MORE EXPOSURES OF MEAT PACKERS

Now Requested By Mr. Fulkerson of Missouri.

NEILLS' STARTLING STORY

Alleges Almost Unprintable
Things--Fears Calamity in West.

Washington, June 9.—Representative Fulkerson, of Missouri, has introduced a resolution calling on the President and Secretary of Agriculture to immediately make public any and all information that they may secure from "the great army of meat inspectors employed by the government or from any other source that will tend to credit or discredit the product of any plant where meat products are prepared."

The resolution also calls upon the Secretary of Agriculture to immediately give to the public his opinion on the conditions of the plants and the healthfulness of the products coming from the various plants.

The beef inspection hearing before the House committee on agriculture was begun today by listening to Representative Garner of Texas, who made a plea for speedy action.

Cattlemen Fear Market Slump.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—S. H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, Texas, an attorney for the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, was next heard by the committee. He detailed the extent of the Texas cattle industry. He said, while the raisers had their difficulties with the packers and had not got the best of them, yet in this question the interest of the raisers and packers were identical. If there was additional expense, someone would pay it, and the man who can name the price of the thing he sells can put the additional expense where he pleases. The stockmen believe that the packers could put this expense on the stock raisers. He read a telegram from J. L. Lyle, president of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas:

"The present agitation has seriously depressed the cattle business. The universal impression is that cattle values will suffer from four to five dollars per head decline."

Another telegram from Murdo McKenzie, manager of the second largest cattle ranch in America, located in Colorado, estimated by wire that the fall in the price would be $1 per hundred weight.

Packers Cannot Regulate Prices.

When asked by Representative Adams of Wisconsin if the packers did not fix the price paid for cattle, Cowan said that this was an impossibility under ordinary conditions. Neither could the cattle raisers by a combination, fix the price. His reason for this was that when cattle got into condition they had to be sold. Representative Haugen of Iowa asked Cowan if he had read the President's message which estimates the cost of inspection at eight cents per head.

Would Levy Cost on Cattle.

"But we don't want to pay it—that is our reason," replied Cowan. "But rather than do without the law we would be glad to levy the cost on the cattle," he continued.

England Wants to Know About Inspection.

London, June 9.—John Burns, president of the local government board, has requested the foreign office to communicate with the state department at Washington and ascertain to what extent reliance can be placed on the system of meat inspection undertaken by the Bureau of Animal Industry. In announcing that he had taken this action, he said it was through the medium of a reply to the question put in the House of Commons by William Field, the nationalist member from Dublin, and president of the Irish Cattle and Traders' Stock Owners' Association.

Dr. Neill's Testimony.

Washington, June 9.—The feature of the hearing thus far before the congressional committee on the Beveridge amendment to the agricultural bill was the testimony of Dr. Charles E. Neill, the government expert, whose report on packinghouse conditions was made the basis of President Roosevelt's special message to Congress.

Thomas E. Wilson, representing the packers, took the stand and continued his objection to the Beveridge bill and to the Neill-Reynolds reports. He said the proposition to impose the expense of cattle inspection on the packers was unjust, inasmuch as over $1,000,000 is now annually lost in condemnations by government inspectors after cattle are purchased.

The foreign demand for Chicago dressed beef, he said, had been out in two by the agitation started in this country, and that the result will be the visitation of a calamity in the West, as cattle will not be purchased from the stock raisers in present large quantities.

Dr. Neill told of a proposition made to him by one of the Chicago packers to hold back his report until the slaughterhouses could be cleaned.

He reiterated his charges about fifth, and he saw one employee of the Neill-Reynolds company work through the meat on the floor, then climb on a pile of carcasses with his dirty shoes and afterward pick up a piece of beef and throw it on the floor near his bench. He also testified to seeing a hog fall into the alme of a privy vault and to its being hung up without any effort being made to clean it.

WILLIAM P. WHYTE SUCCEEDS SENATOR GORMAN

Baltimore, Maryland, June 9.—Ex-Governor William Pinkney Whyte of this city, was yesterday appointed United States Senator by Governor Edwin Warfield to succeed the late United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman.

Regarding the morality of the men and women at work the witness said the shocking conditions related in his report were not overdrawn.

He testified that many of the males were afflicted with worse diseases than tuberculosis, which were distinguishable by the odor of certain medicines and drugs.

Aside from the objections he pointed out yesterday, Mr. Wilson said the only other serious objection was the provision placing the cost of inspection on the packers.

Before discussing this objection, Mr. Wilson was questioned closely by Representative Henry of Connecticut and Haskins of Vermont about the sections intervening between those he found fault with and that regarding the cost of inspection.

"Have you been advised not to make further objections?" asked Mr. Haskins.

"No, sir; it so happens that most of the objections are in the first section," he replied.

As to cost, Mr. Wilson said the packers had very serious objections to having this expense placed on them.

Condemnation Cost Millions.

"We are now under an expense aggregating $1,000,000 a year for condemnations of animals," he said.

"Neither the raisers nor producers bear any of the loss on condemned stock. It all falls on the packers," asserted Mr. Wilson.

Representative Scott of Kansas suggested that it was generally understood the packers so controlled the meat market that they would be able to recoup themselves the cost of inspection.

"We could not," replied Mr. Wilson. "The large packers kill only 50 per cent of the meat supply of the country, and do not control the market."

Representative Henry suggested that the delinquencies of the packers had placed them in the present position and inquired why should the packers object to paying if the government is to "pull you out of the hole."

Mr. Wilson objected to this view of the case. It was not the fault of the packers. The packers had sent meat into every hamlet of the world to create a market. The packers were willing to comply with any new requirements. They were now losing money on their English market, but were carrying it to develop trade.

"But we feel this to be an unjust burden and one we ought not be called on to bear," he added.

Chairman Wadsworth asked if any complaint had ever been made as to the quality of the goods shipped abroad.

Some Foreign Kicks.

"Well," replied Mr. Wilson, "I could not say no to that question. Occasionally we have a case of goods sent back, but we always try to get hold of the goods that are the subject of complaint."

"What is the result on your foreign trade of the present agitation?" asked Mr. Wadsworth.

"The result is very disastrous," replied the witness.

"Our foreign demand for fresh meats and manufactured products has been practically cut in two. Our foreign competitors are all making the most of this and are getting the benefit of the agitation and we are standing the loss."

"Naturally," suggested Mr. Wadsworth, "if your foreign demand falls off, your purchases of livestock will be less."

"I do not see where we are to find markets if our foreign trade is cut off," answered Mr. Wilson.

"Well," continued Mr. Wadsworth, "you will not have to buy the stock."

Calamity in the West.

"No, but cattle raisers are accustomed to ship their stock to Chicago and get their money for them. If this should stop, I don't see how we are to avoid a terrible calamity in the West," responded Mr. Wilson.

"If," he said, "the packers are required to pay for this inspection, it would be a reasonable position for the packers to take that they would not buy the stock that has been condemned."

Under the Beveridge amendment, Mr. Wilson said it would be possible for the secretary of agriculture to put an inspector at the elbow of every workman and charge the cost to the packer.

Representative Lorimer of Illinois suggested that the Beveridge amendment would put out of business thousands of slaughterers doing an interstate business and would result in creating a "beef trust" in reality.

Dr. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry, was asked incidentally to state the number of government inspectors in Chicago. He answered, seventy-seven veterinary, fifty-nine stock examiners and fifty-five taggers, making 181 in all. In the whole service, he said, there are 788.

Delegate Andrews At Work.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Delegate Andrews this forenoon introduced the following bills of interest to New Mexico, in the House of Representatives:

A bill providing for the exchange and payment by the United States of certain railroad bonds issued in aid of construction of railroads by the Counties of Santa Fe and Grant in the Territory of New Mexico; also a bill to amend the act of June 27, 1890, permitting the payment of pensions to officers and men, their widows and orphans for services in all Indian wars between 1832 and 1890; he also presented resolutions adopted by the Archaeological Society of New Mexico at Santa Fe praying for the passage of the pending bill incorporating the National Archaeological Society of the United States.

Wouldn't Cut Up Live People.

Washington, June 9.—In the investigation of the government hospital for the insane by the special House committee Thursday, Dr. R. W. Blackburn, for the past twenty-two years pathologist of the institution, was examined. Dr. Blackburn has performed 2,095 autopsies during that period.

"One of the things charged against you," interjected Representative Smyser, of Ohio, "is that you are cutting people up over there before they are dead. We want to know whether they are dead before you cut them up, or whether you are the cause."

Dr. Blackburn in reply stated that in a few cases he had performed an autopsy three hours after death of the subject, but such cases were caused by the force of circumstances.

"Would you cut a person up a half hour after death?" queried Representative Hay, of Virginia.

"Well, if I was ordered to do so by my superior," responded the doctor. "Would you cut them up before death?"

"I would draw the line there."

"I am glad you would draw the line somewhere," concluded Mr. Hay.

Morgan on Isle of Pines.

Washington, June 9.—The Senate yesterday listened to two set speeches, one by Senator Morgan in support of his resolution providing for an investigation by a Senate committee of the affairs of the Isle of Pines and the other by Senator Hopkins in opposition to the sea level Panama canal bill. Neither measure was acted upon. Some time was also spent in considering the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

Work on Sunday Civil Bill.

Washington, June 9.—With the exception of an hour spent on pension legislation in which time 357 bills for the relief of civil and Spanish-American war veterans were passed, the House labored yesterday on the sundry civil bill, making much headway.

Under the lead of Mr. Keffer, of Ohio, the House refused to allow the transportation of silver coins and other money by registered mail, insisting that their transportation should be handled by the express companies. During the arguments it was contended that the west and south need silver dollars for circulation.

The conference report on the bill to prohibit aliens from fishing in Alaskan waters was agreed to, also the Senate amendments to the bill forbidding the importation, exportation or carriage in interstate commerce of falsely or spurious stamped articles of gold or silver or their alloys. These bills now go to the President for approval.

UNKISSED CANDIDATE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Ned Stuart, Pennsylvania Candidate for Governor, Always Too Busy for Osculation.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 9.—Women of the state are taking deep interest in the candidacy of Ned Stuart, Republican nominee for governor of Pennsylvania, who has the distinction of attaining manhood without ever being kissed by any woman except his mother. His record is even clearer in this respect than that of Gladstone Dawie, for there are rumors here that Gladstone is not the shy young thing he claims to be.

Mr. Stuart is also the owner of the largest second hand book store in the world. He is an acknowledged book connoisseur on two continents, and can place his hands on more rare volumes than any man in the business. But it is on his unsullied osculatory record that he will make the strongest appeal to Pennsylvania femininity, who will flock to his meetings just to see what an unloved man of reason, able mature years looks like. Mr. Stuart bears his honors modestly, and his only excuse for omitting this part of his education is that he never found time to attend to it.

Logical Nominee of Democrats.

Washington, June 9.—Former Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, two times chairman of the Democratic national committee, and one of Bryan's closest friends called on the President today. "Afterwards he declared for Mr. Bryan, the nomination by the Democrats for the Presidency."

"I believe Mr. Bryan is the logical candidate for the Democratic party," said Jones, "and my judgment is that he will be the nominee and will make the race under the Democratic standard for a third time. If he makes the race, I think he will be elected."

FINE CONDITIONS NORMAL COLLEGE

At Las Vegas--Best Year in Its History.

HAD LARGEST ATTENDANCE

Prospects for Coming Year
Bright -- Professor Vert
Tells Interesting Story.

President Edmund J. Vert, of the Normal University at Las Vegas was in Santa Fe yesterday attending the quarterly meeting of the Territorial Board of Education, of which he is a member. President Vert says that the academic year just closed was the most successful in the history of the Normal. The total enrollment was 248, representing twenty different counties. Of these counties seven were represented in the Normal for the first time in the history of the institution. The graduating class this year numbered 19, or nearly 75 per cent more than the largest that had previously been graduated. Eleven of this number graduated from the professional courses, and most of these have secured good positions as teachers for next year.

President Vert said that there is a steady demand for two classes of teachers in New Mexico, for which there is an insufficient supply. One is teachers in the grades who have good Normal training and can speak English, and the other is male principals of small town schools. To meet the former demand, the Normal University will not in the future graduate a person from any of its professional courses who has not a sufficient knowledge of Spanish to meet the needs of the schools. The Spanish-speaking people of New Mexico want their children taught English and prefer teachers whose native language is English, but since many of their children do not on entering the public school know a word of English, it is important that teachers should know enough Spanish to start them in their school work. The need for teachers thus qualified is not limited to certain rural districts, but extends to every important city and town in the Territory.

The supply of a sufficient number of young men to act as principals in small towns presents a different problem. "Last year," said President Vert, "I had applications from four different school boards for principals, and in every case, after searching the Territory thoroughly, I was obliged to go east for them. Within the last week I have received requests from two school boards to recommend competent principals for their schools. One of these positions pays $75 a month for eight months, and the other the same salary per month for nine months. Though these schools are to open in September, at the present time I am at an utter loss to know from what quarter these men are to come. The natural inference would be that when school boards pay sufficient salaries they will have no trouble in finding competent principals, yet the fact is that if they paid $200 a month they could not at present be supplied from New Mexico. A diligent search of the Territory discloses the fact that a sufficient number of men to fill these positions

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

CAN'T FOOL THE PEOPLE.

The Roswell Daily Record, the Carlsbad Current, the Carlsbad Sun, the Artesia Advocate, the Hagerman Messenger and the other Democratic newspapers of the Pecos Valley do not like the stand that the Daily New Mexican is taking in defense of the native citizens of the Territory. The Democratic leaders and papers in the southeastern corner of New Mexico are determined to disfranchise the native people because the majority of them are wise enough to be Republicans, although there is nevertheless, a minority of 14,000 of them who vote the Democratic ticket. These papers think that the New Mexican should approve the nefarious, un-Republican, unjust proposition to exclude the native citizens of the Territory from political primaries as well as from the elections and because the New Mexican refuses to do this, and on the other hand defends the native people from these attacks, it is accused of various underhanded motives in so doing, the most pronounced being an intention to make the people believe that Governor Hagerman, because he happens to have lived several years in the Pecos Valley and has property interests there, approves of these unpatriotic schemes of the Pecos Valley Democrats. It is these Democratic papers that drag the name of the Governor into their columns in this matter and thus seek to spread the impression that he sides with them. No one is deceived by this transparent attack upon the Republican party and the Governor of the Territory. Says the Roswell Daily Record this week:

"The Record believes in an educational qualification for voting.—In speaking of many Mexicans as 'ignorant,' the word is used only in a descriptive sense. We have repeatedly urged the necessity of requiring education in the English language as a qualification for voting and holding office.—Responsibility should not be conferred upon any man without qualifications, and the Mexican as well as other citizens would be benefited by raising the standard of citizenship.—There is no use denying that there is also a class of Mexicans here who are not much better prepared for voting and holding offices of public trust than the tribal Indians." That seems plain enough. In other words, the Roswell Record wishes to see the native people of New Mexico reduced to the same political servitude, worse than slavery, that the negro citizens of Mississippi are called upon to endure. The intimidation by the Record that Governor Hagerman favors its views is a falsehood and the insinuation that all those who will not adopt the views of the Democratic newspapers of the Pecos Valley are enemies of Governor Hagerman and are planning his discomfiture is a contemptible campaign trick which no one understands better than the Governor himself.

FAIR STATEMENT FROM A FAIR NEWSPAPER.

The support which the respectable and well meaning portion of the press of New Mexico has given this journal as shown in complimentary editorials during the past several months is very gratifying and proves clearly and conclusively that the press of New Mexico as a whole, with but a few insignificant exceptions, is fair, just and appreciates true merit and patriotism, regardless of politics, to a large extent. The Territory is growing rapidly in population and wealth, and the fact that four-fifths of the papers published in New Mexico are of the right kind and at work for the uplifting of the people and for the up-building of the material resources of this commonwealth, has much to do with this very gratifying state of affairs. The daily and weekly papers published here, as said above, with but few exceptions and those must exist in all human affairs, are able and decently edited and always at work in the right and proper direction whether published in the larger cities or towns, or in smaller hamlets with but a few hundred population. They are becoming a great power for good and this is as it should be. In some counties, for the special good of those counties, they are all of the right stripe, as for instance, in the rich and constantly advancing county of Grant. It is with satisfaction and pleasure that the New Mexican re-produces the following editorial item from the Silver City Independent, the most influential and strongest Democratic paper in the Sunshine Territory. Concerning the recent increase in size and improvements of the New Mexican, the Independent says:

"The Santa Fe New Mexican, the oldest daily newspaper published in the Rocky Mountain section with the single exception of the Denver News, has recently enlarged to seven columns and otherwise improved in make-up and news matter. The policy of the New Mexican has always been in behalf of the advancement of the interests of the Territory, and during its long existence it has performed magnificent services for the people of New Mexico. Colonel Frost has made the New Mexican his life work, and that he has been successful is beyond all question. But coming down to a more practical view of the situation, it is only right to say that the New Mexican is entitled to liberal support from every citizen and should be in every home throughout the Territory."

THE GREAT SOUTHWEST AND THE ERA OF REALIZATION.

Under the above head the El Paso Herald in a recent issue comments upon the condition and the situation in the Southwest, meaning more especially New Mexico, in a very readable and interesting manner. The editorial is meaty and describes the situation obtaining in the great section to which it alludes very properly and very encouragingly. The Herald says:

"There is hardly a city or town in the Great Southwest that is not about to spend large sums on public improvements. Many places have bond issues up before the people, and the newspapers are carefully pointing out the advantages of the proposed improvements, the necessity for new school buildings, street and sidewalk improvements, public buildings, sewers, waterworks, and so on.

All over the Great Southwest the people are progressive, and the story day by day is of new buildings, increasing population, and better business. The railroads, mines, and reduction works are all busy, and mercantile business is excellent.

One good sign is the increasing demand for lands in the territories. All records are being broken in homestead and desert entries. Many extensive irrigation and colony schemes are under way, and in a number of places the "dry farming" process is being tried with much success.

It is natural that there should be a good demand for real estate in cities and towns. But, as in El Paso, the realty market in other places does not show extraordinary inflation. The market price for real estate in El Paso is really set by people who want lots for homes or business buildings, or for improvement and investment. There is little of the "hand washing" business, so disastrous in the end.

Never before has the Great Southwest been in such favor with the people of the nation, and the fruits of years of publicity will come to us from this time on. The natural advantages have been here all along, though many people are just beginning to recognize them, and still dimly. Artificial advantages are being created as fast as men and money can go about it.

Raton wants one of the territorial political conventions which will be held this year, especially, if this should prove statehood year. Raton is entitled to be heard on this subject. It only recently completed the largest and most comfortable auditorium in the Territory. It can well take care of a large crowd of delegates and visitors and on election day, the vote of Raton and surroundings will be no small factor in determining the final result.

THE NORMAL UNIVERSITY AT LAS VEGAS.

The New Mexico Normal University at Las Vegas reports very satisfactory progress for the school year just closed. The attendance was the largest since its organization and its usefulness extremely gratifying. The outlook for the coming scholastic year is still better and considerable increase in attendance is also looked for. Under the direction of Professor E. J. Vert, its affairs evidently have been conducted in a very satisfactory and efficient manner. The present condition of this educational institution proves this quite conclusively. The Board of Regents consists of well known and respected citizens who have the welfare of the institution at heart and who perform their duties acceptably and in the right direction. Professor Vert is an educator of great experience and well deserved reputation. He has in the management of the affairs of the Normal exhibited sound judgment, efficiency and ability of a high order. He is a strict disciplinarian and has maintained the character of the work entrusted to his care on a high plane. One item in his administration deserves special credit and that is, that he insists on a proper recognition of the Spanish language in the studies prescribed at the Normal. He believes that a knowledge of the Spanish language by the teachers of the public schools, in the cities and more so in the country, is an absolute essential for good and thorough work on their part. He holds that teachers of the public schools in this Territory, especially in the country precincts and in a majority of the counties cannot do the good that he or she ought to without a fair understanding and knowledge of Spanish. In many of the counties of this Territory, the pupils when they are sent to the public schools, speak no English, and, therefore, the teachers who understand and speak Spanish can do much better, more speedy and more satisfactory work with them, especially during the first two years of their attendance, than can the teacher who is bound to the English language and can go no further. Professor Vert's idea in making Spanish a leading subject of study in the Normal University is certainly correct and so far the carrying out of it has proved of benefit. What this Territory needs is teachers graduated from its normal schools, who have a fair knowledge of Spanish and of the temperament, habits and sentiments of the pupils whom they will teach and whom they will have charge of in the public schools of the cities, towns and counties. Young women and young men, who are graduates of the New Mexico Normal Schools and who besides being otherwise qualified, can make themselves understood easily and satisfactorily in the Spanish language, by a majority of the pupils attending their schools, will prove of greater value to the commonwealth and to the advancement and progress of the pupils, as well as to the proper conduct of the public schools, than will importations from the states, no matter how intellectual and no matter how well trained. The New Mexican is gratified to know that the affairs of the Normal University at the Meadow City are in excellent shape and that the college is doing the work for which it was created and for which it is maintained in a proper, useful and efficient way.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY.

A number of officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad system have been on the rack during this week giving testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Philadelphia. Several of them confessed that they had very soft private snaps and had been getting presents of valuable stocks of coal companies that either transported coal over the Pennsylvania lines, or sold the black diamonds for the use of the company. One man confessed to having received $46,000 and another $75,000 and there were several lesser lights in the grafting business. This occurred with one of the best conducted private corporations in the country and one which prides itself on the correct and thorough system of discipline, efficiency and honest administration of affairs, it exacts from its officials and employees high and low, big and small. Compared with this, the people of the country have certainly no cause to complain at the administration of national public affairs, and the people of New Mexico certainly have no complaint to make at territorial administrations since 1897. Comparatively speaking, there has been so little of what is called graft in national and territorial affairs during these long years that the records when compared with those of many semi-public and private corporations of large dimensions are as clear and as bright as the sun on a clear June day in the Sunshine Territory. Here and there in national and territorial affairs there may be instances, and there doubtless are, of items of what is called graft or "boodle." This because these administrations have been conducted by men and not by angels. The people of the country at large and the people of the Sunshine Territory have no cause to despair and there is no cause for worry.

Several Senatorial lightning rods are already up in the Sunshine Territory and in Arizona, to attract the Senatorial electric fluid to candidates, who are of the opinion that they have every possible requisite and necessary qualification to represent the people of the expected new state in the Senate of the United States with great credit. Some of these candidates have swelled heads and except in their own opinions are absolutely unfit for positions of public honor and trust. They will be brought to the front in good time and their true characteristics will be shown as they in reality are. There is a great deal of fun ahead should the Hamilton joint statehood bill pass and should a state campaign be on this fall.

In several Republican state conventions held recently, notably in South Dakota and in Pennsylvania, the corporations were given the cold shoulder. In the Democratic conventions, especially in Missouri, Tennessee and Indiana, William Jennings Bryan was again brought out as an idol of the terrified Democracy. Democratic politicians expect to make the Presidential fight in 1908 against anti-imperialism, against the tariff and for the man of the "crown of thorns and cross of gold." The Republicans seemingly will make it for the tariff, for the people, against the corporations and with a man who will win.

The Roswell Record takes up considerable time in giving advice to the New Mexican on political questions of the day of interest to the Territory. It is always so! The Democratic Donkey trying to tell the Republican Elephant how to act on questions and matters in which the elephant is greatly concerned. The Record knows that the elephant's trumpeting is heard over the land and listened to with great attention, while the donkey's braying is simply laughed at or proves disagreeable, nothing more and nothing less.

The big corporations in New Mexico get off too easy and a change for the better must come. These corporations employ lawyers at handsome salaries and the lawyers work for them right along. In tax matters, especially, the corporations are much more favored than they should be. Between them, the tax dodgers and the knackers, decent and patriotic citizens are the sufferers. Should a constitution for a new state be formed this year, then and there will be the time to protect the rights of the "plain people."

The yellow sheets of the country are reveling in the muck and dirt of the exposures of the conditions of the slaughter houses in the great cities of the country. They are making things worse. The truth is bad and nauseating enough. It is the habit of the yellow sheets, whether in New York, Chicago, San Francisco or in New Mexico always to add to sensational stories and that is what they are now doing. It is a pity it is so but so it is.

General Valeriano Weyler, the last Captain General of Cuba, was severely injured by a fragment of the bomb recently thrown at King Alfonso and his bride by Anarchist Morales in Madrid. He will recover from the injuries. This is natural. A man who has gone through ten years of trouble and strife in Cuba cannot be easily killed off. He is too tough.

Judging by the reports of the special agents of the Department of Commerce and Labor concerning the condition in the slaughter houses and packing establishments of the meat packers, the money the meat packers get out of the people is in every sense tainted money.

A Chicago dispatch says that stock yards improvements will be costly. Well, what of it? The meat packers have made enough and can afford to spend a little of it to ensure cleanliness and healthful condition of their premises. It will be money well spent in a good cause.

THEY NEVER FAIL.

That is What They Say About Them in Santa Fe, and it is Therefore Reliable.

Another proof, more evidence, Santa Fe evidence to swell the long list of local people who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the convincing endorsement of that remarkable preparation:

Thomas Quintana of San Miguel St., says: "When I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in a Santa Fe paper, I came to the conclusion that they would be just the treatment required by Mrs. Quintana. She suffered from backache I cannot tell how long, but very often she was unable to do the slightest household work. More than once I have seen her scarcely able to move about the house. With the intention of testing the remedy thoroughly, I went to Ireland's Pharmacy for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and she commenced the treatment. She took a second box and then a third when the last attack of backache stopped and for eight months she has had complete immunity from pain. Something novel in her existence."

TEXT OF REPORT STATEHOOD BILL

Santa Fe Capital
City Until Year
1915.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

New State Will Have Two Representatives in Congress
—Name of Arizona.

The report of the conference on the statehood bill, which is just now occupying a central place among the many questions of importance before Congress, was received by the New Mexican too late to admit of publication on Thursday afternoon. The portion of the report which is of paramount interest are the provisions regarding New Mexico and Arizona, which are as follows:

"Sec. 23. That the inhabitants of all that part of the area of the United States now constituting the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico, as at present described, may become the State of Arizona, as hereinafter provided.

"Sec. 24. That all qualified electors of said Territories, respectively, as described in this act, are hereby authorized to vote for and choose delegates to form a convention for said Territories; such delegates shall possess the qualifications of such electors. The aforesaid convention shall consist of one hundred and ten delegates, sixty-six of which delegates shall be elected to said convention by the people of the Territory of New Mexico and forty-four by the people of the Territory of Arizona, and the governors, chief justices, and secretaries of each of said Territories, respectively, shall apportion the delegates to be thus elected from their respective Territories, as nearly as may be, equitably among the several counties thereof in accordance with the population as shown by the federal census of nineteen hundred; and such governors, respectively, shall, within twenty days after the approval of this act by the President of the United States, by proclamation, in which such apportionment shall be fully specified and announced, order an election of the delegates aforesaid in their respective Territories, to be held on the fifth Tuesday after the approval of this act as aforesaid; and the proper officials, as now provided by law in each of said Territories, respectively, shall immediately upon the approval of this act make, or cause to be made, as the case may be in time for the election, a supplemental or general registration, as may be necessary, of the male citizens of the United States over the age of twenty-one years who shall have resided in said Territories, respectively, for six months, in the county for ninety days and in the precinct, ward, or election district where they are to vote thirty days next preceding the date fixed for said election, whose names shall be placed upon or added to the great registers, or registration lists, as the case may be, exhibiting the names of the qualified voters of said Territories, respectively. And the persons so qualified shall be entitled to be so registered and to vote for delegates to the constitutional convention. Such election for delegates shall be conducted, the returns made, and the certificates of persons elected to such convention issued, as near as may be, in the same manner as is prescribed by the laws of said Territories, respectively, regulating elections there in of members of the legislature, save that not more than two judges of each of the election boards holding elections under this act shall be of the same political party. Provided, That the secretary, or other proper officer, of the Territory of Arizona, into whose hands the result of said election in the Territory of Arizona finally comes, shall immediately transmit and certify the same to the secretary of the Territory of New Mexico, at Santa Fe. Persons possessing the qualifications entitling them to vote for delegates to the constitutional convention under this act shall be entitled to vote on the ratification or rejection of the constitution submitted to the people of said Territories hereunder, and on the election of all officials whose election is taking place at the same time, under such rules or regulations as said convention may prescribe, not in conflict with this act. Provided, That said registration lists shall answer for both or all such elections.

Pay for Thirty Days.

"Sec. 25. That the delegates to the convention thus elected shall meet in the hall of the House of Representatives of the Territory of New Mexico, in the City of Santa Fe therein, on the second Monday after their election, but they shall not receive compensation for more than thirty days of service, and after organization shall declare on behalf of the people of said proposed state that they adopt the constitution of the United States, whereupon the said convention shall be, and is hereby, authorized to form a constitution and state government for said proposed state. The constitution shall be republican in form, and make no distinction in civil or political rights on account of race or color, except as to Indians not taxed, and shall not be repugnant to the constitution of the United States and the principles of the Declaration of Independence. And said convention shall provide, by ordinance irrevocable without the consent of the United States and the people of said state.

"First, That perfect toleration of religious sentiment shall be secured, and that no inhabitant of said state shall ever be molested in person or property on account of his or her mode of religious worship; and that polygamous or plural marriages and

"Sec. 26. That in case a constitution and state government shall be formed in compliance with the provisions of this act, the convention forming the same shall provide by ordinance for submitting said constitution to the people of said proposed state for its ratification or rejection, at an election to be held on the sixth day of November, nineteen hundred and six, at which election the qualified voters of said proposed state shall vote directly for or against the proposed constitution and for or against any provisions thereof separately submitted. The returns of said election shall be made by the election officers, direct to the secretary of the Territory of New Mexico at Santa Fe; who, with the governors and chief justices of said Territories, or any four of them, shall meet at said City of Santa Fe on the third Monday after said election and shall canvass the same; and if a majority of the legal votes cast on that question in each of said Territories shall be for the constitution the said canvassing board shall certify the result to the President of the United States, together with the statement of the votes cast thereon, and upon separate articles or propositions, and a copy of said constitution, articles, propositions and ordinances. And if the constitution and government of said proposed state are republican in form, and if the provisions in this act have been complied with in the formation thereof, it shall be the duty of the President of the United States, within twenty days from the receipt of the certificate of the result of said election and the statement of the votes cast thereon and a copy of said constitution, articles, propositions, and ordinances from said board, to issue his proclamation announcing the result."

of said election, and thereupon the proposed state shall be deemed admitted by Congress into the Union, under and by virtue of this act, under the name of Arizona, on an equal footing with the original states, from and after the date of said proclamation.

Entitled to Two Congressmen.

"Sec. 27. That until the next general census, or until otherwise provided by law, said state shall be entitled to two representatives in the House of Representatives of the United States, which representatives, together with the governor and other officers provided for in said constitution, and also all other state and county officers, shall be elected on the same day of the election for the adoption of the constitution; and until said state officers are elected and qualified under the provisions of the constitution, and the state is admitted into the Union, the Territorial officers of said Territories, respectively, including delegates to Congress shall continue to discharge the duties of their respective offices in said Territories until their successors are duly elected and qualified."

The boundaries of said districts to be the same as the boundaries of said Territories, respectively, and the circuit and district courts of said districts shall be held, respectively, at Albuquerque and Phoenix for the time being and the said districts shall, for judicial purposes be attached to the ninth judicial circuit."

"There shall be appointed for each of said districts one district judge, one United States attorney, and one United States marshal. The judge of each of said districts shall receive a yearly salary the same as other similar judges of the United States, payable as provided for by law, and shall reside in the district to which he is appointed. Don't take scoop coffee when you want Arbutles' ARIOSA Coffee, which is sold only in sealed packages and never loose out of a "scoop."

A grocer may recommend a loose coffee at so much a pound. He is all right. He means well. If he handled the coffee himself from the tree to you, you might well trust him implicitly.

But he does not!

He may know something about coffee. He may think he does, but let that pass. He buys it loose! From whom? You don't know—if you did it would mean nothing. He trusts the man he buys it from—maybe a salesman, maybe a wholesaler, maybe a little local roaster. It does not matter. What do they know about coffee? More than the grocer? Perhaps.

Where do they get their coffee? Where does it come from? Whose hands touched it last? Where have they been?

They can't tell Java from Brazilian by the looks after it is roasted, and it takes a man, expert by years of practical experience, to select sound, sweet green coffee of high cup merit; and another man with the knowledge and experience to proportion and blend for uniform results in the cup. First they must have the supply to preserve uniform quality.

Arbutles buy more coffee than any four other concerns in the world combined, and their coffee is the most uniform. Then the roasting.

"The Brazilian Ambassador tells me that coffee-roasting is an art," was the court testimony of a world famous chemist. Where are artists more likely to find employment—manipulating a little roaster or in the Arbutles mills, where the yearly roast amounts to the hundred million pounds?

Don't take scoop coffee, but buy a package of Arbutles' ARIOSA. Take it home and keep the bean intact until ready to use. We hermetically seal each bean after roasting with a coating of fresh eggs and granulated sugar to close the pores and preserve the flavor. A little warming makes it easy to grind and develops the flavor. Coffee deteriorates if exposed to the air—it also collects dust and absorbs impurities. That is why you should "BEWARE OF THE SCOOP."

If your grocer will not sell you the genuine Arbutles' ARIOSA Coffee it will be greatly to your advantage to buy from us direct. Send us $1.80, postal or express money order, and we will send to you pounds of Arbutles' ARIOSA in a strong wooden box, transportation paid to your freight station. Price fluctuates and cannot be guaranteed for any period. You cannot buy as good coffee for the money under any other name or loose by the pound. More—the coffee will come in the original packages bearing the signature of Arbutles Bros., which entitles you to free presents—10 pounds—10 signatures. New book with colored pictures of 97 beautiful useful presents will be sent free if you write. You can write first and see the book before you order the coffee.

The present department is an old institution with us to add a little sentiment to the business.

PRICE IS NO EVIDENCE OF QUALITY!

ARIOSA is just as likely to suit your taste as coffee that costs 25 or 35 cents a pound. It aids digestion and increases the power and ambition to work.

That dancing is not waning in popularity was demonstrated last night by the large attendance at the semi-monthly dance of Los Balladores Club in Adams' Hall, 106 Palace Avenue. Dancing began at 9 o'clock and during the early part of the evening the floor was crowded. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served.

The young ladies' prize, a beautiful dolly, was won by takes away that tired look from a lady's face after the house-work is done. Gives her complexion a refined glow and velvety smoothness which defies detection. It is not a cosmetic, but a delightfully cleansing and beautifying liquid which works with Nature to put a woman's face at its best.

Miss Dorothy Crandall, Harry Hogle carried off the honors among the boys, being rewarded with a handsome pocket knife. After the prizes had been awarded, the young people were shown to the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served. Miss Staab was assisted in entertaining by Miss Hortense McKenzie. June being the month of roses, these beautiful and fragrant flowers were used entirely in the decorations, the color scheme being pink and green. They were everywhere in profusion and their aroma filled the house with a breath of summer. Progressive 500 was played by the guests, some high scores being made. Prizes were won as follows: First prize, Mrs. Chavez; second prize, Mrs. Walker and third prize, Mrs. Haynes. Instead of the usual custom of providing a consolation prize, the guests after the first and second prizes were awarded, were asked to cut the cards for third prize. At the conclusion of the card game, elaborate refreshments were served. The color scheme was in effect on the tables, the dainty viands and costly tableware were half concealed beneath a profusion of June "beauties."

Seligman, Chavez, Laughlin, Catron, Berger, Lord, Prichard, Trelford, Crandall, Llewellyn, Renahan, Fiske, Cartwright, Ireland, Sloan, Grimschaw, Bardshar, Haggart, McFie, Garrett, Walter, Griffin, Ewatt, Nuding, Gouchey, Schumann, Haynes, Watson, Eble, Hall, Jones, Wood, Woodruff, Thomas, Knapp, Hamill, Warner, Misses Baum, of Omaha, Fewel, and Christensen of El Paso, McKenzie, Morrison, Barney, Lamy, Manderfield.

The Santa Fe Concrete Construction Company, of which George S. Blunt is president, W. W. Corbett, secretary and treasurer, and W. R. The structure will be used both as a place in which to manufacture concrete blocks and as a storehouse.

A boy aged about 12 years, whose name could not be learned, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured about 10 o'clock this morning. A wagon heavily loaded with wood was being hauled east on San Francisco Street when the load ran into the street and climbed on the rear end of the wagon. When in front of the wholesale grocery store of H. B. Cartwright and Brother, a wheel came off the vehicle, letting the back end to the ground. The wood, which had been piled high, was precipitated from the wagon and several large sticks fell upon the boy. His side was bruised, but otherwise he was uninjured. The practice of jumping on and off wagons is a dangerous one and teamsters have for some time been predicting that a fatality would be the result.

LIKE UNTO THE RIVER NILE

New Mexico's Great Artery Brings Blessings to Thousands.

WATER FOR POWER AND IRRIGATION

Course of the Rio Grande From Colorado Boundary to Texas Line.

The Rio Grande, the greatest of all rivers of the United States, not because it is the largest, for many exceed it in volume of water and a few in length, but because none equal it in usefulness.

Rising as it does among the snow-capped mountains of Colorado, it flows into the beautiful San Luis Valley, rich in fertility, where its waters make it possible for this garden spot of Colorado to add to the world's food supply. As it travels on its course to the Gulf, it is augmented by many lesser streams from the east and the west. Soon after leaving Colorado, it enters New Mexico through a box canon and, after some forty miles, emerges at La Jota into one of the garden spots of the world, a beautiful valley, rich as the Nile itself. Here the earth yields abundant crops, such as are never dreamed of outside of an irrigated country. The sweet scented orchards, the green alfalfa, the growing wheat and the rustling corn fields are on every hand. For thirty-five miles the Rio Grande runs through fertile fields and is heavily drawn upon for water supply till it again enters a box canon—White Rock Canon—and through it rolls, tumbles, rushes, boils, froths and spouts till it again emerges after twelve miles, some three miles above Cochiti pueblo. For three hundred miles or more the Rio Grande flows through a rich valley of green fields, passing here and there a hamlet, and now and then a growing city. It brings happiness, contentment and wealth to thousands of homes; its waters, taken out at intervals through aqueducts or ditches, water the fields of the husbandman and varied and abundant crops are harvested from the rich fields which reach back from this great river of life from one to three miles. The vine and the vineyard are here and, outside of sunny Italy, nowhere else are there found such delicious grapes and fruits. The farms are small and the population supported by this great inland artery is great. And why should the farmer want vast acres as in the Northwest? He can grow equally well on one acre of this rich alluvial soil, under a bright and cloudless sky, watered at such times as may be required, through his system of irrigation, as he could on forty acres of good land in Minnesota or Iowa. Can this be true? If so, why has it not been more generally known? It is true nevertheless. Did one ever hear of a farmer from New Mexico or from the Rio Grande Valley going to Minnesota or Iowa to buy a farm? No; simply because the farmer, even though a small one, is probably better off on two acres than he would be in the Northwest on one hundred acres.

Recent investigations and comparison between the products and values produced on a 200-acre farm in Minnesota, good land valued at $50 per acre, and a 5-acre patch cultivated under my supervision here in New Mexico by the irrigated system, show about the same results, or an income of $2,000. The 200-acres of Minnesota land referred to are worth $10,000. Then, why shouldn't New Mexico land be valued at $2,000 per acre? But it is not. Good, improved, irrigated land may be had for $100 per acre and less in New Mexico and along the Rio Grande. Orchard land with trees twenty years old may be had from $400 to $500 per acre, and this is cheap when one knows the amount of fruit raised on one acre.

Below El Paso, the Rio del Norte, or Rio Grande, loses itself again in one of those impetuous box canons and rushes on in its mad career to the sea.

This great and useful river served another purpose in the settlement of the country. It was to the early Conquistadores what the river in the East was to the wise men; it guided them northward and showed these early and hardy Spaniards, the greatest pioneers the world has ever seen, the possibilities of the rich and fertile valley of the Rio Grande. This valley is the oldest cultivated soil on the American continent, more particularly within the United States. And while for centuries it has been tilled, it still produces abundant crops, at places being too rich for some of the cereals. The Spaniards made their first permanent settlement at Chamita, New Mexico, some fifteen miles below La Jota, the mouth of the box canon leading to Colorado, in 1598. The writer was recently waiting for a train at this same Chamita and while standing on the depot platform watched a lineal descendant from these early settlers plowing the same identical lands that his fathers plowed 308 years before him; it is still rich and yields beyond the New England farmers' expectation.

But the valley of the Rio Grande was known to man long before the advent of the Spaniard. It was the home of an agricultural race of Indians known to the Spanish as the Pueblos, because they lived in villages. These Pueblos were the original Cliff Dwellers, whose former habitations in the cliffs are some miles back from the river, where they were able to defend themselves against the common enemy, the warlike tribes of the plains. When the Spaniards came, however, the Pueblos were living in the valleys, having abandoned their cliff dwellings. This tribe is also supposed to be identical with the Aztecs of Old Mexico, whom Cortez found a civilized and peaceful people, and whom he enslaved or destroyed.

Great is the valley of the Rio Grande. As long as water shall flow and grass grow, here shall be happy homes for a large population. The possibilities of undeveloped water power in the box canons leads one to believe that the time is coming when the upland mesas back from the river will be watered and irrigated through the agency of pumps run by electricity; the vast power daily going to waste in the box canons will be harnessed and will furnish power to redeem untold acres of valuable land.

The half has never been told of the beautiful valley of the Rio Grande; the writer is no immigration agent; he has lived in the great Northwest which he calls home, but seven years under the turquoise skies of New Mexico have won his heart. Someone must remain in the frozen zones, but if you would enjoy a part of the life given you, let it be in a climate, no better and no worse than that of the valley of the Rio Grande del Norte.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and shuts itself off from the middle ear. It is entirely curable, and when it is entirely cured, the hearing is restored, and the hearing is restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; plus cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sold by Druggists, or by mail, $1.00 per bottle. F. J. TEXT OF REPORT STATSHOOD BILL sary and proper, in the discretion of the secretary of the interior, in order to carry out the full intention and meaning of this act.

The House bill provides that thirty days after the approval of this act the delegates to a constitutional convention be elected. This has been changed to twenty days on account of the shortness of time caused by delay in this legislation, and for the same reason the election of delegates, which was fixed in the original House bill on the tenth Tuesday following the approval of this act, is changed by this agreement to the fifth Tuesday. For the same reason the time of holding the constitutional convention has been changed from the fifth Monday after the election of delegates to the second Monday, and instead of receiving compensation for not more than sixty days' service the delegates can receive compensation for not more than thirty days' service.

A further change of the House bill on this subject has been made which requires an election to be held for the adoption or rejection of the constitution on November 6, 1906, and that if a majority of each of said territories shall be for the constitution, then and in that event statehood shall be perfected by the proclamation of the President, as provided by the original House bill; otherwise not.

This change from the original House bill which finds force and effect in these words of the conferees agreement referred to, to-wit, "and if a majority of the legal votes cast on that question in each of said territories shall be for the constitution," then statehood shall be perfected, means that if the majority of the voters of either Arizona or New Mexico shall vote to reject, then there shall be no statehood and each of these territories shall be left in statu quo, but if a majority of both these territories shall vote at said election to ratify the constitution then they will be perfected into statehood under the name of Arizona and under the provisions of the bill.

The other provisions of the conferees' amendment agreed to, relative to the subject of statehood for Arizona and New Mexico, designated as No. 40, follow the original provisions of the House bill with a few immaterial changes.

When Abner Hustled

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Abner Hope, twenty-four years old, lived on a farm just out of Melville, with his sister for housekeeper. Adjoining his farm was that of the Widow Williams. She was thirty-five years old, but she moved around with the step of a girl. She had only put off her mourning when Abner fell in love with her.

The widow was looked upon as a catch by more than one, and Abner had to brush aside three widowers, two old bachelors and a young man or two before he stood in the front row.

Abner Hope was what some folks call a poke. He wasn't lazy, but he was easy going. He intended to take the widow under his arm in due time and clear away the line of fences between the two farms, but he didn't see any special hurry about it.

The widow had said that if she ever married again she would insist on a bridal tour lasting at least two weeks, and he had to figure as to the most convenient time for sparing those two weeks from the farm. He also wanted to study the widow and make sure that she was what she seemed, and it was also a pleasant thing to sit with her on the veranda and talk romance and love. There were many reasons for letting things drag along.

Abner never had popped the question and been answered with a "yes," although it was tacitly understood that there was an engagement. One evening he strolled over in his easy way to find the widow in a snappy frame of mind. She had been doing up preserves that day and burned her hand. Her greeting was not as effective as usual, but that did not disturb Abner in the least. He sat down and began to talk about the corn crop, and the widow stood it for ten minutes before she snapped out:

"Look here, Abner Hope. Do you know that folks are talking about us?"

"I hadn't heard anything in particular."

"Well, I have. Mrs. Richards told me today that the whole neighborhood was wondering why you came here so often."

"Why-why, I come a-courting, of course. I thought everybody knew that. Was the surprised answer."

"And what has come of it?"

"Nothing as yet, but as soon as I can get around to it I'm going to ask you to marry me. I suppose you understand that."

"Mr. Hope," replied the widow as she looked up with flashing eyes, "you needn't waste your breath asking me to marry you."

"Why, Mary, what's come over you all at once?"

"I am Mrs. Williams, if you please, and as I am very busy this evening I hope you will excuse me."

"Do you mean that you are going to marry some one else?" asked Abner after a moment's thought.

"My business is my own, sir."

"Don't be a dodo, Mary."

"How dare you talk to me this way? Sir, I bid you good evening!"

She rose up and entered the house, and after sitting around for half an hour Abner took a slow departure and made his way homeward. As he thought matters over his conscience told him that he was derelict. He should have settled the matter weeks before and been ready to get married as soon as corn husking was over. The result of his deliberations was that he would let a day or two pass to smooth down the widow's temper and then call and ask her to set the day. He realized that he loved her, but he didn't persevere over the thought of losing her.

It so happened that Abner had to go to town on a lawsuit for a couple of days and that he was extra busy with work on the farm, and it was a week before he made his next visit to the widow's.

He found that things had changed. She was entertaining a man about forty years old whom she introduced as Mr. Simpson, and it was plain from Mr. Simpson's attitude that he was much attracted.

Abner was formally introduced as Mr. Hope, and the widow conversed with him as if they had seldom met. Mr. Simpson was engaged in driving wells, putting up wire fencing and erecting windmills, and Abner discovered that he had a rival. Indeed, Mr. Simpson was more than a rival. He was now the man inside.

Abner Hope went home to wake up. There was a feeling in his heart that he had never felt before—that of jealousy. It made him stir himself. Bright and early next morning he went over to the next farm to borrow a hoe and incidentally to ask the widow to set the day, but she was not to be seen.

He called three times that week, but had no luck. Then he lay in wait to pound Mr. Simpson. Fortunately for the drive well man, he carried a gun, and when he exhibited it Abner backed off like a sensible man. Within two weeks it was reported that Mrs. Williams and Mr. Simpson would make a match of it and that the engagement would be brief. Abner Hope thought fast and moved fast. He was determined not to give the widow up, but under existing circumstances was helpless in the matter, when accident furnished him a weapon.

There was to be a circus in town, eight miles away. Mr. Simpson had invited the widow, and they were to drive in a livery rig. Mr. Simpson boarded at the village tavern. On the morning of the circus there was a row in the place when he woke up. Some one had entered his room in the night from the open veranda window and had robbed him. It took him fifteen minutes to explain what he had been robbed of, and then only after he had resorted to pencil and paper. He raved and gesticulated and jabbered strange words. He was sure there could be no mistake as to his having been robbed. He wanted the sheriff and all his constables put on the trail at once, and he ordered mush and milk for breakfast and ate it without appetite. After breakfast he wrote two or three notes to the widow, but tore them all up and finally set out for her house. People

Mr. Simpson and the widow were to start for the circus at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. At that hour he drove up to her house and descended. She was not quite ready and asked him to wait a few minutes. He smiled and bowed and answered in the Choctaw dialect.

"Why, Mr. Simpson, what on earth are you?" she asked as she looked him over.

"Smiles and bows and more Choctaw. 'You—your cheeks have all fallen in, you mumble your words; you don't look at all like yourself. What has happened?'"

"I've been robbed," he replied through the medium of paper and pencil.

"Good lands! But what of?"

"My teeth. Both plates are gone. Some one entered my room last night."

"Did I ever! And you expect to go to the circus and entertain me without a tooth in your head. I'll not go." And so evident was her determination that Mr. Simpson abandoned further effort to persuade her and drove off.

At that juncture Abner Hope drove up. A minute after hitching his horse he was on the veranda beside the widow.

"Mary," he began, "I have come to take you to the circus."

"I—I expected to go with Mr. Simpson."

"I wanted to have a long talk with you."

"But you the same as called me a dodo."

"I know, but neither of us knows what a dodo is."

"They drove away together, and when they had made a distance of two miles and were crossing a swamp Abner took something from his coat pocket and gave the packet a fling among the grass and water."

"What is it?" asked the widow.

"Shall we be married Thanksgiving day?" he asked as he dodged her question by hitting at a horse fly with the lash.

And the sheriff found no clew.

ARIZONA NEWS NOTES

Typhoid fever has commenced its summer campaign in Bisbee, according to reports received from that city. In the last couple of weeks several patients have been removed to hospitals and the probabilities are that the number of cases will increase rapidly until the advent of cooler weather.

Samuel D. Ream, who has lived in the vicinity of Phoenix for the past five years, died at his home on the Christy Road Tuesday of cancer of the stomach. Deceased was a native of Ohio and is survived by a wife and one son. The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

After a tour of inspection over the ranges of Pinal County, George Pusch, a member of the Territorial Livestock Sanitary Board, reports that he never saw cattle in better shape. He says that if the agricultural crop now appearing in most of the counties he has visited is safely harvested it will be a record breaker for the Territory.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. Ireland's Pharmacy.

UNSUCCESSFUL MAN HUNT

Captain Fornoff and Game Warden Griffin Have Found No Definite Trace of Convicts.

Edward Nichols and James Grimes, convicts who escaped from the territorial penitentiary one week ago Thursday, have not been recaptured. Game Warden William E. Griffin, who left Santa Fe last Saturday with Captain Fred Fornoff, in an effort to overtake the convicts returned here yesterday. He said that the mounted officers and penitentiary guards had failed to catch the runaways, although they had been working night and day running down every possible clue and rumor. Regarding the man hunt he said to a New Mexican reporter:

"It is difficult to say whether the information obtained by Captain Fornoff and myself, was correct, but everything points to the convicts having been at a ranch near San Ildefonso on Saturday night following their escape. It was upon this clue that we went to work. Upon reaching the ranch in question, the owner, an aged man told us that two men answering the description of the fugitives, had been caught in the act of milking some cows in his corral at night. The men were evidently hungry and were securing the milk for food. He said that when he went to the corral to look at his cows, he found the two men there. He became frightened and retreated to the house a short distance away where he watched them. It was a moonlight night but at times the sky was partly overcast by clouds. Several times during the night, the two men left the corral under protection of the darkness caused by clouds effacing the moonlight and started to approach the house. Before they could succeed, however, the clouds passed from the face of the moon, and fearing to be seen in the light apparently, the men retreated to the corral. In the morning they were gone, after the ranchman had spent a wakeful night.

"Taking up the trail at this point we went through the district about Nambe, Chimayo and Espanola, first, however, going to Santa Cruz. Before crossing the bridge leading to Espanola, Captain Fornoff and myself saw two men, apparently skulking along in the brush. We made no attempt to follow them but drove hastily into town. There we talked with an officer on the opposite side of the spot where we saw the men, instructing him by telephone to come toward them while we advanced to meet him.

"We searched the country near where we had seen them until a late hour without finding any more traces of them. Whether the parties we saw were the fugitives or men residing in the neighborhood, I cannot say. Superintendent Arthur Telford brought the blood hounds from the penitentiary and they at once took up the trail but after following it for some distance, they became confused in an alfalfa field and would do nothing further. We were forced to abandon the chase at this point. Captain Fornoff, mounted officers and penitentiary guards are now making a systematic search of the neighborhood for many miles. Mounted Officer Rafael Gomez has gone to Santa Cruz having been informed that two men were hiding near there in an old mill.

"We have learned that one of the men who escaped was at one time a brakeman employed by the Santa Fe Railway and this leads to the belief that the men will try to reach a railroad where they can meet friends and so make their way out of the country."

NEW DITCH SYSTEM FOR SAN JUAN

Work Commenced on Citizens' Irrigation Project—Bloomfield and Solomon Mesas Scene of Operations.

Special to The New Mexican. Bloomfield, N. M., June 9.—Ripe strawberries and plenty of cream. Early peas will soon be ready for use. Bloomfield will soon be something more than a name. Ranchmen are now leading a strenuous life. Much new and improved farm machinery has been put into commission this spring on the San Juan ranches.

Millions of young grasshoppers are now invading range and ranches. Glad to see the big improvement of the New Mexican.

Some of our apuristas have found it necessary to feed their bees, but alfalfa will now soon be in bloom.

Mr. H. T. Clerc, who came here years ago during the French gold excitement, has been quite ill.

Land hunters are quite numerous on the San Juan. Claim contesting has become the fashion.

Little time is given to discussion of new railroads or the statehood question, but we are ready for both.

The denatured alcohol bill and the pure food bill are the best measures Congress has passed in the interests of farmers for years. The former is of especial interest in the arid region for, with ten or fifteen cent fuel, gas engines will soon be in operation pumping water to irrigate thousands of acres of land that would otherwise be idle, and it will doubtless soon take the place of high priced oil for illuminating purposes.

Let them give the farmer the parcels post and he will be well fixed.

A Chicago creamery promoter has recently been busy in Astec and Farmington.

A few more egg ranches would be in order and prove to be profitable investments.

Camp has been established near Blanco and dirt throwing commenced on the third instant on the new Citizens' ditch, which is to cover from three to four thousand acres of virgin land, including the Bloomfield and Solomon Mesas. Eight teams are at work and the force will be increased as the farmers get their ranch work laid aside. Ditch schemes to water this land have been on top for the past twenty or thirty years, but this will be the first real construction work and the promoters mean business. It is to be a co-operative ditch and the estimated cost is but $13 per acre. The land is as fine fruit and vegetable land as can be found in New Mexico. Engineer Jay Turley ran the preliminary lines and made the estimates. Mr. Bator, civil engineer and goat breeder of the upper San Juan, established the permanent line on which work has commenced. If the Arizona & Colorado rail line builds up the San Juan, it will bisect the land under the new ditch.

Engineer Burwell commenced the final survey of the big Eden Canal last Monday and expects to complete the same by the 25th instant and contracts will then be let for construction. This is the big ditch from the Animas River that will cover some 25,000 acres of San Juan County lands much of which is between Aztec and Bloomfield. The promoters promise water for next season and the cost of water rights will be from $25 to $30 per acre. Considerable of the land is yet open to public entry.

NEW BANKS IN ROOSEVELT COUNTY

Texico and Elda Soon to Have Two Portales Making Satisfactory Growth.

Special to The New Mexican.

Roswell, N. M., June 9.—In a recent issue of the New Mexican I noticed an article enumerating the banks recently established. You overlooked our county. The Territorial Bank at Texico has just made application to organize as a national bank which will make two national banks for that place.

Elda also has two banks in process of organization, the First National at this place is about to increase its capital stock to fifty thousand dollars. There is talk of two territorial banks at Brownhorn and a bank at La Lande. As a further item of news I may say that from the date of the first sale of lots in La Lande, April 9th, 1906, to May 20th, 1906, sales aggregating $6,206.50 have been made of town lots in that town. The Eastern Railway of New Mexico has now under construction a concrete depot building 24 feet by 65 feet, two stories high at La Lande.

A good general rain fell here on the night of the first instant and the outlook for a crop this year is good.

All the people who want to be are busy, the demand for labor not being supplied. Portales will build a $10,000 public school building this year. Warren Foshee & Company of Portales, are now erecting a stone store building 50 feet by 100 feet. The postmaster C. O. Leach, of this place, has arranged to build a postoffice building 24 feet by 50 feet.

Several stone and frame residences are in process of construction here.

Democratic candidates for the nomination at the county primary June 25th, are industriously canvassing the county on the theory that a nomination at such primary is equivalent to an election. As all the present county officials are seeking re-nomination, some of the business of certain of the officials is apparently going undone. We Republicans, contemplate putting up at least a part and may be a whole ticket and doing the best we can with it. We are not without hope for the future politically.

BROWN TAKES FRENCH LEAVE

Pardoned Out of Penitentiary to Testify Against Pal He Heads for Mexico is Captured.

James Brown, recently pardoned out of the penitentiary by Governor Hagerman, in order that he might testify against James West on trial in the district court at Roswell, on the charge of horse stealing, two weeks ago had left for parts unknown, but diligent search was made for him by the officials of Chaves County. Brown was arrested at Artesia on Wednesday of this week, and placed in jail. In the meanwhile, the trial of West had been postponed and the jury which had been empaneled, discharged. Says the Roswell Daily Record:

"It was reported that Brown was in Mexico. Governor Hagerman who was here to attend the commencement exercises of the Military Institute, stated that every effort would be made to get Brown. Brown was sent up from here some two years ago for horse stealing. His pardon was the first extension of executive clemency by Governor Hagerman. There are facts in connection with the disappearance and recapture of Brown not yet given out for publication that will be made known later. Brown cannot be returned to the penitentiary, but he may be punished for contempt of court."

FLOODS DELAY SANTAFE TRAINS

Excessive Rains in Kansas Cause Demoralization of Schedules.

Albuquerque, N. M., June 9.—This afternoon a long string of flood-bound trains arrived in this city, being all of yesterday's trains from the east and the California Limited of today. This is the first serious trouble that the Santa Fe Railway Company has experienced with floods this year, and although it is said to be quite serious, it is thought that it will not last long. The difficulty is near Lawrence, Kansas. The California Limited was annulled yesterday and last night's trains did not reach Albuquerque until 11 o'clock this forenoon. A stub train was run from La Junta last night going west from this city on No. 7's time, while the regular southbound train went out as usual minus the El Paso sleeper.

MORE SETTLERS FOR ESTANCIA VALLEY

After Inspection Many Will Make Homestead Entries—Homeseekers Well Pleased With Outlook.

The party of homeseekers from Kansas and Oklahoma which arrived in Santa Fe Wednesday night and went to Estancia, Thursday, returned to the Capital City yesterday afternoon on a special train via the Santa Fe Central Railway. The intending homeseekers were in charge of the J. C. Maxwell Immigration Company, the members of which assisted them in selecting tracts. E. A. Rely, a member of the company, said this morning that with one or two exceptions every member of the party will become settlers. They were favorably impressed with conditions and upon returning to Santa Fe made homestead entries. A part of them returned to their homes last night and the remainder went today. They will return to the Territory in a short time and become residents upon the tracts which they have selected.

ASSESSOR'S ACTION NOT SUSTAINED

Board of Commissioners Finish Inspection of County Tax Schedules—City Returns Next Week.

The Board of County Commissioners which has been in continuous and laborious session during the week examining tax schedules, adjourned at noon today to meet again Monday at 2:30 o'clock. The returns for the county precincts have been examined, corrected and approved. The board will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when tax schedules for precincts Nos. 3, 4, 17 and 18 will be in order. The board has annulled the action of the assessor in making increases, especially on real estate in parts of certain wards of the city, it having been represented that these increases were illegal and not equitable as they had been made in but portions of the city whereas in order to make them equitable and fair this action should have been extended to all parts of the city. The board sustained this view of the case and hence made the order accordingly. The board will be in session several days next week.

VISIT TO PAJARITO PARK

By Archaeological Society and Others July 3, 4 and 5—Now Time to Register.

Those who desire to accompany the members of the Archaeological Society on their three days' trip to the Pajarito Cliff and communal dwellings on July 3d, 4th, and 5th, should register their names with Postmaster Paul A. F. Walter. To members of the society the cost of the trip including fare, meals, shelter and guides will be $7.50; to others $10. Ordinarily a three days' trip to the cliff dwellings with guide, tents and subsistence could not be made for less than $25 and it is to be doubted whether another opportunity will offer itself this year to make the trip under auspices so agreeable. The party will be limited to forty and will not only visit the cliff and communal dwellings, but will also pass through picturesque Indian villages and by historic land marks not to speak of beautiful and fertile valleys, deep canons and gulches and evergreen forests. Nothing is being left undone to make the outing a delightful one.
