ANNUAL MEETING BOARD OF TRADE

Trustees are Elected for the Ensuing

TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

Steps Taken to Assist in the Gathering of County Exhibit.

The Santa Fe Board of Trade held its annual meeting at its rooms on Palace avenue last evening with a good and enthusiastic attendance. The meeting was called to order by President L. Bradford Prince and in the absence of the recording secretary, John K. Stauffer was appointed to act as recording secretary of the meeting.

The committee on increase of membership reported twelve applications. The rules were suspended and the following new members were elected: Edward Ehle, A. J. Fischer, T. P. Gable, Antonio Windsor, T. Z. Winter, John V. Conway, W. N. Townsend, Charles C. Closson, P. F. Knight, Leo Hersch, N. L. King and Edwin F. Coard.

The annual report of the corresponding secretary, A. H. Broadhead, was read and adopted.

On motion the following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year: L. Bradford Prince, Dr. F. E. Mera, Frank Owen, R. J. Palen, Fred Muller, H. S. Kaune and B. M. Read.

The condition of the Scenic Highway was discussed at length and it was the unanimous decision of the board to call the attention of the proper officials to its bad condition and endeavor to have some repairs made on it at once.

A committee of three was selected to look after this work as follows: N. L. King, Frank Sturges and T. P. Gable.

A committee of five was selected to fix up the rooms of the board and gather an exhibit of fruits, secure reading matter, tables, etc., for the rooms. The committee is as follows: Don W. Lusk, Frank P. Sturges, A. J. Fischer, A. L. Morrison, Sr., and Matt Teln.

The several committees submitted their annual reports, showing the work accomplished by each during the past year. The reports follow:

"Dear Sir:
"Your tree planting committee reports to date as follows:

Receipts.
"Santa Fe Water and Electric Light company, through Frank Owen, $25; Judge John R. McFie, U. S. Bank and Trust company, H. B. Cartwright and Brother, R. J. Palen, J. G. Schumann, Judge N. B. Laughlin, Claire Hotel, Leo Hersch, O. C. Watson and company, Colonel Max. Frost, A. Staab, Paul A. F. Walter, Fred Muller, Hon. L. Bradford Prince, Hon. M. A. Otero and A. H. Broadhead, $5 each, total, $80; Wood-Davis Hardware company, W. H. Kennedy, William Vaughn, H. H. Dorman, J. W. Reynolds, each $2, total, $12; A. B. Renahan, Dr. J. H. Sloan, H. C. Yontz, A. Windsor, each $1, total $4. Receipts, $121; balance from last year, $2.60; total of all receipts, $123.60.

Expenditures.
"Trees purchased, $38.50; labor, $27; posts, $25.15; hauling posts, $2; wire, staples, etc., $17.90; one hundred feet of hose, $11; earth, $2.40; care during summer, to date, watering, etc., $10.50. Total expenditures, $129.45; excess of expenditures, $5.85.

"The further care of the trees during the summer will cost $3.50 a month, or a total of $7. We are indebted to the Santa Fe Water and Light company for placing a hydrant at the head of Montezuma avenue, which means that we must have about $20 to even the financial end up by the end of the year.

"We are greatly indebted to Captain John W. Green for the services of some of his men, by which thirty-eight holes were dug on the north side of Montezuma avenue in more than ordinary hard ground; the public spirit thus shown on his part saving the committee considerable expense. Both D. L. Miller and C. J. Bacon gave their services free and cheerfully rendered your committee every service in their power. To Mr. D. L. Miller we are indebted for the idea of the posts and barbed wire and many other suggestions that aided materially in the work. We are more than glad to state that for the last two months we have not a single complaint to make of the trees or boxing having been molested.

"Judge N. B. Laughlin planted trees from his side of Don Gaspar avenue to the bridge, thus completing the work that this committee had in view, that of a shady walk to the hotels and Plaza. The trees are doing well and while we will have about the usual proportion of dead trees, it will not cost much to replace these next year.

"We desire to thank all those who with the welfare of this city at heart have so generously contributed of their money, time and labor to the bringing to completion this civic improvement.

"Respectfully submitted.

Report of Publicity Committee.
"Santa Fe, New Mexico,"
"August 7, 1908."

"To the Officers and Members of the Santa Fe Board of Trade:

"Your committee on publicity reports with pleasure at the end of a business year of the board, that in no year before this has the city of Santa Fe had as much valuable advertising and publicity as in the year just ended and to which work your committee contributed no small part. In addition to four distinct pamphlets and folders, prepared and published by your committee the past twelve months, there have been scores of magazine and syndicate articles in leading magazines and newspapers, illustrated and otherwise, dwelling upon the attractions of Santa Fe. The railroad companies have been induced to give the city more extensive and better advertising than ever before and it is true today that Santa Fe is the best and most widely advertised town in the United States and that the results are beginning to be manifested by the increase of tourist visitors and the settlement here of persons coming to make this their home.

"Your committee herewith presents the latest pamphlet descriptive of Santa Fe prepared by it and which has been published by the New Mexican Printing company free of cost to the board in a first edition of 5,000 copies. In this connection it must be said that no paper and no agency have given Santa Fe more valuable advertising, and that free of cost, than the New Mexican Printing company and its veteran editor, Colonel Max. Frost.

"Your committee has also described and posted a large map of the Pajarito Cliff Dwellers region which should prove a great aid to tourists desiring to visit that wonderful pre-historic section just west of Santa Fe and which will, in years to come, attract tourists by the hundreds, if not thousands, each year.

"Respectfully submitted,
"PAUL A. F. WALTER,
"Chairman Publicity Committee."

RECEIVERS FOR MILLING COMPANY

Pillsbury-Washburn Corporation Resorts to This Step in Order to Reorganize.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 8.—As a step to reorganize, certain stockholders of the Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Milling company today petitioned the federal district court for the appointment of receivers to direct the business of the company. The petition was granted, the court naming C. S. Pillsbury, son of the late Charles A. Pillsbury, A. C. Loring, head of the Northwestern Consolidated Milling company and A. C. Cobb, an attorney.

The capitalization of the Pillsbury-Washburn company for which receivers were named today is five million dollars. It also has outstanding $4,150,000 in bonds. The last statement showed net earnings of $642,000. Against this were bond interest charges of $250,000, dividends on preferred stock of $177,000, and other charges of $2,000,000, leaving a balance of only $15,000.

The company is the largest milling company in the world and has many other interests as well as its milling interests. There will be no interruption of its business pending the reorganization.

DUBUQUE HONORS DEAD STATESMAN

Not a Wheel Turned During Allison Funeral

ALL BUSINESS SUSPENDED

Services Were Simple But Attended By Many Distinguished Persons.

Dubuque, Ia., Aug. 8.—As he lived, so was Senator William B. Allison buried today in a manner devoid of all ostentation. Services were held at the dead statesman's residence and while not of a private character, the limited accommodations of his home permitted only the attendance of the distinguished visitors, relatives and most intimate friends. The services were simple and consisted of the reading of the Twenty-third Psalm, from the Fifteenth Chapter Epistle to the Corinthians and a prayer. There was not a sign of any music. The interment was private and after the Presbyterian burial service was read, the body was lowered into the grave.

All Dubuque paid silent tribute to the memory of Senator Allison. During the hours of the funeral not a wheel turned throughout the city and every business house closed its doors. Flags were hung at half mast from the public buildings and hundreds of homes and business houses were trimmed in crepe. The most effective feature was the winding with black and white of the trolley poles throughout the main thoroughfares of the city.

The body lay in state yesterday afternoon and evening and thousands of friends of the late senator called to pay their last tribute of respect to the dead. The only floral tribute was a huge blanket of American Beauty roses completely covering the casket, an emblem of the Loyal Legion and the Stars and Stripes. Many distinguished visitors were in attendance at the funeral. The pall bearers were all residents of this city and intimate friends of the dead senator.

BIG FOREST FIRE BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL

Sonora, Calif., Aug. 8.—After burning since last Sunday night, the forest fire in Calaveras county is now under control. Thousands of dollars worth of property have been destroyed. The fire approached close to the famous Calaveras Grove, or "Big trees," and was only stopped by the heroic efforts of 600 men who worked with the forest rangers in fighting the flames.

M'KINLEY COUNTY FOR W. H. ANDREWS

Delegates to Territorial Convention instructed to Vote For His Renomination.

Special to the New Mexican.
Gallup, N. M., Aug. 8.—The Republicans of McKinley county held their convention here last evening and nominated three delegates to represent them at the territorial convention at Santa Fe on August 18, which will nominate a Republican candidate for delegate to the Sixty-first Congress. The convention was a very harmonious one and proved that the Republican party in McKinley county is in a good, healthy condition and that it is managed by men who know how to handle politics. The Republicans here have a wide-awake, progressive fighting organization, which will put up a campaign here this fall that bodes no good for Democratic hopes.

The convention passed strong resolutions, endorsing Delegate W. H. Andrews and instructed its delegates to vote for his renomination. The sentiment expressed during the convention showed that McKinley county is practically solid for Andrews to succeed himself as delegate in Congress.

The delegates to the convention are Gregory Page, S. E. Aldrich and C. N. Cotton; alternates, Gus Mulholland, John Jennings and E. F. Kenny. S. E. Aldrich and Gregory Page were selected as the county territorial committeemen.

FIRST PRIMARIES

CANDIDATES IN ABUNDANCE

Campaign Has Been Bitter
One--Four Tickets in the Field.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—When the polls opened at six o'clock this morning the first actual test of the direct nomination in this state of candidates by direct vote of the people commenced. Four parties are taking part in today's primaries, namely, Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists and Socialists. The men receiving the highest votes in connection with any office and on any of the four party tickets will be the nominees of those parties. Candidates are being named for all the state offices, congressional nominations and for almost any number of county and municipal offices.

In addition the parties are taking an advisory vote on United States senator which office is to be filled by the next legislature. The Republicans have four candidates in the field for recommendations to be made to the legislature for United States senator. These include Senator Hopkins, whose term is about to expire, and W. R. Mason, his predecessor. The Democrats have two candidates, Lawrence B. Stringer and Addison Blakeley.

The fight for the position, especially among the Republicans, has been a bitter one, but this has been overshadowed by the fierce fight for the gubernatorial nomination. There are but two candidates before the Republicans, namely, Governor Deeney who is seeking a re-nomination and re-election and former Governor Yates. The Democrats have seven candidates, including former vice-president Adlai Stevenson. It is believed the results will not be known before Sunday afternoon and may not be apparent even then.

(Special Correspondence of the New Mexican.)
Texico, N. M., Aug. 8.—Thursday afternoon the Democratic candidate for delegate to the Sixty-first Congress, O. A. Larrazolo, addressed about thirty or forty people at Taffinder hall in the interest of his candidacy. He had some Republicans among his hearers although he did not impress them as the wonderful speaker he had been represented to be. He said that he ought not to be a candidate in this race and before he was through some of his audience were willing to agree with him. He said that he was swindled out of his election two years ago in Colfax county by Italians and Poles, but somehow or other the people who heard him could not help but believe that many of his own race were implicated in the steal if there was any steal.

Before he concluded he tried to impress upon his hearers that the whole Republican party was on the steal. Your correspondent has no knowledge of when the Democratic party was cleansed—certainly not since the "Peerless Bryan" has been trying to break into the White House—because the Populists of Texas were making it rocky for the purified Democracy. It is well remembered how some of the boards of county commissioners would appoint as corrupt men as one ever saw as election officers of the different voting precincts, when there were plenty of good men to be had for the asking. Why? The echo answers why, and a man had to be of very strong conviction and of great moral courage to stand up against this mob. Yes, Mr. Larrazolo would like to have the people believe in the Democracy's moral purity.

Then the "blue blooded Spaniard" told his hearers that Delegate W. H. Andrews had done only two things in the last Congress for New Mexico, namely secured appropriations for the cities of Roswell and Albuquerque for federal buildings and that he should be given no credit for hunting up the old soldiers who deserved and needed pensions. Then he charged the Republicans of being insincere in their platform demand for statehood and stated that Governor Curry, although a Democrat, had promised that if the committee on resolutions at Chicago would put this plank into the national platform that he would see to it that two Republican senators would be sent to Congress at the first election.

He characterized Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the House of Representatives as the great American autocrat with as much power as the Czar of Russia, and charged Speaker Cannon with this statement: "That I have been fooled once as to letting Oklahoma come in as a state and I will not be fooled again with New Mexico."

Larrazolo's speech was of one and a half hours' duration. He also endeavored to tell what he could do if he was sent to Congress, among them was "that if the Mexicans could send one of their own race to Congress, that body would grant the territory statehood."

He appealed for the votes of his hearers by saying that by sending him to Congress the members of that body would see what an amazing degree of intelligence some of the Spanish speaking people had. He closed by requesting his hearers to read the following reference from the Bible: Luke 16:31.

IRRIGATION PROJECT IN TAOS VALLEY

Blair Burwell, Expert Engineer, Tells of Plan to Reclaim 50,000 Acres in That Section.

Blair Burwell, an irrigation and mining engineer of long experience and fine reputation in his profession, whose residence is at Durango, Colorado, where he has lived twenty-eight years, is in the city gathering official information concerning lands in Taos county, flow of streams and the like for the Taos Valley Land company of which he is consulting and constructing engineer, and of which company A. R. Manby, one of the leading citizens and largest land holders of Taos, is general manager.

It will be remembered that applications for the use of the waters of the never failing Hondo, Seco and Lucero rivers were made recently by the said company before Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan. These applications were approved and appeals having been taken by some interested parties to the territorial board of water commissioners upon the favorable decision of Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan, the board confirmed his decision at its recent session in this city. Under these decisions the company has secured ample water supply for the irrigation of at least thirty thousand acres and the supply, if carefully managed and husbanded, will sufficiently irrigate 50,000 acres of as fine land as the sun shines upon anywhere.

Mr. Burwell is very enthusiastic and feels sure of the success of the project. He says the climate, atmosphere, fertility of the soil, large supply of water available, grand scenery and valuable mineral resources of the Taos Valley as well as the peaceable and respectable character of the people combined, will make the Taos valley a thickly settled section. People who once visit the valley usually like it so well that they become permanent residents.

The fruit and agricultural products raised there have no superior anywhere and are the very best that are produced on God's green earth. This year, despite the early frost, there will be a good crop of apples and peaches and a large harvest of cereals such as oats, wheat, corn, etc. Alfalfa is doing first rate, cattle and sheep are in good condition and the ranges are in first-class shape.

The construction of the reservoirs and ditches of the Taos Valley Land company's extensive irrigation system will prove of great value, as many thousand acres of fine agricultural lands will be brought under cultivation and as a result profitable crops will be raised there. The company proposes to sell water and land in lots of forty acres or more with contracts for sufficient and permanent water supply.

Mr. Manby, the general manager, is a man of high intelligence, fine education, great business ability and much energy. Actual work on construction of the reservoirs and ditches will commence at an early date.

NOTIFICATION TO BE SIMPLE

Not Over $500 to Be Expended on Ceremonies-- No Reduced Railroad Rates.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—An important meeting for the adoption of a general outline for the national campaign will be held Tuesday between W. J. Bryan and Norman E. Mack, at Lincoln, Nebraska. Chairman Mack will leave for Lincoln immediately after the meeting here Monday of the various sub-committees of the national committee of the Democratic party at which tentative plans for the campaign will be formulated for presentation to Mr. Bryan. Mr. Mack stated today that he would make no further efforts to have rescinded the order of the Western Passenger association declining to give reduced rates for the Bryan notification.

Arrangements For Notification.
Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—Not more than five hundred dollars have been expended by the local committee for the entire notification ceremonies here on August 14. The parade will consist of two bands, a platoon of police and a company of mounted Democrats to escort Bryan and Kern and the notification committee. There will be no marching clubs in the parade. As the railroads have refused to grant special rates for the ceremony, it is not expected that a large crowd will be in attendance from outside states.

Bryan Has Many Callers
Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—Conferences with Mr. Bryan began today at an early hour. One of the first callers was Robert F. Coughlin, of Kansas, who expressed the belief that Kansas would go Democratic this year, but he suggested that some time be devoted to stumping the state. Eugene W. Chaffin, of Chicago, Prohibition candidate for president, also called. The nominees spent some time in conversation but on leaving Chaffin declared his visit was simply one of courtesy. A number of letters are arriving daily from Republicans residing in different parts of the country, declaring their intention to vote the Democratic ticket this fall.

TO RESUME WORK ON SCENIC HIGHWAY

Force of Convicts Will Construct Seven Mile Stretch From Raton to Colorado Line.

Work on the Scenic Highway from Raton north to the Colorado line will commence next week. A squad of prisoners from the territorial penitentiary in this city will be taken there Monday. The distance from Raton to the Colorado line is seven miles and the work will be completed within two months as there is but one hill to go up and the road is one of the easiest to put in shape on the entire highway between this city and the Colorado line.

The Colorado authorities have convicts from the penitentiary of that state at work in the Raton mountains from the Colorado line north and this work would have been suspended had not the New Mexico authorities started on this side.

After this seven miles of the highway is completed the prisoners will be put to work between this city and Las Vegas and this part of the road will be put in excellent condition.

NATIONAL BANKS

Comptroller of Currency Says Those in Oklahoma Must Not Take Advantage of Freak Statute.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Acting Comptroller of the Currency Kane has officially notified all national banks in Oklahoma of the opinion rendered by Attorney General Bonaparte that it is illegal for the officers of any national bank to enter into such an agreement as is contemplated by section four of the Oklahoma statute relative to guaranteeing bank deposits and that a persistent and final action to this effect on the part of the bank would be just cause for the forfeiture of its charter. All national banks which have taken advantage of the law referred to have been required to withdraw from the agreement and to notify the comptroller's office that they have done so.

THE CRISIS IN TURKEY.

The sick man of Europe is now in the public eye in Europe and in this country. Abdul Hamid, the sultan, who has been the tyrant of Turkey for thirty years has concluded that it will be the better part of valor and of discretion to inaugurate a liberal government, and therefore has given his empire a constitution which is the self same document that was accorded the people of Turkey in 1876. thirty-two years ago, and was after a few months existence, abrogated by the same Abdul Hamid and as soon as he thought he was strong enough to do so, after ascending to power by death of his elder brother, who was then the ruler of the sublime porte.

Describing the situation in Turkey and Europe and discussing it editorially, the Washington Post believes that the bloodless revolution in progress in Turkey is one of the most picturesque political transformations of modern times. The sultan, recently hated, is now frantically acclaimed. Once a recluse, the type of all that was cowardly and tyrannical, he now walks among his people, liberates political prisoners, proclaims a constitution, calls for an election under it, and promises to establish a true constitutional government. It is little wonder that the change was regarded at first with entire skepticism, which gave way to open-mouthed amazement as the sultan made good his promises.

There is plenty of skepticism left, particularly among the cynics who watch the sultan from European chancelleries. The sultan's actions are attributed to craftiness, fear, and a desire for revenge, which will gratify itself when he has his enemies in power. He is credited with every base motive and denied the possession of any worthy impulse. He has behind him a lifetime of treacherous dealings with other powers, and they cannot be blamed if they look upon his eleventh-hour conversion with suspicion.

There are several reasons, however, which may be considered as inducing the sultan to act in good faith in remodeling his government. The most potent one, probably, is the defection of the army. If the army officers have been won over in a body, as alleged by the Young Turks party, the sultan is merely making a virtue of necessity when he grants reforms. But other reasons may have influenced him in the same direction. He is not an ignorant man, and cannot have been blind to the march of events in other countries. He must have perceived that his course had isolated him from civilization and progress, reducing his country to a contemptible place among the powers, enervating his people, and retarding the development of a region that was once the garden of the earth. Advancing age, the burden of isolation and fear, the knowledge that his name was hissed and a byword—these may have caused the sultan to make the radical change now under way.

Those who have no confidence whatever in the good faith of Abdul Hamid may still look upon the reforms as permanent, on the proved experience that revolutions never go backwards. The Turks are probably unfit to rule themselves, as Americans understand government; but they love liberty, and having tasted it, they will not let it depart. In the process of winning their liberties they may go to great excesses, but in the end they will take their proper place in the world. It will be one of the most marvelous facts of the twentieth century if the Turkish empire is transformed and liberalized without bloodshed.

IN SUPPORT OF ANDREWS.

The Times, published at San Jon, a prosperous new settlement in Quay county, has entered into the fight for the Republican nomination for delegate to the Sixty-first Congress in this city on the 18th instant, and puts in some very strong lines for Delegate Andrews, whom it supports for re-nomination. The Times is evidently in accord with its readers and subscribers and the people of its section.

The following editorials are in the right light and will have influence with the Republican voters in the part of Quay county in which the Times is published. They read:

"Judging by the endorsements that are being signed and the resolutions passed favoring the re-nomination and re-election of Delegate W. H. Andrews, we conclude he is becoming more popular every day."

"Some of the mugwump Republican papers are unwittingly giving Mr. Andrews a very high compliment when they say that what Mr. Andrews has done is nothing more than what was his duty to do. Very well and good! If some more of our politicians would do what is their duty to do we would have a very different state of affairs, and if these same papers would consider the matter of duty they would give Mr. Andrews their undivided support."

"The editor of the Logan Leader says of Hon. W. H. Andrews: 'He is a friend of the old soldiers; their widows and orphans and has done more to ease up their sufferings than many a Congressman who had a vote in the legislative body of this nation. He has more power with the nation's leading men than any representative in Congress and can do more for this territory in political and advertising lines than any man the people might send to Congress and through his influence New Mexico will become a state, and he will be sent to Washington as the senior senator from the Sunshine state of New Mexico.'"

"A report has come to us which we feel that in justice to W. H. Andrews we must repudiate, although it is only a campaign lie. It is to the effect that the Times is supporting Mr. Andrews for the 'boodle' there is in it. This is absolutely false as neither Mr. Andrews nor anyone else has ever hinted anything of the kind. We have endorsed Mr. Andrews first because we believed him worthy of support; second, because we believed the majority of the people of New Mexico favor his re-nomination and re-election; third, we believe he can and will, best represent the interests of the territory of New Mexico before Congress. And if we did not think this, and were convinced that some other man would fill the place we would just as readily support him. The Times is not for sale, neither is it seeking to buy favoritism or justice, and if for these reasons it should come to an untimely end it will die honorably."

NO OVERPOPULATION AS YET IN UNITED STATES.

There are people who fear that the population of the United States is increasing too rapidly, who begin to feel crowded and apprehensive that there will not be enough to feed the multitudes a generation hence. Of course, these people do not realize how vast is the expanse of the Southwest, how sparsely populated it is in reality. The entire population of the United States could be comfortably placed in Texas without crowding it as much as Germany is crowded and even Germany has only one half of the population that Belgium has, in fact one half of its area is very thinly populated. Besides immigration into the United States fell off thirty per cent during the past year from the fiscal year before, or to be exact, the number of immigrants during the past fiscal year at the port of New York was 585,970 against 1,116,295 the year before. At the same time, twice as many foreigners, or 600,000, which is more than arrived left New York for their former homes. Consider in addition a decrease in the birth rate of the nation, and it is apparent that it is not over populous but an effort to maintain the population at its present figures that will be the concern of the future in this country.

Colfax county is drawing the trade of the rich Taos country to Raton by maintaining good country roads. Santa Fe, being on the same side of the lofty and rugged Sangre de Cristo range as Taos, should command the trade of this great storehouse of undeveloped wealth but the roads, especially in Santa Fe county, are in a deplorable impassable state at many points. Says the Raton Range: "From fifteen to twenty teams of freighters pass up the hills every day from Cimarron and Ute and the improvement of the road will certainly be appreciated by the people who use it." In other words, the freighters prefer to ascend several thousand feet on one side of the range and descend several thousand feet on the other side, and go twenty miles farther to Raton, rather than come along the easy grade, but miserable roads to Santa Fe. It is on a proposition of this kind that Santa Fe loses out because the county authorities do not believe in spending money for good roads and bridges although the expenditure would come back into the county treasury by reason of improved property values and increase of business that inevitably follow the building of good roads.

INCREASED BENEFITS FROM NATIONAL FORESTS.

The benefits of the Forest Service are becoming greater and more apparent as time progresses and as its administration becomes more compact and better understood. The many benefits derived are already much greater than the discomforts and fancied detriments which live stockraisers claim exist. Under a recent law of Congress twenty-five per cent of the income derived from national forests is paid to the state or territory wherein they are located for the benefit of the school fund and for the maintenance of public highways. This is a large amount of money which will do the states and territories to which paid great good.

Referring to this condition the Pueblo Chieftain aptly and sensibly says that in addition to the benefits secured by fire protection and by regulations which control the use of timberland and range so as to insure permanent supplies for local wants, the states having national forests now receive, under the new agricultural appropriation bill, twenty-five per cent of the gross proceeds derived from the sale of national forest resources. This amount, according to law, goes to offset any losses to the states through withdrawal of forest areas from taxation, and is devoted to public roads and schools.

Several years ago complaints were made that the withdrawal of timberlands for forest purposes reduced the taxable areas of the states in which withdrawals were made. The forest service, quick to see the justice of these complaints, recommended at first that ten per cent, and later that twenty-five per cent of the gross proceeds from the national forests should be paid to the states. As a result, the states are assured of school and road funds, doubtless more certain than otherwise could have been, since the permanence of the forest resources is now secured by conservative management. Had the forests never been established, their resources would undoubtedly have been exhausted by hasty and imprudent methods of exploitation, leaving the land wasted and unproductive.

MORE GOOD WORK BY CURRY AND ANDREWS.

Territorial Land Commissioner Robert P. Ervin figures out that the recent land legislation of Congress brought about by Delegate W. H. Andrews and Governor George Curry will add to the territory's assets, more than 925,000 acres of the public lands. The territory, in other words, will have the pick of the more than 40,000,000 acres of public domain still remaining and will secure the best lands for its public schools. Even at only one dollar an acre, this would pay the entire bonded indebtedness of the territory and at $3.50 an acre it would pay not only the territorial, but all county, municipal and school indebtedness. In a few years, this land, being the pick of the unappropriated areas, should be worth $10 and more an acre. In fact, the territory today, has some wisely selected school lands that would be cheap at $50 to $100 an acre. Certainly, a future generation, even though the present should be forgetful and ungrateful will remember that it was Delegate Andrews and Governor Curry who secured this heritage for the people. Nor must it be forgotten that with Delegate Andrews in Congress a statehood bill would be passed that would increase the territory's land holdings by anywhere from five to ten million acres. Can New Mexico afford not to re-elect Delegate Andrews this fall?

A SELF-CONVICTED LIAR.

In its eagerness to retain hold of the July Bernalillo county printing, the Albuquerque Journal convicts itself of being all kinds of a liar. In fact, the story of the calf and the rope, which it made famous during the Hagerman regime, again comes to mind when one tries to follow the intricacies of its editorial logic. Up to a week ago, the Journal persisted very blatantly, that it was Delegate Andrews' alleged unpopularity and Larrazolo's great popularity that shrank the Republican majority two years ago, and denied as insistently as its vocabulary would permit, that it was not Republican treachery. Yet, the past few days, in as loud typography as space would permit, the Journal is shouting: "Mr. Andrews has had some little experience with Hubbell support and Hubbell treachery, which has twice cost him the normal majority in this county." Whether it was "Hubbell" treachery or "Journal" treachery, the New Mexican is quite willing to leave for decision to the Las Vegas Optic and the Raton Range, but which ever the decision, the Journal has convicted itself of a dirty wrong against Delegate Andrews who has done so much for New Mexico and especially Albuquerque.

The success of the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress and the exposition to be held in connection therewith, is assured and this is due principally to the fact that the generous appropriation of $30,000 was secured from the federal government for its maintenance by Delegate W. H. Andrews who worked unselfishly, efficiently and successfully with influential friends in the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose. If the whole bunch of Democratic statesmen now opposed to Delegate Andrews, Larrazolo in the heap, had been in Washington and had worked tooth and toe nail for the past three years for a similar appropriation, they would simply have been laughed at and would have had their labor for their pains. Not a senator or a representative would have paid the least attention to them.

THE HISTORIAN OF THE PUEBLO.

THE PUEBLO OF SAN JUAN THE PLYMOUTH OF THE SOUTHWEST

(By John L. Cowan, in the Great Southwest Magazine.)

In a historical way there are very few spots in America more interesting than the immediate territory surrounding the pueblo of San Juan. This has always been a sort of cross-roads point located at the intersection of the trails up and down the old Rio Grande with those that cross the mountains to the east, and that penetrate the illimitable wilderness that stretches off into the far west.

Along the numerous dusty highways that here converge have passed and repassed the unnamed and unknown tribes of ancient days, as well as the marauding hordes of the Navajos, Apaches, Utes and Comanches of yesterday. Later came the mailed Conquistadores, the foot-sore, grayclad padres tramping the hard road to martyrdom, the American hunters and trappers, the bull team freighters, the blue-coated soldiers of Uncle Sam. Sibley's dashing Texans in the Civil War and last, the homeseekers and the rising flood of tourists and kodak enthusiasts. Almost within gunshot of the dust-covered plaza, is the site of the first white settlement ever attempted in the Southwest; the second within the present boundaries of the United States, being antedated only by St. Augustine. Yonder winds the Taos division of the Santa Fe Trail, with the Alameda Road House scarce two miles away; and across the river, is the Black Mesa, the scene of one of the most stubbornly contested fights in which Spaniard and pueblo ever engaged.

Whether the modern pueblo of San Juan occupies the exact site that was covered by the mud-built houses that composed the aboriginal community when the early explorers visited it three hundred and sixty-seven years ago, is not certainly known; but it is at least in the same neighborhood. Captain Barrio-nuevo, a lieutenant of Coronado, is conceded to have been the discoverer of the pueblos of the Upper Rio Grande, having visited the province of Yucue-Yunque in 1541 proceeding north as far as Braba, or Taos. When the explorers arrived in the neighborhood of San Juan the Indians deserted their two well-built towns in the valley and took refuge with their kinsmen, who occupied four villages in the mountains. The province of Yucue-Yunque has been identified by Bandler with the district north of Santa Fe. The two valley towns corresponding with San Ildefonso and San Juan, and the villages in the mountains with the existing communities of Nambe and Tesuque, and the extinct pueblos of Pojoaque and Cuyamungue.

Not for half a century after the departure of Captain Barrio-nuevo, did the Indians of the Upper Rio Grande again see a white man, or one of those strange four-footed monsters upon which the visitors from another world were accustomed to ride—for the simple-minded redskins regarded the horse as a greater and more terrifying mystery than its rider. Then, in 1591 came Gaspar de Castano de Sosa on his unauthorized entrada. He journeyed at least as far as San Juan but added nothing of importance to the discoveries that Coronado and his lieutenants had made. Then, later on, in July 1598, Juan de Onate arrived at San Juan, and the new era began. It does not appear that the good people of New Mexico honor the memory of this first real "booster" of the Southwest as they should. Priests and soldiers and adventurers had explored New Mexico from end to end before his arrival, had found in it no good thing, and had made haste to get away. He was the first to decide that the incomparable valley of the Rio Grande was a good place in which to live, and as good a place as any other in which to die, if need be. Not for three hundred years, until my good friend, Max Frost, of Santa Fe, became a member of the Territorial Bureau of Immigration, did New Mexico again have his like as a promoter.

As it happened, a very protracted drought of unusual severity threatened the scanty crops of the Indians with utter destruction in that summer; and the tribal dances, the incantations of the shamans, and all the usual methods of propitiating the Nature-gods had failed to coax the badly needed rain from the reluctant sky. Learning that the priests of the newcomers professed a new kind of magic (which is the only conception of religion the red men have ever formed) the Indians besought them to prove its efficacy by bringing rain. So the padres prayed for rain—and it rained abundantly! Of course the timely rainmakers were all very welcome from that time forward, and were treated so kindly by the natives that the pueblo was christened "San Juan de los Caballeros"—San Juan of the Gentlemen. Possibly this account of the origin of the name is apocryphal. What's the difference? It is as well attested as the majority of the incidents that have been handed down to us forming the basis of the early history of the territory.

From Juan de los Caballeros as his headquarters, Onate made excursions to all the Indian villages within easy reach, receiving the submission of the inhabitants. Then, on August 11th, a month later, work was begun on a system of ditches for the purpose of bringing water to the projected city of San Francisco. It is said 1,500 Indians were employed at this task. However, it was not long until the project was abandoned, on account of mutinous plots discovered to be hatching among the soldiers. The capital of the infant province was then established at San Gabriel, believed by some to have been contiguous to San Juan, but regarded by the best authorities as having been located where the village of Chamita now stands, on the west bank of the Rio Grande, about two miles away. On August 23rd work was begun at San Juan on the first Christian church ever erected in the Southwest. It was completed, ready for the holding of services, in fifteen days, so that it could not have been a very pretentious edifice. It is evident, then, that this adobe village that drowns endlessly in the ardent New Mexican sun, is the Plymouth of the Southwest—the cradle of its civilization and of its religion.

The later history of the pueblo is hardly worth the re-telling, differing in no important respect from that of the other communities. The "Gentlemen" of San Juan soon forgot their manners; indulged occasionally in the ungentlemanly conduct of killing missionaries; and participated in each one of the ten Pueblo Indian revolts against the authority of the Spanish governors, each time were whipped into re-submission. Pope, the leader of the revolution in 1680, was an Indian of San Juan, although he left the village of the Gentlemen and went to Taos to direct the hatching of the plot that resulted so disastrously to the Spaniards.

San Juan is now one of the largest and most prosperous of the remaining pueblos of the Upper Rio Grande, containing a population of more than 400. It is situated on the high sand dunes east of the Rio Grande, six miles from Espanola, a station on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, and about thirty-five miles northwest of

SOWING.

Santa Fe. It is one of the most progressive of the Pueblo communities, and for that reason, perhaps, is less attractive than Taos and some of the other Indian villages in which the ancient garb and customs have been preserved with little alteration. This progressiveness is no doubt due in part to the fact that San Juan has been in close touch with Caucasian civilization ever since the beginning of the Spanish occupation, and is located so close to one of the main highways of travel that visitors have never been a novelty. Another reason why the people are less conservative and less tenacious of the old ways than are those of many of the other villages is found in the large infusion of Mexican blood. At best, the Pueblos are a mongrel race, compounded of many diverse elements; but this is particularly true of the inhabitants of San Juan. Linguistically, they belong to the Tanoan stock, but racially they are as much Mexican, Ute and Apache as anything else.

Architecturally, this pueblo is well built and substantial, but far from imposing. A few of the houses are constructed after the Mexican style, one story in height; but the greater number are two stories high, and built in the terraced form so characteristic of Pueblo architecture. There are several parallel rows of these houses, some fronting upon narrow streets, and others facing the long, irregular plaza. Ladders extend from the ground to the roof of the first terrace, giving access to the second story. From the house tops an entrancing view may be obtained up and down the valley of the Rio Grande; east, over the billowing dunes, the foothills and the battlemented peaks of the Sange de Cristo Range; and west, across the lava beds, with their frowning black precipice that fronts the river, to the hazy, purple peaks of the Jemez mountains. The valley itself is a bower of verdure, filled with grain fields, orchards, vineyards and gardens. The agricultural methods followed by the Indians may be crude, primitive and laborious, but the husbandmen of San Juan can extract a livelihood from a patch of land that the average American would consider too small for the proper support of a chicken.

With the exception of agriculture and stock raising, the people of San Juan have no important industries. A considerable quantity of pottery is made, to sell to visiting tourists, or to be peddled at the car windows of passing trains in Espanola and Chamita. Most of the San Juan pottery is a black, lustrous ware, similar to that manufactured at Santa Clara and Santo Domingo, although a little red ware and some animal forms are occasionally seen. The women, also, make many small articles of buckskin, and decorate them with bead-work.

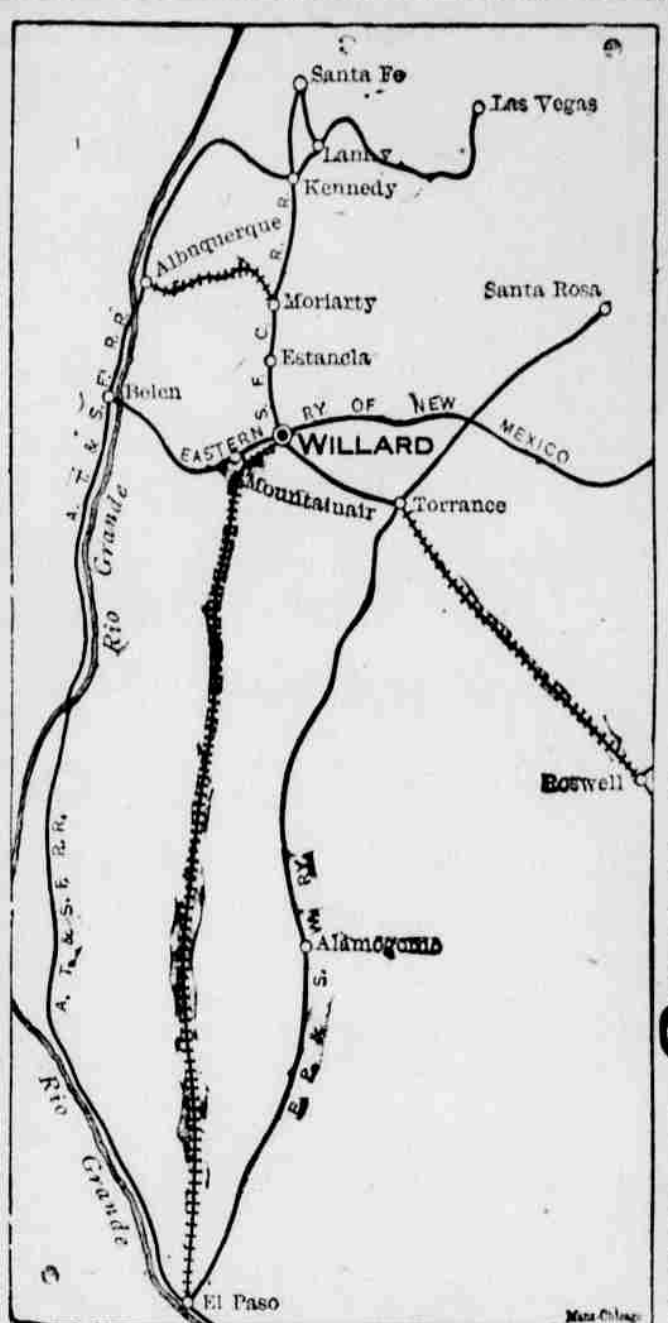

No visitor to this pueblo should miss seeing the collection of prehistoric and modern artifacts that has been accumulated by Mr. Samuel Eldred, whose beautiful home on the outskirts of the village is a veritable museum of antiquities and curios. It represents the expenditure of a great deal of money and the labor of a lifetime. It is said to be the finest private collection, representative of the Indians of the Southwest, in existence, comprising many hundreds of articles exhumed from prehistoric cliff dwellings and from ruined and long-forgotten pueblos, or obtained from the modern villages and from nomadic tribes.

There is a feeling among the Indians of the neighboring villages that the people of San Juan are inclined to be proud, aristocratic and exclusive. When the thrift and prosperity of San Juan are contrasted with the poverty and squalor of Nambe and Picuris, and the shiftlessness of Santa Clara and San Ildefonso, this is not to be wondered at. In the prosperity of the people, the church has shared. In the center of the town is a large Catholic church, in front of which stands a great gilded statue of the Virgin. In the plaza is a handsome stone chapel of Our Lady of Lourdes, said to be an exact replica, on a reduced scale, of the famous church of Lourdes in France. It was erected eighteen years ago by Rev. Camillas Leux, a French priest who left his charge in Lourdes to minister to the spiritual wants of the Indians of San Juan.

But the church does not enjoy a monopoly of the religious devotion of the people of San Juan, as the large, rectangular estufa proves. Unlike the

The Saving Habit

If you are tardy, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life; and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum.

The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

THE MONARCH MALLEABLE RANGES

Are made of the finest Malleable iron. They are polished as brightly as a well-worn steel rail. When first used these turn a deep blue color and thereafter they require no polishing, blacking or rubbing, as ordinary ranges do. These lids and plates will also withstand the effect of the intense heat without burning, cracking or warping, and, since the iron is very close grained in structure, it will heat through much quicker than cast iron. Therefore, a top that will heat more quickly, and conduct more heat rapidly, with less loss of heat WILL SAVE FUEL. It will do more, it will save your range and fire box and lengthen the life of the range.

TERRITORIAL NEWS NOTES

Arizona will have a large exhibit of ores at the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress.

Socialistic speakers are busy in New Mexico during this campaign. During the week meetings were held at Las Vegas, Willard, Albuquerque and many other towns.

"Fire bugs" have made their appearance at Tucumcari. Belmore's lumber yard was discovered on fire the other night, but the volunteer fire department put the flames out after thirty minutes of hard work.

The new Twentieth Century grader ordered by the town of Aztec has arrived and it received a try-out this week. The machine will do the work required by the town in leveling the various streets and is one of the best investments Aztec has ever made.

Serapio Romero, the Las Vegas prize fighter who was knocked out in the boxing contest in the Meadow City a week ago, took the short end of the purse and purchased a marriage license. The change went to the officiating priest and Romero now has some one to share his weals and woes.

The Modern Woodmen of America, one of the largest fraternal insurance orders in the country, with a membership of a million and a half, has invaded the territory. There are thousands of members of the order in New Mexico among the newcomers and these are planning to have a Woodman day during the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress and Industrial Exposition at Albuquerque. The day decided upon is October 6th. There will be a log rolling, tug of war, ball game, etc.

The cotton crop gives promise of being immense this year under the Carlisle project in Eddy county. A trip to La Huerta reveals the possibilities of this crop under irrigation. On the Tracy-McLenathen big orchard across the river between the rows of young peach trees, is to be found a stand of cotton that is indeed good to look upon. Looking down the long rows one can scarcely see a break in the mass of green which greets the eye, and it is estimated that the yield from this tract will be as much as a bale to the acre, and possibly more. A little east of the big orchard is a tract of thirty acres planted to cotton alone, on ground irrigated but once, and that ground is what is known as "rod," too, never having been planted to anything until the crop of cotton was put in.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold. A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months, with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold at the Ireland's Pharmacy.

The New Mexican Printing company has ready and for sale up-to-date and correct compilations of the territorial incorporation laws, price 75 cents; of the territorial road laws, price 50 cents, and of the territorial mining laws, price 50 cents per copy. These can be purchased by applying in person or by mail at the office of the company.

Foley's kidney remedy will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more. Sold at the Ireland's Pharmacy.

ONLY ONE "BEST."

Santa Fe People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Santa Fe who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Santa Fe. Here's Santa Fe testimony:

Thomas Baca, living on Cerrillos street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Five years ago Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Ireland's Pharmacy brought me such great relief that I was pleased to tell people of Santa Fe what means to employ if they suffered from backache or any of the troubles which arise from weak and inactive kidneys. Prior to using Doan's Kidney Pills backache had been a source of annoyance to me for about three years. Though I was never laid up on account of it there were days when I did not feel able to work. The use of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and I was well for six months, but hard labor brought on a return of the trouble. This attack, like the former was quickly and thoroughly dispelled by Doan's Kidney Pills. I have no desire to retract anything stated in my original endorsement and would like it understood that I still as heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as when they first came to my notice."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE PUEBLO OF SAN JUAN THE PLYMOUTH OF SOUTHWEST

estufas of most of the communities this is entirely above ground. But a more startling proof that the pagan past still throbs with vitality in the present, is supplied by the Po-nya, or "Keeper of the Snake"—a woman affiliated with the native priesthood—to whom is entrusted the important duty of feeding and taking care of the sacred snakes. For all the Pueblos revere the rattlesnake and pay to it something like divine honors, although only among the Hopi tribesmen does the old serpent cult retain its pristine importance. Bandler relates seeing an enormous rattlesnake that had been killed at San Juan in 1884, to the great consternation and wrath of the people. It was more than seven feet in length, and had escaped from its place of confinement, to be killed by some white men who knew nothing of its sacred attributes. The same author states that at that time eight great rattlers were kept in apartments in one of the houses of the pueblo, in charge of the Po-nya. How many sacred snakes there are in San Juan today, none but the initiated can tell; but there is no reason for supposing that the number has been diminished. A year or less ago the newspapers of the East printed amazing tales about the sacred snakes of the Pueblos, affirming that it was customary for their keepers to feed them a new born child at frequent intervals. Of course that detail was a "trimming" added by some imaginative correspondent, to give a touch of "human interest" to his story, and to catch the imagination of the New York editors, who believe that we of the West still live in sod houses and dine on buffalo humps and bear steaks. But, concerning the existence of the sacred snakes, there is no doubt, although their exact office in the Pueblo theology is not known.

Are You on Good Terms With Your Stomach?

Treat it right—its your best friend. Abuse it—and you'll find there's a limit. When the limit is reached, the stomach must rest. Kodol rests it.

That is what Kodol is for. The stomach cannot stop work; if it did you would stop existing. It cannot even take a vacation and "rest up"—except when it has Kodol to assist it.

Very likely you never gave a thought to how hard your stomach works. Most people don't until they have to. Sometimes, though, it costs less to do a little thinking before one has to.

Even the galley-slave of the ancients rested—at intervals. But the stomach of modern man works harder than the galley-slave, and it never rests—of itself.

Kodol, of course, will rest the stomach, but that is something nature didn't provide for. If people now-a-days lived the way nature intended, it wouldn't have been necessary to provide for it. But they don't—that's the trouble.

Better keep on good terms with your stomach, if you can. Your health depends absolutely upon the perfect performance of the stomach's functions. Ever think of that—or why it is true?

The human body is composed of certain chemical elements. These are combined to form substances such as fat, protein, carbohydrates, mineral matter and water.

The food we eat is composed of exactly these elements. The stomach must disintegrate this food and correctly apportion it to the needs of the system. Looks like a lot of work for the stomach, doesn't it? No wonder it occasionally needs Kodol to help it do this.

The person who has the kind of a stomach that can do its own work continuously, without assistance has a good deal to be thankful for. Most people haven't that kind. That is why they require Kodol.

Kodol will do all the stomach's work for it, when necessary—giving it a period of complete rest. The rest that restores health. That's how Kodol cures indigestion—which is merely a good digestion "gone wrong."

People used to think that when they had indigestion they should stop eating or limit themselves to a prescribed diet. Others commenced purging with cathartics. All that is very disagreeable and unpleasant. Also, it isn't necessary.

Starvation or purging doesn't cure anything. Kodol doesn't cure anything either—but shows nature the right road, in short order. Kodol merely establishes complete and perfect digestion. It does this by digesting every particle of the food. The stomach then rests and cures itself. That is what was intended when Kodol was made. It couldn't be any other way.

Kodol is quite indispensable to a good many persons. To all, in fact, who haven't time in their daily lives for a careful selection of foods and diet. It very quickly enables nature to rectify any disagreeable effects of wrong eating.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.

Mrs. Theodore Corrick was pleasantly and thoroughly surprised at her home on Upper Palace avenue yesterday afternoon by a number of her friends. Word was sent to Mrs. Corrick that the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, of which she is a member, would meet at the residence of Mrs. Charles L. Bishop that afternoon and an hour before the meeting the members of the society met at the plaza and were driven to Mrs. Corrick's home just as she was about to depart. She was completely taken by surprise when the visitors took possession and announced that they intended to hold the meeting at her house and also that this day was the anniversary of her birth. They brought with them a goodly supply of ice cream and cake and other delicacies which go to make an occasion of this kind still more enjoyable, which were attended to at the proper time.

After the regular business meeting of the society the ladies spent the remainder of the afternoon in social and friendly intercourse, each striving to outdo the other in having a genuine old-fashioned good time. Miss Hazel Sparks assisted in serving refreshments.

Late in the afternoon the ladies were driven to their respective homes each leaving behind a loving present to remind Mrs. Corrick that the ravages of time may be softened by visible tokens of affection, and carrying with them the recollection of a pleasant afternoon well spent. Mrs. Corrick will long and pleasantly remember her sixty-third birthday.

Those who assisted in this happy occasion were: Mesdames Charles L. Bishop, I. Sparks, J. R. McFie, David Knapp, T. P. Gable, J. W. Patterson, J. H. Walker, F. A. Andrews, Charles A. Haynes, W. E. Griffin, F. P. Crichton, Paul A. F. Walter, T. Z. Winter, J. E. Wood, W. B. Hall, A. Ringardt, Mash, Blake McConnell, Bolander, Woodruff and Smith.
