THE LUETGERT MURDER.

Theory of the Prosecution in the Murder Charged Against the Rich Chicago Sausage Maker.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—After two preliminary hearings and two months confinement in the county jail, Adolf Luetgert, the rich sausage maker, was put on trial, charged with the murder of his wife, before Judge Tuthill in the Criminal court today. Both sides profess that a week will pass before 12 men acceptable to both sides will be found. The theory of the state is, that Luetgert induced his wife to accompany him to a sleeping apartment in the factory office and there strangled her. Then he is thought to have taken the body to the basement and immersed it in a vat filled with a solution of caustic potash, heated to the boiling point. What remained after this process it is alleged was gathered together and thrown into a furnace fire, being kept under one boiler upon the express orders by Luetgert to the watchman, Frank Black.

Refuse to Strike.

Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 23.—There will be no strike of miners here. The speeches by labor leaders yesterday did not have the desired effect, and all the miners are working today. An attempt to force none but union men out proved a failure.

Armenians Confess.

Constantinople, Aug. 23.—The confessions of two Armenians arrested Saturday, at whose residence two bombs were found by the police, are said to have been prompted by the Turkish authorities. The prisoners are alleged to have confessed that they intended to use the bombs on the Russian and German embassies.

Allowed to March.

Pittsburg, Aug. 23.—The striking miners were permitted to march today in small groups, but not allowed to work with in speaking distance of the working miners. Buenos Ayres, Aug. 23.—It is officially announced that a large crop of grain is anticipated in the Argentine Republic. The grain under cultivation covers a larger area than ever before. The wool clip will also be heavy.

Grand Army Encampment.

Buffalo, Aug. 23.—Grand army week opened with fair weather. Indications point to a colossal encampment, beyond the expectations of the most sanguine citizens. Train loads of veterans and their friends are constantly arriving, and during the week an effort will be made to unite the Women's relief corps and the ladies of the G. A. R.

Return of Prosperity.

New York, Aug. 23.—A dispatch to the Journal from Hotel Champlain says: President McKinley stated to a Journal reporter that it should be a source of pleasure to every American citizen, to know, there was a return of prosperity to the country. The cause of the present boom he said, is undoubtedly due, in a great measure, to the large crops and high prices, caused by a failure of crops in the other countries.

A Railroad Accident.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—An engine attached to a heavy excursion train on the Chicago & Joliet Terminal railroad was derailed last night near Riverdale. Joseph P. Murray was probably fatally injured, and several other passengers received fatal injuries. The accident was caused by a misplaced switch believed to have been the work of tramps. The Wheat Market.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The first curb quotation for September wheat today was 102½ an advance of 3 cents over Saturday's close. At the same time 33½ was bid for September corn, 2 cents over Saturday's close. On Liverpool opening wheat the advance was equal to 8 and 8½ cents per bushel. All the buoyancy was out of wheat when the opening bell rang. On the regular board the largest price in trading was 99½ on September, the exact quotations at which the market closed on Saturday. Simultaneous sales were all the way down to 98½. Enormous quantities were offered, and the lowest point reached was 96 for September. Range 7½ from high points on the curb. Corn sympathized with slump wheat, first regular trading being at 33 and all the way down to 33 for September, as compared with 33½ on the curb. The bull crowd took up the market again after the first 30 minutes, and continued to strengthen. Liverpool held steady, unaffected. Gradually the price worked up to 99½ and fluctuated between that and 98.

NEW MEXICO'S PROSPERITY.

Governor Otero Telegraphs the New York Journal and the Situation in the Territory.

The recent telegraphic correspondence between Editor W. R. Hearst of the New York Journal, and Governor Otero, will be of interest to the people of the territory. On August 17 the Governor received the following dispatch:

"The Hon. Miguel A. Otero, Governor.
"A number of representative merchants of your section now visiting this city have expressed decidedly hopeful views of the business outlook. These opinions have had a most beneficial effect by their tendency to strengthen confidence and promote better times. Will you kindly telegraph to the Journal your opinion of the prospects for a business revival in your city, giving what you consider the best reasons to anticipate a prosperous state of trade for the coming autumn?"

"Editor New York Journal.
This telegram was not answered immediately, and on Saturday another one was received, which read:

"The Journal will highly appreciate an early answer to the recent message concerning the return of prosperity and its causes."

Governor Otero at once replied by sending the following message:
"W. R. Hearst, Esq., Editor New York Journal, New York City, N. Y.: Prospects for revival of business and for increased and permanent prosperity for New Mexico, are of the brightest. The territory has been blessed with abundant rains, and our fruit crop and output of cereals will be the largest in its history. Wool sells for double the amount it sold last year and two years ago, and lambs and sheep are bringing the highest prices since the war. Cattle are worth double what they were worth last year. The sheepmen and cattle raisers have paid off their indebtedness to a large extent, and many have paid out entirely and start in with clear credit, something that has not been the case for several years. The ranges for cattle and sheep are in splendid condition."

"Lead mining is taking an upward tendency and our output of lead is increasing, as our output of copper product. The peach, apple and grape crop is immense. San Juan county alone producing about 10,000,000 pounds; Dona Ana producing more, and Bernalillo and Santa Fe counties also producing heavy crops. The sugar beet industry is growing, and the beet sugar factory in Eddy in the Pecos valley, will run to its fullest capacity this season, and the product is estimated at seventy car loads and more."

"Gold mining, placer and lead mining, is on the increase. The territory has more flouring mills than ever in operation, and the increase in acreage and yield of wheat is great. The merchants of the principal cities of Las Vegas, Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Silver City, Bataan, Socorro and throughout the country, towns report better business, and a very hopeful feeling, and I fully believe better times have commenced and will continue for years."

"MIGUEL A. OTERO,
"Governor."

MEXICAN GOATS WANTED.

Dr. Parker of Groveland, Mass., Wants a Pair to Use in Scientific Experiments.

W. Thornton Parker, M. D., of Groveland, Mass., recorder of the Association of Acting Assistant Surgeons of the United States Army, wishes to secure a pair of Mexican goats for the purpose of experimenting with the goat serum and milk in the treatment of tuberculosis.

On August 7 Dr. Parker wrote to Mr. Jesse M. Wheelock of Providence, R. I., the following letter:
Groveland, Mass., Aug. 7.—Dear Sir: Will you kindly inform what a pair of Mexican goats would cost and what the expense of expressage from Albuquerque would be? I wish to experiment with the goat serum and milk in the treatment of tuberculosis, and should be greatly obliged to you for any assistance you could render me in this undertaking.

As the experiment is of scientific value, perhaps several of your friends would contribute a pair. I need several pairs, but any number will aid in the matter. I will be glad, in making my written report, to acknowledge assistance from any source. Very truly yours,
W. Thornton Parker, M. D.

Mr. Wheelock sent the letter to Governor Otero, and in his letter remarks that "perhaps you may have some running around Santa Fe that the citizens would be glad to dispose of."

Should any one have goats they are willing to contribute for the advancement of science, he will confer a favor upon Dr. Parker by addressing him at Groveland, Mass.

TO ORGANIZE FRUIT GROWERS

This Move is Necessary in Order That They May Avail Themselves of the New Regulations Governing Fruit Shipments.

WORK OF THE BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION

The Board Has at Last Succeeded in Securing Refrigerator Cars for New Mexico Fruit Shipments to Chicago and St. Louis.

The fruit men of New Mexico have every reason to congratulate themselves upon the work of the bureau of immigration in securing improved facilities for handling New Mexico fruit to the eastern market. Up to the present time the products of California have had every advantage over those of New Mexico.

This unjust discrimination has been carried on for several years, until New Mexico is hardly known in the eastern market as a fruit producing section. With the new regulations secured by the bureau of immigration all this will be changed. The New Mexican has already published the news of refrigerator cars having been secured, and as the following correspondence relates to the same subject, we are glad to give it publicity. It explains itself:

Mr. J. D. Hughes, Santa Fe, N. M.

East Las Vegas, N. M., Aug. 21, 1897.—

Dear Sir: I beg to enclose letter from Mr. Miller which I hope you will give publicity and help us to organize the fruit growers in such a way that they can avail themselves of the work of the bureau. I am writing to some of the parties north of this place, in Colfax county, in hopes to interest them in the shipment of fruit to the east. Yours truly, F. A. MANZANARES.

Hon. F. A. Manzanares, East Las Vegas, N. M.—St. Louis, Aug. 15, 1897.—Dear Sir: It looks now as if I cannot return to New Mexico before the 20th or 21st, but will return as soon as I can. Mr. E. H. Davis, manager of the Refrigerator line, and myself, arranged with Earl Bros, South Water street, Chicago, to handle the fruit that will be shipped from New Mexico. They have been represented to me as men who will not give preference to California fruit and will advertise our product. When the car is shipped they must be notified, and they will, ahead of its arrival, bulletin the produce as New Mexico products.

They seem to think that grapes will take very well. Price lists and market lists showing the state of the market will be furnished by Earl Bros, to every shipper on application. The railroad will put in as many cars as New Mexico can fill, but the cars must be kept filled. The rate is the same as California rate and the charge of ice will be just what is necessary.

It is suggested that the cars be consigned from Mesilla valley to Albuquerque, and from there consigned to Chicago, with privilege to shippers at stations in New Mexico north of Albuquerque to open and ship in same cars on application to person in control of car at Albuquerque.

This can be done by applying ahead for space for so many pounds of grapes, and a list of fruit to be put in the car at the time of the arrival of the car on certain day.

They prefer that the shippers meet at once and give some one the authority to consign the cars from Albuquerque, so that Earl Bros, and the railroad company can know with whom they shall communicate. In order to get the shipping commenced in time, I think the shippers should get together at once and not lose any time in getting the cars. If you will by some means call their attention to this, I think it well and advisable that you should do so. If you have occasion to see me I could stop between trains and you can notify me at Mesilla, as I may stop between trains there on a mining matter. Very truly yours,

P. S.—Am anxious to get out of this hot weather. It made me quite sick for a few days, but I am better to day.

LORION MILLER.

TERRITORIAL NEWS BUDGET

Socorro County.

Mr. W. H. Krenis, the San Marcial druggist, has been called to the old home in Pennsylvania by the serious illness of his aged mother.

Mr. H. Bone of San Marcial, is in the eastern markets buying goods. He will visit New York, Chicago and other cities during his absence.

The citizens of San Marcial have purchased a grizzly bear, which will be turned loose in the park for the children to play with. His bearships about three months old and was captured in the vicinity of Fairview in Sierra county.

In speaking of the condition of the ranges this year the San Marcial Ben says: "The cattlemen of Socorro and Sierra counties are anticipating the prevalence of the disease known as black leg among herds, which is caused by the cattle piling on too much fat. To prevent this the cowboys have received orders from the owners to keep the animals on the move—that is, to hustle them around from place to place in order to reduce flesh. Not for years have the ranges been in such excellent condition and at the same time so barren of stock."

Grant County.

Thomas Foster is at the Sisters' hospital in Silver City being treated for a complication of diseases.

Colonel Bennett, superintendent of the Colonial Mining company at Mogollon is somewhat improved after a dangerous illness.

Meets, Langford, Johnson, Butler and others of the "Frisco" valley shipped a train load of cattle from Silver City last week.

E. M. Young of Silver City, left recently for Virginia for the purpose of taking his daughter, Lillian, to relatives in that state. Mr. Young will return in about six weeks.

A double wedding is announced in Deming, to take place on next Wednesday. The interested parties are Miss Rosa E. Hopkins and Mr. Albert J. Pickarts, Miss Hattie E. Tucker and Mr. James R. Hopkins.

Farmers and stockmen say that this has been the most favorable season for rain since 1881 in southern New Mexico. The volume may not have been so great as during past years, but the rainfall has been evenly divided throughout the season, and as a result the ranges and farms are in fine condition.

The stockholders of the Occidental and Oriental Turquoise company met at Silver City recently and elected the following named as directors: James Gillett, Thos. Parker, Arthur Goodell, J. J. Sheridan, James E. Harvey and John W. Wiley. The board of directors then met and elected the following named officers: James Gillett, president; Thos. Parker, vice president and superintendent; John M. Wiley, secretary, and Arthur S. Goodell, treasurer.

RUNNING amuck in the streets of Pittsburgh an anarchist has been elbowed into insensibility by six stalwart policemen—and if he be not found to have recovered his reason upon the recovery of consciousness it is at least even betting that he will have acquired a sufficient amount of discretion in place of the blood let to satisfy him hereafter with less demonstrative assertion of his belief that everything should belong to everybody.

The king of Spain has gone to London apparently to look for a white elephant to replace the one at home in danger of being taken by the French—and he is due to find a pretty big one.

ANDER'S balloon has once more been seen floating in the White sea, although this story must remain open to a considerable degree of doubt, until it shall have been ascertained whether a carrier pigeon has been able to swim out.

If Japan is really serious in objecting to the annexation of Hawaii, that is bad for Japan, but we cannot see that the matter puts any figure otherwise. Hawaii is as certain to become a part of this country as the sun is to rise tomorrow. If Japan does not like, she is at liberty to go ahead and give John Chisaman another good licking.

If Senator Teller wants to be president we point out the road. He should lift up his head, wipe his eyes and alleviate his sorrows. He should cut under Bryan and go straight and on a broad gauge road for the cheaper dollar. Bryan fooled away time and wind in preaching the elevation of the price of silver. What the Pop people want is for silver to go down and carry all money with it. Senator Teller has been paddling in this question; and now is the time to dive and touch bottom.

THE MCKINLEY PROSPERITY HAS ARRIVED ON TIME.

And now what will our modern Jeremiah Bryan say when even the calamity howler of the New York Herald proclaims aloud that prosperity has once more revisited our long suffering country. Here are a few excerpts which we commend to the deluded disciples of Bryan whose chief dogma is that prosperity is impossible in the absence of "free and unlimited coinage of silver." Says the Herald:

"From all sections of the country, particularly from the milling regions, where the bases of supplies are located, come tidings of a rapid revival in the iron and steel trades, which next to the agricultural form perhaps the most important industry in this country. The great iron and steel plants are one by one starting up 'full time' for the first time in many months.

"So far, this movement has manifested itself not so much by an advance in prices as by a steady growth in the demand for many products of iron. Although this improvement has been in progress for a couple of months, it has been particularly stimulated since the new tariff law went into effect.

"Latest advices tell about the resumption of work on full time this week of several large rolling mill and nail establishments in Cleveland, where several thousand men are employed; the resumption of work at the Reading Iron works, at Danville, Pa., next Monday, which have been idle since June 30; the settlement of the trouble between the Illinois Steel company and the Amalgamated association at the works at Bay View, and the resumption of work there recently, and the starting up of the extensive Birmingham rolling mills next Monday, which have been shut down since last June.

"These are but samples of the numerous mills that are getting ready for an active fall trade.

"On Monday morning the Birmingham rolling mill will resume operations in all departments, and the Alabama rolling mill, at Gate City, will resume the week after. The two mills will put 2,500 men to work. Within ten days the capacity of the Birmingham mill's new steel plant will have been doubled by the addition of a second furnace, the total capacity being then 120 tons per diem. The Alabama rolling mill has practically concluded arrangements to add a 60 ton steel furnace to its plant at Gate City. The stocks at both mills are low, and they have orders to keep them going for several months.

"The Elliott car wheel works, at Gadsden, have secured orders enough to run them three months. The blast furnaces have not yet felt the impetus, but confidently expect it.

"A 3,000 ton shipment to an Indiana furnace, by the Slove company, and a 50,000 ton export order for fall shipment are features of the iron trade. The Birmingham district output is 2,100 tons per diem, and the storage yards are shipping twice as fast as receiving on orders previously filled.

Four years ago whole columns of our eastern exchanges were filled with news of closing mills and factories—cause lack of confidence in the Democratic party and fears of the results of its free trade policy which were but too truly realized. Now even the New York Herald says: "From all sections of the country come tidings of a rapid revival in the iron and steel trades which next to the agricultural, form, perhaps, the most important industry in this country. The iron and steel plants are one by one starting up 'full time' for the first time in many months." Cause, unlimited confidence in the Republican party and its American protective tariff policy. Long may both reign.

A CANADIAN APPEAL.

A Montreal dispatch says that the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways will appeal to the United States Supreme court from Mr. McKenna's opinion that the clause in the Dingley tariff bill placing a discriminating duty on tea which comes into the United States from contiguous territory, in this case meaning Canada, is valid. The dispatch does not recognize the fact that no opinion has been rendered although the attorney general was reported some days ago as having expressed an oral opinion on that point.

The clause provides that "a discriminating duty of 10 per cent ad valorem, in addition to the duties imposed by law, shall be levied, collected and paid on all goods, wares or merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States, or which, being the production or manufacture of any foreign country not contiguous to the United States, shall come into the United States from such contiguous territory."

The necessity of making laws general in their terms prevented the framers of the law from saying in so many words, that tea produced in Japan or China, imported into Canada on Canadian vessels and brought into the United States over a Canadian railroad shall pay a duty of 10 per cent. This, however, is what the law means. The Montreal dispatch says that it is held in Canadian Pacific councils that it will be impossible to collect a duty of 10 per cent on an article coming into the United States over a Canadian road that the United States imports into other parts of the country free. This argument must rest on the assumption that the bonding privilege which the Canadian Pacific has so long enjoyed is in the nature of a constitutional right. The law which confers that privilege exempts the Canadian Pacific from paying duties on goods taken from one American port, carried through Canada and landed in another American port. The same reasoning would permit the Canadian Pacific to import goods into Canada, transport them into the United States and pay no other duty than the goods would pay if imported into the United States directly.

It is unconstitutional to levy a duty on an article imported into Canada and brought into the United States over a Canadian railroad, for the reason that the article was admitted into other parts of the United States free of duty, would it not be unconstitutional to collect duties on American products taken out of the United States by a Canadian railway and brought into the United States by the same transportation company? The bonding privilege permits the Canadian Pacific to do its business in this way. It may take goods from San Francisco, transport them to Victoria, carry them through Canada, land them in Boston without paying the duty that would be charged on goods produced in Canada. The Dingley clause the Canadian Pacific objects to, if carried to its legitimate conclusion, will require the Canadian Pacific to pay 10 per cent duty in excess of the duty charged on all goods brought into the United States.

FOR THE LADIES.

A DRAPED SKIRT.

Occasionally a draped or double skirt is seen. They are certainly noticeable, but cannot be recommended as becoming to any but very slender women.

Crepe de chine of a pinkish violet tint is combined with white taffetas and black lace. The underskirt is gored, the seams being under the long points of the draped skirt. The latter is gathered at the front.

Between the two points in front, and the third which forms the back drape are box-plaits. Both the back and front of the waist are composed of white taffetas, with vertical bands of black lace, set on to give a round yoke effect. The lower part of the leg of mutton sleeves are of the crepe, the top being of the taffetas and horizontal bands of lace. The long pointed sleeves still retain favor, and many novel arrangements over the hand are the result. This sleeve has several sharp points, which are bound with black taffetas.

The hat is white rice straw with black feathers, white tulle and pink roses.

After all it is Nature that makes the cures. Only now and then she gets into a tight place and needs the helping hand of science. When the right thing is needed to check diseased action and start the organs and tissues on the way to health, Scott's Emulsion comes as the helpmeet of Nature. It feeds, nourishes, strengthens; and it does this all round—the Hypophosphites act upon the nerves, the Cod-liver Oil feeds the body.

A BAD LOCATION.

The landlord was an elderly man, with a face which bore tokens of having been shaved some weeks before, and had a surly look which was by no means attractive, and his wife, at the moment cooking my dinner, had as I thought, a strange expression upon her countenance—a worn, terrified look, as though she were constantly afraid of something.

Twice she seemed about to speak, but closed her lips again as the man sauntered toward the door, and at last I broke the silence with the commonplace remark that it was a fine evening.

"Think so, stranger?" was all the answer I received.

But after awhile she drew nearer to me and said in a low whisper:

"You don't know nothing about these parts, do you?"

"No," I said. "This is my first visit to the west."

"You get out of 'em as fast as you can, then," she said. "I haven't say no more, only don't stay here longer'n you can help."

And she glided away from me in a terrified manner, leaving me in an exceedingly uncomfortable state of mind. I cast my eye over the homely landscape with a vague intention of traveling on that night, but I was very weary, and certainly my possessions could be no temptation to crime.

Accordingly I walked in and requested to be shown to my room. The landlord nodded and turned to light a candle, and in the moment the woman found time to whisper in my ear:

"Don't leave your window open."

While I was awaiting the movements of my host the door opened, and two stalwart, ill-favored fellows marched in. They nodded to the landlord, and walking up to the bar called for drink.

I picked up my knapsack and followed my landlord in a moment more, and soon found myself in a large, uncarpeted room, with an immense feather bed perched upon a tall, old fashioned bedstead, a rickety table with a cracked ewer and basin upon it and one chair completing the furniture.

The window—I looked at that the moment I was left alone—opened on a long, low shed, up which any one could easily climb who desired to obtain entrance, and stood wide open.

I closed it at once, and seeing a jagged nail upon the floor I contrived to fasten it so that any one without would at least have some trouble in opening it, and having bolted the door was about to retire when I heard a low murmur of voices in the room below.

I knelt down, and applying my ear to an aperture in the uneven boards found that I could catch most of the words that were uttered. The first startled me.

"You've got your knife?"

The answer was, "What the deuce do you think of my brains?"

"What's the hour?"

"Half past 11."

The two young men were speaking, I knew.

"People are abed by that time mostly. We don't want to be interrupted."

And then their voices sank into a lower tone, and I heard no more. I felt certain that my life was in danger, and that the old woman had attempted to warn me out of pity, probably for my youth.

Escape would be much better than resistance if I could contrive to elude the vigilance of my enemies, but that was all but impossible. The shed was in sight of the barroom window, and the stairs descended directly into the room.

Suddenly a bright idea struck me. I would open the window and conceal myself beneath the feather bed. My enemies would doubtless fancy that I had escaped, and so pursuing me or abandoning their project would give me time to elude them.

Obedient to my new idea, I immediately tucked myself and my knapsack between the immense straw and feather beds and lay there, with my head out, listening.

The hours dragged on slowly. The suffering I endured under that heavy weight in that hot August night can never be forgotten.

I heard a sudden movement below. I became confident that there were others concerned besides those I had seen already. Knocks came at the door below, voices and steps were heard, and soon I became aware that there was a general stir and departure.

I awaited a raid upon my apartment with a beating heart, but to my relief I soon heard the little band of men moving away from the door, and gaining courage I arose and peeped from my window.

About ten men, each with a bag upon his shoulder, were hurrying away from the house. Among them I recognized in the moonlight the landlord and the two persons who had entered the barroom during my presence there.

As they might return repentant of their money, I went back to my position between the beds and there remained until dawn, sometimes dozing, sometimes starting awake, always suffering immense discomfort.

At last in the early morning I heard a rap at my door, and the woman's voice called:

"Breakfast, stranger."

I descended to the room below and found a breakfast ready and only the hostess present.

In the corner were several large watermelons, which I was sure had not been there on the previous night. My landlord, whom I regarded as my preserver, saw me glance toward them, and as he poured my coffee said:

"They're fine ones, aren't they? The boys all met here last night for a water-melon stealin'. It's considered a nice frolic in these parts, and they left them."

I cut one for you. You did shet your wind, I hope, stranger?"

"Yes," I said, feeling that if she knew all that I had done I could not bear the inquiring glance she bent upon me. "Yes. Why did you tell me to do so?"

"Because I felt pity for you," said the woman. "My old man has bought here and don't like the place run down. But I never saw a powerful bad and honest, and night air is almost sure to give it to you. I shake the heft of the time. But the old man says I ruin the custom by tellin' folks so. Don't speak of it to him."

I did not. I did not stay to speak to any one under that roof. I paid my reckoning, I thanked my hostess and hurried away, feeling terribly ashamed of myself.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1896, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR IN THE BEET" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is applied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

124 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beet; 84.1 per cent purity.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head. If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily, these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely dispelled by that peerless alternative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerful invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter, the Bitters is unrivaled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

Queer. It is pretty hard to understand how some people keep on good terms with themselves.

I Guess So. Mother—You naughty, naughty boy! What do you think your father would say if he knew you spoke wicked words? Hopeful—Oh, he wouldn't be jealous. I guess he can keep his end up easy enough.

It draws attention, of course, a good thing always does. Our stock of hardware is so packed full of good things that it draws attention a hundred times over. A and Z are not farther apart than good and poor hardware. Our stock is more than good, because it's the best. We couldn't make it better if we wished, but if we could we would. Buyers take to one thing about our hardware immensely. It's the prices; they're great, great because they're small.

THE HORTICULTURAL FAIR

The Pecos Valley Asks for Space at the Horticultural Fair to Be Held in Santa Fe Next Month.

NOTES ON THE COMING EXHIBIT

Ex-Governor Prince Has Succeeded in Getting the Republican and News of Denver to Send Special Correspondents for the Coming Exhibition.

The premium list for the horticultural fair at Santa Fe, September 7, 8 and 9, has been received, says the Pecos Valley Argus. The Pecos valley is to be represented by an exhibit sent up by the sugar company, showing the best in every stage, from the time of its planting as seed till its final issuance as pure, white, granulated sugar. This will include seed, beet one month old, a perfect beet ready for factory, cassettes (chips), pulp, diffusion juice, carbonated juice, filtered syrup, masecotte, granulated sugar, brown sugar and molasses.

It is the intention of the fair management to offer a prize for the richest sugar beets grown in any part of the territory, but the Pecos valley will not enter this contest, considering the disadvantages too great. Packing the beets for shipment would cause heating, the result of which would be to wither and shrivel them up, all combining to deterioration in sugar content. In competition with beets just taken from the ground, or not subject to such severe shipments, it is obvious that there could be but one result. Hence, no beets will be entered for richness. It is very probable, however, that a lot will be sent up for exhibition purposes.

Every effort is being made by those having the fair in charge to make it a great success and of benefit to the horticultural interests of the territory, and there is no reason to doubt but that it will so prove.

PECOS VALLEY EXHIBIT.

The following communication explains itself.

Thomas J. Curran, Secretary, Santa Fe, N. M.
Aug. 26, 1897, Dear Sir:—Since writing you this morning I see by the New Mexican that the Santa Fe road will transport all exhibits for the horticultural fair free of charge. If it is correct you may reserve a space 12x12 for a Pecos valley exhibit. We will send up at least 50 large exhibition jars of fruit, vegetables and sugar beet products. In addition will be included 100 pounds of green beets for exhibition purposes.

Mr. William Jones will have charge of the exhibit and will be there to receive and arrange it. He is a most competent man, an employee of the Irrigation company, and has charge of the fruit exhibit here. Very truly,

L. O. FULLEN.

HORTICULTURAL FAIR NOTES.

While Governor Prince was in Denver last week he visited both the Republican and the News, and succeeded in getting a promise to send a special representative to Santa Fe at the time of the horticultural fair, for each of those papers. This is very important, as Colorado is our best market for fruit and we wish the people of that state to know what magnificent horticultural products we have.

A careful examination of the Denver market last week, showed that for three days there was not an apricot for sale in the city, while our orchards here were full of them. The only peaches there were a few from California, and a lot of wretched fruit from Grand Junction, most of it so inferior that in New Mexico it would not be considered marketable at all. Systematic peddling has given Grand Junction fruit such a reputation in Denver that apparently any sort of trash with that label on it will sell. It is certainly time that our people should let our Colorado neighbors see what really good fruit is, and the horticultural fair will do much in that direction.

THE FIRST FAIR.

The first annual fair of the New Mexico Horticultural society will be held in Santa Fe, September 7, 8 and 9, says the Denver Republican. The society has existed since 1886, but has not hitherto attempted to bring its members together for a display of what they could do. The excellence of the fruit crop in New Mexico this year, together with the interest taken by investors and prospective settlers, have led to the belief that this is a most favorable time to launch the enterprise in the hope that it will become one of the great annual events in the territory.

Cash prizes amounting to over $600 have been offered, besides special premiums by nurserymen and others. The premium exhibitors, with excellent specimens of only a few varieties, an equal show with those with large and varied orchards.

The benefits of the fair will be not only in the advertising it will give the fruit lands but also by demonstrating which varieties are best adapted to the circumstances, this by bringing about a correct nomenclature and by promoting acquaintance and friendship among those engaged in kindred pursuits.

A letter has been received by a gentleman in this city from Mrs. Moreley, mother of the boy who was found hanging to the limb of a tree, at a small settlement several miles south of Albuquerque a week or so since. Clew now in possession of the authorities, says Mrs. Moreley in the letter above referred to, are convincing that this theory of the crime is a correct one.

Hon. Lorion Miller, secretary of the bureau of immigration, returned from Chicago and other eastern cities last night.
