THANKSGIVING

TRAGEDY

Murder and Suicide at Albuquerque Yesterday

NEGRO KILLS HIS WIFE

She Had Refused Conciliation With Him—Drowned Himself.

A murder and suicide accompanied the celebrating of Thanksgiving at Albuquerque. James Mitchell, a well-known colored man of the territory, shot his wife and then committed suicide. The affair is the culmination of domestic trouble extending over the past three months. Mitchell, who was a bartender in the buffet of the Alvarado hotel, sent a bouquet of flowers Thursday morning to his wife, from whom he had been estranged for some time. She returned the gift with a note that all efforts at reconciliation would fail.

Thursday evening he called upon the place where his wife was staying. He was refused admittance, but entered the house by breaking in the door. Mitchell is alleged to have then shot three times at his wife, who was trying to flee. One bullet lodged in the woman's brain and will doubtless cause death. Mitchell then attempted suicide by cutting his throat and, failing, drowned himself in a bath tub.

PARIS MURDER MYSTERY UNSOLVED

Mrs. Steinhil Held as Accessory, but Is Suffering from Hallucinations.

Paris, Nov. 27.—The case of Mme. Steinhil, who was arrested yesterday following sensational developments in the matter of the murder of her husband and stepmother, Mme. Japy, in this city, last May, was today taken out of the hands of M. Leydet, examining magistrate, and turned over to Magistrate Ahrend. Mme. Steinhil is still under arrest on the charges of aiding and abetting the murder of her stepmother. Expert physicians have declared that Mme. Steinhil is suffering from the hysteria peculiar to certain classes of neurasthenics, which manifests itself in the invention of the wildest accusations.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR PROMOTERS

Were Responsible for the Failure of Milwaukee Avenue State Bank.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—William T. Tilden and Chauncey L. Graham, officials of the American Steel Ball company, were sentenced today by Judge Chetlain in the superior court to serve a term of one to twenty years in the penitentiary on the charges of conspiracy. The conviction of Tilden and Graham was the sequel of the failure of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank a few years ago, the two men being found guilty of having promoted the Steel Ball company by means of fictitious notes in the bank amounting to nearly $175,000. The case will go to the supreme court and the defendants were released on bonds of $25,000.

NEGLIGENCE CAUSES FATALITY AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—The failure of Engineer Charles Humphrey to stop the cage in which he was carrying several miners to the bottom of a mine, caused the cage to go to the top of the tippie at the Chicago-Springfield Coal company's mine north of this city this morning. IRRIGATION ESSAY TROPHY AWARDED Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan Publishes Booklet Containing Articles.

Some time ago Vernon L. Sullivan, territorial engineer, offered a prize for the best article on better methods in irrigation farming. The purpose was to bring out suggestions towards ideal irrigation.

A large number of answers were sent in from different parts of the territory and the trophy, a silver cup, has been awarded to Francis G. Tracy of Carlsbad.

The judges were T. W. Jaycox, state engineer, state of Colorado, and Frank C. Goudy, president of the Sixteenth Session National Irrigation Congress. Though all of the articles submitted were most excellent they believed Mr. Tracy's article entitled him to the award.

The awarding of the prize was referred to Col. W. S. Hopewell, chairman of the Board of Control of the 16th session of the National Irrigation Congress, who after the decision of judges awarded the cup. Mr. Hopewell in writing Mr. Sullivan expressed the great appreciation of the board for his kindness and generosity in contributing this cup, which added materially to the interest in and the success of the congress.

Territorial Engineer Sullivan has issued a booklet containing Mr. Tracy's successful article upon "Suggestions Upon Irrigation in New Mexico," as well as the following articles, which were entered in the competition:

"Irrigation in the Mesilla Valley, New Mexico," by General B. J. Viljeon, Chamberino; "Irrigation," by Merrill H. Fisher, M. R., Alamogordo; "Irrigation From Windmills," by Frank N. Brown, D. D. S., "Hillcrest," Roswell; "Irrigation Under Pumping Systems," by Ralph C. Ely, Esq., Deming; "Water Waste," by W. A. Williams, Kennedy; "The Duty of Water," by E. A. Haimbaugh, C. E., Springer; "Irrigation, Precipitation," by Clark LeFever, Lamar, Colorado; "Improved Methods of Irrigation," by H. Scougall, C. E., late with English Government in India, Egypt, Australia and Europe, St. Rosalia, Chihuahua, Mexico.

The book is illustrated and anyone desiring a copy will receive one immediately upon sending their name to the office of Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan, Santa Fe.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Alarm is felt here over the fact that the army transport Dix, en route from Seattle to Manila with a cargo of 200 persons and 250 mules, is six days overdue. It is feared the Dix was caught in the same typhoon that disabled the hospital ship Relief. A vessel has been ordered sent from Manila to locate the Dix.

Labor Representatives Favor Retention of Duty on Tin.

Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 27.—President-elect Taft announced that his position in favor of a thorough revision of the tariff is being approved in the correspondence which is developing to the extent of over a hundred letters a day. Opposing Views Presented. Washington, November 27.—Representatives of labor appeared before the ways and means committee of the house today to advocate the maintenance of the duty on tin. Tariff reform so radical as to exceed that urged by the Democrats was advocated by Jesse F. Norton of the New York Tariff Reform club.

THANKSGIVING IN LOCAL CHURCHES

Presbyterians and Methodists Worship Together—Catholics and Episcopalians Observe Day.

A union Thanksgiving service was held Thursday morning at 10:30 in St. John's Methodist Episcopal church. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. C. Anderson. The choir sang special selections. An offering was received for charitable purposes. The boys and girls of the two Presbyterian mission schools were present at this service. Rev. J. W. Purcell delivered the annual sermon, the theme being "Our Country's True Greatness," the text being Deuteronomy 1:25. The speaker declared that neither great territorial greatness nor naval strength, nor military pomp, nor lavish display, are the elements of a country's true greatness. He showed how, he believed, our country was divinely ordained, that justice is its corner stone, that it was called into existence and kept in existence to show the supreme value of civil and religious liberty. "We are not perfect," said he, "but we have been teaching the world some things and are setting an example to the old nations of the world. God designs us, the people of the United States, as his stewards for the upbuilding of a spiritual kingdom on earth." He also spoke for universal peace and concluded by saying, "Our lives and actions as public or private citizens should be in keeping with the obligations resting upon us as Christian people." The service concluded with the singing of America.

Episcopal Service

There was a good attendance Thursday morning at the Thanksgiving services in the Episcopal church of the Holy Faith. The rector, Rev. W. R. Dye, preached a Thanksgiving sermon from the text, "In all Things Give Thanks." The choir rendered special Thanksgiving music.

At Cathedral.

Solemn high mass was held at the Cathedral Thursday morning, Vicar General Anthony Pourcheu being the celebrant. He also spoke of the nature of the day itself. The attendance was large, especially of men.

A bazaar and sale of fancy articles under the auspices of the Sisters of St. Vincent's sanitarium was begun Thursday evening in the upper rooms of the orphan asylum. There are two booths very prettily arranged and designed. One, the fancy work booth, is in charge of Mrs. I. H. Rapp, assisted by Mrs. William Rapp and Miss Olson. Here is to be found a rare collection of fancy articles of every nature, including Battenberg work, Christmas booklets, center pieces, cut glass, etc. In this booth are two elegant large panel paintings by Miss Massie, sister of Dr. J. A. Massie. There are articles donated by friends in New York, Kansas City, Chicago, Denver and many other distant points. A box is expected today from the Mother House at Cincinnati.

AMERICAN MINISTER STEPS DOWN AND OUT

Managua, Nov. 27.—John Gardner Coolidge, American minister to Nicaragua, today tendered his resignation. He also is resigning from the diplomatic service. It is reported he took the step because of the disapproval of his government of his course in meddling with the internal affairs of Nicaragua.

Resignation Accepted With Regret.

Washington, Nov. 26.—That the impression should have obtained that the resignation of John Gardner Coolidge, as minister to Nicaragua was the result of disapproval of his conduct by the State Department, caused surprise at that department. It declares that nothing that Coolidge has done in connection with Nicaraguan matters met official disapproval except his tendering his resignation, which is accepted with regret.

SEATTLE BUSINESS MAN MURDERED BY THUGS

Seattle, Nov. 27.—Hugh McMahon, manager of the American cafe, a well-known business man, was murdered in the front yard of the residence next door to his own home, early today. His face was battered to a pulp, his skull fractured, a finger nearly torn off from which a $100 diamond ring was wrenched. The police believe the murder was the work of thugs.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN ST. PETERSBURG

St. Petersburg, Nov. 27.—The Asiatic cholera, which broke out here three months ago, and was thought to have been exterminated, seems to have broken out afresh. In the last 24 hours there were 27 new cases in this city, mainly among the well-to-do classes. All cases are virulent.

PERTH AMBOY STRIKERS QUIET

Perth Amboy, N. J., Nov. 26.—While there was anticipation of trouble when the plant of the National Fire Proofing company attempted to resume operations today after a holiday suspension, a strong guard of troops evidently discouraged the strikers and quiet reigned throughout the entire district.

The only incident of the night was a shot fired by a sentry in an effort to halt a passerby who proved not to be a striker. Further efforts to settle the differences between the men and company will be made today.

FORESTRY

ORGANIZATION

Officials and Clerks at Albuquerque Headquarters

PERSONNEL IS DESIGNATED

Large Force to Arrive from Washington on December First.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The names of the 377 foresters, clerks and stenographers who are to make up the personnel of the United States Forest Service headquarters of the six districts into which the national forests have been divided have just been announced. The district foresters' offices, located in Denver, Colo.; Ogden, Utah; Missoula, Mont.; Albuquerque, N. M.; San Francisco, Cal., and Portland, Ore., will open on December 1.

The new field organization of the Forest Service will greatly facilitate the use of the national forests by the people. It will mean that the national forest business which formerly was transacted in Washington will be handled by officers on or near the ground. The establishment of the district headquarters is the culmination of a plan towards which the Forest Service has been working steadily, since it took charge of the national forests.

Each national forest district will be in charge of a district forester. The work at district headquarters will be distributed among four offices, Operation, Grazing, Silviculture and Products, each equipped with men of special training for the work of their office.

The office of Operation will be charged with responsibility for the protection of national forests, for the building of roads, trails and other permanent improvements upon them, for the organization of the force on national forests, and with the supervision of all business relating to the special use of national forest resources. The office of Silviculture will have supervision of the free use and sale of timber from national forests, forest planting upon them, and will conduct forest studies on national forests as well as in co-operation with private owners in the district. The office of Grazing will supervise grazing business in the district, except for the actual fixing of allowances, periods and rates, and will make studies looking to the improvement of the forage crop on national forests. The office of Products will make both independently and in co-operation with private owners, studies leading to a more profitable use of timber on and off national forests within the district and to their preservative treatment.

From the district foresters down the personnel of the district offices is made up of men picked for their proved capacity, for their thorough training, and for their experience in the West. Most of them are men who not only have worked in the West after they entered in the service, but who lived in the West before they took up the Government forest work. Many of them are men who formerly were employed on the national forests and have been promoted to larger responsibilities as a result of their high efficiency. The personnel of the District No. 3, including Arizona, Arkansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, with headquarters at Albuquerque, is as follows:

A. C. Ringland, district forester; E. H. Clapp, assistant district forester; A. C. Waha, chief, office of Operation; R. G. Willson, assistant chief; E. H. Jones, chief engineer; Hugh H. Harris, chief, section of Occupancy; Oliver C. Phillips, claims clerk; Mrs. K. M. Riley and G. Griffin, settlement clerks; W. D. Wheeler, uses clerk; J. J. Duff, fiscal agent; William Rose, A. Morris, Miss M. L. Hobgood and Mrs. E. V. Steely, accounts clerks; W. B. Bunton, chief, section of maintenance; Miss Mary Latimer, file clerk; Miss Cornelia Glase, assistant file clerk; Mrs. Ruth Harris, mail clerk; E. R. Thompson, Chas. H. Freyer and Miss Helen B. Smith, draftsmen.

J. K. Campbell, Chief, Office of Grazing; John Kerr, Assistant Chief; Miss Zaleika Folder, Clerk. Hugh H. Harris is in Santa Fe now and was formerly supervisor of the Manzano and Mount Taylor Reserves. The following have been assigned to the stenographic work in this district: Misses Ethel M. White, Hilda Rosenquist, Stella Hooper, P. Womack, Laura M. Holcomb, Carry L. Hendricks, Sue Hayward, May Wise, Ermina E. Weaver, Anna Mellan, Eva L. Gay, Lillian E. Wessler, Mabel Berry, Hattie Felder, Lena A. Daniels, and Marguerite T. Waters.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Colo., Nov. 27.—The weather forecast for New Mexico: Tonight and Saturday, rain in south portion, snow in north portion.

Complete line of hand bags soon.—Stripling Burrows & Co.
Be sure and call at our store one day this week. Wood-Davis Hardware Co.

Don W. Lusk, city editor of the New Mexican, is confined to his home with an attack of tonsillitis.

The boys of St. Michael's college attended the matinee Thursday afternoon at the opera house in a body and were much pleased with the entertainment.

Not even Thanksgiving delayed the work of excavating for the new armory, a dozen teams and a score of workmen being employed Thursday pushing the work as rapidly as possible.

Don't fail to read carefully Wood-Davis Hardware Co.'s advertisement in this paper.

The boys from the Mary E. James Presbyterian mission school enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday at the Allison Presbyterian mission school for girls. All did justice to a very appetizing menu.

About the only excitement on Santa Fe's streets Thursday was that occasioned by the visit of two wandering showmen with a large tame bear which did some clever stunts for the entertainment of a crowd of spectators.

Read Wood-Davis Hardware Co. advertisement and you will not wonder why they have such crowds every day. Mrs. Nellie M. Ross died this week at Saint Anthony's Sanitarium at Las Vegas, at the age of 31 years, succumbing to tuberculosis. Her husband is a wealthy lumberman of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, where interment will be made.

The meeting of the Board of Trade this evening at eight o'clock in the Board of Trade rooms, will be an important one, and every citizen interested in the welfare of Santa Fe should attend. The Board of Trade rooms are located in the Prince Block on Palace avenue.

Have you seen the modern cooking wonder at Wood-Davis Hardware Co. store? Come in any day this week.

N. S. Belden raised two car loads of potatoes this year by dry farming methods on the Las Vegas mesa. What can be done in that line on the Las Vegas mesa, can certainly be brought about on the mesa south and north of Santa Fe. In fact, years ago, Santa Fe raised all the potatoes it consumed in the Santa Fe canon.

Wood-Davis Hardware Co. are giving free a handsome set of ware, well worth $7.50. See advertisement in this paper.

A. H. Broadhead, Dr. Charles A. Wheelon and John K. Stauffer comprised a trio of nimrods who started for Buckman's yesterday morning at dawn with the idea of creating a terrific slaughter among the shy denizens of the plains, but these kept out of sight and only two careless quail fell victims to their prowess.

Coming soon! Most complete line of hand bags in the city. See them.—Stripling Burrows & Co.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, perplexing, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

The funeral of Thomas Madden was held at Cerrillos Wednesday under the auspices of the Cerrillos lodge of A. F. & A. M. Quite a number of Santa Fe Masons attended the funeral.

Albert J. Holland of Glenheim, Ontario, died yesterday at Albuquerque of tuberculosis. He was aged 27 years and came to New Mexico only recently.

Ignacio Sandoval, who came into town today from the Arroyo Hondo, reports that he saw a flock of eighteen wild turkeys yesterday near Dudrow's sawmill southeast of the city and also four deer. Several days ago, just after the fresh snow, bear tracks were seen in the same vicinity and it is reported that grouse are coming down as far as the upper Hondo on account of the deep snow in the higher Sierras.

Get a handsome set of ware, worth $7.50, free. See Wood-Davis Hardware Co.'s advertisement in this paper for particulars.

Filemon Sanchez, member of the house of the last legislative assembly, pleaded guilty to assault on a house in the district court at Las Vegas a few days ago. The case of the Territory vs. Virginia Valdez de Teitlebaum, for the murder of her husband, was continued to the next term of court. Pedro Gutierrez pleaded guilty to seduction. The territorial grand jury returned one indictment, against Albert Moore, for the larceny of a $40 gold watch. Moore is only nineteen years of age.

The Majestic Mfg. Co., of St. Louis, Mo., have a man at Wood-Davis Hardware Co.'s store this week, showing the Majestic Range in actual operation, baking and serving biscuits to the large crowds.

A. C. Eubank, W. J. Preston, Charles E. Michaels, Frank Frazier and A. B. Craycraft returned Thursday from a sojourn of several days in the hills in the vicinity of Buckman, ostensibly on a hunting expedition. The game had evidently been warned of the approach of such a band of mighty nimrods and had taken to the tall timber only a single quail falling before their guns. They, however, enjoyed the trip and spent some time inspecting the cliff dwellings and other archaeological features of that region.

The Sisters of Charity gave one of their characteristic big dinners at the Sanitarium Thursday afternoon. It was one of the best Thanksgiving dinners in Santa Fe, a truly gastronomic treat which was enjoyed by a large number, the tables being lined with guests from 1 to 3. The dinner was a credit to those in charge and a success in every respect. Little girls from the orphanage served on the tables in a very creditable manner, attending to the wants of the guests with all the dispatch and courtesy of more experienced waiters.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars free.

GREAT GAME OF FOOTBALL AT ALBUQUERQUE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Varsity Team Went Down Before the Arizona Aggregation, Despite the Many Victories to the Credit of the Former

In what was very decidedly the best football game ever seen in New Mexico or Arizona, the Arizona university players defeated the University of New Mexico by the score of 10 to 5, yesterday afternoon before a crowd of about 2,000 spectators at Albuquerque, who held their faith in the New Mexico team right to the end of the game, cheering them up to the finish, even when it became apparent that the rally which the boys from the hill took in the second half had come too late for results.

Arizona's husky players won the game by vigorous offensive play in the first half, when they were fresh and when the home team seemed to be struggling under more or less nervousness, which made itself apparent in frequent fumbles and in a weakness in defense which was a disappointment after the team's good record in earlier games.

A Successful Season.

Albuquerque, Nov. 27.—Yesterday's game with the University of Arizona closed the season for the University of New Mexico. It has been a most successful season not only from the fact that victories have been won but also because of the general interest aroused among the students of the school in athletics and physical development. The latter is, after all, the chief aim in college athletics. With all this interest, however, school work has not been allowed to flag and the average of scholarship among the members of the varsity team has been fully equal to that of any team that plays the game.

Previous to the Arizona game, five games were played with New Mexico institutions as follows:

- Oct. 24, Albuquerque Indian school, score 37-0.
- Oct. 31, Albuquerque Indian School, score 12-6.
- Nov. 7, N. M. School of Mines, score 30-0.
- Nov. 14, N. M. Military Institute, score 16-12.
- Nov. 21, Agricultural College, score 10-6.

By the winning of these five contests the university secured the championship of New Mexico, hitherto considered the undisputed possession of the Agricultural college. The latter, however, was decisively defeated on its own field last Saturday. In all, five games have been played between the two schools, the college having won three and the university two games since athletic contests began to take place between the two institutions.

Three men are primarily responsible for the good showing made by the university in football this year. Early in the fall H. H. Conwell took charge of the squad and by his experience and ability as a player and his personal influence over the students, he has developed, perhaps, the fastest and strongest team ever known in New Mexico. Lawrence Lee of the class of 1912, manager, has secured the games and raised the necessary money for properly financing the season—a no small task. Walter Allen, captain, of the class of 1911, has most ably directed the team's playing on the field and as half back has carried the ball as no other player has done in this part of the country this year.

Each individual member of the team deserves the greatest praise for his steady practice and his loyalty to his school.

In more than twenty-five men constituted the guard and were faithfully on hand for the daily scrimmages. From these the following team was selected:

- Walter Allen, right halfback.
- Earl Welsher, fullback.
- Charles Safford, left halfback.
- Clark Irwin, quarterback.
- Lawrence Silva, center.
- Joshua Saulsbury, right guard.
- Verne Hesse, right tackle.
- Gillett Cornish, right end.
- Waldo Arens, left guard.
- James McConnell, left tackle.
- Edmund Ross, left end.

Substitutes—Chas. Lembke, Joseph Silva, Michael McGuinness, Harold Marsh.

The average weight of the team is 164 lbs.

H. H. Conwell, Coach University of New Mexico Football Team.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and as a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

A USEFUL BOOK FOR THE FARMER.

Each year, the ravages caused by insects in New Mexico orchards and on New Mexico farms, are becoming more widespread and more costly. Only a few years ago the San Juan Valley could send out a train load of apples with the legend: "A million apples and not a single worm," but this is no longer possible. A few years ago, it was New Mexico's boast that it was free from many kinds of injurious insects but today the farmer must fight as elsewhere for his very existence against the inroads of insect pests. But to destroy them we must know what are injurious insects, how they pass their winter, how many broods they have each year, when to spray, what to spray with or when to use other preventive measures.

To answer these important questions there has been published by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Agricultural College, New Mexico, Bulletin No. 68, a 64-page illustrated pamphlet, just from the press of the New Mexican Printing company. The author is Professor Fabian Garcia, the leading authority in New Mexico upon the questions answered. While the bulletin is intended primarily to disseminate information among the gardeners, fruit growers and farmers of the Territory in regard to these injurious insects, yet, it should be found also in every public and in every school library of the Territory. In fact, a Spanish edition should be printed for the information of Spanish-speaking farmers of the Southwest.

Fighting injurious insects is now about as important a farm or orchard operation as cultivation, irrigation and many other farm practices. In order to produce better results it is at times well to combine insecticides with the preventive measures. Special attention is given to the different measures that have been tried and that are recommended by the different authorities throughout the country. Every gardener and fruit grower in the territory can get a copy of the bulletin by writing to the Agricultural college, New Mexico, for a copy.

Along this line it is also timely to again call the attention of fruit growers in the territory to the matter of getting to work on the San Jose scale if they have it in their trees. The scale can be destroyed by the use of the lime sulphur wash applied once or twice during the winter or spring. This wash is given in Bulletin 68. It is time now to be making preparations, as it usually takes longer to get ready and to do the work than is expected. One should first ascertain if the trees are infested with the scale. In case a person is not certain that the scale is present a few twigs can be sent to the horticultural department for identification of the insect.

BALANCE OF TRADE UNDER REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION.

Relying on the temporary financial depression, the Democrats went into the recent campaign, declaring that the Republican administration and its high tariff doctrines were responsible for all the trouble, and that the election of Bryan would immediately restore good times, steady employment, and good wages. The days when such groundless assertions found credence in the minds of the people have passed, never to return. Year after year, the people read more, study more, are becoming more intelligent, and consequently less liable to be misled by Democratic mendacity. There is no better gauge to the financial condition of the country than what is called the balance of trade. If we are selling to foreign countries more than we are buying from them, we are without saying that balance is in our favor; and vice versa. A glance at the statistics of imports and exports and the difference between them for several years will be instructive. In the last year of Buchanan's tariff-for-revenue administration the balance of trade was $69,756,709 against the United States; while in the year 1907 under Roosevelt's protective tariff administration, we attained the magnificent figures of $446,429,633, in favor of the United States. That is to say that under the so-called tariff for revenue only, we bought $69,756,709 worth more than we sold, and under a protective tariff we sold $446,429,633 worth more than we bought. Being a clear gain to the United States of $376,672,944 over the Buchanan tariff. It looks as if these figures would convince even a Democrat, that America is making more money under protection than she did under the tariff for revenue only of Buchanan.

JUST RESENTMENT.

It is quite natural that the people of the Mesilla Valley feel the keenest resentment over the published statements of the testimony given before the Roosevelt Country Life Commission at El Paso, Texas, a few days ago, in which the native people of New Mexico, and especially of Dona Ana County, were accused of being purchasable on election day. Oscar C. Snow, who, it was alleged, had given such testimony, appeared before a mass meeting of indignant citizens at Las Cruces, and stated, that the wrong construction had been placed upon his testimony. Very strong resolutions were adopted, which concluded as follows:

"We denounce the statements as published, as totally unfounded in fact, as defamatory in character and as unwarranted aspersions upon the whole Territory and upon the people of the Mesilla Valley and upon the native people in particular and as calculated, if allowed to go unchallenged, to do the people of the territory in their aspirations for statehood great injustice.

"And be it further resolved, that said Oscar C. Snow or any other person, be invited to present to the next grand jury any evidence they may possess as to corrupt practice in the last election and that every opportunity be given him or them to substantiate their charges."

It is deplorable when the people of the territory are slandered by outsiders, but when men and papers of the Territory itself, give countenance to such slanders, they should be called before the bar of public opinion and rebuked.

ADMISSION SHOULD COME NOW.

The Denver Republican is coming around to favor the proposition of the admission of the territories of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood and that without the loss of time. Of course, the fact that both territories are now safely Republican has much to do with this favorable opinion, which is also becoming general among the law makers at the National capital. Says the Republican:

"While we still believe that the separate admission of New Mexico and Arizona as two comparatively weak states would be less conducive to western interests than their union in one strong, self-reliant and aggressive commonwealth, nevertheless, if they are to be admitted separately, there is no reason why the doors of the Union should be closed against them any longer.

"Both have sufficient wealth and population to maintain state governments, and undoubtedly the growth of each would be stimulated by the independence and power of self-government which comes with statehood.

"New Mexico, especially, has been seeking admission for many years, and nothing is to be gained by further delay. It has grown largely in population in recent years, and Anglo-Saxon influence has been greatly strengthened by the influx of settlers from other parts of the country. An efficient public school system is removing the reproach of illiteracy, and there is no question that the people would maintain an orderly and progressive government."

NEW MEXICO'S INTEREST IN THE TARIFF.

Next to statehood, New Mexico is most interested in the proposed revision of the tariff, in the matter of impending national legislation. Three schedules, especially, affect the welfare of the territory, those on wool, lead and sugar. It is seriously proposed to reduce the tariff on lead one cent a pound or $20 a ton, which would be ruinous to the lead mining industry of the United States. New Mexico produces considerable lead and has many undeveloped low grade lead propositions that with an adequate tariff will be great wealth producers in the near future, but without protection, will be practically valueless. As to wool, there is no need of argument to demonstrate that reductions or abolition of the tariff on wool, would prove ruinous to New Mexico's second largest industry. Without the tariff on sugar, the probability of New Mexico securing beet sugar factories would become very remote, in fact, out of the question. The fact, that New Mexico has no voice in tariff legislation so vitally affecting its prosperity, brings keenly to mind, the desirability of immediate statehood for the territory.

The Taft campaign cost a round million dollars, or less than fifteen cents for each vote received by the Republican candidate. However, his election would have been cheap at any price.

TO CALIFORNIA OVER THE SANTA FE TRAIL.

"To California over the Santa Fe Trail," by C. A. Higgins, illustrated with pen and ink sketches by the famous illustrators J. T. McCutcheon, Carl N. Wertz and John W. Norton, has become a classic in travel literature, and the public owes gratitude to the passenger department of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, for printing a new edition of this interesting two hundred page volume and distributing it free. True, there is not a word of advertising of the Santa Fe system in the book as written by Mr. Higgins, yet the graphic description of Southwestern and Pacific Coast scenes will turn many a tourist to the Santa Fe Route who would have gone elsewhere otherwise. The illustrations to be found on every page, are nearly all placed artistically in the margin, or as vignettes at the head of the chapters. Though observing fidelity to nature, they yet possess the touch that only a born artist can give and are far more beautiful to the artistic eye than the modern half-tone. Chapter Two is devoted entirely to New Mexico and as in other of the Santa Fe publications, due recognition is given to Santa Fe's unique attractions. All in all, the book is a volume that should not only grace every library table but that should be read and re-read for the information it contains and the vivid word pictures it draws of scenes that are familiar to us in the Southwest but that are strange to the people living in other parts of the country.

"New Mexico Journal of Education," deputed to the unification and advancement of the educational interests of New Mexico, a monthly published at Albuquerque, comes regularly to the editorial desk of the New Mexican, a token that New Mexico is keeping pace with other commonwealths both in its public school work and in its institutions of higher learning. Charles E. Hodgins is the editor, and Robert F. Asplund, the publisher and manager, and each number brings much of interest not only to professional educators but to parents and the home. The work of publishing the periodical is one of love rather than of financial gain, but even aside from this fact, the journal is worthy of support.

While the Socialists did not poll nearly as large a vote as had been expected on November 3 in this territory, yet, they polled almost two per cent of the total vote cast, held the balance of power between the two other candidates and could have elected one or defeated the other by a concerted movement to throw their vote all one way. This seems like a remarkable situation, but really is of no consequence, as the Socialists will continue to run their own ticket rather than doing as did the Populists some years ago, fuse with one of the two dominant parties.

The Trinidad City Council has appropriated $500 toward a memorial tablet to be placed to mark the historic Santa Fe trail that passed through that city. The tablet will be erected in Kit Carson park given Trinidad by a public-spirited citizen. This leads the New Mexican to ask what has become of the Memorial Arch which was to have been erected to mark the end of the trail in this city? An appropriation was made by the legislature for the construction of the arch, but is likely to lapse because no work on the proposed monument has been done.

It is only one of many signs of the return of good times, brought by Taft's election, but it is of especial interest to New Mexico that the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, this week decided to expend $1,600,000 immediately for new equipment and motive power, for some of this equipment and power will be used right here in this territory. New Mexico not only gets its share, but is getting more than its proportion of prosperity, through the increase of business activity brought by Republican success at the polls this month.

The Colorado Midland railroad has placed an order for 25,000,000 colored souvenir postal cards in Germany, illustrating fifty different views along its line. This will prove splendid advertising, but as Denver does as good color printing as is done in Germany, it seems strange that a road like the Colorado Midland, should pass by the industries of its own state in order to favor a foreign house. There is evidently a need for additional tariff schedules.

The largest convention of next year, that of the National Educational Association, goes to Denver, and that means that thousands of teachers and their friends will make side trips from Denver into New Mexico and to the Pacific coast. Santa Fe should do some advertising of its manifold attractions in order to secure its share of visitors next July.

The Mesilla Valley citizen who insists that fifty to sixty votes were purchased in his precinct and that $5,000 to $6,000 were spent on November 3 in Dona Ana county for the purchase of votes, may be in a position to explain why Delegate Andrews received only one-third of his expected majority in that county.

In a Thanksgiving interview published yesterday, President-elect Taft said: "My best cause for Thanksgiving is that we have had three children; that all of them have escaped serious ills and that we have lost none." It is evident that race suicide advocates will have to keep off the White House lawn for another four years.

The Saving Habit

If you are thrifty, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life! and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum. The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

When the blood is pure and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth, and free from all blemishes and eruptions; but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation, its presence is quickly manifested by some form of skin disease. The skin receives its necessary nourishment and strength from the blood. When, however, this vital fluid becomes a humor-laden stream, it can no longer preserve the healthy, natural appearance of the skin, but by its acid, impure nature continually irritates and inflames the delicate tissues and fibres and keeps the cuticle in a diseased and disfigured condition. External applications cannot reach the blood, and therefore are beneficial only for their ability to reduce inflammation, and assist in keeping the parts clean. To cure any skin trouble the blood must be purified of the humors that are causing the trouble. S. S. S. drives out the humors from the blood so that the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a healthy, cooling stream. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impure matter, all acids and humors, and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, thereby curing every form of skin disease or affection. Book on skin diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

How to Cure a Cold.

Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability one that has an established reputation and that is certain to affect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world-wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which always shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

WINNING MISS EDITH.

By James Heclow.

Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.

"Why so glum?" asked Carl Bray as Millie hurried up. "You look as though you had just come from the funeral of your best friend."

"I come from the burial of hopes," she said. "I had a perfectly horrid time with Aunt Edith this morning."

"Doesn't she want a nephew-in-law?" he asked, growing grave.

"When I told her that I had known you for some time and that you wanted permission to call, she answered that I must have shown how much I cared."

"That's no crime," he said softly.

"Not that," she agreed, "but she said that if I had known you long enough to care for you and you had not sought her permission to pay attention to me you were not the sort of man to make a good husband and that I must never see you again."

"But she never goes into society," he protested, "and we were in love with each other before it ever occurred to us to ask permission of her to do so."

"I told her all that," answered Millie, "but it did no good. When Aunt Edith has her mind made up, there is no use trying to change it."

"There isn't?" he said, with a snap of his determined jaw. "I'll land the old lady yet. You watch me. So don't worry, dear. I'll make her like me whether she wants to or not. Don't you think I can?" he asked as her face did not clear.

"You're a dear," she said hesitatingly, "but Aunt Edith is awfully stubborn."

"But you don't know how fascinating I can be to old ladies," he insisted. "Sometimes I think I should have done better had I given up my business to become a book agent selling something that appeals to old ladies."

"Aunt Edith hates book agents," she said dolefully.

"Well, I'm not one yet," he laughed. "It will all come out all right."

Millie took comfort from his confidence, but Carl was by no means as certain as he tried to appear. Miss Edith Ormsby was not a person to be easily won. She lived in the past. Life had stopped for her when the man she was to marry was killed in a railroad wreck.

She had become a recluse in the handsome house at the foot of the Claire street hill. When her sister died and left her little daughter to Miss Edith's care, she had lightened a little the rigors of her life, but she had never gone into society, and she was still of the belief that an honorable suitor first made application to the parents of the girl he loved before he sued for her hand.

When Millie confessed that she loved Carl Bray and he had asked that he might see the old lady, she gasped, realizing what would happen, but she had conveyed his request bravely enough, only to be met by a rebuff.

She had been ordered never to see Carl again, and Miss Edith had departed to interview Drina Newhall, who chaperoned Millie when she went out in society.

Carl left the girl with a heavy heart, though his parting was a laughing assurance that all would come right. Almost unconsciously he turned his steps toward the hill. He had half promised to drop over and see how the new coasting bob was working. He and his two small nephews had put a lot of work in the construction of the bobs, and today was the first time there had been a chance to use them.

The Claire street hill was the recognized coasting point. There were no intersecting car tracks, teamsters were used to watching the point, and there was but little traffic.

He found the small boys aglow with pride. By cunningly weighting the sleds the bobs had turned out the fastest on the hill, and Carl readily fell in with their suggestion that he try their speed.

He had made two trips and was preparing for the third when he noticed an old lady standing watching the boys. There was a wistfulness in her eyes that appealed to him, and he stepped up.

"Won't you try a ride?" he asked pleasantly. "The hill is in splendid shape."

"Nonsense!" was the energetic reply. "I have not ridden on those things since I was a little girl."

"All the more reason you should seek to renew the pleasure," he smiled. "It's great fun."

"The last time I coasted down this hill was in the winter of 1872. I was nineteen then."

"Be nineteen again," he pleaded, held by the look of longing in her eyes. "It's helped me wonderfully today. I'll be careful. Will you come?"

Carl had spoken the truth when he told Millie that he was successful with the old ladies. There were a genial frankness in his manner and an honest look in his face that won regard and confidence. For a moment the old lady hesitated; then with a little laugh she stepped off the curb.

"If any one sees me I shall tell them that you hypnotized me," she warned as, smiling with excitement, she took her place on the seat. Carl took the tiller, and Ben and Bobby gained a running start before they threw themselves on.

They shot down the hill with an easy motion that deceived as to the speed. The trees lining the sidewalk flew past, and twice Carl forged ahead of some other sled, and his passengers echoed the triumphant shouts voiced by the boys.

She rose reluctantly as they at last came to a stop. Her eyes sparkled, and there was a soft flush in her yellow cheeks. "I was nineteen for awhile," she smiled at Carl. "I did not imagine that I should enjoy it so."

"Try it again," he urged promptly. "I'll help you up."

For a moment she wavered; then, accepting the proffered arm, she started back up the hill. They stood chatting at the top while waiting for the boys to drag up the heavy bobs. She told of the old days, while he listened with respectful attention, and once or twice she even joined his good natured banter as some of the boys they had passed came along.

Then the boys arrived with the bobs, and a second time she carefully tucked her skirts about her and prepared for the swift descent. This time three sleds started out together to race. She entered into the spirit of the occasion and nearly lost her balance looking back to see how far behind they were leaving their competitors.

So intent upon the race was she that as the bobs came to a stop she never noticed the horrified young woman standing on the sidewalk until a shocked "Auntie!" attracted her attention.

"Don't you say a word about my rheumatism," she ordered briskly. "This young gentleman has given me back my youth, and you don't have rheumatism when you're only nineteen."

"Want to have a ride, too, Millie?" laughed Carl. His passenger faced him quickly.

"Do you mean to say that you are the young reprobate who has been trying to steal my girl away?" she demanded.

"You've got it all wrong," he explained. "I'm not a reprobate, and I'm not trying to steal Millie. We never expected to leave—that is, unless you want us to."

"And this was all part of a plan to gain my good humor?" she went on.

"Believe me," he said earnestly. "I had no idea who you were. It seemed to me that you wanted to take a trip, and it had done me so much good that I wanted you to try it."

For a moment her sharp eyes searched his face. Then she put out her hand.

"I believe you, Carl," she said. "Suppose you come home with Millie and me and talk it over. I suppose that even courtships are different nowadays, so I shall not hold that against you."

Carl lingered in the hall to struggle with his overcoat and to whisper to Millie, "I told you so." Miss Edith heard the soft sound that followed, but she only smiled indulgently, for Carl had won two hearts instead of one.

What Would You Do?

In case of a burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by all druggists.

Facts About The Great Majestic Range

It is the only range in the world made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron.

It has, beyond any question of a doubt, the largest and best reservoir.

It uses about half the fuel used on other ranges, and does better work by far.

The Majestic All Copper Nickelized Reservoir heats the water quicker and hotter than any other. It is the only reservoir with a removable frame.

The Charcoal Iron Body of the Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a steel body.

Being made of non-breakable material, there is practically no expense for repairing the Majestic.

As for baking, it is perfection; not only for a few months, but for all time to come.

A Great Majestic Range last three times as long as a cheap range, but it don't cost three times as much.

PROOF—We don't ask you to take our word for any of the above statements, but if you will call at our store, a man from the factory where Majestic Ranges are made, will prove to your satisfaction that these are absolute facts, and will show you many more reasons why the Great Majestic Range is absolutely the best that money can buy.
