ANDREWS RALLY AT SILVER CITY

Great Crowd Greet Delegate and Party

STATEHOOD THEIR SLOGAN

Delegate Tells People If He Fails to Pass Enabling Act He Will Resign.

Special to the New Mexican. Silver City, N. M., Oct. 24.—Two thousand enthusiastic Silver City citizens gave Delegate W. H. Andrews and party, consisting of ex-Governor M. A. Otero, H. O. Bursum, R. H. Sims and Jose D. Sena, a rousing reception when the train arrived here four hours late this afternoon. Open carriages were in readiness and proceeded by the Silver City brass band, a large procession escorted the distinguished guests to the Palace hotel.

An hour before the time set for the mass meeting at the Elks' theater, it was one surging mass of people. Had the auditorium been twice as large it would not have been one-half large enough for the people who came to hear the speakers. Delegate Andrews spoke to the audience for thirty minutes. Among other things he said if he did not get statehood at the short session of Congress he would resign and come home.

H. O. Bursum made the most important speech of the meeting and his talk was time and again interrupted with cheers and cries of "that's so, we want statehood."

The meeting closed with a rousing speech in Spanish by Jose D. Sena.

The campaign party will spend tonight in the surrounding settlements and will leave for Las Cruces tomorrow.

BIG MASS MEETING HELD AT DEMING

Special to the New Mexican. Deming, N. M., Oct. 24.—Ex-Governor M. A. Otero and R. H. Sims, made a quick trip from Silver City last night and arrived at Deming at 8:15 o'clock. They came to address a mass meeting which had been announced for Delegate Andrews and party, but which all of the party could not attend, owing to the trains being many hours off schedule. A large audience was awaiting the arrival of the party. When Governor Otero appeared, he received an ovation, owing to his immense personal acquaintance in this county and to the fact that when he was governor he signed the bill creating Luna county. He is undoubtedly the popular idol here. He made a ringing thirty minute talk for Andrews and statehood, and was frequently interrupted by applause. He was followed by R. H. Sims, who spoke for twenty minutes and who aroused the greatest enthusiasm, by showing that Delegate Andrews only could get statehood at the short session, Mr. Sims' statement of the work being done by Ralph C. Ely for statehood was cheered by Ely's townspeople and neighbors long and loud.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING GIRL

R. H. Pierce, Prominent Citizen of Alamogordo, Removed From Office By Governor Curry.

In connection with the recent removal by Governor George Curry, of R. H. Pierce, president of the Bank of Alamogordo, from the position of regent of the Institute for the Blind in Otero county, comes a story, which if true, is horrible in the extreme. It is alleged that Pierce, who is 60 years old, a man of large family, and who has for years been a highly respected citizen and financier of Alamogordo, the county seat of Otero county, assaulted one of the blind girl pupils of the institute who was in his charge during the Irrigation Congress in Albuquerque and also attempted a similar assault upon another blind pupil at El Paso.

It is said that the recent grand jury investigated the affair and found a true bill, but this cannot be verified. At any rate, the story goes that Pierce who is said to be worth $100,000 and who has been a resident of Alamogordo since the beginning of that town, has disappeared and no one knows of his whereabouts.

W. E. Hawkins, a leading attorney of southeastern New Mexico, was appointed by Governor Curry to succeed Pierce.

Both the relatives and friends of Pierce and those who bring the charges, are very anxious that the affair should be thoroughly investigated and that it should be established how much truth there is in the charges. In the meantime public feeling runs high in Alamogordo but Pierce is not about the story cannot be fully investigated as it ought to be.

There seems to be nothing wrong with Pierce's accounts either in the bank with which he is connected or as secretary and treasurer of the board of regents of the Institute for the Blind.

20,000 SHEEP ARE FROZEN TO DEATH

Blizzard Causes Enormous Losses in Northern New Mexico and Southern Colorado.

Special to the New Mexican. Ortiz, Colo., Oct. 24.—Forest Ranger John Booth, of the Jemez National Forest has just received information that during the fearful wind this week, which was accompanied by heavy snows and other untoward circumstances, twenty thousand head of sheep owned by the Los Pinos Sheep Growers' Association were overcome by the weather and died.

When the weather clears it is then probable that the losses will amount to still greater dimensions. The weather is very cold and snow in places on the Brazos river and other rivers in northern New Mexico and southern Colorado is from five to ten feet deep with the chances that the snow will continue to fall.

It is one of the worst seasons that has ever been experienced in northern New Mexico and the losses in sheep will be very hard on the sheep growers of that section.

LOCAL NIMRODS LEAVE ON HUNT FOR BIG GAME

A hunting party composed of Internal Revenue Collector Henry P. Bardshar, Frank P. Blandy and W. H. Kerr, left yesterday for a several days' hunt for big game in Waheca canon, north of the Santa Clara Indian Pueblo. The party is prepared for anything in the way of game from a grizzly bear to a chipmunk. Bear, deer and wild turkey are reported plentiful in the vicinity of Santa Clara and as Messrs. Bardshar, Blandy and Kerr are all crack shots, it is expected that they will bring back their full share of game.

DEMING NEWSPAPER PLANT DESTROYED BY FIRE

A special from Deming states that the building, press and material of the Deming Headlight, were burned there early yesterday morning and that the outfit is a complete loss, supposed to have been about seven hundred dollars. The editor claims that he will nevertheless publish the paper and have an issue out today.

ROBERTSON WINS VANDERBILT CUP

Breaks All Previous Records on Motor Parkway

DRIVES AN AMERICAN CAR

Averages Over Sixty-Four Miles an Hour in Great Auto Race.

Motor Parkway, L. I., Oct. 24.—Two hundred thousand people, surrounding the twenty-three miles of the great automobile speedway here today, saw the most sensational motor car race ever run in America. The first car got away at exactly 6:30 o'clock and sixteen other cars started at one minute intervals. Extraordinary precautions had been taken by the officials to prevent accidents.

How They Finished. Robertson, driving an American car, won. His time was 240 minutes, 40 1-5 seconds. Lytle, also driving an American car, finished second. His time was 4 hours, 20 minutes and 36 2-5 seconds. The race had to be declared off before the third car came in.

All Records Smashed. Robertson averaged 64 3-4 miles per hour, thereby breaking all previous records for continuous driving for a like distance. It was his first appearance in a Vanderbilt cup race and therefore his victory was a surprise, as he was pitted against such famous and daring drivers as Chevrolet, Lutgen, Lytle and Keene.

Why Race Was Stopped. The overturning of the course at the end of the race not only brought it to a sudden close after the first two cars had passed the finish, but resulted in one of the spectators being injured by James Florida. Florida had been warned that the race had been called off and he came full tilt upon the crowd. His big machine hit David S. Schull, aged 18 years, fracturing his leg. This was the only serious accident of the day.

SECOND DAYS' SESSION OF NATIONAL W. C. T. U.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 24.—The second day of the convention of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union in this city was devoted to a number of addresses by workers, organizers and superintendents, showing the progress made in the organized fight for prohibition in various sections of the country. The juvenile court was one of the subjects discussed at today's meeting and Judge Ben Lindsey, judge of the juvenile court of this city, was among the speakers. Tonight will be given over to the Young People's Christian Temperance Union and the Loyal Temperance Legion division of the W. C. T. U. Tomorrow will be devoted to religious exercises, two meetings being held, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

SECRETARY OF STATE IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Denver, Oct. 24.—Secretary of State O'Connor this morning was found guilty of contempt of court and ordered to be confined in jail until such time as he would obey the order of the district court. The decision followed O'Connor's refusal to obey an order by Judge Allen, commanding him to place the Anti-Guggenheim and Business Men's ticket on the official ballot. It is contended by attorneys for the secretary that his case was taken out of the hands of the district court by the supreme court. The case had been considered by four members of the supreme court and two members ordered O'Connor to obey Judge Allen and two ordered him not to place the tickets on the official ballot. The matter of sending the secretary to jail will now be taken to the supreme court.

REPUBLICANS OF TORRANCE COUNTY NAME STRONG TICKET

Special to the New Mexican. Estancia, N. M., Oct. 24.—The Republicans of Torrance county held an enthusiastic and largely attended convention here today and nominated the following ticket to be voted upon at the coming election: Probate clerk, Candido Padilla; probate judge, Francisco A. Zamora; sheriff, Federico Chavez; county commissioner, Second district, B. B. Spencer; county commissioner, Third district, Pedro Lucero y Torres; collector and treasurer, H. G. Souders; school superintendent, Charles L. Burt; county assessor, Perfecto Jaramillo; county surveyor, Emil C. Knapp.

MORO OUTLAWS SLAY 10 NATIVES

Philippine Plantation Scene of Bloody Battle

VICTIMS TAKEN BY SURPRISE

Suddenly Attacked While at Work in Field--Conflict Lasted Several Hours.

Manila, P. I., Oct. 24.—In a desperate fight, prolonged for hours, which occurred yesterday near Iligan, on the Island of Mindanao, nine Filipino laborers and their superintendent, also a native, were killed by Moro outlaws and four natives wounded yesterday. Whether the Moros suffered any losses cannot be ascertained. The fight took place upon a plantation. The Moros suddenly rushed from the bushes upon the Filipinos and several men were killed in the first attack. The Filipinos then rallied and succeeded in driving the Moros to shelter, after which the battle continued for several hours at long range. Before being driven off, the Moros succeeded in firing the plantation stores, which, with their contents, were destroyed.

QUAY COUNTY MAN CONVICTED OF MURDER

Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 24.—B. A. Robinson, who was tried in the district court here, which adjourned this week, was found guilty of the murder of Wiley Edwards. Judge Edward A. Mann sentenced him to serve ten years at hard labor in the territorial penitentiary. Robinson and Edwards, who were homesteaders, became involved in a quarrel and the killing was the result. The crime was committed last June near Barrancos, this county. District Attorney Wright conducted the prosecution, while Robinson was defended by Attorneys C. C.

TWO MESILLA VALLEY RANCHES CHANGE HANDS

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 24.—The Las Cruces Realty company has just effected the sale of the Bailey ranch, south of here, to Fred Driffl of Shafter, Texas, for $12,500 and the transfer has been made. Mr. Driffl has a good bargain, although the price was pretty high. The Manzanita ranch, south of Mesilla, has been sold to Payne and Hoban by the owner, J. G. Stewart and the firm has commenced to ship a large amount of apples. The fruit goes east.

BLOCKADE ON SANTA FE RAILWAY BROKEN

The blockade on the Santa Fe Railway was broken today and this evening trains from the East were passing Lamy at the rate of one every half hour. No. 7 was running on the time of No. 1 and carried the mail car both for No. 1 and No. 9. All northbound trains on this road are reported running on schedule tonight and the branch train will leave on time to make connections. The Denver and Rio Grande train is reported four hours late and the New Mexico Central on time.

BIG SNOW STORM IN QUAY COUNTY

Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 24.—This section was visited by a heavy snow the middle of the week, the snowfall averaging four inches. Although the snow and cold snap has caused great suffering among the victims of last Sunday's tornado, it came as a boon to the dry farmers who have planted their winter crops, as the dry weather of the past few weeks had begun to tell on the wheat which has been up some time.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES MUST OBEY ORDERS

Pernicious Political Activity Sure to Result in Either Dismissal From Service or Suspension.

Washington, Oct. 24.—To be chairman of a county Republican committee, is forbidden by the civil service rules to postmasters and federal officials. Robert A. Stewart, temporary deputy internal revenue collector, who was chairman of the county executive committee of Clarendon county, South Carolina, has been reprimanded by President Roosevelt, and would have been removed had not his position been a temporary one.

More punishment has been meted out as the result of charges of pernicious activity in the political campaign. The civil service commission has announced that J. H. Dordham, a deputy collector of internal revenue at Orangeburg, South Carolina, has been reprimanded and suspended without pay for fifteen days for activity in the Republican state convention at Columbia.

R. O. Pierce, an employee of the Mare Island navy yard, who announced his candidacy as supervisor in the first district, has been discharged.

Clyde Knock, a letter carrier, at Independence, Kansas, who became the candidate for the district court clerkship, has resigned to avoid dismissal.

GAME IS UNUSUALLY PLENTIFUL THIS SEASON

Deer and turkey as well as quail are plentiful south and east of this city. Walter M. Taber, manager of the Glorieta Mercantile and Livestock company, in driving to this city from Glorieta the early part of the week, saw eight deer en route and also noticed many turkeys and a large number of quail.

Jose Labadie of this city, who has a potato farm a few miles from here, and who returned with his family to this city Wednesday, brought in a fat deer which he shot en route.

Other hunters also report an abundance of wild game. The deep snow in the upper mountains of the Pecos range has driven the game down to the lower altitudes.

RAINS CEASE IN THREE FLOOD STRICKEN STATES

Kansas City, Oct. 24.—The rain storm that has prevailed for almost a week in western Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, had almost passed this morning. In Wichita and Oklahoma City clear weather was reported today and a killing frost occurred during the night and this morning, but the Weather Bureau promises clear weather within a short time. In Oklahoma the rains ceased last night and today the streams are receding.

TOKIO TENDERS GRAND FAREWELL

American Fleet Sails Tomorrow for Philippines

SPERRY EXTENDS THANKS

Admiral Deeply Impressed With Sincere Welcome Accorded Officers and Men

Yokohama, Oct. 24.—On the eve of the departure of the American battleship fleet after a week of continuous holiday and celebration, Yokohama was today the liveliest and most brilliant city in the Far East. The bay swarmed with launches darting about among the thirty-six state warships anchored outside the breakwater and tens of thousands of people lined every available portion of the water front.

Admiral Host at Banquet.

Representatives of every department of the government, the entire diplomatic corps and consuls of all the prominent nations of the world were guests at a luncheon and reception aboard the Flagship Connecticut today.

At 8 o'clock tomorrow the American fleet will head directly for Olongapo, in the Philippines. At the outset of the cruise the warships will be escorted by a Japanese squadron of four battleships. In an interview given to the Associated Press tonight, Rear Admiral Sperry said:

Sperry Very Grateful.

"I am deeply impressed by the sincerity of the Japanese government and its people and the welcome they have extended the officers and men of the Atlantic fleet. We have been accorded an unequalled welcome and reception by the representative people of this country and I am speaking as well for the officers and men of the fleet when I say to the Associated Press that there can be no possible doubt of the sincere desire on the part of our hosts of the last week to cultivate permanent happy relations with America."

DISBARRED LAWYER SUDDENLY DISAPPEARS

Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 24.—W. J. Hittson, a lawyer of this place suddenly dropped out of sight here a few days ago and no trace of him can be found. He is believed to have skipped the country. At the time of his disappearance three indictments on serious charges were pending against him, namely, for forgery, obtaining money under false pretenses and for altering an instrument.

Hittson had been practicing his profession here for several years and despite the fact that he had incurred the enmity of his colleagues on account of his methods of practice, he was more or less successful as a lawyer, and recently defended his nephew, Jack Hittson, who was acquitted at the last term of the district court here of the charge of murder.

Judge Edward A. Mann issued an order disbarring Hittson on account of misrepresentation, deceiving the court and for not answering to the indictment returned against him as he promised to do. His bond was set at $6,000.

Hittson was last seen at a bull fight in Juarez, Mexico. His disappearance has caused a sensation here.

RATON WILL HAVE TWO DAILY PAPERS

Raton, N. M., Oct. 24.—This city is putting on metropolitan airs. Within a week it will have two daily papers. The Raton Range, which heretofore has been a semi-weekly, began the publication of a daily evening paper this week. LeRoy Kennedy has announced he will begin the publication of the Raton Daily Times, also an evening paper on Monday next. Whether the town can support two daily papers remains to be seen.

Taft that the panic was a Republican one and was due to over-prosperity. "Does everyone who feels that he has had too much prosperity deserve the punishment of a panic?" asked Bryan. "Taft is telling the people they should all vote for the Republican ticket, as the rest can vote for us."

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

Here are some facts showing how the Prohibition sentiment is growing, not only in one section of the United States, but over the whole country:

Arkansas has just held an election, voting on the question of asking the legislature to pass a state prohibitory law, the result being an overwhelming declaration in favor of such a law. Sixty counties out of the sixty-seven were carried by the anti-saloon forces.

From September 30th to October 2, sixteen counties in Ohio went "dry" putting out of business a total of 450 saloons.

Indiana, after a bitter fight, has passed a new county local option law, which is greatly superior to the old township and precinct law.

Florida has forty-six counties, thirty-seven of which are all dry, only 15 cities in Florida have saloons.

Saloons have been going out of existence in the United States at the rate of one thousand a month during the present year.

Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky and Missouri have all adopted the new county local option law, and Illinois will be the next in line.

Texas, popularly known as the land of six-shooters and lariats, declares with characteristic brevity, "don't want liquor in ours." She fights quick and sure and already three-fourths of her counties are dry and she will soon wheel into the prohibition line.

Half of Delaware went dry last November after one of the hottest fights the state has ever known. Liquor interests all over the country joined forces in the determination to stop the threatening avalanche. They organized and poured a huge and steady stream of money into Delaware politics; fought, bled and came out badly mangled. Everybody is mad now, and the little state is in the fight with its coat off and no time limit.

Vermont has only 30 wet townships out of 238 and closed up 500 saloons this summer. Half the cities and towns in Illinois are dry. Half of the area of Chicago, the whiskey center of the world, is dry by special legislation. Peoria, which distills as much whiskey as any other town in existence, has sent an anti-saloon man to the legislature.

Seventy-six per cent of the state of Massachusetts is prohibition territory today.

One-half of Nebraska's one thousand cities and towns have voted out liquor.

In New York the liquor interest is a formidable antagonist with its 35 distilleries and 243 breweries, but out of 933 townships, 324 are dry.

We have state-wide prohibition in Maine, Kansas, North Dakota, Georgia, Oklahoma, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and Arkansas.

On the day of Abraham Lincoln's tragic death, he said, "The next snarl we have to straighten out is the liquor question." If this great leader and emancipator of men had lived, this problem, greater even than the slavery problem in that it enslaves both the souls and bodies of men, would have probably been solved before now.

The regular W. C. T. U. meeting was held at the office of Mrs. Harvey on lower Palace avenue. After the business was disposed of there was a discussion as to the advisability of a "membership contest." It was decided to hold this contest and all members are urged to be present at the next meeting, which will be on November 3rd, which will also be held at the office of Mrs. Harvey, as captains will be chosen and sides taken, and the prize and forfeit decided upon. It was also decided to hold a matron's contest in the near future. Contest books have been sent for and we will soon have a supply on hand, with all the latest selections.

At our statehood convention Mrs. L. A. Harvey was appointed territorial evangelistic superintendent. This is one of the most important departments, as the Woman's Christian Temperance Union relies on the efficacy of prayer. Mrs. Harvey urges that all members of the organization observe the "Noontide hour," and every hour of the day is "Noontide" at some place around the world, so the prayers of 600,000 people are constantly ascending for the success of our cause.

Our national convention convened in annual session at Denver on Friday, October 23, and promises to be one of the best conventions we have yet held, because of the many great victories of the past year and the bright outlook for the year to come.

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Santa Fe Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

Its gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Santa Fe, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Santa Fe kidney sufferers.

Eusebio Escudero, living at 106 Griffin street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Some five years ago I made a statement for publication referring to my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills after they had rid me of kidney trouble by which I had been annoyed off and on for two or three years. Besides this trouble other symptoms of kidney complaint existed evidenced chiefly by retention of the kidney secretions. My condition caused me considerable worry as I feared more serious results. It was only a short time after beginning to take Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ireland's drug store that I felt great relief and now that about five years have passed without a sign of symptom of kidney trouble, it is a pleasure to confirm my former statement. I believe Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy to be had for any disorder of the kidneys."

More Than Enough is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

(By a Sophomore.)

Montgomery Downey, a member of the Sophomore class, has been absent the last week, on account of sickness. The Freshmen need not bother about the Sophomores social function as we think it is well for them to attend to their own little tea parties.

Hon. Robert Harvey, a member of the Sophomore class was absent from his classes the last week, out "dear" hunting.

Little Hazel Sparks, who recently entered high school, was asked by a friend a few days ago how she liked going to school. She replied: "Laughingly, I like going, but not staying."

Teacher: "Pupils, can you see any mistake in Albert's example?" Isabel, (snapping her fingers vigorously.) "Please, Miss Gray, he has three times two are six."

Poor Caesar has just finished another campaign. The members of the Junior class have taken their final examination.

Professor Wood on Thursday morning instructed the classes of the high school on presidential elections.

The members of the Senior class and their friends were royally entertained by a member of their class, Miss Etta Moore, this week. Each person was asked to come, representing a well known book which proved a very exciting guessing game, music and other games furnished the amusements for the evening. Dainty refreshments were served and after a delightful evening, the young folks left, voting Miss Moore a charming hostess. Those present were: Misses Barry, E. Barry, Bergere, Harrison, Bishop, Closson, Newhall, and Messrs. Crandall, Winters, Fiske, E. Fiske, Safford, Stephens, H. Stephens.

Enthusiasm Displayed By Voters in That Section Indicates How They Will Vote.

The Spanish-American, a well edited newspaper published in the thriving town of Mora, in a recent issue contains the following well written account of a recent Republican meeting in its town. It shows that the voters of eastern Mora county are in the majority. Republicans who will vote the Republican tickets. The Spanish-American says:

"On Monday night of last week, at Bushkevitz hall, was held the largest and most enthusiastic meeting of the recent campaign."

"The hall was beautifully decorated by the ladies of our city. Good and appropriate music was rendered by the orchestra."

"The meeting was called to order by Frank Roy, A. S. Bushkevitz was elected chairman and appointed a committee of five composed of H. Goodman, Vidal C. Martinez, W. H. Benn, F. M. Hughes and Trinidad Lacero to escort the speakers of the evening who were C. W. G. Ward, W. L. Blattman, Blas Sanchez and others up to the hall. Upon their arrival the entire audience arose and sang 'America,' after which A. S. Bushkevitz, candidate for representative, made a short address, followed by C. W. G. Ward with a rousing speech endorsing Delegate Andrews and a plea for statehood to one of the largest and most intelligent audiences Roy has ever known."

"He was followed by Blas Sanchez with a short address endorsing Delegate Andrews, statehood and the Republican ticket in general. Mr. Sanchez is to be highly complimented on his educational abilities as an interpreter and speaker. After Mr. Sanchez had made his speech, the meeting adjourned and every one present enjoyed a couple hours social dancing."

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious disease. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by all druggists.

GRANT COUNTY FOR STATEHOOD AND ANDREWS.

The campaign is now on in Grant county and the forces of statehood are fighting a noble conflict for the fullest measure of development that statehood means for the whole territory and the people of that county feel that its benefits in an especial manner will be felt in Grant county. They feel that the country possesses undeveloped wealth that would make the county one of the banner ones of the new state. They point to the great mineralized areas waiting only for the coming of capital. They say that the advertising that statehood would give Grant county would turn the desert through irrigation into a paradise and the mining camps into cities.

From another viewpoint it is that the statehood idea of which they know Delegate Andrews to be the expression is calling forth the greatest enthusiasm. It is but natural that one can best speak to people through their pocket. Grant county is at the present time, and has been for the last twenty-five years, saddled with a railway bonded debt of one hundred and nine thousand dollars which has, in that period, cost the people of the county in interest the sum of one hundred and seventy thousand dollars. In the comprehensive enabling act drafted by "the man who does things" this debt will be taken off the shoulders of the taxpayers of Grant county. This means that as soon as statehood becomes a fact that county will receive a present of one hundred and nine thousand dollars and a yearly benefit of over six thousand dollars.

Silver City has been paying interest on fifty thousand dollars of this sum and out of the little over nineteen mills that is the present tax rate there, seven mills goes to the payment of the interest on this debt. The people of Silver City say for this reason that statehood would mean for them the immediate lowering, from this one reason, of the taxes by one third. The reduction for the rest of the county, while somewhat lower, is at the same time great enough to make them realize that from a financial viewpoint alone, the election of William H. Andrews is serving the best interests of that county. Democrats who have always been Democrats, are this year the most ardent supporters of Delegate Andrews and say that statehood is a greater issue than the minor ones along which the lines of territorial party politics are drawn.

When they consider the above facts and that the culmination of all New Mexico's past, the story of all her future is dependent on the issue of the present campaign, there is but one decision that the intelligence of the Grant county voter can reach. This is, that in this history-making epoch every true man owes it to himself and to the territory to vote for statehood. And the people of Grant county are fully aware of the fact that a vote for Andrews is a vote for statehood.

Another fact that is meaning a whole lot in the present campaign is the stand of the two candidates for the highest office in the gift of the people of the territory on the subject of pensions. This is a matter in which all the people of Grant county are interested, as there is here the largest sanatorium in the world for the benefit of those who, while in the service of their country, contracted tuberculosis, that at Fort Bayard, nine miles from Silver City. What the people of this big government institution think of Delegate Andrews is shown emphatically by a petition some time ago drafted at the institution in which they asked for the election of Mr. Andrews and expressed their admiration of him, for his stalwart advocacy of the interests of the old soldiers. This petition was signed by every ex-soldier in the sanatorium with one exception. In contradistinction with this the people of Grant county are placing the expression of the Democratic candidate who said at Roswell that he did not consider that it was the duty of a delegate to Congress to bother with the securing of pensions.

"Weighed in the balance and found wanting" is the verdict of Grant county on the career of Larrazolo. And this verdict is what, judging from the sentiment in favor of Mr. Andrews, the voters of the county will overwhelmingly register at the polls on election day.

CLEAN REPUBLICAN RECORD IN MORA COUNTY.

The Mora County Sentinel, a paper published in the Spanish and English languages at Wagon Mound, and well edited by Blas Sanchez, reads the Democrats of its section a very timely and well deserved lesson, which can justly be applied to those who are inclined to vote against statehood and Andrews and for Larrazolo and nothing in the present campaign.

The New Mexican republishes the editorial in order to give it wider circulation and to disseminate it throughout the territory. The Sentinel says:

"The Mora county Democrats want to make the newcomers in Mora county believe that the moon that shines in New Mexico is not a moon but cheese. When it asks the newcomers to demand a new deal in county affairs the Democrats must think that the newcomers are really very green. Don't the Democrats remember that the Republicans while in power created the office of traveling auditor whose duty it is to go over the county records, and that the said auditor who is a highly respected officer and who is thoroughly competent has complied with his duties and that he has reported very favorably for the office of Mora county, or does the Democrats in demanding an inspection of the books accuse the officer of not complying with his duties? Do not the Democrats remember that an inspection of the books when the Democrats were thrown out of power showed a shortage in the collector's account of several thousand dollars, which has not been accounted for yet? Do not the Democrats remember that an inspection of his books six years ago again found that one of the deputies in the collector's office had mis-used a couple of thousand dollars and the money was paid into the treasury by the collector himself and without having to recur to his bondsmen and that the offender was punished by a Republican administration?"

"Are the Democrats going to try by slander and falsehood to misguide the voters of Mora county, and put the Democrats in full charge of the affairs of the county?"

"Be honest, upright and sincere with the voters. Ask them to look at the books themselves, they are always open for inspection and everyone is welcome to go over them. The voters don't need to call the army and navy for the Democrats to see 'the books, they are, we again repeat, open for inspection."

"The county surveyor, Bushkevitz, with his force of deputies were all owed $1,050, say the Democrats. The records show that the county surveyor with a full force of deputies had to go all over the county surveying the thirty-eight school districts in the county. Do the Democrats think that their surveyor, if elected, is going to work for glory only? Are they such poor workers that they are afraid to ask a price for their work in case they do work which we hope they may not be called upon to do. Would the voters of Mora rather have a good man to work and pay him a salary or have one who will chew the rag all day and do nothing?"

POLITICAL VIEWS OF A PROMINENT CHICAGO BUSINESSMAN.

A prominent citizen and business man of Chicago, who travels a great deal, and who holds an important position with one of the largest book publishing firms in the United States, has addressed the editor of the New Mexican a letter which is very interesting, and as this man is a very keen observer and very bright, and travels tens of thousands of miles every year in all sections of the country in visiting large cities and mingling with hundreds and hundreds of business men, it is valuable and shows which way the wind is blowing. The writer says:

"Chicago, October 20, 1908.
"Editor New Mexican,
"Santa Fe, New Mexico.

"Referring to your last letter, in which you mention that you are very much interested in the election of Mr. Taft, I don't believe you will outdo us in interest in that direction.

"You have noted that Sigmund Silberman, of Silberman Brothers, dealers in raw wool, has offered a premium of $10,000 for a $100,000 insurance policy against the election of Bryan. The firm is one of the largest of its kind in the West, handling annually 25,000,000 pounds of wool. Mr. Silberman says:

"The stock being carried over the election is about 10,000,000 pounds, on which we could easily afford to pay the large premium, if Taft is elected, and if Bryan is elected our loss would probably be $100,000. We would lose at least one cent a pound if we sold immediately after his election and if we held it six months, it would cost us a cent a pound for storage and care."

"Mr. Silberman is a Republican and believes that Taft will be elected, but said his offer to pay a 10 cent premium on a policy maturing in less than three weeks, is entirely a business proposition, unaffected by his political views.

"It has not been long since Herman Ridder, Mr. Haskell's successor as treasurer of Bryan's committee, expressed his opinion in the New York Staats Zeitung, as follows:

"Bryan's election would surely cause a disturbance in the industrial and economic development of the country. We deem a Republican victory less dangerous for the country than the election of Bryan. Nothing better could happen to the party than to get rid of this incubus (Bryan)."

"It was in February when Colonel Henry Watterson said:

"I know Mr. Bryan, I know him well. I like him, but he has no more responsibility of government than a child."

"Of course, both Mr. Ridder and Colonel Watterson have since changed, if not their minds, their course of action, but they were no less right in expressing their views of Bryan's fitness for the Presidency. I should think from what I have seen and heard in and about Chicago, that W. R. Hearst and his papers are not helping Bryan's cause, not even a little bit."

MOUNTAIN VALLEY AND PLAINS RAILROAD.

The territory lying in southern Colfax and Union counties, through which the Mountain Valley and Plains railroad is being projected, is unequalled for the resources that are rapidly developing, and the future possibilities that are only waiting for the life-giving breath that only modern, rapid transportation facilities can install into them. The farming and mining interests in that section of New Mexico will be immeasurably benefited by a more direct route to its eastern connections with the coast and eastern metropolises, while every road leading to the heart of this territory from the east and northeast, will have shorter routes and quicker connection with the great trade centers of Texas and Oklahoma. Through Union county it taps a territory that is unequalled for the expanse of fertile lands, requiring no irrigation to produce excellent crops, while the class of settlers who are taking up these lands show every sign of being energetic, progressive and appreciative of the value of the opportunities that are open to them in the beautiful fertile mesas and valleys.

This territory extends from fifteen to twenty-five miles on each side of the projected line, and consists of rolling prairie, traversed by arroyos and creeks. In Colfax county, the territory through which this line is projected, is making such rapid strides in its irrigation projects, that it is sure to make a most valuable tributary to the resources that are to be derived by this road. The farming interests on the plains, the mining interests in the mountains, the eastern metropolises and all whose interests center in this territory, cannot help but be greatly benefited by its speedy completion.

The road is to pass through a very level stretch of country, requiring very few curves that are of long radius and easy grades. It expects to get through its New Mexico course with less than a one per cent, west grade down where its heaviest hauls will be made, while its east grade will be easy. A great many miles of its track will require scarcely any grading, other than that necessary for proper drainage of the bed below the surfacing. In many places the ground is so even that ties could be surfaced on the sod and all trains run with perfect safety.

The Republicans of Bernalillo county are united and will go into the battle on November the third with a strong and solid front against their Democratic opponents. With loyal support of the ticket by the voters and with good management by the county central committee a great majority will be rolled up for statehood and Andrews and for the Republican nominees for legislative and county offices. The ticket contains some very excellent and strong men and there is no reason to believe that there will be any dissension but that the Republican voters of the county will all stand in unison and together for Republican success from statehood and Andrews down to the county surveyor.

The Texico Trumpet picks up the following rather neat item which shows the way the Democratic campaign speakers are handling the truth in their speeches to the voters:

"Maybe the Democrats love the Mexican just as much as they do a white man, but when one of their speakers made the deliberate misstatement at the Democratic 'rally' at Portales a short time ago that Larrazolo was not a Mexican because he was born in Texas, thus making him a 'Texan', there was tremendous applause. It was a great relief to think that he was a Texan instead of a Mexican. The records, however, show that he was born in Chihuahua, Old Mexico."

The Saving Habit

If you are thrifty, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life! and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum. The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Saturday afternoon bridge club met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. C. Abbott on Cerrillos road.

Amado Chavez, Albuquerque attorney, who has been visiting in the vicinity of Grants, on the Santa Fe Pacific railway, has returned home.

Miss Clara Olson, secretary at the executive office, who has been on a leave of absence, which she spent in the Republic of Mexico, returned to the Capital today.

Harry C. Hall, of the Forest Service, has gone on an overland trip to the Jemez National Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will occupy apartments at the Hinflos residence on Palace avenue during the winter.

John K. Stauffer, Frank P. Sturges and John Dendahl will compose a party that will leave early tomorrow morning for a day's outing in Canedo de Ancho, the other side of the Arroyo Hondo. They expect to bag considerable game.

Governor George Curry who has been swinging around the circle on a campaign tour of the northern, eastern and southern parts of the territory returned to the Capital this noon. He made many speeches and did splendid work for the Republican party.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Duncan, of Socorro, were visitors to Albuquerque during the week. Mrs. Duncan was Grand Matron of the New Mexico Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star during the past year and gave up her office to a successor yesterday.

Mrs. A. M. Woolger and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Woolger, who have been sojourning in Santa Fe for almost a year past, are preparing to leave for the Pacific coast to spend the winter months. They go for the benefit of Mrs. Woolger's health, who has found the altitude of Santa Fe a little too high.

Ralph C. Easley of Estancia, son of Hon. and Mrs. C. F. Easley of this city, spent the day in town visiting his parents and on legal business. He graduated from the law department of the Missouri University this spring and has since opened a law office in the county seat of Torrance county.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Clarey, of New York City, had rooms at St. Vincent's Sanitarium during the week. They came for Mr. Clarey's health and are well pleased with the effects of the climate on him during the few days they have been stopping here. They have one child and may remain for some time, as Mr. Clarey has been benefited.

Ex-Governor M. A. Otero was one of the party which, with Governor Curry and Delegate Andrews, made a campaign tour through northern, eastern and southern New Mexico. He made many telling speeches during the campaign and is now in the southern part of the territory, doing more excellent campaign work.

Professor W. G. Tight, president of the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, and Professor W. E. Garrison, president of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Mesilla Park, were in the capital yesterday a few hours for a consultation on educational matters with Superintendent of Public Instruction James E. Clark. Both returned south last night.

Ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, who has been touring the county of San Juan for the Republican ticket, will return home Wednesday evening after a very successful trip, during which time he has visited the principal towns of the county, namely, Farmington, Aztec, Floravista, Bloomfield, Largo and others. He has found Republican prospects there better than ever before in the history of the county.

One of the social events of the week was the dance given on Monday evening by the Woman's Board of Trade at the Library Hall. It was one of the largest hops in many weeks and was greatly enjoyed by those who attended. Morrison's orchestra, which has been augmented to four pieces, furnished the music, which was excellent, including some of the late light opera selections.

Mrs. T. J. Kelly, wife of a well known and respected citizen of Silver City, has been here this week on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Henry Eslinger. Mr. Kelly, who is a prominent Free Mason and who was elected as Grand Generalissimo of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar at Albuquerque at the recent session, spent the day here with his wife and sister-in-law. They had a most pleasant time while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton D. Ewing and family, of Yonkers, New York, who have been on a sight-seeing trip through the Southwest, spent yesterday in Santa Fe, guests at the Palace. Although the day was rather cold they could not forego the pleasure of a drive to the ancient Tesuque Indian pueblo and other nearby points of interest. They left this morning for Las Vegas, where they will spend the day, before returning to their Eastern home. They were accompanied by Miss Bessie Dunlap, of Richmond, Virginia, a niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rhine and handsome daughter, of Albany, New York, have been guests at the Palace hotel during the week, enjoying the many attractions of the Capital. They have generally gone on an extensive European trip each year, but this time they came to Santa Fe in order to "see their own country" and they were certainly greatly pleased with the change. The time spent by them here has been full of interest and of pleasant incidents and they are very much pleased with the accommodations and the cuisine at the Palace hotel and praise the landlord very highly.

Mrs. A. J. Fischer gave a very pleasant entertainment at her pretty home on Washington avenue on Friday in honor of the Saturday Afternoon Bridge Club and Mrs. John W. Poe, who was the house guest during the week of Hon. and Mrs. Nathan Jaffa. Bridge Whist was the diversion of the evening and a very pleasant time was had. Delectable refreshments were served. There were six tables in use and the ladies present expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the entertainment.

Mrs. McMillan, widow of the late Judge Daniel H. McMillan, has arrived in the city with the three children of Rose McMillan and the entire family is now domiciled in the very comfortable and big house on Cerrillos road owned by the Manderfield estate. Mrs. McMillan's two sons, Forest Supervisor Ross McMillan and Assistant Forest Supervisor Morton K. McMillan are living with their mother. Mrs. McMillan is highly respected and liked by Santa Feans, who in years gone by have made her acquaintance.

Colonel J. W. Willson, the very efficient and active superintendent of the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, one of the military schools in the country that stands at the top, after spending the week in Albuquerque attending the sessions of the Grand Masonic bodies in that city, returned to his post of duty yesterday. Colonel Willson is a very busy man as the number of cadets that can be accommodated at the New Mexico Military Institute is as high as can be had and as the construction of the new barracks building which will house 140 cadets more and will cost $75,000 is now under construction, but Colonel Willson is equal to the occasion and matters connected with the institute run very smoothly and successfully.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

BUILDING A CITY.

How to Make a Town With Pasteboard, Scissors and Paints.

When it is cold and rainy and the little ones are tired of playing nursery games, let them try their hands at building a city—yes, building a city. Now, don't look incredulous, for it can be done, and in one day too.

Supply yourself with all the empty pasteboard boxes you can find about the house, a pair of scissors that your mother has thrown out of her work-basket (they'll do to cut pasteboard and paper), a tube of library paste, your box of water colors and a soft lead pencil. Then set to work.

The architectural designs should be first drawn on scrap paper; then follow them on the pasteboard box sides, cutting out carefully and putting together with thin paper and paste. All doors and windows must be cut and completed before joining the four sides of a building. The roof goes on last. After the paste has dried thoroughly begin tinting with water colors. Some of the buildings should be made to resemble brick, others stone and still others frame. As soon as the tints are dry the bricks, stones, boards and shingles may be brought into shape with the lead pencil.

A large table in the center of the room will answer for the city's site. If the builders do not like a level site, they may have as many hills as desired by laying small pillows about the table and covering with a bedspread, smoothing it over the ups and downs made by the pillows to give a good surface on which to place the houses.

A public square may be laid out, with the public buildings, such as stores, a church, a courthouse, a schoolhouse and a public library, grouped about it. Arrange the residences along streets opening into the public square. On account of the uncertainty of "pillow ground" it would be more satisfactory to keep the table surface flat and hard for the city site; then there will be no danger from a careless little hand or arm resting against the hillside to tumble the houses into the hollows below.

CABLE DISPATCHES.

A New Guessing Game That Will Furnish a Pleasant Hour.

A certain man went to Europe, leaving his family at home. He was either too indolent or too busy to write often. But he could not afford to cable lengthy dispatches, so he wrote his wife that he would condense each cablegram into a single word by using only initial letters. The first message he sent was B R O W N. While he was congratulating himself upon outwitting the cable company by sending five words in one, the family at home were distracted over their varying interpretations of the message. His daughter thought it meant "Bought ring on Wednesday, night" and began guessing just what kind of a ring it was. His wife in her anxiety read it: "Big rain—out—wet—neuralgia." Other guesses at the intended meaning differed quite as widely.

In playing the game any word may be used instead of "Brown." Let the leader, who is supposed to be the traveler, announce the word, keeping the meaning to himself, and let each player write his guess of the intended meaning on a slip of paper. If there are prizes, the one who offers the nearest guess wins. The game may be varied by supposing that the message is sent to mother or son or to wife or to business partner or from some particular city, as London, Rome or Jerusalem.

Etc.

The wide awake boys and girls should remember that the abbreviation etc. means "and other things" and may not, therefore, be applied to persons. It stands for the Latin words "et cetera," of the neuter gender. The symbol &c. is only another form of etc., and taking the place of the conjunction et.

A Telephone.

"Oh, a rose and a pink have bloomed today!"
Said little Ruth to her mother.
"I watched them open leaf by leaf.
And they nodded to each other.
As if there was something they wished to say."
A secret, you know, and there was no way.

"And then a spider, with wondrous skill—
You'll hardly believe it, mother—
Stretched a web from the pink to the rose
So they could talk to each other,
And ever since then their heads are still,
For they say through their telephone what they will."

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch, also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must falter. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by The Ireland Pharmacy.

The seals and record books for notaries public for sale by the New Mexican Printing company at very reasonable rates. Seals for incorporated companies are also handled. Call at or address the New Mexican Printing company, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Fifty Years a Blacksmith.

Samuel R. Worley, of Hixburg, Va., has been shoeing horses for more than fifty years. He says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm has given me great relief from lame back and rheumatism. It is the best liniment I ever used." For sale by all druggists.

It is an admitted fact that real estate, financial men and merchants all say that quickest and best results are obtained by advertising in the New Mexican.

To quickly check a cold, druggists are dispensing everywhere, a clever Candy Cold Cure Tablet called Preventics. Preventics are also fine for feverish children. Take Preventic at the sneeze stage, to head off colds. Box of 48—25c. The Ireland Pharmacy.

How Pietro Paid His Debt.

By SADA B. CUSHMAN.

Copyright, 1907, by Mary McKeon.

Pietro eyed wistfully the shining shoes that passed him on the dry pavements. Business was slack and Pietro's heart sank as low as the hoard of silver in his tattered purse. If it would only rain, then the gentlemen hurrying by might need his services, but the blinking stars, half hidden by the smoke of the great city, found not a cloud behind which to retire, and Pietro concluded that he might as well close up for the night. The process of closing up consisted of packing his brushes, blacking and various implements into a small box and slinging the same by a strap from his shoulder. One watching Pietro's closing up could determine the proceeds of the day's business. If he moved with alacrity, the jingling silver in his purse promised well for the necessities of life; if he moved reluctantly, pausing now and then to see if perchance there might yet be a patron for him, the purse was lamentably light and Pietro's supper must be likewise. Tonight he knew that the persistent craving in his stomach must go entirely unappeased, for there was no more than enough silver to satisfy the voraciousness of Isenberg, the money shark, of Water street, into whose clutches the lad had fallen and who found means of exacting his dues even though there was no money left for food.

"Aw, no use kicking," remarked Pietro philosophically as he stowed away his last brush; "I've seed worse luck dan dis here. Anyhow mother ain't cold nor hungry."

His philosophy deserted him as the poignant memory of the great soft eyes of his mother, wistful with longing for the sunshine of her own land, returned to him. His own eyes filled with unbidden tears, shutting out for a moment the sight of the stream of gay humanity that thronged past on its way to the opera. He did not see the tall young fellow with the debonaire air and shabby coat who paused for an instant beside him nor did he notice the evident struggle that went on in the young man's mind as, with a glance at the dirty face of the urchin and another at the brilliantly lighted entrance of the opera house, he hurried on. He must be quick or there would be left not even standing room, which was all that he could afford to pay for. At the ticket window a fat old gentleman was wrangling over his tickets.

The enforced delay gave the young man time to think, and the face of the street child, pathetic through all its dirt, would not be banished. When the old gentleman had relieved his mind and turned away, the ticket seller looked at Grayson expectantly; but, with a muttered malediction at his chicken heart, as he chose to term it, Grayson turned away. Pietro was trudging wearily down the street toward that part of the city from which the rich flee and where the poor and the wicked find refuge. Revolving in his mind the weary question of finances, he did not heed the approaching footsteps until a hand grasped him unceremoniously and a voice asked gruffly:

"What were you crying for, kid?"

"Aw, what yer givin' us, dude? I wasn't cryin'."

"All right, but what's wrong? Bankrupt?" with a quizzical glance at the other's stock in trade.

"Nope," replied Pietro. "Got my outfit left. That's about all, though. Business is pretty dead now. Be better after election."

Grayson laughed.

"That's right. I find it so myself. What do you say to a good hot steak in here?"

They were passing a little restaurant, and the aroma of hot coffee and frying meat floated out to them, reminding Grayson that his evening meal had been dispensed with to make up the amount necessary for his admittance to the land of heart's desire and causing the nostrils of his companion to twitch like a rabbit's.

"Sure, but dis is a bum joint. Come to Maginty's. It's swell there."

They went to Maginty's, and over a cup of strong coffee and their steak and potatoes Pietro became confidential and told Grayson the story of his struggles, first to provide necessities for his dying mother and then to escape the clutches of the money lender, from whom he had borrowed money that his mother might have a burial fit for a human being.

When Grayson, familiar with the ways of the wily money lenders, discovered that the amount had been returned with triple interest, he took the matter into his own hands, and the money lender, looking at those same strong clinched hands, admitted that he had asked Pietro to call again only that he might give him a receipt for the full amount of his debt.

Loath to part with his amusing companion, Grayson invited him to share his dingy lodgings for the night, and Grayson's comrades significantly tapped their foreheads at this latest eccentricity of their friend, for, though they were possessed of numerous eccentricities of their own, as men of genius must ever be, surely even they might deem it the hallmark of insanity to take from the street a ragged, hungry ster and give him a glimpse of better things through the medium of a mode of life that to these young men of mighty ambitions seemed dearly poverty stricken.

From the point of view of the man on the pile of straw, the shoddy mattress seems luxurious, while to the man on the shoddy nothing seems worth while but one of floss. Added to Grayson's inexplicable treatment of the dago kid, they told the story of his hallucinations—how in the still nights he claimed to hear bursts of exquisite melody such as only the great masters of music might dream and, dreaming, reproduce. Grayson was only a humble student, and try as he might, he could not reproduce those haunting melodies that would give him no rest. With his awakening the melodies were stilled, and only their echoes, like the half remembered taste of some childish delight, the name and substance, color and form of which we have long forgotten, remained. He haunted the opera and concerts, but he could never hear them save in his dreams. Because he dreamed these things and yet could interpret them no better than his average companion student they called him daffy. Daffy Pietro thought of him when in the wee small hours of the night he awoke and heard those glorious sounds. His first quick glance showed him that his host's bed was empty. His second showed him the figure of the young man standing full in the light of the moon, his violin in his hands, his face slightly uplifted and with a transfiguring look upon it that would have made him pass almost unrecognised among his best friends. His eyes were strange, staring, unearthly, and Pietro, encountering them, shuddered and dived under the coverlet, where he lay trembling, awaiting to feel the hands of his uncanny host upon him. Seconds passed, seeming like hours to him. The flood of harmony still poured on uninterrupted, and he peeped cautiously forth again and forgot his fear in his keen enjoyment. Pietro's ancestors had been minstrelers of the gospel of music, though he did not know it, and his ear drank in those exquisite sounds greedily, though his ignorant brain knew nothing of their worth.

Days passed, and Pietro was still a guest in Grayson's lodgings. The man had taken a fancy to him and dreaded the loneliness that must follow his departure. Pietro's business affairs had improved. The election was over, as he reminded Grayson, who replied that he could see no marked improvement in his own affairs. Pietro answered sagely that "a feller never kin tell. I was pretty hard up that night me an' you first seed each other, an' now, see I made a dollar an' a quarter today, an' you kin have it well's not."

"Thanks," replied Grayson, declining the offer. "You're a pretty good pal of mine, aren't you, Pete?"

Grayson spent a good many of his spare moments teaching the boy to play on one of his violins and was surprised and gratified at his rapid comprehension. His own affairs looked darker as the days went by. The employment he had found to help him through his music course was taken away, and he was left stranded. Coming in one day after a weary round of disappointments, the sight of the boy handling his most cherished violin, which no one else had a right to touch, angered him unreasonably. Before he had time to remonstrate the boy had commenced to play, and at the first notes the man stood spellbound. Slowly, uncertainly, with many blunders, the child played, and Grayson listened to one of his own dream pieces. He was bitterly disappointed that this child, this waif of the streets, whom he had befriended should have heard his music and, having heard, had been given the power to interpret it, though imperfectly.

"You thieving brat!" he exclaimed, grasping the lad roughly. "Where did you learn that? Who taught you my music?"

"Aw, cut it out!" said Pietro, wriggling away like an eel. "You learned me yer old squeaks yerself in de night when youse git dem bughouse fits on."

He told of the many nights he had awakened to the sound of music and struggled to reproduce it. He ended with a request, uttered with an elaborate carelessness that failed to conceal his real earnestness, that Grayson teach him to become "one of dem sure 'nough fiddler chaps." Grayson, with the harmony rippling through his brain, ready at last to be put upon paper to open up a brilliant pathway to its author's success, gravely shook his hand and answered, "Sure!"

A Parable.

Once Upon a Time there was a Fair Young Girl with soft, white hands and a Swan's Neck. She was born to be a Prince's Bride, but unfortunately there were no Princes near where she lived. Also her Parents were poor. This Sweet Young Thing liked fine clothes, but didn't like work. So when a Young Man of Common Blood offered her his hand in marriage she cried him yea. She thought she was going to live on Easy Street, with nothing to do but kiss her husband goodby in the morning and watch for his return at night. Five years later she had two children to take care of; her soft, white hands were red; her sylph-like form was bulky. She worked eighteen hours a day, washing, ironing and sewing, with no relief in sight.

By that time she began to wish that she had learned stenography and remained single.

Mrs. Chaves reports that the weather in the Rio Grande valley is unprecedentedly cold and that even in Los Lunas, which is 3,000 feet lower than Santa Fe, the water pipes were frozen during the week and much damage was done by the cold weather and the high winds. She was very glad to get back to this city.

Frank P. Newhall, foreman of the bindery department of the New Mexican Printing company, who was recently married at Los Angeles, returned home last night with his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Newhall enjoyed an extended honeymoon at Pacific coast resorts. They have rented a residence on Johnson street, where they will be at home to their many friends next week. Both Mr. and Mrs. Newhall were kept busy today acknowledging congratulations.

E. A. Cahoon, the successful and pushing cashier of the First National Bank of Roswell, a financial institution that stands very high and is considered one of the most solid in the Southwest, after attending the Masonic Grand Lodge communication in Albuquerque, returned to his southern home yesterday. He tried to come to Santa Fe to see friends, but found it impossible on account of important business awaiting him at home. He expects to be here during the session of the legislative assembly in January and February next.

Delegate W. H. Andrews, accompanied by Mayor Jose D. Sena of this city and by other Republican speakers left Albuquerque early yesterday morning and today spent the day in Silver City, where a Republican meeting was held. Hon. H. O. Bursum, chairman of the Territorial Republican Central Committee, was also there. Monday the party will visit Las Cruces and hold a Republican meeting. The campaign tour will end on Saturday night next at midnight. It is noticed that many votes for the Republican party have been made by the touring of the territory by the Andrews party.

The Fifteen Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. L. Bradford Prince, Mrs. Boyle presiding. The program began with quotations from the writers of today. Mrs. Prince then gave a talk of her recent visit to the Field of Waterloo, prefacing the account by a short sketch of Napoleon, and read most interesting extracts from an unpublished diary, kept at the time of the great battle by a Hanoverian officer. Mrs. Marsh read a story by Dorothy Canfield, called "A Bird Out of the Snare." After current events, tea was served and the club adjourned to meet November 13th, with Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Harroun presiding.

Captain and Mrs. John W. Poe of Roswell, who have been visiting at the hospitable home of Territorial Secretary and Mrs. Nathan Jaffa, left this evening for their home, having enjoyed their stay in the Capital very much. Captain Poe attended the various sessions of the Masonic Grand bodies in Albuquerque during the week while Mrs. Poe was a visitor at the Jaffa home. The Captain came to take Mrs. Poe home yesterday. Mrs. Poe was the recipient of much social attention while in the city and made a very pleasant and favorable impression on Santa Fe society folks who had the good fortune to meet her. Captain Poe is the president of the Citizens' National Bank of Roswell and chairman of the citizens' committee having in charge the construction of the great light and sewer systems of that city which are now being built at a cost of $400,000, for which sum the people of Roswell voted bonds. Captain and Mrs. Poe were so well pleased with their stay in Santa Fe that they expect to return next summer for a lengthy sojourn.

Reception to Visiting Ministers and Their Wives.

The Ladies of the Home Missionary Society of the St. John's M. E. church gave a reception at the home of Mrs. George Kinsell on Don Gaspar avenue yesterday afternoon, in honor of the visiting ministers and their wives who are in Santa Fe attending the Methodist annual church conference.

Mrs. Anderson, wife of Rev. E. C. Anderson, resident pastor, assisted Mrs. Kinsell in receiving the guests.

Miss Stella S'can and Miss Christine Johnson dispensed delicious refreshments in the dining room which was decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums, with charming and graceful hospitality. There was a short program rendered. Bishop Charles W. Smith gave a talk on the work being done in New Mexico and the bright outlook for the future. Among other bright things the Bishop said the Santa Feans were a little too lofty in their ways for him and lived in too rare an atmosphere and that he would be obliged to descend to a less elevated position where they could look down on him.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Montgomery of Raton, sang a very touching one of Torrey and Alexander's songs, entitled "Grace Faithless as the Sea." Rev. Earle Ward Pearce convulsed the audience with some fine improvisations and Miss Purcell rendered some splendid piano selections.
