision, clothing, machinery and other things too numerous to mention

THE CUEVA RANCH. Six miles east of Mora, down the valley, over hills and through canons and the traveler comes to the La Cueva ranch managed by Mr. D. C. Duell. Mr. Duell is a man whose moments are busy indeed, his attention being demanded by a large store, a mill, 2,500 acres of alfalfa, herds of cattle, droves of horses and a large posse of men. The La Cueva is one of the largest ranches in Mora county and is the pride of the valley.

MODERN IDEAS TAKING HOLD. One particular thing in the western Mora valley that attracted my attention and made me feel that there are better days in store for the territory of New Mexico, and that is the modern methods in use by the farmers. Improved machines are universally used. Between 30 and 40 threshing machines, all run by steam, are owned by valley farmers; the ordinary implements in use are of the most improved patterns, and the results obtained in the cultivation of crops are visible on every side. The heaven is working; progressive ideas are contagious, and it is to be hoped they will become violently infectious in a hurry.

NEW MEXICO MINERALS. Manager Leeson Placing a Very Fine Exhibit of Gold, Silver and Other Ores.

Manager J. J. Leeson, of the New Mexican exhibit, is working hard to get his magnificent collection of New Mexico minerals in place, and he finds it hard work to move around on account of the great crowds who are viewing it as fast as he puts a piece in one of the cases. He seems well qualified for the position, as he not only is working hard, but is at the same time explaining the different ores to the crowd.

Judges of mineral all claim that they expected to see something nice from New Mexico, but were not prepared to see such a large, rich and beautiful display. These cases fairly dazzle one with gold and silver specimens. The copper, lead, zinc, iron and other minerals are there represented in all their forms. As soon as the exhibit is all placed it will make people interested in minerals think of going to New Mexico.

Manager Leeson says he did not come to exhibit Indian relics, or pre-historic collections, but to exhibit the rich and wonderful products of New Mexico mines, the products of her soil, which will compare to any in the world for yield and quality; and the products of her orchards and vineyards, which will astonish all who visit the Centennial.—The Nashville (Tenn.) American.

Thoroughly Business.
The following remarkable epitaph is from a tombstone in one of the rural districts of Georgia:
He kept a grocery in the wood
Until by death surprised;
His patrons always found his goods
Just as he advertised.

Traveling Is Extra-Hazardous
If the tourist is unprovided with some medicinal resources. Changes of temperature, food and water of an unaccustomed or unwholesome quality, and a route that lies in the tropics or other regions where malaria exists, are each and all fraught with danger to one who has been improvident enough to neglect a remedial safeguard. The concurrent testimony of many voyagers by land and sea establishes the fact that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters enable those who use it to encounter hazards of the nature referred to with impunity; and that, as a medicine adapted to sudden and expected exigencies, it is peculiarly valuable. Disorders of the liver, the bowels and the stomach, fever and ague, rheumatism and nervous ailments, brought on by exposure, are among the maladies to which emigrants, travelers and new settlers are most subject. These and others yield to the action of the Bitters promptly and completely.

No Game.
In showery spring both sides may sing
And boast with might and main,
And tell with gleeful words the score would be
If it hadn't been for rain.

Any Port In A Storm.
Wife—Henry, I think you were intoxicated last night. You spoke to me as though I were a piece of me.
Husband—That's because I am always doubly happy to see you, dear.

I Hint to the King.
Mr. Bellegard—It seems to be true that uneasy lies the head which wears a crown.
Mr. Bloomfield—No wonder. I should think a king would put on a more comfortable nightcap.

Yes sir! The most enjoyable trip I ever took to New York was over the Wabash. Only one change of cars in St. Louis; the finest passenger station in the world. Fine restaurant and cafe. Got an elegant supper for 50 cents.

We arrived in St. Louis at 8:00 p. m., and left on the Wabash New York Limited at 7:00 p. m., in the elegant through sleeper, reaching Detroit at 4:37 the following morning. Niagara Falls at 4:37 that afternoon, and arrived at New York, Grand Central Depot at 7:30 a. m., just the right time to get breakfast and attend to business.

Oh! the Wabash is the route for New York.
By the way just write to C. M. Hampson, Commercial Agent, Denver, for particulars. I may have forgotten something.

IN A BLACK BAG.

"I want you," said our superintendent one day, "to go down to Strandon hall. Some mysterious thefts are taking place, and the local police can make neither head nor tail of the affair."

I found that I had been announced as the new tutor to a boy of 13 years of age, who, however, was not to commence studies at once, as his holidays were not yet concluded.

The thefts had been going on for some time, and only three days after I had arrived the superintendent's wife's gold watch had disappeared. She had wound it up the last thing before she had gone to bed, and when she and Mr. Stanton had gone down stairs to breakfast they had both observed that it lay upon the dressing table. The chambermaid, too, who had gone in immediately after, had also seen it lying there.

I had no suspicion of the chambermaid. I did not like the butler, but that perhaps was because he did not betray any great partiality for me, though he was forced to show some respect as the new tutor who had come to educate and look after Master Roginald.

I discovered that he was not above opening a bottle of wine and imbibing its contents, and that occasionally he might be found at a public house in the town. Yet I did not on this account jump at conclusions. The man who would steal bottles of wine and drink them was not the thief of watches, rings, plate and valuable ornaments, of which things quite a large number had disappeared.

In two more days two valuable ornaments had been taken from the drawing room.

"Mrs. Stanton," I said, "I think it will be necessary to make a thorough search through the place and into every servant's box in the house."

What really stuck me was that on neither of these occasions had any servant apparently left the house or been visited by anybody from the outside.

"Of course, to ally suspicion, my boxes shall be searched as well," I said.

"As you will," she replied. "Perhaps, however, I ought to tell you that this has again and again been done, and that the servants have themselves so frequently urged it and almost forced it to be done that at last I said it should not be repeated."

"I think perhaps, madam," I modestly urged, "that my knowledge of boxes and their sometimes secret ways may be of service."

The examination was made. No secret places were found. A few articles were taken to Mrs. Stanton to see if she would lay claim to them, but they were not hers.

I had never before so utterly failed. In the course of as many weeks two other thefts had taken place, and as I neither could detect the culprit nor make the least suggestion, in order to get away from the place, I thought it was time to go back to London.

One day soon after my return to town when I had just seen a well known pawnbroker's shop, in the west end, but Mr. Stanton! I followed him in and spoke to him, but he seemed in no way to know me.

"My name is Trevelyan of Scotland Yard, and I have been in your house at Winchester, striving to detect thefts that are there taking place."

"I have no house at Winchester, and I do not know you," he rather curtly replied.

"Well, this is a funny go," I involuntarily exclaimed. In no way disconnected, however, the gentleman unfavourably bag-a-bag I well knew—and offered in pledge two or three articles that to me were perfectly familiar.

"Why, sir, you are Mr. Stanton of Strandon Hall, Winchester, and these are things I know to have been in your house."

"Yes, and you have pledged many such things," the pawnbroker, who knew me said, "but always in the name of George Sheffield."

"Certainly," he replied, "and I live at Cumberland place," mentioning a name.

I went to Cumberland place, but no such name as Sheffield was there known, and though I lingered about till late at night the gentleman whom I knew to be Mr. Stanton never appeared.

The next morning I was off to Winchester and of course went straight to Strandon Hall. Mr. Stanton, as usual, had left for business.

"Did Mr. Stanton tell you that he saw me in London yesterday?" I asked Mrs. Stanton.

"I am not aware that he was in London yesterday. He has not said anything about it."

"Well, at any rate, I have discovered how your property goes and where some of it is, and I believe the whole of it is."

"And have you caught the thief?"

"It is not a thief who takes it."

"What do you mean?"

"Your goods are taken from this house and disposed of, though not sold, by Mr. Stanton."

Mrs. Stanton was astonished and could hardly believe what she was told.

"But how can it be accounted for?" she asked.

"Only I think in two ways—either he needs to raise money for business purposes or he has a hallucination."

"He is not short of money, for he is certainly very wealthy, and his business is exceedingly prosperous. As to a hallucination, he once did suffer from a very peculiar one indeed. He thought that his right arm was off. But he was cured of that."

"I think," I said, "you had better consult the same doctor again."

The doctor was immediately sent for, and he advised that nothing should be present be said, but that first of all the black bag day by day should be examined to see if any articles from home could be found in it, and perhaps it would be better for that to be done by the head clerk at the office, who, of course, must be let into the secret. That was done, and many articles supposed to be stolen were recovered in that way.—Exchange.

Insanity In Egypt.
Dr. Warnock has come to the conclusion that hashish smoking is one of the chief causes of mental disease in Egypt. The evil effects of this drug are felt not only in Egypt, but in all eastern countries, and Dr. Warnock thinks that its use should be prohibited by legislation. It is almost certain that the Egyptian government will before long be compelled to place stringent restrictions upon the sale of the drug in Cairo, where it can now be obtained in nearly every street at a small cost.

English Bicycle Etiquette.
A book on bicycle etiquette has just been published. When a heavy carrier's wagon runs into a bicyclist and punctures his golf stockings, the rider may speak to the driver without the formality of an introduction.—Tit-Bits.

CITY NEWS ITEMS.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair tonight and Tuesday;
warmer tonight.

Fully 62 people are to take part in "The Flower Queen." Be sure and secure your tickets in time, at Ireland's drug store.

United States court in this district convenes in this city on May 28. The United States marshal is now serving the venues and summoning jurors for the coming term.

There are a great many rumors about town concerning an investigation into the affairs of one of the federal offices. How much truth there is in these rumors will develop later on.

City council meets tonight. There are several important matters to come before the council, especially the needed repair of sidewalks, working city prisoners in cleaning streets and the opening of the streets around the capital grounds.

The scenery to be used in the "Coronation of the Rose" is of the best. The costumes will be rich and unique. All of this by home talent, remember.

Every lawyer in the territory should have a copy of the new code of civil procedure as printed by the New Mexican.
The copies can be had bound in leatherette, in law sheep, or with flexible morocco covers. The latter with name in gilt on the cover without additional cost.
They contain blank pages between leaves for making annotations and noting decisions.

Hon. George Curry of Roswell, who represented his district twice in the upper branch of the territorial legislative assembly and made a splendid record as councilman, is in the city on business. His many friends are very glad to see him.

Rev. J. S. Ruoff of Chicago, who has been in Albuquerque some months with his wife for the benefit of the latter's health, has concluded to try Santa Fe.
He is here and his wife and his mother will arrive here tonight and remain, in all likelihood, all summer.

Hon. W. B. Childers left Albuquerque yesterday en route to Tennessee on a visit to the Tennessee exhibition at Nashville. Before returning he will visit Washington and Virginia. His family is now east and will return with him in three or four weeks.

Hon. Frank Springer of Las Vegas, the leading land grant lawyer of New Mexico and president of the Maxwell Grant company, is in the city, stopping at the Palace. Mr. Springer is attached to the law department of the A. T. & S. F. company and is representing the owners of the coal fields at Corralles before the court of private land claims in the Real de Dolores case.

The regular semi-monthly hop of the Social club takes place tomorrow evening at Adams hall.

The board of regents of the New Mexico Military Institute advertises in another column for bids for the erection of a building for the school. Bids will be opened on June 1, next. Contractors should take notice.

The people of Springer, N. M., have retained Mr. R. E. Twitchell, now of Las Vegas, formerly of this city, and an ex-mayor of Santa Fe, to look after their interests in the courts relative to the contemplated removal of the county seat of Colfax county to Raton. Mr. Twitchell's many friends here are happy to note the leading position he has taken at the bar of the Fourth district and congratulate him upon his prosperity. The Santa Fe railroad company has few better lawyers than
Mr. Twitchell in its employ.

The best of home talent will take part in the "Flower Queen," to be given at the court house on Thursday and Friday next. Professor Stanley is leaving no stone unturned to make it a success. He deserves liberal patronage.

A letter was received in Santa Fe today from a near relative of the late Edward Fenstermacher. The relative resides in Pennsylvania and asks for full information concerning Fenstermacher's death.
Born in Socorro, May 16, to Annie and Douglas Harroun, a daughter. Mother and child doing well. The New Mexican and the many friends of the family extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Do not fail to see "The Flower Queen," or "Coronation of the Rose," at the court house on Thursday and Friday of this week. It promises to be a great treat to music lovers. No pains will be spared to make it a success.

Grant Rivenburg's ice houses near the depot were burglarized last night and a lot of tools were stolen.

SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED.

The Rumors Concerning the Cause of Fenstermacher's Death.

Mr. George Bain called at the New Mexican office on last Saturday and said that he desired to make a statement concerning the connection of his name with the rumors around town as to the alleged cause of the death of the late Edward Fenstermacher.

He denied emphatically, that he was the author of these rumors or that he had asserted that Fenstermacher had been poisoned, but, also stated that he was in possession of certain inside facts and if necessary, he would be ready to testify to what he knew under oath.

As there have been so many rumors concerning this matter and public sentiment has been aroused considerably,
many citizens are of the opinion, that it would be well, were the authorities to take hold of this matter and make an official investigation of it. The territorial pharmacy board should investigate the case and it should also be taken by the district attorney for this district and the peace officers of the county.

Convicts Make a Dash for Liberty.

About noon today two short term convicts, at work on the stone quarries about

Jose Gutierrez, Bernalillo county, sentenced for larceny for one year, and whose sentence would have expired on September 18 next, and Santiago Carillo, Grant county, also convicted of larceny and sentenced to one year and whose sentence would have expired September 28
next.

Assistant Superintendent Merrill and a couple of guards are in pursuit, using the bloodhounds, and are following the trail of the escaped convicts.

noon. All the justices and officers in at-entered of record until a decision by the Supreme court of the United States shall be rendered in the Cuyamungue land grant case No. 112 now pending on appel in that court.

Case No. 111, Real de Dolores grant for four square leagues in Santa Fe county,

United States, was then taken up by the

the laws has started to do active work.
There were present this morning J. P.

Barlett was unavoidably absent, being detained in Kansas City by the dangerous illness of Mrs. Barlett. The work was mapped out and commenced this afternoon. The commission has very pleasant quarters and will keep at work now understandingly, until the compilation is finished and ready for the printer. The members of the commission are well qualified for the work and there is every reason to believe that the compilation will be credit-
