FLOODS CAUSE
DEATH AND LOSS*Hundreds Homeless and in Want of Food.*WORK OF RESCUE SLOW*Because of Washouts and Wires Down--Northwest
Suffers Generally.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 16.—Homeless and suffering from hunger and exposure and in hourly dread that the rising waters overcome them, thousands of residents in the fertile valleys lying between Seattle and Tacoma are camping today in the foothills. Six deaths have been chronicled as due to the floods which followed the rapid rise of the rivers in King and Pierce counties. How many farmers lost some members of their families through the rapid rise of streams is not known and will not be until flood subsides. All the valley towns are under water from eight to twenty feet. Rain has ceased but floods continue.

Seattle, Nov. 16.—The rain of the past few days has ceased. Chinook has turned colder and the water in the upper part of the White River Valley is slowly receding. The greatest danger point at present is at South Park, a suburb of Seattle, near the mouth of the Duwamish River. As the flood sweeps down the valley to Puget Sound the water is steadily rising at this point. The town of 2000 people is now at the mercy of the waters from Yellowstone Park and a small tract on the north side of Duwamish is reported flooded and a house containing several persons was swept down the river yesterday afternoon.

Marooned on Island in Raging Flood.
A report was received at Portland last night that the forty or more people who were marooned on the island junction of the Cowlitz and Columbia rivers have been rescued by the steamer Burton sent from Portland for that purpose, proves untrue. The Burton was unable to approach the island on account of the rush of waters and the quantities of logs and drift. The steamer Sarah Dixon has gone to the scene and will endeavor to rescue the marooned people.

No Improvement in Flood Conditions.
News from the flood swept valleys of Washington today show no improvement in the condition. Telegraphic communication is interrupted and but one point, Kelso, can be reached with a telephone. Cowlitz River is still a demon of destruction, carrying houses, barns, logs and other drift down the flood. Bridges have been washed out and others are in peril. The crest of the flood, however, seems to have reached a climax and news that the river is falling will doubtless soon be received from points north of Kelso.

Flooded People in Want of Food.
Between Kelso and Castle Rock hundreds have been rendered homeless and many families are in want. The operation of trains north seems out of the question at this time. Several trains have been stalled along the route and railroad communication will be replaced with temporary structures before traffic is resumed.

Telegraph Companies Suffered Big Loss.

Thousands of telegraph poles are down and in the vicinity of Puget Sound the telegraph companies suffered incalculable damage.

REACTIONARY INDIANS CAPTURED BY CAVALRY

Troop From Fort Wingate Makes Prisoners of 115 Moquis—Trouble Nipped in the Bud.

A dispatch from St. Michaels, Arizona, tells of the arrest of 115 Moqui Indians on Monday last by Lieutenant J. B. Lewis, commanding Troop K of the Fifth U. S. cavalry stationed at Fort Wingate. The Indians were captured by the cavalry at the pueblo of Oraibi, on the Moqui reservation. The arrests by the military are the result of long standing trouble between the two political factions of the Moquis which has recently culminated in open warfare between two parties, one of which drove the other from the pueblo because of tribal dispute over the education of children and the adoption of the white man's customs. It is not known what disposition will be made of the prisoners, but it is thought they will be taken to Fort Wingate for the time being and there kept until measures can be determined upon by the Indian officials which will permanently settle the trouble.

YOUNG GERMAN LIKES NEW MEXICO

John C. Krauss on Tour of World Talks Interestingly of Travels.

John C. Krauss, formerly a lieutenant in the German army, and a member of an old German family in the fatherland, spent yesterday afternoon in Santa Fe driving about to points of interest, and then boarded a Santa Fe train at Lamy for Kansas City, where he will visit relatives. He will then go to points in the East and South before leaving for Germany. Lieutenant Krauss, who is still a young man, left the army because of an injury he received. While directing the movement of a field gun in practice maneuvers, his horse fell with him and the young officer rolled under one wheel of the cannon, which passed over his right leg, crushing it. He is still a little lame in that limb and says that he does not ever expect to regain full use of it. The young man is on a trip around the world, having already visited most of Europe and parts of Asia, including the Holy Land, which he found very interesting. He does not speak English perfectly but nevertheless he makes himself understood readily. He has two slight scars on his face which he laughingly remarked were "sword holes." The scars are the result of duels with fellow students at the military academy which he attended. The duels are not dangerous, the only object being to scar the face.

"Americans are right in saying they should see their own country first," he remarked to a New Mexican reporter. "America is the most wonderful country I have ever seen—except, of course, my fatherland, Germany. I have been in the United States and Canada for nearly two months and I would like to remain for a year but I cannot. I heard so much of New Mexico and Arizona that I came here from New York. I am glad that I did for it is a most wonderful place."

"I knew that here there was a place of land not under cultivation but I did not expect to see such quantities of it. Here you have big, big plains, mountains that are very beautiful and many rich valleys that you irrigate. In the middle of your country are large farms, much too great for one man. Your people are all rich but some of them do not think so. German farmers are wealthy on smaller farms but that is because they cultivate them very closely. American farmers I think waste too much."

"I should like to live in New Mexico. Its scenery is beautiful and its climate is the best on earth. It reminds me greatly of the Holy Land. Santa Fe is in some respects like some Egyptian towns. Some of its little houses are flat and low like those of the Egyptian people and here the farmers must carry water in ditches to their farms like those strange people do from the Nile."

"Your town is not all adobe houses, however, for the capitol building is a fine structure and your high school is a handsome building. I did not go to see your government building. I should like to stay for a month in Santa Fe and learn more about the city and its people. I saw my first Indians on the streets here and before leaving for Germany I will visit one of their towns. I think they are the most interesting people in America."

Herr Krauss said before leaving that he would come again to New Mexico and if he again had the opportunity would spend a year in the United States, studying farming methods, in order to introduce some of the methods in Germany, if he found them applicable.

GAMBLERS WOULD WRECK SHIP

Plot to Prevent Launching of Satusuma at Tokio to Win Bets on Outcome.

Tokio, Nov. 16.—An extraordinary story is current here of bets having been laid by foreigners in Yokohama against the successful launching of the battleship Satusuma at Yokohama yesterday and of the attempts to make the launching a failure. About $50,000 is said to have been wagered at odds of 7 to 3 against the successful launching and workmen. It is reported, however, that the evidence introduced by the complaining witness had advanced the defendant $43 in payment for herding sheep for the former at his ranch near Pecos. Apodaca worked for a month and then quit. Garcia then swore out the warrant charging obtaining money under false pretenses. Apodaca claimed that he wrote a letter to his employer stating that he would return to work as soon as he recovered from sickness.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—The Record-Herald today says: "The railroads of the entire country stand ready to accept the standard of wages set by the Pennsylvania road and to grant all employees 10 per cent increase in lieu of all other demands. This would affect nearly 1,300,000 employees and would aggregate between eighty-one and eighty-two million dollars annually. This the railroads are ready to grant providing the employees accept it and cease for the time being further demands for an increase in all branches."

The court orders a new trial. Sherrick has been in the penitentiary for several months. The court holds that Sherrick did not embezzle the state's money as the money belonged to the insurance companies.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

Of Methodist Church Tomorrow Evening Conducted by Mission Superintendent Blair.

Quarterly conference will be held tomorrow evening at St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church. It will be presided over by Rev. Samuel Blair, D. D., of El Paso, the newly elected superintendent of the New Mexico English Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The visiting divine will also occupy the pulpit at both morning and evening services Sunday, in place of Rev. E. C. Anderson.

Rev. Samuel Blair will be recently pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Ogden, Utah, and prior to that attended to ministerial duties in Pennsylvania. He is particularly well fitted for his present position as superintendent of his first official rounds of the Territory. He arrived in the city last night from Las Vegas and will remain here until Monday. His next stopping place will be Springfield and from there he will go to Raton. He expects to return to his home at El Paso by the end of next week.

The New Mexico English Missions Circuit is not confined to this Territory. It includes El Paso County, Texas, a slice of Oklahoma and the state of Chihuahua, Mexico. El Paso is the most accessible point in this wide expanse of country and for that reason the headquarters are established in that city. When he becomes rested after his trip to the several churches of the district scattered throughout New Mexico the new superintendent will pay an official visit to the churches under his supervision in the sister republic.

"I like this work very much and am well pleased with the Territory," the superintendent remarked this morning in talking to a reporter of the New Mexican. "I have been west long enough to appreciate the push and energy. I find the work in splendid shape everywhere and the churches are well manned. Dr. A. P. Morrison, my predecessor, deserves a great deal of credit for the excellent condition of things in general."

Rev. Blair is very much impressed with Santa Fe. He informed the reporter that he thought it one of the most interesting places he had ever visited, and said he proposed to see the various points of interest before he left the city. He met an old acquaintance in Dr. Harrison. The latter's father was a member of a church of which he was the pastor in Luzerne County, Pennsylvania.

SECURED PAY
REFUSED TO WORK

Charges Made Against Trinidad Apodaca, Sheepherder on Upper Pecos.

Charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, Trinidad Apodaca was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Jose Ma. Garcia on a warrant sworn out by Faustina Garcia. Apodaca was arrested at his home in Pecos by Chief Deputy Sheriff Jose L. Lopez.

According to the evidence introduced the complaining witness had advanced the defendant $43 in payment for herding sheep for the former at his ranch near Pecos. Apodaca worked for a month and then quit. Garcia then swore out the warrant charging obtaining money under false pretenses. Apodaca claimed that he wrote a letter to his employer stating that he would return to work as soon as he recovered from sickness.

The Territory was represented in the case by Assistant District Attorney Charles C. Catron, while Attorney Benjamin M. Read appeared as counsel for the defendant. After the testimony was in Judge Garcia fined the prisoner $50 and costs. The defendant's counsel served notice of an appeal to the district court.

'FRISCO ROBBERS*Two Tried to Hold-

Another Seriously Wounded in Affray.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 16.—Two are dead, two dying and another seriously injured as the result of an attempt to hold up a saloon on Sixth Street in this city last night. Two robbers entered the saloon and ordered "hands up." George O'Connell, a retired police officer, drew a revolver and began shooting. The hold-ups replied in kind and when the smoke cleared away, four men were lying on the floor. O'Connell, who died in a little time, Stephen Lynch and Louis Delator, who were fatally shot, and Michael Kennedy, severely injured.

Robber Fled Across Street and Died.
Across the street one of the robbers was found dead. A man believed to be his companion was captured later by the police.

Third Victim Dies.
Stephen Lynch, the spectator who was wounded last night during the hold up of the saloon, died today in a hospital. His death makes the third as a result of the fatal affray.

City Infested With Dangerous Criminals.
Since the earthquake San Francisco has been beset with thieves and desperate characters of all sorts. Owing to the demoralized condition of city affairs and the great amount of work on the shoulders of the police, little has been done to check the outbreak of crime. A short time ago, a citizens' league for self protection was organized but thus far it has accomplished little. The holdup and killing last night is only an incident in the records of the past six months.

EARTHQUAKE SEVERE AT MAGDALENA

But Doubtful If It Was Felt in Santa Fe—Windows Did Not Rattle.

There is much difference of opinion at Santa Fe and at Las Vegas whether the earthquake shock yesterday morning was really felt in this part of the Territory, and nine out of every ten people are certain that it was not. Certainly, it was so slight that the two or three persons who thought they felt it did not hear any windows rattle or noticed a clock stop. Some boys on upper Palace Avenue had on Sunday poised a stone on a sharp point and this stone was still in its position yesterday morning but last night was thrown from its balance by the wind. However, there is no doubt that the shock was felt at Albuquerque and more severely at Socorro, San Marcial and Magdalena. Says a correspondent of the New Mexican at Magdalena, under yesterday's date, in describing the earthquake: "We had an earthquake here this morning at 5:15 that gave me an experience that I shall never forget and hope I shall not go through again. I thought for a while that it was all off with us. It seemed as if the building in which I was would go to pieces. Everything rattled and the earth heaved like a breathing being. It made me deathly sick and to say that I was frightened is putting it mildly; everyone seemed in a panic. I felt one very hard shock and two lighter ones and there was a roaring, rumbling noise that seemed to pervade all of the mountains and hills. It was the hardest shock we have ever experienced here. I can not understand this as we are so high in the mountains. I can not describe my feelings for a minute or two, but it was awful to hear the roar and the rumbling on all sides like the reverberations of a thunder clap. Last night I had remarked to a friend: 'Isn't it strange that all the roosters are crowing?' This was about 8 p. m. 'That means another earthquake,' said my friend, who had become accustomed to shocks, for Magdalena has had them by the hundred during the past two years. It seems animals have an intuition of a seismic disturbance some time before it occurs and are greatly frightened when it does happen. We expect that the newspapers will make the story more sensational than its importance warrants, but that is part of their business. However, it was bad enough, for in Socorro chimneys fell and walls cracked."

NEGRO MURDERER KILLED BY POSSE

COMPLETE OFFICIAL ELECTION RETURNS

Received at Office of Territorial Secretary Raynolds for Colfax and Torrance Counties.

Appended are the complete official election returns from Colfax and Torrance Counties as received in the office of Territorial Secretary J. W. Raynolds. Contrary to expectations the joint statehood proposition carried by a large majority in Colfax County. Prior to the election it was rumored that the coal mining camps were strongly opposed to the measure and it was believed that the adverse vote there would pull down the majority. Delegate Andrews carried the county by a safe majority, although he ran behind the legislative and county tickets. In Torrance County twice as many votes were cast in favor of joint statehood as were deposited in the ballot boxes against it. Delegate Andrews kept abreast with the remainder of the Republican ticket. His majority in that county was 312.

MORE STANDARD
OIL EXPOSURE*By Attorney General
Lightfoot of Texas.*WATERS-PIERCE COMPANY*Implicated in Combine to Control Oil Market in Lone Star State.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16.—Five witnesses have been examined by Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot of Texas in secret hearing in the taking of depositions relevant to a suit to oust the Waters-Pierce Company from Texas and the examination of two more witnesses today completes the present hearing. Lightfoot will return to Texas tonight.

Connection Shown Between Two Concerns.

A learned examination developed from the testimony that connection existed between the Standard Oil and the Waters-Pierce companies and that in certain sections of Texas which were covered by the Waters-Pierce Company unusually strong, all competing forces were destroyed by the Standard Oil Company. Smaller concerns could not secure oil.

The witnesses testified that the Corsicana Oil Company and the Security Oil Company at Beaumont, two refineries owned by the Standard, did not sell to companies competing with the Waters-Pierce Company and that in return the latter company purchased all the oil sold in the state of Texas from these two refineries. It also developed that maps showing the division in the territory covered by the Waters-Pierce and the Standard were prepared at 26 Broadway New York and distributed over the territory covered by the two concerns.

MORE FARMERS FOR ESTANCIA VALLEY

Indian Territory Men Secure Locations Near McIntosh, Torrance County.

The rapid immigration of new settlers to the Estancia Valley continues unabated and not a day passes that parties of farmers from Kansas, Missouri, Indian Territory and Oklahoma do not pass through Santa Fe en route to that section.

Yesterday a party consisting of I. N. Williams and J. B. Woodall, farmers residing near Vinita, Indian Territory, arrived in the city from the Estancia Valley, where they have been since the first of the week looking over the country. The newcomers were shown around by J. C. Maxwell, an immigration agent with headquarters at McIntosh.

Messrs. Woodhall and Williams made homestead entries in the vicinity of McIntosh, Mr. Williams locating on a quarter section one and one-half miles west, while Mr. Woodhall filed on a quarter section five miles beyond.

While in the city they called at the office of the Bureau of Immigration, where they secured much information regarding the Estancia Valley, including pamphlets and other literature and copies of the "Land of Sunshine," which they will take home with them in order to enlighten their friends and neighbors as to the opportunities offered new settlers in the Sunshine Territory.

They were very enthusiastic with what they had seen. In speaking of their visit to the valley Mr. Williams said:

"We are well pleased with the locations we have made and expect to return to the Estancia Valley in time to cultivate the land and put in crops for the next season. We will dispose of our holdings in the Indian Territory and with our families, will return to New Mexico within a few months to live, bringing with us considerable livestock and farming implements."

The party left for their homes yesterday evening.

A CORRECT VIEW.

Commenting upon the report that Larrazo will file a contest for the seat to which Delegate W. H. Andrews was re-elected on Tuesday, the 6th instant, and the charges now being spread broadcast throughout New Mexico and throughout the country that huge election frauds by the Republicans were the order of the day on the 6th instant, the Las Vegas Optic very properly and timely puts the situation when it says that no sooner does the election of Delegate Andrews by a small majority appear to become certain than word comes of the inauguration by the Democrats of contests to prevent the ratification of the expressed will of the voters at the polls. The Republicans have learned from long experience with the Democrats of this Territory that the only manner in which the latter are able to relieve their feelings after a defeat is to cry "thief" and to institute election contests. Nothing has ever been accomplished by such tactics, and it is doubtful if anything ever will be accomplished.

A day or two ago we believed that the face of the returns would show the election of Mr. Larrazo. We expressed our intention, if the results justified this belief, of cheerfully accepting the result and indulging in no further recriminations, no charges of fraud and no strictures as to the manner in which the campaign was conducted. Republicans usually put up the best fight they know how to and accept cheerfully whatever results the fortunes of war may bring.

But, behold, the Democrats again come to the front with all sorts of charges. By all means let them contest this election if they will. If the investigation is thorough, it will add not to Mr. Larrazo's but to Mr. Andrews' votes. We do not believe the Republicans stole precincts in Torrance, Rio Arriba or any other county.

The Republican campaign was clean, open and honest. The Republican leaders did not send out secret inflammatory literature just before the election, basing appeals to race prejudice, making a bitter personal assault upon the character of the opposition for Delegate, and weaving a tissue of false statements about him. The Democrats sent out such statements in personal letters to thousands of voters. All through the campaign the Democratic speakers and Democratic leaders appealed to prejudice and relied on the efficacy of personal denunciation of the Republican candidate. If their candidate had been beaten they would have let it go at that, but now that he has been elected they do not propose to accept with meekness another series of installments of vituperation and abuse.

Such charges circulated broadcast in the Territory on the very eve of the election as that Mr. Andrews was an enemy of the Spanish speaking people, that he had robbed the people by securing the conveyance of large tracts of land to cattle companies and other corporations, that he had secured the creation of big forest reserves, held up the anti-gambling bill, was immoral in his private life, was unworthy of the Democrats of this Territory. If these charges had been true they would have made them openly and without fear of contradiction. That they circulated them secretly when it was too late to answer them is a sufficient evidence of their entire falsity.

The returns now appear to show that Mr. Andrews is elected. If he is, it is the duty of the people of New Mexico to uphold his hands in order that he may be in a position to accomplish the greatest good for the people of the Territory.

THE ALLEGED ELECTION FRAUDS IN TORRANCE.

There has been considerable talk of late by interested parties concerning alleged election frauds in the county of Torrance. Smoldered down the reports do not seem to have much to stand on. It seems that a lot of fellows who could not get nominations on the regular Republican county ticket made up a Fusion ticket, placed themselves on it as candidates and on election day were defeated. Naturally, they call the men who took part in the regular Republican convention and the successful candidates "a gang," "corrupt election thieves," "dishonest ballot box stuffers," etc. It seems to be a clear case of sour grapes. The bunch of successful candidates has as good a right to call the other crowd "gangsters," etc., as the defeated bunch had the other way. The alleged election frauds in that county should not be swallowed whole, but should be taken with quite a number of grains of salt. It is more than probable, and likely it will appear so upon investigation, that there is very little to them and that the entire affair will resolve into a case of the outs against the ins, the defeated against the successful, and that there were probably as many "gang" methods on one side as on the other. At any rate, nothing tangible or substantial has yet been advanced except the reports from parties who are greatly interested and are none too reliable. The New Mexican believes that an investigation by the next grand jury in Torrance County into these charges will be timely and for the public good. In the meantime, these indiscriminate allegations, exaggerated rumors and windy reports can be but harmful to the Territory at large and especially to Torrance County. If wrong has been committed and if breaches of the law have occurred let them be properly investigated at the right time in the courts and by the grand jury and if it is found that such have taken place let the guilty be indicted, brought to trial and punished. In the meantime this agitation to create public sentiment and to condemn where there is no real testimony and where there seems to be no just foundation is wrong and reprehensible and can only redound to the injury of New Mexico. The New Mexican believes and insists that all well founded allegations and reports as to violations of the election laws in the recent election should be carefully and thoroughly sifted in order that the people may know the guilty, if these reports are true, might be punished and that due and even-handed justice should be meted out.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The idea advanced in yesterday's issue of the New Mexican by ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince and other delegates-elect to the constitutional convention, that the time for the convening of the same be fixed for January 7th, next, is good and timely. The Republican Territorial Convention held in East Las Vegas September 29th last, passed a resolution declaring in favor of that date for the meeting of the body. The reasons set forth in the communication to this paper by ex-Governor Prince, are well taken and should have weight. Public opinion in favor of convening the members for the forming of the constitution is strong throughout the Territory and is held by the best and most patriotic classes of population, but with very few exceptions. The delegates should consider the question promptly and should act untidily. There is not much time for action and hence the sooner it is taken the better will be the results.

That the holding of the convention and the framing of a right constitution will be of great benefit to the Territory is freely acknowledged by all citizens who have given the subject proper consideration and thought and who are not biased by anti-statehood opinions or local prejudices and who are not afraid to push the cause of statehood again to the front from this time on until success shall be attained. The question of cost which of very necessity would be quite small should not be considered an objection and will not be so taken except by those who object to paying taxes on the small valuations and assessments of the property which they own in the Territory and which they return from one-fifth to one-fourth of its actual value for assessment purposes. These are generally found opposed to everything that means progress, advancement and the good of the people at large because of expense and cost. In order to be successful people must try for success. The framing of a proper constitution, its submission to the congress of the United States and a strenuous urging of favorable consideration by that body will be an important step forward in securing favorable consideration of statehood for the Sunshine Territory. This boon will not come to New Mexico if its people should now adopt "the mena" policy and wait for something new to turn up. No one will bring them an enabling act for the state of New Mexico on a golden platter. They must work hard, in season and out of season and utilize every particle of opportunity to secure the passage of such a one in congress. The speedy formulation of a constitution and its submission to congress will show that body and the people generally that New Mexico is in dead earnest in the matter and does not mean to halt in its fight for its rights and their recognition in the matter of statehood as early as a day as this can be procured.

About 250 illegal votes were cast in the mining districts in Grant County at the recent election by unnaturalized Mexicans, so say reports from Silver City. Of course they went to swell the Democratic majority there. Does Chairman A. A. Jones of the Territorial Democratic Central Committee look upon these occurrences as election frauds, or does he think they were legitimate? These 250 votes defeated the entire Republican county ticket there and also reduced materially the vote for Delegate Andrews. According to the usual Democratic methods and the prevailing sentiment of the Democratic bosses and everything that redounds to the benefit of their party is all right and straight. Any and everything that works the other way is all wrong and dishonest.

Three hundred and twenty-six votes the right way are a good deal better than 222 the wrong way. At least that is what Delegate Andrews thinks. To be sure, his opponent, Larrazo differs with him and that greatly. This was to be expected and should occasion no surprise.

Some of Bryan's friends seem to consider his strongest political asset to be that he was kept out of the Presidency by the power of money. The country is much more interested in a square deal and an honest count in future than in past elections.

THE LATE GENERAL W. R. SHAFTER.

The recent death of Major General William R. Shafter, of the regular army, recalls an episode in the Spanish-American war, which although it happened but a little over eight years ago, is already well nigh forgotten by the American people. Shafter was in command of the American forces surrounding the city of Santiago. He was a ponderous man who had a tough time of it under his weight of 280 pounds. That this greatly interfered with his efficiency as a commanding general is well demonstrated by his actions while in command of the American forces around Santiago. The Kansas City Journal treats Shafter's career and character rightly when it says that the death of General Shafter removes one of the most picturesque figures in the American army. Although not a popular man, and certainly not a great soldier—he might justly be described as the Sir Redoubt of the United States service—he was a brave man and a faithful soldier, and his long and honorable service entitles him to the respect and regard of his country.

General Shafter's career, however, illustrates the modicum of truth contained in the remark of the celebrated French cynic: "Whatever else is true, history is certainly false." Shafter will be recorded in history as the conqueror of Santiago, and the day may come when rising generations who thumb school books will enshrine him in their memories as a hero, one of the truly great American soldiers. And yet, if it had been left to Shafter, Santiago would not have been captured without weary months of delay, and history would have recorded a humiliating repulse of American arms.

It will be remembered that after the first two days' fighting General Shafter, sick and discouraged, overpowered and weighed down by his own mountainous flesh, called a council of war and informed his officers that he intended to draw off the troops to Siboney and await reinforcements. Then it was that General Joe Wheeler justified his sobriquet of "Fighting Joe." Although himself consumed with fever, so ill that he could hardly mount his horse, he remonstrated so emphatically against this timorous course that his counsels prevailed; he practically assumed the command as it dropped from Shafter's nerveless hands, and riding to the front, he led the troops to victory. Nevertheless, judging by similar events in the past, history will be silent as to that memorable council of war, and General Shafter will be given the credit for the brilliant feat of that intrepid little body of Americans.

CREDIT WHERE IT IS DUE.

The present board of county commissioners of Santa Fe County has already provided two handsome stone bridges, and a modern, commodious and safe jail for the county, and before going out of office will let the contract for a third greatly needed bridge on Galisteo Street. These improvements were made for the benefit of the people and the transactions connected with them were honestly, openly and efficiently conducted. This is certainly high commendation for outgoing County Commissioner Arthur Seligman, who is especially entitled to the thanks of all progressive citizens and of honest tax payers and property owners. The animosity and hatred of the tax dodgers and of the knackers are more particularly directed towards Commissioner Seligman who stood up rightfully and manfully for the best interests of the people against great odds and much opposition. In his own party where the hostile element is rather strong and aggressive.

Commissioner A. L. Kendall who also gives up office on the last of December, acted with Chairman Seligman in these matters, although he was not very much in favor of the construction of the two bridges across the Santa Fe River on College and Galisteo Streets. This is but natural as he wanted a bridge over the Galisteo River near Cerrillos. He performed his duties well, however, and should come in for commendation. Mr. Roybal, commissioner from the third district, will serve until December 31, 1908. His record will be judged at the proper time.

A satisfactory majority for statehood in the recent election is right conclusive proof that the newspapers of the Territory did good work in inducing the voters and getting them to cast their ballots for the year side of the proposition. There were two or three weekly papers in the Territory opposed to the project; otherwise the press, regaled of political sentiment, was united in its advocacy. The newspapers of New Mexico more than all other agencies combined brought about the gratifying result and the majority in favor of the proposition.

This is a free country and if Chairman Jones and Mr. Larrazo want to contest the seat of Delegate W. H. Andrews in the 60th Congress there is no law that will prevent them from doing so. As far as getting there, ah, that is another story!

The yellow sheets of New Mexico are taking it out in kicking at Chairman H. O. Bursom, of the Republican Territorial Central Committee. They believe they are kicking a dead lion. They will find themselves badly mistaken.

Despite the charges of gigantic election frauds committed in the last election in Torrance County, the Territory still lives and home seekers have not turned away from the Estancia Valley. Strange but true.

It may be as well to mention that the recent ramming of the battleship Virginia by the merchant steamship Monroe was accidental and had nothing whatever to do with the Monroe Doctrine.

Those Ute Indians in Wyoming guessed right—that Uncle Sam would have to pay the freight. And it is a stiff bill at that.

Thanksgiving Day will come all right for the winners, but why shouldn't there be a consolation day for the losers.

DEATH BY A BOMB.

Imaginary Incident of the Crimean War by Tolstol.

The following imaginary incident of the Crimean war is found in Count Tolstol's "Sevastopol." "The bomb, coming faster and faster and nearer and nearer, so that the sparks of its fuse were already visible, descended. 'Lie down!' some one shouted. They lay flat on the ground. Praskouhin, closing his eyes, heard only the bomb crashing down on the hard earth close by. A second passed, which seemed an hour. The bomb had not exploded. He opened his eyes and at that moment caught a sight of the glowing fuse of the bomb not a yard off. Terror, cold terror, excluding every other thought and feeling, seized his whole being. He covered his face with his hands.

"Then he remembered the 12 rubles he owed, a debt in St. Petersburg that should have been paid long ago and the gypsy song he had sung that evening. The woman he loved rose in his imagination, wearing a cap with lilac ribbons, and yet, inseparable from all these and from thousands of other recollections, the present thought, the expectation of death, did not leave him for a moment. 'Perhaps it won't explode,' and with desperate final decision he wished to open his eyes, but at that instant a red flame pierced through the still closed lids, and with a terrible crash, something struck him in the middle of the chest.

"He jumped up and began to run, but, stumbling over the saber that got between his legs, fell on his side. 'Thank God, I'm only bruised,' was his first thought, and he wished to touch his chest with his hand, but his arms seemed tied to his sides, and it felt as if a vise were squeezing his head. Soldiers flitted past him, and he counted them unconsciously. Then lightning flashed before his eyes, and he wondered whether the shot were fired from a mortar or cannon. 'Cannon, probably, and here are more soldiers—five, six, seven soldiers. They all pass by.' He was suddenly filled with fear that they would crush him. He wished to shout that he was hurt, but his mouth was so dry that his tongue clove to the roof of his mouth.

"He felt it wet about his chest, and this sensation of being wet made him think of water. Fearing lest the soldiers might trample on him, he tried to shout 'Take care with you,' but instead of that uttered such a terrible groan that he was frightened to hear it. Then other red fires began dancing before his eyes, and it seemed to him that the soldiers put stones on him. He made an effort to push off the stones, stretched himself, and saw and heard and felt nothing more. He had been killed on the spot by a bomb splinter in the middle of his chest."

In a Mexican Hat Store.

Half a million straw hats is no uncommon sight to be met with at one time in the hat stores of Mexico. The hats are made of a long pampas grass which grows nowhere else in the world. It is specially cultivated for the hat industry. So rapidly are the hats made that some skilled workmen can turn out ten or a dozen a day, and they are then sent to all parts of the world. They cost about fourpence each to make, are retailed at from 1 shilling 6pence to 4 shillings and are so durable that it not infrequently happens that those of an economical turn of mind make a single hat last ten years.—London Queen.

A Dispenser.

A street preacher in a west of Scotland town complained to a passing policeman about being annoyed by a part of the audience and asked him to remove the obnoxious ones. "Well, ye see," replied the cautious officer, "it would be a hard job for me to spot them, but I'll tell ye what I'd dae if I were ye." "What would ye do?" eagerly inquired the preacher. "Just ga round wi' the hat!"

Finance.

Many words of most august sound prove to be of quite commonplace ancestry when traced to their origins. "Finance" is really only "settling up." Literally, it is just "ending" and was formerly used in that very simple sense in the English language. Then it came to signify settling up with a creditor and acquired the special sense of ransom.

THE EYEBROWS.

Some Superstitious and Odd Beliefs Concerning Them.

Notwithstanding their inconspicuousness, the eyebrows have been the center of a certain amount of lore and even superstition. But the chief point at which superstition or folklore is found in this connection is in those cases, not infrequent, where the eyebrows meet. Everywhere this meeting of the brows has been held to be ominous in one way or another.

In some of our southern counties folks say that it is good to have such brows, for the possessor will never have trouble; but this is a rare interpretation. As a rule, the meeting brows are held to be of evil omen. Readers of Charles Kingsley's "Two Years Ago" will remember Mrs. Harvey's face, which had been handsome and was still clever; "but the eyebrows," continues Kingsley, "crushed together downward above her nose and, rising high at the outer corners, indicated as surely as the restless down drop eye a character self-conscious, furtive, capable of great inconsistencies, possibly of great deceptions."

In the Icelandic sagas a man with meeting eyebrows is said to be one of the dreadful creatures known as were-wolves, and the same belief has been traced in Denmark and Germany; while in Greece, says Mr. Baring Gould, they are a sign that a man is a vampire. In horror there is little to choose between vampires and were-wolves. A fearful reason which has been given for these superstitions is that the meeting brows resemble a butterfly, "the familiar type of a soul ready to fly off and enter some other body." This seems tolerably far fetched.

In Hungary gypsy women and men whose eyebrows grow together are supposed to have in special degree the power to enchantment, and as illiterate folk have a great dread of such mysterious powers, especially as they may be supposed to be directed against the well being or happiness of their children, it need hardly be said that a man whose brows meet is not a popular person. Even now there are parts of England where a belief in witchcraft still lingers, and not so very long ago in Northumberland there were people who regarded a person whose eyebrows met as a witch or warlock.

In the north of Aberdeenshire, according to the late Rev. Walter Gregor, who was a very competent authority on Scottish lore and customs, a "close brot man"—that is, one whose eyebrows meet—was regarded as being immoral. Elsewhere in Scotland one with "close broos" was regarded as unlucky to be met as "first hit," while other folk went a good deal further and regarded the unlucky possessor of "close broos" as one foredoomed to be hanged.—London Globe.

Arnold's Comment.

As school inspector Matthew Arnold was examining a class in geography one day, and holding up the poker with which he was about to stir the fire, he asked if any child could tell him where it was manufactured. There was a long silence, broken by the schoolmistress, who remarked nervously that such information was not mentioned in Cornwall's geography. "No," said Arnold; "Cornwall's an ass!"

The Entertainer.

"My wife is a lecturer, and I am an entertainer," said Hobbs.
"Indeed? I knew your wife appeared in public, but I did not know that you ever did."

"Oh, I don't. I stay at home and entertain the baby."

One of the Most Peculiar Weapons of War Ever Invented.

The boomerang is an instrument used both in war and in the chase by the aborigines of Australia. It is usually about two feet in length, made of hard wood bent into a curve resembling an obtuse angle, flat on one side and rounded on the other. The method of using this curious weapon is very peculiar. The thrower takes it in one hand, holding the bent side downward, and hurls it forward as if to hit some object twenty or twenty-five yards in advance. Instead of continuing to go directly forward in accordance with the Newtonian law it slowly ascends in the air, whirling round and round, describing a beautiful and geometrical curved line till it reaches a considerable height, when it begins to retrograde, finally sweeping over the head of the projector, striking the object for which it was intended, which is always in the rear.

An English officer has this to say of the singular weapon: "The boomerang is one of the most curious weapons of war ever invented, at least by a barbarous people, nor is it easy to comprehend by what law of projectiles it is made to take the singular directions that it frequently does. I have seen a native throw one so as to make it go forty or fifty yards horizontally and not more than four feet from the ground. It would then suddenly dart into the air to the height of fifty or sixty yards, describe a very considerable curve and finally fall at his feet. In all cases, no matter how thrown, the boomerang keeps turning with great rapidity, like as if on a pivot, making a loud, whizzing noise all the while."

COLOR COMBINATIONS.

How They Were Cleverly Used In Exposing a Fraud.

In a large factory in which were employed several hundred persons one of the workmen in wielding his hammer carelessly allowed it to slip from his hand. It flew halfway across the room and struck a fellow workman in the left eye. The man afterward averred that his eye was blinded by the blow, although a careful examination failed to reveal any injury, there being not a scratch visible.

He brought a suit in the courts for compensation for the loss of half of his eyesight, and refused all offers of compromise. Under the law the owner of the factory was responsible for an injury resulting from an accident of this kind.

The day of the trial arrived, and in open court an eminent oculist, retained by the defense, examined the alleged injured member and gave it as his opinion that it was as good as the right eye.

Upon the plaintiff's loud protest of his inability to see with his left eye the oculist proved him a perjurer and satisfied the court and jury of the falsity of his claim. He did it simply by knowing that the colors green and red combined make black.

He prepared a black card, on which a few words were written in green ink. Then the plaintiff was ordered to put on a pair of spectacles with two different glasses, the one for the right eye being red, and the one for the left eye consisting of ordinary glass. Then the card was handed to him, and he was ordered to read the writing on it through the glasses.

This he did without hesitation, and the cheat was at once exposed. Owing to the effect which the colored glass must have had upon the green writing the sound right eye fitted with the red glass could not possibly distinguish the writing on the black surface of the card, while the left eye, which he pretended was sightless, was the one with which the reading had to be done.—London Standard.

A Spoiled Sermon.

A clergyman was unexpectedly called upon to preach before the students of a well known college. He chose a sermon from his "barrel" and without reading it went to the college chapel. He got on splendidly until near the close, when he amazed the boys with his peroration, beginning, "And now a word in conclusion to you who are mothers."

Several Dialects.

McCall—What sort of hybrid creature is that new butler of yours? Nuttall—Why, how do you mean? McCall—I called to see you the other day, and when I asked him what time I might catch you at home he said, "At half past tin, sah."—Philadelphia Press.

FINE MOHAIR RAISED IN SACRAMENTOS

Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 16.—J. N. Dougherty and sons and Thomas Fleming well known goat raisers who own large ranches in the Sacramento river country, are beginning to bring wagon loads of fine mohair into this town for shipment. These men and their neighbors will have over 50,000 pounds of the finest mohair on the market and will ship it from this place. They have extensive herds of Angoras and are successful in the upbuilding of their flocks.

CIGAR STORE MEN FINED.

Roswell, N. M., Nov. 16.—U. H. Felder, who conducts the Rothenberg and Schloss cigar store here was indicted for violating the Sunday closing law. He pleaded guilty and paid the fine. Similar information has been filed against the "Smoke House" another cigar store here and both places will hereafter remain closed on the Sabbath. The police are making an effort to enforce the Sunday closing law strictly and have succeeded very well thus far.

THE GOLDEN FLEECE.

Most Highly Priced of the Surviving Orders of Chivalry.

Of all the orders of mediaeval chivalry which have survived the shock of successive revolutions on the continent of Europe since the great cataclysm of 1789, that of the Golden Fleece is perhaps the most distinguished and the most highly coveted by personages of royal birth or of illustrious patrician lineage.

The badge of the order is the figure of a sheep in embossed gold suspended from a heavy chain of gold. The full robes consist of a long mantle of crimson velvet, cut in the fashion of a sacerdotal cope, richly embroidered at the borders with emblematic devices of stars, half moons and fleeces in gold and lined with white satin, over a doublet and hose of crimson damask. The full robes also comprise a "chaparron," or hood, with a long flowing streamer of black satin, but this headgear has in modern times been generally dispensed with.

Originally the robes of the order, which was founded in 1429 by Philip the Good, duke of Burgundy, were of crimson cloth lined with white lamb's wool, and this circumstance has somewhat strengthened the theory that the golden fleece was instituted by Philip the Good in grateful recognition of the immense treasures which the Duke of Burgundy had acquired from the wool of the flocks reared on his vast estates in Flanders. Be it as it may, the woolen costume was changed in 1473 at a chapter held at Valenciennes for the more costly materials of velvet, taffeta, damask and gold embroidery.—London Telegraph.

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS.

Fifty years ago the Hamburg-American line was started, with two steamers. Today the same company has 157 ocean steamers plying on fifty-five different routes to all parts of the world.

It is estimated that the world's international commerce will aggregate this year fully $25,000,000,000. In 1850 the commerce between all the nations amounted to only $4,000,000,000. The increase in the last century has been therefore over 600 per cent.

Acetylene lighting is quietly gaining favor, and the German Acetylene association finds the gas is supplied to the public by 75 places in Germany, 202 in the United States, 16 in the United Kingdom and 19 in the British colonies, while Germany alone has 75,000 private installations.

Heavy fines are imposed in Great Britain on factory owners, engineers, engine builders and others to whom any blame attaches for boiler explosions. The consequence is that the death toll is only one-tenth of that in America from such explosions in proportion to the number of boilers.

The Butcher Bird.

The shrike or butcher bird hangs out a bait for his prey. After killing a large insect or small bird he impales its remains on a thorn or twig and waits for other insects or birds to be attracted.

FOR THAT TIRED FEELING.

Men whose work keeps them largely indoors; men whose vital forces are consumed by the tremendous strain entailed by constant mental application to business details, will find Dr. Lauritzen's Malt Tonic the most delicious and invigorating of tonics.

Breezy Paragraphs
From the Kicker

A Political Discussion That Came Near Ending in Murder.

[Copyright, 1906, by Eugene Parcells.]
R. JIM HELLSO (who is ourself) wishes the Kicker to deny in the most vigorous language that he is thinking of resigning his position as postmaster of this gulch. He dies now and then,
but he never resigns.

Mr. Jim Hellsso (who is ourself) paid a short visit to Denver last week and did not blow out the gas.

Mr. Jim Hellsso (who is ourself) blew down the barrel of a new shotgun on exhibition at Kramer's the other day.
It wasn't loaded.

Mr. Jim Hellsso (who is ourself) informs us that alterations and improvements to the Hellsso Opera House will cost $2,000. One hundred pounds of lead was dug out of the ceiling last week.

Mr. Jim Hellsso (who is ourself) has asked the Kicker to deny in thunderous tones that he contemplates organizing a wild west show and taking the road next summer in opposition to Buffalo William. His show has been right here in Givensdam Gulch for the last eight years.

It is quite true that the editor of the Kicker and the governor of the territory met at Florence the other day and had a long and confidential talk, but there is not a grain of truth in the statement that they played poker for ten hours on a stretch and that the result was bad for the governor. We and the governor were on our dignity all the time. Had he suggested poker we should have discouraged the idea.

Colonel Joe Skelly of the Big 4 ranch informs us that he felt and counted ninety-eight distinct shocks of an earthquake last Sunday. We have not the slightest hesitation in pronouncing Colonel Joe a liar. If he was sober enough to feel or hear anything it was one of his old mules rolling on the grass.

Edward Jones and Peter Howard,
both of this town, met on the street last Sunday and resumed a political discussion, with the result that guns were drawn and ten shots fired. No one was killed, no one wounded. The

TEN SHOTS FIRED.
men stood and looked at each other in astonishment for a moment after the firing and then each ran in the opposite direction. Oh, yes; Arizona will be admitted to the Union, when the robins nest again!

There is neither law nor ordinance in this whole territory against speeding automobiles. They can skip along at a rate of 100 miles an hour. On the contrary, there is no law against any citizen taking a pop at a chauffeur with his gun if he feels so minded, and he is pretty sure to feel that way. If you own an auto and are looking for a paradise, come this way and get a free burial.

A Chicago man who was looking for real estate in this locality went over to Lone Jack the other day to buy a large block of town lots. On visiting the graveyard he found that only twenty-one people had died in three years. He did not buy. He realized that a town that couldn't do better than that was a slow town and had no future.

We understand that certain members of the only church choir in Giv-ensdam Gulch object to our leading the singing because we play poker, own a race horse and a fighting dog and take a nip with the boys occasionally.
We don't suppose it is exactly according to the eternal fitness of things, but until society has safely passed through the chaotic state and can stand alone we shall stick to our singing job and back it up with two guns. Meanwhile we shall sing with ardor and with as much reverence as we can.

At the last meeting of the common council Alderman Adams offered a resolution that the name Givensdam Gulch be changed to Crescent City. Such names as Roost High, Last Stop, Angel's Rest and Hell Bent were substituted, but all were voted down, and the alderman finally withdrew his motion.

The lots offered are in the center of the city, well graded (many of them improved by cultivation); no sand or gravel. will be. There is nothing euphonious or lingering about the names Denver, Omaha, Buffalo, New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia, but when you come to Givensdam Gulch you pause and think and remember.

The editor of the Utah Weekly Monitor, wishing to emulate us and become famous at Teheran and other places, drew a gun on a stranger the other day and made arrangements to start a private graveyard. His machinery skipped a cog, however. He received two bullets in the body, and the doctor says he may not pull through. The imitator seldom succeeds.

The seventh city marshal that Givensdam Gulch has had in the last six years sent in his resignation at the last meeting of the common council. The objection to the place seems to be that the incumbent is shot from two to five times a month and by gets tired of carrying bullets around. The place is open to some good man. Hours, all the time; pay, $12 a week. When not otherwise engaged the marshal will be expected to put in his time picking lead out of the doors of the city hall.

Last Tuesday evening, by special invitation of the leading citizens of Wolf Creek, we rode over to that town and delivered our lecture on "Great Editors of the Present Day." We had scarcely mentioned our name as leading the list when several bad men began making demonstrations of disapproval, and in the end we had to retire. We believe that a number of citizens followed us for a mile or two. We have cut off every subscriber we had in the town and want nothing more to do with it.

Our esteemed contemporary did not issue any paper at all last week. We understand that his cheese press broke down and he was out of ink. It was just as well. No one noticed the absence of his sheet. He is again telling around that he means to shoot us on sight, and it is to laugh. He has shot at us over 600 times and we have never even heard the whizz of one of his bullets. He may hit us with his old bat some day, but never with a bullet.

The Blue Hills Banner calls us the Caesar of Arizona. Thanks! We have seized about everything in sight that promised to be a good thing, and have let go of nothing. We started out to take care of ourself, and the editors now in the poorhouse needn't walk down to the gate to look for our coming.

According to the Rules.
An Irishman was walking by golf links one day and was struck on the shoulder by a golf ball. The player hurried to him, saying:
"Are you hurt? Why didn't you look out?"
"And what did I know about lookin' out?" replied Pat. "How did I know the ball was comin'?"
"Why, I called fore," explained the player, "which is a signal for you to get out of the way."
"Sure, that's it, is it? Well, when I say 'fove' it's a sign you're goin' to get hit in the eye. 'Fove' is Judge's Magazine of Fun."

Deacon Hardesty (to waiter)—Young man, if I didn't know that everything that happens is foreordained I should feel like blaming you for having given me the worst dinner I have had for twenty-five years.
Waiter—Yes, sir. As soon as I took a look at you I saw that it was fore-ordained that I wasn't going to get any tip.—Chicago Tribune.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

Professor K. G. Matheson has been unanimously elected president of the Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta to succeed the late Captain Lyman Hall.

In comparing the pay of Maine teachers with the wages of cotton mill operatives in the state the committee found that the balance in favor of the teachers was very slight.

Professor Leonard W. Williams, assistant professor of comparative anatomy at Brown university, has resigned, and Herbert Eugene Walter of Chicago has been appointed as his successor.

Professor Edward Perkins Clarke, the newly appointed principal of the Central New York Institution of Deaf Mutes, was led to make the profession of teaching the deaf his life's work owing to the fact that both his parents were deaf.

REVELED IN PERFUMES.

The Ancients Indulged in Them to an Extravagant Degree.

The use of perfume was indulged in to such an extravagant degree by the ancients that some of the more ascetic men had good reason to denounce it. Solon issued an edict prohibiting its use in Athens. Julius Caesar and Lucius, who were Roman consuls in 650, published a law forbidding the sale of exotics in that city, and by the laws of Lycurgus perfumers were expelled from Sparta as being wasteful of oil and encouragers of sensuousness. Clearchus wrote against the excessive use of unguents, and Socrates declaimed against them in strong terms, preferring, he said, "the smell of healthy toil and the perfume of a good and manly life." It was customary at festivals to pass round to the guests perfumes served in alabaster boxes and vessels of gold. At one of these feasts Cynulcus, who loved to deride the youth for the use of perfume, was made a butt for their ridicule. Some mischievous youth anointed the cynic with much ointment, pouring it lavishly over his head and face. When he awoke he exclaimed in an angry voice: "What is this? Oh, Hercules, will not some one come with a sponge and wipe my face, which is thus polluted with a lot of dirt?"

At the Syrian banquets it was usual for the slaves to come in with bladders full of Babylonian perfumes and bedew the garlands and walls and hangings and all the halls with delicious fragrance. In some of the more modern feasts statues and ornaments were provided with jets which threw out diluted essences and attars.—London Society.

TABLE NAPKINS.

They Came Into General Use in the Fifteenth Century.

Curiously enough, that article, now considered almost indispensable, the table napkin, was first used only by children and was only adopted by elder members of the family about the middle of the fifteenth century. In etiquette books of an earlier date than this among other sage pieces of advice for children are instructions about wiping their fingers and lips with their napkins.

It seems that the tablecloth was long enough to reach the door and served the grown people in place of napkins. When they did begin to use napkins they placed them first on the shoulder, then on the left arm and finally tied them about the neck. A French writer who evidently was conservative and did not welcome the napkin kindly records with scorn:

"The napkin is placed under the chin and fastened in the back, as if one were going to be shaved. A person told me that he wore his that way that he might not soil his beautiful frills." It was a difficult matter to tie the two corners in the back, and it is said that thence originated our expression for straitened circumstances, "Hard to make both ends meet." This custom led to the habit of table waiters carrying a napkin on the left arm.

First Melodrama.

The first melodrama was produced at The Covent Garden theatre, London, on Nov. 14, 1802, and was called "The Tale of Mystery."

Skyrocket Mail.

Perhaps the most unusual way of delivering mails is that adopted for one of the islands of the Tonga group in the Pacific, where the danger of approaching inshore renders it necessary for the mail steamer to use a skyrocket as a postman.

Singing and Whistling Mice.
Singing and whistling mice are occasionally reported, but it is not generally known that these musical efforts of the little rodents are signs of fast approaching death. The "music" is caused by a parasite in the liver, and the sounds are the result of spasmodic breathing caused by its presence.

For the Stork.

The German house builders always contrive to leave a small flat place on the roof of each house for the stork to rest and build on.

Quite Regular.

"The last time I saw Gayley he wasn't very—er—regular in his habits." "Oh, he's very regular now." "Well, well, I didn't think he'd ever reform." "He hasn't. His habits are all bad now."—Philadelphia Ledger.

POWER OF CHEERFULNESS.

The Way One Druggist Laid the Ills of His Customer.

A pale, weak girl entered a downtown drug store the other (She seemed about to collapse. The proprietor assisted her into a chair prepared a mild stimulant for her. The druggist's manner was so sympathetic that a little later she confided in him that she suffered with her hand feared she had not much longer to live. "Heart disease?" inquired the druggist genially. "Why, I have heart disease myself; have had it four. That's nothing. I don't worry about it. I don't look like a man with a load on his mind, do I? You probably think that you are liable to go off any time. On the contrary, doctor will tell you that the age person with heart disease gets lives to a good old age. The very fact that a sufferer from heart disease is of himself or herself is calculated to lengthen the years indefinitely. To see, a man with a weak heart natty, is careful of himself a bit. He doesn't commit any excesses, never over anything, lives in moderation and keeps his vitality unimpaired. If all you have to do—just take care of yourself. What's the use of worrying?"

The druggist's cheerfulness was infectious, the genial interest of his made depression appear foolish, as the girl soon began to look more hopeful and even smiled. After the druggist had gayly chatted with her awhile she rose and walked out of the store with a firm step.

This druggist, though he would scorn the idea if suggested to him, is a benefactor to humanity. He is a believer in the power of cheerfulness, and the good that he does in his peculiar way is not easy to estimate.

Not a day passes that he does not impart his message of the cheerful life to some despairing individual. He makes all others' ailments his own and points out the uselessness of worry. A man will come in bent and suffering. Perhaps he confides to the druggist that he has kidney disease and fears his days are numbered. The druggist immediately informs him that there is no cause for alarm; he has had kidney trouble himself for, oh, so many years, and has no intention of dropping off. That druggist, in the course of a week, probably will acknowledge that he is afflicted with every ailment except housemaid's knee. He makes every complainer feel better. He fairly radiates good cheer and optimism. It is his belief that half the sufferers in the world have complaints that bright spirits will overcome. But even when they have a real disease it is his theory that a little cheerfulness doesn't hurt and that the malady is only aggravated by constant depression. He makes it his mission in life to drive away depression and turn the thought of people toward brighter things. His cheerfulness is a tonic that never fails to act.—New York Press.

The First Coins.

The first coins were struck in brass about 1150 B. C. and in gold and silver by Phedon, tyrant of Argos, about 600 B. C.

Toast.

Butter a slice of bread, then toast the side not buttered. When nice, brown turn the buttered side to the fire long enough to let the butter soak into the bread. This makes a much nicer toast for invalids and elderly people than the ordinary toast.

Boraco Clubs.

The famous savage clubs of Boraco were modeled after a thorny fruit which grows wild in that island.

Shoe Blacking Flower.

An Australian flower of the nibiscus species is often used as blacking, the juice squeezed from four blossoms giving enough liquid to coat a shoe with a fine luster.

Fowling and Falconry.

Fowling and falconry were practiced by the ancient Greeks, but were carried to greater perfection in mediæval England.

The Poultry Business.

Billfuzz—See that sharp looking man over there? He has made a fortune out of the poultry business. Jubb—Is that so? He doesn't look like a man who raised chickens. Billfuzz—Raise chickens? Of course he doesn't. He writes books telling other people how such they can make by raising them.

BETTER LAND THAN IN OKLAHOMA

Soil Superior in Many Ways—Opinion of R. H. Harper of Kansas on Estancia Valley.

Robert H. Harper, of Caldwell, Kansas, who has made a homestead entry near Moriarty, Torrance county, about four miles north and one mile west of that town, was in the city yesterday en route to his old home for the purpose of preparing to move upon his homestead within the time prescribed by law.

Mr. Harper has finished the construction of a dwelling on his homestead and the necessary preparations for the digging of a well on the premises.

He believes that he can strike a good body of water at a depth of between 40 and 50 feet. The coming spring he will fence 40 acres of the land and will put about 20 acres under cultivation in diversified crops, wheat, oats, kafir corn, and sorghum. Mr. Harper is of the opinion he will make a success of farming if he puts in a good deal of work.

He has examined the soil in that vicinity and believes it to be very good. There is no good reason why farming there should not be a success.

His examination induces him to believe that the land holds moisture better than Oklahoma and Indian Territory land and that there is plenty of moisture for plowing. This is the second trip and inspection of the country he has made and he found that conditions are satisfactory; when he returns in the spring his wife and children will accompany him.

He also expects to bring some livestock, household utensils and farming implements. Mr. Harper was a car at the office of the Bureau of Immigration yesterday and secured passes and bulletins on the resources of the territory published by the B. I. These he will take with him to the enlightenment of his neighbors as to induce more of them to come to New Mexico.

The public is showing its appreciation of the attractive circulars sent out by the New Mexican Printing Company, in regard to rubber stamps.

Twenty Minutes Time Enough?

To Cure the Worst Headache From Any Cause—New Reduction Method.

Most headaches and pains yield instantly to the new Reduction Method—Dr. Shoop's Twenty Minute Headache Cure. The cause for these pains is congestion—a rushing of blood to the nerve centers—which distends the vessels to nearly the bursting point. Swollen and enlarged these vessels and capillaries exert an irritating pressure on the myriads of nerve branches and fibers. Then there's a pain, and finally there's excruciating, ceaseless, throbbing pain, which is the headache. This new Reduction Method—Dr. Shoop's—disrupts the congestion, disperses the blood, and directs it to the proper channels. It frees the nerve pressure and pain and pain disappears because the cause has been removed. You may try it without doing you may multiply the nerves which bring relief and will be successful. The congestion—it must embody the Reduction Method. Medicine has thus found a way—simple and sure, yet the only way—to thoroughly overcome these attacks of Headache and Neuritis. The effect of Dr. Shoop's Twenty Minute Headache Cure is prompt—perfectly suited to all forms of headache and absolutely positive in every instance. For sale and recommended by FISCHEK DRUG COMPANY.

NO PAS FOR LAND AGENTS

Western Will Not Even Give Them Rates—System Illegal.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—All western roads have announced they would discontinue the practicing free transportation of rates to land agents, and a major of the 50,000 land agents who were faced with the western trunk lines will find themselves out of work. This action was taken by the interstate commerce commission that the issuance of such transportation was illegal. Under the new conditions the methods employed in utilizing the country west of the Mississippi river must be reorganized. If the old system the rates were put to a point where prospective buyers could look for new homes at all cost.

ANOTHER MYSTERY NEEDS SOLVING

Charles Newton Supposedly Perished in Snow While Herding Cattle Says Relative.

"To anyone at the Capitol at Santa Fe" was the address on a letter received this morning by Captain Fred Fournoff of the Territorial Mounted Police. The epistle was from Mrs. V. G. Babb of Southwick, Massachusetts, and requested information concerning one Charles Newton, an uncle of Mrs. Babb. Captain Fournoff has turned the letter over to the New Mexican to publish in the hope that it may be read by somebody acquainted with the missing relative. It is as follows:

"Can you give me any information of a Charles Newton who perished in the snow on the mountains last winter while herding cattle with a Mr. Yates. Charles Newton was the name of my uncle who left home about forty years ago, and this is the first time we have seen his name—saw it in the Lynn Item of Massachusetts. Hoping and judging this may be the means of finding him. Will wait anxiously for a reply."

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Members of Las Vegas Commercial Club Urged to Get Busy by Their New President.

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 16.—One of the most enthusiastic meetings in the history of the Commercial Club of this city occurred on Tuesday evening last, when one hundred and fifty members of the club gathered at the club rooms in response to an invitation from President Buddecke. The principal business of the meeting was a lengthy address by the president in which he outlined the duties of a Commercial Club and urged upon the members to wake up and push everything that would help to advance the Meadow City and be of interest to its citizens. In closing his address, which was very interesting, President Buddecke said:

"Gentlemen—Let our battle cry be one town, one greater Las Vegas and one commercial club that will be the envy of every city in the United States and second to none in the country."

THE EL PASO-MOUNTAIN PARK RAILWAY

To Connect With Santa Fe Central at Torrance—Denver Connection via Santa Fe.

The New Mexican has information from New York that the papers have been drafted for the incorporation of the El Paso-Mountain Park Railway, to be capitalized at $6,000,000, all of which is subscribed, to build a railroad 220 miles long from El Paso, Texas, to some point north in New Mexico, presumably Torrance or Willard, there to connect with the Santa Fe Central and Beien cutoff. The locating engineer is at El Paso, Texas, at present, to make the preliminary preparations for a permanent survey, construction to commence early next summer. It is understood that the Gould interests are backing the project which is to be a link in a direct line from Denver to Mexico via Santa Fe, Torrance and El Paso. The road is to be completed by the end of 1908. At the same time the Hagan coal fields are to be tapped as being the most convenient coal field to the proposed new system.

SPECIAL TERM OF COURT

For Otero County—Several Cases on Trial—One Conviction.

Special to New Mexican.

Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 16.—A special term of the district court for Otero County is now in session at Alamogordo, the county seat. Judge Edward A. Mann is the presiding judge and District Attorney H. B. Holt of Las Cruces is in attendance. No grand jury has been empaneled, but a petit jury has been organized for the trial of cases. Several cases that should have been tried at the last regular term in September but which on account of the personnel of the petit jury, which was very unsatisfactory, had been postponed have been heard. These cases will be disposed of before the special term ends, which will be Wednesday or Thursday of the coming week. In the case of the Territory vs. Romo, on an indictment for wife-beating, a verdict of guilty was rendered.
