REMOVAL OF
COUNTY OFFICERS*To Be After Fair
Trial in District
Court*GUILT MUST BE PROVEN*Measure Containing Wise Provisions Introduced By President Spiess.

If Council Bill Number 44, introduced in the Council by President Spiess, yesterday becomes a law, public officers will hereafter be removed from office only after a fair and impartial trial in a district court.

The bill in question is entitled an act providing a method for the removal of public officers.

It provides that when a tax payer of any county shall make affidavit to the district attorney, that any county official is guilty of malfeasance or gross immorality in office, the district attorney shall bring proceedings for the removal of the official in the district court for said county. If the official is found guilty he shall be removed summarily. If he be acquitted, he can recover costs from the county.

The bill is in reality a companion measure to Mr. Holt's bill in the House which provides for the filling of vacancies in county offices by the county commissioners.

The bill introduced by President Spiess is as follows:

Council Bill Number 44.
AN ACT PROVIDING A METHOD
FOR THE REMOVAL OF PUBLIC OFFICERS.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico,

Section 1. Whenever any tax payer residing in any county of this Territory shall present to the district attorney for such county an affidavit setting up specific facts and charges against any county officer of such county, which, in the opinion of such district attorney, show such officer to be guilty of malfeasance, nonfeasance, misfeasance, misconduct in office or flagrant immorality, it shall be the duty of such district attorney to file an information in the district court of said county, in the name of the Territory of New Mexico, setting up the material facts contained in such affidavit, and praying that judgment be rendered by said court removing such person from his office and declaring the same vacant; Provided such information may be filed on the district attorney's own motion.

Summons Issued in Regular Order.
Sec. 2. Upon the filing of such information, the clerk of said court shall issue a summons directed to such officer, conforming as near as practicable to the summons in a civil action, directing him to be and appear before said district court within twenty days from the date of service thereof to answer said information. A copy of the said information shall be attached to said summons, and the same shall be served and returned in the same manner as a summons in an ordinary civil action.

Sec. 3. Within twenty days from the service of said summons, said officer shall appear before said district court, file his answer to said information, and said court shall immediately proceed to hear the proofs in said cause on behalf of both parties and to determine the same. Said cause shall be prosecuted on behalf of the Territory by the district attorney, and shall be heard and determined in a summary manner, but the procedure shall conform as near as practicable to that of other civil actions, except that no jury trial shall be allowed therein.

Sec. 4. If said court find that such officer has been guilty of malfeasance, misfeasance, misconduct in office or flagrant immorality, judgment shall be rendered ousting such officer and declaring his office vacant, and immediately upon the entry of such judgment such officer shall be and become vacant, and shall be filled as provided by law for other vacancies in such office.

Has Recourse at Law.
Sec. 5. In case such judgment be rendered, the officer so ousted may prosecute an appeal or sue out a writ of error therefrom in the same manner and to the same effect as the same may be sued out or prosecuted from final judgments in civil actions, but no such appeal or writ of error shall operate as a supersedeas, or stay of such judgment, nor shall any supersedeas or stay be in any manner allowed thereof.

Sec. 6. In case such officer shall fail to appear and answer in accordance with said summons, said court may judge him in default and proceed to hear and determine said cause as in default in civil actions. In case said officer be found not guilty he shall recover judgment against such county for his costs.

Sec. 7. Justices of the peace, constables and members of boards of school directors shall be subject to be removed for the foregoing causes and in the foregoing manner, except that the affidavit hereinabove provided for must be made by a resident and taxpayer of the same precinct or school district as that for which such officer is elected; Provided, that the district attorney may file such information in such cases on his own motion, as in the case of county officers.

Sec. 8. In case any surety upon the official bond of any public officer shall die, remove from the Territory or become insolvent, or for any other reason said bond becomes or is insufficient and such officer shall fail to give and file a new and sufficient bond within thirty days after being notified so to do by the district attorney such failure shall be sufficient ground for removal of such officer in the manner herein prescribed.

Several Other Acts Repealed.
Sec. 9. Sections 735, 736, 729, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 1549, Section 33 of Chapter 22, of the Laws of 1899, Section 6, of Chapter 43, of the Laws of 1901, all that portion of Section 2567 of the Compiled Laws of 1897, and of Section 1, Chapter 40, of the Laws of 1903, and of Section 17, of Chapter 119, of the Laws of 1903, which provide for a different method of removal of certain officers, and all acts or parts of acts providing a different method than herein expressed for the removal of public officers, whether general in form or applying to specific officers or classes of officers and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed, and this act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

WORK ON GALISTEO BRIDGE PROGRESSING

Structure Will be Completed by First of March—Arch Now Under Way.

The arch part of the reinforced concrete bridge being built across the river on Galisteo street will be finished by the end of the present week, according to a statement made yesterday by Joseph P. Brackett, secretary of the Walter Sharpe Bridge Company who has personal charge of the construction work. Mr. Brackett is confident that the entire bridge will be completed by the first of March as formerly announced if the weather continues favorable during the intervening time.

A force of about a dozen men is now employed on the new bridge and it is rapidly assuming shape. A concrete mixing machine, operated by a steam engine, has been stationed at the north approach to the structure and it keeps several of the workmen busy with wheelbarrows feeding it and dumping the green concrete.

"We will have the bridge done by the end of the month all right with the exception of the wing walls," Mr. Brackett said. "We might be able to finish the wing walls too by that time if the county commissioners make up their minds just what kind they want. The wing wall part of the contract is still in abeyance."

CAPTAIN FIRST TO LEAVE SHIP*Sensation Develops
Result of Marine
Horror*CREW MONOPOLIZED BOATS*Is Charge Made By Survivor of Larchmont Disaster—49 Bodies Recovered.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 14.—A new element was injected into the horrors attending the sinking of the steamer Larchmont in Block Island Sound Monday night, when Captain McVey, of the ill-fated steamer early today admitted that his life-boat was one of the first, if not the first, to leave the sinking ship.

Captain First to Leave Ship.
This statement was made in reply to charges made by Fred Hirsell, one of the survivors, who claimed that the passengers were left to shift for themselves; that the ship's crew crowded the life-boats without attempting to provide for the passengers and that Captain McVey was the first to desert the ship.

Accused Denies Charge.
McVey explained that while his life boat may have been the first one in the water, it was because he had a good crew and that he remained by his ship until she went down. He said that he made no move to get into his boat until he had given orders to his men to lower all the life-boats and to clear away the rafts.

Had to Cut Loose From Ship.
While his boat was in the water it was fastened to the ship by a rope and when its running gear became fouled, the captain said this was cut by the boatswain who saw that as the ship settled, the life-boat would be drawn down with it.

Told Passengers to Jump.
The captain claimed he called upon the passengers to jump into his boat which would hold twenty-two, but that in the darkness and confusion no one heeded his summons. Then, according to his statement, his boat was driven from the ship by the wind.

Known Dead Now 138.
At 8 o'clock this morning the number of known dead stood at 138, of whom 71 bodies had been recovered with 49 of them identified. The weather today moderated and under the circumstances there is little hope that any more bodies will be washed ashore today, as the sea is calm.

FIRE ALMOST
WIPES OUT CITY*Disastrous Conflagration Visits Pine Bluff Ark.*HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS*Three Hotels, Scores of Residences and Church Destroyed—Two Lives Lost.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Feb. 14.—As a result of a disastrous conflagration which started shortly after midnight, a large portion of this city is today a smoldering ruin and nearly one thousand people are homeless, including one hundred and fifty families, everyone of whom lost practically everything, being forced to flee from the flames in nothing but their night clothes.

Loss Estimated at $200,000.
Ninety cottages and residences, three hotels, the Carr Memorial Church, the handsome edifice in the city, and fully two hundred barns and outbuildings were burned to the ground, entailing a loss conservatively estimated at $200,000.

Flames Fanned by High Wind.
The fire started in a cheap lodging house and the structure which was a ramshackle frame building was almost a total mass of flames before the alarm was given. A strong wind was blowing and in a short time the fire had gotten beyond the control of the local fire department and the flames spread to the adjoining buildings and invaded the residence district.

Burning Embers Started Many Fires.
Burning embers forced skyward by the terrific heat were carried distances of a block by the wind and these set fire to many residences. So numerous did these fires become that it was but a short time until a conflagration was raging and an appeal for aid was sent to Little Rock, which city sent fire apparatus and firemen to this city on a special train, which arrived within two hours after the fire started. These did valuable work and probably saved the city from total destruction.

Only Two Lives Lost.
So far as could be learned today but two lives were lost, notwithstanding many rumors that a large number perished. The names of these two victims had been ascertained today.

Pine Bluff Beautiful City.
Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 14.—Pine Bluff, which was almost wiped out by a disastrous conflagration last night, is situated about thirty-six miles southeast of this city and is a town of 12,000 inhabitants. It is located at the head of low water navigation on the Arkansas River and is in the heart of an extensive cotton raising and manufacturing section. Reports which reached here today are to the effect that while the disaster will be a severe blow to the town, yet it has much wealth and its people are amply able to take care of the sufferers from the fire. No appeal for aid outside of help from the fire departments of this city was asked by the stricken town.

SPECIAL TRAIN LEAVES AT 7:30

In the Morning on Santa Fe Central Carrying Legislators on a Tour of Torrance County.

The special train of the Santa Fe Central Railway, provided by the Citizens' Committee of Torrance County to take the members of the Legislative Assembly on a tour of inspection tomorrow, will be on the track at the union depot at 7:30 a. m., and will leave promptly at 7:30 a. m.

This train will carry only the members of the Assembly, their wives and such other persons as have been especially invited by the Citizens' Committee of Torrance County to accompany the Assembly on this trip.

It is expected that the train will reach Santa Fe at about 6 p. m. in return.

The members of the Legislature and other guests of the Citizens' Committee are invited to partake of refreshments or luncheon at Estancia on their return from Progress and Willard, between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and thereafter carriages will be furnished to drive them to the different places of interest in the vicinity.

WOMEN CREATED ROUGH HOUSE

In Halls of British Parliament—Fined for Disorderly Conduct—All Went to Jail.

London, Feb. 14.—Fifty-six women suffragists who were arrested within the precincts of the Parliament last evening were arraigned today charged with disorderly conduct and resisting the police. Mrs. Deshard, a sister of General French, who was the leader in yesterday's attack was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve twenty-one days in jail. Some women who had previously been imprisoned were fined $10 with the option of a month's imprisonment. The rest were fined $5 or two weeks in jail. All of them elected to go to prison.

AFTER VIOLATORS ELECTION LAW

District Attorney Files Twenty-Two Informations in Torrance County District Court.

Special to The New Mexican.

Estancia, N. M., Feb. 14.—District Attorney Frank W. Clancy has filed in the District Court of Torrance County twenty-two informations for violations of the election law at the last election in this county, with affidavits supporting same.

Many Irregularities Charged.
The charge is made that many irregularities and not a few unheard of proceedings were had by judges and clerks of election boards in several precincts and that a number of illegal votes were cast. In one instance it is charged that the judge of one of the election boards informed a voter who attempted to vote that a Democrat could not vote in that precinct. The would-be voter retired from the polling place, but later returned and cast his ballot.

Refused to Cast Democratic Ballot.
Upon being asked by the judge of the board what party he voted for, he replied that he had voted the Democratic ticket, whereupon the judge unfolded his ballot, saw that it was in fact a Democratic ticket and promptly refused to allow it to be placed in the ballot box.

Warrants Issued for Offenders.
This is a fair sample of the charges set up in the informations and in the affidavits supporting the same. The process of the court has been issued for the alleged offenders and they will probably have a hearing next week.

The trial of criminal cases was taken up Tuesday morning. In the matter of the Territory versus Donacion Aguilar, there being two bills against the defendant for forgery, the plea of "not guilty" heretofore entered by the defendant was withdrawn by him and his plea of "guilty" entered. The court has not sentenced him as yet.

Pleading Guilty to Forgery.
The case of the Territory versus Luis Martinez consumed the time of the court Tuesday. The charges lodged against the defendant were assault with intent to murder and assault with a deadly weapon. Colonel George W. Prichard, of Santa Fe, appeared as counsel for the defendant and the case was given to the jury at 10 o'clock the same night.

Found Guilty of Deadly Assault.
In this, the first jury trial in Torrance County, the complaining witness, Elen Candelario, charged the defendant with striking him with a spade and then shooting at him with a rifle, the fundamental cause being his hatred of him because he, Candelario, had been a witness against him, Martinez, in a divorce suit, a year or two ago. Martinez claimed that Candelario called at his home, he and his wife having "patched up matters," and were again living together, in his absence and had insulted his wife, he arriving just in time to chase him off. He admitted firing his rifle, but he claimed to have shot in the air for the purpose of frightening the complaining witness.

The jury returned a verdict at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, finding the defendant guilty, as charged in the second count of the indictment—assault with a deadly weapon. The court has not as yet imposed sentence.

Murder Cases Next Week.
It is expected that the next cases to be taken up will be those of the Territory versus Domingo Valles, and the Territory versus Jap Clark, both defendants being charged with murder.

Both are here in the custody of the officers, having been arraigned yesterday when they pleaded "not guilty."

PROHIBITIONISTS ACTIVE IN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Washington, Feb. 14.—The Temperance advocates, one thousand strong, marched through the streets of the national capital today in support of a bill introduced by Representative Webber of Ohio to rid the District of Columbia of the liquor traffic. Only fifty advocates were able to get into the room while Representative Webber and others were speaking before the two Houses of the District of Columbia in an effort to secure a favorable report upon the bill, but the army of prohibitionists moved constantly past the open doors of the room and lent their support to the argument against the sale of liquor.

HILL SUMMONED BEFORE MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—A subpoena was issued today by order of the Knute Olson House Committee of the Legislature, directing President J. J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway to appear before the committee this afternoon to explain the recent deal of the Great Northern in ore lands. This committee was appointed for the purpose of investigating the ore land transactions between the Great Northern Railway and the United States Steel Corporation and the committee will make an effort to ascertain if under its charter the Great Northern has a right to deal in ore lands.

THE COUNCIL.
Nineteenth Day—Morning Session.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Council was called to order at 10:30 o'clock this morning, President Spiess presiding. The chaplain offered the invocation and Chief Clerk Martin read the roll. All answered present except Mr. Dalles and Mr. Murray.

The Committee on Territorial Affairs, Mr. Miera, chairman, reported Council Bill Number 13, an act to amend Chapters 2, 3 and 9 of the Laws of 1905, relative to the issuance of marriage licenses by Justices of the peace with the recommendation that it pass.

The Committee on Enrolled and Engrossed Bills, Mr. Chavez, chairman, reported that Council Bill Number 2, an act relative to the filling of vacancies in county offices had been properly enrolled and engrossed.

Council Bill Number 45, was introduced by Mr. Sargent, an act for the taxation of express companies. The bill was read by title and in full on its second reading and was ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Railroads. The bill is a lengthy one. It provides for the assessment of the express companies and names a new board to consist of the Territorial auditor as chairman and the Territorial treasurer and the attorney general to receive the reports of the amount of business done by these companies and to arrange for the levying of a territorial tax. A fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both, is provided in case any company or officer thereof makes a false return.

Following the reading of this bill which was the only one introduced, the Council resolved itself into a committee of the whole with Mr. Miera in the chair and resumed consideration of Council Bill Number 33, an act relative to the assessment and collection of taxes.

After reporting progress on Council Bill Number 33, the Council was reconvened by President Spiess and upon motion duly seconded and carried, took a recess until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THE COUNCIL.

Nineteenth Day—Afternoon Session.
The Council met at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon pursuant to adjournment. President Charles A. Spiess in the chair. The roll call by Chief Clerk Martin showed all members present except Messrs. Dalles and Murray, absent on account of illness. On motion duly seconded and carried the Council adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

THE HOUSE.

Nineteenth Day—Afternoon Session.
Pursuant to adjournment the House met this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Speaker Baca in the chair. The chaplain offered the invocation and the chief clerk read the roll, all answering present.

The Committee on Finance, Mr. Holt, chairman, reported favorably on House Bill Number 2 by Mr. Abbott of Santa Fe relative to the issuance of bonds by incorporated cities and towns which bore a proposed amendment to include villages. The bill was expected to pass the House before it adjourned today. A number of bills were introduced today among them being House Bill Number 91, by Mr. Padilla, having for its object the creation of a new county to be known as Foraker County and to be composed of portions of Colfax and Union Counties with the county seat at Folsom.

The Speaker has signed Council Bill Number 2, relative to the filling of vacancies in county offices by the county commissioners.

The House adjourned late this afternoon until 10 o'clock Monday morning. A full account of today's proceedings will be published in tomorrow's New Mexican.

San Francisco, Feb. 14.—The Examiner says today that President Harriman of the Pacific Mail Company has refused all offers from the officials of the Toyen Kisen Kaisha, a Japanese company operating steamers between this port and the Orient, to sell out his line of steamers in part or in whole. The Pacific Mail Company, it is said is now considering a proposition from Mexico by which the Pacific Mail Company is to abandon the Panama canal route in toto and run its steamers in connection with the Tehuantepec Isthmian Railway or else divide its steamer service between the two routes.

ANALYZE AND TEST COALS

Found in Various Fields in New Mexico—Samples to be Sent to St. Louis for that Purpose.

Governor Hagerman has for some time been in correspondence with the Interior Department relative to the testing of the various coal products of this Territory. The Sundry Civil Act, approved June 30, 1906, appropriates $250,000 for the analyzing and testing of coals and other mineral substances belonging to the United States, in order to determine their fuel value, such analysis to be conducted under the supervision of the Director of the Geological Survey, who is authorized to have the necessary materials collected from any part of the United States where they represent extensive deposits. The Director has, under authority of Congress, organized an extensive laboratory and fuel testing station at St. Louis, and as Congress has prescribed that he shall examine without charge the fuels required for use by the Government of the United States, the offer has been made to analyze the coals purchased for the use of the Territory of New Mexico under the same provision.

The Governor on behalf of the Territory immediately accepted this offer, and took the matter up with the United States Mine Inspector for New Mexico, and he has recently been informed that the Director of the Geological Survey will arrange at an early date to have one of its experts visit New Mexico and co-operate with the Territorial authorities in collecting samples of coal; that these samples will be sent to the Government Fuel Testing Plant at St. Louis, where they will be promptly analyzed and tested and the results reported.

Since coal constitutes one of the chief resources of New Mexico, its fields embracing an area of over one million acres, the importance of a reliable test and analysis of these vast deposits cannot be overestimated. Nothing should be left undone toward establishing the genuine character and fuel value of New Mexico coal, and every effort possible should be made by the Territorial authorities and the mine operators of New Mexico to facilitate the work of the government expert upon his arrival here by furnishing samples of coal from various deposits and any information he may call for.

While New Mexico produced nearly 2,000,000 tons of coal last year, and the quantity available is more than 8,000,000,000 tons, the United States Mine Inspector states that the undisturbed coal fields in this Territory are the largest in the United States.

--Makes Stirring Appeal in His Behalf.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Senator Knox of Pennsylvania made a stirring address in the Senate today in support of Senator Reed Smoot's title to a seat in the United States Senate as a representative from the State of Utah.

Opposed Committee Report.
Senator Knox strongly opposed the report of the committee on privileges and election which favors the ousting of Senator Smoot.

Religious Tolerance Guaranteed.
Mr. Knox insisted that Smoot should not be expelled because of his Mormonism, as the United States guarantees religious toleration. According to his views, Senator Smoot should not be expelled even if he had approved of polygamy as there was no federal law against polygamy which was applicable in Utah.

Referring to the subject as treated by the constitution, Senator Knox said that the States are left untrammelled in their right to choose their United States senators.

Would Soon Override All Rights.
"It is an easy step after the first one is taken," continued Senator Knox, "because of a man's religion, to take the next logical one, that of an exclusion of a man because of his politics; then because of his notions upon economics and then because of his attitude towards the creation again."

TO INCREASE EFFICIENCY
DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Washington, Feb. 14.—A new departure has been made in the administration of the affairs of the Department of Commerce and Labor by Secretary Strauss, who yesterday assembled all the chiefs of the bureaus of that department for what he termed his first "cabinet meeting." Secretary Strauss believes that regular conferences of all the chiefs will increase the efficiency of this department and he proposes to hold his "cabinet meetings" twice a month.

cuss Case While Absent.

New York, Feb. 14.—Justice Fitzgerald today ordered a recess taken in the Thaw trial until Monday morning at 9 o'clock. This action was taken by the court upon receipt of the notice of the death of Mrs. Joseph B. Bolton, wife of Juror Bolton.

Other Jurors Excused on Honor.
Upon a motion made by District Attorney Jerome, Thaw's counsel, concurring the court agreed that the remaining eleven jurors should not be kept under lock and key until Monday, but that they should be allowed to return to their homes pending a resumption of the trial. The court appeared to their honor that they would not read any of the newspaper stories relative to the case or discuss the same either between themselves or with anyone else. Each swore upon his honor to obey the court's orders and the jurors were subsequently excused.

Mrs. Bolton's Death Sudden.
The death of Mrs. Bolton was quite sudden. She was taken ill with pneumonia the first of the week. This later developed into double pneumonia. Owing to her advanced age, she being 55 years old, the doctors held out little hope for her recovery and the end came at 11 o'clock this morning. She had been unconscious all forenoon and died just as her husband reached the bedside upon his return from the court room, where he had gone to secure a leave of absence from the court.

Ordered Recess Immediately.

After court had been in session for a few minutes this morning, Justice Fitzgerald was informed regarding the critical condition of Juror Bolton's wife, and upon receipt of such information he at once ordered an adjournment until this afternoon at 2 o'clock, which order was later changed upon the court's receiving news of the woman's death to extend until next Monday morning.

Dr. Evans Still on Stand.
The few minutes that court was in session today, Dr. Evans, the insanity expert introduced in behalf of Thaw, testified. He stated that during his first three visits to Thaw he formed the opinion as to his mental condition. This opinion was formed on oral statements which is regarded as very essential.

Was About to Relate Conversation.
District Attorney Jerome said he would offer no objection to the conversation with Thaw during the first three visits, as a result of which the alienist formed the opinion that the defendant was of unsound mind. Evans was about to relate this conversation when the recess was ordered by the court.

Definite Location of Extension of El Paso and Southwestern System Filed in U. S. Land Office.

J. V. Bergen, right-of-way and tax agent of the El Paso and Southwestern system, with headquarters in El Paso, has spent the past few days in the city on business for his road. Mr. Bergen has filed in the United States land office here official plats of the definite location of the extension of the system from Dawson, the terminus of the Dawson railway, to a junction with the El Paso and Rock Island railroad between Torrance and Duran. The mileage from Dawson to the junction is about 200 miles. The line will pass through Las Vegas which will be the only town of any consequence on the new road. An entirely new territory will be opened by the extension. It will pass through the counties of Colfax, Mora, San Miguel and Torrance. The definite survey of the entire extension is not yet finished, but maps of definite locations for three-fourths of the distance are ready and have been filed. Three surveys have been made via Las Vegas and it is not known yet which one will be selected as permanent, but the city of Las Vegas will be the main station on the road.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

ANOTHER ACHIEVEMENT BY THE MAN WHO DOES THINGS.

After hard work and much persuasion, Delegate Andrews has secured the passage by the House of Representatives of the bill introduced by him during the first session of the Fifty-ninth Congress providing for the approval by Congress of the acts of the Thirty-sixth Legislative Assembly for the issuance of bonds for the construction of buildings at the Territorial Insane Asylum at Las Vegas, the Military Institute at Roswell, the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts at Mesilla Park and armories at Albuquerque and Las Vegas. Delegate Andrews has secured assurance that the bill will pass the Senate next week and become law before adjournment of the Fifty-ninth Congress on March 4th. This will prove of great benefit to these institutions and will enable their boards of regents to place them in the condition they should be. It is a well known fact that the accommodations at the Insane Asylum at Las Vegas are inadequate and that at least double the space and room are absolutely necessary for the insane of the Territory who should be housed and cared for there at public expense.

The lack of more room and proper quarters for cadets at the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell is well established and has been a great drawback and injury to that very excellent and well managed educational institution. With increased barracks room and house accommodations for cadets their number will be increased at least double as soon as these can be had. Over a hundred applications for admission had to be denied this year for want of room and buildings. The New Mexican Military Institute has taken such a high place among educational institutions of the Southwest that too much for its enlargement and improvement cannot be done. It is an institution of which the people of the Territory ought to be justly proud and all the indications point that they are.

For several years past it has been more than fully demonstrated that lack of proper and more extended quarters at Mesilla Park interfere greatly with the usefulness and good of the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts located there. This territorial and federal school the New Mexican is gratified to say also occupies a very enviable place among educational institutions of the Southwest and everything that can possibly be done for its advancement and progress should be done. The proviso in the bill under discussion allowing the issuance of bonds from the proceeds of which to erect greatly needed additional buildings, will help to put this institution where it ought to be and will enable the board of regents to increase attendance greatly.

The armories for the National Guard at Las Vegas and at Albuquerque are very necessary and they will be erected with the proceeds from bonds which will be legalized by the bill in question. The National Guard system of New Mexico is in very fair shape and should be encouraged in every possible way. Right here it is time to remark that the present Legislative Assembly should pass a bill providing for the construction of National Guard armories in Santa Fe, in Silver City, in Las Cruces and in Roswell.

Such an act if approved by Congress thereafter would enable the cities named to erect National Guard armories and this is certainly greatly desired and is becoming very necessary. New Mexico cannot have too efficient and too good a National Guard and providing armories for the local companies will in every way improve the discipline, the morale and the efficiency of the Guard. Patriotic citizens generally admit the great and urgent necessity of such a body of a local well disciplined soldiery and in every state of the Union such a one is maintained.

The work done by Delegate Andrews in obtaining favorable action by the House of Representatives of the bill quoted above speaks for itself. It is of the hardest kind as the Delegate has no vote and no voice in Congressional affairs, but must use personal influence and persuasion, the most gentle kind of diplomacy and constant attention to secure such favors, as it is what they are, when granted to a Territory by Congress. The New Mexican has always contended and insisted that Delegate W. H. Andrews is the right man in the right place and his record and achievements prove this insistence and assertion right along. This paper will have more to say upon this subject as soon as the bill becomes law.

THE SANTA FE NEW MEXICAN AND THE ALBUQUERQUE FAKIR JOURNAL.

The Albuquerque Fakir Journal expresses a strong desire for the continued issue of the New Mexican. It calls this paper an Alimance, the organ of hoodlums and supporters of the grafters, ancient and archaeologist and uses a few other adjectives and appellations that "have nothing to do with the case at hand." That sort of silliness hurts no one, pleases the Fakir sheet and creates a little fun once in awhile. That the New Mexican is very necessary to the Fakir Journal goes without saying and is fully acknowledged by those who read the two papers. The Fakir Journal steals continuously and continually from the columns of the New Mexican, and were it not for these thefts and that it has the morning Associated Press news, being the only morning paper in the Territory, the Fakir Journal would cut a sorry figure indeed. In the same article, the Fakir Journal says that it is quite necessary for the continuance of the New Mexican that the Bureau of Immigration should be kept intact. In this it is either ignorant or wilfully and maliciously wrong. The Bureau of Immigration has proven of great benefit to the progress and advancement of the Territory. Its work has brought many and many an immigrant, many and many a dollar of capital, many and many a homeseeker, many and many an investor, many and many a tourist, many and many a health-seeker to the Sunshine Territory, and if the bureau is continued as it has been for many years past, this work will continue to be done and that better and more satisfactorily right along. The difference between the New Mexican and the Fakir Journal is simple: This paper is for the Territory-at-large and for the people of New Mexico first; thereafter come its own town and county to be sure, the Fakir Journal simply represents the clique of real estate grafters, corporation sharks and members of the sporting element of the Duke City, no more and no less; the interests of these are paramount to those of the Territory and its people.

The New Mexican is perfectly willing that the people should judge. It admits that Albuquerque is a first class newspaper town and that the Fakir Journal is very fortunate in being located there. It is also plain that the New Mexican in that respect, being on branch lines and cut off from speedy main railroad line connection, has a much harder time in business, in the gathering of news, in securing workmen and in other directions. Nevertheless the competition of the Fakir Journal it does not fear and it meets it more than half way in every direction. The difference between the two papers is marked and may be reiterated in a very few words: The New Mexican is territorial and stands up for the benefit of the whole people first and then for its own community. The Fakir Journal is absolutely local and cares for nothing else except the interests of the few special gangs in the Duke City that control it. It has no politics, it will support any and every bad measure, or clique or scheme if there is "something in it" for it. The New Mexican has no fight or strife with the paper. It is too busy in laudable and public spirited directions. When it says anything about the Fakir Journal it simply does so to show up the true character of the sheet so that people might always bear it in mind and know how to judge its utterances. It is well known that the Fakir Journal is always "bought and sold." This is even the case in its political course these days and the people are "on to it."

THE GLORY OF ARIZONA HAS DEPARTED.

Public gambling will go out of existence in the sister Territory on April 1st next; the Territorial Legislative Assembly has so decreed and the Governor has so signed. Should the Thirty-seventh Legislative Assembly of New Mexico not follow suit New Mexico will be the only commonwealth in this Union wherein licensed public gambling will be permitted. The New Mexican believes that the Assembly will place itself in accord with all the States in the Union and also with Arizona in this matter and that before many days roll around. Commenting upon the disappearance of licensed public gambling in Arizona, the Kansas City Star makes unique and interesting editorial comment which will be found good reading. The Star says:

"The halcyon days of Arizona are over. The glory of the dare devil stage coach bandit, the merry larks of the 'bad man,' and the mad junks of cow punchers bubbling with Lone Dog saloon spirits and shooting up the town, all have vanished, one by one, into the cherished past. Yet Arizona kept heart. There was the whirl of the ivory ball as it glided around the roulette wheel and stacks were still coppered or played open on the faro layout, while now and then a killing in Tucson over a statehood argument forced a rift in the monotony of forced respectability.

"It was by the ungrateful hand of those whom Arizona honored that the act was perpetrated which robbed the Territory forever of the boasted title 'Wild and Woolly.' The Legislature has decreed there shall be no more gambling. Think of Arizona without the romantic knights of the green cloth-Arizona, where the click of ivory chips has not been silenced in thirty years. But the blow did not descend without warning. The signs of decadence began to appear when the Delmonico saloon accepted dollar bets on the turn of a card and sold white stacks over the roulette table for $2 in the very room where Lucky Johnson permitted a bag of dust that weighed up five thousand to ride open between the ace and the king and played the Poverty Gulch mine against the bank roll and the premises on the high card.

"There was a day when Faro Nell was the leader of Tucson society and it was permissible to wear guns on the outside at dances. Things were up and doing then and the town was dirty with gold. A man was a man those days or the community knew the reason why. There wasn't any need of courts and there were no divorcees. The women folks were treated square, for there was chivalry among the men and they had a habit of drawing quick, and gun plays meant business.

"It was envy of Denver society that first sowed the seeds of discontent among these simple Arizona folk, supplemented by a fool Englishman's introduction of high balls for plain red liquor. For ten years now things have been going from bad to worse. It finally came to pass where you could order a martini without being handier than the bartender with a Colt's, though even yet it is just as well not to be foolishly reckless. The process of Arizona's downfall was insidious. Jails were introduced where graveyards answered every purpose. Lawyers, doctors and many other evils of civilization gained a foothold in the State and then came the crowning calamity of an anti-gambling Legislature. Now, no one can tell the day or the hour when pink teas and bridge whist may become popular innovations in Arizona. O tempora! O mores!"

TO HELP THE LIVING AND THE DEAD.

The New Mexican is informed and that by competent authority, that the Legislative Assembly of New Mexico has the power to alienate parts of school sections numbers 16 and 36 granted by the United States to the Territory for school purposes, for certain public uses, and that if such is done by act of the Legislative Assembly the Congress of the United States and the federal authorities will not interfere. That being the case this paper is of the opinion that Council Bills Numbers 3 and 4 introduced by Councilman J. O. Cameron, of the Twelfth District, and providing that certain portions of school sections near the towns of Roswell and Artesia be donated to those towns for public cemetery purposes, should be enacted into law. The Council has passed the two bills in question and the House should speedily follow suit as the objects of the measures are certainly of the right character, and if carried into effect will prove of public benefit. Here will be a case in which not only the living but also the dead will be benefited. The dead by having secure resting places, and the living by knowing that the dead are safe in handsome cemeteries properly interred and where the remains of their relatives and friends will find secure deposit for all time to come.

Council Bill No. 12, an act to exempt beet sugar factories and other infant industries from taxation, would be meritorious, if its passage would really induce such industries to locate in New Mexico. Such a law was upon the statute books before but expired by limitation. If it has resulted in establishing any of the industries indicated, the New Mexican has not yet heard of it. It is a bad principle to begin with, to grant exemptions from taxation and especially so, when the exemption is extended to men and corporations well able to bear their share of the public burden. Somehow, it is in the states where industries are taxed heaviest that they are flourishing most; not that taxation helps industry but that the men who capitalize and maintain industries do not seem to appreciate exemption from taxation sufficiently to overlook other necessary conditions for industrial success.

THE VALUE OF THE BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION.

The value of the work of the Bureau of Immigration is well illustrated by the tenor of a letter received this morning by the Secretary of the Bureau of Immigration from E. S. Garvin, of Estancia, Torrance County. It is short, to be sure, but its very brevity gives it great value and eloquence. Says Mr. Garvin:

"Estancia, N. M., Feb. 11, 1907."
"Max. Frost, Esq., Secretary Bureau of Immigration, Santa Fe, New Mexico."
"Dear Sir—You were kind enough some time since to send me some copies of your bulletin 'Ho! to the Land of Sunshine.' I have settled twenty-three families in the valley with your help. If you will kindly mail me a dozen copies or so, I can use them to advantage."
"Thanking you in advance, I am,
"Very truly,
"E. S. GARVIN."

Council Bill Number 19, introduced by Councilman J. O. Cameron, to constitute the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, a post of the National Guard, while of minor consequence, is a meritorious measure and will, no doubt pass without opposition. It will enhance the standing of the Institute from a military aspect and at the same time strengthen the National Guard organization. The graduates from the Institute owe it to the Territory, if located in New Mexico, to take an active interest in the National Guard and should furnish the officers of the different local companies. It is for that reason that the Military Institute was established and is being maintained.

Councilman Duncan in introducing Council Bill No. 18, has made an effort to remove some of the disabilities that prevent the Territorial Board of Equalization from attaining the purpose for which it was created, that is the equalization of the tax burden. The bill, while amplifying the powers of the board by giving it the right to fix a minimum valuation upon other classes of property than those now under its jurisdiction, and giving it the right to impose fines upon assessors violating the classifications established by the board, does not leave the assessor or the taxpayer without the right of appeal and review. The bill should be enacted into law.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

Following are Wednesday afternoon's proceedings of the Legislature which were too late for last evening's issue of the New Mexican:

THE HOUSE.

Eighteenth Day—Continuation Afternoon Session.

The House met at 3 o'clock p. m. pursuant to adjournment Speaker Baca in the chair.

The roll was called and all responded present.

Upon motion of Mr. Beach, duly seconded and carried, the reading of the Journal was dispensed with and it was ordered approved.

Mr. Holt moved that the rules be suspended to take up two communications which the Speaker announced were on his desk. The motion prevailed.

Chief Clerk Safford read a communication from Santiago Madrid, county commissioner of Torrance County from Pinos Wells, protesting against the passage of Council Bill Number 15 or any other similar bill, for the change in the lines of Torrance County or the removal of the county seat from Estancia. This communication was referred to the committee on Counties and County Lines.

Another communication from the Governor was read. It asked that a joint session of the Council and of the House be held during the afternoon for the purpose of discussing the establishment of a school of archaeology in Santa Fe and the donating by the Territory of the Old Palace for that purpose.

Upon motion of Mr. Holt, duly seconded and carried, the request of the Governor was complied with and a committee consisting of Mr. Holt, Mr. Mirabal and Mr. Sanchez of Taos, was appointed by the Speaker to call upon the Council and arrange with a similar committee from the Council as to the hour and place for holding the joint session.

Mr. Abbott of Santa Fe presented the eleventh petition from residents of Torrance County, protesting against the removal of the county seat from Estancia to Willard. The petition was referred to the Committee on Counties and County Lines.

Mr. Green then asked the chair to appoint a committee of three to search Mr. Abbott for additional petitions from residents of Torrance County. Mr. Beach thought this too severe, but asked that next Monday be set aside as a day on which nothing but petitions from Mr. Abbott of Santa Fe, relative to the Torrance County bill, would be received. Mr. Abbott laughingly remarked that he was about done presenting petitions.

Mr. Ruppe, by request, presented a petition from citizens of Eddy and Chaves County, asking for the creation of Artesia County.

House Bill Number 74 was introduced by Mr. Montoya, an act for the improvement of the Rio Grande. The bill was read the first and second time by title, ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Territorial Affairs.

House Bill Number 75 was introduced by Mr. Ruppe by request, an act for the creation of the county of Artesia and for other purposes. The bill was read the first and second time and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Counties and County Lines.

House Bill Number 76 was introduced by Mr. Bierbaum, an act relative to the issuance of worthless checks. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill Number 77 was introduced by Mr. Gallegos, an act relative to legal proceedings in the case of lunacy. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill Number 78 was introduced by Mr. Gallegos, an act to repeal Section 1756 of the Compiled Laws of 1897 relative to railroads. The bill was read the first and second time and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Railroads.

House Bill Number 79 was introduced by Mr. Gallegos, an act to provide a fund for the erection of a bridge across the Pecos River at Santa Rosa. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Finance.

House Bill Number 80 was introduced by Mr. Trujillo, an act relative to marriage. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill Number 81 was introduced by Mr. Abbott of Santa Fe, an act fixing the salaries of probate judges. The bill was read the first and second time and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Finance.

House Bill Number 82 was introduced by Mr. Sanchez of Taos, an act relative to the drawing of jurors and to reenact Chapter 112 of the Session Laws of 1903. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered translated, printed and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill Number 83 was introduced by Mr. Studley, an act to repeal Section 2402 and sub-section 18 of the Compiled Laws of 1897 relative to the powers of City Councils and Boards of Trustees.

County. A communication was received from Adjutant General A. P. Tarkington, asking the members of the military committee and other members of the House so desiring, to witness a few hours target practice by a squad from Company F, First Infantry, New Mexico National Guard at the rifle range north of Santa Fe, on Sunday morning next.

Mr. Beach wanted to know if target practice on Sunday was not a breach of the Sunday law by interfering with public worship.

"An American soldier has no religion but his country's flag," replied Captain Ruppe.

Mr. Holt asked if war had been declared that the National Guard needed to hold target practice on Sunday. Mr. Ruppe replied that war had not been declared yet but it was feared there would be war with Japan. He then added that the soldiers were forced to work during the week days and that Sunday was the only time they could indulge in target practice. The House after considerable discussion, voted to receive the invitation but to allow the members to do as they pleased about accepting it, so that the House might not be put on record as violating the Sunday law.

Mr. Holt then requested that the Speaker ask the employees of the House to be more prompt and accommodating, which Speaker Baca promptly did.

The House then took a recess for ten minutes. At 4:30 o'clock the Honorable Council entered the hall of the House. Speaker Baca called the House to order and handed the gavel to President Spiess, who presided. President Spiess called the joint session of the Council and House to order.

Upon motion, duly seconded and carried, President Spiess appointed Mr. Mirabal and Mr. Martinez, members of the House and of the Council respectively, as a committee to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House.

The Governor was announced and was escorted to the platform by the committee which was then discharged. Accompanying the Governor were Judge John R. McPhee, Professor Edgar L. Hewett, of the Bureau of Ethnology, Washington, D. C., Judge A. J. Abbott and Professor W. E. Garrison.

Speeches were made first by Judge McPhee, then by the Governor, then by Professor Hewett and by Judge Abbott, asking that the Assembly agree to donate to the United States government as a national landmark and for the use of a school of archaeology the Old Palace of Santa Fe.

Following the speeches, Mr. Hewett was questioned by the members of the House and Council regarding the school.

Upon motion of Mr. Duncan, it being then almost 6 o'clock, the Council arose and retired to its chamber where adjournment was at once taken until the following morning at 10 o'clock.

Speaker Baca called the House to order and the House thereupon adjourned until Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Small Edith was visiting in the country for the first time.

"What do you think of our rural scenery, dear?" asked her grandmother.

"Oh, it isn't so bad," replied Edith. "It looks almost as natural as real theater scenery."

DANGEROUS ORNAMENTS.

The Way the Modern Woman Constantly Risks Her Life.

"The modern woman is a walking bonfire, only waiting for a naked light to come anywhere in her immediate neighborhood to burst into flame."

The above sentence is from a letter from a leading physician, who asks for reasons of professional etiquette that his name may not be quoted.

"In spite of the various warnings which have been issued from time to time," he continues, "women still persist in decking themselves with celluloid ornaments, and this in spite of the knowledge that the heat thrown out from a fireplace may result in the horrible fate of death by burning."

The woman who goes out calling fastens her hair with celluloid hairpins, which are made in a variety of colors to match each gown. She adds a couple of jeweled celluloid side combs and a celluloid slide set with paste.

The straw or felt hat is trimmed with bunches of celluloid grapes, currants or cherries and stabbed by a pair of celluloid headed hatpins.

She wears a pair of celluloid rings for her ears in a delicate shade of turquoise blue, with a necklet of celluloid beads to match.

A celluloid buckle set with jewels or hand painted clasps her waistband. Celluloid buttons fasten her gloves. A celluloid holder raises her dress in muddy weather.

The dancing girl is in the same predicament.

Celluloid sequins cover her gown with glittering embroideries. Wreaths of celluloid fruits deck her hair, or a pink celluloid camellia is fastened beside a "Margarite" plait.—Chicago Chronicle.

DON'TS FOR HOSTESSES.

Don't forget that people like ices in the winter almost as much as in the summer.

Don't give too much of your attention to any one guest, but divide your favors among all and make every one welcome and at home.

Don't overdo the sweet things for the tea. A certain number of cakes are good and decorative, but the majority of people eat more sandwiches and dry biscuits.

Don't pour out tea yourself if you have a small party. Get your daughter or some girl to do it for you. If you have a large party, of course your servants will pour out tea in the dining room.

Don't be afraid of overcrowding your rooms. People drop in, some early, some late; some stay for five minutes and some for an hour. So, though your rooms may be overfull for a little while, they will quickly clear, and every one thinks more of a party that is a little crowded.—Washington Times.

THREE BILLS BY MR. HOLT

Introduced in House of Representatives Yesterday—Would Prove Timely if Enacted Into Law.

Mr. Holt introduced three bills in the House Monday afternoon which should be enacted into law would prove valuable and timely. One bill is to amend the Compiled Laws of 1897, namely Section 3428, relative to the issuance of warrants on information and belief. It has frequently happened that criminals have escaped because there was no one to swear to a warrant for their arrest. Under the conditions of the proposed amendment, an officer or any other person, morally certain of the guilt of any person, could swear to information against said person without being guilty of perjury or being otherwise liable. The bill is as follows:

AN ACT TO AMEND SECTION 3428 OF THE COMPILED LAWS OF NEW MEXICO OF 1897 RELATIVE TO ISSUANCE OF WARRANTS UPON INFORMATION AND BELIEF.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico:

Section 1. That Section 3428 of the Compiled Laws of New Mexico of 1897 be amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "Provided: That such warrants may issue upon affidavits based upon information and belief when such affidavits are approved in writing by the district attorney, or his assistant, in and for the district or county wherein such affidavits are made."

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the date of its passage.

Another bill by Mr. Holt is an act relative to recognition. The bill provides that a person wanted as a witness in a criminal case can be forced to give a bond with ample surety for his appearance in court and that after giving such a bond he can be detained by a peace officer until he has given his testimony if he attempts to avoid testifying. He is also subject to an attachment at the hands of the court. The bill reads:

AN ACT RELATIVE TO RECOGNIZANCES.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico:

Section 1. That hereafter in any criminal case pending in any court of New Mexico, whenever in the judgment of the court the ends of justice demanded, it shall be lawful for the court to require any witness on behalf of the Territory to furnish written recognizance with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the court, conditioned for his appearance and attendance as a witness in any such cause before any court wherein such cause may lawfully be or to become pending for examination or trial.

Sec. 2. Whenever any witness who has entered into personal recognizance or has furnished written recognizance of the character herein above provided for his attendance as a witness in any cause lawfully pending before any court of this Territory, shall fail to appear and testify in accordance with the conditions of any such recognizance, it shall be lawful for the court in which any such cause may be pending to cause an attachment to be issued for any such witness.

Sec. 3. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after the date of its passage.

Equally important is the third bill in question, entitled an act to repeal Sections 1241, 3439, 3440 and 3447, of the Compiled Laws of 1897, and for other purposes. This bill provides a penalty both of imprisonment and a fine for persons attempting to maliciously bring indictments or secure the conviction of an innocent defendant. While the law is quite liberal in its provisions there is nothing in it that can be construed as unconstitutional or interfering with the personal rights of any citizen. The bill is as follows:

AN ACT TO REPEAL SECTIONS 1241, 3439, 3440 AND 3447 OF THE COMPILED LAWS OF NEW MEXICO OF 1897 AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico:

Section 1. That Sections 1241, 3439, 3440 and 3447 of the Compiled Laws of New Mexico of 1897 be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Sec. 2. If any person shall maliciously procure or attempt to procure an indictment, or otherwise cause or attempt to cause a criminal charge to be preferred or prosecuted against an innocent person, he shall, upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than fifty ($50) nor more than one thousand ($1,000) dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court trying the case.

Sec. 3. Upon the trial of any criminal case, whenever the court shall be satisfied that any such case has been instituted maliciously or without probable cause, the court may in its discretion tax the costs therein against the prosecuting witness, in which event such witness shall stand committed until such costs be fully paid.

Sec. 4. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed and this act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

Croup can positively be stopped in twenty minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by the Fischer Drug Co.

To stop a cold with "Preventics" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will head off all colds and Grippe, and perhaps save you from pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventics are little toothsome candy cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventics. They will surely check the cold and please you. Sold by the Fischer Drug Co.

THIS MAY INTEREST YOU.

No one is immune from kidney trouble, so just remember that Foley's Kidney Cure will stop the irregularities and cure any case of kidney and bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. Sold by Ireland Pharmacy.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and expels the cold from the system as it is mildly laxative. It is guaranteed. The genuine is in the yellow package. Sold by Ireland Pharmacy.

Chronic Constipation Cured.

One who suffers from chronic constipation is in danger of many serious ailments. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation as it aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels, restoring the natural action of these organs. Commence taking it today and you will feel better at once. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is very pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Sold by Ireland Pharmacy.

La Grippe and Pneumonia.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the gripe coughs and prevents pneumonia. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. Sold by Ireland Pharmacy.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a cough cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly twenty years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by the Fischer Drug Co.

Does coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's safe even for the youngest child. Sold by Cartwright-Davis Co.

What to Do When Bilious. The right thing to do when you feel bilious is to take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. Try it. Price 25 cents. Samples free at all drug stores.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE It Makes When Santa Fe Residents Testify.

It is pretty hard to prove the statement of some stranger residing in far away parts of the country, but the testimony of a Santa Fe citizen, that follows, should convince the most skeptical.

Hilario Sandoval, painter and paper hanger, San Francisco Street, says: "Anyone engaged in my calling requires a good sound back and if that part of his anatomy gives out or is weak, lame and aching for six or seven months, he cannot perform the ordinary day's work without great discomfort. My backache never compelled me to stop work, but to say the least it was decidedly irksome when in the acute stage. Gradually as I continued the treatment with Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ireland's drug store, the aching ceased and in a comparatively short space of time totally disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE HOT MONTHS ARE COMING.
During the summer time, when the heat seems to take all the "funk" out of you, then is when a nice, cool drink of Dr. Lauritzen's Health Table Malt will revive your drooping spirits, tone up your system and make you feel like a new person.

Skin Disease of Twenty Years' Standing Cured.

I want you to know how much Chamberlain's Salve has done for me. It has cured my face of a skin disease of almost twenty years' standing. I have been treated by several as smart physicians as we have in this country and they did me no good, but two boxes of this salve has cured me.—Mrs. Fannie Griffin, Troy, Alabama. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by all druggists.

PERSONAL MENTION

Hon. L. B. Prince left this evening for Corralitos on mining business. He expects to return tomorrow evening.

Postmaster Fred O. Blood of East Las Vegas is expected to reach the Capital this evening accompanied by another delegation from the Meadow City favoring the creation of Garfield County.

J. Smith Lea, treasurer and ex-officio collector of Chaves County and an official of first class reputation, reached the city yesterday from his southern home. He came on official business and also to take in legislative proceedings.

M. L. English, of Dolores, custodian of the Ortiz Land Grant in south Santa Fe County, spent today in town on business.

Abel E. Perea, of Bernalillo, well known citizen of Sandoval County, was registered at the Claire Hotel today.

Charles H. Hild, head of the Hild Mercantile Company, one of the leading business firms in the Territory with wholesale establishments at Las Vegas, at Albuquerque and at Santa Rosa, who has been in the city for two days looking after matters connected with the proposed division of San Miguel County, returned to his home this afternoon. Mr. Hild has many good friends in the Capital who were glad to meet him again.

M. M. White, formerly a resident of Santa Fe, but who is now engaged in the drug business at Folsom, Union County, arrived in the city yesterday and will spend a week here visiting old friends and viewing legislative proceedings. Mr. White was employed as pharmacist by the Fischer Drug Company, during his residence here.

Judge and Mrs. A. J. Abbott left this morning for Cochiti, Sandoval County, where the former was called on legal business in his capacity of attorney for the Pueblo Indians. They will return tomorrow evening.

Roman Gallegos, of San Miguel left this morning for home after spending a few days in the city on legislative business. During his sojourn here he was registered at the Claire.

Attorney R. C. Reid of Texico, who is one of the officials of the Texico Townsite Company, was an arrival last evening in the Capital and registered at the Palace. He is a brother of Attorney General W. C. Reid.

T. J. Tongue, of Estancia, superintendent of rolling stock and motive power of the Santa Fe Central Railway, was an arrival last evening in the Capital. He came on official business.

A. J. Norton, of Washington, D. C., an expert lumberman, identified with the Bureau of Forestry, who has been inspecting the scaling of timber at El Porvenir, returned last evening to Santa Fe. He will go from here to Bland on a similar mission.

A. Frank, of Espanola, was in the city yesterday and today on one of his periodical business trips. Mr. Frank is in business at Espanola.

Professor Edgar L. Hewett, director of the Archaeological Institute of the United States, who has been in the city for the past three days in connection with the establishment of a school of archaeology in this city, and who also delivered a well attended and interesting lecture on the archaeology of the Southwest on Tuesday evening last, will leave this evening for the east. He will travel for the next ten days or two weeks and will visit the following places where he will deliver lectures, St. Louis, Davenport, Dubuque, Ann Arbor, Cincinnati and Philadelphia. Thereafter he will return to Washington where he will be until June when he will take up archaeological and ethnological research work in Utah.

A. Rietz and Robert Rietz, of Dubuque, Iowa, have been visitors several days in Santa Fe. They came here from an inspection tour of the Estancia Valley and yesterday filed on homestead claims near Moriarty.

Special Agents Frank Grygla and P. C. Dezonodorf of the United States land office with headquarters in Santa Fe have returned to the city from Raton where they heard evidence in a land contest case of the United States vs. Ella Coleman Flynn and Patrick Flynn.

Miss Amelia Frenger, of Geneva, Switzerland formerly of Las Cruces, who is now visiting in Santa Fe, is the guest at present of Miss Mande McFie.

A. F. Witzel, of El Paso, traveling representative of a St. Louis brewery, arrived in the city today.

PLAN FOR EXCLUDING FOREIGNERS AGREED UPON

Washington, Feb. 14.—The exclusion of all foreigners who use their passports to go to other countries to secure admission to the United States to the detriment of the labor conditions in this country is provided for by an amendment to the Immigration Bill agreed upon by the conferees of the House and Senate today and reported to Congress. The amendment is the result of a demand from the Pacific Coast States for the exclusion of Japanese coolies and it is understood that it will aid in securing an understanding between the administration and the San Francisco delegation now in Washington conferring with the President.

VETERAN OF MEXICAN AND CIVIL WARS DEAD.

Valentines at Weltmers.
The Sisters of Charity are making great preparations for their Spanish supper which will take place soon after Lent. The spread will be served in the big dining room at St. Vincent's Sanitarium. In connection with the supper the articles which were left over from the bazaar will be disposed of.

A meeting of the Territorial Board of Osteopathy will be held in this city Monday. It has been called for the purpose of examining applicants for license to practice osteopathy in New Mexico. The board is composed of Dr. C. H. Connor, of Albuquerque, president; Dr. A. M. King, of Artesia, vice president; and Dr. Charles A.
Wheeler, of Santa Fe, secretary and treasurer.

Go to Weltmers for Valentines.

This is St. Valentine's Day and the mail carriers have been kept busy playing the role of Dan Cupid. According to the ancient and time-honored custom pretty missives containing tender thoughts and sentiments increased the mail men's packs today.
St. Valentine's Day is still observed as of yore, although the so-called comic valentine seems to have fallen into popular disfavor. The custom of sending valentines is said to have been in vogue since the days of the ancient Romans and has spread all over the civilized world.

Timely Suggestions.

There is no part of the home, that should receive more attention, in equipping the same, than the kitchen.
This is true, whether we employ a chef or attend to the culinary duties personally, and much of the happiness of the home depends on the ability of the cook, for whether we are epicures or not, good cooking is indispensable.

An up-to-date household, uses up-to-date appliances, for, "That which today is a luxury, tomorrow becomes a necessity." In this progressive world, and this applies to the kitchen.

If you will allow us to show you some of these articles, we feel sure their utility and merits will be obvious.

ZEB WHITE'S TALES.

The Old Possum Hunter Tells of His Last Drink.

WIFE COULDN'T REFORM HIM

It Remained For Two Bears to Bring Him to His Proper Senses, and They Did the Reforming Act in Short Order.

(Copyright, 1906, by C. H. Sutcliffe.)
"I reckon that every man on these yere mountings was brung up along side of a whisky jug," said old Zeb White one evening as we sat at his fireside. "That don't mean that all are drunkards. It means that they're known what whisky was from the time they was 'oln, and while some take it to others let it alone. I keep it in the house, as you know, but I give you my word I haven't had my nose to the jug for the last five years. I ain't sayin' that I didn't drink my full sheer up to that time, because I did I reckon I got away with as much

"BETWEEN ME AND HER WAS TWO BARS," moonshine as any other critter fur ten miles around, and I was fool 'nuff to feel proud of the fact.

"When I was married, fifteen years ago, my wife thought she could reform me. Mebbe I went a leetle light fur a year or so, but the reformin' didn't reform. I'd promise and promise, but as soon as I got out with a crowd I'd fill up. The only good thing about my gettin' drunk was the fact that I never raised a row at home. I simply wanted to git home and to bed, and if left alone I'd sleep it off by next day. I had been sober fur three months when town meetin' day come along. When I got ready to leave home the old woman said:

"Zeb, you've been livin' like a decent human bein' fur some time past. Are you comin' home drunk or sober tonight?"

"Sober as a stump," I replied, not fearin' myself at all.

"Why not let town meetin' slide?" "I couldn't. I've promised to be there to vote."

"There'll be heaps and heaps of whisky there, won't they?" she asked.

"Fur shore. But don't you be afeared fur me. I give you my word that I won't drink nuthin' stronger'n lemonade."

"That was a lively town meetin', with whisky flowin' like water, and though I held out agin it fur an hour or so, I had to take a drink at last. Then I ordered a second and a third, and by night I was roarin' drunk and fightin' everybody. They started to take me home in a cart, but when a mile from home I got out and wouldn't go any further and was left there. It was a bright and beautiful moonlight night. I could just remember that. How I got home after leavin' the cart I never could recall. I didn't know when I reached here and fell down in front of the house. The first thing I knowed was that somebody was pullin' me around in a mighty rough way. I opened my eyes and sot up, and that was the old woman on the doabest, and between me and her was two bars. They would look at her and then at me, and it was their haulin' me around that had roused me up. I wasn't sober yit, you understand, but could reason things out after a fashion.

"Why don't you git the gun and shoot the bars?" I called to the old woman, but she never 'peared to notice me. The bars did, however. They turned from her to me and begun a sort of hossplay. One of them fetched me a sort of cuff on the ear that stretched me out and made my head ring fur a week arter, and then they begun playin' ball with my body. I knowed them fur bars, and I knowed that it would be all play until I tried to git away from them or fit back.

"Well, sub, I can't begin to tell you what them bars put me through that night. They rolled me over and over; they dragged me about feet first and head first; they pulled me down to the pigpen and then pulled me back; they used their teeth and claws only in play, but they left marks behind that didn't go away fur two months. Every time they rested I called out to the old woman, but she wouldn't answer. Sometimes she looked at me in a pityin' way, and sometimes she was laughin' at the way I was tossed about. The rifle was on its back in the house and loaded, and in that moonlight she could have shot one of the varmints through the heart, but she wouldn't move to do it.

"I reckon them bars sported with me fur half an hour or so befo' they had had 'nuff of play. By that time I was in rags and jest as sober as you are now. I have thought some of takin' out a patent on that adventure of mine. That drunk order have lasted me the best part of three days, but the bars cured me of it in about forty minits. Seem' the old woman would do nuthin', my line was to play dead and hope the varmints would git tired and go away. They got tired of the play, but they wasn't through with me then. They began to growl and show sign of madness, and I called out to the old woman:

"Mary, can't you see that they all are dun gittin' mad?"

"I kin," she said, speakin' fur the first time and speakin' mighty keerslessly at that.

"They all will begin to bite and claw in almost now."

"They will fur shore."

"Hain't yo' gwine to do anything to help me?"

"Nuthin' tall, Zeb. A man who can't stay sober had better be dead, and it don't make no difference whether he falls from a tree or gets clawed up by bars."

"But yo' wouldn't see yo' own husband perish befo' yo' eyes, I take it?"

"I'll think it over. If yo' are gwine to live on, yo' got to keep sober arter this. It will be well fer yo' to have some scars to plant to. Arter yo' have been half killed mebbe I'll do sumthin', but it does seem pizen mean to drive the bars away when they're havin' so much fun."

"Jest then the old bar took a long look into my face and then uttered a growl that made chills shake me all over. He knowed me, and I knowed him. He was a bar I had hunted fer three years, and he had three of my bullets in his body at that very minit. Yes, sub, that critter knowed me fer Zeb White, the man who never yit had mercy on a bar, and he seen that his time had come to git even. He hauled off and gin me a swat that almost stove in my ribs and then bit me twice. His mate pitched in, and for the next two minits I was mauled about between 'em like a rag doll. It was no use of my tryin' to make a fight fur it. They was all over me all the time, and even if I had a knife it wouldn't have helped me out.

"What sent the pesky critters off at last was the old woman shootin' down the bar, but I was left in a power-ful sad state. I had skinned a stich of clothes left on me, and I was one mass of bites and claw marks. I had to be dragged into the house and boosted into bed, and I didn't tech toe to the floor fer three weeks to come. I hadn't any bones broke, but the claw marks and bites of a bar don't heal fur a long time. Durin' all the time I was in bed and sufferin' the old woman kept whisky under my nose. I had the scent of it until I positively hated it and begged her to take it away. The hull thing taken together worked a cure so thorough that, though I run a moonshine still fur three years, I never tasted a drop of the stuff."

"Did Mrs. White have anything to say to you arter you got better?" I asked.

"Never a word," he answered. "What was the use? If all that bar play wouldn't stop a man from makin' a fool of himself ag'in, then words would be thrown away. No sub, she never done said a word, and that's why I reckon she's jest the nicest and best wife in this yere state of Tennessee."

Boleslaus the Bold.
Boleslaus II. of Poland was the Bold. He was one of the most daring knights of his time, and once, single handed, charged a whole squadron of his enemies.

The Mocking Bird.
The mocking bird seems to have a genuine sense of humor. Often when engaged in the most charming imitation of some songbird it will suddenly stop and break out with the quacking of a duck or some other ludicrous sound.

A Deep Dig.
Cholly—Of course I admit I talked about myself, but they talked about trade all the time, and of course that was worse.

Miss Pepprey—You were perfectly right. It's better to talk about nothing than talk about trade—Pick-Me-Up.

Home Kind Has a Loose End.
"Why don't you get up and give that seat to your father, Bobby?" reprimanded the lady. "Doesn't it pain you to see him reaching for a strap?"

"Not on a train," chuckled Bobby; "but it pains me to see him reaching for a strap at home."—Fit Bits.

As He Understood Him.
"I have a little poem here," faltered the poet.

"Sorry," replied the editor, "but I'm full."

"All right, sir," was the meek reply. "I'll call round when you're sober."—Atlanta Constitution.

How He Worked It.
Would Be Purchaser—These cigars are smaller than usual.

Tobaccoist—Yes, you see, the cigar manufacturer noticed that the last inch of the cigars is always thrown away, so he makes them that much shorter now.—Smiles.

Things to Buy in Bulk.
"One of the greatest savings in the small necessities is to get them by the wholesale," advised a dressmaker.

"Shields, ribbons to run in underwear and the muslin to make the latter with are all much below the prices asked in retail shops, and by finding some friend willing to halve the purchases and expense this way of buying is easily possible. Laces can be bought for much less, but three dozen yards of either edging or insertions are in each packet, and these will not be divided for the customer. In the muslin the pieces run from twelve yards to forty or more, and the shields are by the dozen. The ribbon must be bought by the piece, but this last is the usual manner of purchasing the narrow width."

Burning Feet.
Burning feet are most unpleasant and not only make a woman miserable, but cause her to pucker up her face into numerous fret lines and so rob her of the pretty, cheery light which makes a woman so lovely. Every night bathe the feet well with hot water to which ordinary washing soda has been added. Dry thoroughly and apply this powder: Five grams of powdered alum, five grams of salicylic acid, sixty grams of powdered talcum, rubbing it well into the feet.

Small Tommy—No, but I know what I'm going to buy for her.

Uncle George—What?

Small Tommy—A toy drum.

Little Elsie (in the country)—Oh, mamma, look at those Leghorn chickens!

Mamma—Yes, I see them, dear. But how do you know they are Leghorns?

Little Elsie—Why, don't you see those little horns on their legs?

Little Elmer—Mamma, won't it do just as well if I take a bath Sunday instead of goin' to church?

Mamma—Why, what do you mean, dear?

Little Elmer—Well, takin' a bath is the next thing to goin' to church if cleanliness is next to godliness.—Chicago News.

Clara's Joke.
Little ten-year-old Clara had heard a joke at a friend's party. It was entirely new to her, and as soon as she returned home she repeated it, with much elaboration of detail, to her father.

He had heard it many times before, but its unique treatment at Clara's hands amused him so much that he laughed before she was half through.

Clara was much astonished and ejaculated:

"Why, papa, what made you laugh before I had finished?"

"Oh," her father said evasively, "the story was so funny that I couldn't help it!"

"Well," replied Clara, "it takes you quicker to see a joke than anybody I ever saw!"—Bohemian Magazine.

He Loaned Money to Papa.

Concerning Priscilla.
Priscilla knows a clever scheme. To bring the men folk to her side. She drives them single or in team; For reins, her apron strings, well tied. The other girls might sit an hour. In pensive attitude and pose. But what's the use? They lack the power Priscilla knows.

Priscilla knows when she should talk. And then, again, when smiles go best. She never wants to take a walk. When you are tired and would rest. But, best of all (this is the most Delightful thing to all her beaux). Just how to listen while they boast—Priscilla knows.

Priscilla knows this thoroughly. And practices it both night and day; Yet when she tries that trick on me The tables turn the other way. You see, I know Priscilla's plan. And so I make her talk, which shows I'm really quite the nicest man Priscilla knows.

GEORGIA'S LIMIT

By FRANK H. SWEET

Copyright, 1906, by Frank H. Sweet

THERE was unmistakable excitement on board the eastbound train that morning. It began on the platform when three rough, unshaven men in miners' costume arrived and carefully superintended the removal of their baggage to the train. Two of them had their consigned to the express car. The third, however, he wouldn't bother anybody and even refused assistance in transferring his heavy, blanket-bound packages to the seat he was to occupy. After the train started there was glancing back over shoulders to see if the miners were in sight, and, if they were not, men rose carelessly and walked backward or forward through the cars until they found the objects of their search and seats as near to them as possible.

Strolling about the platform had been two men who appeared to take little interest in what was going on around them. Nevertheless, on the appearance of the miners they had exchanged significant glances and then had walked unobtrusively in opposite directions. When the conductor came through to collect tickets, ten minutes after the train started, one of them was seated directly behind one of the miners, while the other was on the opposite side of the car, behind the man who had refused to be parted from his baggage. As he took the tickets from their long white fingers the conductor scowled and glanced sharply at them and the miner in front and then shook his head grimly, as though it were no business of his.

"From Klondike, I suppose, strangers," called a voice from some indeterminate point in front.

"With your piles, of course?" jocosely added another.

This brought a general laugh.

"Do you mind telling us something about the place?" inquired a third.

"Is there as much gold as the papers lead us to believe?" "What sort of winters do you have?" "Is there any big game?" in quick succession from various points.

The two men, who had consigned their baggage to the express car, looked about and nodded good naturedly.

"Yes; we're from Klondike," one of them answered, "me and my partner here. But we didn't bring our pile. That's back in our claim under ten feet of snow and ice. We're going for it just as soon as the weather opens in spring."

"Didn't you get anything?" asked several in tones of disappointment.

"Oh, yes," indifferently. "Thirty thousand or so apiece, back in the express car. But that ain't much for Klondike. We count on three hundred thousand. Then we're going home and settle down to be comfortable."

"Has your friend done as well as you and your partner?" asked a passenger, nodding toward the third miner, a little, sallow-faced man who seemed anxious to conceal himself behind his baggage.

"Him? S'pose you ask and see. I reckon maybe he can talk, if he don't say much."

"Say, Georgy," raising his voice as though to make it penetrate to the understanding of a very deaf person, "these gentlemen want to know about Klondike and have you made your pile."

The man looked about with a pleased, deprecatory smile.

"I low I have," he acknowledged graciously. "Done made it in just three months. Now I'm going home to Georgy an' have a plumb good time an' live like a lord."

THE THIRD LOWED HE WOULDN'T BOTHER ANYBODY.

"Good for you!" cried a wet goods drummer approvingly. "But how'd you do it so quick? Find a pocket?"

"Done it by straight hard work," he declared proudly. "Down home in Georgy folks say none o' my family ever work. They 'low we're too shiftless. Now, I reckon when we all buy the old Hunter train, where pap worked all his life, an' set pap up to be a gentleman they'll be sp'ised. Yes, sir." He threw his head back, and for the brief second looked the passengers squarely in the face, all forgetful of the two or three generations of servile "poor white trash" blood which flowed sluggishly through his veins. Then his eyes dropped as he added apologetically, "Then I'll get married."

"What? Really?" "Is that so?" from various parts of the car, and two ladies who had hitherto ignored his presence turned and gazed at him with kindly interest. Georgia flushed with embarrassment at such marked attention, but his sloping, apologetic shoulders began to straighten up unconsciously, and again his eyes flashed straight into the eyes of his interlocutors.

"Yes, sir, I'm going to get married," he reiterated. "Marigold an' me have been set on it ten year. Most folks in Breshtown, where I live, would 'a' been satisfied with just a shack to start with, but I always 'lowed that when we married Marigold should live like a lady an' me like a lord. That's what roused me to go west. Now we'll buy the Hunter place an' build a new house with four rooms—four rooms," lowering his voice a little and looking about the car.

"But that will only take a very small part of your money," suggested the drummer. "What will you do with all the rest?"

"Put it aside," answered Georgia promptly. "None o' my family ever had any money put aside."

"You must have a pile," remarked a portly man, glancing a little enviously at the bulky packages and at the same time comparing his own comfortable need for money and appreciation of it with this backwoodsman's evident primitiveness.

"A pile! Yes, sir; that's what I keep a-sayin' over to myself," agreed Georgia. "I reckon there'll be enough for all of us. None o' my family 'll ever need any more."

All this time the two recipients of the conductor's scowl had been apparent uninterested spectators of what was going on. One had tapped impatiently upon his window, and the other had fumbled with his newspaper. But even in their indifference they had observed that the two miners who sat together were strong, keen-eyed, resolute men, apparently able to hold their own in all sorts of vicissitudes, while the man from Georgia was simple, unsophisticated and in possession of all his baggage.

Presently another significant look was exchanged, and the one who had been tapping upon the window rose carefully and crossed over to him of the newspaper.

"Is this seat engaged?" he asked.

"No," removing a valise from the seat to the floor and then folding his newspaper as a preliminary to conversation.

"Going far?"

"To Georgia."

"Really?" in feigned surprise. "Why, I'm going there myself."

The miner in front turned eagerly and gazed into their faces, but apparently they did not notice him.

"Most inquisitive set of people in this car I ever met," one of them remarked. "Yes, anything but boring strangers with questions, I say."

Georgia turned away, but his ears remained vigilant.

At length on one of his rounds through the car the conductor stopped beside the two men whose fingers were noticeably long and white and nervous.

The public is showing its appreciation of the attractive circulars sent out by the New Mexican Printing Company, in regard to rubber stamps.

"I believe your tickets ran out at the last station?" he said inquiringly.

"Yes, but we've changed our minds," one of them answered easily. "Last night I ran across this man, an old friend of mine whom I hadn't seen in twenty years. Now we're going on together for a visit to our old home in Georgia. We'll pay the difference."

"Hm!" the conductor said coldly. "Where to?"

"Breshtown, Ga."

The miner whirled with his mouth open and his eyes bulging in eagerness. As soon as the conductor moved away he blurted out:

"Doggone it, stranger, that's my place. Who must you be?"

"Smith and Robinson. My name's Bill."

Georgia's face beamed with pleased recognition.

"Why, I know heaps o' Smiths an' Robinsons!" he cried, reaching over and shaking hands with first one and then the other. "I reckon you all are some o' the family who went west when boys. There was Tom an' Seth an' Ike an'—"

"My friend here is named Ike," blantly.

"Ye don't say," delightedly. "Then me an' him was old friends when we was boys. He's changed, though," looking the man over curiously, "but, then, folks do as they grow up. Well, well, I'm plumb glad!"

There was no more reserve. Georgia talked freely and was met with a cordiality that delighted his simple heart. At last, as the shadows began to darken in the car, the train slowed up at a small unpainted building which a brakeman introduced to the passengers as Breshtown.

The men helped Georgia off with his baggage and then plotted him to a carriage which they had telegraphed ahead to have in readiness. He lived six miles from the station, he had told them, and had frankly added that the way led through a wild, almost uninhabited forest. At this their eyes had brightened hopefully, and they had assured him that it would be unnecessary for him to order a carriage. Their would be large enough for all three, including his baggage, and they were going directly his way to their old home.

Georgia was hilariously exuberant. He laughed and sang and cracked jokes that he remembered to have been time honored in the old neighborhood, and they sang and laughed with him until they came to a lonely place in the woods.

Then the carriage was turned quietly into the bushes, and Georgia felt the cold muzzles of two revolvers pressing against his temples.

"Now turn over your money," one of the men ordered sternly, "and be quick about it!"

Georgia looked at them in dazed wonder to see if they were in earnest.

"Ain't you my old friend Ike?" he demanded.

"Not much. Out west we've got names that would make you shake in your boots to hear. But that don't matter. What we've come all this way for is your money. Now pass it over quick, and no fuss."

"NOW TURN OVER YOUR MONEY," ONE OF THE MEN ORDERED.

"I won't!" cried Georgia obstinately. "I got it to buy the Hunter place an' to get married with."

"Oh, well, just as you like," said the man indifferently. "We'll kill you and then take the money. It's all the same to us. You can't help yourself."

Georgia turned white and glanced appealingly from one to the other. They were calm, smiling, but implacable. Slowly he unbuckled the belt from his waist and passed it to one of them. The man showed his teeth a little, but nevertheless opened it and counted the small roll of bills and gold pieces that it contained.

"Six hundred and seventy-five dollars," he said. Then he rolled the belt and money into a ball and contemptuously threw it into the bushes. "Now we'll get right down to business," he went on, the words beginning to hiss as they came through his closed teeth. "Give us your money."

"I have," wailed poor Georgia, almost hysterically—"every blamed cent."

"Once more, give us your money," the man insisted. "It is the last time we ask. Killing comes next. Open your bundles."

"But there ain't no money in 'em," eagerly. "See!" And he hurriedly cut the string from one of the packages and disclosed an assortment of brightly colored dress goods and ribbons and laces. "I bought 'em for Marigold. An' this," cutting the strings of another bundle, "is full o' bead stuff an' Injin fixin's. I 'lowed Marigold would like 'em. An' these other bundles," cutting the strings from one after the other as rapidly as possible, "is full o' pretty rocks an' shells an' things. Long's I had all the money I wanted I 'lowed Marigold would like 'em better's she would more gold!"

"And do you mean to say—"speaking the words slowly and menacingly—"that you brought all this stuff from Alaska when you might have brought gold?"

"Why, of course," wonderingly. "I didn't need any more gold. The Hunter place can be had for two hundred an' a four room house raised for two hundred more, an' a mule an' ker-ridge an' cow an' all the rest bought for a hundred an' fifty. That'll leave a hundred an' fifty to put aside. Plenty enough, land knows. More'n any o' my family ever had afore."

The rumble of a wagon could be heard coming through the woods, and a baffled, vindictive gleam came into the men's eyes. For a moment they glared at Georgia as though debating the question of a quick and signal revenge. Then the rumble grew louder, and they suddenly sprang to the ground and disappeared in the woods.

When a wagon came noisily round a bend in the road Georgia was just emerging from the bushes with his belt and money. The money he slipped into his pocket, the belt he rebuckled around his waist.

"Howdy, Peke!" he called cheerily as the driver of the wagon approached near enough for recognition. "How air ye? How's the folks?"

"Hey, that you?" in mild surprise from the wagon. "Where'd ye come?"

Blue Label Peas, 2 cans for 35 cents.

Blue Label Tomatoes, can 20 cents.

Heinz' Baked Beans, 15, 20, and 25 cents.

Heinz' Apple Butter, 15 and 25 cents.

Heinz' Chow Chow or Mixed Pickles, 15 cents.

SUNBURST.

The Sunburst Brand of canned vegetables is packed in Kansas. The freight rate is lower than from farther east and the goods are of very fine quality. We offer the following bargains for the present:

Sunburst Marrowfat Peas, can, 12 1/2; case $2.25.

Sunburst Early June Peas, can, 12 1/2; case $2.50.

Early June, extra sifted Peas, can, 15; case $3.00.

Sunburst Corn, can 10, case $1.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

Dried fruit is now on sale from the 1906 crop. We are offering prunes in especially attractive packages.

1-pound packages, 3-pound packages and 5-pound packages we offer as follows:

In 39-49 size, very large fruit, 15, 40, and 65 cents.

In 60-70 size, very fair sized fruit, 10, 25 and 40 cents.

We also have the fruit in bulk and in 25-pound boxes.

On full boxes our price is very attractive; if you can use so much ask for price.

Dried Apples, per pound, 10 cents.

Evaporated Apples, very fancy, per pound, 12 1/2 cents.

Evaporated Apricots, per pound, 25 cents.

Evaporated Peaches, per pound, 20 and 25 cents.

2 pounds of California Figs, eating, for 25 cents.

1 pound of California Figs, cooking, for 10 cents.

A little lemon added to figs or peaches in cooking adds to the flavor.

Dried fruit should be soaked over night or for several hours and then cooked slowly in the same water until tender. Quick cooking without soaking will ruin the best dried fruit.

2 pounds of the finest imported dates for 25 cents.

Dates stuffed with English walnut or other nut meats make a delightful confection.

Hugh H. Harris will leave tomorrow morning for Albuquerque to enter upon the discharge of his duties as supervisor of the Manzano and Mount Taylor Forest Reserves with headquarters in the Duke City.

John W. Dorman will leave tomorrow for Bland. He has been appointed as a forest guard by Forest Supervisor Leon F. Kneipp and his duties for the present will consist of scaling timber cut near Bland embraced in the sale on the Jemez Forest Reserve awarded to L. A. Dye of Albuquerque. Mr. Dorman will receive his instructions in scaling from A. J. Norton, of Washington, D. C., who is an expert lumberman connected with the Bureau of Forestry, and who is now in Santa Fe.

Joseph H. Shelton of Moriarty was in the city yesterday on business at the United States land office. Mr. Shelton is one of the new settlers in the Estancia Valley. He has filed on a homestead claim near Moriarty.

Civil Engineer T. A. Hayden, who has been engaged in survey work for some time near Albuquerque is spending a few days with his family in Santa Fe.

Miss Shewell, Miss Jean Shewell, Miss Luckenbach, Miss Hecke, W. W. Corbett and John W. Dorman comprised a party who yesterday made a trip out to the extinct volcano located about fifteen miles west of Santa Fe. They took basket lunches with them and had a very pleasant outing.

Mrs. Carl A. Dalles, wife of Councilman Dalles, left this afternoon for her home at Willard. Mr. Dalles has recovered from his attack of la grippe and expects to be able to leave on the special train tomorrow for a trip through Torrance County in company with the other members of the Legislative Assembly.

Robert P. Ervien, of Clayton, a member of the Territorial Board of Equalization, arrived today at the Capital. Mr. Ervien is manager of the electric light plant and water works at Clayton and came here on legislative business.

Dr. G. W. Harrison, of Albuquerque, who has been in the city for several days watching Legislative proceedings on behalf of the Territorial Board of health, has returned home.

District Court Clerk A. M. Bergore, spent yesterday in Albuquerque on business.

Miss Otero left yesterday for Albuquerque for a short visit with Mrs. N. B. Field.

Bishop J. Mills Kendrick, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New Mexico and Arizona, is in Albuquerque from his home in Phoenix.

B. G. Wilson, representing the Continental Oil Company in New Mexico and a bright and courteous business man attended to company business in the city today.

Minor City Topics.

The special train provided by the citizens committee of Torrance County for the accommodation of the members of the Assembly and other invited friends for a trip along the Santa Fe Central Railway to its terminus at Torrance during which, also the towns of Estancia and Willard, will be visited, will be at the Union depot ready to start at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning and the start will be made promptly at 7:30 o'clock. All those who are to accompany the excursion are therefore requested to be on hand promptly in order that no delay may be experienced and no inconvenience to any one may ensue.

Fire Tuesday morning destroyed an old wool scouring plant in Las Vegas, which has been standing idle for a number of years. The frame structure was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived and they devoted their efforts to preventing the fire from spreading to the adjoining buildings. Tramps have been in the habit of using the deserted building as a lodging place and it is believed that the fire originated by the careless tossing of a lighted match or cigar stub on the floor.

The monthly meeting of the Santa Fe Board of Trade will be held tomorrow evening at the office of the Water and Light Company. Let every one interested in the prosperity of the city devote an hour to helping in the work and much can be accomplished. Don't stay away and then complain that nothing is done.

At the public meeting of the Historical Society on Tuesday evening the work done in the last two years will be presented and interesting addresses made on a variety of subjects. Full particulars will be published hereafter. Meanwhile make no other engagement for that evening.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD DECLARES REGULAR DIVIDENDS

New York, Feb. 14.—The directors of the Union Pacific today declared their regular semi-annual dividends of five per cent on common stock and two per cent on preferred stock. It was stated that of the dividends upon the common stock three per cent was decided upon the earnings of the road and two upon the income derived from the investments made.

TO PRESERVE OLD PALACE

Representative H. C. Abbott, of Colfax County, Introduces Meritorious Bill for This Purpose.

Hon. H. C. Abbott, of Colfax County, has a plan for the protection and preservation of the Old Governor's Palace, which in the opinion of many who have heard of it is the right thing at the right time. He desires that the property known as the Old Governor's Palace in the city of Santa Fe be placed in charge of a board to be known as the Old Governor's Palace Ladies Association, which board is to consist of ten women, citizens of the Territory of New Mexico and is to have charge of all matters connected with the building and the grounds surrounding it for all time to come. Mr. Abbott has prepared a bill to this effect which he introduced this afternoon in the House and which went to the Committee on Territorial Affairs. He has modeled his bill upon the character of the Mount Vernon Ladies Association, incorporated under the laws of the State of Virginia and which has had charge of the Mount Vernon estate, the home of the late George Washington for many years.

It is well known and fully established that the management of the Mount Vernon estate by this association has been all that could possibly be desired and as perfect as much as anything human can be. Mr. Abbott's ideas are based upon the success of the Mount Vernon plan and he believes and has full faith that the ten women of New Mexico who will be named in his bill to constitute the Old Governor's Palace Ladies Association will act in every way for the best interests of all concerned and will preserve and maintain that historical old building "The Old Governor's Palace" in this city in a proper and creditable manner for all time to come. The bill provides that ten New Mexico women should be appointed by the Governor of New Mexico, five of whom shall reside in this city and five shall be citizens of other counties in this Territory. The requirements for such appointment are that the appointee shall have been a resident of the Territory for ten years and that five of the appointees shall be descendants of old Spanish-American families. The members first appointed shall be the President, the second member vice president of the association and thereafter in rotation. The appointment shall be for five years in each case. The association is required to furnish the historical society of New Mexico certain rooms, the Archaeological Institute of the United States certain rooms; also to have the building open during suitable hours for travelers and visitors, especially the rooms known as the Ben Hur room and as the reception room of the Spanish and Mexican viceroys. Mr. Abbott is very earnest in the support of his plan and will do his level best to insure favorable action by the Assembly on his bill believing its provisions to be the best possible solution for all concerned.

WEATHER MAN IS HAVING EASY TIME

Fair Weather and Stationary Temperature Predicted for Tonight and Friday.

The weather man is having an easy time of it these days guessing the climatic conditions in advance. One does not have to be familiar with air currents and such things a day like this and the ones for the past week or more to predict what the weather would be on the morrow. The official forecast today is for fair weather tonight and Friday with stationary temperature. The temperature at 6 o'clock this morning was 38 degrees. The lowest temperature during last night was 23 degrees. The maximum temperature yesterday was 55 degrees.

at 2:50 p. m., while the minimum temperature was 6 degrees at 5:10 a. m. The mean temperature for the day was 26 degrees at 5:10 a. m. The mean temperature for the day was 40 degrees and the relative humidity 38 per cent.

BLACK DIAMOND EXPRESS GOES INTO DELAWARE.

Eason, Pa., Feb. 14.—Two cars of the Black Diamond Express on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, were derailed at a bridge crossing the Delaware River here yesterday afternoon. Both cars, a day coach and a sleeper, were damaged. The latter slipped to the top of the stone pier and came close to going into the river. Several persons were injured.
