FORAKER ISSUES PROMPT DENIAL

Repudiates Inter- view in Toledo Paper

SAYS HE WAS MISQUOTED

Associated Press Learns That Hatchet Has Been Buried in Ohio.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 3.—In a comprehensive denial, Senator Joseph B. Foraker today disposed of the sensational story published in the Toledo Times this morning, giving what purported to be an authorized statement from him to the effect that there had been no peace compact between himself and Judge W. H. Taft; that President Roosevelt had adopted the policies of Mr. Bryan, and between the two he preferred the genuine to the imitation; that the only difference between the Democrats and the Republicans was that the Republicans favored tariff revision after March 4, and the Democrats favored immediate revision and that he believed in immediate revision.

"The statement in the Toledo Times," said Senator Foraker today, "is grossly misleading. I told a representative for the Times that there had been no agreement of any kind either made or suggested; that there was no trouble between Judge Taft and myself; that I had not made any request of Judge Taft and he had not made any of me. Our conversation yesterday was only social and that which would naturally be suggested by the character of the occasion. I wish there could be some way found to stop the publication of these mischief-making reports."

Report Says Hatchet is Buried.—The Associated Press in its report of the meeting of Judge Taft and Senator Foraker here yesterday has a story directly at variance with that of the Times and is of the opinion that the hatchet has been buried in Ohio. It says:

"That Taft and Foraker are politically together was not only the public admission of both Taft and Foraker here yesterday, but also the political sensation of Ohio. Senator Foraker is an avowed candidate for the United States Senate to succeed himself and his services in the national campaign have been sought by Chairman Frank Hitchcock of the national committee and the senator has promised to take the stump. At a dinner given here on Tuesday night by Charles T. Lewis, who is incidentally the host of Judge Taft at Middle Bass Island, being president of that organization, there were present Senator Foraker, General Henry C. Corbin, Representative J. Warren Keifer, of Ohio, and James Hoyt, an attorney of Cleveland. This dinner resulted in an invitation to Senator Foraker to remain in this city and attend the review of the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic in the stand with Judge Taft and also the reception given later by the Lincoln Republican club. Those who attended the dinner are authority for the further statement that when Senator Foraker left the dinner he was called on the Long Distance telephone from Chicago by Chairman Hitchcock and requested to open the Republican campaign in Kansas. Senator Foraker has not yet given his answer on the invitation, but it is said that he told the national chairman that he would take part in the speaking program for the occasion."

SOUTH SANTA FE COUNTY LOOKING UP

Mining Companies There Pushing Development Work—Old Camps May Become Famous.

Dr. S. C. Clark, surgeon of the Santa Fe Gold and Copper company at San Pedro, spent yesterday in the city on business. Dr. Clark has been a resident of New Mexico for a number of years and for several years was surgeon of the New Mexico Fuel company at Madrid. From there he moved to Bernalillo, where he practiced for awhile and thereafter was appointed to the responsible position he now holds. He enjoys the reputation of a conscientious, able, careful and attentive physician who has had much success in attending to the many cases which come to him. Concerning the San Pedro mining camp the doctor said:

"The Santa Fe Gold and Copper company is now employing about fifty men in development and cleaning up work. The miners are well satisfied with their treatment and receive good wages. The management of the company is scrupulously fair in the treatment of its employees and satisfaction and content prevail. Superintendent Case, who has charge of the work and the mines, is a very able and successful mining engineer of many years standing and is certainly the right man in the right place. As you know the workings in the mine are very extensive and in my opinion it is one of the best and most extensive copper properties in the United States. Should it be deemed necessary by the management to increase the force everything is in apple pie order and could be started to work at an hour's notice. In the vicinity of the San Pedro mining district, about one and a half miles across the hill, the Oro Quay Gold and Silver Mining company is working about twenty men. This work is being done by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, a big corporation. The iron ore found there is called bessemer ore and is very valuable in the manufacture of steel rails especially. The supply of it in the United States is limited, hence the value of the Oro Quay group of mines."

"The Lazarus Mining company is working about 20 men in its mines in San Lazarus Gulch and its mill is running full time. It is understood that the returns have been very satisfactory. There are also a number of miners who are working smaller gold and copper claims and who make good wages. The copper ore produced is sold to the Santa Fe Gold and Copper company."

"There is an agricultural valley along the San Pedro arroyo, a couple of miles from the mining camp. There are a number of homesteaders located there and they have good crops of vegetables and an early frost does not set in they will make good crops of corn and rough feed. Those settlers who have worked hard will gather good crops."

"Between San Pedro and Stanley, as soon as the hills are left behind, there are quite a number of homestead settlers who are improving their farms and I believe many of them will raise crops. That seems to be an especially fine country for raising chickens and eggs are produced there in large numbers and at a fair price. Every farm house has a poultry yard filled with poultry. It is my opinion that the farmers there can make crops but it will take hard work and extensive farming after the Campbell dry farming system to succeed."

Should the copper market take an upward tendency it is very likely that the Santa Fe Gold and Copper company may put an increased force of men to work for the production of a larger amount of copper, the copper deposits in the mines being very extensive. Should the development work of the Oro Quay company prove that large bodies of iron ore exists there, south Santa Fe county will be a hummer, as that company will certainly put a heavy force of miners in the field."

ARKANSAS RAILROAD COMMISSION ENJOINED

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 3.—Judge Vandever in the United States circuit court today granted the injunction requested by the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern and three other railroads operating in Arkansas, against the Arkansas state railway commission. The injunction restrains the commission from enforcing the new two-cent fare law and from interfering with the railroads raising freight rates on interstate traffic. In its oral decision the court held that the rates proposed by the railroad commission were unreasonable, non-compensatory and unlawful.

SANTA FE ENGINE BLOWS UP; 2 DEAD

Shocking Accident Just East of Trinidad

WAS PULLING FREIGHT TRAIN

Leaky Boiler Believed to Have Been Responsible for Explosion.

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 3.—Engine No. 917, pulling an extra east bound freight train on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, blew up at Kadrow siding, fourteen miles east of here this morning. Engineer J. F. Miller was instantly killed. Fireman Dunning so badly injured that he died in a hospital here several hours after the accident, and brakeman Ashley seriously injured. All of the trainmen were from Raton.

According to Ashley, the train was running at the rate of about thirty miles an hour when without warning the boiler exploded, hurling the engine from the track and badly wrecking it. He was riding in the cab with the engineer and fireman and all were blown some distance from the track. The bodies of the dead engineers were horribly mutilated. Ashley's injuries consist of a broken leg, broken arm and painful cuts about the head and face. He is also believed to be hurt internally and may not recover.

The accident delayed traffic several hours.

MILITARY INSTITUTE OPENS FALL TERM

New Mexico's School of Arms Begins Auspicious Session—Cadets Arriving Rapidly.

Special to the New Mexican.

Roswell, N. M., Sept. 3.—The New Mexico Military Institute started off in firstclass shape for its new term on Tuesday the first inst. At 7 o'clock on that morning twenty-five new cadets marched to the mess room for breakfast. Cadets are arriving daily and reporting for duty and Colonel James W. Willson, the superintendent expects by the end of the week that ninety-five of the cadets who attended the school last year will again be in attendance this year. After deducting the graduates of last year there were 120 left. Out of this number it is expected that 95 will again be in attendance this year. This means a very good percentage and is unprecedented in military schools of this kind.

The members of the faculty are all present and on duty and everything is in readiness for a very successful term. The new barracks building is proceeding rapidly in construction, but will not be ready for occupancy for several months.

Nothing was noticed that would confirm the report that there had been a marine disaster.

YOUNGEST LAWYER IN NEW MEXICO

H. M. Dow of Roswell, Twenty-Three Years of Age, is Admitted to Practice.

H. M. Dow, a young man who lives in Roswell, came to the city Monday and Tuesday passed an excellent examination for admission to the bar. The young man is but twenty-three years of age, but has already engaged in the practice of law in the town of his residence for the past six months and although young and naturally inclined to inexperience, has made more than a good living. He is a graduate of the New Mexico Military Institute and also of the law department of Washington Lee University at Lexington, Virginia, both superior institutions of learning. At the Military Institute he stood high and graduated with honors at the University.

The young man has many friends in his section, partly on his own account and partly on account of his father, who was Leslie Dow, sheriff of Eddy county and who was killed in 1895 in the discharge of his duties. His father had a reputation of being a very fearless, efficient and competent officer. The friends of the young man's father are remembering his services and their friendship for him by helping the son, whose future bids fair to be very bright.

The young man is evidently well posted on the principles of law and with experience and increased knowledge will become a prominent member of the New Mexico Bar, especially in his section. He came to this city highly recommended by the people of his town who know him well. His brother, Robert Dow, who is attending the New Mexico Military Institute, is senior captain, commanding company A. He stands high in his studies and also has a promising future.

Why she attempted to kill herself is a mystery. She arrived at a local hotel in June with her husband and six-year-old son. The man and boy left soon after their arrival and their whereabouts now are not known. It is said the woman and her husband had quarreled. She is the daughter of William W. Wiltbank, of Philadelphia.

NEW MEXICO FINE INSURANCE FIELD

Deputy Insurance Commissioner Lineau Says No Companies Are to Withdraw from Territory.

Deputy Insurance Commissioner Peter M. A. Lienau, who has returned from Denver, where he went to inspect the condition of the Western Life Insurance company, previous to its admittance to do business in New Mexico, to a New Mexican representative today, said he had talked with a number of fire and life insurance men and all spoke very highly of New Mexico as an insurance field. Mr. Lienau said:

"This talk about fire insurance companies withdrawing from New Mexico on account of recent heavy losses is all bosh. The insurance companies doing business in this territory have no reason to complain. According to the figures during the past twenty-six years there has been $280,000,000 of fire insurance written in the territory upon which the total premiums amounted to $5,296,462 and during the same period losses paid amounted to $2,398,537, leaving a balance to credit of the fire insurance companies above losses paid of $2,897,925. The New Mexico insurance rates are lower than Montana, Arizona, Florida, Mississippi, North Dakota, Oregon and several other states and during the twenty-six years this territory has furnished $100,000,000 more fire insurance than the state of Wyoming. Talk about the heavy losses, New Mexico was never a better field for firstclass fire insurance companies than it is today. Just think of it, the loss rate in 1907 was only 25.7 per cent or lower than it ever has been in the history of the territory with the exception of 1887 when the loss rate was 22.3 per cent. The people of New Mexico paid in insurance premiums in 1907 $505,000 for which they received in return losses paid only $130,000, leaving a net balance gain of $375,000 to the credit of the fire insurance companies."

"They treated me right on my visit to Denver, and every insurance company and the representatives of insurance companies who are making their headquarters at Denver, came to see me. They were glad to see that the insurance department of New Mexico is taking pains to investigate thoroughly every company before they allow it to enter the field."

Mr. Lienau says that every life insurance company that enters the field of New Mexico is gilt edge and the citizens of this territory who take a policy in any of the companies holding a New Mexico license are good and the policy is worth what it calls for.

ARAB TRIBESMEN ATTACK FRENCH POST

Are Repulsed With Heavy Losses After Several Hours of Bloody Fighting.

Paris, Sept. 3.—Arab tribesmen at Boudenil, the former stronghold of Mulai Hafig on the Algerian frontier, suddenly attacked the French post yesterday. The hills surrounding the block house swarmed with Moorish warriors on foot and on horseback. The fighting continued until 7 o'clock last night, the French finally beating off the enemy after the Arabs had sustained heavy losses. The French had two killed. It is estimated that 15,000 Moors surrounded the French post at Boudenil. The French garrison totals 11,000 men. A column of French reinforcements has reached Bounanans, which is forty miles from the place where the fighting occurred.

GABLE COMPANY IS FINED $5,000,000

Venezuelan Court Finds Corporation Guilty of Aiding in Matos Revolution.

Caracas, Venezuela, Sept. 3.—After more than three years the legal procedure of the civil court of the first instance of Caracas, has delivered a judgment in the sensational case of the French Cable company. The company has been found guilty of complicity in the Matos revolution in 1903 and fined $5,000,000. Other damages are also assessed. This trial has been even more startling than that against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, which also resulted in a $5,000,000 fine, because it reached far beyond the high officials of the Cable company in Paris. It is Venezuela's claim that the French government itself extended support to General Matos.

CHANGE OF WIND SAVES FAMOUS CALIFORNIA GROVE

Sonora, Calif., Sept. 3.—Reports from the big tree section today indicate that the forest fire has been turned away from the Calaveras grove, which it is now believed, has been saved, though some damage was done before the work of the fire fighters proved effective. Unless the wind should change and send the flames in the direction of the grove again, all danger of its destruction is thought to have passed.

GREAT BRITAIN HOLDING ALOOF

Not in a Hurry to Recognize Mulai Hafig

CANNOT BREAK PROMISES

New Sultan of Morocco Must Carry Out Obligations to European Powers

London, Sept. 3.—The British government is holding aloof from Mulai Hafig, the new sultan of Morocco, for the present, but proposes to recognize him in due time. British officials are irritated by the course adopted by Germany, which is regarded as an attempt to gain influence over the good will of Mulai Hafig, by stealing a march on the other powers. Consultations are going on between England, France and Spain and there is no doubt but that the two former will act together and probably insist that Mulai Hafig give promises to carry out the obligations of Morocco to the European powers before they recognize him.

Germany Denies "Butting In."
Berlin, Sept. 3.—The action taken by Germany, concerning Morocco, it was explained today, is limited to a suggestion to the signers of the Algerias act that the time has arrived to recognize Mulai Hafig as sultan of Morocco. Official wonderment is expressed at the agitation in French and English newspapers over the occurrence.

AERONAUT FALLS 500 FEET AND IS KILLED

Waterville, Me., Sept. 3.—In full view of 25,000 horrified spectators assembled on the Central Maine fair grounds here late yesterday afternoon, Charles Oliver Jones, a well known aeronaut of Hammondport, New Hampshire, fell a distance of 500 feet to his death. Among those who witnessed the frightful death of the aeronaut were Mrs. Jones and child, and they were almost the first to reach the dying man. The aeronaut died about an hour and a half after the accident.

RAILROAD COMPANY IS BLAMED FOR WRECK

Valentine, Neb., Sept. 3.—The coroner's jury in the case of the three stockmen killed Sunday night in a freight wreck near Kilgore, returned the following verdict:
"In our opinion the accident was caused through the criminal negligence of the railway officials, trainmen and the train dispatcher on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad." The wreck was the result of a rear-end collision, the stockmen being in the caboose.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President—William Howard Taft, of Ohio
For Vice-President—James Schoolcraft Sherman, of New York
For Delegate to Sixty-first Congress—W. H. Andrews.
For Member of Council From Santa Fe and Sandoval Counties—T. B. Catron
For Member of the House From Santa Fe and Sandoval Counties—E. A. Miera

COMMON SENSE VIEW.

A very sensible and well written editorial under the heading, "Common Sense View," describing the political situation and giving cogent and very strong reasons why the Hon. W. H. Andrews, the Republican candidate for delegate to the Sixty-first Congress should be elected appeared in the last issue of the Roswell Register-Tribune. The editorial really contains a great deal of common sense and its heading is correct. It should have weight with the voters of the territory regardless of politics. It reads:

"The Register-Tribune has been much impressed by the feeling which was everywhere apparent on the recent trip of the editor to the Republican territorial convention, and which is gathered by perusal of all the newspapers of the territory not blinded by partisanship, which prompts the general common sense consideration of the candidacy of William H. Andrews for re-election to Congress.

"This was strongly evident at the convention itself, to which many delegations came instructed for other candidates, every one of them strong men. Even under this natural and enforced bias, these men freely admitted that the election of Andrews to succeed himself would be the best thing that could happen to the territory from the point of accomplishment. Most of the supporters of Andrews refused to consider the matter in any other light, truthfully arguing that the matter of personality amounts to little in securing all that can be gotten for the Sunshine Territory, and that it is the part of wisdom to select the man who can do most.

"There is no question that Andrews is the man. His long familiarity with the process of legislation at Washington, his acquaintance with public men and methods, his standing with the great Pennsylvania delegation in both houses, his ability to forward legislation beneficial to his people, could only be attained by years of practical experience. Without them, a delegate from New Mexico could do nothing, and the territory could hope for nothing at the hands of the national Congress.

"Comparisons are natural. Suppose Larrazolo were elected. He would go to Washington with no experience whatever in legislative matters, no knowledge of public men, without anything except an admitted gift of oratory to help him. He would have no allies in either house, no friends to help in cases where he could do nothing by himself. Committee rooms would be opened with reluctance, and what little he got would be accomplished only by persistent effort, which has never been a feature of the man and which in truth would amount to little in a Congress whose majority was overwhelmingly of opposite politics. All hope of statehood would be gone from the day of his election, and the labor of years in this direction would count for nothing.

"This phase of the matter should be carefully considered by every citizen of the territory between now and election day. The election of delegate should be made a calm matter of business rather than of politics. The welfare of New Mexico should come before politics with every patriot and were the position of the men reversed the proposition would be the same.

"From the standpoint of plain common sense, New Mexico can not afford to do other than re-elect W. H. Andrews as delegate to Congress."

From Roswell come reports that many of the Democrats of Chaves county are very much dissatisfied with the Democratic legislative and county nominations and with the Democratic platform and may vote for Republican candidates for office. Conditions there are not at all favorable and many prominent Democrats are greatly inclined to support Republican candidates in order to teach the Democratic bosses who control things there a greatly needed lesson. The Roswell Register-Tribune describes the situation thusly:

"The Democrats who are disgusted with the present state of affairs in Chaves county have a remedy at hand which hundreds of them will take hold of, and that is to vote for a clean ticket that really represents the people, at which no such instrument as the Democratic primary platform could be aimed. In self respect, many of them have no other course, and their determination to vote the Republican ticket is the correct and manly thing."

TO DISCUSS NATIONAL FOREST CONDITIONS.

Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, has arranged to be in Denver on the 28th inst., for the purpose of consulting with the Chamber of Commerce and to discuss national forest matters and conditions at a public meeting. The subject is one of great importance also to New Mexico where there are extensive national forests and the better matters and conditions connected with them are understood the better for all concerned. Referring to Mr. Pinchot's visit and the public discussion in Denver, the Republican of that city says:

"The meeting has been called by the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of giving opportunity for a full discussion of a subject of great interest to the people of this state and also in order that Mr. Pinchot may have an opportunity to explain matters which if better understood would be subjected to little criticism.

"It is doubtful if the most strenuous opponent of the forestry policy would deny that much good has already been accomplished. At first vigorous opposition was encountered by Mr. Pinchot and his corps of assistants, but it came largely from men who did not understand the purpose of the service or who failed to appreciate how it would work out for the good of all concerned. In the course of time many critics have learned that the purpose of the bureau is entirely in harmony with the welfare of the state and that all legitimate interests will be protected.

"People who live near the forest reserves and come in contact with the service may feel more keenly than others the friction to which it sometimes gives rise. Enforcement of the rules with which during many years of residence in the mountains they did not have to comply, has caused irritation, and in some cases the conclusion has been drawn that the bureau has little regard for the wishes of the people.

"Fuller information concerning Mr. Pinchot's policy would remove many of these fears and turn numerous opponents into friends. Hence the benefits which will flow from a frank discussion of all phases of the subject with Mr. Pinchot himself. The men who are disposed to find fault will be given full opportunity to present their complaints, and friends who have observed defects will be given like opportunity to suggest changes which they may think desirable. At the same time Mr. Pinchot will be able to explain many matters respecting which the public is not fully informed. He may also conclude that some of the complaints are well founded and that reforms are needed.

"It should prove to be an interesting meeting and productive of much good in many ways. Much will be accomplished if the adverse critics are led to see that the forestry service is one with which the country can work in perfect harmony. That this is highly probable does not admit of question when it is considered that practically every man in the state approves the policy of preserving the growing timber and of promoting reforestation so far as it may be practicable."

THEY SHOULD FORGET PARTY LINES.

From many parts of the territory come reliable news from leading Democrats that many of the rank and file of the "unterrified" Democracy will vote for Delegate W. H. Andrews for re-election, not because they intend to embrace the Republican faith but because they want statehood and they understand very well that Larrazolo's success means the defeat of that project while the election of Andrews in all human probability means the passage of the bill for an enabling act for New Mexico now pending in the Sixtieth Congress. Referring to this state of affairs the Raton Range says:

"Republicans would be surprised if we should print for your delightful approval the names of leading Democrats in Colfax county who declare their intention to cast a vote for statehood this fall—a vote for Mr. Andrews. We call them 'leading Democrats' advisedly for they are leaders and will bring their following with them. They are leaders in citizenship, in business and in patriotism, and they will no more become Republicans than the white man became black when he freed the negro. They are men of integrity, men of quality and they will join hands and vote with you for the common uplift involved in statehood. They shrink from the representation now being made a Democratic issue in New Mexico because, first, they are proud citizens, then Democrats. "Good Democrats as exist have in the last few days accepted this view and will vote for Mr. Andrews, the Republican nominee, not, perhaps for Mr. Andrews as a man, but as a means to an end. This is judgment, this is political finesse of the highest order and statehood so secured these far-sighted daring men will then take up party lines as rigidly as they may and in an honest, fair fight prove the supremacy of their party if such be their strength. Forget party lines, gentlemen, and when the real goal is won to the victor shall belong the spoils."

"TIS A PITY BUT IT IS TRUE."

The people of Fort Collins, Colorado, are raising funds to construct a scenic highway from the town into the neighboring mountains. Canon City, in the same state, has spent thousands of dollars for the same purpose, and the greatest attractions of Colorado Springs are its many fine drives to surrounding canons and mountains. For every dollar spent in permanent road work, those towns are reaping a hundred dollars' worth of tourist business. Santa Fe has demonstrated, or rather Mayor Jose D. Sena, has shown by the beautiful Tesuque wagon road, constructed through his efforts and under his supervision, what one energetic man can do for a community in building good roads. Unfortunately, Santa Fe's finest scenic highway up the canon and over the Dalton Divide is uncompleted and falling into disreputable decay although $20,000 has been expended upon its construction and its completion would be the biggest advertisement that the Territory of New Mexico could have in various ways, and the best drawing card for tourist business that the railroads and the city would have in their full pack. The fault for this disgraceful condition is not hard to place for had the people of the town aroused themselves to the necessity and desirability of completing the road, it is certain, it would be finished to the Pecos long before this. Had the board of county commissioners taken the interest and extended the material aid that the situation demanded, the road would be traveled today by hundreds of tourists each month and the railroad systems would be advertising it as one of the wonders of the Southwest that no traveler should miss. The only hope, that remains, besides an awakening of public sentiment, and the energy of local residents, is that the territorial authorities have pride enough in the first territorial good roads undertaking and experiment to employ convicts at road making, to complete the line as already planned between Santa Fe and Las Vegas and that before the next legislative assembly adjourns.

The Grady Record is of the opinion that with the election of Delegate W. H. Andrews statehood is sure to come. It remarks editorially upon this question:

"Hon. William H. Andrews, the present delegate to Congress, was nominated on the first ballot at the Republican convention in Santa Fe on August 18th, having received 116 votes against 64. Andrews will be returned to Congress as sure as New Mexico is a territory, but it won't be a territory long after he gets back to Washington. As soon as he meets with the Congressmen at the first session, he will go to work on statehood, and it will not be but a few months until we have the right and privilege of saying the state of New Mexico. Elect Hon. W. H. Andrews on November 3, 1908 and we sure will have statehood before the next Fourth of July. Vote for Andrews."

"The Sights of Santa Fe," the pamphlet issued recently at its own expense by the New Mexican Printing company to the number of 5,000 copies, is being distributed rapidly and is doing this city and county great good. The Belen Tribune referring to the brochure says:

"We have received a copy of 'The Sights of Santa Fe' with compliments of the New Mexican Printing company. The pamphlet is gotten up in handy size and is replete with valuable information in regard to the many attractive sights of the city of Santa Fe and vicinity. Its composition is excellent and the presswork is a credit to the New Mexican Printing company. We could handle a dozen copies with good effect if we had them, 'Sabe'?"

The Carrizozo Outlook believes that Larrazolo cannot be elected and puts its opinion in the following rather neat editorial language:

"Now that the Republicans have held their convention and have chosen as their candidate their old delegate, W. H. Andrews, the campaign is opened for the Republicans as well as the Democrats and Larrazolo, the 'Noisy Spaniard,' can be more explicit in his denunciation of his opponent. The 'N. S.' may talk until his teeth are loose and until Bill Bryan ceases to aspire to the presidency, but he can never make enough people groggy to allow of his election to the office he aspires to."

Good old Vermont rolled up a majority of 30,000 for the Republican state ticket last Tuesday. This was about as high as expected and as calculated by the Republican campaign managers. The Green Mountain state is as loyal and as true to Republican party principles as it was forty years ago.

TOUCHING EULOGY ON LIFE OF LATE JUDGE M'MILLAN

Chief Justice William J. Mills, of the Supreme Court, Pays High Tribute to His Memory.

No higher tribute could have been paid a man than that which Chief Justice William J. Mills of the Supreme Court paid to the memory of the late Judge Daniel H. McMillan, before the New Mexico Bar Association Tuesday morning, when eulogies upon deceased members of the Association during the past year were in order. Having sat on the bench with Judge McMillan, Judge Mills was particularly well fitted to pronounce the eulogy. He said:

"Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen: I have been requested, doubtless because I am Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of this Territory, to say a few words as a tribute to the memory of one, with whom I sat on the bench of the Supreme Court of New Mexico for several years, and who has passed away since the last meeting of the Bar Association.

"I know that I am but ill equipped to perform this loving duty and that there are many others who could have been selected who would have done it with far more ability and eloquence than myself, and yet, there are few men who esteemed Judge McMillan more than I, or who would have gone farther to aid and assist him, than myself.

"It is a strange provision of what for a better term we may call the Law of Nature, that everything upon this earth both animate and inanimate, must have an end, and that at the best the life of every animate thing is but of brief duration, while the existence of even inanimate things, when compared to eternity, are a nothing. Science teaches us that even the earth, which is apparently so solid and bound to endure forever, is living its life, and that in time it will be uninhabitable by men, and that it will probably disintegrate and pass away. Of all living beings, man is easily the superior and comes first, owing to the fact that he is not guided by mere instinct but can reason, can judge of cause and effect, and knows the difference between right and wrong. Brute creatures are subject to his will, and such of them as have the strength and other necessary qualities, are tamed and subjected to his bidding. But even though man is so immeasurably superior to the brute creation, yet our finite minds are so weak that we cannot understand why we are given life, almost made divine and brought upon the earth to have some happiness and to suffer pain and sorrow, to toil and labor, and after so brief a time to pass away, to return again to the elements from which we were originally created.

The Dead Are Not Forgotten.
And yet, although we all know that we are so soon to pass away and join those who have already gone before, there is something, I know not what, deeply implanted in the breast of every human being, which prompts us to remember the friends and associates with whom we have been intimately connected in this transitory life, and not allow their memories to be forgotten. This is a good trait in man and should be commended by all.

"We cling to the memory of those with whom we have been intimately associated, either socially or in business, with the tenacity of the vine encircling the forest tree, and their actions, words and virtues linger in our memories long after they have passed away and their mortal bodies are moulding in their silent graves.

"So it is with us today. We are met to do tribute to the memory of one who for many years was a member of our Supreme Court; whose life had always been an active one, and who was cut off unexpectedly in the prime of his manhood, when he had so much to live for, and when he could have done so much to aid and assist in the upbuilding of humanity and in the developing of our territory.

"Daniel Hugh McMillan, as his name would indicate, was of Scotch ancestry, but for several generations before his birth his ancestors had lived in what is now the United States. His grandfather, John, was quite prominent in the latter part of the eighteenth century in the beautiful Mohawk Valley, in central New York. Judge McMillan was the son of Daniel and Margaret McMillan, and was born in the town of York, Livingston county, New York, on March 7th, 1846. He was educated at the common schools of York, and at Le Roy Academy, and later, in the years 1868 and 1869, attended Cornell University. He was a member of the first class which graduated from that institution of learning.

"After leaving Cornell he moved to Buffalo, and entered the law office of Lansing, Cleveland and Folsom, one of the members of which firm was afterwards twice elected president of the United States, and which was then one of the leading law firms of western New York. In this office he pursued his studies of the law, and in 1872, he passed the State Bar examination and was admitted to the practice of his chosen profession.

Practiced Law With Cleveland
"Shortly after his admission to the Bar he became a member of the firm of Lansing, Gluck and McMillan, which firm afterwards became McMillan, Gluck, Pooley and DePew. This firm was local counsel for the New York Central, Lake Shore, Michigan Central and West Shore Railroad companies, and it is needless to say that its practice was both large and lucrative.

"On the 9th day of October, 1872, the same year that he was admitted to the Bar, Judge McMillan married Delphia Jackson, of Arcade, New York and by this union five children were born, Morton Kemper, Maud Dunreath, Laning Ross, Ethel Winthrop and Dwight Douglas, but Maud, Ethel and Dwight died when very young, so that only the two sons, who are usually known as Morton and Ross, are now alive. They are both promising young men and reside in this territory, and are connected with the United States Forest Reserves.

"Many of us have the pleasure of knowing the widow of our deceased friend, who is still alive, and who is a most accomplished, charming and attractive woman.

"During the thirty-six years that they lived together the married life of this well-mated couple was a happy one, as they advised with each other on important matters and leaned on and supported each other in the various troubles which we all have to encounter, and sincerely loved, as every married couple should.

Prominent in New York.

"Judge McMillan was of an active temperament and as he was an able and upright man he of course became prominent in the great city of Buffalo, where he lived the best years of his life, and in the state of New York. He was elected as a Republican to the State Senate from the City of Buffalo, and served in the years 1885 to 1887, in that body. He was renominated in 1887, when his election was assured, but declined the nomination. He was manager of the Buffalo State Asylum for ten years, from 1884 to 1894; trustee of the State Normal School from 1887 to 1890; law examiner, for admission to the Bar, Fifth judicial department, 1883-1894; member Republican State Central committee of New York in 1887; vice-president State Bar Association, 1887-1889; alternate delegate-at-large to the national Republican conventions held in Chicago in 1888, and in Minneapolis in 1892; was a delegate at large to the constitutional convention of New York state which revised and amended the constitution of that state and was also a member of the Buffalo and Liberal clubs, the Chi Psi Fraternity, the Consistory and the Temple.

"The work of attending to the duties placed upon him by the many positions which he held, as well as attending to several large estates of which he was trustee, and of looking after his growing practice, finally told upon him, for Judge McMillan was never a robust man, and his health gave out, and he came West, hoping that in our dry, pure and salubrious air his health might be restored, so that he could again take up active work in his profession.

His Health Failed.

"His health did not return as he had hoped, and he was obliged to retire from his law firm in Buffalo, and on the 18th day of December, 1900, he was appointed by President William McKinley, an associate justice of the Supreme Court of this territory, and was assigned to what was then the Third judicial district, with headquarters at Socorro. Judge McMillan remained on the bench for about three years, and while I never heard him try a case in the district court, I can say that in all matters which were before the Supreme Court, he was a hard and painstaking worker, and that he conscientiously tried to decide every case that came before us for hearing, according as he believed the law and right to be, and without regard to any person or thing. I say, and I believe that the other members of our court, who were on the bench with Judge McMillan, will bear me out in the statement, that he was of very great assistance in our work, and that we all deeply regretted when he retired from the bench. After leaving the bench, Judge McMillan lived for a time in Socorro and Las Cruces, in this territory, and then moved to Denver, Colorado, where he died on June 2nd, of the present year, a little over sixty-two years of age.

"Judge McMillan was an astute and learned lawyer. He was well grounded in the principles of our profession, without thoroughly knowing which, no one can hope to or should make a success at the Bar. Having acted for so many years as the advisor of railroads and corporations, as was natural, his forte was corporation and railroad law, in which subjects he had no superiors, and but few equals in our territory, which is saying a good deal, for I believe that the Bar of New Mexico will compare favorably with that of any state or territory in the union.

"I am told by those who have heard him try cases before juries, and argue them before appellate courts, that when he was in good health he could stand up in the rough and tumble of a legal controversy and return sarcasm with sarcasm, witicism with witicism, and amply protect the legal rights of his client.

"In religion Judge McMillan professed the Presbyterian faith, but he never tried to force his religious views on others, but rather sought to influence them by the force of his example into following the paths of righteousness, which leads to peace of mind, happiness and contentment.

A Great Lover of Books.

"One of the marked characteristics of our departed friend was his fondness for books. He had a marked bent towards literature, and if he had taken up writing as a profession, I am certain that he would have achieved great success, and that he would have left works which would have caused his name to be remembered and honored by future generations.

"His greatest liking was for the works of the Scottish authors. The voluminous writings of Walter Scott, he admired greatly; and he could talk most entertainingly for hours, of the heroes and heroines, and the scenes and incidents, so vividly portrayed by that great author, so that it was a pleasure to listen to him. His conversation almost brought us face to face with Ivanhoe, Isaac the Jew, Rebecca his daughter, Guy Mannering, Rob

Roy, and the countless other characters whose lives and doings Scott so graphically portrayed.

"Perhaps his favorite was Robert Burns, the Scotch Bard, nearly all of whose poems he knew by heart, and whose sweet and pathetic songs particularly appealed to the poetic side of Judge McMillan's nature. Judge McMillan had prepared a lecture on Burns, which was an able literary production, and he frequently gave it to help along deserving charities, which appealed to him for aid and assistance. He rendered the Scotch dialect so well, that I much preferred to listen to him read or recite the words of Burns, rather than to read them myself.

"Judge McMillan was my friend, as I am sure he was the friend of us all, and we are sorry that he has been called away, and that we have lost him from our midst; but in our sorrow we must remember that each of us will soon be called upon to follow in his steps. Death shows no favoritism. The riches of an empire cannot bribe the grim destroyer or stay his hand, nor is any one so abjectly poor, miserable or lowly, as to be passed over or overlooked when his time has come.

"Let us then be ever prepared, as Judge McMillan doubtless was, so that when death calls, we may be ready to obey the summons, and pass over the dark river without fear and without trembling, and meet our Creator in the bright and happy land beyond the grave, there to be judged as to how we have lived our life upon earth and what use we have made of the talents which each of us have to some extent been endowed."

"Who needs a teacher to admonish him? That flesh is grass, that earthly things are mist? What are our joys but dreams? and what our hopes? But goodly shadows in the summer cloud? There's not a wind that blows, but bears with it Some rainbow promise—not a moment flies, But puts its sickles in the fields of life And mows its thousands, with their joys and cares."

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Sloop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the failing "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by The Ireland's Pharmacy.

Are You on Good Terms With Your Stomach?

Treat it right—its your best friend. Abuse it —and you'll find there's a limit. When the limit is reached, the stomach must rest. Kodol rests it.

That is what Kodol is for. The stomach cannot stop work; if it did you would stop existing. It cannot even take a vacation and "rest up"—except when it has Kodol to assist it.

Very likely you never gave a thought to how hard your stomach works. Most people don't until they have to. Sometimes, though, it costs less to do a little thinking before one has to.

Even the galley-slave of the ancients rested—at intervals. But the stomach of modern man works harder than the galley-slave, and it never rests—of itself.

Kodol, of course, will rest the stomach, but that is something nature didn't provide for. If people now-a-days lived the way nature intended, it wouldn't have been necessary to provide for it. But they don't—that's the trouble.

Better keep on good terms with your stomach, if you can. Your health depends absolutely upon the perfect performance of the stomach's functions. Ever think of that—or why it is true?

The human body is composed of certain chemical elements. These are combined to form substances such as fat, protein, carbohydrates, mineral matter and water.

The food we eat is composed of exactly these elements. The stomach must disintegrate this food and correctly apportion it to the needs of the system. Look like a lot of work for the stomach, doesn't it? No wonder it occasionally needs Kodol to help it do this.

The person who has the kind of a stomach that can do its own work continuously, without assistance has a good deal to be thankful for. Most people haven't that kind. That is why they require Kodol.

Kodol will do all the stomach's work for it, when necessary—giving it a period of complete rest. The rest that restores health. That's how Kodol cures indigestion—which is merely a good digestion "gone wrong."

People used to think that when they had indigestion they should stop eating or limit themselves to a prescribed diet. Others commenced purging with cathartics. All that is very disagreeable and unpleasant. Also, it isn't necessary.

Starvation or purging doesn't cure anything. Kodol doesn't cure anything either—but shows nature the right road, in short order. Kodol merely establishes complete and perfect digestion. It does this by digesting every particle of the food. The stomach then rests and cures itself. That is what was intended when Kodol was made. It couldn't be any other way.

Kodol is quite indispensable to a good many persons. To all, in fact, who haven't time in their daily lives for a careful selection of foods and diet. It very quickly enables nature to rectify any disagreeable effects of wrong eating.

The Saving Habit

If you are tardy, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum. The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Santa Fe Meat and Live-stock company in this issue. This firm handles everything in the meat and produce line.

The Board of Education reports that about two hundred children have been vaccinated during the week, but that at least that many more should be and must be vaccinated before they can enter school. The school board is desirous that parents look after the vaccination of their children at once.

There will be a complete change of program at the opera house tonight. Among the feature films tonight are the "Raffles, the Gentleman Burglar," the "Troublesome Theft," and "Our Dog Friends." The illustrated song is, "Are You Sincere?" For the present vaudeville will not be given until the "six city" circuit has been established. Until then the prices will be as before, only 10 and 20 cents.

The sky was overcast throughout most of the day yesterday by low clouds moving from a southerly direction, the sun having shone only at short intervals. A sprinkle of rain occurred from 7:13 to 7:35 p. m. The maximum temperature was 70 degrees at 3:40 p. m., and the minimum temperature was 53 degrees at 6:30 a. m. The average relative humidity for the day was 68 per cent. The temperature at 6 a. m., today was 56 degrees.

A series of eight pictorial postal cards, illustrating an exterior view of San Miguel's church, as well as the Old House nearby, have been printed, as well as the historical lecture by Brother David of Saint Michael's College to visitors to the ancient landmarks. This lecture, quaint and sincere in its terms, preserves the Spanish and Catholic traditions of the founding of Santa Fe, which differ somewhat from those of the more critical modern historians, who set the date of the founding of Santa Fe sixty-five years later than do the traditions, to which Brother David alludes in his lecture. The little pamphlet as well as the post cards are an excellent advertisement of Santa Fe and should attract many tourists.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. NEW MEXICO REPORTS VOLUME NUMBER 13

Just Issued From Press of New Mexican Printing Company—Essential to Every Attorney.

Volume 13, of the reports of cases argued and determined in the supreme court of New Mexico is now ready for distribution among the members of the bar. No law library in New Mexico is complete without it and no practicing attorney is absolutely necessary. Justices of the peace, U. S. commissioners, court officials and all others who are interested in the interpretation of the law, especially the New Mexico law, by the highest court of the territory should have the volume at their elbow. It is compiled by Judge A. J. Abbott, the supreme court reporter, and federal attorney for the Pueblo Indians, and his experience on the bench, as practicing attorney and as the author of previous volumes of Reports, assures that volume 13 has been carefully edited and indexed. The typographical work and binding is by the New Mexican Printing company which is being complimented upon the fact that it is the best printed and best bound volume of New Mexico Reports thus far issued. The price per volume, $2.70, is lower than that of any previous volume. To this 30 cents should be added for postage, if volume is ordered by mail. The edition is limited and orders will be filled in the sequence of their receipt.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF AGONY.

Will You Continue to Suffer From Catarrh in the Face of This Testimony?

"I suffered for fifteen years with catarrhal troubles so bad that I had to leave the sea. I could not lie down at night to sleep, on account of the constant catarrhal dropping. I went to two different hospitals for treatment, but without any lasting benefit. I was constantly raising yellow and green phlegm, and the trouble was so unbearable and nauseating that I was ashamed to go out in company. I have used only two bottles of Hyomei, and have been cured by the remedy. It has made full and complete recovery."

Capt. WILLNEF.

Hyomei is a dry, healing, antiseptic air, extracted from the Eucalyptus groves of Australia. It is a pleasure to use Hyomei, because you do not take it into the stomach; you simply breathe it in this germ-killing air, and relief is immediate, and complete recovery comes in a few days. Hyomei outfit, including an inhaler that will last a lifetime, costs $1.00. If it does not cure your catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, coughs or colds, The Ireland Pharmacy will give you your money back.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore."

writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." Stanley, N. M., Sept. 3.—W. C. Asher brought in some good looking ore this week found about ten miles north of Stanley. The ore, which shows both lead and silver, was found in numerous outcroppings in that region, the main ledge of which will undoubtedly prove a rich strike when found.

Just in time with kidney ills Means curing the back.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is Santa Fe testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Agripina D. de Gonzales, living on Lincoln avenue, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "My sister who was in a very critical condition from kidney complaint was cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. For some time she was attended by two physicians and the verdict given by them was that she could not be cured. Furthermore, they stated that she would not live more than a month or so. Doan's Kidney Pills coming to her notice she procured a supply and the result was as above stated. About six months ago I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Ireland's Pharmacy for backache which had clung to me for some time and by spells and caused me a good deal of suffering. The use of one box had sufficed to rid me of the trouble."

The Nance boys have unloaded their threshing rig at Melrose and are now threshing north of town. The yield is reported from ten to seventeen bushels per acre. How is that for New Mexico dry farming?

At the Johnson Flats near Nara Visa, Mrs. Stanley, has commenced teaching the youngsters lessons in reading, etc. She announces that the school is free, to any child that will attend regularly and behave properly.

The San Jon correspondent of the Tucumcari News, hits the Socialists in the following words: "The ears of the Socialists must be burning hot these days for the people of the Valley are expressing themselves pretty freely. No one is suffering for food and there is work to be had for all who will work. We are in hopes that the cooler breezes of winter will waft both the Socialists and their doctrines to some other climate and leave our valley in peace."

AUGUST WAS AN IDEAL MONTH

Maximum Temperature Only 86 Degrees, While Average Was But 66 Degrees.

The total rainfall at Santa Fe during the month of August was only 2.74 inches against four to eight inches in other parts of the territory. The average temperature, according to the Weather Bureau in this city, was only 66 degrees; the maximum recorded having been only 86 degrees, while the minimum was 50 degrees and there was not a single day that the minimum exceeded 58 degrees or went below 50 degrees, certainly a remarkable record of equitableness in climate that is hard to surpass. The greatest daily range in temperature was merely 29 degrees and occurred on August 9, while the least range was 13 degrees and occurred on August 2, which is certainly astounding considering that it includes the dog days. Since New Year there has been a deficiency in the temperature of 263 degrees or about one degree for each day. The heaviest precipitation for any 24 consecutive hours was only .76 of an inch and since New Year there has been an excess over the average in precipitation of .63 of an inch. The prevailing direction of the wind was from the southeast and the total movement for the month 4,737 miles, an average of 6.4 miles with a maximum velocity of only 34 miles per hour. There were three days classed as cloudy but there was not one of the 31 days that had less than 26 per cent of sunshine while the percentage of sunshine for the month was 67. Partly cloudy was the nature of 16 days, and 12 days were classified as clear. There were 15 days on which a trace or more of precipitation occurred. The mean relative humidity for the month was 65 per cent, 79 per cent at 6 a. m., and 50 per cent at 6 p. m. The average maximum temperatures were 77.2 degrees, and the mean minimum 54.8 degrees. The mean atmospheric pressure was 29.89; the highest 30.09 on August 1, and the lowest 29.69 on August 6.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. Angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle.

The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass is such that she looks forward with dread to the hour when she shall feel the thrill of motherhood. Every woman should know that the danger and pain of child-birth can be avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, which renders pliable all the parts, assisting nature in its work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this crisis in safety.
