OJO CALIENTE

(HOT SPRINGS.)

THESE Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Barranca Station on the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages run to the springs. The temperature of these waters is from 80° to 125°. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. These waters contain 108.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon; being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficacy of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attended to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Consumption, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilis and Mercular Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all kinds of Complaints, etc., etc. Board, Lodging and Bathing, $2.50 per day. Reduced rates given by the month. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 10:30 a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 5 p. m. the same day. Fare for the round trip from Santa Fe to Ojo Caliente, $7. BOMBASTIC BLANCO

Announced the Surrender of City of Santiago--Three Months' Heroic Defense Made.

NO STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE

Spaniards Forced to Capitulate Because of Scarcity of Ammunition and Provisions--Spanish Arms Will Yet Be Victorious.

Havana, July 22.—Captain General Blanco has issued a proclamation announcing the capitulation of Santiago, dated July 17. He said, "After three months' heroic defense and many bloody combats, owing to the scarcity of ammunition and victuals the garrison at Santiago de Cuba has been forced to capitulate under honorable conditions and with the honors of war. The occupation of the city of Santiago by the military forces of the Americans, is lacking in strategic importance, owing to the fact that the city had previously been blockaded a long time by American ships, and will have but little or no effect on the developments of the Spanish campaign which is to decide Spain's fate. The Spanish army is intact and eager for glory. It is willing to measure arms with the Americans. That this army is sure to be triumphant and victorious at least, in spite of so many dangers and impediments, that it will show once more the indomitable Spanish bravery and well known military talents of our people, is the hope and expectation of your general-in-chief."

Cabinet Discussed Puerto Rico Expedition.

Washington, July 22.—The cabinet session today of an hour and a half was devoted almost exclusively to the Puerto Rico expedition and other aggressive steps in the campaign. After the session it was positively stated that there had been no discussion whatever as to the peace outlook, the new phase created by the Cuban insurgents' independent attitude, nor as to the action of General Aguinaldo in the Philippines. It was announced that the troops and convoys under General Miles probably would arrive at Puerto Rico next Sunday. There seems to be no longer any doubt that the island will be permanently annexed to the United States.

Garrison for Honolulu.

Washington, July 22.—Orders were issued today for a battalion of the second regiment of volunteer engineers to proceed Honolulu in company with the first regiment New York volunteer infantry, Colonel Barber commanding, which is to constitute the first garrison of United States troops stationed on this newly annexed territory.

SPANISH GUNBOATS SUNK.

Americans Effected Landing at Manzanillo—Crews of Sunk Vessels Reached the Shore.

Madrid, July 22.—A private dispatch from Havana says an American force landed near Manzanillo, province of Santiago de Cuba, Tuesday evening. The Spanish troops guarding the approaches of the bay opened fire, to which Americans replied. An attack on the town by sea and land was expected. The crews of the Spanish gunboats which were sunk reached the land and saved most of their kits.

General Grant Assigned to a Command.

Washington, July 22.—Brigadier General Fred D. Grant has been assigned, by the secretary of war, to the command of the 3rd brigade of General Wilson's division, 1st army corps.

Lieutenant Lind Has Accepted Nomination.

St. Paul, July 22.—Lieutenant John Lind, quartermaster of the 12th Minnesota volunteers, now at Chickamauga, has formally accepted the nomination for governor, tendered him by the Democrats, Silver Republicans and Populists.

Off for Puerto Rico.

Chickamauga, July 22.—Three regiments, the 4th Ohio, 3rd Illinois and 4th Pennsylvania, composing the second brigade, first division of the first army corps, commanded by Brigadier General Haines, left Camp Thomas this morning for Newport News, where transports are expected to be waiting to take them to Puerto Rico. Four light batteries of artillery will leave tomorrow or Sunday.

SUCCESSFUL EXPEDITION.

Spanish Cruiser at Nipe Destroyed—Annapolis and Wasp Have Sailed for Puerto Rico.

Washington, July 22.—The following message has been received at the Navy department: "Playa del Este, July 22.—The expedition to Nipe has been entirely successful, although the mines were not removed for want of time. The Spanish cruiser Jorge Juan, defending the place, was destroyed without loss on our part. The Annapolis and Wasp afterwards proceeded from Nipe to assist in landing the commanding general of the army on his arrival in Puerto Rico. Sampson."

MORE PRIZES TAKEN.

Spanish Sloop and French Steamer Captured by Cuban Blockading Fleet.

Key West, Fla., July 22.—The Spanish sloop Domingo Aurelio was captured by the United States auxiliary gunboat Maple last Sunday, and brought here today. When taken the sloop was leaving Sagua de Taniman, province of Santiago de Cuba, bound for Gibara with a cargo of tobacco, cloth and provisions.

Loaded With Coffee and Tobacco. Charleston, S. C., July 22.—The French steamer Orinde Rodriguez was brought into port this morning in charge of a prize crew from the New Orleans. The steamer was captured off San Juan de Puerto Rico, making for the harbor. The New Orleans sent two shots across her bow. She had 37 passengers and a cargo of coffee and tobacco on board.

CONFLICTING PEACE REPORTS.

Spanish Minister Says That Peace Honorable to Spain's Army is Soon to Be Concluded—Statement Denied.

Madrid, July 22.—Minister of Public Instruction Gamazo is authority for the statement, that peace, honorable to Spain's army, will shortly be concluded. Spain Will Have to Act Alone.

London, July 22.—Inquiries in official circles here fail to confirm the statement that a Spanish minister telegraphed from Madrid today that peace would shortly be concluded. The Spanish ambassador, Count Rascon, said: "We have no news from Madrid and have no reason to believe that any such decided step has been taken as Senor Gamazo's statement would indicate." It is known that Spanish ambassadors are at all courts of Europe with the object of inducing cordial representations to be made at Washington to stop the war, and there is reason to believe that Great Britain is no longer alone in pointing out the uselessness of such a course.

Paris, July 22.—El Matin today published a paragraph saying that while nothing definite is known, it is rumored that Senor Gamazo, the Spanish ambassador, has been instructed to approach United States Ambassador Porter with the view of opening secret peace negotiations. Up to 3 o'clock there had not been any meeting between Senor Castillo and Mr. Porter. Any all negotiations will be kept absolutely secret until they have reached a stage when they will assume an official character.

General Porter's Denial.

Paris, July 22.—General Porter said: "I deny in the most emphatic manner that any peace negotiations have been opened up to the present moment. I cannot conceive what originated El Matin's statement."

LIEUTENANT HOBSON IN NEW YORK.

Hero of the Merrimac Given a Warm Reception—Believed He Went to Washington with Dispatches.

New York, July 22.—Lieutenant Hobson, who took the Merrimac into the channel of Santiago harbor, arrived here today on the United States cruiser St. Paul, and it is believed he proceeded at once to Washington by the way of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is possible that Lieutenant Hobson is the bearer of Admiral Sampson's report of the naval engagement off Santiago. When Lieutenant Hobson left the ferry boat a crowd soon gathered to cheer him.

Lieutenant Hobson said he inspected the wrecked Spanish warships and is certain if prompt action is taken the Cristobal Colon and Maria Teresa can be saved. The Quenda is a total wreck. The Vizcaya is not quite so bad as the Quenda and some of her guns may be saved. "Should a gale spring up," added Lieutenant Hobson, "all the work of the wreckers would go for naught and the Colon and Maria Teresa would be lost. I am hurrying to Washington to explain to the officials the necessity of making contracts at once for raising these warships."

Town of Skagway Under Martial Law.

Juneau, Alaska, July 17, via Department Bay, B. C., July 22.—The town of Skagway is still under martial law. All saloons are closed and the 26 men who have been bound over by the United States commissioner have been taken to Sitka. City Surveyor Reid, who killed "Soapy" Smith recently, received a wound in the hand in the affray, and may die of blood poisoning.

GENERAL MILES' MOVEMENTS.

Washington, July 22.—The War department today received a telegram from General Miles showing that on Thursday at 7 p. m. he was still at Guanajuato. It is as follows: "Playa del Este, July 21, 7 p. m.—The following troops are with me aboard the transports in Guanajuato harbor, on route to Puerto Rico: Four light batteries of the 3rd and 4th artillery, Captain Lomax's battery B, 5th artillery, 6th Illinois, 6th Massachusetts; 225 recruits for the 6th corps, 80 men for the signal corps, and 70 of the hospital corps, 3,450 all told.

The time of 7:35 p. m. in the bulletin issued by the adjutant general's office is that at which the dispatch was received from General Miles in Washington, and does not indicate the time at which it was sent by telegraph to Playa del Este.

At Mole St. Nicholas. The War department has received the following, timed 1:15 p. m. today: "Mole St. Nicholas.—Am disappointed in the non-arrival of Colonel Hecker with the construction corps. Colonel Black has arrived but without snag boats or lighters. Please send at least four strong snagging lighters and tugs, also General Stone's boat at Jacksonville, if not already sent, as soon as possible. Moving along well. (Signed) "MILES."

Black Soldiers Arriving at Ft. Thomas.

Cincinnati, July 22.—A special hospital train arrived at Newport, Ky., this afternoon over the Cincinnati Southern. It brought 135 sick soldiers from Tampa to the hospital at Fort Thomas. Two previous trains brought 225 wounded and sick soldiers to Ft. Thomas. Two dead soldiers were taken from train. It was denied that they died from yellow fever. Many are seriously sick.

Failure of Washington Brokers.

Washington, July 22.—Carson & McCartney, for some years a leading stock brokerage firm in this city, made an assignment today to Charles M. Robinson. Liabilities $261,143; assets $36,063. The failure is ascribed to losses on speculation. The firm became known throughout the country owing to allegations that through its senators and others of national prominence speculated in sugar while the tariff bill was pending.

Non-Union Miners Banned.

Pana, Ill., July 22.—Several unknown non-union miners were severely beaten today, while en route to the shafts to resume work. The miners and their wives continue to surround the shafts, while deputies and the police also continue on guard. The operators say they will not be governed by the decision of the board of arbitrators.

MILITARY GOVERNOR

General Wood, of the "Rough Riders," Appointed Governor of Santiago de Cuba.

CUBANS RETURNING HOME

Custom Duties on Foreign Produce—General Garcia Preparing to Attack Spanish Cities—Insurgent Leader's Actions Inexplicable.

Playa del Este, July 22.—General Wood, of the "Rough Riders," was appointed military governor of Santiago de Cuba today, succeeding General McKibbin, who returns to his old duty. Steps to improve the sanitary conditions of the city are being taken. A large exodus of Cubans is expected within the next few days as they are returning to cultivate the country. The greater part of General Garcia's army leaves here at day break to-morrow.

The Danish steamer Bratton, the first vessel under the government and Red Cross ships to enter the port with provisions, arrived at 9 o'clock this morning. A. P. Azavedo, the owner of her cargo, went to General Shafter's headquarters to inquire about custom duties. He was told that he must pay full duty on foreign produce under the Spanish regime. This being the case it was the duty of the Bratton to pay $4, plus ten per cent a barrel and the duty on other goods in proportion.

Notwithstanding General Garcia's bitter complaint that he had been ignored and the restoration of Spanish civil authority in Santiago was most offensive to him and that in consequence he had been forced to tender his resignation as a general in the Cuban army, he is going on with his preparations for a contest with the Spanish forces at Holguin and Manzanillo quite as if nothing had happened. Tomorrow General Garcia will issue a decree authorizing all Cubans driven from their plantations and country homes by the Spaniards, and who have taken refuge for safety in the cities and towns, to return to their farms and plantations, assuring them protection. He added a like provision to those in his hands driven from farm lands. Altogether General Garcia's attitude is inexplicable.

DICTATORSHIP DECLARED.

General Aguinaldo Has Placed Philippine Islands Under Martial Law—Insurgents Bombarding Manila.

Washington, July 22.—The following cablegram has been received at the War department: "Hongkong July 22.—Secretary of war: Aguinaldo declares a dictatorship and martial law all over the islands. The people expect independence. Recommend China policies. (Signed) "ANDERSON."

Colonel Anderson was the senior army officer at the Philippines when the dispatch was sent, probably several days before its Hongkong date. The reference to "China policies" probably means that Colonel Anderson desires that kind of cavalry action.

Vile English Fabrication.

Manila, July 19, via Hongkong.—The insurgents are gradually getting their artillery against Pondo, Santa Mesa and Manila. The fighting is desultory. The Spaniards have been driven from the trenches outside of Manila, and the insurgents are strongly entrenched near the fort. The insurgents have begun to bombard the Manila fort and have struck the telegraph company's cable house. It is said on semi-official Spanish authority in Manila that the recent loss of Cebu "vile English fabrication," that in reality the Spaniards have been victorious and Admiral Camara's squadron is expected here on July 25.

Attack in Force Begun.

New York, July 22.—A special to the Journal dated at Cavite on July 19 says: The entire regiment of the 1st California volunteers, advanced today to Jambou, only two miles from the Spanish lines surrounding Manila. The California troops have been thrown out by General Anderson to form the advance of an attack in force. South Manila is to be captured first. The Colorado infantry and Utah batteries are being landed at Parangana. The 10th Pennsylvania volunteers, with the rest of the artillery, will land at Matambon just north of Manila. Brigadier General Francis V. Green, formerly colonel of the 71st regiment of New York, is in command of the advance. General Anderson remaining at Cavite.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Engine Exploded With Terrible Results—Three Men Killed—Several Persons Injured.

Dutch Flat, Calif., July 22.—The engine on an east bound extra blew up at the station here today, killing Engineer Tom Kelly; Fireman Terry, and a coal passer, name unknown. The hotel of J. R. Fuller was cut about the head and hands; Raymond Fuller, aged 10, was bruised and cut; Lawrence Fuller, aged 6, severely hurt about the head and concussion of the brain is feared. Henry Duesque, of Colfax, Wash., was badly hurt about the back and had several ribs broken.

NORTH DAKOTA TORNADO.

Seventeen Buildings Demolished—Number of Persons Injured—Crops Badly Damaged by Hail.

Minot, N. D., July 22.—A tornado struck this town last night, demolished 17 buildings and injured a number of people. No one was killed. The county hospital was destroyed and several of the inmates injured. Six loaded cars on the Soo tracks were blown 100 feet from the rails and demolished. A heavy hail storm followed, seriously damaging the growing crops.

Wheat Destroyed.

Cassellton, N. D., July 22.—A special to the Journal says the same storm destroyed 20,000 acres of wheat.

National Bank Statements Called For.

Washington, July 22.—The controller of currency has called on all national banks for a statement of their condition at the close of business on July 14.

Camara Will Await Events.

Gibraltar, July 22.—It is reported here that Admiral Camara's squadron is expected at the Spanish penal settlement of Centa, opposite Gibraltar, shortly, where it will await events.

TERRITORIAL TOPICS

Albuquerque.

Miss Irma Schuster has returned from a visit with relatives in Holbrook, A. T. Major Maynard, who was stationed at this city eight years ago as a paymaster in the United States army, died a few days ago in the east.

In the divorce suit of Maria Mason de Garcia vs. Florencio Garcia, the plaintiff has obtained a decree pro confesso, and the cause was heard by Judge Crum-packer today.

Ester Armijo Gonzales has filed a suit in the District court praying for a divorce from her husband, Conrado Gonzales. She also asks for the custody of two minor children.

Hon. Sol Luna arrived in this city Wednesday night from Los Angeles, where he accompanied his wife on a western trip. Mrs. Luna is now at Santa Barbara, where she will remain until September.

Frank Pynchon, a brakeman on the Santa Fe-Pacific between Gallup and Winslow, was brought to the hospital Wednesday night with a crushed foot. An amputation will be made at the ankle.

Special Officer Frank Harris, of the Santa Fe railway, is in the city from Las Cruces, where he arrested Pat Powers, section foreman at Selden, and Riez Rivas, a laborer on the track, charged with defrauding the railroad company. It seems that Rivas received two checks for his work on two different sections and under two separate names. In checking up the payroll the roadmaster discovered the fraud. The men will have a hearing before Justice Lopez at Las Cruces on July 25.

George Shade and his wife are residents of this city, coming here in March from Fort Madison, Ia. For two or three days past they have been making the welkin ring with their quarrels and battles, on one occasion the wife throwing her better half out of the house and nearly finishing his earthly career. It is said that there is a third person, a man, mixed up in the affair, and City Marshal McMillan, on account of two little children, is trying to bring about a reconciliation and settlement of all troubles between the couple.

Eddy County.

The new bank at Eddy has been located in the former quarters of the old bank. A large room in the Tansill block at Eddy has been leased by Clyde Emerson who proposes to utilize it as an opera house.

Dr. George M. Monroe, a resident of Eddy county for six years, left with his family for Glenmore, Fla., where they will reside in the future. Mrs. Sally J. Emerson, wife of Dr. Emerson, pastor of the Baptist church at Eddy, died last week. The remains were taken to Liberty, Mo., for burial.

Eddy prides itself on a good creamery, ice factory, best sugar factory, electric light plant, fine hotel and the greatest water system on the American continent.

F. M. Moore, of Roswell, has received the contract for fencing in the right-of-way of the Pecos Valley & Northeastern railway for the first 100 miles out of Amarillo.

Willie, the 14-year old son of Mrs. Welch, of Black River, was a sufferer from appendicitis. Dr. Wieher, the attending physician, refused to perform an operation as is usual in such cases, and under a new treatment the boy is convalescing.

Walter Stone, son of Miles Stone, of Eddy, proved himself a brave lad. Receiving a broken leg by his horse falling on the prairie, the young man bound the limb with splints cut from a mesquite bush, then rode five miles to the railway, flagged a train and went to Pecos to receive medical attention.

Grant County.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Dimmick, of Pinos Altos, are rejoicing in the possession of a baby girl.

Mary Q. Archuleta and King Holstein were married at Mimbres by Justice Charles Dennis.

The report that there is small pox in the family of John M. Fritter, at Silver City, is pronounced a canard by friends.

The sports of Silver City enjoyed a cooking main one evening last week, between Albuquerque and Silver City birds.

The block of ground in Silver City just east of Professor Light's residence, has been bought by L. C. Parker, who will erect residences on the property to rent.

President C. L. Herrick, of the University of New Mexico, who contemplated delivering a lecture at Silver City, will have to forego that pleasure owing to illness.

The affairs of the busted banks at Silver City and Deming are now in the hands of the comptroller of the treasury at Washington. There is some talk of petitioning the comptroller to hurry the matter of final settlement with the depositors.

Las Vegas.

Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Perez and son, A. E. Perez, are in the city from Bernadillo, visiting relatives.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

H. B. CARTWRIGHT & BRO.

Professor James J. Meadors, superintendent of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, is in the city in the interests of that institution.

F. T. Keys, a prominent sheep man of Lincoln county, is in the city, awaiting the arrival of his spring wool clip, which has been bought by Gross, Blackwell & Co.

F. H. Page, who has been in the city since April for his health, died Tuesday evening of consumption, aged 26 years. The deceased was the son of ex-Governor Page, of Vermont, and leaves a wife and little son. The remains were taken to Hyde Park, Vt., for burial.

The board of county commissioners is taking steps to prevent the spread of smallpox, which is now epidemic in some parts of the county. Efforts will be made to quarantine the affected villages and physicians will be sent into those districts for the purpose of vaccinating the entire population.

STORIES OF RELIEF.

Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. JOHN WILLIAMS, Englishtown, N. J., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot begin to tell you how I suffered before taking your remedies. I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without falling. I had womb trouble and such a bearing-down feeling; also suffered with my back and limbs, pain in womb, inflammation of the bladder, piles and indigestion. Before I had taken one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great deal better, and after taking two and one-half bottles and half a box of your Liver Pills I was cured. If more would take your medicine they would not have to suffer so much."

Mrs. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East St., Warren, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have suffered with womb trouble for fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything."

"I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sensitive Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me."

FRIDAY, JULY 22.

Poor old Spain! "Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad."

The new Mexico troops of the "Rough Riders" bore the brunt of the battle at La Quisima. But in promotions New Mexico troops are not bearing the brunt they ought to. A gentle hint to Colonel Roosevelt.

In several of the counties of this territory the provisions of the revenue laws are dead letters. The county commissioners and collectors do as they choose and let the law take care of itself. These are facts.

It seems there has been friction between General Miles and Admiral Sampson. In the meantime the military operations lagged and the rank and file suffered untold miseries and hardships, and that unnecessarily. Out upon such business! The president can not put a stop to it any too soon.

Count Von Goetzen, a major in the German army and military attaché of the German legation in Washington, who was present during the military operations at Santiago, has given the American troops a certificate of good character. They did not need it, to be sure, but it may help to open the eyes of Emperor William to the fact that the American volunteers and regulars can fight and fight well and successfully.

Certainly the New Mexico volunteers are doing great work for the country and also incidentally for Colonel Roosevelt, and it is to be hoped he will not forget this; says the New York Sun: "It would be interesting to have Colonel Roosevelt ride up Broadway at the head of the 'Rough Riders' when the war is over. There is no trouble, however—we expect him to be a general by that time."

It is very apparent that the gang in San Miguel county, that has been robbing that county for the past few years, desires no publicity. But personal abuse, slander and vilifications will not stop the exposure. The more the gang howls and lies the stronger will be the search light of publicity that will be turned upon its actions. The gang and its organ can take it all out in personal abuse and falsehoods, but that will not change the current of events.

Will Do Them No Good.

Our more or less esteemed daily contemporary over in the Meadow city publishes correspondence giving the Republican party, the Republican government and the New Mexican fits. The letter is dated Taos. Rot. The letter was written right here in Santa Fe and by some of our esteemed and distinguished fellow citizens, who decline to make up the shortage of $60,000 of public funds that occurred during the Democratic administration in this county, while the late Frank Chavez was collector of taxes. The New Mexican knows it is hard on these distinguished citizens, this thing of paying for the defalcations of another man, but then they went on the bond of the official, helped to elect him and so on and now ought to pay for the fun they had. Sixty thousand dollars of public funds lost by the dishonesty of a Democratic official is rather tough on the territory and on Santa Fe county, you know, and the taxpayers would like to see at least part of this sum recovered from the bondsmen. These distinguished and esteemed fellow citizens of New Mexican will make nothing by these attacks. The latter will do no one, but themselves, any harm; of this they may rest assured.

The Monroe Doctrine in No Danger.

Since it was announced by the authorities at Washington that a fleet of American war vessels would visit the coast of Spain for the purpose of bringing the war to an end, some of the wiseacres of the east have discovered that such a move on the part of this government would forever and three days thereafter destroy the Monroe doctrine, and that in the future no European nation could be expected to pay any attention to that famous diplomatic principle, upheld by the United States. The days of miracles may be past, but the time for talking idiotic nonsense is evidently at its zenith.

The Monroe doctrine has no more to do with bombarding seaports of Europe in time of war than it has with the liberties of persons who are citizens of Brazil or Cape Colony. Never has this government interfered with the action of any other country in its dealings with the different nations of North and South America, except when it was evident that the acquisition of territory at the expense of a weaker power was the object. The payment of indemnity has been enforced by the display of force time and again, wrongs have been righted in the same manner, and all matters of diplomatic relations have been settled in any manner it best pleased the countries interested without a word of protest from the United States.

The visit of a squadron of warships from this country to the shores of the Iberian peninsula will be paid for the sole purpose of compelling an obstinate nation to conclude peace, not for the acquisition of territory or the oppression of people. The powers of Europe will have no more reason for interfering than the United States has had many times in the past, and for that matter at the present time when Italy is threatening to seize the custom houses of Colombia to secure the payment of an indemnity awarded by ex-President Cleveland. The Monroe doctrine is in no danger of destruction from the proposed excursion of battleships to Cadiz. In fact that little trip will have the effect of making continental powers look upon the rights of this country to watch over the welfare of the weaker republics with more respect than they have in the past.

General Blanco Grows Garrulous.

When Weyler, at the instance of the United States, was recalled to Spain, after a year's cruel exercise of power as captain general of that island and replaced by General Blanco, the American people felt that the condition of the unfortunate people of Cuba had been bettered in a large degree, and subsequent events in a measure justified the feeling, for General Blanco is not to be classed with the men of Weyler's calibre among the Spaniards. General Ramon Blanco is one of the few colonial officers in the service of Spain, about whom has been heard something besides evil, but since the surrender of Santiago de Cuba he has expressed himself in a manner which shows unparagoned ignorance on the part of a man who has had wide opportunities to learn of the nations and peoples of the western continent.

In a recent interview given by him to a New York paper through the editor of a Havana paper, he said: "This is, he remarked in speaking of the United States, 'a country which in return for all it owes, goes to the extreme of believing us to be the intentional authors of the explosion of the Maine, and declares that we are not capable of guaranteeing the safety of foreign vessels in our harbors.' General Blanco failed to itemize the debt the United States owes to Spain. One thing is certain, this country has incurred no obligations in taking lessons from the Spaniards in government, in the conduct of commerce and industry, in the advancement of science, in the separation of church and state, in the preservation of peace, in humanity, or in waging war. The discovery of America was accomplished by an Italian seantly aided by a Spanish queen, but that debt has been paid many times over in gold wrung from the unfortunate people who were 'found' by steel-clad, fire-armed soldiers centuries ago.

General Blanco says the Americans have 'gone to the extreme point of believing the Maine was blown up.' In that assertion he errs again. The Americans do not believe anything of the kind. They know that the Maine was blown up by the agents of Spain just as positively as if they had seen the deed done with their own eyes. And in that connection General Blanco and the rest of the Spaniards may rest assured that that incident will not be closed until the men who planted the mines and turned the switch key which caused the explosion are punished. The American people are magnanimous in war, but they never forget an injury, although they may forgive—until they catch the fellow who did it.

General Blanco's ignorance of current events is shown in the statement: "Against all reason and without any other right than that of mere strength they (the people of the United States) attempt to take away from us territory which has belonged to Spain for 400 years." If Spain for 400 years past had treated her American colonies with the consideration that has been shown the colonies of Great Britain since the United States secured independence, she would today control the greater part of the American continent. It has only been unhappy necessity that caused this country to interfere in behalf of the starving thousands on the Island of Cuba.

The doughty general has allowed his learning and better self to be swamped by his disappointment over the defeat of the Spanish navy and army, and the disasters which have met his native country since the beginning of the war. Yes Some One Must Make the Sacrifice. (Roswell Record)

The Democrats of Southeastern New Mexico should be looking about for legislative candidates. We appreciate the reason why no one has announced for either the council or house in this part of the territory. Any honest man who goes to the legislature makes a personal sacrifice, and his only hope of doing good is in preventing harm. Some one has to make the sacrifice, however, and it is time we were picking out those who can best afford to go.

The Organization of the New Mexico Volunteers.

(Roswell Record)

This territory has promptly and loyally responded to the demands of the national government for soldiers during the present conflict with Spain. The quality of the men furnished is of the highest character as has been attested by all the general officers who have commanded New Mexico troops. Governor Otero has diligently and intelligently devoted himself to this feature of his administration and merits great credit for the successful manner all requirements of the War department have been more than filled.

There is a provision of territorial statutes allowing each county in the territory to send one cadet to the New Mexico Military Institute, free of tuition. This school is supported by liberal appropriations and is one of the best in the southwest. The board of county commissioners ought to order a competitive examination so that if any boy does desire to attend from Grant county he will be given an opportunity to do so.

Hitting the "Rough Riders" Mail on the Head.

(Springfield Mass. Republican.)

People are getting ruffled at hearing so much about the "Rough Riders." New Haven Register. Not about the "Rough Riders," but about a few members of the regiment. There are, perhaps, 980 old cowboys from the west in that organization, and from ten to 20 eastern college graduates and New York society men. One might think from reading the New York newspapers that these ten or 20 easterners, brave as they are, made up the entire force.

TERRITORIAL MINING NOTES

The Elladora tunnel at Hematite is in 65 feet, showing five feet of ore.

R. L. Smith has purchased a one-half interest in the Huntington claim at Hematite.

The lead has been cut in the Lone Jack tunnel at Hematite and three feet of ore exposed.

Cox & King have let a contract to extend the Hematite tunnel at Hematite 30 feet.

Peralta canon miners are pushing work rapidly and receiving encouraging results.

The Silver City Reduction Works will not inaugurate an eight hour system for its employees.

The shaft of the Gold Belt mine at Gold Hill is being sunk. The vein shows two feet of good ore at a depth of 47 feet.

Patterson & Fielder have refused to renew the bond on the Western Belle mine at Gold Hill, and will in the future operate the property themselves.

A new reduction plant at Pinos Altos, having a capacity for treating 200 tons of ore per day.

Stinking has been resumed on the shaft of the Atlantic mine at Pinos Altos. It is now down 480 feet and will be continued to 750 feet before ore is extracted in any quantity.

The Gillette shaft of the Pinos Altos M. Co., operating at Pinos Altos, is now down over 700 feet and will be continued to 1,000 feet depth. Thousands of feet of ore are now opened for stopping, and the mill is working only on ore taken out in development.

Since the completion of the A. T. & S. F. branch from San Jose to Santa Rita, work has been carried on in an extensive manner at that place. Last month 1,200 tons of iron ore were shipped to the Pueblo smelter. About 600 tons of copper ore were produced, some of it running as high as 30 per cent copper in ear load lots. These mines were originally worked by the Spaniards more than a century ago.

The new machinery for the Silver City Reduction Works is in place and the situation has blown in its furnace again. The improvements consist of a Corliss engine, boiler and concentrate press. Two stacks with a capacity of 60 tons per day each are being operated. A vast amount of ore has accumulated at the works during its temporary suspension.

SANTA CLARA FEAST.

Round Trip Tickets from Santa Fe $1—Five Hours at the Pueblo.

The annual Indian Feast of the Pueblo of Santa Clara occurs on Friday, August 12. For this occasion the D. & R. G. R. E. has decided to make a very low rate, viz: One dollar for the round trip. Tickets will be good for seven Santa Fe and Española on that date. Children under 12 years, 50 cents.

Extra equipment will be attached to the regular train leaving Santa Fe at 10:10 a. m., arriving at Santa Clara about noon. Returning, regular train will leave Española at 6:15 p. m., and will stop at Santa Clara to pick up passengers, this allowing visitors about five hours to visit the pueblo and Indian festivities.

This is positively the last excursion for the season. For further particulars address the undersigned.

T. J. HELM,
General Agent D. & R. G. R. E.

SILVER CITY REDUCTION COMPANY, Silver City, Grant County, N. M.

This plant has been purchased and will be operated in the future by the estate of the late Senator George Hearst, of California, under the general management of D. B. Gillette, Jr.

It is the intention of the present management to largely increase the capacity of the plant and equip it with every modern appliance for the successful and cheap treatment of ores and concentrates. Consignments and correspondence solicited. Advances will be made on ores.

LITTLE GRAY LADY.

Some one was coming up the stairs as the little district visitor was descending. The ascending party struck a match, which threw a fitful glare over the damp and filthy walls and the gray gown of Miss Moore. Dr. Paul Mayland stepped aside, flinching his broad shoulders against the baluster rail to admit a wider passage for her bend.

During the next two weeks this "slumming" doctor and the soberly dressed little district visitor met half a dozen times on their separate ways to or from some den in a crowded alley, and at the end of a fortnight they actually defied criticism and spoke. It was raining a steady drizzle, and through the mire of a dirty court Paul Mayland saw a familiar form in gray stepping over the puddles without an umbrella.

"Please take mine," he said.

"These places are not fit for you," said the doctor later when walking with her home.

"You're too young, too young—indeed it is scarcely safe for so young a girl to venture among the criminals that are hidden here."

"But I must," she murmured.

"Ah, you are one of those brave women willing to risk anything. I had heard of you long before I had the pleasure of lighting you down those rickety stairs two weeks ago."

"You have heard of me?" she asked, with an abrupt sharpness of tone which he did not notice.

"Yes, from the poor wretches whom you have made your devoted friends," he exclaimed. "It is more often for you they call in the extremity of their pain than for me."

"I am glad if I have done any good," she said, sighing with relief.

"Good!" he echoed. "If the depraved creatures about here worship anything at all, it is the little gray lady, as they have named you."

Dr. Paul Mayland was celebrating his fortieth birthday over a lonely cup of tea. It was not often that he was left to enjoy a meal in peace, and today was an exception to the rule. He was still contemplating a second slice of cake when he received a hasty summons to a case in Lavender court.

"That's just like him," he growled in monologue. "He'll never be rich while he doctors them paupers for nothing, and he takes 'advantage of his goodness, they do. Now, if Master Jack hadn't turned out a second!"

Master Jack was Paul Mayland's youngest brother, his junior by 15 years, who had been left as a sacred trust by their dying mother to the elder's care. Some seeds of depravity, perhaps sown in long generations past, early developed in young Jack.

His distracted brother for several years grieved for his "sacred trust" as a thing lost to him until one night Jack had appeared craving protection from the law. For the sake of his dead mother Paul had shielded the boy, who, when the danger was over, broke loose again, and in the course of time his dexterity earned him in the criminal world the sobriquet of "Lightning Jack."

At Lavender court, in the room where his patient lay, Dr. Mayland found the little gray lady knocking the brickbat on which a consumptive child was dying.

"I sent for you," she said. "I knew you would come if you possibly could."

She had puzzled him from the first—her absolute loneliness and her reserve. Tonight, walking beside her through the busy streets, he abruptly put his fancy in words.

"Yes, I am very tired," she answered.

"I hate the work. I hate it."

"But it isn't compulsory," he exclaimed.

"Why do you do it?"

"Because I must," she said bitterly.

"Yes, he has guessed it long ago. It was in that moment when he had once unconsciously revealed his secret that her work had become suddenly hateful to herself."

"I love you, Hester; I love you." His low voice penetrated through the traffic of the street. "I am not a young man, but my feeling for you is deep and strong enough to last my lifetime, even unto eternity." He caught the sharp sob that was choked in her throat. "Hester," he cried, "look at me! Oh, my darling, what is it?"

"I am so happy!" she said. "That is all."

How long they walked up and down the pavement neither knew. They were jerked back to the reality of things by a faint, hoarse voice that seemed to have sprung out of the darkness beside them.

"Paul, for God's sake, save me! It is the last time I shall trouble you."

"Go to my house by the back door. I will join you in ten minutes."

And, catching at Hester's hand, he hurried her along.

"You are trembling, dear. That man has frightened you. He meant no harm. He is my brother."

"Your brother?" she gasped. "Lightning Jack your brother?"

"What do you know of Lightning Jack?"

"Come with me to my lodgings," she said faintly. "I can't tell you here."

Hester Moore sat with her arms stretched across the table, her head bowed on them in speechless, tearless misery. The confidence which she had withheld so long had been wrung from her at last.

She was no angel of charity, but a person sent from Scotland Yard to track the burglar Lightning Jack.

"Well, your victim is ready at hand," he said bitterly to the trembling representative of Scotland Yard. "Of course you will do your duty."

He walked from the room without a backward glance. For an instant she remained thus, spiritless and dazed.

What had she done to evoke contempt or forfeit happiness? Born of a detective father, she had been carefully trained by the clever parent in certain intricacies of the profession, and since his death the work had been to her a means of livelihood.

When the dawn showed through the chinks of the blind, she threw open the window and leaned out her face in the chilly breeze.

"Hester, I have been waiting for you, hoping against hope that you did not go last night to—Scotland Yard."

"Thank God!" she said, with shaking lips.

Death had spared her a terrible task. Lightning Jack had died in delirium in the arms of his brother.

One of the cleverest lady assistants attached to Scotland Yard resigned her post a few weeks ago on the occasion of her approaching marriage.

The new opener of the Southwest was heard to remark that "in all her ken" no man had ever looked so proud of his bride as did the "slumming" doctor who brought back the little gray lady to live with them.—Answers.

Justifiable Assault and Battery.

After the injured man had explained how badly he was hurt the justice asked:

"What was the beginning of the trouble? You didn't call him a liar, did you?"

"No, sir," answered the injured man—"that is, not directly."

"Not directly?" repeated the justice.

"What do you mean by that?"

"Why, you see, I called him a Spanish diplomat, and—"

"Justifiable assault," broke in the justice. "It amounts to the same thing, only it's a little worse. Case dismissed."—Chicago Post.

Unable to Attend.

Jones want at the poker party, was he? No. He was storm-bound. But there wasn't any storm. Oh! yes; there was. His wife heard about the poker party.

184 separate analysis, chiefly carload lots, showed AN AVERAGE of 17.01 per cent sugar in beet; 84.1 per cent purity.

THIS REMARKABLE RESULT was accomplished by farmers, unacquainted with the culture of beet root, on new land and under very trying circumstances, as the factory was not assured until May, and a majority of the acreage was planted between JUNE 1st AND AUGUST 10th.

GOOD SOIL makes the seed germinate.

WATER makes the plant grow.

SUNLIGHT puts the sugar in the BEET.

THE ONLY THING left to be desired that the Pecos Valley has not on hand in abundance is PEOPLE. We need thrifty farmers; 500 heads of families each on a 40-acre farm.

NO FAIRER terms or conditions of sale of beet and fruit lands were ever made.

Soldiers Sing "God Save the Queen."

In Tampa, Fla., the other day American soldiers did a thing that would have raised a protest a year ago. They joined in singing "God Save the Queen" in honor of Victoria's birthday. It is really astonishing how sentiment has changed since England has openly sympathized with the United States in our war with Spain. Radical changes in the relations of nations are no more wonderful, however, than the marked changes in individuals who are restored to health by that great medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is no unusual thing for people who are thin, weakly and all run down to show a marked improvement in a few weeks after taking this medicine, which overcomes nearly every known disease arising from a disordered stomach.

Possible Reason.

Considering all the talk we hear about Spain being tired of the war, remarked the man with the violent necktie, it is strange she doesn't come forward with her overtures for peace.

Perhaps, suggested the man with the cinnamon whiskers, Spain can't pay the orchestra.

Jimmy—Great! It beats some of those Indian novels, I tell you!

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by A. C. Ireland.

A GREAT TRAGEDY.

"We daur gae nae farther, Maister Ronald; we're lost on the moor."

The speaker was a genuine type of the highland gaucherie, elderly and gray, but a fine, hale, active old man, a keen sportsman and genial companion. He was quite a young man and seemed to be as strange.

"What are we to do, Angus?" he asked.

"We are miles away from the lodge."

"A'm thinkin' that's the wa' o' the castle over yon'er," said Angus, pointing toward a dark shadow looming not far away. The ruins were only a few yards distant, and they plunged blindly along until they came to ivied walls and broken arches. Shelter it could scarcely be called; only a portion of the roof remained and that seemed threatening to topple over with the first blast of wind. They groped their way over to a corner, the two settlers crouching at their heels. Throwing the bags of game on the turf, Angus endeavored to scrape some sticks and leaves together and proceeded to light a fire. The dogs meanwhile lay down by the bags with a low whine of misery.

"Well, this is nae a canny place to spend the night," and as if in answer to Angus one of the dogs set up a howl.

"I wonder if it is haunted. It is just the sort of place Shakespeare would have chosen for one of his tragedies," Ronald said.

"Well, I wouldn't like to be posseted about a ghastly, but it's well worth tryin' anyhow," said Angus, taking a plump brace of grouse from one of the bags and beginning to carve.

"Did ye speak o' Shakespeare?" continued Angus, looking up from his work with a twinkle in his eyes, as he flung away a handful of feathers.

"Yes."

"As for tragedies, ye hanna to look sae far for them. As happened in this same ruin, that Macbeth couldna hault the owl to."

"Won't you let me hear it?" Ronald asked, looking interested.

Angus ruminated for a few minutes, then gave the finishing touch to the brace of grouse and laid them carefully on the red ashes, while the two dogs crept closer as if to listen.

"Well," he began, "what a'm to tell ye is a true. Nane o' yer fiction, and a shade of sadness passed over his face.

"It's lang syne folk lived here, sae lang that their names are a'most forgotten. That's the way o' the world, ye ken. Every dog has his day. Gin we dinna do gude deeds while we live here we winna be lang thoct o'. Noo for ma story."

"The lord o' the manor's name was Campbell, an he was michty proud. He kept a hoose full o' followers an servants. There was a shelter an' a few sons. This docter was celebrated for her beauty an' gentle manners, an' as ye may well suppose she had many lovers, but as fate wud hae't, the lady cared for nane o' them except the enemy o' her father's hoose. The name o' this young lord was Cumming.

He was sent near an' far for his valor an' gallantry, an' he was a great favorite with the docter. Cumming wud never get his docter, an' young Cumming vowed that he wud, if he had to steal her.

"Noo, Campbell thoct o' a plan to get Cumming intae his power, sae a' at once he got uncommin' friendly an' invited him an' his folk to a grand banquet at the castle here. Cumming didna suspect o' any thing, an' o' course accepted the invitation. But he had a friend among Campbell's followers who heard o' the plot, an' wanted to warn him o' his danger, but he daur nae speak to him, as he had taken an oath not to tell a livin' soul. At last he thoct o' a plan by which to keep his promise an' at the same time warn his friend.

"Sae, he gaed to Lord Cumming an' said, 'Come wi' me to the big Druid stane across the moor.' Cumming did as he was bid. 'Noo, said his friend, 'yer to listen an' hear what a'm to say to the stane. Mind ye, it's nae a'm speaking, it's a'm listening.' Then the lad began speakin' to the Druid: 'Beware o' treachery. Dinna come to the banquet wantin' yer claymore an' dirk, an' whenever ye see the bear's head that'll be a sign to ye to shout, 'Claymore,' an' an' abate every Campbell."

"Here wud Campbell's plot to capture Cumming. When the bear's head was kent to the table, every Campbell was to stab a Cumming. The Cummings didna let on as they ken o' anything, but came to the banquet, an' they were a' as friendly as ye please. However, young Lord Cumming never took his eye frae the door, an' when he saw the signal kent intae the banquet hall he leapt frae his chair an' shoutin' to his followers, 'Claymore,' an' immediately a most awful scuffle ensued. The Campbells were clean dumfounded, an' nearly every a' o' them was killed or wounded, except the said lord. Young Cumming spared him for the sake o' the aye he loved. She was locked up in a turret. Well, when said Lord Campbell saw his sons lyin' dead, he rushed up to the turret where his docter was an' killed her afore young Cumming could reach her, an' then he killed himself.

"A've finit ma story," said Angus, pausing and looking at Ronald.

"An enemy is much more to be dreaded when he comes in the shape of a friend," said Ronald. "What became of young Cumming when the lady he loved was murdered?"

"The Druid stane he dug a grave himself at the foot o' the aye an' buried her in his plaid an' buried her on the moor among the heather."

"This place," said Ronald, "brings to my memory some verses, but I forget the author's name."

"Aye, it's enough to drive any aye to madness. Sae, Ronald, the fog has cleared awa', an' yon's the moon strugglin' wi' that cloud. We'll manage our way hame, an' the sooner the better."

"Come away, Angus," said Ronald, springing to his feet, and the two men strode out from the ruin, joyfully followed by the two hounds, quickened their pace across the moor and soon left the solitary castle and its memories far behind.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Wanted a Lot of Them. The Chicago Chronicle tells of a "new rich" woman who has been giving lavish entertainments and has endeavored to have them as correct as possible. Her ambition is not to be outdone by anybody. That is the reason she felt anxious the other evening when she heard that a certain woman had given a dinner and that the loss were served in the rotunda. Forthwith she invited people to a dinner, and hastening to her caterer said: "I suppose you have some rotundas, haven't you? It is quite the thing now to have loss served in them. Please see that my loss for Wednesday night are served in little rotundas."

A LAPSE OF MEMORY.

The Chairman Was Doing Famously Till He Tripped Himself Up.

"We are going to win this fight," exclaimed the chairman of the meeting that had been called to take action in the matter of raising funds for a gorgeous silk flag for Company K. "We shall drive the Spaniards out of the fair land of Cuba."

"Our war is one of humanity. We have taken the sword at the behest of the highest motives that can actuate mankind, and our justification may be left to posterity. But while we thus go to war for a lofty principle and without hope of territorial aggrandizement or material reward we cannot forget that there rests upon us the stern duty of dealing out a righteous retribution."

"Aye, my countrymen. 'Free Cuba' is our watchword, but amid the smoke of battle our glorious banner, waving in the breeze, shall bear aloft upon its folds, emblazoned in letters of living light, the thrilling motto, 'Remember the—remember the—the—say, Pearson,'" he whispered, turning to the secretary of the meeting, "what the Sam Hill was the name of that ship the Spaniards blew up?"—Chicago Tribune.

Unkited.

He—I always keep my gloves on when I go to bed. I find it keeps my hands soft.

She—Do you keep your hat on too?—Judy.

Why She Complained.

It was so evident that she was angry or disappointed that her dearest friend was able to force her to confess and explain.

"George teased me for just one little kiss for nearly two hours this afternoon," she said at last.

"Well, why didn't you let him have it?"

"I did."

"Then what's the matter now?"

"I finally told him he could have just one little bit of a one, you know."

"Yes. We always make that stipulation."

"And that was all he took."

"Why, the cowardly thing!"—Chicago Post.

Forewarned Is Forearmed.

Squire's daughter (to old Farmer Ryegrass at the tenants' dinner)—That's right, Mr. Ryegrass. You are very polite to allow your wife to precede you down stairs. That is what is called gallantry, you know.

Farmer Ryegrass (whose wife weighs 250 pounds)—That's what I call diplomacy, miss. She fell on me once going down stairs when I was in front. I was laid up for three months.—Boston Globe.

Force of Habit.

"Private Quickstep didn't tell the truth when he said he wasn't married," said one officer.

"Have you information to the contrary?" inquired the other.

"No, but he was walking in his sleep last night, and when we asked where he was going he said, 'To put the cat out and see if the basement door is locked.'"—Washington Star.

One Thing Overlooked.

"Well, then," said the doctor, "as I understand your arguments you think if we didn't have any microbes we wouldn't have any sickness?"

"I didn't say exactly that, doctor," replied the caller. "You know we would still have the doctors."—Yonkers Statesman.

What infinite care and pride a woman takes in her wedding trousseau. How fine and fit every dainty gown and filmy bit of lingerie must be. But how about herself, her own fine and delicate physical organism? Has this most important of all considerations been neglected? Has she any weakness or ailment which is going to unfit and incapacitate her for happy marriage?

No woman is fit to marry who has any unhealthy condition of the special structure most intimately concerned in wifehood and motherhood. No modest reluctance should prevent her seeking immediate relief from such troubles. There is no need of the mortifying examination so detestable to sensitive-minded women. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is daily curing thousands of women of these troubles in the privacy of their homes.

The "Favorite Prescription" is the only proprietary remedy of its kind prepared by an educated, authorized physician. There is hardly a case so obstinate that it will not completely and permanently cure.

Mrs. Emma G. Clover, of Redkey, Jay Co., Indiana, in a letter to Dr. Pierce, says: "I can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to anyone who suffers with any form of disease. When I was in my teens I was always sick. I took your medicines before I was married, and now I am a well person. I am now twenty-three. I have also taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets, and can recommend them all."

It is a druggist's business to sell you, not to tell you, what you want.

MEETING OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.
Chief, Foreman and Other Officers Elected for Ensuing Year.
Promptly at 7 o'clock last evening
Foreman R. H. Bowler called the meeting of the Santa Fe Hook & Ladder company to order. The regular routine business was transacted and the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Foreman, R. H. Bowler;
re-elected; assistant foreman, Facundo
Ortiz; secretary, A. M. Dettelbach; treasurer, Juan J. Ortiz; representative to board of fire commissioners, Thomas Duffmeyer. The members of the company asked that a request be made to the fire board asking that they receive some encouragement, as volunteer firemen, in the shape of new uniforms, so that they may make a neat appearance on public occasions, said uniforms to be paid for out of the insurance appropriation fund. The representatives promised to present the matter before the new board, which will organize next Monday evening.

Immediately after adjournment the Santa Fe fire department, consisting of the Hook & Ladder and Hose companies, was called to order by Chief James L.
Van Arsdale. This was the annual meeting for the election of officers, and the following were duly elected to serve for one year: Chief engineer, James L.
Van Arsdale, re-elected; assistant chief engineer, Antonio Alarid; janitor of Firemen's hall, Tomas Baca.
The fire department has been in poor circumstances financially for several years, but the board have managed to keep up by giving dances, entertainments, etc., and by private subscription. There has been recently added 500 feet of new hose to the apparatus, which places the department in much better shape for fighting fires, but the department is still in need of more material.

About August 1, in complying with the law passed by the last legislature,
the insurance companies doing business in the city will pay out to the treasurer of the fire department something like $500, which will be used to good advantage for the best interests of the general public.
The board of fire commissioners, which transacts all important business of the department, collects all money, pays all bills, makes all contracts, appoints the secretary and treasurer of the department, consists of the following: J. L.
Van Arsdale, R. H. Bowler, James Conklin, Antonio Alarid, Wm. Bolander, T.
Duffmeyer, and the secretary and treasurer, who will be appointed next Monday evening by the board.

News from Captain Muller.
A letter, dated Santiago de Cuba, on July 6, has been received by Deputy Postmaster H. S. Kaune. The epistle, which is written on a scrap out of a memorandum book which was found in an old house by the writer, is from Captain Fred Muller, of Troop E, 1st U. S.
Vol. Cav. ("Rough Riders.") Captain
Muller tells how the victory was won.
He says further that the troops have often to go without food because they leave the provisions behind them when they go into battle and when they return
the Cubans have stolen everything in sight. Troop E has had a very hard time of it, but is standing the hardships
and privations well.

Thomas H. Sargent's Untimely Death.
The following account of the death of Mr. Thomas H. Sargent, which occurred on July 14, has been received from his home at El Rito:
Mr. Sargent attended the celebration
at Chamita on the 13th and the next morning left that place for home, going alone. It is supposed that when within about seven miles of El Rito a storm
came up and the horse he was riding
became frightened at the lightning or rain and became unmanageable, jumping
over a bank more than 20 feet high. In the fall Mr. Sargent's neck was broken,
his chest crushed in, and several other injuries received; the horse was also killed. The body remained at the foot of the bluff from the 14th to the 17th. His absence caused no uneasiness for the reason that on leaving home for Chamita
he stated that he would probably visit Santa Fe before returning. On Sunday the body was discovered by
some people living about a mile distant,
and taken to El Rito. The scene of the accident was some little way from the public road and the corpse lay in a position where it could not be seen by persons on the road.

The deceased was a son of Mrs.
Maggie Sargent, and was born in Wisconsin on November 19, 1871. In 1878 he came to New Mexico with his mother and three brothers settling at El Rito. He was a nephew of Hon. T.
D. Burns and John H. Burns, two prominent citizens of New Mexico, living
at Tierra Amarilla. For some years past he had been engaged with his brothers in a mercantile, cattle and sheep business. Mr. Sargent was one of the most popular young men in the territory, and in his death New Mexico
loses one of her substantial, generous
hearted, upright citizens.

Held to the Grand Jury.
Pedro Sandoval was arraigned before Justice Gorman this morning on the charge of assault with intent to kill the old woman, Juliana Rivera. Through his attorney, Candelario Martinez, he waived examination on this charge, and
was placed under $500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. This afternoon, he was again before the justice
on the charge of an assault with a deadly weapon on the person of Mrs. Josefa
Gallegos, the other aged woman
who was in the house at the time
it is alleged that Sandoval began to beat his wife. Attorney H.
L. Ortiz is prosecuting the case for the territory in behalf of the district attorney.

This afternoon in the case of the territory versus same defendant, assault
and battery on Josefa Gallegos, Justice Gorman held defendant in bail to the amount of $600 to appear before the grand jury.
The charge of assault and resisting an officer will be heard against the same defendant before the same justice at 2
p. m. tomorrow.

Muller tells how the victory was won.
He says further that the troops have
often to go without food because they
leave the provisions behind them when
they go into battle and when they return
the Cubans have stolen everything in sight. Troop E has had a very hard
time of it, but is standing the hardships
and privations well.

Thomas H. Sargent's Untimely Death.
The following account of the death of
Mr. Thomas H. Sargent, which occurred
on July 14, has been received from his
home at El Rito:
Mr. Sargent attended the celebration
at Chamita on the 13th and the next morning left that place for home, going
alone. It is supposed that when within
about seven miles of El Rito a storm
came up and the horse he was riding
became frightened at the lightning or
rain and became unmanageable, jumping
over a bank more than 20 feet high. In the fall Mr. Sargent's neck was broken,
his chest crushed in, and several other
injuries received; the horse was also killed. The body remained at the foot of the bluff from the 14th to the 17th. His absence caused no uneasiness for the reason that on leaving home for Chamita
he stated that he would probably
visit Santa Fe before returning. On Sunday the body was discovered by
some people living about a mile distant,
and taken to El Rito. The scene of the accident was some little way from the public road and the corpse lay in a position where it could not be seen by
persons on the road.

The deceased was a son of Mrs.
Maggie Sargent, and was born in Wisconsin on November 19, 1871. In 1878 he came to New Mexico with his mother and three brothers settling at El Rito. He was a nephew of Hon. T.
D. Burns and John H. Burns, two prominent citizens of New Mexico, living
at Tierra Amarilla. For some years
past he had been engaged with his
brothers in a mercantile, cattle and sheep business. Mr. Sargent was one of the most popular young men in the
territory, and in his death New Mexico
loses one of her substantial, generous
hearted, upright citizens.

Held to the Grand Jury.
Pedro Sandoval was arraigned before
Justice Gorman this morning on the charge of assault with intent to kill the
old woman, Juliana Rivera. Through his attorney, Candelario Martinez, he
waived examination on this charge, and
was placed under $500 bonds to await
the action of the grand jury. This afternoon, he was again before the justice
on the charge of an assault with a deadly weapon on the person of Mrs. Josefa
Gallegos, the other aged woman
who was in the house at the time
it is alleged that Sandoval began to beat his wife. Attorney H.
L. Ortiz is prosecuting the case for the territory in behalf of the district attorney.

This afternoon in the case of the territory versus same defendant, assault
and battery on Josefa Gallegos, Justice
Gorman held defendant in bail to the amount of $600 to appear before the grand jury.
The charge of assault and resisting an officer will be heard against the same
defendant before the same justice at 2
p. m. tomorrow.

LLEWELLYN'S LETTER.
"Rough Riders" Cream of the Army—What
Our Boys Need—Items from Santiago's Fight.
Governor Otero on yesterday received a letter from Captain W. H. H. Llewellyn, of Troop G, 1st U. S. volunteer cavalry. The letter is not dated, but was evidently written after the battle of La Quasina, which occurred June 24, and just before the desperate charge
made up San Juan heights, on July 2.
It is as follows:
"In camp at Hicacos, Cuba, four miles east, and in plain sight of Santiago de Cuba.—As I wrote you on the 24th (June) we had an engagement with the Spaniards, and the 1st U. S. regular cavalry, the 1st U. S. volunteer cavalry and the 10th U. S. regular cavalry, won the fight and ran the Spaniards out of their strongly fortified position. I tell you it was a hot time. Hafner, from Gallup, was the only New Mexico boy killed. The others in my troop who were shot were from other states. Our wounded are doing well and are all back at Juragua.
This is a beautiful mountain country;
fine as silk, and the scenery is simply grand.
All the New Mexico boys are well and anxious to give the fellows another whirl. We feel pretty big, since 16 troops of General Young's brigade numbering 900 men, ran off 4,000 Spaniards from their chosen and strongly fortified positions and out of ambush.
Please tell the folks to send the boys some smoking tobacco—I am one of the boys. I have a knife that was carried by Reid and which was shot while in his pocket and some other relics of the fight for you which should be placed in the Historical society's rooms.
Our brigade is the cream of the army.
The 10th cavalry fought like devils, and we all feel fine as fiddlers. Our troubles will be over soon. Will be killed, wounded or safe in Santiago before this reaches you. The Spaniards say we are American devils; that we violate the rules of warfare. When they fire volley after volley at us, instead of retreating as we ought, our trumpeters sound the charge.
Noland, a cowboy from Deming, who was one of my orderlies in the fight and who was shot while standing at my side, has so far recovered from his wound as to desert the hospital and return to the troop. He saw a boot sticking out of a tree, fired at it, brought down a Spaniard and shot him again
before he struck the ground, killing him.
The people of New Mexico should send small packages containing stout thread, large needles, shaving soap, small scissors and other small articles for camp use. I am writing under a tree. Captain Muller, Captain Max Luna, Keyes and others all send regards. Ralph McFie and the other New Mexico boys are all well, and "muy vivo," on the field of battle as well as in camp. They are alright.

The young fellows from Santa Fe, Ralph McFie, Arthur Hudson, Will Schnepple, Will Hogle, and so on, are making excellent soldiers. They are brave, obedient and "muy vivo," on the field of battle as well as in camp. They are alright.

THAT $20,000 SUIT AGAINST SANTA FE COUNTY
Argued and Submitted and Under Advisement.
The arguments in the case of Thomas Smith, N. B. Laughlin and C. H. Gilderleeve, against the board of county commissioners of Santa Fe county, for the recovery of money alleged to be due the plaintiffs on contract, were closed Wednesday night before Judge McFie, and the case taken under advisement.
This cause dates back to 1887, when Wm. H. Coler, Jr., and others, brought suit against Santa Fe county to compel the payment of the interest on certain bonds and coupons, amounting to $430, 000. On September 17, 1887, the board of county commissioners entered into a contract with Thomas Smith, N. B.
Laughlin and C. H. Gilderleeve to defend the county in the suit, agreeing to pay them the sum of $20,000 for their services. Six thousand dollars of the amount was paid them in county warrants, but the county having been beaten in the District and Territorial Supreme court, the county commissioners, rather than to incur any more expense in taking the case to the higher court, settled the matter by a compromise with Coler, et al. The balance of the money stipulated in the contract was never paid to the attorneys, and no demand was ever made for it until the Batemans law took effect, then the plaintiffs began action to recover $14, 000 and interest on that amount at 6 per cent from 1897.

In presenting their case, the plaintiffs introduced in evidence the contract entered into with the county commissioners and established the fact that a balance of $14,000 was still due. The defense claimed that at the time the contract was made, Marshall A. Breoden was the district attorney, and the legislature having provided the county with an attorney, the board of commissioners had no authority to engage other counsel, therefore the contract was null and void. It was also shown that at the time the contract was made Santa Fe county was in debt to the amount of $483,000; at the time the last assessment was made before entering into the contract, the assessed valuation of the county was $2,800,000; the contract was void because it was made in contravention of the act of congress which limited the amount to which a municipality in the territory could become indebted, or incur indebtedness, that limit being 4 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in the county, including the existing indebtedness.

Judge McFie has taken the case under advisement and will announce his decision in due time. The plaintiffs in the suit were represented by Judge Laughlin and C. H. Gilderleeve; Hon. C. A.
Spies appearing for Santa Fe county.
