BEST SUGAR BOUNTY AMENDMENT

The Question of a Bounty on Beet Sugar Will Go Over by Agreement of Those Interested Until Next Session of Congress.

Washington, July 6.—The Republican senatorial caucus today decided not to again present the beet sugar bounty amendment bill. Senator Allison was authorized to move to have the amendment offered by Senator Allison, tabled. There was also a general agreement, to take up Senator Thurston's beet sugar bounty bill as an independent measure the first thing after congress meets next December.

Senator Aldrich was the first to make a general outline of the course, which was ultimately agreed upon, including a postponement of the entire question, until next December. A motion to this effect, was, however, made by Senator Morrill. Senator Foraker suggested that the entire question should be left open, leaving each Republican senator to cast his vote in the senate as he should choose, independent of party affiliations. This view was antagonized by other senators, who said that the Democrats would hold the bill up indefinitely as long as there was any possibility of the amendment passing, and that the only way of insuring a speedy vote, was for the party as a whole, to support the motion. This opinion was so general that Senator Foraker did not press his motion. Senators Thurston, Perkins, Gear and other western senators, held out quite stiffly for the incorporation of the bounty provision in the tariff bill, but when a decision was made against them, they acquiesced in it gracefully.

When Senator Allen was informed as to the result of the Republican caucus, he said he would present his amendment to a vote, but would not filibuster, to prevent it being laid upon the table. He said it was not his purpose to prevent an early vote upon the bill. Allison who has the bill in charge, stated that he would probably ask the senate to sit tonight, until the bill should be completed, and reported in the senate from the committee of the whole, but he was not hopeful of securing a vote today.

A PERSONAL EXPLANATION. Without preliminary business the senate today proceeded to a consideration of the bill. Senator Bacon made a personal explanation of his vote yesterday for the Mills amendment, to impose a tax of 5 per cent on all manufactured products. He had, he said, given the amendment his vote, without due deliberation. If the imposition of such a tax, could be confined to the sugar trust, and other gigantic concerns existing in open violation of law, it would commend itself to his judgment, but as it would touch every village and hamlet in the land, and lay its hand upon the most humble, he frankly avowed regret for his vote cast yesterday. Senator Bacon, then delivered a speech against the bill.

AMENDMENT LOST. The Pettis amendment to the tariff bill, to prohibit the sugar trust from importing sugar was lost on a vote of 26 to 33.

THE PRESIDENT'S RETURN. President McKinley and his party returned here from Canton at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. The president suffered a good deal from heat, and evidently was much fatigued.

CALL IT A STUFF. After the sugar bounty amendment had been taken up in the senate this afternoon, Allen charged that the Republicans offering the beet sugar bounty amendment, were aiming to "bluff" and "intimidate" the Democrats in advance that if properly frightened by threats of delay, they would promptly surrender.

Ousted From Office. Jefferson City, Mo., July 6.—The Supreme court today ousted chief of police, Thomas N. Vallins of Kansas City, from office, on the ground that he was a non-resident when appointed. Attorney-General Crow instituted proceedings a month ago.

Murderer Electrocuted. Sing Sing, N. Y., July 6.—John Henry Barker was electrocuted here today for wife murder. The crime was committed August 30, 1895, just outside of White Plains. Barker was jealous of his wife, and after being separated from her for some time, returned and shot her to death, afterwards hacking the body with a spade.

Crowds in San Francisco. San Francisco, July 6.—The first of a procession of 40 trains, bearing delegates to the 1897 convention of the Christian Endeavor, arrived here this morning, and at intervals of about one hour, others poured their loads of human freight into the city all day long. Today's arrivals will probably reach 7,000, and many more will probably arrive tomorrow.

HANNA INTERVIEWED.

He Says That Employers of Labor Cannot Be Expected to Raise Wages Under Present Conditions.

New York, July 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says: Senator Hanna, speaking of the coal miners strike said: "Owing to the existing condition of business, no one can be expected to raise wages for the present, anywhere or in any line of business, therefore, the strikers have chosen a very unfortunate time to make their demands, whether they are reasonable or not. The hoped for good times are coming, I believe, before long, but they will not come suddenly, but gradually, and when business does improve the employers of labor, can listen to the grievances of the employed. I do not see that they can be expected to do so before."

A Gold Standard.

New York, July 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Lima, Peru, says: General Perola has devised a plan to establish a gold standard for the currency of Peru. His project will be submitted to congress at its next session, probably in August.

STRIKING COAL MINERS.

Coal Miners in the Pittsburgh District Have Obedied the Strike Order, But It is Difficult to Tell How Many Have Gone Out.

Columbus, O., July 6.—President Rathford of the United Mine Workers, is greatly pleased with the progress of the strike, and regards the outlook as exceedingly bright. An encouraging report was received from the Pittsburgh district this morning which stated, that with the exception of a few miners where the miners are under contract, all were out as ordered.

WILL NOT STRIKE. Danville, Ill.—The miners in this district will not strike.

NOT ALL HEARD FROM. Pittsburgh.—The strike of the coal miners in the Pittsburgh district, but it is difficult to tell how many have responded to the strike order. The miners' officials had not heard from a fourth of the mines in the district up to 1 o'clock, but they express themselves as confident that the order had been generally obeyed, and that all the diggers would be out in a few days. Among the mines shut down are those of the Pittsburgh & Chicago Coal company, whole men it was said would not quit, as they had individual contracts.

NO STRIKE YET.

Peoria, Ill.—There is no sign of a strike among coal miners in this vicinity. It is stated that they have been fooled two or three times by the miners of southern Illinois, and are waiting to see what they will do.

FIGHT WITH TRAMPS.

Train Men Have a Sharp Fight with Four Tramps on the Santa Fe Near Dodge City, Kas.

Kansas City, July 6.—Trainmen on the Santa Fe from the west, which arrived in Kansas City this forenoon, had an exciting experience with tramps near Spearville, a small station east of Dodge City last night. As the train pulled out of Dodge City, four men boarded the blind baggage car, presumably to steal a ride. One of the brakemen ordered them off. They refused to go. Two tramps then came to the brakeman's assistance, and a fight followed, in which the brakeman was badly out. After one of the tramps had cut the air hose all four jumped from the train and tried to escape. Three were caught by trainmen and passengers after a long chase, and the fourth was captured by a sheriff a few hours later. They are all in jail at Dodge City.

THE ACT OF A FIEND.

He Induced His 9-Year Old Daughter to Drink Poison, and Then Ends His Own Life with a Dose of Prussic Acid.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 6.—W. P. Person, formerly employed in the freight department of the Santa Fe railway, but lately out of employment, poisoned his eight-year-old daughter this morning, and then committed suicide. He told the child of his plan, and persuaded her that she would be able to see her mother who is dead, if she took poison with him. He made her drink carbolic acid, and then drank prussic acid himself. A friend came to the room of Person, in time to find him gasping for his last breath. The girl was taken to the hospital, and although her tongue and throat were burned by the acid, and she suffered great agony, her life was saved.

The Peace Program.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—The Novoe Vremya strongly exhorts the Turkish government to abandon further subterfuges in negotiations for peace between Greece and Turkey, unless it wishes the powers to adopt harsh measures, in order to enforce their peace program.

IN THE ESPANOLA VALLEY

The Mormon Settlement, While One of the Youngest in the Valley, Has Many Interesting Features.

PROSPEROUS APPEARANCES THE RULE

Something of the Mercantile Interests in This Section, Which Clearly Indicate a Prosperous Basis.

Correspondence New Mexican.

Espanola, July 2, 1897.—In addition to the towns of Espanola, San Juan, Santa Cruz, Plaza del Alameda, Chamita and Embudo, the Espanola valley is dotted by small settlements or plazas, each surrounded by fields, orchards and gardens. Nearly all these settlements bear evidence of having existed for many years. The cottonwoods surrounding them are of great size and very old, and the question, "how many years ago were these houses built?" brought forth invariably the answer, "quien sabe, but many years ago."

THE MORMON COLONY.

The youngest settlement in the valley, that of the Mormons, is one of much interest, particularly since it is an experiment, yet, although its permanency is apparently assured. Three years ago and a short distance north of Santa Cruz was bought and the first of the colony arrived, and the work of planting fields and setting out trees began. The history of this colony is but a repetition of that of everyone in the past. Some of the members were easily discouraged and returned to their northern homes, those remaining continuing the work. The second year others came, some of whom only remained a short time. At the present time there are 18 Mormon families in the colony, and as a gentleman said this morning, "the settlement is all the more prosperous by reason of the changes that have taken place. Those who left would have been of little assistance, while those who have taken their places are contented and willing to work."

The property of the new comers presents a thriving appearance, fairly good houses have been erected, and much done to give them a homelike air. The orchards are doing nicely, are well cultivated, and in a few more years will equal any of the older gardens in the valley. That the settlers are frugal and industrious there is no question, the amount of work done by them the past three years speaks louder than words on that point. The success of those already here will result in other families coming, and so far as could be seen and learned the Mormon colony in the San Juan valley will be large and prosperous within the next five years.

THE MERCANTILE INTERESTS.

The mercantile interests in the different towns are well cared for, and judging from the amount of business done the people are well satisfied with the merchants. At Espanola, G. W. Bond & Co., carry a very large and complete stock of general merchandise, deal in all kinds of produce, and conduct Uncle Sam's postal business. The Bond brothers also carry on a large business at Wagon Mound, over in Mora county. Mr. Frank Bond having charge of the Espanola house and Mr. George Bond conducting the Wagon Mound establishment. At San Juan or Chamita, as you please, only in writing to friends there address all letters to Chamita, Honorable Samuel Eldred is the merchant prince and Uncle Sam's postal agent. Mr. Eldred also carries a large stock and does a large volume of business, and there is every reason he should. For 30 years or more he has been there, is acquainted with everyone, and in turn everyone knows "Sam."

Mr. Henry Becker runs the business route at Santa Cruz, sells stamps, distributes the mail and listens to the troubles of the neighborhood, there is no policeman, you know. His stock includes almost everything anyone could reasonably want, and judging from appearances he never recedes to himself "Over the Hills to the Poor House."

The youngest member of the fraternity in this valley is Mr. Elias Clark, located at Plaza del Alameda, and he, too, seems pretty well satisfied with life and its trials. Mr. Clark, like the others, carries general merchandise, the stock being well selected and equal to almost any demand. In his business, Mr. Clark is ably assisted by his sisters, who are "business men" with up to date ideas.

GRAND ORCHARDS.

There are a number of fine orchard ranches along the Rio Grande, which are not only the pride of the owners but the show places to which all visitors are taken.

Near the lower end of the valley is Mr. James Curry's place of 40 acres, 18 of which are set in fruit kinds of fruit, well cared for, abundantly watered, this place is more than a show place, it is a producer of dollars. Just over the fence is Mr. R. E. Twitchell's property, which is also set out in fruit trees, given the best of care, and is a place not only pleasant to look upon, but one of value. Between Espanola and Chamita, west of the railroad is ex-Governor Prince's fine fruit ranch, and its modern improvements. East of the river, opposite Espanola, Mr. H. T. Conger, owns an orchard and farm that is "no slouch itself." Mr. Conger is also the proprietor of a flourishing mill which converts San Juan valley wheat into good flour. At San Juan is Honorable Samuel Eldred's beautiful home and garden so well known by many Santa Fe people, and its hospitality and grateful shade are always pleasant memories to those who attend the San Juan feasts in June of each year. If the truth was known, many Santa Fe folks attend that feast more to get into that garden than for anything else.

The topography of New Mexico is wonderfully varied. Mountains, plains, forests, streams and valleys—some sections can not be named—are found within the limits of each day's travel, no matter in which direction you may go. The mountains are rich in metals and precious stones, the streams abound in fish, the plains are covered with herds, the valleys are fertile and populous, and the least of these valleys is not the San Juan or Espanola valley. HORTICULTURAL MEETING.

Everything Shows a Strong Public Interest in the Coming Horticultural Society Fair.

The meeting of the Horticultural society on Saturday evening at the office of the water company was an enthusiastic one. All the committees reported satisfactory progress, and everything shows a strong public interest throughout the territory and points to a magnificent display in September. The principal business transacted was the reception of a carefully prepared report from the committee on the premium list. This consists of a full set of regulations concerning entries, standard of excellence and mode of exhibition and then proceeded with a list of premiums aggregating 520 in all and carrying cash prizes of over $600. The following general statement is the keynote of the arrangement:

"This premium list has been arranged to meet as far as possible the cases of all exhibitors, not only those who can show a large number of varieties but those who possess but a single one. Its particular object is to show however those who not only raise fine fruit but are willing to devote the time and expense necessary to exhibit it for the gratification of the public and the advancement of horticulture interests. The official evidence of superiority is in all cases the diploma of the society, which will bear the name of the exhibitor, the character of the exhibit and its grade, and be signed by the officers of the society. In many cases a sum of money is added to the premium, not for the belief that this will specially add to the value of the prize in the estimation of lovers of horticulture, but from a desire to reimburse exhibitors as far as possible for the cash outlay involved in the sending of the fruit."

The lists then proceeded to take up each class of fruit in turn. To apples are given nine premiums, amounting to $74, for collections, and separate premiums to each of 60 varieties most successfully cultivated in New Mexico. For crab apples there are three general premiums and eight separate ones. For pears there are nine premiums for collections and 40 separate varieties are named. For peaches $52 are offered for collections, and 25 varieties are specified.

For plums and prunes, owing to the division of classes, there are 12 general premiums, and 26 separate varieties are named. For apricots, nectarines, quinces and nuts, each receives three premiums for collections, and the varieties specially provided for range from five to eight. Grapes have $69 in premiums for collections, general, native and foreign, and 32 separate varieties are mentioned.

The miscellaneous list includes cherries and gooseberries (fresh and in glass), mulberries, paw-paws and more than a dozen other items. Altogether, the list covers the whole range of horticulture products available at that season. As soon as responses are received from the various sections of the territory, vice presidents and committees will be appointed in every county.

U. S. Monetary Commission.

London, July 6.—United States ambassador Hay will give a dinner tonight, in honor of the United States monetary commission.

Will Attempt Arbitration.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—A strong effort will be made to arbitrate the miners wage dispute. Colonel W. P. Rann of Chicago, is said to be at the head of the movement. He operates four mines, in Ohio, and three in Pennsylvania. He has advocated arbitration in all disputes between miners and operators.

Heavy Excursion Business.

Kansas City, July 6.—The aggregate number of excursionists carried west from here the past five days was over 50,000.

Wiped Out a Feud.

Empire City, Kas., July 6.—Sam Mitchell, husband of the postmistress of this city, has wiped out a feud here, by killing Link Cole, ex-city marshal. They met on the street, and Mitchell shot without any warning. Cole killed Mitchell's brother a year ago.

DEMANDS OF AMBASSADORS

Decision of the Council of Ministers Not Favorable to the Ambassadors' Demands Concerning the Turkish-Greek Frontier Negotiations.

Constantinople, July 6.—Contrary to expectations the decision of the council of ministers, was not favorable to the demands of the ambassadors, relative to the Greek-Turkish frontier negotiations. The situation therefore is regarded as very strained. The Turkish reply virtually implied a rupture of negotiations, and declared that the powers must make concession or adopt measures to enforce their decision. It is reported that the Grand Vizier has decided that he will never sign an agreement based on the strategic lines proposed by the ambassadors. At the same time, it is thought in some quarters, that the attitude of the Turkish government is destined to enable the Sultan to yield later, by sacrificing some of his ministers, and rumors of an impending cabinet change are already current.

ALBUQUERQUE BLAZE.

J. D. Torlina's Bazaar Entirely Destroyed by Fire at 2:30 Yesterday Morning.

At 2:30 yesterday morning a disastrous fire broke out in the rear of J. D. Torlina's bazaar, No. 222 West Broadway avenue, Albuquerque, and notwithstanding the fact that the firemen responded promptly and did efficient work, the bazaar with its entire contents was destroyed. The origin of the blaze is problematical. It may have started from a firecracker, and then again it is possible that a lighted match or other substance was thrown into a pile of rubbish in the rear of the store. Some think that it was of incendiary origin. Mr. Torlina is absent at the Sulphur hot springs, and no estimate of the loss on stock, etc., has been made. The building was the property of Juan C. Armijo, son of Mrs. N. T. Armijo, and it was insured for $2,500. The stock was also insured for $7,000.

Celebrated for its great leavening strength and healthfulness. Assures the food against all forms of adulteration common to cheap brands. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

TUESDAY, JULY 6.

The horticultural fair to be held in this city in September, must be made a success.

The decision of Judge Bantz in the matter of the injunction against the Rio Grande Dam & Irrigation company is good law from A to Z.

Santa Fe wants a horticultural fair this fall—Western Liberal. Yes, and its going to have one, with the help of other sections of the territory.

GENERAL ANSON MILLS may still hold that the Rio Grande is a navigable stream, but the courts of New Mexico hold otherwise and the people know better.

According to the Philadelphia Record there are now on file at the White House and the leading departments 105,106 applications for office, which number is being increased at the rate of 800 a day.

The Christian Endeavorers left Chicago with several new and improved "yells." Think of Paul and Timothy starting for Macedonia on a missionary journey and giving a "yell" as they left the Ephesus.

The injunction matter against the Rio Grande Dam & Irrigation company being out of the way, we will have all the more time to work for staidness, and we propose to work on that line till success shall be accomplished.

ELIZABETH CHOATE, a school teacher of the late Jay Gould, has testified in a court of justice that her famous millionaire pupil did not marry Sarah Ann Angel. It is not likely that he did, but Mr. Gould did a great many things while he was on earth that his school teachers knew nothing about.

The Eddy Argus is absolutely correct in the following editorial utterance: The Republicans of the territory are a unit in demanding the appointment of Solomon Luna as United States marshal. Such an appointment would be a fitting recognition of faithful services, would place the office in charge of a competent official and would strengthen the Republicans, as a party, immensely. Mr. Luna is the man desired. Appoint him.

In a recent decision by Judge Cauty of the Supreme court of Minnesota, he holds that the Salvation army or other unincorporated organizations in order to take advantage of bequests left them must be incorporated, otherwise they cannot receive a bequest, no matter on what terms the property may be left them. Incorporation is required that the beneficiary of the trust may be certain or capable of being rendered certain, or, in other words, so that the courts may be sure that the property bequeathed goes to the use and enjoyment of the association for which it was intended.

JUDGE BANTZ' DECISION.

The decision of Judge Bantz in the injunction case of the United States vs. the Rio Grande Dam & Navigation company et al., which was handed down at Silver City on last Friday evening, after a hearing covering several days, was not a surprise to those who have followed this unique case from its inception. It was clear enough from the first that the contention of the government was not based upon sound reasoning, and that there could be but one outcome of the trial, Judge Bantz held that even had the Rio Grande been a navigable stream, which everybody knows is not so, the acts of congress forbidding the obstruction of streams and the diversion of water therefrom, never applied to the arid regions of the west. This exception was most probably a recognition of the necessities of irrigation in the development of the arid sections of the western country. But whatever the cause the law remains and its intent in the matter is clear enough. The court further held that through our treaties with Mexico, Americans have not surrendered the right to divert water from the Rio Grande, which is not a navigable stream either actually or technically. Here was the great question upon which the arguments of both sides hinged. Did congress by its enactment of 1890, which was to the effect that "the creation of any obstruction not affirmatively authorized by law, to the navigable capacity of any waters, in respect of which the United States has jurisdiction, is hereby prohibited," intend to scotch upon the doctrine previously established in 1895 by an act of congress which provided that the waters of streams in the arid regions of the west could be diverted for beneficial purposes. The court takes the ground that there was no such intention on the part of congress, and that the late enactment which seemingly reverses the law of 1895 in reality does not apply at all to the arid sections of the west.

The decision of Judge Bantz settles another mooted question to the effect that under our treaty with Old Mexico, the people of the ceded territory have the fullest rights to make the greatest possible use of the waters flowing through such ceded territory, and further that if such waters are diverted and prevented from passing down the bed of the river the country which ceded said territory cannot object.

BEEF SUGAR BOUNTY.

If Senator Allison's beef sugar bounty proposition had been called up earlier in the session, the chances are that it would have passed. About the only opposition seems to come from the fact that the session is nearing its close, and that there is no time for anything but a hurried consideration of the tariff bill.

Senator Jones of Arkansas, had another reason for objecting to the proposed bounty. He thinks that all bounty legislation in this country has resulted in disaster, though it is not quite clear what he meant by that. When in the history of American legislation has disaster followed the enactment of a bounty law? Senator Jones should be more specific, but he is fond of dealing in generalities and in the present instance he has followed his usual method of argument.

The only object of a bounty is to encourage and stimulate the production of a certain article of commerce. In the present instance which relates to the production of sugar beets, it is difficult to understand how a bounty would bring about disaster. On the other hand it would be a potent inducement in the production of an article of consumption that has been too long neglected in this country. This country may as well produce its own sugar as to purchase it from Germany. The thing is to get the industry under way. A good many people seem to be under the impression that sugar cannot be successfully produced in this country. This comes to a great extent from repeated failures in growing the beets throughout the New England states. That the crop has failed here there can be no question, but it is equally certain that it has been demonstrated a great success in many sections of the west notably in New Mexico and California. New England is not quite all of the United States, the opinion of Yankee land to the contrary notwithstanding. The west can produce successfully sugar beets and there are many sections that desire to engage in the industry. For the people of those sections a bounty would be a great inducement to strenuous efforts along the lines indicated. It would not harm or inconvenience the people of other sections who have no direct interest in the infant industry. On the whole a bounty would be an excellent thing, and Mr. Allison's proposition ought to become law.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

"The past week in the market for securities has exhibited on the whole, a reactionary movement in prices," says the Weekly Financial Review issued by the banking house of Henry Clews & Co., of 35 Wall street, New York City.

After a steady upward drift, extending over some weeks and showing a handsome range of profits, this is no more than might be expected; and, for various reasons, it portends advantage for the future course of the market.

Strong as the tone of values has been and still is, yet the market has lacked breadth and activity, the daily transactions having averaged only about 250,000 shares. As indicated in our articles of last week, this is in a considerable measure due to a rush of "outside" buying having run away with the market and carried up prices, while the class of large local operators have been left in the lurch and have refused to come in at the higher range of values.

The general business outlook grows increasingly hopeful. Many manufacturers are already sufficiently satisfied with the probable details of the new tariff to begin operations upon an extended scale, and in the larger industries the resumption of full work is becoming comparatively general. In city mercantile circles also a marked improvement of tone begins to appear. It comes too late to materially increase the volume of the summer business; but it is having a wholesome effect upon the confidence and expectations of distributors in respect to the fall trade. The reports and orders sent by commercial travelers show such an improvement that they are receiving instructions to prolong their stay in the interior; all of which goes to strengthen mercantile expectations as to the volume of trade during the second half of the year. Chiming with this improvement, comes the generally hopeful character of the government crop reports, which are even exceeded by the sanguine tenor of the advices from railroad officials and men of business on tours of inspection in the west and south. Men of business are turning their attention from the still fretful agitation of politics, in the conviction that two years remain to them before there can be any absorption of public attention by factional agitators, and with the hope that, during that interval, public opinion will frown down violent issues and support only safe and wholesome politics. The revival of business will powerfully contribute towards that tendency.

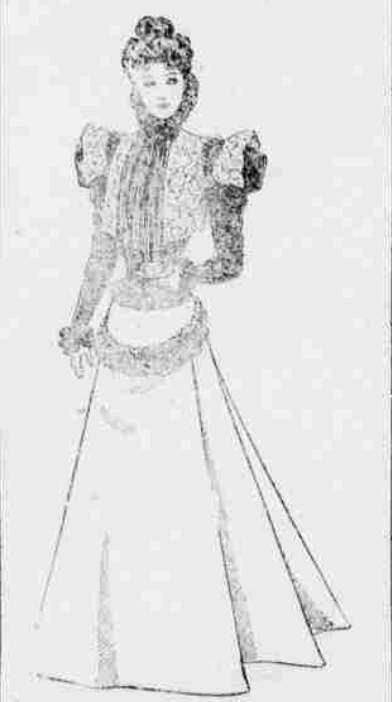

During the week, there has been a marked movement towards ease in foreign exchanges. The large remittance required for cash settlements for anticipatory importations of sugar, wool, hides, etc., and for the payment of July interest on our securities held abroad, as well as on account of travelers' credits, are now about over, and rates for foreign bills have consequently fallen below the gold export point, so that no shipments of the metal have been made during the week. This has had an encouraging effect upon Wall street; for although, with our present stocks of gold, we could afford to part with more if necessary, yet we are likely to need a good stock of money in the banks, as the probabilities point to important transfers of currency to the interior after this month in connection with a liberal crop movement at relatively good prices.

FOR THE LADIES.

A HOUSE DRESS.

Green nun's veiling is the foundation for this graceful costume. The skirt is made with five gores. It is trimmed at the top with an accordion-plaited ruffle of the veiling. The waist is of the veiling also accordion-plaited with a corselet belt of black satin. The sleeves are also of black satin. The bolero of white flays has epaulettes which are headed by folds of black satin held in place at both ends by pearl buttons. The standing collar is of black satin with a tie of the same worn with it. A full ruche of black accordion-plaited mousseline de soie finishes the neck. Accordion-plaiting is very much used on thin fabrics, generally for bodies of waists both for separate waists and where the entire costume is of one fabric. It is a mode of treating fabrics that may be recommended for slender women.

Beware of Mercury!

Mr. Henry Roth, of 1848 South 9th Street, St. Louis, was given the usual mercurial treatment for contagious blood poison. He was twice pronounced cured, but the disease returned each time, he was seized with rheumatic pains, and red lumps and sores covered his body. "I was in a horrible fix," he says, "and the more I treated myself the worse I received. I seemed to get. A New York specialist said he could cure me, but his treatment did me no good whatever. I was stiff and full of pains, my left arm was useless so that I was unable to do even the lightest work. This was my condition when I began to take S. S. S., and a few bottles convinced me that I was being benefited. I continued the medicine, and one dozen bottles cured me sound and well. My system was under the effects of mercury, and I would soon have been a complete wreck but for S. S. S."

The Spring storms strike hard those who are thin in flesh, whose system is weak and nerves irritable. The sharp, cutting pains of neuralgia tell when the blow has taken effect. Why wait for the signal? Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites will feed and strengthen weak nerves. It should be taken as a preventive in every case of weakness and nerve exhaustion. "Early prevention is better than cure." So says the wise man.

The Way They Ride.

This is the way the maiden rides—Slip—slant—wobble! What on roller tires she glides—Slip—slant—wobble! Slip—left, slant—right—Criss-cross, hobble! Holding on with all her might—Wobble, wobble, wobble.

This is the way the fat man rides—Clang—clang—puff! The jolt and jar they shake his sides—Clang—clang—puff! Clang—he's coming! Watch him flop! He's under the horse's hoof! He's far too fat to try to stop. Puff, puff, puff!

This is the way the baby rides—Bounce—bounce—bounced! She doesn't need any wheels, besides—Bounce—bounce—bounced! Kneecap to a saddle, she'll ride if she likes. A way she goes with a thump! When she gets older, she'll ride on a bike! Bounce bounce, bounced! —New York Press.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1896, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is applied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

THE SUN SHINES more hours in the day and more days in the year in Eddy and Chaves counties, New Mexico, than in any other section of the west.

124 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beet; 84.1 per cent purity.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

YESTERDAY'S CELEBRATION

Races Around the Plaza, a Band Concert and an Address by Ex-Governor Prince.

The Fourth of July celebration which took place in this city yesterday, while nothing elaborate, passed off successfully, and made amusement for a large number of people who gathered about the plaza where the exercises were held. Many of the buildings about town were decorated with the national colors, and Young America was very much in evidence all day, taking an active part in the games and burning the usual amount of powder. The exercises which began at 2 o'clock p. m. were confined principally to races around the plaza. Of these there were a great variety ranging from a potato race to a burro contest, the mounts in the latter event being youngsters, who enjoyed the thing hugely.

The committee in charge had arranged for small money prizes in each event, and the several races were warmly contested.

At 7 o'clock in the evening ex-Governor Prince delivered a patriotic address, which was well received, and this was followed by a band concert. In the evening there were fireworks.

In the races the winners and the prizes in each event were as follows:

Potato Race—First prize, F. Hoss, second, W. Straw.
First Boys Race—First, T. Sandoval, second, Luis Baca.
Squash Race—First, Adelaida Montoya, second, Juanita Estru.

At the first tennis tournament of the Santa Fe Tennis club, recently organized, which was held July 4 and 5 on the new grounds of the club on the Fort Marcy reservation, the championship in doubles was won by His Honor Mayor C. A. Spiess and Attorney Renehan. These gentlemen ably assisted by a heavy handicap easily defeated their opponents in two successive sets, winning the pennant and the penalty—liquid refreshment for their thirsty associates.

In the preliminary games Messrs. J. Seligman and A. Seligman won from Messrs. Gortner and Catron, both teams playing from scratch, the score being 6 to 3 and 6 to 2.

Messrs. Frank Hudson and Arthur Staab won from Messrs. Hughes and Maulsby, the latter having a handicap of two games and one stroke, the score being 6 to 3 and 6 to 2.

Messrs. Spiess and Renehan won from Messrs. Scherich and Arthur Hudson, the former team having a handicap of a half stroke on each service, the score being 6 to 3, 8 to 6 and 6 to 0.

In the semi-finals Messrs. Hudson and Staab won from Seligman and Seligman, both from scratch, the score being 6 to 4, 8 to 6, and 6 to 4.

In preliminary singles Messrs. Spiess and Renehan won from Spiess, Spiess won, 6 to 1 and 6 to 0.

Messrs. Gortner and Hudson, scratch, Gortner won, 6 to 1, 3 to 6 and 6 to 3.

Messrs. Hughes and Arthur Staab, the former with three games and one stroke, Staab won, 6 to 4 and 6 to 2.

In the game between Messrs. Scherich and Arthur Hudson, Scherich won, score first set 8 to 6 and rest by default.

Arthur Seligman won his single by default of his opponent Stanley.

The most closely contested game of the tournament, so far, was that between Charlie Catron and Jim Seligman, Catron winning with a score of 6 to 2, 4 to 6 and 6 to 1.

In the semi-finals of singles Arthur Seligman won from Scherich, giving him a handicap of four games and one stroke, the score being 4 to 6, 6 to 4 and 6 to 4.

Some good playing is looked for this afternoon in the semi-finals as the contestants are nearly all scratch men.

MILITIA ENCAMPMENT.

The local militiamen enjoy a Day's Outing Near Monument Rock.

The local militiamen enjoyed an outing on Sunday. Early on that day the three organizations, namely—company B under command of Capt. A. F. Hill, the cavalry troop commanded by Captain Fritz Muller and the artillery section under Lieutenant Wiesinger marched up to a point a short distance this side of Monument Rock, and there went into camp. The troops mustered over 100 strong, and were under command of Major Gable.

During the afternoon Gov. Otero, Adjutant-General Hersey, Captain James, and Secretary Lorion Miller rode out to the camp, where the governor inspected the troops. The day was passed in military instruction of various kinds, including target practice.

The governor proved himself an expert with the rifle, making the highest score for the day. Music was furnished for the occasion by the cavalry band, and on the whole the encampment was a most enjoyable affair and a decided success from a military standpoint, for all who participated.

SANTA FE VICTORIOUS.

Both Games of Ball Played in Las Vegas Won by Santa Fe's Crack Ball Team.

Saturday evening the Santa Fe ball club, under the management of Harman Wynkoop, went to Las Vegas to play two games of ball. They found the Vegas team a very hard one to go up against, being particularly strong in the field, but their good playing, backed by the great amount of confidence they have in themselves, enabled them to pull victory out of what seemed to be sure defeat in both games. The fielding of the Santa Fe team was of a brilliant order, several very exciting innings made, while the slick work was simply phenomenal when hits were needed and when men occupied the bases. McClelland and Nowell deserve much credit for their very fine battery work, and Shotouff, O'Brien, Eades and Parsons for their long and timely hits.

On the other hand Las Vegas was weak at bat but strong in the field.

In the first game Las Vegas took the lead, making five runs in two innings, but failed to score thereafter, while Santa Fe scored at a steady gate, until the end making fourteen scores in all. About 1,200 people witnessed this game.

The second game was more of a slugging match. Las Vegas took the lead in the start and retained it until the last, when Santa Fe took a brace and won out by a score of 17 to 15. This game was witnessed by about 1,600 people, and the most partial crowd that ever witnessed a ball game. However, their efforts to rattle the boys from the ancient proved to be in vain.

Jack Bennett of Las Vegas, umpired the games and did very creditable work.
