IRRIGATION PROJECT MEETS OPPOSITION

Taos Valley Inhabitants File Protests

HAVE NO WATER TO SPARE

Two Thousand People Are Interested in Case—Arguments Set for March 20.

Taos county residents to the number of about 1,500 not to mention some 500 Indians of the pueblo of Taos, are represented in petitions filed with Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan protesting against the granting of a permit to the Taos Valley Land company. The latter proposes to construct irrigation works and has asked for permission to appropriate waters from the Rio Lucero, Arroyo Seco and Arroyo Hondo. The Indians have made their protest through Judge A. J. Abbott, special attorney for the Pueblo Indians, while the other inhabitants of the section affected have retained as counsel, Attorney Charles A. Spless, of Las Vegas. A hearing in the case has been set for March 20th.

Water Rights Protected By Court's Decree.

The protesters claim that all of the water in the three streams mentioned are already appropriated through prior water rights and have been for over a hundred years. They also incorporate in their protests a decree of the district court of Taos county rendered July 31, 1893, by Associate Justice Edward P. Seeds, in the case of Francisco Martinez v. Martinez et al versus Malaquias Martinez et al. By the terms of this decision the people of Arroyo Seco are entitled at all seasons to thirty per cent of the total water of the Rio Lucero, the pueblo of Taos to thirty-five per cent and the people of El Prado to thirty-five per cent. If there is any surplus water left after supplying the settlements of El Prado and the Taos pueblo it shall belong to the people of Arroyo Seco.

The civil action in which the decree mentioned was rendered was instituted for the purpose of perpetually settling any disputes over the water rights to the Rio Lucero which is a affluent of the Arroyo Seco and the Arroyo Hondo. Juan Santistevan and Alexander Gustorf of Taos had been appointed as commissioners by the court with the privilege of appointing another member as umpire if they so desired and accordingly they selected William L. McClure also of Taos. After a careful examination of the water rights of the litigants they made the apportionment of water as described in the decree rendered by Judge Seeds who was at that time presiding judge of the First judicial district of New Mexico.

Delegation of Taos County Citizens Here Consulting Attorneys.

Malaquias Martinez, of Taos; Antonio C. Pacheco, of Arroyo Seco; Juan A. Valdez, of Valdez; Manuel D. Chacon of Arroyo Hondo, and Francisco Vargas of Arroyo Hondo composed a delegation representing the interests of the Spanish-American settlers of the section named who were in the city yesterday and interposed formal written protests through Attorney Spless. Ventura Romero and Lorenzo Martinez, Indians of the pueblo of Taos, were also here and on behalf of the Indians, filed protests through Judge Abbott. Romero is ruler of the council or king. Martinez is official interpreter of the pueblo and also a member of its council.

According to the application of the Taos Valley Land company permission is asked for to appropriate the flood waters of the three streams, but the protesters allege that there is seldom a season when there is more water to meet their actual needs for irrigation purposes.

PROHIBITION LEADER HAS HIGH HOPES

Charles B. Jones Predicts Defeat of Both Bryan and Taft—Believes His Party Will Win.

New York, Feb. 20.—Charles B. Jones, chairman of the National Prohibition committee, said yesterday in an interview here that President Roosevelt had lost the confidence of the Prohibitionists because he had not arrayed the powers of the government against liquor. Bryan, he said, had no chance for election to the presidency and that Taft had no chance of even getting the Republican nomination because neither are in sympathy with the prohibition movement. Jones is enthusiastic over the rapid growth of prohibition sentiment throughout the country.

CHINESE BEGIN TO DRIVE OUT JAPS

Reports Received Telling of Guerrilla Warfare in Province of Manchuria.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 20.—Advices have been received in Portland from Hong Kong and other Chinese cities that a species of guerrilla warfare has broken out in Manchuria between Japanese soldiers who make up the army of occupation and native Chinese bent on driving out of the country the representatives of a power whom they fear as an encroaching menace. It is said several conflicts have occurred between the soldiers and people and that the Japanese have been entirely driven from the towns of Hop Gi Bin and En Tai Hop-gi.

STOESSEL GUILTY OF COWARDICE.

Sentenced to Death But Leniency is Urged

OTHERS LET OFF EASY

General Fock Reprimanded and Smirnoff and Reiss Acquitted.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—After deliberating thirty hours the judges sitting in the Stoessel case and that of the other generals in charge of Port Arthur at the time of its surrender to the Japanese in the Russo-Japanese war, brought in a verdict tonight, finding General Stoessel guilty and sentencing him to death, but recommending that the sentence be commuted to ten years' imprisonment in a military fortress and that he be dismissed from the army. General Fock was reprimanded and Generals Smirnoff and Reiss acquitted.

The verdict ends a most sensational trial which has been in progress for some time. The accused officers were charged with cowardice and treason for having surrendered Port Arthur to the Japanese forces when they had plenty of food and ammunition on hand to have held out for an indefinite period.

The trial has been watched with considerable interest by the various nations of the globe.

Estancia, N. M., Feb. 20.—Because he has been advocating the closing of the saloons here, D. B. Morrill, a teacher in the local public schools, was yesterday assaulted and badly beaten by Arthur Nisbett a local saloon keeper. Morrill was knocked down by Nisbett who threatened him with another beating if he persisted in stirring up sentiment against the saloons. No arrests were made.

DECISION GOES AGAINST FISH

Harriman Wins in Illinois Central Fight

INJUNCTION IS DISSOLVED

Court Also Holds Union Pacific is Not a Competing Line.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 20.—Judge Ball in the superior court today dissolved the injunction against the Illinois Central stockholders in favor of E. H. Harriman. The decision of Judge Ball releases 286,231 shares of stock from the effects of a temporary injunction granted to Stuyvesant Fish and allows the Union Pacific and the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey, which control that stock, to vote it at the annual meeting which will be held in this city on March 25.

The decision of Judge Ball was quite extended, amounting to about ten thousand words. After reviewing the history of the case and going at considerable length into the various claims and assertions made by both sides the court continued:

Opinion of Court.

"There is but one ground upon which this bill can be maintained. If the Union Pacific has no right to buy, hold or own stock either in the Illinois Central railroad or the Securities Railroad Company, then either of them is intruding in this election wholly without any right. If this is true I think the bonafide stockholders without alleging irreparable injury may ask the court to throw them out. This brings us to the question, is there in the public policy of this state any prohibition against the voting by a foreign corporation of stock in a domestic corporation which stock it purchased and paid for and holds under the express power granted to it by state of its creation?"

Not Competing Lines.

The court declared that corporations are not barred from using and holding stock of other corporations and said that the fact that a purchaser might be a foreign corporation and the stock that of a domestic corporation, it could not change the rule of law. The court denied that there is any rule of American common law prohibiting one corporation from holding stock in another corporation when the first corporation has in its charter specific power to do so. The decision also says that the Union Pacific and Illinois Central railroads are not competing lines.

Cannot Appeal From Decision.

The attorneys for Fish agree that the decision of Judge Ball cannot be appealed. Attorney Farrar for Fish, said that the case would now have to be tried on its merits and a decree entered and then he would be able to appeal. He said he would go ahead to try the merits of the case as soon as possible.

Both Harriman and Fish who are in this city declined to comment on the decision by Judge Ball until they had seen a full text of the decision.

OFFERS TO PROVIDE RAILROAD TRACKAGE

Santa Fe Central Agrees to Build Switch Facilities if Sanatorium is Located in Santa Fe.

The Presbyterian committee which was appointed to select a site for the proposed sanatorium and hospital, and spent the afternoon yesterday investigating the claims of Santa Fe, returned last night to Albuquerque, where it held another meeting today.

General Manager S. B. Grimshaw of the Santa Fe Central railway today talked over the long distance telephone with Judge John R. McFie of this city, who is a member of the committee and informed Judge McFie that the Santa Fe Central railway would provide sufficient trackage facilities for the institution if it was located here.

It is likely that the location of the sanatorium and hospital will be decided upon at today's meeting in Albuquerque.

AMERICAN FLEET ARRIVES AT CALLAO

Admiral Thomas Temporarily in Command

EVANS STILL QUITE SICK

Peruvians Extend Enthusiastic Welcome to Officers and Men.

Callao, Peru, Feb. 20.—The American battleship fleet reached this port today. Thousands of people from the interior towns came to the city to witness the arrival of the fleet. Admiral Evans still remains in poor health and Rear Admiral Thomas is temporarily in charge of the fleet.

Callao An Important Port.

Callao, where the American battleship fleet is now making its fourth stop in its cruise around South America, is one of the most important ports on the Pacific side, and is the great depot for the commerce of Peru. It is second only to Valparaiso, Chile, 1,500 miles to the south. Approximately one-half of the foreign trade of Peru, which amounts last year to more than $50,000,000, passes in and out of Callao, making it a busy, active and industrious city. Fully 1,000 vessels stop in the harbor every year, and 20 steamers together with 40 sailing craft may any day be seen lying at anchor in the bay.

Callao is one of the finest and safest harbors on the Pacific, and the Peruvian government is showing great energy not only to make it modern, convenient and secure, but also to equip the city itself with every necessity for comfortable and hygienic living. There are massive wharves at the water's edge, protected by a pier 800 feet long; this pier is connected with the shore by a bridge, built on iron piles, 2,500 feet long. In the bay is a floating dock which will admit vessels of 21 feet draught and 5,000 tons weight. Steamers lie alongside the wharves, and freight is transhipped immediately into cars on tracks within a few feet of the water. The resemblance to a modern port like Havre or Hook of Holland, is remarkably striking. The machinery about these docks is chiefly electric, the power being drawn from streams only a small distance back in the mountains.

Bay is Well Protected.

A natural protection of the bay is the island of San Lorenzo, which shelters the city from southwest storms. Adjacent to San Lorenzo is the Palomeros group, on which is a powerful light house, the light from which is visible for eighteen miles. Just recently erected is a tower for wireless telegraphy, and communication by this means will soon be in operation all along the coast.

Callao, as a town, is very old, its foundation dating back to the year 1537. The original site was destroyed by an earthquake in 1746 and swallowed up by the sea. The present city yet retains some traces of its earlier history in the narrow and irregular streets, but today it has grown away from such conditions, and is modern in every sense of the word. The population numbers 32,000, although in the day time it would seem much larger, because many men come here during business hours but return in the afternoon to their homes in Lima.

Lima But 9 Miles Distant.

Lima, the capital of Peru, is only nine miles from Callao and lies 500 feet higher, closer against the foot hills of the Andes. Two steam and one electric trolley lines connect the capital with the port, and there is besides a fine avenue for carriages, so that the traveler can easily and quickly go from one city to the other at any time. This is one of the most romantic spots of Spanish America, vying with the City of Mexico in the interests which show the influences of Europe upon the newly discovered America.

FISH HATCHERY BILL PASSED BY SENATE.

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, Feb. 20.—The bill introduced by Senator Boise Penrose providing for the establishment of a fish hatchery on the Gallinas river near Las Vegas has passed. The bill was introduced by Senator Penrose at the request of Delegate Andrews and is very likely to pass the House and become law.

The Senate has also passed a bill for the relief of the heirs of the late Napoleon B. Giddings of Santa Fe. This bill was also introduced at the request of Delegate Andrews.

TERRITORIAL BANKS IN FINE CONDITION

Increase in Deposits Last Year Despite Financial Stringency—Twenty-Three Territorial Institutions

Twenty-three banks are now doing business in New Mexico under territorial charter. According to a summary of the financial condition of these institutions which has been prepared by Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford the territorial banks make an excellent showing for the year ending December 31, 1907.

Mr. Safford's statement shows that at the close of business December 31, 1907, the total deposits in these banks were $2,807,910.08 as compared with $2,688,655.52 on December 31, 1906, representing an increase of $119,254.56. The gain in deposits is all the more satisfactory because of the fact that a financial panic prevailed during the three last months of 1907 which undoubtedly served to curtail the amount that would have been deposited under ordinary circumstances.

Mr. Safford was recently quoted in the New Mexican as saying the territorial banks were in splendid condition. He said there would be no failures here as a result of the recent money panic and this assertion was not made until after a careful examination of the banking situation.

Following are figures showing the liabilities and resources of the various territorial banks as taken from the tabulated statement compiled by Traveling Auditor Safford at the close of business December 31, 1907:

Plaza Trust and Savings Bank at Las Vegas, $175,019.
Bank of Deming, $266,881.
Bank of Commerce at Albuquerque, $1,292,203.01.
Exchange Bank at Carrizozo, $201,324.
J. N. Broyles' bank at San Marcial, $164,000.
Silver City Savings bank, $79,574.
Las Vegas Savings bank, $145,331.
Sierra County bank at Hillsboro, $154,951.
McKinley County bank at Gallup, $180,210.
Citizens Bank of Aztec, $108,654.
Bank of Artesia, $188,596.74.
Bank of Dayton, $41,381.
Bank of Springer, $82,074.02.
United States Bank and Trust Company at Santa Fe, $164,161.54.
Socorro State bank, $129,476.
Union County Trust and Savings Association at Clayton, $78,539.
Torrance County Savings bank at Willard, $67,295.
Savings Bank of Melrose, $45,821.41.
Savings Bank of Taiban, $35,720.
Portales Bank and Trust Company, $11,676.
Kenna Bank and Trust Company, $26,757.
Bank of Magdalena, $124,454.21.
Elida Savings Bank, $53,944.96.
Total resources and liabilities $3,818,073.95.

RAILROADS IN SAD PLIGHT

Not Prepared to Obey Nine Hour Law

WABASH ASKS FOR TIME

Closing of Hundreds of Small Stations Along This Road Probable.

Washington, Feb. 20.—A proposition that is very serious to many people residing in the vicinity of small railroad stations throughout the country is presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission in a formal petition in which the Wabash Railroad company asks an extension of time in putting into effect the nine hour law which applies to employees who direct the movements of trains. It is declared in the petition that unless an order of extension is made either by the commission or Congress, the only alternative will be the closing of a large number of stations of the Wabash railroad. The company says it has not been able thus far to secure competent operators in such numbers as will enable it to comply with the act. It is pointed out that in order to comply with the law it will be necessary to transfer operators now employed and close many of the smaller stations.

COLFAX COUNTY IS SCENE OF ACTIVITY

Many Private Irrigation Projects Being Built

MAKING DESERT BLOSSOM

Springer Civil Engineer Tells of Development of Section in Interesting Interview.

That New Mexico's star is in the ascendancy and may within a year be a part of the constellation in the field of blue of Old Glory is a fact that is being generally admitted now throughout the United States. A wonderful transformation has come about within the past few years which has given the territory an impetus that is sending it forward at an amazing rate and one that is doubly astounding in its old time inhabitants.

Frank A. Hainbaugh, of Springer, a civil engineer and surveyor who is connected with the French Land and Irrigation company, and who is spending a few days in the Capital, is extremely sanguine of the future of New Mexico. He believes it is destined to become one of the greatest states in the Union. One of its principal industries in years to come will be farming by means of irrigation.

He cites the number of large irrigation enterprises finished and in course of construction and projected in different parts of the territory, and particularly by private capital in Colfax county. The French Land and Irrigation company with which he is identified is rushing work on its project as fast as possible. A steam dredge is cutting out the reservoirs and canals much quicker than it can be done by hand and a hundred men with teams are also busily engaged. Mr. Hainbaugh tells of what is being done along irrigation in an interview as follows:

New Mexico Attracting Investors and Homeseekers.

"It is beginning to dawn upon the people of the effete eastern states that New Mexico has resources and possibilities of which they little dreamed a half decade ago. There is no section of the country at this time that is engaging more serious attention of the settler or the investor. Every west bound train from the East brings scores of persons who are seeking within our territory homes and investments. Our climatic conditions together with the richest soil on earth—soil that will produce such varieties of crops in lavishness—is the loadstone that is drawing the people hither.

"The result of this constantly growing stream of homeseekers has been the promotion of extensive undertakings in the way of irrigation. Lands that have hitherto been held in large tracts are being transferred to the irrigation farmer. The waters, that, from time to time immemorial, have been permitted to run down the mountain side and unmolested, flow to the ocean, are now all sought by the irrigationists to promote the growth of crops. Vast sums are being expended both by the federal government and private enterprise in installing permanent irrigation works. The character of permanency that characterizes most of these enterprises is but an evidence of the faith the promoters have in the future of the territory.

Many Irrigation Projects in Colfax County.

"Perhaps in no other part of the territory is there more active construction than in Colfax county. It has been my fortune to assist in a number of these enterprises. Before another year fully one hundred thousand acres will be under irrigation in the county. The French Land and Irrigation company, the Farmers' Development company, the Springer Land and Irrigation company, the Hortenstein and Hartley Irrigation company, the Springer Ditch company which has just been reorganized, the Maxwell Farm Ditch system, besides numerous smaller enterprises are all contributing their portion toward the reclamation of the fertile lands of the county. The unanimity of feeling between the various companies in working for the common welfare of the county cannot but be productive of satisfactory results.

"The most extensive of these irrigation projects and with which I am connected in the capacity of chief engineer, is that of the French Land and Irrigation company. This company is composed of Illinois capitalists, with C. E. Hartley, of Springer, as the local representative. The land which the company seeks to reclaim consists of fifty thousand acres purchased from Captain William French last year, and

FREE TRADE VISIONS WILL NOT BECOME REAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Republican policy in the present Congress will not disturb the present Dingley tariff to any extent and the chances are that a bill will be introduced providing for a permanent committee to investigate the tariff thoroughly and to recommend changes, reductions and amendments in the schedules which have become necessary and timely under the changed conditions which existed at the time the present tariff laws were enacted. That some of these are necessary and will have to be made is admitted even by the staidest "stand patters."

The Republican party and the supporters of the present tariff in the main, although many of them may not adhere to other principles of the Republican party are ready and willing for certain necessary revisions providing they are made by friends of the tariff. On the other hand the bulk of the Democratic leaders and politicians are still greatly in favor of and insist on more or less free trade for the United States.

Discussing the situation the Washington Post presents it very fairly in a very able editorial in which the paper says that William Lloyd Garrison, secretary of the American Free Trade League, seems to think, because the National Association of Manufacturers and Senator Beveridge have attacked the inequalities of the existing tariff, that great progress has been made toward free trade in the United States. Mr. Garrison is indulging in reverie in this particular, as he does on the whole subject of the tariff. So far as making any headway in the United States is concerned, the Free Trade League might as well be called the Rainbow Chasers' League or the Rarebit Flends' Association.

The United States maintains a tariff to raise revenue, and it is a permanent tax that cannot be escaped. It has been believed, tested, proved and conceded that this tax, properly applied, is advantageous in affording protection to American capital and labor by preventing outside capital and labor from enjoying on equal terms the biggest and most liberal market in the world—the United States. Through this protection against foreign cheap labor, American manufacturers have had only themselves to fight, on equal terms, under the same conditions. It has been a fair field, with no coolie labor advantages. Thus protected and thus stimulated by fair competition, American manufacturers have improved their goods and reduced their prices until the people of the United States are able to buy manufactured goods of all kinds in infinite variety and as cheaply, everything considered, as the people of any other country. American labor has not become pauperized, and American capital has been busily and properly employed. The two giants—labor and capital—have worked together in harness remarkably well, notwithstanding occasional family squabbles.

Does any sane man believe that the United States will abandon such a triumphantly successful policy? Merely because the Dingley tariff is inequitable here and there, and obsolete in spots, and obscure or wrong in other spots, is it proposed to do away with the protective system? This idea is literally absurd. The trouble with some shallow thinkers, or would-be thinkers, is that they confuse a particular piece of work with the policy behind the work. The Dingley tariff is unsatisfactory as it stands, and the demand to have it revised is becoming overwhelming in its insistence. But the policy upon which the Dingley tariff is based is perfectly satisfactory and there is no demand whatever for a change.

If the free trade visionaries would look calmly on the position of Germany and Great Britain, they would learn something of the actual workings of protection and free trade, side by side. Germany is steadily encroaching upon Great Britain in everything that constitutes national strength. Germany's progress is made at Great Britain's expense. The British ideal has been found to be hollow, and Joseph Chamberlain, the most practical and far-seeing of British statesmen, has pointed to the path that England must follow, whether she likes it or not. That country must abandon the theory of free trade because other countries will not agree to it. In self-defense England must put up protection barriers. The medicine is not pleasant, but the dose must go down.

TEACHING THE FARMER.

Representative Scott of Kansas has broached a plan which should be carefully considered by the Sixtieth Congress and the bill to carry the plan into effect should be passed. Representative Scott believes that the time has arrived and that it would prove beneficial not only for the agricultural interests but for the people at large were the federal government to give practical lessons and to engage in actual demonstrations in agriculture and in teaching this science to farmers generally by experts and officials now in the employ of the department.

In New Mexico something of the kind has been going on for a year, has done good and is increasing in beneficence. The New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has sent several of its professors and experts into the various irrigated and agricultural sections of the territory and these have held farmers' institutes and given lectures upon the subjects of irrigation and cultivation and have also engaged in practical demonstrations. A beginning here has been made and it is the intention of the authorities of the college to enlarge the scope, the work and usefulness of the plan.

Referring to Representative Scott's ideas the Kansas City Times handles the subject timely and pertinently when it says:

"The plan of Representative Scott of Kansas to give practical farming lessons under the direction of the Department of Agriculture in a number of western states, is so feasible and inexpensive and so suggestive of direct and fruitful benefits that it commends itself at once to careful consideration. This plan would not involve the necessity of making additional appropriations, but would provide for demonstrations in crop raising on private lands, allotted by the farmers for that purpose. These demonstrations, widely distributed and supervised by experts already in the employ of the Department of Agriculture, would probably be far more productive than all the literature distributed by the government.

"If, in connection with these demonstrations, the subject of forestry could be promoted among the farmers with a view to having each considerable land owner plant in trees at least a small area—preferably such as is of little use for other purposes—another very important step would be taken toward the highest development of farm lands and also toward safeguarding the country against timber famine in the future. The ultimate famine cannot be avoided without very general co-operation. The greatest problem in the Department of Forestry is to interest and secure the co-operation of the individual landholders in both the conservation and the planting of forests."

SHOULD BE GRATEFULLY REMEMBERED.

Splendid work has been done during the past two months by the delegation of New Mexico citizens who went to Washington to aid Delegate W. H. Andrews in his good work in securing measures for the benefit of the territory and greatly needed legislation. The men who made up this delegation and who went to the national capital at their own expense, giving their time freely without stint, are certainly to be highly commended. Of course Governor Curry was at their head and while his salary went on he nevertheless was at great personal expense. The other New Mexico citizens who should be kindly and gratefully remembered are Chairman H. O. Bursum, mayor of Socorro, Hon. Solomon Luna, New Mexico's member of the Republican national committee, ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, of Santa Fe, Hon. Thomas D. Burns, of Tierra Amarilla, Attorney W. A. Hawkins, of Alamogordo, District Attorney Mark B. Thompson, of Las Cruces, Chairman W. S. Hopewell of the board of control of the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress, Martin Lohman, of Las Cruces, Harry W. Kelly, of Las Vegas, Judge Edward A. Mann, of Alamogordo, William B. Childers, of Albuquerque.

The Republicans of New Mexico have a habit of paddling their own canoe and the chances are that they will do this in the coming campaign and will do it successfully into the port of victory.

TUCUMCARI'S EXAMPLE SHOULD BE FOLLOWED.

The Tucumcari News, a bright paper published in the lively capital of Quay county and only having an existence of five years to its credit, is evidently "some pumpkins" and is forging rapidly to the front. During the past three years the surrounding section has been settled thickly by farmers and the principal resources of the town are the trade of these people and the fact that it is a division point of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway and also the starting of the Dawson railroad.

In an editorial the News crows somewhat but it is justified. It also holds forth and shows that some other towns in the territory are away behind it in enterprise, public spirit and unity of action. But then Tucumcari does not contain a lot of backbiters and tax dodgers who have nothing to do except to pull down and to slander their fellow citizens who have been for many years creditably engaged in doing what was right and to make their communities prosperous. More or less of this state of affairs is to be applied here at home in this city. The truth may be bitter but it must be told.

The News puts the situation in its town in the following rather breezy, but none the less entertaining manner:

"What do you think of a town of four thousand population incorporating a Business Men's League with a capital of $10,000 with $6,000 paid in capital? This is what Tucumcari has done this month and this money will be spent in advertising the resources, agricultural, etc., of Quay county and northeastern New Mexico. There are a number of larger towns in the territory that are years behind Tucumcari in all matters of business enterprise, and some of them were settled in the sixteenth century, while Tucumcari has only used six years of the twentieth. In another twelve months our business people propose to have one of the best hotels in New Mexico, and more cement sidewalks than any other town on the Rock Island from Liberal, Kansas to El Paso, Texas. These things only occur in a town where the business men are all hustling and willing to give a portion of their time and capital to the betterment of the general community."

The Republican territorial central committee prescribed in its recent meeting stringent regulations for the proper conduct of party primaries and conventions. These rules if properly carried out will bring about fairness and justice in such gatherings, and the results of these meetings and conventions will represent the will of the majority of the Republicans in the various sections of the territory. The rules are carefully thought out and while in some cases in county precincts they may be found rather hard and complicated in the main they will bring about the results desired, namely a free and full expression of Republican voters as to measures and candidates in the coming elections. The New Mexican's Albuquerque morning contemporary is not pleased with this work of the committee but as the sheet has not supported Republican party principles and Republican candidates for several years its views will not cut much ice, except with those who pull the strings and the human marionettes who dance to them in campaign election times.

Los Tanos is a new town in Guadalupe county. New settlers have reached there only during the last few months, yet the little burg has already a newspaper, Los Tanos Farmer. It is edited by Miss Constance Boler, a young woman who is evidently on the right track, as the following editorial in the last issue of the paper indicates:

"It seems to the Los Tanos Farmer that all must give Delegate W. H. Andrews credit for being one of the most active, conscientious and efficient representatives that New Mexico has ever had. Mr. Andrews has never failed to be in the right place at the right time and has always done the right thing for New Mexico. New Mexico has had many delegates, but inclination without ability to accomplish results amounts to little."

In a recent examination of the books of a failed California bank within three years 2,000 errors were found. The bookkeeper who kept these books must have had the same tough conscience as the average tax dodger of Santa Fe county.

The "sick man of Europe" does not care to have anything to do with Russian doctors. For the past 200 years when these have applied medicine to him it has been in the shape of cannon shots and rifle balls. This medicine generally kills but does not heal.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Untiring Work Keeps Us Strong
and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposit in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Louis West, living at 235 Manhattan St., Santa Fe, N. M., says: "On and off for a couple of years I was troubled with a dull heavy aching in the small of my back. I tried many remedies and used plasters but derived little or no benefit. In March a neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and I procured a box at Ireland's drug store. The result of its use was so satisfactory that I continued with them taking a second box until the pain in my back left me and the secretions from the kidneys became more free and natural. From that time on I have been a well man, have had a strong back and no trouble of any kind with my kidneys. I shall always speak well of Doan's Kidney Pills and have recommended them on a good many occasions to my friends."

WANT CAREY ACT
TO BE AMENDED

So Territories Can
Also Secure Its Benefits

BILL BY DELEGATE ANDREWS

Has Done Much for Irrigation Says Territorial Engineer Sullivan.

"The Carey act has done more to promote irrigation in the arid and semi-arid states than any law I know of," remarked Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan in discussing a proposed amendment to the statute seeking to have its provisions extended to New Mexico and Arizona. Delegate W. H. Andrews, New Mexico's widest awake and hustling representative in Congress, has introduced a bill to that effect in the House of Representatives and it has been referred to the committee on public lands.

The Carey act provides for the donation by the federal government to the several states in the arid and semi-arid regions of not more than one million acres of land susceptible to irrigation for the purpose of having it reclaimed and made productive. In the original statute the provisions were confined exclusively to the states and no provision was made for territories to derive a similar benefit.
Delegate Andrews' bill therefore makes an amendment to one of the sections making the law applicable
also to the territories of New Mexico and Arizona.

Territorial Engineer Sullivan at whose suggestion the bill was drafted
by Attorney General James M.
Hervey feels hopeful of its being enacted into law. He says it has the approval of the U. S. Reclamation Service. The states in which the Carey act is operative have enacted laws governing the disposition of the land in conformity with the provisions of the federal law. In some instances large tracts of land selected under the Carey act are sold to irrigation companies at as low as 50 cents per acre with the proviso that when the irrigation projects are completed the land under ditch is to be sold to actual settlers in tracts not to exceed 160 acres each. This system has not only served to stimulate interest in irrigation but it has also served to promote immigration.

Delegate Andrews' bill extending the provisions of the Carey act is as follows:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: That all the provisions of Section 4 of the act of Congress, approved August 18, 1894, being Chapter 201 to supplement to Revised Statutes of the United States entitled
'An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and for other purposes,' be, and the same are hereby, extended to the territories of New Mexico and Arizona, and that said territories upon complying with the provisions of said act shall be entitled to have and receive all of the benefits therein conferred upon the states.

"Sec. 2. That this act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage."

Section 4 referred to is in part as
follows:

"That to aid the public land states in the reclamation of the twenty desert lands therein and the settlement, cultivation and sale thereof in small tracts to actual settlers the Sec. of the Interior with the approval of the President, be, and hereby is, authorized and empowered, upon proper application of the state to contract and agree from time to time, with each of the states in which there may be situated desert lands as defined by the act entitled 'An act to provide for the sale of desert lands in certain states and territories,' approved March 3, 1891, binding the United States to donate, grant and patent free of cost for survey or price such desert lands, not exceeding 1,000,000 acres in each state as the state may cause to be irrigated, reclaimed, occupied and not less than 20 acres of each 160 acre tract cultivated by actual settlers within ten years after the passage of this act, as thoroughly as is required of citizens who may enter under the said desert land law."

DESERT MADE TO BLOSSOM AS ROSE

Old-Timer in Guadalupe County Describes Transformation of Eastern
New Mexico.

Frank N. Page, U. S. court commissioner at the new town of Buchanan, Guadalupe county, and an old resident of that section of New Mexico, describes the wonderful transformation of eastern New Mexico within the past few years in an interesting communication addressed to the New Mexican.
His letter reads:

"Buchanan, N. M., Feb. 17, 1908.
Editor New Mexican.

"Santa Fe, N. M.
"This land you surveyed in 1880
looks like the plains of middle Kansas today. It is dotted everywhere with farms, farm houses and windmills.
This is the great American Desert or Llano Estado. In 1882 we drove sheep across the plains and had it not been for a timely rain we would have lost out from thirst. In 1892-3 I personally went to Texas and bought and drove to New Mexico 10,000 sheep, in partnership with Seldondridge and Peebles of Colorado Springs. I went east over the south trail of General McKenzie, who you will remember, and came back with the sheep over the north trail made by the same general.

"In 1892 from the Texas line we were never out of sight of a windmill as the X. I. T. or Farwell syndicate had drilled wells everywhere. At that time New Mexico was still but sparsely settled with only a sheep or cattle ranch here and there. Now in 1908 what we old timers all thought a desert, is blooming with contented people, because the past few years they have made good crops of kafir corn, milo maize, Mexican beans and water melons.

"I believe that the whole secret of success in this section lies in the raising of kafir corn. I am a crank on kafir corn. Whether this success of the people continues or whether they will be starved out is a question, but it is my opinion that the man with a windmill, a few cows and horse, some poultry and a few pigs will not starve
as the climate is the finest and healthiest in the world and if a man will work even a day a season, he will raise enough to tide him over and where once a desert the windmill and hard work will sustain a whole lot of human beings, and they will be good citizens."

Many Sleepless Nights, Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results.
In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

WHY DID YOU COME WEST?

To rest, recuperate, hunt, fish, breathe fresh, pure air, see mountain scenery, get a change, live a new and and fascinating life under new conditions, and get food that needs no pure food law.

That's why you came west!

There is a beautiful little valley that nestles between the highest mountains of the Rockies on the upper Pecos river; ideal altitude, 7,000 feet, and temperature identical with Santa Fe. Its streams swarm with trout and the woods and ranges are filled with game large and small. The ranchers live the life of the west. There are mountain lion, bears, deer, and wolves for the hunter. There are saddle ponies to be had for the asking, rooms in a big rambling ranch house with wide verandas, tent rooms or a cabin if you want it. The days are never dull. You see a great ranch and the genuine western life. Fresh milk, butter and eggs—all you can drink and eat. Sleep in blankets at night—fish in your shirt sleeves during the day. You couldn't spend more than $9 a week if you tried. It's the place you are looking for. Accommodations for both men and women. Inquire this office or address THE VALLEY RANCH, Pecos, N. M.

FROM THE PINE WOODS.

Hyomel's Aromatic Air is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Cost Nothing.

When using the Hyomel treatment, the air you breathe is like that on the mountains high above the sea level where the pine woods fill the air with aromatic healing that gives health and strength to those suffering from diseases of the respiratory organs. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the healing balsams of Hyomel reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, destroying all catarrhal germs and giving quick relief and cure.

Hyomel has performed almost miraculous cures of catarrh, often restoring health in chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery. Its best action is at the start of the disease, when the breath is becoming offensive and when discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat are frequent sneezing or spasmodic coughing begin to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, use Hyomel and see how quickly you get relief and cure.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00 and is sold by The Ireland Pharmacy under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

A weak stomach, means weak stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the heart and kidneys. It's a pity that sick ones continue to drug the stomach or stimulate the heart and kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative, has, and is promptly helping so many sick ones. It goes direct to the cause of these diseases. Test this vital truth and see. Sold by all dealers.

San Marcel, N. M., Feb. 20.—The four-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cruickshank, of this place, met a tragic death here on Tuesday. The child fell backwards into a tub of scalding hot water and was so badly burned that it died at 5 o'clock that evening.

The accident occurred at the home of its grandmother, Mrs. C. G. Cruickshank, where the child and its parents have been visiting. It was wash day at the Cruickshank home. The child was playing about the kitchen and fell into the tub at a moment when nobody was watching.
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cruickshank resided at Tucucfeari until recently. Mr. Cruickshank being an employee of the El Paso and Southwestern railway.

MURDERERS LEFT ABSOLUTELY NO CLUE

Las Vegas, N. M., Feb. 20.—Sheriff Cleofes Romero, with deputies, is now at Tecolote, making every effort to run down the murderers of J. H. Teitelbaum, the merchant who was killed at that place last Saturday night. So far there is little or no clue to the perpetrators of the dastardly crime, as the sheriff did not learn of the affair until two days after it had occurred, but no stones will be left unturned to bring the guilty parties to justice.
The remains of the victim were laid to rest in the Jewish cemetery in this city today.

CULTIVATE LARGER ACREAGE THIS YEAR

Farmers in Vicinity of Chamberino Busy Putting in Crops—New Bridge is Completed.

(Special Correspondence of the New Mexican.)

Chamberino, N. M., Feb. 20.—The Mesilla valley has had no rain this winter and the first cold spell, accompanied by a slight snowfall, came last week. A few windy days were really all that marred a constant sunshine and pleasant winter. Depending entirely upon irrigation, the farmers are indifferent as to rain. The Rio Grande so far and for the past three years has been regularly supplying all the canals with abundant water for irrigation.

Gradually the valley is being settled by progressive farmers and this season sees many thousand acres more of new fields seeded. It seems also that new settlers will adopt progressive methods in the way of fixing their fields, since the old style of leveling in a shipshod manner has caused so much loss and disappointment.

There still remains perhaps 35,000 acres of uncultivated land in the Mesilla valley owned for the most part by absent residents. But since the construction of the Elephant Butte project is now assured, a rush of new settlers to the vacant lands is expected.

The completion of the bridge linking the west side with the railroad on the east side is a great advance in progress if not civilization and the farmers are deeply indebted to the Santa Thomas company and more especially to Messrs. N. Galles, D. V. Peacock and J. F. Satley for the philanthropic as well as progressive spirit displayed by spending about $2,000 of their own money to complete the bridge.

The territorial law governing the maintenance of community ditches is the cause of a great deal of friction. Chamberino, for instance, has lost through death, one of its three commissioners recently elected. A defeated candidate, Pearl Bally, claimed the vacant seat and by some acrobatic stunt, succeeded in qualifying. Subsequently several water users who felt aggrieved against the action of the commissioners of whom this man Bally seems to be the boss, complained and an injunction to oust Bally has been applied for and according to legal advice, will be granted, since the law does not provide what should be done in case of a vacancy occurring.

General Viljoen, a resident of this section and a progressive farmer, has declined a lucrative position offered him in South Africa by political admirers in Johannesburg, his former home. He says that being once exiled and having adopted the United States as his future home, he feels perfectly happy and satisfied to remain.

TO BUILD CHAIN OF SUGAR FACTORIES

Santa Fe Railroad and American Sugar Company Will Put in Plants at Several New Mexico Towns.

Las Vegas, N. M., Feb. 20.—Sugar beet factories are practically assured for Las Vegas, Bernalillo and Springer next year. The Holly Sugar company, a branch of the American Sugar company, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad system have combined in their efforts to secure this great boon for New Mexico, and from the plans already made the success of the great undertaking is already assured. The only condition imposed is that from two hundred to two hundred and fifty acres of beets be successfully raised in each factory district during the coming season, and if this is accomplished the work of erecting million dollar plants will be started this fall.

Representatives of the sugar company, soil experts and representatives of the industrial department of the Santa Fe railroad with three or four automobiles will begin the work of securing contracts at Springer about the middle of March. They will work that territory completely and then come overland to Las Vegas. They will leave blank contracts with the secretaries of the Commercial and Las Vegas clubs and with the most prominent business men, and will then branch out through the surrounding country in their automobiles and personally call on the leading farmers. When they have secured sufficient acreage here, well distributed in the various portions of the agricultural district, they will go to Bernalillo and perform the same work at that place.

It is the desire of the sugar beet men that a large number of farmers take from two to ten acres each, instead of raising large tracts. They want from fifty to seventy-five farmers interested in the raising of sugar beets for the reason that they desire a large field before coming here. After the factory is located they have no doubt that those who have raised beets the year before will voluntarily increase their acreage. They want to teach the people to raise beets.

The beets should be planted some time in April. An expert will be furnished, without expense to the people, who will make his headquarters in this city. He will personally visit those raising beets and instruct them how to cultivate the crop at various times during the season and will use every effort to see that their labors are crowned with success.

$1,000,000 FOR SCHOOLS

Territory Spent This Vast Sum for Their Maintenance in 1907.

Traveling Auditor Charles V. Sanford has just finished compiling a tabulated statement showing the receipts and disbursements of the several counties of New Mexico for the year ending December 31, 1907. According to it the total receipts from taxes and other sources were $2,057,683.83, and the total disbursements $1,931,453.23, making a very substantial increase of $126,239.60.

Million Dollars For Support of Public Schools.

The figures in this summary are taken from the annual reports of the various county treasurers for the calendar year 1907. With but few exceptions the receipts in the several counties of the territory were in excess of the disbursements and most of them are in splendid financial condition. McKinley county is one of those that has expended more during the year than its revenue amounted to but this money was spent partly in the erection of a court house and jail building at a cost of $30,000. McKinley county also wiped out $7,000 of its bonded indebtedness.

That New Mexico is liberal in the support of its public schools is evidenced from the fact that during 1907 the disbursements for this purpose exclusive of the city schools amounted to $467,608.83. Including the city schools it is estimated the expenditure for the maintenance of the public schools for the year was close to the million dollar mark.

The receipts and disbursements in the twenty-five counties of New Mexico were as follows during 1907: Receipts and Disbursements of Each County.

Bernalillo—Receipts, $263,007.71; disbursements, $247,316.65.	Chaves—Receipts, $167,863.38; disbursements, $168,449.40.
Colfax—Receipts, $165,883.66; disbursements, $168,504.43.	Dona Ana—Receipts, $92,924.52; disbursements, $84,749.44.
Eddy—Receipts, $130,896.89; disbursements, $126,550.89.	Grant—Receipts, $131,234.03; disbursements, $119,469.30.
Guadalupe—Receipts, $36,800.83; disbursements, $35,146.88.	Lincoln—Receipts, $51,192.28; disbursements, $52,375.89.
Luna—Receipts, $52,414.13; disbursements, $51,160.77.	McKinley—Receipts, $47,469.33; disbursements, $63,404.73.

was originally a part of the Maxwell land grant. The land is ideally located for irrigation purposes. There are mountains to the north, mountains to the west and high mesas to the south, thus affording ample protection against sudden changes. The altitude of the land is about 5,700 feet, which is sufficiently high for those conditions that best promote health, and not too high for the growth of almost every variety of crop.

Water to Be Conserved in Seven Large Reservoirs.

"The water for this land is diverted from the Cimmaron river, Ponil creek, Carrasozo creek, Van Buren creek and Vermejo river. These streams have a drainage area of more than a half million acres which will afford an abundance of water for every acre of irrigable land. From the points of diversion the water is to be conveyed to seven large reservoirs with a capacity of 64,500 acre feet. The reservoirs are so situated that most of the tract is accessible from them. From the western boundary of the land the slope is gentle to the east and south.

"The construction is all to be of a permanent character. The diversion works, headworks, outlet tunnels and drops are to be reinforced concrete. The rip-rapping on the dams is of the same character of material. An important feature of the construction will be the installation of two inverted siphons of reinforced concrete, one being 5,000 feet in length and the other 4,300 feet long. These are the longest siphons that have ever been used for irrigation purposes and will represent no small outlay in expense. The policy of the company in devising its scheme of irrigation has been that which secures permanency. Modern methods and up to date devices alone are employed.

"The work of construction on this enterprise is being vigorously prosecuted. On dam construction we have about seventy-five teams and one hundred men. So far the weather has been extremely favorable for this work. We also have installed a large Austin steam dredge for canal work. This is the first of these machines to be used in the west on irrigation work. For smaller ditches elevating graders are being used, drawn by traction engines. "Much of this land is now being broken by steam plows for spring crops. The initial crop in most cases will be oats. Next year it is the purpose of the land owners to plant orchards and those varieties of crops that will bring the largest returns. Praises Work of Territorial Engineer Sullivan.

"I cannot resist the temptation to say something about the most excellent work that is being done by Vernon L. Sullivan, the territorial engineer. He is doing much to promote a better understanding and a better feeling among irrigation farmers throughout the territory. The hydrographic work that is being done by him will be found of great value to the irrigationist in the way of settling disputes as to water rights.

"Thus far but few questions have arisen in New Mexico as to water rights. Every man has taken what he wanted regardless of the amount required, but in future years the question will be much more serious. The steps he is now taking regarding the promulgation of correct ideas of the economic use of water will be of immense value. There is no question connected with irrigation about which there has been so little definite information. It has taken Colorado years to find out that too much water is just as injurious to the growth of plant life as too little, and she has not learned her lesson well yet. There is yet more water wasted in the state by useless application than is actually required for growth of crops.

"Experience has shown that the best results do not warrant such a lavish application of water to growing crops as has been commonly thought necessary. The steps that are being taken by the territorial engineer to disseminate a proper knowledge on the economical use of water cannot be commended too highly by those who have the future welfare of the territory at heart."
