According to a report released May 8 by the National Automotive Vehicles Manufacturers Association (ANFAVEA), in the first four months of the year, automotives output totaled 240,680 units, down 8.27% compared to the same period last year. Output in April totaled 47,626 units, down 28.8% compared to March, and up 41.38% compared to April 1990. Exports of 13,635 units for $170 million last month represented a 25.7% decline compared to April 1990. ANFAVEA president Jacy Mendoza said that if poor export performance continues, volume this year will be down 25% compared to 1990. Total 1990 exports were 187,300 vehicles, 26% less than in 1989.
