HUDSON RIVER BOATS COLLIDE

In Fog at Night--
One Killed One
Missing.

CREWS PREVENTED A PANIC

Among Passengers--Saratoga
Out of Commission Adirondack Able to Proceed.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—In what was practically a head on collision on the Hudson River at 1:20 o'clock this morning between the steamers Adiron- dack of the People's line and the Saratoga, of the Citizens' line one man is believed to have lost his life, about five hundred passengers had a thrill- ing experience and both steamers were damaged to the extent of thou- sands of dollars, the Saratoga being practically put out of commission. The missing man is George L. Horton, the freight clerk on the Adiron- dack. The collision occurred near Tivoli about twelve miles from New York at one of the narrowest parts of the river, while both boats were feeling their way through a dense fog which set- tled on the river just before one o'clock. The Saratoga, bound south from Troy with about 200 passengers and a heavy consignment of freight, crashed into the Adiron- dack, bound north from New York. The collision tore away about seventy-five feet of the lower deck on the port side of the Saratoga. The terrific impact caused the Saratoga to rebound and she now lays at anchor a few yards from where the collision took place. Fortunately the propeller Ontera was near and gave every assistance. She transferred about one hundred and fifty passengers to the shore while the rest remained aboard. From the stories told by the passengers and the captain of the Adiron- dack there was comparatively little excitement con- sidering the seriousness of the acci- dent.

Detailed Account of Accident on Hudson.

Night passenger steamers, Adiron- dack of the People's line of Albany, and the Saratoga of the Citizens' line of Troy, collided near Glasco, twelve miles north of the city at 1:20 o'clock this morning.

Clarence Sherman of Melrose, New York, an officer on the Saratoga, was killed and George Horton of New York, a clerk on the Adiron- dack, is missing. The collision occurred in a dense fog which prevented the pilots on either boat from seeing the other. Both it is thought, missed their bearings.

Saratoga Put Out of Commission.

The Saratoga sustained the great- est damage. The Adiron- dack was on her way to Albany and the Saratoga was en route to New York. The Adiron- dack tore off the port side of the Saratoga which listed to port and her boilers went overboard and sank. Flying Timbers Killed Oiler Sherman. Sherman was killed instantly by flying timbers. Many passengers on the Saratoga were knocked down by the force of the collision, but the crews of both boats assisted in rescu- ing them and later they were trans- ferred to the City of Troy, landed at Tivola and sent to New York by train. The passengers of both boats were panic stricken and only the coolness of the officers and crews prevented a heavy loss of life. The Saratoga was hauled to the Glasco dock where she anchored. The officers of the Saratoga say the collision was unavoidable on account of the fog. The Adiron- dack was able to continue on her way to Albany.

FARMER KILLS FAMILY WITH AX

Knoxville, Oct. 13.—Chalburn Min- tooth, aged fifty years and one of the most prominent farmers in this coun- ty, today murdered his wife and four children, fatally injured two other children and then committed suicide by cutting his own throat. It is be- lieved that he became suddenly in- sane. An ax was used in the deadly work.

SANTA FE TO DOUBLE TRACK TO CHICAGO.

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 13.—Accord- ing to a sub-contractor engaged in building of the Eastern Railway of New Mexico which is commonly known as the Belen cut-off, the Atchison, To- peka & Santa Fe Railway Company will have its present mountain route double-tracked from Albuquerque to Chicago. A certificate increasing the capital stock of the Eastern Railway of New Mexico was filed yesterday in the office of the probate clerk of San Miguel County.

LEANDRO BACA STILL HOLDS SHERIFF'S OFFICE AT SOCORRO.

Socorro, N. M., Oct. 13.—Leandro Baca, the deposed sheriff of Socorro County, who was removed on charges of malfeasance by Governor Hager- man is still in control of the sheriff's office and refuses to vacate it until forced out by an order of the court. Mesias Baca, the newly appointed sheriff has filed a bond and it has been approved. It is expected that he will apply for an order of the court removing Leandro Baca.

AZTEC RUINS IN SAN JUAN COUNTY

Government to Preserve Ancient Pueblos--Santa Feans Visit Them.

What Captain William Stover, a civil engineer in the employ of the general land office at Washington, and formerly a resident of Santa Fe, con- sidered the most interesting of the an- cient pueblo ruins in this country are located in Chaco Canon, at a point about sixty miles south of the town of Farmington. He returned to this city a few days ago after spending over two weeks in making surveys of the pre-historic pueblos with the idea in view of having the lands on which they are situated segregated from the public domain and withdrawn from settlement.

Captain Stover was accompanied on his recent expedition by four lo- cal residents, Charles Haspelmath, Norman L. King, E. S. Andrews and Frank Delgado. The quartet assisted him in his work of surveying. Mr. Haspelmath and Mr. Andrews acted as flagmen, and Mr. King and Mr. Del- gado were the chainmen. The party made its headquarters most of the time while away at the ancient pueblo Bonito. It was rather a strenuous job of surveying as they were com- pelled frequently to ascend tortuous cliffs with the instruments.

In conversation yesterday with a representative of the New Mexican, Captain Stover stated that the gov- ernment was anxious to preserve as many of these ancient ruins as prac- ticable for future generations and in the interest of scientific research. Speaking about the old pueblos which he had just visited he said:

"The Chaco Canon ruins are the most extensive of the kind in the United States. The ancient buildings were erected entirely of stone and the workmanship compares favorably with modern masonry. Considerable exca- vation has been done in recent years among the ruins by private parties working for themselves or various museums, but they did not go at it systematically and with regard to the preservation of the ruins and much damage resulted from this indiscrimi- nate digging for relics and curios."

"It is the intention of the govern- ment now to declare them national monuments in accordance with an act of Congress passed last June which gives the President authority to set aside all ancient ruins in the United States. The Pueblo Bonito is between five hundred and six hundred feet square and it is estimated that it contained between 1,200 and 1,500 rooms. Many of the lower stories are still intact and sealed up. Numerous Indian burial mounds are scat- tered along the foot of the cliffs which are unexplored and they will undoubtedly yield through scientific investigation many valuable relics."

"There are a large number of other ancient pueblos in the vicinity equally as extensive as the old pueblo Bonito. Ten of such ruins are within a radius of one mile and a half of Bonito. Others are a greater distance away in a northerly and a south- easterly direction."

"It was quite a tedious trip and took six days, three days by train and three days overland. The overland trip was hard on account of the sand through which we had to travel. Drinking water free from alkali was difficult to obtain and while camped at Bonito we had to climb a crude stairway up the side of a steep cliff to secure water fit for drinking purposes. This was rain water which was caught in the hollow of a rock and it finally became stagnant. It was a perilous climb up this cliff by means of hand and foot holes made by the ancient people."

Captain Stover expects to remain a month longer in and around Santa Fe. He will go from here in a few days to investigate a boundary dis- pute at Santa Domingo. After this work is finished he will return to the city and await orders from Wash- ington. He is making his headquarters while here at the Claire Hotel.

BERTHA KRUPP MARRIES OFFICER

Wealthy German Girl Goes Through Civil Ceremony--Few Present.

Essen, Prussia, Oct. 13.—The civil ceremony of the marriage of Fraulein Bertha Krupp to Lieutenant Gustav Von Bohnen, under Halbach took place today at the "registrars office of the village of Bredeyence, near here. The proceedings were strictly formal and only a brother of the bridegroom and a cousin of the bride were present.

BOYKIN SENTENCED TO 2 YEARS IN PRISON

Portales, Oct. 13.—A found guilty of murder in the second degree, A. M. Boykin, a well known citizen of Tucumcari, was sentenced yesterday to a term of twelve years in the peniten- tiary by Judge W. H. Pope. Boykin was arrested on the charge of killing his brother-in-law, Henry Stoldt, in December, 1904. The tragedy occurred at Portales. The men had mar- ried sisters and the fatal affray was the sequel of a family quarrel.

ODD SUIT IN CONTEST FILED IN ALBUQUERQUE.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 13.—An odd suit has been filed in the Second Judicial District Court for Bernalillo County by Juan Armijo y Baca against Hilario Lobato, contesting the latter's election as mayor of the acacia madre of the community of Rancho de Atrisco. The election of the com- mission of the same community com- posed of Jose de La Luz Sanchez, Candido Page and Trinidad Gabaldon, is also contested.

CHARLES C. CLOSSON,
Republican Candidate for Sheriff of Santa Fe County.

Charles C. Closson, who is the Re- publican candidate for sheriff of Santa Fe County, is a man in the prime of life, is sober, industrious and re- liable, possessing much fitness for the position and great nerve; he is thor- oughly acquainted with the people, the conditions and the geography of Santa Fe County and remarkably well qualified to discharge the duties of the office courageously, satisfactorily and efficiently.

He is a native of Canada, having been born at Workworth in the Do- minion in the year 1867. In early childhood his parents moved to New England. His father had become a naturalized citizen before marriage. Twenty-seven years ago the family moved to Las Vegas where young Closson grew to manhood. Before coming to Las Vegas he attended the public schools in his New England home and thereafter a private school in Las Vegas. At the early age of 16 he became a plumber's apprentice and learned the plumber's trade. There- after, he was associated in business with his father for several years in the Meadow City. He moved to Cerillos in this county seventeen years ago and engaged in mercantile busi- ness in that mining town, where he remained until 1900 when he came to Santa Fe and entered the livery busi- ness, which he conducts today in a very successful manner and which has grown to very good propor- tions under his careful, painstaking and courteous management. He married in Las Vegas and he and family are permanent residents of Santa Fe. He is one of the best known men in the county and what is more well and favorably known. He is straight- forward and honest in all transactions, and will carry these characteristics in- to official life should he be elected, of which there ought to be no doubt. If the people of Santa Fe County de- sire the right man in the right place and a sheriff who will impartially en- force the laws as they are on the statute books, who will be fearless and treat all alike in the discharge of his duties, who will manage the jail eco- nomically and honestly and will in all respects perform his duty manfully and honorably, then let them elect Charles C. Closson to the office for which he has been nominated. They will make no mistake by doing so.

REPUBLICANS WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

In Dona Ana County This Campaign--
Probable Nominees--Convention
20th Instant.

Special to the New Mexican.
Las Cruces, October 13.—The polit- ical situation in Dona Ana County is very favorable to the Republicans and it looks as if the largest majority ev- er attained by any party in the county will be given the Republican legisla- tive and county tickets on Novem- ber 6th. The Democrats are demoral- ized and it is thought that not even a county convention of that party for the nomination of candidates for county and legislative offices will be in the field. The Democratic politicians here admit this and it looks to be a fact.

The Republicans are united and the differences heretofore existing have been smoothed over. The con- vention which will meet here on the 20th instant, will likely renominate Armijo for the position of probate clerk and ex-officio recorder which he has filled for three terms so satisfactorily and efficiently that the name of no other candidate is even being mentioned. Oscar Loh- man, present incumbent will likely be renominated for the position of treas- urer and ex-officio collector as he has made a very good record and has conducted the office honestly and faithfully.

For assessor Charles S. Miller is in the field and stands a good show for the nomination; R. Nietzschmann is prominently mentioned as a candi- date for the board of county commis- sioners and Roman De La O is being talked of for probate judge; L. F. Ellis is in the race for nomination of superintendent of public schools and in all probability will be successful. Jose R. Lucero, the present incumbent of the office of sheriff and who is a very efficient and prompt officer, may be the nominee for that office; else the nomination may go to his brother Felipe Lucero who has been chief deputy for some years and who is competent and qualified for the pos- sition.

The renomination of Delegate An- drews is very popular and a very heavy vote will be given him as his services to the people during the first session of the 59th Congress are well known and fully appreciated by Dona Ana County voters.

MINERS' CONVENTION MAY TRY TO CHANGE LAWS.

Phoenix, Arizona, Oct. 13.—It is ex- pected that a movement will be set on foot to secure important legisla- tion as regards the mining laws, at a convention of the Arizona Miners' Association which meet here October 14 and 15. Delegates and visitors are expected from all parts of Arizona also from Mexico, New Mexico, Texas, Colorado and California.

BROOM CORN IN THE ESTANCIA VALLEY

E. S. Groves, Moriarty Settler Gives His Experience--Encouraging Outlook.

E. S. Groves, formerly of Wichita, Kansas, who made a homestead entry in April of last year near Moriarty, was in the city today on business. He is engaged in immigration work in Kansas and expects to bring a num- ber of settlers to the Estancia Valley this fall. He seeded about 27 acres in broom corn on his homestead this spring. This did not mature, but he is of the opinion that had he planted the seed earlier in the season, this bene- fitting by the wet condition of the ground in April he would have reaped a good crop. He planted about one and a half acres in Mexican beans which did fairly well. He has great faith in the section surrounding Moriarty and believes with proper cultiva- tion, good crops of cereals can be raised on the land there. Mr. Groves has a comfortable house on his claim in which he and his wife reside. He has fenced his 160 acres and has a fine well on the place, this being forty feet deep and containing an abun- dant supply of water for domestic and stock purposes. Mr. Groves has been a manufacturer of brooms for twenty years and is thoroughly conversant with the business. He desires to in- terest farmers in the valley to raise broom corn that he may start a fac- tory in that section. He believes the land in the valley is peculiarly well adapted to that purpose. He does not expect much for the first year or two in that line, but thinks that fine crops of broom corn can be raised there, after the land has been culti- vated for two or three seasons and becomes what might be called some- what civilized.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM WIRES

Suit has been filed in the district court at Topeka, Kansas, against the International Harvester Company of America in which it is charged in fifty counts with a conspiracy with the International Harvester Company of New Jersey to form a trust and control the sale of agricultural im- plements in Kansas. Proceedings are being conducted by Assistant State Attorney F. S. Jackson.

The Pope at Rome is in excellent health and today received a large number of visitors in private audience chief among whom was Right Rev. E. Grouard, Apostolic Vicar of Athabasca, Canada, of whom the Pope made inquiries of the church in Canada.

Twenty workmen were burned, two fatally, by the explosion of a converter in the Illinois Steel Com- pany's plant near Chicago today.

Eugene Peronier was killed, twelve were injured and four may die, as the result of a street car accident in Los Angeles today. A brake on a Brooklyn Avenue and Southern Depot line car, failed to work and the car raced down a steep hill and crashed into a telephone pole.

SLIGHT EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT IN ALBUQUERQUE.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 13.—Two slight earthquake shocks which shook pictures and bric-a-brac were felt in Albuquerque about two o'clock yester- day afternoon. No damage was done. The shocks, it is said, were felt as far south as El Paso. Few people in Albuquerque knew of the seismic dis- turbances until informed through the press.

Socorro and Belen Again Shaken. Belen, N. M., Oct. 13.—A slight earthquake shock occurred here yester- day afternoon at 1:45 o'clock at the same time vibrations were felt at Albuquerque and Socorro. Only a few of the residents of this place no- ticed the earth quiver.

CZAR'S OFFICERS STILL ON TRIAL

For Being Whipped
By Japanese in Recent War.

TERRORISTS IN ROYAL COURT

Caused Stringent Order to Be Issued--Searching For Mysterious Auto.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—The com- mission which is investigating the conduct of the Russian officers who took part in the battle of the Sea of Japan has taken up the case of Rear Admiral Enquist, commander of the light cruisers squadron who escaped to Manila. Admiral Enquist will be heard on Tuesday in justification of the withdrawal of his ships during the battle.

Court Employees Cannot Rent Rooms. The minister of the Imperial Court has issued an order forbidding officials and employees of the court to rent rooms or otherwise shelter any per- sons without a special permission of the minister. The order is due to the arrest of Klepner and other terror- ists at Peterhof on September 28 and the discovery that many of the partici- pants in the conspiracy were living unsuspected in the immediate vicinity of the Palace. The police are search- ing for a mysterious automobile sup- posed to belong to the terrorists which appeared in St. Petersburg recently.

VALUABLE ADDITION TO COLLECTIONS

Of the Historical Society of New Mexico--Rare Books--Ancient Pottery.

The New Mexico Historical Society is constantly adding to its collections in various lines. Among the recent acquisitions is "The Historical Rela- tion of the Life and Apostolic Lab- ors of Fray Junipero Serra." This contains the full account, largely in the form of Father Junipero's Fray, of the foundation of all the missions in California. It is the origi- nal edition in Spanish, bound in vel- ume and a copy of which was for sale in New York two years ago, was pur- chased at $50. The volume now be- longing to the Historical Society was bought in Chile, for a very reasonable sum, and is of great historic value.

Another book of large interest is the History of the Inquisition in Mex- ico by Jose Toribio Medina, a work just published and containing a com- plete account of all the acts of the Inquisition from its establishment in 1569 to its final destruction in 1820, including of course the cases in New Mexico. It is a large quarto, entitled "Historia del Tribunal del Santo Oficio de la Inquisicion en Mexico."

In other directions the collections are increasing. Among pamphlets lately acquired is a copy of the pro- posed constitution of New Mexico for- mulated in 1872, of special interest at this time. A number of fine pieces of pottery, illustrating the work of Acocma, Cien and Santa Ana, have just been added to the collection of Pue- blo pottery, which is now second only to the collection in the National Museum.

MAGOON TAKES REINS IN CUBA

Succeeded Taft as Governor at Noon
Today.

ADVOCATES SAME POLICY

As Predecessor in Proclamation to the People of Island.

Havana, Oct. 13.—Charles E. Ma- goon assumed the governorship of Cuba at noon today, succeeding Sec- retary of War Taft. In his proclama- tion Governor Magoon said:

"The policy declared and the assur- ances given by Secretary Taft will be strictly adhered to and carried out. As provisional governor, I shall exer- cise the powers and perform the du- ties provided for by the third article, appendix to the constitution of Cuba, for the preservation of Cuban inde- pendence and the protection of life and property."

Shall Seek to Replace Cuban People in Power.

"As soon as is consistent with the attainment of these ends, I shall seek to bring about a restoration of the ordinary agencies and methods of gov- ernment under which the other and general provisions of the constitution and laws which for the time being would be inconsistent with the exer- cise of the powers provided for by the third article of the appendix must be deemed to be in abeyance."

"All other provisions of the constitu- tion and laws continue in full force and effect."

Magoon Assumed Control Without Formalities. Without any formality excepting the issuing of an extraordinary copy of the Gazette, the government of Cuba was transferred at noon today by Secretary of War Taft to Charles E. Magoon. Governor Magoon issued a proclamation in assuming the gov- ernment of Cuba which differed from Secretary Taft's in referring definite- ly to the Platt amendment as author- ity for the United States intervention and for all the exercises of power in the island. Messrs. Taft, and Bacon and General Funston and their re- spective parties will proceed north- ward on the battleships at four o'clock this afternoon.

BIG PLANET FALLING TO EARTH

Strange Object in Heavens Seen
From Indian School Was Not a Balloon Light at Night.

It is now believed that the object discernible in the heavens to the south of the city from four until near- ly nine o'clock yesterday was a fall- ing planet. It was watched through a glass by Clerk Frank Crandall at the school until it was finally hidden from sight behind the clouds which overcast the sky last night. In speak- ing of the strange object, Mr. Cran- dall said:

"When the object was first noticed yesterday afternoon by Indian stu- dents, it had the appearance of a white globe which gave the idea that it was a balloon. However, when darkness came, the object had grown in size, evidently caused by its nearer approach and threw off a dull light, not like a shooting star or comet but much after the fashion of a big incan- descent globe. There was a dull light about the object in a circle, as of a shaded lamp turned low. It was a sort of subdued phosphorescent glow, and gave an uncanny light to the sky in the immediate vicinity. The Indian boys and girls were awed by the sight and to tell the truth, it had a similar effect on me. I focused a four foot telescope on the object and kept it in sight for quite a while. It was apparently sailing slowly earth- ward, much as a parachute would drift downward before a slight breeze. I feel confident that the object was not a balloon as I thought at first but was a planet of some sort, drifting slowly earthward. When the sky be- came overcast with clouds the object was not strongly lighted enough to shine through and I could no longer see it. This morning, I searched the heavens with a glass but could find no trace of the object."

The local weather office, this morn- ing said that nothing regarding the object had been learned. It was the opinion there, that a comet had be- come visible for a few hours.

DENVER ATTORNEY DEAD IN PARIS

Word Received by Brother--No Details--Formerly Colorado State Senator.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 13.—Oscar Reuter, for many years prominent in legal and political circles died this morn- ing in Paris where he has been visit- ing, according to a cablegram re- ceived here by his brother Charles Reuter. No particulars were received. He was for a time state Senator and afterwards a member of the board of public works in Denver. He was 58 years old.

25,000 SAW BASEBALL GAME

In Chicago---5,000 Persons Turned Away.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF WORLD

Hangs in Balance--Nationals and Americans Have Best Men in Field.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—Excitement over the base ball championship series continues at high tension. Before the game was called today there was a general opinion that the winner of to- day's contest would almost certainly win the series, because defeat would mean that it was necessary to win two straight games, a task which would be a heavy handicap where the clubs are so evenly matched. The weather is ideal.

General Interest in Sport Never So Great.

Public interest all over the United States and even in London, where considerable money will change hands, has never been so great, since the days of baseball. The crowds at the big park could not be accommodated although every available space was utilized. With each team having two games to its credit and the best play- ers in each league in today's contest, there was no possibility of forecasting the result. Betting as on yesterday was even, and both leagues have thou- sands of supporters and rooters.

The batteries for the Nationals were: Ruhlback and Kling; for the Americans, Walsh and Sullivan.

Five Thousand People Turned Away and 25 Thousand Admitted.

At 1:15 o'clock every foot of space inside the West Side Park was occu- pied. At 1:40 o'clock the gates were ordered closed. It was estimated that five thousand persons were out- side, some offering as high as $20 for entrance. President Murphy said that there were at least 25,000 people in- side of the park.

BULLETIN--Heavy batting was the feature in the game. The Americans scored one and the Nationals three in the first inning. The Americans then evened the score with two runs in the third and added four more runs with the Nationals only one in the fourth inning. Score at the end of the fourth inning: Americans 7; Nationals 4.

MONTREAL BANK DID NOT FAIL

Reported in Trouble and Depositors
Started a Run But the Institution Paid All Accounts.

Montreal, Canada, Oct. 13.—A heavy run on the Montreal branch of the Ontario bank developed today, as the result of the publication yesterday of a statement that the bank was alleged to be in difficulties and that arrange- ments had been made by the bank of Montreal to take over its business. The depositors, however, were paid in full and R. N. King, the local man- ager, said:

"We opened this morning as usual and as you see, are doing a big busi- ness. I have no other instructions than to carry on the business as usual and we shall pay the depositors what ever they demand until they are per- fectly satisfied."

STOLE SAME HORSE THREE TIMES

Remarkable Case of Ohio Convict
Who Died Last Night in Insane
Ward of Prison.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 13.—Edward Baker, aged sixty years, died in the penitentiary last night, having occu- pied a cell in the insane ward for some time. Baker seemed to have a mania for stealing a certain horse in Vanwert County. He was sent up for a short time for stealing the animal. When he got out he took the horse again and was sent up a second time. As soon as he was released he went to Vanwert County and stole the same horse a third time and was sen- tenced to fifteen years.

MOUNT PELEE NOT IN ERUPTION

French Cable Company Reports That Stories Circulated Yesterday Were False.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 13.—At the offices of the French Cable Company in this city today it was stated that there had been no fresh eruption of Mount Pelee Island of Martinique. Superintendent Sweeney of the French Cable Company's office said:

"I have this moment received the following telegram from Martinique: 'Stories of fresh eruption of Mount Pelee false, volcano is calm.'"

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

NAILING MORE ARIZONA LIES.

The Arizona Republican, published at Phoenix, the mouthpiece of the federal office holders, of the mining corporations that are tyrannizing the sister territory, and of the railroad companies in Arizona, in a recent issue prints a libelous and slanderous editorial directed against the citizens of the Sunshine Territory. The charges contained therein are so baseless, the accusations so groundless, the assaults upon the good name and fair fame of the people of New Mexico so vindictive, but so false that the New Mexican republishes it in full in order to show to the voters of this Territory the depth of degradation to which the anti-joint statehood newspapers and corporations and their supporters in Arizona have come, and to answer some of the falsehoods contained therein.

The Republican says: "Though the jointists libeled Arizona when they wrote to President Roosevelt that the joint statehood vote in this Territory would not be fairly counted, they, after all, performed a possible service to the cause of anti-joint statehood in two ways. They again unmasked their dishonest methods and when the more voters see of them the still less are they inclined to joinure."

"The most valuable service they performed in laying their dark charges of intended fraud before the President was to attract his attention to the need of safeguarding the New Mexican ballot about which, we on this side had been but little concerned since we have been aware that we would fully and finally dispose of the joint statehood business ourselves."

"But the President's directions to Governor Hagerman, unintentionally called out by the lying accusation of the Arizona Joint Statehood League against their neighbors will have the possible effect of procuring for the anti-joint statehood vote in New Mexico a fair count. A result of such a count may be the defeat of jointure there. Though such a result would be by no means essential, it would be very gratifying to Arizonians and it is now, we think, within the range of possibilities."

"We have all along thought in a rather disinterested way, that if a fair election could be held in New Mexico, anti-jointure would prevail. Later developments have strengthened that belief."

"For instance, at the Territorial Republican convention at Las Vegas, last week, jointure resolutions were adopted by a vote of only a little more than two to one. Those who know anything about political methods in New Mexico will understand how little that vote necessarily represented public sentiment in the Territory. That convention was even more notorious than any of its predecessors. It was composed of delegates mostly selected by federal office holders and political corruptionists who had been discharged from county and territorial offices for proved or suspected dishonesty."

"The Democratic county conventions have disclosed in that party a strong opposition to jointure. The great mass of the voters of both parties have not been heard from. Their very silence may be interpreted as unfavorable to jointure."

"Thanks to the jointists of Arizona, these silent voters may be given an opportunity for expression at the polls. Thus it may be that infamous slander against Arizona with a purpose of injuring Governor Kibbey may after all, have served a worthy purpose."

"God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform."

The facts are: There is no one in New Mexico, joint state or anti-joint state, at all acquainted with the situation, who does not believe that there will be a fair election and that the ballots polled will be counted as they should be, fairly and honestly. There are sections in this Territory where there is apathy towards joint statehood but no antipathy. Again, there are sections where the joint statehood sentiment is very strong. In all of these there appears no disposition today, and there will be none on election day, to thwart the will of the voters in anyway. Quite the reverse. The desire on the part of all citizens of both political parties is to give the important question a fair chance and to have it decided by the people as they deem best."

The Republican knowingly tells a falsehood when it says that in the Las Vegas convention the joint statehood resolutions were adopted by a vote of two to one. The fact is that they were adopted by a vote of four to one which is a pretty good indication that the great majority of the Republicans favor the question. In the Democratic convention the joint statehood resolutions were adopted by a vote of five to one which is another instance that gives the lie to the charges of the Republican."

It is well known that the letter of President Roosevelt to Governor Kibbey was simply directed against Arizona and while the President addressed a similar letter to Governor Hagerman this was second thought and had not the rotten and corrupt condition of affairs in Arizona been brought to the President's attention and had not the fear been expressed that the mining corporations, the railroad magnates and the federal and Territorial officials there would attempt fraud and would endeavor to disfranchise the friends and supporters of joint statehood, the President would never have addressed a letter to the Governor of this Territory. Even as it is the latter was unnecessary and being unnecessary it has not attracted any attention in this Territory.

When the Republican says that the Las Vegas convention "was composed of delegates mostly selected by federal office holders and political corruptionists who had been discharged from county and Territorial offices for proved or suspected dishonesty," it tells another damnable lie. There was never a time in the history of New Mexico when the federal or Territorial office holders had as little influence or as little to do with conventions, and are contributing as little to the success of the party as at this time. The people have taken the matter into their own hands and are conducting the campaign through their chosen agents, no more and no less. There are but few office holders on the Republican Central Committee, although this consists of sixty-eight members. In the Republican Central Committees of the counties both federal and Territorial office holders are conspicuous by their absence. The case is different in Arizona. It is well known and pretty well substantiated that were the federal and Territorial office holders of that Territory and the agents of the big mining corporations and powerful railroad companies not holding up the voters there at what might be called the point of the pistol, and had they not bought up nine out of ten of the newspapers of the Territory, and much of its citizenship, the sentiment for joint statehood would prove the strongest and a handsome majority for the proposition would be given on November 6th next.

TRUE AND TIMELY WORDS. Uncle Joe Cannon in an address this week at Chicago gives the professional reformers a left hander that will be remembered by them. He said among other equally as forceful things: "But in all eras of important accomplishment the dreamer, the demagogue, the self-seeker, have tried in the past, as they are trying today, to lead the impatient, the ignorant and the selfish, as well as those who are patriotic but mistaken, away from the basic principles of sound, effective government into the realm of theoretical reform, mysticism and doubt. At this time there are many, some in New York, some in Nebraska, some in Massachusetts, who, while protesting their love for the people, are endeavoring to lead them into paths that would lead but to disorder, anarchy and ruin. We, as the majority organization, have not only to take care of ourselves, but we have to take care of a misguided and misled minority. Many men of many minds is an old saw which is as true today as when it was written, and you cannot bring together nearly five hundred legislators, representing many sections of the country and many different and conflicting interests, without differences of opinion as to what shall be done and how to do it."

Speaker Cannon then points out how President Roosevelt and the members of Congress came together, each giving way a little, none of them stubborn or pursuing visionary reforms or insisting that all purity, all righteousness, all honesty is concentrated in this or that faction or person. It was by compromises with practical politicians, with party organizations, with leaders, that far greater legislative results were accomplished than, if the President or Congressmen had insisted upon his or their way alone, or had not asked advice or guidance of each other, or had accused each other of graft, or of insincerity, or of ignorance, and insisted that each could and should carry on the government without the other."

A TACIT ADMISION.

The Panama Commission has come to the sensible conclusion that the Panama Canal can best be dug under private contract. Chairman Shontz has issued invitations to the contractors of all the world to submit bids for the construction of the waterway, the principal conditions being that the successful bidder, if a corporation, must be capitalized at $5,000,000 or more, that a bond of $3,000,000 will be demanded from the successful bidder and that all Americans employed in whatever capacity shall work no more than eight hours a day. All proposals must be submitted by December 12. The commission will retain control of all engineering work. Bids must be for the entire construction of the canal. It is thus believed that not only time but money will be saved for the government. Still this late conclusion of the commission to give the work out by contract, is a tacit admission that the time has not yet arrived when government ownership and government prosecution of large enterprises can be made as successful as the present policy of individualism."

INVITE THE PRESIDENT TO SANTA FE.

The Roosevelt Rough Riders Association is to hold its next annual session at Prescott in 1907, although the exact date has not yet been fixed. President Roosevelt is to attend the gathering. The President ought to be invited and induced to visit Santa Fe on his way to the Arizona town. With in a few miles of this city there are fine chances for a good bear hunt and these should be taken advantage of. The President could spend a few hours or a day in the Santa Fe Mountains most pleasantly and more comfortably, especially in June, July or August than he could anywhere else on this great American continent. The Rough Riders of this city should lose no time in tendering him an invitation and urge him to accept it. If not, why not?

REPUBLICANS WILL CARRY COLIFAX COUNTY.

The Republicans of Colfax County have nominated a very strong ticket and expect to carry the county by the largest majority ever given any party there. This may reach 2,000 and more. Nearly all of the officials now in office have been re-nominated as the county has enjoyed a clean, honest and capable government and as tax payers, property owners and citizens generally do not care for a change. This is very gratifying news. Delegate Andrews will run via the ticket and his vote will be bound abreast if not ahead of some other candidates thereon.

The board of county commissioners, namely, the two members who voted for the measure, Messrs. Seligman and Roybal, are certainly entitled to the thanks of the property owners and good citizens of this city in their action in ordering the construction of a cement bridge across the Santa Fe River on Galisteo Street. This structure is greatly needed as there is much travel on the thoroughfare and as the streets on which the bridge is situated are of importance. The bridge will be another handsome and beneficial improvement to the city.

From many sections of the United States east and north of New Mexico have reports of very severe storms, much snow and disagreeable weather during the past week. In New Mexico, on the other hand, especially in Santa Fe, the weather has been ideal. The skies are the bluest, the sunshine of the most comfortable and healthgiving and the atmosphere of the purest. People really in search of a good climate must come to the Sunshine Territory, and especially to its Capital, the City of Santa Fe.

The property owners and tax payers of Precinct 18 of this county and of Ward 4 of this city are desirous of having the City Board of Education erect a modern, commodious brick school house in the ward. They are entitled to this preference. The New Mexican favors the plan. This city cannot have too many modern, comfortable, healthy and up to date school houses and good teachers. The better an educational system there is built up here the better for the progress and advancement of the town.

Twelve new school districts in one of the smallest counties of the Territory, that of Quay, established in the course of one year because of the great influx of immigrants. What better indication of marvelous growth and that this growth is of the right kind, than this single item of news from Quay County.

General Frederick Funston has served under the Cuban flag before, but he wasn't on Uncle Sam's payroll then. He is again in Cuba but now draws the nice pay of a brigadier general in the U. S. Army. This is much better than being a Cuban insurgent.

Either temperance agitation or lack of money reduced Great Britain's drink bill $25,000,000 last year, but it is still the largest in the world per capita. This is an indication that the "right little isle" is not getting "right" as often as it did prior to last year.

Taft was the whole thing in the Philippines, and now he is the whole thing in Cuba. While it does not necessarily follow that he shall play the same role in this country, nevertheless, he may be chosen for that task. Taft is a big man mentally and physically and why not?

Should the people's party of Benaville County live strictly up to its platform, after winning the millennium will be in Albuquerque. But the chances for its success are so slim that there is no use in bothering.

New York also has a state and municipal ownership party, which has a full ticket in the field, headed by J. W. Cody, who says he will make a whirlwind campaign following Hearst in a private car.

Experts in statecraft will doubtless puzzle no little over the complication of Cuba being under United States rule and still flying the Cuban flag. It's a puzzler for anybody.

Rid Yourself of Unnecessary Burdens. A Santa Fe Citizen Shows You How.

Don't bear unnecessary burdens. Burdens of a bad back are unnecessary. Get rid of them. Doan's Kidney Pills cure bad backs. Cure lame, weak and aching backs. Cure every form of kidney ills. Lots of local endorsement to prove this.

Thomas Baca, miner of Cerrillos Street says: "I have not the slightest hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I thoroughly believe from my experience that anyone troubled with an aching back, and most miners are annoyed with that tormenting affliction, who goes to Ireland's Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills and take a course of the treatment will find his backache cease. I had attacks for about three years, never so that I could not work, but many a time I would have laid off had I been able to afford it. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped a very serious attack. I am thoroughly convinced they will prove as beneficial to others as they did to me."

AN ODD BIRD SPECIES.

She Does the Courting and He Most of the Nursery Work.

Wilson's phalarope is very common in nearly all parts of the northwestern prairies wherever there are grassy pools or sloughs. It is a quiet, beautiful little bird, with no immodest outcries, feeding pretty much along the moist margins of the sloughs and not distressing itself over our presence. From nearly every standpoint this phalarope, like all other species of its class, is an anomaly among the birds. Apparently a land bird, it has partially webbed or scalloped feet and is a good and graceful swimmer. The female is the larger and handsomer of the pair. She does the courting and he most of the subsequent incubation and nursery work. He is duly meek and obedient, as becomes the husband of an amazon, for so worthy and strenuous a young female as she will not tolerate a buck hanging around idle when there is plenty of useful work to be done. For her part, to lay eggs so big that the chicks are clothed and able to run at birth is all that should reasonably be expected of her. Their marital relations are otherwise scandalous from our point of view. Two or three idle, vainglorious females are often seen deroting themselves to one little male at the height of the nesting season, and no one seems to be sure whether or not he is the husband of any one or all of them. Anyhow, they are all head over ears in love with him.—Herbert K. Job in Outing Magazine.

INDIAN REMEDIES. Peculiar Medical Methods Used in the Far East. Great virtues are ascribed to the claws and horns of certain animals. Tigers' claws are in great demand with the common people. One or two claws may be worn near the loins, but should one possess a larger number the fortunate owner makes a garland of them and wears them around his neck. Deer's horn ground into the paste is an excellent balm for pain and swellings. A more curious use is found for the same substance; it is sometimes made into a powder which is supposed to aid the growth of stunted women. The joints taken from the long and slender tail of the black scorpion are supposed to keep illness at arm's distance when children wear them on their waist thread. A red or swollen eye is cured by having it touched with the bolt or chain of a door. A remedy which I have seen applied with considerable effect in more than one epileptic fit is to place a bunch of keys in the palm of the sufferer. I have heard it said that the fit passes away as readily if the keys are placed on the head. A rather quaint remedy in the case of a sprained neck is to use an iron measure for a pillow. Sore throat is cured by spitting on red-hot iron, quite the simplest and least expensive cure known to the native doctor. Peacock's flesh and pig's ghee are the best medicines for acute rheumatism.—Madras Mail.

The power of steam was known to Hero of Alexandria, who exhibited what seems from the description to have been a small steam engine to Ptolemy Philadelphus and his court about 150 B. C. Pliny describes a small boat built by a "magician" of Rome which moved by means of a wheel "driven by a pot of hot water." Watt's invention of a rotary steam engine was patented in 1769. The first railway locomotive was built by Trevithick in 1804. The first practical locomotive was perfected by Stephenson in 1825. As early as 1707 Denys Papin built a model of a steamboat, which was destroyed by a mob of boatmen. The first practical steamboat was built by William Symington in 1802. In 1803 Robert Fulton in connection with Chancellor Livingston built a steamboat, which was tried on the Seine. In 1807 the Clermont began trips from New York to Albany.

DISTRICT COURT FOR SAN JUAN COUNTY

In Session During Week—Juries Impaneled and Number of Cases Disposed Of.

The fall term of the first district court for San Juan County opened Monday, October 8 at Aztec, Judge John R. McElie presiding. A. M. Bergere was at his post as clerk. The Territory was represented by District Attorney Alexander Read.

Immediately after court convened J. D. Sena of Santa Fe, was appointed court interpreter, and was sworn in at once. A. L. Hickman and A. B. Knickerbocker were named and qualified as bailiffs. The empanelling of the grand and petit juries was the next order of business.

The grand jury was partially organized with the following members: J. H. Hampton, Luis Torres, Charles D. Green, Leonardo Jaquez, L. Hampton, Fred Townsend, J. H. Bruce, Fernandez Gonzalez, R. Ripley, Francisco Pacheco, Albert Blake and W. P. Gavin. E. A. Dewey and W. L. Padgett were drawn on the grand jury venire but were excused from duty for sufficient reasons.

The following were sworn in as petit jurors: German Barela, Charles Marshall, William G. Blank, Jose Aragon, B. D. Black, T. O. Kirk, L. Huntsman, Marion Hendricks, Jose M. Quintana, W. G. Gilbreath, R. W. Hefflin, D. A. Gambill, T. A. Nelson, Lorenzo Garcia, George Adair, Jr., O. Freeman, J. W. Hutchinson, Joe Cohl, Jose M. Archuleta, H. C. Reynolds, and Grant Wagner. Frank Quinn, Henry Hull, Joe Alton, E. A. Browne and G. H. Black were discharged from service.

The grand and petit juries being complete the court drew special panels for each and the clerk issued venues returnable forthwith.

Judge McElie then called the civil and criminal dockets and the following cases were then taken up:

No. 125. Territory of New Mexico vs. Robert Caviness, murder. Continued with pleas writ.

No. 177. Territory of New Mexico vs. Joseph Palen, rape, continued pleas writ.

THE BEAUTIFUL ESPANOLA VALLEY

Finest Possible Conditions for Fruit Raising—Abundance of Water.

The Espanola Valley of the Rio Grande beginning twenty miles north of Santa Fe and extending north twenty-five miles to Embudo is perhaps the greatest irrigated valley in New Mexico. No other valley has a better climate, soil, variety of products or more abundant supply of water for irrigation. The soil in this valley is free from alkali, cold, stormy winters or excessively hot summers; it is shut in by high mountains and as a fruit district the conditions are almost perfect. Thousands of acres lie uncultivated and eighty per cent of the waters of the great Rio Grande roll by unused. Home seekers are settling here rapidly and more are welcomed to help make this beautiful valley the best in the Rockies.

For further particulars in general, prices of bearing orchards, improved and unimproved lands, etc., address Roscoe C. Bonney, real estate and immigration agent, Espanola, New Mexico.

If all dyspepsia sufferers knew what Dr. Shoop's Restorative would do for them, dyspepsia would practically be a disease of the past. Dr. Shoop's Restorative reaches stomach troubles by its direct tonic action upon the inside nerves—the true stomach nerves. For stomach distress or weakness, fullness, bloating, belching, we recommend and sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Fischer Drug Co.

Piles positively cured with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. It's made for piles alone, and it does the work to perfection. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles, disappear like magic. Sold by The Fischer Drug Co.

Result of Neglect. Don't forget our large and complete bindery and job department. All work handled promptly and in the most up-to-date manner. One trial makes you a permanent patron.

An Awful Cough Cured. "Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. She stopped coughing and got stout and fat," writes Mrs. Ora Bussard, Brubaker, Illinois. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

A Perfect Bowel Laxative for constipation, shallow complexion, headache, coated tongue, biliousness. Laxative act promptly, without pain or griping. Pleasant to take—Laxative—only 5 cents. Sold by The Fischer Drug Co.

Torments of Tetter and Eczema Alayed. The intense itching characteristic of eczema tetter and like skin diseases is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve and many severe cases have been permanently cured by its use. For sale by all druggists.

Sick Headache Cured. Sick headache is caused by derangement of the stomach and by indigestion. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets correct these disorders and effect a cure. By taking these tablets as soon as the first indication of the disease appears, the attack may be ward off. Get a free sample and try them. For sale by all druggists.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Governor Hagerman is expected to return this evening from his visit to Rio Arriba and San Juan Counties.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Blanke of St. Louis, after spending a few days sight-seeing in Santa Fe, left yesterday afternoon for Albuquerque.

Mrs. W. M. Smith, of Trinidad, Colorado, wife of the commercial agent of the Santa Fe railway in that city, has gone to Belen on a visit to her married daughter in that town. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were former residents of this city where Mr. Smith was for several years local agent of the Santa Fe railway.

Los Balladores Club opened the season of 1906-07 last night at Adams' Hall 106 Palace Avenue, with an enjoyable dance, which, however, was not largely attended owing to the fact that there were several other attractions in the city, including a theatrical performance. Dancing began promptly at 9 o'clock and continued until midnight. Morrison's orchestra which has been re-engaged for the season, rendered new music. Hereafter dances will be held on the second and fourth Friday's of each month.

The teachers of the city schools have formed a club for the purpose of promoting social affairs among the instructors and for the discussion of school work. The club was entertained at 5 o'clock tea yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Fletcher at her apartments adjoining the library on Lincoln Avenue. Covers were laid for eight. The table was prettily decorated with sweet peas while an immense imitation ship, of the period of 1812 formed the centerpiece. Small ships afloat upon miniature seas of sweet peas were the favors at each plate. After luncheon, tastily served the evening was spent in conversation. Beside the hostess there were present: Misses Bach, Grygla, Walker, Alonzo, Daniel, Barney and Phelps.

A new club which has for its object to see that no member has a birthday anniversary without the occasion being duly celebrated, made its appearance in the Capital City recently. The charter members are: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Morrison, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. David Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eble, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. King, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Garrett, and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Fiske. The club met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Morrison, Jr., on the Fort Marcy Addition, where Mr. Morrison was declared the "victim" of the occasion. Just how old he was, Mr. Morrison would not state, but he was slapped on the back well up into the forties. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing cards, music and conversation.

Invitations have been received by friends in this city of Judge and Mrs. A. Z. Fall, of El Paso, announcing the marriage of their daughter Alexina to Clarence Cornell Chase, the ceremony to take place in the First Christian Church in the Pass City at high noon Wednesday the 21st of October coming. Judge and Mrs. Fall are former residents of New Mexico and have many friends throughout the Territory. Judge Fall was for many years a prominent figure in New Mexico politics and served as an associate justice of the Territorial Supreme Court during the second Cleveland administration. He also held a commission as captain in the First Territorial Volunteer Infantry during the Spanish-American War. The bride to be, is a tall, handsome, accomplished girl and the bridegroom is a prominent young business man who is connected with the mining operations of Colonel C. W. Greene in Arizona and in Mexico.

Santa Fe society was well represented at the ball held Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Woman's Board of Trade. The spacious dining

Do You Wish To Look Younger?

Would you like to be the target of admiring eyes at the next social affair you attend?

There is one sure way to have your complexion rival that of the handsomest woman you know. It is this:

Apply Hagerman's Magnolia Balm to your face, neck and arms in the privacy of your dressing room and your own sister will not be able to detect its use.

It is not a cosmetic, consequently it leaves no disagreeable, sticky feeling after using. It is a delicately scented liquid lotion and absolutely harmless.

Its results are immediate. It will banish freckles, tan, pimples and other blemishes, and make your complexion soft and velvety like it was when you were but twenty.

Ladies who used it forty years ago are using it to-day.

room of the Palace hotel was the scene of the festivities and dancing was of course the principal amusement. Those who had never learned how to trip the light fantastic or whose frivolous days are over, found enjoyment in watching the others commingling in the dreamy waltz or lively two-step. The dining hall was converted into a ball room for the occasion and the pleasure of the affair was not marred by overcrowding. It was a delightful function and insured the success of others to follow at intervals. The Woman's Board of Trade has by diligent efforts raised a tidy sum of money with which to build a modern and creditable library for Santa Fe. The members have not quite enough money on hand for their laudable purpose and they concluded that one way to secure needed funds was through the medium of the dance. Accordingly the board arranged to give a series of public balls during the fall and winter season in anticipation that the proceeds may make up the deficiency. These events will surely be popular as the dance devotees will be afforded an opportunity of indulging in their favorite pastime and deriving all the pleasure there is in it while helping to swell the receipts. A large number of tickets were disposed of for the initial function which were not presented at the door. Among those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Prince, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Barshar, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Renahan, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. ## A COMPLIMENT- TARY OPINION

A Pupil of the Loretto Academy
Highly Commends the Publication
"To the Land of Sunshine."

The New Mexican is greatly pleased to publish the following commendation of the book "To the Land of Sunshine" published by the Bureau of Immigration, and written by one of the pupils of the Academy of the Sisters of Loretto in this city. The letter speaks for itself, is remarkably well written and the commendation should be highly appreciated by the author and compilers of the volume.

"All Praise to the New Mexican! The compilers of 'To the Land of Sunshine' deserve much credit for their masterful exposition of the advantages and enjoyments that living in New Mexico affords. I found the book highly interesting and entertaining, yet scrupulously free from exaggeration or acclamation.

"The illustrations are clear and true, exhibiting many attractive features and magnificent scenes of the Territory. It seems to me a work well calculated to make every one desirous of coming to New Mexico. Accustomed as we are to read from the book of nature daily the scenic grandeur does not come home to us, or impress us so forcibly as when we read it from a well written page. Had we some other forces, consonant with the New Mexican, at work, the vilifying epithet 'Land of Poco Tiempo' should soon pass into desuetude, and the Land of Golden Opportunities should begin to disclose the, by no means, small feature of our resourceful Territory.

"To the New Mexican then be thanks for its praise worthy efforts to extend the interests of our land by giving all an opportunity of knowing its peerless advantages.

"CARRIE OLSON."

COMPLIMENTS FOR MIDLAND QUINTET

Santa Feans Say Company at Aztec Monday and Enjoyed Entertainment.

Professor J. A. Wood, superintendent of the city schools Thursday evening received letters from Judge John R. McFie and Jose D. Sena, who are officiating at the district court in San Juan County, speaking in complimentary terms of the Midland Opera Quintet, which will appear this evening at the High School. The troupe gave a performance at Aztec on Monday evening.

Judge McFie writes: "The Midlands who are to give a concert in your school house next Saturday night were here last night and we attended their concert. We were absolutely delighted with the entertainment. It is very fine indeed and those who fail to hear it will miss a real treat. The entertainment given by these people would be a credit to any city and I trust our people may appreciate the opportunity they have to hear high class music."

Mr. Sena adds the following commendatory mention:

"I had the pleasure last night to listen to the concert given by the Midland Quintet. It is certainly a very refined affair and something that the music loving people of Santa Fe cannot afford to miss. I certainly feel interested in having my friends listen to the concert on Saturday night in Santa Fe. I am only sorry that I cannot be there myself and get the opportunity of enjoying this concert again."

Charles S. Onderdonk, former manager of the Onderdonk Livestock Company at Lamy, in this county, is on a visit to the Territory from his headquarters in Denver and will be in Santa Fe in a day or two. The Onderdonk Engineering Company, of which he is manager, is now erecting a power house for the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific railroad company at Crow Creek, Colfax County, and Mr. Onderdonk has charge of the work.

Every seat was taken and standing room was at a premium last night at the opera house to see the Frank Rich Stock Company in the funny comedy "Papa's Baby." The people of Santa Fe have realized that this company is far superior to the ordinary repertoire companies, and are showing their appreciation by giving them crowded houses nightly. Tonight they will close their week's engagement with one of the funniest farce comedies in their repertoire: "Wanted a Divorce." The Three Sisters Keelcey and the Hill-Edmond's Trio will give an entire change of specialties.

Charles C. Catron had an exciting experience for a few minutes yesterday evening when the team of horses he was driving attached to a light runabout ran away and he was thrown out. Fortunately he escaped unhurt and at once started in pursuit of the fleeing horses. Mr. Catron was driving around the plaza when the team became unmanageable and his efforts to stop them only caused them to increase their speed. Going west on San Francisco Street the vehicle collided with the curb in front of Kaune's grocery store where it overturned and Mr. Catron was precipitated

BARGAINS IN ORCHARDS AND RANCHES

Located in the Fruitful and Far Fame. Espanola Valley Thirty Miles North of Santa Fe.

The following orchards and farm properties in the famed and fruitful Espanola Valley in southern Rio Arriba County in the Territory of New Mexico, are for sale at a bargain. There are satisfactory reasons for selling. The section is one of the finest fruit and agricultural, not only in New Mexico, but in the southwest. The supply of water for irrigation purposes is ample and stable at all times. The climate is of the best. For particulars address R. C. Bonney, real estate and insurance agent, Espanola, New Mexico. The properties are:

No. 1, 45 acres; 15 acres in alfalfa, one acre bearing orchard; small house, well, barn and corral; all fenced and under irrigation; one mile from post-office, two and a half miles to railroad station; price $30 per acre.

No. 2, Full bearing orchard of 1,200 standard apple trees; six miles from Espanola; good house, barn, corral and packing house; produced 2,300 boxes of apples last year; irrigation from Rio Grande; price $2,000.

No. 3, Seven acre orchard and market garden tract, one-half mile to town, railroad, postoffice, school and church; good six room house, having telephone, barn, corral, cellar and packing house; a highly profitable business and a fine home; produces annually $700 to $900 in vegetables alone; price $2,250.

No. 4, For sale sheep ranch of 52 acres with good fences and improvements, has excellent water, shelter hay land and controls several thousand acres of fine goat grazing land. No better proposition for a paying sheep ranch in New Mexico.

No. 5, Twenty acres, having about ten acres of full bearing apples of standard varieties, peaches and plums, seven acres of good alfalfa and three acres garden land, good five room adobe house, well built and finished, good barn; the whole place almost entirely surrounded by a hedge of box-elder trees which serve as a protection from the wind and add to the attractiveness of the place; produced last year over $1,200; price $2,250; one and a fourth miles east of Espanola.

No. 6, The "Espanola Garden," 2 1/2 miles east of Espanola at $2,250. This place is a full bearing apple orchard and market garden tract of seven acres; a six room house; telephone, barn, cellar, packing house, corral and wire fence and house for chickens. A beautiful and convenient home and a place to make good money, besides apples this place has cherries, pears, plums, quinces and large beds of asparagus, spinach and rhubarb. The vegetable products alone of this place bring in annually $750 to $900. The net receipts last year in vegetables and fruit were over $500. Terms cash.

THUNDERS OF OLD LONDON

The Most Famous Storm of the Last Century Was in 1846.

The most notable thunderstorms on record in London have generally occurred in the month of August. That which made the greatest impression on contemporary observers during the nineteenth century happened on the 1st of the month as long ago as the year 1846, and remarkable accounts of its ravages may be found in the journals of the day. A thunderstorm is not a good subject for a picture, but there appeared in one of the illustrated papers a view of "London during the storm—from Blackheath," which, whether a work of pure imagination or actually drawn from nature, was exceedingly realistic and impressive. The special feature of the storm was the hail with which it was accompanied, though the thermometer stood at 89 degrees in the shade. The panes of glass which were broken by the shower were to be counted by hundreds of millions, and so great was the damage inflicted upon the florists and nurserymen that a month or two afterward a charity fete was held at the Old Surrey zoological gardens for their relief. It is impossible, we are told, to imagine the aspect which the windows in London streets presented before the glaziers, whose services were for a long time at a premium, had repaired the destruction. It is a fact, indeed, anomalous though it appears, that his toric hailstorms have usually coincided with periods of great heat, and, whatever may be the precise relations of heat and electricity, a heavy fall of hail is seldom noted except as the adjunct of a thunderstorm.—London Globe.

BAD SLEEPING HABITS.

Snoring, Grinding the Teeth and Nasal Whistling.

Man is the victim of bad habits in his sleep as well as in his waking hours. So distressing are some of these bad habits of sleep that they oblige wife and husband to occupy separate rooms, even at times causing divorce.

Snoring is of course the commonest if not the worst of sleep's bad habits. Snoring may be remedied. There are a dozen patented devices that, holding the mouth shut tight, prevent the snore.

Grinding the teeth is a disagreeable habit of sleep. It is impossible to sleep in the same room with any one who emits at irregular intervals this hideous sound. The trick is said to be incurable, but a rubber cap worn on the teeth renders the grinding almost noiseless.

Nervous persons sometimes leap in their sleep a foot or more in the air, shaking the bed and the whole room. The man who gives eight or nine of these leaps in the course of the night soon becomes an intolerable bedfellow. Nerve tonics and exercise should be prescribed for him.

Nasal whistling is a habit less easy to cure than snoring. The sleeper keeps his mouth closed, but breathes with a distressing sound through his nose. The sound resembles a low whistle and, heard in the small hours, is guaranteed to madden.

Great Men Who Drank.

Cato was a hard drinker, while, in the language of one writer, old Ben Jonson was constantly "pickled." The poet Savage used to go on the hardest kinds of "tears," and Rogers observed, after seeing his own statue, "It is the first time I have seen him stand straight for many years." Byron says of Porson, the great classical scholar, "I can never recollect him except as drunk or brutal, and generally both." Keats was on a spree once that lasted six months. Horace, Plato, Aristophanes, Euripides, Alcæus, Socrates and Tasso of the old times and Goethe, Schiller, Addison, Pitt, Fox, Blackstone, Fielding, Sterne and Steele were all hard drinkers at intervals.—London Times.

He Was Realistic.

A newly enrolled volunteer was rather alarmed during his first experience of a sham fight, especially as he heard the colonel in command declare that everything was to be done "the same as in actual warfare." No sooner was the first blank cartridge fired than the frightened soldier dropped his gun and took to his heels.

"Hey, why are you running away?" shouted his captain as the man dashed by him.

"It's all right, sir. I'm doing the same as I would do in actual warfare."—London Answers.

Jalousy.

The beautiful girl's sweet smiles changed to dark frowns.

"You deceiver!" she hissed. "I hate you!"

The young man dropped his cane in astonishment.

"Hate me!" he gasped. "Why, it was only yesterday you said you loved every hair on my head."

"Yes, but not every hair on your shoulder," she retorted as she held aloft a golden bit of evidence.—Chicago News.

Softly Sentimental.

"Have you any new song that is soft and mellow?"

"Well, here's one that just came in. It's called 'I Love My Little Oozy, Moozy Moo.' That sounds mushy, doesn't it?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The London child's life is often very like a rabbit's—one long scurry from superior beings.—London Spectator.

An election of the qualified voters of the County of Santa Fe, Territory of New Mexico, is hereby called to be held at the several voting precincts of the said County of Santa Fe, as established by the said board, on the sixth day of November, 1906, for the purposes of voting for the following officials, to-wit:

One delegate to the Sixtieth Congress of the United States.

One member of the Council of the Legislative Assembly of New Mexico for the Sixth Council District.

One member of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-seventh Legislative Assembly of New Mexico for the fifth Representative District.

One member for the tenth Representative District.

One county commissioner for the first district for the term of four years.

One county commissioner for the second district for the term of two years.

One Sheriff.

One Probate Judge.

One Probate Clerk and ex-Officio Recorder.

One Treasurer and ex-Officio Collector.

One Assessor.

One Superintendent of Schools.

One Surveyor.

Four Delegates to the Constitutional Convention under Act of Congress approved June 16, 1906.

The polls in the various precincts shall be open from 9 o'clock a. m. until 6 o'clock p. m.

Said election shall be held in conformity with the laws of New Mexico now established.

There shall be two ballots to be voted at said election, all the offices above named with the exception of the delegates to the Constitutional Convention shall be voted for on one ballot, and at the same time and on a separate ballot the delegates to the Constitutional Convention and the question required to be submitted for voting by the said Act of Congress of June 16, 1906, shall be stated as in said Act required and the election for the purposes of said question is hereby proclaimed and called in accordance with said Act.

Witness the seal of the Board of County Commissioners of the County of Santa Fe, Territory of New Mexico, and the hand of its chairman and clerk this second day of October, 1906.

ARTHUR SELIGMAN, Chairman.

Attest:

MARCOS CASTILLO, Probate Clerk.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is like a rubber tube closed at one end; the sound cannot pass through it. It is the result of colds, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; the cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Sold by Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns.

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney trouble that is not beyond medical aid. Ireland's Pharmacy.

Advice to Housewives.

No home is so pleasant, regardless of the comforts that money will buy, as when the entire family is in perfect health. A bottle of Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup costs 50 cents. It will cure every member of the family of constipation, sick headache or stomach trouble. Ireland's Pharmacy.

A CARD.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Cures a gripple cough and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Ireland's Pharmacy.

Henry E. Jones, of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good till I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney medicine. Ireland's Pharmacy."

Think of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure if your nose and throat discharges—if your breath is foul or feverish. It contains Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., incorporated into an imported, creamlike petrolatum. It soothes, heals, purifies, controls. Call at our store for free trial box. The Fischer Drug Co.

BACKACHE

"I wrote you for advice," writes Lelia Hagood, of Sylvia, Tenn., "about my terrible backache and monthly pains in my abdomen and shoulders. I had suffered this way nine years and five doctors had failed to relieve me. On your advice I took Wine of Cardui, which at once relieved my pains and now I am entirely cured. I am sure that Cardui saved my life."

It is a safe and reliable remedy for all female diseases, such as periodical pains, irregularity, dragging down sensations, headache, dizziness, backache, etc.

FICTION and FRICTION

By Margaret Muzzey

Copyright, 1906, by Homer Sprague

The most popular novel and "biggest seller" of the year was "Aunt Mary Moffat," written by an unknown author, whose name and fame had suddenly gone abroad throughout the land. Young Dr. Brandon, just returned from Europe, hastened to congratulate his successful friend, and to his amazement he found the writer in the depths of despair.

"John Hastings, what is the matter? Are you not satisfied with being the most admired and discussed man of the hour? You ought to be ecstatic, elated, delicious with joy, and you look as if you had swallowed a bad oyster."

"Why should I rejoice in success when the only reason I tried for it is gone?" John groaned.

"What do you mean?"

"I was engaged to Ethel Ransom, you remember, and only waiting for money to support her."

"Some people consider that an insignificant detail."

"Unfortunately Ethel's father did not, but now my fortune is assured she refuses to marry me altogether."

"May I ask why?"

"She declares that I have drawn the character of Aunt Mary Moffat from her grandmother and held her up to ridicule before everybody."

"She is crazy," Brandon exclaimed. "There are plenty of others," pointing to a pile of letters. "All those are from people who recognize themselves or one of their relatives among the characters of my book. Listen to this:

"Dear Mr. Hastings—I was so pleased to find you made me the heroine of your book. I told the editor of our village paper, and he put a piece in the Hockberry Junction Post about it. Please send me your autograph."

"There are more heroines, a number of heroes, and you remember the man I called the 'patriarchal parson'—the woods are full of grandfathers exactly like him, it appears. As for the Aunt Marys, their name is legion—there are at least three in every village in the states."

Brandon helped himself from the pile and read aloud:

"Dear Hastings—Perceiving, as I cannot fail to do so, the depiction of my late lamented aunt in the title character of your book, I suggest that it would be a thankful act for you to put a monument on her grave. Her folks can't afford it. It would be a good ad. for the book too."

Brandon laughed heartily.

"What fun it would be to get these people together! Suppose we go to my house at Knowlbridge and give a party for them. Perhaps if Ethel sees the numerous other claimants she will give up her idea about grandeur."

John demurred, but was finally persuaded by Brandon, who assumed the entire responsibility, and sent the following letter to each of the originals:

"Mr. John Hastings requests the honor of your presence October the sixteenth at seven o'clock to meet the ladies and gentlemen from whom characters in his 'Aunt Mary Moffat' were drawn."

"I have seen your capricious character and prevailed upon her to come to our party," said Brandon, a few days later. "She hesitated, but she will be there—the unmistakable glitter of curiosity was in her azure orbs."

First among the author's guests to arrive on the auspicious 16th was an alleged "patriarchal parson," personally conducted by a nephew named Samuel Bangs. The heroine was represented by a married woman (whose husband came also), a young widow and a sentimental maiden. Two clerks, a bank cashier and a commercial traveler appeared for the hero, and four Aunt Marys in various stages of senility came attended by enterprising relatives.

"I wish we had never invited them," said John nervously. "We will have a row as sure as sparks fly upward."

"Leave it to your uncle," said Brandon. "I wouldn't miss it for a golden corkscrew."

"Suppose they find one another out before supper?"

"They can't break loose and wax confidential between now and 7 o'clock."

Brandon announced the guests as they entered the drawing room. Sam Bangs came last, his face radiant with smiles and soap; placing one hand on his spine, the other on his heart, he made a real dancing school bow and said:

"This is the proudest moment of my life."

John thanked him and Brandon said he was lucky to keep his heart where he could lay his hand on it so readily.

Ethel arrived and insisted on going with the housekeeper to the butler's pantry, where she stayed, looking through the door.

In perplexity, then in rage, at one another.

"There must be a misunderstanding," said John. "Surely there can be but one hero or heroine of a single book."

"The three women talked at once, the heroes muttered bitterly, the personal conductors exchanged hasty confidences; John cast a glance toward the door, but Brandon laid a detaining hand on his shoulder.

"My friends," he said, "it is plain that Mr. Hastings has drawn composite characters, taking from each the quality for which you are best known. Is one clown in a three ringed circus less a clown because there are two others?"

Nothing could have been more ingeniously offensive, and smoldering irritation threatened to burst forth. The widow stood by John to protect him. Brandon tried again.

"We have all seen 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' with two Uncle Toms, a pair of Topsyies and a brace of Evases, and none of them differeth from another in glory."

Here the butler announced that the doctor was wanted across the street. "For heaven's sake, don't go!" whispered John.

"Talk to them yourself; make 'em laugh."

Before John could utter a word Sam Bangs rose in wrath.

"This is a nice job you have put up on us. If these ain't the real folks in the book how do we know you are the real author?"

Approaching footsteps turned attention toward the door, through which marched a lively gentleman, who saluted and addressed the company.

"I am rejoiced, delighted, enchanted to see you all," he bawled, "the creatures of my imagination—the characters of my book. I—the famous—the clever—the infallible—the greatest of authors, greet you."

"I knew it," Sam exclaimed. "Then you really wrote 'Aunt Mary Moffat,' and he is an impostor?" pointing to John.

"To perdition with him in five minutes! Certainly I did—I wrote all the books in all the libraries—I made the world, and the people are my children."

"It's genius," said the maiden. "It's rum," said the widow. "It's mania," said Brandon, entering, followed by a man who, stepping behind the elated gentleman, took him by the elbows and walked him out of the house.

"That is a parrot patient of mine, who overheard me speak of this party and to his daughter today, and stole away from his attendant to come."

"I don't believe he is a bit crazier than you are, with your composite clowns, your three ringed Topsyies and your piratic patients," said Sam.

"There is no time to explain—I have terrible news," said Brandon. "One of the servants has developed malignant smallpox, and you must all leave the house as soon as possible to avoid infection. There is a train to New York in half an hour."

Sam made a bolt for the door, followed by all but the widow, who refused to leave John.

"You needn't wait—I will attend to him," said Ethel, confronting her suddenly.

"Who are you?" demanded the astonished widow.

"I am the girl who is to marry Mr. Hastings."

"Are you sure you are the original girl or only one of several?" asked the widow sarcastically. "But perhaps you are a composite."

Without saying goodbye, she marched majestically out of the room.

"Heaven forgive that lie about the smallpox," said Brandon, mopping his brow. "Nothing less would have saved the roof over our heads."

Breaking the Chain.

In 1881 a bill was introduced in the Massachusetts senate which provided for a bounty of $5 for the killing of "a lynx or wildcat," says the Boston Herald. When the bill was under discussion Senator Rice of Essex, who had a habit of asking the committee to explain some parts of bills they had reported, said he would like to ask the committee who reported the bill whether the term "lynx or wildcat" referred to two different species of animals or whether it was the same kind of animal called by different names. Senator Rockwell of Pittsfield, who never let an opportunity to say a good thing pass, arose and said, "In the absence of the chairman of the committee who reported this bill I would say for the information of the honorable senator from Essex, who, having always lived in the eastern part of the state, is not probably aware that for years there has been a chain of wildcats roaming over the Berkshire hills, that the object of this bill is to take some of the links out of that chain."

Bank Note Paper.

The nine kinds of notes printed by the Bank of England are all on thin, white, crisp paper. The ink used is black, a hard, dry preparation, said to be made from naphtha smoke. A peculiarity of the English notes is that the engraving is simple and old-fashioned, in contrast to the notes of other countries, which are most elaborately engraved by complicated machinery, the designs being difficult of imitation by hand and the lathes and ruling engines being so costly as to discourage counterfeiters. The English paper is made by a private concern, as is the paper in the United States, the pulp of the latter being a mixture of linen, cotton and silk, the silk threads coming into prominence after the printing. The French bank note paper is of similar texture, hair being used with the pulp instead of silk threads. Over 50,000 notes are issued by the Bank of England daily of an average value of £20.

The Ant Lion.

The pitfall, much used in Africa and South America as a means of catching large game, is an imitation of the device employed by the ant lion to entrap his prey. This curious insect digs a conical hole in the sand and lies in wait at the bottom. When an incautious ant approaches too near the top the sand gives way and he slides down into the jaws of his enemy.

The Chinese Pen.

The Chinese pen from time immemorial has been a brush made of some soft hair and used to paint the calligraphic formed letters of the Chinese alphabet.

South African Ant Hill.

The largest structure on the earth when compared with the size of the builders is the ant hill of Africa. Some of these mounds have been observed fifteen feet high and nine feet in diameter. If a human habitation were constructed on the same scale it would be more than seven miles high.

White Flowers.

In all mythology and folklore white flowers are supposed to spring from tears.

Brazil's Tree Frog.

To protect its ova and young from the attacks of fish the tree frog of Brazil builds a tubelike subaqueous fortification of mud, which it jealously guards until its froglets are large enough to take care of themselves.

Needles.

Needles are all made by machinery. The piece of mechanism by which the needle is manufactured takes the rough steel wire, cuts it into proper lengths, files the point, flattens the head, pierces the eye, then sharpens the tiny instrument and gives it that polish familiar to the purchaser. There is also a machine by which needles are counted and placed in the papers in which they are sold, these being afterward folded by the same contrivance.

True Wealth.

A man's true wealth is the good he does in this world. When he dies men will ask what property he has left behind him, but angels will inquire, "What good deeds hast thou sent before thee?"—From the Arabic.

AN UNLUCKY SHIP.

She Achieved the Grandest Exploit in Naval History.

The Bonhomme Richard was an unlucky ship. Paul Jones himself on taking command of her at Lorient, France, wrote a most doleful letter about her to one of his aristocratic patronesses in Paris. She was "a worn-out old Indian," and "her forecastle is a babel." "Fourteen different languages are spoken in my forecastle," said Jones, dismaying at the appearance of his motley crew.

Two days out at sea the Bonhomme Richard was fouled by her consort, the Alliance, and had her jib boom and foremast carried away. Jones then put back to Lorient, perfectly convinced of the unlikelihood of his ship. But through that accident he found 114 American seamen who had just been released from English prisons by exchange. Among them was Richard Dale, whom Jones at once appointed first lieutenant. These all volunteered into the Richard, Jones promptly discharging enough of his polyglots to make way for them. Prior to that he had only about forty Americans.

This addition made 154 fighting Yankee seamen, and they were the men who made the Sculpin sick a few weeks later off the east coast of England.

Thus it happened that the grandest exploit in naval history was achieved by an unlucky ship, and she obtained the means of achieving it through a distressing accident.

TIMBER PRESERVATION.

The Most Perfect Method is Also the Most Expensive.

Telephone poles nearly always decay at or just below the ground line. The upper portion of the pole, permanently in the air, rapidly drying after rain, is practically always dry and is rarely found decayed. The butt of the pole, deeply buried in the ground, is in a permanently damp condition, but oxygen being excluded it is seldom badly affected. Close to the ground line the soil retains the moisture and keeps the wood constantly damp where it is exposed to the air and to the heat of the sun, which is just what its little vegetable enemies like, but if the alumen in the wood can be rendered unfit for food the wood tissues offer practically no support to fungi. Timber preservation amounts, then, to poisoning the food supply of the destructive agencies.

Preservation of timber is attempted in three ways—by seasoning, either natural or artificial; by outward mechanical means, such as charring in fire or the applications of antiseptics on the surface of the stick, and by impregnating the wood with antiseptics. Of these the last is by far the most important. The most perfect method—which is also the most expensive—is the injection of dead oil of coal tar into the whole fiber of the pole.—Hartford Times.

They Love Dante.

A magnificent upper chamber of the municipal palace (the Palazzo Vecchio) in Florence is set apart in memory of the great poet Dante. To it each of the sixty-nine provinces and all of the larger cities and towns of united Italy have contributed a banner in his honor. There are over 300 of these banners in all, and the donors, in eager emulation, have tried to make each of them more beautiful than the others. The banners are of the differing colors of the provinces and bear their arms in exquisite embroidery or in paintings by the first living artists. The fervor of the homage paid here to the immortal Italian poet stirs the heart of even the passing stranger. Whatever the jealousies or estrangement of these people, beside his tomb they are united.

Running the Gantlet.

Running the gantlet as a military punishment was, it is said, originated by Gustavus Adolphus to punish thieves in the army. It was borrowed by the English from the Germans, who copied it from Gustavus, and being employed in the British regiments in America was readily taken up by the Indians of this country.

Advantages of Cave Dwelling.

In the days of the cave dweller the English climate was very hot and the cave made a cool retreat.

A man cannot leave a better legacy to the world than a well educated family.—Thomas Scott.

The Mexican Central has recently placed on sale tickets to New York and return, going via the Mexican Central to either Vera Cruz or Tampico, thence via the famous Ward Steamship Line to New York. The return will be by rail over any line to El Paso. The entire trip, covering thousands of miles, Havana, Cuba, and its famous Moro Castle, Newport, and a dozen of the largest cities of the United States, can be made for $122.50. A more delightful trip can not be planned, as stop-over privileges are allowed and the tickets are good for one year from the date of sale. The trip includes the City of Mexico, the "Paris of America." Further information can be secured by addressing A. Dulohery, Commercial Agent, El Paso, Texas, or W. D. Murdoch, Assistant General Passenger Agent, City of Mexico.

If you cannot afford to pay for a daily paper, subscribe for the Weekly New Mexican Review and get the cream of the week's doings. It is a good paper to send to your friends.

If you want anything on earth—try a New Mexican "ad."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hasbrough of Chicago, who were guests for a week at St. Vincent's Sanitarium, have gone to Las Vegas.

Mrs. Frank Springer and daughter of Las Vegas left last evening for the Grand Canon of the Colorado in Arizona for a visit.

Governor Hagerman who has been absent from the Capital for a week on a tour of the counties of Rio Arriba and San Juan is expected home this evening.

Territorial Secretary and Mrs. J. W. Reynolds and sons are easily domiciled at Ocean Park, California. Secretary Reynolds expects to return to this city about the 20th instant.

C. T. Brown, the Socorro mining expert and engineer, is in the state of Chihuahua examining mining properties for eastern capitalists. He expects to return home about the 18th of the month.

E. H. Kelly, of New York, who has spent several weeks in Santa Fe, left last evening for Faywood Hot Springs after a sojourn there of a week or two he will return to the Capital before going back to his home in the east.

R. H. Hanna who is the senior warden of Montezuma Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. Masons, expects to leave tomorrow for Albuquerque to attend the sessions of the Masonic Grand Lodges there as a representative of the local lodge.

L. O. Fullen, postmaster of Carlsbad, and editor of the Carlsbad Argus, is in New York City on a visit to Mrs. Fullen and will remain there until about the 20th of the month. Mrs. Fullen who has been quite ill, is recovering.

S. Spitz and daughter Miss Spitz will leave tomorrow for Albuquerque where they will remain a few days. Mr. Spitz will attend the sessions of the Masonic Grand Lodge which will be called there Monday next and Miss Spitz will visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Prince will leave Monday for "The Sunshine Ranch" in Rio Arriba County, where they will spend a month. In November they will return to the Prince residence here where they will be domiciled for the winter.

Mrs. J. B. Miller, grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of New Mexico, and Mrs. Charles Maudsland, grand marshal of the same order, who spent Thursday and yesterday in this city on business connected with the order and organized a chapter here, returned to the Duke City last evening.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince after attending the Rio Arriba County Republican convention at Tierra Amarilla, on Monday, will go to Denver as a delegate from New Mexico to the National Mining Congress which will meet in the Queen City of the Plains during the coming week.

Miss Hazel Riddle entertained a few of her school friends last evening at her home on Chapelle Street. The company found pleasure in various parlor diversions, and refreshments were served during the course of the evening. The guests were Misses Helen Laughlin, May Closson, Anna Newhall and Boyd Walters.

Fifteen Club Opens Season.
The Fifteen Club composed of fifteen members celebrated its fifteenth anniversary Friday afternoon, when it opened the winter season with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Boyle. Mrs. J. P. Victory presided. The program consisted of the reading of a paper by Mrs. Jacob Weltmer on "Nicholas Nickleby"; a reading from the same book by Mrs. L. Bradford Prince and a series of character sketches from the pen of Mrs. W. S. Harrison. It was decided to study the works of Dickens for the first half of the winter and those of Shakespeare the latter half. The next meeting will be with Mrs. S. G. Cartwright. Mrs. Jacob Weltmer, presiding.

The Fifteen Club is one of the strongest social factors in the Capital City as its long existence and the high standard of its membership and work will testify. It has always maintained a lofty literary plane and is a credit to the city.

Daughters of the American Revolution.
At a recent meeting of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, it was decided to have a Colonial Ball on the evening of January 17, which is the anniversary of the wedding of General George Washington and Martha Washington. It will be remembered that arrangements were made for a function of this nature on February 22 last, but so many other social events had been planned for that date that it was postponed until next year notwithstanding invitations, programs and tickets had been printed. The Daughters of the American Revolution of this city, have not been in the social limelight as an organization for several years and the members are hoping that there will be a large attendance at their big ball in January. Attention is called to the affair at this time so that no other social gathering will be planned for that evening. The Palace Hotel has been engaged for the occasion and the dancers will be requested to appear in colonial attire.

Frank Diberi, assistant treasurer of the Santa Fe Central Railway, is in the Duke City on a visit.

Mrs. S. Spitz returned during the week from a month's pleasant visit to relatives and friends in Denver.

Miss Minnie Holzman of Las Vegas, who has friends in this city, is in Raton on a visit to Mrs. John Van Houten.

Sheriff Perfecto Armijo, of Bernalillo County, has returned to the Duke City from a visit to Carlsbad, Eddy County.

Mrs. O. N. Marron, wife of an Albuquerque attorney, returned last night after a visit of several weeks which she spent in Milwaukee and Buffalo.

A. D. Goldenburg, of Tucuman, Quay County, and vice president of the First National Bank in that town, is a visitor in the Duke City on Masonic business.

Hon. Amado Chavez, of this city, assistant superintendent of public instruction who was in Albuquerque yesterday, left last night for western Valencia County on business.

Mrs. A. M. Berge, who is on a visit to Hon. and Mrs. Solomon Luna at Los Lunas, the former being her brother, is expected to return home about the middle of the coming week.

C. N. Blackwell, president of the First National Bank of Raton reached Albuquerque yesterday to attend the sessions of the Masonic Grand Bodies in the Duke City next week.

Robert Kellahin, of Roswell, grand lecturer of the grand lodge of Free Masons, in New Mexico and postmaster in his home town, is in Albuquerque to attend a meeting of the grand lodge in the Duke City.

Ex-Governor M. A. Otero, who is visiting at the headquarters ranch of the Salado Live Stock Company in Guadalupe County of which company he is president, will return home Monday or Tuesday of the coming week.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. O. Chabourne, Mrs. W. H. Greer, Mrs. Votz and Miss Abbott, of Albuquerque, left this morning for the Upper Pecos River region to spend a week or ten days hunting. It is understood that the bears and the deer in that section have taken due notice of the coming of the party and will do all they can to keep away from its deadly rifles.

Col. J. W. Wilson, Superintendent of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, is a visitor in the Duke City on Masonic business.

S. B. Grimshaw, Assistant to the President and General Manager of the Santa Fe Central railway, went to Albuquerque yesterday on railroad business.

E. A. Cahoon, cashier of the First National Bank at Roswell, is among the prominent Masons of the Territory in Albuquerque in attendance on the Masonic Lodge which will meet in that city next week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Perry, of Fort Defiance, Arizona, have arrived in Albuquerque en route east. Mr. Perry who has been in charge for some years of the Navajo Agency at Fort Defiance has been promoted to the position of Superintendent of Indian agencies in the southwest.

John W. Poe, President of the Citizens' National Bank of Roswell, has reached Albuquerque in order to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons and other Masonic organizations in the Duke City during the coming week.

Charles E. Linney, section director of the weather bureau, with headquarters in Santa Fe, will leave tomorrow evening on an inspection trip to the co-operative weather observation stations in New Mexico. While on this tour he will also attend the Y. M. C. A. conference to be held at Douglas, October 24-26. His itinerary in New Mexico will embrace Los Lunas, Socorro, Magdalena, San Marcial, Engle, Mesilla Park, Rincon, Deming, Gage and Lordsburg.

Where did you get that hat? every one asked Tom Long, this morning. What did he answer? "At Elbe's Haberdashery, of course," he said. "Where else could I go?" Latest, noblest, neatest you ever saw. Just received fine line. Look at the windows.

H. T. Chandler of Denver, contracting agent for the Denver Sheep Commission Company, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and registered at the Chaire.

A warranty deed from Thomas W. Hanna and Willetta Hanna of Lamy, to the Keystone Live Stock Company has been recorded in the office of the probate clerk for Santa Fe County. The consideration named in the document is one dollar, conveying a piece of property in precinct No. 3.

Capital City music lovers are promised a genuine musical treat this evening at the concert to be given here by the Midland Opera Quintet. Press and public wherever the troupe has appeared speak of the entertainment only in commendatory terms. The High School assembly room should be packed this evening even though the weather be a little inclement, as the proceeds of the series of entertainments of which this concert is the first will be invested in books for school library. The Midland quintet is composed of Miss Blanche Ferman, soprano; Miss Hildred Hansen, alto and violinist; Miss Harriet Delano, alto and pianist; J. Redmon Saylor, tenor, and Tolbert MacRae, basso and reader. The program usually consists of twelve members, and is diversified to please even the most fastidious in the audience.

"A Chinese Ghost Social" was the name applied to the entertainment given last evening at St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church by the Epworth League. Invitations have been extended to friends of the members of the society and as an unique affair had been promised the attendance was quite large. The entertainment proved to be an elaboration of the sheet and pillow case party idea, and events of this kind are said to be popular at present in the effete east. When all present had donned their ghostly raiment with white masks to completely disguise their faces was a lively bunch of specters in white flitting about, and if some unsuspecting individual had been brought in blindfolded he would probably have been scared to death. Each of pseudo ghosts was given an identification card which was inscribed with Chinese characters. There was a duplicate for each card and partners were found in this way. During the search nobody was allowed to talk. Chinese cookies, rice and fruit punch were served as refreshments. Spoons were utilized in eating the rice however instead of chopsticks. In order that the guests might become acquainted and to overcome any stiffness a game was played called "Clothespins." The company was divided into sides and ranged in rows, taller fashion on the floor. Passing the clothes pins down the line and back again without dropping them was all there was to the simple little pastime but it answered the purpose of enlivening the participants and converted them into a jolly crowd. Chinese decorations of various kinds including incense sticks had been ordered for the occasion but unfortunately they were delayed in shipment.

Where did you get that hat? every one asked Tom Long, this morning. What did he answer? "At Elbe's Haberdashery, of course," he said. "Where else could I go?" Latest, noblest, neatest you ever saw. Just received fine line. Look at the windows.
