SANTA FE NEW MEXICAN.

VOL. 35.

SANTA FE, N. M., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1898.

NO. 223.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

The new goods purchased by S. Spitz, the jeweler, while east, are now being placed for public inspection. They consist of a fine line of decorated china and glassware. New ideas in silver novelties, ebony and leather goods and fancy clocks. These goods in connection with the usual large line of diamonds watches and jewelry always found in his cases will give the Santa Fe public an opportunity for selection seldom found outside of the large cities.

OJO CALIENTE

(HOT SPRINGS.)

THESE Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Barranca Station on the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages runs to the Springs. The temperature of these waters is from 95° to 125°. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. These waters contain 169.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon, being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficacy of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the numerous cures effected in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Consumption, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilis, and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc., etc. Board, Lodging and Bathing, $2.50 per day. Reduced rates given by the month. The resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 10:30 a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 5 p. m. the same day. Fare for the round trip from Santa Fe to Ojo Caliente, $7. For further particulars address—

A TWO FACED JANUS

Hongkong Papers Say Germany Is Not, Manila Germans Say She Is Friendly

TO PHILIPPINE ISLANDERS

Spaniards Being Gradually Wiped Out in the Provinces Outside of Manila—Another Capital City Captured by the Insurgents.

Manila, Dec. 3.—Hongkong newspapers assert that Germany is hostile to the insurgents, while the Germans in Manila have circulated a statement that Germans are thoroughly friendly towards the Filipinos. This statement is signed by the German consul and German business firms. The natives infer the Germans are favorable to the independent faction.

Advices from Capiz say the Spaniards have abandoned that town and the insurgents, with eight cannon, advanced upon it November 24. Capiz is the capital of the province of the same name in the island of Panay. It is the residence of the Spanish governor, and has a population of over 11,000 people.

The Way of the Transgressor is Hard. Fergus Falls, Minn., Dec. 3.—Link Thayer, tried for holding up a Great Northern express train, November 10, was convicted by the jury last night, and was today sentenced to 30 years in the state prison, the full limit of the law.

QUESTION OF THE CAROLINES.

Germany is Trying to Get the Islands, and Spain is Standing the Americans Off.

Paris, Dec. 3.—There will be no joint session of the peace commission today, but the Americans had a three-hour meeting. A report from Berlin that Germany is negotiating for the Caroline Islands is confirmed from several quarters, although Count Von Munster-Landberg, the German ambassador here, said he knew nothing about the matter. The American commissioners are inclined to believe the report.

It is looked upon as explaining the reluctance of the Spaniards to give the Americans an answer in regard to the Carolines. Latest developments confirm the report that the Spaniards have been instructed not to yield until they had made a good bargain.

Bank Reports Called For.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The comptroller has called for the condition of the national banks at the close of business on Dec. 1.

GETTING WORSE AND WORSE.

Blizzard Blistered, Bleeding Kansas In for One of the Worst Storms of the Century.

Kansas City, Dec. 3.—The most severe snow storm of the season, accompanied by a heavy wind, prevails throughout western Missouri and Kansas. In southern Kansas the prospect is good for one of the worst storms ever encountered in the west. Telegraphic communication and traffic will be badly impaired.

Six Regiments for Cuba.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 3.—The 2nd division of the 7th corps is expected to get away to Cuba by the middle of next week. This division is composed of the 2nd Illinois, 161st Indiana, 1st North Carolina, 4th Virginia, 49th Iowa and 6th Missouri. In command of Major General Greene, now in Cuba selecting camp sites.

SAD TALE OF THE STORM.

British Steamer Drifting on Her Beam Ends, the Plaything of the Waves—No Life Visible.

Liverpool, Dec. 3.—The British steamer King Arthur, from Demavara, arrived here today, reported having sighted the British steamer Lodoniana November 23, on her beam ends, with hatches submerged. All her boats were gone except one small boat, and there was no sign of life about her. A strong gale was blowing and the vessel was apparently fast settling by the head. The Lodoniana sailed from Boston November 15 for London.

The Santa Fe Boycotts a Rival.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3.—The Santa Fe road has boycotted the Chicago & Great Western and issued a circular setting December 5 as the date for the boycott to take effect. It charges rate cutting as the reason.

KILLED FOR $300.

Saloon Keeper Shot, a Woman Gagged and Safe Blown Open for the Palmy Sum. Scranton, Pa., Dec. 3.—M. F. Corcoran, ex-postmaster of Duray, a small village in Luzern county, was shot and killed by burglars last night in his saloon, which adjoined his residence. His housekeeper was gagged and the safe blown open by burglars, who got away with $300.

THE CUBAN MUDDLE.

General Garcia and President McKinley Have a Quiet Conference Which Is Satisfactory to the Cubans.

Washington, Dec. 3.—As a result of General Garcia's call at the white house, the general called a conference of the Cuban commission and Cuban Representative Quesada today, to consider Cuban affairs in the light of the views exchanged during his meeting with the president. Garcia refuses to discuss the call. His associates maintain the same reticence except to declare it was of a satisfactory nature, the idea being that it is likely to pave the way to a better understanding all around.

DEALT IN BOGUS TIME CHECKS.

And Now He Has Ten Years to Think How He Might Have Spent His Life to Better Purpose.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3.—Charles Southall, whose dealings in fraudulent government time checks were said to have caused losses to firms and individuals all over the country aggregating $750,000, was sentenced today to the state prison for 10 years at hard labor. The specific charge was grand larceny.

VIOLATING THE GAME LAWS.

Game Warden Beaten by Indians Whom He Discovered with Deer Carcasses in Their Possession.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 3.—The game warden at Sauk Rapids met 14 Indians in the woods, and as each was carrying a deer carcass, he attempted to arrest them for having violated the game laws. In the fight that followed, the deputy was severely punished and his rifle taken from him. The Indians warned him against following them, declaring they would never be taken alive, and threatened to begin shooting the moment a posse appeared. Game Warden Fullerton has notified the authorities, and he will pursue the Indians with a posse, so serious trouble is feared.

Banks hold $17,097,850 in excess of requirements.

Very Transient Earthly Riches.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Jewelry and diamonds valued at $4,500, were stolen last night from the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Max. Blumenthal at the Great Northern hotel.

The Beautiful Keeps Piling Up.

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 3.—A violent snow storm has been raging here since early morning, and the railroad companies and street railways fear a general blockade.

Panama Canal in a Hole.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Consul Hart has notified the State department that the house of Representatives of Columbia had rejected the petition of the Panama canal company to extend for six years the time for completing the canal. The company still has six years to carry on the work.

OFFICIAL RASCALITY PUNISHED.

A City Attorney Who Aided His Predecessor in Stealing City's Funds is Sent to the Work House.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 3.—Ex-Assistant City Attorney House, on trial for aiding and abetting Mayor W. C. Moreland, a former city attorney, in embezzling $26,000 of the city funds, was found guilty today and sentenced to one year and 10 months in the county work house and fined $1,000. Moreland, who was sentenced to three years, was recently pardoned after serving 18 months.

New York Regiment for Cuba.

Athens, Ga., Dec. 3.—The 202nd New York leaves here tonight for Savannah.

REGULARS TO LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

Seven Regiments to Rendezvous at San Francisco Next Month Preparatory to Transfer to the Philippines.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 3.—Information received in this city show that several regiments of the United States army will in a few weeks embark for the Philippines. The order includes the 3rd Infantry now at Fort Snelling, Minn., the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 7th, 16th and 20th regiments, which are required to be prepared for prolonged foreign field service in the tropics outside of the United States. The regiments are ordered to rendezvous at San Francisco between January 1 and 12.

COULDN'T STIFLE HIS CONSCIENCE.

So He Walked Into a Police Station and Told Them All His Heart.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Thomas Beckwith, of Boston, walked into the Harrison street police station today and asked to be arrested. He confessed to embezzling $15,000 from Niles & Co., of Boston. His request was promptly complied with.

Beckwith had but $2.30 left of the $15,000, and said he chose to give himself up rather than commit suicide, which he first decided upon. The man cried like a child.

Later—in response to inquiries, the police received a message this afternoon from the Boston police, saying Beckwith, as far as they knew, was not a defaulter and had probably told his story to the Chicago police in order to be sent back to Boston free.

PURIFYING THE BAR

Prompt and Praiseworthy Action of the Cleveland Bar Association Reported.

ATTORNEY TO BE DISBARRED

Investigating Committee Also Finds a Judge Guilty of Connivance with the Lawyer to Pervert Justice for a Consideration.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—A report on the trial by the committee of the Bar Association on disbarment proceedings against Senator Vernon Burke, was presented at the special meeting this afternoon. The committee makes the following recommendation: First, that Vernon R. Burke be expelled from the Cleveland Bar Association; second, that the secretary be directed to present a copy of these findings to the committee on investigation, to be treated as a copy in writing, and authorizing such proceedings against Frank E. Dellenbaugh as they may deem proper; third, that the secretary of the association be directed to present a copy of this report to the circuit court of Cuyahoga county for such action as the court may deem proper.

The report says: "We find Judge Dellenbaugh, while acting as judge, introduced and sent Mr. Burke to Mrs. Edith Manning; that Burke performed services for her in connection with the settlement of the claim asserted by her against a woman for alienating her husband's affections, and in connection with the preparation and hearing of the divorce case against her husband, and that Burke received from Mrs. Manning for these services about $3,500, $1,100 of which was paid by him to Judge Dellenbaugh. The committee find Burke wrongfully connived and conspired with Judge Dellenbaugh to procure a divorce for Mrs. Manning in an irregular manner, contrary to law and without proper evidence, and in that he wrongfully conspired with Judge Dellenbaugh to falsify the record of the court of common pleas of Cuyahoga county."

Fresh Candies just received at Fischer & Co's.

Keep Coughing

We know of nothing better to treat the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up long enough and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, lying on a sofa and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption. Stop coughing and you will get well.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

It cures coughs of every kind. An ordinary cough disappears in a single night. The racking coughs of bronchitis are soon completely mastered. And, if not too far along, the coughs of consumption are completely cured. Ask your druggist for one of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster. It will aid the action of the Cherry Pectoral. If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly obtain, write us freely. You will receive a prompt reply that may be of great value to you. Address: DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

He Has Gone Home.

A. S. Ritchie, the insane consumptive from Sedalia, Mo., who made such a rumpus at the Bon-Ton hotel, and was afterwards put in charge of the city marshal for safe keeping, was taken home last night by his brother who came on the other day from Kansas City. During the snow storm of Saturday last, Ritchie sat down in the snow near the Exchange hotel and asked passers by to please have pity on a poor, blind man. As the temporary medicant had his eyes wide open, considerable comment was occasioned by this performance. Ritchie was subsequently kept in a room at the Claire hotel with a guardian until his brother could take him away.

According to the Citizen, the Missourian got "off the hooks" first in Albuquerque, and the police not knowing what to do with him, escorted him to the depot and had him buy a ticket for Santa Fe. It was of course very thoughtful in the Albuquerque police to dump this irresponsible person onto this city; and the next time they are moved to raise a wall because of the noisy, capricious, undesirable persons onto Albuquerque, it will be well for the Albuquerque authorities to bear this Santa Fe incident in mind.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 3.

The attitude of the Republican party of New Mexico has always been consistent on the question of the admission of the territory as a state. We favored the admission of the territory when the Democratic party was united in their opposition against it. We still favor its admission, believing that there is no good and substantial reason for keeping us out of the Union as a state and believe that this can best be accomplished by the election of a delegate to congress who is in harmony with Republican politics and principles—Republican Platform, New Mexico, 1898.

The Santa Fe board of trade should get together on the best sugar factory proposition and push it through to success. No other work the board can possibly take up will result in as much good to the city and surrounding country.

If the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain is to be signed in time to allow the two countries to celebrate Christmas in the proper spirit, being felt everywhere, President Diaz sees it; so do his cabinet ministers who with true intelligence and statesmanlike foresight realize that it is for the best interests of the country, and are extending all the aid possible to lift up their people and fit them for the future that is surely in store for them.

The evangel, the harbinger of this conquest is the American locomotive. When its whistle was heard on the western plains for the first time, the red man instinctively knew that it meant the termination of his nomadic existence; and it also told the desperado of the plains that westward the star of the empire was taking its way with a civilizing force and power that meant the establishment there of the principle that Order is Heaven's First Law. Barbarism, wild, unsettled social conditions and semi-civilization are swept away by the advent of the iron horse, and when its shrill note was heard south of the Rio Grande river, it was the welcome call for civilization and Anglo-Saxon enlightenment to follow in its train with their invigorating and ennobling influences. The response was prompt and effectual.

The peaceful invasion of Old Mexico by American enterprise slowly but steadily grew and waxed great. Americans penetrated regions hitherto unknown to them by money and commercial vigor, that eminent statesman President Diaz extended needed help, and the current soon became a vido stream and then a river, until now there are thousands and thousands of Americans with money, machinery and brains establishing and developing commercial enterprises clear to the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

It is too late to stay the tide, and the Mexican national administration would not stay that tide if it could. Railway lines now extend clear to Oaxaca; a ship railway has been planned across the isthmus, and the iron thread that is knitting together the interests of progress in all parts of the country is monthly becoming firmer and stronger. In short, Mexico is rapidly becoming Americanized. American ideas in all the various departments of business, in industrial, political, and religious and educational life are becoming more manifest as each year rolls around, and with the lifting of this ancient people from their old habits of shiftlessness, intellectual stupor and lack of enterprise, is coming the acquirement of those traits necessary for the appreciation of good citizenship.

The re-election of President Diaz was a great and valuable factor in this march of progress, but he is not willing to serve another term, and in a few years when he steps down from the position he has so long honored, the active indications of the approaching absorption of Old Mexico by this country will become more manifest. At least that is the opinion of many Americans south of the Rio Grande. With the disappearance of the firm hand that has for so many years guided the Mexican helm of state, there will come, it is generally believed, an unsettled state of affairs which will so involve American interests that this government cannot will refuse to interfere to protect them; and this will lead to further and further steps sure to culminate in a national absorption. With the colonial experience now being forced upon the United States, the American administration will be the better fitted in a few years to assimilate and properly control the present Mexican republic.

year through evasions of the letter of the law. By all means the coming session of the legislature should provide for the assessment of property where located; the increase in the amount of taxable property in New Mexico under the action of a provision of that kind will be a surprise to the oldest inhabitant.

It is not from a lack of property which is subject to taxation that the finances of the counties and territory are in straitened circumstances, but from the laxity of the laws regulating taxation and the enforcement of the payment of taxes after they have been levied. In this connection it is as well to speak of the item of exemption. There should be no exemption whatever; every person in the territory should contribute to the commonwealth in proportion to the property he possesses, and the exemption clause in the present law is a source of evasion and misrepresentation which cuts down the public revenues very materially.

The members of the 33d assembly owe it to themselves and the credit of the territory to so amend the laws that taxes will be fairly assessed and levied, and honestly paid. Tax dodgers are of no benefit to any country, and the sooner they are brought up with a round turn and made to bear their just proportion of the expenses of conducting the public affairs, the sooner will the credit of the different counties and of New Mexico be restored, and the payment of outstanding indebtedness begun.

Mexico's Future.

Late advice from the republic go to show that the time is not very far distant when Mexico will become an integral part of the United States; and the line may extend south of there. In fact, the United States need not wait for much time to elapse ere the conquest is made, for that process is even now going on. But it is a peaceful conquest, a commercial and industrial conquest, whose weapons are capital and machinery; and the hum of the latter at its industrial work, and the chink of the former as it is being scattered in countless directions in furthering and developing business enterprises, are as the rattle of musketry and the boom of cannon on the actual battlefield. American push, energy, vigor and thrift are permeating all parts of the old Aztec domain. American influence is being felt everywhere. President Diaz sees it; so do his cabinet ministers who with true intelligence and statesmanlike foresight realize that it is for the best interests of the country, and are extending all the aid possible to lift up their people and fit them for the future that is surely in store for them.

The evangel, the harbinger of this conquest is the American locomotive. When its whistle was heard on the western plains for the first time, the red man instinctively knew that it meant the termination of his nomadic existence; and it also told the desperado of the plains that westward the star of the empire was taking its way with a civilizing force and power that meant the establishment there of the principle that Order is Heaven's First Law. Barbarism, wild, unsettled social conditions and semi-civilization are swept away by the advent of the iron horse, and when its shrill note was heard south of the Rio Grande river, it was the welcome call for civilization and Anglo-Saxon enlightenment to follow in its train with their invigorating and ennobling influences. The response was prompt and effectual.

Railway lines now extend clear to Oaxaca; a ship railway has been planned across the isthmus, and the iron thread that is knitting together the interests of progress in all parts of the country is monthly becoming firmer and stronger. In short, Mexico is rapidly becoming Americanized. American ideas in all the various departments of business, in industrial, political, and religious and educational life are becoming more manifest as each year rolls around, and with the lifting of this ancient people from their old habits of shiftlessness, intellectual stupor and lack of enterprise, is coming the acquirement of those traits necessary for the appreciation of good citizenship.

The re-election of President Diaz was a great and valuable factor in this march of progress, but he is not willing to serve another term, and in a few years when he steps down from the position he has so long honored, the active indications of the approaching absorption of Old Mexico by this country will become more manifest. At least that is the opinion of many Americans south of the Rio Grande. With the disappearance of the firm hand that has for so many years guided the Mexican helm of state, there will come, it is generally believed, an unsettled state of affairs which will so involve American interests that this government cannot will refuse to interfere to protect them; and this will lead to further and further steps sure to culminate in a national absorption. With the colonial experience now being forced upon the United States, the American administration will be the better fitted in a few years to assimilate and properly control the present Mexican republic.

NEW MEXICO FOR STATEHOOD.

Plea for the Priceless Boon of American Citizenship. (Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 23.—To the Editor:—Over 50 years ago the people of New Mexico were segregated from the Mexican republic, therefore nearly all of the present population are native-born Americans. Since then millions of foreign-born men, with no better qualifications than they, have been admitted to the priceless boon of citizenship, while it has been denied to them. Twelve presidents and 24 congresses have been elected since the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed, but this people have not been permitted to participate in the proud privilege of voting for the candidates of their choice. Men situated in this way can not be said to be citizens at all; they are more wards of the government, living in a state of tutelage. I had almost said of servitude, but they have borne the humiliation with exemplary patience, desiring a better reward. Look for a moment at the inconsistency of this! If one of them moves into a neighboring state he becomes a citizen just as soon as he has lived there long enough to acquire a legal residence, but let him return home again, and, as if some blight had fallen on him, he falls back to his original condition, and may almost be called "a man without a country."

Certainly it never could have been the intention of the founders of the constitution that Americans should be condemned to live and die in this condition. It is repugnant to all our ideas of right and justice. One of the main causes of the revolution was "taxation without representation," and a seven years' war with all its attendant sufferings was considered a cheap price to pay for deliverance from such an unjust system; yet the people of New Mexico have for half a century been kept in just such a condition. They pay, and pay cheerfully, all the taxes other Americans pay; but representation they are unjustly deprived of the political blessings for which our fathers fought and died.

In the next congress another effort will be made to obtain the long-coveted boon of statehood, and from a Republican standpoint, they should not be disappointed. Although living in the midst of silver mines, at the last election they elected a Republican delegate by 2,500 majority, and an almost solid Republican legislature. If Republicanism is akin to patriotism, and I think it is, surely these people are deserving of proper recognition at the hands of their Republican brethren.

To make the case still stronger, I may add that in the counties which are largely inhabited by men of Spanish descent, the Republican majorities were the largest by all odds. It is not to be said that because some of them do not speak the English language that therefore they are unfit for citizenship, when millions of immigrants from Europe are also ignorant of that tongue, and continue to be so, and yet they are admitted to that right without question of any kind.

After a residence of some 15 years here, I can truly say that there are no more law-abiding people in the Union. The most marked improvements have been made in that time, the public schools are well attended, and English is taught in all of them. And what can hardly be said of any other people, during the hardest Democratic times no one ever saw a New Mexican tramp. They enjoy good times like the rest of us, but when adversity comes they bear it patiently, far more patiently than the rest of us. Any alien who fathers a child to the Mexican government has died out long ago, and they recognize no government but ours, to which they are loyal and true.

All they want is fair play and equal rights, and they will demonstrate their loyalty to be as good citizens as the best of Americans. The Inter-Ocean has always been distinguished for its justice to all classes of men, and I am sure it will not refuse it to us. A. L. MORRISON.

TERRITORIAL TOPICS

ALBUQUERQUE. Captain I. N. Horner has returned home after a four months' absence on the Atlantic coast.

The new railroad storehouse will be started as soon as the round house has been completed.

Noah Hild and wife will give a social reception at the San Felipe hotel Wednesday next.

A cigarette fiend has been stealing books from the schools and pawning them for money with which to keep himself in cigarettes. He has been arrested.

Mrs. M. J. Borden has been elected president of the children's home.

Mary C. Nones sued for divorce from her husband, Henry C., who is now in Denver.

LAS VEGAS. Milton H. Speer has removed to El Paso, where he will go into business.

Carl Howard, who is a soldier at Manila, writes his folks that he is out of the hospital after two months confinement there, having been shot through the lungs at the capture of Manila by the American forces.

Train Dispatcher P. Griselle, of San Marcial, has been transferred to this city to hold down the second track here.

Harold C. E. Spence, of Suffolk, Eng., and Miss Jane C. Grant, of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, have just been married here, where they will make their home.

A program is in preparation for the Christian Endeavor convention to be held at Las Vegas, December 29 and 30. Delegates will be present from all over the territory.

Duncan McDonald, son of J. B. McDonald, of Pueblo, has died near this city of small-pox.

The ladies of the city raised $700 for the poor on Thanksgiving day, besides provisions and clothing.

CHAVES COUNTY. P. L. Strauss has removed from Albuquerque to Roswell, where his daughters are living.

Otto Hedgecock, of Roswell, has completed a well 950 feet deep, giving 400 gallons per minute of fine soft water. He is building a reservoir to hold the surplus.

Roswell is now agitating a big hotel scheme, whereby winter visitors to the Pecos may be accommodated.

The erection of an ice plant at Roswell is interesting the entire southwestern part of the territory, on account of the convenience, and the prospects are that such a large business will be done all along the line of the Pecos Valley & Texas Pacific roads, that an enlargement of the plant will be called for. Mr. Rankin, of Albuquerque, is the projector.

W. M. Atkinson, manager of the Milne-Bush Land & Cattle Company, has returned to Roswell with 33 head of fine, registered Hereford cattle.

SAN JUAN COUNTY. Farmington's Agent has broken ground for a new church.

The price of hay in San Juan county is advancing on account of the large number of cattle being fed up there.

Miss Beattie Hickman, of Flora Vista, has gone to Shelbyville, Ky., where she has relatives, and where her younger

Scrofula to Consumption.

Any one predisposed to Scrofula can never be healthy and vigorous. This taint in the blood naturally drifts into Consumption. Being such a deep-seated blood disease, Swift's Specific is the only known cure for Scrofula, because it is the only remedy which can reach the disease.

Scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild when only 15 months old. Shortly after breaking out it spread rapidly all over her body. The scales on the arms would peel off of the slightest touch, and the odor that would arise made the atmosphere of the room sickening and unbearable. The disease next attacked the eyes, and gave her a fearful glare. Eminent physicians from the surrounding country were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent, and gave up the case as hopeless and incurable. It was then that we decided to try Swift's Specific. That medicine at once made a speedy and complete cure. She is now a young lady, and has never had a sign of the disease to return.

Mrs. Ruth Brinkley, Salina, Kan.

Scrofula is an obstinate blood disease, and is beyond the reach of the average blood medicine. Swift's Specific is the only remedy equal to such deep-seated diseases; it goes down to the very foundation and forces out every taint. It is purely vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no mercury, potash or other mineral substance whatever.

brother will attend school.

COLEMAN COUNTY. Bert Cobble, of Raton, a soldier in the territorial regiment, who has been sick at the hospital in Arizona, has returned home.

Hope lodge, No. 97, International Association of Machinists of Raton, will give a ball on the night of December 23.

Raton is to have a big dairy and cheese factory in the spring.

GRANT COUNTY. The Silver City postoffice has received authority from Washington to cancel pension checks.

James Brooks, awaiting trial in jail at Silver City on charge of murdering School Teacher Simmons at Cook's Peak, tried to suicide the other night by taking poison. He failed to take enough, and his life was saved.

A. A. Taylor and wife of Columbus, Colo., are visiting in Silver City with their niece, Miss Taylor.

Crescencio Valerio, who claims to be a Mexican citizen, was brought into El Paso the other day with his back full of buckshot. He claimed that he with several other pass travelers had built a fire near Cambray station, on the Southern Pacific, and were warming their shins with the same, when the Cambray station agent showed up on a hand car and ordered the outfit to move on. They were taking their own good time about obeying when the agent up, with a gun and let drive a load of buckshot into Valerio's back. The wounded man was put on the eastbound passenger train that presently came along, and brought to El Paso, where he is now in the Sisters' hospital. Mexican Consul Mallen has the matter in hand, and international complications may result.

GENERAL ITEMS. P. A. Ross, of the Santa Fe road at San Marcial, has gone to Winslow as private secretary to the master mechanic there.

There has been a tragedy at Dulce, the Jicarilla sub-agency. An Indian named Capulina was found dead two miles from town on November 22, with three stab wounds in his back; and three Indians are now under arrest for the murder. The unfortunate man was carried one mile after being killed, and thrown into an arroyo. The deed is supposed to have been done by blood avengers. Capulina being supposed to have slain an Apache squaw two years ago.

Gallup is excited over small-pox, as men sick with disease have been found walking about town, and there is no telling now who have been exposed to infection.

Fire marble is being shipped from the Alamogordo quarries.

The surveyors of the El Paso & Northeastern road are within 25 miles of the Salado coal fields.

Two Las Cruces had been hunting the other day, and got into a scuffle for the possession of the one gun they had. It went off in the scramble, and one of the boys was killed. The name of the boy killed is not known.

Porfirio Portio, of Tortugas, is dead from wounds received while carelessly handling a rifle. He got off his wagon to shoot a jack rabbit, and as his boy was handing him the gun, it went off with fatal results.

MINING NOTES. Foreman A. L. Hall of the Albemarle mine at Bland has returned from a trip to the Mercur mine in Utah. William Jenks has begun work on several fine properties in Colla canyon.

A tunnel is being run on the Aztec near Bland that will open the mine 100 feet lower than any of the other workings. The mill has been thoroughly repaired, and is running 20 stamps on 40 ore with several hundred tons on the dump and a three feet vein to draw from.

Machinery for the 150 ton mill to be built in the Timber Peak mining district must be hauled up the mountain from Socorro, where hitherto it has been thought hazardous for a saddle horse to go, and some of the pieces of machinery weigh 1,200 pounds. The enterprise is backed by Philadelphia capital, and no expense is being spared to expedite the construction. The ore ledges vary from 100 to 300 feet in thickness. The average value of the ore is not over $2.50 per ton, but it is so easily worked as to make its handling profitable.

The Montezuma Gold Mining and Placer Company, of Morino valley, have 25 men in their employ.

Five Miles up in the Air.

Two daring London aeronauts ascended five miles above the earth in a balloon and nearly froze to death. The temperature at that height was 61 degrees below zero. The men went in the interest of science, and while the actual benefit of their trip to humanity at large was considerable, it will not begin to equal the great good accomplished by the medical scientist who gave the world Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Nothing to equal this remedy has ever been discovered for ailments of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. The Bitters are the best remedy for indigestion, biliousness, coated tongue, bad breath, sleeplessness and nervousness. They strengthen the brain, the body, the nerves. They brace up the despondent and cheer the invalid.

Patriotic to the End.

Al, said the murderer, mounting the scaffold and examining the noose: Manila rope, I see. That's good. I like to encourage American industries.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it? Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Some Women's Way.

Good Boy—Mother says I can't go out on my bicycle this afternoon; I've got to stay in the house.

Bad Boy—Aw, shucks! dat's the way wid some women. They'd sooner have der kids grow up ter be reconstrados dan Rough Riders.—Judge.

Mr. Hardin Norris, clerk of the drug store of R. Shoemaker, Perry, Ill., says: "A man came into our store the other day and said, 'I want a bottle of that stuff that saves children's lives.' I read in the News about it. The children may get sick when we can not get the doctor quick enough. It's the medicine you sell for croup." He alluded to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and bought a bottle before he left the store. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

One Noble Aim.

The only objection I have against the young man, my dear child, is that he has no noble ambition—no high or worthy object in life.

Why, papa, how can you say that? He wants me!—Chicago Tribune.

Pains in the chest, when a person has a cold indicate a tendency toward pneumonia. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the chest over the seat of the pain will promptly relieve the pain and prevent the threatened attack of pneumonia. This same treatment will cure a lame back in a few hours. Sole by A. C. Ireland.

Too Bad.

Fond Parent—What is the matter, Bobby? You don't generally keep on crying after your father has given you a beating.

Bobby—I know it. But he says I've got to sit down and think it over. Before I've always stood up and forgotten it.—Life.

The Difference.

The friend of the actress had been looking through her jewel case.

Am I understand, she asked, that these jewels are worth $100,000.

Not while they are in my possession, answered the actress frankly. They are only worth $1,000 or $5,000 now. It is when my press agent has them stolen that they are worth $100,000.

SPEECH.

Talk happiness. The world is sad enough without your woes. No path is wholly rough. Look for the places that are smooth and clear.

And speak of those to rest the weary ear Of earth, so hurt by one continuous strain Of human discontent and grief and pain.

Talk faith. The world is better off without Your uttered ignorance and morbid doubt. You have faith in God or man or self. Say so; if not, push back upon the shelf Of silence all your thoughts till faith shall come.

No one will grieve because your lips are dumb.

Talk health. The dreary, never changing tale Of mortal maladies is worn and stale. You cannot charm or interest or please By harping on that minor chord, disease. Say you are well or all is well with you, And God shall hear your words and make them true.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Woman's Home Companion.

END OF A ROMANCE.

November's raw air warned negligent householders that it was time to lay in their winter's supply of coal, and everywhere up and down the wind swept length of the city's residence streets rattling coal troughs barred the pedestrian's path and discharged their black torrents into insatiable sidewalk sinks. Mrs. Matthews, who lived on quiet but highly select Prospect street, had ordered ten tons of coal put into her cellar, and the first installment had arrived—a two ton load—got to the crest of the steep, narrow street by much hard pulling on the part of the horses and stentorian shouting on the part of their Irish driver.

"Mr. Coal Man!" cried Mrs. Matthews from the up stairs bay window. "Be sure you close the coal scuttle when you go. Don't leave it open. It is so large somebody might fall in."

"Yis, mum," assented the driver, raising his grimy face and smiling in the dazling way that distinguishes coal heavers and negroes. Then, with a servile as subserviently unconscious as that of inanimate objects themselves he went away when he had finished his task, leaving the iron lid of the scuttle leaning against the side of the house.

Three or four minutes later a small, dapper, nicely dressed young man stepped out of the street door next to the Matthews' and turned to make his final adieu to a lady, slightly faded, but still young, who had accompanied him to the threshold. He backed away, bowing and holding his hat politely and jauntily a few inches above his head. Just as the final "Thank you; goodbye!" had escaped his lips and the door had closed upon the lady the young man whirled around, hovered for a fatal, strenuous instant upon the yawning edge of the coal hole and disappeared! Mr. Dennis Murphy, happening to turn his head at the same moment and beholding the sudden ingulfment of the young gentleman, uttered but the two words, "Howly murder!" and lashing his steeds into clumsy, galloping flight disappeared with terrific clatter down the cobbles paved hill.

But Mr. Murphy was not the only witness of the tragic disappearance of the young man who had emerged from 53. Miss Minerva Matthews had stopped for a moment at the little table in the bay window to get a book of verse, from which she wished to make a quotation. At the precise moment, when she laid her hand upon the volume, her eyes, carelessly lifted after the unobtrusive manner of one in deep thought, beheld a young man sink apparently into the earth, directly in front of the quiet, respectable house in which she and her mother and her maiden aunt kept themselves aloof from the world.

Miss Minerva did not scream. She simply said, "Mother!" But the manner in which she uttered that word was infinitely more startling than any articulate outcry could possibly have been.

Mrs. Matthews came scurrying out of her room with a face as closely approximating an animated interrogation point as might well be.

"Mother! A man has just fallen into our coal scuttle!"

Mrs. Matthews gasped convulsively and collapsed into a chair. Twice she tried to frame articulate words, but the shock had been too great. She could only choke and clinch and unclinch her slender, transparent hands. If those same delicate hands could have closed just then upon the brawny throat of Mr. Dennis Murphy, they would have left him little breath indeed for protestation.

Minerva saw that her mother was practically helpless for the time being, and that whatever was to be done in the emergency must be done by herself. Even at the height of the second story she could hear the unwilling and unwelcome intruder blundering and stumbling and rattling about in the dark coal bin as he aimlessly sought some egress. "I will go down to him, mother. I will explain!" she cried. "Oh, the carelessness of that detestable coal man!"

Miss Minerva Matthews fled down stairs as fast as she could go. But as she opened the door at the head of the cellar stairway she stopped for a moment and shuddered from head to foot. It was like the initial plunge of the swimmer into cold water. After that the worst of the terrible shrinking was over. She picked up her skirts and darted down into the twilight of the cellar.

The coal bin was a large one and was boarded up to within a foot or two of the beams overhead. There was a vertically sliding door in sections, two of which—there were three of them—had been dropped into place ere the arrival of the coal. The big bin was therefore practically "a tight box," and the young man who had fallen into it, not understanding its construction, was most securely imprisoned. It was vastly to his credit (so Minerva thought) that he did not raise a terrible outcry, demanding to be released. Surely he must be a young man of the best breeding to confine himself so considerably to uncomplimentary excursions around the coal heap!

The young lady flew to the bin and removed the top section of the door. As she did so she found herself face to face with a most woebegone, snatched, demoralized and bewildered young man. For a moment the two young people stared at each other speechlessly. Then, as if moved by a simultaneous impulse, both spoke:

"Oh, I am so sorry!"

"I beg your pardon most humbly for my carelessness."

Then they both laughed weakly. Minerva snatched the remaining section of the door away, and the young man slid tottering out upon the cellar floor, with a small avalanche of released coal.

"It was all our fault!" cried Minerva. "We ought to have watched that wretched coal man and seen that he put the cover over the scuttle."

"No, it was my fault," objected the young man. "I ought to have had my eyes about me. I had no business to be walking backward on the street. I— but, really, Miss!"

"Matthews," interposed Minerva, noting his questioning hesitation.

"Really, Miss Matthews," looking at his grimy hands and besetted linen, "I feel so disgustingly dirty that I am going to ask you for the love of humanity to get me an old pan or basin to wash this stuff off."

"Come right up stairs," said Minerva pityingly.

"No, no! I might encounter somebody—beg your pardon for the seeming insinuation. But, you know, I had to encounter you, and I feel toward you a sense of gratitude for my deliverance that overrides all other feeling. Isn't there a laundry tub or something where I could make a preliminary toilet?"

Minerva led the way into the basement laundry, where there were set tubs, running water and plenty of soap. "I'll run up stairs for towels," she said, and so made a timely escape with the geysers of laughter that was gushing up in her throat. She fled into the kitchen closet, shut the door tight and collapsed, with the cook's old wrapper pressed against her face. "Oh, I'm so glad auntie isn't home today, or Katharine!" she gasped. "What would they do, the hysterical dears!" She writhed in a fit of suppressed laughter for a minute or two, and then broke forth and darted up stairs for the towels. Mrs. Matthews met her at the head of the stairs.

"Don't speak a word to me, mother," panted Minerva. "Don't; I shall explode!"

She dashed into the bathroom, caught up a couple of towels and sped down cellar again.

The laundry was empty. The outside basement door, standing ajar into the little back yard, told the story. The young man had fled.

Minerva mechanically gathered up a pair of unimportant cuffs that had rolled under the shadow of the tubs. Their jewelry was of the most modern kind—smoked pearl—but the linen was fine in texture and quality. "I guess he must have been a gentleman as far as he went," mused the girl. She turned the cuffs this way and that and peered inside, but there was no name, no clue.

Then, with that wonderfully swift, prophetic intuition of a woman, Minerva Matthews sighed and exclaimed under her breath:

"Poor Miss Atherton!"

It was Miss Atherton who lived next door.—Portland Transcript.

Wildcat on Toast.

There is no accounting for tastes. What suits the palate of one may be little esteemed by another. An English traveler and sportsman had recommended to him when he was in Morocco a variety of game which he would not be very keen for at home. His informant was a soldier, for no foreigner is allowed to travel in that country without such attendance.

He began telling marvelous stories of the game in the neighborhood of the sultan's army and of his own importance. One remark on cooking—for he was a gourmand—was worth repeating.

"There is," he said, "only one kind of game worth eating in Morocco—wildcat. Its taste is as the taste of all other varieties of game mixed. When once you have tasted wildcat, never will you eat anything again with pleasure."

Probably not. I should think it enough to poison most people, but I dared not say so. I merely proposed in a weak voice that I preferred old stewed with mustard and sand. He said that ought to be good, too, but he had never tried it.

Why He Didn't Swear.

On the night of the "harbor fête" at Newport John Kendrick Bangs and his little boy stood near a group of army officers and ladies. One of the torches illuminating the parapet went out during the evening. A girl in the group said the light next the darkened one should be put out, too, as it looked lonely without its mate. One of the young officers at once acted upon her suggestion, but in extinguishing the torch burned his finger. He bit his lips and said nothing. Mr. Bangs' small son looked on in astonishment. "Papa," he said, "isn't that man an officer?"

"Yes."

"Then, papa, why didn't he swear?"

"Because, my son," said the father, "he is either a chaplain or a second lieutenant. If a chaplain, it would not be proper for him to do so, and if a second lieutenant he does not know how."

—Argonaut.

Wanted. Husbands.

"H'm!" said the policeman. "I guess well have to investigate this."

"No, sir," exclaimed the cynical citizen whose house had been broken into, "I don't want any investigation. What I want is for you to jump in and find out in a hurry who did it!"—Washington Star.

Moralists may prate, and doctors prose, and science shout from the housetop, but just so long as the birds sing and the flowers bloom, and a maiden's lips are cherry-red, and a young man's eyes look love just so long the lady and her lover will kiss—and kiss again.

And where, good men, is the harm if the kissers and kissers be healthy, and true love stands sponsor. It is only when ill-health has blasted the sweet cleanliness of youth that death lurks upon its lips. The deadly germs of dread consumption are as harmless as June-time butterflies to the young man or woman who is thoroughly clean, sweet and healthy in every fiber and tissue. The germs of disease only attack that which is already partly decayed.

There is a great medicine that is a sure and certain protection against all germs and a speedy cure for all germ diseases. It is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It gives youthful zest to the appetite. It corrects all faults of the digestion. It aids assimilation. It fills the blood with the vital, life-giving elements of the food. It builds sweet, clean, healthy tissues in every part of the body. It drives out all disease germs. It cures 98 percent of all cases of bronchial, throat and lung affections if taken in time. All good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

Mr. Jos. Henderson Dirblin, of 544 Josephine Street, New Orleans, La., writes: "I was suffering for some two years, suffering from dyspepsia, tired feeling, and loss of energy and appetite. I tried one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and found great relief. I took two more bottles, three in all, and one or two vials of the 'Pellets,' when I was in good health again. I recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to all to whom it is claimed to do."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them. No other pills are "just as good."

THE SMOOTHEST TRAIN IN THE UNITED STATES.

On Sunday, November 29, the Burlington Route made a radical change in the schedule of the Chicago Special, its finest and fastest Denver-Chicago train. Hereafter, this train has left Denver in the morning—immediately after the arrival of D. & R. G. and Colorado Midland trains from the west. It now leaves at 1:40 p. m., arriving at Omaha in time for breakfast next morning, and at Chicago at 8:15 p. m. the same day. In other words, it runs 1,016 miles in 29½ hours—an average rate of speed of about 36 miles an hour. There are not half a dozen long-distance trains in the United States which are scheduled faster than 36 miles an hour. And there is not one—not a single one—which has as good a record as the Chicago Special for being "on time all the time."

The equipment of the Chicago Special consists of one sleeping car, one dining car, one library and two chair cars. The cars are of the newest design, and have been in service less than six months. All of them have the new wide vestibule, and are lighted with Pintsch gas. The sleeper is upholstered in peacock-blue, and contains twelve sections and a drawing-room. The toilet rooms are unusually roomy—a circumstance to which much of the train's popularity is due.

In each of the two reclining-chair cars are seats for 56 persons, ladies' and gentlemen's toilet-rooms (with soap, marble wash-basins, comb, brush, towels, and an abundance of water, both hot and cold), and a smoking-room upholstered in leather.

Of the eleven dining-cars operated by the Burlington Route, none is finer than that on the Chicago Special. It is as bright as a new pin. The linen is spotlessly clean, the service is prompt, and on every table is a gorgeous bouquet of American Beauty roses, one of which the waiter affixes to your coat when you have finished your meal. Best of all, the a-la-carte plan prevails—you only pay for what you order.

The library car is the men's favorite retreat. It is a veritable club-house on wheels, a place where comfort reigns supreme, and where the necessity for exerting one's self is reduced to a minimum. If you want anything—today's paper, the monthly magazine, a cigar, a bottle of apollinaris, or a pillow—press a button and the smiling attendant brings it to you.

The Denver Republican calls the Chicago Special the "smoothest train in the United States." The phrase describes it to a nicety. It is a smooth train—inside and out. Its furnishings are in admirable taste, and the track over which it glides is perfection itself. Fortunate is the traveler who goes east on it. Kings fare no better when they travel, than he.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Governor Otero is again suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his room.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin, of Taos, returned home this morning after an enjoyable trip to the Capital city.

Miss Annie Nowell, of Rio Grande, who has been visiting in this city with friends, returned home this morning.

Misses Edna and Cretta McBride, of Espanola, returned home this morning after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Bishop, of this city.

Judge McFie, who is in the southern part of the territory on legal business, will spend Sunday with his family in Las Cruces.

Mrs. J. D. Hughes, who left for Los Angeles Thursday afternoon, will remain in that city for several weeks the guest of relatives.

Hon. T. R. Catron left for Washington last night, where he will be securing statutes for New Mexico. Mr. Catron will be absent until about the first of the year.

Hon. Charles F. Easley returned last night from Harrisonville, Mo., where he was called some time since by the fatal illness of his mother. She fell and broke her hip which resulted in death after three weeks' suffering.

Atanasio Romero, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Oyedea, went to Espanola this morning to spend Sunday with relatives. During Mr. Romero's absence the probate clerk's office will be in charge of Patrocinio Lopez.

Hon. and Mrs. Bernard Seligman returned from Philadelphia and other eastern cities last Wednesday night, after an absence of several months, and express themselves as well satisfied to be back in the Capital city once more.

Secretary E. C. Abbott, of the Taos county Republican committee, and wife returned home this morning over the Rio Grande after a pleasant visit in this city. Mr. Abbott is a rising young attorney in his part of the country, and is well thought of.

The Young Folks' whist club met with Miss McKenzie last Tuesday evening and passed one of the most pleasant evenings in the history of the club. There were present the Misses Weir, Staab, Palen, Hurt and Keller; the Messrs. Pearsall, Brann, Schuch, Staab, Bartlett, Pope, Hardinge, and Gortner.

The Ladies' soldiers aid society will meet at 4:30 p. m., on Monday next, when officers will be elected. An overwhelming attendance is urgently requested. Send proxies if you can't attend yourself. It is rumored that hot chocolate and wine cake will be served, though this report can not be traced to a reliable source.

Hon. Juan Santistevan, chairman of the Republican committee of Taos county, and well known as a merchant and banker, returned home over the narrow gauge this morning after a few days' visit in this city. Mr. Santistevan is a pillar of strength in the political fabric of his county, and has for years been regarded with respect and esteem by his fellow citizens.

Colonel W. H. Whiteman will leave the first of the week for Chicago, where he will attend a meeting of the Interstate National Guard Association, composed of the adjutant generals of the different states and territories. He will be absent about ten days, and on his return will be accompanied by Mrs. Whiteman, who has been in Danville, Ill., the past two months.

The Brehany concert last night in the district court room was listened to with marked enjoyment by a drowsy audience that filled the auditorium. Owing to the lateness of the train, the troupe were unable to begin until nearly 9 p. m., and it was 11:15 before "the curtain fell." It is very good all round company who furnish an enjoyable evening, and if their performance elsewhere are up to last night's mark, they deserve pleasant notices wherever they may go.

Miss Pringle, the charming young violinist, Mr. Dethlefs the baritone and Mons. Sauvet, the excellent pianist, deserve a special mention, the latter bearing a strong resemblance to the late lamented Anton Sedl. Misses Brehany, the dramatic soprano, and Miss Waters, the mezzo soprano, were also well received, and responded to encores. They were elegantly gowned, and Miss Waters in a cute encore song seemed to cry in the more romantic sensibilities of the male part of her audience. The violinist brought out a sweet, pure tone from her instrument, and her technique and general execution were commendable. The scene from Martha was well given, both vocally, and dramatically considering the poverty of stage accessories. Manager Thearle, of the concert agency at Chicago, is with the troupe.

Fresh vaccine at Fischer's.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair tonight and Sunday; colder Sunday morning.

Presiding Elder Morrison will preach at both services in the Methodist church tomorrow; the other services as usual.

A. Menet, of the Brown & Manzanares Company, went north this morning over the narrow gauge to Taos on business.

The New Mexican is in receipt of daily inquiries for rooms and board from members of the legislature and others who expect to spend the winter in Santa Fe.

Julian Ortiz, the Pojoaque merchant, spent the day in Santa Fe buying goods for his establishment. Mr. Ortiz reports business good in his part of the county and looks for a large trade for the coming year.

Yesterday the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 39 degrees, at 1:00 p. m.; minimum, 21 degrees, at 7:30 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 30 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 42 per cent.

Said a prominent railroad man this morning: "If the Santa Fe had in the first place built through the canons direct from Las Vegas to Santa Fe ere going south to Albuquerque, it would have cost more than its present line at the outset; but the latter cost would have been a great deal less, as the present cost of maintenance on account of wash-outs is much greater than had the line gone in the other direction."

Next Saturday the football team from the government Indian school at Albuquerque will come to this city to play the team at the government Indian school here. The game will be played on the St. Michael's college grounds and will be one of interest and excitement to the spectators. The Indian boys of both schools are practicing faithfully for the event, and the game will be hotly contested from start to finish. Full particulars as to players, positions and time will be published next week.

Acting upon the advice of the city physician, Dr. Knapp, the school board has closed the schools until the first week in January. While there is no immediate danger of contagion from smallpox, it is thought best to close the schools for a time and thus remove all danger, so far as the children are concerned. While at the present time there is no smallpox in the city, there are cases in the surrounding country, and the better part of wisdom dictates that no chances should be taken by opening the schools until the country districts are well rid of the disease. The school board has acted wisely in the matter ever since the city has been threatened with the disease, and the determination to keep the schools closed until after the holidays, at least, will meet with the approval of every one in the city.

Grant Rivenburg has purchased the Preston property on Palace avenue now occupied by Captain S. H. Day. The purchase price is reported to be $4,500, and Mr. Rivenburg is to be congratulated upon securing for a home one of the finest residence properties in the city at so low a price. It is fortunate that the place should pass into his hands, since under his management the property will be placed in thorough repair and made one of the show places of Santa Fe.

The scare of the Denver Times over Engineer Harroun's mission to Colorado proves a veritable mare's nest. Mr. Harroun laughs at his doing what the Times' reportorial mind figured out he was intending to do with his data, and says nothing was further from his intentions than to institute suits in the United States courts against the state of Colorado for using so much of the waters of the Rio Grande.

The funeral of the late Henry Ostrander, of the 1st California volunteers, was held at 1:30 today from Wagner's undertaking parlors. There was a good attendance, and quite a procession followed the remains to the national cemetery. The funeral of Jesus Herrera, another veteran, was held this morning from the cathedral and interred by Director Wagner in the national cemetery.

J. A. Gallagher, the Kansas City drug man, went up the narrow gauge this morning on his tour through Colorado and the immediate eastern states. He says business through the Middle Western states particularly is improving, and there are few complaints in New Mexico. The general commercial outlook is vastly improved over the situation a year ago.

The board of county commissioners will be in session next Thursday for the purpose of appointing judges for the election of justices of the peace and constables, which will be held the second Monday in January, and to attend to such other business as may be brought to the attention of the board.

The Louise Brehany Ballad and Opera Company of seven people arrived last night from Las Vegas, and registered at the Palace hotel. They left this afternoon for Albuquerque, where they appear in concert this evening.

Gus Johnson and Chas. McIlvain, two El Paso sheep dealers, returned last evening from the north, where they have been contracting for sheep. They stopped at the Bon Ton, and left for home on this afternoon's train.

The advent of the Santa Fe into San Francisco is being received with general rejoicings, as it is apparent now that California's servitude to the Southern Pacific is nearing the end. California has no love for Collis P.

Dr. Williams, of Philadelphia, one of the proprietors of the Baldwin locomotive works, and family have just passed through the territory in a handsome private car en route to the doctor's fine residence at Santa Barbara.

Mrs. McDonald, of Richmond, Mo., who spent three months in this city this last summer and fall trying to regain her health, died at her home on Thanksgiving day.

J. B. Crowds, the St. Louis pickle man, came up from the south last night, where he has been doing good business, and is registered at the Palace hotel.

Attorney O. A. Larrazola, of Las Vegas, formerly district attorney at El Paso, is in town for the day, and is registered at the Claire.

Daniel Carter, a civil war veteran, and an old timer in New Mexico, is in the city from his home in Glorieta. He stops at the Bon Ton.

The mercury dropped last night down to 12 degrees above zero, the lowest this season; but today it was moderated. The wind of yesterday has diminished to a cold breeze, and there are hopes of relief shortly from the cold snap.

G. R. Dawson, of St. Louis, representing the Star plug people, arrived last night from the east, and stopped at the Palace hotel.

H. Masterson, of Lafayette, Ind., is a health seeker in this territory, and while in town is a guest at the Exchange.

Pedro Tixer and Abraham Garcia, of Bueros, are in town on business, and are registered at the Exchange.

The coal famine is ended, and large consignments are now being sent out in all directions from the mines.

W. C. Lyle, a traveling man from Denver, is in town on business and registered at the Palace.

L. P. Curtis, of Denver, representing Collier's Weekly, is a guest at the Palace.

Brother Julian has so far recovered from his illness at the sanitarium that he returns today to his college duties. There is talk of holding a territorial militia encampment in the spring.

F. W. Dudley, of Howell, Mich., is a guest at the sanitarium.

Professor Porez' band will render the following musical program in the plaza tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the weather permitting:

March—The Famous Cadet.....Schleiffarth
Overture—Living Pictures.....Dahley
Waltz—Josephine.....Rose
March—Ta-ra-ra Boom-de-ay.....L. O. DeWitt
Mexican Dance—Los Xarabales.....
Mexican Schottische—Isabel.....F. H. Rollinson
Galaop—18 to 1.....F. H. Rollinson

Flow's Celebrated Taffies at Fischer & Co's.

Engraved Calling Cards.

Polite usages of society require that engraved calling cards should be used. The New Mexican can furnish all the latest designs and styles on short notice. For Christmas nothing is more acceptable to the ladies than calling cards. Call on or address the New Mexican for styles and prices.
