ELKS ANNUAL LODGE OF SORROW

Memorial Exercises Were Very Impressive

EULOGY BY DR. F. PALMER

Club Rooms Were Filled to Their Capacity--Musical Program a Feature.

In keeping with an annual custom of the order and a beautiful one it is, Santa Fe Lodge No. 460, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held its annual lodge of sorrow or memorial exercises at the club rooms last evening in honor of those brothers who had passed away during the past year.

The club rooms were filled to their capacity by 8 o'clock, the hour set for the services. Roses and carnations were used effectively in decorating the hall for the occasion. The Elks entered the hall in a body, followed by the officers who assumed their respective stations. Exalted Ruler Thomas P. Gable formally opened the exercises by calling up the lodge. To the eleven strokes of the clock, Secretary Jose D. Sena called the names of the departed brothers, Vernon K. Hurdon and Thomas M. Madden. Then followed the singing of the opening ode by the lodge and the audience, all standing.

After Rev. W. R. Dye, rector of the Church of the Holy Faith, had delivered the invocation, C. D. Miller rendered an appropriate solo, being accompanied on the piano by Mrs. R. H. Satterwaite.

Miss Virginia Bean, touchingly rendered a violin solo, after which E. H. Sweet, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Satterwaite, sang a beautiful solo.

Address by Rev. Dye.

Rev. W. R. Dye delivered the address. He took for his subject the part that religion played in fraternal orders in general. He pointed out that all, or most all lodges and secret societies were founded on the principles of Christianity and that when a man took the oath of a fraternal order or society he had to affirm that he believed in a supreme being. Rev. Dye's talk was one calculated to make men better, to make them live up to the obligation assumed when they become members of a lodge. He pointed out that those principles upon which the Elks lodge were founded, namely, charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity, were Christian principles, taken from the book of law, the Bible. He believed that if the members adhered to and put into operation those principles in their daily life that that life would be well lived. His remarks were listened to attentively and that their logic impressed those in attendance was apparent.

Eulogy by Dr. Palmer.

Following Rev. Dye, Dr. F. Palmer, of Cerrillos, a member of the local Elks lodge, delivered the eulogy. Dr. Palmer spoke of the custom among the Elks all over the vast domains of the United States to meet the first Sunday in December to venerate the remembrance of the departed dead. He said:

"Today we lay a forgetmenot on the altar of friendship. We have visited the sick and relieved the needy but we do not stop there. When dreamless rest is mine I shall not need the tenderness for which I long to-night. Keep back the sharp retort; let the unkind criticism remain unsaid; forget the unkind gossip. Don't leave your little acts of kindness hidden away until memorial day. If you have a pleasant word to say, say it today, tomorrow and the next day.

"The Elkan brother is quick to hear the cry of affliction, fleet of foot to render aid to the suffering, dying and distressed, in caring for the widow and orphans, to exemplify the virtues of charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. Brotherly love is the rock, the foundation upon which the B. P. O. Elks is built. It is the flower of kindness and consideration of one human being for another. It is a command of Almighty God: 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.'

"Elkdom brings together men of all opinions so they may enter into each others joys and sorrows. The order of Elks can claim the proud distinction of including within its quarter of a million members a larger percentage of fraternal men than any other order in the United States. It is free from religious or political strife. Its charity is never advertised, even among its own members. There are no classes in Elkdom and there is but one degree and when an initiate takes the obligation he is on a level with every other member and he can remain on the level as long as he is a respectable citizen of society and faithful to his obligations.

"Elkdom protects the purity of the home by the most solemn obligations. We have no flag but the Stars and Stripes. We believe in the Almighty and the Bible as the book of law. The flag, the Scriptures and the antlers are our insignia.

"Let us go down into the Valley of the shadow of death with an abiding faith and an unfaltering trust in the principles of brotherly love, charity and fidelity and let us kindly hope that the hour of transition from time to eternity may be the final initiation into the grand celestial lodge above, where the ties of brotherhood will remain forever unbroken. From this day forth let us be better Elks, grander men, nobler women, and as we think of our brothers, both living and dead, may we write their faults upon the sands, their virtues on tablets of love and memory."

SANTA FE IS NOT BEING SLIGHTED

Fares as Well as Other Western Points in Matter of Colonist and Tourist Rates.

At its last meeting the Santa Fe Board of Trade passed resolutions asking the three railroad companies entering Santa Fe to grant this city, in fact, the entire territory, the benefit of such tourist rates as are enjoyed by Colorado and California. As a matter of fact, the resolution was unnecessary, for Santa Fe and New Mexico already have the benefit of these concessions and have had for many months past.

In Colorado, for instance, the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, one day each week, sells single rate tickets for the round trip to Santa Fe and quite a number of traveling men take advantage of this and therefore start on their rounds of New Mexico from Santa Fe.

The Santa Fe and the Rock Island give regular colonist and excursion rates from eastern points. This will explain the following letter to City Agent H. S. Lutz of the Santa Fe System, from the general passenger agent, J. M. Connel, written in reply to the Santa Fe Board of Trade resolution:

"Topeka, December 2, 1908.

"Mr. H. S. Lutz, Agent, Santa Fe, N. M.

"Dear Sir: Answering yours 30th ult.

"I enclose herewith copy of our circular 2416 quoting winter tourist rates from Chicago and Missouri river points to New Mexico, also to Texas points.

"You will note conditions on these tickets are liberal, as they carry return limit of June 1st.

"There are no tourist rates in effect at the present time from Missouri river and Chicago to Colorado common points, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver, so that it will be seen that Santa Fe has no reason to complain that they are not being well taken care of in this respect.

"Yours truly,

"J. M. CONNELL."

The bank had deposits at the time of its last statement of $2,100,000. Its president is L. S. Meyer, and its cashier E. L. Sanford. The failure was caused by losses on loans and investments. Cashier Sanford said every depositor would be paid in full.

DELEGATE ANDREWS INTRODUCES AMENDED STATEHOOD BILL

Contains Many Beneficial Provisions for the Territory and for Santa Fe

CURRY, ANDREWS, PRINCE AND LUNA HARD AT WORK

Situation Very Favorable for Passage of Enabling Act About the Middle of the Short Session of Congress.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Delegate W. H. Andrews this morning reintroduced House Bill No. 22,273 admitting New Mexico to statehood with the following amendments, 200,000 acres of public lands for the support and maintenance of the Archaeological Institute and school to be located in Santa Fe; 200,000 acres for the support and maintenance of a manual training and technical school to be located in Santa Fe; two million acres to retire the railroad bonded debt of Santa Fe and Grant counties; three million acres of public land to retire the public debt of the twenty-five counties of the territory; the capital is to remain in this city until 1920 and thereafter can only be changed by vote of the people of the territory at a general election.

Governor George Curry has returned from Hot Springs, Virginia, where he interviewed President-elect Taft and urged the new President's favorable action on the New Mexico statehood bill.

Ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince and Mrs. Prince are in the city, guests at the Ebbitt House; Hon. and Mrs. Solomon Luna of Los Lunas are here, having apartments at the New Willard; Harry R. Simms of the Valley ranch on the Upper Pecos is also in town.

Governor George Curry, Delegate W. H. Andrews, ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince and Committeeman Solomon Luna are interviewing Senators and Representatives on the Statehood question and on other matters for the benefit of New Mexico.

The situation is very hopeful and the New Mexican believes that the bill will be passed about the middle of the session.

SWEDISH VICE CONSUL AT ST. LOUIS SUICIDES

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Charles A. Ekstromer, Swedish vice consul at St. Louis, committed suicide today by drinking prussic acid. Some time ago President Roosevelt revoked his exequatur on account of a controversy in which he became involved with the Federal officials. Later he was restored to his position. It is believed some difficulty with his superior in the consular service caused his suicide.

Ekstromer went to Washington on behalf of some friends to whom second class mail privileges in promoting the People's United States bank had been denied. The President would not see him and he was advised to put in writing what he had to say. Ekstromer wrote that in Sweden even a peasant might see the King and he considered the President's action in refusing to see him un-American and unjust.

DETERMINED POSSES SCOUR COUNTRY FOR BRUTAL MURDERER

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 7.—Posses are searching for Francisco Martinez, alias Jesus Berela, suspected of killing four members of the Garcia family near Troy, ninety miles from here. Martinez was suspected of murdering Rodolfo Martin, a wealthy sheep raiser, last August, but efforts to fasten the crime upon Martinez were unsuccessful.

The disappearance of the 17-year-old daughter of the Garcias is still a mystery. Many believe that she was abducted by Martinez because of his infatuation for her, and is being held a prisoner. Another theory is that she escaped from the house during the murderous assault and perished in the blizzard that was raging.

A posse headed by Under Sheriff Kroger, a noted manhunter, is scouring the country over for Martinez. It is feared that if any of the posses come upon Martinez they will lynch him on the spot.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The ever interesting spectacle of the convening of Congress today brought to the capitol building the usual throngs. Contributions of this kind were many and handsome but the donors were obliged to be content with having them placed in private lobbies.

The Senate at 12:15 o'clock adjourned to meet at noon tomorrow.

PROPOSE TO TEACH DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Women's Department is Added at the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.

Agricultural College, Dec. 7.—Every young woman who is interested in the practical work of life will have a chance to get some special help from a new short course that is now being prepared by the domestic science department of the Agricultural college. This course begins on January 4th and lasts for twelve weeks and is open to any young woman who is 18 years of age or over, regardless of educational qualifications. The work will be conducted on the laboratory plan as far as possible and students will be required to do the actual work, which will include cooking, sewing, home nursing and household management and a short reading course.

The cooking will include the cooking of plain and fancy dishes and manner of properly serving the same. Sewing will consist of making plain garments and enable young women to make their own clothes. The reading will be a general course with the idea of getting acquainted with the best magazines and books. The music department is also giving special attention to work suitable for this course.

The domestic science department will soon be occupying new rooms in the administration building, where they will have equipment equal to that of any school in the country.

Captain Powell of Fort Bayard, New Mexico, was detailed by the War Department to take charge of the cadet battalion. He reported on last Saturday for duty and then later received word that he had been placed on the retired list of officers and his pay reduced accordingly, and, as he would receive about the same pay for idleness that he would for working, he chose the former and resigned on Sunday.

The officers of the cadet battalion have decided to provide themselves with the regulation army suits of olive drab color. These will be worn by all the commissioned officers and will add very much to the general appearance of the battalion.

Claude Henry and Maugh Brown, two of last year's graduates, are back at the college taking special work. Mr. Henry is taking work in English and Spanish, and Mr. Brown a course in assaying.

EXTENSIVE FRUIT RAISING NEAR CARLSBAD

Carlsbad, N. M., Dec. 7.—The farmers under the Carlsbad Project are busy winding up harvesting their corn and picking their cotton. As soon as this work is finished the tree planting season begins. Only a month ago it was the general impression that comparatively very few trees would be set out this winter. The truth of the matter, however, was that everybody was busy getting in their oats, and were not ready to plan any tree planting. Several car loads of fruit trees have already been ordered, and agents are just beginning to get in their work. Peaches will be planted most extensively. There will also be many pears and plums set out, and some apples. The European grape does well here, and more grapes will be set out this winter than at any time in the past. Shade and forest trees are also likely to be planted around the farmsteads along irrigating ditches and fence rows. Much raw land is being cleared at the present time.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

TENNESSEAN HAS FAITH IN NEW MEXICO

Alamogordo, N. M., Dec. 7.—Newton Pfaffenberger, who lately moved to Alamogordo from Tennessee and has been investing in property here, has bought of A. J. Messer the relinquishment of 160 acres of homestead and 80 acres of desert claim five miles northwest of La Luz.

This property carries the first claim on the flood waters of La Luz canyon, and the consideration was $3400 cash. Mr. Pfaffenberger also has bought 40 acres just south of Alamogordo for $925, the Martin home in college addition for $1150, and one of the members of his family bought the Meehan rooming house on New York avenue and Eighth street for $1,000.

This may be called desert land, but these prices which prevail illustrates that even desert land may be valuable.

ONE LOST IN SNOW STORM.

Thus far only one case of freezing has been reported from the storm of last week. James B. Herbst and James Calloway, who returned Tuesday night from a ten days' hunting trip in the mountains, report that they found a man named Coffey at the Garrett windmill, 35 miles west of Roswell, in a serious condition. Mr. Coffey lives in a tent on Spring river west of the city and had gone for a load of wood and was lost in the snowstorm. His feet were terribly frozen and he will be brought to St. Mary's hospital for treatment. The hunters had a successful trip.

S.S.S. CONTAINS NO MERCURY

Medicines containing Mercury are often given to persons suffering with Contagious Blood Poison, and so powerful is the action of this drug that it frequently removes the symptoms in a short while, and shuts the disease up in the system to do greater damage to the delicate internal members. When, however, the treatment is left off, the disease always returns, and the patient finds that his health has been injured by this powerful mineral, and he is often left with weak stomach, disturbed digestion, mercurial rheumatism, etc. The action of S. S. S. is entirely different. It contains no Mercury, nor any other harmful drug, but is made entirely of healing cleansing roots and herbs. It cures Contagious Blood Poison by removing the virus from the blood. It searches out every particle of the poison and does not leave the least trace for future outbreaks. S. S. S., in addition to curing the disease, builds up and strengthens every part of the body. Its fine tonic effects tone up the stomach and digestion, improve the appetite and regulate the entire system. Home treatment book containing valuable information about the different stages of the disease and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

A SCISSORS ARTIST.

The Wonderful Feats Performed by Joanne Koetren.

More than 200 years ago a little girl was born at Amsterdam, Holland, whose name was Joanne Koetren. She was a peculiar child in that she cared nothing whatever for play and sport, but found her greatest delight in making copies of things about her, imitating in wax every kind of fruit and making on silk with colored dross exact copies of paintings which were thought wonderful.

But after she had become very accomplished in music, spinning and embroidery she abandoned all these for a still more extraordinary art—that of cutting. She executed landscapes, marine views, flowers, animals and portraits of people of such striking resemblance that she was for a time quite the wonder of Europe. She used white papers for her cuttings, placing them over a black surface, so that the minute openings made by her scissors formed the "light and shade."

The czar, Peter the Great, and others of high rank paid her honor. One man high in office vainly offered her 1,000 florins for three small cuttings. The empress of Germany paid her 4,000 florins for a trophy she had cut, bearing the arms of Emperor Leopold, crowned with eagles and surrounded by a garland of flowers. She also cut the emperor's portrait, which can now be seen in the Royal Art gallery in Vienna. A great many people went to see her, and she kept a book in which princes and princesses wrote their names.

After she died, which was when she had lived sixty-five years, her husband, Adrian Block, erected a monument to her memory and had designed upon it the portraits of these titled visitors. Her cuttings were so correct in effect and so tasteful as to give both dignity and value to her work and constitute her an artist whose exquisite skill with the scissors has never before or since been equaled.

CAMELS HARBOR HATRED.

Will Wait Until an Opportunity Arrives For Revenge.

The Arab who has angered a camel will throw his clothes upon the ground, and the infuriated beast after stamping on them and tearing them asunder with its teeth goes on its way, and the driver is thereafter quite safe, as it seems to be an axiom with the camel that no man shall be put in peril of life twice for one offense.

The camel is stupid save when angry and then seems to become almost preternatural in carrying out its vengeful designs. Palgrave relates the following story of a camel's revenge, which serves to illustrate this point: "A lad of fourteen had conducted a large camel laden with wood from one village to another at a half hour's distance. As the animal loitered or turned out of the way its conductor struck it repeatedly and harder than it seemed to have thought he had a right to do; but, not finding the occasion favorable for taking immediate quits, it bode its time." That time was not long in coming.

"A few days later the same lad had to reconduct the beast, but unlabeled to his own village. When they were about halfway on the road and at some distance from any habitation the camel suddenly stopped, looked deliberately round in every direction to assure itself that no one was in sight and, finding the road clear of passers-by, made a step forward, seized the mule's head in its monstrous mouth and, lifting him up in the air, flung him down again on the earth with the upper part of his skull completely torn off.

"Having thus satisfied its revenge, the brute quietly resumed its pace toward the village, as though nothing were the matter, till some men who had observed the whole, though unfortunately at too great a distance to be able to afford timely help, came up and killed it."—London Telegraph.

Why He Drowned.

Describing the stringent police regulations of Berlin, a citizen of that city by way of illustration told the following story:

"Schmidt and Krauss met one morning in the park.
"Have you heard," says Schmidt, "the sad news about Muller?"
"No," says Krauss. "What is it?"
"Well, poor Muller went boating on the river yesterday. The boat capsized, and he was drowned. The water was ten feet deep."
"But couldn't he swim?"
"Swim? Don't you know that all persons are strictly forbidden by the police to swim in the river?"—Philadelphia Record.

Not Mentioned by Herodotus. Xerxes was meditating upon his good luck in having been made king by his royal father in preference to the eldest son.

"Still," he said, "if the succession had been determined by a primary election I would have got it just the same. Naturally everybody would have marked an X opposite my name." Subsequently, however, the Greeks gave him the double cross at Plataea. —Chicago Tribune.

A Poor Place.

"And you say you almost starved to death in your last position?" said the kind housewife. "What position was it?"

"I was treasurer of a poets' union, mum," replied the dusty wayfarer, with a deep sigh.—Exchange.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and as a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

TARIFF ON WOOL MUST BE RETAINED.

There are two sides to every tariff proposition, that of the producer and that of the consumer, but in the matter of the tariff on wool, the consumer's and the producer's advantages are not far apart and can be easily reconciled, as is shown by the following editorial from the Denver Republican which views the question very dispassionately and clearly:

"Notwithstanding the protests of woolen manufacturers, who desire cheap raw material from Australia and Argentina, congress will act with wisdom if it retains the tariff on wool.

"The importance of the wool industry lies not alone in the fact that it gives employment to a large amount of capital and many men, but also in this that it promotes the development of sections of the country where the industries of a more highly organized economic system have not attained much growth, if they have taken root at all.

"The vocation of a shepherd is in that of a sparsely settled country; and in a new region its growth should be stimulated in order that a profitable industrial life of any kind may be maintained. In the application of this economic theory to certain parts of the Rocky mountains, the whole country is sufficiently interested to supply adequate reason—to say nothing of other considerations—for maintaining the tariff on wool.

"Free traders assert that the tariff should be removed because the resulting lower cost of wool would give the people cheaper clothing. It is a specious plea, which may, however, receive approval from men who fail to consider what a small factor any such difference in the cost of wool would be in the price of a garment.

"In an ordinary suit of clothes there are probably not more than four or five pounds of wool, and a difference of more than fifty cents in the cost of the suit. This trifling difference would undoubtedly be absorbed by either the tailor or the manufacturer of the cloth, and thus the purchaser of the suit would get nothing at all.

"Nevertheless free traders try to make it appear that in order to maintain the tariff on wool the poor people of this country are weighed down with a heavy burden in the increased cost of their clothing. It is untrue, and whether the argument is advanced in ignorance or for purposes of deceit, it should be rejected by the intelligent men who are chosen to frame the revenue laws of the nation."

FAIR ASSESSMENTS NECESSARY.

The assessment system of New Mexico needs revision by the 38th legislative assembly. There are many inequalities that should be remedied for the good of the commonwealth, especially in the cases of the large land owners in Chaves county, where one very rich man, who sets himself up as a great and glorious reformer, owns hundreds of thousands of acres of fine pasture land, which he returns for taxation at 30 cents per acre, when he would not sell it today for $2.50 per acre. There are many such reformers in the Sunshine Territory and they should be compelled to pay just and honest taxes. The New Mexican does not favor the heavy taxation of the poor man, who owns a few acres of land whereupon he makes a bare living or of the homestead settler who has come to New Mexico and is now here actively engaged in making a home for himself and family and in the developing of the section in which he resides, against adverse circumstances. He should be dealt with tenderly and gently, but the big owners of many thousands of acres of valuable grazing lands should be made to bear their just share of the burden of taxation. The Republicans of New Mexico are pledged to such a course in their platform and must keep faith and their pledges with the people of the territory.

The mining industry in the various mining camps of the territory is looking up and mine owners are getting busy in developing and producing the various kinds of ores found in many mining sections of the territory. Great activity is reported in the copper camps in the Burro mountains in Grant county the Mogollons in the Kelly and Magdalena districts in Socorro county, in and about Hillsboro in Sierra county, in the Parsons and other districts in Lincoln county. Many miners are going into the new camp of Sylvanite in Grant county and in general mining promises to be very lively during the coming year. The outlook is very gratifying.

GROWING SAN JUAN COUNTY.

Actual work on the construction of the canal system of the Eden Ditch company in San Juan county has commenced. Under this system about 32,000 acres of the finest land in the Southwest, located between the San Juan and the La Plata rivers will be put under irrigation and cultivation. W. G. Black, of Aztec, manager of a company, has placed a strong force of laborers and teams at work on the ditch system and he expects to have it ready for use and to furnish water to settlers in time for the crops of the coming year.

San Juan is one of the growing subdivisions of New Mexico and one of the finest fruit producing sections in Colorado or New Mexico. Under this new ditch system at least a thousand new settlers will be accommodated with farms of 160 acres each, which in three years will produce large crops of the finest and best fruits, alfalfa, cereals and sugar beets that can be raised anywhere. San Juan county, "the land of the big red apple," in a year or two more will occupy a prominent place among the prosperous communities of the Southwest.

FAVORABLE TO NEW MEXICO.

There are many people in the states who look down upon New Mexico and think it is a very wild and woolly country. They do not look into facts and their views are based upon utter ignorance. They would find the contrast greatly in favor of the Sunshine Territory were they to examine conditions as they really are. For instance, in the Cook county, Illinois, insane asylum, near Chicago, where during the past few months over 150 inmates have died from neglect or ill treatment or brutalities by attendants or disregard by the physicians of the institution, New Mexico supports a commodious insane asylum at the city of Las Vegas, in which the inmates are treated humanely, carefully and by competent physicians in attendance, and in which during the ten years of its existence there have been no harsh treatment and no disregard of the rights of these poor and suffering members of humanity. In public charity and in humane well doing New Mexico can compare and does compare very favorably with the proudest state of the Union, population and wealth considering.

Of what great benefit to New Mexico, and Las Vegas in particular, the proposed national home for consumptives to be built by the Knights of Pythias will be, may be gathered from a Colorado Springs dispatch which says that, although the new national sanitarium of the Modern Woodmen in that city is far from completed, yet, applications for admission to the sanitarium are already pouring in, and that on January 1, when the tent colony will be opened, every one of the one hundred tents will be occupied with patients from the East. The Knights of Pythias number several hundred thousand of the thriftiest and best citizens of the United States and among these are several thousand who are ill with or threatened with consumption, to whom the national home at Las Vegas will be a great boon. All of New Mexico should do its utmost to hasten the erection of this institution at Las Vegas, for its success will mean the founding of similar sanitariums all over the Territory.

A remarkable fact in New Mexico and one that is not easily explained, is that many of New Mexico's cattle growers are Democratic in politics and free traders, when it is the policy of the Democratic party to take off the duty from hides and beaves, which if done by the session of the next Congress, will reduce the value of every beef in New Mexico from five to eight dollars per head. In spite of this injurious policy to the great cattle interests of the southwest, many of the cattle raisers, especially in New Mexico, are supporters of the Democratic ticket and in the recent campaign voted for that great tax dodger, enemy of public schools and opposer of statehood, the Spaniard who is a native of Chihuahua, and who calls himself a descendant of his majesty of Spain.

The most despicable sheets in New Mexico are the Albuquerque Morning Muckraker and the Roswell Daily Copperhead. They are the ash pans of New Mexico's journalism and wield about as much influence as a New Mexico goat would while grazing on the top of Mt. Baldy. They are visible but not well to look upon in any way.

The Penitentiary Commission of Colorado reports that during the past three months it expended $3,085, building five miles of the Scenic Highway over the Santa Fe Trail from Trinidad to the New Mexico boundary, or a little over $600 a mile. The entire distance from Trinidad to the boundary will be completed not later than the middle of January, making a magnificent thoroughfare, a link of the great Camino del Real, which was first planned by New Mexico, but upon which the Territory has fallen down lamentably, to its great regret, for the most beautiful stretch of the entire road, begun five years ago, is still incomplete, and worse than that, the magnificent portion which was constructed, at considerable expense, is permitted to fall into disuse and ruin. Would that the territorial penitentiary commission could make to the legislature as favorable a report as has the Colorado commission.

The residents of the Fourth ward are very desirous that a commodious and proper building be erected in their ward as a school house. They think they are entitled to this benefit justly and fairly and ask that the city board of education take the necessary steps to erect such an one before the coming school year commences. The New Mexican calls the attention of the members of the city board of education to this very just and timely request and urges that prompt measures be taken to grant it. The Fourth ward contains a large number of school children who should be cared for in the same way that those in other wards of the city are receiving. The cost would not be great, but the benefit would be very substantial and in the right direction.

This city and Lamy Junction are to have comfortable and extensive new railroad depots, to be constructed by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, for the convenience of the public, traveling and local. The New Mexican has worked for this end for several years energetically and constantly and finally its efforts have been successful. The new depots will be of brick and of the mission style and will be completed, it is understood, and ready for occupancy by April the first next. They will prove a boon to the traveling public and will be to the credit to the railroad and to this city and Lamy.

A recent grand jury of Cook county, Illinois, reported to the court that the recent primaries held under a state law in Chicago, one of the biggest and richest cities in the Union, were rotten and corrupt to the core, and yet nothing is said of this and it is scarcely noticed in the great state in which the Windy City is situated. In the Sunshine Territory, if it appears that a few hundred fraudulent or corrupt votes have been cast at an election in which 58,000 votes were polled, there is a great cry and howl of the people that the voters of New Mexico are corrupt and are unfit for statehood. "So runs the world away."

Business conditions in the great money centers of the country are very gratifying and the interests of manufacturers and business men in all sections are becoming greater and more active daily. Prosperity is again abroad in the land and with the inauguration of President-elect William H. Taft there will be an abundance of good times throughout the width and breadth of this great country. New Mexico will come in for a fair share of it if its people and business men will put their shoulders to the wheel and take advantage of the situation.

President Roosevelt in his message which will be delivered to the Senate and House of Representatives of the 60th Congress tomorrow takes a strong stand in favor of separate statehood for New Mexico and Arizona and advises that bills containing enabling acts for the two territories be passed by the coming session. The President, as usual in his official declarations, uses strong and unmistakable language in his recommendations and it looks very much as if it will be heeded before the session ends March 4, 1909.

That New Mexico is increasing in population as rapidly as is Colorado is shown by the election returns of November 3. In Colorado the increase in the vote over four years ago was 20,000; in New Mexico, the increase over two years ago exceeded 10,000. With statehood, New Mexico would undoubtedly regain the lead that Colorado has maintained since its admission, and in twenty years it will have passed the Centennial State in population and, perhaps, in wealth.

In Governor George Curry and Delegate W. H. Andrews, the people of New Mexico have two war horses to fight for their interests in the national capital. Both are now in Washington putting in splendid work for the benefit of the Sunshine Territory.

The New Mexican can do printing equal to that done in any of the large cities. Our solicitor, every piece of work we turn out. Try our stock once and you will certainly come again. We have all the facilities for turning out every class of work, including one of the best binderies in the West.

The New Mexican Printing company has on hand a large supply of pads and tablets suitable for school work, the desk, and also for lawyers and merchants; good everywhere. We will sell them at 5 cents in book form.

The Saving Habit

If you are thrifty, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life! and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum.

The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

"What I want in a wife is amiability. I don't care how many other good traits she has, if she hasn't that I don't want her."

"How are you going to find out about a woman's disposition before marriage?"

"Take her unawares and test her."

"That reminds me of a story," rejoined the other, and lighting a cigar, he told it:

"One morning a gentleman was sitting in a railway car when three well dressed young ladies got in and began to look about them for seats together. There was one entirely vacant seat, the next in front of the gentleman mentioned. One of the girls, who seemed to be taking the lead, stopped before these seats, turned over the back of the forward one and looked hard at the gentleman sitting in the other, plainly saying by her manner: 'We three girls can have a nice little party of our own in these seats if you will take one with some one else. Haven't you the politeness to do so?'"

"But the gentleman sat still in his seat. Evidently there was no politeness in him. The leader of the trio took the seat next the window, facing the impolite man; one of her party sat beside her, while the third dropped into the seat beside the man. They were evidently chums and kept up a clatter with their tongues. The man sat among them like a black crow among white doves, paying no attention to them nor they to him. He was young and bore the stamp of a gentleman. Surely it was surprising that he should not have given them the whole of the two seats and chosen another for himself. Instead he sat stolidly looking in front of him, not even glancing out of the window or reading a newspaper. The leader of the party began to fire up. Sitting facing the man, she was subject to his constant gaze. It was, to say the least, annoying."

"This is intolerable," she said, fanning herself angrily. "Did any one ever see such rudeness?"

"Gently, Alice," said the girl beside the sterner in a cautioning tone.

"If you think you can stand it, Bet, you change seats with me."

"I'm willing," Bet replied softly.

"You shall do no such thing. You haven't the spunk of a kitten. I shall stay right here, and if he doesn't stop it I'll try to find a way to make him."

"The man paid no more attention to the words than if they had not been spoken. If he had occasionally turned his eyes upon the other girl facing him or glanced at the one beside him his action would not have been so noticeable. But, no; he had fixed his gaze on Alice and ignored the others."

"I can't endure it any longer, Mame," she said. "I must keep my eyes fixed on you or I shall do something terrible."

"Why not apply to the conductor?" suggested Mame.

"I will just as soon as he comes along."

"But the conductor did not come along, and Alice's position was not comfortable. She turned again toward the man. He was still staring at her. She resolved to try the effect of returning his insolence in kind. Fixing her eyes upon him, she stared at him for a full minute. Making no impression whatever, her temper broke away completely. Closing her fan tightly in her fist, she drew it back and landed it vigorously on the man's cheek."

"There!" she exclaimed. "Perhaps it will teach you not to stare a lady to death."

"The man brought his hand to the hurt, half rose and in a gentle voice full of sorrow said:

"There is some mistake. You do not understand. I am blind."

"Oh, Alice!" moaned Bet. "What have you done?"

"Why didn't you tell me?" said Alice to the man.

"You have said nothing to make me understand that I was offending you, though now some of your remarks are intelligible to me."

"People in such condition," said Mame coldly, "shouldn't travel alone."

"Girls," exclaimed Bet, "neither of you seems to appreciate that it is you and not this poor man who is to blame."

"No one is to blame, ladies," said the man. "It is simply my misfortune."

"The train slowed up for a station. The man arose and, feeling his way with a walking stick, started to leave the train. The girl called Bet took his arm and saw him to the platform."

"I see the pith of your yarn," remarked the listener. "Your man and Bet became lovers, were married, and she ministered all her life to a blind man. Very touching, but somewhat hackneyed."

"Nothing of the sort. The fellow wasn't blind at all. It was a put up job on his part. He wanted a wife, just as you do, who was amiable. He found her in the girl who befriended him, but instead of hunting her up and marrying her what do you suppose he did? Why, he hunted up the girl who struck him and married her."

"For heaven's sake! What did he do that for?"

"Who knows? She was homely, while Bet was pretty. She had no money and was not remarkably interesting in such affairs no one knows what either sex will do."

"And how did the marriage turn out?"

"She got him under and kept him there."

"I reckon," said the other thoughtfully—"I reckon I won't marry."

THE DEEP SEA DIVER

Perils Against Which the Modern Expert Must Guard.

PROTECTING HIS AIR TUBE.

This Is His Chief Care While Delving
In the Debris of Sunken Wrecks.
Tragic Debut of John Day, a Clever
but Ignorant Old Timer.

A great deal of water has run under the bridge since, in the month of June, 1774, John Day made his fatal debut as a diver in Plymouth sound. Day, a clever but ignorant millwright, had laid numerous wagers that, confined in a water tight box and provided with a candle, food and drink, he would remain submerged at any depth for twelve hours. His plan was that the box should be fastened by screws—from within—to a vessel subsequently sunk and that when the allotted time had elapsed he should withdraw the screws and rise to the surface. His mad scheme was actually put into execution on June 22, and Day, as might have been expected, lost his life. Not the least extraordinary part of the affair is that, while he was warned how the pressure of the water would affect his box and greatly increased its strength in consequence, no one seems to have so much as hinted at the danger of his death from want of air.

The diver who goes down today to save the contents of a sunken wreck, recover a dropped torpedo or execute some submarine erection or repairs has better knowledge of the necessary risks he runs and the precautions by which he may avoid all needless danger at his work than had poor Day. Science, mindful of the great increase of pressure brought about by every foot that he descends beneath the surface of the sea, warns him to go slowly down the stepladder that hangs from the ship's side or the dock wall and to pause frequently as he does so, that he may grow accustomed to the increase by degrees. By this means a man fit for the work, sound of heart and free from apoplectic tendencies passes with little inconvenience from the moderate pressure of eight pounds per square inch, which surrounds him at a depth of twenty feet, to that of sixty-five pounds, which he must sustain after descending 150 feet—the greatest depth at which his work can be considered safe.

Once landed at the bottom of the sea the diver has a host of things to bear in mind. Weighted as he is with brass soled boots, copper helmet and often a treble set of underclothing below his diving suit of twill and rubber, the tendency to rise is yet so great that his powers of action are very limited. He can lift a comparatively heavy weight with ease; the attempt to pull down some trifling piece of wreckage from overhead will probably take him off his feet. Readers of Robert Louis Stevenson will remember how when, dressed in full deep sea costume, he accompanied a diver to his work the novelist was able to hop with ease upon the summit of a rock some six feet high. But descend again he could not. His companion hauled him off head downward and propped him on his feet "like an intoxicated sparrow." Even for such an apparently simple piece of work as drilling a hole in a rock or portion of a wreck the diver will perhaps need to prop himself against a stone or make himself secure by lashings to the object upon which he works.

The great danger against which the diver must be ever on his guard is that of getting his air tube entangled in the debris of a wreck—no difficult matter as he creeps in and out of cabin, engine room and hold, among a broken and distorted mass of wood and iron. He may have been moving in one direction, all unconscious that he is being helped by a strong current, until he presently attempts to turn and finds it vain. It is not the deep sea diver only who runs this risk. Some years since a diver was at work in twenty feet of water repairing some dock gates. His job finished, he gave the signal to the boat above to close the gates that he might see if all worked well. The rush of many tons of water as the heavy gates swung to swept him between and through them. In a flash he realized that his air pipe would be caught between the massive doors and at the same moment saw his only chance for life. He thrust his heavy hammer head between the closing gates, and this kept his pipe free till he could signal for them to be reopened.

The old method of communication between the diver and his helpers at the surface was by means of tugs upon the line, but nowadays the telephone or perhaps a speaking tube accompanies the air pipe at his side. And, though many divers still work in the comparative darkness, both oil and electricity will shed their light upon the scene if need arise.

Sharks are visitors with whom in certain waters the deep sea diver has to count. But the shark is not always so dangerous a morning caller as might be thought. A diver at work in the cabin of a sunken ship saw, to his dismay, a shark swim slowly in. The diver had no suitable weapon of defense at hand, and flight seemed the only chance for life—and a poor one at that. Meanwhile the shark swam to and fro in the cabin as if meditating on a system of attack. The diver made a sudden bolt for the door; the shark—as seriously alarmed, it seemed, as was the man—did the same and, being unincumbered with costume and in his native element, got out an easy first and disappeared.—London Globe.

Beware of Frequent Colds.

A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by all druggists.

proaches heaped on him by his creditors. At the end of a certain time each bankrupt was partly undressed, and three officers took hold of his shoulders and three others of his knees and, raising him as high as they could, bumped him on the stone deliberately twelve times, "in honor of the twelve apostles," the creditors crowding like cocks while the bumping proceeded.

Wigs and Trousers.

The wig went out and gave place to the natural hair, powdered and pig-tailed, as a result of the movement back to nature which accompanied and preceded the French revolution. But why did the wig come in? Some say that Louis XIII. started the fashion when he began to grow bald, the court imitating him out of a desire to please the monarch. Be that as it may, the wig "caught on" as few articles of costume have ever done, and those who have begun to despair of the masculine leg ever being emancipated from the trouser may find comfort in the fact that wigs prevailed for considerably more than a century in England, whereas trousers scarcely existed a hundred years ago, to say nothing of being the universal wear.—London News.

Mother Earth.

When Junius Brutus and the sons of Tarquin asked the famous Delphic oracle who was to succeed Superbus on the throne of Rome they received for an answer, "He who shall first kiss his mother." As the two princes were hastening home to fulfill what they thought was meant Brutus fell to the earth and cried out, "Thus do I kiss thee, O Earth, the mother of us all!" This is perhaps the earliest recorded instance of the use of the term "Mother Earth."—Exchange.

A report was in circulation on the streets today that the Santa Fe band had disbanded. The report is untrue. With one or two exceptions the band is intact and will continue to entertain the music lovers of Santa Fe. The capital city appreciates this fine musical organization and would regret to see any strife among the members of the band which would endanger it as an organization.

The change of pictures at the opera house tonight will be still better than the last one. There will be three feature films, both biograph and Edison, entitled: "The Female Politician," "Her Newsboy Friend" and "The Viking's Daughter." The last is a tale of Norway in the olden days. That the Christmas rush has begun is manifest by the increase in the money order business at the local postoffice, which last week amounted to $7,252.06, there being issued 229 orders, or more than during any previous week this year, amounting to $1,855.78; there were paid 193 orders amounting to $3,259.28; there were received $1,837 money order surplus and $300 from money order drafts.

In an altercation Saturday night last Alberto Padilla was badly cut with a knife by Higenio Martinez. Padilla is seriously hurt and may die. He is at home on College street. Dr. David Knapp is attending the wounded man. Deputy Sheriff Alberto Garcia arrested Martinez at 1 o'clock Sunday morning and Martinez is now confined in the county jail. Examination of the case will be made by Justice of the Peace J. M. Garcia at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning if Padilla should be able to give testimony, which is doubtful.

The next four weeks will be exceedingly busy at the postoffice and will tax the employees to their utmost. Patrons can help the service considerably by having their parcels properly wrapped and addressed before presenting them for mailing; by filling out their money order applications at home; by transacting their money order business and registry business as far as possible between 9 and 11 a. m., and 2 and 4 p. m., instead of leaving it to the last few minutes of the day or presenting it during the hours when heavy mails arrive and are being distributed.

The parlors of Wagner's undertaking establishment were filled with friends Sunday afternoon to pay their last respects to the late Benjamin Webb. The services were conducted by Rev. E. C. After the services Carleton Post No. 3, G. A. R., took charge at the National Cemetery where the interment was made. The pall bearers were Sergeant George Miller, Sergeant Stephen H. Taylor, Richard Haywood, Thomas W. Roberts, William Perry and Henry Lyons.
