MANN AND ABBOTT RE-APPOINTED

Nominations Sent to Senate by President

WANTS MORE LIGHT

Introduces Resolution to Bring Persons and Papers to Capital.

Special to The New Mexican.
Washington, D. C., March 1.—Senator Beveridge introduced a resolution in the Senate to instruct the committee on territories to send to New Mexico for persons and papers to investigate the charges made against the territory and its people during the congressional recess. The resolution went over upon objection of Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

Delegate W. H. Andrews called at the White House today and President Roosevelt expressed to him the kindest wishes for New Mexico and Arizona. He said the people of either territory can call upon him freely at any time he can be of service to them.

President Roosevelt today sent to the Senate the names of Judge Edward A. Mann of Alamogordo, and Judge Ira A. Abbott for Albuquerque for re-appointment as associate justices of the supreme court of New Mexico.

Hagerman Didn't Do It.

"The report is quite untrue," said Herbert J. Hagerman, of Roswell, N. M., ex-governor of New Mexico, today when asked as to the truth of the newspaper story stating that he had attacked the people of New Mexico before the Senate committee on territories.

"I left Washington over a week ago and never appeared before the Senate committee nor had communication with it. W. H. Andrews and his friends cannot shift responsibility for the defeat of the statehood bill when they brought about the conditions which resulted in that defeat. New Mexico is entitled to statehood, but the present situation proves that she cannot get it as long as discreditable men are chosen to represent her in Washington or elsewhere."

Mr. Hagerman said the story that he had declared the people of New Mexico unfit for statehood and illiterate was absolutely false.

Disagreement On Trust Question.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—The Senate committee on judiciary today voted to report disagreement on the resolution providing for the investigation of the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the U. S. steel corporation.

Any views to the Senate will be considered "individual" reports not having the sanction of the committee. This is generally regarded as a compromise as a number of Senators had drafted a report declaring the merger to be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and rebuking President Roosevelt for his part in transaction while others declared it was not the function of the committee under the resolution adopted to pass upon the question.

Cook's Remarks Privileged.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—The special committee appointed to examine the recent speech of Representative Cook of Colorado, attacking President Roosevelt, today reported to the House that Cook's remarks "treated as a whole do not contain language in violation of the privileges of debate and do not call for further action by the House." The report was approved and the special committee discharged. Conferees Again Disagree on Salaries.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—The conferees on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial appropriation bill for the third time voted today to report a disagreement on the amendments increasing the salaries of the president, vice-president, speaker of the house and federal judges.

TO MAKE NATIONAL PARK OF GRANT FARM

Washington, March 1.—Inspired by the widespread honors conferred upon President Lincoln, Representative Coudrey of Missouri has introduced a bill providing for the purchase by the government of the farm on which General Grant lived in St. Louis county, Mo., just before entering the army.

The farm lies on the Missouri Pacific railway and contains about 436 acres. Mr. Coudrey proposes that the farm shall be transformed into a national park and his bill carries an appropriation of $400,000 for its purchase.

ACCUSED OF CHILD MURDER

Three Women Are Brought From Espanola

SENSATIONAL STORY

Mother Charged with Strangling Her Child and Burying It in Corral.

The territorial mounted police, after an investigation extending several months, have placed under arrest and brought to Santa Fe for preliminary hearing before Judge John R. McFie, Berenice Maestas, her unmarried sister Amalia Maestas and her married sister, Candelaria Rodriguez, who live in a little settlement between Espanola and Santa Cruz in Santa Fe county. Dr. J. L. Murphy of Espanola is here at the same time to appear as principal witness against the women who are accused of strangling to death the illegitimate child of Berenice Maestas. According to him, in October of last year he was approached by the mother of the child with the request that he give her some medicine to kill the baby, a healthy boy. Of course, Doctor Murphy indignantly refused and gave the woman a severe lecture. On Saturday of the same week the boy disappeared and report was made to the court officials who referred the case to the district attorney and territorial mounted police for investigation. Mounted Policeman Rafael Gomez and Game Warden W. E. Griffin made several trips to Espanola to discover the whereabouts of the child, but were informed that it had been given to a man who went to Colorado with it. Recently, Gomez learned that the child was buried in a corral near the Maestas home and he had it disinterred. Dr. J. L. Murphy held an autopsy, and, according to report, found that the child had not only contusions on its head, but that it had been strangled.

A coroner's jury, however, which was summoned, found that the child had died a natural death. Thereupon, further steps were taken to bring the matter before the proper officials with the result that the three women have been arrested.

According to Captain Fred Fornoff of the mounted police, this may be the only case of child murder in that section, for reports have come to him at several times of similar crimes, but he could secure no evidence. Recently, so he was told, an illegitimate child was taken to the Pueblo cemetery at San Ildefonso, there to be buried, but the Indians interfered and took the child away, and, strange to say, the child is still living, having been adopted by the Indians. Captain Fornoff is taking steps to investigate this story.

LUCKY BALDWIN IS DEAD

Famous Racing Promoter Joins the Silent Caravan

HAD A REMARKABLE CAREER

Lived the Life of a Spanish Cavalier on His Vast Estates.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 1.—E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin died at his home at Arcady at 7 o'clock this morning after an illness of several weeks. He was 81 years of age.

No man identified with horse-breeding and racing is more widely known throughout the country than Baldwin. While his horses were winning races on distant tracks the owner of a vast estate near this city lived the luxurious life of an old Spanish don, with an army of employees and retainers, with one of the few great race tracks of the country almost at his door and with towns and settlements transforming the appearance of the great domain that has become one of the show places of southern California. "Lucky" Baldwin was born on a farm near Hamilton, Ill. He was attracted by the tales of fortunes made in the goldfields of California and came to San Francisco in 1853. Almost from the

NEW MEXICO DESIRES FULL AND DETAILED INFORMATION

The House Passes a Resolution Asking for Documents and Copies of Statements Presented to Senate Committee on Territories ---Important Session This Afternoon

The following resolution was adopted by the House under suspension of the rules:

Whereas, certain charges were made derogatory to the Territory of New Mexico, its officials and citizens, charging various offenses, and,

Whereas, these charges were made the basis for an attack on New Mexico, and for the purpose of defeating the Statehood bill by certain members of the Senate Committee on Territories, and

Whereas, it is desirable and essential that the people of New Mexico should be fully advised as to the details and contents of the said charges, in order that the same may be fully refuted,

Therefore, be it resolved: That the said Committee on Territories of the Senate of the United States be and are hereby requested to transmit a copy of all papers, charges and all other statements and testimony of whatever kind or character to the Governor of the Territory of New Mexico forthwith.

Be it resolved further, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded by telegraph to Delegate W. H. Andrews, the President of the United States and the chairman of the Senate committee.

COUNCIL.

Monday Afternoon.
Every member except McEhem was present when President Spies called the Council to order.

Catron presented a petition for local option signed by 740 citizens of Santa Fe. Similar petitions from Roosevelt, Rio Arriba and other counties were presented by McBee and others. A petition was presented protesting against and change in the boundaries of Guadalupe county.

Committee Reports.

The committee on corporations reported Council Bill No. 8, favorably. The bill was introduced by McBee and authorizes New Mexico municipalities to adopt the commission plan of government.

The committee on railroads reported House Bill No. 62, by Chaves, an act to prevent injury to telegraph and telephone lines, with the recommendation that it be passed.

New Bills.

Council Bill No. 100 was introduced by Gallegos, an act authorizing county commissioners to dispose of public buildings. Referred to the committee on counties and county lines.

Council Bill No. 101, by Catron, to amend Section 20 and 21 of Chapter 57 of the Laws of 1907, being a substitute for various measures already introduced to regulate appellate procedure in the territorial supreme court, extending the time for filing transcripts, etc. The bill was passed under suspension of the rules, without a dissenting vote.

Council Bill No. 102, by Catron, an act to amend Section 2917, Compiled Laws of 1897. The bill provides for holding liable the sureties on official and administrator's bonds for two years after the liability of the principal has been established. The bill passed unanimously. Mr. Catron cited how the county of Santa Fe had lost $80,000 because the court had ruled that the statute of limitations had released the sureties on the sheriff's bond, who was also the collector. This act is to remedy this matter.

Council Bill No. 103, by Catron, an act relative to the peddling of meat. Referred to the committee on territorial affairs. The bill amends Section 3 of Chapter 45 of the Laws of 1901.

Council Bill No. 104, by Catron, an act defining the crime of burglary, etc. Referred to the committee on judiciary. The bill amends Section 1112, laws of 1897.

Council Bill No. 104, by Hewitt, an act providing for the election of territorial officers. The bill provides that at the next election for delegate to Congress, there shall also be elected the attorney general, the auditor, the treasurer, the superintendent of public instruction, the superintendent of penitentiary, commissioner of public lands, a traveling auditor and a superintendent of insurance to serve two years.

A motion by Hewitt that the bill be passed under suspension of the rules was lost by a vote of 7 to 3. Hewitt, McBee and Upton, all Democrats, voted for the motion. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Navarro introduced Council Resolution No. 8, which provides for the payment of extra legislative employees to the end of the session. The resolution was passed under suspension of the rules by a unanimous vote.

House Bill No. 62, by Chaves, an act to protect telegraph and telephone poles, was passed unanimously.

Council Bill No. 8, by McBee, an act to authorize municipalities to adopt the commission plan of government, was laid on the table temporarily to permit a penalty clause to be added.

Message No. 16, from Governor Curry announced that he had signed Council Bill No. 34, the Cattle Sanitary Bill authorizing a levy of three and a half mills on all livestock for the purpose of stamping out contagious and infectious diseases among livestock.

House Bill No. 180, by Chaves, an act for the government of the La Joya grant, Socorro county, by a new commission and granting it additional authorities to give title to lands, was passed unanimously under the suspension of the rules.

House Joint Resolution No. 6, by Walters, regarding the charges against New Mexico before the U. S. Senate committee on territories, printed at the head of this column, was referred to the committee on judiciary, the point raised that the charges were not made by U. S. Senators, but by certain people of this territory.

Adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

HOUSE.

Monday Afternoon.

When Speaker Miera called the House to order every member was present.

By unanimous consent, Walters introduced House Joint Resolution No. 6, in regard to charges preferred against the Territory before the Senate Committee on Territories, appearing in full at the head of this column. The resolution was passed unanimously.

Local option petitions were presented by various members and a large number of bills were reported from committee.

House Bill No. 191, by the whole House, an act providing for a maximum passenger rate of three cents a mile was taken up under suspension of the rules and was debated at length. Roberts opening the debate in opposition to the bill, denying the right of the Territory to legislate as to the maximum rate railroads may charge for passengers or freight, without investigation as to whether a railroad can afford such a rate.

As the New Mexican went to press the debate was still in progress, Miera being called to the chair.

BLOODY TRAGEDY AT PITTSBURG

Fire Company Captain Commits Suicide After Murderous Assault Upon a Widow

Pittsburg, Pa., March 1.—William Gearhardt, fire company captain, who yesterday murdered assaulted Mrs. Anna Baxter, widow, with a razor and then seriously cut himself, committed suicide today by jumping from the third floor of a hotel. Mrs. Baxter is in a precarious condition. Gearhardt called at the home of Mrs. Baxter, whose husband died ten years ago, and going to the parlor of the house with the woman he locked the doors. A short time later, Mrs. Baxter's three children heard their mother screaming, and broke into the room. Gearhardt had cut her throat twice and slashed her hands and arms a number of times. After the children had rescued the mother, Gearhardt locked himself in and cut his own throat.

NEARLY CAUSES DEATH OF GUESTS

Janesville, Wis., March 1.—Claiming his wife died through the alleged treachery of Joseph Horsey of New York, and that his two daughters were kidnapped and detained unlawfully by an aunt, Mrs. Bella Fenwick, John H. Sully ended his life in a local hotel by pulling on the gas fixtures and laying down on the bed to die. His act nearly caused the death of other guests in the hotel. Sully gave his home as Everett, Mass.

"DON'T GET THE GROUCH"

It Led to a Killing in Chicago Today

WAITER MURDERS A COOK

Just Because He Received Only Two When He Had Ordered Three Eggs.

Chicago, Ill., March 1.—In a cell at the police station, G. C. Harbaugh, waiter, awaits formal arraignment for killing Charles Kelly, a cook, by plunging a carving knife through his heart. Harbaugh had ordered three eggs for a customer and the cook blundered and prepared only two, and the waiter, insanely angry, slew him after a short quarrel. The sergeant who took Harbaugh into custody, gave a metaphysical view of the crime: "Now, when you write this up," he urged, "don't go away and say the two men quarrelled over an egg, nothing of the kind happened. The egg was just an incident. What killed Kelly was Harbaugh's 'grouch.' The egg just started Harbaugh's 'grouch' going. You needn't blame Harbaugh too much for having that 'grouch' either. Most men have 'grouches.' Another name for them is 'deranged nerves.' They don't always bring on murder, but they are responsible for a big percentage of minor crimes. The average 'grouch' is as dynamite. It breaks up families by causing quarrels at the breakfast table. It makes partners fight and brings on bankruptcy. It started as many men on the road to ruin as whiskey. This murder was committed late in the day. Harbaugh has been working since early in the morning with a 'grouch' accumulating all the time. When that customer ordered eggs he was about ready to blow up. Finally the eggs came and there were only two of them. The customer kicked to Harbaugh. There is 'the parlor match that lit the dynamite,' when the cook and waiter quarreled. Harbaugh goes for the carving knife, which was the easiest thing within reach. One swing of this knife and it was 'all over.' Kelly lies on the floor dead, and Harbaugh is standing over him wondering how it all happened."

INSANE MAN LIES ON CROSS ALL DAY

Pueblo, Colo., March 1.—Louis Jacobs, aged 24, will be tried in the courts here for insanity, and sent to the Minnequa hospital, where his brother is an attendant, and will be his keeper.

Louis became insane through religion. He has gotten hold of some newspapers and torn them in little bits, of which he has made a cross. This is on the floor of his cell, and he spends most of his time on it stretched out, saying, "I am a little boy 4 years old and will bear the weight of the cross."

SPLENDOR OF INAUGURATION

Preparations for Great Event Nearing Completion

COURT OF HONOR FINISHED

Decorations Eclipse All Former Efforts and Ceremonies Will Be Brilliant

Washington, D. C., March 1.—Preparations for the induction of William Howard Taft into the presidency are complete and the various committees make the prophecy that the ceremonies on the day will be most brilliant and picturesque of any previous inauguration event. The work of the great court of honor, one of the most beautiful features of the inauguration received its finishing touches today and this focal point of the national function produces color into the decorative scheme which is said to eclipse all previous efforts in this direction. The task of getting the pension office in readiness for the inaugural ball will be finished tomorrow. The beauty which will attend this social event will be unsurpassed, $20,000 having been spent in decorating alone.

FAREWELL TO KITCHEN CABINET

Devoted Public Men Who Served Without Pay

NOTABLE FIGURES MISSING

Roosevelt Addresses Intimates at Luncheon He Gave Them Today.

Washington, March 1.—President Roosevelt today gave a farewell luncheon at the White House to the members of the famous "kitchen cabinet" and others who have been closely associated with him during the last seven years. Aside from the distinguished government officials who have served among the president's chief aides during his administration and also as his companions, there were present men whom the president had made friends, when he was roughing it in the West years ago and with whom he had gone on numerous hunting expeditions.

The occasion was memorable to those who surrounded the president today and the latter's farewell words were not entirely free from notes of regret if not sadness. The president in a brief speech laid emphasis on the point that no administration had given its chief more loyal service and he stated that he believed that the country had never had a more devoted set of public servants than those men through whom he said most of the work of his administration had been accomplished.

The president in his remarks following the luncheon said:

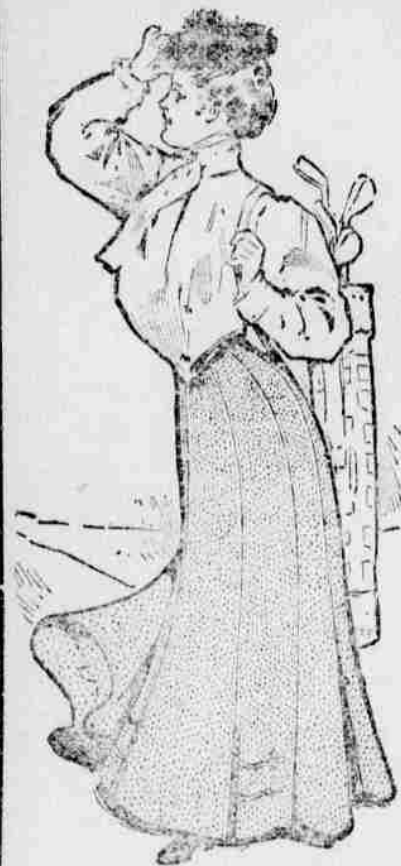

Gentlemen: You are here nominally as members, or to meet the members of the famous "kitchen cabinet," that is, as men with whom at tennis or hunting, or riding, or walking, or boxing, I have played, with whom I have been on the round-up or in the mountains or on the ranch. But really as you know, you are not here for that reason at all. You are here because you are the men and because you represent the men with whom I have worked while I have been president. No administration has ever had finer or more loyal service than you have given and I do not believe this country has ever had an abler or more devoted set of public servants. It is through you and the like of you that I have done the major part of what has been accomplished under the administration.

Moreover, in a vast number of cases, the doing of the work itself has been your only reward. The credit has come to me as the chief of the administration. For exactly as men like to symbolize a battle by the name of the commander, so they like to symbolize an administration by the man at the head, forgetting that the immense majority of its acts can be done only through others and that a really successful administration, successful from the standpoint of advancing the honor and the interests of the country must be managed as ours has been, in a spirit of the most loyal association and partnership. There are many others like you whom I would have given much to bring here today; but there simply was no room enough. Whether a man is a cabinet minister, a bureau chief, a marshal, an Indian agent, forester, a letter carrier, a member of the life saving service, a clerk in a department or a workman in a navy yard, or whether he holds one of a hundred other positions, makes no slight difference if he puts his heart and soul and mind into his work and is content to accept as his chief reward the satisfaction that comes from knowledge that the work has been well done. So, while I greet you for yourselves, I greet you still more as symbolizing others; and in saying farewell to you, I shall take as symbolizing all of you, one who leaves public life when I leave it, a man who made a real personal sacrifice when seven years ago he came here to take office at my request, a man who has stood ever since as the type of what a good public servant should be; a man who for the last two years has been one of the most useful cabinet ministers who ever sat at the cabinet table.—Jim Garfield.

Those present at the luncheon were: The French Ambassador, Secretary Bacon, Mr. Justice Moody, the Postmaster General, Secretary Newberry, Secretary Garfield, Secretary Loch, Solicitor General Hoyt, Assistant Secretary O'Loughlin, Assistant Secretary Sutterlee, Assistant Attorney General Woodruff, Assistant Secretary Phillips, Comptroller Murray, Commissioner McIlhenny, Hon. John C. Rose, Hon. Henry L. Stimson, Hon. Lyman

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Colo., March 1.—The following is the weather forecast for New Mexico: Fair weather tonight and Tuesday, with stationary temperature.

Bound for Tesuque—The pleasant weather yesterday tempted many local people to visit the Tesuque Valley and Indian village and there was a regular exodus in the forenoon over the beautiful driveway to that picturesque valley.

Santa Fe Team Defeated—The Santa Fe Athletic Club basketball team was defeated at Albuquerque on Saturday evening by the Albuquerque Athletic Club by a score of 75 to 1. After the game, a dance was given in honor of the visitors.

The Good Change—Tonight at the Opera House will be shown the latest film "Animated Snow Balls," a magic picture and three other good ones. The song will be "When They Are Bringing in the Corn." Come where you can get seats and do not have to stand to see the pictures.

Busy Court Session—An unusually large number of people from Taos, Rio Arriba, San Juan and northern and southern Santa Fe counties are crowding the hotels, being here either to serve as jurors or called as witnesses in cases that will be tried at the term of district federal and territorial court that convened today.

Postoffice Change—Today Frank W. Shearon took charge of the local postoffice as postmaster. He immediately appointed Percy F. Knight assistant postmaster, Mr. Knight having worked in the office since last week. There is no doubt that Mr. Shearon and his assistant will give Santa Fe a model and progressive postoffice administration.

Round House Destroyed by Fire—Sunday morning about two o'clock the round house of the D. and R. G. railroad was found to be on fire and soon after was a mass of ruins. An engine, said to be one of the best on the road, was practically ruined, the coal in the tender catching fire and the flames from this, together with the intense heat of the burning building, damaging the engine so badly that it is useless. The cause of the blaze is not known.

Tomorrow at the opera house you will have a chance of witnessing the best show ever seen in Santa Fe. It's "Zeke, the Country Boy." All fun. Good singing, clever dancing and an orchestra which compares favorably with the very best.

They are filling in a few nights between Albuquerque and Denver where they open for a week at the Curtis theatre, and the manager though offering them a guarantee, was fortunate in securing this date. Don't fail to hear the band at noon tomorrow.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 28, 1909.

Those sweet singers and ebony colored fun-makers of Dixie Land have been recognized for many years as a high class standard attraction and one that has scored a phenomenal popular success with theatre-goers in all sections of the country. Among the forty in its rank are to be found the most talented Afro-American singers, dancers, and comedians in the world. Sissieretta Jones, the Black Patti, the vocal star of the organization, in addition to being the most gifted singer of her race, enjoys the distinction of having sung before the largest audiences that ever assembled in Madison Square Garden, New York City, and the first colored singer, honored by Royal command, to sing before the former Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII of England. In this country the Black Patti and the Troubadours, through their refined and enjoyable stage performances, have added largely to the musical culture of the people. Their revival of sweet melodies of the South—reminiscent of anti-bellum days—the plantation, the cotton fields and the levee, has been a musical revelation to millions. Will be seen at the opera house on Wednesday evening.

Will Take Action Against Beverage—A meeting of former residents of the state of Indiana, but now residing in the city of Santa Fe will be held in the law offices of Colonel G. W. Prichard, in the Laughlin Block at 7:30 Wednesday evening, March 3, for the purpose of considering what steps they should take in reference to the manifest enmity of Senator Beverage towards the people of this territory on the statehood question.

Inspected the Boulevard—Mayor Jose D. Sena and A. H. Brodhead of the tree-planting committee of the Board of Trade, went over the route of the proposed boulevard along the north bank of the Santa Fe river and which is in greater part constructed and decided upon a plan of tree planting for the thoroughfare. Poplars will be planted to line the street.

GO RIGHT AT IT.

Friends and Neighbors in Santa Fe Will Show You How.
Get at the root of the trouble.
Rubbing an aching back may relieve it.
But it won't cure it.
You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it: Reach the cause; relieve the pain.
They cure, too, so Santa Fe people say.
Ruperto Martinez, 106 Griffin Street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Some five years ago I was troubled a great deal by pain in my back, in fact I had been bothered off and on in this way ever since I was a young man. There was also a severe scalding sensation accompanying the passages of the kidney secretions. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills at Stripling and Burrows' drug store, I took them and they cured me. My back was made as strong as ever, my kidneys became normal and I have not had any serious trouble since. When I have any slight symptom of the complaint, Doan's Kidney Pills never fail to remove the difficulty immediately. I have nothing but words of praise for this remedy and it gives me pleasure to endorse it."

CUBAN CENSUS FIGURES

Interesting Statistics From Pearl of Antilles

POPULATION OVER 2,000,000

Only Six Towns With More Than 24,000 People—Large Percent of Illiterates.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—In 1907 a census of Cuba was decreed by the Provisional Government as the first step toward the restoration of the Republic. Mr. Victor H. Olmsted, of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, was selected by the Provisional Governor to superintend the census. Upon the completion of the enumeration, the schedules were sent to Washington and, by direction of the President, were tabulated and the results published by the Federal Census Office, at the expense of the Government of Cuba. The report of this census was printed in Spanish, and practically the entire edition has been despatched to Cuba by the Director of the United States Census.

For the benefit of those persons in the United States who are interested in the progress of the young Republic since the war, the Provisional Governor authorized the publication, by the Director of the Census, of an abstract in English. This attractive little book is now in press and will soon be delivered to the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department, for distribution to persons making inquiry for it.

The abstract contains 280 pages, handsomely printed, illustrated with 27 half-tone pictures of scenes in Cuba, and is bound in cloth and stamped in brown. The title of the volume is: "Cuba. Population, History, and Resources." Appropriate space is given to an interesting description of climate, history, natural resources, physical conformation, shipping and commerce, both foreign and coastwise, agriculture, vital statistics, manufactures, transportation, postal and express facilities, highways, money, banks and banking, immigration, criminal jurisdiction and procedure, prisons, asylums, and hospitals, and public schools.

In 1907 Cuba had a population of 2,048,980, an increase from 1899 of 476,183, or 30.3 per cent. The population of the provinces of Cuba was as follows:

Habana	538,010
Santa Clara	457,431
Oriente	455,086
Pinar del Rio	240,372
Matanzas	239,812
Camaguey	118,269

Over half of the population lived in the rural districts, the 134 towns and cities containing 899,667 inhabitants, or 43.9 per cent of the total. The population of the 6 large cities was as follows:

Habana	297,159
Santiago de Cuba	45,470
Matanzas	36,009
Cienfuegos	30,100
Camaguey	29,616
Cardenas	24,280

The area of Cuba is 44,164 square miles and the density of population in 1907 was 46.4 per square mile.

Males were more numerous than females, the numbers being 1,074,882 and 974,098, respectively.

Of the total population, 1,369,476, or 66.8 per cent, were single or divorced; 512,537, or 20.7 per cent, were married; 176,509, or 8.6 per cent, were consensually married; and 79,458, or 3.9 per cent, were widowed. The average number of persons to a family was 4.8.

In 1907 over two-thirds, 1,428,176, or 69.7 per cent of the inhabitants were white. The colored population was composed of 274,272 negroes, 334, 695 mixed, and 11,837 Chinese. Of the whites, 1,224,539 were native and 203,637 foreign born. Of the latter class, Spain contributed 185,393 and the United States 6,713.

Of the total population, 1,780,628, or 86.9 per cent, were of Cuban and 228,138 or 11.1 per cent, of Spanish citizenship. Of the 551,639 males of voting age, 430,514 were Cuban citizens, and of these, 212,930, or less than one-half were literate, while 217,584 were illiterate; among those of other citizenship the proportion of literate was much greater, 89,217 being literate and 31,908 illiterate.
Among the white males of voting age the literates were in the majority, the numbers being 161,742 literates and 130,944 illiterates for Cuban citizens, and 54,337 literates and 23,056 illiterates for all others.

Almost one-third, 171,017, or 31.6 per cent, of the children attended school; the corresponding percentage for 1899 was only 15.7. In the 6 large cities 53,336, or 49.9 per cent of those of school age, attended school.

Of the population at least 10 years of age, 837,958, or 56.6 per cent, could read. For the large cities the percentage was 82.6; for the rest of Cuba it was 47.9.

In 1907, 772,502 persons were engaged in gainful occupations. The 698,382 male breadwinners formed 65 per cent of all the males, while the 73,520 females gainfully employed formed 7.5 per cent of all the females.

Of the wage-earners, 374,969, or 48.5 per cent, were engaged in agriculture, fishing, and mining; 136,419, or 17.6 per cent, in trade and transportation; 126,021, or 16.3 per cent, in manufacturing and mechanical pursuits; 122, 288, or 16 per cent, in domestic and personal service; and 12,805, or 1.6 per cent, in professional service.

There was a decided increase in the foreign commerce of the island between 1899 and 1907. The value of the imports increased from $75,303,612 to $97,334,195, or 29.3 per cent, and the value of the exports from $49, 698,772 to $114,812,846, or 131 per cent.
The principal trade has been with the United States, which during the nine years supplied from two-fifths to almost one-half of the imports, and received from two-thirds to over seven-eighths of the exports. The United States takes practically all the exports of sugar, fruit, and minerals, and more than nine-tenths of the raw tobacco. Trade with Spain has fallen off greatly.

In 1907 the values of the principal imports and exports were as follows: Imports—cereals, $11,060,270; meat, $9,463,514; cotton and its manufactures $8,439,614; and iron and steel, $5,484,378. Exports—raw and refined sugar, $69,554,419; and manufactured and unmanufactured tobacco, $28, 912,443.

MORE MONEY FOR PUBLIC BUILDING

Delegate Andrews Has No Trouble to Pass Bill in House Despite Mann's Objections.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—Chairman Tawney, of the appropriations committee, called up the Sundry Civil bill. One of the first items was for $30,000 more for the Albuquerque public building. The objector, Representative Mann, of Chicago, wanted to know if the building was now under construction, or only contemplated, and if this was only to purchase a site. While Chairman Tawney was explaining the situation Delegate Andrews got quite busy on the floor among his many friends. By the time Mann's objection came to a vote the appropriation was carried by an overwhelming vote for the Albuquerque building. And it was quite a while before Mann rose to make any further objection.

Delegate Andrews introduced a bill, that the secretary of the treasury be authorized and directed to pay out of any money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated the sum of $9,563 to Justino Castillo, a resident of Bernalillo county, New Mexico on a certain claim, the lapse of time to the contrary notwithstanding. Referred to the committee on claims.

Secretary of the Interior Garfield today formally approved a contract with the Grand Valley Water Users' association, of Grand Junction, Colo., to construct an irrigation system officially known as the Grand River project. The approximate cost will be $2,500,000, and the area reclaimed will be about 50,000 acres, including about 35,000 acres of government land. The project is located in a valley which is said to contain some of the most valuable orchard land in the world. The plans provide for a main canal of fifty miles in length, a tunnel 7,000 feet long, and a dam 50 feet in height and 600 feet in length across the Grand river. Several years will be required to complete the project. The signing of the contract makes it possible to begin legal proceedings to acquire the necessary rights of way through a number of orchard tracts, and suits for condemnation will be initiated at once.

Americans who have served two years consecutively in government service on the Panama canal soon will receive the Panama Canal medals, to make which 1,000 pounds of old French scrap iron has been shipped from the isthmus to the Philadelphia mint. About 2,400 medals were earned up to January 1, and about 500 will be earned each year hereafter.

Unequaled as a Cure for Croup.

as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack.
It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by all drug-

OJO CALIENTE HOT SPRINGS.

These celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellings, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Baranco Station, on the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, from which point a daily line of stage runs to the springs.
The temperature of these waters is from 90 to 122 degrees. The gases are carbonic. Altitude 6,000 feet. Climate very dry and delightful the entire year round. There is now a commodious hotel for the convenience of invalids and tourists. People suffering from Consumption, cancer, and other contagious diseases, are not accepted. These waters contain 1,626.24 grains of alkaline salts to the gallon, being the richest alkalin Hot Springs in the world.
The efficiency of these waters has been thoroughly tested by the miraculous cures attested to in the following diseases: Paralysis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Malaria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Syphilitic and Mercurial Affections, Scrofula, Catarrh, La-Grippe, all Female Complaints, etc.
Board, lodging and bathing $2.50 per day; $15 per week; $50 per month.
Stage meets Denver trains and waits for Santa Fe train upon request. This resort is attractive at all seasons and is open all winter. Passengers for Ojo Caliente can leave Santa Fe at 9 a. m., and reach Ojo Caliente at 4 p. m., the same day. For further particulars ad-

INVESTIGATION OF IMMIGRATION INTO THE UNITED STATES.

Some facts showing the far-reaching character of the work of the joint commission on immigration which was appointed by Congress on February 20, 1907, were presented to Congress today through the publication of a preliminary report by the commission. This report deals with practically every phase in the immigration question including oriental aliens and other excluded classes, peonage, charity among immigrants, white slave traffic, conditions of steerage, anthropology, congestion in large cities, alien criminals, competition of immigrants, school inquiries, administration of the immigration laws, distribution of immigrants and other questions.

No conclusions have been reached by the commission, but the scope of the work is shown in a manner which presages extensive legislation in the future. The entire investigation probably will be finished during the next fiscal year. The report was printed and circulated today to show the necessity for an appropriation of $250,000 to carry on and support the work. Thus far the expenses of the committee from April 1, 1907, to February 1, 1909, have been $344,756.

There are at present 198 publications employed under the commission. The commission says it is generally admitted by those acquainted with the subject that notwithstanding the fact that the present law here fails to provide for the exclusion of every undesirable immigrant, thousands of undesirable persons are admitted each year. It has been found that the law in theory so far as its exclusion provisions is concerned, is strong, but in effect it is in some respects weak and ineffectual.

One of the most important features of the work is connected with evasions of the law resulting from the importation of excluded classes. Notwithstanding the expenditure of about $5,000,000 annually to enforce this law, the commission finds that it does not prevent the coming of Chinese laborers in considerable numbers.

An extensive investigation is being made as to the importation and harboring of women for immoral purposes. The results show that many women are being constantly imported under conditions which amount to absolute slavery. As the results of its inquiries and the evidence is gathered, there has been a noteworthy attack upon these businesses which has resulted in a very marked decrease since the commission began its work.

It has been found that in numerous instances persons afflicted with contagious diseases and even criminals of a dangerous type have been able to evade the immigration laws and come to this country under the pretense of being seamen.

The utmost importance is attached to the inquiry into alien criminality. The higher criminal courts of New York City are, at the request of the commission, keeping records in great detail of each person convicted of crime and it is intended that a study of foreign-born criminals, and criminals of the second generation will be made in that city.

The most extensive and important work undertaken by the commission is the general field investigation into the economic and social status of immigrants to various sections of the country. The most important topics being covered is the race of employees in each occupation, years each race has been employed, hours of work and discrimination for or against immigrants in employment, wages and housing.

In taking up the congestion of immigrants in large cities the commission is observing communities inhabited principally by members of one race, as to whether the clinging together of members of the same race handicaps them in their struggle for advancement and prevents their rapid assimilation and Americanization.

A careful inquiry among wage-earners who are forced to compete with immigrant labor is being made among workers in the trades and occupations in which immigrants are largely engaged.

A special field of investigation is being conducted in selected localities in the south and it will cover the sentiment of legislative bodies as indicated by legislation enacted affecting immigration. Inducements and obstacles to immigration, such as climate, character of soil, free or cheap lands, amount, variety and regularity of work throughout the year, the wages paid and hours of employment will be shown. Information is also being gathered concerning the employment of women and children, the prejudice against races, the presence or scarcity of fellow countrymen, church and school facilities and a vast amount of other information.

The investigation of oriental immigration has been confined thus far to the Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast sections and special emphasis has been placed upon the inquiry concerning the Japanese. Without the census recently ordered in California, the commission claims they have fairly accurate information concerning the number of Japanese in California, their distribution by counties, their occupations and trades. In California and Washington the report, when made, will cover the presence of Japanese and Hindus.

The school is called by the commission to be the most useful in Americanizing the immigrant.

Peonage is being made the subject of a special inquiry. One of the most interesting subjects is an investigation being conducted in nearly a hundred cities to show to what extent the immigrant is the recipient of charity.

DISAPPOINTED BUT NOT SURPRISED.

Not surprised, but disappointed, describes the feeling of New Mexico upon the shelving of the statehood bill by the Senate committee on territories. To this is added grief and indignation, that the enemies at home have brought about the defeat of the hopes of the commonwealth; that the plume of a wealthy individual who was hurt in his political ambition, is what besmirched the fair name of the people and caused the deplorable climax and sensation with which the present statehood campaign has closed. It is idle, mere waste of space, to refute the slanders upon New Mexico, they have been refuted so often; have been refuted by the highest authority. Senator Beveridge merely pitted the statements of a Hagerman and a Ormsby McHarg against the statements of a Roosevelt, a Garfield, a Curry, an intelligent and progressive people. The New Mexican until now was convinced that Senator Beveridge is imbued with honest motives in opposing statehood for the territories, but it now knows that malice and petty spite underlie his actions; it had believed that Beveridge really was a statesman, but it needs no further proof to demonstrate that Beveridge is nothing more than an ordinary ward politician who would sacrifice the welfare of a whole people to gain an advantage over some political rival. The New Mexican is certain that this commonwealth will send to the United States senate, broader, abler, more patriotic and unselfish men than has Indiana in sending there Albert J. Beveridge. As to the Hagerman-McHarg combination, there is no need to waste or mislead words, New Mexico's opinion of them can be heard at every street corner, and New Mexico understood them well long before this.

A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

The Albuquerque Journal takes a stand against the holding of a constitutional convention as a preliminary of going before Congress in December of this year for what is hoped to be the final effort for statehood. It raises the rather far-fetched point that if the present legislature exercises economy it will have more influence with Congress than could any well drafted constitution and it suggests further that the assembly should adopt the constitution drafted fifteen years ago.

Taking these two points seriously, the Journal does not define legislative economy. For instance, it would hardly consider it legislative economy if the assembly were to cut off the appropriation for the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. It would not have considered it economy if the legislature had not appropriated $13,080 advanced by Albuquerque citizens to complete the National Guard armory in that town, although the sum was far in excess of any deficiency asked for any other National Guard armory. Yet, the bulk of the appropriations of each assembly is for institutions like the University, or for deficiencies such as that of the Albuquerque National Guard Armory. The New Mexican is not in favor, even in the cause of economy, of stunting the growth and advancement of the University of New Mexico, or of refusing to reimburse such citizens as have advanced funds to complete a territorial building, especially if such money was advanced in good faith. The territory is growing rapidly, its wealth is expanding and although its assessment averages only ten cents on the dollar, yet its tax rate is not much higher than that of many a commonwealth where assessments are from sixty to ninety cents on the dollar.

As to the constitution of fifteen years ago, no matter what its points of excellence, it will be said by Congress that it is the very constitution the people of New Mexico did not want; they voted it down; it is a deception upon us by the assembly of New Mexico to send it to us with the explanation that it is the kind of constitution that New Mexico has adopted, for it is not; it is the constitution that New Mexico repudiated; now let us see the kind of constitution that New Mexico would ratify.

The New Mexican is still convinced that after more than half a century's campaigning for statehood by sending delegations to Washington; by adopting resolutions and memorials, by storming, pleading, begging, the most rational plan of campaign would be to hold a constitutional convention, draft a model constitution, have it ratified by the people and then go before Congress with the plea that this is to be the fundamental law of the land that seeks the privileges of statehood. Is it not proof that it can govern itself?

THE KITCHEN CABINET.

The farewell dinner by President Roosevelt to his Tennis Cabinet today, impresses forcibly upon the student of history that it is no longer the custom of presidents to select the men who loom largest in the political activities of the day for their cabinet. Washington in his first cabinet had men who were no less able than he and scarcely less prominent in the Nation's history. Abraham Lincoln brought together in his first cabinet the leaders of the Nation, men who at the time were considered even more able than Lincoln himself to be the Nation's chief executive. Even Grover Cleveland selected a Gresham, a Bayard, and others who were prominently mentioned for the presidency and had made their mark in the political history of the decades that preceded Cleveland's election. But Theodore Roosevelt inaugurated a new era. Intense individualist that he was, he was the dominating figure at all times in his administration. While Secretary Root is a great figure in the Nation's history, yet the other cabinet members were unknown to the general public, had figured but in a small way in the Nation's great political movements, were not "mentioned" for the Presidency, and were hardly in the "also ran" class. That they were no less able, that they were no less successful, than would have been men of national prominence, goes without saying, for President Roosevelt wanted men to carry out his ideas rather than men who would formulate policies of their own; he wanted followers rather than leaders; a kitchen cabinet rather than public advisers. It is merely but another proof of the great increase in the powers and the importance of the Presidency as a "one man's power."

The era of good feeling inaugurated in New Mexico by Governor Curry is made manifest by the fact that political lines are all but obliterated in the legislative assembly. No measure that is introduced is considered favorably or adversely because it happens to be fathered by a Republican or by a Democrat. This feeling of harmony has gone so far that when a caucus of Republican members is called the Democratic members are generally invited to participate and accept the privilege with due appreciation. Thus in the Republican House caucus on a railroad commission bill held last week, and the one held previously to that on Monday, the Democrats took part in the discussions and will be represented on the committee of seven that Speaker Miera will appoint to draft a measure. Members of both parties are working for statehood and are incidentally giving a lesson in non-partisan good citizenship that should be an example even to Congress, where party feeling often runs high and to the detriment of the people.

It is very likely that Congress will pass a bill that will save those who file on homesteads in New Mexico much trouble and annoyance. At present the government has pending hundreds of contests against settlers who homestead on what the government claims to be coal lands although there is no available evidence to show that the entryman knew of this fact or that the coal veins underlying the tract of land are of commercial value. Under the proposed law not only would the burden of proof of this assertion of the coal or mineral character of the land be placed upon the government but the law also directs that in case of all applications for final proof of entries heretofore made for agricultural lands, patent shall issue regardless of the subsequent discovery of coal under the surface.

"A newspaper in Royal Purple," such was the special Elks' edition of the Roswell Register-Tribune of February 23. Its sixteen pages were devoted to telling the story of Roswell Lodge No. 969, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, but it gave incidentally also a glimpse of the growth and advancement of Roswell and the public spiritedness of its people. The edition, like all other special editions of the Roswell Register-Tribune, of which there have been many, is beautifully illustrated and well written. In fact, the Elks' edition is such an apparent success that the Daily New Mexican will probably adopt it as a model for a similar edition to mark the dedication of the Elks' theatre in Santa Fe.

S.S.S. THE ONLY REMEDY FOR BLOOD POISON

S. S. S. is the one and only reliable and certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. This claim is not based on the treatment of a few cases of the disease, here and there, but its success extends over a period of more than forty years, during which time thousands upon thousands have found a cure by the use of this great vegetable remedy. S. S. S. is first of all, an absolutely perfect blood purifier, able to go down into the blood and remove every particle of the virus of Contagious Blood Poison. It cleanses and purifies the circulation, and in this way removes the cause of the trouble. Then nature, assisted by a rich, healthy blood supply, quickly renovates and renews the system, while the symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, skin eruptions, discolored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., disappear, leaving the body entirely free from the effects of this insidious poison. When S. S. S. has thoroughly cleansed and purified the circulation there is no danger of any future outbreak—the blood is pure and the cause of the disease entirely removed. Home Treatment Book containing many valuable and helpful suggestions for those who are curing themselves with S. S. S., and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

WORK OF THE SOCIETY FOR THE FRIENDLESS

Helping the Convict to Become a Good Citizen—Unselfish and Noble Efforts on Behalf of the Fallen.

(Communicated.)

On the first Sabbath of December 1895, there was commenced a work which has steadily grown, and which resulted, on December 16, 1903, in the incorporation of the New Mexico Society for the Friendless now engaged in the prevention of crime, the employment finding for and after care of discharged prisoners, the development of jail and prison evangelism, reform in criminal law and in prison management. The present superintendent, and his family, have been engaged in this work during these more than thirteen years, keeping discharged prisoners from one meal to three weeks' room and board in their home when work was not immediately available, in order to reduce as far as possible the danger of relapsing into crime. Because of ill health in the family for the past few years the wards of the society have had to be sent to a hotel while waiting for employment which has given them a better chance to relapse into intemperance, vice and crime; therefore there is great need at present of the fifth department for which the society is incorporated, the temporary home where any for whom there is not found employment immediately upon discharge can be given Christian surroundings, advice, instruction and encouragement to live straight lives when sent to some place to work. An average of twenty prisoners a year are looked after, besides the assistance rendered to many while in prison each twelve months. Sometimes six and seven firms are approached regarding work for wards of the society without success because of every position being filled. More than one of these wards has had to be sent to some other commonwealth, at increased expense, to be cared for by the prisoners' aid society there, because industrial conditions in New Mexico, and the lack of some one constantly traveling over the territory to get into touch with employers to interest them in giving these needy ones a chance for a livelihood, have made such a course imperative. This is antagonistic to the policy of the American Prison Association which urges each commonwealth to look after its own dependents; and has been possible through the kindness of those in charge of similar work in sister states. Money is loaned the wards, when really necessary, to get them to employment or for other use in starting right. Most of those assisted have become good citizens. Some of their families have had to be helped in one way or another, while the supporter was in prison. Much of the correspondence from the office of the superintendent of the society is of a nature usually conducted by a resident prison chaplain, where one is employed, and like all the rest of the work of the society does not cost the territory a cent, even for postage. The superintendent conducts the prison secular school on Sabbath afternoon, and the New Mexico Prison League of Christian Endeavor work, too. Over a thousand letters a year, besides much printed matter, is the volume of mail from his office. The society is the link between friends and relatives of those in bonds and the prisoners; is the medium through which many introductions of interested parties are arranged; and looks into the facts of cases for any far-away friends or loved ones who are not informed. But neither the superintendent nor the society recommend the pardon of any prisoner, nor has any parole ever been urged by them, because, if done for one all would expect a similar act. The adoption by the territory of the indeterminate sentence with parole will greatly increase the task of the society because that law makes release direct to employment a condition of parole, and the society is the channel through which the work will be secured.

For Diseases of the Skin.

Nearly all diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barbers' itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by all druggists.

Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havana, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"As long ago as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. Howell, of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 3rd our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold, the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we

THE CHURCHES

Catholic Churches.

The Gospel read at all the masses for the first Sunday of Lent, was taken from St. Matthew, chapter 4, verse 1-12, as follows:

1. Then Jesus was lead by the spirit into the desert, to be tempted by the devil.

2. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, afterwards he was hungry.

3. And the tempter coming said to him: If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4. Who answered and said: It is written, not in bread alone doth man live, but in every word that proceedeth from the mouth of God.

5. Then the devil took him up into the Holy City, and set him upon the pinnacle of the temple, 6. And said to him: If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down, for it is written: That he hath given his angels charge over thee, and in their hands shall they bear up, lest perhaps thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7. Jesus said to him: It is written again: Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8. Again the devil took him up into a very high mountain, and shewed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them,

9. And said to him: All these will I give thee, if falling down thou wilt adore me.

10. Then Jesus saith to him: Begone Satan; for it is written, the Lord thy God shalt thou adore, and him only shalt thou serve.

11. Then the devil left him; and behold angels came and ministered to him.

Cathedral.

The first mass at 7 o'clock yesterday was said by Father Fourchegu; the 9:30 mass by Father Collin and an English sermon was preached by Father Hartman; the third mass was said by Father Collin and a Spanish sermon was preached by Father Fourchegu. At 2 o'clock Sunday school was held; at 3:30 funeral services took place over the remains of Pedro Eahallina, a Filipino. At 4 o'clock vespers was sung. Three baptisms took place, namely, that of Maria Adelsa Quory, Jose Amarante, Herrera William Anton McQuinze. This week there are three ember days, days of fasting and abstinence, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. On Friday at 4 o'clock there will take place the "Way of the Cross" and Benediction.

First Presbyterian Church.

Yesterday morning in the First Presbyterian church, the pastor, the Rev. J. W. Purcell, in recognition of the day of prayer in New Mexico W. C. T. U. circles, took his theme for the sermon from the account of Christ's Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem, emphasizing the sorrow of the Master when He beheld the city.

The text was from Luke xix:41: "And when He drew nigh and saw the city He wept over it." Among other things the preacher said: "Like the pilgrims of old, the multitudes came with singing unto Zion. And in the center of the triumphant host was Jesus Christ Himself. But now listen: 'When He drew nigh He saw the city and wept over it.' What a contrast we have here, the applauding multitudes and the weeping Christ!"

Why did Christ weep when He beheld Jerusalem? Because it was not the material beauty of the city He was thinking about; His concern was not with material structures, doomed to perish and pass away, but with men, who were to outlast the stars. And so when Jesus came in sight of Jerusalem it was not its magnificent Temple and splendid palaces that arrested His attention and filled His thought; but beyond the buildings were the people who dwelt within them, and when He thought of the people of the city, He wept over it.

The narrative makes the reason for Christ's sorrow sufficiently clear. He wept because of the blindness, the folly and the ignorance of the people, and the doom their own sins were about to bring upon them. Since Jesus is "the same, yesterday, today, and forever," we can transfer this incident to the present, and it will all be true of the world today. When Jesus beholds our town, our county, our territory. He weeps over it. Some people, when they think of this town, are filled with pride—almost boastful pride; here they have long made their home; here they have spent their lives amassing wealth, eating and drinking and making merry, with not a pang concerning the awful heart-breaking problems of our drunkards, our drabs, and our moral perverts.

And if Jesus looked upon our city, our territory today, He would weep for the pitiableness of desolate homes, heart-broken widows and helpless orphans, made so by that common enemy of mankind, intoxicating liquor. My brethren, the present time is a time for earnest prayer and effort in behalf of the poor, rum-cursed men and women of our beloved territory. Let your prayers and entreaties be earnest in behalf of those who now have it in their power to give us relief. Pray for our legislators, that they, like the Master Himself, may have their hearts touched at the misery of the people who are bound by the chains of intemperance."

Methodist.

Last evening at the Methodist church on Don Gaspar avenue a large platform meeting was held, which proved to be even a greater success than the preceding one. Quite a large body of people were present and all were deeply impressed with the proceedings. The meeting was opened by a few preliminary remarks by Mrs. L. A. Harvey, who was then followed by Mrs. Charles F. Easley who led in prayer. Following the prayer a number of very interesting and pulsant speeches were made on the subject of temperance and prohibition. Every phase of the great pending question was well and thoroughly handled. Among the speakers were Judge A. J. Abbott, Reverend J. W. Purcell, Reverend G. Rendon and Judge J. R. McFie. Appropriate temperance songs were interspersed throughout the meeting, and after the final speech, Reverend Anderson said benediction.

AS TO WOUNDSSparring for Points Between Council for Opposing Sides—Traveling Salesman a Witness.Nashville, Tenn., March 1.—As soon as court opened today for the resumption of the trial of the Coopers and Sharp for slaying former Senator E.
W. Carmack, Judge Anderson of the defense asked that the jury be excused, and requested the court to instruct Dr. Glasgow, who made an autopsy on the body of Carmack after burial, to talk to the attorneys for the defense, he having refused to do so. Attorney General McCann opposed the request vigorously, saying that the prosecution had retained Dr.
Glasgow to get certain facts and had instructed him not to talk."These facts the defendants know," said the attorney general. "They put those bullets into Carmack's body, they shot bullets into the dead man.
They were there and we were not.
We have no living witness to that killing. The defense simply wants to know how much we know and we object to them trying to get at our evidence. If they want to put Dr. Glasgow on the stand under oath, then, all right." This suggestion was followed and Dr. Glasgow was called to the stand. He said he performed an autopsy on Carmack at the request of the attorney general. He described the wounds, three in number. Two bullets entered the breast, one passing through the heart, and another bullet entered the neck, coming out of the mouth. The bullet that pierced the heart entered between the fourth and fifth ribs, passing through the heart, wounding the ventricle, pierced the liver and reached the skin between the sixth and seventh ribs. The wit-ness's statement was brief and he was not cross-examined. William Konney, traveling salesman, who had a room in the apartment house overlooking the scene of the killing, said he heard two shots, which were loud, and after an interval, there were three shots fired very rapidly.'JIM' JEFFRIES WILL RE-ENTER PRIZE RINGWill Make Effort to Regain Heavy-Weight Championship for Caucasion Race.Omaha, Neb., March 1.—Jim Jeffries, undefeated champion of heavyweights of the world, with his wife and sparring partner, passed through Omaha last night, en route to New York to fill a theatrical engagement.
To Sandy Griswold, sporting writer, Jeffries said emphatically that after his theatrical engagement he would meet Jack Johnson. He said he felt obliged to the sporting public to make an effort to the sporting public to make for the white race. He said he was through with the game until Johnson won the crown.Corbett Quoted.Kansas City, Mo., March 1.—James J. Corbett, who was here was quoted today as saying in a recent conversation that Jeffries had declared his intention of re-entering the ring. Jeffries told him he said that he believed he would need a year of training to get into proper condition.Jeffries Denies It All.Chicago, Ill., March 1.—James J.
Jeffries, upon his arrival here today declared he authorized no one to announce he would fight Johnson.
"There is no basis for the statement published today," he said.CASHIER FOR ALBU-QUERQUE POSTOFFICEInspector Myers Appointed—Cash Transactions of Two Million a Year.Postoffice Inspector Myers, who was in Santa Fe last week with his wife and is well known here, has been appointed cashier of the postoffice at Albuquerque, a new position created to take care of the financial end of New Mexico's only postoffice of the first class. All the postoffices of the territory deposit their surplus postal funds at Albuquerque, and those that do not deposit their surplus money or deposit funds at the Santa Fe office, deposit those funds also at Albuquerque, which means that the financial transactions of the Albuquerque office amount to almost two million dollars a year, against the less than half a million dollars of the Santa Fe office. Mr. Myers will make an excellent cashier as his long and wide experience in postal matters will be of decided advantage to him. He was inspector in the territory for over a year past and made many friends in his rounds. He accepted the Albuquerque cashiership to be relieved of traveling or of being transferred to another jurisdiction as both he and Mrs. Myers learned to like New Mexico very much and desire to make it their permanent home.TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:By mutual agreement, Mr. O. C.

CONVENED AT CAPITALWork of Empaneling Juries On Federal and Territorial Sides in Progress.The spring term of the federal court for the First Judicial district and of the territorial court of the same district for Santa Fe county, was convened this forenoon in the Supreme Court chambers at the Capitol. Judge John R. McFie was on the bench. District Clerk Francis C.
Wilson and his assistant, Elmer W.
Marsh, were on duty. District Attorney Edmund C. Abbott, who went to the inauguration on Saturday, was represented by his father, Judge A. J.
Abbott. U. S. Marshall, C. M. Foraker and deputies were present as was also Special Assistant U. S. Attorney W. H. H. Llewellyn. The work of empaneling the United States grand and petit juries was in progress during the day as well as the empaneling of the territorial grand jury. New venire had to be drawn as the panel was soon exhausted.Manuel Romero y Montoya and Florento Archuleta were appointed bailliffs of the Federal Court and Jose Cifuentes of the Federal grand jury.
Climaco Trujillo, Caesario Borrego and Victoriano Casados were appointed bailliffs to the court on the territorial grand jury; Miguel Trujilla, bailliff to the territorial grand jury and Jose D. Sena, interpreter; Harry Clancy, stenographer; and Bartolo Bustos, interpreter to the territorial grand jury.Upon examination by Judge John R.
McFie, the following two natives of Italy, were granted naturalization papers. Rafael Pettine of Santa Fe and Faminio Mascaerelli of Cerrillos.The territorial grand jury was empaneled as follows:Henry Woodruff, foreman; Encarnacion Martinez, H. C. Kinsell, Mor-

IN ARIZONAGreenlee to Bear Part of Graham's Indebtedness—Law Not to Be in Effect for Two Years.Phoenix, Ariz., March 1.—The Graham county division war has been finally settled by the passage under suspension of the rules in both houses, of a substitute bill introduced by Hampton, which makes the division effective in two years, and provides that the new county of Greenlee shall bear the bonded indebtedness, except the school bonds, to the amount of about $160,000. This compromise was entirely satisfactory to the residents of Graham and most of the people of Clifton. The three members from Graham carried the measure into the caucus and an agreement was made to make it a strictly party polity and passed it at once. The scores of lobbyists here from that section have now vanished from the scene.
The compromise was really a victory for the agriculturists.The council has passed Bailey's primary election law.The house has passed the following bills:Weed's eight hour law for hoisting engineers and furnace men; Bourne's textbook law; Hightower's arbitration of county boundary disputes; Doan's marriage law, changing the ages under the statute to males 18 and females 14; and Moore's bill licensing clubs other than social or organizations at $300 per year.LEGISLATIVE THUMB NAIL SKETCHESIrrigation Idea of Hon. J. C. Sanchez.
Spokane, Wash., March 1.—"Industries in which we are especially interested in this territory are alfalfa and sugar beet production and anything which will develop and improve the system of irrigation."Hon. Jesus C. Sanchez of Albuquerque, chairman of the Committee on Counties and County Lines of the 38th Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico, conveys this information in a letter to Arthur Hooker, secretary of the local board of control of the 17th National Irrigation Congress."A matter which would interest us and all identified with irrigation is the consideration of a means of irrigation through tunneling into the mountain to obtain a flow of water.
It is my opinion that a fine system of irrigation could be developed by tunneling into the mountains and tapping the springs that must be in the bowels of those piles of earth."Mr. Hooker said in commenting upon the foregoing that tunneling into the mountain sides to obtain water for irrigation purposes has been advocated in various arid and semi-arid areas in the western country and especially in central north Washington for years, adding that it is likely the problem will come up for discussion at the congress, which will meet in Spokane, August 9 to 14. A large delegation is expected from New Mexico and other parts of the southwest.Edward C. Wade, Jr., for Commissioner—We are pleased to see thatEdward C. Wade, Jr., is making such marked progress in his candidacy for the position of commissioner of immigration, a place to be created at this session of the legislature. Mr. Wade is a young man of considerable ability and a whole lot of energy and he has many friends in this city and county who will rejoice with him if he receives the appointment.—Alamofirst his ventures were attended with success that won him the sobriquet by which he is best known in the West. It was at Saratoga while watching the races that he decided to establish a stable of his own. By the time his string was complete he began to attract attention by his long record of victories. He won the American Derby four times and in Saratoga during one season he captured 25 stake events. Finally he settled in California, establishing a magnificent breeding farm, and investing in enterprises until his possessions were scattered up and down the length of the state. He materially added to his fortune by mining ventures. Baldwin was twice married. His first wife bore him two daughters; the second wife is still living.The fortune left by "Lucky Bal-win" is estimated by his manager at $25,000,000. Little is known of the terms of the will left by the noted turfman. Many rumors of impending contests of the will were rife during Baldwin's illness. It is reported that the will contains a specific statement denying the existence of more than a single widow, thus providing against possible contest from that direction.MARKET REPORT.*CLOSING MARKET REPORT.Amalgamated, 71; Atchison, 102 7-8,
