WANT TO ARBITRATE

If Report of Commissions Conflict, Spain Will Desire to Submit Responsibility to Arbitration.

BITTER AGAINST AMERICANS

Senor Sobral Has Full Plans of United States Coast Defenses—General Weyler Has Entered a Denial—Amazonas Formally Transferred.

New York, March 18.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says:

"If the reports that the American and Spanish commissions of inquiry into the cause of the Maine calamity clash, the Spanish government will incline to arbitration, naming as umpire either the pope or the head of some European power, probably the king of the Belgians."

Spanish Flotilla at Canary Islands.

A special to the Herald from Las Palmas says: The Spanish torpedo flotilla, consisting of the Pluton, Terror, Furor, Azekkazer, Arlele and Rayo, and two transports have arrived here.

Warship May Be Needed at Porto Rico.

A special to the Herald from San Juan, Porto Rico, says that the feeling against the Americans here is growing very bitter and United States Consul Hanna will probably ask for a warship.

Will Be Escorted by a Cruiser.

Madrid March 18.—The Imperial today says: "The instructions sent the torpedo flotilla to remain at the Canary Islands are due to the government's desire that the squadron should be escorted to Cuba by a cruiser, and for no other reason."

Has Plans of United States Coast Defenses.

Senor Sobral, late naval attaché at Washington, who has full plans of all the United States coast defenses, has been appointed on the staff of the admiralty and has had a long conference with the minister of state.

Denial From Weyler.

General Weyler denies the authenticity of the letter published by the New York Journal on yesterday.

Sale of Cruiser to Spain Confirmed.

The Imperial says that the Italian minister of marine confirms the sale of the armored cruiser Varese to Spain.

An Emphatic Denial.

Valparaiso, March 18.—The minister of war and navy says: "You can emphatically deny the sale of the Chilean cruiser O'Higgins, or any other warship to Spain."

Amazonas Formally Transferred.

Gravesend, Eng., March 18.—The cruiser Amazonas was formally transferred from under the Brazilian flag to the stars and stripes today.

Cruiser San Francisco in English Waters.

The United States cruiser San Francisco arrived here at 3:30 this afternoon. The Amazonas will sail presumably for Key West, the San Francisco going to New York.

Information At Navy Department.

Washington, March 18.—The navy department has information that Spain has not accomplished the purchase of the Italian cruiser Varese.

VENEZUELAN BOUNDARY.

Preparations for Meeting of Board of Arbitration in Paris Next Fall.

Washington, March 18.—By the arrangement of Sir Julian Pauncefote for Great Britain and Senor Andrade for Venezuela, the cases relative to the boundary arbitration prepared by counsel on either side have been exchanged. The documents will be forwarded to their respective governments by the ambassador and minister to serve as a basis for the counter cases to be exchanged later, and to prepare the way for the arbitration board to meet in Paris next fall.

CHARGED BODIES FOUND.

Chicago, March 18.—In the ruins of the Emerson building, the firemen have found two more charged bodies. By the means of a key one was identified as that of W. J. Wilcox, of the W. J. Olmstead company.

COLFAX COUNTY RANGES.

Thousands of Cattle Will Be Placed on the Grazing Lands This Year—Mining Matters—Stolen Cattle Recovered.

Special Correspondence New Mexican.

Springer, N. M., March 17.—In the past few days a number of pasture leases have been closed on land in the southern part of Colfax county. Mr. McCormick, son of the mowing machine and reaper manufacturer of Chicago, in company with other Chicago capitalists, has secured 25,000 acres on the Clifton ranch south of Cimarron, and will stock the tract with thousands of cattle. Another deal is completed whereby a stock man named Hicks has leased 100,000 acres in the Catskill country and will place about 5,000 head of cattle thereon. A Mr. Biglow from Texas, has leased also about 25,000 acres from the Old Horse Shoe company and will stock it with cattle. Thus the stock business with other movements within the past year shows great advancement and in a short time will assume the enormous proportions of years ago.

Francis Clutton, who owns a large tract of mineral lands in the Urraca and Bonito mining districts, 21 miles west of this place, is expecting a large number of eastern capitalists in a short time, who will look over the district with a view of making investments. There are a large number of developed properties in the district, the result of only last year's work, and unless all indications fail, something will be heard from the banks of the Urraca and Bonito shortly.

Sheriff Little, on Tuesday, seized 15 head of cattle that had been stolen from Nicholas Cordova, a ranchman below Las Vegas. The parties to the affair are known and the territorial sanitary board has taken the matter up and will prosecute the thieves.

MODEST DEMANDS

France Only Desires Few Concessions from China—Eight Days Allowed for Compliance.

GREAT BRITAIN AND HAWAII

Her Majesty's Government Much Surprised at Report of United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations—No Intention of Interfering.

Pekin, China, March 18.—The French demands upon China are that China shall not cede any portion of the four provinces of Kwang-Tung, Kwang-Si, Yun-Nan and Kwei-Chow; that the railroad from Tung-Chow-Tang on the northern frontier to Tonquin shall be extended from Passelimi into Yun-Nan province, and that a coaling station shall be granted to France at Lei-Chou-Fou in Sou-Chou peninsula, north of Hai-Nan; that the director of the imperial postoffice shall be a Frenchman, evidently with the view of separating it from the control of Sir Robert Hart, director of the Chinese imperial maritime customs, and the cessation of a coaling station at Kwang-Chow on the same terms as Kiao-Chow bay has been ceded to Germany, with a railroad concession to include exclusive mining privileges. Eight days are allowed China to reply to the French demands, and the threats are interpreted to indicate the French occupation of the province of Hai-Nan unless the Chinese comply.

Great Britain Does Not Want Hawaii.

London, March 18.—The government of Great Britain is surprised at the report of the United States senate committee on foreign relations, which, after presenting a joint resolution for annexing Hawaii, set forth that Great Britain was plotting for the absorption of Hawaii. A high official in the British foreign office said:

"Nothing is further from Great Britain's intentions than to interfere in any way with the existing regime of Hawaii. On the contrary, her majesty's government has recognized that the United States has the foremost interests in Hawaii and that it is inevitable that Hawaii should be under American influence."

Russia Will Evacuate Corea.

St. Petersburg, March 18.—The Official Messenger publishes a note today, saying that the Russian government has instructed its representative at Seoul to inform the emperor of Corea that if Corea no longer requires foreign help and is capable of preserving with her own resources the independence of her internal administration, Russia will not hesitate to recall the Russian ironclad, Vicer.

House Still Considering.

The house today agreed to the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill, and then resumed the consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill.

RED RIVER RIPPLES.

Wonderful Development of Values on the Shoshone—Other Work in the District.

Special Correspondence New Mexican.

Red River, N. M., March 16.—From Mr. Alex. Gusdorf it is learned that the Shoshone on Gold hill is all right. Last week another shift of men was put to work, making three shifts now at work sinking the shaft, and a depth of 165 feet has been reached. Near this point was struck the rich streak of ore from which assays show $1,000 per ton. This streak has widened to two feet, the total of which runs $30 per ton. This makes the Shoshone by all odds the best property in this region at this time. On the dump 1,000 tons of ore is now awaiting the erection of a mill, and other ore are being sorted and sacked for shipment so soon as the trail is open. It is Mr. Gusdorf's intention to continue the sinking of the shaft, and at the 200-foot level to open stoping ground and begin regular shipments of two carloads of ore per week. In speaking of a mill for the property, Mr. Gusdorf said they would put one in as soon as the ore taken out of the mine would pay for it. The Gusdorf Bros. have worked hard and spent considerable money on the Shoshone and everyone is glad they have now gotten the property onto a paying basis.

The terms of a lease on the Midnight mine and mill have been agreed upon, and it is probable that work will soon be resumed.

The tunnel on the Lizzie, owned by Wm. Daetcher, is in 120 feet on a vein of sulphide ore that is four feet wide, and runs from $4 to $30 per ton.

Captain Hayes is doing work on his new location up Mallett gulch and has a strong lead of rich looking quartz.

The Black Copper has four men at work now and will increase the force on April 1.

H. K. Holloway, of Trinidad, was in camp last week, looking after his mining and mercantile interests. He expressed himself as well pleased with the present local management and with the outlook. It is whispered around that Mr. Holloway will soon erect a mill on the Jayhawk. There is ore enough in sight to justify it.

WASHINGTON NEWS

President Does Not Expect Preliminary Report from Court of Inquiry—Nothing New Developed.

AUSTRIA-SPAIN ALLIANCE

Spanish Throne to Be Defended Against International Attack—Senator Gallinger Describes Condition of Cubans—Spain's Brutal Policy.

Washington, March 18.—The president does not expect any preliminary report from the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. On the contrary his expectation is that the report, when it comes, will be complete in all respects, although, following the usual course, it is within the power of the secretary of the navy to order that body to continue the investigation along certain lines, should he believe further information to be desirable. Nothing of especial importance was developed at today's cabinet meeting, beyond the fact that the report of the Maine court of inquiry is not expected before the early part of next week. Every phase of the questions involved is being carefully considered and it is believed that soon after the report has been received, the president, possibly in conjunction with congress, will announce some definite policy.

Alliance Between Austria and Spain.

Great significance attaches to the practically agreed upon alliance between Austria and Spain for the protection of the Spanish throne against international attack. This alliance has been reached with the conscious purpose that he can, with safety to the throne, carry into effect negotiations for the relinquishment of Cuba. In this fact is found the key stone upon which rests a substantial hope for a peaceful ending of the present troubles. This alliance is in reality the most important development since the Cuban question assumed an acute form.

Wretchedness and Destitution in Cuba.

Washington, March 18.—Senator Gallinger today, when requested to make a statement of his observations in Cuba, replied: "You can sign my name to any picture you may draw of the utter wretchedness, destitution and hellishness on the island. The condition of affairs is simply indescribable. The best information obtainable leads to the conclusion that there have been, beyond a doubt, 400,000 deaths as a result of Spain's brutal policy, and the tragedy goes on from day to day. I am sure I am within the bounds of truth when I say that almost all the native population would welcome any turn in events, however tragic, that would wrest Cuba from Spanish dominion."

House Still Considering.

The house today agreed to the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill, and then resumed the consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill.

Alleged Russian Spy Found.

Birmingham, Eng., March 18.—The Gazette asserts that a Russian spy, in the guise of a footman, has been discovered at Hatfield, in Marquis Salisbury's residence.

RAILROAD EXTENSION.

El Paso & Northeastern Will Extend Its Line from La Luz to Near the Summit of Sacramento Mountains.

For the past 30 days engineers of the El Paso & Northeastern have been operating along the Fresno river east of La Luz, says the Sacramento Chief. But little attention was given to their movements as railroad surveyors are becoming a common sight in this section. It now transpires that the Northeastern is going to extend its line from La Luz to or near the summit of the Sacramento mountains. Engineer H. A. Sumner, with a force of assistants, is now at work making a permanent survey for this line.

The line will be a narrow gauge and will be about 15 miles in length, running almost due east from La Luz, terminating on top of the Sacramento mountains near the head of the North Fork of the Fresno river. The grade will be about 4 per cent and at places the work of construction will be very costly.

The main object of constructing this branch line is to secure ties and timber to be used in constructing the main line of road from here northward, but there are other objects in view also; the completion of this branch line besides penetrating the heart of the greatest timber belt in New Mexico, will also open up the greatest health and pleasure resort to be found anywhere, besides it will materially assist in building up the great Sacramento mountain farming region, a section richer in natural resources than any like area in the west. It means that an army of men will be found employment in getting this timber ready for market and this in turn will make a good home market for our products.

Along the Fresno river where the road will pass is some of the most beautiful scenery to be found anywhere. Within a distance of 15 miles the road will go from an elevation of 4,500 feet at La Luz to an elevation of over 8,000 feet on top of the summit. It is no idle assertion for us to say that within a short time there will be summer cottages built all along the Fresno river high up in the mountains, and these will all be accompanied by health and pleasure seekers of the world to enjoy our perfect climate, partake of our pure mountain water, sip the nectar from our delicious fruits, breathe the ozone wafted hither by mountain breeze laden with the sweet perfume of flowers, all combined serving as a panacea for pulmonary and kindred diseases.

Where the branch road is being constructed for temporary purposes to secure timber yet, if the traffic will justify, it will be a permanent concern.

Where the Sacramento scenic line will terminate on top of the mountains will be the highest railroad point in New Mexico. From here the White Sands, White mountain, the Malpais, the San Andras, Jarilla mountains, the Great

Lost River plains and many other sights are plainly visible.

The station at the terminus of this line will be located at a higher altitude than is the top of the highest mountain in the state Silver City and among trees of pine, spruce and fir nearly 300 feet high.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18.

THERE is little probability of the bull being turned loose in the China shop.

AN Eddy paper says: "Eddy now has a saloon; a real saloon." For real, read "reel."

THE philosophical idiot rises to remark that Daniel is about the only man who was not spoiled by being lionized.

MAYOR McKINSON states that he will contest Mr. Hanna's seat. He will be fortunate if he gets a patch from Hanna's seat.

MR. PROCTOR states that the poverty and distress existing in Cuba is positively horrifying. Perhaps Mr. Proctor got his information from the tax assessors.

BURGALAR tools were found on the person of the ex-mayor of Canton, O., when arrested the other day. Perhaps he was training to get on the Chicago police force.

THE marquis de Alta Villa has challenged Senator Mason to a duel. If the marquis is as valorous as his country, Senator Mason will be forced to accept an apology.

AN Albuquerque firm advertises: "Where can I get the best wheel for the money I care to invest?" Respectfully referred to the editor of the Las Vegas Optic. He has a large assortment to select from.

SPAIN says that the Maine disaster was due to internal causes. She will doubtless convince us after awhile that there was no explosion at all, and that Uncle Samuel simply ruptured a blood vessel in Havana harbor.

The Garden of Eden.

"Man must have originated on the western hemisphere, and Adam, or whoever was the first-born man, must have been an American, I believe, a New Mexican."

The foregoing words are from a lecture entitled "The Birth of Man" written by Professor Swain, of Albuquerque, who takes the position that what is now New Mexico, is the oldest part of the earth, or in other words, the first land to rise above the Eocene sea. In making the statement, Professor Swain has, from the geological evidence brought forward, taken a stand which will require the combined efforts of theologians and learned antiquarians to refute. However, the writer has not used all the written evidence in support of his position that he could, and the missing links of the chain are these:

In the second chapter of Genesis a brief description of the Garden of Eden is given, and among other things mentioned are four rivers which watered that fair spot. "The name of the first is Pison." This stream is said to have compassed the whole land of "Havilah," which in plain English means New Mexico. The description clearly refers to the Rio Grande. In the days of Adam it was undoubtedly a navigable stream and the people of El Paso used it to carry supplies of firewood and chili to their city, but the subsequent volcanic eruptions partially filled up the channel and to a great extent made the river what it is at the present time. On the former glory of the grand river the pending injunction against an irrigation company is based.

"And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia." To the present inhabitants the name of Ethiopia is somewhat strange and only remembered by the oldest, but from the map of the territory it is plain to be seen that the Gihon river of ancient days is what is now known as the Rio San Juan, watering the fertile plains of San Juan county.

"And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria." This must be the Canadian, and the old historian, for want of a better knowledge of the country of which he wrote, termed Texas, Assyria. "And the fourth river is Euphrates." No doubt if the original Hebrew could be traced to its inception the word Euphrates would be found to mean Rio Pecos.

Thus we have the four rivers which supplied the home of Adam and Eve with water in which to laundry their fig leaves and to irrigate their orchard, clearly identified. But there is another conclusive link in the evidence which firmly establishes the fact that New Mexico was the garden in which the parents of the human family began housekeeping, and that is this. In the twelfth verse of the chapter quoted from are these words: "And the gold of the land is good; there is bdellium and the onyx-stone."

What more evidence is necessary. Professor Swain is vindicated in his statement. Geological research in the territory has established beyond a question that man lived in New Mexico more than 200,000 years ago, and this fact taken with the proving that the garden of Eden was located among the streams named entitles New Mexico to the claim of being the oldest country in the world, and Santa Fe is unquestionably located on the spot where Adam and Eve "sowed fig leaves together and made themselves aprons."

Fixing the Responsibility.

A dispatch from Key West says: "The shattered section of the submarine cable, containing seven conductors for setting off mines, is in possession of the board of inquiry. The cable led to a mine under the Maine. The discovery was made by divers at the Maine wreck. This proves that the mine which blew up the Maine was connected with a switch board ashore, which was in charge of a trusted and responsible agent."

This fact comes nearer fixing the responsibility of the destruction of the Maine, on the Spanish government, than any which has preceded it. The profound secrecy which surrounds the exact location of the mines and torpedoes which guard the ports of the United States is indicative of the jealousy with which these terrible agents are guarded by other governments. In an elaborate article on the defenses which have made New York impregnable, the New York Sun has this to say:

In addition to all these things that have been told about, there is not an anchorage in the Lower Bay that is not underlaid with torpedoes, and any boat that attempted to come to anchor, once it got in, would be blown sky high by them. Torpedoes, while they are loaded with dynamite, are harmless until they are actually fired from the shore. This is an interesting point in connection with the disaster to the Maine. If a boat had been against 30 of them at the same time they would not explode. It requires an electric current to make them active and dangerous, and the current is managed entirely from the shore. The operator sits with a glass watching an approaching boat. When she is over a torpedo he presses a button, and the torpedo does the rest. In time of peace, if the torpedoes are laid ready for business, the keys that explode them are guarded with more care than the vaults of a bank. There is no such thing as their being touched off accidentally or without the full knowledge of the officials in charge.

This must be so, otherwise torpedoes would lose all their terrors. In no way except by the treason of the officers in whose bosoms these secrets are hidden, can they be revealed to others. The Maine was directed by the Spanish authorities to anchor at a certain spot. They knew that right under her keel a mine, or torpedo, had been placed, and they knew that it could only be exploded by one of their own officers. There is no escaping these damning circumstances. Now if the facts as ascertained by the government divers, acting under the direction of an able and honorable commission appointed by the secretary of the navy, corroborate these circumstances, the case is proved, and it will avail Spain nothing to assert that the explosion was caused by an unauthorized person, for the means of exploding the mine was known only to her officers and by them only could those means be made known to irresponsible persons. What then is there to arbitrate? Nothing. No matter what Spanish divers may say to the contrary we must trust the government agents. They were selected because of their ability and integrity, and their report will be absolutely conclusive to the United States. To discredit them will be to discredit this country. In short, the authorities cannot permit a shadow of doubt to be thrown on them without abandonment of national dignity. It follows then that the United States cannot permit foreigners to interfere in a matter which is dearer to the people than life itself. It is clearly a question between this nation and Spain and this country only can settle it, peaceably if Spain will, but war to the bitter end, if she chooses that alternative. Before throwing down the gauntlet Spain should stop a moment to consider the magnitude of the task before her. Very little consideration will show her that Great Britain was driven from America by 3,500,000 people, and in the very prime of her greatness, that power was again defeated in 1812 when the inhabitants of the states barely numbered 10,000,000; and further, Spain will find that in every foreign war which has been waged by this country, we have been gloriously victorious. The people do not desire war with Spain but if it comes they will see to it that the close of that war will see Spain bereft of the last vestige of all her vast transatlantic possessions.

WRAPS AND GOWNS.

Present and Future Fashions in Both Departments.

A wrap which serves to complete an elegant toilet is usually short. For ordinary walking purposes it may be short or of half length, the long wrap being too heavy for the exercise. Plain cloths, too heavy, velvet, plush and heavy cloakings are all employed, the latter being often unlined. The thinner cloths are lined with tulle or wadded satin, according as greater or less warmth is required, very brilliant satin being preferred for velvet and plush. The last named materials are decorated not only with applications of bead embroidery and lace, but with modish braid, in high relief. In applying motifs of any sort the sewing should begin in the middle and be carried gradually outward, with small stitches on the right side, all the little details of the design being carefully sewed in place and not left loose.

Short capes and wraps will prevail for spring wear, and the bright tinted jackets worn last spring and autumn will continue in favor. Blouses of thin cloth with a short basque, plain or trimmed with braid, will be used for general purposes, but not to the exclusion of the ordinary, unbleached jacket, close behind and straight or fitted in front.

Thin fabrics for evening bodies and gowns and for millinery are shown in great variety. One of the newest is a sort of shirred crape, shading from dark to light across the width of the goods. Another has rather wide satin bands alternating with openwork stripes. Stripes of all kinds are much seen and are used both vertically and horizontally. Roman shades have come to the front again and are often very beautiful, especially those composed of combinations of dark, rich colors. They are of soft, thick ribbed silk and have knotted frills at the ends.

Today's illustration shows a ball gown of mauve and white striped silk. The skirt is trimmed with small ruffles of white mousseline de soie, which outline panels and edge the foot. The bodice has a pointed decollete surrounded by a fichu of white mousseline, which crosses at the back and forms a bertha in front. The epaulettes are of gold embroidery bordered by a ruffle of mousseline, and the belt is also of gold embroidery.

FASHIONABLE FANCIES.

Bodices, Gowns and Hats in Many Varieties.

Blouses, seen everywhere, are not always pleasing in effect. They are clumsy upon a large, full figure and untidy looking on any sort of figure if they are made too full, the conspicuous gossamer gowns and becomes baggy at the waist.

A new style of hat is the torador, covered with velvet which is stretched smoothly.

The hat is trimmed at the side with silk pompons of different colors, the brim being lifted to show a drape of silk arranged in imitation of the silk handkerchief which the real toradors wear tied around the head beneath the hat. This is a pretty fashion for brunettes.

The princess costume is much worn abroad as an outer garment by both women and girls. It is usually double breasted, fastening with two rows of buttons, and has a tall, flaring collar. The variation of pelerines and revers is, however, very great and allows for much difference of effect in costume of the same general style.

With the approach of spring the number of little bonnets, toques and capotes, all of flowers, is augmented. Some are composed of berries and leaves, others of foliage alone, still others of flowers alone or flowers and leaves. Usually a metal, jet or jeweled ornament is placed somewhere in the bonnet, to give it a little more formality, although a toque of flowers for a very young girl requires no such addition. These bonnets are generally crownless, consisting of a mere wreath of blossoms or foliage with upstanding sprays at the front or one side.

An illustration is given which shows a theater costume. The skirt is of moss green tulle, the bodice of green gauze covered with ruffles of gauze and bands of No. 1 green ribbon. Bands of guipure are placed at the sides and front, and tabs of guipure bordered with gauze ruffles form the basque and sleeve caps. The collar is of gauze, the belt of green tulle. The bonnet, of pink geraniums and green leaves, has an alert of guipure.

Public Land Bills.

Representatives and senators from the far west should be careful in connection with all public land legislation to state clearly that the arid states do not want the national government to undertake the reclamation of arid lands through congressional appropriations for the construction of reservoirs and ditches. The introduction of the national government in the active work of reclamation would result in evil rather than in good.

The reason why the national government should take no part in the construction of irrigation works is because, following the construction of reservoirs and ditches, would come an attempt by congress to legislate concerning the distribution of water. That would lead directly to a conflict with the states and with state legislation on the same subject. This is the ground upon which the arid states would object to congressional reclamation. The people of the east would have reason to object because it would take money procured through taxation and expend it in developing sections of the country in which the interests of the east is but indirect, if not remote.

The problems of irrigation legislation are exceedingly intricate and difficult. Their solution should be left to the communities which are both the most capable of dealing with them and the most interested in reaching a proper conclusion. Irrigation is a domestic matter, not to be complicated by respect to the construction of state and county roads. It should not be dragged into the domain of national legislation, for that would involve the interference of men from states where irrigation is not understood.

Congress should help the arid states by opening the way for them to develop their own resources. It should grant the arid lands to the arid states on condition that the states undertake the work of reclamation. Because the use of strictly grazing lands—lands which cannot be reclaimed by irrigation—would bear a highly important relation to the agricultural development on the arid west, therefore, congress should grant those lands to the states.—Denver Republican.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by raw farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

Suicide Said to be Epidemic.
Dr. La Rue, the famous French authority on abnormal phenomena, has, after exhaustive comparison of facts in France, Belgium, England and the United States, come to the conclusion that the inclination to suicide is a mania, and is epidemic. No learned authority has as yet discovered with exactitude whether malaria is epidemic or endemic, but it has been a matter of notoriety for nearly half a century, that the most reliable preventive and curative of the various forms of malaria is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Restored patients have not only set the seal of their approbation upon it in malarial cases, but commended for rheumatism, kidney and liver trouble, nervousness dyspepsia and constipation.

Fair Phyllis, when I celebrate
Thy wondrous beauty in my verse,
Thy graces enumerate
And lovingly thy charms rehearse,
Pray deem not that my ardent heart,
My fervent love, doth read my muse
Thy loveliness to magnify,
Or overpay thy beauty's dues.
Nay, even my highest praises fail,
So feeble is my muse's flight;
And brightest fires of fancy pale
Beside thy beauty's wondrous light.
Yet, one poor merit may my muse,
At least, my Phyllis, justly claim:
Industriously doth she diffuse,
And faithfully, thy beauty's fame;
For when rent is done and duns assail,
And inspiration there is not,
The songs of love they never fail—
They help the poet bawl the pot.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. The remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects; of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it cures that disease of all dangerous consequences. It is especially prized by mothers for children as it never fails to effect a speedy cure, and because they have found that there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. "You seem sad," said the chief of the Commissary department, venturing respectfully into the presence of his chief.
"Is it because you have crossed the Rubicon?"
"Not so," modestly replied Julius Caesar.
"It is because I am dead certain that every doughface in Rome is calling me jingo this morning!"
Then, in order to divert his mind, he called his typewriter and dictated a page of difficult Latin for future use in schools.

A PROFESSION.

Miss Seearles—And so you have quite finished your education?
Mr. Clayton—As far as books go. Bless me, I've spent enough time at it; having learned away since I was a tot of 5, poor little beggar!
"And now?"
"That's it. That's what I ask myself. 'Hello, old boy, I say, to what use are you going to put all that learning rubbish?'"
"Have you thought of a profession?"
"No end of times and no end of professions."
"And why can't you choose?"
"Same old trouble with each—overcrowded."
"You studied law?"
"Yes. Worst crowded of all the professions. Have to sit around half a dozen years or so twiddling your thumbs and watching your doorknob to see a client turn it."
"There's medicine."
"Yes, of course; overcrowded too. Besides, it took me three years of manual training to find out I couldn't use a saw."
"How about the ministry?"
"Frightfully overcrowded. Then I'm so deficient in reverence; not enough, perhaps, to make me a modern pulpit pet, but too much so for my own peace of mind. The ministry would never use me."
"Have you thought of engineering?"
"Thought of it in all its branches; civil, electric, landscape, locomotive, all grossly overcrowded. Everything is overcrowded. Never saw such a state of things."
"And do you really intend to waste all that splendid education, Mr. Clayton?"
"It looks that way, Miss Seearles. You see, I've thought of everything, ballooning and exploring and mining and treasure hunting and ostrich farming. Either it's all overcrowded or I'm not suited to it. Do you know, I had about given it up."
"But you must do something."
"I've thought of that too."
"But you don't seem worried—scarcely interested."
"What's the good? Something may turn up. I don't, why worry?"
"Why don't you try to get on?"
"I've thought of that. I've thought of it several times—lately. Fact is, I've just been doing a little traveling that has given me a new train of thought."
"You were in the south, I believe?"
"Yes, at my dear old Uncle Jim's bedside. Poor old Uncle Jim! He was another father to me. It's strange how whimsical personal likings are. Uncle Jim liked me. Why, last winter he came all the way from home—rheumatism and all—to see me play half back in the Thanksgiving day game. And after I made my money and the winning touchdown the dear old fellow pushed through the crowd and caught me in his arms like a crazy man, laughing and crying and making the funniest efforts to give the college yell. Dear old Uncle Jim! What good times we had together!"
"Did he die?"
"Yes."
"Too bad!"
"Thank you. We had many long talks together before the end, and Uncle Jim put some new ideas into my head. We talked on this very subject that has interested us tonight. Yes, and we talked of you, Miss Seearles."
"Yes, Miss Seearles. It would be a liberty to talk of you to any one else, but it wasn't with Uncle Jim. And I showed him your picture—the one I stole two years ago, you remember—and he liked it, and sent you his compliments and his best love. Uncle Jim was always a grand old gentleman."
"But I don't see!"
"Pardon me, I am about to explain. It was Uncle Jim who suggested a new profession for me; at least, he called it a profession. He suggested that it wasn't as overcrowded as some of the others and that there was generally room in it for the right sort of man. Uncle Jim knew what he was talking about. He had the keenest head for business of any man I know, and I never met anybody whose advice I valued as highly. You seem to take an interest in my welfare, Miss Seearles—do the details weary you?"
"No, Mr. Clayton. It was your—your flippancy over a serious subject that annoyed me—a little. And this profession—close it gives you hope of permanent employment?"
"I'm sure it does. I wouldn't go into it if I didn't think so."
"And it is congenial?"
"Very."
"I'm glad to hear it, Mr. Clayton. It is strange, though, that we didn't happen to mention it when we went over the various professions."
"Isn't it? This is something quite different, though. Perhaps that is the reason we didn't, as you say, mention it. Would you like to hear what it is?"
"Why, yes. You arouse my curiosity."
"He called it—don't laugh—the profession of son-in-law."
"Mr. Clayton?"
"I'd thought of it, you know, some time before Uncle Jim suggested it. Oh, yes. But Uncle Jim, you see, smoothed the way. Oh, he was quite taken with your photograph. He actually made conditions, verbal, of course, but quite binding, that I should—well, I'll tell you about that afterward. The other details are all quite satisfactorily arranged, and—ang, now, Alida, it only remains for you to—approve the articles of partnership."
"Mr. Clayton, what do you mean?"
"You just now asked me why I didn't travel. That means go abroad. Well, I've made up my mind to go abroad—if you will go with me—as my wife."
"George Clayton, is this a proposal?"
"Alida Seearles, does it need a tag?"
"But her father. He will never consent to my marrying a—well, you know, George, you are not very prepossessing financially."
"You are quite mistaken about your father. I saw him first."
"You did?"
"Yes. He's quite taken with the idea. Seems to think it's just the profession to suit me. Fact is, you know, I'm the heaviest depositor in papa's bank. Yes, Uncle Jim left me all his money—there's a dozed lot of it—the only condition—verbal, you know—being that I marry at once and marry you."
"It is to fulfill your uncle's last request, then, that?"
"He was very good to me, Alida, and any little thing."
"George Clayton, I hate you!"
"But you won't stand in the way of my entering an honest profession?"
"Oh, you—aggravating—bear!"
"Then here's an attempt at asserting a bear's prerogative. And you will be Mrs. George Clayton, wife of the well known professional son-in-law name!"
"I suppose I'll have to."
"Thank you, dear,"—W. R. Rose in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Notice for Publication.

(Homestead Entry No. 3864.)
LAND OFFICE AT SANTA FE, N. M.,
March 3, 1898.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Probate clerk of Rio Arriba county, at Tierra Amarilla, on April 13, 1898, viz: Rafael Velazquez, for the N. 1/4, Sec. 12, Tp. 21 N., R. 4 E. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Vicente Montoya, David Leman, David Lopez, Manuel Montano, of Tierra Amarilla, N. M.

Thoroughly healthy girlhood means happy wifehood and capable motherhood.

A new fangled prudery prevents many girls from learning things that they ought to know before they assume the duties of matrimony and maternity. Athletics alone will not make a woman thoroughly healthy. The wise counsels of a good mother or some older woman are indispensable.

The best and noblest mission of a woman is to bear and rear healthy, intelligent children. In order to do this, she must be healthy and strong in a womanly way. Both the intellectual and physical future of her children depend largely upon the mother. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for maids, wives and mothers. It is intended to do but one thing and does that one thing thoroughly. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood and makes them strong, healthy, virile, vigorous and elastic. Taken during the time of pregnancy, it banishes the trials and dangers of maternity. It insures the well being of the mother and the robust health of the child. It is the greatest of nerve tonics and nerve builders. Thousands of women have told the story of its marvelous accomplishments. Good medicine dealers sell it and will not advise a substitute in place of it.

In a letter to Dr. Pierce, Mr. C. A. McDonald, of No. 123 N. Chestnut Street, Los Angeles, Cal., says: "At Junction City I became acquainted with W. C. Lee, M. D., an old practitioner. He said he was a college chum of yours, but that you went to Europe, the best hospital while he commenced practice; that for thirty years you were considered one of the leading physicians in New York State, and he considered your remedies better than all others and prescribed them daily in his practice. On the strength of this commendation I try your 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pellets.' The 'Favorite Prescription' has acted like magic in cases of irregular and painful monthly periods, a few doses only being necessary to restore the natural function. The 'Pellets' have proven an infallible cure for sick and bilious headache."

In paper covers, 21 one-cent stamps; cloth binding, ten cents extra. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Too Deep for Him.

Customer—Can you recommend this parrot to be a good talker?
Dealer—I can, indeed. It was the sole companion of a Boston lady for three years.

Customer—Well, I don't think it would suit me at all.
Dealer—Why not. It's the best talker I have in the place.
Customer—Very likely, but I haven't time to consult a dictionary every time it speaks.

"Steam has rendered man inestimable service," remarked the observer of men and things, "and woman, also, since it has enabled her to open her husband's letters without his ever knowing it."

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT.

Captain Marion Balue Will Resign from Management of Cerrillos Smelter for Purpose of Looking After Other Business Interests.

It is understood that Captain Marion Balue, manager of the Mary Mining & Smelting company, will shortly resign his position with the company. Mr. Balue has given satisfaction and demonstrated, beyond peradventure, the feasibility of a smelting plant at Cerrillos, but other business demands his attention and necessitates his resignation. The company will doubtless secure the services of Geo. H. Bibb, of Silverton, Colo., to succeed Mr. Balue. Mr. Bibb has long represented Hon. T. B. Catron, J. H. Vaughan, Charles Thayer and others, in the management of valuable silver mines on King Solomon mountain near Silverton. He is a thorough metallurgist and has the confidence of the mining operators throughout the Rocky mountain region. If Mr. Bibb secures the management of the Cerrillos smelter the doubt as to the ability of the company to secure the fluxing material for the dry ores of the Cochiti and south Santa Fe districts, will be forever at rest.

Where, oh where, is the street sprinkler?

The Santa Fe flyer was considerably late today.

The Santa Fe Mercantile Co.'s stock of millinery arrived today.

Attend the sale of home-made "delicacies" at the W. B. T. rooms on Saturday from 3 to 6 p. m.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Partly cloudy weather tonight; Saturday fair, cooler.

The cooks of the W. B. T. are well known for their excellent baking. Try some of the cakes and pies on Saturday.

E. G. Erb went to Cerrillos this afternoon to recover an Irish setter which was stolen from the hotel about two weeks ago.

Delicious cakes, pies, brown and white bread, baked beans, jellies and preserved fruits all ready for Sunday dinner, at the W. B. T. rooms on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The show window at Conway's restaurant is enough to give any body an appetite. All the delicacies of the season are displayed, and that in a manner most tempting.

There will be meeting of the Santa Fe Tennis club Saturday evening at 7:30 in the Catron block. All members requested to be present as important business is to be transacted.

The city sprinkler has probably been lost in the whirl of dust that rises from the streets. The mayor ought to get out a search warrant for the water sprayer, and after it has been found put it to work.

Miss Crovnan, who was in charge of the millinery department of the Santa Fe Mercantile Co., will return from the east in a few days, where she has been studying the latest Parisian styles in fancy millinery.

W. R. Cunningham was arrested today on a charge sworn out by John Conway, proprietor of the Bon Ton, who claims Cunningham owes a $10.75 board bill at the Bon Ton. Justice Gorman placed the man under $200 bonds.

Mr. B. M. Read is in receipt of a letter informing him that Mrs. Read's brother, Mr. Palemon Ortiz, ex-probate clerk of Mora county, and at present postmaster of Mora, is dangerously sick with a malignant fever and other troubles.

The special protracted meetings at the St. John's M. E. church are still progressing with much interest. Up to date there have been about ten conversions, and as many accessions to the church. Services tonight at 7:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. A. Hoffman.

Up to today, the number of voters registered in ward No. 3 was 250. The board of registration will meet again tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of receiving names, and all voters who desire to vote at the city election in that ward should see that their names are on the list.

In the case of the territory vs. Jose Vigil, heard before Justice Garcia at 2 o'clock yesterday, for the crime of breaking the glass windows in a house opposite the Sisters of Loretto, and using profane language, the judge found Vigil guilty and imposed a punishment of 90 days in the county jail and fine of costs.

T. A. Goodwin came in from Bland last night on a business errand, and will return to the building metropolis of the Golden Cochiti in the morning. He is a partner with F. C. Bennett in the meat market business at Bland and also has the contract to lay the five miles of pipe line for the Cochiti Gold Mining company. He insists that the Golden Cochiti is all right.

In reporting the sale of all the interests in the Washington mine, over in the Golden Cochiti, last evening, to William Barry and others, the New Mexican had the satisfaction of making a beautiful sheep on both of its esteemed daily contemporaries at Albuquerque. The public did not dream that such an important transfer had been made until the fact was disclosed by the ever alert New Mexican.

At a meeting held last night by the stockholders of the Columbia Building & Loan association of Denver, at the office of General Bartlett, the following officers and directors were elected: J. B. Lamy, president; A. P. Hogie, vice president; W. L. Jones, treasurer; Jose D. Sena, secretary. The board of directors is composed of the above named officers, and Messrs. Fritz Muller, Ad. Walker and J. H. Blain.

The meat market of Steve Arnold, next door to the New Mexican office, was invaded by burglars about 4 o'clock this morning, and two sheep and a few links of bologna sausage were hurriedly purloined therefrom. That the money drawer was not disturbed is doubtless explained by the fact that the burglars heard Johnny Brown, one of the gentlemanly cutters of the establishment, snoring in the back room. The thieves gained entrance to the place by breaking enough glass to enable them to unfasten the lock of the front door.

Entertainment at Agricultural College.

A most excellent entertainment was given the patrons of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, in the afternoon and evening of March 14. It was the occasion of the opening of science hall, a splendid annex, which has recently been added to the college buildings. During the afternoon the buildings were thronged with delighted visitors, who were courteously shown through all the various departments by the different professors, and examined with interest the fine display of scientific apparatus on exhibition. In the evening a reception was held at the girls' dormitory, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and was taxed to its utmost capacity for space by the crowds of friends of the institution who had gathered for the evening's entertainment, which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, followed by refreshments and a final wind-up by a very enjoyable dance, which lasted until a late hour. Among the attendants were several of the regents, their wives and families. Taken all in all, it was one of the most pleasant and successful entertainments ever given by the president and faculty of the college, and all went away very favorably impressed by the kind and hospitable treatment they had received at the hands of their entertainers.—Independent Democrat.

A PECULIAR FACT.

Thousands of People Have Dyspepsia in Its Worst Form and Do Not Know It.

A weak stomach is the cause of about nine-tenths of all disease, yet in most cases the wrong thing is treated and the true cause overlooked.

This is because a weak digestion produces symptoms resembling nearly every disease because it weakens and disturbs the action of every nerve and organ in the body; poor digestion causes heart trouble, kidney troubles, lung weakness, and especially nervous break down or nervous prostration, the nerves cannot stand the wear and tear unless generously fed by well digested, wholesome food.

Keep the digestion good and no one need fear the approach of disease.

Mrs. H. M. Lee, of Rochester, N. Y., writes: For the sake of suffering humanity I want to say that from a child I had a very weak stomach, threw up my food very often after eating and after a few years nervous dyspepsia resulted and for more than twenty years I have suffered incessantly.

I tried many physicians and advertised remedies with only temporary relief for nervous dyspepsia and not till I commenced taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets last September, six months ago, have I been free from suffering caused by the condition of my nerves and stomach; in short chronic nervous dyspepsia.

I have recommended Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to many of my friends and now I want in a public way to say they are the safest, pleasantest and I believe surest cure for stomach and nerve troubles. I write my honest opinion and I will gladly answer any letter of inquiry at any time and feel that I am, in my small way, helping on a good cause.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a patent medicine, but they contain only the fruit salts, digestive acids and popular tonics necessary to help the weak stomach to promptly and thoroughly digest food.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package and anyone suffering from nervous dyspepsia, sour stomach, headaches, acidity, gas, belching, etc., will find them not only a quick relief but a radical cure.

Send to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for little book describing cause and cure of stomach troubles giving symptoms and treatment of the various forms of indigestion.
