CUBAN AFFAIRS CONSIDERED

Consul General Lee Confering with Authorities at Washington Touching New Phases of Situation.

SAGASTA'S PROBABLE POLICY DISCUSSED

Fact That New York Journal Representatives Aided Miss Cisneros to Escape Not Likely to Cause International Complications.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Consul General Fitzhugh Lee arrived here last night and was at the state department this morning in conference with Assistant Secretary Day. It is understood that the state department is going over with Mr. Lee and Mr. Hannis Taylor, ex-minister to Spain, the effects of the recent cabinet changes, the results of Captain General Weyler's withdrawal and his succession by General Blanco, and the new phases of development by the accession of Sagasta.

The escape of Miss Cisneros from a Havana prison, through the efforts of representatives of the New York Journal, has been talked over also, the prevailing view being that it will not lead to international complications. There is good reason to believe that the accession of Sagasta means a Fabian policy of delay, and that no definite policy for Cuba will be announced for some time.

NEW CAPTAIN GENERAL TALKS.

Madrid, Oct. 11.—Ramon Blanco, the new captain general of Cuba, announces that he will not with great energy against the insurgents and employ all possible means to restore equality of treatment in the various sections of the community. The captain general adds that he has the greatest desire to end this war and establish peace by the system which he adopted in 1879.

An Indiana Hotel Burned.

French Lick, Ind., Oct. 11.—The Windsor hotel, the leading hostelry of this city, was destroyed by fire this morning together with the contents. The loss is $40,000.

Japan Will Be Represented.

London, Oct. 11.—An official telegram from Yokohama says that Japan has accepted the invitation to send representatives to the sealing conference soon to be held in Washington, in which the whole sealing question will be discussed, not simply the questions covered by the Paris award, Japan having no interest in the Pribyloff Islands.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Notification of the Appointment of a New Turkish Minister.—Several Presidential Placards Distributed.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The state department has received word that Ali-frouk Bey has been appointed Turkish minister to the United States to succeed Mustapha Bey. The new minister was for two years secretary of legation at London.

PRESIDENTIAL PLUMS.

The president today made the following appointments: H. N. McGrew, of Phoenix, A. T., to be register of the land office at Salt Lake City, Utah; F. A. Spriggs, New York, Indian agent of the Nevada agency, Nevada; Edward Goldberg, of Wichita, Kas., agent of the Indians at the Quapaw agency, Indian Territory.

Great Strike Threatened in London.

London, Oct. 11.—The secretary of the federated trades, comprising 30 important industries, announces that the executive committee has definitely decided to call out all the members, in sympathy with the strike of engineers, on Friday next, when, it is estimated, that 100,000 men will be out of work.

LUETGERT TRIAL ON STAGE.

"Sausage Maker of Lake View" Draws a Big Crowd.—Letter Forwarded to Him from Mrs. Luetgert Received in the Windy City.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—"The Sausage Maker of Lake View," which was advertised as a dramatization of the Luetgert murder case, proved a veritable gold mine for its producer last night. The house was crowded. There is nothing new to the play but the name, it being a familiar German comedy, known in English as "The Two Eccehoheons." The central male character is a manufacturer of sausage and hails from Chicago.

PRONOUNCED A FRAUD.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—A letter addressed to Chief of Police Kipley, purporting to be from Mrs. Luetgert, was received at police headquarters today. The letter was sent from New York City, but little if any attention will be paid to it by the police. The signature is spelled "Luetigert" and this alone, they say, is enough to brand the letter as a fraud. The letter is written in English which, it is said, the missing woman was unable to speak. It says the writer lives with a family at 304 Palisade avenue, Jersey City, and is doing chamber work at the Metropole hotel. The writer implored Chief Kipley to save Luetgert as he is innocent of the charge against him. The letter also stated that Mrs. Luetgert would never return to her husband, because she was afraid he would kill her, and she is going to Germany as soon as she could earn enough money to take her there. Her whereabouts since last May is also given. According to the letter Mrs. Luetgert went to Wisconsin, then to Flint, Mich., then to Detroit and from there to New York City.

The Luetgert trial came to a sudden close today. Witnesses for the defense called on for rebuttal testimony failed to respond when their names were called and finally ex-Judge Vincent announced the case of the defense was all in.

After a brief consultation by the counsel it was agreed to begin arguments to the jury this afternoon. Assistant State Attorney McEwen opened. He to be followed by Attorney Phalen. Ex-Judge Vincent will close for the defense and State Attorney Densen for the prosecution. The case will go to the jury probably next Saturday night.

NEW YORK CANDIDATES.

Judge Gaynor May Be Placed on the Democratic Ticket for Mayor, in Place of Van Wyck.

New York, Oct. 11.—The Journal and Advertiser says: Nathan Straus and Richard Crocker, held a conference at Great Barrington, Mass., yesterday with Judge William Gaynor of Brooklyn. Out of this conference, it is declared, there will come a readjustment of the Democratic city ticket, with Gaynor's name in place of Robert A. Van Wyck's as the candidate for mayor.

It is understood that Judge Gaynor said to Straus and Crocker that Henry George, before accepting the Independent nomination, told him he would not run if he (Gaynor) was a candidate. With this courtesy in mind, Judge Gaynor hesitated to consent. He has the matter still under consideration.

The contractors have been paying the union scale, but have not recognized the union and have hired many "jack legs" at lower rates.

RIOTING IN ROME.

Tradesmen Protest Against Increased Taxation and Bloodshed Enues.

Rome, Oct. 11.—A large procession of tradesmen, headed by the prosyndio of Rome and the president of the chamber of commerce, marched to the office of the minister of the interior this morning to protest against increased taxation.

Premier Ruidini, who is also minister of the interior, received the committee representing the tradesmen and promised that all possible would be done to promote friendly relations and greater equity between the tax collectors and taxpayers.

Meanwhile a large crowd collected around the ministry, angry shouts were heard, and some of those present tore up the paving stones and otherwise assumed a threatening attitude. The police attempted to disperse the violent portion of the crowd, and in the conflict which followed, six policemen were injured and one rioter was killed.

COCHITI NEWS NUGGETS.

Readable and Instructive Hatch of Items Concerning This Rich District.

Charles Paxton is working steadily on the Ellen L. and gradually nearing the big lead of gold quartz.

Major Tyrell continues the development of the Monarch, which continues to improve with depth.

Work was begun yesterday on the Corser, a valuable claim belonging to J. G. Schumann and T. B. Ward of Santa Fe. Messrs. Ostrander and Campbell are doing some extensive work on the King in Peralta canon, and the big property is showing up well.

The rich strike on the Master Irwin in Peralta canon holds out well and indicates that the property will be able to ship ore in the very near future.

Some extensive work is soon to be done on the opal property belonging to J. G. Schumann and T. B. Ward of Santa Fe, and is expected that some fine stones will be produced.

The big Albemarle lead has been out by the crosscut tunnel that a day and night shift have been at work on for some time past, and the ore encountered is of the usual valuable kind found everywhere in that mine.

Alex. Conrad has received word that the owners of the Victor mine intend to soon push work on that large and valuable property, which will be extensively worked with a view to making it one of the shipping mines of the district.

Ore hauling from the Lone Star mine to the mill has been steady all week. The mill is at present treating this ore and good results are expected. The rich ore body in the Lone Star mine still holds out and the force at work there continues producing large quantities of it.

Work on the Julia in Colla canyon progresses well and the lead which has been opened up there shows indications of becoming valuable to a high degree. Messrs. Clausen and Williams have made several improvements on the property beside the actual work on the lead and intend to continue them.

Work on the Ball of the Woods continues and the improvement of the property is noticeable. This claim, which is but little developed thus far, is certain to make one of the best properties in the district. It has a strong eight foot lead of quartz that runs high in gold and is less refractory than much of the ore in the camp.

F. L. Walker is excited over a recent rich find he has made between Bland and Peralta canon, in an out-of-the-way gulch which has heretofore been little prospected. The ore contains mineral all through it and is composed almost entirely of sulphurets of a rich character. It is the finest piece of ore that has ever been found in this district at the surface.

During the week it was found necessary to stop operations at the mill in order to make further changes that would increase the capacity of the plant. It is expected to soon add another roasting furnace as the present one is barely sufficient to keep up with the ore crushed by the stamps. In a recent test it was found that a big saving can be made and in this respect the mill has proved a success. The amount of the saving has not yet been made public, but it is supposed it is something over 85 per cent of the values per ton.—Bland Herald.

Cook's Peak District.

Walter Doreador commenced work on the Montezuma mine last Saturday.

Old-reliable Jap Onstott keeps pegging away on the west side with fair success.

A. P. Taylor is working two men on the Webster extension of the Monte Cristo; he is taking out good ore.

John Deemer and John Hitchins are working the Teel & Poe property, under lease, and are shipping good ore.

The old Surprise mine now relocated by Cotton and McDaniels is being steadily worked. Ten men are employed and good pay ore is produced.

Charles Gayhart has a splendid showing upon the O'hellio extension and it will all probably prove as good a mine as its famous dusky brother, when fully developed.

On the Lead King belonging to U. E. McDaniels, M. J. Cox has a lease and is taking out good pay ore which is shipped to the El Paso smelter. Six or eight men are employed on this property.

Cullom, Hall & Miller are working the old Dr. Miller property upon the west side of the mountain. They only commenced last week and are engaged in cleaning out the old workings and putting the mine in proper shape.

Speaking of the Cook's Peak district in Grant county the Silver City Enterprise says: The McKinley tariff upon silver has been given an impetus to mining in this district. Nearly all the claims in camp are being worked and many of them with the most flattering results. In fact the camp is decidedly lively and reminds one of the early days of prosperity in this section.

The Kansas City Smelting & Refining Co. of El Paso is working the celebrated O'hellio, Deadend and Monte Cristo mines, from which Wm. Kief took such enormous quantities of high grade lead ore during the past two years. Sixty-eight men are employed under the superintendency of Mr. John Mitchell. One to two cars of ore per day are being shipped from the property.

Lindner of Chicago, is working ten men on the Inex mine and is getting good ore in quantity. This mine is now in litigation, Sigmond Lindner and wife of Deming, having sued for a reititution of the property, it having been hypotheated for payment of a debt to the Chicago man, which debt has since been paid.

The property is a good one and has been a good producer in the past. Wm. Kief, the mining magnate of Cooks, is doing good work developing new properties in the camp. This gentleman has made a fortune of a quarter of a million dollars during the past two years from the proceeds of ore which he took from the O'hellio, Deadend and Monte Cristo mines which he worked under lease from the Kansas City Smelting & Refining company, of El Paso. Unlike many who shake the dust of the camp from their feet as soon as they have made a stake, he has gone to work to develop other mines and is meeting with great success as he deserves. He is giving attention to the Clara K mine upon which he has built a handsome residence besides other buildings necessary to the mine. Two shafts are being sunk upon this property and two shifts of miners are employed at each shaft working steadily night and day. Good ore is being extracted and shipments from the property will soon be made. In addition to this property Mr. Kief is developing five claims on the west side of the mountain.

The Claire dining room in connection with the hotel is now open to the public under the new management. Everything first-class at reasonable rates.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 11.

Is the four handed political game for mayor of Greater New York, Low and the game seem to be in the tricks belonging to the Citizens' union, and they have not yet played high.

The announcement is gravely made that the Prince of Wales has a new hat. It is not an ordinary hat either, but high of crown, wide of brim, green in color, and has a feather stuck in one side. What the prince wears the fashionable world soon adopts, and now, perhaps, the ladies will learn what a confounded nuisance a big, befeathered hat is.

When doctors disagree the patient generally goes to that source from where no traveler returns. Weyler has been recalled; Weyler has not been recalled; Weyler can subdue Cuba; Weyler cannot subdue Cuba. These contradictory statements have all been made within the past ten days. Cuba seems to be on a broad, smooth, shady road to independence, and no thanks are due to the United States for the emancipation of an oppressed country—to the shame of this government.

The drought which prevails in the south and east has assumed a serious aspect. Streams which have heretofore been considered unfailing have gone dry, wells and springs are exhausted, and in many localities drinking water is almost a luxury. The crops are ruined and cattle are in danger of starvation. Not since 1852 has such a drought been known, and the weather bureau announces that there is no indication of any change in the stricken regions. The residents of the Rocky Mountain country who are complaining of too much rainfall are certainly blessed beyond their deserts and know not whereof they complain.

JOHNNY, GET YOUR GUN.

The magwumps in New England are in a state of blue funk and green fright over a little statement that has been given out from official quarters in Washington. That statement is as follows:

"War with Spain is in the air, and it is in every department of this government. It is the fashion among the diplomats, heads of bureaus and clerks to laugh at the idea of war; but there is no one in the State, War or Navy departments who does not believe that either this government must back down from the position it has assumed toward Spain, or fight, and that the fight is not far off. There is everything to suggest it, in the War and Navy departments, aside from the intense strain of matters in the State department."

COLORADO INTERESTED.

The state of Colorado is at last awakening to the scheme of El Paso speculators to deprive New Mexico and possibly Colorado of water for irrigation purposes. Governor Otero has filed with the state department at Washington a vigorous protest against the proposed treaty with Old Mexico in regard to the waters of the Rio Grande, showing that such a treaty would work ruin to the agricultural interests of New Mexico, and urges that a system of storage reservoirs be constructed along the river in order that large areas of land may be brought under cultivation. In speaking of the subject, the Rocky Mountain News says editorially:

"The governor is right in his position, and in urging his views upon the state department should have the active support and co-operation of the state officials and congressional delegation of Colorado. In fact, Colorado is quite as much interested in this question as is New Mexico, a fact heretofore pointed out in these columns. The only difference is that Colorado, being a state, is in a better position to fight such a treaty than New Mexico, which is still a territory. In any event it is a matter of doubt whether the federal government can barter away such rights to the waters of the Rio Grande river as are possessed by the people of New Mexico and Colorado. The state department, which appears to be under the influence of the El Paso international dam scheme, may negotiate such a treaty, but we doubt if it would ever be able to secure a ratification by the senate. Colorado's interest in this matter lies in the fact that no treaty can be made with Mexico affecting the Rio Grande waters in New Mexico which will not also affect the waters of the river in this state. To permit the splendid agricultural industry of the San Luis valley to be in any way injured or circumscribed in order to please the Republic of Mexico, or aid a lot of El Paso speculators, is something to which Colorado will never consent."

THE INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION QUESTION.

Great Britain has not given up all hopes of a treaty of arbitration with the United States, and the London Times is of the opinion that the British ministry is convinced that the vote on the Cleveland Olney treaty in the last session of congress was not in accord with the American opinion, and gives credit to the report that overtures will soon be made for a new arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States. The Times thinks it is quite probable that an arbitration treaty can be drawn up that both nations would ratify. On the American side a recognition of the Monroe doctrine would be required. The United States would not bind itself to arbitrate a dispute that involved the principles of that doctrine. If the British government is prepared to recognize this doctrine as an American law which no controversy could expose to foreign construction, there is no reason why an arbitration treaty should not be agreed upon. It would be some relief to the United States to know that in the improbable event of a war with a great European power, the neutrality of Great Britain could be relied upon. Great Britain would gain less from a similar assurance of neutrality on the part of the United States for the reason that it is our steady policy not to mix up in European affairs. If Great Britain should become involved in a war with a European power, the United States would remain neutral whether we were bound by treaty to do so or not.

After the next European war it is probable that a general movement will be made to arbitrate all disputes between nations from whatever cause they may arise. It is only in this way that the war preparations can be kept within the means of the people. A good many European countries have reached the limit of their ability to create debts, and will consequently be compelled to rely upon current revenues, not only to meet current expenses, but to provide for interest on the public debt. The impossibility of keeping up the struggle for the supremacy in expenditure that is now going on in Europe will appear after the next test of strength has been made.

With the Times the wish may be father of the thought, but this country has gotten the short end of the rope in attempts to arbitrate international questions in the past, and will not be in a hurry to enter into any agreement which will bind it to submit rights to hostile foreign powers for settlement.

THE BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson makes the prediction that within ten years the United States, instead of importing $100,000,000 worth of sugar annually, as at present, will actually be exporting that article. This belief is based upon the conclusions arrived at after a careful and thorough study of the beet sugar industry in this and foreign countries. From these investigations Secretary Wilson is convinced that the sugar beet can be raised with success in nearly every state of the Union, while the loose, sandy soil of the west is peculiarly adapted to its profitable production. Climatic conditions are here most favorable also, and with water by irrigation New Mexico fills every requirement pointed out by experience in this industry.

Last spring the Agricultural department at Washington furnished beet seed to 22,000 farmers in 27 states of the Union, upon promise that they would be cultivated and returns made of the result. The department is now receiving samples and reports from these experiments, and it is upon the unexpectedly favorable nature thereof that Secretary Wilson bases the prediction referred to. Analyses of the sample beets received by the department are being made as rapidly as possible, and a report will be issued thereon at the earliest possible moment.

In this connection some very interesting statistics have recently been furnished by the Orford beet sugar factory at Grand Island, Neb., where the industry is already well established, after varying success extending over a period of some eight years. These statistics show that 10,000 acres have this year been given up to the cultivation of sugar beets in that vicinity, the total product being estimated at about 100,000 tons, which would be at the rate of ten tons per acre. The beets have been purchased on the following schedule: For beets averaging 12 per cent sugar and 80 per cent purity or better, delivered at factory, per ton, $4; averaging 11 per cent sugar and 75 per cent purity, $3.25; averaging 10 per cent sugar and 70 per cent purity, $2.50. The expert farmers, and it is probable that nearly all of them become expert after a little experience, are able to secure $4 per ton for nearly their entire crop. The effect upon the value of land of the introduction of this profitable crop is quite noticeable in Nebraska. Land near the beet sugar factories which could be bought for $20 an acre in 1890 is now quoted at $100 per acre.

As an evidence of the growing importance of the beet sugar manufacturing industry in Nebraska, it is stated that the factory at Grand Island will this year produce 10,000,000 pounds of standard granulated sugar, while the output of the factory at Norfolk will be even greater. Commenting upon statistics above quoted, the report says:

"The beet sugar industry has proved of immense benefit to all concerned in Nebraska, though its development has been a gradual nature. With a production the size of those at Grand Island and Norfolk, the enterprise cannot fail to yield a fair return on the investment, and the outlook for the future is even more promising on account of the protection afforded to sugar producers by the Dingley law. There is abundant encouragement to the extension of the beet sugar industry in the experience of Nebraska. What is required is the establishing of large factories in the immediate vicinity of a large territory suitable to the cultivation of good sugar beets. The enterprise, if conducted with ordinary business sagacity, can hardly fail, to be attended with satisfactory results, to judge by what has been done in Nebraska."

The experiments made in beet culture in Santa Fe the past season have proved beyond a doubt that the Rio Grande, Espanola and Santa Fe valleys are much better adapted to the growing of beets than the prairies of Nebraska. Analysis of partially matured beets grown in Santa Fe gives a return of over 17 per cent of sugar, which is far above the average of ripe beets grown in that state. Based upon the prices paid for Nebraska beets, the farmers in New Mexico could easily realize $65 per acre from beets, and there is no other known crop that will pay so well for the labor expended. This does not take into account the value of the pulp as feed for stock, and that is not the least of the valuable part of the crop.

Santa Fe is an ideal point for a sugar factory, for many reasons, and the subject should receive careful attention and prompt action from the business men and property owners of the city.

SONG OF THE HAT.

With manner haughty and proud
At a crowded Saturday night
A woman sat in unconquered gear
Wearing a theater hat.
Bob, bob, bob,
Now this way and now that;
I tried to get a view of the stage
From behind that theater hat.
Bob, bob, bob,
As the interest grew more keen,
And bob, bob, bob,
When the stars came on the scene;
It's oh, to be a Turk
Or to join a Zulu band,
Where woman has never a hat to wear,
If this is a Christian land!

Bob, bob, bob,
Till the brain begins to swim,
And bob, bob, bob,
To dodge that bobbing brim.
Bird, feather and flower,
Flower, feather and bird,
Until at the end of a second hour
I say an awful word.
O girls with brothers dear,
O girls with lovers and beaux,
It's not the hat you're wearing out,
It's the patience and love of those.
Bob, bob, bob,
If I could only get a peep!
Alas, that hats should be so dear
And theater seats so cheap!

Bob, bob, bob!
My head innocent wags,
And what is the prospect? A hat of straw
Or velvet or felt or rags,
That ostrich plume and this pheasant's wing,
A huckle, a mop of hair,
A bunch of bows and a cabbage rose!
Do you wonder I want to swear?
Oh, how to see the stage,
The heroine blond and sweet!
Oh, to behold the villain rage
And watch the scoundrel's feast!
For only one short hour
To see as I used to see
Before I knew the woes of a hat
Waibling in front of me!

With manner haughty and proud
At a crowded Saturday night
A woman sat in unconquered gear
Wearing a theater hat.
Bob, bob, bob,
Now this way, now that,
And still with my voice at concert pitch
Would that its tone could reach the rich!
I sing the song of the hat.

Beethoven and His Brother.

The composer Beethoven had a brother who was very proud of a little piece of property he owned. One day he called on the composer, but found him out. So he left a card inscribed, "Johann von Beethoven, land proprietor." Next day he had it returned to him, written on the back, "H. von Beethoven, brain proprietor."—Exchange.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Black Hats—Attire For Girls—Popular Colors.

Black hats are to be still worn this winter. They will be lavishly trimmed with black ostrich plumes and enlivened by buckles, pins and ornaments of gold and jewels. These hats are useful as well as picturesque, for they will accompany any color of gown.

Although capes are seen on very young girls, 12 or 13 years old, they are less desirable than jackets or long coats because they seem more mature, and girls should be kept young as long as possible. A jacket which fits the figure at the back, but is straight in front, is becoming to half grown girls and more appropriate as an outside garment for them than anything else. For school it may be of rough, serviceable goods, with large buttons, the color being beige, navy blue, red or dark green, while for nicer wear smooth cloth, trimmed with brooding or applications, is pretty in a masculine or a pale gray shade.

Red is especially to be desired for the frocks and jackets of children because it is so warm and brilliant, and it is only in extreme youth that it can be worn in bulk. Red shoes and stockings and hats, red gowns and coats are always suitable for little people, and while red is bright it is not so light and delicate as to be unserviceable, like sky blue and pink. Plain red cashmere makes pretty, useful and inexpensive gowns for children, and red plaids are always desirable for them.

Printed woolen chollies of dark and medium colors are also appropriate for children's dresses. For winter these may be lined with flannel or velvet and will then be quite warm enough. Very narrow ribbons or velvet, either black or colored, forms a suitable trimming and may be arranged in plain bands or in vandykes, squares or scrolls.

Blue of all medium and dark shades enters largely into the winter wardrobe. The illustration given today shows a costume of mauve taffeta. The skirt is trimmed with seven ruffles, which are narrower in front and dip downward in a curve. These ruffles are each bordered with a band of narrow violet velvet. The bodice is framed by two long points of black passementerie, which pass downward from the belt. The close bodice has a plastron that is laid in horizontal plaits and is outlined by two smaller points of black passementerie running upward from the waist to the shoulder. The same decoration of passementerie is seen on the back of the bodice. There are full breasted of mauve taffeta edged with violet velvet and a small yoke of black passementerie. The close sleeves are wrinkled at the top and trimmed with bands of violet velvet at the wrist. The belt is of violet velvet.

DOMESTIC HINTS.

The Furniture of Living Rooms—Novelties in Stationery, Etc.

Rooms having a northern exposure, which are always gloomy, and rooms furnished in dark, dull colors may be made brighter, lighter and more cheerful by using yellow silk for the curtains. Such curtains of thin yellow liberty silk and long curtains of some heavier yellow material will improve the general aspect of such a room very much.

Articles of wood and willow furniture are now frequently seen stained a soft, artistic green. These used to be very expensive and were only to be obtained at shops that made a specialty of novelties in that line. They are becoming less costly, however, and are sometimes to be found at the establishment of an ordinary dealer. They are very pretty and offer a pleasing relief from the ubiquitous antique oak. The bolero has not yet been abandoned, but is less generally worn than it was. It is now made in one piece, with no seam behind or under the arm and no darts. It is very short and clings close to the figure, fastening in front or at the side under a ruffle or plaiting, or it is partly open and has revers of one shape or another.

The illustration given today shows a hat of green silk felt. It has a square topped crown and a broad, curling brim. A heavy green ostrich plume lies along the brim on each side, drooping over the edge. In front is an alight of finely plaited Nile screen matting, which is held in place by an ornament of paste and pearls. With this hat is worn a bon of pale gray ostrich plume.

THE SEVENTH Beet Sugar factory in the United States was erected at Eddy, New Mexico, in 1896, and made its first "campaign," beginning November 15th, 1896, and closing February 15th, 1897.

THE CONTENT OF "SUGAR in the beet" of the crop grown in the Eddy and Roswell sections of the valley has proven to be more uniformly high than any other part of the United States.

FORTUNATELY the land is blessed with just the fertility to produce high grade beets, and

MORE FORTUNATELY the Pecos Irrigation and Improvement Co. and the Roswell Land and Water Co. have an irrigation system of great magnitude, covering a vast body of the BEST SUGAR BEET lands on earth. The water is supplied to the crop WHEN NEEDED.

124 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beet; 84.1 per cent purity.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

A Blessing to the Babies of the Poor An Enterprise that should be fostered.

The prospect is very encouraging that the distribution of pasteurized milk, devoid of all microbic germs, among the children of the poor at a nominal price, will become general in the large cities of the United States. While this benevolence will be a blessing to the babies, our adult population enjoy an equally great one in the benefit conferred by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters upon persons afflicted with indigestion and bladder complaint. Danger from Bright's disease and diabetes is surely averted by this admirable preventive, which is also a safeguard against malaria, fever, rheumatism, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness. Diseases, insignificant at the outset, enlarge their proportions and capacity for destruction through neglect. Another point of importance in using this sterling remedy is, that it should be taken with regularity and persistence.

AT HOME AGAIN.

Governor Otero and Guests and the Santa Fe Soldiers Reached Home Safely on Saturday Evening.

Governor Otero and staff, the First Regimental band, company B of the First New Mexico infantry, under command of Captain T. J. Matthews, and many others, returned to Santa Fe on Saturday evening by a special train over the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

All report having had a royal good time in the Queen city of the Rockies, and are unanimous in pronouncing the Festival of Mountain and Plain a dazzling success.

The members of company B acquitted themselves most creditably both as an organization and as individuals during their sojourn in Denver and have reason to be proud of the praise bestowed upon them by disinterested observers. In the grand parade their movements were so perfect and their appearance so soldierly that they were frequently mistaken for "regulars," and Governor Adams remarked to Governor Otero, in the presence of the governors of Illinois, Wyoming, Utah and California, that the troops from New Mexico made the best appearance and manifested the most perfect discipline of any in the city. Naturally New Mexico's popular young governor was not displeased at this compliment to his soldiers.

Andrews-Gresham.

At 9:30 o'clock last night, October 10, Mr. Frank Andrews, one of Santa Fe's bright and promising young men, and Miss Myrtle Gresham, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gresham, were united in holy wedlock by the Rev. G. S. Madden, pastor of St. John's Methodist Episcopal church. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride in the presence of the immediate families. The many friends of the happy couple unite in expressing their best wishes for their highest happiness and success in life.

CITY NEWS ITEMS.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico; fair tonight and Tuesday.

The governor this morning appointed Alfred H. Long as notary public for Guadalupe county.

The steel ceiling in Fisher & Co.'s drug store has been finished, the scaffolding removed, and customers need not fear any danger in entering.

The conservative and substantial First National bank of Santa Fe makes its usual satisfactory statement in this issue of the New Mexican.

Remarks the Bland Herald: Some of the finest apples ever seen or eaten in any country were received in Bland during the week from Santa Fe orchards.

The rumor that Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lujan, witnesses in the Abo murder trial, had been waylaid and killed en route from Mora to Tierra Amarilla proves to have been a pure fiction. Both were in Tierra Amarilla on Thursday evening.

Hon. Rafael Romero, interpreter for the district court, left for Tierra Amarilla this morning, having in charge Juan J. Valdez, Gabriel Maestas and Luisa Valdez, witnesses for the territory in the pending prosecution of Agapito Aboytia for participation in the murder of John Doherty at Mora.

New Mexico was very creditably represented. First came the First regimental band, New Mexico National Guard, from Santa Fe, 25 pieces. It was followed by B company of the First regiment from Santa Fe, under Captain Matthews. There were 60 men in the company and their marching was excellent. They received much applause along the route of the procession.—Denver Republican.

The county court house was as cool as a refrigerator on this forenoon when the reporter called. The only fire in the building was in the county clerk's office. All the other officials were shivering. It is presumed that the winter warming facilities will soon be put in action and then the official teeth will cease chattering.

Dr. G. A. Neff, pastor of the Lutheran church, has taken a series of large views of the old palace, the plaza, the displays of fruit made at the Horticultural fair, and of the scenery around the city, which are undoubtedly the finest that have ever been made. The photographs are particularly clear and distinct, and the points from which the views were taken were chosen with an eye to the best effect. Some of the pictures are on display at Kaune & Co's store, and are well worth seeing.

Tomorrow will be circus day in Santa Fe. Walter L. Main's show has been in California, and the Stockton Express, of August 14, says: "All the circuses that ever came west of the Rocky mountains have visited Stockton, but none of them have equaled the Walter L. Main circus which showed here last night. The performance was clean in every particular, and there were so many new features introduced which are entirely new, that it kept the vast audience on the verge of expectancy, wondering what seemingly impossible act it would next be witness to. No circus ever visited Stockton that gave such universal satisfaction. Another important point which was appreciated by the people of this city who met them is, that Walter L. Main and every man on his managerial staff is a gentleman from the ground up."

A dispatch from Holbrook announces the safe arrival of Mr. R. L. Baca of this city, at that point, on his way to Apache county, Ariz., on an important business mission.

The orphans at the sanitarium today received complimentary tickets to Main's circus, which will be in Santa Fe tomorrow. The management of the show certainly did a graceful act in remembering the little ones at the orphanage.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. F. A. Reynolds of Socorro, is in town on mining business, and registers at the Exchange.

Mr. W. E. Locke and Mr. R. Brown of San Marcial, spent Sunday in Santa Fe, registering at the Exchange.

Mr. J. F. Hutchison, editor of the Springer Stockman, spent the day in Santa Fe, registering at the Exchange.

Mr. E. A. Kirkpatrick of Nehawka, Neb., and Mr. Roy Kirkpatrick of St. Joseph, Mo., spent Sunday in Santa Fe sightseeing. They stopped at the Exchange.

Mr. R. M. Williams of Fort Belknap, Mont., registered at the Exchange Saturday night. He comes to Santa Fe to take a position in the Indian office under Captain Nordstrom.

Messrs. Herman Claussen and Richard Gatterman, both of whom are working valuable claims in the Cochiti district, are in the city buying fresh supplies. Both say the district is bound to boom.

Don Jose Nemecio Lucero and wife of Chamita, were in town the first of the week, bringing two daughters to place in school at Loretto academy, where the charming young ladies will spend the ensuing school year.

Hon. and Mrs. Manuel R. Otero, Miss Virginia Otero, and Master H. Otero, arrived from Albuquerque on Saturday night, and are now comfortably located in the Tompkins residence, on Palace avenue. Mr. Otero expects to take charge of the registration of the land office in a few days.

Personal note in the Denver Post: At the Tabor Grand last evening one of the lower boxes was occupied by a handsome young man, who was the central figure of a group of stylishly gowned ladies and military officers in glittering uniforms. But few people in the great audience were aware of the fact that he was Miguel A. Otero, New Mexico's popular young governor.

A party of Chicago tourists, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brammhold, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidgen and Miss Schmidgen, is registered at the Palace hotel. They spent the day in visiting points of interest, and taking photographs of buildings and scenes. Mr. Schmidgen is connected with the Chicago Record, and visits Santa Fe in the interest of that paper.

The Claire Hotel.

Mr. T. G. Erb, the new landlord of the Claire hotel, formally opened that house to the public yesterday by serving dinner in the dining room on the first floor. A large number of guests were seated at the tables and the unanimous verdict was that the dinner was a success in every particular. The menu was large, the cooking excellent and the service beyond criticism.

Mr. Erb has placed the rooms in first-class shape and will conduct the hotel in a manner to please the traveling public. The rooms are large and airy, and nicely furnished; the location, right on the plaza, makes it convenient in a business way, while the building is the best in the territory for hotel purposes. Under the new management it will prove deservedly popular.

ALBUQUERQUE NOTES.

The United States grand jury was discharged on Saturday afternoon after reporting three true bills.

Thirty five couples attended the grand ball given by the Albuquerque Guards in spite of the inclement weather.

Jose Escobar, formerly the associate editor of the Spanish paper, El Nuevo Mundo, has entirely severed his connection with the paper and expects soon to visit El Paso.

It is rumored that Albuquerque is soon to have another wide awake Spanish paper. People who claim to know where they speak say it will begin publication within 30 days.

President Herriok of the New Mexico university, gave a delightful reception to the faculty, students and alumni of the institution at his hospitable home on Friday evening. The occasion was rendered memorable by the fine vocal and instrumental music. Choice refreshments were served.

The scarlet fever scare at the Indian school is almost a thing of the past. All of the patients are out of bed now except one, and no more new cases have appeared during the past two weeks. The quarantine is still maintained, not because it is thought to be really necessary, but because the management wishes to take no chances at all of allowing the disease to spread, says the Democrat.

William Cotter, the young man who claims to have had an experience at the Lookhart ranch near town Thursday night, wherein a tall man sent a bullet diagonally down through the fleshy part of his left arm, was around town this morning with his arm in a sling. When asked for further particulars as to the shooting, he stated that he had no additional facts for publication, as the Citizen has covered the case pretty fairly yesterday afternoon. The officers have found no clue whatever to the alleged man who attempted the assassination.

For nice pickled pigs feet, tripe or corned beef go to Biehoff & Muller.

LAS VEGAS NOTES.

J. Brandon of Leavenworth, Kas., is still in the city dickering for the purchase of the local brewing plant.

Division Superintendent J. E. Hurley is back from Topeka, whither he had been to assist in arranging the new time schedule.

Colonel Crandall of the Rumerville ranch, is at work on the organization of a large live stock and dairy company that will have thousands at its command.

Jose Chavez y Chavez, the condemned murderer in the Las Vegas jail, is now reported in a more penitent mood of mind. He spends time in meditation and prayer and is not now unkind of heavenly matters, says the Optic.

The three men accused of the murder of Osesimo Mares, near Wagon Mound, viz: Abraham Mares, Antonio Valdez and Juan N. Romero, have been held by Judge Thomas Smith without bail to await the action of the grand jury. This means the incarceration of the two men who succeeded in giving the $5,000 bonds each.

The rumored murder of Victor Lujan and wife while en route for Tierra Amarilla, to stand trial for the murder of John Doherty, was evidently unfounded as no confirmation of it can be obtained. Where the rumor originated is as much of a mystery as how some society people get their spending money, sagely observes the Optic.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Barbarous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at present time and many dyspeptic and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken, in other words the starvation plan is by many supposed to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for dyspepsia has been proven time and again, but still the moment dyspepsia makes its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish to recommend dieting or starvation to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ and every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words the patient eats plenty of wholesome food and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it for him. In this way the system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat or eggs.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the purest and safest remedy sold for stomach troubles and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. sold at 50 cents for full sized package at all drug stores. A little book on stomach diseases mailed free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Death of Mrs. Romero.

Mrs. Atanacio Romero, the estimable wife of the county clerk and recorder, died very suddenly of apoplexy about 11 o'clock this morning, aged about 40 years. The deceased complained that she was not feeling very well last night, but was sleeping when her husband left home about 8 o'clock this morning, and he left instructions that she should not be disturbed. About 9 o'clock one of the boys went into the room, tried to wake his mother, discovered that something was wrong and messengers were quickly sent to summon Dr. Diaz and the husband. Dr. Harrison was soon after sent for. The physicians did all in their power to fan into fresh activity the flicking flame of life, but their efforts were fruitless.

The good woman died as above recorded with her heart-broken husband, father, mother, one son and three daughters weeping at the bedside.
