OJO CALIENTE

(HOT SPRINGS.)

THESE Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Barranca Station on the Denver Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages runs to the Springs. The temperature of these waters is from 90° to 125°. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. These waters contain 1,882.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon; being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficacy of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attested to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Consumption, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilis, and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, Le Gripe, all Female Complaints, etc. Board, Lodging and Bathing, $2.50 per day. Reduced rates given by the month. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 10:38 a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 5 p. m. the same day. Fare for the round trip from Santa Fe to Ojo Caliente, $7. The Kansas Buckwheat Legislature Has Got Into a Fine Muddle by Their Haste.

A FICTITIOUS EMERGENCY

Governor Leedy Has Summoned His Seedy Council to Hunt for a Loophole—Railroads Will Make a Warm Fight.

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 2.—The Populist leaders in Kansas are confronted by a serious problem. Both branches of the legislature passed a railroad bill which the paper it is written on. It was announced today that Governor Leedy had signed the bill, but it turns out that he went to his home at Lawrence without doing so, and his failure to approve of it is prompted by a desire to confer with a steering committee with a view to a change in the bill, and its reenactment under suspension of the rules. The constitution gives the governor power to assemble the legislature in extraordinary session when a grave emergency demands; and the "emergency" set forth in Governor Leedy's call, was the necessity of railroad legislation. Now the legislature has passed a bill which does not meet this "emergency" until the first Monday in April next, one month after the regular session of the legislature shall have adjourned. The railroads intend fighting the new law on this ground, and have announced they will carry the matter to the United States supreme court. They will contend that no emergency exists, and if it did exist, the new law should have been made operative at once. The railroads will also contend the title is not broad enough to cover its purposes.

Insane Through Grief.

Pana, Ill., Jan. 2.—Through grief over the death of his only sister who died in his arms, Thomas Kieley, aged 30, threw himself in front of a Big Four train today, and was ground to pieces.

"SOLOMON IN ALL HIS GLORY," ETC.

Brilliant New Year's Reception at the White House With Choice Music from the Marine Band.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President McKinley held New Year's reception today, when the U. S. Marine band in brilliant scarlet uniforms, made a fine showing and rendered appropriate music. The decorations were entirely floral. Shortly after 10:30, the members of the cabinet with their families began to arrive, and closely following them were the ladies selected to assist Mrs. McKinley. Following the members of the cabinet came the ladies invited, behind the receiving line. Then came the diplomatic corps, ambassadors, ministers and suites in gorgeous uniforms and decorations characteristic of foreign representation.

Four striking military figures headed the army and navy callers, Major General Miles, Major General Shafter, Major General Lawton, Brigadier General Corbin. For two hours the continuous handshaking passed without any unpleasant occurrence. Mrs. McKinley remaining seated most of the time. The greetings extended to her were particularly heartfelt, some callers bending to kiss her hand as they passed.

Kansas City's New Auditorium.
Kansas City, Jan. 2.—Kansas City's new great public building, Convention Hall, was completed today. The building, which will seat 10,000 people, and is one of the largest in the country, was erected by popular subscription, and through other means of raising the money.

WAS FORCED TO LEAVE HER.

British Steamer Left Helpless in the Heavy Seas, and Her Fate Uncertain.

Queenstown, Jan. 2.—The British steamer Newby, from Philadelphia, arrived here today, reported having met the British steamer Dart, Captain Clark, from Philadelphia, for London, on December 2, with her propeller carried away. The Newby towed the Dart for an hour, after which the hawser parted. Although the Newby stood by for 27 hours, she was unable to get another hawser on board, owing to the terrific weather prevailing, and for her own safety was obliged to proceed, leaving the Dart in a helpless condition.

MORE TROUBLE AT PANA.

An Outbreak is Liable to Occur at Any Moment, and Involve a Heavy Loss of Life.

Pana, Ill., Jan. 2.—The reported massing in Pana of a thousand union-miners from Centralia and southern Illinois towns today, to drive out the negro miners, failed to materialize. Lieutenant Colonel Wells has a heavy provost guard on duty and a Gatling section is ready for any outbreak. Many arrests of negroes have been made on charges of carrying concealed weapons. The mine operators today notified Sheriff Downey that they would sign no more bonds, consequently the county jail is being rapidly filled. Add Callinville.

Several thousand spectators are watching the conflagration, among them the wives, sisters and children of men below, who are weeping bitterly. The Chicago & Alton tracks are blocked by burning timbers and twisted iron. Superintendent Bartels estimates the loss at $25,000. The supply of coal on hand was small, owing to heavy foreign shipments, so that Callinville is threatened with a coal famine. The company will rebuild, as the plant is a valuable one.

Later—The men were finally released from the mine unharmed. A suit will follow between the city and the water company, as this is the second large fire caused by the failure of the company to supply water.

HAYANA AMERICAN!

After Centuries of Spanish Misrule and Cruelty, Cuba Has Become American Soil.

WASHINGTON IS NOTIFIED

Ceremonies Attendant on the Transfer Successfully Carried Out—Old Glory Flies from Moro Castle and the Palace.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The following cablegram relative to transferring Spanish sovereignty in Cuba to the Americans and raising the United States flag has been received: "Havana, Jan. 1.—To the president, Washington.—The government has formally surrendered by General Castellanos to the American commission at 12 o'clock, and by the latter transferred to General Brooke. The ceremonies were successfully carried out. The American flag flies from Moro Castle, Cabanas, the Palace and other buildings. The city is orderly. Wade, Chairman."

One company in an Indiana regiment waved Cuban flags during the parade yesterday. Investigation showed that the flags were given them by Cubans in the crowd and as the act of waving them was thoughtless, and not prearranged, the men were not arrested. Twenty-five Cuban horsemen, well mounted and armed, joined the column at the Prado and rode to Central Park. They aroused considerable enthusiasm. Three blue jackets from the Texas yesterday rowed to the wreck of the Maine and hoisted a large star and stripes to the peak of the wreck. The flag was saluted by shipping in harbor.

Twenty members of the Junta Patriotica, in evening dress, stood with the reviewing generals yesterday.

JACK THE RIPPER GUILLOTINED.

Noted French Murderer and Moral Pervert Loses His Head in Execution of a Chain of Murders.

Paris, Jan. 2.—Joseph Vacher, the French "Jack the Ripper," was guillotined at Bourghon-Bresse this morning, simulating insanity to the last. Vacher was 29 years old, and is known to have brutally murdered four boys, six girls and an old widow. Most of his victims were tending herds when Vacher came up behind them, cut their throats and mutilated their bodies.

In defense, it was pointed out that when a young teacher was bitten by a mad dog. The village herbalist gave him some medicine, after drinking which he developed a passion for human blood.

HAVANA IS QUIET.

Cubans Have Swallowed Their Disappointment at Brooke's Attitude, and Will Wait Till Next Month for a Celebration.

Havana, Jan. 2.—The city is quiet. The address of the Junta Patriotica, counselling people to accept the situation and by their conduct to show their ability to influence the future of the island, had a marked effect. The disappointment among the Cubans is undeniable, but they are controlling themselves better than was expected. A suggestion that a celebration be held in February, on the fourth anniversary of the beginning of the revolution, has been accepted as a salve for the present soreness and will give an outlet for the feelings now restrained.

Havana people are in a joyful mood today, in spite of disappointment at the postponement of festivities. The city is tranquil. Americans are now conducting the telegraphs, customs, post-offices, in fact, all public business, with Spanish and Cuban employees. Generals Brooke and Ludlow see many prominent Cubans. As the civil police is slowly formed, American troops will be sent into the country.

Cable Concession Disapproved.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Secretary Hay has disapproved of the Strymer Hawaiian cable concession.

ROOSEVELT INAUGURATED.

He Promises to Administer His Official Duties with An Eye Single to the Public Weal.

Alban, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Theodore Roosevelt was inaugurated governor of New York today. The ceremony was witnessed by a great crowd gathered in the assembly hall of the capitol. Preceding the inauguration there was a civic and military parade. Bishop Doane offered prayer. Secretary of State McKim administered the oath of office to the governor-elect, after which ex-Governor F. S. Black welcomed his successor. In his address Governor Roosevelt said: "It shall be my purpose, as far as I am given strength, to administer my office with an eye single to the welfare of all the people of this great commonwealth."

MONTANA LEGISLATURE

Organized by Electing Officers, and Ballot-ing for Senator Will Be Held in Ten Days.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 2.—The legislature met at noon today and organized by electing T. P. Cullen, of Dawson county, president pro tem of the senate, and H. C. Stiff, of Missoula county, speaker of the house.

Balloting for senator will not take place in ten days. Prominent candidates are W. A. Clark, of Butte; ex-State Senator Matts, of Anaconda, who represents the Daily element; W. G. Conrad, of Cascade county. Indications point to a deadlock for some time.

MINE CATASTROPHE

Tipple and Top Works of An Illinois Coal Mine Burned This Morning.

80 MEN MAY BE SMOTHERED

Heroic Efforts Being Made to Rescue the Unfortunates from a Living Tomb—Favorable Wind Is Aiding the Work.

St. Louis, Jan. 2.—A special from Carlinville, Ill., to the Post Dispatch, says that at 8:45 a. m., today, the tippie and top works of the Carlinville coal shaft just out side the town, took fire, and burned so fiercely they seemed from the start no chance saving them from total destruction. Between 70 and 80 men are in the mine, and although desperate efforts are being made in their behalf it is by no means certain they can be rescued. Citizens appear crazed with fear.

The flames started from oil heating on a stove in the tippie, and which was overturned, communicating the fire to the wooden plant. The entire force of 100 men went to work as usual at 7 o'clock. Two dozen men working in the east leads of the mine, discovering that the air was foul, returned safely to the top, save Jack Emonick and his son Archie who have not yet reported. Two miners working in the west part of the shaft are still underground. The air engine is located 25 feet south of the burning plant.

Should the fire reach it, there will be no hope saving the men still in the mine. When the flames started, Engineer Ben Chew quickly reversed the air, forcing it down; the safety air shaft through the main leads of the mine up the main entrance, thus preventing the fire so far from entering the mine, but it will be several hours before the men's safety can be assured. Fortunately a stiff breeze from the south aids air saving the engine which furnishes air to the imprisoned miners.

Manila Death Report.

Washington, Jan. 2.—General Otis has made the following report at Washington today: Manila, Jan. 2, Adjutant General, Washington: "The following deaths have occurred since last report: Lewis Ferguson, private 20th Kansas, of purpura hemorrhagica; V. L. Kelly, Davis, private 3rd artillery, typhoid fever; Emmet W. Matley, private 23rd infantry, small pox; C. N. North, private 1st Nebraska, small pox."

SIX REGIMENTS OF REGULARS

Ordered to the Philippines; Three Via the Pacific and Three Via the Suez Canal.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Although officials profess a strong belief that no serious trouble will occur, they have taken the precaution to expedite military reinforcements to General Otis in command of the Philippines. Orders have been issued to the 20th regiment at Fort Leavenworth to time its departure so as to be in San Francisco by the 7th instant, in order to embark on the military transport being fitted out to sail for Manila on that date. Two other infantry regiments under orders to proceed to the Philippines by the Pacific route, the 3d and 23d, will follow as soon as means of transportation have been secured.

Three other regiments are also under orders to proceed to Manila by way of the Mediterranean. These are the 4th, 12th and 17th infantry regiments. They will make a trip on the new transports Mobile and Mohawk, and unless present plans miscarry will embark at New York on the 17th. Major General Lawton, who has been ordered to command the military forces in the Philippines under direction of Major General Otis as military governor, will accompany the expedition from New York.

Wayne McVeagh Ill.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Wayne McVeagh attorney general of President Garfield's cabinet and ambassador to Italy under the last Cleveland administration, is very ill.

REGAINED HEALTH.

Gratifying Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Happy Women.

"I Owe You My Life."

Mrs. E. WOOLSEY, Mills, Neb., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I owe my life to your Vegetable Compound. The doctors said I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. My menstruation had stopped and they said my blood was turning to water. I had several doctors. They all said I could not live. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me right away; menses returned and I have gained in weight. I have better health than I have had for years. It is wonderful what your Compound has done for me."

"I Feel Like a New Person."

Mrs. GEO. LEACH, 1609 Belle St., Alton, Ill., writes:

"Before I began to take your Vegetable Compound I was a great sufferer from womb trouble. Menses would appear two and three times in a month, causing me to be so weak I could not stand. I could neither sleep nor eat, and looked so badly my friends hardly knew me."

"I took doctor's medicine but did not derive much benefit from it. My druggist gave me one of your little books, and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel like a new person. I would not give your Compound for all the doctors' medicine in the world. I can not praise it enough."

Iloilo in the Hands of Filipinos, Who Are Preparing to Resist American Troops.

GENERAL MILLER IMMOVABLE

He Is Ready With Transports Full of United States Soldiers to Take Iloilo and Clean Out the Native Troops.

Manila, Jan. 2.—The following dispatch, dated Dec. 30, at Iloilo has been received here by boat: "The situation at Iloilo is grave: 1,500 natives fully armed are at Melo, a suburb of Iloilo. Seventeen thousand more are awaiting orders to embark at several points on the island of Negros, 15 hours sail from Iloilo. All the women have withdrawn and many families have refuge with the Americans. The rebels, after consultation insist upon inaction until General Aguinaldo shall have been heard from. General Miller, when this demand was first made, declined to concede them the time, and insisted upon an answer being given by noon today. At the same time, he gave assurances that lives and property would be protected. The foreign residents then petitioned General Miller to grant an extension desired by the rebels, as a fight would cause great losses. This also, General Miller refused. At the designated time the native commission again boarded the United States transport Newport, and asked a delay, saying they were unable to control the army which commanded the city and surrounding country."

General Miller refused, and prepared to his land forces, sending an emissary back to Manila for instructions. The rebels are strengthening their position and are preparing to resist. The streets of Iloilo are full of armed soldiers who are constantly entering in every direction. There is great excitement which is increased by the appearance of the gunboat Eleanore, flying a Spanish flag. The public buildings, churches and boats along the river are filled with rebels. The transports are lowering their four machine guns, mounted in their bows, and lighters are along side of the United States transport Arizona. The United States transport Pennsylvania.

The deceased was known as "Bad Lands Charlie," and was formerly an associate of Musgrave and his gang. He was one of the old time toughs whose moral nature had been completely blotted out. He was once a terror in Montana.

GAS EXPLOSION AT DENVER.

One Woman Fatally Burned and Two Other Persons Severely So At the Colorado State Capitol.

Denver, Jan. 2.—An explosion of gas occurred at the capitol today whereby Miss Nettie Zeigler, Clerk of the state board of horticulture, was probably fatally burned, and Mrs. Martha A. Street, secretary of the board, and M. S. Crawford, were severely burned. The women ran screaming from the building with their clothes and hair on fire. Crawford, who was passing, extinguished the flames. The gas had been escaping in a vault, and the explosion was caused by lighting a match.

"BAD LANDS CHARLIE" KILLED.

Former Member of Musgrave Gang of Outlaws Dead—Roland, Who Fired the Fatal Shot, Exonerated by Coroner's Jury.

Bert Roland shot and killed Tom Leitch the other day at Ruidoso in Lincoln county, and the coroner's jury has exonerated Roland. The trouble began at Prude's store, where Leitch and a party by the name of West, engaged in a lively controversy over some abstruse subject. Leitch sought to settle the debate by pulling his six-shooter, and using West for a bull's eye. West dropped behind the store counter just in time, and the marksman feeling he had done the job up slick and clean, mounted his steed and started to gallop off. But just then an idea struck him. Another man, Roland, was a spectator to the little racket, and while he, Leitch, was on the shoot, why not make it a duce instead of a one spot? Mr. Leitch thought favorably of the proposition suggested by his "subjective ego," and turning his horse around, took a shot at Roland, "just for greens, you know." Roland dodged the "leaden messenger of death," and grabbing a Winchester took his turn in the pigeon shoot, whereupon Leitch immediately left for "other worlds than ours." He was an old time prospector, and was probably well up in bug juice when he was laid out. The people in Lincoln characterize the affair as "an unfortunate occurrence," and Roland has cut a notch on the handle of his gun.

The deceased was known as "Bad Lands Charlie," and was formerly an associate of Musgrave and his gang. He was one of the old time toughs whose moral nature had been completely blotted out. He was once a terror in Montana.

War Between Spain and France.

A Paris correspondent has set the rumor afloat that war is possible between Spain and France. Such an outcome is hard to believe, because the two countries have been for years on unusually intimate terms. You cannot tell what will happen between nations, but you can tell what will happen when a dyspeptic takes Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. His health will improve. His appetite will come back. His mouth will not taste bad in the morning. He will not be subject to dizzy spells, and his head will be clear. His disposition will be more agreeable, and his bilious look will disappear. His blood will be purified and his kidneys stimulated to perform their work properly. All these things are accomplished by the Bitters.

Ready for Settlement.

That Harkins will ease which has been in the courts for several years will soon be settled now, said Lawyer Habes.

Yes, assented Lawyer Corpus. I understand the property is about all gone. Ohio State Journal.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Mr. Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against ten days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.' For sale by A. C. Ireland."

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago, when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It counteracts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Easy!

To the Public.

We are authorized to guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be as represented and if not satisfactory after two-thirds of the contents have been used, will refund the money to the purchaser. There is no better medicine made for la grippe, colds and whooping cough. Price, 25 and 50c per bottle. Try it. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Elderly Passenger—Here, miss, take this seat. Stout Young Woman—Oh, I could not think of depriving an old—mean I could not think of depriving you. You go ahead and take it and don't argue. I know you fat girls always have lame feet.—Indianapolis Journal.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of la grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

MONTEREY.

We were not many—who stood before the iron sheet that day—yet many a gallant spirit would give half his years if but he could have been with us at Monterey.

Now here, now there, the shot it half'd in deadly drifts of fiery spray. Yet with a single soldier quiet'd a When wounded comrades round them wait'd.

Their dying shout at Monterey. And on—still on our column kept. Through walls of flame its withering way.

Where fell the dead, the living slept. Still charging on the guns which swept The slippery streets of Monterey.

The foe himself recoiled, agast. When, striking where he strongest lay. We swooped his flanking batteries past. And with our murderous blunderbuss Storm'd home the towers of Monterey.

Our banners on those turrets wave. And there our evening bugles play. Where orange boughs above their grave Keep green the memory of the brave Who fought and fell at Monterey.

We are not many—who press'd Beside the brave who fell that day—Yet half of us have not forgot it. He'd rather share their warrior rest Than not have been at Monterey? —Charles F. Hoffman.

THE THUG.

"You lads have a fine time of it nowadays, with your machine guns and a commissariat that knows canned meat from castor oil."

It was an Indian veteran who spoke—Colonel Carrill—to whom Myers and I, returned from dacoit hunting in Burma, had been relating our exploits.

"Fifty years ago fighting was fighting," he went on, "but now—"

We smiled the smile of the young and up to date. What did he know of the vagaries of the modern savage; of the dacoit who came in the night noiselessly and parted life and death with an ugly and unnecessarily large stab in the breast?

The colonel read our thoughts. "Dacoits may be a stealthier foe," he said, "but for undiluted vagabondism and downright villainy give me the thugs."

"They must have been bad," I ventured.

"At the very best, and yet I found a little grain of virtue in one," said the veteran. "Shall I tell you a yarn? It will be like a page of ancient history now."

"It was in the autumn of 1884," proceeded the colonel. "I went out from Haldarabad under Major Groves northward across the Godavary after thugs. Groves sent me off on my own account with a troop of about 30 sepoys and a couple of noncoms. We had no success until Hossein All fell into our hands. He was taken with the proofs of guilt thick upon him and the spoil in his possession. Yet he denied with all the stubbornness of innocence."

I looked long and fixedly at the man. He was a fine specimen of a fine race. If I had not been so absolutely certain of his guilt, I must have doubted that one of so gallant a bearing could be that worst of all criminals, a thug.

"What are you doing here, then?" I asked him. "What is your trade, your occupation? How did you come by these pearls?"

"If I answer the sahib at all," he replied, "it is that he may be satisfied and let me go on my journey in peace. I am on travel honestly to my sister's wedding, and the stones are a wedding gift."

"I don't believe a word," said I. "You are a thug and a murderer and deserve hanging a hundred times, but—make yourself useful, tell me your companions, show me their haunts, take me to the graves of your victims, and your life may be spared."

"I know nothing of what you say, sahib," he repeated doggedly.

"Take him away," I commanded, "and in ten minutes' time hang him!"

"Of course this was pure bounce, but he knew no better. I uttered the sentence sharply and rose to leave the hut. As I turned my back I heard a scuffle, and, looking quickly round, was just in time to ward the prisoner's hands from my throat."

"In another moment the men had him down, and though he struggled desperately he was bound and dragged to his feet as I resumed my seat."

"None but the guilty would have behaved so," I said sternly. "I knew no better in those days. You have sealed your doom."

"The man took a deep breath—he was still panting from the struggle—and shouted with an excess of strength and enthusiasm:

"Jey Bhowanee!"

"It was the warty of Thuggees, the invocation to the goddess. If anything more was needed to convict him, it was provided in the extraordinary change in his appearance. All the signs of vice and cupidly which I had looked for in vain at first were now most prominent in the angry, passion distorted face."

"It was plain that we had made a capture of the first importance. Such a man would, without doubt, be the leader or at least a very prominent member of any gang with which he was connected and would possess just the sort of information we wanted."

"Informers are supposed to be built of different material. However, I determined to try him, and as a first step I had him informed that unless he consented to give the information we wanted he would certainly be hanged in the morning. As an extra argument we built a gallows opposite the window of his cell."

"At first this only excited his derision. The small hours of morning, however, proved too much for him. I was awakened early and told he wanted to speak."

"Tell him he can say all he wants under the rope," was my reply.

"When the hour came, the man was led out. Nothing remained of the scorn and defiance of the previous day. A night of passion and fear had broken him up."

cold bloodedness and deliberation. To this he added a list of some 30 or 40 accomplices, and, with a remarkable effort of memory, described the position of the rude graves of over 100 victims.

"A couple of weeks of activity passed. Thanks to Hossein and his band and otherwise disguised, we not only collected ample proof of the crimes committed, but succeeded in securing many of the culprits, who were taken to the nearest court and tried."

"So far the informer had amply fulfilled his contract. He had indeed displayed a zeal which made me at times very doubtful of his sincerity. I found out at last that this thoroughness was characteristic of the man in all things."

"Well, the further the work of suppression advanced the more difficult it became. The thugs had enjoyed immunity so long that many of the bands had become careless and were taken with comparative ease, but as the new bands were captured and the fate which met them became known the villains grew more wary and difficult of approach."

"About a month after Hossein's capture we got on the heels of a band which by the signs numbered about 40 members. In the stead of following them up we crossed the river along the banks of which they were marching, and hurrying on got in advance of them. We knew they would have to cross later and hoped to ambush them."

"We did not move. Hossein had the whole detachment busy for some hours cutting a number of short bamboo sticks and boring holes in their ends, through which short lengths of cord were run."

"What are these things for?" I asked him.

"Food for the thugs, sir," he replied. "When they taste these, they are silent."

"Then I perceived that the mysterious articles were gags."

"They will come across the ford tonight," continued Hossein. "We will be in waiting, and as the land, at by one, seize them and stop their voices."

"How can you be sure they will cross?" said I.

"Shall I not tempt them?" he answered. "Shall I not light a fire and send a cry across the water as these would have done if God had not delivered them into our hands?"

"How many of them are there?"

"I should say from 30 to 40. I know this ford well. Only one man can land at a time. If the sahib will permit, I will stand by the bank and select them singly. Some of your men must leave their coats and dress like thugs, and as I hand over the first of the robbers two of them shall seize him, fill his mouth with wood and tie him up so that he makes neither sound nor motion. In like manner with the others. The jungle and the rain will help us."

"My first instinctive view of the ford renewed my previous distrust of Hossein's good faith. It seemed the last place one would select for a passage. The banks are 10 or 12 feet high and rise sheer out of the water. By looking closely, however, I made out a large, flat rock standing about five feet out of the stream and close to the bank, forming a natural, if somewhat difficult, step. The bank was only attainable by first climbing the rock."

"The signal fire was lit, and after the proper interval extinguished, and we lay down in silence to wait for the next move. At last we saw the answering fire."

"Hossein led himself down to the stepping stone and stood erect. At the same moment the shriek of a jackal close at hand made me jump to my feet. From across the river the cry was repeated, and then I knew it was the second signal."

"A minute or two of extreme tension followed, and then, above the whispering sound of the rain on the river, I could just hear the careful splashing of the waters. Soon the head of the first one came dimly into sight, a black, moving spot on the dark water, and behind it, in Indian file, other blobs still more indistinct."

"As the leader neared the bank Hossein said a couple of words in 'Moor,' which elicited a low reply. I then saw him stoop and draw the man on to the rock beside him. It was an exciting moment, and I knew I stumbled—solely, I hope, from over-anxiety."

"As each one attained an upright position on the bank he was gagged, overpowered and laid out in the jungle helplessly bound. There was an anxious pause after the twelfth man, most of the time he held a lot of whispering. I saw Hossein stoop, draw up a large bundle and throw it up on to the bank."

"The thugs were passing us their booty. The remainder of the band brought each a similar parcel."

"As we approached the end one or two squeals escaped, but fortune favored us, and no alarm was given. By some means the last man but one to cross took alarm as he reached the bank and yelled out a warning. He was quickly pulled down and secured, but his screams, just about to reach up his hand to Hossein, hesitated and retreated."

"I heard a big splash, and Hossein disappeared. He had jumped in after the man and engaged in a struggle which we could hear, but only dimly see. I climbed down the bank and slipped into the water, followed by one of my men. As we approached the thug uttered a furious sentence in a dialect which I did not understand, and the next moment he was free and hurrying away. The sepoys and I dashed after the escaping thug and held him."

"With this we had them all—33 murderers and 20 bales of spoil—a fine haul."

"Following our usual precaution, Hossein traveled with the rear guard, so that the prisoners should not see more of him than was necessary, although I more than suspected that he had been recognized by the old thug. Something had changed him anyhow. He was strangely thoughtful, even morose."

"In a couple of days the case against them was presented. The proofs of their guilt were overwhelming, and as they thought more of defiance than defense they were soon convicted and sentenced, 15 of them, including the old man who had so nearly escaped, to be hanged, the rest to transportation to Penang."

"The following morning was fixed for the execution. As they stood in the center of the clearing before ascending the platform Hossein All created a sensation by slipping forward and kneeling humbly and contritely before the old thug. The latter, with an indescribable accent of scorn, uttered a couple of words and spat derisively on the informer."

"The next moment the culprits had mounted the gallows. The excitement of this scene was not over when a fresh sensation was caused by the discovery of a man lying a short distance from the gallows with a bayonet through his heart, having killed himself by falling on the blade. It was Hossein All."

"One of the bystanders turned toward the still swinging bodies of the thugs, and pointing to the old man said: 'That was his father!'" —F. W. Evans in Chambers Journal.

From the day that a young man starts out to seek his first position to the end of his business life, his health is a word to be reckoned with. When a young man applies to a business man for a position, his personal appearance and the way he carries himself are of great importance to the outcome. "Personal appearance" does not mean dress alone. It does not mean exterior cleanliness alone. A young man may be clean, so far as soap and water will make him, but be disfigured by unsightly pimples, eruptions and ulcerations on the skin. These are due to impurities in the blood. The blood becomes impure because it is improperly nourished. Instead of receiving the life-giving elements of the food, it receives the food elements of indigestion, biliousness and costiveness.

The reason that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best remedy for disorders of this description is that it goes right to first causes. It gives a man an appetite "like a horse." It facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, and makes the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food perfect. It invigorates the liver. It purifies and enriches the blood. It makes the muscles strong and active. It tones and steadies the nerves. It makes a young man look as he should—strong of body, alert of brain and clean and wholesome of skin. Medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"I had eczema in its worst form," writes Austin Ramsey, Esq., of Saltillo, Huntington Co., Pa. "I tried three doctors but got no relief. I thought it would set me wild, it itched and burned so badly. The neighbors thought I would never be cured. I took your Golden Medical Discovery and am now well."

A Wise Cook.

Strange to say, they had an Irish cook in the Curragh camp, and he was no great shakes as a cook. There was a big saucen of soup on the fire one day, and it was to go to fill the bread baskets of two separate parties of men. The first group were ready for their soup, but it came not, so they sent to interview the cook.

"Where's the soup?"

There it was on the fire, and the Emerald chef took off the lid, observing that the stuff was simmering, as evidenced by the bubbles blowing and bursting round the edges of the pot.

"Sure," said the Paddy, "it'll take out the boiling part that's round the edges, and the rest will be hot in time for the next party."—Ally Sloper.

NEW JEWELRY.

Chateaux, Puckles and Belts to Accompany Winter Gowns.

Chateaux ornaments are again in vogue, and all sorts of goldsmith's ware are suspended from the belt. Besides the articles which have some shadow of use—bonbon boxes, postage stamp holders, scent bottles, tablets, pencils, buttonhooks and mirrors—there are enamelled and jeweled ornaments of no utility whatever—four, five and seven leaved clovers, old coins and miniatures, canoes and carved carnellians and onyxes. These pendent objects, with their charms, make a clinking and clashing at every movement of the wearer which strongly suggest a set of fetters.

Belts are narrow and are fastened by buckles of all varieties of design. Some very attractive ones are of gun metal, which is a dull, steel gray and is very serviceable, although somewhat expensive. These are useful for general wear and to match gray costumes. More fanciful are buckles of fine enamel in various colors, with slides to match. Gold or silver serpent buckles of an oval form are used with belts of gray, fawn or white kid.

An illustration is given of a most attractive winter costume having a skirt of deep lilac cloth which is cut with a circular flounce at the sides and back. A band of sable fur follows the line of attachment of the flounce. The blouse bottles of velvet to match the skirt has two bands of sable in front and a band of sable around the neck. Over the velvet blouse is a short bolero of lilac silk with plain sleeves, the bolero being decorated with a rich embroidery in the Byzantine style, which forms a wide collar. The ground of the embroidery is white velvet, and the revers are of plain white velvet. The white velvet belt is fastened by an enamelled buckle. The hat of lilac velvet is trimmed with the same material and with a lilac plume and a gold buckle.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

MILLINERY NOTES.

Hats and Their Various Shapes and Preferred Trimmings.

Hats are, generally speaking, of medium dimensions, and the brim is frequently lifted in front or at the sides or back. Felt is more often employed than stretched velvet for round hats, but for toques, draped, shirred and twisted velvet is the material par excellence. Toques differ this season from those of last year in having a lower crown and being less high at the side. There is, however, always a side trimming which lifts them to a certain extent—a cluster of flowers, a torsade of ribbon or velvet or choux fastened by jeweled ornaments, above which are two or three tall, curving plumes. These toques are often of very delicate colors to accompany ceremonious toilets.

Pearl gray felt hats trimmed with a lively color, such as turquoise, shrimp

DISTRICT COURT MATTERS.

Proceedings of Santa Fe County Court—
United States District Court in Session
—Other Matters of Interest.

In the territorial district court for Santa Fe county, the following proceedings have been had:

Case No. 2015, Territory of New Mexico vs. Macario Gonzales, under indictment for murder. The defendant was arraigned and a plea of not guilty was entered. The case was set for hearing today. C. A. Spiess for the plaintiff.

In case No. 2019, Territory of New Mexico vs. Tomas Dominguez, indictment for murder, the defendant was arraigned and a plea of not guilty was entered. The trial of the case was set for Friday, January 6. C. A. Spiess for the prosecution.

In case No. 2029, Territory of New Mexico vs. Libarato Valencia, indictment for murder, the defendant was ar-
raigned and a plea of not guilty was entered. The trial of the case was set for Friday, January 6. C. A. Spiess for the prosecution.

Ygnio Torres, of Rio Arriba county, has been arrested on a bench warrant,
charged with murder, and this morning was placed under bonds in the sum of $500 to appear for trial on Tuesday, January 10.

The United States district court convened this morning, and a special venue was issued for juryman. The court then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

In reporting the case of the Territory of New Mexico vs. Meleton Costello, appeal from justice of the peace court, an error occurred in the figures given as to the amount of the fine. The report should have read that the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, which was a fine of $5, and costs amounting to $2.50.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

George E. Tuttle went up to Durango
this morning over the D. & R. G., for a 40 days painting and papering job.

The New Mexico Educational Association is growing, and a long list of new members for membership has been handed in.

Johnny Conway is exhibiting two tame ferrets in his restaurant window where they are attracting considerable attention.

There are reports that the Santa Fe is meditating an early incursion into the year into the Tios country with a branch line of road.

As yesterday was a day when in law,
the legal holiday lapped over into today.
Consequently the post office and the bank kept the day, and this afternoon
many of the stores closed up.

Sergeant Boston Barnhill of Company
E, territorial infantry, has secured a discharge and will settle in Albuquerque.
He says that the regiment is booked for a three months' trip to Cuba,
for which place they will soon leave.

There will be a desperate attempt made tonight, to hold a meeting of the city council "if it takes a leg," his honor the mayor says. The city marshal will round up all delinquent aldermen and march them to their post of duty.

In a letter received this morning from Denver by a Santa Fe man, dated Denver, December 31, State Secretary W.
M. Danner of the Colorado Y. M. C. A., says: Mr. Moody is making a trip south and west at present, and I believe you might have some chance of getting him at Santa Fe, if you were to begin operations promptly. He is now in Colorado Springs, and next week will be at Trinidad, and then I think will likely go to Albuquerque. No financial guarantee is necessary to secure him.
He is out for the good he can do, though of course each local point would naturally expect to bear all expenses of the meetings and give him something of a free will offering. Can you take this matter up for your city? As the readers of the New Mexican know, the distinguished evangelist has been communicated with, and an answer is expected from him at any time. The penitentiary will be an especial object of his visit. The prisoners rather looked for him yesterday, and there was an unusually large attendance at the Christian Endeavor exercises in consequence. It will be a big day for the prison when Mr. Moody comes.

District Deputy of the P. & B. O., Elks, E. M. Murphy, of Las Vegas, has written A. B. Renahan, secretary of the lodge which is being instituted in this city, that he, with others, will arrive in Santa Fe on next Sunday, and will begin the installation of the new lodge at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon on the following day, January 9. The paraphernalia has been ordered shipped in care of A. C.
Ireland, and it will be here in time for use at the installation. A large number of Elks from Las Vegas and Silver City have promised to be present on the day set for the institution of the lodge and a jolly time is expected. A meeting of the local lodge is called for tonight at R. C. Johnston's office.

The Sunday school entertainment at the Methodist church was well attended Saturday night and passed off very ac-ceptably. Superintendent McPherson presided, and the event of the evening,
aside from the distribution of presents, was an address by Judge McFie. The judge was glad of the relief from his court duties, and spoke extensively on the character of Christmas and its celebration, and said he was pleased to say he was not too old to go to Sunday school. He was very well received, for the judge is always a good speaker, and what he has to say is well worth listening to. The other exercises of the evening, consisting of recitations, declama-tions, singing and instrumental music.

The distribution of presents was enjoyed and a watch meeting followed, lasting until after midnight.

Yesterday the thermometer at the local
weather bureau registered as follows:
Maximum temperature, 34 degrees, at 3:10 p. m.; minimum, 10 degrees, at 3:00
a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 22 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 52 per cent.

The engagement is announced of Miss Belle Spiegelberg, daughter of Lehman Spiegelberg, to Mr. Martin Blumenthal, of New York. The bride's family were formerly prominent and esteemed residents of this city, where Lehman Spiegelberg was president of the Second National bank, and Miss Spiegelberg was a great social favorite. The happy prospective groom is a large importer of fancy goods in New York.

The public schools reopened this morning with a full attendance, and good prospects of a successful winding up of the school year. The attendance was put at 450 or over by Trustee Conway, and the pupils are taking hold of their studies with renewed energy, so that the lost time will be made up without difficulty.

The Old Year went out with a cold, frigid atmosphere that froze up everything it touched. But the New Year began with a rise in the thermometer that was encouraging. And today is a beautiful, balmy day that invalids particularly enjoyed, and pleased everybody.

New Year's day was ushered in Saturday midnight in this city with the ringing of bells, screeching of whistles, firing of pistols and shotguns and explosions of cannon crackers. The racket lasted for some 15 minutes or more, and woke up everybody in town.

Word from La Junta, this morning says that Conductor Cy Boucher, of the Ill fated express train, was in very bad condition, as the flesh was coming from his face and hands, where he was so badly burned.

The football game between the city and Indian school teams opened at 2:30
p. m., with a good attendance, and every promise of a spirited contest.

At the Republican primary meeting held in precinct No. 18, Saturday evening, Ascencion Guerrero was nominated for justice of the peace and Eustaquio
Vigil for constable.

W. P. Cunningham, somewhat known in Santa Fe county, lately married Miss Fannie Reese, of Kansas City.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair tonight and Tuesday not so cold.

Saturday the thermometer at the local
weather bureau registered as follows:
Maximum temperature, 30 degrees, at 3
p. m.; minimum 2 degrees at 5:20 a. m.;
The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 11 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 60 per cent.

The Henderson theatrical company has missed railroad connections and there will be no performance in the opera house tonight. If the time lost by the company can be made up it will be here in time for tomorrow night's play, of which due notice will be given.

The list of officers elected for Centennial Camp No. 3, I. O. O. F., which was handed to the New Mexican for publication Saturday contained several errors,
and the corrected list is as follows: N.
Goldoft, C. P.; J. F. Ortiz, H. P.; W. W.
H. Woodman, S. W.; F. C. Wesley, J.
W. J. L. Zimmerman, scribe; I. Gold-oft, treasurer.

The recent fire loss at Lamy has been settled by the insurance adjusters at 100 cents on the dollar. The entire line of policies covering the losses was carried in the Paul Wineschmann Company agency of this city. The loss sustained by the different property owners in Lamy will amount to nearly $30,000, but the amount of insurance is only about one-third of that.

PERSONAL MENTION.

good time. However, they have been followed by some peculiar reports concerning the manner in which they secured the game they did, and it is reported that they furnished the guns and ammunition for two men who could shoot, and the spoils were divided.

NEW YEAR'S PARDON.

Olegio Torres, of Bernalillo County, Restored to Freedom in Celebration of the New Year.

Late Saturday evening, Acting Governor Wallace issued the following pardon:

Executive Office.

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 31, 1898.

Whereas, A custom has been established in this, the executive office of the territory of New Mexico, to extend to some unfortunate prisoner an act of clemency upon each national holiday,
and,

Whereas, Olegio Torres was convicted at the March, 1898, term of court sitting within and for the county of Bernalillo, of assault with intent to kill,
and sentenced to serve a term of eight-teen (18) months imprisonment in the penitentiary located at Santa Fe, New Mexico, and,

Whereas, Hon. T. A. Finkel, the prosecuting attorney, recommends that this pardon be granted, and,

Whereas, A very strong petition is on file in this, the executive office, asking for executive clemency in this case, which said petition is signed by many prominent citizens of the said county, among whom are some of the jurors who served in the trial of this case, and,

Whereas, After an examination of the papers in this case, I find it to be the one worthy of executive clemency; that this is the young man's first offense;
that he has an aged mother, wife and children entirely dependent upon him
for maintenance;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the custom as above, I, George H. Wallace, acting governor of the territory of New Mexico, do hereby extend to the said Olegio Torres a complete pardon from the sentence and conviction hereinbe-fore recited, to take place on the morning of New Year's day, of the year 1899;
and the superintendent of the territorial penitentiary is hereby authorized to discharge said Torres from confinement upon receipt of a copy of this document duly signed and sealed.

Done at the executive office, this, the 31st day of December, A. D. 1898.

Witness my hand and the great seal
of the territory of New Mexico.

By the governor.
[Seal] GEO. H. WALLACE,
Acting Governor of New Mexico.

GEO. H. WALLACE,
Secretary of New Mexico.

San Ildefonso Republicans.

Saturday afternoon the Republicans of San Ildefonso precinct held a primary meeting and placed in nomination Francisco Lujan y Martinez for justice of the peace and Perfecto Gallegos for constable.
The meeting was one of the largest ever held by the Republicans in the precinct, more interest being taken in the election of local officers than in the general election of last fall.
