RUSSIA'S GENERAL STRIKE STARTED

Workmen Claim They Will Be Victorious.

MOSCOW BEGINS THE BATTLE

Insurgents Gaining Ground at All Points--Riga Country Devastated.

Moscow, Dec. 20.—On account of some confusion, a general strike was proclaimed at Moscow at noon today instead of tomorrow. It has begun with a complete suspension of the street car service.

The government enters on the new struggle greatly crippled. The situation in the Baltic provinces is growing steadily worse and in Caucasia a renewal of the outbreak of Tartars and Armenians has produced another reign of terror. At Sebastopol new mutinies have occurred and 1,600 soldiers have been disarmed and are under guard.

The troops at Kharkoff have revolted and the inhabitants are still administering the city. The weather has become very cold and a deep snow covers the country as far south as Kieff. It is believed that a few days of hunger and starving will easily drive the people to desperation and will provoke uprisings and attacks on strikers and perhaps a general pillage.

St. Petersburg Situation.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 20.—The proclamation of a general strike for tomorrow at noon has created most intense excitement. If it can be successfully begun and maintained, the revolutionists are confident that it will break the government's back. In government circles, however, confidence is expressed that the proletariat organizations cannot effect a complete tie up and that the strike must be of but short duration.

This hope seems to be based on the theory that the program of the reds has alienated the sympathy of a large proportion of real workmen and also, upon what they claim to be absolute knowledge, that the organizations are without funds. The government's calculations, however, have proved deplorably at variance with the true situation in the past and the strike leaders declare that the government is again hopelessly ignorant of the magnitude of the struggle confronting it.

Size of Strike.

From the nature of the appeal of the leaders to the troops it is evident that they expect to precipitate a crisis in the army. The central committee proposes to stop all the work in the empire, not only on the railroads, but the manufactures, the wholesale and retail stores and all government works except the water works. The bakers in the cities will be allowed to run unless they raise the price of bread.

The police are hunting down and arresting strike leaders as rapidly as they can be found, but comparatively few captures have been made as yet.

Condition at Riga.

The consul of continental power, who arrived here this morning from Riga, on a train heavily guarded by troops, says that throughout the district extending twenty miles on this side of Riga the land has been laid to waste, all buildings belonging to the landlords having been burned to the ground.

The situation in Courland is even worse. At Riga the garrison is too small to attempt to wrest the power from the hands of the workmen who have organized a police force and are administering the affairs of the city. The city is terror stricken but comparatively quiet.

Killings take place on the streets daily but the workmen's militia is successfully preventing pillage, having no mercy on the rowdies, several of whom have been shot or hanged.

Rumors on Bourse.

There was a very panicky feeling on the Bourse today and a great rush to sell everything. Imperial bonds fell three points closing at 76. There were rumors on the Bourse that M. Guchkoff, the conservative leader, will succeed Count Witte as premier.

TATLOCK TALKS.

Says He Finds No Statements of Sums Spent for Legislative Expenses.

New York, Dec. 20.—When John Tatlock, the president of a life insurance company, appeared before the Armstrong committee today he was accompanied by Paul D. Cavath, Ryan's personal counsel. The statement of legal fees for ten years paid by the company was presented. Tatlock said that he could find no records of payments to Andrew Hamilton nor Andrew C. Fields, nor any payment for legislative purposes.

BIG FIRES.

New York and Washington Have Losses--Several People Are Reported Missing.

New York, Dec. 20.—A fire destroyed fully half of the immense railroad terminal buildings at the foot of West 23d Street on the Hudson River. The loss is estimated at $550,000.

Crowded ferry boats and hundreds of passengers were unloading at the terminals when a series of explosions were heard and immediately a dense smoke filled the great buildings followed by the flames.

Great alarm prevailed when the ferry boats, despite the flames, kept landing passengers from New Jersey at the portions of the dock not on fire. Several employees of the railroad were severely burned and five men were reported missing after the fire was under control. The new ferry houses of the Delaware and Lackawanna and the western ones of the Jersey Central railroads were almost total losses. The fire started in the paint shop in the Lackawanna building, presumably from a defective electric wire.

Washington Blazes.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Washington was early this morning visited by two fires, entailing a total loss of $100,000. At one of them four women were carried down ladders by the police.

The first fire was in the building of H. H. Juelg, piano company. The flames were soon under control but later extended to the basement and second and third floors of Muddiman & Company, a gas fixtures firm adjoining, damaging the building and stock considerably. It was in the first named building that the women were rescued.

The second fire started in the agriculture implement establishment of P. M. Haskell & Company, in the heart of the commission district, and damaged several buildings.

Convicts Save Women.

New York, Dec. 20.—A fire in the woman's quarter on Blackwell Island, caused much excitement early this morning. Men convicts were turned loose and after a hard fight, all the women were rescued by them. The fire was confined to the woman's department.

TURKEY IN TROUBLE.

Subjects of Ruler Being Shot on Sight By Armenians Near Tiflis.

Constantinople, Dec. 20.—The massacre of Mussulmen by the Armenians was still in progress at Tiflis and throughout Caucasia on December 18, according to a dispatch from Tiflis of that date.

Mohammedans are being hunted down like deer, no distinction being made between the Persians, Tartars or Ottomans. About 2,000 of the Mussulmen's families of Tiflis had sought refuge in neighboring villages. Cosacks and other troops continue to plunder the houses at Batoum.

Belgian Trouble.

The Belgian legation has demanded that Edward Joris be handed over to the Belgian consular authorities for trial, in accordance with the treaty of 1838. The porte objects to this and trouble is anticipated. Joris is a Belgian subject who with three others is charged with participation in an attempt to assassinate the Sultan, last July and who were sentenced to death December 18, by a native court.

CROSSING IS LAID.

Eastern Railroad of New Mexico Now Crosses Santa Fe Central at Willard.

The crossing of the Eastern Railway of New Mexico was laid through the tracks of the Santa Fe Central Railway north of Willard station on December 18, with the full consent and approval of H. W. Andrews, president of the Santa Fe Central Railway Company. A representative of this company was present to inspect the work of the Eastern Railway construction gang in putting in the crossing.

This gives a black eye to the statement of several excitable papers in this Territory, in which accounts recently appeared to the effect that the Santa Fe Central officials would prevent the crossing being laid by writ of injunction.

S. B. Grimshaw, assistant to the president and general manager of the Santa Fe Central Railway Company, said that only the most harmonious feelings existed between the officials of the two roads.

PAYS DUTY.

Miss Alice Roosevelt Gives Her Personal Check for Duty on Oriental Presents.

An exchange says that Miss Alice Roosevelt's presents, brought by her from the Orient, have been appraised by the customs collector of the port of Georgetown and she has paid the duty amounting to $1,206. Their actual value was less than $20,000. The amount of duty was paid by Miss Roosevelt herself by a check drawn against her personal income left her by her mother.

VESSELS AND MEN HURRIED TO CHINA

Riots Cause Powers to Take Quick Action

SEVERAL NATIONS ACT

Work of Senate Committee is Delayed--Andrews Introduces Bills.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The state department has received a cable from Shanghai announcing the arrival there last evening of the marines from the cruiser Baltimore. The department's advice of this morning are to the effect that the British were preparing for a large demonstration by both the army and navy and that Germany, Japan and Austrian cruisers were on their way to Shanghai.

Quiet prevailed yesterday but only because of the armed force controlling the city. The Chinese authorities were trying to effect a compromise but demanded the removal of the British assessor, which demand was refused.

Cause of Trouble.

As understood here the trouble arose from the action of the British assessor in levying a tax upon the Chinese residents of the foreign settlement. The mixed court is a curious body made up of a Chinese magistrate, who holds sittings on every week day. On two days an American official from the consulate general sits with him in the capacity of assessor, and on two other days a similar German official sits and on the remaining two days the British representative.

This court has jurisdiction over all licenses and taxes payable by the Chinese in the foreign settlement of Shanghai. For a long time the Chinese have been trying to reduce the authority of the mixed court and it is inferred that the present trouble has arisen from the assertion of the jurisdiction by the British over some Chinese merchants.

No Nominations.

Special to the New Mexican. Washington, Dec. 20.—Chairman Albert J. Beveridge, of the Senate Committee on Territories, being absent, no nominations for confirmation will be reported by that committee until after the holiday recess.

Alfred L. Sharpe, of El Paso, Texas, has been nominated for collector of customs of the El Paso customs district vice Patrick Garrett, the present collector.

The appointment of Creighton M. Foraker, marshal of the Territory of New Mexico was confirmed.

Andrews' Work.

Special to the New Mexican. Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—Delegate Andrews today introduced a bill granting the sum of $5,000 to the widow of Tranquillo Luna, who represented the Territory of New Mexico in the House of Representatives as its delegate, 1881, 1882; also a bill to establish a fish hatchery at Trout Springs on the Gallinas River in San Miguel County; also a bill for the relief of W. A. Walker; also bills to increase the pensions of Solomon Conn, George H. Hutchinson, Henry C. Reel, Sebastian Maxxam, Lewis Eckel and J. C. Anderson.

On Canal Commission.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 20.—President Roosevelt today appointed Joseph Bucklin Bishop, as member of the Isthmian Canal Commission, to fill the vacancy in that body caused by the resignation of Chief Engineer Wallace. Bishop has been the secretary and historian of the commission.

Appointments Reconsidered.

At the executive session of the Senate today Morgan wanted the Senate to request the return of all nominations for canal commissioners which had heretofore been confirmed. He asserted that the committee on inter-oceanic canals had held no meeting to act on the nominations and the confirmations were void.

The Senate acceded to the request and the nominations were reconsidered and referred to the canal committee.

HUMMELL GUILTY.

Prominent New York Lawyer Given Maximum Penalty for Conspiracy in Case.

New York, Dec. 20.—Abraham H. Hummell, the lawyer who has been on trial on the charge of conspiracy to have the divorce of Mrs. C. W. Morse from Charles F. Dodge declared void, in order to nullify her marriage with Morse, was found guilty today. Justice Rogers sentenced Hummell to one year's imprisonment to the penitentiary and a fine of $500. This is the maximum penalty. Hummell is one of the cities most prominent lawyers.

COMING GOVERNOR IN CAPITAL CITY

Interesting Views on Territorial Questions.

HIS DESIRE FOR SIMPLICITY

Considers Bringing of Militia to Take Part in Inauguration Too Expensive.

Herbert J. Hagerman, Governor-to-be, of New Mexico, arrived in Santa Fe at 1 o'clock this afternoon, on Santa Fe train No. 2, from Albuquerque. With him is his brother, Percy J. Hagerman, a well known attorney of Colorado Springs. They went to the Palace Hotel where apartments had previously been engaged. A few citizens met the Hagermans at the depot and gave them a hearty welcome. In an interview with a New Mexican reporter, Mr. Hagerman talked in a general way, of his plans for the future. He said:

"The question of statehood is now the most prominent topic in this Territory. I guess the people generally know that I favor joint statehood and hope that it will be effected. However, I will say now, that the matter has been agitated for so long, the best way to settle it for once and all, is to put the question to a vote. In other words, let the citizens of New Mexico and Arizona decide the question for themselves."

Wants Reductions.

"Of course I do not know what I can do until I have tried, but I think the territorial government has been costing too much. I shall try and reduce the expenses where possible."

"I really do not like to talk to any great extent regarding my inauguration for as you know, my appointment has yet to be confirmed. However, it might just as well be said that if I take office, I do not wish any formality at my inauguration. What is done in this matter, will depend to some extent upon the views held by Governor Miguel A. Otero, and I shall discuss the matter with him this afternoon. I think to bring the militia of the Territory to Santa Fe would be an expense that the occasion hardly justifies as well as placing a certain hardship upon the officers and men."

The Capital.

"Regarding the location of the Capital City, should joint statehood be the lot of these territories, I think it should, and will be, located in New Mexico. Whether it will remain at Santa Fe, I am not prepared to say, as I have not made myself sufficiently acquainted with that phase of the situation."

"If there is any graft in the territorial government when I am made Governor, it had best stop. I will try to please all the people regardless of politics and will conduct the affairs of my office in the best interests of the citizens of the Territory."

"New Mexico has a great future ahead of her, and there are going to be even greater developments, in agriculture, mining and other lines than we have yet seen. My visit to the Capital City has no significance other than a desire on my part to meet the people here, many of whom I know well, and by talking with them to learn as much as possible their views on affairs and their desires as to the future. I shall remain until Friday, after which I shall return to my home at Roswell."

Which is Which.

As Governor-to-be Herbert J. Hagerman and his brother Percy J. Hagerman came from the dining room at the Palace Hotel, today, a stranger who was desirous of meeting the Governor-to-be said:

"I would like to meet Mr. Hagerman, the Governor-to-be."

Herbert J. Hagerman, with a solemn face, pointed to his brother and said: "Perhaps that is the gentleman you desire to meet?"

The stranger shook hands with Percy J. Hagerman, who laughed and said, as he pointed to his brother: "He is the Governor-to-be."

The stranger was confused for a minute then he turned and shook hands with Herbert J. Hagerman.

"Now," he said, "I have certainly met the Governor but I'll be blessed if I know which is which."

BOTH ARE GUILTY.

Imboden and Hill Will Suffer for Wrecking Denver Savings Bank.

Denver, Dec. 20.—Leonard Imboden and James A. Hill charged with the wrecking of the Denver Savings Bank, were found guilty on the four counts by a jury last night. All the counts accused them of embezzlement and conspiracy, the penalty is from one to ten years. A motion for a new trial will be argued tomorrow.

AN OLD RESIDENT.

W. J. Harlow Returns After Many Years Absence--Was Here as a Boy.

Captain W. J. Harlow, a ship master on the great lakes whose home is in Toledo, Ohio, is a visitor in Santa Fe this week. Captain Harlow lived in Santa Fe and vicinity from 1866 to 1869 and will be remembered by old residents. At the time in which Captain Harlow came to Santa Fe, he was only about fourteen years old and was the youngest white boy in the Territory. In speaking of his life in the then wild west, Captain Harlow said:

"I am now 'resting on my oars' to use a nautical expression. I expect to locate somewhere in the west but as yet do not know where. Santa Fe has become too modern for me, I'm afraid. Its not like the old, out of the way place I remember when I came here as a boy. Things have been Americanized since those days and Santa Fe is not unlike most bustling cities of the west. I left here in 1869 but again revisited the town about twenty-seven years ago, when I made a call upon my old friends, the Zuni Indians."

"I was a ship boy on the Atlantic ocean when I was attracted to the west by the tales of gold discoveries. I left my ship at Baltimore and came to Kansas City then known as Westport Landing. There I met Phillip Delgado, since dead, and came with him in a wagon train of twenty-eight vehicles across the old Santa Fe trail to this city. Here I found employment with the government as a mail carrier, riding horse back with the mails to Albuquerque, seventy-two miles distant. I made the trip in one day, using only one horse. The mail I carried left Santa Fe on Saturday and the return mail I brought in on the following Monday. The boys up at Albuquerque frequently rode out to meet me, the sooner to secure knowledge of what was going on in the outside world. Its all different now. Here you have railroads, telegraph and even long distance telephones. The old days are gone for good in Santa Fe and I miss them. When I was fifteen years old, I went to live with the Zuni Indians and spent my time trailing among them. They were all my friends and are yet--those who are left. I was a great curiosity to them as I was the first white boy they had ever seen. Later I worked in the office of General H. H. Heath, then territorial secretary."

"The faces in Santa Fe now are new to me although I am acquainted with many of the people here. William Bolander is the only one of my old cronies left to greet me."

"I also assisted in removing the bodies from old Fort Marcy to the National Cemetery. I visited the cemetery today but found it like everything else greatly changed. Apparently nothing can stop the advance of American progress in all lines."

"My ship which I recently left in dock, is the steamer 'Harlow' which plies between Duluth and Ogdenburg. I was aboard her during the terrible storm of November when so many vessels on the lakes were wrecked and the loss of life was frightful. I was also in the great October storm. My vessel weathered these storms in good shape and I suffered no loss. From this city, I expect to go on a visit to the Zuni Indians and will then inspect the Pacific Coast. I still like the west and never shall forget the care-free life of early days in and about Santa Fe."

Captain Harlow is hale and hearty looking and would pass for a man much younger than he is. There is nothing to show the hardships of his early life, in his appearance.

JAKE GOLD DEAD.

First Indian Curio Dealer in Capital City Succumbs to the Inevitable.

Jacob Gold, the original old curio man of Santa Fe, died Saturday last at the Territorial Insane Asylum at Las Vegas, of progressive paresis. He was 54 years of age and a native of this city, the son of Lewis Gold, one of the first Americans to settle in Santa Fe after the American occupation. For many years, and while his mental faculties were intact, he was very successful. He established an Indian trading and curio business on Lower San Francisco Street in the house purchased by his father, thirty years ago, which he conducted very successfully until about five years ago. His mental faculties then failing, the business was sold. Certain weaknesses, which overcame him on account of his mental afflictions led him to the road that killed. While strong and healthy, he was a man of good moral character, considerable mental ability, of good business habits and generous. He was his own worst enemy and suffered accordingly by being cut off before the allotted three score and ten years. Peace to his ashes and to his memory. The remains were interred in the cemetery of the insane asylum.

STOCK EXCHANGE SEAT WORTH NINETY THOUSAND

New York, Dec. 20.—A seat on the stock exchange was sold today for $90,000, the highest price on record.

REWARD OFFERED BY THE SANTA FE

For Arrest and Conviction of Train Wreckers.

FIVE DISTINCT ATTEMPTS

To Derail Cars Recently Made Between Emporia and Reading Kansas.

Local Agent H. S. Lutz, in charge of the Santa Fe Railway ticket office in Santa Fe has received information that the railway company will pay a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the parties who wrecked Santa Fe passenger train No. 17, yesterday, on Badger Creek, near Reading, Kansas. This is the second reward of this amount which the Santa Fe has offered during the past few months. Notices of the rewards are placarded all along the Santa Fe line from Chicago to San Francisco. The story of the fight which the Santa Fe has been waging against train wreckers, is one that rivals the desperado stories of early days.

Five Attempts.

This is the fifth time wreckers have tried to derail trains between Reading and Emporia, towns about 35 miles apart. Once before the Santa Fe offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators. Santa Fe and Pinkerton detectives have been employed in large numbers to hunt for the wreckers but thus far without avail. Who the wreckers are, what is the motive for their fiendish crimes and how they escape detection, are mysteries that the best officers of the Santa Fe detective bureau have failed to penetrate.

The first attempt to wreck a Santa Fe passenger train in that vicinity, was made early last spring, when a number of ties were piled upon the rails about two miles east of Emporia. Train No. 1 of the Santa Fe struck the ties throwing some of them off the right of way, so great was the speed of the locomotive. Fortunately, however, the train did not leave the tracks. Detectives were hurried to the scene but could find no trace of the wreckers.

About a month later, iron spikes were driven between the rails in such a manner that a passenger engine left the track but fortunately without injuring the engine crew. This second attempt occurred about three miles east of Emporia. Other attempts followed regardless of the fact that detectives, and local officers were searching the entire country for the wreckers. Track walkers were placed along the line between Reading and Emporia without avail. So closely did the Santa Fe guard its lines after the fourth attempt, however, it was thought the wreckers would be unable to make a fifth trial.

Reading Wreck.

The wreck near Reading followed and the manner in which it was caused leaves no doubt in the minds of those familiar with the situation, that it was committed by the same gang who made the other attempts.

As told in the New Mexican yesterday, the engine, baggage, express and two passenger coaches of train No. 17 were derailed as the result of the removal of spikes and fish plates from the track. An express car caught fire causing a blaze which resulted in the death of a passenger and the injury of others. Express Messenger E. E. Derrick was killed and his body burned. Engineer Harry Davis who is well known among Santa Fe employees, died of his injuries.

The bridge across Badger Creek where the wreck took place, is built upon high abutments with an artificial approach, banked above the right of way.

Is Flood the Cause?

During the flood two years ago, the roadbed which was built several feet above the level of the country, acted as a dam for a number of streams, causing the water to back up on miles of fertile farm lands. The farmers along the tracks suffered severe losses and some land was ruined by the sediment left upon it after the water receded. As a result, there has been something of a feud existing between the farmers and the Santa Fe. Detectives who have been engaged in searching for the wreckers, however, say that they do not believe the farmers were guilty of committing such crimes. After the wreck, yesterday, however, the wreckers will without doubt be apprehended, as money will not be spared to bring them to justice. Local officers in Lyon and Coffey Counties, Kansas, are giving the Santa Fe detectives all assistance in their power.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

EACH TUB SHOULD STAND ON ITS OWN BOTTOM.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat is none too friendly to New Mexico and Arizona. That paper is opposed to the admission of the two territories separately and, for that matter, would like to see them kept out of the Union at any rate. But it must be acknowledged, that it is well posted on affairs in the National Capital and that it knows, generally speaking, whereof it speaks. In the following editorial it plainly intimates that it is the strong desire of the powers that be to pass a bill, creating the state of Oklahoma out of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and to leave New Mexico and Arizona out in the cold. This may happen. If it does, part of the blame can be justly ascribed to the machinations, the hot and cold manipulations and the abuse heaped upon those citizens of New Mexico and Arizona who demand separate statehood for the two territories, believing that they are justly entitled to such and that they are perfectly capable to sustain respectable and respected state governments.

It will be remembered that at last Thursday's conference, sixty-five Republican members of the House of Representatives, under the leadership of Representative James A. Tawney, of Minnesota, declined to go into caucus on the statehood question. Referring to this, the Globe-Democrat says:

"The refusal by sixty-five Republican members of the House to agree to be bound by the caucus measures on statehood is not a revolt of the west against the east, although many papers are likely to call it by this name.
 It is a demand for fair play for all the territories. The caucus bill joins the Arizona-New Mexico admission project on the Oklahoma-Indian Territory bill. The protestants oppose this action. They want to have both sets of territories dealt with separately.
 All are in favor of the admission of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as the state of Oklahoma. Many of them are against the admission of Arizona and New Mexico either jointly or separately. None of them, however, object to the introduction of a separate bill for the admission of these two territories. What they oppose is the entangling alliance of the Oklahoma-Indian Territory proposition with that of their western neighbors.

"For many different sorts of reasons the Arizona-New Mexico provision of the omnibus bill will be opposed by Republicans and Democrats. It is unjust to Oklahoma and the Indian Territory to have their fortunes bound up with those of the other communities.
 Not a single member of either branch of Congress objects to the admission of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as a joint state. Many persons decidedly object to the admission of Arizona and New Mexico at present on any terms.
 The Arizona-New Mexico proposition is a rider on the Oklahoma bill, and riders are mischievous under most circumstances. The people of the two far western territories say they are opposed to union. The answer to this would be that the Arizona section of the bill should be stricken out, and let the measure deal with Oklahoma and the Indian Territory alone. It was on their account that the bill was framed.
 The Arizona section is extraneous and alien. It has no business in the measure at all. Its incorporation in the bill in the recent Congress defeated the whole measure at that time.

"In the interest of Arizona and New Mexico, as well as in that of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, the Arizona proposition should be adopted. Let Oklahoma and its neighbor be admitted as the forty-sixth state, and then, if there be any demand for such action, take up the case of Arizona and New Mexico. Omnibus bills are apt to be devices to cover crookedness of some sort. The Hamilton bill is of that order. There never was the slightest excuse for weighing down Oklahoma and the Indian Territory with the dubious project of letting Arizona and New Mexico in now as one state, so as to head off all chances in the future of having them created into two states. There is no immediate danger of the creation of two states in that quarter. Standing alone, as they ought to stand, those two territories would have an exceedingly hard job to get in even as one state in the present Congress. It is unjust, therefore, to them as well as to the deserving territories farther east to deal with them in this summary fashion. Let Arizona and New Mexico take their own time about agreeing to union. They will do this eventually, although they may not accept it at present. But it would be a stupid and wicked policy to keep Oklahoma and the Indian Territory out until Arizona and its neighbor could be coerced or coerced into accepting admission as a single state."

The Albuquerque Fakir Journal is inexpressibly grieved because Delegate Andrews has introduced a bill to admit New Mexico as a separate state, and bewails the fact as showing he has little regard for the wishes of his constituents. That Yellow Paper thinks that the delegate should resign because he does not show a due regard for the opinions of the voters who elected him, particularly those of Bernalillo County and the city of Albuquerque. Rather amusing, isn't it? Especially so when returns of the last election disclose the fact that,
 out of 3,415 votes cast, in Bernalillo County, Mr. Andrews received at the hands of his "constituents" there as many as 717 and out of 1,525 votes cast in the city his friends and supporters were able to gather in as many as 188 votes for him. The delegate should take his cue from Albuquerque by all means for without the support he received from there, he would have had but small chance for election.

Sixty miles of new railroad built this year in Roosevelt County, and hundreds of settlers taking up homesteads in what was considered, five years ago, an absolutely worthless section except for the grazing of a few thousand cattle. This is a fine record and a gratifying one. The New Mexican's information is that in many of the townships there, quarter section after quarter section has been entered by actual settlers, and fine crops of corn, milo maize, sorghum and vegetables have been gathered, and that without irrigation. Intensive cultivation and the Campbell dry culture methods were used. Many of the new farms have produced 35 bushels of corn to the acre. Next year, it is asserted, the farmers there will do still better. Verily, the new year opens smilingly for the people of the Sunshine Territory.

The news that the Hamilton-Beveridge Joint Statehood bill contains the provision that the city of Santa Fe should remain the capital of the new state until 1915 and can thereafter be moved only by a vote of the people, is gratifying to the great majority of the people of New Mexico and Arizona.
 With the exception of the land ring
 in Albuquerque, the patriotic citizens of the two territories are for Santa Fe by an overwhelming majority. The item certainly improves the bill, although, in the opinion of this paper,
 the measure will not be finally approved by the voters when submitted, should the bill become law.

"The Record knows no good reason why the three judges, Mills, Parker and McFie, should not have been reappointed—but it looks as if the President was sticking pretty close to the old crowd in making New Mexico appointments. He is probably converting them all to joint statehood, however, as he goes along."— Roswell Record.

The President concluded rightly,
 that the "old crowd" was a very good one and hence his action. As far as converting the judges, these gentlemen know their own minds and will act for what they think best and most patriotic for the people.

"The Record would prefer single statehood for New Mexico, and believes that in justice this Territory is entitled to it, but the Republicans are offering us half a loaf and we are too hungry to wait for ham and mustard."—Roswell Record.

Before taking the half a loaf, you should stand up manfully and help those Republicans who are fighting for the whole loaf to secure it; "Paint heart never won fair lady" and giving up a fight, before it is lost, cannot bring victory.

The presidents of the big insurance companies of the country are coming down in price. The new president of the Mutual will hereafter receive only $50,000 or as much as the President of the United States. It is not easy to understand how these high and mighty persons could stand such come downs, but then there are chances for life and for fire insurance company presidents which the President of the United States does not possess.

The New Mexican will not worry about the statehood question either now or after the holidays. It will let the Congress of the United States do the worrying, and the Albuquerque Statehood League and its yellow con-ferres do the whining and the lying.

A Milwaukee man made a run from his home town to Chicago, recently, on foot. The distance is ninety miles.
 Why he selected Chicago, is not known. He is evidently a fellow of abominable tastes.

In several places in New Mexico, joint statehood petitions have been somewhat numerous signed. This was an easy thing to do as long as paper, pens and ink held out and as long as the signer wanted to keep on.
 In fact, it is rumored that in certain precincts a dollar per signature was paid. Soft snap that for the fellow who had the petitions in charge.
 "What fools these mortals be."

Immigration into the eastern counties of this Territory is increasing day by day. One of the gratifying signs is that a good many of these immigrants are from the north-western and middle states. Texas and Oklahoma also furnish quite a number.
 Take it all in all, it is a desirable influx.

There is every reason why New Mexico citizens should enjoy Christmas day. Peace and good will prevail to a very gratifying extent in the Sunshine Territory, except with the Albuquerque Joint Statehood Gang, whose leaders are sore and dissatisfied. But even that is as it should be.

News comes from Washington that a pension bill for ex-members of the "Rough Riders" to be introduced in the House of Representatives. It is out this way see no necessity of the "Rough Riders" in this case.
 They are pretty well taken care of.

The Albuquerque Fakir Journal
 insists in attacking Delegate W. A. McFie with dirty insinuations, and fabrications and untrue statements.
 This is so natural, that it explains a little attention.

The town of Belen with its years, will be one of the largest commercial centers in New Mexico. It has the location and is getting railroads to make it such.

The Emperor of Korea, is under a serious misapprehension as to the state of affairs in this country. He has yet to learn that most treaties between nations are made to be broken when occasion requires.

Banking institutions and newspapers are increasing in New Mexico. Very wholesome signs of good times.

ARIZONA NEWS NOTES

The mining men of Arizona are organizing a mining congress of their own. This is a good thing for the sister Territory.

After a great many failures, during a period of four years, the Copper Queen Mining Company has succeeded in striking an artesian flow near Bisbee.

The Arizona Cattle Growers' Association, which was to have held a meeting in Phoenix on December 5th, will not be held until the 25th of this month.

The Douglas city council, at a special meeting last week, adopted special resolutions, against the proposed jointure of New Mexico and Arizona as one state.

Most of the cases, which came up before the grand jury which met in Prescott last week, were for violations of the law prohibiting the selling of liquor to Indians.

On Monday night, the Little Colorado River, reached the highest point in the history of Holbrook. The only thing that saved the town was the solid wall of rock on the river front.

The men who have the Florence canal in charge mean business. With this canal in working order, that portion of Pinal County would be one of the best agricultural sections of the Southwest.

At the Herndon Indian School, south of Tucson, there are many improvements going on and in contemplation. The government has made an appropriation of $5,000, for a school for boys and girls. Construction work on this building will be started soon.

At a special meeting of the Bisbee city council, strong resolutions were adopted, protesting against the passage of the Hamilton Joint Statehood bill. The resolutions were passed by a unanimous vote and were signed by the mayor, the individual aldermen and the city clerk.

Reports from the vicinity of Verde River are to the effect that the farmers in that vicinity, suffered heavy losses as a result of the recent floods on that river. All the irrigation heads have been washed out and a great deal of work will have to be done before these can be put in operation again.

According to Bisbee papers, there is every reason to believe that southern Arizona will in the very near future be in the grasp of a coal famine, as a result of the inability of local dealers to get coal from New Mexico. As there has been a shortage of cars for some time past, the supply of coal from New Mexico has been stopped.

OYSTERS, JUST RIGHT.

Take your girl to the Bon Ton and treat her to a dish of those delicious oysters. They will be cooked just as you like them.

ESTANCIA VALLEY.

Much Progress and Many Settlers Are Arriving—The Beautiful Snow—News Notes.

Estancia, Dec. 20.—The valley is now wrapped in nature's robe of ermine. Snow commenced falling near the foot hills Sunday night and continued to fall steadily until Tuesday, making at least twelve inches of snow on the ground here and in town it is five or six inches or perhaps even more in places.

The laying of the corner stone of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Estancia, with a very nice and appropriate service, was accomplished on Tuesday, December 5th. There was a scripture reading and an address by Reverend J. G. Rouff, pastor of the church and Dr. A. P. Morrison, superintendent of the Methodist Missions in New Mexico. This was followed by the ceremony of laying the corner stone.

Everybody is glad to know that the county is settling up with such good citizens, for where there is an ambition to have good churches and schools in a county, there is sure to be progression towards a higher degree of civilization.

Despite the rigor of the New Mexico winter, settlers continue to drift into the valley and locate on homestead claims. There are so many that have located here in the past few weeks, that fencing, the erecting of houses and the putting down of wells are the order of the day. The amount of improvements made in the valley shows a spirit of thrift, enterprise and determination to make homes.

People of the valley are sorry to note that the firm of Dunlavy Mercantile Company will soon be only a memory, for new faces are soon to be seen at the old stand. The loss of these substantial citizens is a gain to some other place.

It is also rumored that L. A. Bond, the proprietor of the "People's Store" here has sold his meat market to Trinidad A. Romero, Jr., and has also sold the building heretofore occupied by Mr. Bond to Garnett and Dunlavy, hardware dealers. So there will be quite a few changes in business circles here, but it is thought that the changes are for the betterment of the town.

A. A. Hayne is enjoying a visit from his brother and a half dozen friends from Oklahoma Territory. It is understood that Mr. Hayne and Mr. Maxwell have taken them up to the Manzanos on a hunt and to show them the sights. They say that they never saw a prettier sight than this broad, fertile valley, and lofty mountains, wrapped in snow.

The soil, the situation and the climate are here and there is nothing to prevent the Estancia Valley from becoming the most fertile valley in the Territory.

A HAT FOR $50.

"One can buy a modest little evening hat for $50," says a fashion writer. Oh, yes! and in a few weeks one can buy that same modest little piece of head goods on the bargain counter for $3.98, if one wishes. But at the Bon Ton Hotel and Lunch Counter you can be served with the most delicious oysters and short orders, also the finest regular meals and Spanish dishes. The Bon Ton is just like a great big happy home.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

S. B. Grimshaw, assistant to the president and general manager of the Santa Fe Central Railway, is again at his desk after two days' illness.

The last will and testament of the deceased colored barber, William J. Slaughter, will come before the probate court for approval on the ninth of January.

The Capital City Club held its regular dance in the Elks' Hall last night and a large crowd attended. Music was furnished by Morrison's orchestra. All had a good time.

Two burros, a brown and a black one, are securing comfortable boarding quarters at the expense of the county. Every night as soon as it becomes dark, the burros walk boldly into the yard at the court house and find a soft bed upon the grass there. They remain in the yard all night but apparently know enough to leave the place shortly after sun up.

The following weather report for towns in this vicinity has been received at this office: Las Vegas, clear; Springer fair; Albuquerque fair; Espanola fair; Embudo fair; Antonito cloudy.

Articles of incorporation are published in this issue of the Clergy Relief Union of the Archdiocese of Santa Fe. The object of the Union is to assist indigent members of the clergy and to do other charitable work.

There will be a special meeting of the Guild of the Church of the Holy Faith on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. S. Harroun, west Palace Avenue. All members are requested to be present.

The dolls, fancy goods and other articles which were not sold at the sale held at the residence of Mrs. L. Bradford Prince, the other day, are now on exhibition at the library rooms and anything desired can be seen and purchased there.

News reached the city that the Indian trapper, Miguel, recently found a bear track in the snow near Cowles and followed the animal to its lair where it was killed. Several of the animals have been killed this season between here and the Pecos.

The officials of the Colorado Telephone Company in Denver called upon the New Mexican yesterday for a conversation over the long distance line. The service and transmission was unusually good. The public has already commenced the use of the line in a commercial way.

Superintendent Crandall of the Indian School made the statement that reports were published in the Territory that the game of football played in Las Vegas recently took place on Sunday. He asks that this report be corrected as the game took place on Saturday afternoon.

It is probable that all the speakers in the recent oratorical contest will go to Albuquerque to hear the debate there. It was the intention of the managers to pay the expenses of the trip out of the funds realized from the receipts at the door. This fund was not large enough, however, and several of the contestants have signified their intention of going anyway.

The Board of Education has just completed arrangements for the installation of a laboratory in the new high school building which will cost $250. The laboratory will contain apparatus for the study of physics and other branches. This is an improvement which has been sorely needed in the school and will undoubtedly be of great assistance to the pupils in their work.

The funeral services of William C. Murney who died suddenly Monday afternoon, will not be held until the arrival of two sisters who are expected here from Topeka, Kansas, tomorrow. Mrs. Murney, mother of the deceased is some where in California and cannot be communicated with. Efforts are being made to find her in time to allow her to attend the services here.

The weather forecast for today is generally fair tonight and Thursday, except snow in the north portion tonight. It will be colder tonight. The maximum temperature yesterday was 37 at 2:35 p. m., and the minimum was 18 at 7:50 a. m. The mean for the day was 28 degrees. The relative humidity for the day was 63 per cent. The thermometer registered 20 at 6 this morning.

The little Santa Claus, who is spending the week at Seligman Brothers' store, went into James Seligman's office last night, in tears and wanted to resign his job. Unless the boys of Santa Fe are better behaved in future, Christmas presents are apt to be scarce this year. Santa Claus complained that the boys had pulled his whiskers and offered him other indignities which he was unaccustomed to receiving.

The New Mexican's weather reports from points along the Santa Fe Central Railway, state that this morning it was clear at Torrance, the thermometer standing at 16 degrees above; at Willard about four inches of snow have fallen during the night and the thermometer this morning stood at 18 degrees above; at Estancia, it was clear, the thermometer at 20 degrees above; at Cerrillos, there was a little snow.

Frederick Warde will be heard at the court house tonight under the auspices of the Elks. There are a large number of people in the city who will be glad to have this opportunity to hear one of the leading Shakespearean scholars render one of the immortal works of the great master. Mr. Warde has received great praise for his work in other parts of the west and it is safe to predict that those who hear him tonight will be well pleased.

If Santa Fe people who possess eastern friends, do not receive the customary number of Christmas gifts this season they should not become angry. The baggage car which was destroyed by fire yesterday in the wrecking of train No. 17 of the Santa Fe on Badger Creek, near Reading, Kansas, undoubtedly contained many Christmas gifts for people here and in this vicinity. Just what and how many packages were destroyed is not yet known and those to whom they belonged will probably never be fully determined.

Yesterday's New Mexican contained a notice regarding a fierce dog which was allowed to run at large on Delgado Street. The matter was printed at the request of a woman who had been severely frightened by the animal. Upon reading of the dog's ferocity, Valentine Ribera, night bell boy at the Claire Hotel said he also had been attacked by the animal on numerous occasions and that people in the neighborhood were afraid to venture out after dark. Ribera works at night and goes home shortly after daylight. On a number of occasions he has had to flee from the dog, he says, in order to escape injury. This is another of the too numerous dogs of Santa Fe.

The linemen who are constructing the long distance telephone circuit between this city and Albuquerque, moved camp today. They are now fifteen miles southwest of Santa Fe and the line is in working order that far. The necessary poles have been set up through to Albuquerque and all that remains to be done is to string the wires. The line to Denver is now in good working order and conversations with that point are held daily. The day rate to Denver is $2.40 and the night rate is $1.20 for three minutes conversation. The day rate to Las Vegas is only 35 cents and the night rate 25 cents. Through connections to Denver will be completed by February 1, barring accidents.

Here is a chance for Marshal Richard Gorman to rid the city of at least one dog. Willis E. Hester, C. L. Haberlein and others are planning to make a horse back ride of 200 miles during the Christmas vacation season. They want a dog to take along but the following qualifications are necessary: Said dog must be at least one year old, dirty yellow in color and possessed of a good appetite. He must be dignified, and brave, yet not ferocious nor intemperate. The dog must not be of sonambulist temperament and under no circumstances must he have a weakness for vocal music. P. S.—The dog should also have good teeth and lungs. Any one having such a dog can dispose of him at a good price by applying to either of the above mentioned young men.

The popular McDonald Stock Company will hold the boards at the opera house in a series of magnificent attractions comprising comedy, music and drama with dancing and up-to-date specialties during the Christmas week. Monday night, the beautiful four act comedy drama entitled "Utah" will be presented. Although the best show of the season, it will be presented at popular prices of 35 and 50 cents, ladies admitted free, when accompanied by an escort either man or woman holding a paid reserve seat ticket. This ticket must be purchased before 7 o'clock Monday evening. The company also carries a large band of skilled musicians and a concert will be given twice daily. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock. Seats on sale at the usual place.

STOPS ANY ITCHING.

Doan's Ointment Cures Eczema and Itching Piles. Santa Fe People Recommend it.

One application of Doan's Ointment stops any itching. Short treatment cures eczema, itching piles, salt rheum—any skin eruption or skin itching. It is the cheapest remedy to use, because so little of it is required to bring relief and a cure. Here is Santa Fe testimony to prove it:

C. M. Conklin, ex-city clerk, living on San Francisco Street, says: "There came to my notice some time ago a case of hemorrhoids, commonly called piles. They were of the bleeding, protruding variety, and itched intensely. Doan's Ointment came to the notice of the party afflicted and was procured at Ireland's Pharmacy and a course of the treatment given. The first application soothed and a continuation of its use for some time longer radically disposed of that far too prevalent plague."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Waiting For an Eclipse.

Lewis Swift, the astronomer, told how he waited in Denver for the eclipse of 1878. For a hundred years astronomers had expected this eclipse, and three minutes before the computed time for it to begin Mr. Swift seated himself at his telescope and looked into a cloudless sky. "It was a solemn moment," said he. "No words can describe it. Slowly, as if time's ceaseless flow had begun to slacken, two of the three minutes had passed away, and no eclipse and nothing to indicate that anything unusual would happen. I then began to count the tick, tick, tick of our sidereal clock till all the seconds had passed away, and no eclipse, but before the next tick I saw three black mountain peaks on the moon's limb glide on the sun. The eclipse had begun just three-quarters of a second too late." It is such things as this that make one respect the accuracy of the computations of the astronomers when they tell us about the distances in the heavens, the weight and size of planets and other kindred things.

Relieving the Brain.

The persistent use of the muscular system is well calculated to relieve the brain and nervous system of their tension, says Dr. H. J. Hall in Good Housekeeping. It is also true that manual work pleases and satisfies the mind when its results are good. All this becomes clearer when we realize how vainly we may seek relief from nervous fatigue in physical rest or even in recreations of the ordinary sort. The quiet room or the quiet hillside, so suggestive of rest and peace—these are too often impotent in the presence of carking care. One reason for this failure is that the brain and the body are commonly not tired in what is called nervous exhaustion, but are only irritated, while the sense of fatigue, which is so misleading, is merely the result of that irritation and may be termed a psychic fatigue. Under these circumstances it is easy to understand that it is change, not necessarily physical rest, which is so sorely needed.

Nailing the Ghost.

An extraordinary instance of rustic superstition has been brought to light in a Hungarian village. Owing to sinister rumors as to the cause of death the authorities had the body of a peasant exhumed and were horrified to find the hands and feet nailed down to the coffin, while a long nail had also been driven through the heart. An inquiry was at once held, with the result that an old woman confessed that the act had been perpetrated under her directions. The man had died a sudden death, and, there being a superstition in Hungary that persons dying under such circumstances haunt the house in which they die, the further superstition has grown up that postmortem reappearance can be prevented by nailing the body in its coffin. The old woman further admitted having done the same thing in all similar cases for many years.—London Globe.

Dueling Pistols.

The pistol used in the duel is not the military arm or the revolver, but a very carefully made and wonderfully accurate weapon known as the dueling pistol. For many years the length of this arm was a matter of grave discussion at all the clubs in England and on the continent. At first the dueling pistol had a twelve inch barrel and carried twenty round bullets to the pound, but in 1810 the elder Desvires, with his confrere, Lepage, at Paris, and Manton and Egg of London, the most eminent pistol makers of their respective countries, fixed the actual length of the dueling pistol barrel at nine inches, and there it has remained. A case of the best pistols used to bring from 500 to 750 francs, or $100 to $150.

Selling Soap Bubbles.

"Foreigners are constantly surprised at the Japanese schemes for earning a little money," writes a traveler in Japan. "In Choshi I saw the queerest yet. A man with a bucket and a bundle of bamboo tubes was going up and down the street selling soap bubbles. He carried soapy water, of which he sold a small portion for one-twentieth or one-tenth of a cent. He left behind him groups of happy children, who filled the air with beautifully colored bubbles blown from tiny tubes."

Calomel.

Calomel was discovered by Crolius in the seventeenth century, and the first directions for its preparation were given by Beguin in 1608. Its name is derived from two Greek words, signifying "a beautiful black," because in its preparation a black powder is the first step in the manufacture, being produced by rubbing mercury together with corrosive sublimate.

WASHING CLOCK FACES.

Some Timepieces Grow Soiled More Quickly Than Others.

"I've been washing the faces of the city clocks nigh on to ten years, I guess," said a pleasant Scotch-Irish-American, "and before that I did it in the old country. There aren't many face washers in this land, and the few who know the business do well at it." He looked prosperous in his tweed suit and derby hat.

"Is your work anything like that of the steeple climber?" he was asked. "Bless you, no," he replied, "only in one thing, and that is that mostly sailors take up with the trade. That's because we're good climbers, you know. I've washed the faces of city and church clocks that were 180 feet from the ground, and it took me two and three weeks to do it. I'm a practical clock repairer, too—have to be, you know—and do my work in a huge wooden cradle made for the purpose. Some clocks get their faces dirty in a year or so; others remain clean ten years, and so on. Old Ben, Westminster's great clock, is expected to keep clean fifteen years.

"In the old days the trade was more dangerous. We used to work from scaffolds and got many dangerous falls. Now we have the cradles and all the fixings and comforts, and if a man keeps his head he can work as well as on the curb. How is the pay? Well, that's hard to figure, for we work by the job. We don't clean clock faces in winter, so we make enough in the summer to last the year round. Of course sometimes the clocks are taken out of their cases and repaired in the shops. Last year I cleared $2,000 and visited only two other cities, Chicago and Boston. This year I'll make more because building operations have grinded the clocks and given our trade a lift."—New York Post.

The Word Derrick.

The word derrick for a machine used to lift heavy weights is curiously derived from a London hangman in the beginning of the seventeenth century whose name was Theodoric and who is often mentioned in old plays. "He rides circuit with the devil, and Derrick must be his host, and Tyborne the inn at which he will light" occurs in "The Bellman of London," published in 1616. The name thus corrupted came afterward to be applied, by an easy transition, to the gallows and later still to any frame or contrivance resembling it in shape.

A Riot of Ink.

Canon Nicholl used to tell how on one occasion he had visited the famous house of the Thrales in that suburb of London where Dr. Johnson was at home. "Johnson," said the canon in recalling the visit, "had occupied two rooms, and these were left as he last used them. The sight was an extraordinary one, for ink was splashed all over the floor and even on the walls. It was one of the doctor's habits to dip his pen in ink and then shake it."

EATON LAND GRANT.

Negotiations for its Sale to Denver Capitalists on the Tapis—Valuable Property.

The New Mexican is informed from what is believed to be a reliable source that negotiations for the sale of the Eaton Land Grant in the southern part of this county, are pending and that they will likely be successful. Saron N. Laughlin, who lives on the San Cristoval ranch on the grant and who is one of the principle owners, has the matter in charge. The parties negotiating are Denver capitalists, who are looking for a good investment and who, if they purchase, will develop the many resources of the property to their fullest extent.

The title is first class, the grant having been confirmed by the Congress of the United States many years ago and all claims to land contained therein having been settled by partition suits and by agreements. It contains about 80,000 acres and is indeed a princely domain. There are many acres of land fit for agricultural purposes, which, with the proper development of a water supply by reservoirs, ditch systems and pumping stations, could be brought under cultivation and would prove very profitable.

Extensive coal veins are believed to exist on the property and there are many indications of the existence of precious and base ores within its lines. Experts have also announced that by the use of diamond drills, good coal will be discovered, as they believe that a portion of the land in the grant is underlaid with extensive coal seams. Should the sale be consummated, the property will be developed to its fullest extent and colonies of farmers will be placed on it. A large portion of the land is as good grazing country as there is in the Southwest. The price asked, so this paper understands, is reasonable. The Denver people, who have the purchase in view, have ample capital to make it a money making proposition within a very few years.

The country is diversified and contains mountains, hills, river valleys, agricultural and grazing lands and it is believed that water can be developed by the digging of wells, by storage and by pumping stations at many points on the grant. It is capable of sustaining several large settlements in comfort and in plenty.

RECITAL BY WARDE HAS BEEN CALLED OFF.

When just going to press the New Mexican was informed that the Frederick Warde recital which was scheduled for tonight at the court house, has been called off owing to the inability of Mr. Warde to reach Santa Fe. He is now at Raton and Santa Fe train No. 3 on which he was to come to this city, is so late that it would probably not reach here before 10:30 o'clock tonight. As Mr. Warde has an engagement at Las Vegas tomorrow night and one at Albuquerque the night following, he will be unable to appear here. Those who have bought tickets can secure a return of their money by calling upon ticket dealers. The recital was to have been given for the benefit of the Elks' lodge.

MANY NEW SETTLERS.

To Be Located on Public Domain in Estancia Valley By Engineers.

Glenville A. Collins and W. W. Corbett, of this city, civil engineers, surveyors and assayers, are busy these days. Among other important duties they have undertaken the contract to locate about 400 settlers in the Estancia Valley, and on public lands east and west of the Santa Fe Central Railway.

These people will make mostly homestead entries and descriptions of the quarter sections, upon which they will be settled, will be furnished to them by Messrs. Collins and Corbett, from the official plats of the townships and from actual surveys, and the corner stones, section lines and township lines in the field. Most of these settlers will come from Iowa, Wisconsin, Dakota and other northwestern states.

An immigration company has been organized and the preliminaries of carrying its plans into execution are now being arranged. E. T. Merritt, of Green River, Utah, is the immigration agent, who is doing the preliminary work. These settlers will make both homestead settlements and desert land entries on the public domain and propose to make the Estancia Valley their permanent home.

The country, its resources and possibilities for raising successful crops, and for giving the people who desire to settle there comfortable homes and competencies in due course of time, have been thoroughly investigated and

SAVE AUTOMOBILISTS.

Searching Party Reaches Them Just in Time—Body of Dead Logger Found.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Dec. 20.—A searching party which left here yesterday afternoon to locate the lost trans-continental automobilists, Perry Megargie and David F. Fassett, found them late last night in a desperate condition snowed in, without food or gasoline, thirteen miles from the town.

Both men had suffered from cold but managed to save themselves from being frozen to death by the use of gasoline to build a fire. It was the smoke from this fire that led the rescuers to the spot.

While searching for the automobilists the searching party found the body of a logger named Thomas Smith, who had been lost for two days.

Now Look Out!

Now look out for watch troubles! The first touch of cold weather is apt to harden the oil—that strains the mainspring and affects the motion. It's the wisest thing you can do to have your watch examined at this time of year. If it is in good order, we'll let it alone; if it needs repairing, we'll do it thoroughly, at a moderate price.

Few watches are cleaned and oiled as they ought to be—once a year. People usually wait until something breaks. The other way is cheapest in the end and saves the watch.
