FIRST MOVE FOR STATEHOOD MADE*Governor Issues Call for Apportionment
Meeting.*TO ARRANGE FOR DELEGATES*Chief Justice Mills and Secretary Reynolds Are Summoned.

Governor Hagerman today made the first move towards uniting the territories of New Mexico and Arizona into one state, when he issued a call to Chief Justice W. J. Mills and Secretary J. W. Reynolds to meet with him at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon to arrange for the apportionment of delegates to be elected to the constitutional convention.

Sends Out Letters.

Letters were sent by the Governor to Mr. Reynolds and Justice Mills. At the meeting Friday the vote of the Territory for congressional delegate at the last general election will be canvassed, and the apportionment of delegates will be allotted by counties according to this vote.

The task of apportioning the delegates is difficult and it is unlikely that the three officials will finish the work at one meeting.

After the apportionment is made it will be the duty of the Governor to issue a proclamation calling for the election of the delegates. This proclamation will be issued sometime next month.

Section of Law.

The section of law authorizing the Governor to arrange for the apportionment of the delegates is as follows:

"That at the general election to be held on the sixth day of November, nineteen hundred and six, all the electors of said Territories, respectively, qualified to vote at such election, are hereby authorized to vote for and choose delegates to form a convention for said Territories. The aforesaid convention shall consist of one hundred and ten delegates, sixty-six of which delegates shall be elected to said convention by the people of the Territory of New Mexico and forty-four by the people of the Territory of Arizona; and the governors, chief justices and secretaries of each of said Territories, respectively, shall apportion the delegates to be thus elected from their respective Territories, as nearly as may be, equitably among the several counties thereof in accordance with the voting population as shown by the vote cast for Delegate in Congress in the respective Territories in nineteen hundred and four."

THOUGHT THROATS
WERE BEING CUT*Operation on New York
School Children Is Cause for Riot.

New York, June 27.—The rumor that children's throats were being cut in the public schools resulted in such excitement and panic throughout the lower East Side today that fifteen schools with 25,000 pupils were closed.

Operations were performed yesterday upon several children for the removal of an adenoids fungus growth in the back of their throats, and nasal cavities. The news spread rapidly among the Hebrews, who were led to believe the Russian massacres were to be repeated in this country. Threatening crowds of parents surrounded the schools and hundreds of policemen were powerless to restore order until the classes were dismissed.

ABRAHAM MONTE-
ZUMA'S RETURN*Navaho Eagle Finds Liberty Unprofitable—Comes Back to Fresh Pot at Indian Reservation.

Abraham Montezuma escaped from the United States Indian School yesterday. There was great excitement for a time. He entered the school about a year ago, coming from the Navaho country. It was supposed that he had gone back to his people. Searching parties were sent out. At one time it was suggested to get the blood hounds from the penitentiary, but their failure to follow the trail of the last two escaped convicts did not hold out encouragement in that direction.

The search was kept up throughout the day without success. About 8 o'clock in the evening a dark object was seen in Andrews Park; the night watchman went to investigate and behold "Abe" had returned, tired, weary and hungry and fully repentant. Abe is a captive eagle and lives in a cage in the park at the school. He is a fine bird but evidently has had too good a time of it. Hence his attempt at flight to the mesas and canyons of his nativity.

London, June 27.—Bread and butter is the food for muscular work according to an English physician. The perfect diet for those who are faddists is announced as eight ounces of cooked meat, twenty-four ounces of bread, eight ounces of potatoes, two ounces of cheese, two ounces of bacon, one ounce of butter and half a pint of milk a day.

Have Been Insane From Excitement.

Confort, Texas, June 27.—In the presence of the assembled guests last night, at the home of his intended bride, Joseph Reinhardt shot and killed Miss Ernestine Kuther, and then shot himself.

The hour for the wedding was at hand when young Reinhardt walked into the parlor and drew a pistol, leveling it at his sweetheart. She threw up her hands as if to ward off the danger.

Three shots were fired at close range. The first bullet entered her heart, killing her instantly. Reinhardt fired two bullets into his own breast and is not expected to live. The cause of the tragedy is not known.

The theory of friends of the couple is that Reinhardt was excited and temporarily insane.

The families are among the best in the county.

CUTS OUT LOCK STEP.*Rules for Convicts at Joliet Penitentiary
Are Greatly Modified by Warden.

Chicago, June 27.—The last vestige of the old order of "iron heel" discipline was wiped off the slate in Joliet penitentiary yesterday when Warden Murphy ordered the discontinuance of the "lock step" in marching inmates from their cells to the shops and dining rooms. The moderation in the rules, which has been going on for the past ten years, was made possible, it is said, through the influence of Maud Ballington Booth, who has led the convicts to look upon their incarceration as expiation and to withstand it heroically and in a spirit of humility and Christian obedience.

mittee Meet in St. Louis for Conference.

St. Louis, June 27.—The national committee of the People's Party met in annual conference here today, delegates being present from almost every state in the Union. The gathering is for the purpose of discussing the political situation. It is said that possibly the members will endorse some man for the Presidential nomination.

The conference was called to order by James H. Faries of Joliet, Illinois, national chairman of the People's party. In an address he said the party was at peace within itself. "The rate bill," he said, "does not meet Populist demands, but is a step showing at least that statesmen desire to do something for the country. Populists will push on for government ownership of those industries possessing government functions."

Theodore Roosevelt, Senator La Follette and Thomas T. Dawson, W. J. Bryan, Governor Folk and W. R. Hearst, nicknamed Populists by their Wall Street despisers, are great men in their parties, and it is their Populist tendencies alone that have made them more highly esteemed than their ordinary fellow partisans.

"It is now recognized by their party managers that Bryan, Hearst or Folk will be taken to defeat a Republican for the Presidency. Likewise, Republicans understand they can defeat the Democrats with no other than Roosevelt or La Follette."

FAILS TO AGREE
TO ADJOURNMENT*Cannon Insists That Important Measures Must Be Acted on First.

Washington, June 27.—Speaker Cannon refused absolutely to agree to the passage of an adjournment resolution setting the day of adjournment within the coming week.

This gave rise to the report that the Speaker of the House was opposed to early adjournment and did not think it could be secured. The inference was unwarranted. Mr. Cannon believes that all of the business of this session of the Congress can be transacted and adjournment secured by Thursday or Friday of this week. He does not, however, propose to tie his hands by objectionable legislation forced on the majority of the House through the efforts of one or two members of the Senate who could, if an adjournment resolution was passed, take any measure into a shape where their individual ideas would have to be accepted in the place of the judgment of the majority of the two houses.

The speaker told the Senate leaders who sought the passage of the resolution that he saw no reason why the session could not end with the ending of the month, but that the sundry civil bill, the pure food bill, the immigration bill, the beef inspection proposition and the railroad rate measure would either have to be agreed on or have the responsibility for their defeat plainly placed before the country where it should belong, or he would not consent to the passage of the resolution.

DEFENDS HIS SON.

Charles B. Blanchard Says Boy Accused of Stealing Railroad Ticket Should Be Heard.

Charles B. Blanchard of Fruitland has come to Santa Fe to see that his son, Charles, who is accused of stealing a railroad ticket from the depot of the Santa Fe system, is properly defended. Young Blanchard was employed at the depot.

In a letter to the New Mexican, Mr. Blanchard says:

Santa Fe, June 27.

To the Editor of the New Mexican:

I have just arrived from Fruitland and am here to investigate my boy's troubles, who has been employed less than one month as apprentice telegrapher at the Santa Fe station. I was shocked and greatly surprised at the notice of his trial in the New Mexican and cannot realize that the charges of appropriating tickets could be proved against him, as he wrote me only a few days ago that he was well pleased with his work and that with close attention to his duties he did not expect to have to serve his full term of apprenticeship, but hoped to be promoted within a few months. Although my son is not yet of age, less than one year out of college without experience, if I find him guilty of such a crime, I want him to be punished, but at this stage of my investigations, I fail to find enough evidence to convict him. The disappearance of tickets from the case that had not been checked up for over four months is not enough evidence to force me to believe that my son should be made responsible for the shortness of tickets that were liable to disappear from the case before his entrance at the station.

In regard to his writing trivial, joking letters to his Las Vegas friends from such a place, offering to furnish transportation to the City of Mexico, I refuse to believe that he meant to do so and if he did, how could he accomplish his design without the help of the agent, or without being detected by conductors?

He deserves severe reprimand for writing such letters, even if they are written in a joking mood and his Las Vegas friend, who has been a trusted employee of a large establishment for several years declared yesterday that he did not dream of expecting such transportation and had no desire of going to Mexico; that it must have been another joke from Charlie.

My son was not represented at the justice trial and must have made poor defense.

CHARLES BLANCHARD.

WATER PLUG CAUSES DELAY IN TRAFFIC

A water plug on the engine pulling train No. 2 on the Santa Fe Central Railroad due in Santa Fe at 4:20 p. m., blew out at Donaciana, five miles south of Santa Fe yesterday afternoon, incapacitating the engine so that it was unable to complete the run to this city. A part of the passengers were brought to the city in carriages sent out by the company, while others who did not wish to wait, walked in.

BADGER STATE

in 1908.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 27.—Wisconsin Democrats at their state convention today passed strong resolutions endorsing William J. Bryan for the Presidency in 1908.

The convention was called for the purpose of formulating a state platform. No nominations for state officers will be made as all political parties in Wisconsin will select their candidates by a direct primary, to be held in September.

One of the features of today's convention was the speech of former Senator Vilas endorsing Colonel Bryan. Mr. Vilas was one of the Democrats who bolted Bryan and silver in 1896. There were about 700 delegates at today's convention. That the Bryan supporters would rule the convention has been a foregone conclusion for several weeks.

State Chairman H. H. Manson introduced Daniel H. Grady of Portage as temporary chairman.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 27.—The Democratic state convention, to nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, auditor general and secretary of internal affairs, assembled here today. Michael J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, was temporary chairman.

Toronto, June 27.—Alexander Muir, author of Canada's national hymn, "The Maple Leaf," died suddenly last night.

New York, June 27.—The alienists appointed by the district attorney's office to examine into Thaw's mental condition reported to Assistant District Attorney Nott late this afternoon that so far as they had determined he is perfectly sane. They still have however, his physical condition to take into consideration, as he refused to submit to a physical examination today.

New York, June 27.—The examination into the mental condition of Harry Thaw, the millionaire who killed Architect White while at the Madison Square Roof Garden, was begun today by three prominent alienists, selected for that task by the district attorney's office.

The prisoner was taken from the Tombs to the criminal court building, where the examination was conducted. In addition to the alienists selected by the prosecution, Doctors Austin Flint, C. F. Macdonald and William Mahon, there were present Dr. McGuire, the Tombs physician and Dr. Foster, representing the defense.

Burr McIntosh, a friend of Thaw's, is positive that he is insane. The alienists who examined Thaw today announced he declined to answer any questions they asked him, even after his attorney, Judge Olcott, advised him to do so.

He gave a vivid account of Thaw's wild pranks.

With the police, the coroner's and the district attorney's offices working to learn all the details of the events which led up to the murder of Stanford White by Harry K. Thaw, and all silent as to their discoveries, there is much room for speculation on all the phases of the case.

The most interesting development last night was the announcement that Mrs. Thaw told her husband's lawyers yesterday that she had received many letters from White since her marriage. One of them, it is said, she threw on her dressing table a few days ago and her husband found it and vowed vengeance on the writer.

White Was Watched. White was astonished some months ago to find that detectives were following him. Having the detectives watched, he discovered they were reporting to Thaw.

Mrs. Thaw visited her husband to the Tombs prison. She was accompanied by her husband's brother, Joseph.

There were no casualties so far as known. The shocks were accompanied by loud rumblings.

USED BIG STICK.

Mrs. Martinez Accuses Son-in-Law of Beating Her With a Pine Club—Man is Held.

A pine club more than two feet in length and heavy enough to be effective when wielded in the hands of a somewhat intoxicated and wrathful son-in-law, was the weapon which Eplimio Garcia is alleged to have used in beating his mother-in-law, Mrs. Vicente Martinez, yesterday afternoon.

The officers were first notified of the affair when Mrs. Martinez went to the office of Jose Maria Garcia, justice of the peace, and asked that a warrant be issued for her son-in-law's arrest. When she came to the jail it was observed that she had received a severe wound on the head, besides minor injuries on the hand and arm. Deputy Sheriff Seferino Baca was detailed to arrest Garcia and soon brought him to jail, where arrangements were immediately made for his preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Martinez and her daughter, the wife of the defendant, were the only witnesses examined. District Attorney E. C. Abbott appearing for the prosecution. Mrs. Martinez testified that her son-in-law has never provided adequately for his wife since their marriage and that he has on many occasions been very unkind to her.

Yesterday afternoon he came to her home in an intoxicated condition and found his wife there. He began to quarrel and finally, picking up a club, began beating her over the head and arms. She also testified that he threw a cuspidor at his wife. The testimony of Mrs. Garcia corroborated that of her mother.

Garcia was bound over to the grand jury and his bonds fixed at $500. He is in jail.

Washington, June 27.—Senator Boise Penrose, of Pennsylvania, at the solicitation of Delegate Andrews, of New Mexico, has offered an amendment to the public printing bill now pending and under consideration appropriating the sum of $200,000 for a public building in the city of Albuquerque.

Signs Land Lease Bill.

The President today signed the bill introduced and pushed by Delegate Andrews providing for the extension of the power of the Territorial land commission of New Mexico in the matter of leases of Territorial public lands. Under the new law the land commission has power to lease areas of public land of the Territory to applicants in larger sections than 640 acres, which has been the maximum area heretofore maintained.

Passes Canal Bill.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—The House today, without debate, passed the bill providing for the construction of a lock type canal across the Isthmus of Panama.

Chairman Gardner, of the House committee on labor, filed a favorable report on the eight hour bill. It is not expected that the measure will receive consideration this session.

Fight Over Amendment.

When the conferees on the agricultural appropriations bill took a recess at 11:15, they professed that it appeared to be an impossible task to reach an agreement on the meat inspection amendment.

Senator Proctor urged a disagreement to be reported to the House and Senate, but the House conferees refused to consent. Another attempt to reach an agreement will be made this afternoon.

The pure food bill, which was in conference only two days, was agreed upon at 12:30 o'clock. The report is being drafted.

Domingo Treaty Dies.

The Santo Domingo treaty will not be acted upon by the Senate this session. The committee on foreign relations adjourned until the next session of congress, and the treaty was left without action. The opponents of the treaty claim they have enough votes to defeat it.

New Mexico Postmasters.

Special to The New Mexican.

Washington, June 27.—The President today sent the following nominations of New Mexico postmasters to the Senate:

Harry C. Carter, at Las Cruces; the appointee is a young man of excellent reputation, who has been a resident of the Mesilla Valley for over three years and connected with the Engineer corps of the U. S. Reclamation service. M. Branigan, of Las Cruces, had been strongly recommended for the position. It was found that the appointment of Branigan could not be made, and hence Mr. Carter was selected as a compromise candidate to succeed the present postmaster, Allen J. Papin, who has held the office for over four years.

John M. Wiley at Silver City. Mr. Wiley has served as a deputy U. S. marshal under U. S. Marshal Creighton M. Foraker for several years, is an old time citizen of Silver City and was recommended by the Territorial and local Republican organizations, as well as by Delegate Andrews, National Committeeman Luna, and Chairman Bursum. Colonel H. H. Betts was a candidate for the position and was very strongly endorsed. When Colonel Betts was appointed deputy coal oil inspector he withdrew from the race, and the support of those who favored him was given to Mr. Wiley. The present postmaster, Mrs. Artie Galoway, has held the position for over nine years.

There was quite a fight over this appointment as the present incumbent had many friends and desired to stay. The present postmaster is a woman, Mrs. Cleveland. Mr. Hamilton is one of the oldest residents of the valley, is highly respected in the insurance and real estate business and was strongly recommended by the Republican organization.

Harry W. Hamilton, postmaster at Artesia, Eddy County.

Elkton, S. D., June 27.—If Phil Becker had not stolen a cow it might never have been discovered that he was a kleptomaniac. Becker stole a Jersey cow from a neighbor and then tried to hide it in a cellar, but the cow refused to take the steps. Then, fearing detection, Becker drove her into his bedroom and slept in the same room all night. In spite of his attempts to quiet her, she persisted in mooing.

SETTLEMENT OF QUESTION IS HAILED WITH JOY.

Among the good acts of the 59th Congress and for which it is entitled to great credit, is the settlement of the question of the type for the Panama canal. The lock system has been adopted, and while there is a great variety of opinion as to which, the sea level plan or the lock system shall in the end prove the better, nevertheless, the decision is one which will be hailed with great delight and with much satisfaction by the vast majority of the people of the United States. That construction of the great project will now commence in earnest cannot and will not be doubted by those who know President Roosevelt, his strenuous capacity and energetic demand for work. The Republican majorities in both Houses of Congress are certainly entitled to great credit for having come to an agreement in the case, especially when it is remembered that there is much diversity of opinion among the best, most skilled and experienced engineers, not only in this country, but also in Europe, on the question. The demand of the people of the United States is for the speedy completion of the canal. This can now be depended upon to occur as early as it is possible under the circumstances in the case. The Chicago Record-Herald views the situation aptly and fairly when it says that instead of the expected deadlock on the question of canal type, with all the embarrassment that it involved for the executive, we have concord and peace and a clear track for progress. Once more has the Senate, by adopting the lock canal amendment, treated the people of the United States to a pleasant surprise.

The Kittredge sea level bill, favorably reported by the majority of the canal committee, seemed certain of passage until about three or four days ago. Its supporters all along confidently claimed a majority of the Senate, and the friends of the alternative type said very little. But we see now that they did a good deal of thinking. And that thinking carried the day. The powerful and manifestly impartial speech of Senator Knox doubtless changed votes. The argument of Senator Morgan for a sea level canal not improbably made converts for the opposite side. The debate appears to have been distinctly fruitful.

Another possible influence was the flat-footed stand of the House as indicated in the resolution it incorporated into the sundry civil appropriation bill—the resolution providing that no part of the $25,000,000 canal appropriation shall be used on any so-called sea level water way.

At all events, common sense has won, and Congress will not only have acted on the matter, but will have acted right. There will be no further delays and paralyzing uncertainties. The canal commission will receive instructions to go ahead and dig the moment the canal bill receives the executive's approval.

Fortunately the conditions in the zone along the proposed route are now sufficiently favorable to insure steady and reasonably rapid progress. Organization and sanitation problems have been given the attention they required, and President Shonts assures the people that everything is ready for active, well-directed operations. The laborers are on the ground, machinery has been installed, and the plans have been digested.

Let the work be resumed with the blessing of the august Senate. There is joy over the repentant sinner who, instead of obstructing, is nobly putting his shoulder to the wheel.

THE PEOPLE WILL NOT BE FOOLED.

Here is another statement giving the lie direct to the false charges and malicious fabrications by the yellow dog sheets of New Mexico as to the distress prevailing among the business men, the livestock owners, the farmers, the property holders and people generally in this Territory. Says the Colfax County Stockman:

"Conditions in Colfax County, in almost every respect, were never brighter to look upon than they are today."

Yet, it may be presumed that yellow dog sheets detractors and libelers of the people of New Mexico and of Republican officials will keep on in the rotten tenor of their way. Yellow dogs are yellow dogs.

In this connection the Raton Range comes to the front with the following: "The Range this week has published the statements of the three national banks of the city. The reports show a very satisfactory condition of the financial institutions of the city. More than three-quarters of a million now on deposit in the city constitutes a mass of wealth which is encouraging to the investor and business man. Raton never was in better condition, the era of prosperity which has been steadily advancing for the past twelve months is more marked today than ever. We are proud of our financial institutions, old and new."

There is this interesting testimony for you that the foul charges of the Albuquerque daily and three or four weekly yellow dog sheets in New Mexico should not be swallowed whole except by the people who wish to do so. There are always some of these, but to the patriotic citizens, the decent property owners who pay the taxes the law requires, energetic business men and to all residents having the good of the commonwealth at heart, the charges will prove flat and will have no more consequence in this year's campaign and elections than will have a sprinkling of water on a duck's back.

OUGHT TO ACCEPT JOINT STATEHOOD.

From far-off Yuma, which would be at the extreme western frontier of the great State of Arizona, come the following editorial utterances from the Sentinel, published in that rather warm town. It shows that in that section it is not all against joint statehood, and that the joint statehood leaven is working in the right direction. The Sentinel says:

"The conference report on the statehood bill has been adopted and the bill has been signed by the President. Oklahoma and Indian Territory are admitted as one state, to be called Oklahoma. The agreement as to New Mexico and Arizona contemplates the acceptance or rejection of joint statehood by the people of these two Territories voting at the general election in November. A majority in each of the Territories is required for acceptance. At the same election delegates to a constitutional convention are to be elected. These will number 110, of which New Mexico is to have 66 and Arizona 44. The bill provides that if a majority of the voters of either Territory shall decide against joint statehood, then all parts of the act referring to the two Territories shall be null and void.

There is a very strong rumor afloat that the Southern Pacific Company will support the joint statehood provision, and the same position has been taken by several leading Democrats as well as Republicans, who are outspoken for joint statehood. The sentiment in favor of joint statehood has apparently grown stronger and stronger every day since the turning down of the House bill in the Senate, and if Yuma is any criterion, there is good reason to believe the provision will carry at the general election. The statements that have been so freely made by newspapers throughout the Territory that the Arizona sentiment was almost unanimously against jointure, is by no means correct as applied to the present time. There is a feeling, and it is growing, that this will be our only chance for statehood for a score of years if the provision is defeated. The conclusion is that there is no chance for single statehood; that joint statehood is better than Territorial vassalage, and that we ought to accept it. It is up to the people to decide."

Governor Andrew L. Harris of Ohio, who succeeded the late Governor Patterson as chief executive of the Buckeye State, is seriously ill on his bed. Patterson was a Democrat and Harris is a Republican and the Republicans demand that the latter make a clean sweep of all the appointive offices filled by his predecessor. Harris being over 70 years of age and an invalid, has broken down completely under the strain and his physicians fear that he may not recover. Should he die, a Democrat would succeed him—State Senator Williams, president pro tem of the legislative upper house. Two lessons should be learned by voters from the unfortunate state of governmental affairs in Ohio: Not to elect mixed tickets and not to elect to office old and feeble men who in the very nature of things are unable to withstand the strenuous life demanded of most men in high public office.

Commenting upon the standpoint taken by the New Mexican in the present campaign for joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona, the Tucumcari News, which has been steadily advocating joint statehood, says the New Mexican the following graceful compliment:

"The New Mexican is the publication that has fought joint statehood longest and most effectively, and now that Colonel Frost sees that there is nothing else for us, shows his splendid judgment by accepting the situation as it confronts us, and again speaks for the best interests of New Mexico and her people by saying let us support joint statehood. The New Mexican will be in the thickest of the fight in the campaign and will accomplish something, too, before the campaign closes on the 6th of November."

Delegate Andrews has introduced a resolution to print 25,000 copies each of the Hamilton joint statehood law for distribution in Oklahoma, in New Mexico and Arizona. The resolution will likely become a law and then the citizens of these Territories will have copies of the law galore. This will be a good thing, as it will enable those who care and want to know to post themselves fully in the premises. By reading the document carefully they will learn of the many good things and benefits which will accrue to the state of Arizona, if statehood is carried.

RAILROADS GRIDIRONING NEW MEXICO.

Cimarron, Colfax County, in a few weeks will have direct rail connection with Raton and with two great railway systems. Cimarron is the oldest town in what is now Colfax County, and in the early days of the 70's was the county seat. St. Louis capital is behind the railroad venture, which is called the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Railroad. That this railroad will pay, and that big, admits of no reasonable doubt. As far as known now, it will run from Des Moines, on the Colorado Southern, in Union County, to Raton, the county seat of Colfax County; thence to Cimarron, and thence west into the Taos Valley, and very likely on to the Pacific. If this happens, and the New Mexican has good cause to believe it, there will be another transcontinental road to the Pacific coast through New Mexico. By 1910 this Territory will be gridironed by railroads east, west, north and south, and there will be about 6,000 miles of track in this commonwealth. Verily, then the Sunshine Territory or Sunshine State, whichever it may be, will grow and prosper like the proverbial green bay tree in a favorable location.

SIDEWALKS FOR SANTA FE.

"That was certainly a charitable view of Wichita, Kansas, man took of Santa Fe. He writes to his home paper that the New Mexican capital doesn't need any sidewalks and has no room for them if it had."—Roswell Daily Record.

That is where the Wichita man differs with the Daily New Mexican. This paper insists that the Capital City stands in great need of sidewalks and must have them. It commenced the fight for brick and cement sidewalks five years ago, and it is gratifying to know that it has succeeded to some extent. Several miles of fine sidewalks have been constructed, and many more miles will have to be built before this paper will cease its righteous and just demands in this direction.

The appointment of Mrs. Mary Van Houten of Raton, to be member of the board of trustees of the New Mexico Miners' Hospital by Governor Hagerman, is a well deserved compliment to a very bright, energetic and charming woman, and the women of New Mexico generally. Everyone who knows Mrs. Van Houten, and her acquaintance in Colfax San Miguel and Santa Fe counties is extensive, is sure that the lady will perform the duties of the position to which she has been appointed efficiently and for the best interests of all concerned. There is every reason why the women of New Mexico should be recognized in the filling of such positions. There are many capable, energetic and public spirited women among them and recognition is but their just due. Governor Hagerman is to be complimented upon making this appointment and upon the very superior selection.

If the building material trust gives another twist to the screw of prices, it will be apt to retard building operations in most towns. It costs fifty per cent more to build a house today, even at Santa Fe, than it did five years ago, and it is no wonder that many people who have planned residences or business blocks have decided to postpone active construction until lumber, hardware and other building materials are sold again at figures that are more in conformity with their cost and a reasonable profit to the manufacturer and dealer.

The first session of the 59th Congress proved conclusively that single members of the U. S. Senate have too much power for mischief and for delay. It is high time that the rules of that body were changed to permit the majority to do the business which the Constitution intends it should. These grave and revered senators are entirely too ostentatious, too cocky, too cranky and seem to care but little for the interests of the people. Pestiferous Pitchfork Tillman, from South Carolina, is certainly a case in point.

President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, has advised the different unions to go into politics independently and secure for labor all such an organization can. This plan, it is understood, will be followed by most of the labor unions in the country, no matter to what trades they may belong. This will be an interesting and new phase in the political life of the country and will be watched with interest and no little concern by patriotic men. It is too early to predict results.

The Texico Trumpet is evidently published in a town and county where public spirit in the right direction exists. Would there were more of this in Santa Fe. It would be better all around. The following item from the Trumpet is self-explanatory:

"T. J. Randol, one of our most prosperous farmers, came in and renewed his subscription to several copies of the Trumpet this week. Mr. Randol sends the Trumpet to eastern friends that they may know the advantages of this country and become induced to come and settle here."

Those who predicted that the present session of Congress would adjourn without doing anything, had not reckoned upon the personal quantity of President Roosevelt in the equation. As a matter of fact, the 59th Congress goes down in history as the most important since the Civil war, a Congress that has made such radical departure in legislation as to inaugurate a new era in the life of this republic.

The towns in the Panama Canal zone had a municipal election last week and both at Panama and Colon, clubs were freely used at the polls. In the riots that followed, one person was killed and nine were seriously wounded. Next thing, the Panama Canal zone will ask for admission as a state, having demonstrated its fitness to hold an election in the Chicago or New York Style.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN.

Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them.

When the back aches and throbs
When housework is torture.
When night brings no rest nor sleep.
When urinary disorders set in Women's lot is a weary one.
There is a way to escape these woes.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure such ills.
Have cured women here in Santa Fe.
This is one Santa Fe woman's testimony.

Mrs. Juana Arias of San Francisco Street, says: "For a year and a half a pain across my back was very severe and it increased so that I was compelled to take to my bed and stay there for two weeks. C. M. Conkila, knowing my condition, advised the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and they were obtained for me at Ireland's Pharmacy. I used the remedy according to directions when the attack of backache disappeared. This was eight months ago and I have not noticed a return. Previous to using Doan's Kidney Pills I have tried plasters on my back, but I might as well have used as much brown paper. I am only too pleased to recommend a remedy upon which the public can depend."

WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.)
A census made by the civil service commission shows that 1,587 of the government clerks here are sixty-five years of age or over. Of this number 180 hold their positions on account of their war records.

The work done by these clerks is graded as follows: Excellent, 374; good, 882; average, 229; fair, 251; poor, 60.

The oldest man in the service is ninety-one, another is ninety and three are eighty-six, four are eighty-five, five are eighty-four, six are eighty-three, twelve are eighty-two, fourteen are eighty-one, eighteen are eighty, fifteen are seventy-nine, twenty-five are seventy-eight, twenty-three are seventy-seven, forty-four are seventy-six, etc.

Martha Washington's Bible. The long lost Bible of Martha Washington, taken from the home of the Lee family at Arlington during the civil war, has been restored to Miss Mary Custis Lee, daughter of General Lee, the great Confederate commander, by G. W. Kendrick, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Mr. Kendrick, who is a book collector, bought the book many years ago from a man named Stein. The vicissitudes through which this wonderful old volume has passed will never be known. It was probably stolen, as were many other priceless treasures, from the Lee mansion by the servants or soldiers and pawned perhaps for a trifling sum by persons ignorant of its value.

Book in Good Condition.

In spite of its strange experience, the book is still in fine condition. Mr. Kendrick has kept it with great care, and its black leather cover shows few scratches. A few pages are torn, but the ink is still unfaded, and many leaves and flowers, pressed by members of the Lee family, are still with it.

The book was printed in London in 1702 by "Charles Bill and the executrix of Thomas Newcomb, deceased, printers to the king's most excellent majesty." It contains the "order for morning prayer throughout the year," including the communion service, the articles of religion, the Old and New Testaments, with the apocrypha, the metrical version of the Psalms and the table of kindred affinity.

Old Records.

The earliest birth recorded in it is that of Fanny Parke Custis in 1710, that of her brother, Daniel Parke Custis, being given as 1711. The marriage of Daniel Parke Custis to Martha Dandridge, afterward Martha Washington, is recorded as having occurred in 1750. His young widow, who had been married when only seventeen, was left with four children, only two of whom lived to grow up.

The son, John Custis, who married Eleanor Calvert, was the father of four children, one of whom, George Washington Parke Custis, was the father of General Lee's wife, through whom Arlington came into possession of the Lee family.

The book contains no record of the marriage of Martha Custis to George Washington.

President Site For Artist.

President Roosevelt has been sitting for a portrait in oil, which is to have a place in one of the buildings of the University of Berlin. The artist commissioned to paint the picture is Irving R. Wiles of New York.

In measure the work of Mr. Wiles is the outcome of a suggestion of the emperor of Germany and others which resulted in an arrangement last year to have an exchange of professors in leading universities of Germany and the United States.

New District Government.

Representative Kiefer of Ohio is one of those members of the House who think that the people of the District of Columbia should have a representative government and has introduced a bill providing for the change. The measure provides that the present government be abolished within a year and another formed composed of a mayor, board of aldermen and common council. As the United States owns more than one-half of the District of Columbia real estate, according to the measure, the taxes are placed on a half and half basis.

Confusion of Names.

In order that a more accurate record may be kept of all horses and mules belonging to the District government the property clerk has suggested to the commissioners that every animal be given a number instead of a name and shall be known by number while property of the District.

Property Clerk Hargroves declares by this system he will be able to know better how many horses and mules are distributed among the several departments. He claims that it is hard to keep track of them by their names. Last year he says there were ten horses named Jim, four named Maud and two named Kitty.

To Promulgate Tuberculosis Rules.

The health officer has recommended that the rules prepared by the committee on prevention of tuberculosis in government buildings, appointed by the president, be promulgated by the commissioners, with such modifications as may be necessary, for the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis in buildings under the control of the commissioners.

The health officer has recommended further that action be taken looking toward the determination of the number, location and status of employees in the service of the District government suffering from tuberculosis and that an inspection be made of the buildings under the control of the District government to determine their sanitary condition and the best methods of correcting such insanitary conditions as may be discovered.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Opinions on Campaign Subjects of Interest to the Dear People.

Joint Statehood or Nothing.
No use to talk to anyone about separate statehood. It is joint statehood or nothing—and the decision must be made soon.—Roswell Daily Record.

The Optic Knows What It Is About.
The Las Vegas Optic gives promise of being among joint statehood's most zealous and strongest advocates.—Socorro Chieftain.

They are Sensible For Once.
The Democrats of national prominence have all agreed that the best that New Mexico and Arizona can do is to accept joint statehood, separate admission of these two territories being impossible.—Las Vegas Optic.

Too Tough a Proposition.
Since the New Mexican has begun calling off its dogs, we should not be surprised at any time by its becoming reconciled to Thomas B. Catron as mayor of Santa Fe.—Roswell Daily Record.

He Should Do the Graceful Thing.
We confess to sincere admiration for Delegate Mark Smith of Arizona for the fight he made for what he believed to be the best interests of his people. Now it will be a graceful thing for him to advise his people to accept the inevitable.—Las Vegas Optic.

That is a Way The New Mexican Has.
The Santa Fe New Mexican has come out strong for joint statehood without even saying "By your leave" to its more or less esteemed contemporaries that were recently abusing it roundly for persistently contending for single statehood.—Socorro Chieftain.

And the Pecos Valley Democrats Will Do Well.

The joint statehood bill was a Republican measure all the way through—but the Record believes that all Democrats, in the Pecos Valley at least, will vote for the union of Arizona and New Mexico.—Roswell Daily Record.

Good Advice Thankfully Received.

The Record is now informed that the Santa Fe New Mexican has fully lined up for Governor Hagerman. In this the Record congratulates Colonel Frost—but still for a while would advise him to stick to the task of becoming the natural resource of New Mexico. He is a leader in this line, while politics only makes him irritable, cross, fretful and bilious.—Roswell Daily Record.

Respectfully Recommended to the Critics.

Members of the grand jury for the term of district court now in session for Socorro County found, in answer to their inquiries, that there had not been in this the largest county in New Mexico, any violations of the Sunday law worthy of their attention. This fact is respectfully commended to the prayerful consideration of some of New Mexico's critics, who might learn many virtues of good citizenship from those whom they are ready to criticize so frequently.—Socorro Chieftain.

Delegate Andrews Entitled to Credit.

Under the amendment of the law which provides that no more than 640 acres of New Mexico public land may be leased to one individual or corporation, there will be no difficulty in securing the leasing of larger tracts. The amendment provides that where the secretary of the interior deems it advisable, large tracts may be leased. This means that cattleman may, in deserving cases, obtain large tracts of land and it means also an increased revenue for the schools and public institutions. Delegate Andrews is entitled to great credit for the work he has done in this respect.—Las Vegas Optic.

Loyalty and Statehood.

That the people of the Territory of New Mexico will vote yes on the question of joint statehood, remains without a shadow of a doubt. It is the patriotic and proper duty of every citizen of the Sunshine Territory to support the measure in a loyal and earnest manner. While New Mexico is vastly more fitted for separate statehood than Nevada, or Montana, and her resources are strong enough to support a stable and efficient government, union with Arizona means a vast empire of wealth and progress, and the new state will at once take an important place in the column of western states—a position the separate state of New Mexico and Arizona could not hope to attain.—Raton Range.

His Excellency Apt at Phrase Making.

"Every advocate of joint statehood in Arizona," said Governor Kibbey, in a speech at Bisbee, "represents an appointment or a disappointment." His excellency is apt at phrase making, but that is his entire argument of the question of joint statehood. If either Territory rejects the convention will not assemble. If both accept the convention will assemble, frame a constitution, and if it be adopted by the people, they will become one state. The influences which have so bitterly fought statehood have finally succeeded in preventing issues to go to the people of the two Territories, as would have been the case with a constitution. But the jointure will give them a run for their money yet.—Nogales (Ariz.) Oasis.

They Will Have a Chance to Say So.

If a majority of the people in either Territory vote against joint statehood then the whole game is off, and no convention will be held. This is about as fair a proposition as could be expected, and if the people in either Arizona or New Mexico want to remain a Territory they have got a chance to say so. If they have got tired of living in a state of vassalage they can say so, and come into the sisterhood of states. They are supposed to be free moral agents, al-

Good Blood

Good blood, good health; bad blood, bad health; there you have it. Why not help nature just a little and change the bad to the good? Bad blood to good blood; poor blood to rich blood! Ask your doctor how this applies to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and how it applies to you! Could anything be more fair?

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

The Palace Hotel will blaze with light. To welcome the dancers on Thursday night.

Be sure to come, and bring your wife; But, if not thus happily blest in life, Perhaps another man's wife will do, Or, any sweet girl that will come with you.

Don't fail to go to the dance at the Palace Hotel Thursday evening. Help the good work along.

In spite of the fact that the summer season is now on, businessmen in Santa Fe say they have no reason to complain.

The public library will be closed tomorrow on account of the Plaza fete to be given by the Woman's Board of Trade.

Moses White, a barber from El Paso, came to Santa Fe yesterday and has taken a position at the Plaza barber shop.

S. B. Grimshaw, general manager of the Santa Fe Central Railroad, is confined to his bed with inflammatory rheumatism.

One of the most attractive features of the Plaza fiesta tomorrow evening will be the dance at the Palace Hotel. Tickets fifty cents.

In his new and attractive advertisement, Nathan Salmon, the wholesale and retail dry goods merchant, offers special bargains in Hanau shoes.

The Woman's Board of Trade has placed several signs about the Plaza to remind people that they are not expected to walk on the grass.

It is our policy to invite our patrons to freely consult with any of the officers of the bank regarding their affairs—it is mutually helpful.—United States Bank and Trust Company.

George Berlioth, at the stand in front of the postoffice, has on hand a neat lot of Fourth of July novelties, paper hats for the girls and other nice things for the ladies, men and boys.

The number of traveling men which arrive daily in the city shows that a large amount of business is being done. The summer months are usually expected to be dull, but appearances are that this summer will be an exception to the general rule.

Considerable attention is being attracted by a peculiar species of cactus which is one of the many house-plants kept in the window at the Claire Hotel. It has several flowers at the present time, which are perfectly star shaped and of a peculiar color.

Frank Williams, the Pecos rancher, who was painfully hurt in a runaway while driving to Glorieta from his ranch, had his injuries dressed by Dr. J. H. Sloan yesterday afternoon. It was found that instead of being broken, the bone of his upper right arm was shattered.

Harry Sims returned yesterday from a ten day camping trip on the Pecos. He drove overland, making the trip from the Valley Ranch to Santa Fe, a distance of thirty miles, in four hours. He was accompanied by Frank Williams, the rancher, who was injured Monday in a runaway accident.

It is requested by the Women's Board of Trade that all people having articles for the rummage table, which is to form a part of the Plaza fete, which they cannot deliver, should notify Miss Simmons at the public library and arrangements will be made to call for them.

The special convocation of Santa Fe Chapter No. 1, Royal Arch Masons, which will be held tomorrow evening at Masonic Hall, will be called to order promptly at 7 o'clock in the evening in order that the members of the fraternity may attend the dance to be given by the Woman's Board of Trade at the Palace Hotel after adjournment.

William Hart and Mrs. Belle Davis, of McIntosh, were married this morning at the Normandie Hotel by Justice of the Peace Jose Maria Garcia. The couple came overland from Espanola to Santa Fe yesterday afternoon, and will return home tomorrow.

Practically everything has been completed for the Plaza fete to be given by the Woman's Board of Trade tomorrow. The event promises to be the most successful ever given. Many interesting features have been arranged, and the day will be concluded with a dance at the Palace Hotel.

At this time of the year many Santa Fe people are planning their summer vacations. The Pecos seems to be the most popular resort and already many parties have enjoyed life on that stream. Many other places, easily accessible from the city, offer many attractions to those seeking recreation, so that no difficulty ought to be experienced by people looking for a place for their summer's outing.

Rev. J. H. Smith, of Las Vegas, who has been in the city since Sunday, returned to his home in Las Vegas today. While here Rev. Smith conducted several services at Rice Chapel, A. M. E. Church, and succeeded in organizing a Sunday school. The following officers were elected: F. B. Chiebs, superintendent; Miss Alberta Kerr, secretary; Miss Marguerite Slaughter, treasurer. It is Rev. Smith's intention to be in Santa Fe to have charge of the services on the second Sunday in July.

Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, with stationary temperature, is the weather forecast as received by the New Mexican from the local weather man. The temperature at 6 a. m. today was 64 degrees, and the lowest point reached during last night was 56 degrees. The maximum temperature yesterday was 82 degrees at 4:40 p. m., and the minimum of 61 degrees was registered at 5:30 a. m. There was a mean temperature for the day of 72 degrees and a mean relative humidity of 31 per cent.

Judge John R. McFie has ordered a special table to be reserved at the Spanish supper to entertain the judges and a few friends. Twelve covers will be laid and Mrs. Catron will take special pains to serve the best cooked Spanish and Mexican dishes for the delectation of this party. The dishes will be specially emblematic and characteristic of Mexican cuisine, as there will be several members of the party who have never tasted Mexican cooking. Mrs. Catron will endeavor to tickle their palates in such manner that they will hereafter eat more of Mexican dishes and that as often as possible.

The concert which was to have been given by Mrs. T. B. Catron at the Catron residence, No. 210 Grant Avenue, has been postponed until Friday evening. The hour set is 8 o'clock. This concert is a subscription affair and will prove a delightful event as the musical talent which will appear is of the best in the Territory.

The Spanish supper to be given under the auspices of Mrs. Catron at the former Plaza Restaurant in the Catron Block, northeast corner of the Plaza, will be as an enjoyable affair as has ever taken place in this city under the direction of Mrs. Catron or for the benefit of the library fund of the Women's Board of Trade. Ladies who have kindly volunteered to aid Mrs. Catron and who will help with viands and delicacies for those who will patronize the supper are requested to bring their contributions to the Plaza Restaurant between 2 and 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The supper will commence at 6:30 promptly, therefore it is necessary that everything in that line should be on hand early that it may be properly prepared and in shape to serve to the many guests and lovers of good Spanish dishes expected to be present.

MARRIAGE LICENSE LAW.

The new marriage license law requires probate clerks to post three copies of the new law in conspicuous places in each precinct. The New Mexican has printed the law neatly on cardboard and is now ready to fill orders in English or Spanish at fifty cents for each poster. Probate clerks should enter their orders immediately.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Grain Crop For Fodder.
Many farmers find it profitable where a considerable area is devoted to grain crops, particularly oats, to calculate for a portion to be cut at the proper stage of growth and made into hay instead of leaving to ripen and thrash for the grain.

This makes an important addition to the amount and variety of the fodder of a good quality and rightly managed saves the feeding of so much straw where this is practiced and is better for the land that is seeded to grass. Where oats or any other grain is sown for this purpose more seed should be used in order that the growth may be thick and the straw finer, which will be found better than when coarse and large.

Oat hay makes a good addition to the feed of cows giving milk, and it is found that the young animals like it well. This crop can be grown quite late when necessary.—American Cultivator.

Improve the Breed Mares.
We think the great reason why so many ordinary horses are bred on the farms comes from relying wholly upon the stallion and paying little attention to the character and breeding of the mares, says the Michigan Farmer.

In horses uniformity is worth money in any market, especially in those of good class, whether they are heavy drafts or carriage teams, and you cannot get uniformity in the produce except through kindred blood. You cannot breed a mare of Percheron and trotting blood and another with coach, Clydesdale and trotting blood to the same stallion and get a pair of matched colts. Nature will not belie herself, and she has declared so often and emphatically that "like produces like" and what you sow so shall you reap that it is useless to attempt longer to do the impossible.

Millet For Silage.
Japanese millet is excellent for silage, having nearly a solid stem and thus being better adapted to keeping than many other fodder crops. It will produce twelve tons or more of green fodder to the acre, says American Cultivator. The advantage over corn is that it stands dry weather somewhat better and may be sown later than corn. Soy beans have the advantage over either of these crops in containing protein and when mixed with corn make a balanced ensilage, thus cutting down the grain bills. But with the amount of land limited it might be better to plant all corn and buy the grain, since no crop gives so great a bulk of cattle food for the labor and expense required as corn.

Feeding Sow and Pigs.

The best feed I have used for the mother and her pigs is a mixture of corn, oats and wheat or speltz, equal parts, with one-sixth weight of above mixture oilmeal. Give the pigs all they will eat, but do not feed their mothers too much. Give plenty of skimmed milk, and have good pasture for them and at weaning time add a little more corn. I think three and a half months about the right age to wean them. But only take the larger ones off at first and let the smaller ones run a week or two longer and the sow's udder will not cake.—L. C. Reese Before Iowa Swine Breeders' Association.

The Dual Purpose Cow.

The dual purpose cow is rapidly drifting to the shambles, the natural place for her at this stage of the proceedings, says L. W. Lighty in National Stockman. The horseman, the sheepman and the homemaker may be able to use the dual purpose. I cannot speak for them, but I have had so much experience and have been so entirely dependent on the cow to pay my debts that I do speak with earnestness and positiveness when we come to that branch of animal husbandry. The man who today hires help at market prices and depends for his income on "dairy" products uses dairy cows or goes under.

Care For Egg Eating.

Put a dummy egg in each nest box and one or two about the run, says F. Kasmier in American Poultry Journal. The egg eaters very soon give up trying to break the dummy and all other eggs in disgust. This plan has the further merit of leaving it unnecessary to pick out the particular offender, which is often very difficult. I do not know who originated the idea, but it certainly ought to be more widely known, as it will often save considerable trouble and annoyance.

Temperatures For Churning.

Of late years low temperatures have been advised for churning. Where conditions are right butter can be churned at 52 to 53 degrees in summer and 54 degrees in the winter. Cream churned at a lower temperature produces butter that requires a minimum amount of washing and one that is firm and very desirable.—American Agriculturist.

Care of Young Horses.

Young horse stock should not be permitted to remain out of doors night until the sun has dried and warmed the surface of the earth. Many a fatal case of influenza has resulted from allowing young horses that were accustomed to warm stables and dry stalls to lie on the cold, damp ground in early spring.

Raising Calves.

Good management is the secret of calf raising and the first year of a calf's life is the most important one. No farmer can expect to have a good looking bunch of calves and not half take care of them.—J. P. Fletcher in National Stockman.

ARIZONA NEWS NOTES

Stockmen in Pima and Pinal Counties are complaining of the present dry weather, and in several sections the stock is suffering for want of water.

Four teams of Bisbee youths have entered the drilling contests to be pulled off at Douglas on the Fourth of July and are hard at work under able tacticians.

At Bisbee, local gambling houses, in an endeavor to keep from paying more city license than heretofore, are throwing out many of the games that formerly were in their establishments.

The Colorado River is still rising and great damage is threatening the vicinity of Needles. Congress has been petitioned to appropriate money to protect the town against the ravages of the turbid stream.

Walter Bowman has accepted a proposition for a wrestling match between him and Frank Wright, to take place at Douglas on the Fourth of July. A purse of $100 has been hung up. Of this $75 goes to the winner and $25 to the loser.

According to present prospects, the last of the week will see the new city hall, the pride of Bisbee, occupied by the working force of the city executive. This has been given out by Aldermen Morris and Hughes, who are members of the building committee.

Mrs. John Briller, wife of a barber at Douglas, was seriously injured at her home while preparing lunch. She had lighted a gasoline stove, which exploded, scattering the burning liquid over her arms. A passing man entered the house and extinguished the flames which were burning Mrs. Briller's clothing.

Mrs. Howell, mother of Hon. James Howell of Tombstone, while en route from this city to Bisbee Saturday morning, noticed a silver sugar bowl in the hands of a Mexican woman passenger on the train. Mrs. Howell examined the bowl and found that it bore her initials. This, with other pieces of silverware, was stolen from her residence six years ago.

The preliminary hearing in the case of the Territory against Harry Ellenberger, charged with the killing of Peter Derrendecker, Sr., was begun Saturday morning before Justice O. T. Richey at Tucson. The testimony was much the same as that brought out at the hearing before the coroner's jury of nine representative businessmen, who held Ellenberger was justified in the killing.

A case growing out of the "grand game" of poker was settled Saturday at Tucson in the district court when Judge Campbell rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the suit of J. A. Legarra against Dr. W. B. Purcell. Legarra sued for $370 and secured judgment for the whole amount. The costs amounted to $68 and were taxed to the defendant. The money was a loan and does not represent a losing.

Suffering from the most violent form of insanity, George Zambereon, a well known Greek miner and prospector, occupies a cell in the county jail at Tombstone, awaiting trial, a complaint of lunacy having been filed against him by Constable Doyle. The man is an old timer in Bisbee and vicinity. He recently returned from Christchurch, where he has been for some time past with a partner working claims.

There are a number of smallpox cases among the inhabitants of the little Mexican settlement near Baker, and the disease is spreading. The Arizona Journal says Health Officer Bledsoe has established a rigid quarantine and taken all possible steps to prevent the infection of outsiders. Contagious diseases reach their height in the summer and too much precaution cannot be taken to provide against them.

Mrs. Stella M. Fitch, of Phoenix, was very painfully, though not seriously burned by an explosion in a gas stove at her home shortly after six o'clock Friday night. Mrs. Fitch was baking bread. The stove was a new acquisition to the Fitch home and she had opened her oven door occasionally to see how the bread was doing, but on lowering it the last time, a blinding flash was emitted and a report followed that was heard for two or three blocks.

Monday two Indian policemen attempted to swim a horse belonging to the Fort Yuma school across the river, leading him behind a boat. They started above the ferry crossing, but the swift current swept them down below and before they could extricate themselves and their charge, the animal was drowned. The horse was one of a very large pair of draft animals which cost the government four hundred dollars.

SKIN DISEASES

ACNE, TETTER, ECZEMA, PSORIASIS, SALT RHEUM.

There is nothing more distressing than an itching, burning skin disease, and upon the return of warm weather those who are afflicted with skin troubles find the symptoms appearing and know that they will be tormented through the hot summer months. The blood is heated with humors and acid matter, and as they are forced to the surface the skin seems to be on fire. The treatment of skin diseases with external applications is all wrong, because they do not reach the trouble which is in the blood. The most such treatment can be expected to do is, allay the itching and burning and cover up the trouble for awhile, but as soon as it is left off the disease returns.

All food taken into the body contains, in some form, the elements necessary to sustain the different parts. One portion is used for the making of blood, another for muscle, one for bone, still another for fat, and so on. After these different properties are extracted from the food there still remains a portion that is useless, or waste matter, which is intended to be disposed of through the natural channels of bodily waste, the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. At this season of the year, however, these organs become torpid, dull and sluggish, and fail to perform this duty, and these accumulations remain in the system and are absorbed by the blood to ferment and sour, producing burning acids and acid humors. The blood cannot properly nourish the system while in this impure condition, and begins to throw off these acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Acne, Eczema, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin diseases of every description.

ECZEMA appears usually with a slight redness of the skin, followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, arms, legs and face, though other parts of the body may be afflicted. In TETTER the skin dries, cracks and bleeds, and is often very painful. The acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, causing a dry, feverish, hardened condition and giving it a leathery appearance. ACNE makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black-heads, and is particularly disagreeable because of its unsightly appearance, while PSORIASIS, a scaly disease, comes in patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin disease is SALT RHEUM. It discharges a watery fluid, forming sores and producing intense itching. The head and face are the parts usually affected, and sometimes the hair falls out and a mass of sores forms on the scalp.

These and all skin diseases are due to the same cause—burning acids and humors in the blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure they will continue. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S., a remedy that is purely vegetable, being made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, and acts directly on the blood with a cleansing, healing effect. It neutralizes the acids and purifies the blood so that the skin, instead of being blistered and burned by the fiery fluids, is nourished by a supply of cooling, healthy blood. It goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of waste or foreign matter, builds up the blood and cures all skin diseases promptly and permanently. S. S. S. does not leave the least particle of the poison for future outbreaks, but entirely rids the blood of the cause for all skin diseases.

BEDS OF THE OCEANS

FORMED NOT OF SAND, BUT OF OOZE OF VARIOUS COLORS

There Are Very Many Features of Resemblance Between the Earth Above and That Below the Surging Bosom of the Vasty Deep.

The superficial area of the sea is two and a half times larger than that of the earth, while its mass, or volume, is enormous. Supposing that the basin holding the seas had been emptied when the Christian era began and assuming that some enormous river had been allowed to run into it at the rate of 1,000 cubic yards per minute, the basin would still be empty, as it would require a total period of 600 years more before the seas would attain their present level. As may well be conceived, such a body of water must conceal many extraordinary things, but this is a possibility which has attracted attention only within comparatively recent times. The study of the earth itself has been attended with lesser difficulties, but we are now so familiar with our globe that its continents and islands are beginning to pall upon the curious mind, so that more attention is being given gradually to the ocean.

There are very many features of resemblance between the earth above and that below the bosom of the vasty deep. In fact, one is practically a replica of the other, both possessing hills, plains, mountain peaks, valleys, ravines, etc. The Atlantic ocean, for instance, covers two vast valleys. One of these passes between the Cape Verde islands and the Azores and is of great depth. It runs close up to Europe and comes to an end close to the British Isles, where a ridge or crest of land separates it from the basin of the North sea. The other valley runs in the main parallel to the first, from which it is separated by an elongated strip of land of which the Azores form a supermarine continuation. This strip does not exceed a depth of 9,850 feet, while its height amounts to 6,500 feet. The first valley, like its confrere, is also very deep, its bottom being situated at a depth of nearly four miles below the surface. Passing along South America and leaving the Bermudas to the left, it passes along Newfoundland and Labrador, finally ending just south of Greenland. The sub-Atlantic landscape thus consists of two vast parallel valleys, separated from each other by a range of mountains. Farther north the land lies higher, and the sea is, relatively speaking, shallow. Between Greenland and the continent, close to Iceland and the Channel islands, there is a huge plain free from any depressions worthy of mention. It is quite clear that at one time England was connected to the continent.

The greatest ocean depths, however, are not found in the Atlantic, as there are veritable abysses to be met with on the other side of the globe. Close to New Zealand the water attains a depth of five and a half miles in the Kermadec and Tonga ravines, which in themselves attain a height of 29,530 feet, while they are separated from each other by a chain of mountains 9,850 feet high. There is also the Aleutian ravine, which reaches a depth of 23,000 feet. Mostly subaqueous scenery is monotonous. There are no abrupt declivities or precipices excepting in the vicinity of the coasts or near islands of volcanic formation, everything being rounded off and smoothed down by the action of the water. Close to the land there is somewhat more variety.

The European plateau, for instance, slopes gradually away down into the depths and a fair view can be obtained there, provided a maximum depth of 1,300 feet be not exceeded. At first abundant vegetation and animal life were met with, but below the depth mentioned the scene changes. First, the light grows dimmer and dimmer, and the deeper we descend the lower does the thermometer fall, except in the case of the Mediterranean, where the temperature is, relatively speaking, high, as this sea is contained in what is practically a closed basin. In the Atlantic, by means of special bottles invented by Dr. Richard, one of the Prince of Monaco's collaborators, the temperature of the water was taken for a depth of 19,080 feet. The surface temperature of 68 degrees fell to 38 degrees at a depth of 6,562 feet. "After 2,000 meters" (6,562 feet), says C. Sauerwein, another of the prince's collaborators, "the temperature falls but slowly as greater depths are attained, the cold being practically uniform and not subject to any changes of season."

Cold, darkness and monotony, such are the characteristic features of the ocean bed. The composition of the ocean itself is the only thing that changes, though this is only the case close to the coast, as no alteration (or very little) seems to occur at great depths. Investigations made with dredges, dredgers, sounding apparatus and the like have shown that it is an error to assume that the bed of the ocean is covered with sand, as this latter is essentially a coast formation only found in comparatively shallow water close to the shore. Mud begins to take its place the farther we go afield—mud, or rather, ooze. Its origin varies considerably. A part consists of the alluvial deposits brought down by rivers. The ooze is of various kinds. Blue ooze is found close to schistous coasts, and its hue is imparted to it by organic substances and iron pyrites. It covers the floor of the Mediterranean and of the Arctic ocean. Red ooze is merely the blue variety changed in color by the peroxidation of the iron. It is also formed of the alluvial deposits brought down by rivers flowing through land rich in iron—such, for instance, as the Congo and some rivers in Brazil. Green ooze finally owes its color to glauconite. It is found along rocky coasts where there are no rivers. In many places the sand or ooze is mixed with volcanic elements originating from terrestrial and submarine explosions.

The inorganic world, however, is not the only source from which the ocean bed receives its supplies of material. The remains of organic creatures also contribute no mean share. The upper strata of the sea swarm with teeming animal life—algae, crustacea, eggs, larvae, etc.—of all kinds, which die daily in thousands and slowly sink downward to the lowest depths of the sea, thus forming a continual rain of corpses of algae, diatoms et hoc genus omine, which descend from heights far exceeding those of Mount Everest (33,756 feet) and other lofty terrestrial peaks. Protzooidal forms, foraminifera and radiolaria cover a million of which would not weigh an ounce, but which are so fertile that one specimen can produce 70,000,000 direct and indirect descendants in four days) also play a highly important part in this work. Due to their shells, the foraminifera form large quantities of calcareous deposits. The globigerinae and orbulines (members of this family) form a special ooze which is found in the bed of the Atlantic, while the radiolaria form siliceous deposits, which abound in the Pacific and Indian oceans, where a special kind of ooze is also found—viz, the pteropod mollusks, which is found at the bottom of the Atlantic between Africa and America and near the Azores. These oozes, however, are not permanent, but merely represent a phase or stage. Red, blue and brown clay is the only permanent compound. It is soft, greasy to the touch and contains from 1 to 20 per cent of lime, a little vitrifiable earth and organic remains. The oozes referred to above gradually turn into red clay, which thus becomes the final tomb of all that has lived, moved and had its being in the sea.—Scientific American.

A REAL VODOO DANCE.

Weld Rites That Attract Negroes of Florida and Georgia.

In certain parts of the south voodoo superstitions still exist and lead, especially at Christmas, to quaint rites that have a marked suggestion of savagery, says the Nashville American.

One of these ceremonies may be witnessed in the swamp and forest lands of Florida and Georgia. It is apparently a pantomime representation of human resistance to death or of death's attack upon a community. It takes place in the cabin that contains the largest room, as all the negroes in the community are generally on hand as witnesses.

The spectators seat themselves around the side walls, leaving an open space for the performers in the center of the room.

All but one of the performers remain in the kitchen until ready for their entrance. At the wall opposite the kitchen door a small table is placed, and there an elderly negress, the mistress of ceremonies, seats herself. Solemnly she begins beating time on the table with her small sticks, while the other negroes in the room sing doleful hymns. In the midst of this three loud raps sound on the kitchen door. The singing abruptly ceases, and the audience manifests signs of terror. The raps sound again, followed by the noise of a scuffle.

Then the presiding negress arises, takes a lighted pine knot from the fire and starts a slow, whirling dance, chanting some weird incantation. The kitchen door is burst open, and three men with blankets around their shoulders enter. As the dancing negress moves toward them, waving her torch and chanting her prayer or hymn, they sink before her on the floor.

The melancholy droning and the dance go on, but are again interrupted by raps. This time a single man enters, having a black sack over his head and carrying a long bone in his hand.

This entrance causes genuine consternation. All the negroes in the room seem frenzied with fear and huddle together along the walls. This is Death, they say, and should be touched any of those present with the bone that unfortunate person would die before the next Christmas.

As a general thing, however, the man impersonating death is kind hearted and manages to trip and fall before he reaches any of the spectators. Instantly the presiding negress springs to her table, begins a vigorous tattoo of triumph, and the entire company breaks into a wild hallelujah chorus.

The power of death thus broken, the impersonator removes the black sack from his head and the assemblage plunges into a kind of prayer and experience meeting, in which chants and voodoo dances have their place.

Bismarck's Strategem.

While Bismarck was living at Frankfurt, early in his career, he was one day at a public table with a friend, when two young ladies who sat opposite began talking to each other in the Lettish language. From their manner it was evident to Bismarck that they were talking about him. It happened that he had once made a visit to Courland, one of the Baltic provinces, and had picked up a few Lettish phrases. When the ladies had talked and laughed for some time he whispered to his companion:

"The moment I say something to you in an unintelligible tongue take a key from your pocket and hand it to me."

The young ladies kept on, and suddenly Bismarck said in an unconcerned tone to his friend:

"Dobd man to aziek."

The second man at once produced a key. The young ladies from Courland looked at their opposite neighbors, then at each other and, blushing violently, rose and left the room.

INSECT ENGINEERING

FEATS OF THE CARPENTER BEE AND THE TUMBLEBUD.

The Sexton Beetle Is an Expert Gravedigger—Wonderful Skill of the Spider and the Great Strain That His Elastic Web Will Bear.

Long before man had thought of the saw the saw fly had used the same tool, made after the same fashion and used in the same way, for the purpose of making slits in the branches of trees so that she might have a secure place to deposit her eggs. The carpenter bee, with only the tools which nature has given her, cuts a round hole, the full diameter of her body, through thick boards and so makes a tunnel by which she can have a safe retreat in which to rear her young. The tumblebug, without derrick or machinery, rolls over large masses of dirt many times her own weight, and the sexton beetle will in a few hours bury beneath the ground the carcass of a comparatively large animal. All these feats require a degree of instinct which in a reasoning creature would be called engineering skill, but none of them is as wonderful as the feats performed by the spider. This extraordinary little animal has the faculty of propelling her threads directly against the wind, and by means of her slender cords she can haul up and suspend bodies which are many times her own weight.

Some years ago a paragraph went the rounds of the papers in which it was said that a spider had suspended an unfortunate mouse, raising it from the ground and leaving it to perish miserably between heaven and earth. Would be philosophers made great fun of the statement and ridiculed it unmercifully. I know not how true it was, but I know that it might have been true.

Some years ago in the village of Havana in the state of New York a spider entangled a milk snake in her threads and actually raised it some distance from the ground, and this, too, in spite of the struggles of the reptile, which was alive.

By what process of engineering did this comparatively small and feeble insect succeed in overcoming and lifting up by mechanical means the mouse or the snake? The solution is easy enough if we only give the question a little thought.

The spider is furnished with one of the most efficient mechanical implements known to engineers—viz, a strong elastic thread. That the thread is strong is well known. Indeed, there are few substances that will support a greater strain than the silk of the silkworm or the spider, careful experiment having shown that for equal sizes the strength of these fibers exceeds that of common iron. But notwithstanding its strength the spider's thread would be useless as a mechanical power if it were not for its elasticity. The spider has no blocks or pulleys, and therefore it cannot cause the thread to divide up and run in different directions, but the elasticity of the thread more than makes up for this and renders possible the lifting of an animal much heavier than a mouse or a snake. This may require a little explanation.

Let us suppose that a child can lift a six pound weight one foot high through one foot when stretched. Let these bands be attached to a wooden platform on which stands a pair of horses weighing 2,100 pounds, or rather more than a ton. If now the child will go to work and stretch these rubber bands singly, hooking each one up as it is stretched, in less than twenty minutes he will have raised the pair of horses one foot.

We thus see that the elasticity of the rubber bands enables the child to divide the weight of horses into 350 pieces of six pounds each, and, at the rate of a little less than one every three seconds, he lifts all these separate pieces one foot, so that the child easily lifts this enormous weight.

Each spider's thread acts like one of the elastic rubber bands. Let us suppose that the mouse or snake weighed half an ounce and that each thread is capable of supporting a grain and a half. The spider would have to connect the mouse with the point from which it was to be suspended with 150 threads, and if the little quadruped was once swung off his feet he would be powerless. By pulling successively on each thread, and shortening it a little, the mouse or snake might be raised to any height within the capacity of the building or structure in which the work was done. So that to those who have ridiculed the story we may justly say, "There are more things in heaven and earth than are dreamed of in your philosophy."

What object the spider could have had in his work I am unable to see. It may have been a dread of the harm which the mouse or snake might work or it may have been the hope that the decaying carcass would attract flies, which would furnish food for the engineer. I can vouch for the truth of the snake story, however, and the object of this article is to explain and render credible a very extraordinary feat of insect engineering.—Folios of Science.

Era of Actium.

The "era of Actium" adopted during the early days of the Roman empire, commemorates the great victory gained by Octavius over the troops of Antony and Cleopatra, Jan. 1, B. C. 30. It was often used among the Romans both in writing and colloquially, just as in England people speak of events as occurring before or after the conquest, or as persons in this country frequently refer to events as having happened before or after the war.

A straight life is the shortest distance between honesty and honor.—Saturday Evening Post.

Presence of Mind.

Mme. Rachel, the great actress, was resting alone in her dressing room one night preparatory to going on the stage when a man suddenly entered and, drawing a dagger, said he was going to kill her if she did not at once consent to marry him. The actress saw at a glance that the man was mad and meant what he said. So with the utmost coolness she replied: "Certainly I will marry you. I wish nothing better. Come with me to the priest at once. I have had him come here for the purpose."

She took his arm, and they went out together—to where there was assistance, of course, and the man was immediately put under arrest.—Philadelphia Record.

Deduction by Analogy.

"Mamma, I've got a stomach ache," said Nellie Bly, six years old. "That's because you've been without lunch. It's because your stomach is empty. You would feel better if you had something in it."

That afternoon the pastor called and in the course of conversation remarked that he had been suffering all day with a very severe headache. "That's because it is empty," said Nellie. "You'd feel much better if you had something in it."—American Spectator.

Time For Weaning.

"I trust your honor will excuse me this time," said a habitual drunkard at the police court. "It is my misfortune—I am a child of genius."

"And what is your age?" questioned the magistrate. "Forty-two years."

"Then it is time you were weaned. You'll have to do ten days away from the bottle."

Such a Temper.

His Wife—But I don't think, George, that you ought to object to mamma. Why, just think, if it hadn't been for her you would never have had me! Her Husband—Huh! Don't try to excuse her by saying that. You make me hate her worse than ever.—Modern Society.

Doing Their Best.

"Didn't I understand you to say they keep a servant girl?" "Certainly not. I said they try to. As soon as one gets they get another."—Philadelphia Press.

Speech is too often not, as the Frenchman defined it, the art of concealing thought, but of quite stifling and suspending thought, so that there is none to conceal.—Carlyle.

TO BE BEAUTIFUL*Hagerman Residence Will Soon
Be Finished.*PLAN OF THE NEW DWELLING*Rooms Are Conveniently Arranged and Finishing is Artistic.

The residence recently purchased by Governor Hagerman on Lincoln Avenue, and which is being remodelled, is nearing completion and promises to develop into a beautiful home. The entrance begins at the sidewalk, where two massive pillars support the gracefully designed gate. Leading on, the entrance is supported by attractive pergola columns, painted white. There are also pergola columns, in groups of two, at intervals about the porch. All of the exterior wood work is white. The outside walls have received a coat of pebble dashing.

There are seven rooms down stairs and four up stairs. The first room entered is the reception room. To the right of the reception room is the library. The wood work in these two rooms will be painted a flat white. Back of the library is the dining room, finished in baronial oak with colonial furniture to match in color, which is very dark brown, almost black. Back of the dining room is the kitchen, which will be painted in light gray. To the left of the reception room is the parlor. The governor's bedroom is next back of the parlor, and it will be painted white with a pea green tapestry paper. The bath room, which is next on this side, is suitably furnished and will be papered with a tiling paper. Then comes the guest chamber, painted light blue and papered in figured paper, through which runs a stripe. The rooms up stairs are all bed rooms. The main hall running clear through the building will be painted an olive green.

The floors of the reception room, library and dining rooms are of hard oiled oak. Every strip of paper used has been imported and the designs are beautiful.

There is ample ground for the setting of a lawn on either side of the entrance.

The stable will receive a thorough going over and will be made to look in keeping with its surroundings.

THE GOLDFINCH.

Changes in Plumage That Are Puzzling to the Novice.

Most every one in America is acquainted with the goldfinch, but many people know the bird by the name of lettuce bird on account of its bright yellow color. Goldfinch is a very appropriate name, as the bright yellow of the male when in breeding plumage is like burnished gold. The female goldfinch is more modestly dressed than her mate. The changes in plumage of the male are very interesting and to the novice somewhat puzzling. Until the student becomes acquainted with the bird he may wonder why he sees no males during the winter. The truth is at this season the flocks of supposed female goldfinches are really of both sexes, the male bird having assumed in the previous fall, usually by the end of October, a plumage closely resembling that of the female and young bird of the year. The male retains this inconspicuous dress until late in February, when one can notice a gradual change taking place in some of the birds. This renewal of feathers is actively continued through March and April, and by the first of May our resplendent bird is with us again. The song period with the male goldfinch continues as long as he wears his gold and black livery, for it commences as early as the middle of March and ends late in August. Goldfinches are very cleanly in their habits and bathe frequently. Their nests are exquisite pieces of bird architecture, the inside being lined with the softest plant down. The mother bird is the builder, her handsome consort during the nest building time devoting most of his efforts to singing to cheer his industrious mate.—Philadelphia Press.

Grant's Presence of Mind.

An instance of great presence of mind was narrated by John Russell Young, says a writer in the Grand Magazine. Once during the civil war, when Grant was in subordinate command, he was reconnoitering alone near the enemy's lines. Suddenly he found himself confronted by one of the Confederates' pickets, who was for arresting him. "Sho! Sho!" said Grant, with the utmost coolness. "Can't you see I am reconnoitering in the enemy's uniform? Don't make a noise. I shall be back directly." And he walked away quietly until out of the picket's sight, then ran as nimbly as he could.

Dust In One's Eyes.

To "cast dust in one's eyes" perfectly explains itself. It is, however, interesting to know that Epaminondas at the battle of Tegea defeated the Spartans by masking his movements with a large body of cavalry. He caused the horsemen to gallop to and fro in front of the enemy in such a way as to raise a cloud of dust and so veiled the movements of his infantry and enabled them to take up a new and more advantageous position.

A Premier's Wit.

A woman once told Lord Palmerston that her maid, who had been with her in the Isle of Wight, objected to going thither again because the climate was not "embracing" enough. "What am I to do with such a woman?" she asked. "You had better take her to the Isle of Man next time," said Lord Palmerston.
