THE FRUITFUL MESILLA VALLEY

One of the Garden Spots of the South- west

LAND VALUES ARE SOARING

Martin Lohman, Paints a Glowing Picture of Its Future

Hon. Martin Lohman, of Las Cruces, a successful and respected merchant and land owner and president of the board of trustees of his town, has been in the city several days a guest at the Palace hotel. He has been attending the sessions of the Territorial Board of Equalization of which he is a valuable member. Mr. Lohman came to New Mexico as a bookkeeper in a large mercantile establishment in La Mesilla nearly three and a half decades ago and has grown up with the town, county and territory. He has been for many years and is today one of the leading and most influential Republicans of his county and a highly respected and prosperous citizen. He is thoroughly acquainted with conditions in the territory and especially with those of his city and county, being a close observer of public affairs and events, having been a daily reader of the New Mexican since the day he reached La Mesilla.

Cantaloupe Raising Profitable Industry

"Conditions of all kinds," said Mr. Lohman, "are very prosperous and satisfactory in our fruitful valley. This is the first year in which our cantaloupe raisers have grown cantaloupes in anything like large quantities and shipped them to Eastern markets. The Mesilla Valley cantaloupe which has been raised is superior in flavor, taste and keeping qualities to the best La Junta and Greeley cantaloupe. During this season about seventy carloads have been shipped to the large Eastern cities. They have brought the growers a handsome return, netting them from $1.20 to $1.50 per crate. A carload contains from 325 to 350 crates. The cars are of the refrigerator kind and the cantaloupe is in fine condition when it reaches the places of destination. During next year I fully believe cantaloupes will be shipped in greater numbers than even this year. Cantaloupe lands have trebled and quadrupled in value during the past twelve months. Of alfalfa a fine crop is being raised but at this time it is rather low priced, bringing only eight dollars per ton and the yield is from four to five tons per acre. We have an abundance of fruit but the growers are not able to market their great crop to advantage because we have no shipping facilities for carload lots this year, but this we hope to secure next year, then the farmers will increase the revenue from their lands. There is not much wheat raised, but corn and garden vegetables are produced in abundance and are bringing goodly figures, especially beans and onions. One of our farmers made sixteen hundred dollars from two acres of onions this summer. The onion crop is great and valuable and it has a ready market. Next year I believe our farmers will raise and sell many carloads of onions."

Land Values Soaring.

"Our little city is increasing rapidly in population and wealth. Real estate and lots within the limits of the city have advanced in some cases five and ten fold and orchard and farm lands have increased in value greatly. I know of tracts which during the past twelve months sold for ten and twenty times the sum they would have brought three years ago. In fact I have been fortunate myself and cleared in a comparatively short time a handsome sum. Many others have done likewise."

"We have two banks, both doing a fine business, three school houses, one of them a three-story brick building erected two years ago at a cost of $17,000. Since I was elected president of the town council we have graded the streets, and constructed several miles of cement sidewalks and we are keeping up these improvements. We have an electric light and telephone system and we soon hope to have a good waterworks system. People who desire to make their homes in our town and vicinity are arriving constantly. Many of them are well to do and are investing in lots in the town and farm and orchard lands in the valley."

Ample Water Supply.

"The water supply this year, as a result of the Leasburg diversion dam, has been more than ample and there has been no scarcity of water whatever. More and more land is being put under irrigation and although it was told us that the financial panic and hard times struck many states, in our

CARRIE NATION CALLS ON TAFT

Demands That He Discuss Liquor Question

JUDGE SMILINGLY DECLINES

After Delivering Loud Harangue She Leaves—Visit Was Unexpected.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, without her hatchet, called on Judge William H. Taft today and was admitted into the spacious hall of the Charles P. Taft residence by the Judge himself.

"You know me?" she demanded, without any preliminary introduction.

The candidate admitted that from the public prints he had seen in the newspapers that he knew who Mrs. Nation was.

"Well, I have come here to have a discussion with you on the liquor question," was her next remark.

"You will have to excuse me from entering upon any discussion with you," was Judge Taft's half-smiling reply.

Whereupon Mrs. Nation began one of her characteristic harangues against the drink evil, not overlooking the condemnation of all those who do not go valiantly to work and reform things as she believes they should be.

Judge Taft modestly backed away and Mrs. Nation seemingly somewhat awed with what he was doing, backed her way out of the door and the interview was thus abruptly ended.

Busy Preparing Speeches. With the strenuous speaking itinerary of Judge Taft decided upon, the time intervening before he leaves here on the first trip of the campaign will be devoted largely to the preparation of numerous important speeches he is to deliver in the West. That this work may be expedited, Judge Taft will spend the greater part of each day at the residence of his brother, Charles P. Taft, where he will avoid many callers who constantly haunt headquarters at his hotel.

VIOLENT DECLINES IN STOCKS OCCUR

Political Scare is Blamed for Breaks

MUCH DISORDER RESULTS

Considerable Unloading and Selling at Times Appeared to Be Heavy.

New York, Sept. 17.—Violent declines in prices occurred on the Stock Exchange this afternoon, the declines amounting from two to five points in active issues. There was a great deal of disorder incident to the unloading of stocks and the selling at times appeared to be heavy. Explanations for the selling and lower prices varied. One report was that the situation came about as a result of a political scare, resulting from recent interviews with prominent financiers who express dissatisfaction with the Wall Street viewpoint of the political outlook in the West. Harriman Pacifics and Reading stocks were the most seriously affected.

CAPITAL OF PHILIPPINES HAS CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

Manila, P. I., Sept. 17.—The number of cases of cholera showed a decrease yesterday, encouraging the officials who hope they can clean up the city before the arrival of the Atlantic battleship fleet. Chemical engines of the fire department are being used to disinfect the houses and experiments alone this line are said to be successful. Thirty-one cases of cholera have been reported in this city at the present time, and the death record so far is placed at twelve.

CHICAGO AT MERCY OF FOG

Cause of Many Ac- cidents, Some Fatal

TRAFFIC BADLY INTERRUPTED

Trains Could Not See Signals Because of the Dense Mist —Finally Lifted.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—A dense fog covering Chicago and its environs handicapped the transportation companies early today and was responsible for several fatal and a number of minor accidents. Through passenger trains slowed up and suburban car service was delayed on all roads through the inability of the trainmen to distinguish signals. An interurban car from Aurora crashed into an elevated train on the Oak Park incline, injuring several passengers. Three crossing accidents due to a fog were reported to the police during the early hours. In one of them, a peddler was seriously injured by being thrown from his wagon in a collision with a street car.

While the Duluth Limited on the Chicago and Northwestern railway was waiting for a signal to proceed into the city yards, a suburban train crashed into the rear end. Half a dozen persons on the suburban train were injured, one seriously, while the passengers on the Limited escaped with a severe shaking up.

Two laboring men, one on the South Side and another at Gross Park, were run down and killed by railroad trains whose approach was obscured by the dense fog.

At 9 o'clock the weather cleared and no further accidents were reported.

MISS MALONEY IS GRANTED A DIVORCE

Sensational Case Which Furnished Food For the Gossips, Finally Closed.

New York, Sept. 17.—Miss Helen Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, of Philadelphia, was today granted a final divorce, annulling her marriage to Arthur Herbert Osborne of this city. Miss Maloney married Osborne in Mamaroneck about two years ago, the ceremony being performed by a justice of the peace. She remained at home with her parents in Philadelphia until she eloped with Samuel R. Clarkson to Canada from whence the couple went to England. Her father followed her and brought her back to America. Soon afterwards, suit was brought for an annulment of her marriage to Osborne on the ground that it was not valid. A motion to make final the interlocutory decree granted in this suit four months ago was granted by default today. This leaves Miss Maloney free to wed Clarkson now, should she choose to do so.

Herschberger responsible for the powder explosion here on Tuesday, as a result of which twelve persons, including Herschberger, lost their lives and twenty were injured. A number of witnesses testified that Herschberger intentionally threw a lighted match into a small quantity of powder to frighten some negroes. Two of the survivors are in a serious condition and it is not believed they can live.

TERRITORIAL BOARD OF EQUALIZATION FINISHES WORK

GRAZING CHIEF WILL VISIT DENVER SOON

PRESIDENT PLANS FLIGHT IN AIRSHIP

Reported He May Go Up in Aeroplane With Orville Wright Sometime Next Week.

Washington, Sept. 17.—President Roosevelt may make an ascension with Orville Wright, the aeroplane inventor, when he returns next week after the summer vacation he has spent at Oyster Bay.

Mr. Wright, who has made numerous flights at Fort Myer and broken all records, was asked if President Roosevelt would accompany him on a flight upon his return to Washington.

In reply, Wright said he did not know. He would not state positively whether or not the President had asked him to be permitted to go up with him, but he did say that he thought it best that the President should not take the risk.

Wright was reminded that about two years ago President Roosevelt took a trip in a submarine boat at Newport. "Submarine boats and aeroplanes are different propositions," said Wright.

Dozens of people, including army officers, newspaper correspondents and inventors, have been pleading with Wright to make a flight with him. So far, only two persons have gone up, with him since he commenced his trials at Fort Myer.

Each of the ascensions proved to be a success, but Wright does not feel that he should jeopardize the life of the President of the United States. Of course, if the President insists, the request will not be refused.

Mr. Roosevelt weighs more than 200 pounds, which would be quite an addition to Mr. Wright's weight, which is only 150 pounds.

DAMAGE SUIT OCCUPIES COURT

Expected Case of Friday vs. Santa Fe Central Railway Will Go to Jury Late Tomorrow.

The $50,000 damage suit of H. S. Friday against the Santa Fe Central Railway company, still occupies the attention of the United States district court, Judge John R. McFie presiding. The case has been on trial ever since Tuesday morning and thus far eleven witnesses have testified. There are four more witnesses to be heard this afternoon and the case will probably go to the jury tomorrow forenoon or early in the afternoon.

The arguments of the attorneys will probably occupy three or four hours. Colonel George W. Prichard is attorney for Friday and C. F. Easley and Judge N. B. Laughlin are representing the railroad company.

The territorial grand jury is still in session and very likely will not report to the court until Saturday at which time it is expected that it will adjourn.

The territorial petit jury will be empanelled next Monday or Tuesday.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE CAUGHT AT LAS VEGAS

Special to the New Mexican.

Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 17.—Wanted for eleven months for cutting the throat of a man with whose wife he was on much more friendly terms, R. J. Sloan was arrested in this city today by Chief of Police Ben Coles. Sloan was detected in the crowd at the depot as the Norris and Rowe circus train came in and was immediately placed under arrest and rushed to jail. Last October he slashed the throat of William Ashton, when the latter found him in a room with Aston's wife. Ashton was so desperately wounded that he was compelled to hold the gash in his throat together with his fingers while he ran for medical aid.

LABOR LEADER EXAMINED IN ALLEGED CONTEMPT CASE

Washington, Sept. 17.—The taking of testimony in the Gompers-Mitchell-Morrison alleged contempt case in connection with the Buck Stove and Range company, in the anti-boycott proceedings against those officers of the American Federation of Labor, was resumed by Examiner Harper here today. President Gompers was on the stand and was questioned concerning the circulation of the January issue of "The Federationist," the official publication of the organization, which number Gompers has stated was expedited in order that it might be gotten out before the injunction of the court became operative.

WEATHER BUREAU ON TOP OF PIKE'S PEAK

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 17.—Dr. William R. Blaire, of the U. S. Weather Bureau here, began experiments in kite flying from the summit of Pike's Peak at 10 o'clock this morning, preliminary to the establishment of a weather station there. An effort will be made to attain an altitude of 2,000 feet above the summit of the peak or 16,000 feet above the sea level. The government experts believe that weather conditions in the Rocky mountain region may be forecasted with much more accuracy by the use of kites on Pike's Peak.

CANNON DENIES BEING A "CZAR"

Veteran Speaker Explodes Demo- cratic Charge

ON VISIT TO KANSAS

Opens National Campaign in the Sunflower State at Independence.

Independence, Kans., Sept. 17.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the national House of Representatives, made two speeches here yesterday at the opening of the Republican campaign in Kansas. At the afternoon meeting at the Auditorium, Mr. Cannon said that he had been accused of being a "stand-patter." Two years ago he and Congressman P. P. Campbell of Kansas had a conference with President Roosevelt and the President insisted that then was no time to bring on a tariff fight in Congress; that it should be staved off until conditions were more favorable. He (Cannon) helped to stave it off, and yet he said he was the only one to get the blame.

Defends House Rules. At the night meeting Mr. Cannon made a defense of the House rules, declaring the rules of the present House have been substantially the rules of the House under the control of all parties for more than a generation. Prior to the Fifty-first Congress it lay in the power of the minority to indefinitely obstruct the transactions of business by demanding the yeas and nays and then refusing to vote on the call of the roll, thus breaking the quorum.

"This condition of affairs," said the speaker, "finally became intolerable and Speaker Reed inaugurated a new practice. On the call of the roll when less than a quorum was disclosed, for the purpose of making a quorum, the speaker counted present all members actually present, whether they voted or not, and directed that their names be entered upon the journal. Because of this ruling Speaker Reed was denounced as an autocrat, a tyrant and a czar."

Can Depose Speaker.

"It is alleged in the Democratic national platform that the House is under the domination of the speaker, who has entire control of the deliberations and powers of legislation. This is a bold demagogical misstatement of the facts. It is in the power of any member of the House, as a question of the highest privilege, at any time to offer a resolution deposing the speaker of the House, and electing another in his stead, and if a majority favor and vote for the resolution the speaker is ousted from his office. He is the only officer of the government who can be so arbitrarily deposed. Instead of the speaker controlling the House, the House is in complete control of the speaker and without the sustaining force of a majority of its membership, he is powerless to influence its action."

FRUSTRATE BOLD JAIL DELIVERY

Interception of Letter Prevents the Escape of Alleged Mexican Revolutionists.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 17.—According to the authorities at the county jail, where Magoon, Villareal and Rivera, the alleged Mexican revolutionists are confined, a plot to release the men was discovered just in time to frustrate its accomplishment. It is said the men were to have been given their liberty yesterday, on the anniversary of Mexican independence, and that the capture of a letter smuggled out of the jail gave a tip to the officers how the men were to get out of jail. According to the plan they were to be placed aboard a vessel at San Pedro and conveyed out of the country. The three alleged leaders of the Mexican junta are awaiting removal to Arizona for trial and their case is pending in the United States supreme Court.

PUNISHED FOR VIOLATING CIVIL SERVICE RULE

Denver, Sept. 17.—Because he violated the civil service rule which prohibits any political activity of employees of the government, J. H. Rhinehart, a letter carrier attached to the Denver office, is now $200 a year poorer than he would have been had he refrained from meddling into politics. Rhinehart's salary was reduced from $1,100 to $900 a year by the civil service commission. Postmaster Paul J. Souris refused to discuss the matter at all, simply stating that Rhinehart's salary had been reduced for good and sufficient reasons.

WHY LARRAZOLO WILL BE DEFEATED.

The Spanish-American a lively and up-to-date weekly newspaper published at Roy, a flourishing town in a very good agricultural section of Eastern Mora county, gives very cogent and substantial reasons why Octaviano A. Larrazolo, the "Noble Spaniard on the east side of the mountains, and the Pisano on the west side of the mountains, should not and could not be elected on November the third next. The reasons are couched in concise but very convincing English and read:

"First—Andrews is well known in the Capital and has all kinds of friends. Larrazolo, has none, the first mention of his name would be hard to grasp by any of the members of the House of Representatives, it would require time and study to get that right.

"Second—Andrews is now well known all over the territory, the people know his ability and qualifications to do things. Larrazolo is a perfect failure; he never has done anything for himself much less for his own people.

"Third—Andrews election will get us statehood; Larrazolo's election will set us back ten years which means that we will remain helpless that much longer, with no voice in Presidential elections and territorial matters.

"Fourth—Andrews today is the strongest man in the territory, this reputation he has won by getting things for the people of New Mexico. He obtained for old veterans $400,000 annual pensions and $200,000 for public buildings, he obtained $30,000 for the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress, he obtained for the public schools of this territory over $10,000, 000 in lands, by the Lieue Lands bill, Mr. Larrazolo does not tell all these things in his campaign.

"Fifth—Andrews lost San Miguel county by about 1,000 votes two years ago, now he will carry it almost solid, as even those who were for Larrazolo are now for Andrews. The Albuquerque Sun, one of the largest dailies of the Democratic faith published in the largest city in New Mexico, is supporting Delegate Andrews for re-election. Larrazolo for the third time will go down to defeat with the Presidential candidate, William Jennings Bryan. Larrazolo is like a dish of food warmed over once too often.

"Sixth—Andrews is bound to be the next delegate to Congress because the newcomers want statehood and the only way to get it is to send Andrews back to Washington. They are much disgusted with the false promises of the Democrats and tired of the territorial form of government in its present condition. Two years ago these people had no voice in Andrews' election and there are over 10,000 more new votes this election than that of the past. Andrews will win by the greatest majority ever given a delegate to Congress in New Mexico and he will not only get the solid vote of the entire Republican party, but he will be supported by one-fourth of the Democrats. Two years ago Larrazolo created quite a little sympathy among the native voters and managed to get a good many thousand votes from native Republicans who did not vote for Andrews because he was a 'Gringo.' Larrazolo managed to get that vote because he was a Mexican and today there are few who will still vote for him, simply because he is a Mexican."

ANDREWS DOES; LARRAZOLO PROMISES.

The Pecos Valley News, an influential Republican paper, although published in a Democratic county and in the growing town of Artesia, discusses the political situation and the candidacy of Delegate W. H. Andrews on the Republican side and of Octaviano A. Larrazolo on the Democratic side for delegate to the Sixty-first Congress, in an editorial that will appeal to the voters of the territory regardless of party. It is worthy of universal circulation. The statements upon which the editorial is based are true and are well known to well informed and patriotic citizens regardless of party. Says the News:

"What Delegate W. H. Andrews has done for the Territory of New Mexico, is done, and the benefits derived therefrom and will remain for years to come as monuments to the greatest delegate to Congress which New Mexico has had so far. What Larrazolo may do for our territory, remains to be seen, and there are some things hidden behind a veil which the human eye may never behold. New Mexico's grand old man has been howled and railed at from every hamlet and prairie town in the territory, but he has gone quietly on his way, and in spite of the opposition at home and abroad, he has obtained more for the territory both in Congress and among the Eastern capitalists, than any delegate we have ever sent to Washington. It has been said that Andrews is a 'carpetbagger' because he once lived in Pennsylvania. That state is at least in our own country and the most fanatical supporters of Larrazolo cannot deny that he was born in Old Mexico. How is that for a 'carpetbagger'? If it is a fault to move to New Mexico from Pennsylvania, it must be a crime to come here from Mexico, a different country!

"When a man can go into Congress and get $125,000 for a public building in a town the size of Roswell, he must have some merit. Why, that is over $40 apiece for every man, woman and child in Roswell, and you might throw in a few prairie dogs for good measure. Is Congress in the habit of digging up for buildings worth $125,000 for towns of that size? Take a look over the record for the past ten years and see about these things.

"After all the arguments for both men have been used, the whole thing resolves itself to just this point. Andrews does, Larrazolo promises. Do you want deeds or oratory?"

NEW MEXICO VOTERS SHOULD NOT ACT FOOLISHLY.

It will make considerable difference to the citizens of the State of New Mexico, in the big and ever-present matter of taxation, whether Delegate W. H. Andrews is elected to Congress this fall or not. With him in Washington as New Mexico's representative the new state will undoubtedly receive a grant of ten million acres of land for its public schools and institutions; it will receive a gift of $5,000,000 cash for its schools; it will receive lands or cash to cancel the million dollar bonded indebtedness of Santa Fe and Grant counties. There will be other concessions, but at a conservative estimate, the value of the three gifts mentioned above, will be $20,000,000. The interest on this enormous sum at 6 per cent, would be $1,200,000 each year, equivalent to a tax of three per cent on an assessment of $40,000,000. Of course, to some philanthropists, an additional tax rate of three per cent is of no consequence, but to the majority of tax payers it means the difference between fair and burdensome taxation.

With Larrazolo in Congress, even in the event of such an improbability as the election of Bryan and a Democratic House, a Republican Senate would trim out of the enabling act for a Democratic territory, every bounty and concession, if it would permit the passage of such an act at all.

Certainly, New Mexico has too much at stake to commit the egregious folly of electing any other than a Republican to Congress.

THE OLD SANTA FE TRAIL.

In the September issue of the Santa Fe Employees' Magazine, a most interesting, historical, illustrated sketch of the Santa Fe Trail may be found. With it, is the first really accurate map of the historic highway, that the New Mexican has ever seen. The article is from the pen of Glenn D. Bradley, of Topeka, Kansas, and aside from its historical value is a good advertisement, especially of Santa Fe. In August 1848, it was reported that during the preceding eight months 3,000 wagons, 50,000 head of livestock and 12,000 persons had passed westward over the trail. The freight rate between Independence, Missouri, and Santa Fe was ten dollars per hundred pounds and each wagon cleared about $550 each trip. The picture drawn of Santa Fe, in those early days, is not a flattering one, and as early as 1834, a New York Journalist wrote:

"The old city of Santa Fe, although the commercial center of the Southwest at this time, is a small town of two thousand inhabitants sheltered in a collection of mud hovels. It is situated up against the mountains, at the end of a little valley through which runs a mountain stream. Although insignificant in size the town tries to assume all the pretensions of a large city. It has a public square, a governor's palace and a promenade—yet the public square is unfenced and neglected, the promenade is the top of a sand-hill, and the palace is simply the largest mud house in the town."

Commenting on the moral character of the place, this writer claimed that it was a most sacrilegious act to call so wicked a town as this Santa Fe (Holy Faith), for 'gambling was even authorized by law in that place. The government officials, military officers, judges, lawyers, doctors and priests, all gambled and many of these were gamblers by profession. The town had a dozen stores of fairly respectable size and it was estimated that about $750,000 worth of goods would be imported that year, 1834."

Perhaps, the writer's first impressions were too vivid, but the visitor of today, who learns, that Santa Fe still tolerates public immorality might carry away similar impressions and express them equally as injudiciously. Be that as it may, the twelve column article on the Santa Fe trail, is of such interest, particularly locally, that the New Mexican will republish it in full at its earliest opportunity.

STATEHOOD THE KEYNOTE.

A very correct rendition of the statehood situation and explanation why the people of New Mexico should elect Delegate Andrews to succeed himself in the Sixty-first Congress is given editorially in a recent issue of the Las Vegas Optic. The New Mexican coincides with its Meadow City contemporary. The editorial reads:

"Statehood for New Mexico is the keynote of the present campaign.

"According to Mr. Jefferson's preamble to the constitution of the United States: 'Governments are instituted among men, deriving their first powers from the consent of the governed.'

"It has been a long wait endured by the people of New Mexico, just sixty years, since the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, during which period the 'consent of the governed' of this territory has not been accorded by the general government.

"The time has arrived when all the powers that be are in accord to grant New Mexico admission into the union.

"Will we rise to the occasion or will we permit party contention to blind our eyes to the fact that the conditions in Washington at this particular time will give us a cool reception in the event we do not present our petition with all the first-class endorsements necessary to get immediate action?"

"Would it not be wise for all parties who sincerely and earnestly desire statehood for New Mexico to lay aside for this fall all party strife and get together on the keynote?"

THE ESSAY ON STATEHOOD.

Hon. M. A. Otero showed excellent judgment in selecting the object for which he offered a prize at the Irrigation Congress. He offered it for the best essay on statehood for New Mexico; the essay to become the property of the Statehood League. The object was evidently to obtain the best possible presentation of the subject for use in Washington and general circulation. But the Board of Control in making rules for the competition has done what we think is an injustice to Governor Otero, and to the cause of statehood. This first rule is that no essay shall exceed twelve hundred words in length. Now 1,200 words make just a page and a half of the leading magazine or 1-1-4 columns of the New Mexican. It is utterly impossible to do justice to the subject in the space. The arguments and facts cannot be half presented; and the circulation of such an imperfect presentation will do harm because readers will suppose that it contains the whole case. To be of any use, and to be anything like a fair presentation of the strong arguments for statehood, requires at least 3,000 words, even when everything is considered. No doubt the limit was set without much thought or realizing how short an article it would make. The board should amend its notice as promptly as possible, so as to have a really valuable result and make Governor Otero's liberal gift of practical benefit.

It is no wonder that the Rio Grande gets into controversies and even into the U. S. Supreme Court. Considering its vagaries, it is remarkable that it maintains its position on the official maps. The El Paso Herald of Monday evening says that the Rio Grande is as dry as a bone at El Paso and in the same issue tells of the drowning of an El Paso custom house guard in the raging torrents, five miles above El Paso. No wonder, that the farmers of the northern Rio Grande Valley complain bitterly over the attitude of the Federal government that prohibits the building of new irrigation works on the Pueblo, the Penasco and other tributaries of the Rio Grande, because of the contemplated construction of a reservoir several hundred miles down the river.

It is worth while for the traveling public to know that the purchase of a half rate ticket on the plea that the person who is to use the ticket is under twelve years of age, although really older than that, is punishable under the Interstate Commerce Act, in fact, is a felony under certain construction of recent federal legislation, under which the agent selling and the person buying, may be fined or sentenced to imprisonment. It is not only the corporations, but the dear people also, who must mind, under anti-trust legislation.

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach or stimulate the Heart and Kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak Stomach, means weak Stomach nerves, always. And this is also true of the Heart and Kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping Stomach, Heart and Kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the falling "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon as that, but you will surely know that help is coming. Sold by The Ireland's Pharmacy.

Are You on Good Terms With Your Stomach?

Treat it right—its your best friend. Abuse it—and you'll find there's a limit. When the limit is reached, the stomach must rest. Kodol rests it.

That is what Kodol is for. The stomach cannot stop work; if it did you would stop existing. It cannot even take a vacation and "rest up"—except when it has Kodol to assist it.

Very likely you never gave a thought to how hard your stomach works. Most people don't until they have to. Sometimes, though, it costs less to do a little thinking before one has to.

Even the galley-slave of the ancients rested—at intervals. But the stomach of modern man works harder than the galley-slave, and it never rests—of itself.

Kodol, of course, will rest the stomach, but that is something nature didn't provide for. If people now-a-days lived the way nature intended, it wouldn't have been necessary to provide for it. But they don't—that's the trouble.

Better keep on good terms with your stomach, if you can. Your health depends absolutely upon the perfect performance of the stomach's functions. Ever think of that—or why it is true?

The human body is composed of certain chemical elements. These are combined to form substances such as fat, protein, carbohydrates, mineral matter and water.

The food we eat is composed of exactly these elements. The stomach must disintegrate this food and correctly apportion it to the needs of the system. Looks like a lot of work for the stomach, doesn't it? No wonder it occasionally needs Kodol to help it do this.

The person who has the kind of a stomach that can do its own work continuously, without assistance has a good deal to be thankful for. Most people haven't that kind. That is why they require Kodol.

Kodol will do all the stomach's work for it, when necessary—giving it a period of complete rest. The rest that restores health. That's how Kodol cures indigestion—which is merely a good digestion "gone wrong."

People used to think that when they had indigestion they should stop eating or limit themselves to a prescribed diet. Others commenced purging with cathartics. All that is very disagreeable and unpleasant. Also, it isn't necessary.

Starvation or purging doesn't cure anything. Kodol doesn't cure anything either—but shows nature the right road, in short order. Kodol merely establishes complete and perfect digestion. It does this by digesting every particle of the food. The stomach then rests and cures itself. That is what was intended when Kodol was made. It couldn't be any other way.

Kodol is quite indispensable to a good many persons. To all, in fact, who haven't time in their daily lives for a careful selection of foods and diet. It very quickly enables nature to rectify any disagreeable effects of wrong eating.

UNIQUE EXHIBIT BY BIG CORPORATION

American and Victor Fuel Companies to Show Life in Coal Camps By Means of Moving Pictures.

F. L. Vandegrift, of Kansas City, Missouri, staff correspondent and story writer for the passenger department of the Santa Fe Railway system, has addressed an article to the Denver Republican which describes the grand and unique exhibit which will be made by the American and Victor Fuel companies of Denver, at the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress at Albuquerque. The description is graphic and interesting and will be read with interest by the many who expect to attend the Congress. Mr. Vandegrift says:

"Editor Denver Republican: "In the multitude of attractions that will be presented at the International Exposition of the National Irrigation Congress, Albuquerque, September 29 to October 10, for the amusement, pleasure and information of the public, will be one whose whole spirit is philanthropy and benevolence, and that, too, by a "soulless corporation." More than this, it will cost the corporation, to prepare and install the exhibit, the round sum of about ten thousand dollars. It is by the American and Victor Fuel companies of Denver, and is to be a representation of a western coal mine and moving pictures thereof, the whole to be shown within a miniature mountain, a framework shell, one hundred or more feet in diameter, especially made for the purpose.

"Although it will be an attractive and diverting amusement, and free at that, it will not be without a moral. Indeed, the main purpose of this spectacle is to inform the public, by attractive object lessons, that, in the operation of a properly conducted western mine, a spirit of philanthropy and benevolence is mixed with the commercial.

"The exhibit costs the companies a large sum, but in the purpose of the enterprise the cost is of no consequence. J. C. Osgood, of Denver, who directs the destinies of these properties, is looking for no financial returns from the enterprise, and in its very nature none could be expected. His purpose, solely, is to show the public, in pictures made by instantaneous photography, that human sympathy enters into every act and motive of the corporation in its relations with the miners and their families.

"The pictures were taken by a powerful lens, made somewhat in the form and capable of the wide and minute vision of the eye of an eagle. This machine particularly is designed for landscape photography, and, when it caught the scenes for the show that is to be seen in Albuquerque, it was operated from the front end of a moving flat car. The car slowly moving through villages and camps of the Osgood companies, and the lens revolving rapidly, every square inch of the landscape was caught by the machine's powerful and accurate vision. Much in the same way the interior of mines were taken.

"So when visitors behold these pictures, they will be under the spell of an illusion that they are moving through the landscape. In front, the railroad track and its curves and beyond on either side, village streets, homes, stores, workshops and their smoke, churches, schools, hospitals, mine entries, aerial tramways, tipples and cars dumping, moving trains, people, domestic animals, mountains, canyons, birds of the air, even the sky and its distant clouds. Within the mines, safety and health devices, etc., will be shown. Nothing escaped the vision of this wonderful eye of human mechanism, and nothing will be omitted by the reproduction in the moving pictures.

"It will be a pleasing spectacle, wonderful to behold, but, more than the spectacle, it will be an object lesson of the benevolent and philanthropic side of the corporation. In the abstract, it is no part of capital to provide for the physical, moral, and intellectual advancement of employees and their families, but in these pictures the spectator will behold hospitals, conducted by corporation; costly churches built by corporation, and schools established by the corporation. The superior architecture of the homes occupied by the miners and their families, and the evidences of safeguarding the public health, the well appointed stores, the municipal utilities, etc.—all will be apparent to beholders of this wonderful panorama, and will not fail to leave an impression in thoughtful minds.

"Such is the lesson Mr. Osgood designs to convey by this contribution to the Exposition, and such, there can be no doubt, is the character of the man."

WILL INTEREST MANY.

Every person should know that good health is impossible if the kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure kidney and bladder disease in every form, and will build up and strengthen these organs so they will perform their functions properly. No danger of Bright's disease or diabetes if Foley's Kidney Remedy is taken in time. Sold by The Ireland's Pharmacy.

SEARCHING FOR MISSING NEPHEW

Postmaster of Pennsylvania Village
Evidently Thinks New Mexican is a Detective Bureau.

Evidently there are lots of people in the East who are of the opinion that the New Mexican knows it all, and is not only a first-class newspaper but also a skilled sleuth and beats Pinkerton and Chief Wilkie, as the following letter from some one in Warrington, Pennsylvania, who writes a hand that is very hard to decipher, seems to indicate. If any reader of the New Mexican can give this applicant the information he desires about his nephew, it will doubtless be gladly received. The letter reads:

"Warrington, Pa., Sept. 7, 1908.
"Editor Daily New Mexican.
"Santa Fe.

"Dear Sir: "Would you kindly let me know what part of Santa Fe is best for mining interests, and do you know of any Philadelphia coming there this summer? July 24 my nephew, Thomas Radcliffe Henson, left his home in Germantown, Phila. pa. and has not since been heard from. He is a bright, good, looking boy 6 feet 11 in. dark hair and red cheeks. It seems to me possible that he may have gone to New Mexico in search of gold. He is of one of the best families in Germantown, and a boy whose reputation is the best. His notion to leave home and parents so suddenly has been a deep sorrow to them all. The latest clue or any information of him would be so thankfully received.
"Respectively,
"WM. H. HOLBERT, P. M.
"Warrington, Pennsylvania."

C. H. Everts returned last evening from a vacation spent in southern California. Mrs. Everts will return later in the fall.

J. W. Carter, of Espanola, reached the city last evening and registered at the Normandie hotel. Personal business brought him here.

Mrs. W. A. Skinner and daughter arrived in Santa Fe last night from Mountainair and will be the guests of friends here several days.

Herbert Sims, manager of the Valley Ranch on the Pecos National Forest, who has been in the city several days on business, has returned home.

Sheriff Peter Schubert, of Torrance county, had his name on the Normandie hotel register yesterday. He came to the city from Estancia on personal business.

J. P. Lease, ranger in the Forest Service and the owner of a pretty orchard near Espanola, registered at the Palace yesterday. He came on official business.

M. McKenzie, of Aztec, the beautiful county seat of San Juan county, reached the city last evening and registered at the Coronado hotel. He came to the city on personal business.

Attorney H. M. Dougherty, of Socorro, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Claire hotel. He attended the sessions of the Commission on Revision of the territorial laws today.

Hugh H. Harris, supervisor of the Manzano National Forest, who has been stopping at St. Vincent's Sanitarium for the benefit of his health, has greatly improved and expects to go to Washington at an early date.

James Corry, agent of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, with headquarters in Denver, spent yesterday in town a guest at the Palace hotel and attended to business before the territorial Board of Equalization.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince spent yesterday in Albuquerque in consultation with the members of the Board of Control of the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress concerning exhibits and secured several beneficial changes in the premium list of the International Industrial Exposition.

Mrs. J. G. Darrah, of Columbus, Kansas, reached the city last evening and registered at the Claire. She came to see the sights of Santa Fe and is highly pleased with what she saw and experienced today. She thinks this is the grandest climate she has ever been in and the historic and scenic attractions are great. She left today for Moriarty for a visit to relatives. She will remain there about a month.

Walter M. Taber, manager of the Glorieta Mercantile and Live Stock company, left this morning overland for the Jemez Land Grant west of this city, to look after the sheep which the company has grazing there. The animals are in first-class condition, fat and strong as the range and the water supply on the grant during the past two months have been very good. It is getting cold there now and Mr. Taber will move his sheep farther south for the winter. He expects to return home in about twelve days.

Alexander R. Querns, a member of an important hosiery manufacturing concern in the city of Philadelphia and also a stockholder in the Glorieta Mercantile and Live Stock company, who has been in the territory for the past three weeks on a vacation and to enjoy New Mexico's climate and fine scenery, having spent his time mostly at Glorieta and also making trips into western New Mexico to become acquainted with conditions there, will leave tonight for his Philadelphia home. He enjoyed his visit here greatly. The firm of which he is a member employs several thousand workmen and was built up by him and his three brothers by personal labor, energy and business ability during the past twenty years.

Charles W. Dudrow, the veteran and reliable dealer in lumber and building material, returned yesterday from a three weeks' visit at Faywood Hot Springs, Grant county. He comes home greatly improved in health and feels very well indeed. He declared the accommodations at the hotel and the baths at the Faywood Hot Springs are first-class and very comfortable. He met several old-time friends there whom he had not seen for thirty years and more. Among others he met a man with whom he became acquainted at Fort C. F. Smith in Idaho, forty years ago, when, although but a boy, he took an ox team laden with bacon for the military post there from Fort Leavenworth to Fort C. F. Smith. He was on this trip nearly six months, but delivered the bacon in safety to the commissary officer of the post.

CROWDS ARE ARRIVING FOR THE BIG CIRCUS

Circus day is tomorrow. The Greater Norris and Rowe circus, museum, menagerie, hippodrome and Congress of Nations, will arrive from the south tomorrow morning and will give two exhibitions, one in the afternoon and one in the evening at the show grounds southwest of the Santa Fe depot. This will be the only big tented attraction that will visit Santa Fe this season.

Dozens and dozens of wagons filled with ranchmen and their families came into the city this afternoon from their homes to be on hand for the big show. An excursion from the Estancia valley will arrive in the morning and there will probably be more people in Santa Fe tomorrow than there has been any day this year.

The big parade is announced to start tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will traverse the principal streets.

The Saving Habit

If you are thrifty, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum.

The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Weather forecast for New Mexico: Fair weather tonight and Friday, with stationary temperature.

Tomorrow is circus day. Read the change of ad of J. H. Gerdes.

There is an infinite variety of patterns now in the Racket shop. Fit and satisfaction absolutely guaranteed.

The man we can't fit and please with a fall suit will be hard to find. See our $17.50 and $20 tailor-made suits.—N. Salmon.

The hotel arrivals in this city yesterday numbered forty-six, namely: Palace, twelve; Claire, thirteen; Normandie, nineteen; Coronado, two.

Attention is called to the change of ad of N. Salmon in today's paper. The window displays at this up-to-date store are very attractive.

The Woman's Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Henry Woodruff at her home on Don Gaspar avenue.

A meeting of the Archaeological Society will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the office of Judge N. B. Laughlin in the Laughlin block. All members are urged to attend.

Yesterday was a clear and beautiful day. The maximum temperature was 73 degrees and the minimum temperature was 53 degrees. The average relative humidity for the day was 52 per cent. The temperature at 6 a. m. today was 54 degrees.

La Banda de Santa Fe will render its last semi-weekly concert in the Plaza this evening until its return from Socorro and Albuquerque. These concerts have been enjoyed very much by music loving Santa Feans and a large crowd is expected to be out to hear the farewell concert this evening.

Santa Fe Lodge No. 460, B. P. O. Elks held a well attended special meeting last night at which two candidates, Judge H. D. Terrell, of Clovis, and Captain Charles Chrisman, of the New Mexico penitentiary, were initiated into the mysteries of Elksdom. After the initiation ceremonies a lunch was served.

That modern cottages for renting purposes are in demand is evidenced by the fact that a certain property owner who has just broken ground for a dwelling has received at least six proposals to rent the same when it is completed. Never before have houses been so much in demand in Santa Fe as now. This is a striking evidence of the growth of the Capital City.

At the opera house tonight Manager Dettelbach presents the semi-weekly change, giving a colored hand-painted film called, "The Cascades," also the feature film of the opera, "Beatrice Clenci" and the roaring farce pictures of "Oscar's Elopement," and "Incidents in the Life of a Suffragette." The song will be, "I Never Can Forget You Dear." The first pictures are the latest of the celebrated French "Pathe" films and no expense is being spared to get the best and latest at all times.

The local land office and the Weather Bureau have exchanged quarters in the Federal building. The land office will move upstairs, taking the rooms in the west end of the building which have been occupied by the Weather Bureau, and the latter will move downstairs, occupying the rooms vacated by the land officials. The change was made necessary by the increase of business in the land office, which made larger quarters imperative.

EASY TO CURE CATARRH.

Just Breathe in Hyomei, the Dry Air That Kills the Germs.

You can do exactly what G. J. Sterers did by using Hyomei. Read this: "After having suffered from chronic catarrh for years, for which I tried various remedies without success, I became almost discouraged. After reading about Hyomei, I decided to make one more effort to rid myself of the dread disease, and to my great delight I found the use of two bottles of the Inhalant sufficient to produce a complete cure. I now take pleasure in recommending this remedy to all sufferers from catarrh."—G. J. Sterers, Crown City, Ohio.

We don't simply say Hyomei will cure catarrh, but we saw that The Ireland Pharmacy guarantees it to cure catarrh, or money back. He does more—he guarantees it to cure asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, coughs and colds. A complete Hyomei outfit, including inhaler, costs only $1.00 and extra bottles, if you afterwards need one, will cost but 50 cents. Hyomei is a pleasant dry air treatment. You just breathe it in, and as it passes over the inflamed membrane, it kills the germs of catarrh, and allays all inflammation.

TERRITORIAL NEWS NOTES

New Mexico sportsmen are already cleaning up and oiling their guns in preparation for the opening of the quail season. The period allowed for the shooting of quail, according to law, is from October 1 to January 3. The turkey season opens October 1 and closes December 31; the deer season opens October 15 and ends November 20. Deer are said to be exceptionally plentiful in the mountains this fall.

The Knights of Columbus of Albuquerque are busy making arrangements for the entertainment of a large number of visiting brothers, who are expected to be present during the Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress. Committees on reception, entertainment and other necessary arrangements have been at work for some time past perfecting details and it is expected the Albuquerque council will hold the biggest celebration and entertain the largest number of visiting Knights in its history.

Quite an exciting scap between several Deming officers and an itinerant sign writer, who had indulged a little too freely in the cup that cheers, took place in that town Monday evening. The stranger was about as hard a customer to handle as the officers there have run up against for some time, but he is doing time in a lovely way now. He carried, probably unthoughtfully, an ugly looking gun, which will add considerably to the number of pleasant days he will linger behind the steel lattice work.

The Stanley Index says that the people of that burg do not work on Sunday's and files the following protest as a result of a news item by the New Mexican's correspondent, saying that a certain citizen of that town spent Sunday working on his claim. The protest reads: "The item referred to asserts that one of our leading citizens spent the Sabbath day working on his claim. From that statement might arise the impression that our citizenship in and around Stanley was devoid of that higher moral conception which draws a distinction between the six days allotted to labor and the one day set apart for rest and religious worship. Such an aspersion on our character cannot be tolerated for a single moment. Our moral tone is very high, far above the average found in a frontier town where the population is so largely cosmopolitan and the facilities for nourishing the spiritual self are so meagre. We adhere strictly to the theory that prosperity followeth righteousness and as a consequence our morals are closely guarded and vigorously cultivated. Let self-defense be our plea for speaking."

INSURES PERMANENT TIMBER SUPPLY

Government Providing For the Future
By Reforesting Treeless Regions.

(Forest Service Bulletin.)

Things are appreciated most keenly when missed, and people in this country already experiencing a pinch in the supply of timber used for both construction and fuel purposes are saying that they had little idea of the value of wood as a necessity of life until compelled to go on with a scant allowance or made to pay exorbitant prices for their supply. The United States has not yet suffered greatly from the pangs of a timber famine, but forest experts and practical lumbermen who have studied the situation say that this country has only twenty-five to thirty years' supply of the best timber left.

At present, the communities suffering most from a lack of timber are in those regions where there is little or no natural tree growth. The people in these sections view the timber situation with great apprehension every year, for, as rapid as prices of both lumber and fuel wood rise in cities near the source of supply, they rise with even greater rapidity in the treeless regions.

In the southeast corner of Montana and the northwest corner of South Dakota, there is a section of the country where there is little tree growth and where the increasing scarcity of timber is felt most. It is fortunate that the Sioux National Forest is located in this section. The area of this forest is small and there is but little commercial timber on it. One would think that it was of little consequence, but this is far from the fact. Even this scant forest growth is of vital importance to the welfare of the people and the economical development of the region.

because there is no other accessible supply nearer than two hundred miles to the north and east.

Settlers are rapidly coming into this region. For their log houses, for roof logs for their "sodies," and for fence posts and fuel these settlers turn to the National Forest. Here, under the system of tree use they may obtain annually timber to the value of $20, without a charge of any kind by the government. If they need more, which is seldom it may be purchased at a nominal cost. Fence posts for from one cent to five cents each, and fire wood at twenty-five cents a cord may be considered nominal.

Were it not for the fact that this area is a National Forest, which allows to every one an equal and just share, the timber on the more accessible portions would be exhausted, especially in those districts which lie within South Dakota. It is hard to tell what the region, with its greatly increasing population, would do for timber were it not for the permanent supply insured by Uncle Sam. Now every stick is used, and used for the purpose for which it is suited. Residues caring for the wise and equitable use of the present timber, the Forest Service is looking to the future and continued supply. The forested area is increased through the prevention of fires and young growth hastened by planting, so that the material development of the region near the forest will be assisted by a ready supply of timber at hand for construction purposes.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Santa Fe Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Santa Fe readers.

Hilario Baca, living on Delgado St., Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I feel so greatly pleased with the results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ireland's Pharmacy, that I am glad to recommend them. Off and on for three or four months I was subject to pain in my back, especially noticeable when I stooped, lifted or brought any strain on the muscles of my loins. Owing to the persistence of the annoyance I was led to believe that the cause was due to some derangement of the kidneys and accordingly used Doan's Kidney Pills. I soon noticed an improvement in my condition and before I had finished the contents of one box I was cured. I have not had an indication of kidney trouble since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Traveling Man's Experience.
"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." THE FRUITFUL MESILLA VALLEY blessed valley, we have felt nothing of the kind. Our people are prosperous and many are becoming wealthy and laying aside money to keep them in their old age.

"A patriotic and public spirit exists in our community and we have many good citizens, who push energetically and liberally for improvements. In another two years, I believe Las Cruces will be the busiest, prettiest and most populous town in the territory. The people all over the country must eat and we raise plenty to supply them. Our merchants are doing a good business, their customers are honest and pay their accounts promptly. My own real estate which is situated on Main street brings me a handsome revenue.

County Affairs Ably Administered.

"I am glad to say that our county has enjoyed a very honest and economical administration during the past eight years under Republican county officials. Our collections are honestly made and accounted for by Oscar Lohman, county treasurer and tax collector; our county clerk, Isidoro Armijo, is a very efficient and painstaking official and understands his duties thoroughly; Sheriff Jose A. Lucero is a fine peace officer and we have very few violations of the peace; our assessor has done his duty well and the county commissioners have looked carefully, economically and honestly after the affairs of our county; Superintendent of Schools Lynch has carefully looked after the schools, which are in excellent shape.

Fine Public School System.

"Our public school system is very creditable and is improving right along. This year we have about 600 pupils in attendance. There are three school houses which are comfortable and commodious. One of them is a brick two-story building, erected two years ago and cost $17,000. We have an efficient corps of teachers.

"Two miles south of Las Cruces is the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, at Mesilla Park. This is maintained partially by the United States government and partially by the territory of New Mexico and by the proceeds of large donations of public lands made by the United States for its maintenance. Professor W. E. Garrison, an experienced and able educator of great scholastic attainments and a fine man in every respect is the president and is assisted by a first-class corps of educators. The Agricultural College is full to overflowing and is an educational institution on a very high moral plane of great efficiency and enjoys a splendid reputation. New buildings and dormitories are now being added at a cost of fifty thousand dollars. When these shall have been completed double the number of students, young men and young women, will be accommodated. The college stands very high among educational institutions of its kind in the United States."
