MAJORITY REPORT FAVORS JOINTURE

Democratic Minority Opposes State of Arizona.

TERRITORIAL TAXES CITED

Hamilton Says Returns Not Heavy as Should Be—Claims Are Made.

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, Jan. 23.—The House committee on territories presented two reports on the Hamilton joint statehood bill today. Majority report recommends passage of bill as reported by the committee.

The public schools of the new state received donations of five millions of acres for their maintenance. Other state institutions receive increased grants of land. The new state of Arizona will have two members of the House of Representatives in Congress. There will be two judicial districts and U. S. courts will be held in Albuquerque and in Phoenix.

The constitutional convention will consist of 66 delegates from what is now New Mexico and of 44 delegates from what is now Arizona and will be held in Santa Fe.

Convention Expenses.

The sum of $150,000 is appropriated for the expenses of the convention and the same may hold 60 days but no longer. At the same time, as the ordinances of the convention and the constitution prepared by it are submitted to state, legislative, and county officials are to be elected.

Delegate Andrews this forenoon presented a petition by the Republican Central Committee of Bernalillo County praying for joint statehood for the two territories.

The Delegate also introduced bills validating various bonds to be issued for the extension and building of various territorial institutions and laws refunding certain territorial and county obligations.

The opposition to the passage of the joint statehood bill is weakening and it is believed will not muster over forty when the bill comes up for action tomorrow. The bill will pass the House.

Majority Report.

Washington, D. C., January 23.—Representative Hamilton, of Michigan, chairman of the House Committee on territories, today submitted a favorable report on the Hamilton joint statehood bill, which provides for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, as the state of Oklahoma, and for the joint state of New Mexico and Arizona, under the name of Arizona.

The report reviews the bill in detail, explaining that the capital of Arizona, is to be at Santa Fe until 1915, and that the capital of Oklahoma is to be at Guthrie for the same length of time, when the people can choose their capitals.

Criticism Ill Formed.

The report says: "This committee considers criticism as ill formed which finds fault with New Mexico because of its foreign population."

"Out of a population of 195,316 New Mexico has only 16,465 foreign born inhabitants, a smaller percentage than most states of the Union. New Mexico was made a Territory in 1850 and ever since that time the people of that Territory have elected their own legislators, made their own laws, conducted their own local government and contributed revenue to the federal treasury."

"Were it not that two-fifths of its population which are native born, but of Spanish descendants have heretofore erroneously been referred to as foreign, it would be an aspersion upon the patriotism of the people even to refer to their loyalty. The remaining three-fifths of the population are of the same character as the people of Arizona."

On Taxation.

Of the alleged under valuation of the property in Arizona, for the purposes of taxation, which was warmly discussed in the hearings, the report says:

"It has a total assessed valuation of taxable property as shown by the report of the Secretary of the Interior of $57,920,372, but it is probable that its property is returned for taxation at comparatively a small percentage of its market value. In some instances as indicated by the government reports, at not over five per cent of its actual value."

"Concerning the taxes in New Mexico, the report says:

"The assessed valuation of property within the Territory for the year 1905 was $42,578,792, but it is asserted that for the purposes of taxation the prop-

STORM PASSING.

Points East in Better Condition—Wires Not Clear to Chicago Today.

New Orleans, Jan. 23.—A drop of forty degrees since Sunday converted the spring like weather here into winter, the mercury earlier today registered freezing. Elsewhere in the state a much lower temperature, with traces of snow is reported.

Blizzard Moderating.

Kansas City, Jan. 23.—The blizzard in this part of the southwest moderated during the night, and today there was but little snow falling, and practically no wind. At Kansas City the temperature was ten degrees above zero this morning. The trains into Kansas City from all directions, were from one to two hours late, but no serious interruptions to traffic were reported.

Chicago Storm.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—The sleet and snow storm which paralyzed telegraphic communications between this city and other parts of the country, passed eastward during the night, but today the wire situation is but little better than yesterday. All trains are arriving late.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Bank Nearly Loses Huge Sum of Money By Man Drilling Through Vault.

Topeka, Kans., Jan. 23.—The man who did the drilling into the vault of the Mercantile National Bank of Topeka, and came near securing $173,000, is in the city jail.

His name is Harry W. Williams, a colored man. He was captured in Lawrence last night where he tried to sell some postage stamps. Williams began drilling last Wednesday, living in the basement until Sunday when his work was discovered.

He had drilled through six feet of solid masonry.

HANDS OFF.

United States Does Not Object to Big Naval Demonstration By France.

Paris, Jan. 23.—President Loubet presided today at the cabinet council at which Premier Rouvier announced that he had received a communication from Ambassador Jusserand, to the effect that the United States did not consider the French naval demonstration against Venezuela to be a violation of the Monroe Doctrine. France, it is pointed out, thus far has her hands free, but the situation is unchanged for the moment as the council will not take any decisive action until the report of M. Taigny, former charge d'affaires at Caracas, is received.

APPEAL TO GARFIELD.

Independent Oil Refiners Ask Aid Against Alleged Efforts of Trusts.

Chanute, Kans., Jan. 23.—The independent oil refiners of Kansas have mailed to James B. Garfield, commissioner of corporations, an appeal for justice against an alleged conspiracy between the Standard Oil and the railroads to shut Kansas oil out of the market. The refiners who signed the appeal own eight refineries now in operation, besides two in course of erection. They have invested more than $1,000,000 in refineries, tank cars, storage tanks, etc.

erty is not returned at more than 20 per cent of its market value."

Minority Report.

The Democratic members of the House committee on territories presented a minority report today in opposition to the Hamilton joint statehood bill.

After reviewing the resources of the four territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory and declaring in favor of joint statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory, the report says there is no more reason for joining New Mexico and Arizona than there would be in joining Alaska and Porto Rico. The manifest purpose of the majority is to unjustly keep Oklahoma out of the Union unless they can, with greater injustice, force Arizona in, says the report.

Regret Action.

"We regret the President's action in recommending without assigning any reason for the joint statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, thus ignoring the last expression of the Republican National platform on the question of statehood for the remaining territories."

The report concludes: "Should the Republican party pass this bill, wicked as it is, in denial of equal rights in representation, and partisan in all its material details, it will afford another indecent example of the suppression of individual, territorial and national rights to subserve party ends."

Woman's Suffrage.

Washington, Jan. 23.—At the beginning of today's session of the Senate, Senator Warren introduced a bill giving women the right to vote in all states for representatives in Congress. The bill was referred to the committee on woman suffrage.

INAUGURATION RECEPTION AND BALL GREAT SUCCESSSES

Decorations as Handsome as Ever Seen in Territory—Prominent People Present—Lovely Women and Expensive Gowns.

The reception and ball tendered Governor Herbert J. Hagerman by the citizens of Santa Fe at the Palace Hotel last night, beside being the most brilliant affairs of the social season in the Capital City were successes in every way, and paid a fitting compliment to the new executive.

It is estimated that over 2,000 persons called during the hour and a half which the reception lasted to pay their respects to the new Governor as well as to give a parting hand clasp to the retiring one, Miguel A. Otero. Promptly at 8 o'clock the reception began when Governor Hagerman, took his place at the head of the receiving line. His mother, Mrs. J. J. Hagerman, assisted her son in receiving.

The other members of the line were ex-Governor Miguel A. Otero and Mrs. Otero. Opposite the receiving line stood several of the Governor's friends and members of the military staff, in full uniform.

Adjutant General A. P. Tarkington, in full regalia, stood at the head of the stairs to the left of the Governor, at which point persons approached the receiving line. Despite the fact that it was informal in every way, the affair did not lack for brilliancy. The handsome gowns worn by the women, the evening dress of the men and the occasional flash of a uniform, beneath the hundreds of electric lights, stronger than the sun's rays, made a scene of gaily long to be remembered.

Callers Presented.

Clerk of the Supreme Court Jose D. Sena, as master of ceremonies, was at his station at the head of the receiving line and successfully presented every caller to the new executive.

The dispatch and courtesy which he exhibited until the last minute of the reception, justified the belief the executive committee had in him when he was appointed to this important post. Governor Hagerman continued greeting one and all with his own particular genial and kind smile and a warm western handshake. He appeared to be in great good humor and laughed heartily several times at humorous remarks.

Members of the floor committee were posted along the line of entrance to the hotel, and in the lobbies of the first and second floor to keep those who came, moving, and see that all were given a chance to meet Governor Hagerman.

By 9 o'clock, most of those in attendance had been presented to the new head of the territorial government, and had found their way to the ball room, where they waited impatiently for the dancing to begin. Morrison's orchestra played a few short selections while Governor Hagerman and party, were coming down stairs.

Ball Begins.

The new executive entered the ball room walking with Mrs. Otero, and followed closely by his mother, upon the arm of ex-Governor Otero. As Governor Hagerman stepped through the doorway the orchestra at a signal from the master of ceremonies, struck up the music for the first dance, and immediately all was motion. Governor Hagerman was not to be outdone by any one present and formed an integral part of one of the first couples upon the floor. He was not allowed to play the role of wall flower during the entire evening. Mrs. Hagerman, the Governor's mother, did not dance but remained until a late hour, watching the "balladores" and engaging in conversation with her many new friends.

The dancing lasted until almost 3 o'clock this morning, with several intermissions during which the orchestra played concert numbers. A clarinet solo by Fred A. Young, entitled "Dreamland," was well rendered and received flattering applause.

The dance program as arranged by the committee contained eighteen numbers and a "Home, Sweet Home," waltz. Several dances were encored so enthusiastically, however, that the musicians were forced to replay them. Four extra numbers were also given at the request of dancers.

At 10 o'clock, the doors to the handsomely arranged buffet were thrown open and from that time until the end of the ball, refreshments were served. Punch bowls were placed at the entrances to the ball room, with a corps of attendants, to see that no one went thirsty.

Everything was along the lines of informality although the committee saw to it that the dignity of the occasion was maintained.

Beautiful Decorations.

The decorations were the feature of the evening. Four hundred and ten electric bulbs of all sizes and colors were used besides the flowers, flags, bunting, rugs, Navaho blankets and other materials. There were also a large number of powerful electric lights designed more for use than ornament.

The first thing to catch the eye in approaching the hotel after dark last night, was the name of "Hagerman" wrought in countless small red white and blue lights, and suspended above the ladies' entrance to the building. Beneath was a large star similarly constructed. These decorations could be seen for several miles out of the city.

Leading from the entranceway, were strings of electric lights, through the hallway to the lobby of the first floor. Other strings branched off up the broad stairways where they became lost in the general decorations.

At the landing in the lobby on the second floor, the decorators had constructed a large colonial porch of the period of 1776, upon which the receiving line was stationed. The porch was a work of art. The roof was supported by large columns of white, entwined with garlands of pepper tree greens, point de settes flamingo carnations, and other foliage. Clustering about the eaves and railings of the porch were similar decorations, so arranged as to represent growing foliage. The entire ground work of the porch was in solid white, but the decorations provided sufficient coloring. At the rear of the porch two large flags were draped in the semblance of butterfly wings. Other flags and bunting were used extensively.

Coloring Perfect.

In the center was a large American flag, constructed of electric lights. The coloring was perfect, and the effect very brilliant. Potted palms, oilanders, and flowers were effectively placed, upon each side of the porch, representing some magnificent specimens of the florists' art.

Flowers, greens and bunting made up the remainder of the decorations upon this floor.

The foliage was banded, across the lobby from stairway to stairway, and the electricians had cleverly interwoven strings of electric lights, here and there, making a very handsome and striking display. The banisters of the stairs too, were prettily decorated with rows of lights in red, white and blue, and quantities of greens, bunting and flags.

The line of visitors passed up the stairway upon the east side, across the steps of the colonial porch and to the lobby below by way of the stairs on the west side.

Equally brilliant and effective, were the ornaments placed in the ball room. The first thing that struck the fancy upon the entrance, was the display of lights, which drove every shadow into the back ground and kept it there. Down the center of the ceiling, were hung several large incandescent lights, with clouded white shades. Strings of electric bulbs were also brought in to use here, and cleverly placed about the walls. Clusters of red, white and blue lights were formed at intervals on the ceiling, interwoven with bunting. Festoons of bunting were also suspended from one cluster of lights to another, crossing and re-crossing confusingly, yet each so placed as to be in perfect order.

Number of Flags Used.

The pillars down the center of the room were screened above the dancers' heads with thick garlands of pepper tree branches, tied with red ribbons, and sprinkled with point de settes and flamingo carnations. Greens and flowers were suspended about the walls and window casings. Bunting and flags were also used extensively in this decorating, forming various figures upon the walls and about the windows.

The band stand, which was an imposing affair, was erected in the north-west corner of the ball room. It was of colonial type representing a gallery. Columns of white were again used, and the prevailing festoons of greens and flowers were brought into play. The floor of the stand was covered with expensive rugs, Navaho blankets and other carpets. Potted plants added to the whole.

The ladies' cloak room was on the second floor, near the point of reception. It was prettily arranged with flags, bunting, greens and flowers. The retiring room which adjoined it, was fitted up much after the fashion of a modern parlor.

For the gentlemen, a cloak room was provided upon the first floor just off the main lobby. It was also decorated to some extent in keeping with the general arrangements.

Buffet Room.

The large room opposite the main entrance to the ball room was used as a buffet. A profusion of electric lights, flags, bunting and foliage, were placed upon the walls in a variety of clever designs. The tables were placed in the center of the room and were groaning under a supply of delicate edibles, and dainty dishes. Flowers and greens added a touch of the artistic. Handsome candelabras, trimmed in red, with red shades and wax candles, occupied the middle of the table, casting a rosy glow about the room.

All about the public portion of the hotel, there were more or less traces of the decorators but the above displays are the ones of greatest merit. The decorating committee, the members of whom planned the gigantic task and many of whom did portions of the work themselves, deserve the highest praise for the beautiful display. It has never been surpassed if indeed it has been equaled in the history of the Capital City.

Governor Hagerman was greatly pleased with the compliment thus tendered him and expressed himself so, in thanking the various committees.

NEW MEXICO MILITARY INSTITUTE

Major Luigi Martini Mancini on Merits of

TERRITORY'S GOOD SCHOOL

Coming Year's Outlook Unusually Bright—Is Equipped for Proper Work.

Among those who accompanied Governor Herbert J. Hagerman from Roswell to this city Saturday was Major Luigi Martini Mancini, official and instructor in the New Mexico Military Institute and a warm personal friend of the new executive.

Major Martini was born of noble parents in Florence, Italy, and was graduated from the National Military School of that kingdom. He was commissioned an officer in the Italian army and served on the staff of the Duke of Aosta. Later he spent a year in Madrid, Spain, in the diplomatic service, where he mastered the Spanish language.

Hearing of the farming advantages and the wonderful development of the "Sunshine Territory" across the "big pond," he resigned from military service, came to the Pecos Valley about fifteen years ago and undertook farming. However, the change was too much for him and, not being familiar with agricultural methods in the Southwest, he was forced to give up agriculture and undertake other pursuits.

When the Military Institute was opened at Roswell, the Spanish course was made a strong feature of the work, and Major Martini was selected to fill the chair. For the past eight years he has been employed in this capacity and has made his work speak for itself.

Major Martini was seen by a New Mexican reporter at the Palace hotel Sunday and spoke enthusiastically of the New Mexico Military Institute and the work the school is doing in advancing the educational interests of the Territory. He said:

School Well Equipped.

"The school has steadily improved year by year until it is as well equipped as any such school west of the Mississippi river. In fact, in my estimation, it is more modern and more thorough than any military school in the West. The buildings have been enlarged and increased in number from one to eight. All are substantial structures peculiarly adapted for the purposes of the school. New departments have been added and new equipment provided, and other improvements will be made as soon as possible."

"During the present session 138 cadets have been enrolled, the greatest number since the organization of the institute. About sixty applicants have been refused admission because of lack of quarters. Applications have been received from young men in almost every State in the Union, but the boys of the Territory are given preference. Most of those refused admission were from points in other states."

"Colonel James W. Willson, superintendent of the institute believes that he will in the near future succeed in building up one of the largest training schools in the whole West. Should new buildings be erected during the year, it is expected that 250 cadets at least will be enrolled next year. If strenuous advertising be done, the number will doubtless be greatly increased."

Little Advertised.

"The school is not advertised in any of the periodicals, by which means institution of this class secure their patronage. Advertising is done in the Territory, but the most of this is donated to the school. The New Mexican has been especially kind in this respect."

"At the present time the New Mexico Military Institute has a superintendent and eight officers on the academic and military staff. All of these men are graduates of standard colleges and military institutes. They live in the barracks with the cadets and give them their personal care both day and night. The corps of cadets is divided into three companies and the band. The band is said to be one of the very best to be found anywhere in the West, and when the battalion starts out, preceded by the musicians, it receives cheers from all sides."

"Another especially strong feature of the New Mexico Military Institute is the athletic attainments of its cadets. They have one of the best baseball teams that can be found in any school of twice the number of students."

"While but little work has been done toward organizing the team for

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THE GREAT "I ARRIVE."

About as sensible and pointed an editorial on Special Acting Assistant Deputy Delegate Bernard Shannon Rodey, who is now in Washington claiming to represent the Territory, as ever got into print, appeared in last Saturday's issue of the Raton Range. The New Mexican takes occasion in reproducing it in order to give it more publicity, and the Range, by the way, a very good semi-weekly paper, the credit for it. Says the Range:

"I arrived last night."

"The above sentence opens with characteristic egotism the telegram of ex-Delegate Rodey, of Albuquerque, to the Evening Citizen, of that city from Washington. After recapitulation of the vote and condition of the bill heads. A delegation of seventeen Arizonians are having a hearing before the committee on territories and are fighting jointure with all of their might. Chairman Hamilton wants me to reply to them in a few days.

"In the name of New Mexico is this the best we can do? If we wanted joint statehood this man's ego at Washington would defeat it for, though he considers himself equal to reply to seventeen Arizonians at Washington, all New Mexico knows he is the representative of about that number of New Mexicans at home. Is Albuquerque New Mexico? One would think she so considered herself and it remains for the balance of the Territory to show her error. Neither Rodey nor Albuquerque have 'arrived,' they only think they have. And if Arizona has seventeen self-appointed people representing her, who are of such weight that one self-appointed egotist representing a small corner of our great Territory, can terrorize them with his answer to them, then Heaven help both territories, for they will fall short of their hopes and desires under such misrepresentations.

"If Arizona and New Mexico could be let alone in the hands of the powers-that-be, taking what is given them from Washington, knowing that their turn will come and that when it does, they will be permitted to speak for themselves, the matter of statehood would be settled far more satisfactorily than at present seems likely.

"I arrived last night," has no weight at home and can have little elsewhere and the great common people of New Mexico who are quietly following the advice of the real leaders of Republicanism and of square dealing will, in their own good time answer Arizona according to their several conscience will also show the fallacy of Rodeyism and the fatality of its effect on Albuquerque as a city, and prove to both that it is yet a long journey to the place where either of them may say in truth, 'I arrived last night.'"

NEW MEXICO'S AUTOMOBILE MAIL LINE.

A good many people and a large number of newspapers for some time past have indulged in abuse of and slander concerning New Mexico. They claim the Territory was unprogressive and apathetic, a large number of its people were illiterate, not good American citizens, that the Territory was not fit for statehood and they have said about everything detrimental, unjust and false concerning the people of New Mexico, that they possibly could crowd into bad or good English, mostly and former. Here is a point as to progress and advancement, and all the great commonwealths with their big trusts, their rotten municipalities, their corrupt legislative assemblies, must take a back seat. New Mexico has the first automobile mail line in successful operation in the history of the United States. This line runs from Torrance, the terminus of the Santa Fe Central Railway, to Roswell, a distance of 120 miles, trips are now made regularly and on time. All indications point that this will continue so to be and that the service will improve right along. The remarkable fact should be mentioned that there is not a house on the entire 120 miles of automobile mail road. In the effort east, where they have become sybarites, they would no more have thought of instituting and successfully managing such a line, than they would of flying to Saturn or Jupiter. What! Drive an automobile on 120 miles of road with no house, with no restaurants, with no palatial hotels, with no lodging houses and with no saloons; that would be impossible? Here in New Mexico but very little was said. The promoters of the plan raised the money for the automobiles, and Delegate W. H. Andrews induced the post-office department to order the route established. The department promised to continue it if the plan proved a success. This has been demonstrated. They can talk about their palaces, their railroad ventures, their special trains, their palace cars, their twenty dollar a day suites of rooms in grand hotels, etc., etc., but when it comes to "doing things" that are out of the ordinary and "that try men's souls" New Mexico can give them cards and spades and win the game.

MR. RODEY SHOULD HAVE COM-MENCED AT HOME.

According to telegraphic advices ex-Delegate B. S. Rodey made a speech before the House Committee on Territories Saturday last in which he scored the corporations unmercifully, because they held New Mexico and Arizona in their corrupt grasp and were tax dodgers. Right then and there he also admitted that he had received valuable favors in the shape of passes and franks from these blood-sucking corporations while Delegate from New Mexico and had used them to the limit necessary. The press dispatches have it that Mr. Rodey then and there said that the use of passes, franks and other privileges and favors granted by railroads and other semi-public corporations was universal with members of Congress. It may be presumed that had Mr. Rodey been elected by the people of New Mexico he would still be using railroad passes and other corporation passes and would have had nothing to say concerning these "powerful" and "vicious" corporations. This paper is not a corporation paper. For instance, during the past six months, it advocated an increase in the assessments of railroad property in New Mexico and aided materially in bringing about the recent action of the Board of Equalization in raising railroad valuation assessments by nearly a million dollars for the present year.

It strikes the average citizens that Mr. Rodey, in his attacks on the corporations that had favored him for years and that had enabled him to save mileage, was somewhat ungrateful and rather indecent. However, he might have gone a little further and shown up some of the assessments of his own city and county wherein, for instance, real estate is assessed at about one-sixth or one-seventh of the sales values and where the American Lumber Company, a lumber trust corporation, is assessed at about one-twentieth of the real value of its property. He could have made out many good cases and told real interesting tales of the tax dodging in his own town and county, just as he could have done so in describing the same state of affairs in every other county in the Territory. He could have told of the assessment values returned by the Democrat Publishing Company, publishers of the Albuquerque Journal which company is assessed at about one-tenth of the value claimed by its owners for its plant. Mr. Rodey should have commenced at home and had he done so, he could have easily consumed two weeks of the committee's time by giving it interesting information concerning this affair. The truth of the matter is that the quasi-public corporations in New Mexico are no more and no less tax dodgers than are the great majorities of the other property owners.

For instance, look at the great mining interests and see how ridiculously small is the tax money paid by these interests for county and territorial support. The New Mexican could go on ad infinitum. The state of affairs that exists in New Mexico is not much worse and is not much better than it is in many other commonwealths of this great Union. In his frenzy and in his intense desire to see the Hamilton bill pass, Mr. Rodey has again talked "too much." He reminds one of the negro whose mouth was so large that he put his foot in it whenever he opened it. Right here, the New Mexican again takes the occasion to say that the people of New Mexico are ready to vote upon the question of joint statehood, should the Congress pass the Hamilton-Beveridge bill. The conditions of the enabling act and the provisions of the constitution will determine their action. They will not be influenced by blatherskite rot and senseless and unsupported figures of speech. They will act for what is best for themselves, and their own interests. The New Mexican will aid them in doing so.

THE ORO GRANDE TIMES.

And still they come! This time it is the Oro Grande Times. It is getting to be difficult to keep track of the newspapers in New Mexico and the New Mexican's exchange list has been growing at an amazing rate the past few years. The Oro Grande Times is published at Jarilla Junction, Otero County, upon the site of what is to be the town of Oro Grande. The town site has been laid out at the junction of the El Paso and Southwestern Railroad and the branch railroad to the mining camp of Jarilla; the preliminary arrangements have been made for the erection of a large smelter and the work has been begun on a pipe line to bring water from the Sacramento Mountains to Oro Grande, or as the Postoffice Department less euphoniously calls it, Jarilla Junction. The day is gone by when the average new newspaper looked as if it had been printed with stove pipe rollers and was edited by the printer's devil.

The Oro Grande Times looks as if it had just stepped out of a hand box. Its articles are well written, it is set from new type and is well made up, having every appearance of prosperity. For the present it will be published weekly. May it live long and see Oro Grande grow to be a rival of El Paso, Texas.

The Hamilton Joint Statehood Bill, in all probability, will come up for a vote in the House of Representatives tomorrow. All right! Thereafter let it go to the Senate and be disposed of as that body desires. If it passes, there will be lively times ahead for the two territories. If not, work will have to commence all over again next session of Congress. "Never give up the ship." If the bill becomes law, the carrying of its provisions into effect will depend upon the direct vote of the people. The man, be his name Rodey or any other, who predicts that the people of the two territories will give a majority for the measure may be sincere, but he does not know what he is talking about.

The excitement is over and there is a new Governor of New Mexico. In a republic like the United States, the French phrase "le roi est mort, vive le roi," does not count. Many and many a man has left high office and has afterward attained still higher official honors, at least, this is the case in this great and free country. That future advancement, 90 per cent of it, depends upon the man in question, is true. The chances are here as much as they are found in other commonwealths of this Union.

A terrible blizzard swept part of Oklahoma yesterday and did fearful damage. Over four feet of snow fell in many places and great suffering and hardship ensued. In central and northern New Mexico it was rather cold yesterday, but nothing real unpleasant or detrimental, either to persons, livestock or property occurred. As time runs on it is becoming more and more demonstrated that the appellation given New Mexico "The Land of Sunshine" is deserved in all truth and soberness.

During the Otero administration the following new counties were created: McKinley, Luna, Otero, Quay, Roosevelt, Torrance and Sandoval. With the exception of Sandoval and Torrance, these have done and are doing very well financially and otherwise. In Sandoval and Torrance Counties, conditions are improving and in another year or two these counties will do well, especially the county of Torrance which is now receiving a very desirable influx of immigrants.

Should the Hamilton-Beveridge statehood bill become a law, the voters of this Territory will decide and will vote either for or against the constitution under it, to be submitted to them. The fabrications of the Albuquerque Joint Statehood League will cut mighty little ice in this decision. The voters will not be swayed or influenced by political tricksters, money sharks and land grabbers in the Duke City.

MINES AND MINING.

Grant County.

This county has heretofore headed the list of counties in the Territory in the production of metallic wealth. It, however, during the year 1904, was outclassed by Socorro County nearly double, when not taking into consideration the output of the iron mines lying between Fierro and Hanover.

This decline in production began with the destruction of the Silver City Reduction Works by fire in 1901. During the latter part of December, 1904, this smelting plant was rebuilt, in part, by the Comanche Mining and Smelting Company, it having purchased the ruins of the old smelter and site. The rejuvenated plant was "blown in" about January 1, 1905, and will likely remain in full blast throughout the year. Its capacity is about 250 tons per day, and it is likely to be increased by another stack in the near future.

The rebuilding of the smelter has greatly stimulated the mining industry in Grant County, and, in addition to this enterprise, the Comanche Company is constructing a narrow gauge railway from its plant to the mines at Pinos Altos, eighteen miles distant. The building of this road will enable the low grade sulphide ores of that district to be worked at a profit.

Acquisition of what is known as the Hearst property was made by the Comanche people about one year ago, and owing to the great bodies of low grade sulphide ores found in this property the idea of building the narrow gauge railway as a carrier of these ores was first conceived. The deepest working on the old Hearst property is known as the Gillette shaft, which approaches a depth of 800 feet. The ores of this mine are refractory and carry a heavy percentage of zinc. Zinc appears to exist in all the deeper workings throughout the district, including the Mountain Key mine, which has a depth of 700 feet and has, therefore, been, and now is, among the best producers in the district. It is the intention of the Comanche Company to save the zinc values, as well as those of the other metals.

Activity in placer mining at Pinos Altos has greatly increased over former years, due to plenty of water caused by excessive rains. After heavy rains many of the old gulches are worked over and re-worked, having thus been subjected to such treatment for nearly forty years, yielding fair values each time by this repeated process of working.

Mexicans now wash and produce most of the placer gold of the district, they having almost superseded the American miner.

Lying to the west of Pinos Altos at Bear Mountain, near old Camp Fleming, Peter June, about May 1, 1905, struck a pocket of very high grade gold and silver ore, which caused a considerable flurry along those inclined to mining, but since the first find nothing of any particular value has been reported.

In the Burro Mountains much activity is manifested in developing the large bodies of low grade copper ores. The ores of the camp are found in a siliceous porphyry gangue and exist as carbonates and sulphides, carrying no other values.

The center of activity in this camp is chiefly at the St. Louis mine, where a new 100-ton concentrating plant was completed in the summer of 1904 by the Burro Mountain Copper Company. A small smelting plant was also erected near Dead Man's Gulch by the Chatham Smelting Company about the last of March, 1904, and was torn down immediately after its completion for lack of water and reconstructed at Silver City. It was only operated a few days after being "blown in."

Aside from the valuable turquoise mines in the Burro Mountains, it is believed that this region is destined to become an important factor in the production of copper in the near future. Central District is the most important one in Grant County. It embraces the camps of Central, Lone Mountain, San Jose, Gold Gulch, Hanover, Fierro and the famous Santa Rita camp. The mines at Santa Rita possess many points of interest, especially from an historical standpoint, since they produced the first copper and were the first metallic mines worked in the Rocky Mountains, having been discovered about the year 1800. Since that time the Santa Rita mines have been worked almost incessantly down to the present time. To these mines New Mexico owes her principal output in copper. The geology of the Santa Rita copper deposits is extremely interesting, owing to the many associated forms of copper ore, among which native copper is prominent.

Between Fierro and Hanover, the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company owns extensive deposits of a high grade iron ore. These deposits were worked but little during 1904, but at the present writing the company is mining and shipping about thirty car loads of the ore per day to their steel plant at Pueblo, Colorado.

Activity is observed at the old Hanover copper mines, as well as at the Ivanhoe. These two properties are now being developed and will likely attain their former prestige as producers.

Near Hanover postoffice is the Thunderbolt claim, which is a zinc property, and two or three years ago it produced and shipped a considerable amount of smithsonite to Mineral Point, Wisconsin.

The excitement at Gold Gulch during the summer of 1903 over phenomenally rich gold ore contained in sphalerite has entirely subsided, the find appearing to be only in small pockets. However, some systematic development is expected to be carried on at that point during the summer by a Texas company.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made.

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker of Porterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by all druggists.

WILD WITH ITCHING HUMOR

Eruption Broke Out in Spots All Over Body—Caused a Continual Itching for Two Years—Doctor's Medicine Did no Good—Cured at Expense of only $1.25 and Now

THANKS CUTICURA FOR COMPLETE CURE

"Some time ago I wrote you for a book on the Cuticura Remedies and received it O. K. and went and bought the Soap, Ointment, and Pills. They did me more good than any medicine I ever used. They cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad., I sent to you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment, and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. If you wish, you may publish this. Your friend forever, Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. D. 2, Walnut, Kan., June 15, 1905."

ITCH! ITCH! ITCH!

SCRATCH! SCRATCH! SCRATCH! This is the condition of thousands of skin-tormented men, women, and children, who may be instantly relieved and speedily cured by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, when physicians and all else fail.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Soap, 25c. Ointment, 50c. Resolvent, 50c. (In form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 50c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures. Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

The Albuquerque city council, a few days ago, offered $250,000 for the Albuquerque water company's plant, but the company's representative refused to sell for that sum because the price they have set for its plant is $300,000 and the company will sell for no less.

Word has just been received of a monstrous gusher that had been struck near Artesia. The artesian well with only an eight inch casing sends a stream of water twelve feet into the air, which amounts to approximately 500 gallons of water per minute, sufficient to cover twenty acres to a depth of two feet in twenty-four hours.

HORSE RACING AT ALAMOGORDO INTERESTING.

Bronco day at Alamogordo, and races were pulled off as advertised. A number of horses were on hand and quite a crowd, including a few Indians, the latter also putting up a horse that made a good race.

"Captain," owned by Colonel Sebe Gray of Capitan, and "Skinny," owned by B. H. Worthington, of El Paso, ran a "dead heat" in first and the race was run over, Colonel Gray's horse winning in second, taking a purse of $135 and "Skinney" getting second money, $45. The dash was a quarter dash.

Electro Magnets.
The familiar horseshoe magnet is made of highly tempered steel and magnetized so that one end is a north pole, the other a south or perhaps more commonly known as a negative and a positive. Once magnetized it is always magnetic unless the power is drawn from it by exposure to intense heat. An electro-magnet, however, can be made from any scrap of soft iron, from a piece of ordinary telegraph wire to a gigantic iron shaft. When a current of electricity passes through an insulated wire coiled about a soft iron object such as a nail, a bolt or a rod, that object becomes a magnet as long as a current of electricity is passing through the coils of wire or helix. A coil of wire in the form of a spiral spring has a stronger field than a straight wire carrying the same current, for each turn or convolution adds its magnetic field to that of the other turns, and by having the center of the coil of iron, which is a magnetic body, the strength of the magnetism is greatly increased. —Joseph H. Adams in St. Nicholas.

The Best Painting at the Exhibition.
Lover—This landscape is undoubtedly the best picture in the exhibition. It strongly resembles that beautiful scene where Leonora gave me to understand that she reciprocated my affection.
Lady—This portrait of a lady deserves the first prize. The dress is quite inimitable and was, no doubt, made by a first class Paris costumer.
Gormand—A still life! Oysters, lobsters, champagne and even a goose liver pate! This is the most perfect picture I have seen yet.
Average Visitor—At the back yonder is the finest picture in the exhibition. I haven't seen it yet, but it draws the biggest crowd.
Professor—In this historical painting the costumes are most faithfully delineated. I have not seen a picture that I like better.
Gamekeeper—This portrait of a dog is wonderfully like my dead Jumbo. It's the best picture in the lot.
Painter—I have seen all the other fellows' pictures, but my own is the finest after all.—From the German.

Friendly Comment.
"I can't see why it is that some men will go in raptures over a silly woman," said the fair girl to her chum.
"Who's been making love to you now, dear?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Pleiades.
Those timekeepers the Pleiades have been used to mark the days from the most remote periods. T. W. Fewkes, describing the fire ceremonies of the Pueblo Indians of Tusayan, said that, having been present on two such occasions in 1892 and 1893, he found that the error of time made by the Indians as to the 13th of November in those two years was insignificant. It was the culmination of the Pleiades which told the Indians the proper time for the beginning of their rites.

Education.
What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to a human soul. The philosopher, the saint and the hero—the wise, the good and the great man—very often he hid and concealed in a plebeian, which a proper education might have disinterred and brought to light.—Addison.

His Luck.
"He's so unlucky," said the Billville citizen, "that I verily believe that if he was ter hide from a hurricane in a storm pit a earthquake would come along an' swallow the storm pit."—Atlanta Constitution.

Impediment.
True—Why don't you break the engagement if you find you no longer love him? Marjorie—I've just discovered that he wants to break it himself. —Puck.

The secret of education lies in respecting the pupil.—Emerson.

Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marring of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this: childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but if properly managed no more harmful in its effects upon the human form divine than any other natural function.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.
It is a liniment, it is harmless, it is potent, it is priceless in its results, it is Mother's Friend. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Our book of priceless value sent free to all women.

The executive committee last night, said that it was not known just how many tickets were sold because of the fact that there was a rush after 7 o'clock last night, which lasted for some time. P. S.—No Trouble to Show Goods.

Now Look Out!

Now look out for watch troubles! The first touch of cold weather is apt to harden the oil—that strains the mainspring and affects the motion. It's the wisest thing you can do to have your watch examined at this time of year. If it is in good order, we'll let it alone; if it needs repairing, we'll do it thoroughly, at a moderate price.

Few watches are cleaned and oiled as they ought to be—once a year. People usually wait until something breaks. The other way is cheapest in the end and saves the watch.

MILITARY INSTITUTE

the coming season, the prospects are good, and if nothing happens the cadets will be prepared to meet all comers just as soon as the weather gets warm enough for them to take possession of the diamond.

"During the present session, the health of the cadets has been remarkably good, and though our hospital is maintained and a trained nurse employed by the year to look after the sick cadets, she has had but very little to do. There has been no illness to speak of, and the cadets are active and thoroughly alive to both academic and military duties."

S. M. ASHENFELTER.

Prominent Attorney of Silver City,
Died This Morning of Paralysis of Heart.

Special to the New Mexican.

Silver City, N. M., Jan. 23.—S. M. Ashenfelter, one of the members of the New Mexico bar and a leading attorney of southern New Mexico, died here early this morning of paralysis of the heart. The deceased came to New Mexico in 1872 and was one of the original settlers of Grant County. For several years he published and edited the first weekly newspaper published in Grant County, the Southwest Sentinel. Under the Ross administration he was territorial attorney for the Third Judicial District, a position, which he filled ably and well. Thereafter, for several years, he lived in Colorado Springs, where he practiced his profession and engaged in mining. In 1895 he returned to New Mexico and has practiced his profession in Silver City since. He leaves a widow and three daughters. His death was unexpected, as apparently he has been in good health. He was a man of high character, respected and well liked in southern New Mexico and has many friends throughout the Territory.
