SANTA FE NEW MEXICAN

VOL. 45.

SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY APRIL 4, 1908.

NO. 44

JOSE D. SENA.
Republican Candidate For Mayor of Santa Fe.

Jose D. Sena, Republican nominee for mayor in the coming city election, is a native of this city and forty-one years of age. He has spent all of his life here and is well and favorably known to every resident of the city. He was educated at St. Michael's college in this city, at the Jesuit College at Las Vegas and finished a course at the St. Louis University. Mr. Sena went into active life about fifteen years ago and since has taken a prominent and enviable part in politics. He served several years as chief clerk to the auditor of the territory with credit and ability. He was elected representative from this county to the Thirty-first Legislative Assembly and made a splendid record for honesty, efficiency and capability.

For the past ten years he has held the important office of clerk of the territorial supreme court in which he has given the best of satisfaction, not only to the judges but also to the attorneys and all those having business with the court. He served two terms as member of the city council, one term serving as president of it. During his connection with this body he was always found ready and willing to vote for measures for the benefit and advancement of the city. While he was president of the council, more sidewalk building was done, owing to his efforts in that line, than ever before or since. He favors economy, efficiency and fairness in the city administration and will insist upon the carrying out of all city ordinances for the cleanliness, health and well being of the town to the very letter and without fear or favor.

Mr. Sena is in every way a representative citizen of the city and will represent it on public occasions and in official gatherings properly and creditably. A better choice could not have been made and this should be ratified by the voters at Tuesday's election. They will benefit themselves and help the advancement and progress of the city in a very material way by doing so.

WOLF DISGUISED IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

Although Posing as Republican Paper Albuquerque Morning Journal is Secretly Aiding Democrats

ITS DECEPTION SHOWN UP BY PRESS OF TERRITORY

Influence Which It Enjoyed Under Hagerman Fake Reform Administration Has Disappeared Entirely.

Special to the New Mexican.

Albuquerque, N. M., April 4.—"Why doesn't the Morning Journal of Albuquerque come out openly and support the Democratic ticket in this city?" is what a whole lot of people are asking, for it is so evident that the morning paper is not supporting the Republican ticket, that the pretense it makes is hardly worth keeping up.

The Morning Journal has given scant notice to the Republican ticket, beyond carrying the candidates at the head of its editorial column—the most inconspicuous place it possesses—and it even so far forgot itself upon one occasion as to pull down the ticket until reminded by the Republican central committee, that the ticket was missing. Then the explanation given was that a mistake had been made and the ticket was replaced.

When a few of the Republican candidates complained to the management that the Journal was not helping out in the campaign, the paper came out very gingerly with a few announcements that there would be a Republican meeting in the Elks' opera house on Friday, April 3. But in the same issue, it gave even more prominent notice to the effect that the Democrats were warming things up and would also hold a mass meeting.

Sailing Under False Colors.
Incidentally its leading editorial directly under the list of Republican candidates was headed, "Give Bryan Fair Play" followed by a rousing good old Democratic editorial.

All this appears more strong when it is considered that the Republican city ticket was selected at a so-called "United Republican convention" and good government men favored by the Journal, were given leading places on the ticket.

The fact of the matter is, that the Morning Journal is completely in the hands of and subsidized by the Democratic leaders of this county. It is trying to lead a few of its followers into the Democratic party by a gentle and devious route, while keeping up a guerrilla warfare on the Republican party under the guise of reform.

Never in its history, has it shown its hand plainer to the people of this city than in the present campaign.

All the printing for the Democratic candidates and party in the city election has been given to the Journal and several of its leading employees are taking an active part in canvassing for the Democratic candidates.

Without Recourse in Campaign.

The Morning Journal has based its opposition to the Republican party in this city and county on the plea of anti-Hubbellism. Now, with Hubbell, in no way concerned in the present city election, it has lacked its pet excuse and is without recourse.

The Democratic candidates are working hard to carry the municipal election. They are spending money freely and it is understood quite generally, that they have quietly promised to reduce the saloon license of Albuquerque if they are elected.

It is pretty generally known that a strong combination has been made between the saloon element and the Democratic organization and money is being freely spent. It is no stretch of the imagination to suspect that some of the slush fund is reaching the coffers of the Journal—directly or indirectly, since that paper has always covertly associated itself with the saloon element.

At all events the present city campaign has been an eye opener to the people of Albuquerque—particularly those who had been deceived into thinking that the Journal's only object in life was the good of the dear people.

No Danger of Democratic Victory.

While there is no likelihood that the Democrats will carry this election, yet they have found a willing ally in the Morning Journal and the only campaign advertising they have received has been through that paper.

It is being freely predicted here that by the time the fall campaign has been opened, the Morning Journal will be forced into the open by its own tactics and will be lined up with the straight Democratic ticket, where it is now generally recognized, it belongs.

The paper will hereafter lack influence in Albuquerque Republican circles as a Republican paper and there is but one thing left for it to do.

PERCY F. KNIGHT.
Candidate For Member of the Board of Education From the Fourth Ward.

Percy F. Knight, who has been nominated by the Republicans of the Fourth ward for member of the Board of Education for the long term, came to the city about five years ago with his family, and has become a permanent resident. He was first employed in the telegraph department of the Santa Fe Central Railway; thereafter for two years as business manager of the New Mexican Printing company, and for the past year and a half as assistant cashier of the United States Bank and Trust company.

Mr. Knight is the head of a family and has two children attending the public school. He is a consistent and uncompromising friend of a first class public school system. He himself commenced to make a living at an early age, namely at the age of fourteen years, and is thirty-five years of age today. He has made his own position in life by hard work, attention to business, honesty and competency. He commenced business life in a telegraph office and for several years worked as a telegraph operator. For a number of years he was cashier of the South Bethlehem Steel company, at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Thereafter he came to Santa Fe where he settled with his wife and two children. He stands very high in the estimation of the community and has every qualification to perform the duties of the office to the benefit of the people at large and for those who have children who are attending the public schools. He is a clean man in every respect.

URGE AMENDMENT ANTI-TRUST LAW

Big Delegation Visits National Capital

DIFFERENCE OF OPINIONS

House Committee on Judiciary Listens To Special Commission.

Washington, April 4.—In the interest of amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law a large delegation of representatives of manufacturing, commercial, railway, labor and agricultural interests all identified with the National Civic Federation appeared today before the House committee on judiciary.

Conflict of Opinion.

Seth Low of New York, headed the delegation that advocated the proposed amendments. Chairman Littlefield read numerous telegrams from manufacturers and business firms protesting against the proposed amendments and attorneys representing nearly two hundred associations of manufacturing and business houses were present in the interest of their clients.

Publicity to Cure Existing Evils.

Low pointed out that the bill to amend the Sherman act introduced by Representative Hepburn would affect only those corporations which would take out national licenses and thus it would be a conservative method of testing how the law along the new lines is likely to work. It would lead to a large measure of publicity and that in the opinion of many is likely to be the best cure for most of the evils brought about by too great legal restraint.

FIRE DRIVES GUESTS FROM EASTERN HOTEL

Meadville, Pa., April 4.—Over one hundred guests in the LaFayette hotel were compelled to make a hurried departure in their night clothes early today when fire destroyed the hotel, causing a loss estimated at $100,000.

Juan B. Moya, candidate for member of the city council from the First ward and M. E. Ortiz for member of the city council from the Second ward, are well known native born citizens who are both engaged in honorable vocations, understand and speak both languages well, and are acquainted with the desires of the people who they will represent in the interest of their wards. Judging by their characters and standing it is safe to assume that they will be found on the right side of all questions and will work for an economical and beneficial administration of city affairs. They should not only receive the full vote of the party in their wards but also the aid of every voter who believes in having the right kind of a city government during the next two years.

BRYAN WITHDRAWS ACCEPTANCE TO DINNER.

Washington, April 4.—Representative Sulzer, of New York, received today the following telegram from William Jennings Bryan, relating to the invitation extended him to attend the Jefferson Day dinner in New York: "I have withdrawn my acceptance. The discussion makes it unwise for me to go."

RUMORED RETIREMENT OF E. P. RIPLEY DENIED.

Topeka, Kansas, April 4.—Assistant to the General Manager K. B. Launz of the Santa Fe system stated today that he thought the report of the resignation of President E. P. Ripley in favor of Paul Morton was a mistake. "Mr. Ripley recently himself denied the rumor," said Mr. Launz.

Gregorio Rael candidate for the Board of Education from the First ward, and Manuel B. Salazar, for the Board of Education from the Fourth ward, will perform the duties of these positions well and properly if elected. They know every man, woman and child in their wards and will aid in building up the school system of Santa Fe in the very best way. Elect them.

DR. CHARLES A. WHEELON.
Candidate For the Council From the Fourth Ward.

Dr. Charles A. Wheelon, Republican nominee for the city council from the Fourth ward, has had professional experience in such position. Before coming to Santa Fe while he resided at Pierre, South Dakota, he was elected a member of the city council on the Republican ticket and made a very good record in that position during his two years of service. He has been a resident of Santa Fe for the past five years engaged in the practice of his profession and has built up an excellent reputation professionally and privately. He is the candidate of those citizens of his ward who desire progress and advancement and will be found attentive, careful and will pay particular attention to the wishes of his constituents and bring about many necessary improvements in city administrative affairs. He has a son attending the public schools and therefore is greatly interested in bringing about a first class school system in the city, in addition favoring timely and necessary public improvements.

HAYWOOD WOULD HEAD NEW UNION

Issues General Call For Conference Looking to Organization of Independent Federation.

Chicago, April 4.—A general call has been issued for an industrial conference in Chicago next Monday at which time an attempt will be made to unite in an independent federation the Western Federation of Miners, the United Mine Workers of America, and the brewery workers, lithographers and wood workers' union. The call is issued by William D. Haywood, with others. Just how the American Federation of Labor will look upon the organization is doubtful, but it is reported its formation will be discouraged as an attempt to break away and weaken the central federation.

DELEGATE ANDREWS BUSY BEFORE DEPARTMENTS

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, April 4.—Delegate W. H. Andrews was a caller at the White House and at the Department of the Interior today and secured additional instructions for officials of the Indian office who have been detailed to attend to the allotments of lands to the Navajo Indians, to work in harmony with the commissioner appointed for the same purpose by Governor George Curry.

ITALIAN CAR TO SHIP TO CHINA

Oakland, Calif., April 4.—The Italian car in the New York to Paris race arrived here at 9:26 o'clock this morning. The car is in poor condition but O. Sartori, the driver, is hopeful of overcoming the American car's long lead. The Italians stated that their car will go direct to Nagasaki by the steamer Asia, which sails from San Francisco on next Tuesday instead of following the American car through Alaska.

PENSION FOR NEW MEXICO WIDOW IS ASSURED

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, April 4.—Delegate Andrews this forenoon secured a favorable report by the house committee on pensions on the bill granting a pension to Liella S. Gallup for the sum of seventeen dollars. The bill will become law.

Delegate Andrews has also introduced a bill granting to the city of Portales forty acres of public land being in the northwest quarter, section one, township three north, range thirty-four east, for cemetery purposes.

PHILIPPINE DEMOCRATS DECLARE FOR BRYAN.

Manila, April 4.—The Democratic convention of the Philippine Islands defeated the resolution condemning the Taft administration of the islands by one vote. The convention endorsed Bryan for president and adopted resolutions demanding tariff reform.

50,000 WORKMEN PARADE STREETS OF ROME

Rome, April 4.—A procession of 50,000 workmen made its way through the main thoroughfare to the cemetery where are the graves of the men killed in the rioting last Thursday. Firey speeches were made but there was no disorder. Troops were present in large numbers.

Thomas P. Gable will be found the right man in the right place in the city council. He is progressive, energetic and a believer in a clean, attractive and healthy town. He will do his level best to make Santa Fe what it ought to be considering its many resources and climatological advantages, a residence city par-excellence in the country.

ADMIRAL EVANS WILL RECOVER

His Sojourn at Hot Springs of Vast Benefit

HAS NO ORGANIC TROUBLE

Acute Attacks of Rheumatism Caused Him to Drop From 178 to 122 Pounds

Paso Robles, Hot Springs, Calif.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans had a comfortable night and this morning took a sulphur bath, followed by a massage. The attending physicians, after a thorough examination of the admiral declared that he has no organic trouble.

He is subject to intermittent spells of inflammatory rheumatism. These attacks, coupled with the worry of commanding the battleship fleet, caused Admiral Evans to drop from 178 to 122 pounds in weight.

The admiral denies that he is a very sick man and says he will soon be able to walk about. At present he is being wheeled about in an invalid's chair.

CAMBRIDGE DEFEATS OXFORD IN BOAT RACE.

Putney, England, April 4.—Cambridge won the boat race with Oxford this afternoon, leading from start to finish. The official time was 19 minutes and 19 seconds. The record for the course is 18 minutes and 47 seconds established by Oxford in 1893 and equalled by Cambridge in 1900. This was the 65th race between the crews of the two universities over the same course on the Thames from Putney to Mortlake.

REPORT OF CLEARING HOUSE BANKS FOR WEEK

New York, April 4.—The statement of the clearing house banks for the week shows that they hold $10,690,300 more than the requirements of the 25 per cent rule. This is an increase of $901,775 in the proportionate cash reserve compared with last week.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and as a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THE DEMOCRATIC STRADDLE.

The Washington Post thoroughly posted on the political situation and independent or somewhat so in politics, under the heading of "Expected and Unexpected," discusses Democratic party conditions in a unique but interesting and well thought out way, and puts its views on record evidently especially for the edification and consideration of the Democratic leaders. The Post thinks that if the expected should happen, the Democratic party will find itself in the middle of a curious situation ere the advent of dog days. It has been decreed by the out-and-outers that the platform shall contain a plank endorsing and applauding the present Republican administration, which will be nothing in the world but a ratification of the Republican platform and a surrender at discretion before the battle begins.

Again, the platform will be significant in what it omits—if the "Peerless One" shall be the nominee. It will be silent as to government ownership, which the convention will not dare to approve or condone or condemn. As to the initiative and referendum and sundry kindred abominations, the platform will not say a word; but the apostle of these heresies is to be nominated and thus the Democratic party execute the stunt of eating the while refusing to drink his broth. course that will be absurd; so he indorsement of the acts and es of the adversary be absurd, the latitudinarian Democracy is nly political layout of our entire y, that would thus thrive arm an y, with a quarrel confessedly just ach complexion has the party of on, Jackson and Tilden come st.

o years and some weeks ago the eratic party was in fighting trim, for the conflict and confident of result. It reminded one of the eracy of 1876, 1880 and 1888. The eratic commander-in-chief was in gn parts, accompanied by a libr of encyclopedias and guide books, of which he compiled letters at per. He hastened home to lead e strife, and instead of fighting nemy he sought to annex the Indence League. Unfortunately, he had not discernment to discover that the league was in the annexing business itself, and had serious designs on the Democratic party, which it was seeking to divide and ultimately to conquer. The Democratic commander did the dividing all right, that night in Madison Square Garden. That was in August. The Republicans harvested the usufruct—the Sixtieth Congress—the following November.

Now it is proclaimed that all Democrats, like John W. Daniel, who oppose Mr. Bryan for the fads he has preached, are to be rebuked. The Democratic party is to be made a strictly select affair of cranks, blunderers, fanatics and heretics.

But let us not despair—the unexpected is trying to happen. Possibly it will accomplish it.

INVALUABLE ADVERTISING FOR THE TERRITORY.

New Mexico is receiving a great deal of first class advertising these fine spring days. In the February number of the Great Southwest Magazine published at Denver and having a large circulation not only in the western states and territories but also in Missouri, Illinois and other eastern states appears a finely illustrated and well written article entitled, "The Earliest Craftsmanship in the United States, the Weaving of the Navajos," written by Jessie McMillan Stroup, which is republished on another page of this issue.

The Great Southwest Magazine since its establishment two years ago has done valuable service for the territory by publishing many timely and well written articles on New Mexico conditions, resources, history, archaeology, Indian lore, ethnology and other subjects connected with the territory. This invaluable service which costs the people of the territory nothing, should however be appreciated by supporting the paper and subscribing for it. The subscription price is cheap and the publication in all respects is of high literary merit and contains very much interesting and timely reading matter especially to the people of the Southwest.

The editor, Francis Perry Elliott, is a journalist of known ability and established reputation and with its splendid business manager, Robert E. Lee, the magazine is certainly making way for itself among the many monthly publications of the country. It is getting to the top of the list and that rapidly.

ANOTHER TERM FOR MAYOR BURSUM.

The citizens of the Gem City do not propose to make next week's city election a political question. The city has done very well and has advanced so rapidly during the past two years with Hon. H. O. Bursum as mayor that the people desire to continue him in the position for another two years. Says the Chieftain:

"There is only one sentiment expressed by the voters of Socorro in regard to the city election that is now but a few days off. That sentiment is that Mayor Bursum should be continued in office and that only level headed business men should be elected to the city council. Nobody has suggested that the city election should be made a political issue. All this is as it should be. What Mayor Bursum has accomplished for Socorro in way of public improvement during the last two years is too well known to call for comment. The members of the council have given the mayor a united support and are therefore entitled to a generous share of the credit due for that accomplishment. Conditions have been altogether too desirable for the citizens of Socorro to suffer any change in them now. Let us have a non-partisan city election and elect none but good and substantial citizens to office."

PUT WOOD PULP ON THE FREE LIST.

Your Uncle Joe Cannon has announced on the floor of the House of Representatives that if the American paper trust is guilty of the many oppressions and acts of grafting in charging exorbitant figures for white newspaper, prompt prosecution should be instituted by the attorney general of the United States and the trust should be broken up and its members punished. All the newspapers in the country will agree with Uncle Joe, but first and foremost the pending resolutions in the House of Representatives and in the Senate of the United States providing for an immediate repeal of the duty on wood pulp and on white newspaper, should be passed and the basis upon which the American paper trust has bulged and upon which it has flourished beyond measure to the detriment of the newspapers and people of the United States, should be cut from under it. The more promptly the better for all concerned.

FOUR NEW ARMORIES FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The appointments made by Governor Curry recently of members of the four armory boards who will have charge of the construction of National Guard armories in Santa Fe, Roswell, Silver City and Las Cruces will meet with approval by all citizens who understand the subject and who are acquainted with the standing of the appointees. Congress having validated the law of the Thirty-seventh Legislative Assembly providing for the issuance of bonds in the sum of ten thousand dollars each from the proceeds of which these armories are to be built, it may be presumed that these bonds will be sold at an early date and that the armories will be constructed and ready for occupancy before the end of the year. When this is done New Mexico will be thoroughly supplied with armories, six in number. This will prove of benefit to the esprit de corps and the discipline of the National Guard which is improving, even if slowly.

In naming W. B. Walton as a member of the board of regents of the Normal School at Silver City and replacing a retiring Democrat with another one, Governor Curry did a graceful, timely and official act. Mr. Walton is a consistent Democrat, has for years been editor of the Independent, the Democratic newspaper in his home town, and is secretary of the Democratic territorial central committee, but he is also a fair man. He is not one of the Democratic politicians who deal in muck raking and who earnestly and unfairly assail the reputations, official and private, of Republican officials and of Republican leaders. Mr. Walton stands very high in his community and wherever he is known. He was strongly endorsed by leading men of both parties for the position.

Figures never lie. That may be true but the campaign managers who manipulate them just now evidently have a facility for making them say things that are not so.

The mining industry in New Mexico is picking up. This may yet become a prosperous year for this industry in the Sunshine Territory.

THE POOR BOY'S OPPORTUNITY.

It is pretty well established that the perennial candidate for the presidency, the Hon. William Jennings Bryan, put his foot in his mouth when he allowed himself to be cajoled into giving an answer to the question propounded to him by a Cincinnati school boy, "What chance has the poor boy in this country?" It is always expected by those who have watched the political and oratorical career of the Commoner that he will talk too much and give vent to a lot of wind. In the case at point, however, he has outdone the expectations of even those who know him best. Referring to this the Washington Post prints not only a very readable but also a very humorous editorial which shows the great wind-jammer up in the right light. It is so good that it ought to receive the greatest possible circulation. Says the Post:

"Somebody had the curiosity to ask Mr. William J. Bryan this question: 'What chance has the poor boy and how can brains win in a contest with wealth?' This is an assumption that every poor boy has all the brains the law allows, and that every rich man has more money than honesty allows."

"In his response Mr. Bryan did not heed the admonition of King Solomon—'Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him'—but made this declaration that the faithful must accept as ex-cathedra: "The poor boy has no chance unless he can arouse the people by using his tongue. The corporate powers are busy misleading the people and are responsible for shutting out the poor boy."

"Such miserable rot as that coming from the late Denis Kearney would only have excited disgust and derision; but coming from the 'Peerless One' it excites admiration and gets applause."

"So we have it that the eloquent tongue is the one thing that can make wealth stand in the corner and behave. Mr. Bryan himself is example. He has the gift of gab, and he makes constant patriotic incursion in the Sodom of wealth and the spoil is said to reach $70,000 per annum. May we ask what poor boy without the gift of eloquence has a chance against Mr. Bryan?"

"The catechism does not rise above the level of the silly. It is an undeniable fact that of the successful business men of every state, county, town and village of this country this day, a big majority of them began poor boys."

"Of the directories of the railroads, banks, manufacturing concerns and all other corporations it is not extravagant to say that more than 70 per cent of their seats are filled by men who were born the children of toil and achieved success by their own unaided energies of mind and body."

"The laboring man of 1908 is infinitely better sheltered, better clothed, better fed, better educated, and owns many fold more property, real and personal, than did the working man of 1808 or 1848 or 1875. In the savings banks of the United States are deposits exceeding $4,000,000,000, the property of more than 1,000,000 depositors and when, to this stupendous sum there are added the other acquisitions of labor—real estate and chattels—it is gross ignorance, or shameless mendacity, to say that the American working man is an object of pity or an object of charity."

"To say that the corporations of the country seek to beggar the masses—their customers—is to say that corporations are managed by idiots."

"Let us be done with the sham and the cant of it!"

CUTS BOTH WAYS.

Referring to a recent order issued by the management of the Pennsylvania Railway company in which superintendents are directed to give preference in employments to workmen who are native or naturalized citizens of the United States, the Pueblo Chieftain makes the following pertinent comment:

"The Pennsylvania Railroad company has issued an order discharging all foreign workmen and giving preference to native and naturalized American citizens. Insofar as the purpose of this is to discriminate in favor of permanent residents of this country, and against those transients who come to the United States for a few years, the order is to be commended. But if it operates to force into American citizenship foreigners who would not otherwise seek naturalization, its value may be doubted. The fact that a man has gone through the form of applying for naturalization does not make him any more desirable as a resident of the country, and the man that asks naturalization only as a means of holding his job is even less desirable as a citizen than as a resident."

The New Mexican's Albuquerque morning yellow contemporary is evidently not "dead gone" on the Republican city ticket of the Duke City. Very likely the candidates on it are too straightforward and too honorable to put up hoodle for the sheet. No hoodle, no editorial comments pro or con, for or against any measure or for or against any candidate. Sabe?

The El Paso Herald pays Chairman Hopewell and Secretary Twitchell of the board of control of the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress the following well deserved compliment: "Not a day is being lost by the managers of the National Irrigation congress at Albuquerque in perfecting preparations for the congress. The campaign is a model of efficiency."

THE EARLIEST CRAFTSMANSHIP OF THE UNITED STATES, THE WEAVING OF THE NAVAJOS.

(By Jessie McMillan Stroup in the Great Southwest Magazine.)

Fathered by grim utility, mothered by the savage love of the beautiful, the Navajo blanket, worthy child of the two, was born amid the mountains and canons of the desert. Unlike its sister handicrafts, pottery and basketry, it is of comparatively recent birth, but traces its legitimate lineage to the dimmest reaches of the past, far beyond oldest legend or tradition, back, back to the veiled mystery of the earliest human life that left its trace upon our continent.

Navajo land, situated in northwestern New Mexico and northeastern Arizona, is a great arid reservation, equal in area to that of the combined states of Massachusetts and Connecticut. Over it broods the radiant peace of the desert, and the fathomless question of America's greatest mystery: for in its rugged mountain clefts, the sandstone walls are honeycombed with the homes of the ancient inhabitants of the land, and the overhanging cliffs offered back-wall, floor and roof to the earliest homeseekers. Within this Navajo reservation, we find more and more valuable relics of this long distant people than in any other region of equal extent in America.

Who were they? Whence came they? Whither did they vanish? Their mountain homes echo our questions.

The Navajos, the present occupants of the land, are comparative newcomers in the Southwest. They, themselves, and their Pueblo neighbors have corroborative legends which would fix the date of their coming as the latter half of the Thirteenth Century. They are of Athabaskan stock, related to the Indians of British Columbia, from whence they originally migrated. At the time of their coming, they were comparatively few in number, and were probably checked in their journey southward by the superior numbers of the Pueblos, whose northern boundaries they had invaded. All of the former occupants of their territory had disappeared before their coming, and, to their superstitious fear of ancient ruins, as much as to the wonderful preservative agency of the high dry climate, must be ascribed the remarkable state of preservation of the ruins. These early Navajos were a savage, warlike people and their frequent predatory and murderous raids upon their neighbors were never effectually checked until after the American occupation.

A Rich Tribe.

The early Spanish conquerors brought sheep with them; and the Navajos stole them. Their country never sheltered many wild animals, the nights and winters were cold, clothing was essential, the valleys of their arid land furnished fair pasture, and necessity, grim mother of the race forced their obvious destiny upon them. They have changed from a fierce band of murderous savages to a race of peaceful shepherds. Every valley shelters a flock of sheep, aggregating half a million, and from the increase of their flocks and the product of the looms of their women, the Navajos have grown rich.

After the Pueblo rebellion, which, in 1680, drove out the white man, the Spanish reconquered the land and ruled it with a fierce severity. To escape the cruelty of the conqueror, many Pueblos chose the lesser evil and, deserting their dearly loved homes, bidding farewell to their slowly evolved civilization, they fled to the Navajos. To this influx of a people so far their superiors, is due much of the present prestige of the Navajo. The newcomers were not sufficient in number to civilize their benefactors, but did much to elevate them; the most beautiful beliefs of the Navajo are gifts received at that time. To this amalgamation of race, is largely due his physical superiority to other Indians today, for the Navajo is not a degenerate, but a fine strapping fellow, whose race is increasing rapidly in numbers; and last, but most important, industrially, the Pueblo immigrants taught the Navajos to weave.

The Pueblos had practiced the art of weaving for ages, probably inheriting the knowledge of it from the cliff dwellers, in whose ruins we still find exquisite textiles. The Navajos were not apt pupils, and it was not until 1750 that they became to any degree proficient in the art that was destined to raise them far above the level of their race.

Blanket Weaving Chief Industry.

As weaving grew among the Navajos, it declined among the Pueblos and gradually the Navajos became the weavers for the entire West. In early times, parties of Indians from Idaho and even Montana came to trade for the far-famed blanket. The Navajos have a few minor industries, notably work in silver; but the principal business of the men is herding the sheep and goats, and practically all of the women are skilled weavers, the tiny maiden early receiving lessons in the art of her mother. With the boundaries of their reservation, they are a nomadic people, wandering about with their flocks as the need of pasture, or the urging of the insatiable wanderlust may lead them; and, wherever the temporary hogan may be built, there the loom is set up and these patient slaves of the blanket ply their weary craft through summer, winter, youth and age.

The method of weaving in vogue among the Navajos is the most primitive imaginable; and, with their simple looms and few appliances, great skill is required on the part of the weaver to produce such truly beautiful results. So largely does this personal element enter into the equation, that I shall not attempt to a detailed description of the process, for none of my readers could learn to compete successfully with the Navajo weavers without long educational sojourn among them.

The wool is not washed before it is sheared, but, as the Indian weaver understands perfectly the necessity of it being thoroughly free from dirt and grease before it is woven, it is very carefully scoured after it is sheared. The shearing is now done with American shears, but earlier the wool was pulled from the sheep. After it is cleaned, it is carded on old-fashioned combs, obtained from the traders; combs of the same pattern as those used by our great grandmothers. The Navajos do not use a spinning wheel, though they are abundantly able to purchase them, but they cling in this part of the work to the old methods exclusively. The spinning is done on the simplest of distaffs, made of a slender stick stuck through a round disc of wood. This makes spinning a very tedious task, as the yarn must be spun, three and for the best grade of blanket, four times, to get it sufficiently fine.

The loom is of the simplest construction, and is without many of the parts considered necessary by civilized weavers. It is at first, a frame of light sticks lashed together at the corners, over which is wound the warp, the frame being then fastened to upright posts set in the ground. Simple as its construction, or perhaps because of its simplicity, the process of weaving is very complicated, and, to an on-looker, most difficult.

When weaving, the woman sits on the ground before her loom, and, when the fabric has reached a height that makes it inconvenient to reach, she loosens the top bar of the loom, lets it down, and sews a tuck in the finished fabric deep enough to draw it taut. So tightly is this drawn that often in the finished product may be seen the stitch marks.

Four Classes of Weavers.

The Navajo "weavers" may be divided into four classes; the very old in natural colors, the bayeta, the native wool with native dyes, and the Germantown.

The first blankets were of the coarsest, crudest weave—mere protection from the cold. They were woven with the white wool, with, at first, no attempt to design; later, a stripe of the wool from the black sheep was added to each end.

The impetus that drove to the beautiful designs and exquisite workmanship of the second period was the introduction of bayeta. Bayeta was a long-napped, beautifully woven cloth dyed a fine scarlet with cochineal dyes. It was manufactured in Manchester, England, imported into Spain, and exported again to the traders in New Spain. The Indians raved it out and remove the wool in their blankets. The earliest of these blankets have the stripes of this bayeta woven alternately with stripes of the natural wool. Later developed the complicated, symbolic designs, which are now regarded as characteristic of the Navajo blanket. The bayeta was very expensive, the ravelling of it required great patience, and the use of such precious material naturally led to much greater care in the preparation of the other wool used with it, and thus a great advancement in the quality of the product. So any blanket that contains the least scrap of this scarlet wool is called bayeta, and is now worth its weight in silver. The use of bayeta fell into decline about 1860, and passed entirely away in 1875. The high regard in which the Indians and Mexicans regarded these bayeta blankets caused them to be cherished, and accounts for the large number preserved in good condition.

How Color Effects are Secured.

The traders were quick to note the Indian's desire for color, and soon after the use of bayeta began, introduced indigo from Mexico, and Brazil wood, which produces a mahogany color. The Indians experimented with roots, bark and leaves until they found a good yellow; mixing this with the indigo gave them green. Among their flocks were many of the much maligned black sheep, upon which their dusky owners looked with great favor, for black was important in their symbolism of color, and they were not aware of its value in maintaining the color harmony for which their work is so justly famed. By mixing the black and white wool, a beautiful soft gray is produced. These three colors, black, white and gray are those meant by natural colors.

The bayeta period and that of the native dyes overlap, the native dyes being developed soon after the bayeta came into use and surviving it. During this combined period, the color range at the disposal of the weaver included the brilliant red of the bayeta mahogany, blue, yellow, green, black, white and gray. These colors are absolutely fast, withstanding the exposure of years to sun and hard wear, only growing softer as do the shades in Oriental rugs. The dying of the wool at this time was a hard, tedious task. The weaver regarded her materials as valuable, and took great pains with her weaving and the highest type of blanket resulted. So exquisitely fine was the weave, so beautiful the designs, so perfect the color harmony, so barbaric the effect, that the best of this period are as beautiful as tapestries and deserve to be treasured so.

The introduction of the cheap commercial dyes was an innovation greatly to be deplored. It brought decadence to Navajo land as it did to Persia. However, barbaric the effect of the old color schemes, the abundant use of the natural colors, especially of the soft gray, always maintained harmony.

The blankets of which I have written so far, have been entirely of native wool; that is, those made from the wool of their own sheep, entirely prepared by the Navajo squaw. In the early 80's Germantown yarn was introduced by the traders and many beautiful blankets have been and are made of it. These Germantown blankets are finer than are the native wool made at present and are, for that reason, preferred by many people. A certain sentiment exists among the lovers of this barbaric art in favor of the blanket made entirely by the Indians.

Two Kinds of Blankets.

The Germantown blankets are fringed; the native wool have tassels at the corners symbolizing the four corners of the earth. This symbolism is regarded as very important by the Navajo women, and when the tassels wear off an old rug they are at once replaced. In size the blankets vary from twenty-four to thirty-six inches for saddle blankets, to fifty-four by eighty-four for serapes. For their own use and for sale they weave many of medium size, heavy native wool for floor rugs. These rugs will wear a life-time.

growing only more beautiful as they wear their surfaces smooth, and time softens their colors. No more appropriate or satisfactory rugs could be found for halls, dens, porches—anywhere, in fact, where their strong bright shades do not kill more subdued color schemes. The Navajo women does not work from a pattern, and, except in the cheapest and coarsest blankets which are often in stripes and very similar, a design is never repeated. Among the thousands which a curio dealer has handled, he assures me he has never found a duplicate.

The symbolism of the figures is largely borrowed from the Pueblo pottery, all being reduced to straight lines and angles, for the Navajo never uses curves in weaving. Into the blanket she weaves, this daughter of the desert puts the story of her own life or that of her family. It raises her to a dignity that demands our respect, and makes for her otherwise dreary task a place unique in the world's craftsmanship.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Dr. J. A. Diaz returned yesterday from Cochiti, where he went on professional business.

I. Sparks, manager of the Santa Fe Telephone company, returned last evening from Denver, where he spent a few days on business.

Judge H. D. Terrell, who is now domiciled at Clovis, Roosevelt county, where he has opened a law office, expects to visit Santa Fe in about ten days.

Section Director Montrose W. Hayes of the Weather Bureau and Mrs. Hayes are domiciled at the Palace hotel and will remain there until they go to housekeeping.

The Saturday Afternoon Bridge Club met today with Mrs. E. A. Fiske on Cathedral place. Last Saturday the club was entertained by Mrs. E. C. Abbott, on Cerrillos Road.

Governor Curry was forty-five years old yesterday and received the congratulations by mail and by telegraph, of many friends. Last evening he was entertained at an informal birthday dinner by Mrs. A. M. Bergere.

B. F. Pankey, Topeka banker and one of the owners of the Eaton Land Grant in the southern part of Santa Fe county, reached the city yesterday and registered at the Claire. Mr. Pankey has been a frequent visitor to the city of late on business connected with the grant.

Mrs. Solomon Luna, of Los Lunas, wife of Hon. Solomon Luna, president of the Bank of Commerce at Albuquerque, who has been a house guest at the Bergere residence, has returned home. Mrs. Jacobo Chaves, wife of the insurance commissioner, went with her for a visit.

Colonel R. E. Twitchell, secretary of the board of control of the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress, will be in Santa Fe tomorrow and early during the coming week go to southern California to attend to matters connected with the holding of the Irrigation Congress at Albuquerque.

Miss Madden, of San Francisco, California, who has been a house guest at the executive residence, she being a cousin of Governor Curry, is now a house guest at the Bergere residence on Grant avenue where she will remain a week or more before returning to her home in the city by the Golden Gate.

Chairman W. S. Hopewell of the board of control of the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress, is on an eastern visit. He will be in Washington and Pittsburg before returning and will attend to matters pertaining to the National Irrigation Congress and also connected with the Santa Fe Central railway and the New Mexico Fuel and Iron company.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Taber and E. C. Vogt of Glorieta, who have been guests at the Claire for the past several days, returned home overland this morning. The weather is very nice in the vicinity of Glorieta and several young easterners are sojourning there for the benefit of their health and for recreation. Among them are James J. Britton of Chicago, Don P. Cane, also of Chicago, and George P. Williamson of Philadelphia.

Miss Jennie Perlstein formerly of Gundersburg, Germany, a niece of Hon. and Mrs. Nathan Jaffa, has arrived in the city and is a house guest at the Jaffa home on Palace avenue. Miss Perlstein has spent the past year at Roswell, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jaffa, she being their niece. During the year of her sojourn in the United States she has already acquired a very fair and correct knowledge of the English language. This fact shows well her intelligence and aptitude.

Mrs. M. Jackson, aunt of Governor George Curry, who has been visiting at the executive residence for the last five months, left Thursday evening for her home in Oakland, California. She was accompanied by Clifford Curry, the youngest son of the governor, who will attend school in the California town. Mrs. Jackson enjoyed every moment of her visit to this city and took away with her the most pleasant memories and kindest of feelings for the many Santa Fe people, who had the pleasure of meeting her and who became acquainted with her. Mrs. Jackson made a very pleasant impression upon those who met her and it is hoped that she will return for another visit this fall.

A. M. Bergere, manager of the Colorado National Life Assurance company of Denver, who is travelling in southeastern New Mexico, gave a dinner Saturday night March 28th, to the cadets of the New Mexico Military Institute who are from Santa Fe. The dinner was given at the Gilkerson hotel at Roswell and was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the boys. Those present were Colonel James W. Willson, Hon. Frank A. Hubbell, of Albuquerque; Major Martini-Mancini, W. C. Reid, Cadet Captain Grahme H. Frost, Cadet Lieutenant James Hubbell, and Cadets Alfred Kaune, Fritz Muller, Millet Clancy, John Ervien, Howell Ervien, Milton Hall, Jack Garrett, Joseph Creamer, Charles Farley and Thornton Victory.

Miss Julia Miles, of Los Angeles, California, cousin of Governor George Curry, who was a visitor at the executive residence for some months and who returned home several weeks ago writes to friends that since reaching home and thinking over the pleasant times she had here she is all the more satisfied with her visit and the many friends and acquaintances she made in this city. She very often thinks of the pleasant times she had and is very grateful for the courteous and constant attention paid her during her visit here by Santa Fe society folk. She reads the Santa Fe New Mexican which is sent her Saturday's and on other days with great interest and every time she picks up the paper she feels all the more kindly toward the people of this city.

The Saving Habit

Be systematic if you are determined to develop the SAVING HABIT. Here are several plans which may help you to save money and get ahead financially.

Make an allowance for each class of expense, and then plan to save something on each allowance. Make it a rule to set aside a certain percent of your income on PAY DAY. Consider that this percent is insurance against the future. Look upon it as a debt which must be paid. As your income increases, your saving will increase.

One man who was unwilling to give up smoking agreed to give his wife for the SAVINGS ACCOUNT as much as he spent in that way. This plan may be applied to other indulgences.

Whenever you are about to make an unnecessary expenditure, ask yourself if it is actually worth cost plus interest on it for the remainder of your life. Nine times out of ten the spirit of thrift will win.

A Bank account is the best aid to the SAVING HABIT.

REV. PURCELL'S MOTHER DEAD

Passes Away at Family Home in Missouri at Advanced Age—A Most Estimable Woman.

Rev. J. W. Purcell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, yesterday received the sad information that his mother had died at the family home in Pleasant Hill, Missouri. Her demise occurred on the 30th inst. and because of the distance, Rev. Purcell was precluded from attending the funeral which took place on Wednesday. Burial was in the village cemetery near Nevada, Missouri, the remains being interred beside those of her husband who preceded her to the grave seventeen years ago.

Had Mrs. Purcell lived until the 12th of this month she would have been eighty years of age. She was born in Sullivan county, Tennessee, and was married to John A. Purcell in April, 1846. Twelve children were born of their union, ten of whom are living, eight sons and two daughters.

The deceased was a most estimable woman and greatly beloved by a wide circle of friends. It may be added that so well did their parents live that every one of their children are Christian men and women.

"One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that make the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

PRISONERS ENJOY FEW HOURS' LIBERTY

Las Vegas, N. M., April 4.—Three county jail prisoners enjoyed a few hours liberty here yesterday but are now in close confinement as a result of their daring attempt to escape. The prisoners were G. R. Fitzgerald, a prize fighter, John Glenn and J. W. McLean. Each is serving a ninety-day sentence for attempting to beat a board bill.

The prisoners were working in the yard of the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, when one of them knocked down the guard with a shovel and all three made a dash to get away. The sheriff's office was notified and soon a score of special officers were searching the railroad yards and watching the outgoing trains. Deputy Sheriff Enrique Sena scoured the surrounding country on a horse and finally ran down Glenn and McLean 4 miles north of here. They surrendered peacefully. Fitzgerald was found hiding in the railroad yards and resisted capture. He was beaten into submission.

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold in Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper, Yours very truly, C. N. Cornell, Roding, Ga., Aug. 27, 1906." Sold by The Ireland Pharmacy.

SMOKING FRIENDS BURN HAY AND WAGON NEAR TUCUMCARI

Tucumcari, N. M., April 4.—While J. A. Hamm was driving to town from his farm some friends were in the wagon with him smoking. Mr. Hamm was bringing a few bales of hay along which accidentally caught fire from a spark and before it could be extinguished, it burned the wagon box up and a few spokes out of the wheels.

For Constipation. Mr. L. H. Farnham, a prominent druggist of Spirit Lake, Iowa, says: "Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are certainly the best thing on the market for constipation." Give these tablets a trial. You are certain to find them agreeable and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by all druggists.

U. S. COMMISSIONER AT VAUGHN RESIGNS

Vaughn, N. M., April 4.—C. M. Brown has resigned his position as United States court commissioner here to which he was appointed for the purpose of taking preliminary oaths in homestead entries. Judge William J. Mills of this district will probably appoint a successor soon.

An Insidious Danger.

BLOCKADED.

Every Household in Santa Fe Should Know How to Resist it.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked. Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more. Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Santa Fe.

Anselmo Armijo, living at 124 Cerillos street, Santa Fe, New Mexico, says: "For several years my wife suffered a great deal from backache and rheumatism. The medicines that she used proved of no avail, and finally she commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills which were procured at Ireland's Pharmacy. The gonorrhea of this medicine as a cure for the kidneys was amply proven in her case. After using the contents of five boxes she was a well woman and has enjoyed good health ever since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PARENTS CLEARED OF ALL BLAME

No Criminality Attached to Roy Carr and Wife For Having Sent Body of Babe Through the Mails.

Roy Carr and his wife, the parents of the dead baby sent through the mails from Woodstock, Illinois, to Portales, Roosevelt county, are relieved from all criminal blame as the result of an investigation of the case made by the postmaster of Woodstock and no action will be taken against them.

According to the latest information the baby was born dead in a hospital in Woodstock four months after the couple were married and to conceal the irregularity of the birth from her parents and friends, the woman hit upon the plan of sending the body of the dead infant to her husband in Portales so he could bury it there unknown to anybody. Carr had gone to Portales to take up homestead land and it was through his leaving there unexpectedly to his wife that the package fell into the postmaster's hands.

It is stated that the family of Mrs. Carr are highly respected in Woodstock and the stories of its various members, together with the records of the hospital, bear out the woman's statement. The fact that the package contained a return address is another point taken by the authorities to sustain their belief that no criminality was attached to the case.

Postoffice Inspector McKee of Denver has instructed the postmaster at Portales to bury the infant. The parents will be asked to bear the expense.

NEW BRIDGE TO SPAN THE PECOS

Modern Structure to Cross River on Las Vegas-Santa Rosa Road—Must Be Finished By September 1.

Las Vegas, N. M., April 4.—News that a bridge is to be constructed across the Pecos river at Santa Rosa has been received here. There is a great deal of travel between this city and Santa Rosa, a stage daily traversing this route.

The bridge, bids for the construction of which will be opened in Santa Rosa, April 8, is to be a steel structure, modern in every way, two-span girders, 16-foot roadway and 16-foot approaches. The spans are to be 110 feet in length and the piers will be steel caisson concrete. The bridge must be completed by September 1 and a $1,000 forfeit must be posted by the contractor.

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The Restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, rundown nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to sluggish bowels, and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys and oftentimes weakens the heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days' test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by all dealers.

LAST NIGHT'S RAIN WELCOME

Will Do Vast Amount of Good to the Crops—Not Believed Drop in Temperature Hurt the Fruit.

Rain began falling at 10:52 o'clock last night and continued into the early morning. It was welcomed, especially by the farmers, and will do a vast amount of good to trees and the crops in the Santa Fe valley. Although the temperature dropped to 32 degrees and thin ice formed on the ground, it is believed no injury to the fruit will result.

The prospect for an abundant fruit crop is very encouraging, as the buds are somewhat backward and the chances of damaging frost are becoming less each day.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 55 degrees at 4:30 p. m., and the minimum temperature at 5:50 a. m., was 25 degrees, the mean temperature for the day being 40 degrees. The departure from the normal was five degrees. The relative humidity at 6 a. m., was 52 per cent and at 6 p. m., 50 per cent while the average relative humidity for the day was 51 per cent. Lowest temperature during last night was 32 degrees. Precipitation for the twenty-four hours ending today at 6 a. m., being 0.33 of an inch. Temperature at 6 a. m., this morning was 32 degrees.

A Common Mistake.

Many women mistake kidney and bladder troubles for some irregularity peculiar to the sex. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects irregularities and makes women well. Miss Carrie Hardin, Bowling Green, Ky., writes: "I suffered much pain from kidney and bladder trouble until I started to use Foley's Kidney Remedy. The first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely well." Sold by The Ireland Pharmacy.

Superintendent Clinton J. Crandall of the U. S. Indian Training School, returned yesterday from an official visit to the Jemez Pueblo. He found conditions in very good shape there.

Insurance Commissioner Jacobo Chaves, who has been in Alamogordo attending the sessions of the board of regents of the New Mexico Institute for the Blind, returned home this forenoon.

President H. S. Read of the United States Bank and Trust company and Mrs. Read have gone to Los Angeles, where they will remain for some time. Mr. Read having much real estate and financial business to look after in that city.

The following were the guests today at the meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Bridge Club at Mrs. Plisk's: Mrs. Irvin, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Ritch of Socorro, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Rolis, Mrs. Bridgeman, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Sloan, and Mrs. J. H. Sloan.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince has been invited to deliver the address at this year's commencement of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell and has accepted the invitation. The commencement exercises will take place from the 17th to the 21st of May.

Frank C. Crandall, son of Superintendent and Mrs. Clinton J. Crandall of the United States Indian Training School, who has been on a visit to his parents from his station at Phoenix, Arizona, where he is U. S. deputy internal revenue collector, has returned to Phoenix.

Mrs. Lyman B. Coe of Chicago, has been in the city for a few days sight-seeing. She is highly pleased with Santa Fe's fine climate and great historical and archaeological attractions. She returned to Alamogordo this noon being on a visit to her nephew in the pretty county seat of Otero county.

W. F. Brogan, the bright editor of the Albuquerque Citizen, spent yesterday at Suanne and investigated the artesian flow which has been struck about one and one-half miles from that station. Mr. Brogan is of the opinion that the flow is permanent and that other wells will be brought in in the vicinity.

General H. F. Robinson, connected with the irrigation service of the Indian office has taken charge of the office administered by the late John B. Harper, as chief irrigation engineer of the Pueblos. The Zuni river reservoir and ditch system is now in charge of General Robinson who left Tuesday for Luepp, Arizona, on official business. He expects to return to Santa Fe next week.

Mr. M. Lyons, who was formerly with the finest house in the country, and who is a brilliant mechanic of ladies' garments, invites the ladies to see his place. He will also be glad to have the ladies see the fine materials he gets from London and also the best cloths that are woven here, Laughlin block, room 15, (opposite Colonel Prichard's office.)

Minor City Topics

The Woman's Relief Corps Will meet with Mrs. Jacob Weltmer, Monday at 2:30 p. m.

B. L. Frelow of Jemez Springs, was registered at the Palace today. Business brought him to the city.

Texas election methods succeed in Texas of course, but this is New Mexico and they are likely to fail in the City of the Holy Faith.

J. W. Akers returned yesterday from his ranch in Sandoval county, where he spent several days. He says everything is looking fine in that section of the territory.

W. L. Hayes, traveling passenger agent of the El Paso and Southwestern railway with headquarters at El Paso, spent today in the city, attending to business for his road.

Santa Fe's citizens are enjoying "music by the hand" these fine afternoons. The Democratic central committee pays for the courtesy. Whether this will make any votes for the Democratic ticket remains to be seen.

Business at the office of the Santa Fe Water and Light company is rushing. Bees congregate where there is honey, but many of the men who are going there care precious little for water. They may be after light in politics.

All members of Santa Fe Lodge No. 259, Fraternal Union of America, are requested to meet at the residence of J. E. Lacombe on Monday at eight o'clock to attend the funeral of the late Brother Joseph T. Lacombe, which will take place at 8:30 o'clock—M. E. Ortiz, Fraternal Master.

The "duderso" or doubtful voter is just now having a harvest. Democratic money is making him feel good but for all that the sturdy voting element will control. The vote on Tuesday next is likely to be the largest ever polled in this city. The names of many new comers have been registered.

The campaign is getting warm. Several bets of fifty dollars have been made by partisans on both sides. Democratic hopes are growing right along. The more money the Democratic central committee is putting up the greater these hopes, but in the Santa Fe city elections as well as elsewhere "there is many a slip betwixt the cup and the lip."

If you have anything to sell, rent or exchange use the "Want" columns of the New Mexican.

BOXING BOUT HAS FATAL ENDING

Joseph T. Lacombe Succumbs to Injuries Received in Friendly Scuffle—Ruptured Blood Vessel.

While engaged in a friendly boxing contest with Joe Cienfuegos last Wednesday, Joseph T. Lacombe accidentally received a blow on his nasal bone causing an internal rupture of a blood vessel. Bleeding profusely from the nose, he was taken to the home of his parents, where he became weaker each day until 9:30 o'clock this morning when he died. At the time of the accident, Dr. James A. Massie was summoned. He did all in his power to save the young man's life, but the loss of blood and the internal hemorrhages made recovery impossible.

Joseph T. Lacombe was one of the best known and most highly respected young men of Santa Fe and was the only son of J. E. Lacombe, one of the popular proprietors of the Claire hotel. The young man had made his home in this city since 1896, coming here from Questa, Taos county, where he was born on July 27, 1887. At the time of his death he was nearly twenty-one years of age. His mother, Mrs. Macedonia Garcia Lacombe, died at Questa in 1895. Besides a father, the deceased leaves a sister whose home is at Questa.

The father of the deceased is in poor health and accompanied by his wife has been sojourning in California for his health until about a week ago when he returned home. Not much improved in health, his son's sudden death is a sad blow to the father and it is feared may make his condition worse.

The deceased was a member of the Catholic church in this city and also a member of the Fraternal Union of America in which order he carried life insurance. The funeral services will be held at the family home on De Vargas street Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock, and after the service at the Cathedral where mass will be celebrated. Burial will be made in Rosario cemetery.

The members of the Santa Fe lodge of the Fraternal Union will attend the funeral in a body and will follow the remains to the grave.

TO CONTINUE WAR ON SLOT MACHINES

Attorney General Instructs District Attorneys to File Informations Despite Recent Opinion.

Attorney General James M. Hervey is to continue his war upon the slot machine evil, despite the opinion just handed down by Judge Edward A. Mann, of the Sixth judicial district in the case of Charles R. Jones of Santa Rosa, in which the court held that the anti-gambling statute did not prohibit the operation of slot machines. Judge Mann's opinion is in direct conflict with one handed down by the attorney general several months ago.

Today Attorney General Hervey mailed instructions to every district attorney in New Mexico to file informations against any person who undertakes to operate slot machines and secure their indictment for violating the anti-gambling law, until either a majority of the judges have concurred with Judge Mann or the supreme court has passed upon the matter. The attorney general's letter to the district attorneys reads as follows:

"I am just in receipt of an opinion from Justice Mann of the Sixth district in the case of Charles R. Jones, an application for writ of habeas corpus. A complaint was filed against Jones in January for running a slot machine in violation of the gambling act and he sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Justice Mann. In the opinion just received, the court holds that the act does not cover a slot machine and I am writing you to proceed just the same in your district against anyone who undertakes to set up, keep or operate a slot machine used as a gambling device. If the court is in session and there is a grand jury, try to procure indictments against the parties, if there is no grand jury, file informations, and if there is no court or grand jury, file a complaint before a magistrate and have a hearing."

"I feel that this matter is of sufficient importance to the people of the territory that we should continue to proceed against slot machines until either a majority of the judges have concurred with Judge Mann, or the supreme court has passed upon the matter, preferably the latter. This is not out of any disrespect for Judge Mann, but by reason of the fact that as officers of the people we cannot afford to allow the matter to be settled in one district court."

WOMAN HURT IN RUNAWAY DIES

After Lingering Illness Mrs. Catalina de Montoya Follows Husband to Grave.

Mrs. Catalina de Montoya died yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at her home in the village of Pojoaque, north Santa Fe county. The deceased together with her husband, was injured in a runaway July last and the cause of her death was from the injuries received at that time. Her husband died last September. Six children, four boys and two daughters are left to mourn her death. Mrs. Montoya was 62 years old and the family is well known throughout this county.

HOTTEST CAMPAIGN IN MANY YEARS

Candidates on Two City Tickets on Still Hunt for Votes—Record Breaking Registration.

The city campaign is now on at full blast and both parties are making claims and predictions in behalf of their respective tickets. From all indications the vote will be a heavy one next Tuesday, the day of election.

The registration is reported heavier than it has been in the past years and all voters of the city are taking an active part in this campaign and this is as it should be.

In the Third ward alone the registration books this morning showed 231 names and the reports coming in from the First, Second and Fourth wards indicate that the registration there is larger than ever in the history of those wards.

As this is next to the last day of the campaign, (tomorrow being Sunday,) every candidate, Republican and Democrat, and their friends are kept busy on a still hunt after votes.

WATSON DECLINES TO ISSUE ANY STATEMENT

Atlanta, Ga., April 4.—In response to a request for a statement as to whether or not he would accept the Populist nomination for president of the United States, Thomas E. Watson sent the following message to the Associated Press today from Macon, enroute to his home at Thomson, Georgia:

"In advance of official notification it would be best for me not to talk for publication."
