JUST AMONG OURSELVES

Cognizant of the natural modesty which proscribes the newly-elected president of the New Mexican, Paul F. A. Walter, from saying anything regarding himself, the news editor surreptitiously takes it upon himself to give space to a few appropriate comments. The old adage that "great events never come singly" and the saying that "it never rains but it pours" have been most forcibly exemplified in this week's experience of Editor Walter. He had hardly been appointed reporter of the supreme court, when the directors of the New Mexican selected him as president and chief editor of the New Mexican, and to top off all this deluge of pleasantness, his wife today presented him with a new-born. Could anything be lovelier or better planned? Yet the thunderbolt of good fortune certainly hit the proper mark, for none is more deserving or better qualified to be the recipient of honors than this well-liked and thoroughly capable gentleman. He is especially qualified by long training and experience to successfully guide the editorial destiny of the New Mexican and in view of the change that was necessary the directors could not have made a better or more competent selection. The employees of the New Mexican unite in heartily congratulating the new head. Ad multos annos.

CASE HEARD BY TERRITORIAL ENGINEER

Parties Concerned Are Given Time to Submit Briefs.

Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan has just concluded the important hearing of the contest of the Sacramento Valley Irrigation company against J. L. Lawson and H. W. Wolcott of Alamogordo, N. M., for water appropriations from the Sacramento river in that locality.

Attorneys A. B. Renahan and G. W. Pritchard of Santa Fe represented the irrigation company together with its president, John P. Wagner of Kansas City, Mo.

The contest arises from the filing of Wolcott and Lawson upon waters of the Sacramento river in Otero county which it is claimed were appropriated through beneficial use and an application to the territorial engineer by the irrigation company. In this connection the company called A. M. Jackley of Alamogordo to the stand and practically an entire day was consumed in his examination and cross-examination by Wolcott and Lawson who are attorneys in their own cause. Mr. Jackley was in the employ of the company for some years and was auditor of the company's books. Most of another day was devoted in filing miscellaneous papers and Engineer Sullivan adjourned the hearing giving each party sufficient time to submit briefs before taking up the application of Wolcott and Lawson for approval or rejection. A large number of hearings are looked before the engineer and during the coming two months Mr. Sullivan will be kept busy taking testimony on water right applications.

FORMER SUPREME JUDGE ACCUSED

Is Released On $20,000 Bail and Will Return to Face Charge.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 21.—M. J. Gordon, former judge of the supreme court and until recently general western counsel for the Great Northern railroad was last night placed under arrest by the deputy sheriff from Spokane, upon a telegraphic bench warrant, charging him with embezzlement. The telegram authorizing the arrest did not specify the name of the complainant nor the amount of the alleged embezzlement. Bail for $20,000 was granted, the amount being furnished by Spokane friends and he will return to that city immediately to meet the charge. "I have committed no crime," said Judge Gordon, "otherwise, I have nothing to say."

It is said to be the lowest rate ever made over the extreme points included, and was agreed upon Monday by the Denver & Rio Grande, Colorado Midland and Colorado & Southern railroads for points in their territory, to meet the Hariman road's low rate announced a month ago.

The New Mexican is in receipt of the following news from the Capitol:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 21, 1909. New Mexican, Santa Fe, N. M. There is no contention against the statehood bill except that Andrews is fighting to get the most liberal bill possible. Others are insisting that Arizona get the same concessions as New Mexico. The Republican members report to the full committee on Friday. The bill will be reported to the House, probably on Monday.

MISCREANTS POUR OIL ON BODY AND FIRE IT

Bungled Attempt to Conceal Revolving Crime.

Longmont, Colo., Jan. 21.—The entire neighborhood has been thoroughly wrought up over the discovery of the partially consumed body of William Collier, an aged and well-to-do farmer living north of here.

Collier had evidently been murdered for robbery and in an effort to hide the crime his assailants poured oil over the body and around the house, evidently intending to destroy all evidence by burning the place. The mistake was made, however, of closing all the doors and windows and shutting off all air and preventing the fire from spreading. The murder was committed at least four or five days ago, according to appearances. Collier's trousers pockets were turned inside out and his watch and money missing. There is no definite clue to the guilty parties.

IMMORALITY CAUSE OF HUSBAND'S ILLNESS

Army Officer's Wife to Accuse Him With Questionable Conduct.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—At the examination of United States army officer, Colonel William F. Tucker, before the retiring board of the United States army, which examination will take place at the order of President Roosevelt, it is understood that sensational statements are to be made by the Colonel's wife. She insists that her husband's condition is due to constant dissipation and association with another woman, and was not brought about by service in the army. Starting charges are also made against Tucker's nurse, Mrs. Myrtle L. Platt.

FIRE WIPES OUT PART OF TOWN

A High Wind Scatters Burning Matter and Causes Great Alarm.

Denver, Jan. 21.—A special from McCracken, Kansas, says that the business portion of the town has been practically wiped out by a fire early this morning. Ten buildings were burned, including the Tennessee hotel. All the guests in the latter escaped to safety. A high wind spread the burning brands over the town and it was with great difficulty that the residence portion was saved. The estimates of the loss have not yet been obtainable.

DIRE DESTRUCTION CAUSED BY VOLCANIC ERUPTION

Manila, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Lucena in the Tayabas province confirms the reports of volcanic disturbance there. Roads and bridges, in the neighborhood of Sariaya have been destroyed and wide stretches of cultivated fields ruined. Much damage was done by the inundation which followed the outbreak of the volcano of Laguna, the explosion letting loose the waters of the mountain lake. Further explosions of the volcano continue.

TWO PUBLIC MEETINGS AT THE CAPITOL

Historical Society Will Continue the Usual Custom.

The New Mexico Historical Society will hold two public meetings in the capitol during the session of the legislature, as has been usual for many years.

Hon. R. E. Twitchell is preparing a very elaborate and interesting lecture on a New Mexican historical topic, which will be profusely illustrated with stereopticon views. He is having these prepared without any regard to expense, eminent artists having been employed to produce the original pictures in a number of instances.

The society has also been fortunate in obtaining a promise from Mrs. M. C. Stevenson, the most eminent living American ethnologist, to make an address on an interesting subject connected with the Pueblo Indians. It will be remembered that the entire twenty-third annual report of the Bureau of Ethnology, being more than six hundred pages of print besides the numerous colored illustrations, was the work of Mrs. Stevenson, and is on the subject of the pueblo of Zuni, it being the only case in which an entire volume has been devoted to the work of a single author.

Mrs. Stevenson is now engaged in investigations relative to the pueblos of Santa Clara and San Idefonso and has kindly consented to come to Santa Fe to attend this meeting.

Historical papers will also be read by Prof. Vaughn, professor of history in the Normal University and by other professors from the territorial institutions.

It is possible that the society may arrange to throw open its rooms on one evening for a general reception to the members of the legislature and citizens of the territory, if proper arrangements for lighting and heating can be made. Its library is now the mecca of all students of southwestern history as its collection of books and documents relating especially to the Spanish and Mexican epochs is unsurpassed.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY WILL INVESTIGATE

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 21.—The arrival here of Assistant Attorney General S. R. Rush, personal representative of President Roosevelt, to take charge next week of the federal grand jury investigation of alleged frauds committed by prominent men to obtain possession of millions of acres of Indian lands during the past few years, is attracting attention, to the exclusion of all else. The investigation is said to be planned in support of the government, in the prosecution of the 20,000 civil suits recently brought to restore the land to the Indians.

PRIVATE LAND GRANT NOW OPEN FOR SETTLEMENT.

Denver, Jan. 21.—The Sangre de Christo land grant, one of the oldest granted by the Mexican government, has been thrown open to settlers after having been in the possession of the Costilla family for more than a century and a half. This grant comprises 600,000 acres and was ceded by the government of Mexico to the head of the Costilla family before the territory was acquired by the United States. The grant lies partly in New Mexico but mostly in Colorado, being situated in the San Luis valley in the southern part of the state.

BLAME FOR DISASTER BEING SHIFTED

Some Very Pointed Charges Are Made

DEATH LIST GROWS

Badly Burned and Unrecognizable Bodies Buried In One Lot.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—The responsibility for the accident at 73rd street intermediate water crib in which fifty or more workmen lost their lives, is being shifted from one department of public service to the other. But it is certain that criminal prosecution of those responsible for the conditions at the crib will follow. Among the charges made by the survivors are the following:

Poor Means of Escape.

Very little fire apparatus was kept on hand; fire extinguishers about the place were useless; dynamite was carelessly handled and on several occasions explosions were narrowly averted; the building was poorly constructed and was a veritable fire trap; the only method of escape in case of fire was the aerial tramway which carried but few persons at a time and was slow in acting. Efforts were made by the rescuers at daybreak today to ascertain whether or not any workmen were still living in the shaft beneath the crib, a mile and a half out in the lake. All of the air pumps were kept working and it is believed that some men may yet be found alive. George W. Jackson, of the construction company, which built the crib, informed the coroner today that it would be impossible for several days to give a complete list of the dead.

Condition of Injured Serious.

There is a possibility that the list of dead in yesterday's tragedy at the intermediate crib may reach sixty-six. Such is the opinion expressed today by the coroner. There are 47 bodies at the morgue which corresponds with the number reported missing by the Jackson company. But the company's payroll is incomplete and inquiries have been received for many whose names are not on the roll but who are said by relatives to have been working at the crib by day. Of the thirty-nine injured rescued yesterday, fifteen remained at the hospitals today. The condition of five of them is serious.

Bodies Not Recognizable.

Many dead bodies, absolutely unrecognizable because of their burned and blackened condition and in many cases where portions are missing, are encased in sacks at Murphy's morgue. It has been decided to have one funeral and bury them in one big lot.

May Be One Hundred Dead.

President D'Andrea, of the Sewer and Tunnel Miners' Association, expressed the fear today that the death list of the crib fire may reach one hundred. He said he had been told there were 175 working in the crib. He gave the opinion that many missing were undoubtedly at the bottom of the lake and would probably never be recovered. The organization will investigate.

DEAD LOCKED.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—The balloting continued today for the election of a United States senator. On the twelfth ballot the candidates remained practically the same with Hopkins and Stringer leading. At the conclusion of this ballot, the joint session arose and an agreement was reached to adjourn until Thursday next.

Grim Reaper Ends Career of Millionaire Mine Magnate.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 21.—Word was received here today of the death in New York of Charles L. Tutt, the millionaire mining and smelter magnate of this city. Heart trouble was the cause. Tutt was the pioneer in the development of Cripple Creek. He leaves a widow and son.

ACCUSED OF ENGAGING IN IMMORAL TRAFFIC.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 21.—Apollonio Flores was arrested yesterday afternoon on complaint of inspector E. C. Hendrix, who charges him with attempting to bring into the country for immoral purposes Rafaela Guerrero. Flores has not yet demanded a hearing and is trying to make bond.

EARTHQUAKE DESTROYS SIX HUNDRED HOUSES

Constantinople, Jan. 21.—An official dispatch reports more than six hundred houses destroyed by an earthquake yesterday at Phocaea near Smyrna. The shocks still continue. The people are seeking refuge in the mountains.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says, "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines." The law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine, and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. ## OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

EDITORIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

At a meeting of the directors of the New Mexican Printing company held yesterday afternoon, it was announced with regret, that owing to illness, Colonel Max. Frost, for so many years president of the company and editor of its publications, desired to retire from these positions and sought to sever his connections with the enterprise. Mr. Paul A. F. Walter was elected president of the company and editor of its publications, and Mr. John K. Stauffer, was re-elected secretary and treasurer with the duties of business manager.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, the directors of the New Mexican Printing company are averse to criticism, in the columns of the publications of the company, of private citizens in their personal business affairs, and,

"Whereas, friends of Mr. A. Staab of Santa Fe, have called the attention of the directors to an article in the columns of the New Mexican, which they construed to reflect upon Mr. Staab as a private citizen in personal affairs, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that the board of directors regrets the publication of any article reflecting upon any private citizen in his personal business relations; that any such publication was without knowledge and consent of the directors and that they apologize to Mr. Staab or any other person, who may feel aggrieved by reason of the publication of such articles."

IN DEFENSE OF THE FOREST SERVICE.

The New Mexican is in receipt of a letter from T. M. Michaels of Albuquerque, enclosing communications addressed by Mr. Michaels to Hon. James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, in which Mr. Michaels denounces the Forestry Service in general and Chief Forester Pinchot in particular. Mr. Michaels puts his case well and all in all, presents most logically the case of the West against the Forestry administration. There is no doubt that the establishment of the forestry reserves in New Mexico covering almost 8,000,000 acres has worked a temporary hardship upon stock growers and settlers on the public domain, and yet, this temporary hardship is far outweighed by the present good and cannot be compared at all with the future benefits that will come even to stockgrowers and homesteaders from the Forestry Service. It is true, there are abuses here and there, a wrong now and then, which must be righted; some instances where equitable rules might be and will be devised and the administration of such rules as exist made less harsh, but all in all, the forestry service is well administered, considering that it is a new order of things compared with the long time that other nations have adhered to the policy of conserving their timber supply.

The Denver Republican, in its editorial columns yesterday, took up one phase of the question when it said: "The strangest thing in regard to forest administration, the mystery of mysteries in fact, is the prevalence of the notion that forest officials and agents interfere in any way whatever with prospecting and the development of mining claims on forest reserves when work is done or rights are sought to be acquired in accordance with the federal and state laws respecting the location and development of such claims."

"One can hear it charged everywhere that a prospector working on what he thinks are mineral indications within a forest reserve is liable at any time to be stopped by some forest ranger who may be unable to discern any indications justifying the expenditure of money and effort. As a matter of fact, there is no such interference. Prospecting and mineral development can be carried on within the limits of a forest reserve just as freely and subject to as little restriction as it could be done if there were no forest reserves in existence."

"Mr. Pinchot states specifically that there is not one law for the patenting of mining claims upon the unreserved public domain and another for national forests, and the same truth is brought out by diligent inquiry into the administration of forests in this state in relation to mining and prospecting."

"How the notion ever became so prevalent that prospecting and mining are less free on the forest reserves than they are on other parts of the public domain is, as we said at the outset, a mystery. Possibly all impression of this sort grew out of the fact that on the old rike's Peak forest reserve the location and entry of mining claims was at one time, years ago, prohibited; but this can hardly be so in view of the fact that the prohibition in question was long since removed from the Pike's Peak reserve and has never at any time been applied to any other.

"It would be well to drive the truth home to the minds of the people that the forest laws, rules and regulations have not in any respect whatever nullified, qualified or repealed any state or federal law respecting prospecting the location of mining claims or their development. If this were recognized there would be less of that bitter hostility to the forest service on the part of prospectors and miners of which one hears so much in different parts of the state."

"The frequently made charge that from time to time forest rangers, possessing little or no knowledge of mining, pass judgment upon the merits of prospecting or mining ventures, is specifically not true. This, however, is true, but it is a matter to which no man wishing to comply with the law can object, that when application is made for a patent to a mining claim within a reserve, an expert miner—often a member of the United States geological survey—is sent to examine the claim for the purpose of ascertaining whether mineral exists in the place and whether the amount of work requisite to secure a patent has actually been done. This is nothing more than the employment of means to ascertain whether the mining—not the forestry—laws have been complied with, and no man who has faithfully complied with the mining laws can offer any objection."

"In regard to the use of timber in the development of a mining claim, the mining laws govern notwithstanding the claim may be within a reserve. The prospector has a right to use all the timber growing upon his claim which he may need in the development of that claim. He is not allowed to sell it, but the mining laws did not give him that privilege."

"In short the mining laws govern in forest reserves just as they do on other parts of the public domain, and all this talk about interference by forest officials or agents with prospecting and mining conducted in accordance with the mining laws is just so much nonsense, possessing no foundation whatever in fact."

PREPARE FOR THE CENSUS.

In Pennsylvania and other states, a movement is in progress on the part of many towns to annex suburbs or to consolidate with neighboring communities prior to the census year of 1910, in order to make the best possible population showing. There is wisdom in this movement for population figures are impressive when it comes to arguing with capital for municipal improvements, constructing works of public utility such as street railways, water and electric railways or placing municipal bonds. Population statistics also have a value as an advertisement in drawing money for private business investments or securing residents. New Mexico towns should also take steps to be in position to make a good showing next year when the census-taker comes around. Albuquerque, by taking in its suburbs and neighbors, would show a population of 15,000. Las Vegas and East Las Vegas by getting together could show a population of 10,000, and Santa Fe, by annexing its suburban streets, could swell its population figures by next year to 8,500. A miserable showing was made by New Mexico municipalities in the census of 1900 and nine-tenths of the people of the United States who took notice of the census returns of 1900, are under the impression that New Mexico's largest communities are not more than country villages."

It is a bitter fight that is being waged in Texas for the submission of a constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition. Every commonwealth which has not yet declared for prohibition will be a battleground for the friends of temperance who will not let up until they have won the day. There is no getting away from it, the music will have to be faced and it is better to submit gracefully than to be distracted by the agitation of the determined temperance apostles. Fortunately, the fight is not being waged along political lines but on its own merits, at least, in most of the commonwealths and like in New Mexico is being conducted quietly and decently, with arguments addressed to the reason rather than to the prejudices of the voters."

Very good advice is given the newcomers to New Mexico who will engage in dry farming this year, in a bulletin just issued by the New Mexico Agricultural College and printed on another page. The bulletin tells of the best methods of breaking the sod, of plowing and of general treatment of the soil. The difference between a good crop and a total crop failure lies in the observation or non-observation of these rules, which embody the results of careful experiments and considerable experience in dry farming. Professor J. D. Tinsley, the author of the bulletin, has been in every part of the territory and has studied his subject so carefully that farmers may well accept him as good authority and follow his advice implicitly. Not only the well being of individual farmers, but of the entire commonwealth depends upon the success of dry farming. Thirteen million acres of fertile soil are available for homesteaders in eastern New Mexico if dry farming proves a success, while if it fails much land now under plow will revert to the public range."

The appointment of Captain A. R. Ford of Silver City, by Governor Curry, to be adjutant general of the territory, will prove to be wise and advantageous. Captain Ford is a young man of military training and experience, a man endowed with enthusiasm which he knows how to impart to others so that under him the cause of the National Guard will flourish. The legislature should give him a clerical assistant who could attend to the routine of the office, and ample allowance for traveling expenses and contingencies, so that the adjutant general may devote his entire time practically to the up-building of the National Guard in every one of the larger towns of the territory."

The nation will observe Lincoln Day on February 12, with solemnity and impressive ceremonies. It is the hundredth anniversary of the birth of the martyred president and President Roosevelt has urged Congress to declare the day a national holiday. Governor Curry and the territorial legislature should also take steps to make the day a memorable one in New Mexico. Although the territory clings to its present name and does not consent to the proposed change to Lincoln, yet, it has named a county and its county seat in his honor, and will be second to no commonwealth in revering and paying tribute to the memory of the great president."

Albuquerque is to be congratulated upon its wisdom in deciding in favor of a municipal sewer system, even though it cost $290,000. The city can afford to go into debt that amount which is only a comparatively small fraction of the city's total and assessed valuation. Albuquerque's growth is assured under any and every circumstance, but making it a clean and sanitary city, it will have such advantage over other southwestern towns that it will draw many residents who would otherwise go to other places. Modern improvements cost but they always repay themselves manifold to a progressive community."

That Santa Fe is not the only town in the Southwest which is enjoying a building boom is manifest from the fact that thirty to forty new residences are under construction at Roswell. The census of 1900, placed Santa Fe as the second town in population in New Mexico, but unless it takes in its suburban districts, both Raton and Roswell will pass it in rank next year, and even Tucumcari, Clovis and the Twin Towns of Las Vegas will have to be watched, in order that Santa Fe does not descend to seventh rank as far as population is concerned."

One of the strongest arguments for the proposed county with Taiban as the county seat, is that it would be Republican in all probability. Another is that it would be almost square, with Taiban near the center and equidistant from every part of the county. The fact that its assessment would approach the million dollar mark and that its inhabitants at present must go fifty miles to the nearest county seat over bad roads and brakes that are almost impassable, are also considerations worthy of attention by the lawmakers."

It is strange how communities and individuals, who gave the Republican party the cold shoulder on last election day, now ask for favors or protection from the hands of the members of the same party. If it were not for the fact, that the Republican leaders are working for the common good, are unselfish and carry no resentment, the present would be an opportune time for "getting even" with more than one community or individual."

It is not to be expected that every member of the legislature is altogether pleased with his committee assignments, but each one has enough work cut out for him to keep him busy. Both President C. A. Spess and Speaker E. A. Miera have carefully considered every assignment, weighed each man's peculiar qualifications and have sought to distribute honors, responsibilities and burdens as equitably as the situation permitted."

No, the Artesia county scheme is not dead, but the Artesia county boomers learned a valuable lesson two years ago, by which they have profited. They will be on deck when the proper time comes and will present their claims in such convincing manner that there will be no getting away from them."

Governor Curry is not blustering as much about what he will do in case statehood fails at the present session of Congress, as does his colleague, the governor of Arizona, yet, when it comes to a show down, it will be found that Governor Curry has done as much for the ultimate success of the statehood movement as any other statehood pusher in the entire Southwest."

These daily delays to the statehood measure in Congress are disappointing, but New Mexico should be accustomed to them. Despite all setbacks, the outlook for the cause is more favorable each day."

PRACTICAL TALK
TO DRY FARMERS

Sod Should Be Broken Early and Plowed Deep—No Sub-Soils in New Mexico.

(By Professor J. D. Tinsley of the New Mexico Agricultural College.)

There yet remains in New Mexico a large area of virgin soil to be broken, and of this the greater part is what is generally called sod land although much of it bears at most a very light sod. For many years to come there will be a large amount of this virgin land to be broken each year, and for this reason the handling of sod land is a matter of much importance. For centuries the sod land in New Mexico has been beaten and compacted by dashing rains, and for many years has been tramped by cattle, sheep, and horses with the result that the surface has been packed so firmly that it is now almost water proof, as is shown by the large amount of water running off after the rains. This compact surface is also very favorable to evaporation, so that the land rapidly loses the little moisture that it absorbs. Because the water penetrates slowly, and evaporates quickly, sod land usually contains much less moisture than land which has been cultivated. Crops planted on sod land do not have a supply of moisture stored in the soil to draw on, so must depend on the moisture that falls during their growing season. For this reason crops on sod land are uncertain, and one should not be discouraged when the yields are poor.

Methods of Breaking Sod.

There are so many methods of treating sod land that it is difficult to say which is the best, especially as so much depends on the teams and machinery at the disposal of the farmer. The subject may be roughly divided under two heads: Early breaking and late breaking.

Early Breaking.

Under this head will be classed all breaking that is done several months before the ground is to be planted. The best time for early breaking is during the summer as the grass and other vegetation will be full of moisture and this, with the combined influence of the heat and moisture in the soil, will cause the sod to rot most rapidly. The loosening of the soil at this time, will also allow the rain to soak into the soil instead of running off. The loosened surface, provided that it is properly firmed, will act as a mulch and retain the moisture. This early loosening of the soil and the rapid decay of the vegetable matter favor changes, in the soil which increase its fertility.

Depth of Plowing.

When the land is broken early, it is safe to plow deeper than when it is broken late, because the soil will have time to settle firmly back against the bottom of the furrow and to establish capillary connection with the lower part of the soil, before the time of planting. The farmer need not fear that he will turn up unproductive soil by deep plowing, for as a rule there is no marked difference in the productivity of the upper and lower layers in the soils of New Mexico. There are practically no sub-soils in New Mexico, using the term sub-soil in the sense that is generally applied to it in the humid regions. Plow as deeply as possible. Twelve inches would not be too deep on tight land if it could be done. Six to eight inches is as shallow as it should be done to call it deep breaking.

Deep breaking is one of the secrets of success in dry farming. It opens up a volume of soil sufficiently thick to catch and hold the heavy showers, and also provides room for the development of plant roots.

It is very important that the land be thoroughly turned, and the sod thrown to the bottom of the furrow. When the land is plowed, the surface should be partly firmed. It should not be worked down as fine as for seed bed, but the larger clods should be broken up. If the surface were made too fine the land would crust, and also might not be sufficiently uneven to catch drifting snows. The partial fining of the surface should be done at once, the best rule is to work down what has been plowed in the morning before going to dinner, and the afternoon plowing before going to supper. Never turn land and leave it rough to be firmed when breaking has been finished or to be weathered as in the humid region. Observations for the past three winters on land broken and left rough have shown quite conclusively that land so treated was as dry if not drier in spring than unbroken sod.

In early deep breaking, the sub-surface packer may be run after the plow but the soil would probably settle without it and its use is not so essential as in the case of late breaking. The disc is probably the best tool for the partial fining as it not only cuts up the clods but also packs the soil considerably. If the disc is not available, the ground should be gone over with a Spike Toothed Drag Harrow or with some form of drag. The land may be allowed to stand in this condition until spring, and then worked to a seed bed. The method of early deep breaking that has been described requires heavy teams and considerable labor but it will pay.

Where deep breaking is impossible the sod may be turned three inches or more, and allowed to lie over winter. This will be better than not breaking at all, provided the sod is turned flat. Where for any reason it is impossible to break the land early, much good may be accomplished by discing the sod, especially if it be double disced with the discs set to lap one-half. In many cases this double discing will do about as much good as shallow breaking. It partly opens up the surface to let in water, and produces a partial mulch. The next talk will deal with the late breaking of sod.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by Stripling, Burrows & Co.

A Religious Author's Statement.

For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. Sold by all druggists.

TERRITORIAL NEWS NOTES

At Artesia.

Last week the Methodists of the New Mexico conference decided to erect their new $250,000 college at Artesia. There were several other cities in the territory that wanted the college, but the people of Artesia got busy and put up a cash bonus of $45,000 and other donations in the way of land and water that made the total donation amount to about $50,000. This indicates that the people of Artesia have plenty of confidence in their community and that they are confident that it has a bright future.

At Alamogordo.

The fire alarm was sounded last Saturday night about 12:15 o'clock and the fire proved to be in the Perry Kearney building on Tenth street and Pennsylvania avenue which contained the M. Brounoff stock of merchandise. The fire department was on the ground in about ten minutes and two heavy streams of water were played on the fire. The building was badly gutted before the fire was brought under control and the goods badly damaged. For some reason or other a large portion of the goods that were not ruined were carried off and the loss was almost as complete to the owner as if the fire had swept everything. M. Brounoff was in El Paso at the time, while Mrs. Brounoff and the other members of the household were at their apartments in the building. Brounoff claims invoices of about five thousand dollars for goods on hand at the time of the fire. The stock was insured with companies represented by Clements & Thulemeyer and an adjuster is expected within a few days.

Mr. Kearney states that several hundred dollars will restore the building as it was of rough lumber structure. It was not insured.

A deal was pending between Messrs. Kearney and Brounoff at the time of the fire for the sale of the building to the latter. Since the fire a sale has been made for the lot and the remnants of the building.

At Norton.

A telephone message from Norton, eighteen miles from this city, last Thursday morning stated that a disastrous fire had laid the Norton post-office and the store of J. M. Norton in ruins the night before. J. M. Norton was away at the time of the fire and when seen by a reporter he stated that the loss amounted to over one thousand dollars. Mr. Norton, who was also the postmaster there, was under considerable apprehension concerning the key to the mail pouch since he was under bond of two thousand dollars for its safe keeping. A later telephone call relieved his mind on this point, however, for the key was found later among the debris of the building.

The origin of the fire is still a mystery and several theories have been advanced to explain it. Some say that it was fired by spiteful parties but Norton discards this on the ground that he has not an enemy in the world. Others say that there was a public meeting in the building the night of the fire and that the blaze might have occurred as the result of extinguishing the lights carelessly after the meeting had adjourned. A third idea is that the store was robbed and then fired. This seems probable and it is the nucleus most likely to be worked on by the detectives.

At Hagerman.

Over 600 car loads of alfalfa have been shipped from Hagerman, averaging eleven tons to a car, making 6,600 tons, at $11 a ton, making $92,300.

At Willard.

Last Sunday afternoon great volumes of smoke could be seen northwest of town as though several locomotives were trying to climb a hill at the same time. After inquiry revealed the fact that the smoke was caused by the burning of Saturnino Lueras' ranch house five miles northwest of town. The origin of the fire is not known for certain, but it is reported that it was started by a little boy who was looking for hen's nests, and struck a match to look in the dark corner of the stable. The flames spread rapidly and were soon communicated to the house, which stood a short distance from the stable. Mr. Lueras and the rest of his family were here in town at the time. He and several of the towns people went out there but it was too late to save anything. All that was gotten out was two hundred pounds of flour and two sacks of corn.

The house was one of the finest in the valley, being a two story stone structure 34x60 feet with a good cellar underneath. The stable was 25x50 feet and well built and filled with hay and feed. Mr. Lueras claims the loss to be about $7,000. He carried insurance for about half that amount.

At Cloudcroft.

Cloudcroft is to have a new hotel. J. C. Jones has decided to build one on Main street, east of J. I. Bailey's residence and will call it the "Rustic Hotel." The building will contain a cellar and two floors above. The two floors will contain twenty-six rooms and the structure will cost about $5,000 and will be in a "T" shape. The main body to be 70x30 and the lesser body 45x30. Dining room

Minor City Topics.

Train Report.—Today's train report: Santa Fe and New Mexico Central on time; Rio Grande one hour, 20 minutes late.

Birth of a Son.—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hockmeyer on January 15th at Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Hockmeyer was formerly Miss Edith Rothgeb of Las Vegas and a frequent visitor in Santa Fe.

Funeral This Morning.—The funeral of Mrs. Adalida Krummick, wife of Jose Armijo was held this morning from the Cathedral at 9 o'clock. Rev. Father Anthony Fourchegu officiated. The remains were interred in Rosario. There was a large attendance of friends at the funeral including Mr. and Mrs. Miguel Chavez, Tierra Amarilla; Nicolas Montoya, and wife, Golden; Jacob Krummick, San Pedro; Mrs. Minerva Howland, Albuquerque.

Legislators Invited to Dance.—The band boys are to give a dance to-night at the Catron block. A special invitation has been extended to each member of the assembly and house. A full orchestra will furnish the music. A short picture show will be given before the dance.

LEGISLATIVE THUMB NAIL SKETCHES

Enterprising Citizens.—Hon. E. F. Gallegos, who represents Union and Colfax counties in the Legislative Council, is a successful stockgrower and merchant at Gallegos, Union county, although he also maintains residence at Clayton. He is a very bright and enterprising citizen who is looking carefully after the interests of his constituents. Mrs. Gallegos will join him later in the capital. Assistant Sergeant L. E. Gallegos hails from the same bailiwick. Both report that sheepmen in Union county look forward to a good year, both as to increase in flocks and as to wool. They also tell of the rapid growth in population of the county which is surprising old-timers.

Will Think It Over.—Hon. R. L. Baca will not introduce the Anti-Saloon League's local option bill in the House as had been hoped by the friends of the Prohibition movement. Not that he is adverse to local option, but he is not yet convinced that it is the best thing for New Mexico to adopt it in the shape of the proposed measure and will first study it thoroughly before committing himself.

Cocked-Hat Politics.—Quite a humorous incident occurred the other night at the governor's reception, general George Sena of Santa Rosa, enacting the principal role. In the room used for checking the wraps, a good-sized throng had pushed its way in and as a result there was considerable congestion for the time being. For a while some difficulty was experienced in securing hats and coats. In the midst of the condensed mass was Sena with several of his friends. Feeling something at his feet, he stooped to pick it up and discovered the object to be a peculiar, flat piece of lead-gear. Putting his hand on the inside and unconsciously pushing upward, he felt something give and to his great astonishment found he was holding a "plug" hat. Never having had any use for such an article, Sena did not know that he had picked up a crushable opera hat. The shock caused by the pan-cake article suddenly becoming a high hat, for the while, nonplussed him and gave his friends an opportunity to hah-a. After many unsuccessful efforts to reduce the hat to its pan-cake proportions, Sena gave it up as a bad job, supplementing his efforts with the comment, "If I could knock certain political deals into a cocked hat as easily as I did that flat-looking object, maybe I wouldn't revolutionize politics!"

A Genuine Trump.—Over at the Palace Hotel the visitors who are here for the legislative session, are extremely well pleased with the courteous treatment they are receiving at the hands of the affable chief clerk. When it comes to anticipating the wants of the guests and doing the right thing at the right time, "Jimmy" Carithers is an experienced adept. It is impossible to rattle him, no matter how innumerable and inane, the questions fired at him, and of course people will ask questions, at least during legislative times. In short, "Jimmy" is the kind of clerk that attracts business to a hotel, for his gentility is well appreciated.

Has Made a Name.—Assistant Attorney General F. W. Shearon, assistant in the office of Attorney General J. M. Hervey, has already made a name for himself in the political annals of the Territory, to which he came a little over four years ago as a healthseeker. He is only thirty-three years of age but has seen considerable public service and possesses a natural aptitude for the law, the so-called "legal mind." He is a native of Fairbury, Neb., where he attended the public schools. He graduated from the Lincoln Normal University, and was appointed court reporter of the First Judicial district, Nebraska, which position he held several years, resigning it to accept the position of chief clerk in the law department of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at Lincoln, Neb. Ill health compelled him to leave his native state for New Mexico, where he soon regained strength and made a host of political and personal friends through his straightforwardness and courage of his convictions. He was chief clerk in the office of former Commissioner of Public Lands A. A. Keen, and was the principal figure around whom was waged the memorable fight that resulted in the resignation of former Governor Hagerman. Mr. Shearon, in that episode, refused to be intimidated in the stand he took for what he conceived to be right. On May 19, 1907, he was appointed assistant in the office of Attorney General J. M. Hervey and has since been of valuable service in that department. Last August he was admitted to the practice of law before the territorial supreme court after a highly creditable examination for which he had prepared himself not only by hard study but by the experience of a decade of service in positions that brought him into contact with the legal phases of many varied activities. Mr. Shearon was married in Nebraska five years ago, and with Mrs. Shearon occupies a cozy home in this city, with whose interests he has identified himself and for which he boasts in season and out of season. The Daily New Mexican is certain that a bright future and many honors, political and otherwise, await Mr. Shearon, who has proved himself a stalwart Republican and a man who keeps his political faith even in the sight of temptations from those who would have him be an apostate.

OFFICIAL MATTERS

Reciprocal Insurance Clause.

Insurance Commissioner Jacobo Chavez is taking steps to enforce the reciprocal insurance clause of the statutes which will add considerably to the revenue of the territory. New Mexico at present exacts a fee of two per cent on all premiums, licenses, fees, etc., but henceforth, where any state, like Wisconsin, charges more than two per cent on New Mexico corporations, Insurance Commissioner Chavez will exact the same amount from Wisconsin corporations or those of other cities exacting more than two per cent.

Cattle Sanitary Board.

An important meeting of the Cattle Sanitary Board began its sessions today. One of the first actions taken was a decision to continue the quarantine in certain eastern sections of the territory, on account of the mange, although from reports it is apparent that the efforts of the board to stamp out the epidemic are meeting with success.
