THE MOUNTAIN LABORED BROUGHT FORTH A MOUSE

Terrified New Mexico Democrats Nominate Octaviano A. Larrazolo of San Miguel County to Lead Them to Defeat--Convention Made Fast Start But Finished Slow.

After a night session that lasted until 2 o'clock this morning and a three hours' session that terminated at 1 o'clock this afternoon, Octaviano A. Larrazolo, a Las Vegas lawyer, who four years ago was defeated by almost 10,000 votes by Hon. Bernard S. Rodey for Congress, was chosen by the Democratic Territorial Convention to be its standard bearer this fall as its candidate for Delegate to the Sixtieth Congress. The convention also, after a fierce oratorical battle, adopted a joint statehood plank by a vote of 144 to 22.

Like the camping ground of a defeated army appeared the Hall of Representatives at the Capitol at 1 o'clock this morning. Hats, caps and other wearing apparel strewn about the floor littered with papers and a few attendants sleeping in the corners while the lights were turned down dim, the spectators having gone home one after the other, while the delegates, refugees from public scrutiny in the Supreme Court room a floor below, were vociferously begging each other to accept the honor of leading a forlorn hope, such was the picture of the Democratic Territorial Convention which had opened so auspiciously yesterday forenoon and ended in so miserable a failure. But what else could be expected from a gathering that in one breath commended a Republican Governor and in the next condemned a Republican legislature in the mere hope of seducing the chief executive into making war upon the Republican organization? That this effort is doomed to failure is a foregone conclusion as even the Democrats acknowledged, for not one of them up to an early hour this morning when the convention adjourned, had consented to "accept" the nomination as candidate for Delegate to Congress on the Democratic ticket. From before 11 o'clock last evening, until 2 o'clock this morning, they wrangled, not in a healthy contest for the honor, for honor it is to lead even a forlorn hope, but to escape it. The public was religiously excluded for it was considered none of its business, but through door cracks and windows could be heard the loud pleading, the begging on the part of the leaders and the other delegates, asking one man after another to take up the Democratic banner trailing in the dust, to lead the terrified hosts into battle. But "un-terrified" is the wrong name, for there was every sign of pusillanimous fright caused by the absolute certainty of defeat in November. Not one, nay not one, was willing to take up the gauntlet of battle against Delegate W. H. Andrews, so strongly is he entrenched in the hearts of the people of New Mexico and so absolutely certain is an overwhelming majority in his favor on November 6. Worn and weary, the convention adjourned to resume its hunt this forenoon for a candidate to be led to the slaughter. Never before, probably, has so great an honor offered by so powerful a party, gone begging so piteously.

Many Spectators.
Both the main auditorium and the gallery of the Chamber of Representatives at the Capitol were crowded at the beginning of last evening's session, many ladies being present. But matters dragged from the very start, for it was 9 o'clock before Chairman U. S. Bateman called the convention to order. The Capital City Band played selection after selection in order to keep the crowd together and was escorted again and again, the rendering of "Dixie" especially awakening an echo of response from the auditors.

Resolutions.
The committee on resolutions reported immediately after the convention was called to order. Chairman J. H. Crist presently interrupted by applause, especially when he read the clause declaring for joint statehood, the clause demanding home rule for the Territory, the endorsement of Governor Hagerman for dismissing and prosecuting Republican officials, and asking him to investigate every territorial, county and other official, and the clause condemning the extravagance of the 36th Legislative Assembly. The resolutions also condemn the fee system of remunerating county officials and pledged the Democratic members of the next legislative assembly to work for its abolishment. The election laws of the Territory were condemned as was also the national forest reserve policy in so far that exorbitant fees are charged for grazing privileges. The present system of district clerks, one only for each district, instead of a deputy for each county, was scored and the recent re-apportionment of the Territory by Governor Hagerman was approved although, the resolutions assert, it does not go far enough. The padding of registration lists and the stuffing of ballot boxes were condemned as well as the coercion of political employees by employers.

Democratic Platform.
We, the Democrats of New Mexico in Delegate Convention assembled at Santa Fe, this twelfth day of September, 1906, again record our long continued allegiance to the time honored principles of Democracy, as set forth in the Democratic National Platform of 1904, believing, as we heartily do, that they make for a better government of, for, and by all the people. We take especial pride in the fact that our great national party is justly recognized as the true and only party of the people, devoted to a government in the interest of the masses and not the classes, founded on the Jeffersonian doctrine of vital government truth, "Equal rights to all; special privileges to none"—the distinguishing characteristic of Democracy.

We take further pride in the fact, that, although temporarily out of control of the affairs and policy of the National Government and of this Territory, so that we are unable to put into effect our beneficent principles for the public good, we constitute a strong and courageous minority, recognizing the admitted fact that the stronger the minority the greater the safety to our government.

We are proud of our strength and usefulness as such a temporary minority, and we proclaim one fact out of many, to wit: that the most useful act to the people in the history of the Republican party, the Rate Regulation Law, is entirely Democratic in doctrine and in prompt and prevailing Democratic assistance in its passage, reminding the people in this connection that the Republican President, who was promoting this legislation with the supreme effort of his public career was hopelessly unable to get the bill reported out of the committee controlled by corporation servants until he appealed to the Democratic minority, through whose prompt and patriotic aid the bill was reported and ultimately became law.

It is with the profoundest satisfaction and feeling of unusual pride that we witnessed the hearty and most unusual welcome home given by the people of this country, irrespective of party, to the "Great Commoner" and Intrepid leader of our party, William Jennings Bryan. We look upon him as the embodiment of the hope and confidence that the common people have in a Democratic form of government.

We declare our favor for joint statehood with Arizona, under the provisions of the enabling act therefor, known as the Hamilton Bill, as it was finally passed by the unanimous vote of Democratic and Republican members of the Congress, and we trust the people of both New Mexico and Arizona will avail themselves of the liberal provisions of the enabling act, to enter the union of states in the only way the Congress, in its wisdom, seems willing to provide.

We are in favor of home rule in the appointment to all offices in the Territory, and we are also in favor of the fullest self-government possible under our Territorial conditions, and the full control of all our internal affairs.

We condemn the present iniquitous fee system in existence in New Mexico, for the compensation of county officials, which is a direct result of Republican legislation, and by which such officials are paid greatly in excess of the value of their services to the people of their respective counties, thus imposing unnecessary and burdensome taxation. The fee system is a relic of by-gone days, and we feel that this Territory has reached that stage of development and progress which demands its immediate abolition. We pledge the Democratic party of New Mexico, and especially its representatives in the Legislative Assembly, to favor and work for the enactment of a law placing all county offices upon a salary basis, and the reduction of salaries where they are excessive under existing statutes.

We condemn the present election law of this Territory as deliberately planned and passed for the purpose of preventing the expression of independent political sentiment and the preference of independent candidates and we demand its repeal.

We condemn the corrupt and extravagant Thirty-sixth Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico, in its special legislation for the benefit of a few Republican politicians, and in its appropriation and expenditure of public monies for which it refused to account to the people, and which we charge was used for the payment of political debts.

We condemn the policy of the Republican National administration in establishing and charging unreasonable rents for forest reserves in the Territory of New Mexico, as tending to destroy the live stock interests of the same, and more especially of the poorer classes of our people, who are unable to lease lands for the grazing of their live stock.

We are in favor of such legislation as will guarantee to the people an appellate court separate and distinct from a trial court.

We endorse the promises and performance to date in behalf of good government by the present chief executive of this Territory, and heartily approve of his efforts in the investigation of public affairs. We especially commend his fearless, painstaking efforts in exposing corruption in public places, and the removal from office of those guilty of wrong-doing and graft. We hope that the work inaugurated will be extended by the executive to the investigation of every public office and officer in the Territory.

We further approve the act of the executive in redistricting the Territory for legislative purposes, and although not going to the extent which we believe it ought, yet we accept it as being in the interest of good government.

We emphatically condemn the dishonest election methods of Republican officials in some parts of the Territory, in padding registration lists with the names of absent, fictitious and alien persons, in tampering with poll books and ballot boxes and making false returns, and we pledge the untiring efforts of our party to the detection and punishment of such crimes to the end that every American citizen may have a free ballot and a fair count in the exercise of the highest privilege of citizenship.

And we further condemn the practice of employers of labor in some parts of the Territory of coercing their employees to vote prepared tickets without regard to the free will of the voters.

A Statehood Fight.
Then opened the most interesting oratorical battle of the day. As noted before, the Democratic party is very long on orators, not of the kind that convinces but of the kind that is sonorous, that loves the sound of its own voice, and pyrotechnical indeed was the debate over a minority resolution introduced by A. B. Renehan, of Santa Fe, in the following report:

"Mr. Chairman: I beg to report that a minority of the committee is opposed to the statehood plank as presented by the majority of said committee and offers as an amendment thereto, the adoption of which is hereby moved, the following:

"We are opposed to the issue of joint statehood with Arizona at this time, for the reason that it is impracticable under the present circumstances and puts us in the attitude of pursuing the chimera, while we are of right entitled to single statehood, the opportunity to obtain which we ought not to forego in view of the impossibility of jointure."

Mr. Renehan supported his resolution with an oratorical effort that aroused enthusiasm again and again among the single statehood followers who were evidently stronger in the gallery than on the floor of the convention. He said that while he knew that he voiced the minority opinion, not only of the committee, but also of the convention he was also convinced that he gave voice to the sentiments of the great majority of the plain people. Only if joint statehood were even a remote possibility and single statehood an impossibility, would he favor joint statehood. But as Arizona has determined to vote down as reprehensible the present enabling act, New Mexico would put itself in a humiliating position, would stultify itself and would bar the doors itself against admission as a state by voting for joint statehood. Certainly, after such a vote it could not go to Congress and ask consistently for single and separate statehood. The people, especially, the Democrats, have been deceived by the Republican press and accept the voice of that press as the voice of a prophet; yet this voice is leading the Democratic party in New Mexico to destruction. The speaker pointed out that it was vain to look for a candidate for delegate to run on such a platform as had been offered that evening for not one Democrat large enough to be a candidate is willing to be offered as a sacrifice upon the joint statehood altar. Now was the time for the Democratic party to grasp the reality of an opportunity that pointed to victory by declaring for separate statehood which would bring hosts of single statehood Republicans to Democratic support and would assure success.

An Old Veteran Starts Convention.

Then arose J. P. Victory, an old gray-haired veteran and one of the old guard of Democracy. Although just arisen from a bed of serious illness, he made the welkin ring and brought down the house when he asserted that A. B. Renehan does not represent the Democracy of Santa Fe County but one, Thomas B. Catron, who fears statehood like death because statehood would mean the just taxation of his numerous land grants. He said that leaders may talk and individuals may talk, but he knew that the people of New Mexico are at heart for statehood, single or joint, Arizona historically rightfully belongs to New Mexico and this great state should stretch from Texas on the east to California on the west. He regretted, however, that Congress did not see fit to call the new state New Mexico, or Jefferson. No Republican Congress, no matter how long we may live, will ever give New Mexico separate statehood. As far as Arizona is concerned, the speaker expressed himself satisfied that the respectable element, not the political bosses and their wage slaves, are in favor of joint statehood. The Mexican people are not fools, they can think and judge for themselves, and every one of them, not depending for a living upon politics or a political boss, is in favor of statehood, both in Arizona and in New Mexico. He then paid an eloquent tribute to the native people: "I have always found them honorable and no more charitable people exist upon the face of the earth." In conclusion, he accused Mr. Renehan of being a mere echo of Hon. Thomas B. Catron. He was applauded repeatedly.

Crist Pleads for Regularity.
Mr. Crist arose to defend his joint statehood resolution but he merely condemned it with faint praise. He said he did not want to discuss the merits of joint statehood but he merely insisted upon party regularity; he did not care how the Democratic voters would cast their ballots on election day but he wanted the record of the party to be straight as far as this convention was concerned; that he who voted against statehood at the polls was just as good a Democrat as he who voted for it but he did want a strong joint statehood plank in the Democratic platform of 1906; that statehood is not a political question and yet, he wanted the Democrats in convention assembled to declare for it. He asserted that the Democratic party in New Mexico is the original joint statehood party which was later seconded in a peculiar manner by U. S. Bateman when he declared that the Democratic party is the original single statehood party. Mr. Crist then called into the Republican "sheets" who had usurped leadership of the people. "When the Republican party was writing its opposition to joint statehood in blood," he shouted, "the Democratic party passed resolutions in its favor. When Republicans were loudly sounding their opposition to joint statehood, we at Silver City and at Las Vegas, were retreating that while we want single statehood it is apparent to the most obtuse mind that joint statehood alone is in sight and that we are ready to accept the second best choice if we could not get what we had asked for. The Republicans of today are doing what the President of the United States is doing today, adopting and following Democratic platforms." He insisted that the course of the Democratic party alone has been consistent and its record clear both from the single and the joint statehood standpoints and that while insisting upon single statehood as a right, the Democratic party will accept joint statehood as a compromise.

"Our party in Congress has acted with a full knowledge of this fact before it and every Democratic Senator and every Democratic Representative voted for the enabling act and the referendum of the question to the people of the two territories separately." He continued: "But whether you vote for it or against it, you are just as good a Democrat as before. It is not a political question. A man may vote against joint statehood and be just as good a Democrat as the man who votes for it. I do not take my stand upon the merits of statehood at all or as a party question but merely upon that of regularity and consistency because two Democratic Territorial conventions, one central committee meeting and the Democratic members of Congress have placed the party on record squarely in favor of joint statehood and 10 the delegates from Eddy, Roosevelt and Valencia Counties, not voting, not being represented in the convention. The vote against joint statehood was as follows:

Colfax County, nine votes; Santa Fe, six votes; Quay, three votes; Union, Torrance, Socorro and Luna each one vote. After Chairman Charles F. Eastley of the Santa Fe delegation had announced that the vote of Santa Fe was seven for and five against joint statehood, a poll was demanded by Delegate Renehan, which resulted in Delegate Arthur Seligman changing his vote in favor of joint statehood to a vote against joint statehood. Delegate Victory protested, asserting that the delegation had been elected as a joint statehood delegation, but nevertheless the votes of the following were recorded against joint statehood: Arthur Seligman, J. D. L. A. Carrillo, A. B. Renehan, Jose Reyes, Ramon Sandoval and Justino Lebya. J. G. Fitch was the Socorro County delegate who voted against joint statehood, and Seferino Martinez east the Colfax proxies against joint statehood, however, not being a regular delegate and being authorized by the convention merely to represent Colfax County in the convention.

Into Secret Cabins.
The next order of business was declared to be the nomination for Delegate to Congress. When O. N. Marron arose, tension was at its height for every one expected he would name the candidate who had been agreed upon as a sacrifice. He fervently denied the statement repeatedly made on the floor of the convention that the nomination had gone begging and asserted that there are a number of worthy and able leaders not only willing but anxious to take the nomination on a joint statehood platform. Those who expected that he would name one of these anxious candidates were disappointed, for a motion to go into caucus to discover such willing sacrifice carried. At first it was proposed to adjourn to the legislative council chamber but there the lights could not be turned on. Some one suggested adjournment to the basement, there to look for a candidate with a lantern, but finally a comfortable assembly chamber was found in the Supreme Court room. It was an interesting session and eloquence of a vehement nature was on tap for four long hours. O. N. Marron, C. F. Eastley, E. V. Chavez, W. B. Walton, A. Joseph, U. S. Bateman, E. C. de Baca, Rafael Romero and others were urged and begged to accept the nomination but each gracefully and diplomatically declined, some of them with more spirit than the occasion demanded. It was evident that O. N. Marron of Albuquerque, was a favorite, no doubt in view of his reputed financial ability to carry on a campaign on his own hook, but he could not be flattered, entreated or coerced, into accepting the nomination.

Finally, at 2 o'clock this morning the caucus appointed U. S. Bateman, W. S. Hopewell and A. A. Jones a committee to scour the highways and the by-ways for a candidate, to telegraph hither and thither for an acceptance of a proffered candidacy. Adjournment was then taken until 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Thursday's Session.

It was a spiritless finale to a great convention. At ten o'clock this forenoon, the convention was still at sea, although it was known that the selection would be between O. A. Larrazolo, of Las Vegas, and Rafael Romero, of Mora, the latter to be nominated in case Mr. Larrazolo declined to accept the nomination.

E. C. de Baca Speaks For Spanish People and Press.

E. C. de Baca, editor of La Voz del Pueblo, made a strong address in Spanish in favor of joint statehood. Of commanding personality and inclusive in thought as well as eloquent, he said that he had joined the Democratic party because of its record for honesty and consistency. Because of the Silver City resolution by the Democratic Territorial Convention three years ago, he had through his newspaper week after week, advocated joint statehood to its ten thousand readers, and he knew that the Mexican people now favor it.

Texas Annexationist Speaks.

U. S. Bateman, who has been lately brought into public notice by his project to annex the Pecos Valley to Texas said that the Republican party and leaders of New Mexico had never favored any kind of statehood, that it has been in control of the offices and has been gathering the tithes upon which it has grown fat and arrogant and that statehood would mean to it the loss of these spoils. Republican voters are too well drilled to vote, even if in favor of separate statehood, for a Democratic candidate upon such a platform. On the other side, Democratic voters are not carried in the pocket of any boss as are so many Republican voters. He did not believe that the party would catch a single vote by declaring for separate statehood. He declared that the Democratic party was always in favor of single statehood, in fact, is the original, consistent single statehood party and maintained its stand until it was evident that single statehood was out of the question.

J. D. L. A. Carrillo of Santa Fe, at the conclusion of the debate asserted that he knew that 75 per cent of the voters of Arizona are against joint statehood. Vote 144--22 in Favor of Joint Statehood.

A vote was taken vice voice on a motion to table the minority amendment to the resolutions and it sounded so evenly that division was asked and each county was called. The result was 144 votes in favor of joint statehood, 22 against joint statehood and 10 the delegates from Eddy, Roosevelt and Valencia Counties, not voting, not being represented in the convention. The vote against joint statehood was as follows:

Colfax County, nine votes; Santa Fe, six votes; Quay, three votes; Union, Torrance, Socorro and Luna each one vote. After Chairman Charles F. LONG LIVE ROYAL REVOLUTION

Last Words of Girl Who Killed General Min.

BRAVE DEATH ON SCAFFOLD

Life All She Could Give--Agitation Against Jews Means Bloodshed.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13. -- "Long live the royal revolution for land and liberty," were the last words of Zenaide Konopliankova, the girl who assassinated General Min, last month and was sentenced to death by court martial. "They were uttered as the rope was placed around her neck. She refused to see a priest, mounted the scaffold with firm steps and would not be aided. On a photograph she sent to her sister she wrote: "My life is all I had to give."

Anti-Jewish Agitation Predicts Coming Massacre.

Anti-Jewish agitation is rife, in Odessa. The walls have been plastered with proclamations issued by the "Union of the Russian people" urging the patriots to combine to exterminate the Jews. This action has aroused grave apprehension. It is reported that the Jewish town of Kopenin, in the district of Kamenetz, has been burned by the peasants from the country. Some of the inhabitants are said to have been killed in the fight while many perished in the flames. Warsaw is quiet. The authorities are suppressing the slightest attempt to start anti-Jewish attacks. On account of the large German interests in banks and commerce, German intervention is feared in case of serious disorder.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT SESSIONS

Virginia White and Juan Olivas Acquitted of Violation Edmund's Act--No More Indictments.

The United States court for the First Judicial District of New Mexico, in session in Santa Fe, reconvened this morning at 9 o'clock, Judge John R. McFie, presiding. A. M. Bergere, clerk, was at his post.

Immediately after court convened, the petit jurors who served in the case of the United States vs. Juan Olivas and Virginia White, charged with violating the Edmund's law, were discharged. A verdict of not guilty was returned in this case last evening, the juryman reaching this decision after being out only about five minutes. The case went to the jury about 6 o'clock, but instead of retiring right away to decide upon a verdict, court took a recess until 8 o'clock. A. B. Renehan was attorney for the defendants. The only matter taken up in the federal court this morning was on the motion of a new trial for Jesus M. Medina, who had been found guilty of making a false jurat. The court overruled the motion and sentenced the defendant to a term of three years in the penitentiary. Medina was sentenced to eighteen months on the second count of the indictment and to a similar term on the third count. An appeal was granted to the Territorial Supreme Court and supersedeas bond fixed at $5,000. The United States court then adjourned until Tuesday, October 30, at 10 a. m.

District Court for Santa Fe County.
The Territorial petit jury for the district court for Santa Fe County reported for duty this morning, and Judge John R. McFie devoted his time to organizing the petit jury after winding up the business before the United States court. A special venire was drawn in open court to fill the vacancies in the regular panel.

The Territorial grand jury has not returned any further indictments up to date and it is believed to be still investigating penitentiary affairs under the administration of former Superintendent H. O. Bursum.

Mmanuel Romero y Dominguez and Tomas Quintana were sworn in as bailiffs for the petit jury for the term, and Harry S. Clancy was named as court stenographer.

ADAMS NOMINATED BY DEMOCRATS

Of Colorado as the Candidate for Governor.

GRAVE CHARGES FOR SHERIFF

Alleged R. J. Jones of Denver Accepted Bribe--Withdrew as Delegate.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 13.--After spending two days in consideration of contests the Democratic state convention this morning, began the naming of a state ticket. An endorsement was given Alva Adams for re-nomination as a candidate for governor in the platform adopted late last night made it certain that he would be chosen to head the ticket.

Lindsey Lost Out in Final Race.

The only opponent to Adams who has been considered at all, was County Judge Ben. B. Lindsey of Denver, but semi-official announcement was made today that he would run independently, thus practically putting him out of the running in the Democratic convention. The Patterson delegation from Denver which was seated by an overwhelming vote late yesterday occupied the seats assigned to Denver today.

Sheriff Jones Refused to Act as Delegate.

When the Democratic state convention met today Robert J. Jones, former sheriff of Denver County withdrew as a delegate on account of charges made against him by Former Governor Thomas in a speech in the convention yesterday. Jones said he would issue a statement later.

Grave Charge Against Former Sheriff.

Thomas charged that in consideration of the payment of $30,000 Jones used the powers of his office for the advancement of the campaign of Edward O. Wolcott for United States Senator. John T. Bottom of Denver, moved a reconsideration of the adoption of the platform last night asking to have stricken out the provision neglecting the candidate for governor, if elected that he will hold office for a full term. Former Governor Adams said in so far as he was concerned, the provision could be retained. After a debate Bottom's motion was lost. Governor Candidate is Alva Adams. John A. Martin, of Pueblo, nominated Alva Adams for governor and a motion to make the nomination by acclamation was unanimously carried with cheers. Governor Adams addressed the convention, pledging himself to "earnest, active support" of the platform and denouncing political corruption by the corporations. The convention then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Seays is head of the liberal party and was former president of the senate. An order for his arrest was issued in Havana last Monday, but before it could be executed he disappeared.

Revolutionists Will Next Tackle Havana.

Havana, Sept. 13.--Insurgents today set fire to a long bridge of the Western Railroad, at Calabazar, but it was saved. The insurgents are swarming about San Juan de las Vegas, eighteen miles south of Havana, and a conflict is imminent. It was rumored today that the managers of the insurance are fomenting a general strike in Havana and that entrance to the city will be attempted coincident with the outbreak of internal disorder.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

FOREST RESERVES OF GREAT BENEFIT.

During the recent session of the irrigation congress in Boise, Idaho, the forest policy of the government was criticized and that severely. The attacks, however, were too violent and too indiscriminate and, therefore, had not the effect on the delegates that was desired. Quite the reverse, the congress stood by the policy of the administration.

New Mexico is greatly interested in the matter. This Territory contains several large forest reserves and others may be declared in the near future. As far as experience here is concerned it will be admitted by all, except those who are absolutely interested in despoiling the forests and controlling public ranges without fee and without cost, that the reserves so far established in this Territory have been of great benefit and will prove of still greater in the future. This usefulness is bound to increase in many ways and this is so apparent that thinking and patriotic citizens favor their extension rather than their curtailment in the Sunshine Territory.

For instance, the Pecos Forest Reserve east of this city is one of the oldest in the United States and there can be no doubt, had it not been for its establishment, that the water supply in several important streams in this part of the Territory would have been greatly diminished and that some of these rivers would have become dry water courses, or arroyos. It is also well understood that much of the fine timber which has been saved and which is now growing upon this reserve would have been sacrificed without corresponding gain and that the mountains east of this city between it and Las Vegas would have become in many sections treeless wastes and barren hills, which, in place of acting in retarding destructive floods during the rainy season, would have had the opposite effect.

The forest policy of the government is becoming more liberal and more advanced with time and experience. During the first session of the 59th Congress, a law was passed providing that land more suitable for agricultural purposes than for forest growth within reserves, should be subject to homestead entry under certain restrictions; this is a step for the benefit of good farmers who can now go on the reserves and if they find the right kind of agricultural land, can settle thereon under the homestead act.

Nurseries and planting stations for forest trees are being established on the reserves, which course is also bound to prove of good to the surrounding section in due course of time. Matured timber is sold at very reasonable rates to lumbermen and young trees are being planted to replace the matured trees that are cut down. In other directions, work that will prove of vast benefit in years to come, is going on. Cattle and sheep are allowed to graze upon forest reserves in proper numbers and at a low figure per animal and under fair regulations. This is a protection to stockmen in many ways.

It is, therefore, pleasing to know that the irrigation congress did not join with the few delegates who endeavored to commit it to a fight on the government forest reserve policy. The Denver Republican pertinently comments upon this phase of the congress when it says that there was no justification for the vehement attack which Senator Heyburn made upon the forestry policy of the national government in the address delivered by him before the irrigation congress recently in session in Boise, Idaho.

The policy of today differs radically from that of only a few years ago, when the reservations were under the care of the Department of the Interior and no proper understanding of forestry existed among the officials of that department. At that time the reservations were managed with but little regard for the immediate needs and interests of the public. The whole thought seemed to be to keep the public out, as though that were the most effective way to promote forest growth or to prevent the destruction of valuable timber.

A wiser policy has been inaugurated. The forest reserves are managed now with direct reference to the benefits to flow from them to the people of this day and generation. The pasturage within their limits is utilized by permitting grazing by both cattle and sheep. Trees of proper size are cut under direction of practical foresters, and thus the forests are made to yield a revenue in timber and lumber which helps cover the cost of maintenance and promotes the proper growth of younger trees. Where agricultural land is shown to exist within the limits of a reservation it is segregated and made subject to location and entry. Thus the settlement of the country is not interfered with by the maintenance of these reserves.

Let any man study the forestry policy of today and he will give it his hearty approval, whatever may have been his views concerning the one which was followed a few years ago, but which since then has been abandoned.

THE NEW MEXICO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION OF 1906.

The Democratic Territorial Convention commenced very auspiciously yesterday, but that is all there was to it until adjournment early this morning. It was the cleanest body of citizens the New Mexican has seen in a Democratic Territorial Convention for many years and contained some very prominent citizens and able men. Nevertheless, no nomination for Delegate to the 60th Congress could be made yesterday. The reason is plain. Not one of the men heretofore in the lead and desiring such nomination in years gone by, would consent to allow his name to be used for the honor. Indeed, up to 2 o'clock this morning, the nomination went begging and found no taker. For this the New Mexican cannot blame those to whom the position was offered, and who declined it. There were a good many, over a dozen. The conviction that the present Delegate to Congress, namely, Hon. W. H. Andrews, would be re-nominated by the Republicans and would be elected, by an overwhelming majority by the people could not be overcome and no candidate was found to be available. In addition the Democracy of New Mexico is not at all united upon the joint statehood question, although there is no doubt that a majority favors the adoption of the provisions of the Hamilton joint statehood law. The vote last evening by which strong joint statehood resolutions were adopted, showed this conclusively, 141 for and 22 against. A singular incident to be recorded right here is that the delegation from Santa Fe County which should be overwhelmingly in favor of joint statehood, was divided evenly.

The resolutions adopted by the convention last evening will have mighty little effect in the coming campaign as against Republican success. Despite the uncalculated attacks and false accusations by the muck rakers and a few yellow sheets in the Territory, the people—the plain people—know full well that under Republican administrations, since June, 1897, the Territory has prospered as never before, has rapidly increased in population, in wealth, in the development of its material resources, in business, in manufacturing and has enjoyed a clean, efficient and good government. Within these nine years, the number of national and territorial banks has doubled; the population has increased surely seventy-five thousand people and probably a hundred thousand; many new towns have come into existence and the older settlements, towns and cities have grown at a most gratifying rate. Territorial securities are above par in the financial markets and nine out of ten of the counties are in better financial condition than ever before. If there have been any lapses from good and efficient government in territorial and county affairs, they have been insignificant when compared with the grand record for advancement and prosperity made since June, 1897. Resolutions and the howlings of a few yellow sheets like the Albuquerque Fakir Journal and five or six Democratic weeklies cannot and will not put this record aside. It is too plain and too strongly in view and the people can be depended upon to remember it on election day.

No matter who the nominee, he is bound to go down to defeat. No matter what the resolutions, their tenor and expressions are completely and fully disproven by the present remarkably prosperous condition of the Territory and the very apparent contentment of the people. The Democratic convention of 1906 will go down in the history of this commonwealth as having contained many Democratic leaders and representative citizens, but as having accomplished nothing for its party, except the passage of glittering generalities and false accusations against political opponents and the Republican administration of affairs since the last Democratic administration and as having nominated a candidate who is doomed to defeat.

THE CUBAN SITUATION.

It is very apparent that the people of this country do not care to fool with Cuba and do not desire the annexation of the Pearl of the Antilles. However, there are financial interests in New York and other great money centers working towards taking Cuba and making it part of Uncle Sam's dominions. These interests are furnishing the money for the so-called insurrection now in progress. In the course of time the United States may have to make the island part of this country this is a possibility but not a probability. At present no public sentiment in that direction exists. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat puts the situation wisely in a recent editorial upon the question holding that the Cuban "revolution" has reached the stage where from certain quarters there is already coming a demand for intervention and annexation. It is one of the temptations to which nations, like individuals, are subject. But no advice could be more shortsighted than that of those who counsel this species of jingoism.

America did a great thing when it struck the shackles from Cuba and raised the stars and stripes over Moro Castle. But it did a greater thing when it hauled "Old Glory" down at the proper time and withdrew its soldiers when their work was done. A lot of bathos was indulged in when "the flag" was taken down. It was proclaimed with fervid oratory that wherever "the flag" had once floated it should always float, and a lot of other stuff like that. But wiser counsels prevailed and the United States redeemed the promise it made when the conflict began, that it would not seek territorial aggrandizement.

This country astounded the world by engaging in a war for humanity alone and in paying $20,000,000 for what were the legitimate spoils of war. A nation that could do that would not yield to the superficial clamor of those who advise it to give the lie to its own declarations of disinterestedness and sincerity. If the necessity arises, the United States will exercise its prerogative under the Platt resolution and will restore order, at all times protecting American business interests. But the appeals of the jingolists will fall upon ears that have heard such things before and did not heed them.

GETTING SCARED OVER IN ARIZONA.

The joint statehood opponents in the sister territory are not feeling as good as they might over the situation. A convention to take up the fight for joint statehood has been called to meet in Phoenix on the 17th instant, and they fear that the work which will be done and inaugurated then and there, will have a decided effect in the campaign and will bring out a much stronger vote for jointure than is now anticipated or believed to be possible by the anti-jointists. In addition the fear that Congress at an early date may provide joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona needs votes, the same as it did for Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, is cropping out and this also acts to scare the jointists. The Bismarck Daily Review in an editorial in its issue of the 11th instant, makes comment on the situation which, read between the lines, shows clearly that the above view of the situation as taken by this paper is about correct. Says the Review:

"The result of both the Democratic and Republican Territorial Conventions last week has left but one paramount issue in the coming campaign—the saving of Arizona from joint statehood with New Mexico. It must be recognized by all that New Mexico will vote a good majority for joint statehood while a much larger majority will be given against joint statehood by the voters of Arizona.

"With this as the result of the statehood election it is absolutely certain that in the next congress the effort to force these territories into one state will be undertaken by the national administration, headed by Roosevelt, Beveridge, Cannon and others, regardless of the protest of Arizona. The efforts of New Mexico in the next congress will be favorable to this arrangement, as the more the people of New Mexico learn of the good conditions in this territory the harder they work for joint statehood.

"While the people of Arizona should put forth their every effort to poll every possible vote against joint statehood they must not lose sight of the future and the fight which is to be made in the next congress."

WHAT REPUBLICAN POLICIES HAVE DONE FOR NEW MEXICO.

A. A. Jones, of Las Vegas, who served as temporary chairman of the Democratic Territorial Convention in this city yesterday, is an eloquent speaker and a good presiding officer of a Democratic convention. He took it out in scoring the Republican party and Republican policies, especially in the Territory of New Mexico, but said nothing concerning the fact that these selfsame policies and Republican administrations have reduced the debt of the Territory in eight years from $1,200,000, accumulated under Democratic administrations, to $740,000; that the same policies have given New Mexico a magnificent system of high educational institutions and have raised the plane upon which the public schools now stand to a higher degree than ever before; that these selfsame policies have brought about prosperity and great activity in all the leading industries of the Territory, especially in sheep growing, in cattle raising, in husbandry and in mining; that under the selfsame policies the population of the Territory has increased since 1900 between seventy-five and a hundred thousand people and that during the year ending June 30th, last, nearly seven thousand homestead entries of which certainly six-sevenths were of new comers, and of immigrants, have been made within the limits of the Sunshine Territory; that during the same period two thousand miles of new railroads were built and that within the next two years and before the end of the Roosevelt Republican administration, at least a thousand more miles will be constructed and put into operation. To be sure the bringing out these facts was not in Mr. Jones' line then and there. He did the best under adverse circumstances and his choice as temporary presiding officer was certainly the wisest that could have been made.

Capitalists are looking over the field with a view of establishing a bank in Estancia, the county seat of Torrance County. This ought to be a promising field. The natural resources of Torrance County are being developed and many homesteaders of the right kind are settling in the Estancia Valley. The outlook is certainly good.

Now that absentee bonbons are on the market people may soon expect to hear that green monkeys and rainbow snakes have made their appearance in the boudoirs of swell society.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Special Correspondence.) In pursuance of an item in the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation act passed by congress at the last session the patent office has published a notice in the latest issue of the Gazette to the effect that many of the models which have been in the possession of the office ever since its establishment and have been accumulating from year to year will be disposed of either by sale, gift or otherwise. Some of the models in the collection are very valuable, as, for instance, models of old patents which are the basis of many modern inventions over which litigation is constantly arising. Many of these the office will keep.

Many of the devices that have been patented are, of course, of so little importance to the public that it will not be considered advisable to preserve their models. Some idea of the number of this sort of models may be had from the accurate statement that there have been 1,801 mouse traps patented since the office was established.

Oppose Negro Colony. Five hundred residents of Bethesda, Friendship heights, Washington, near the boundary line between the District of Columbia and Maryland, are protesting vigorously against the proposed sale of Belmont subdivision to negroes. The promoters of the suburbs subdivision are advertising for negro purchasers. The white residents of the neighborhood declare that the negro colony which it is proposed to establish in their immediate vicinity will be across the district line in Maryland and therefore beyond the restraint of the District police.

An organization has been formed to buy off the promoters, and still another organization declares its purpose to prevent the consummation of the scheme, using any means that may be necessary.

German Embassy to Build.

Germany is to have a new home for her ambassador and in the heart of the most recently fashionable residence portion of Washington. The site, which has just been purchased at a price said to be between $125,000 and $150,000, is on Kalorama heights, near Twenty-third street and opposite the site recently purchased by the French embassy for a home.

Rumor among real estate circles has it that the German government will erect a home to cost $250,000 on the site so selected. It is said that plans for the embassy are practically completed, but that it is not probable work will be begun before next spring.

Trying to Save Fuel.

For some time the geological survey has been conducting an interesting series of experiments on the exposition grounds at St. Louis with coals, lignites and other fuel substances, which have proved satisfactory to the engineers and others in charge. It has been stated that the people of this country spent about $1,500,000,000 for fuel during the last year, and the officials of the geological survey say that if the results of their investigations can save the country even 1 per cent of this expenditure the investment will certainly be a good one.

In the past two years the geological survey has tested more than eighty-five different kinds of coals from seventeen states in the country, from which 1,000 chemical analyses have been made. In these coal tests it has been found that in the mining of coal in the United States fully 50 per cent of the coal remains in the ground. It has also been found that from 5 to 10 per cent is lost in handling and transportation.

Washington's Fountains.

There are thirty fountains in the various small and large city parks of the capital, and there are very few cities, and certainly none the size of the capital, which can boast of thirty fountains which play every day. These fountains are one of the features of the city and one of the most attractive of the many superior features of Washington over other cities. They are scattered all over in the various sections of the city, though perhaps they are more frequently met with in the northwest.

Novel Wall Decoration.

In the bachelor quarters of an attaché of the British embassy in Washington is a "den" decidedly odd in ornamentation. The walls are papered with playing cards. That in itself is no new idea, but these playing cards are of every land that has such things. They have been put tippy tippy on the wall and varnished. The effect is striking. The Britisher has dwelt in many lands. Almost all nations, he says, have playing cards or a substitute. Turkish cards are thick and exquisite tinted, and some of the far eastern countries have cards that deserve to be framed in gold leaf. The dado in the attaché "den" is made entirely of face cards, arranged symmetrically with a deep red molding separating it from the hurly burly below. Swords, sticks and guns are hung on the walls. The furniture is conventional, but the walls and ceiling give a distinctive look to the room.

Rock Creek Park. The movement long advocated by the Game and Fish Protective association for making Rock Creek park a game reservation is taking practical shape. Like all improvements in the District, this enterprise in its infancy is being provided for at private expense. When it has assumed some pretensions appeal will no doubt be made to congress further to extend the work.

Already in the beautiful lake made by the Pierce mill dam several swans and ducks have been placed in Rock Creek. It is proposed to increase the number from time to time and to add various species of waterfowl.

LONG-LIVED

NEW MEXICO HAPPENINGS

Eddy County.

During the recent session of the Fifth Judicial District Court for Eddy County, about a dozen divorce cases came up and several were heard. The docket, however, was light. The grand jury returned indictments against J. G. Danner, charge false pretense; Apolonia Serna, two counts, assault to murder. Both men were arrested and released on bond.

The city schools of Carlsbad opened Monday with a full attendance. The enrollment in the first grade is so large that no more pupils can be received until better accommodations can be secured.

Dr. F. F. Doepf, this week bought from A. J. Crawford, through W. L. Bobo, 87 acres with improvements near Carlsbad for $7,500.

Roosevelt County.

E. J. Dowell, of Portales, a carpenter who was at work on a residence, fell from the roof and sustained severe injuries. He has a family dependent on him for support and now that he is unable to work, they, the members of the household, are in bad circumstances financially.

San Juan County.

The county is now being agitated over the proposition to build three bridges over the San Juan River, just where the bridges will be located is a matter of no little concern to San Juan people.

The Democratic County Convention for San Juan County is to be held at Farmington September 28 and candidates are announcing themselves in anticipation thereof. Boone C. Vaughan wants re-election to the office of sheriff, Richard Hendricks, the present assessor, is again a candidate and L. G. Ehlert desires re-election as probate clerk.

Thursday, September 20, the third day of the San Juan County Fair, is to be Woodmen day, and some interesting team work is expected.

Torrance County.

Born last Sunday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pauley, a child, but the life was destined to be of short duration, for after a few short hours death came and claimed it. The family has the sympathy of a large number of friends in their bereavement. They live at Estancia.

COLFAX COUNTY.

D. F. Delaney, of Raton, the cook who was assaulted by Mickey Cochran last week and left for dead in an unconscious condition on the Sugarite Road, settled his case out of court and when the case came up before Justice C. M. Bayne, Delaney refused to testify.

On Tuesday evening, September 4th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Manby, 125 West Kansas Avenue, Trinidad, Colorado, the Rev. C. P. Peters officiating, Clarence F. Helwig, of Raton and Miss Maud Terhune were united in marriage. The wedding was strictly private. The young couple will locate in Raton.

Ground was broken for the new Raton telephone exchange last Wednesday morning, on the north side of Park Avenue, between Second and Third Streets. The building will be a handsome one and will cover 25x75 and 50x75 feet of ground and will be constructed in an L shape.

As a result of a drunken brawl which occurred at "Chihuahuas," the eastern suburb of Raton, recently, Leonores Roybal has five vicious knife wounds in his left shoulder and back and Luis Nunez and Juan Nunez, brothers, and Seledon Archuleta are bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $200 each. From the evidence adduced at the hearing of the case, before Judge C. M. Bayne, it was evident that Luis Nunez did the cutting and his brother and Archuleta held Roybal while the work was being done.

Miss Viola Cloutier and George Webster, of Springer, are to be married this week, and after a wedding trip to Kansas, where they will visit George's parents, will make their home at Dawson.

Samuel Lynn, an old and respected resident of Colfax County, aged 42 years, died at the home of his mother in Raton last week, from concussion of the brain. His funeral was largely attended. Rev. H. Van Valkenberg of the M. E. Church, conducted the services. Last Tuesday morning he was thrown from a fractious horse which he was riding and sustained concussion of the brain. He was placed in a wagon and taken to Raton, reaching there Tuesday night, but never regained consciousness, though everything possible in medical skill was done for him. He leaves a wife and six children, mother, brother and two sisters to mourn his loss.

Mannel Baros, a resident of Raton, swore out a complaint in the court of Justice C. M. Bayne, last Wednesday morning, charging Juan Zabalas with selling him three head of cows, knowing the same to have been stolen property. The cows were purchased last January by Baros from Zabalas and Baros continued in the possession of them until last Monday when Jose M. Manzanarez, a rancher living east of the city came in and replenished the stock, proving ownership to the same.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

W. M. Borrowdale, a prosperous druggist at Magdalena, was a delegate from Socorro County in attendance at the Democratic gathering yesterday. He returned home last night, press of business compelling him to cut short his stay in the Capital. While here, he had rooms at the Claire.

C. L. Mackenzie, division superintendent of the Wells-Fargo Express Company at Denver, spent today in the city on company business. He left this evening for the south. Mr. Mackenzie is a very busy official, having a large division to look after. The Colorado-Arizona division is one of the best managed in the entire service of the company.

C. S. Bateman, Roswell attorney, and who represented the southeastern district two terms in the Legislative Assembly, arrived in the city Tuesday night. He was the only representative of the unfettered Democracy of his section. Although his responsibility was great, Mr. Bateman made a good presiding officer, and can always be depended upon to voice his convictions.

R. M. Spring, supervising engineer of the Indian office has been in Albuquerque several days on official business. The appropriation made in the first session of the 59th Congress for new buildings and improvements at the U. S. Indian Training School near that town will be expended this year. A new water system is also to be installed and the buildings are already in use and those to be erected will be connected with it. The appropriation is $50,000.

Reverend Thomas Harwood, thirty-five years Methodist Missionary Visits Santa Fe.

Rev. Thomas Harwood, superintendent of the Spanish Methodist Missions in New Mexico, of the Methodist Episcopal church, spent Tuesday in the city visiting friends, of whom he has many here. He is returning from attending the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which was held this year in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and at which he was a delegate from the encampment of the order in New Mexico. He also visited his old home in Wisconsin, which he left thirty-seven years ago, to come to the southwest. He was one of the first protestant ministers to come to the Territory for religious work, and he has been successfully engaged here ever since.

He served as Chaplain in the 25th Wisconsin Infantry during the Civil War. His service was three years and he saw much active duty with his regiment. Although seventy-one years of age, and having been fifty-one years in the service of his church, he is very hale and hearty, and this his many friends in Santa Fe were glad to note. He feels much refreshed and rested by his trip and is more than ever ready to do the Lord's work which has been assigned to him. He enjoyed his stop-over in this city and left Tuesday evening for his Albuquerque home.

Circus day.

Santa Fe has been having a touch of high life the past several days. J. W. Marshall, engineer of the Santa Fe Central Railway, is ill in Los Angeles, at the Hollenbeck hotel.

J. C. Baldrige, Albuquerque lumber dealer is at St. Anthony's hospital in Denver, very ill, with typhoid fever. His recovery is doubtful.

M. A. Gonzales, a farmer and stock raiser, at Abiquiu, Rio Arriba County, was among last night's arrivals in the city. He is here on personal business.

The present city administration has been in office about six months and the streets are dirtier and more unsightly than ever before in the history of the town.

This is the regular meeting night of Santa Fe Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., and the lodge will hold its meeting at its hall on San Francisco Street at 7:30 o'clock.

The city council threatens to inaugurate a weed cutting and anti-spitting crusade. While the city fathers are at it they might have the streets and alleys cleaned too.

F. C. Duell, of Golden, South Santa Fe County, who is in charge of the property of the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Company, at San Pedro, was a visitor in the city today on personal business.

According to a dispatch from Magdalena, Charles Vanz, who is ranching in a small way in the vicinity of that town, has been arrested on a charge of cattle stealing and is now in the Socorro County Jail.

The Grand Jury was busy yesterday and today examining witnesses all supposed to know more or less concerning the penitentiary management and the sale of brick by the authorities under the Bursum regime. A Clayton dispatch says that Dolores Quintana of that place was shot and killed Sunday by his son-in-law, Edward Edgar, for whipping the latter's wife who is a daughter of Quintana. According to the reports Quintana had been in the habit of chastising Mrs. Edgar when she disobeyed him and this so enraged Edgar that he notified his father-in-law that he would shoot the next time it occurred. Sunday Quintana whipped his daughter in spite of the warning and Edgar carried out his threat.

The circus parade with its gilded wagons, caavalades of circus performers, wild animals in cages and on foot, not to mention the steam callopes and clowns, was witnessed by crowds all along the line of march at noon today. The procession was headed by a band wagon drawn by ten handsome horses. "Carrie Nation" was much in evidence during the parade, driving the miniature patrol wagon, and she had her hatchet with her. The big jolly policeman who sat in the wagon and flirted with the girls shared in the attention bestowed by the boys who surrounded the vehicle. The performance this afternoon began at 2:30 o'clock. Tonight's show will commence at 8 o'clock.

PLENTY OF FISH IN NEW MEXICO

Over 600,000 Baby Trout Liberated in Mountain Streams During Past Few Weeks.

Game Warden W. E. Griffin, who returned Sunday from an official visit to various parts of the Territory, assisting in re-stocking the streams with trout and looking after the enforcement of the game laws, reports that 622,000 little fish were liberated in New Mexico waters from the fish car during the past two weeks. The game warden assisted in the work at a number of points and says that the percentage of dead trout, in transporting the infants to the rivers from the car, amounted to little or nothing.

"There ought to be any amount of fishing in the Territory in the future," said Mr. Griffin. "The streams are now well stocked and next summer we will place more fish in them." "The rivers in which trout were placed on this trip of the fish car are as follows: Rayado, Ponel and their branches, south of Raton and vicinity, 110,000 trout; Gallinas river at Las Vegas, 20,000; Santa Fe river at Monument Rock, 50,000; Gila river, Grant County, 35,000; Quemado river, in Socorro County, 20,000; Rio Santa Clara, Sandoval County, 6,000; Rio Pueblo Santa Barbara, Arroyo Hondo, Rio Chiquito, Lucero Creek and Red River, Taos County, 185,000 Mountain trout, and 21,000 Rainbow trout. The latter were placed in Lucero Creek. Jemez and San Antonio rivers in Sandoval County, 35,000 trout; Pecos river 75,000 trout; Otero County streams near Cloudcroft, 5,000 trout; Chama river, in Rio Arriba County, 50,000 trout."

 By Chamberlain's Pain Balm.
 A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James N. Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by all druggists.
Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.
 A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to aggravate my case. For twenty I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success. MONTEZUMA BALL A BIG AFFAIR
 Committee Making Preparations on a Large Scale for Feature of Territorial Fair.
 This year's Montezuma ball promises to be the swiftest social function ever held in either territory. The committee in charge has many new features and in keeping with the progress of the territory has determined that this ball shall be far and away better than any previous Territorial Fair ball. One very attractive arrangement has been the converting of the plaza of the Alvarado Hotel, where the ball will be given into a "Robin Hood" park for this evening, the exclusive use of the guests of the ball, and where a second orchestra will play during the interval between the dances and the tempting punch bowl will be placed. This will make an ideal promenade and resting place for the dancers and those who attend to look on. It is also thought that this spot will give employment for the chaperones who will be kept busy watching their charges through the maze of the artificial woods.
 The ball supper will be served on the west side of the hotel veranda at tables, the veranda being enclosed to protect guests from the weather. No invitations are sent to this function, although it is strictly a full dress affair and people from all parts of both territories are expected to attend. Tickets for gentlemen $5.00, admitting one lady; each additional lady $2.50 each; this includes the ball supper served by the hotel; they can be obtained from the committee or at the office of the hotel on the evening of the party.
 Manager Adams and the force of the Alvarado Hotel are using every facility at their command and are undying in their efforts to make this social feature of the Fair the same surpassing success that all the other attractions will be.

THE SILENCE AND THE DUTY.
 Milk is more cheaply made by good grass than in any other way, and next to grass comes silage, because it furnishes the cheapest and most desirable substitute for grass, writes a New York farmer in National Stockman. It is true that it costs considerable to make silage, but careful tests show quite conclusively that silage from corn is a more desirable feed for cows than the corn crop preserved and fed in any other way, and this after allowing the cost of harvesting and storing the crop. There is nothing like silage to keep the dairy cow's appetite on edge throughout the long winter period. It also keeps her system in good condition, which is a very important matter, and gives her a relish for her food.
Seeding Down to Grass.
 The last of August and the first of September is the best time in the whole year for seeding down land to grass, says American Cultivator. Where the land is too wet to admit of planting a brood crop it may be plowed up and reseeded directly upon the inverted soil. If the bottom is too soft for two horses to plow easily abreast, it may be often managed by working two or three horses tandem, keeping them all the time on the sod. It will not be easy to cart manure on to such land after plowing, but a dressing of ground bone and wood ashes or other good fertilizer may easily be spread and harrowed in with the seed, and there will be no trouble in top dressing such land with manure in winter when frozen.

A New Potato.
 A report received by the department of commerce and labor from the British vice consul at Rouen, France, states that the cultivation in France of a new potato brought from Uruguay has been observed for some time with great interest. A variety of this potato, called the Solanum commersonii, is said to possess excellence of taste as well as a nutritive value and is equal to the best potato known in France. This variety is distinguished by its resistance to frost, as also to disease, and its one great advantage is that it prospers most in a damp or swampy soil and, whether clayey, calcareous or siliceous, seems equally adapted for its culture, provided it is damp.

CHOICE MISCELLANY

The Navy's Marksmanship.
The criterion of target practice is the actual number of hits per minute," says Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte. "Many ships now average between 75 and 90 per cent of hits with all their main battery guns, whereas in former days the percentage was rarely over 40, even though firing slowly at a target more than seven times as large as the present one. Then the target was 100 feet long and 25 feet high; today it is 21 feet long and 12 feet high. This increase in hitting ability is due to the assiduous training in the target practices which have been carried out under the new system adopted and also to improvement in ordnance. Going back to 1898, when the navy was using black powder and when sights and other parts of the equipment were poorly developed, our firing was both slow and inaccurate. At that time it was considered satisfactory if a twelve inch gun fired one shot in five minutes. But with each subsequent improvement in ordnance the rapidity was somewhat increased, and by carrying out systematic target practice the present striking efficiency has been attained. For example, the heavy turret guns that were but a few years ago allowed five minutes in which to fire a shot have recently fired three shots and made three hits in one minute."—Harper's Weekly.

The English Army Tailor.
The daily press is full of gibes at the British military tailor employed by the war department to assist in revising the cut of the uniforms of the enlisted men of the regular army. Scarcely a remark on the "swagger clothes" of English Tommy lead to reminiscences of a glorious past. The ghost of the Continental stalks across the stage in his "ragged regimentals" and looks reproachful. "Treason!" the antique figure seems to say, or so our patriotic scribes would read his expression. Then they conjure up the soldier of the civil war in his blue contract frock. He also looks disapproving. Did he fight less well by reason of the sartorially shocking garments he wore? In all seriousness, much might be done for the uniforms of the enlisted men of the army of the United States. As they are now built they are not only ugly, but they do not look to be comfortable. And who can doubt that the war department will know how to profit by the experience of the expert foreign artist without sacrificing anything of the essentials of adaptability to real service?—Army and Navy Life.

Boiler Explosions in England.
During the twelve months ended June 30, 1906, there were fourteen persons killed and forty injured from British steam plant accidents, smaller returns than for any year since the boiler explosions act of 1892 was passed, the average for the past twenty-two years being twenty-eight persons killed and sixty injured.

On the other hand, the Locomotive, published at Hartford, Conn., gives 383 persons as killed and 585 injured in the United States. The number of steam boilers in America does not exceed 50 per cent those in Great Britain, hence the total number killed in the states should not exceed forty per annum, whereas the actual death toll is nearly ten times this amount.

Heavy fines are imposed in Great Britain on factory owners, engineers, engine builders and others to whom any blame attaches for explosions.—From a Report by Consul Marshal Halstead.

Origin of the Word "Dope."
New York's recent rock garden murder gave prominence to the term "dope fiend." What is the origin of "dope"? "Dope" is an English dialect word for a simoleon, but probably the "dope" in this case is another one altogether, derived from the "doping" of horses and implying that the man was the victim of a drug habit. In this country "dope" has long signified any thick liquid or semiliquid used as food or as a lubricant. The Scientific American says that it once meant "a preparation of pitch, tallow and other ingredients which, being applied to the bottom of the shoes, enables the wearer to glide lightly over the snow softened by the rays of the sun." It is believed to come from the Dutch "doop," dripping or paste, which is from the verb meaning to dip.

Immense Value of Our Railways.
The 220,000 miles of main track of the railways of the United States represent property to the extent of $16,000,000,000, or as much as the total value of all the property in the country in 1890, the year of Lincoln's election. Their income of over $2,000,000,000 a year is very nearly four times the annual revenue of the United States government. The number of men on their rolls is 1,500,000, an army as great as the combined forces that Gama and Linewitch had in Manchuria at the time of the peace of Portsmouth. The railroads are a vast interest. Anything which would hamper them in their legitimate activities would deal a hard blow to every important industry in the country.—Leah's Weekly.

Eyeglasses and Stuttering.
Here is another discovery—eyeglasses are recommended for those who stutter. It is stated that an improvement in the vision brings an improvement in the speech. Perhaps somebody will next find out that an added refinement in the sense of smell will benefit the sense of hearing. At the same time this eyeglass idea may be a good thing, and every young man, for instance, who means to ask the adored one to "m-m-marry m-m-me" shouldn't fail to secure a pair of eyeglasses, or even two, before putting the fateful question.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Covering Jelly Glasses.
An easy mode of covering jelly glasses: Brush white of egg over white kitchen paper, cut into pieces of proper size and cover the jelly while hot. The paper will stick tightly and prove as air tight as parchment.

For the Invalid.
A serviceable addition to the invalid's workbasket is a horseshoe magnet fastened to a ribbon or strip of sufficient length that it can be dropped to the floor to pick up scissors or needles.

Hop Beer.

In sixteen quarts of water boil six ounces of hops and a little less than three and a half pints of molasses for half an hour. After it commences to boil remove from the fire and strain into a large vessel. After straining through a colander let it stand until lukewarm. Then add a very thin shaving of yeast cake, about as thin as you can cut it, dissolved in a little of the beer. Let stand twenty-four hours to rise, removing scum. Then bottle, straining through a small piece of cheesecloth as you fill each bottle. Use air tight bottles and be very careful in opening them, as the beer is apt to pop. This is nonintoxicating.

Treatment For Bunions.

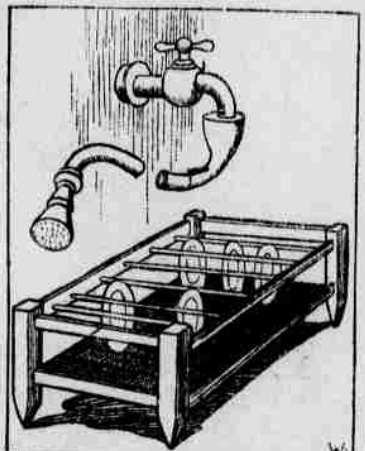

Frequent bathing, with the application of some healing and cooling salves, is the only thing to afford relief to the adult whose feet are distorted by bunions. Any sort of surgical appliances are of little avail, because they cannot be worn constantly. The pressure of the shoe should be removed, and this is best done by padding on either side of the protruding joint with absorbent cotton, held in place by strips of adhesive plaster. Place a bit of soft linen with a little salve directly over the sore spot, and the shoe must be large enough to accommodate the extra filling.

Tun Bleach.

Half a pint of milk, half an ounce of white brandy and one-quarter of an ounce of lemon juice. Bring the milk to a boil and then put in the lemon juice and brandy. Let it come to a boil again and then remove and strain carefully. As soon as it cools bottle and mop the tanned surface with it twice a day and at night, allowing it to dry on. Sunburn is relieved by washing immediately in very hot water and then applying elder flower cream.

For Cleaning Dishes.

The frame of the dishwashing apparatus herewith shown is made of metal, the rods being of wire and extending from two sides, and the bottom of the frame a screen of large mesh. When the articles to be cleaned are in position between the rods and the rack has been set in the kitchen sink or where the water applied can be readily drained off hot water is applied to the dishes through a hose attached to the faucet. A spraying nozzle at the end of the hose provides the exact distribution of the water. After standing in the rack for a few minutes the dishes will be dry from the action of the heat and the perfect drainage afforded.

Enamel Finish For Shelves.

An excellent idea for pantry shelves is to give them two coats of ordinary white paint and then a third finishing coat of white enamel. As soon as the enamel dries wash it over with cold water and then it will harden quickly. Do not cover these shelves with oilcloth or paper, but leave them bare, and notice the improvement.

Save the Lemon Peel.

Do not throw away your lemon peel. Fill a bottle with rectified spirit and when using lemons cut off the yellow part of the rind and place in the spirit. You will find this quite as good as the essence of lemon which is sold in the shops. Essence of orange can be made in the same way.

Mock Maple Syrup.

Falling the genuine Vermont article, here is a substitute that would deceive the elect: Dissolve ten pounds of dark brown sugar in hot water. When all is dissolved add one-half ounce of maple essence and color with a little burnt sugar. This may be procured at any drug store.

I was sitting by a stream reading.

As I continued to turn the pages of my little book my dog rose and trotted away from me as if drawn by some more kindly presence than my own. I turned to see which way he was going and what caused his sudden move. As I did so, from a tree behind me, about twenty feet away, I caught sight of the light, gauzy folds of a woman's dress, a white hand pat my dog's back and a fair face beneath a flowery straw hat peeping around at me.

"Pardon me, but I fear my dog has distressed, perhaps frightened, you," I said.

"Not at all. I love dogs, and this is a noble fellow," she answered graciously and again stroked old Boots in a manner that made me wish myself in his place.

"You are an artist and have been sketching, I see."

"No, not an artist, but hoping to become one. I have sketched a very picturesque scene over on the little creek, and, coming here to rest, I have sketched that grand old tree which the winds have laid low."

"May I see your sketches?" I asked, unwilling to retreat from her presence so soon.

"Certainly. Won't you sit down?" she answered as though she felt perfectly safe with me.

She surprised me by saying: "Are you not Mr. Caine? I am sure I have seen your picture at the house of my cousin, Peter Bentley. I think you were at Harvard together."

"Why, yes, that is so," I stammered, overwhelmed with embarrassment over my own boldness.

Making proper inquiries concerning her cousin Peter, I dropped on the turf beside her and began to examine and criticize her sketches without having had the courtesy to apologize for coming upon her with such freedom and to ask her name. But she soon told me who she was—Miss Agatha Rembert, a visitor to the town and but recently arrived. She was enjoying a rest from city life in the home of a maiden aunt who lived in a cottage just over the hill.

The sketches and the dog had opened the way for further conversation, and I was soon wholly and delightfully absorbed with this unexpected companionship.

I began to question if it wouldn't be just as well for me to spring up and go on after the fishes. But the fair creature did not seem in the least abashed or disturbed. I regarded her not only with admiration, but with profound respect. I forgot the dog, which trotted off home. I forgot the rod, which fell in the grass and remained buried there a week. I quite forgot, too, that I was in the presence of a lovely girl, not by invitation, but unsolicited. I chatted away as volubly as if I had been asked to ventilate my opinion of things in general. "It is getting late, and I must be going or aunt will come hunting me," she said at length.

Springing up as she gathered her sketches together, I offered to assist her to rise. She held her hands for me to take them, saying sweetly, "Thank you."

I took her by the tips of her fingers, drew her to her feet, then—good heavens, what possessed me, what prompted such unbecomingly cowardly and cringing—still holding her fingers, I leaped forward and, scarce knowing what I did, kissed her cheek, then stepped back, started at my outrageous action. She drew her hands violently from my touch, and then I beheld the grandest sight my eyes ever looked upon—a woman, beautiful, but quivering in every fiber of her body with surprise and indignation. From her eyes flashed resentment—every expression indeed but forgiveness and fear. Voiceless and majestic, she fung rebuke upon me till I cowered and would have fled from her presence had I not felt paralyzed, riveted to the spot. Feeling that I looked about me for escape, she spoke, "Don't dare to move until you have apologized for this outrage."

Her neck did not bend, her arms made no move, nor did her foot leave its place. Her whole attitude, as her brilliant eyes surveyed me from head to foot, was one to subdue the sternest heart or the strongest brute. It seemed to me as though she held me thus at bay, and then I saw tears gathering in her eyes—tears, woman's weapon.

I fell on my knees and said in tones as deep and solemn as my sense of guilt: "Forgive me! A thousand times I ask it! I will protect you with my life if you demand it and every other woman who shall cross my path after this moment!"

Without replying she turned and walked from me toward the cottage home. I followed like a culprit. As she entered the little yard gate she stopped and turning toward me said, and I thought an angel spoke to me, "I forgive you, but don't again be so false to yourself!" Then she moved on to the house.

I watched her till she entered and closed the door. Then I turned toward the town a changed man. I was wretched till I heard she had left the place.

After five years of remorse and penance I addressed this beautiful girl a letter, begging to be allowed to visit her that I might again apologize for my cowardly insult to her. That scene in the woods had so altered the current and character of my life that I had won professional honors and social standing, which I thought should recommend me even to her consideration—tolerance at least. I paid the visit and won back her respect, and then I won her love and the acknowledgment that a kiss is something not to be despised or rejected, but it has its time, place and season.—Cincinnati Post.

Destroying Plantain on Farms.

As plantain is an annual, starting early in the spring, the seed stems are fully matured by Aug. 1, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. To prevent the seeds from ripening set the guards of the mower low and cut them off close to the ground. Repeat the mowing in a month, as the plants usually send up a second growth of stems. Wheat stubble or grass fields where plantain is abundant should be cut over every summer, leaving all the material on the ground as a mulch. This will prevent the grass being killed out by the hot sun or dry weather. I find this method destroys other weeds and is a great help to clover, especially in wheat stubble.

A Prolific Sow.

A large Yorkshire sow is reported by a correspondent of an English exchange to have farrowed eighty-five pigs in five litters and reared sixty-six. Three times she reared fifteen, although she gave milk in only nine litters. Her largest litter was twenty-one. No pigs were destroyed. Also the same breeder had two sows that farrowed thirteen each. One sow died almost immediately, and the other reared the twenty-six. They were kept in two separate lots, and the sow was driven from one to the other every three or four hours. A much bigger litter can be reared in this way if the sow is a good milkier, and the little ones sooner learn to drink.—National Stockman.

Importance of Cooling Milk.

Probably the most important precaution that can be taken with milk is to cool it as quickly as possible after it is drawn, says Farming. At a temperature of 60 degrees F. and lower the germs grow but slowly. Ordinary well or spring water has a temperature of between 50 and 60 degrees F. If the farmer has an open water supply he also has a refrigerator that is cooler than the ordinary icebox. If the cans are lowered into the spring or well as soon as possible before the germs can have time to begin their growth.

Angora Goats.

Angoras seem to be able to stand almost any degree of heat or cold provided they are furnished with a shelter to keep them from getting wet. They have proved hardy in Vermont. In fact, a flock that was lost all one winter and turned up in the spring is testimony to their ability to stand cold. The fact that they thrive in southern California and Florida and in their native homes in Turkey and Africa shows that they are sufficiently adapted to hot climates. If their range is in damp, low places, however, they will surely die.—Farming.

Ground Feed For Horses.

The necessity for grinding a part of the ration for horses cannot be too strongly emphasized. The horse owner who fails to do this loses 25 to 30 per cent of its nutritive value. The hard outer covering of the grain makes it difficult to assimilate and a very large proportion passes through the stomach of the animal in an undigested condition. An examination will show the whole grain and prove the truth of this statement.

The Mexican Central has recently placed on sale tickets to New York and return, going via the Mexican Central to either Vera Cruz or Tampico, thence via the famous Ward Steamship Line to New York. The return will be by rail over any line to El Paso. The entire trip, covering thousands of miles, Havana, Cuba, and its famous Moro Castle, Newport, and a dozen of the largest cities of the United States, can be made for $122.50. A more delightful trip can not be planned, as stop-over privileges are allowed and the tickets are good for one year from the date of sale. The trip includes the City of Mexico, the "Paris of America." Further information can be secured by addressing A. Dulohery, Commercial Agent, El Paso, Texas, or W. D. MUSHROOMS.

We carry mushrooms in several sizes and grades. The best in one pound tins, 35 cents. They are perfect in size, shape and color. Small cans, one quarter pound, 15 cents. SPICES.

Most spice that is sold is of inferior quality. There is little produced that is good enough to put under the "Ferdell" label. Perhaps you do not wish to use twice as much spice as you do now. If you are getting the ordinary kind, a change to "Ferdell" will double your pleasure, and probably increase your use of these condiments. We have all sorts in cans at 10 cents per can, except cinnamon, the cinnamon we are compelled to get in 15 cents for. Mixed pickling spice in bulk, four ounces for 10 cents.

At 12:30 p. m., a reply was received from Mr. Larrazolo, who is attending court at Clayton, Union County, expressing his willingness to accept the nomination for delegate to the 60th Congress on the Democratic ticket. The committee of the whole rose immediately and Mr. Larrazolo was placed in nomination by A. A. The nomination was made by acclamation amidst applause.

Before final adjournment at one o'clock this afternoon, the eagle with spread wings was adopted as the party emblem. A vote of thanks was tendered Charles F. CONVENTION NOTES.

It was upon the rock of statehood that the Democratic craft was beached.

Rafael Romero made an ideal secretary who was tireless in the performance of his duties and whose courtesy to the press was greatly appreciated.

The legislative convention of the eleventh council district will be held at Alamogordo on September 29, the counties of Otero, Lincoln and Torrance being comprised in this district.

The legislative convention of the tenth council district met in Santa Fe yesterday afternoon, the delegates to Grant, Doña Ana and Luna Counties being present. J. A. Mahoney of Deming, presided. The nomination for council was allotted to Grant County to be made at a later date but before October 1. W. B. Walton of Silver City, will probably be tendered the nomination.

Several delegates expressed themselves seriously in favor of endorsing Delegate W. H. Andrews for re-election to Congress.

Dr. William Sparks, the one-armed veteran, who recently sold his ranch on the Upper Pecos, and now lives with his family at Las Vegas, was one of our most active members of the San Miguel delegation whose leanings toward single and separate statehood are quite decided, although for the sake of harmony he voted for the joint statehood resolution.

It is a bitter pill for the Pecos Valley Democracy to have a native American at the head of the Democratic ticket.

The legislative convention of the fifteenth House district was presided over by J. A. Mahoney. The counties of Grant and Luna were represented and the nomination was allotted to Luna County and will be made later. Grant, Luna, Doña Ana and Otero Counties were represented at the legislative convention of the seventeenth House district. J. A. Mahoney presided, and the nomination was given to Otero County to be made by October 1.

The hat was passed this forenoon among the delegates and a neat sum for campaign purposes was raised. "Let's go home," said W. B. Walton to J. A. Mahoney, in the caucus at 1 o'clock this morning. "Not on your life," said Mahoney, "if we go, they'll nominate us for Delegate to Congress."

S. Lindauer, of the Luna County delegation recorded his vote against joint statehood.

Luna County had a delegation of three at the convention, J. N. Moran and S. Lindauer, and J. A. Mahoney proxy for A. J. Clarke.

King caucus held sway in the convention last evening and today.

Take it all in all, the Democratic convention which closed this evening was a fine looking body of men and the best that has ever assembled in New Mexico.

W. S. Hopewell, who is the original joint statehood man of the New Mexico Democracy, was certainly well sustained in the vote on statehood cast by the body. He carried his point in every instance.

U. S. Bateman, the permanent president of the convention and "the lone Democrat" from the Pecos Valley, acquitted himself very satisfactorily and won the good will not only of delegates, but of the lookers on. He is quick to see a point and prompt in his decisions. During the entire session, however, he made no mention of his desire to have eastern New Mexico annexed to Texas.

Rafael Romero, of Mora County, although not old in years, has had a good deal of experience in attending Democratic Territorial Conventions. He has uniformly represented Mora County in such gatherings for the past 28 years.

The new Territorial Central Committee will meet for organization at Albuquerque, on Tuesday of next week.

The following action had by G. K. Warren, Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Albuquerque, declares that the members fully appreciate the untiring and successful work done by Delegate W. H. Andrews during the past year in securing pensions for veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American Wars.

"Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 1, 1906. "At a regular meeting of G. K. Warren, Post No. 5, Department of New Mexico, Grand Army of the Republic, held in I. O. O. F. Hall, September 1st, 1906.

"It was unanimously resolved that a committee of six members of our Post be appointed to wait upon our Delegate to Congress, Senator Andrews, and express to him in the name of our Post, our most sincere thanks for the very generous, practical and successful interest he has taken in the cause of all Union soldiers of the Civil and other wars, helping them in procuring pensions justly due them, where in many cases on account of technicalities their claims could not be successfully prosecuted before the pension department.

GOOD WEATHER ON CIRCUS DAY

Temperature Just Right—Local Prophet Sees Showers Looming Up on Horizon.

As predicted, circus day has been favored with propitious weather. The temperature was not too warm or too cool—it could hardly have been more perfect. However the local weather man is forecasting that it will be partly cloudy tonight and Friday with local rain in north and east portions.

The temperature at 6 o'clock this morning was 60 degrees. The lowest temperature during last night was 59 degrees. The maximum temperature yesterday was 78 degrees at 4:15 p. m., while the minimum temperature was 45 degrees at 5 a. m. The mean temperature was 62 degrees with a relative humidity of 28 per cent.

CENTENARIAN DIES IN FLAMES OF HOME.

Silver City, Sept. 13.—Juana Trujillo, 108 years of age, and an old resident of this city, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed her little two room frame-adobe home on the outskirts of the town. The fire department was powerless to extinguish the blaze but controlled it with water carried in buckets, the nearest fire plug being blocks distant. The woman's body was horribly mutilated by the fire, the limbs being burned off.

NEVADA MINES SHUT DOWN TO DISCIPLINE MINERS.

Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 13.—It was reported yesterday that there had been no disturbances as a result of shutting down the mines. The mine owners are firm in their declaration that they will not attempt to open the mines until the Western Federation of Miners cuts losses from the Industrial Workers of the World.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. J. W. Jenkins and Mrs. H. Portia Pratt of Indianapolis, were arrivals in the city today and registered at the Hotel Chaire.

Deputy United States Marshals W. R. Forbes and H. F. Bogh, who have been in the city attending the term of the United States Court for the First Judicial District which closed today, left this afternoon for Albuquerque. United States Court for the Second Judicial District will open Monday at Albuquerque.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS FOR SILVER CITY

Among the delegates to the Democratic Territorial Convention held in Santa Fe, was William B. Walton, the bright editor of the Silver City Independent, a weekly newspaper published at the county seat of Grant County. A New Mexican reporter had a pleasant chat with him Tuesday evening at the Palace Hotel.

"Silver City is very prosperous," Mr. Walton said during the course of the conversation. "The mining industry is looking up all over the county and many properties are being developed with the best of results. Besides mining, cattle raising is the principal industry in that section, the range is in excellent shape and cattle are in good condition."

Mr. Walton grows very enthusiastic when speaking of the improvements being made at Silver City. He is certainly a good booster for the town. He stated that more new buildings are under way now than ever before in the history of the place and especially handsome modern residences. He takes this as an evidence of the prosperity of the community.

The Grant County district court is in session at present at Silver City. Judge Frank W. Parker on the bench, the fall term having opened on September 3. Mr. Walton is of the opinion that the court will not adjourn until the end of the month, as there are quite a number of cases on the docket.

MEETING EQUALI-
ZATION BOARD

The Territorial Board of Equalization was in session this morning and finished its labors for this meeting. There were present: James S. Duncan, president; Venecio Jaramillo, secretary, and members, Martin Lohman, J. A. Mahoney, Alejandro Sandoval and Robert P. Ervien. The minutes of the meeting were read and approved. SANTA FE TRAINS
RUNNING VERY LATE.

Westbound trains on the main line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway were delayed today, and no passengers or mail from the east will reach Santa Fe until tomorrow morning. The California limited was reported ten hours late and connection for No. 1 will not leave Santa Fe until 8:30 p. m. If at all. It is not known at the local offices of the railroad whether there has been a wreck or not, as the officials here have not been advised as to the nature of the trouble. The Santa Fe-Lamy branch train left on time this forenoon for Lamy and made connections at the junction with eastbound No. 2.

INDIAN FIGHT REPORTED FROM SOCORRO COUNTY.

Captain Fred Fornoff this morning received a telegram stating that a band of Navaho Indians had been detected by cattlemen stealing and killing cattle in Socorro County, in the vicinity of the San Mateo Mountains. A posse was hastily formed and the Indians were pursued into the hills where they opened fire. It is thought that several were killed. The telegram says that the Indians fired first, thus precipitating the fight. Captain Fornoff will send mounted policemen to the scene to investigate. The point where the fight is said to have occurred is about fifty miles from a railroad.
