MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Colo., Jan. 22.—Weather forecast for New Mexico: Generally fair in south. Rain in northern portion tonight and probably Saturday.

New Lettering—The windows of the First National bank are being re-lettered and very tasty signs are being placed thereon.

Real Estate Sale—Attorney R. H. Hanna yesterday purchased from his mother, Mrs. I. B. Hanna, a modern brick cottage on Johnson street. Consideration private.

New Automobile—Joe E. Lacombe, proprietor of the Claire hotel has purchased a new auto-car of the run-about style and is enjoying spins about the city.

Several Lodge Visitors—There were several visiting brothers present at last night's meeting of Santa Fe lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F. Among them were James W. Mullens, member of the House of Representatives from Roswell; Pries Walters, member of the House from San Juan county, and A. E. Wright, a tourist from Machias, New York.

Woodmen Meet Tonight—An open meeting of Santa Fe camp of the Modern Woodmen of America will be held tonight in Odd Fellows' hall in lower San Francisco street. Truman Plantz of Warsaw, Ill., and A. N. Bort of Beloit, Wis., directors of the national camp of the M. W. of A., arrived this morning and will address the meeting tonight. The general public is cordially invited. Tomorrow night they will speak in Albuquerque.

A Card.—The attempt made several weeks ago by parties to have the opera house condemned, which failed, has since been carried on by the same scoundrels in sending out a rumor that the opera house was closed and I was going out of the show business which is not true. I am here to stay. Last night a scamp threw stones through the windows of the front doors, breaking several panes of glass. I will pay a liberal reward for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of these parties.

A. M. DITTELBAUGH, Manager Opera House.

Abraham Lincoln—Standing room only was the cry at the first show at the opera house last night. The great film "Life of Abraham Lincoln" was the attraction and as it will be shown but a few times more all should see it. The history of the great emancipator from boyhood to death should be known to every patriotic American and all children should see this picture of the man, and remember the days that tried men's souls. The other pictures "A Peasant Girl's Loyalty," and "The Lover's Stratagem" are very amusing. Don't forget to come tonight and send the children to tomorrow's matinee.

Weather Report—Partly cloudy and threatening weather prevailed yesterday. A sprinkle of rain occurred early this morning amounting to .01 of an inch. The maximum temperature yesterday was 43 degrees at 3:20 p. m. and the minimum was 27 degrees at 7:30 a. m.; the mean temperature was 35 degrees or 7 degrees above normal. The relative humidity at 6 a. m. was 63 per cent; at 6 p. m. 55 per cent; relative humidity, average for the day, 60 per cent. Lowest temperature during last night, 39 degrees; temperature at 6 a. m. today, 39 degrees; precipitation for the 24 hours ending at 6 a. m. today .01 of an inch.

Death of Mrs. Williams—The many friends will be pained to learn of the death at 2:27 o'clock this morning of Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

Weak Kidneys

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell

Mrs. Williams had been ill a week and death came as a relief from intense suffering from peritonitis. She was 33 years of age and was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. She came with her husband to Santa Fe about a year ago from Bridgeport, Conn., and during her short residence here had made many friends to whom the sad news will come as a personal grief. Mrs. Williams is survived by a son, Gilbert, sixteen months old, in addition to the sorrowing husband. Arrangements for the funeral will be delayed until friends arrive from the east.

Medal Contest Tonight—No one can afford to miss the medal contest at the High school auditorium tonight. The members of the legislature are invited to be present and will enjoy the program. The program begins at 8 o'clock and will consist of musical numbers and temperance addresses by the freshman class of the High school under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

On Inspection Tour—Two prominent gentlemen are in the city, both officials of the Order of Modern Woodmen of America, Truman Plantz of Warsaw, Ill., attorney for the order, and A. N. Bort, of Beloit, Wis., chairman of the board of national directors. Today they are the guests of C. H. Ingraham, former head of the local U. S. Bank and Trust company, Ingraham and Plantz being from the same town. The gentlemen are engaged in making a tour of the territory to ascertain the conditions and prospects of the various territorial lodges of Woodmen and to see what can be done to promote the interests of the order, the right having been given the organization to operate in New Mexico, only last June. According to Mr. Bort the order has a total membership of one million scattered throughout thirty-six states. The order is twenty-five years old and last year made an increase of 140,000 members. The order is especially strong in the middle west, has a very large representation in this territory, and is in a highly prosperous condition. Messrs. Bort and Plantz leave tomorrow for Albuquerque

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says, "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines." The law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine, and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

Before any sore can heal, the cause which produces it must be removed. As long as the blood, from which our systems receive their necessary nourishment and strength, remains impure and contaminated with disease germs, any old sore on the body will remain open, and resist every effort made to heal it. The nerves and tissues of the flesh around the places are continually fed with unhealthy matter and nature is simply disposing of the poison by draining it from the system through the sore. The only cure for an old sore is a thorough cleansing of the blood, entirely ridding the system of the cause. S. S. S. heals old sores by removing every particle of impurity from the circulation. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and so completely cleanses the circulation that there is no longer any impurity to drain through the sore, but the place is once more nourished with rich, healthy blood. S. S. S. heals the sore from the bottom, the place soon fills in with healthy, firm flesh, the tenderness leaves, all discharge ceases, the skin regains its natural color and when S. S. S. has thoroughly cleansed and purified the blood the place is permanently healed. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

HOW OUTSIDERS LOOK ON STATEHOOD

We re-print the following from the El Paso Herald as an interesting opinion regarding statehood:

Territorial Claim to Right of Statehood.

New Mexico and Arizona, both in the trade territory of El Paso, will come into the Union as states during the present year if no unforeseen circumstance arises at Washington to delay the bill that now seems certain of passage, and with the creation of states out of these two rich and thriving territories, a new era will dawn for the entire Southwest. The people have pleaded for statehood for years, but Congress after Congress has refused until the present time, when with both parties pledged to statehood the people do not see how they can lose.

Rich in Resources.

New Mexico and Arizona are both rich in many possibilities.

The mineral output of Arizona is her greatest asset, her copper production being the largest in the United States, but she is also rich in agricultural possibilities and every one of the hundreds of fertile valleys throughout the territory is productive beyond the most sanguine expectation, when the water is applied in season from the streams. From dates, oranges, olives and almonds, semi-tropical products, of the Yuma and Salt River valleys, to apples of the very finest flavor and quality in the colder region of the north, Arizona's products are varied and her possibilities many.

Arizona has one of the best public school systems in the country and education is compulsory. She has two agricultural experiment farms, two normal schools for the education of her teachers, a university without a superior anywhere, territory eleemosynary institutions and model territorial prisons; in fact is as up-to-date as any state in the Union and is ready and has been ready for statehood for many years. The government is spending many millions of dollars on reclamation works in the Salt River and Yuma valleys on irrigation projects to reclaim the rich land that needs irrigation.

New Mexico.

New Mexico, while her mineral output is large and varied, owes most of her prosperity to the livestock and wool industries, although farming interests are largely represented and the timber of the territory has added much to the wealth of the people. Many sections of the territory are ideal for farming and the Pecos valley farming is possible by artesian irrigation. In most of the other regions irrigation from streams is necessary and the damming and conservation of the water is therefore necessary. The government has spent and is spending vast sums on irrigation enterprises in the Pecos and Rio Grande valleys to develop the country for the people of this rich territory, and the miner, the cattleman, the sheep man and the lumberman, are doing and have done much to make the territory prosperous.

Farming and Mining.

The "dry farmer" is a new factor in the life of New Mexico, who has entered it within the past few years, and with great success. A "dry farmer" is a man who in a region of rainfall under twenty-five inches annually, cultivates the land scientifically and raises a crop upon land that has in the past been deemed worthless; he conserves the moisture, so that it is sufficient for his crop. These farmers have met with most flattering success and add a new feature to the important possibilities of the territory.

Mining development has been rapid in New Mexico in the past few years, and some very rich strikes have been made, particularly in the region around Silver City and in the Hachita district, where in the past year has come into existence the marvelous gold field of Sylvanite, "the new Cripple Creek."

In the Pecos valley, of New Mexico, some of the finest fruit in the world is produced, and the cantaloupes of the Mesilla valley last season were the prize winners of the United States. Alfalfa without a rival in the world is also grown in these two valleys as well as in many other regions of New Mexico and also quite extensively in Arizona.

Schools.

New Mexico has good public schools but the terms outside the cities are in some instances rather short, and this is one of the features which it is desired to improve with the conferring of statehood. New Mexico maintains many valuable educational institutions, however, including an agricultural and mechanical college, a military institute, a territorial university, a school of mines, a normal school and various eleemosynary institutions. A well regulated territorial penitentiary is also conducted at Santa Fe, and the territory does not farm out her convicts. Many large private colleges make their home in the territory and others are projected.

The government has several important Indian schools in both territories. The affairs of the two territories are administered by capable executives, the governors, Jos. Kibbey, of Arizona, and George Curry, of New Mexico, being appointees of President Roosevelt and in turn naming their official families. The president was particularly fortunate in his selections, for the two men and their assistants are giving the territories excellent administrations. Both territories went Republican at the late election. New Mexico returning W. H. Andrews to Congress, and Arizona electing Ralph Cameron, Republican, over the former Democratic delegate, Mark Smith.

The population of the two territories is increasing very rapidly and towns are springing up with great rapidity. Some of the biggest mining companies in the United States are operating in the territories, particularly Arizona, and to their operations is due in a large measure, the rapid growth of many of the towns and cities, especially of Arizona. Morenci, Clifton, Bisbee, Douglas, Globe, Silver City, and others that might easily be named, have been built by the mining interests and all are modern and progressive, far more so than their counterparts in population and size in the older eastern communities.

Allotment of Forestry Funds Made—Warrants Issued to the Western States.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—The secretary of the treasury has issued warrants to various western states for their allotments of forest reserve funds for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, being 25 per cent of the receipts from sales of timber in the respective states.

The aggregate amount issued is $144,279. Of this Colorado receives $59,761, Utah $32,681, Wyoming $35,170, Idaho $71,423, Montana $61,941 and New Mexico $24,464.

Western Phosphate Lands.

Senator Smoot has introduced a bill directing the secretary of the interior, after examination and classification of phosphate lands by the geological survey, to restore such land to entry and settlement when it can be done without prejudice to the government. It proposes the creation of a commission to examine claims and entries of phosphate lands with a view to clearing and establishing their validity, and authorizes the secretary of the interior to lease phosphate lands on terms prescribed by him.

Land Bills Favored.

Representative Mondell has made favorable reports from the house public lands committee on his bills for resurvey of public lands, for bringing to date the statute providing for cancellation of railroad rights of way on which no construction work has been performed, and authorizing the secretary of the interior to correct errors in descriptions of land.

Fever Sores.

Fever sores and old chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be taken in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by all druggists.

The New Mexican can do printing equal to that done in any of the large cities. Our solicitor, every piece of work we turn out. Try our stock once and you will certainly come again. We have all the facilities for turning out every class of work, including one of the best binderies in the West.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

AS OUTSIDERS VIEW IT.

The New Mexican is watching with a great deal of interest the press comments upon Governor Curry's message to the legislative assembly. Thus far it has noticed no adverse criticism of the message in its entirety and no objection to its recommendations in detail, except that the Las Vegas Optic does not quite agree with his recommendation to place the coal oil inspector on a salary. How the message is viewed outside of the territory can best be gauged from the following editorial of the El Paso Herald:

"Governor Curry's annual message, a full summary of which was printed in yesterday's Herald, contains many recommendations for new legislation. And unlike the messages of our own state executive, this paper of Governor Curry's proposes no destructive measures, nothing that would operate to drive capital away or retard the territory's development; but solely measures for the common good, and for the reasonable regulation of public service corporations.

"Governor Curry enjoys the confidence of both parties and of the whole body of citizens to a degree seldom attained by an appointive officer in a territory. This fact makes it probable that his recommendations will be heeded and that laws will be enacted to make effective his more important and definite policies. Among the specific recommendations are the following:

"Local option;

"A railroad commission;

"Higher assessments for taxation, and better equalization with corresponding reduction in tax rates;

"Comprehensive territorial good roads legislation, with general appropriations;

"Abolition of capital punishment, and adoption of the parole system with indeterminate sentence.

"The proposed local option measure will be a wise step for the territory to take at this time. There is a strong element in favor of statutory or even constitutional prohibition. But such a law would be too far in advance of the needs and desires of some communities, even the best citizens therein. The governor proposes to let communities regulate the liquor traffic, or abolish it, as they please, within certain general limits. But one feature of the governor's recommendation is quite out of the ordinary, and highly significant; it is the plan to make the liquor traffic directly answerable to territorial officers, taking the matters of license and regulation entirely out of the hands of local officers. Administered by an honest and capable executive, such a law would work well and the benefits would be great. Administered by a weak or corrupt executive, such a law would tend to relieve local officers of responsibility while providing no better method of control. There have been times when El Paso would have been glad to see state officers, rangers, under Austin orders, enter actively the work of enforcing laws within city limits; but the work of state representatives in the person of locally elected county officers has usually been even less effective along these lines than that of municipal officers. To make Governor Curry's plan effective, his state board must have at its command an independent body of state police or rangers.

"The governor's suggestion for a railroad commission is in line with the progressive thought of the territory, regardless of party. New Mexico has had the value of a commission brought to her attention sharply several times by the effective action of the Texas commission in matters arising along the interstate boundary and affecting both states equally. New Mexico communities have suffered wrongs unredressed, while Texas communities perhaps only a mile or two away, affected by like conditions, have received prompt attention with effective remedies. Governor Curry's proposal is obviously tentative, for he realizes that the commission should not at first be given too much power, which might not always be used for good.

"The recommendation for a higher basis of assessment, coupled with a general equalization and a lower average tax rate, is wise and progressive. New Mexico has an abnormally high average tax rate (considering all forms of taxation), but the notion conveyed to an outsider is all wrong, for the basis of assessment is ridiculously low. Moreover, certain interests do not bear their proportion of taxes, even on the existing basis. The governor's view is correct, and his recommendations should prevail.

"The suggestions about good roads legislation are original and worthy of careful consideration by the legislature. The governor proposes that the central territorial government take direct interest in, and control over, the building of main roads, and that the territory aid with direct appropriations to supplement funds raised by local taxation. This is a just principle, and New Mexico would thrive greatly were it to be put vigorously into general practice.

"The governor's views upon capital punishment are very interesting, and pointedly expressed. Governor Curry believes that capital punishment seldom overtakes criminals above the lowest class, and that it is no deterrent. In urging the adoption of the parole and indeterminate sentence, the governor is in line with the best thought of the time.

"As a state document the message is a model of carefully collated facts and conservative, progressive recommendations. The territory is to be congratulated upon having an executive so well informed, widely experienced, and so loyal to its best interests."

LARGE INCREASE IN CUT OF TIMBER.

Uncle Sam's National Forests yielded an increase of 102 per cent in timber last year over the record for 1907, giving returns of $849,072.24 to the government. Twenty-five per cent of this amount went back to the states in which the forests are located in lieu of taxes, in accordance with the provisions of the law. This revenue will be added to the state's fund for the support and maintenance of roads and public schools.

The amount of timber cut from all the national forests was 392,799,000 feet, board measure, as against 194,872,000 feet in the previous year. This figure for 1908 does not include the 131,482,000 feet given away to settlers, schools and churches under "free use" permits. This increase of 102 per cent shows a far better use and increasing productiveness of the forest under conservative methods of cutting. There was a marked increase in small sales last year, resulting in an increase of 236 per cent in the number of sales, notwithstanding the fact that the timber contracted for was far less in the aggregate than in 1907. In making timber sales the forest service seeks small in preference to large sales, and aims to safeguard a supply for future needs rather than to swell the immediate receipts. Were it desired, the present receipts from timber sales could be quickly doubled. During the year it was found necessary to restrict sales on many forests. Nevertheless, use of the national forests as a source of timber supply was more general than ever before.

The total receipts from timber sales each year have been as follows: 1905, $60,136.62; 1906, $245,013.40; 1907, $668,813.12; 1908, $849,072.24.

Payment for timber is always required in advance. In large sales, however, and in small sales on occasion, payment is made in installments so arranged as to protect the government against loss without imposing unnecessarily severe burdens upon the purchaser. Thus the receipts of each year represent substantially, but not exactly, the value of the timber sold and removed during that year.

THE RETIREMENT OF COLONEL FROST.

To one associated with Colonel Max Frost in his journalistic work during the past decade, his retirement from active newspaper life comes as a tragedy. The Daily New Mexican was part of his life, it entered into the warp and woof of his existence, his activities revolved around it. To him it was a mighty lever for the advancement of New Mexico. He may have erred occasionally in his methods but the results achieved through his efforts, have abundantly justified his course in general. The visions he possessed of a greater New Mexico, of a glorious future for it, of the growth and advancement of this historic city, were transcribed in a thousand and one forms in his editorials, in his descriptive articles, in his scores of publications, and more than that, they are coming true within his life time. Of course, Colonel Frost had enemies, some men had cause to feel very bitterly toward him, but he also had friends, friends tried and true, upon whom he lavished his confidence, his ambitions and at times his means. A man of such positive views and characteristics was bound to arouse antagonism, enmity which often cost him dearly, but he never wavered in the course he had outlined for himself. To his detractors, it is sufficient to say, that although during his thirty years of activity in the political, business and journalistic sphere in New Mexico, he had many opportunities to enrich himself, he retired with very modest means at his command. Naught that the writer can say will add or subtract from the heroic figure that bore his terrible physical disability and suffering with such stoicism. The majority of other men would have been crushed, he was merely incited to renewed efforts to conquer all obstacles that impeded his ambitions. His service to the Republican party, to New Mexico journalism, to the commonwealth, are a matter of history and the biographer and historian of the future will assign to Colonel Max Frost no mean place in the story of the founding of the great Sunshine State.

RADICAL MEASURES.

Councilman John Y. Hewitt yesterday introduced a number of measures of the greatest importance, bills that are almost revolutionary in their character but that are in accordance with advanced ideas. They will meet with determined opposition, they may deserve defeat, the New Mexican has not yet analyzed them in detail, but they will also arouse thought and discussion and that is always worth while. The proposition to elect district attorneys by popular vote is not a new one in New Mexico. It was bitterly opposed by former Governor Hagerman two years ago. In many, if not most of the states, district attorneys are elected by the people, but it is an open question whether the plan would be a wise one at this time in New Mexico, or whether Mr. Hewitt's bill will stand the test of examination by the committee on judiciary of the Council. His bill for the regulation of railroad passenger rates was also discussed two years ago and has been discussed in many of the states and in the highest courts of the land. A measure of that kind must be carefully drawn and even more carefully considered for the railroads are the arteries of New Mexico, without which trade and commerce would languish. The proposition to elect county commissioners by districts instead of having the entire county vote for the commissioner from each district, is not revolutionary but a new proposition in the territory for it is not many years ago, when there were not even county commissioner districts. Similar in tenor is the bill of Councilman McBee for municipal government by commission in place of officers such as mayor and city council. In Iowa and other states, several cities report the remarkable success of the commission plan of government for municipalities, while many cities have experienced the utter failure of the prevalent form of municipal government. But whether conditions in New Mexico are ripe for these innovations may well be deemed a mooted question.

A GREAT IDEA.

The Las Vegas Optic, in a beautiful flow of language and classic allusions, takes an editorial fling with Rev. E. McQueen Gray and his Women's University proposition. Boiled down into prosaic language, the Optic's objection is that the plan is visionary and selfish, intended to prepare a soft berth for Mr. McQueen Gray. But even if this were true, it would be no good reason to prevent the territory from embarking on this educational enterprise. Suppose Rev. E. McQueen Gray is elected president of the University, which would depend altogether upon a board of trustees composed of the leading citizens of the Territory, if at the same time he finds the ways and means to establish a great university endowed with millions of dollars, where would be the loss? The men who laid the foundations upon which this mighty nation is reared, were visionaries, yet several of them were elected president; the founders of Harvard University were visionaries and possibly one of the originators of the idea was elected its first president. Nearly all growth and progress is the result of the visions of men with minds that take the wider view instead of the narrow view of envy that always insists upon the selfish motive of those advocating a great idea. It is true, that thus far, Mr. Gray offers nothing but his idea, his enthusiasm, his confidence, his energy and his reputation, but ideas are the seed of great achievements. However, the New Mexican is not at all committed to Mr. Gray's plans or projects. It may be unwise for the Territory to embark upon any educational experiments and for the present it may be well to devote all revenue and energy possible to the institutions already established without making speculative flyers in any other direction. But the Gray idea is a fascinating and promising one and if its author can give some substantial assurance that he will command success every reasonable support and aid should be given him.

HEARING BEFORE REFEREE EASLEY

Testimony introduced by Taos Pueblo Indians to Sustain Their Claim to Lands in Dispute.

The hearings in the case of A. R. Manby, et al., vs. Daniel Martinez et al., in progress before the referee, Charles F. Easley, for the past five days, were closed today for the present, but will be resumed in the near future. The Pueblo of Taos is one of the defendants in this suit, which is brought to quiet title and for partition. The Pueblo Indians have three large tracts of land within the limits of lands claimed by the Taos Valley Land company under the Antonio Martinez Grant, and this hearing was for the purpose of introducing a portion of the testimony of the Indians in support of their claims. C. C. Catron and N. B. Laughlin represented the plaintiffs. Judge A. J. Abbott, U. S. attorney for the Pueblo Indians, represented the defendants.

PINCHOT SAYS HE IS UNJUSTLY CRITICISED

Denver, Jan. 22.—Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot, in a letter addressed to President Stone of the Colorado State Forestry association, and read at the annual meeting of that body gives assurance of his desire to remove objections to the administrative rules of his department, insofar as is possible and keep within the law.

One of the chief causes of friction, he says, is the disposition of applications for patents to mining claims within the forest reserves. He hopes that, through a conference to be held in the near future with representatives of the American Mining congress, some understanding will be reached that will remove this friction. However, Mr. Pinchot lays stress upon the claim that the forestry bureau in most instances is not to blame for the failure of patents to issue upon application. Its duty, he says, is to investigate as to the facts of the location, surroundings, probable mineral bearing quality of the land, etc., but the final disposition of the application is in the hands of the land office. For this reason, he thinks, a great deal of unfair criticism falls upon the forestry service.

FAVORS KEEPING A STRICT SABBATH

The New Mexican is in receipt of the following communication from Honorable A. L. Morrison:

FOR LOCAL OPTION.
Editor New Mexican.

Dear Sir:—The temperance movement, that is now sweeping over the Southern states, is creditable in the highest degree to the good people of that part of the Republic; they have set a noble example which ought to be followed by other states. Although it is possible, that all the good expected from the movement, will not be immediately realized, the results cannot fail to be beneficial to the country at large. Of course there must be a strong, healthy public sentiment behind it to insure its success, without that, failure would be inevitable, for all laws enacted for the enforcement of the temperance idea will be fought bitterly and persistently. It has been so elsewhere and doubtless will be here. In his message to the legislature (which is certainly one of the very ablest, and most comprehensive documents that ever issued from the Executive Office of New Mexico), Governor Curry says: "I recommend that you pass a local option law which will allow each community in the Territory to decide for itself whether or not liquor shall be sold within its precincts. I consider this plan in harmony with the fundamental principles of American government." I firmly believe that this recommendation will meet the approval of a great majority of our people. Great care, however, must be exercised in laying out the subdivisions in which the citizens thereof shall vote for or against the prohibition of intoxicating liquors. I believe that the following, which is taken from one of the bills which will be presented to the Legislature, should be adopted: "No town or city should be subdivided in making such subdivision." The reason for this provision is self-evident, and needs no argument. Local option was adopted many years ago in Illinois, and it has fully answered the highest expectations of its advocates. It affords me much pleasure to say, in this connection, that I have been assured by several of the most prominent citizens of Spanish descent, that an overwhelming majority of that people in this locality are strongly in favor of local option and stand ready to vote for it as soon as they are given the privilege of voting on the question. This fact amply proves that they are fully in harmony with their fellow citizens throughout the Union, in this splendid advance to a higher plane of civilization and refinement. It goes without saying that the citizens of New Mexico, of Spanish descent, yield to none in their adherence to law, order and good government. Another of the provisions of the proposed law is as follows: "Sec. 20. No person shall sell, deliver, or give away, or cause or permit or procure to be sold, delivered or given away any liquor, first, to a minor, nor to a minor for any other person; second, to an intoxicated person; third, to an habitual drunkard; fourth to any person where notice in writing, has been given, in accordance with section 33 of this chapter, forbidding sale or delivery to such person." Section 33 makes ample provision for the language to be used in such notices and the serving of the same. These sections should be passed without changing a single word; they are perfect just as they are. This is one of those questions on which there can be no honest difference of opinion. It is difficult to imagine a more wicked crime, than selling or giving intoxicating liquor to a minor, as it may be the beginning of a life of dissipation, and ruin. Selling or giving such liquor to an habitual drunkard, is just as wicked; for it is well known that after having passed a certain point in their downward career, they lose all resisting power, and become absolutely helpless in the presence of the fatal drug; hence, they should be protected in every possible way, and thus assisted in recovering their lost manhood. A man who has never tasted liquor, and knows nothing of the temptations that accompany it, deserves very little credit for remaining a sober man; but a man who has fallen into such irresistible temptations, and then, with the assistance of God, rises from the mud and becomes a sober, useful citizen, is a man to be cherished, sustained, and given every encouragement in the power of his neighbors to bestow upon him. Many years ago when in the Illinois legislature, I voted for a law which contained provisions similar to those quoted above, and afterwards was in a position to enforce it, hence, I speak from personal knowledge, when I say that before the passage of the law, it was no uncommon sight to see children of tender years brought before the police courts, having been picked up in the streets in a state of helpless drunkenness, as some wretched creatures had made it part of their business to sell vile liquors to minors. Immediately after the passage of the law, could be seen over the entrance of those dives, signs on which was printed in large letters the following warning: MINORS ARE NOT ADMITTED IN THIS SALOON. I never knew of a man, woman or child objecting to the law or its rigid enforcement. Section 21 provides that "No licensee except the holder of the license of the third class shall sell, furnish, expose for sale, or give away any liquor, first, on Sunday, between the hours of six in the morning, and one in the afternoon, and between the hours of six and ten in the evening." This should be amended so that such licensee should be prohibited from selling, furnishing, exposing for sale or giving away any liquor between the hours of twelve o'clock on Saturday night and twelve o'clock on Sunday night. That law is well enforced in Santa Fe, and I have never lived in any place where the Sunday is better observed, it being a day of quiet, rest, and good order.

Let it alone. It cannot be improved in any respect.

Truly your friend,
A. L. MORRISON.

TERRITORIAL NEWS NOTES

At Roswell.

The announcement that the Altus, Roswell & El Paso railroad has been financed; that construction work is to begin about February 1, and that President Kennedy and others directly connected with the undertaking believe that the whole line between Altus and Roswell, at least, comprising 286 miles, will be in operation within two years, is not very much of a surprise to citizens of Roswell who have kept in touch with the enterprise, as they have been satisfied for some time that developments had about reached that stage.

S. W. Adams, returning from a two-months' stay at his mines, close to Parsons, Lincoln county, brings word of the installing of a $75,000 cyanide plant by the Eagle Mining and Milling company at its mine there, for separating the valuable metals from the ore.

J. S. Kirby, who has owned a bottling works here for several years, has bought stock in the Roswell Printing company and will hold a position in the local news department of the Register-Tribune, owned by the company. Mr. Kirby was at one time in the employ of the Kansas City Star. The local editor, J. S. Carter, will continue in the employ of the company.

Roswell's building boom seems to be on the increase. The main part of it consists in the building of homes in from the cosy four, five or six-room bungalow to the more pretentious dwelling of eight or nine rooms, nearly all of them fitted with every modern convenience.

As a result of the mild winter here, hyacinths out of doors are up three to five inches and trying to bloom.

At Las Cruces.

The farmers of the valley who are actively awake to the advantages of co-operation together in the growing and handling of valley products so as to secure good returns from their shipments, have organized the Mesilla Valley Produce exchange with a large membership throughout the valley.

At the initial meeting held in the First National bank building, Prof. Hiram Hadley was elected chairman and C. E. Locke secretary. James F. Sattley, who was the moving spirit in promoting the cantaloupe industry, explained to the many farmers and growers in attendance, the need of such an organization covering the valley and patterned after those successfully operated in California and elsewhere. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and a board of directors consisting of fifteen members, empowered to elect a president, vice-at Red River, N. M., founded for another party, the Red River Mining News, of which paper he became editor. Afterwards he came to Las Vegas and accepted the position he now holds. He is a director of the Carnegie Library of that city and prominent in many other ways. While Mr. Sweezy has no pet measures of his own to present during the session of the legislature, he is very much interested in a number of bills that will come up for action. One is the bill regarding county road tax which he regards as unfair from the standpoint of organized labor. He favors an amendment that will make the bill apply only to unincorporated cities, towns and villages, as this is the manner in which the road tax bill is made to operate in most of the states, and is the only just way.

LEGISLATIVE THUMB NAIL SKETCHES

Mr. Sweezy does not favor the bill calling for precinct local option, on the ground that it will not bring about the intended result. He gives as example the situation that would manifest itself in his own town. Were the local option bill to become law in its present form, at the time of election, East Las Vegas would undoubtedly vote dry, but on the other hand, under the precinct arrangement, the old town, West Las Vegas, would unquestionably go wet. As a result East Las Vegas, because of its close proximity to the old town, would still practically have all the attending evils of the saloons and yet receive no revenue from that source whatsoever. To prevent such an outcome, Sweezy favors a bill calling for local option by counties.

In speaking of statehood, he said he was inclined to have little confidence that the statehood bill would pass at an early date, though this feeling is perhaps due to the many disappointments already met with. "The opposition in the Senate worries me," he said. "But I trust the opposition will soon vanish and leave a clear track for early statehood."

After a Normal School in Earnest.—Willard S. Belknap, U. S. commissioner at Santa Fe, Quay county, journalist and champion booster of eastern New Mexico, headed a delegation of boosters that visited the executive office Wednesday afternoon to make a plea for a normal school at Santa Fe. To show that they were in earnest, the Santa Fe representatives promised to donate the grounds as well as to construct the necessary buildings for the school, should the legislature decide to locate it at Santa Fe. Belknap is a prince of boosters but he evidently also has an enterprising community backing him.

A Corner on Prayer Books.—"Once on a time," as a good story begins, there were some very mischievous boys in a Santa Fe institution of learning. They were full of life and had promise of a great future. The lessons evidently were easily and speedily learned by these precocious lads and in order that the time might not fall heavily upon their hands they enjoyed as many pranks as they could devise and successfully carry to completion without incurring the displeasure of and subsequent punishment by the faculty in charge. One day, so the story goes, there was a dearth of prayer books in the chapel. The principal greatly wondered at this, but thinking that they had become fewer in number by the usual loss and wear and tear said nothing but secured a new supply which was distributed. The next day or two these were gone also. Now it was necessary for an investigation. Whereupon the principal made a tour of the rooms of the students and endowed with a Pinkerton mind and having a hunch he threw open a trunk in one of the rooms, and, lo, and behold, it was almost full to the top with not only the missing prayer books, but crucifixes and other sacred paraphernalia. The astonished principal could not appreciate the joke, it seems, for the mischievous youth was called to task. Who was the youth? O, well, it is sufficient to say, that he became a man of great ability right here in the city of holy faith and is a member of the 38th legislative assembly. Even now he often relates the story of his trunk full of prayer books with much merriment, perhaps to illustrate how good a little boy he was in preparing himself with such a supply of moral and religious inspiration. But the quickness and brightness of the boy's intellect quickened and multiplied as the years went by and he became a great lawmaker, even a leader of solons, a rare speech-maker, able officer and capable statesman in the legislative chambers of the Sunshine territory.

Getting the Wheels Started.—Hon. W. E. Martin, the efficient clerk of the Third judicial district, who has been the chief clerk of the Council for a number of terms, remained in Santa Fe this week, to give all help possible to get the legislative wheels started, for his long experience has put the routine and the best methods at his fingers' ends. He has been at the right side of Chief Clerk Brogan all week and finds him, as well as Assistant Chief Clerk Wade, very apt pupils. It is a piece of unselfishness on the part of Martin that will bear fruit in more than one direction.

Favors Powerful Navy.—Governor Curry was asked by wire this morning by the San Francisco Examiner, whether he favored a larger navy in the Pacific in view of the Japanese attitude towards the United States. Of course, Governor Curry is in favor of a larger navy, just as is President Roosevelt, and Governor Curry also believes that Uncle Sam's interests in the Pacific should be fully safeguarded; he has positive views on the Japanese question too, for he spent not only a long time in the Philippines, but also in Japan and knows the Japanese like a book.

The Statehood Situation.—Chairman E. L. Hamilton of the House committee on territories, notified Governor Curry yesterday by telegram that the draft of the New Mexico-Arizona statehood bill is almost completed by the committee and asked whether New Mexico desired a hearing upon the bill. The consensus of opinion among the legislators, officials and political leaders seems to be that a hearing would merely delay its passage, and possessing full confidence in the friendship of Chairman Hamilton and the ability of Delegate Andrews to look out for New Mexico's interests, Chairman Hamilton will be notified probably to hasten action without waiting for a New Mexico delegation to come to the Capital.

Much Credit Is Due.—Much credit is due to David L. Miller, the experienced superintendent of the capitol and capitol park for his preparation of the Capitol for the reception of the lawmakers and those interested in the assembling of New Mexico's solons. For many days, even weeks, Mr. Miller had a force of men at work sweeping, dusting and polishing the entire building; cleaning the electric light globes and preparing everything so that the capitol was clean as the proverbial whistle, bright, shining and even refulgent. Mr. Miller always has a trying time during the sessions of the legislature. Two years ago an army of messenger boys with little else to do than to invent and contrive plans of mischief reigned in the Capitol. They unscrewed the hinges from doors and threw the hinges away; they stuffed towels into the basins, causing overflow of water; they tampered with locks; they were here and there at the same time like so many imps until it fairly required men to be stationed about the building to protect it from the depredations of the messenger boys who were so notoriously (?) burdened with work. Mr. Miller has remembered all this and has secured supplies for emergencies and taken precautions to minimize as far as possible such pranks during the present session.

Is Making Good.—During all the excitement at the various hotels attending the rush of people to the capitol for the opening of the legislature together with an unusual influx of traveling men, H. A. Hart, the new clerk at the Claire hotel who took Ed. Stevens' place, has been performing his duties like an old-timer and few realized that he was not an experienced hotel man. He had just previously entered upon his duties when the flood of visitors came taking all the rooms and making the clerk's duties indeed heavy. Through it all he has maintained a steadiness and unflinching spirit that has made him well liked by all who have come in contact with him, and he is bound to make a success of it for the well known hostelry.
