BRING GONZALES TO SANTA FE

Taos Man Charged With Murder to Have Hearing

WILL TAKE PLACE TONIGHT

Large Number of Witnesses Journey to Capital to Give Testimony.

Carlos Gonzales, of Rancho de Taos, was brought to Santa Fe on the belated Rio Grande train this morning by J. W. Collier, member of the territorial mounted police. Gonzales is accused of the murder of Evaristo Rivera at Rancho de Taos.

The trouble which resulted in the inflicting of fatal injuries upon the dead man started over a division of property. Juan P. Gonzales, a well known ranchman, died at Rancho de Taos several weeks ago, leaving considerable property in lands, sheep and a blacksmith and carpenter shop. November 21 the heirs met in the carpenter shop of the deceased to make a division of the property.

How Row Started.
Carlos Gonzales, a son of the dead man, claimed that his father had desired that he should retain the shop as his. Evaristo Rivera denied this, saying that it should be partitioned with the rest of the property among the four children. Rivera is said to have exclaimed:

"I won't allow you to steal it."
Thereupon the argument waxed hot and in the heat of passion Gonzales is said to have picked up a steel carpenter's square hanging in the shop and struck Rivera over the head. Dr. T. P. Martin, the attending physician, found that the skull had been fractured at the base of the brain. Rivera lingered between life and death until November 27, when he died.

Justice of Peace Lenient.
After the trouble which resulted in the injury to Rivera, Gonzales was arrested and arraigned before Jose Hilario Lucero, justice of the peace of Precinct No. 1, Rancho de Taos. Here he was fined $25 and costs for assault and battery and turned loose. Later he was again arrested on the charge of assault with intent to kill and brought before Felix Trujillo, justice of the peace of Precinct No. 4. He was released without a fine by this justice on the grounds that the defendant had already been punished for the crime.

Later the injured man died and the matter was taken up by the district attorney, and upon communication with Judge John R. McFie Gonzales was ordered arrested on a bench warrant and brought to this city for a preliminary hearing.

A coroner's jury sat after the death of Rivera and brought in a verdict that death resulted from injuries received at the hands of Carlos Gonzales.

Many Witnesses.
Accordingly the witness in the case were brought to the city for a hearing. Among the witnesses are Juan B. Vigil and Juan F. Montoya, who were present during the altercation. They had been picked by Gonzales and Rivera to be present as arbitrators during the attempt to settle the estate, without resorting to due process of law. Maliquias Martinez, former member of the legislative council from Taos county, is also present as is Jose Gonzales, a brother of the prisoner, Juanita T. Gonzales, the mother of the prisoner, Josefa V. Gonzales, a sister, Mrs. Evaristo Rivera, widow of the murdered man, and her daughter, Dr. T. P. Martin, the attending physician, is also present as well as P. A. Sunderland, of Chicago, a friend of Dr. Martin.

It is said that there had been no ill feeling between the two men prior to the day of the altercation.

Hearing Set for Tonight.
It is understood that Gonzales will be given a preliminary hearing this evening, as Judge McFie had his day sessions of court taken up with a land grant case which will occupy several days yet. The many people from Taos brought to the city in connection with the case are anxious to return home.

Attorney Charles A. Spiess will look after the interests of the defendant, while C. C. Catron, assistant district attorney, will present the case of the territory. It is understood that the charge will be murder in the first degree. To this charge the defendant will plead not guilty. Gonzales is confined in the county jail.

THREE HUNDRED FIFTY FISHERMEN ARE DROWNED.

Tokio, Dec. 3.—Thirty-five Japanese fishing boats were wrecked in a typhoon yesterday off Hatsu Island. It is reported 350 fishermen were drowned.

TIMBER FAMINE ALREADY IN SIGHT

Assistant Forester of United States Says Top Notch of Perfection Has Been Reached.

Washington, Dec. 3.—That the top notch of the production of lumber in the United States was reached during the past year and that from now on the annual production would either remain the same as last year or would show a decrease, was the startling announcement made before the National Conservation Commission by Overton W. Price, assistant forester of the United States forest service. He also said that the annual cut of timber last year would cover a piece of land 1,000 acres in area and would make a pile as high as the Washington monument.

"It has been estimated," continued Mr. Price, "that our industries subsisting wholly or mainly upon wood would pay the wages of more than 1,500,000 persons; that the original forests covered one-half of the United States and existing forests cover only one-fourth, and that only 70 per cent of our public forests and less than one per cent of our private forests are conserved by us."

"The average growth in all our forests is about twelve cubic feet per acre, or a total of seven billion cubic feet. But we take from the forests twenty-three billion cubic feet each year, or over three times what they produce."

The lands section of the commission held its session today. The names of two new commissioners were announced this afternoon, ex-Governor George C. Pardee, of California, and Dr. Charles Vanhise, of the University of Wisconsin.

SAFFORD MAKES HIT AT BANQUET

Proves Himself Quite an After-Dinner Speaker at Tucumcari Stag Feast.

The Tucumcari News, in a six-column write-up of a stag banquet at Tucumcari, Quay county, at which covers were laid for a hundred, introduces Territorial Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford as an after-dinner speaker and also says a few words about the toast of Hon. M. C. Mechem, who is a member-elect to the legislative council. Says the News:

"Hon. C. V. Safford, of Santa Fe responded to 'The Stranger Within Our Gates,' in an address which was enjoyed by all. Mr. Safford is a pleasing speaker, and when he had finished his address the citizens of Tucumcari felt more like he was one of them, rather than a stranger."

"Hon. M. C. Mechem responded to 'The Santa Fe Trail.' His address was full of wit and humor and provoked much applause. Mr. Mechem, who is a member-elect of the Territorial Council, and will soon be camping on the Santa Fe Trail, assured his constituency that he would see that they, as well as himself, would have everything they wanted—and more, if he could just 'stand in.' Taxes will be reduced, the 'water wagon' overhauled and new safety appliances attached, and everybody shall be happy."

COMANCHE COMPANY PAYS INDEBTEDNESS

Silver City, N. M., Dec. 3.—Application will be made December 10 at Socorro before Judge Frank W. Parker, asking that the composition between the bankrupt Comanche Mining and Smelting company and its creditors be confirmed. The indebtedness has been paid dollar for dollar and the application will undoubtedly be granted and the Comanche company taken out of bankruptcy. The recently organized Savanna Copper company will take over the stock and control of the Comanche company.

FOUR ARE CREMATED IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 3.—Four persons perished early today in a fire which started from an overheated kitchen stove and burned the Schapiro block in Priceburg. They were Abraham Shaprio, a merchant, his son and daughter and mother-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Blatski. Mrs. Shaprio was carried down a ladder and two sons saved themselves by jumping from the windows, one suffering a fractured ankle.

FIRE AT SILVER CITY MAY CAUSE ONE DEATH

Silver City, N. M., Dec. 3.—A destructive fire which may be attended with fatal results, occurred in this city Tuesday morning. Adolph Gells, who conducts a tailor shop in the Fleming block, was cleaning some clothing with gasoline when it caught fire. Some one threw water into the burning fluid which only scattered the flames. Mr. Gells was badly burned about the face and hands and it is feared he inhaled the flames. The property loss was slight as the fire was soon extinguished.

DANGER PAST AT PINE BLUFF

Citizens Resort to Heroic Measures to Save City

DEFY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

Use Dynamite With Good Effect to Widen River Channel.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 3.—Radical and determined methods were used by unknown parties last night in an effort to divert the swift current of the Arkansas river from in front of Pine Bluff. Throughout the night loud explosions shook the city. Dynamite was freely used in an attempt to protect city property. Today more than 100 yards of land opposite Pine Bluff, known as Bird's Point, including a four-room residence, had disappeared and the river is sweeping past the city in a wider channel and with less force on the endangered bank. The river is expected to recede tonight. The court house and Jefferson hotel, which were regarded in danger of collapse, are still intact today.

UNEARTHS LOST HISTORIC RUINS

Scientist in Mexico Makes Important and Interesting Archaeological Discovery.

Torreón, Mex., Dec. 3.—A great discovery, which is attracting the attention of archaeologists, is that recently made by Manuel Gamio, a student of the City of Mexico, at Chalchihuites, in the state of Zacatecas.

Prof. Gamio, observing that in Chalchihuites the special formation of the ground bore the appearance of the work of human hands, dedicated his attention to a careful exploration, which gave good results.

At a few yards of depth he commenced to encounter objects which were manufactured by some extinct race. Encouraged by these objects, additional activity was given to the work of exploration and they are now down to quite a depth. They have just encountered a large hall or parlor, formed with many stone columns, containing various crypts, vaults and rare antique curiosities.

Of the principal objects just sent to the museum in Mexico City are two urns of an exquisite design, which would be hard to imitate. There are also numerous earthen jars well preserved and as well made as that of the most advanced Indian races of today. Another curious find is strips of wood incrustured with emeralds forming flowers and figures. This is the first work of the kind that has ever been found among the ancient ruins of Mexico.

BANK EXAMINATION LAW NEEDS FIXING.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Defects in methods of bank examination and the inability of the comptroller of the currency to deal with infractions of the banking laws without resorting to such harsh punishment as the closing of the offending national institutions, have been pointed out to the national monetary commission by high officials of the treasury department. Any general revision of the national banking laws is not contemplated by the present hearings, all of which are executive. Such changes as will be recommended, in all probability, will be confined to amendments which can be made without friction between bankers and officials charged with the enforcement of the national banking laws. It is not intended to provide for any general revision of the laws in advance of the full report of the commission, which will not be made until the first regular session of the sixty-first congress.

GOMPERS CONTEMPT CASE GOES OVER A WEEK

Washington, Dec. 3.—The district court of appeals has set December 10 as the date for the hearing of the appeal by the American Federation of Labor from the order of the injunction issued against it by the district supreme court in favor of the Buck Store and Range company in St. Louis. In connection with the contempt proceedings against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, recently heard before Justice Wright of the supreme court, briefs of counsel on both sides were today handed to the court. It is expected a decision with reference to the alleged contempt will not be rendered for at least two weeks.

DEMAND GREATER SAFETY IN MINING

American Congress Plans to Accomplish This

PENSION FUND FOR VICTIMS

Delegates Favor Tax of One-Half Cent on Each Ton of Coal to Raise Money.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 3.—Greater safety in mining, conservatism in coal mining and the formal opening of a government station of investigation composed of mine experts, which was recently established here, were the subject of addresses delivered today before the Mining Congress by Mr. Garfield, Secretary of the Interior; Dr. J. A. Holmes, chief of the technological branch of the United States Geological Survey, and President J. H. Richards. These, with speeches by other well-known mining men and the reception of the delegates by the citizens of Pittsburg, were some of the features confronting the American Mining Congress at the second day's session of the eleventh annual convention which began here today. Apparently the whole convention has concentrated its efforts on the importance of the coal mining industry. A resolution was introduced, providing for a tax of one-half of a cent a ton on all coal mined for pension and other relief of the victims of the mine accidents.

INDIAN BUREAU ON LAST LEGS

Commissioner Leupp Says It Has Served Its Purpose and Should Be Abolished Soon.

Washington, Dec. 3.—A reorganization of the Indian service along lines which will prepare it for going out of business at no distant day, is the general aim of Commissioner Francis E. Leupp, according to his annual report, just issued. He says that he is glad to have been able to affect in a slow and orderly way the changes inaugurated by him, "because the Indian service, handling more than 1,000 appropriations and funds hedged about with some hundreds of statutes, might have been actually wrecked by having a better organization thrust violently upon it."

"No greater help," he declared, "can come to the Indians than through having this service pass out of existence in just the right way."

The commissioner argues that there is no better way of accomplishing this result than for congress to grant him the additional employees he needs "to guide the office in its decline."

A large degree of success, says the commissioner, has attended his efforts to suppress the liquor habit among the Indians.

The number of Indian pupils enrolled and the average attendance at Indian schools of all kinds, exclusive of four public schools, in which Indians were taught, is as follows:

Enrolled, 30,329, an increase of 146 over 1907; average attendance, 25,802, increase of 162 over the preceding year.

The total appropriation for the Indian service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, was $10,070,782, or a net decrease over 1908 of $1,551,365.

TARIFF LIFE OF THE WOOL INDUSTRY

Washington, Dec. 3.—During consideration of the tariff on wool, woolen manufacturers and carpets, which has been begun by the house ways and means committee, General Charles H. Grosvenor, former congressman from Ohio, appeared for the wool growers of Ohio.

"You can't reduce the duty on wool as it stands without destroying the industry," he told the committee. "The industry is now fairly profitable."

General Grosvenor said that under the low rate of duty on wool imposed by the Wilson bill, the number of sheep raised in one county of Ohio decreased from 153,000 to 92,000 within four years.

HENEY QUILTS HOSPITAL; GOING TO MOUNTAINS

San Francisco, Dec. 3.—Francis J. Heney has got recovered from the effects of his wound inflicted by Morris Haas on November 13 as to be able to leave the hospital here today for Marine county, where he will probably remain until he is fully restored to health and able to resume the work of the prosecution in the graft cases.

LAND GRANT SUIT INVOLVES $200,000

Important Case in Hearing Before Judge John R. McFie in Chambers.

The case of the Maxwell Land Grant Company vs. William H. Bartlett and others, occupied the attention of Judge John R. McFie in his chambers in the capitol today. Attorney Charles A. Spiess concluded his argument for the plaintiff this forenoon and this afternoon the defendants presented their arguments.

The suit is brought by the Maxwell Grant and Rocky Mountain Timber companies against W. H. Bartlett, B. J. Van Houten and three other Chicago millionaires for breach of contract and to enjoin them from cutting timber on a 40,000 acre tract of timber in Colfax county near Raton.

According to the complaint W. H. Bartlett, who owns the famous Vermejo ranch, in the Stonewall country, and his colleagues, contracted to purchase a large tract of land from the land grant company. A large quantity of valuable pine timber, worth in the neighborhood of $200,000 is on the land. There was a lease on the timber upon which hinges intricate points of law. The provisions of the lease are said to have given the land grant company the right to forfeit the lease if conditions were not complied with.

It is claimed by Bartlett that he stepped into the shoes of the Maxwell Land Grant company and that the conditions of the lease were not complied with and that he has a right to forfeit the lease and by virtue of his deed from the Maxwell company he became entitled to the timber on the tract.

The land grant company is therefore suing for breach of contract and also to enjoin the cutting of the timber. It is represented by A. A. Jones of Las Vegas and William A. Hawkins of El Paso. Charles A. Spiess, of Las Vegas, and A. C. McChesney, of Trinidad, are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

CAPITALISTS BUY CROWN POINT MINE

One Famous Property in the Bland Mining District to Be Again Placed Among the Producers.

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 3.—It is reported that the famous old Crown Point mine, in the Bland gold district, north of this city, has been sold to New York parties for about $100,000 and will again be extensively operated, after remaining idle for 10 years or more.

Martin Fishback, of El Paso, a well-known mining engineer, who is now at Bland, is said to have negotiated the deal with Henry Lockhart and wife of this city, former owners of the property.

In three years' time previous to closing down this mine, it produced $60,000 in gold and silver. This transaction means the resumption of activity in what was at one time one of the greatest mining fields in the Southwest.

POISON IN LETTER KILLS TRAVELING MAN.

San Francisco, Dec. 3.—The police are investigating what appears to be a case of poison sent in a letter from San Jose to this city. Henry Bose, a salesman, died in his room this morning under circumstances indicating poisoning. It was later ascertained that the poison was contained in a letter mailed at San Jose which was received by Bose yesterday. Detectives have been unable to determine whether he took the poison after reading the letter or whether it was concealed in candy or was an apparently harmless tablet which he ate without being aware of its nature.

Later it was learned the letter contained two powders for the relief of indigestion and directions for their use. It was signed "Charles McSower, M. D." A detective has gone to San Jose, where Bose formerly lived with a Mrs. Walker, to learn if she can throw light on the subject.

DENIES STANDARD OWNS TEXAS OIL COMPANY

New York, Dec. 3.—When the hearing in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company was resumed today, John D. Archbold, vice president of the company, was still on the stand. He testified, that so far as he knew, the Texas oil company was not owned or controlled by the Standard. The Texas company had sold some of its stock, he said, to the Standard.

SUES NEWSPAPER FOR $10,000; GETS $500

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 3.—In the case of John Hart vs. The Citizen Publishing company in which the plaintiff asked for damages to the amount of $10,000 for an alleged libelous article published in the Albuquerque Citizen, a jury in the district court here yesterday awarded Hart $500. Hart is a contractor.

MOB PILLAGES PORT AU PRINCE

Quiet Day Followed By Night of Wild Rioting

FINALLY RESTORE ORDER

Those in Charge of City Stop Looting--Twelve Are Shot to Death.

Port Au Prince, Dec. 3.—The stirring events of an exciting and historical day that saw President Nord Alexis driven from the capital with an infuriated mob at his heels, when he took refuge on a French cruiser, was followed by a night of looting and pillaging in Port Au Prince. The passions of the populace were aroused and after being defeated in their endeavors to do bodily harm to Alexis, they turned their attention to the well stocked stores and residences of the supporters of the late president. They were rapidly getting out of hand when the authorities succeeded in controlling the situation. Twelve men were killed before order was restored.

More Warships Arrive.

The British cruiser Scylla and the American gunboat Eagle came into port at daybreak today. This gives the city the protection of five foreign warships. General Simon, leader of the successful revolutionary movement, has been informed of the occurrences of yesterday. At the head of an army of 5,000 men he is making a forced march for Port Au Prince and probably will arrive here this evening.

Order is Restored.

Order was completely restored by eleven o'clock this morning. The committee on Public Safety made an appeal to the moderation and wisdom of the populace for the purpose of avoiding foreign intervention. A number of pillagers of last night have been arrested.

NINE MONTHS LONGER TO MAKE PAYMENTS

Settlers in Carlsbad Irrigation District Granted a Material Extension.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The secretary of the interior has granted an extension of nine months in which settlers on the Carlsbad Irrigation project, New Mexico, may make payments for water and maintenance. These payments were to fall due March 1 next, but the secretary has extended the time to Dec. 1, 1909, because settlers on this project in many instances have had water only during one irrigating season, whereas it is customary to not exact payments until after the second crop season. Settlers who fail to pay up their first installment by one year from today will be dispossessed of their lands and the entries will be cancelled.

POLITICAL HAS-BEENS MAY FORM NEW PARTY.

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—A conference of Democratic, radical and anti-plutocratic forces was begun here today. Their purpose is the forming of a new political party. Jay W. Forest, chairman of the national provisional committee, and former chairman of the People's Party, presided at the initial session. Others mentioned as prominent in the movement were George W. Donnan of New York; William Looser, of Pennsylvania; Charles A. Harriman, of Maine; George H. Phelps, of Ohio; H. H. Stannard, of Oklahoma, and A. J. Jones, of California. The meeting will continue in session three days.

PRESIDENT-ELECT CLEARS WAY FOR HIS BROTHER.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Representative Theodore A. Burton of Ohio, who it is believed has been offered the treasury portfolio by President-elect Taft, has made a study of finance for years. Burton would prefer a seat in the senate to a place in the cabinet. If he would accept the treasury portfolio it would clear up the senatorship question of Ohio, and leave a clear field for Taft's brother, Charles P. Taft.

SATTERLEE ENTERS UPON DUTIES IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Dec. 3.—Herbert L. Satterlee, of New York, was today sworn in as assistant secretary of the navy in the presence of Secretary Newberry and others. He received the chiefs of the bureaus and general officers on duty at the department and at once entered upon his duties.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Dec. 3.—Weather forecast for New Mexico: Tonight and Friday, snow in north, rain in south; warmer in southeast portion tonight.

Annual sale of the Guild of the Holy Faith at Public Library tomorrow afternoon.

Santa Fe lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., will meet tonight in its hall on lower San Francisco street.

There will be a meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star at Masonic hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Final closing out sale this week of all household furniture at greatly reduced prices. 295 Palace Avenue.

Read the change of ad of Seligman Brothers company in today's New Mexican. It will pay you to do so.

Dr. James A. Massie is driving a brand new phaeton today in his professional visits about the city.

Dr. James A. Massie, secretary of the territorial board of health, has decided to erect a modern cottage in Santa Fe next spring.

Dr. J. A. Rolfs, so it is reported, has purchased the beautiful Grant Rivenburg residence on upper Palace avenue and will take possession after New Year.

It is rumored that important changes in banking circles are to take place in the near future. The talk of an effort to establish another national bank in Santa Fe, however, is discounted.

The dance to be given by the young men at the Palace hotel tomorrow night promises to be one of the social treats of the winter season. Nothing will be overlooked that will add to the pleasures of the affair. Elaborate refreshments will be served during the intermission.

The attention of merchants is called to the advertisement for bids for supplies to be furnished the New Mexico penitentiary, now appearing in the New Mexican Review, the weekly edition of the Daily New Mexican. Copies of the paper containing the advertisement can be had by applying to the business office.

All the trains into Santa Fe last night were late, owing to heavy snowfall in Colorado and in Kansas. The Denver and Rio Grande train did not arrive until after midnight and the Santa Fe Central, which was about an hour late, came without the last eastern Rock Island connection. At Denver, yesterday, the thermometer stood at four degrees below zero.

Yesterday the weather moderated considerably. The maximum temperature was 47 degrees at 2:10 p. m., the minimum 12 degrees at 5:15 a. m., making the mean temperature 30 degrees for the day, or a departure from the normal of 3 degrees, or 3 degrees below the normal. The relative humidity at 6 a. m. was 80 per cent and at 6 p. m. 73 per cent, making the relative average 76 per cent. The depth of snow on the ground at 6 p. m., 5.2 inches. The lowest temperature during last night was 2.1 degrees, while the thermometer at 6 a. m. today registered 33 degrees, a decided rise compared with the past few mornings.

The repairs to the picture machine at the opera house have been made and the show there will reopen tonight after having been closed for several nights. The new motion picture films to be shown tonight are said to be the best ever. The feature film will be "Farman's Aeroplane Flights at Coney Island," showing the new flying machine in action. "When Renben Comes to Town," is another feature film and it is a ludicrous one. It shows the adventures of a farmer in a city. "A Painter's Troubles" and "Quick, I'm on Fire," are the others. The illustrated song will be "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary." A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon, and but one performance that night, after which the running team of the fire department will give a dance.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.
The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Beware of Frequent Colds.

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by all druggists.

Kodol

For Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

If you suffer from Indigestion or Dyspepsia; if you are annoyed with gas on the stomach, fullness after eating, belching, sour stomach, heartburn, etc., a few doses of Kodol will relieve you.

If you knew as well as we do how good a preparation Kodol is for indigestion and dyspepsia it would be unnecessary for us to guarantee a single bottle.
But to get you to know how good it is as well as we know, we practically will purchase the first bottle for you.

You wonder, perhaps, how we can afford to make such an offer—It is because we have absolute confidence in the honesty and fairness of the public.

We know there are thousands of persons who suffer from indigestion and dyspepsia who would be grateful to us for putting them in touch with Kodol.

That is why.
Furthermore, we know that after you have used Kodol your faith in the preparation will be equal to ours.

This proposition we make is not altogether unselfish, but it is actuated by the knowledge that the use of Kodol by you will benefit you as well as ourselves.

How could we afford to make such an offer to the public, and how could we afford to spend thousands of dollars to tell you about it unless we positively knew and were sure of the merits of Kodol.

We couldn't—it would bankrupt us.
But we know the merits of Kodol and we want you to know.

A perfect digester must contain many ingredients each in proper proportion.

It must be a liquid, because all those ingredients cannot be put into dry form.

It must be able to digest any food, or any mixtures of food, and completely.

Kodol does that even in a glass test tube.

No other digester can.

Kodol alone does all of the work. It stops all irritation, and gives the stomach complete rest.

It has taken us years to get a perfect digester, but we certainly have it now.

Please try it today at our risk.

It means more than relief. It means that the stomach will do its own work far sooner than you'll expect.

Kodol digests all the food you eat.

Eat what you want and let Kodol digest it.

Our Guarantee

Get a dollar bottle of Kodol, and do it today. Don't delay. And if you can honestly say that you did not receive any benefits from it after you have used the entire bottle the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay. We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

Any druggist will give you Kodol on these terms, because he knows our guarantee is good.

The $1.00 bottle contains 24 times as much as the 50c bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

TERRITORIAL NEWS NOTES

The Santa Fe railway, it is reported, will build a new depot in Artesia next year.

Already more cattle have been shipped out of Cimarron this year than any one year before.

The enrollment at the New Mexico Baptist College at Alamogordo is 100. The college is but eight years old.

Mrs. Mary Sickles died at Socorro Thanksgiving day from injuries received by falling from a wagon during the county fair last September.

The Santa Fe railway will enlarge its shops at Clovis and intends to build a line from there to Weatherford, Texas.

The board of health has ordered the public schools of Artesia suspended for 15 days because of a threatened epidemic of scarlet fever.

Snyder and Boat of Aztec were recently fined $100 for violation of a town ordinance in keeping pool and billiard tables behind screens.

J. L. Burnett, charged with stealing a watch from George Carson, of Des Moines, Union county, was captured in Raton and returned to Clayton.

County Superintendent of Schools Colin Nebbett of Grant county has instructed the school directors to enforce the law requiring the children to be vaccinated.

Though only a month old Sylvanite is supporting another newspaper, the Sylvanite Miner. This is the second one to carry at its masthead the name of the new town.

Clovis has lately been named "the magic city of the plains." The first lots were sold only 15 months ago, and today she has 2,000 population. This is the New Mexico way of doing business.

It will pay every farmer of Quay county to make a specialty of something and direct his farming operations toward the development of that specialty. Those who are doing this are the ones who are getting there. You can't jump into these things all at once, but you can grow into them.—Tucumcari Sun.

Sylvanite has been recognized by Uncle Sam and granted its own post office, and Ed Clark, one of the pioneer discoverers of the district, will be the first postmaster. He has already forwarded his bonds to Washington and by the time they are approved will have provided ample accommodations for handling the rapidly increasing mail.

One of the most important shipping points for fine apples in the territory of New Mexico is the little station of Capitán on the branch line which runs from the Southwestern railroad at Carrizozo to Capitán. The Coes are now busy shipping their big crop of winter apples. T. H. Kirkland will ship about five carloads as soon as the Coe apples are gone.

The Taliban Valley News says: "The sandstorm of last Tuesday put this paper to the bad. The building that we are in is 'very tight,' so tight that when the dust blew in there was no place to blow out. Any one knowing anything about the mechanical makeup of a printing office will readily see about how a quarter of an inch of New Mexico soil served us."

A. L. Richmond and Colonel W. S. Hopewell have returned to Albuquerque after attending a meeting of the New Mexico Central railroad board, which met at Pittsburg, Penn.

It was concluded at this meeting that the construction work, which is now being done on that railroad, should be pushed forward to completion as soon as possible.

"The Devil," the first show in Sylvanite, played to a big house in the Truax building Friday night, says the Sylvanite Sun. We went to press too early to tell what "The Devil" thought of Sylvanite and what Sylvanite thought of "The Devil." Nothing but "The Devil" would think of bringing a big troupe into a five-week-old mining camp 18 long dusty miles away from the river.

The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company filed for record on last Saturday, with County Clerk Eblen, at Aztec, 160 pages of matter pertaining to the recent bond issue of $150,000, 000 by that concern. Deeds and trust deeds to the Rio Grande Consolidated company constitute the principal part of the records. This implies extensive railroad development in the West in the near future. The leases run from 1908 to 1955.

Tickling Coughs, can be surely and quickly loosened with a prescription Druggists are dispensing everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so very, very different than common cough medicine. No opium, no Chloroform, absolutely nothing harsh or unsafe. The tender leaves of a harmless lung healing mountainous shrub, gives the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough and to soothe and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Mothers should, for safety's sake alone always demand Dr. Shoop's. It can with perfect freedom be given to even the youngest babies. Test it yourself! and see. Sold by Stripling, Burrows & Co.

Muscular Pains Cured.

"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the instep of my foot," says Mr. S. Pedlar, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends, all of whom speak highly of it." OJO CALIENTE HOT SPRINGS.

These celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellings, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Baranco Station, on the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, from which point a daily line of stage runs to the springs. The temperature of these waters, is from 90 to 122 degrees. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the entire year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. People suffering from Consumption, cancer, and other contagious diseases, are not accepted. These waters contain 1,626.24 grains of alkali salts to the gallon, being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficiency of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attested to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilitic and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc. Board, lodging and bathing $2.50 per day; $15 per week; $50 per month. Stage meets Denver trains and waits for Santa Fe train upon request. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 9 a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 4 p. m., the same day. For further particulars address: line salts to the gallon, being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and as a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THE PROPOSED SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY.

The University of New Mexico at Albuquerque last year expended a little more than $32,000. It was money well spent from whatever standpoint the expenditure is viewed. It really should have been twice as much, in fact, $150,000 a year would not be too much for a university of a commonwealth, the dignity of New Mexico. The people can and should afford it to make the university the equal of any state university in the west or east. Albuquerque is fortunate in having the university, and the university is fortunate in being located in the most populous city of the Territory, so well situated for an institution of higher and general learning. But, granting this, is there any reason why any one in Albuquerque should object to the location of the School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe, the school being not a mere local institution, but of great benefit to the entire Territory? It will draw pupils from all over the world; it will offer a post-graduate course to the graduates of the University of New Mexico and all other universities of the land, it will make known the archaeological wonders of every section of the Territory, of the Gila in Grant and Socorro counties, of the Pajarito in Rio Arriba and Sandoval counties, of the Gran Quivira, of the Abo ruins in Torrance county, of the marvelous ruins in San Juan and McKinley counties, of the forgotten pueblos in Valencia and Santa Fe counties, and will draw to New Mexico scientists of world-wide standing and the great stream of tourists always eager to see what cannot be seen elsewhere. The school in addition to being an institution of learning that is coveted by the largest cities of the land, will also be incidentally a great material advantage that will cause streams of gold to flow into every corner of the commonwealth. Two years ago the Territory, through a unanimous vote of its legislature, invited the American Institute of Archaeology to locate its proposed school in Santa Fe. It offered the historic Old Palace for the purpose and gave a grant of $1,000 a year as an earnest of its sincerity. Since then the scope of the proposed school has been greatly enlarged. Instead of confining its investigations to the southwest as was first planned, it will reach out to all archaeological fields, from Alaska to Chile, and will have immediate supervision of the especially interesting work in Mexico, at the same time not neglecting the wonderful prehistoric ruins that abound in New Mexico. Instead of confining itself to a mere post-graduate lecture course by visiting archaeologists, it is now planned to have a resident director and to establish a museum of archaeological specimens gathered from all parts of the world, a museum that will be absolutely unique in the United States, and in itself will annually draw thousands of visitors to the Southwest. Instead of being supported merely by territorial funds and tuition and lecture fees, it is now proposed to have the school endowed by the wealthy men of the east who are giving annually thousands of dollars for archaeological work and who have munificently endowed archaeological schools at Rome, Athens and Jerusalem. In other words, the school will be of world-wide consequence and necessarily its fame and its importance will be the fame of New Mexico and particularly of Santa Fe. Yet, it does not ask $75,000 a year, not even $30,000, not even $10,000, but it accepts the invitation of the Territory made two years ago, asking that it increase the annual appropriation for the present to $5,000 a year, not perpetually as has been stated, for the Territory cannot bind itself in perpetuity, but until revenue sufficient will be yielded from a grant of public land, which the Institute proposes to secure for the Territory upon its admission as a state. Whatever amounts of money are granted by New Mexico or in New Mexico are to be expended locally upon the proposed archaeological museum and for local expenses of the school. Whatever amount is granted will be only a fractional amount of the sum total that will be expended annually. New Mexico will be immeasurably the gainer, financially and intellectually, by the location of the school at Santa Fe.

Says the Las Vegas Optic: "The Roswell Record devotes most of its space to comments 'ferment' Mr. Frost. Good advertising that—for Mr. Frost."

Thank you, neighbor, for calling attention to it. The New Mexican really hadn't noticed it. It amuses the Record and hurts no one.

A LULL IN MINING.

In mining this year has not been an unusually prosperous one for New Mexico. Silver having declined to the lowest point in years, there has been little mining for that precious metal, although at one time this territory was one of the leading producers of the white metal. In copper, the production fell off greatly during the year, owing to the closing down of the two principal copper works in the Territory, those of the Comanche Mining Company at Silver City and of the Santa Fe Gold and Copper company at San Pedro. Zinc, the production of which was such a sensational feature of New Mexico's mining activity last year and the year before, has not made much of a spurge the past twelve months, the principal producing districts in Socorro and Grant counties having confined themselves mainly to development work. Lead, which was mostly a by-product of the minerals mentioned, therefore, does not loom very largely in this year's mineral production. With the failure of the placers in Colfax county and decline of copper mining, the production of gold also declined somewhat. Even the coal mines, which have been producing as much wealth as all the metalliferous mines of New Mexico taken together, have been working with half force or at half time for the greater part of the year. There has been no increase in cement production, and in turquoise, the production was less than it has been for years. The only bright incident of the year's mining history has been the discovery of gold in the new mining camp of Sylvanite, the continued production of a number of mines in Grant county, and the steady development of several good properties in Lincoln and Socorro counties. However, New Mexico has in proportion not fared any worse than Colorado, or Montana, or other mining states, which experienced one and all more or less of a slump. New Mexico's mining interests are on the eve of a better day, for there is no doubt that the mineral wealth exists and awaits merely the coming of capital and ability, to enrich those who prospect and those who invest and at the same time giving lucrative employment to thousands.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY.

The Fourth Assistant Postmaster General in his annual report just made public calls attention to the growth of rural free delivery since 1897 when there were 83 carriers and the cost of the service was not quite $15,000. This year the service cost almost $40,000,000 and there were employed 40,000 carriers. New Mexico has only a few rural carriers, but this is not so much the fault of the Postoffice Department as it is of the people of the Territory. Last year, for instance, the Department approved the establishment of rural mail delivery from Santa Fe to Tesuque, to Agua Fria, to the Reservoir and to Sunman. And all it asked was the putting up of suitable mail boxes by those living along the route. This requirement was not met with and therefore the route was never established. However, New Mexico will soon have its full quota of rural routes, especially in its eastern counties where the settlers are more appreciative of modern conveniences than are the people in the older portions of the Territory. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General De Graw recommends the establishment of a parcels post from and to the towns that are the starting points of rural delivery. This rural package delivery will be of such great benefit, that the merchants of Santa Fe would undoubtedly see to it that Santa Fe gets every feasible rural delivery route possible, even if they must erect at their own expense the boxes for the rural patrons.

All fourth-class postmasters east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio have been placed by executive order in the classified service and shortly all other postmasters receiving less than $1,000 a year will be transferred to that branch of the service which requires an examination as a preliminary to appointment and in return abolishes the uncertainty of political tenure, making the postmaster's term last as long as his good behaviour, or for life. No doubt, within a few years, or perhaps sooner, postmasters of the third and second class will be placed in the civil service lists, just as consuls receiving less than $2,500 a year were a few years ago added to the classified lists, much to the improvement of the consular service. It is the final step in the right direction and assures the public good service for the salaries it pays its officials.

PIGS IS PIGS.

As might have been expected, the Albuquerque Journal favors a change of name for New Mexico and tells its dear readers why, in a column editorial. The Journal has made a practice of late years to seek to discover what the people of New Mexico want and then work might and main "ferment" it. Its attack on the name of New Mexico is on a par with its opposition to the leaders of the Republican party, its opposition to the proposed School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe, and its exhibition of other instances of a perverted disposition. Incidentally to hurting itself, the Journal hurts the community in which it is published, for, like other communities, and as becomes the largest city of the commonwealth, it expects many favors from the hands of the people of the Territory, from the legislature, from the political leaders, from other towns and cities. The resentment aroused justly and inevitably throughout the Territory by the Journal's dog in the manger policy, must be overcome each time that the citizens of Albuquerque ask for any privilege, or grant of money from the Territory, or for patronage of its manifold interests. The citizens of Albuquerque know this very well and the New Mexican asks the people of the Territory not to hold against the Duke City the cussedness of that city's morning paper.

Santa Fe has many reasons of late to be grateful to the Santa Fe Railway System. The service between Lamy and Santa Fe is greatly improved. Four trips to Lamy are made daily and no passenger for the capital is any longer forced to spend precious hours at Lamy waiting for the train to leave for Santa Fe. In late advertisements and publications of the company, Santa Fe is favorably and prominently mentioned whenever an excuse offers itself. In fact, the Santa Fe Railway company, in its later days, seems to be acquiring a certain degree of pride in the picturesqueness and progressiveness of the historic town that gave it its name, and to value at their true worth the city's many attractions and advantages. To show its good-will further, the company will within a few days begin the construction of handsome new depots in Santa Fe and at Lamy. Now, if the main line could be shifted from the Canoncito Canon to run via Santa Fe, this city's cup of joy would be filled to overflowing.

Mortality is to have a bank of its own within sixty days, the fourth bank to be established in the Estancia valley in the past year. Ten years ago the man who would have predicted a dozen prosperous settlements for the Estancia valley and four banks in its principal towns would have been looked at as either a visionary or a fool. The New Mexican remembers well when it sent a special correspondent over the Santa Fe Central Railway as it was being built and how its exchanges ridiculed it for the glowing pictures it drew of the future of the Estancia valley. And yet, every one of these predictions have become true in the course of less than half a decade and the country seems only to have commenced growing.

Another revolution in Hayti almost makes it necessary for the United States to intervene. The Monroe doctrine not only confers rights upon this nation, but also thrusts upon it a certain degree of responsibility for the conduct of the nations of the Western Continent. Of course, the United States does not want to annex the little turbulent negro republic. But perhaps, it might persuade the Cuban government to do so. It is sometimes said of men that a little responsibility thrust upon them will balance them. To make Cuba responsible for the nearby Haytian republic might fill its hands to such extent that there will be no itching of fingers for insurrections at home.

With the Department of Agriculture asking for half a million dollars to fight contagious cattle disease in the East and with the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board taxed to its utmost to stamp out the glanders that have appeared among cattle in Roosevelt county and are spreading, it is feared, beyond the borders of that county, the lot of the cattleman is not an especially enviable one this winter. Of late, the margin of profit in cattle raising under the old free range methods, has been growing smaller or has disappeared altogether. It seems that the day is at hand for new methods in the stock-raising industry of the Southwest.

The two-cent postage rate to Great Britain is already proving so advantageous to both nations that Germany has begged the United States for a similar agreement, to which Uncle Sam has graciously assented, and after New Year it will be possible to send a letter weighing an ounce or less to the Fatherland for a two-cent postage stamp. Certainly, a good deal is given for the small sum of two cents, but the postal service believes in giving the best for the least price.

Oklahoma may have its good points, but with floods in winter and floods in spring and cyclones in summer and fall, the lot of the average Oklahoman is a delightfully uncertain one, even at its best.

The Saving Habit

If you are thrifty, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum. The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

Fred H. McCabe, a former resident of Santa Fe, is here for a week's visit from Taos, his present home.

C. B. Perkins of Albuquerque is a guest at the Claire. He is in the city collecting for a correspondence school.

H. B. Cartwright is in Albuquerque attending the meeting of the New Mexico Wholesale Grocers' association.

Morrell Law, traffic manager of the New Mexico Central railroad, leaves tonight for Chicago on official business.

J. E. Lacombe and J. L. Lopez left this morning for San Juan, Rio Arriba county, where they will spend several days.

H. H. Brook, secretary of the Ramon Lukker company of Buckman, is in the city on business. He is registered at the Claire.

B. F. Pankey, the capitalist who owns the Eaton land grant in south Santa Fe county, was a business visitor in the capital today.

Mrs. S. Spitz arrived on the belated Rio Grande train this morning from Denver where she has been visiting friends for some time.

Acting Governor and Mrs. Nathan Jaffa left today for Albuquerque, to be present at the dedication of the National Guard Armory in that city.

A. B. Renahan, Esq., left this afternoon for Denver, Colorado, on important legal business that will keep him in the Queen City for several days.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edmund C. Abbott is at Albuquerque today to deliver the oration at the dedication of the National Guard Armory in that city tonight.

Dr. T. P. Martin, the well-known physician and surgeon at Taos, spent today in the city, coming here to testify in the murder case of Carlos Gonzales.

J. H. B. Gilmour, a cattleman from the headwaters of the Pecos, is in the city on business relative to disposing of cattle. He will then go to Kansas City.

Miss Lucy Grygla will entertain Saturday afternoon at her home on the South Side in honor of Miss Parker, who is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Francis C. Wilson.

D. S. Duncan arrived from Lamar, Colorado, yesterday. He has been employed in construction work there by G. A. Dahlgren, contractor of the new armory in Santa Fe.

Adjutant General A. P. Tarkington, as is meet and fit, is in the Duke City today, to take a leading part in the dedication of the recently completed National Guard Armory.

C. E. Brumback of Estancia is a guest at the Normandie. He came to the city to meet his brother from Kansas and will return to that state, as his health is far from good.

Howard S. Reed, president of the U. S. Bank and Trust company, arrived last evening from Denver, Colorado, to be in Santa Fe for several days on important business.

Silviano Roibal and wife, Hipolito Martinez and brother and Jose G. Lobato of Espanola are in the city on a business and shopping excursion. They are registered at the Normandie.

Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan left this morning for Washington, via Springer. He will visit Pittsburg and several other eastern cities while absent on irrigation matters.

R. L. Baca, member of the territorial legislature and candidate for speaker of the house of the 38th legislative assembly, returned last evening from El Paso after a ten days' absence.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Prince arrived yesterday afternoon overland from Angostura in the Espanola valley, where they reside on the Prince Sunshine ranch. They returned to the ranch today.

Internal Revenue Collector Henry P. Bardshar and W. H. Kerr left this morning overland for Pinos about 14 miles southwest of Santa Fe, where they will spend two days hunting the festive quail. This is excellent quail weather.

J. W. Collier, member of the mounted police force, returned on the belated Rio Grande train this morning bringing Carlos Gonzales of Taos to this city for a hearing. Gonzales is accused of the murder of Evaristo Rivera. A number of witnesses and others interested in the case also journeyed to the city.

A. A. Jones and Harry W. Kelly of Las Vegas, leave tonight for Washington where they go to attend the meeting of the National Conservation Commission appointed by President Roosevelt some time ago. Assisted by E. J. Huling of Trinidad, Colorado, they will go before the house committee on ways and means to argue for the maintenance of a high tariff on wool.

Ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince left last evening for Washington, where he will work with Delegate Andrews and Governor Curry to obtain statehood for New Mexico from the present session of Congress and incidentally looking after departmental matters of interest to New Mexico and Santa Fe especially. He was accompanied by Mrs. Prince.

County School Superintendent John V. Conway and Mrs. Conway returned last evening from a twelve days' trip through the southern part of Santa Fe county, where Mr. Conway visited the district schools. They made the trip overland and report having had a strenuous time of it as they were caught in the recent big snow storm. Superintendent Conway will leave in the morning for Lamy and Glorieta where he will visit the schools of those points.

Hon. Solomon Luna, Republican national committeeman, left Albuquerque today for Washington, where he will confer with the President and be present at the opening of Congress. Mr. Luna was accompanied by Mrs. Luna. He goes to Washington for the purpose of aiding in the statehood campaign and will join forces with Governor Curry and other New Mexicans. With Mrs. Luna he will visit New York during the holidays, returning to Albuquerque the latter part of this month.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the Stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong! Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fail those organs then must surely falter. The vital truth is leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days' test will surely tell! Sold by Stripling, Burrows & Co.

The New Mexican can go printing equal to that done in any of the large cities. Our solicitor, every piece of work we turn out. Try our stock once and you will certainly come again. We have all the facilities for turning out every class of work, including one of the best binderies in the West.

Mrs. McRaney's Experience.
Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians, but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me." Sold by Stripling-Burrows Co.

Engraved cards de vire and wedding invitations a specialty at the New Mexican Printing office. An one standing in need of such will do well to call at this office and examine samples, style of work and prices.

For That Dull Feeling After Eating.
"I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I have ever used. My trouble was a heavy, dull feeling after eating."—David Freeman, Kemp, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more. Get a free sample at all druggists and see what a splendid medicine it is.

The New Mexican Printing company has on hand a large supply of pads and tablets suitable for school work, the desk, and also for lawyers and merchants; good everywhere. We will sell them at 5 cents in book form.

More people are taking Foley's Kidney Remedy every year. It is considered to be the most effective remedy for kidney and bladder troubles that medical science can devise. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects irregularities, builds up worn-out tissues and restores lost vitality. It will make you feel well and look well. Sold by Stripling-Burrows Co.

The seals and record books for notaries public for sale by the New Mexican Printing company at very reasonable rates. Seals for incorporated companies are also handled. Call at or address the New Mexican Printing company, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

AN ADVENTURE OF A MISSIONARY.

(Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.)

After spending ten years in India as a missionary I returned to America to recuperate from the effects of the Indian climate. Arriving in June, I went on the 1st of July to a region of high altitude in order to get the benefit of a bracing air. I found the change very beneficial. Instead of the hot Indian air I breathed an invigorating atmosphere. From the date of my arrival I gained strength.

At N., not far distant, there was a church, and some of the congregation, hearing that a woman missionary was at our hotel, sent me word that if I would give them some account of my work the next Sunday afternoon they would take up a collection for my mission. I accepted and Sunday morning set out to walk to N. Those who had invited me offered to send for me, but I preferred to walk.

I had made half the distance when I overtook a woman walking in the same direction. I am one of those who take every opportunity to save a soul, so I accosted her. She was fairly well dressed and respectable looking, and after a few remarks about the freshness of the country and the deep blue of the sky I entered on the subject in which I was and am absorbed. To arrest her attention I began by telling her about my life as a missionary. She seemed much interested—indeed, so interested that whenever I attempted to lead her to the subject of her own spiritual condition she would not permit, holding me to what to her was the more attractive subject. Thinking it a good opportunity to rehearse what I intended to say in the afternoon, I did so. When I had finished the woman asked me a number of personal questions, such as my name and whether I had met any of those I was about to address. I told her my name and said I had never seen a single person of the congregation or indeed any one at N. She remarked that she should think I would be embarrassed at speaking to strangers, and I replied that I was a trifle timid in doing so.

As we walked on the woman at a place where the path was narrow fell behind me. Suddenly I felt both my wrists clasped in a firm grip, and before I realized it they were bound together at my back with a handkerchief. My companion, who had done this, then forced me on my back on the ground, both arms being under me, and, tearing my undershirt, she made cords of it and bound my ankles. Having done this, she put me on her shoulder and carried me into a wood so far from the road that I would not be seen, put a gag in my mouth, sat me on a log and, making cords of other parts of my clothing, bound me to a tree growing against it. Then she left me, telling me not to worry, for she would come back to me before sunset the same evening.

There was nothing for me to do but wait. If the woman did not come back I would starve. If I was compelled to stay even one night in the position she had placed me I would surely be a wreck before morning. I wondered what could be her object. Suddenly it occurred to me that I had heard of a large insane asylum in the neighborhood. Might she not be an escaped lunatic? I did not doubt that she was and that she would probably forget all about me. The thought was maddening.

For a time I was not a bodily sufferer, but after awhile sitting in the same position without being able to change became very painful. My watch was in my belt, but I could not see it. I wished that I might in order to know how fast or rather how slowly the time was passing. That the woman had not taken it convinced me that she was not a thief, but insane. There was some comfort in this, for if she was not responsible for her acts her immortal soul was not in peril.

True to her promise, just before sunset she returned to me and asked whether if she unbound me I would go back from whence I came without attempting to injure her. I was glad enough to promise, and, loosening the cords, she helped me on to my feet, gave me her arm and conducted me to the road. We had gone but a short distance when, hearing wheels behind us, she said she would secure me a ride on my again promising not to divulge what she had done. I promised, and she seemed to feel assured that I would keep my word. A farmer in a buggy drove by, and the woman asked him if he would give me a lift. He consented, drove me to within a short distance of my hotel, and I walked the rest of the way, reaching it after all had gone to bed.

The next day I was not in a condition to leave my room. Some ladies in the house were very kind to me, though I needed to be left alone. I was too wrought upon to tell any one of the experience I had passed through and had no desire to punish the woman for what she had done, especially as I considered her demented.

After resting twenty-four hours I awoke refreshed and able to look over my mail, which arrived after breakfast. Among my letters was one from the vestry of the church at N. saying that they had met and passed a vote of thanks for my admirable address on the preceding Sunday.

I was paralyzed with astonishment. As soon as I was able I was driven to N., where I learned that the woman who had bound me had appeared in my stead at the church, delivered my address, taken the largest offering collected in many months and insisted in setting out to walk alone back to my hotel. She was never heard from.

LONDON GAMING DENS

The Way the Police Descend Upon
Them in a Raid.

SKILL, CUNNING AND DARING.

Absolute Secrecy is Maintained by the Officials, and the Policemen Are Kept in the Dark Until the Last Moment—Getting Into the Club.

The police have recently carried out some sensational raids on big gaming clubs, and it may be interesting to learn how these raids are effected. This is how it is done in London: As soon as the detectives' suspicions have been confirmed they apply to the commissioner of police for a warrant to enter. The warrant authorizes certain officers, mentioned by name to enter the club in the name of the king. Ordinary policemen are not permitted to carry out a raid, but the detectives can call upon them for assistance at the critical moment.

Absolute secrecy is enforced right up to the moment of entry. There is no excitement at the station on that day, and the men on duty have no suspicion of what is in the wind. Plans of the house are drawn and carefully studied by the raiding officers, for the doorkeeper of the club is prepared at the slightest alarm to send a warning to his customers, and every vestige of gambling apparatus will mysteriously disappear and the raid fail. A carefully planned ruse, therefore, has to be evolved which will disarm suspicion.

During the day a body of "reserve" policemen will receive a communication from the station that they will be required to parade at a certain hour, and they meet with no idea of what is expected of them. They are drawn up in line, and after names have been called over they are dismissed from the station one by one, with the injunction to be in the immediate neighborhood of a certain street in a couple of hours and not to get near the spot before the prearranged moment.

The first officer to appear on the scene is the one in charge of the raid. He is always disguised and usually looks like a well dressed man about town. He passes the club carelessly, but it is sufficient for him to learn from a confederate inside that gaming has commenced. A policeman then saunters to the corner of the street and stays there as though he were on "point" duty. Then, not till then, is the information of the precise club to be raided secretly conveyed to the attacking force in their hiding places, while the club, unconscious of its impending fate, pursues its gambling.

The first difficulty to surmount is to get past the burly doorkeeper. If this is not successfully done the raid will end in failure. Presently the sound of a drunken song is heard in the distance, and two apparently rough looking men come staggering along. As they near the entrance to the club they begin disputing and soon come to blows. The doorkeeper peeps through the wicket and orders the men away. One of the men rushes at the wicket and challenges the doorkeeper to "come outside like a man" and at the same time shouts out something about the character of the house. The combatants continue fighting, and the officer at the corner comes along and orders them away. The men return, however, to "have it out with the doorkeeper." The noise increases, attracting homeward bound gentlemen in evening dress, who gather round and urge the men on.

The doorkeeper by this time becomes alarmed, for the rowdy crowd will frighten away his clients. Perhaps just at this moment a member of the club arrives and seeks admission. The door is opened with the utmost caution to admit him. Before he has time to fasten it the two officers hastily secure the member and rush upstairs. The two combatants were disguised policemen and the onlookers detectives.

As soon as an entrance into the club has been effected the constable at the corner sounds his whistle, and before the sound has died away the whole neighborhood is alive with police. If the house boasts of a trapdoor on the roof, the flash of lanterns will be seen up there, the men having been concealed among the chimney pots since it was dark. The front door is secured, and the police form a guard around the house, so that escape is impossible.

Meantime the scene upstairs is one of the wildest excitement. The gamblers, intent on business, had not noticed the scuffle in the passage, and the first intimation they get of the state of affairs is when the door is thrown open and the officer in charge calls on them to regard themselves as his prisoners. Then they realize their position. The tables are overturned, and card counters and money roll all over the floor as the members endeavor to escape. They make for the street door, but, balked in this direction, hurry to all parts of the house to hide.

The crestfallen members of the club are conveyed to the station, each in the custody of two officers. Then the house is searched for the gaming apparatus. Every inch of the place is examined, for gamblers have remarkable contrivances whereby they can hide their apparatus in the event of being raided. Tops of tables are knocked off, flooring taken up and walls searched for secret cupboards. Yards of chalked string are regarded as prizes, and with these and more apparent proofs the case is ready for the magistrate. The evidence is laid before him, and the proprietor and members are charged and the sentence passed or a heavy fine imposed on the prisoners.—London Tit-Bits.

The Catamaran.

While it is rarely employed by Europeans as a method of travel, even in emergencies, the catamaran of the Madras fishermen of India is by all odds the most extraordinary of water vehicles. It consists simply of three logs lashed together and flush with the surface of the water. On these a fisherman (sometimes two or more fishermen) stands and with a single oar paddles himself far out to sea. A Madras fisherman will venture out when boatmen will not launch their craft, and even in weather when boats cannot be launched he will go through the surf and out to ships with letters for the delivery of which he gets a few pence. In order to catch their ships a few belated travelers have been known to trust themselves on catamarans. They are united in the statement that the ride on the logs was the most nerve trying experience they had undergone in a land that holds a new thrill for the stranger at every turn. The sea and an occasional ducking have no terrors for these natives, not even the extremely young, and in reality the catamaran is not entirely to be scorned, for it is after all nonsinkable.

Real Causes of Earthquakes.

While civilized man is trying to grasp the meaning of an earthquake the uncivilized of all ages have long ago recognized their doubts. In Mongolia it is the breathings and skipplings of a huge frog that cause the mischief, in China a gigantic dragon, in India a world bearing elephant, in Celebes a hog and in other countries the scheme is varied by the introduction of a bull and a tortoise. Earthquakes in Siberia are believed to be due to the frolics of mammoths who live in the center of the earth, while in Vancouver island it is the spirit of evil with his marshaled hosts of all the wicked people who have ever lived.

Reared by Jerks.

"I think I've heard you say," remarked the man who had ordered a ham and egg sandwich at the lunch counter, "that you were brought up in a flat."

"If ever I said that," responded the pale haired youth who was crumbling crackers into his tomato soup, "I understood the fact, I was brought up in fourteen different flats."

And in the deep, sympathetic silence that followed nothing was heard but the customary noises of a cheap eating house.—Youth's Companion.

La Banda de Santa Fe will hereafter give its dances Saturday evenings in the Catron block.

Train report for today: Santa Fe and New Mexico Central trains on time; D. & R. G., 4 hours late.

The contractors of the armory had everything in readiness for the beginning of the concrete work of the foundation this afternoon, but were retarded by the falling of snow.

Three weeks from tomorrow is Christmas and already the holiday trade is beginning. Santa Fe merchants are well supplied with holiday goods and prepared to meet the demands of the shoppers.

Since Charles M. Conklin has withdrawn as a candidate for Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 17, Jose M. Garcia, who is in the field for that position, has good prospects of receiving the nomination and subsequent election.

The New Mexico cattle sanitary board continued its sessions yesterday at Albuquerque considering measures to be adopted to stamp out the epidemic of glanders in the eastern counties of the territory. Dr. Marion Innes of the Bureau of Animal Industry, was in consultation with the board.

According to reports heard on the street today burglars are believed to be attempting to operate in the city. Several persons have been annoyed by night prowlers of late and as a consequence extra precautions are being taken in locking doors and bolting windows before retiring. The police would do well to be on the alert.

The bureau of the census at Washington has completed a compilation of the statistics of marriage and divorce covering a period of 20 years from 1887 to 1906 inclusive. The total number of divorces reported for the 20 years was 945,625. The number of divorces granted in New Mexico was: 1887 to 1906, 2,437. 1867 to 1886, 225. divorce rate per 100,000 population, 1906, 73; 1880, 12.

The bazaar being conducted by the Sisters of Charity in St. Vincent's orphanage closes tonight. There will be special amusement and entertainment features on this closing night. Many articles of fancy work, books, china and various other pieces of handiwork are left which will make very suitable Christmas gifts. The bazaar is being given for the benefit of the new sanitarium to be erected. As this is the closing night of the bazaar an especially interesting and enjoyable time is anticipated. Everybody is invited.

Mrs. H. S. Clancy today received a letter from the authorities at the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell under date of December 3, stating that her son, Millet, who is a cadet at the Institute, and who has been very sick with typhoid fever, had had a relapse. However, as no further advices have been received by the boy's mother, it is not believed his condition is critical. Superintendent James W. Willson of the Institute is personally looking after the wants of the young man and he has the very best of medical attendance. He is in the hospital ward of the institution.

CHILDREN SHOULD SEE GOOSE SWALLOW NICKELS.

One of the features of the annual sale of the Guild of the Church of the Holy Faith tomorrow afternoon at the Woman's Board of Trade Library will be a goose that swallows nickels. The ladies added this feature to the sale especially for the children and they are all invited to come and feed the bird nickels. It is said to be quite a novel sight to see it get away with the five-cent pieces. Its capacity is said to be unlimited. The children cannot afford to miss it.

IMMIGRATION INSPECTORS FIND BULLION BUT NO CHINKS

Topeka, Kan., Dec. 3.—H. M. Moler, U. S. immigration secret inspector at St. Louis, with two other officers and Chinese interpreters, swooped down on Topeka today with the expectation of capturing a dozen smuggled Chinamen in a Rock Island car from Mexico via El Paso, Texas. Four doors of the suspected car were broken open but no trace of the Chinamen was found. The car was billed to Chicago and contained 500 bars of bullion weighing 100 pounds each.

J. E. HURLEY GETS INCREASE IN PAY.

Topeka, Kan., Dec. 3.—When General Manager James E. Hurley of the Santa Fe Railway, received his pay check the first of the month it called for $1,500 instead of $1,250 as formerly. This will make an increase in his yearly salary of $3,000 a year, advancing it from $15,000 to $18,000. Mr. Hurley is said to be without a peer in the railroad world today and that within a short time he will be president of the great Santa Fe system is not denied.

PROMINENT MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Gallipolis, O., Dec. 3.—Ex-Mayor Adolphus Seeborn of Pomroy, Ohio, blew out his brains with a pistol at a local hotel today. No reason for his rash act is known.

RIO GRANDE TRAIN MANY HOURS LATE

Due Here Yesterday Afternoon, but Did Not Arrive Until 1 This Morning—Passengers Tired Out.

Last evening's Rio Grande train arrived in this city about 1 o'clock this morning. It left Antonio about seven hours late and lost more time on the way to this city. The connecting train from Denver encountered big snow drifts at La Veta pass which delayed it. There were a dozen or more passengers from Taos interested in the Gonzales murder case, coming to the capital as witnesses. There were others coming to Santa Fe on business from all stations along the line and consequently the train had a large number of passengers. Many desiring to take the train waited at stations along the line where there are no waiting rooms, standing for hours in the cold and snow, not knowing how long they would be obliged to wait. The party from Taos left that place at 5 o'clock yesterday morning with the mercury standing at 6 below zero, drove to the railroad station and waited. They got supper about 8 o'clock last night at Embudo and breakfast this morning after they arose. Altogether it wasn't quite a picnic party that sleepily rolled off the narrow gauge train in the wee small hours this morning and hunted up hotels for a broken night's rest.

ANNUAL SALE OF GUILD OF THE HOLY FAITH.

Everything was today completed for the annual sale and bazaar of the Guild of the Church of the Holy Faith which will be held in the Woman's Board of Trade Library hall tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2.30 o'clock. The ladies have worked hard to make this year's sale the biggest and most successful of any ever held and the indications are that they will not be disappointed. Fancy articles of all kinds suitable for Christmas gifts, embroidered linens, hand-made laces and handkerchiefs, aprons, comforters and other useful articles will be on sale. There will be all kinds of home-made cooking and candy. Then there will be the goose that swallows nickels, being a special feature for the children. Tea, coffee and sandwiches will be served to those who desire refreshments. The sale will open at promptly 2.30 o'clock and continue until everything is disposed of. Christmas bargain hunters should make it a point to attend this sale.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR ROSWELL ARMORY

Roswell, N. M., Dec. 3.—The contract has been let for the new National Guard at Roswell by the Roswell Armory Board. Lyons and Axtell of Roswell secured the contract, which is for $12,421 with a maple floor and $11,601 with a plain floor. Superintending Architect I. H. Rapp arrived Sunday evening and was present at the meeting when the contract was awarded.

GOVERNOR MAGOON HAS CONFERENCE WITH WRIGHT.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Governor Magoon of Cuba, arrived here today and had a conference with Secretary of War Wright, relative to the methods of the withdrawal of American troops from Cuba and other matters relating to the government of that island. The troops, it is expected, will be withdrawn in February, but just how rapidly and whether a small number of soldiers will be left there, is not yet determined.
