FINE BARRACKS FOR MILITARY SCHOOL

Will Double Accommodations for Cadets

CREDIT TO THE TERRITORY

Will Rank Institute Next to West Point and Annapolis in Efficiency.

Special to the New Mexican.

Roswell, New Mexico, Dec. 11.—The handsome new barracks at the New Mexico Military Institute is almost ready to turn over to the board of regents. The contractor is simply putting on the finishing touches and the heating and plumbing men are rounding up their work. The building has been connected with the city sewer system and the city water works.

"This building is considered one of the show buildings of the Pecos valley. In fact, it is the finest building of its kind in the Southwest. Every stranger who comes to Roswell is brought out to the institute to see the handsome new building erected on the old Scottish castle style. It can be seen from fifteen to twenty miles out of Roswell along the railroad track and attracts the attention of passengers, as they approach the Shady City. Cadets are getting very anxious to take up their quarters in this new building, but the authorities do not think that they will move the battalion before the first week of January. Add to Comforts.

In the new building there are to be two cadets to a room, with individual tables for study, individual lockers and wardrobes, and individual electric lights on each table, also individual beds. The cadets will be as comfortable, possibly, as are the cadets at West Point. This building, however, will not accommodate the entire battalion, it being composed of but sixty-six sleeping rooms. It is hoped that next year two more spaces may be built on to this barracks, so that it will accommodate the entire corps, which is estimated for next year at 250.

A great many new applications are being received at the headquarters for admission after Christmas. Two new cadets reported this week, to take up vacancies occasioned by cadets dropping out for failures in first term's examinations. After Christmas, some eight or ten new men are to be given places.

Excellent Showing of Cadets.
The battalion is in excellent condition, and although Colonel Barlow, the army officer in charge of drill, is not thoroughly satisfied, it seems to the casual observer that the boys have never drilled so well before.

Last week the boys enjoyed going through their But's manual drill before Mr. C. T. Brown, of Socorro, who was a visitor at the institute. Mr. Brown, accompanied by Mr. A. N. Pratt, Mr. J. K. Stone and Mr. E. A. Cahoon, President of the board of regents of the institute, came up to inspect the school and to watch the boys drill. Mr. Brown was in Roswell for Masonic work, and initiated two of the officers of the Military Institute, together with others, into the mysteries of Scottish Rite Masonry. Mr. Brown, being interested in the School of Mines at Socorro, of course, took a delight in seeing what was being done at this territorial institution. He was very complimentary regarding the showing made by the boys.

Manly Lot of Boys.

Mr. A. N. Pratt, of Carlsbad, who at one time was superintendent of a state school in Wisconsin, was interested in all departments of the institute, and especially in the manly and gentlemanly appearance of the cadets. It was a surprise to all the visitors to see how two of the companies, especially, averaged up in size, all of the men in these companies standing over five feet eight, and some over six feet, with broad shoulders and expanded chests, attracting attention to their muscular appearance and graceful movements.

The boys are still enjoying inter-class football. A game is scheduled for almost every day in the week.

Friday evening, the 18th instant, the Athletic association is to give a fancy dress ball. This will be one of the social events of the season in Roswell. It will be held in the gymnasium.

Capable Management.

The board of regents, of which that well-known and successful banker, E. A. Cahoon, cashier of the First National bank, is president, and the remaining members of the board Charles L. Ballard, W. M. Atkinson, W. M. Read and W. A. Findlay, extensive livestock growers, are of the best citizenship of the Southwest, and stand head and shoulders in the business world.

ness community of the thriving city of Roswell. Col. James W. Wilson, superintendent of the institute, has held this onerous and responsible position for a number of years, and has proven himself the right man in the right place. As an educational institution, and from a military standpoint, the school has attained one of the highest places, being graded at the war department as next to West Point and Annapolis. The faculty under Colonel Wilson consists of earnest, highly educated, intelligent graduates of the best colleges in the country, who are men of the highest moral character with a strict sense of duty, and who are all competent and successful in their various places in the faculty. The cadets are chosen with great care and represent the best portion of the people of New Mexico, Arizona, western Texas and southern Colorado.

MACK STILL CLAIMS TO BE BRYAN'S FRIEND

Says There is No Friction, But Dodges Answer As to Next Presidential Campaign.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee, when asked about the published report that a disagreement had developed between him and Secretary Woodson of the committee, said:

"There is nothing to it; nothing at all."

He said it is not probable that the committee will hold a meeting for three years, as it is not customary for the committee to meet between campaigns.

"Are you still friendly to Bryan?" he was asked.

"Certainly; I see no reason why I should not be just as good a friend of Bryan's now as I have been in the past."

When asked if he would back him in 1912, he replied that Bryan was not likely to be a candidate then, and he would not venture to guess who the candidate would be.

"The important question just now is whether we are going to have real tariff revision," he continued. "The manner in which the high protective interests at Washington are framing things, makes it appear that the relief expected will not be realized. But interests of the Democratic party will be well taken care of by Democrats in congress."

NO DEBATE ON THE INTO CANAL ZONE AFFAIRS

Washington, Dec. 11.—When the legislative appropriation bill was called up in the house today an extraordinary situation was presented that for the first time in twelve years no general debate was asked for. Even the first reading of the bill was dispensed with by the unanimous consent of the members. Its reading for amendment was immediately begun.

"ADAM GOD" IN JAIL IS VERY PENITENT

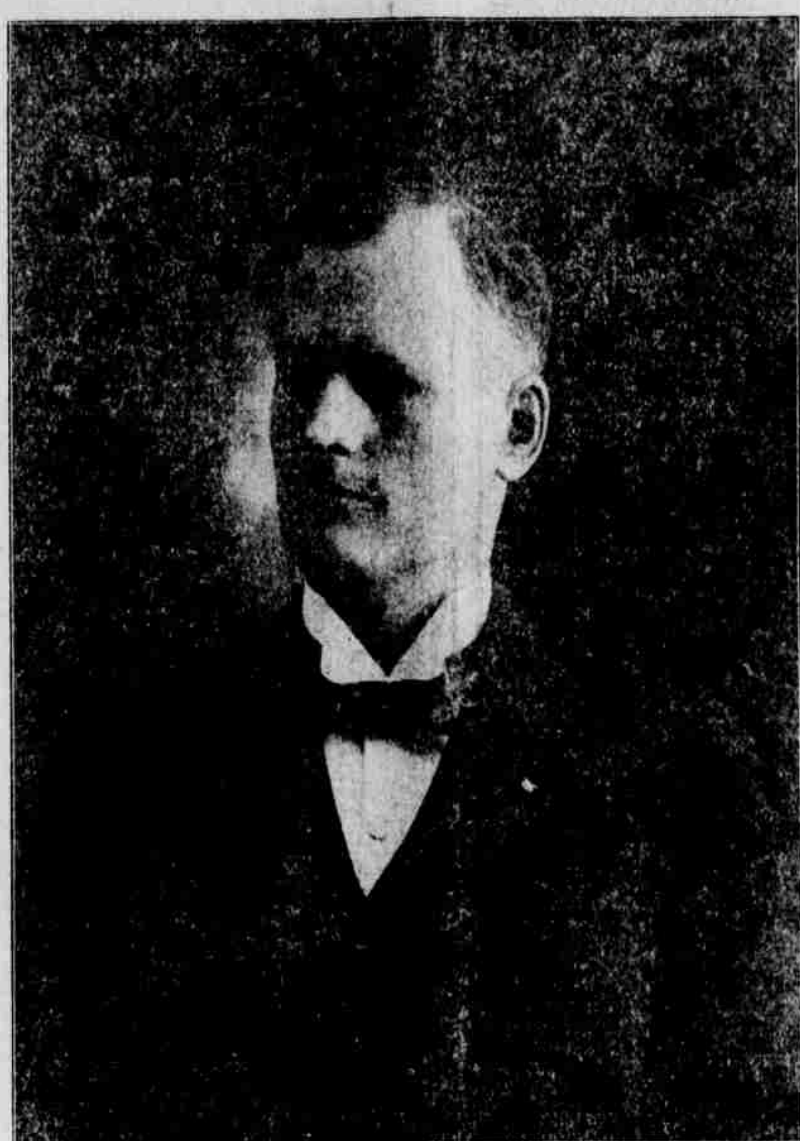

Lord Was on a Vacation and Faith was Wrong

FIVE DEATHS AT HIS DOOR

Religious Fanatic Still Maintains That He Thought was Doing Right.

Kansas City, Dec. 11.—"The Lord was not with us or was on a vacation. Now I know that my faith was wrong—that I was mistaken." That is the statement made by James Sharp, better known as "Adam God," who was captured in Kansas late yesterday. It was Sharp who last Tuesday led his followers into battle with the police that, up to yesterday, had resulted in five deaths. A. J. Selzer, aged 72, an innocent bystander, wounded by a stray bullet, who was the last victim to die, succumbed at midnight last night. It is a penitent and humble prophet that sits in his cell here with the responsibility of five deaths on his shoulders, but he insists that he was misguided, and acted in good faith. "Honestly, captain," he said to Whitsett, "I believed we were doing right, and that it was God's will. When the bullets commenced to hit me I had a revelation. I am glad to be back and want to stand for anything that God wills. Oh, it is terrible, terrible."

In the shooting Sharp was wounded in both hands, while a third bullet passed through his hat brim and another through his coat lapel. When Mrs. Sharp was told of the capture of her husband and his wounds she said: "Then there's little left for me to stand for."

TERRITORY MEN ARE RUEF CONVICTED PLEADING FOR DUTY AFTER LONG TRIAL

Want Protection for their Great Industry

PUSHING STATEHOOD BILL WILL PROBABLY APPEAL

Prominent Republicans at Capital Looking After Interest of Their People

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, Dec. 11.—National Committeeman Solomon Luna was before the house committee on ways and means this forenoon giving testimony, and urging against the reduction of the duty on wool and hides. Chairman Payne, of the committee stated that he, and the members of the committee are gratified to have New Mexico sheep growers before the committee, and give testimony in favor of protection. H. W. Kelly, representing the New Mexico Wool Growers' association, also addressed the committee in favor of the duty on wool.

Delegate W. H. Andrews is making winning combinations for the statehood bill.

United States District Attorney David J. Leahy is here in favor of joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona, but is making no progress.

RUEF CONVICTED AFTER LONG TRIAL

'Frisco Boss Guilty of Bribery---Sentence Tomorrow

WILL PROBABLY APPEAL

May be Tried Again Soon on One of the Many Other Indictments.

San Francisco, Dec. 11.—Abraham Ruef, who late yesterday afternoon was convicted of bribery after a trial lasting three and a half months, will be arraigned for judgment tomorrow before Judge Lawler. Whether sentence will be pronounced this session cannot be determined until the defense has announced its intentions. It is certain from expressions made by Henry Ach, Ruef's chief counsel, that the case will be appealed to the higher court, and it will require some time to prepare a bill of exceptions from the record, which contains several volumes, aggregating nearly 4,000 pages. The prosecution has intimated that Ruef may be tried again within a short time on another of the scores of indictments against him. According to an announcement made today, Hiram W. Johnson, Matt I. Sullivan and J. J. Dwyer, three attorneys who volunteered their services when Henry was shot, will now withdraw from the prosecution, and the next trial will be conducted by Heney.

K. P. SANATORIUM FOR LAS VEGAS

Announcement Made by Chief Medical Examiner

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Meadow City Has Made a Great Fight Against All Its Competitors.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Dr. C. O. Connel, medical examiner in chief of the Knights of Pythias, announced today that it has been formally decided that the sanatorium for tuberculosis patients affiliated with the order shall be established in New Mexico. Cottages and other buildings, when sufficient funds have been collected from members of the order, will be erected on a large tract of land near Las Vegas, donated for the cause by New Mexican lodges.

A great fight has been waged at Chicago to secure the Knights of Pythias national hospital and sanatorium for Las Vegas. The result has been a complete victory for the Meadow City, although the grant of land will probably have to be increased. Denver, Colorado Springs and Alamo-gordo made a hard fight for the institution.

Alamo-gordo offered $20,000 cash, according to reports, and also the buildings and a considerable tract of land. Colorado Springs and Denver were exceedingly liberal in their offers.

Las Vegas had the backing of the Santa Fe railroad in its fight. Dr. W. T. Brown, assisted by Dr. F. T. B. Fest from the beginning and later Wesley E. Merritt, industrial commissioner of the Santa Fe system, and R. E. Wilson of the same department, appeared before the committee in the interests of Las Vegas.

CONGRESSMEN STIRRED UP OVER THE MESSAGE

Washington, Dec. 11.—Representative Perkins of New York, today introduced a resolution, which has heretofore been agreed upon, providing for the appointment of a special committee of five members to consider the proper means of dealing with that portion of the President's message which criticizes the course of congress in prohibiting the detail of secret service men to duty outside their own bureaus.

TAFT IS FIRM FOR TARIFF REVISION

Intimates That He will Fulfill Party Pledges

EXPECTS LONG SESSION

Refuses to Accept Invitation to Address Denver Trans-Mississippi Convention.

Washington, Dec. 11.—That President Taft foresees the possibility of an all-summer session of congress to revise the tariff was developed yesterday when he refused to positively accept an invitation to attend the next session of the Trans-Mississippi congress, which is to be held in Denver on the 16th to the 21st of next August.

Judge Taft said today that it was his belief that the house would make "an honest and thorough revision of the tariff," at the extra session which he will call for that purpose.

This belief he bases on a conference he had yesterday with Speaker Cannon, and in a session with the Republican members of the ways and means committee.

Mr. Taft said he had not as yet consulted with senators on the subject, indicating the tremendous pressure upon his time as the reason. When the suggestion was made that the senate would undoubtedly have something to do with the tariff bill, he replied with no uncertainty in his demeanor that there was some one else who also would have something to do with the bill, which, interpreted through the medium of previous utterances, indicates clearly that Mr. Taft is determined, even to the exercise of veto power, to prosecute the party's pledges.

INVESTIGATING ACTS OF THE PRESIDENT

Committee Hints That He Has Exceeded Powers

COUNTRY LIFE COMMISSION

Is Referred to as One Created Without Any Authority of Law.

Washington, Dec. 11.—It became known today that the sub-committee of the committee on appropriations, having charge of the preparation of the executive, legislative and judicial appropriations bill, has been investigating the razing of the old Pennsylvania depot that was located on the Mall, until the President had it torn down last summer. That committee failed to expunge its inquiries about this action from the printed hearings, and these indicate the temper of the committee towards the executive. When Col. Chas. S. Bromwell, military aide to the president and superintendent of public buildings and grounds, appeared before the committee, Representative Burleson of Texas asked if he had not requested an appropriation last year for a watchman at the old depot. "I think so," replied Col. Bromwell, "but I have not had occasion to use it, because I have torn down the railroad station."

"What, torn down the railroad station?" exclaimed the Texas member. Bromwell explained that he acted on the written order of the President.

"Do you know any law which authorizes any executive officer to sell any property of the United States of that character?" inquired Chairman Tawney.

"No sir," exclaimed Bromwell, "I called attention to that fact, and I received an order to tear the building down."

From stenographic reports of the hearing, it appears that Col. Bromwell was asked if the President said why he wanted the building removed, if there was any necessity for its removal, and if its removal was to improve the perspective. All of the questions remained unanswered until Chairman Tawney demanded one. Then Col. Bromwell responded that he knew of no immediate necessity for tearing down the building, although he was very glad, personally, to tear it down. The committee also went into the examination of government officials to ascertain what right the Commission on Country Life, appointed by the President, had to use franking privileges, as was claimed in being done. Members of the committee referred to the commission as "one created without authority of law."

The resolution was preceded by a preamble reciting some expressions of the message. No effort was made to give voice to the feeling of the house. In presenting the resolution Perkins made a brief statement saying that he was satisfied the house would not hesitate to take such action as the dignity of that body required. He said some of the President's expressions were unfortunate. The resolution was adopted and Perkins of New York, Denby of Michigan, Weeks of Massachusetts, Williams of Mississippi, and Lloyd of Missouri were appointed on the committee.

RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Washington, Dec. 10.—At the closing session of the National Rivers and Harbors congress held today the annual report of the director and of the secretary and treasurer were presented. Vice presidents from various states were named and resolutions were reported. There were a number of brief addresses by various delegates, the president calling on speakers from various states.

The congress adjourned finally after adopting a series of resolutions, the most important of which was one providing for the issuance of five hundred millions of dollars in bonds by congress, for the financing of waterway improvements. In the election of officers, Joseph E. Ramsdell of Louisiana, was chosen president, and J. F. Ellison, of Cincinnati, secretary-treasurer.

CANAL NOT DAMAGED—PLANS ARE UNCHANGED

Panama, Dec. 11.—It was rumored yesterday that Col. Goethals, chairman of the Canal Commission, had given orders that the Culebra cut be widened, and fourteen million more cubic yards have to be excavated. Today Col. Goethals denied the report. He also denied the report that deep crevasses had made their appearance on Gold Hill.

CLAIMS COMPROMISED WITH GOVERNMENT

Sangueluela Grant Dispute Has Been Amicably Settled. Irrigation Project Can Go On.

Las Vegas, Dec. 11.—The dispute in the matter of the Sangueluela grant has been satisfactorily settled by the members of the board and the claimants. The board has agreed to deed 16,000 acres to the claimants, who are to pay for it at the rate of $1.50 per acre and are to surrender all excess land after individual settlements have been made. They are to deed also the reservoir site to the board to the extent of 3,000 acres, and are to give necessary rights of way for ditches, laterals etc. The claimants have based their title on a grant made by Governor Manuel Armijo in 1839, and some of them have been in occupation of the land for generations.

When the government first decided to build the reservoir, pledges were received from a large number of people who promised to take up 10,000 acres at $60 an acre, provided the land was irrigated. The building of the dam has been unavoidably delayed and since that time the land has been lying useless. The government conditions will be that the title to the land be turned over to the government, and that the former owners buy it back at the rate of $60 an acre, but in yearly payments, after the project is completed and the land is under ditch.

The land in question is all in fertile valleys near the city and many crops can be raised most profitably by dry farming methods.

COL. MORTON INSPECTS NATIONAL CEMETERY

Finds Everything in Good Condition, and Will Make a Good Report.

Major C. G. Morton of Denver, inspector general, has been in the city this week inspecting the national cemetery. He was accompanied by his secretary, Edward Blair. Major Morton is inspector of all military posts in Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, and must inspect the different parts of his division once in two years. He has no authority to make or order any changes. He examined the books connected with the national cemetery as well as the cemetery itself, and found everything in first-class condition.

Capt. A. J. Chapman, superintendent, is looking for a report following the inspection early in November of the national cemetery by D. H. Rhodes of Washington, inspector general and landscape gardener. Mr. Rhodes suggested many changes in the cemetery which would very materially alter the system now in vogue, but, as yet, no report has been received announcing or authorizing the proposed changes.

RELIC OF WARTIME JOURNALISM FOUND

Albuquerque, Dec. 11.—A relic of war-time territorial newspapers was recently dug up in the older part of this city. It was a copy of the New Mexico Press, otherwise known as the Rio Abajo Press, and was dated August 30, 1864. The paper was buried in an old tin can with some shrapnel currency of those troublous days, and was in a good state of preservation. The news of that day concerns mostly the progress of the war, and the conflicts with the Indians. Judging from the editorial comments, the Navajos were almost constantly on the warpath, and Gov. Connelly, who was Territorial Governor at the time, is severely censured for his failure to protect the settlers against their raids. One of the advertisements is that of the mail route between El Paso and Santa Fe, which assures the public that the company has new wagons, fast horses, and is able to protect travelers against the attacks of Indians.

The news items are all tinged with the stirring excitement of the times and to this generation sound more like the penny dreadful than like actual occurrences.

OFFICERS OF DEFUNCT OURAY BANK INDICTED

Ouray, Colo., Dec. 11.—Caplases have been issued for the arrest of George Hurlburt, former president of the defunct Bank of Ouray, and former District Judge Theron Stevens, who was its vice president, and Frank P. Tanner, cashier, on the charge of receiving deposits after they knew that the bank was insolvent. There are nine indictments against Stevens and Hurlburt, and five against Tanner. Ex-Judge Stevens is one of the most prominent jurists in the state and is a Colorado pioneer. Since his defeat for re-election to the bench two years ago he has made his home in Nevada. The other officers indicted are also prominent financially and socially in the state.

The New Mexican Printing company has ready and for sale up-to-date and correct compilations of the territorial incorporation laws, price 75 cents, of the territorial road laws, price 50 cents, and of the territorial mining laws, price 50 cents per copy. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

TERRITORIAL NEWS NOTES

The past week has been severe on the canine population in Melrose. The remains of several of these four-legged night prowlers have been found in the "cold grey dawn of the morning after" scattered around over town, showing that each had met an untimely death.

The two national bank statements just issued by the banks of Silver City show a very decided increase in the business of those two financial institutions and would indicate that business conditions in Silver City and surrounding country and mining camps is steadily improving.

Dr. W. C. Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Roswell, who went to Colorado Springs, Colo., a week ago to visit his invalid son and his wife, has been called to Cedar Rapids, Ia., by the sudden death of their only daughter, who left a young babe and three other small children.

Roy Roberts, 19 years of age, formerly of Hammond, La., died last Saturday night of tuberculosis at Silver City. The young man had been in poor health for some time and his death was not unexpected. His father, Joseph R. Roberts, accompanied the remains back to his old home, where they will be buried.

S. P. Vestal, the quartermaster at Fort Bayard, the U. S. sanatorium nine miles east of Silver City, will call for bids during the present month for the erection of a number of new buildings and other improvements at that place on which the aggregate expenditure will be nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Mrs. A. T. Atkins, of Deming, N. M., died Sunday morning. Mrs. Atkins had been in failing health for some time and came here recently hoping a change of climate would prove beneficial. Her husband, father and sister were present when she died. Mrs. Atkins was formerly Miss Maycock of Albuquerque.

The farmers of the vicinity of Hagerman sold three car loads of alfalfa seed last Tuesday to Mangelsdorf Bros. Co., of Atchison, Kan. The amount received for the three cars was about $13,000. This goes to show that there is money in the seed business, and brings to the farmer a good bunch of money.

D. H. Rathbone, one of the best-known well drillers in the Pecos valley, has just returned from a stay of a year and a half in Egypt, where he has been drilling a large number of wells for an English syndicate. Mr. Rathbone says that Egypt is a marvelous country, but he prefers the Pecos valley for him.

The new townsite of Newark twelve miles north of Las Vegas has been surveyed and laid out and is now ready for development. The town is located near a large tract of irrigated land which can be utilized for the growing of sugar beets and has extensive grazing ranges near at hand in the Mora and Sapello valleys.

The recent heavy rain and snow storms in the section about Silver City put a smile on the faces of the cattlemen. The ranges were getting exceedingly dry and the cattle in many places needed water. The spring sales from Grant county will be undoubtedly large this year and the stockmen are expecting offers of good prices.

As showing the marked increase in land values in the Mesilla valley, the Oden ranch, near Dona Ana, consisting of 400 acres, 225 of which was under cultivation, was bought by Dr. I. C. Oden 18 months ago for $14,000 and sold recently by him to W. G. Strange and J. F. Priest for $13,750, netting its former owner a profit of $29,750.

H. T. Drury, of Roswell, who has returned from a six months' trip in the mountains of Arizona and New Mexico for his health, relates an unusual experience. While in a severe storm he was struck by lightning and a red stripe burned on his body from his shoulder to his heels. Holes were torn in his underclothing and he was unconscious for over an hour.

The past week has been a good one for New Mexico, says the Melrose Enterprise. There has been lots of moisture, both snow and rain have fallen in abundance in this vicinity. At this particular time no greater blessing could have befallen the farmers, as it will practically insure a good wheat crop next year. Several have gotten busy since the rain and are plowing and sowing wheat.

The board of regents of the Normal University met at Las Vegas Tuesday, there being present Dr. J. M. Cunningham, president of the board, M. W. Browne, secretary, Charles Hfield and F. H. Pierce. The board decided to install a cupless drinking fountain, whereby the students can drink without having to use a common cup. The water will spurt from a fountain that the thirsty pupils can drink without having to put their lips to any sort of a utensil.

The annual election of ditch commissioners occurred Monday at Las Cruces, and excited a good deal of interest on the part of the owners of

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, and their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.

The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher, of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

Muscular Pains Cured.

"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the instep of my foot," says Mr. S. Pedlar, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends, all of whom speak highly of it." For sale by all druggists.

The Bon Ton restaurant is now under the management of Hugh F. DuVal, who has bought out the interest of John V. Conway. It will be known hereafter as the Capital Cafe and a specialty will be made of both short orders and regular meals. It is Mr. DuVal's intention to give Santa Fe a strictly first-class restaurant.

OJO CALIENTE HOT SPRINGS.

These celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellings, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Baranco Station, on the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, from which point a daily line of stage runs to the springs. The temperature of these waters is from 90 to 122 degrees. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the entire year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. People suffering from Consumption, cancer, and other contagious diseases, are not accepted. These waters contain 1,625.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon, being the richest alkaline Hot Springs in the world. The efficiency of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attested to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilitic and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc. Coard, lodging and bathing $2.50 per day; $15 per week; $50 per month. Stage meets Denver trains and waits for Santa Fe train upon request. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 9 a. m. and reach Ojo Caliente at 4 p. m. the same day. For further particulars address:

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and as a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

ECONOMY IN APPROPRIATIONS MUST COME.

Not much legislation can be expected at the present short session of Congress as the time is too short, and it may be that the New Mexico statehood bill will have to go over to the first session of the Sixty-first Congress.

The second session of a Congress seldom legislates in matters that are not of national importance. It finds all its time occupied in making appropriations. The session, which begins the first week in December, expires by constitutional limitation the first week in March. From the three months the customary Christmas recess must be deducted, leaving but two months and a half for actual business. During this brief period the various committees must pass on expenditures now aggregating a billion dollars, and differences between the two houses on hundreds of detailed items must be adjusted. It is not strange, therefore, that the short session, so far as new legislation is concerned, is barren.

At times there is some impatience over the fact that general topics get a chance only once in two years instead of every year, as was the practice when the government was less of a huge business machine. But this year the country will rejoice over the fact that there is limitation, and that attention will be exclusively directed to budget matters. With but six months of the fiscal year passed already there is a deficit of $60,000,000. It seems certain to grow to more than $100,000,000 before June 30. Unless new and heavier taxes are to be imposed—and to new taxation the country will strenuously object—it is the duty of Congress to readjust expenditure to income.

For a decade each Congress has not rested content until it surpassed its predecessor in spending money. From every department the cry has come up for more, and there has been generous response. Those who opposed the cheerful theory that the resources of the government were inexhaustible had their mouths stopped by the statement that Uncle Sam was rich and could pay for anything he wanted. "To one appeal and one appeal alone," said Chairman Tawney of the committee of appropriations a year ago, "the ears of Congress are shut, and that is the appeal for economy." The Congressman who suggested pecuniary retrenchment was told in no polite manner that he was a narrow-minded, niggardly old fog, who was hopelessly out of tune with the times. The result is the most expensive government in the world. We are spending more than those that from necessity must maintain huge military establishments.

But economy is again becoming popular. We are beginning to take note of the fact that a federal expenditure of a billion a year means a contribution of $60 per family, or 10 per cent. of the average family income. With another 10 per cent or more subtracted to meet the expenditures of local and state governments, it is foolish longer to cherish the notion that the amount of taxes don't matter—that no one feels the burden. Our industries, as well as those of Europe, are carrying a heavy burden, and unless we are to be handicapped we must listen to the voice of the cheeseparer far more than recently we have done. The role of cutting down has been an unpopular one. It must be made popular.

Public opinion will sustain Chairman Tawney, who a year ago sounded a note of warning which his colleagues laughed at in his efforts to strangle the deficit without imposing new taxes. The facts are sobering, and for the session the watchword is to be not what is desirable but what can be afforded. All over the country, as in New York, there is a scrutiny of local budgets, and the federal government may well take the lead by setting an example of old-fashioned economy.

UNITED STATES TO BE A UNITED NATION.

The results of the great Civil war between the states are, after all, no longer dreadful and awe-inspiring. They are passing away rapidly and, except in the minds and hearts of a certain class of ignorant people mostly in the South, who will not learn and who are too bigoted to understand the great advance of the times since the surrender of Lee at Appomattox Court House, they are passing rapidly away.

The indications are that very rapid progress in this direction will be made during the coming Taft administration and that at its end this will really be a united country and there will be no more Mason and Dixon's line, but

BRINGING THE NORTH AND SOUTH TOGETHER.

Judge Taft, as soon as he assumes the presidential office, has evidently made up his mind to bring about a better understanding in politics between the people of the North and South, and will do his level best to obliterate the very distinct party line between Republicans and Democrats which have existed since the Civil War in the eleven states that formed the confederacy.

The Kansas City Times treats this proposed policy of the great statesman who will be President after March the fourth, 1909, in the following very timely editorial:

"In his address before the North Carolina society of New York, Mr. Taft had a fitting and inspiring occasion on which to elaborate his ideas of a broader, better and more harmonious co-operation between the South and the North. It is believed that in this address Mr. Taft fully expressed the personal feeling of the great mass of Northerners, and also that he sounded the real aspirations of a majority of Southerners.

"There is absolutely nothing incompatible between the policy of the South to protect itself against the political domination of an ignorant class—provided the same exactions and the same privileges be applied to whites and blacks alike—and the policy of the North in regard to the negro race. Such educational qualifications as are prescribed in Massachusetts, for example, would secure any Southern state against the possibility of negro rule.

And, with the fear of such domination removed by right state laws, the common interests of the whole country would assert themselves more, and sectional prejudice and groundless fear less, in the political activities of the South. It is wholly incongruous that the voters of one section should not feel as free as the voters of another section to express themselves on the merits of a national issue or candidate, especially when the results of an election apply in common to all parts of the nation.

Mr. Taft is not acting the part of a Republican politician in promoting this movement. And there is little reason to believe that anyone will even accuse him of having a political motive. He has a warm affection for the South. He sincerely seeks its development and its larger and juster participation in the affairs of the nation. And the best evidence that his motives are understood and appreciated is to be found in the series of receptions he recently had in the South and the invitations he has received to address bodies of Southerners and to visit the Southern states."

CHANGE IN BRITISH GOVERNMENT COMING.

Even in slow going and conservative Great Britain the wave of reform is assuming great proportions. The house of lords which for hundreds of years has been the virtual ruler of the people of England, Scotland and Ireland and of the vast colonial system of the extensive British empire, is to be shorn of its ancient and powerful prerogatives, and relegated to a place in which it will be no longer able to fight the house of commons, the members of which are becoming more liberal daily and by the desires of the people of "the tight little isle" it will be compelled to legislate with the commons for the benefit of the people of Great Britain as a whole.

Reviewing this situation the Brooklyn Standard Union pertinently states that:

"The proposition to reform the house of lords just reported by its select committee, is one of the most important incidents in British constitutional history, for this reason. Up to the present time, along with the increase of the control of the Commons over the Administration, which began in the reign of George III, and the democratization of the commons, which began under William IV, there has gone on a steady diminution of the power of the lords as a legislative chamber. Having no Supreme Court to nullify acts of Parliament, the commons are supreme in England—can do 'anything except make a woman a man'—but with the qualification that the lords can delay the doing it; beyond that sort of temporary veto, the peers have lost most of their legislative power, and it has been thought the upper chamber might be abolished with little change in actual effect.

But if, as proposed, the house should be limited to 200 members, elected for each parliament by their order, and 130 veterans of the house of commons and administrative office, besides a reduced number of lords spiritual, then England would have an upper house theoretically based upon merit; and the inevitable result would be that it would claim a renewed participation in the direction, and the formation, of government.

The lords are shrewd. The proposed reorganization is less a concession to democratic instincts than a grasp at the return of power."

It is reported that in some of the eastern counties of the Territory a number of the settlers who came there last year are leaving because of the hard winter and the difficulty in obtaining water for farming and domestic purposes. This was expected. There are many sections in that portion of New Mexico that cannot be made available for farming purposes, but will always be a range for stock. On the other hand, many other parts have done well in producing good crops, and will become permanent settlements.

The Saving Habit

If you are thrifty, you have some of your money left over. The extra money is the foundation for future riches, if you will only persistently save it. What if it does only amount to a few dimes or nickels a day—there are going to be a great many days in your life! and these dimes and nickels will grow into a good large sum. The opportunity may come, when a few hundred dollars might change your whole financial condition; Might mean buying an interest in some growing business; Might give you a chance to grasp your next opportunity.

AND WHAT IS THE USE OF ALL THIS?

Why it just means making a man of you.
Making you free to do as you wish.
Making you and your family happy and contented.

HOW SHE GOT A START.

[Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.]

"So you're from Pistonrod, stranger. Well, I want to know. I was born and brought up there, but I haven't seen the place in twenty years. Is ole Younker livin' yet?"

"No, but his darter is, and a mighty fine woman to. She's got the biggest and best stocked farm in the county and plenty o' money in the bank."

"Want to know. Is she married?"

"No; she hasn't no use for a man except to make money out of him. Can't any of 'em git the better of her in a trade."

"Want to know. How did she git her start? When I lived in Pistonrod ole Younker's farm wasn't more'n seventy acres, fifty cleared, and the stock was one spavined horse and a cow."

"That seventy acres he's grewed to a thousand now, all cleared, two big barns full o' grain and stock. Sairey Younkers turned out to be a heap good manager."

"Dew tell? How'd she do it?"

"Waal, she got her start when she was 'bout twenty years old and purty as a bran' new mowin' machine. 'Bout that time most o' the young men in the neighborhood wanted to marry her. Far back as I kin remember I hearn all the wimmin folks and most o' the men talkin' 'bout two young fellers that was both bound to git her. They said Sairey hed agreed to take the best man o' the two. As the way they was to find out which was the best man Sairey set 'em a job. The ole man hed just died, the ole woman wasn't no good, and there wasn't no one to do anything except Sairey, and she didn't hev nothin' to do it with except her good looks, and good looks in a gal don't count except to git a husband that's worth suthin'. But there wasn't no sich in Boulder county, so it was a cold time for Sairey."

"Howsomever, she said that since her ole pop hed died and left her and her mother in a bad way she'd got to hev a man as could build up the farm. Ef she got a lazy galoot to set round' and whittle it 'ud be mighty hard on her. It happened to be plowin' time. She tole Zeb Mower and Jake Marks that whichever could plow ten acres fust she'd marry. Jist as you said, there wa'n't but fifty acres cleared, and twenty o' this needed plowin'. She divided 'em into two equal parts, one for Zeb and 'other for Jake. Both on 'em was awful bent on gittin' her, and their pride was teched. Besides, neither was willin' to refuse on account o' 'other. Sairey had to borrow two horses fer 'em and one plow. She started 'em one fine April mornin'. I was there, with a lot o' neighbors, to see 'em start, and all the time they was plowin' people was comin' and goin' watchin' 'em, while Sairey was a-smilin' on both o' 'em and bringin' 'em out things to eat and drink."

"Waal, when they come to the end o' the match it was a tie. Both got through at the same time, and both fell down exhausted. Sairey give 'em both a drink and tole 'em they was the finest fellers she ever seen. She seemed awful sorry, though, that one on 'em hadn't come out ahead, for she said it put her in a fix. She couldn't marry neither o' 'em now. So they asked her to let 'em try ag'in. She said she'd give 'em an easy job next time. She give each on 'em twenty-five acres to plant. They was glad enough to git off so easy, but when they was gittin' to the end o' the job Sairey tuk sick with neurology and wasn't there to see the finish. Both o' 'em claimed that they got through fust, and there they was ag'in."

"Sairey was put out with bein' pestered by 'em and wouldn't hev nothin' more to do with neither o' 'em. But 'long 'bout harvest time she relented and agreed to give 'em another trial. She said whichever got half the crop into the barn fust was the man she wanted, and she kinder hinted that there was one on 'em she did want mighty bad, but it wouldn't be fair for her to tell which. So they went to work on a third trial. This time jist as they was gittin' to the end o' the job they both tuk sick, and Sairey had to finish it herself. Nobody knowed how they come to sicken both at once, and some was meap enough to hint that Sairey hed given 'em some rum with plizen in it. They wa'n't sick long, but when they got well the job was finished without 'em. So she didn't take neither o' 'em now."

"That's the way Sairey got her start. She growed a fine crop as didn't cost her nothin' and put the money all into the farm. They say she got the balance of her land cleared in some sich fashion, but I don't know nothin' 'bout that. Leastways she not only put her farm in payin' condition, but begun to buy jinin' land. She's forty year old now and good lookin' yit. All the widerers and old bachelors thereabouts wants to marry her, and I believe she could git up a plowin' or a mowin' match among 'em today if she wanted to; but, laws, she hasn't got no use for 'em. I axed her once why she didn't take a husband. She looked at me surprised-like and answered: 'What would I do with him? He'd only be in my way.'"

"But, say, neighbor, what makes you look so sorrowful?"

"You was tellin' 'bout Zeb Mower and Jake Marks, wasn't you?"

"I was."

"They was both at the soft age 'bout gals, wasn't they?"

"'Bout twenty-three or four."

"I guess they'd both o' 'em ought to been planted in the town buryin' ground."

"What makes you think that?"

"Cos I was one on 'em."

Beware of Frequent Colds.
A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended. Mrs. M. White, of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. Someone told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well." For sale by all druggists.

WHAT COLORS TELL.

The Way the Spectroscope Reads the Sun and Stars.

When one lights a common sulphur match in the dark it is worth while to notice what happens. First, its phosphorus gives out faint yellow rays, and almost at the same time the sulphur begins to burn with bluish beams.

As yet the flame yields little light. In a moment or two the wood of the match takes fire, and then a stream of clear white light pours forth. Each of the materials of the match—its phosphorus, sulphur and wood—has shone in burning with a color of its own.

In a street lighted by electricity and gas the eye detects at once the difference between the white rays of the one and the yellow beams of the other. If nitrate of strontia is set on fire we have a splendid red flame. Filings of copper burn with a glow of greenish blue, and a fine, pure blue is had when filings of zinc are ignited. These and other such substances furnish the maker of fireworks with his materials.

Rockets, roman candles and bombs all derive their beauty from the special tints which attend the combustion of their ingredients. And any one who has once seen the colors peculiar to common salt, iron or antimony as they trace themselves on the evening sky will always know what is aflame when he sees those colors again.

Sir John Herschel was the first to understand that colors of this kind tell a wonderful story. He will know how the stars varied in tint—that Aldebaran was ruddy, Arcturus yellow and Sirius, the most glorious of all, white. Might not the colors of a body aflame, whether on earth or in the sky, really be telling us of what that body was composed?

His suggestion was taken up, and its fruit is that marvel of ingenuity, the spectroscope. One of its principal parts is a prism employed to break up the hues. These hues, which are divided by many dark lines, make known to us that the sun and stars are built of such materials as compose our own globe.

Yet more, they tell us what kind of atmosphere surrounds them and, most astonishing of all, give us the rate at which a remote star is moving toward or from the tiny orb we inhabit.—New York Herald.

NEW YORK WAITERS.

They Spoiled the Appetite of the Transplanted Citizen.

"These New York waiters have got on my nerves," said a transplanted citizen from a smaller town. "Dining in the magnificent hotels and restaurants would be a joy if some one would kindly remove the waiters while you ate. I can think of nothing but the big, black buzzards that hover over your head in Florida.

"There are so many waiters standing around, all in black, and they look so big and get their faces or their hands so close to you and your dinner that you feel like throwing the china at them. When your waiter has disappeared a smaller edition keeps right after you, filling your glass, removing dishes, giving you more butter, and if you look away from him the head waiter has his eye on you.

"The most maddening thing of all to me is the way the waiter orders your dinner for you. One took me in hand the other night, and I let him have his way just to see what he would do to me. I hate fish, but he averred that fish was the best thing I could eat and one particular dish was the chef's masterpiece. He brought it and, ye gods, it was fish all greasy with a dope made of cheese and mushrooms that about finished me; but, fortunately, he only let me take two bites when he whisked my plate away and set down a salad that had several kinds of fruit laced to lettuce leaves, with strips of red and green peppers and French dressing over that. I barely looked at that when he took it away in triumph and gave me an ice cream thick with chestnuts and fruits.

"Now, I dine on rare roast beef, plain lettuce and never take dessert, so you see how near he came to suiting me. 'Come again, sir,' said he. 'Not if I'm conscious,' said I."—New York Times.

Blue Drinks.

"Champagne is golden," said a bartender, "beer is amber, claret is red, cream of mint is green, whisky is brown, punches are white, but you will never, never find a drink that is blue. Doesn't the thought of a blue drink seem unpleasant to you?"

"Blue drinks could be easily made, but the public would have none of them. Nothing blue would go down with the public. Why is this aversion to blue so general? Many reasons have been advanced, but none of them is good. One is that blue, being the color of poison bottles, incites distaste and horror."—New York Press.

Even the Hash.

Embarrassed in the fashionable restaurant by the menus written in French, the Wall street man of business exclaimed:

"Hang these froids, entremets and hors d'oeuvres! Bring me a plate of good plain hash if you've got such a thing on the premises."

"You mean an olla podrida, sir," said the waiter in a tone of dignified reproach. "And afterward?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Perhaps He Was.

One pupil whispered to the next.

"Our teacher is a regular duffer."

The professor, who had just put a question to the class, thought the boy was framing a reply and said, "Come, my lad, speak up. Perhaps you are right."—Pathfinder.

The Telephone.

Professor Alexander Graham Bell is reported to have explained in a lecture how he came to invent the telephone as follows:

"My father invented a symbol by which deaf mutes could converse, and finally I invented an apparatus by which the vibrations of speech could be seen, and it turned out to be a telephone. It occurred to me to make a machine that would enable one to hear vibrations. I went to an aurist, and he advised me to take the human ear as my model. He supplied me with a dead man's ear, and with this ear I experimented, and upon applying the apparatus I found that the dead man's ear wrote down the vibrations.

"I arrived at the conclusion that if I could make iron vibrate on a dead man's ear I could make an instrument more delicate which would cause those vibrations to be heard and understood. I thought if I placed a delicate piece of steel over an electric magnet I could get a vibration, and thus the telephone was completed.

"The telephone arose from my attempts to teach the deaf to speak. It arose from my knowledge, not of electricity, but as a teacher of the deaf. Had I been an electrician I would not have attempted it."

Cocoanuts Make Good Fuel.

"Mine is rather a curious business," said a man who owns a small warehouse and shed down near London's docks. "I deal in coconut shells, and last year I sold more than 50,000 bags full of them as fuel.

"I buy thousands of coconut shells from stall keepers all over London, from confectioners, from coconut oil extractors, from market sweepers and others. I won't tell you the usual price, but sometimes I get them for nothing, for carting them away. In fact, I sell them at fourpence a bag, most of my customers being poor people, who mix them, when broken up, with 'slack' coal. But in scores of hotels and large houses a quantity is bought to be mixed with coals as fire lighters, for the immense amount of oil in coconut shells makes them take fire at once. Try it and see.

"I have rivals in the business in other parts of London, and some of the makers of patent fire lighters mix large quantities of the shells in their compositions."—London News.

Rats on Ships.

"Are rats destructive? Well," said a captain of a merchantman, "I once knew them to get through 55,000 worth of stuff in five days.

"Japan does an immense trade with China in cocoons, and the first time I carried such a cargo they were packed in sacks. When we got to Hongkong we found that the rats had discovered that part of a cocoon was good to eat, and the bill for their board came to $5,000. The shipowners were sued for that amount; but, the packing being considered faulty, the claim was disallowed. It was the first and last cocoon feast the rats had, for ever since Japan has packed cocoons in zinc lined cases.

"Every time a ship gets back to Liverpool a rat catcher is set to clearing out the rats, but by the time we have loaded up again the rodents are every bit as numerous. In some ports we use rat guards on the ropes, and the ship is always fumigated before taking a cargo of fruit or tea. But there is no getting rid of them entirely."—London Graphic.

Prepared For Contingencies.

"We have lots of curious 'last requests' from patients who are about to have operations performed," said a nurse in the women's surgical ward of one of the New York hospitals, "but I thought about the last word had been said on this subject one day last week when one of my patients before going to the operating room called me to her and asked me to write two postcards to her husband so that she might sign them before the operation. One was to read, 'My dear husband, the operation was at 10 o'clock this morning, and I am getting along fine.' The other one was: 'My dear husband, the operation was at 10 o'clock this morning, and I am sorry to say I died. From your loving wife.'"—New York Times.

Her Tongue.

They were talking of figures of speech.

"Have you ever noticed," said one, "how fond people are of vegetable metaphors when they are dealing with a woman? Her cheeks are 'roses,' her lips are 'cherry,' her hands are always 'lily' hands, her mouth is a 'rosebud,' her complexion is 'like a peach,' and her breath is 'fragrant as honey-suckle.'"

"You've forgotten one," said the cynic.

"What's that?"

"Her tongue. It is a scarlet runner."

—Exchange.

Consistent to the Last.

"If I was to commit suicide at sea," said Weary Walker as he shifted the hay band on his left foot, "I'd jump from the bow of the boat."

"An' why not from the stern?" queried Limp Lannigan.

"If I jumped from the stern," said Weary, "I couldn't avoid the wash!"

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Colo., Dec. 11.—Weather forecast for New Mexico: Fair weather tonight and Saturday with stationary temperature.

Hughes', McDonald's Christmas Candies. Stripling, Burrows & Co. Oratory Tonight—A splendid program will be given tonight at the high school auditorium.

Vacation Begins—The public schools will close one week from today for the Christmas holiday vacation.

Train Report.—Train report for today: Santa Fe and New Mexico Central trains on time. D. & R. G. two hours late.

Heating School—Wood and Davis hardware company have just installed a very large Majestic range, hotel pattern at the Allison school.

Candidate for Constable—H. G. Montoya announces himself as a candidate for constable, subject to Republican primaries of Precinct 17.

Church Services—A vesper service will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Guadalupe Catholic church, and tomorrow the Feast of Our Holy Lady of Guadalupe will be fittingly observed with services at 6:30 and 9:30.

Site Not Chosen—There are no late developments as to the site for the proposed Santa Fe depot. H. W. Sharp, general superintendent, and J. M. Kern, division superintendent of the Santa Fe, were expected to arrive in the city yesterday to look into the matter, but have not yet arrived.

Leave your order for Christmas Candies with Stripling, Burrows & Co.

Father Fourche's Birthday—Tomorrow is the 68th birthday anniversary of the Very Rev. Father Anthony Fourche of the Cathedral. Father Fourche has been in Santa Fe many years, and has done a great work building up the church and his people in the faith.

Cadet Clancy Ill.—Millet Clancy, a student at the Military Institute, Roswell, is ill with typhoid. He was taken ill some time ago, and has been removed to St. Mary's hospital in that city. Friends here are informed that his case is not serious, and his speedy recovery is hoped for. Mr. Clancy expects to graduate from that institute the coming spring.

Announces Candidacy—Charles M. Conklin, a resident of Precinct No. 17 and of the Third ward, and well and favorably known, has announced himself as a candidate for Justice of the Peace on the Republican ticket at the election next month for such officials. Mr. Conklin is a native and one of the best known residents of this city and asks his friends to vote for him. He will be thankful for their support.

At the Show—A fair crowd saw the change of pictures last night at the opera house. Every film was good and was enjoyed by all. The feature, "Ex-Convict No. 900" is a story from life, showing the struggles of a released prisoner to live an honest life. The song is also good. Tomorrow afternoon the usual matinee will be given.

Fine Garage—A very fine garage and stable is being erected by T. B. Catron, back of his beautiful residence. The structure is of concrete and two stories high. Along the street a stone wall six feet high is being built, the stones being bound together with cement, and topped with cement blocks. The fence is 375 feet long. The stable and garage are being constructed by Andy Pettine.

Print Your Briefs—The supreme court of the territory will meet in semi-annual session early next month. The New Mexican Printing company is prepared to do quick work at the most reasonable rates. Its bindery and job office are the best in the territory and its force in the two offices is composed of first-class artisans. Send your record and brief work to the New Mexican Printing company and aid the best printing establishment in New Mexico, and the three newspapers that are always busy and at work building up this city, this county and this territory.

Snow Still Stays—The snow which came two weeks ago to the depth of 14 inches has surprised every one with the tenacity with which it persists in remaining. Snow in Santa Fe usually disappears within a few days at the most, even when of a considerable depth. But the present snow has been very slow in disappearing, barely an inch disappearing in 24 hours. The depth of snow on the ground at 6 o'clock last evening as reported by the weather bureau was 1.2 inches.

Weather Report—The weather yesterday was nearly normal, the maximum temperature being 44 degrees at 1:30 p. m. and the minimum temperature 25 degrees at 4:40 a. m., making a mean temperature of 35 degrees, or four degrees above the normal. The relative humidity at 6 a. m. was 70 per cent and at 6 p. m. 86 per cent, making a relative humidity average of 78 for the day. Depth of snow on the ground at 6 p. m., 6 1/2 inches. Lowest temperature during last night, 25; temperature at 6 a. m. today, 30 degrees.

HIGH SCHOOL ORATORS READY FOR THE FRAY

Contest Tonight Is Expected to be Interesting and Instructive—Large Attendance Expected.

A large audience is expected to attend the oratorical contest tonight in the high school auditorium. The successful contestant will receive a gold medal, and will represent the Santa Fe high school in the territorial oratorical contest at Albuquerque, December 28. Two sets of judges will determine the merits of the efforts put forth by the high school contestants. The judges on thought and composition are Rev. Dr. J. W. Purcell, Prof. I. L. Tyler and Judge N. B. Laughlin. The judges on delivery are Prof. J. E. Clarke, territorial superintendent of public instruction, Col. W. W. Pritchard and Hon. Benjamin M. Read.

Tonight's contestants are Frances Berry, Esther Berry, Estelle Bergere, May Closson, Clinton Crandall, Genevieve Harrison, Etta Moore and Boyd Winters. Interesting musical numbers will be interspersed between the orations. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS AT FEDERAL BUILDING

Storm Doors at the Entrance Will Add to the Comfort of Officials.

In addition to the painting and general renovation of the Federal building already mentioned in the New Mexican, other changes are to be made which will greatly improve the appearance of that edifice. Plans have been received, and bids will be asked for, upon the proposition to install a revolving door and other changes at the main entrance to the building. The door will be of the latest and most desirable type of number one quarter-sawn white oak and plain polished quarter-inch glass. The installation of this modern convenience will add greatly to the appearance and convenience of the building, which contains so many important offices. Work will be commenced upon this alteration soon after the bids are received.

MATRIMONIAL BONDS SEVERED BY COURT

Judge McFie Grants One Divorce and One Annulment in District Court to Unhappy Couples.

Judge J. R. McFie, in the District court, today granted two decrees severing the marriage relation between husbands and wives. Mrs. Juanita Martinez de Sandoval was granted a divorce from her husband, Desiderio de Sandoval, on the ground of abandonment and non-support. Both are from Rio Arriba county.

A decree of annulment was granted to Tomas Varela from Eliza Blake on the ground that the defendant was already married at the time he contracted the second marriage, making the second marriage void. Attorney H. L. Ortiz appeared for the plaintiffs in both cases.

ALBUQUERQUE WILL HAVE SEWER SYSTEM

Albuquerque, Dec. 11.—After a three hours' session at a meeting of citizens in the Commercial club building last evening a resolution was passed requesting the city council to provide plans for an adequate sewer system for the city of Albuquerque, and that it take steps to submit to the voters the question of an issue of bonds for the payment of same. The meeting showed a strong inclination in favor of adopting the plan presented in a lengthy address by Representative Bullock of the American Light and Water company of Kansas City. The company guarantees that the cost shall not exceed the estimate $198,866 estimated by Expert Gray for nineteen and a half miles of sewer. This company has installed systems at various places in the Southwest, including Ardmore, Oklahoma, Tucson and Douglas, Arizona.

COMMITTEE WILL LOOK INTO CANAL ZONE AFFAIR

Washington, Dec. 11.—A trip will be made to the canal zone by the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee of Congress, according to the decision reached by the committee today. The committee will sail December 28. The trip will be made so that the committee may become thoroughly acquainted with government conditions in the zone. The present government there is regarded as temporary only and the committee may decide that the time has arrived when a permanent code of laws should be drafted.

ATTENCIO PROVES A CREDIBLE ALIBI

Antonito, Colo., Dec. 11.—Romalo Attencio, charged with the murder of Rafael Pena, the marshal of Antonito, last August, was acquitted by a jury in the district court last night, after two hours' deliberation. Pena was shot by an unknown man in his own backyard, the murderer standing behind a fence. Before dying Pena made a statement that he was shot by Attencio. The defense introduced evidence showing that Attencio was several miles away from Antonito at the time of the murder.

NO NEW TRIAL FOR THE PENNSYLVANIA GRAFTERS

Harrisburg, Dec. 11.—Judge Hundel today refused to grant a new trial to J. H. Sanderson, J. M. Shumaker, W. H. Snyder and W. L. Matthues, who were convicted in the first trial of the capital conspiracy cases.

Sanderson was a contractor for furnishings and decorations in the thirteen million dollar capitol building, and Shumaker was superintendent of public grounds and buildings. Snyder was former auditor general of the state and Matthues was former treasurer. These men with Joseph M. Huston, architect of the great building, were charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud the state in connection with the furnishing and decorating of the capitol, but Huston secured a severance and his trial has not yet come up. Several other defendants, of whom there were fourteen in all, remain to be tried.

NO GRAFT IN PURCHASE OF OLD FRENCH CANAL

New York, Dec. 11.—William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for the Panama republic, today gave out a statement relative to the recent charges made by the New York World that the purchase price of the old French canal property was paid to a private syndicate in this country. Mr. Cromwell says that the charges made by the World are absolutely false, and that the whole of the $40,000,000 paid by the United States government for the canal was paid directly into the Bank of France, and thence was distributed to the proper claimants according to their rights. This statement accords entirely with that recently given out by President Roosevelt.

SMITH CONVICTED IN ROCKY FORD BANK CASE

La Junta, Colo., Dec. 11.—It took the jury which heard the case of E. J. Smith, former cashier of the defunct bank of Rocky Ford, less than ten minutes yesterday to find him guilty of receiving deposits when he knew the bank to be insolvent. He is liable to a fine of $5,000 and five years in prison, but has until December 21 to file a motion for a new trial. Bail was fixed at $20,000, which he may be able to obtain today.

Smith seemed unconcerned as the verdict was read, and wrote industriously in a notebook, apparently not heeding his surroundings. The State Bank of Rocky Ford failed December 31, 1907.

JURY ENDS LAST CHAPTER OF HORRIBLE TRAGEDY

Trinidad, Colo., Dec. 11.—The final chapter in the most horrible tragedy in the history of Colorado—the murder of five members of the Garcia family by Francisco Martinez and the suicide of the latter—was written yesterday with the holding of an inquest and the burial of the body of the arch murderer and suicide.

A jury was impaneled by Coroner Gullford at Trinchera and after listening to brief testimony returned a verdict of murder in the deaths of the five Garcias and suicide in the case of Martinez.
