SUPREME COURT ON JUNE 19

Will Probably Assign Judges and Districts.

IRRIGATION ON RIO PUERCO

Rapid Transit and Power Companies at Las Vegas Incorporate.

Chief Justice William J. Mills has called a session of the Supreme Court at Santa Fe on June 11, to redistrict New Mexico and assign the judges to different districts. It is now thought that no changes will be made in assignment of judges as at present and that the session will merely assign a district to Judge M. C. Mechem, who is likely to go to Socorro, and Judge A. W. Cooley who may go to Alamogordo.

It is very likely that Curry county will be detached from the Roswell district and added to the Alamogordo district, and Torrance county detached from the Alamogordo district to be added to the Santa Fe district. The business of the Roswell district has grown so tremendously that its area must be decreased. The new candidates for headquarters of the district court are Socorro, Raton, Silver City and Tucumcari, but the real contest lies between Socorro and Raton.

Moore of Denver.

The incorporators and directors are J. M. Cunningham and William G. Haydon of Las Vegas; and William S. Iliff, James R. Thorpe and Charles K. Durbin of Denver.

Water Rights Application.

Peter McChesney of New York, this forenoon made application to Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan for extension of time for several months to complete the water rights application for waters of the Rio Puerco in Sandoval and Bernalillo counties, for the Rio Puerco Irrigation Company, which expects to begin work soon on the installation of a reservoir system that will at first reclaim 6,000 acres, but ultimately 18,000 acres on the Montano grant and public lands in the vicinity of Atrisco. Prior attempts to build irrigation systems on the Puerco in that district resulted in the brush dam, and later of a frame coffer dam, being washed out by floods. About $30,000 had been expended on those works.

Arrests by Mounted Police.

Officer John W. Collier of the Territorial mounted police, stationed at Estancia, reports four arrests. Short Schmitz and a man nicknamed "Shortgun," who were fined $25 each for drunkenness, and Henry Eden and Charles Burns charged with breaking car windows on a New Mexico Central train.

BEVERIDGE NOW ATTACKS TAFT

Quotes Extensively From Speeches of President Favoring Tariff Reduction.

Washington, D. C., May 25.—Defending his view that the pledges of the Republican party were for a revision of the tariff downward, Senator Beveridge today quoted extensively from remarks by Taft prior to his nomination for the presidency. He insisted that the speeches were accepted by the people of the country as a declaration on part of the conservative forces of the party that there would be a revision of duties in order that they might be lowered. He said that to place the views of the President correctly before the country he would introduce into the record all of the public statements of the President relating to the tariff.

Colonel Prichard in Washington.

Special to The New Mexican. Washington, D. C., May 25.—Colonel George W. Prichard of Santa Fe, is here on important business pertaining to the Sacramento Valley Irrigation Company and affairs at Alamogordo, as well as on other legal and political matters.

Delegate W. H. Andrews today introduced a bill, to allow railway mail clerks $1.00 a day for expenses whenever duty compels them to be away from home or headquarters. He also introduced a special pension bill to grant John Martin a pension of $36 a month. He presented the memorial of the city council of Clovis, Curry county, praying that the territorial publication law be annulled.

Senator Bradley introduced an amendment to the tariff bill, fixing the duty of tobacco from discriminating countries at 75 cents per pound for unstemmed, and $1 a pound for stemmed.

Job for Elmer Dover.

Washington, May 25.—Elmer Dover, former secretary of the Republican committee, whose appointment as national bank examiner at New York, has been held up by the comptroller of the currency, will be offered, it is said a similar position in some other district.

When it was announced that Mr. Dover would receive the appointment at New York, there were a number of protests made, the post paying $12,000, too high a reward for Mr. Dover, whom it was asserted, was opposed to Mr. Taft's nomination up to the very last moment.

President Taft had agreed to the appointment as a favor to some of Mr. Dover's friends, but he was somewhat taken back when he ascertained the facts as to the emoluments of the national bank examiner at New York.

CITIZEN HAS RIGHT TO SWEAR

Governor Davidson Does Not Believe in Fining a Man for Expressing His Opinion Forcefully.

Madison, Wis., May 25.—Although Governor Davidson is not a profane man he does think it the inalienable right of any citizen to indulge in a few sulphurous remarks when occasion seems to justify. Therefore he vetoed the Hull bill which prohibited swearing in any public place under a penalty of $25 fine or 30 days in jail, or both fine and imprisonment. Assemblyman Hull will try to pass the bill over his veto.

HANGED TO TELEPHONE POLE

Summary Vengeance Wreaked on Human Fiend

ROPE BROKE, BODY FELL

Mob of Three Hundred Overpowers Heavy Guard of Jailers.

Pine Bluff, Ark., May 25.—Lovett Davis, charged with attempting a criminal assault on a 16 year old girl here on Friday night, was taken from jail at midnight by an unmasked mob of 300 men and hanged to a telephone pole on one of the principal streets. Just as he was being raised high above the street, the rope broke and the body fell to the ground but was immediately raised again and left hanging. The sheriff had placed a heavy guard in the jail but the mob overpowered the deputies and the cell was broken open with a sledge hammer.

CHILDREN BURNED AT COMMENCEMENT

Frightful Catastrophe at School Exercises

GIRLS AS HUMAN TORCHES

Mothers Fought to Reach Pupils Who Were Veritable Bonfires.

Central City, Ky., May 25.—Five children who took part in the commencement exercises at Mrs. B. C. Boyd's school in this city last night were burned, it is believed fatally. The audience was changed from an applauding group into a fighting mob, and several other children were slightly injured when one of the little girls dropped an electric candle which communicated a flame to her muslin dress and in a twinkling five dresses were afire. The mothers fought to reach their children who were veritable small bonfires on the stage. The children tortured by pain attempted to leap over the foot lights to their parents and one succeeded in jumping into the lap of her aunt, who was seated in the audience. A panic was averted by the coolness of men, who rushed on the stage and smothered the flaming clothing. Those believed fatally burned are: Dorothy Clay, aged 8; Zelma Clay, aged 10; Louise Marshall, aged 12; Nellie McQuarry, aged 8; Rena May Miller, aged 6.

Grandfather and Grand Children Incinerated.

Ottumwa, Iowa, May 25.—John Carter, an old soldier, aged 75, and the three children of his daughter, Mrs. Lela Shaw, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their house at Eldon, 12 miles east of here early today. Mrs. Shaw is employed during the night and left the children with their grandfather. The fire was caused by the overturning of a lighted lamp during the storm.

IN A STATE, NOT TERRITORY

Town of 1,500 People and County Prosperous Seat Without a Church for Many Years.

Hawthorne, Nev., May 25.—The laying of the cornerstone for the Methodist church here tomorrow will mark the invasion for the first time of this town's precincts by a place of worship of any denomination of the Christian faith. A town of 1,500 population, prosperous, formerly the county seat and in the heart of a rich mining district Hawthorne has never yet had a place of worship for believers in Christianity. The only edifice where humans offered up prayer has been a Chinese Joss house, which was practically abandoned more than a year ago.

Several years ago Goldfield succeeded in taking the county seat away from Hawthorne—one of the arguments being that Hawthorne didn't even have a church.

JEFFRIES WANTS FIGHT AT HOME

Chicago, May 25.—James J. Jeffries persists in his stand that if he fights Johnson he must be somewhere in America. The latest declaration to this effect was brought out by a letter just received from Hugh McIntosh, the Australian fight promoter, who is in England, and is asking him to refrain from closing the match with Johnson without first giving him an opportunity to bid for the fight. Jeffries continues in strenuous training daily.

FEVERISH DEMAND FOR WOOL

Boston, May 25.—Prices in the wool market continue to advance while the new clip is arriving from the west in heavy lots. Sales are going on briskly, the manufacturers being in the market in large numbers and making demands for all grades. The purchases are being made "spot" and "to arrive" in territory wool, buyers are taking all the wool offered, Utah, selling steadily from 23 to 27 cents, or 65 to 67 cents scoured. Most of the eastern stock is beginning to show up but not in large quantities.

AMERICANS CHARGED WITH MALTREATING CHILDREN.

Paris, May 25.—On the charge of having maltreated young children confined to his care, Cecil H. Sargent, an Englishman and his American wife, who was Josephine Leavin, of New York, were found guilty in the correctional court tonight. Sargent was sentenced to two years and his wife to thirteen months imprisonment.

ROOSEVELT TALKS FOR PUBLICATION

Associated Press Correspondent Guest in Camp

LURID STORIES DENIED

No Other News Representative Permitted in the Party.

Nairobi, British East Africa, May 25.—The staff correspondent of the Associated Press returned to Nairobi this morning after a two days' visit as a guest at the Roosevelt camp. Roosevelt and his son are in remarkably good health, and delighted with the success of the expedition. The accuracy of the rifle fire of Roosevelt and Kermit astonished even old settlers. Kermit killed recently at close range a hyena that attacked him, and he has also come near making a record in bagging female wart hogs in a given time. Roosevelt is annoyed at certain special dispatches appearing in American and English newspapers and requested the Associated Press to say that no newspaper has a representative with the party and any special dispatches are sheer inventions. "Moreover," he says, "the details which purport to be thus obtained can only be due to bribery, and it is safe to state that any dishonorable man giving a bribe and any dishonorable man accepting the same would be willing to invent untruths for money or traffic in other forms of dishonor."

UGLY STRIKE IN GEORGIA

U S. Troops May Have to Be Called On

OBJECT TO NEGRO FIREMEN

Attorney General Wickersham Given Free Hand by President.

Washington, May 25.—The Department of Justice has given Attorney General Wickersham free hand to deal with the Georgia Railroad firemen's railroad strike which is interfering with the mails. Several communities through which the road passes have given their ultimatum that the trains over the road will not be permitted to carry negroes or strike-breaking firemen. The result is that no trains are running and the mail is being congested at distributing points. The immediate cause of the strike was the discharge of ten white firemen and filling their places with negroes. Commissioner of Labor Neill is due to arrive at Atlanta tonight to make an effort to settle the trouble. It is not at all unlikely that deputy marshals may be called into service to accompany the trains on which the mail is being transported and it may become necessary to have recourse to the use of United States troops to open up the lines.

FOR PROTECTION OF FEED DEALERS

National Association in Convention at Chicago Drafting Pure Food Act.

Chicago, Ill., May 25.—The national law that will protect the cattle industry by providing pure food for the animals, and also protecting the dealers in such products, is being drafted by members of the National Association of Feed Dealers, now in session here. The members believe that such a law will result in better cattle, better markets and better prices.

SIX MEN KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Northbound Norfolk Express Crashes Into Freight on Siding Near Salisbury, Maryland.

Wilmington, Del., May 25.—The northbound Norfolk express ran into a freight train on a siding two miles below Salisbury, Maryland, on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad this afternoon. Six men were killed and several injured.

TAKEN TO THE SCENE OF CRIME

Fugitive From Justice Finally Apprehended in Far Northwest and Must Face Trial.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—Luther Minnich, a prominent farmer and sawmill owner of Alton, Mo., arrested in Spokane by Sergeant D. D. McPhee ten days ago, charged with the murder of W. S. Millsap, a neighbor, on February 3, 1908, will return to the scene of the crime with Charles L. Davis, sheriff of Oregon county, who has just come to the city. Minnich was known as Frank Scott, under which name he joined the lodge of Odd Fellows at Russell, Idaho, after fleeing from Missouri to Texas and thence to Holland. He claims he killed Millsap in self-defense, while Sheriff Davis says Minnich drove his victim to seek refuge behind a mule in the woods to avoid shooting him in the back. Both carried guns, vowing to shoot on sight. Minnich got the drop on Millsap, but the latter started to run with Minnich in pursuit. Finally, while sheltered behind a mule Minnich sent a bullet into Millsap's head, killing him instantly.

EIGHTEEN EXPERIMENTAL FARMS

Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railway Company Will Encourage Husbandry.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—An announcement is made in Spokane that the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway Company, which will soon run its trains across Washington, has completed plans to operate 18 experimental farms in this state, Idaho and Montana. They will be under the direction of expert agriculturists, the purpose being to demonstrate to tourists, investors and homeseekers that there are vast possibilities in intensive farming, orcharding, dairying, forestry and other industries on lands reclaimed from areas heretofore considered worthless because of the distance from transportation lines and the lack of moisture. Instructions at the stations will also demonstrate for the benefit of farmers in the vicinity the value of crop rotation and teach them the uses of the latest approved apparatus for conserving soil moisture, also how to prepare crops for the market.

THINK THEY MADE CATCH

Deputy Sheriff Enrique Sena Arrests Man He Believes to Be Colorado Murderer.

A suspect has been lodged in the county jail at Las Vegas, under the impression that he is "Bay" Gordon, wanted for murder at Rye, Colorado, where he is accused of having slain a ranchman named Peter Dieter. A stool pigeon placed in the same cell with the suspect, states that Gordon admitted to him of having been with the Carver Shows as a bronco buster. The suspect, however, says that his name is James W. Williams and that his home is in Oklahoma. He says he had been working in Arizona on a farm. Gordon was arrested a few days ago by Deputy Sheriff Enrique Sena as he stepped from a Santa Fe train. A photograph has been taken of the suspect and sent to the Colorado authorities.

WHEAT CROP WILL BE SHORT

Harvesting Has Begun in Texas Counties

NEW HIGH RECORD PRICES

Chicago Expert Pessimistic About the Outlook.

Chicago, Ill., May 25.—Private advices received here today stated that harvesting of wheat has begun in three counties in Texas and that the yield will be 14 to 15 bushels to the acre on an average. H. E. Reycroft, the Chicago expert, however, declared this estimate fifty per cent too high, as the prolonged drought in the Lone Star state precluded such a yield. The announcement did not affect prices in Chicago materially as May wheat on the board of trade early sold at a new high record price, $1.35 1/4. The latest completed statistics made the yield of wheat in the United States in 1907, 634,087,000 bushels. In many quarters it is asserted that this year's harvest will be under 600,000,000 bushels.

PRESBYTERIANS DISCUSS IMMIGRATION

Predict Population Will Reach 200,000,000

HOME MISSION DEBATE

Congressman Says Most of the Foreigners Are God-Fearing.

Denver, May 25.—The prediction that immigration will send the population of the United States up to 200,000,000 in the next fifty years, brought on a heated debate in the general assembly of the Presbyterian church this morning. "What's the use of listening to the argument that we have no field left for home missions?" said Dr. W. L. McEwan, of Pittsburg, chairman of the board of home missions, "when the United States has left its back door open admitting a million a year of people, many of whom have not heard of the church?"

Dr. Charles Thompson of New York, secretary of the board, asked for an appropriation of $300,000 to carry on the work of Evangelism among the immigrants. He spoke of work in Cuba and praised the results obtained by the federal government during its intervention. "But the Stars and Stripes had no sooner vanished from Havana harbor," he said, "than Cuba started backwards and gambling and bull fighting were given new sway. There is one place for home mission work." Congressman Bennett of New York, commissioner to the assembly, took issue with the speakers who believed that immigrants are in need of missionaries. He declared most of them are industrious and God-fearing.

SPOKANE TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Chamber of Commerce Rejects Schedule of Commodity Rates Proposed by Railroads.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—Rejecting the schedule of commodity rates proposed by the Hill and Harriman systems, to become effective July 1, regarding which the Interstate Commerce Commission will hear objections by the shipping interests of Spokane at Washington, D. C., June 9, the interstate commerce committee of the Spokane chamber of commerce has decided to continue its fight for equitable rates.

This is the latest move in Spokane's 20-years battle for reasonable rates on freight shipped from Chicago and Missouri river points, and it is believed its success will be of vital benefit to every inland city and community in the United States. The committee, headed by A. W. Doland, has been assured the support of a large number of commercial organizations in various parts of the northwest, and it will send a representative delegation to press its claims at the hearing in Washington.

Congressional representatives from Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, Colorado, Nevada, Utah, California and other states are being urged by wire and mail to prevail upon Congress to appropriate $1,000,000, for the use of the interstate commerce commission in making a valuation of railroad property in the United States as a basis for rate making, to apply to all parts of the country.

The Spokane Merchants' Association and the Spokane chamber of commerce strongly indorse the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the $1,000,000 appropriation, also recommending to Congress the passage of amendments to the Hepburn law, giving the commission power to suspend the taking effect of proposed advances in existing rates or rules affecting rates upon a prima facie case being made, showing unreasonableness of such increases or changes of rules, pending a hearing. The resolution also asks for shippers the right to route freight where through rates and routes are provided for in a joint tariff, and requires carriers to quote rates on application and upon request to insert rates in bills of lading.

RAIN DRIVES OFF CROWDS

Centerville, Iowa, May 25.—The apprehension of a mob attack on John Junkin has been relieved by the rain which has driven the crowds off the streets in the opening day of the negro's trial for the murder of Clara Rosen, the young woman who on the eve of her marriage to a Wyoming mining man was brutally murdered. A heavily armed guard protects the prisoner.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

THE BROOK.

(By V. Johnson, Carlisle '04.)
I watched the brooklet rushing down
To meet the frothing sea;
It sparkled as it dashed along,
Its life was melody.
I took a stone from out its path,
That it might flow released;
But lo! it danced no more in glee—
Its melody had ceased.

"Almighty God", my soul cried out,
"I see thy perfect plan;
For as a brooklet in its path.
Thou hast made life for man.
The trials from Thy guiding hand,
Whose aim we may not see,
Are but the music of our lives,
Thine is the melody!"
—The Indian Craftsman.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Santa Fe Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Lino Romero, Palace avenue, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills act just as represented. If I had not been confident of this fact, no inducement could have led me to give a public recommendation of this medicine, as I did some five years ago. I then stated that I had procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Stripling & Burrow's Drug Store and that they had cured me of a dull ache in the small of my back which had bothered me off and on for a long time and had by spells been the cause of my laying off from work. During the lapse of years, I have now and then noticed a slight return of the annoyance, but never one that has not yielded to Doan's Kidney Pills. I still hold the good opinion I first formed of this remedy."

PRICING PUBLIC
COAL LANDS

Secretary Ballinger Broadens Policy of Selling Coal Lands at Coal Values.

The United States Geological Survey is placing even greater emphasis this year upon its work of classifying and valuing the public coal lands. The national policy of promoting the most advantageous disposal of the public lands is continued under Secretary Ballinger and by his instructions the director of the survey is transmitting to the commissioner of the general land office land classifications based upon the reports of findings of the field geologists. To the fullest extent possible under the law the effort is to secure the wisest utilization of the resources of the public domain.

Recently enacted legislation gives to the agricultural entryman whose entry was made prior to the passage of the act the privilege of electing to take the surface rights, while the coal rights are reserved for future and separate disposition. The chief of the Denver field division of the general land office reports that from information received in his office 90 per cent of the Colorado entrymen in areas supposed to contain coal will elect to take title to the surface reserving to the United States the coal rights. This alone indicates the value and wisdom of this legislation which is the first important amendment of the coal land act along the lines urged by Mr. Ballinger in 1907, when commissioner of the general land office.

If the entryman, on the other hand, chooses to contest, then the issue becomes one of relative worth between agricultural and coal values. In a report to Secretary Ballinger the director of the survey stated that in the case of the North Dakota lands, to which this act was supposed to be specially applicable, while all western North Dakota a part of which had been withdrawn as coal lands, is believed by the geologists of the survey to be actually underlain by workable deposits of lignite, yet in all but 54 townships this area is conceded to be at present more valuable for agricultural purposes than for its deposits of low grade coal.

The regulations for the classification and valuation of the government coal lands as revised in April provide for a somewhat more discriminating separation of the coal and non-coal lands and for the fixing of more adequate valuations upon lands underlain by the higher grades of coal. These changes were determined upon by the Secretary of the Interior from the consideration of present conditions in coal mining in the western states, where thinner and deeper beds are being mined than was formerly the case, and of current practice in the matter of coal royalties collected both by the states and by private administrative measures for safeguarding the disposal of the nation's remaining coal lands. The price of coal land containing the lowest grade bituminous coal or lignites is fixed at the minimum provided by law, the intent being to thus encourage, so far as the law permits, the immediate utilization of these low-grade fuels. Another rule states that in all valuations of coal beds any special condition enhancing the value of the land for coal-mining purposes shall be taken into consideration.

The revised scheme used in the valuation of the coal lands differs from that formerly in force in two general respects. The basis is now specifically that of coal tonnage and the land prices thus determined for the better grades of coal, anthracite and coking-bituminous, are somewhat higher; the maximum being raised from $100 to $300 per acre, and indeed this maximum does not hold in "districts which contain large coal mines where the character and extent of the coal deposits are well known to the purchaser."

The plan of valuing the public coal lands by accurate determination of coal quality and tonnage is the most equitable possible, and while adequate returns are secured to the government the land prices thus fixed rarely amount to one-fourth of the royalties prevailing in the same districts among private interests.

The present scheme of valuation is as follows: Anthracite and coking-bituminous coals are valued at 2 to 3 cents a ton. High grade non-coking bituminous coals are valued at 1 cent to 2 cents a ton. High grade sub-bituminous and low grade bituminous coals are valued at 1-2 cent to 1 cent a ton. Low grade sub-bituminous coals and lignites are valued at the minimum price fixed by law of $10 and $20 an acre. The tonnage is very conservatively estimated and actual recovery ought always to exceed the tonnage upon which the valuation is based.

A few instances are cited as showing the comparative working out of valuations under the different land policies. In one township near Rock Springs, Wyoming, the valuation of which has just been completed by the Geological Survey, the coal land values aggregate $2,800,000, on the basis of 1 cent a ton. The amount for which the government would have sold these lands on the basis of the minimum price allowed by law, under the interpretation which held prior to 1906, is $460,000, while under the valuation plan of last year, the amount would have been a little less than $1,000,000.

In a Montana township, near the town of Roundup, on the new line of the Milwaukee, the original amount which the government would have received under the $20 minimum rate was $112,000; under the regulations of last year, $111,000; and under the present valuation scheme adopted April 21, by this administration, $370,000, some of the coal being now valued at $65 an acre where $20 and $25 respectively would have been the former rates.

Near the great Castlegate coal field in Utah, the survey is now valuing some of the government land containing thick beds of coking coal. In this field thousands of acres would run over the maximum of $300 an acre, as opposed to the $20 minimum price and $75 under the former valuation scheme. Dozens of other equally striking instances of comparative valuations might be cited.

The conservatism of even the present valuation plan is clearly shown from an examination of the records in several cases where land was fraudulently entered by certain companies and in which suit for recovery of land and damages was instituted by the government. In one instance of this kind a coal company secured a tract of land through fraudulent entries—paying $20 an acre, however—and instituted mining operations. The company has settled by paying the government eight cents a ton royalty for all the coal mined and would have gladly accepted the privilege of being allowed to continue the mining at this rate. This, however, was not possible under the law. In this case the government received the original $20 an acre, as well as $31,000 in royalty for the partial working of the coal on the 74 acres involved and has also got back the land. Had the company been permitted to mine out the coal, including that left as pillars, the return to the government would have been $1,320 an acre. Under the present scheme of valuation this land would have been sold at $340 an acre.

Not only are the prices determined on the basis of the present plan believed to be not excessive, but a higher valuation would have been very properly approved by Secretary Ballinger were it not for the fact that the coal land law limits the coal land that may be acquired to an acreage below what a mining company needs for economical operation. It is evident that a purchaser could well afford to pay a larger price per acre did the law permit the purchase of the larger tract.

It will be seen that the present coal land policy provides for the saving to the government and the people of enormous sums of money and prevents the monopolization by private interests of the western coal fields. The most advanced, scientific, and effective methods of classifying and valuing the nation's remaining coal lands, which still constitute about 80,000,000 acres, have been adopted, and in brief the intent of the policy developed by Secretary Ballinger and now further advanced by Secretary Ballinger is to promote development and economical utilization and at the same time to secure adequate returns from these valuable public lands.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. OFFICIAL MATTERS

Change in Supervisors.
The local forest bureau is now in charge of Supervisor Thomas R. Stewart, formerly assistant under Ross McMillan. The local office has supervision over the Pecos. The supervisor for the Jemez has not yet been appointed. Ross McMillan formerly in charge of the local office has gone to Antonito to take charge of the Carson forest. He took with him Miss Maria Roach, Charles B. Rumsey and H. C. Hall, formerly of the local office.

New Trail Progressing.

D. R. Carter who has charge of the work on the new trail being built by the forest department has reported to the local office that the trail is now completed from the Santa Fe river to the top of the Santa Fe range.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak try at least, a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is lead-drugists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by Stripling Burrows Co.

It is an admitted fact that real estate, financial men and merchants all say that quickest and best results are obtained by advertising in the New Mexican.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

PROCRASTINATION IS THE THIEF OF PROSPERITY.

Probably no other three men in the country are better advised concerning the present industrial conditions, than E. H. Gary, James J. Hill and William E. Corey, and here are recent expressions of theirs which contain hope and cheer for the immediate future. Judge Gary says:

"We have not been so prosperous for the last eighteen months as we were before that time. We have been traveling along in a cloud and mist more or less. Conditions have been uncertain and no one could say just what the future would bring.

"But the clouds are lifting. The mists are clearing away and we shall soon see that after all the sun of prosperity is shining just as brightly as ever. In my judgment we shall soon be on the high road to prosperity."

"Since the early part of March," said Mr. Corey, "there has been a gradual and well-sustained improvement which has been particularly noticeable in the companies of the U. S. Steel corporation. We are now working on a 70 per cent basis of normal capacity—the highest since October, 1907. This improvement is due to a natural and healthy demand for steel products. There has also been a gradual improvement in prices."

James J. Hill called on President Taft and announced afterward that a wave of prosperity is only awaiting the adjournment of Congress to sweep over the country.

"All that is necessary," said Mr. Hill, "is to get the tariff out of the way. There are lots of people who think legislation will cure a toothache or cause great disasters, and they are sitting up all over this country, with hands folded and eyes turned toward Washington, afraid to go to work unless the tariff is settled."

"The wheat crop promises to be good this year; not excessive, but fair. The West and the South are to be the great sections of this country. The West is great now. The South exhausted its soil by improvident cultivation, but the later generations have learned how to farm, and the soil is resuming its fertile qualities. I think the South has a future of brilliant possibilities."

When it was suggested to Mr. Hill that Wall street already is discounting the coming prosperity, the railroad magnate said that Wall street seems to be mighty important in New York, but that it no longer has any importance to the mass of people outside that city.

"We have our crops and our own business in the West," said Mr. Hill. "Of late years we have our own financial resources and our own banks, sufficiently strong to carry us through emergencies. Wall street cannot harm any one except the man who goes against the game."

There can be no doubt that, as the New Mexican has frequently said: "All that is necessary is to get the tariff out of the way," and as it seems the Senate has decided to take a vote on it next month there is not much longer time to wait, and then for the old-time Republican prosperity, and progress. It is really cheering to hear Mr. Hill declare that though Wall street is mighty important in New York, it no longer has any importance to the mass of the people outside that city. We have our crops and our own business in the West. Of late years we have our own financial resources, and our own banks, sufficiently strong to carry us through emergencies."

That sounds like a second Declaration of Independence—that we are no longer dependent on the stock gamblers, and so-called money kings of Wall street. And as the mighty West and Southwest are becoming more and more important every year, it is safe to say that they will never more be dependent on those unscrupulous gamblers.

FUNDAMENTALS OF FOREST RESERVATION.

Under the heading of "Pinchotism and the Land League," the Denver Republican lays down several fundamental principles that must be ever kept in sight in discussing the forest reserve question, which is even more important in New Mexico than in Colorado. Says the Republican:

"Under guise of an endeavor to protect the constitutional rights and promote the local interests of the people of Colorado, a new land league to be known as the National Public Domain League, has been organized for the purpose of making war on what is known as the Pinchot policy respecting the administration of national forests."

"The evident purpose of the new league cannot be hidden behind a professed devotion to local interests and constitutional rights; for the leaders in the movement have all along been more notorious for their opposition to Mr. Pinchot than distinguished for devotion to the constitutional prerogatives of this or any other state.

"Before falling in with this anti-Pinchot scheme persons who may be solicited to join should consider the fact that the land embraced within national forests belongs to the federal government and therefore is subject to whatever laws Congress may enact respecting its regulation and disposition. To accept the extreme state rights doctrine, that the federal government is in respect to those lands merely a proprietor, involves in turn the admission that as proprietor it may adopt whatever rules and regulations it may see fit to adopt for the management and administration of such lands. If a private citizen can do what he pleases with his land, certainly the rights of the federal government are no less extensive.

"Admitting the right of the federal government to make all lawful and needful rules and regulations respecting the administration of national forests, it follows that all such rules which have been made in accordance with the laws enacted by Congress are binding upon the public and upon the states. To deny this would be to assert that the government as landed proprietor has fewer rights than a private landed proprietor, which would be to reduce the proposition to an absurdity.

"It would be extravagant to assert that the administration of the national forests has attained perfection. No officer or agent of the forestry bureau would make any such claim. But any one who makes an unbiased inquiry will discover that the policy of the bureau is good, and that in most cases where friction has arisen it has been due to the blunder of a subordinate or to some misunderstanding respecting the legal rights of persons entering upon forest lands.

"The new land leaguers will busy themselves in vain if they devote their energies to stirring up opposition to Mr. Pinchot's policy in respect of national forests. Opposition to that policy has been on the wane for some time now, and it will continue to decline as the public becomes better informed respecting both the purpose and the methods of the forestry administration."

LAND SWINDLES.

As the public attention is drawn more and more to New Mexico lands, it is quite natural that unscrupulous promoters seek to benefit by this movement and inaugurate land schemes, that, to say the least, are questionable. Some of these projects are obviously swindles, while others are based upon misrepresentations so cleverly worded as to make it difficult to prove their true nature. In Colorado, just at present, the Rocky Mountain News is exposing and is making a crusade upon the methods of land sharks, who although they control or own the lands they seek to sell, dispose of them through glowing descriptions of their fertility and availability for farms and through lottery schemes. The recent exposure through the territorial officials, are even worse, for in the New Mexico cases, the promoters did not at all own or control the lands in question; they tried to sell what was not their own; disposed of water rights they did not possess and engaged in barefaced swindling and gambling upon New Mexico's fame, methods which are certain to react upon the Territory, for the man who comes to New Mexico expecting to find a paradise ready for him at $3.00 an acre and is disappointed, will not so much blame the promoter as the country and its people, and when he returns home, he will assiduously "knock" New Mexico as a matter of course. It is well, therefore that Governor Curry, Land Commissioner R. P. Ervén, Immigration Secretary H. B. Henning are after the promoters of that kind with a sharp stick. New Mexico does not want immigration that is drawn hither by misrepresentation.

It is rather a reflection on the patriotism of the people of the United States, that Memorial Day has been proclaimed as Automobile Day, on which automobile owners are expected to engage in races or participate in long distance drives in droves. As Automobile Day, May 30, ought to prove a flat failure, for the day should be kept sacred to the old soldiers who in time of desperate National need offered their blood and lives so that the automobile owners of today might enjoy the blessings of liberty and prosperity. There are 364 days in the year besides Memorial Day, on which automobile races and tours will be more appropriate and more seemly.

TEN "DEMANDMENTS" FOR EMPLOYEES.

Some of our biggest business ideas come out of Chicago. A big business man there has drawn up a list of rules which he calls the Ten Demandments, and posted them over his establishment. Here they are:

Rule I.—Don't lie—it wastes my time and yours. I'm sure to catch you in the end, and that's the wrong end.

Rule II.—Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes my face long.

Rule III.—Give me more than I expect and I'll pay you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

Rule IV.—You owe so much to yourself that you can't afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shops.

Rule V.—Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, can't see temptation when they meet it.

Rule VI.—Mind your own business and in time you'll have a business of your own to mind.

Rule VII.—Don't do anything here which hurts your self-respect. The employee who is willing to steal for me is capable of stealing from me.

Rule VIII.—It's none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do the next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

Rule IX.—Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet to my vanity, but I need one for my dollars.

Rule X.—Don't kick if I kick—if you're worth while correcting you're worth while keeping. I don't waste time cutting specks out of rotten apples.

The resumption of work in the Bro-mide District in Rio Arriba county is of some importance to the commercial interests of Santa Fe. There are quite a number of very promising mining districts tributary to this town, more perhaps and richer than the districts tributary to any other place in New Mexico, not excepting Silver City. However, the mines and prospects in most cases are only partially developed, in fact, scarcely developed at all. There is no doubt, that with time, the mines of Taos, Rio Arriba, Santa Fe and Sandoval counties will produce as much mineral wealth each year as does the entire Territory today. Santa Fe should be the trade center for all these counties, should be the supply point where mining machinery and material are bought and where supplies are produced and from where they are shipped to the various mining camps. Within twenty years, the business from the tributary mines alone should support a good-sized city.

There is a warning to county collectors and treasurers in the brief opinion of Attorney General Frank W. Clancy published in yesterday's New Mexican. Collectors and treasurers are not entitled to a commission on all moneys passing through their hands even though they are responsible for them, and give bond for the safekeeping of the entire amount. The law has clearly defined that county collectors and treasurers are to receive commissions only upon "all moneys for taxes and licenses collected or received by them." The moneys received by the counties as their portion, therefore, of the forest income are derived neither from taxes nor licenses levied by the Territory, and collectors and treasurers are not entitled to any commission on such moneys. However, in most cases, the amount received from that source is so small, that few collectors or treasurers will feel any hardship for handling the money and keeping it safe without being paid therefor.

How the Democracy is dwindling in New Mexico can be gauged from the following item in the news columns of the Las Vegas Daily Optic, which records only one instance of scores that could be quoted and which show that the Democratic party is dying rapidly in many of the Spanish speaking counties:

"At a meeting held in Upper Las Vegas, Saturday evening, the last vestige of Democracy in that locality was wiped out. It is said that there are not enough members of the party left to hold a decent wake over the political corpse. Among those from the city who were present were Col. Sec. Romero, County Clerk Delgado, County Commissioner Martinez and Fidel Ortiz. Speechmaking and lunch and other refreshments were served and practically all the Democrats in the village declared their intention of training hereafter with the G. O. P. among them being Melecio Gallegos, Ramon Ortiz, Pedro Archibeque, Serrano, Alderete and Luis Alderete."

John Hays Hammond, not unknown in New Mexico, for he is interested in mines at Lake Valley, Sierra county, prefers staying in the bosom of his family to shining at the court of the Emperor of China as ambassador from the United States. John Hays Hammond, as becomes a good Scotchman, is unusually canny and can not be lured by high sounding title and the glitter and tinsel of an ambassadorship from the peace and quiet of his hearth. Happy John Hays Hammond; he needs neither money nor political honors to make him content, for he possesses the former in abundance and the latter evidently have no charm for him.

Commitment for contempt of court is growing fashionable in New Mexico, almost as fashionable as damage suits for libel. Within the past two weeks, Judge W. H. Pope, Judge E. A. Mann and Judge I. A. Abbott have found it necessary to throw offenders against the dignity of the court into jail. Respect for judicial tribunals must be maintained, for if there is not respect for the courts there can be no respect for the law.

The Swine or the Flower?

Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty, wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred, whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye; Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!" I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first One glistening mass of roses pure and white, With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed; And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight, The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene, Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTON!"

INVESTIGATION OF RECLAMATION PROJECT

Questions Asked By the Senatorial Committee Which Will Visit New Mexico, Oct. 26.

On March 3d, 1909, the Senate adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Committee on Irrigation be, and it is hereby, authorized and directed, by subcommittee or otherwise, to visit, during the recess of the Senate, such reclamation works of the United States Reclamation Service as in the committee's judgment should be examined, in order to ascertain existing conditions therewith connected and secure information deemed useful in the consideration of future proposed legislation affecting the reclamation of arid lands. And the committee is further authorized to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, to employ a stenographer, and to have such printing done as the committee may require; the expenses incurred to be paid out of the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers to be approved by the committee to audit and control the contingent expenses of the Senate."

In obedience to the direction contained in the resolution the committee will visit your project shortly after the first of September next, and in due season you will be advised of the exact day and hour of arrival.

In the judgment of the committee the views of the members of each Water Users' Association should be secured and carefully considered in order to ascertain existing conditions from their point of view. The water users are vitally interested in all legislation which may directly or indirectly affect the reclamation work and to them the committee will look for a full and free expression of their deliberate opinions on the existing laws, the administration thereof, and the suggestion of such amendments to the law as may be deemed useful.

Owing to the large number of projects to be visited and the limited time at the disposal of the committee it will not be possible to examine or accord a hearing to all members of respective Water Users' Associations, but at the same time it is very desirable that the judgment of all, as expressed through the majority, should be ascertained.

For the purpose of economizing time in securing the desired expressions I respectfully request that the water users be assembled in a public meeting or a series of meetings to discuss such matters as they desire to present to the committee and that their views be formulated in a concise statement in writing, the same to be presented by a committee of their members who will be prepared to answer such questions as the Senate committee may think proper to ask in regard to the written statements or any other matter relating to your project.

As indicating questions deemed important, but not seeking to limit the range of information you may think proper to present I submit the following interrogations:

First—Is the existing reclamation law satisfactory and if not in what respect should it be amended?

Second—Are your local laws governing the appropriation and use of water for irrigation satisfactory in their application to lands being reclaimed by the government or through private enterprise, and if not what amendments are required?

Third—Is the administration of the law by the reclamation service satisfactory, and if not what are the objections and what remedy is proposed?

Fourth—Is your water supply adequate both for irrigation and domestic uses?

Fifth—Where your towns have been laid out by the Reclamation Service how do you provide for the improvement of streets adjacent to lots owned by the government, and how do you provide a municipal water supply?

Sixth—Is your canal and distributing system satisfactory, and if not what are the defects, what caused them, and what remedy is proposed?

Seventh—Can the cost of maintaining and operating the canal and distributing system be reduced, and if so, in what way and to what extent?

Eighth—Can the water users by employing reasonable industry and economy promptly make all payments required by the existing law?

Ninth—What additional terms and conditions, if any, should be imposed on those who default in payment?

Tenth—What are your principal crops, where do you market them and what, if any, organized effort is being made to put your crops into the market under the most favorable conditions?

Eleventh—What are your present transportation facilities and are they adequate and satisfactory?

Twelfth—What is the reasonable present average value per acre of land in your project, exclusive of water right, the value being computed on the basis of productive capacity, interest being computed at 6 per cent per annum, and what was the value thereof, exclusive of water right, prior to the construction of the reclamation works?

Thirteenth—Are non-irrigable public lands available for pasture contiguous to or in the vicinity of your project, and if so, to what extent and under what conditions are the same now available for the stock owned by water users?

Fourteenth—What suggestions have you to offer for legislation to make public pasture lands in the vicinity of your project available for the use of those cultivating the irrigated lands?

Fifteenth—Is the farm unit of your project, as established by the Secretary of the Interior, satisfactory, and if not would the objection be removed by the addition of pasturage rights as suggested by the foregoing question?

In answering the foregoing it is desirable that you take into consideration the cost of wages incident to the cultivation of a larger tract and the increased expense connected with the initial cost and the cost of improvements.

Sixteenth—What is your source of supply for fuel and building materials and the average cost thereof?

Seventeenth—To what extent have you been aided in your farming operations by information acquired from the work of agricultural experiment stations, and demonstration farms established on the irrigation projects?

Eighteenth—What are your school facilities and how are school funds provided?

Nineteenth—How, in your opinion, can Congress best promote the general welfare of the water users and carry out the purposes of the Reclamation act?

Your experience will suggest other points upon which you desire to inform the committee, and you will therefore feel at perfect liberty to go beyond the scope of the questions stated. The committee earnestly desires to become thoroughly informed on all facts and circumstances connected with each project and will welcome information on any phase of the question under consideration.

Very respectfully yours,
THOS. H. CARTER,
Chairman.

SPOKANE NOVELTY IN WEDDING

Mystery Surrounds Preparations for Marriage of Prominent Suffragette.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—Beautiful, accomplished, vivacious and wealthy are a few of the adjectives employed to describe the young bride, while "tall and handsome, rich, and as a consequence, influential, brilliant and an ardent devotee to the cause" give an inkling of the qualifications of the bridegroom, who are to be married in the drawing room of a parlor car attached to the special train, in which advocates of equal rights will journey across the state of Washington on June 29.

Neither Mrs. Emma Smith De Voe, president of the Equal Suffrage Association of Washington, nor Mrs. Mary Arkwright Hutton, head of the Spokane Suffrage Club, will disclose the identity of the hero or heroine of the romance until the train pulls out of the Spokane station at 2:30 o'clock the morning of June 29, on the way to Seattle, where the National American Woman Suffrage Association will have its convention, July 1 to 7. Mrs. Hutton said:

"The names of the couple will remain a secret until it is time to show to the world that, instead of alienating women from the fireside, the suffrage movement tends toward the creation of home ties. However, the bride's name is known to many in the Northwest and the bridegroom is a man of much influence."

The train, the first of its kind run under the direction of suffragettes, will have among its passengers Rev. Anna Shaw, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance; Dorothy Dix, Professor Frances Squire Potter, Sarah Platt Decker, Lucy Anthony, Charlotte Perkins Gilman and other women of note, including fraternal delegates from Europe. There will also be delegates from every state in the union. A feature of the trip across the state will be speeches from the rear end of the train at Pasco, North Yakima, Ellensburg and Tacoma.

CITY WORK AT REASONABLE FIGURES

City Superintendent Gives Labor Unions Chance to Bid on Municipal Projects.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—Thomas Malony, formerly business agent of Federal Union No. 11,624, just chosen superintendent of co-operative construction in Spokane, has solved the problem of doing city work at reasonable prices and providing the highest wages for laboring men by having the organization become a bidder for street grading and sewer building.

The union did $60,000 worth of work last year to the satisfaction of property owners and is in line for more than $100,000 this season. By this plan the laboring men do all the work from digging the trenches to laying pipe and macadam and divide the profits, thus averaging more than $3 a day for laborers, as against $2.75 a day, the city scale, while skilled workmen receive from 25 to 50 cents a day more than the regular scale. The plan was encouraged by Mayor Moore last year and is now commended by Mayor Pratt and members of the council. It is also endorsed by every union organization in Spokane. Federal Union has abolished the office of business agent for six months, as all its members are employed on city work.

The Most Common Cause of Suffering.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain, which is at first temporary, has become permanent, while in old people subject to chronic rheumatism, often brought on by dampness or changes in the weather, a permanent cure cannot be expected; the relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by all druggists.

SHORTHAND NOTES ARE UPHOLD

New Mexico Legislative Assembly Passed Law Permitting Them in Future.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—J. Stanley Webster of the Spokane county superior court, has given an opinion in which he upholds the right of Fred C. Pugh, prosecuting attorney of Spokane county, to use shorthand notes of testimony given before the grand jury in the preparation of the cases against Merritt J. Gordon, formerly counsel for the Great Northern Railway company, who was at one time chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Washington.

Gordon was recently indicted on numerous counts, charged with the embezzlement of $60,000 of the railway company's funds. His counsel made a blanket attack on the indictments, the methods of procuring the testimony, and finally upon the right of Pugh to make use of the stenographic notes of the testimony. Judge Webster held that "an objection against shorthand notes is an objection against truth; it is a running away, a seeking cover. No rights have been evaded by the taking and using of these notes, and, consequently, the court shall uphold Mr. Pugh."

WAR TO KNIFE ON CIGARETTE

Washington Will Imprison and Fine Manufacturers as Well as Consumers of Coffin Nails.

Spokane, Wash., May 25.—There is a big surprise for the consumers of "brain capsules" as well as the manufacturers and handlers of cigarettes in the new state criminal code, which will become effective on June 12. One paragraph says that "every person who shall manufacture, sell, give away or distribute or have in his possession any cigarettes, cigarette papers, or cigarette wrappers, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor," punishable by a fine of $250 or imprisonment for 90 days in the county jail. Lawyers in Spokane, with a regard for the fine points of the law, declare that smoking a cigarette is prima facie evidence that the smoker is a lawbreaker, while others say the law is even more sweeping, holding that conviction may follow proof of possession of "the makings." Dealers predict that the new law will meet the same fate that befell the anti-cigarette regulation to prohibit the sale of cigarettes and papers, which was declared to be unconstitutional by the Spokane county superior court. Meantime, the traffic continues under cover.

AIDS TO BEAUTY
New Code of Washington Makes it Criminal to Use Rouge, Powder, or Bleach.
Spokane, Wash., May 25.—"There's a bunch of trouble ahead for those who employ artificial aids to beauty, if the present interpretation to the Washington criminal code, effective
June 12, holds good in court," said L.
Charles Rich, an attache at the Spokane county court house, in discussion the recently enacted law, adding:
"Practitioners of long experience consider that the new regulations are as strict as anything that was enforced in the days of the Blue laws, so far as they apply to the use of paints, powder and enamel by women. Why, it is actually unlawful for a trio or more of them, if powdered or painted, to gather at pink tea. Listen to this, an extract from the code: 'Any assemblage of three or more persons, disguised by having their faces painted, discolored, colored or concealed, shall be unlawful.' Lawyers tell me that the use of rouge or any of the other liquid preparations, or face veneer, is a disguise under this section. How about it?"Resolution passed by City Council May 10, 1909.
The act entitled: An Act relating to crossing of Garfield avenue, and the alley between said Garfield avenue and Montezuma avenue, and which ordinance has already been published, was read a second and third time by title preparatory to its passage and duly passed, and ordered to be published.FACUNDO ORTIZ,

Levi Grant Monroe, secretary of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, announced a few days ago there are 2-000 well-to-do young bachelors, who are candidates for hymeneal bliss, in the Inland Empire, in responding to an inquiry from the Halsted Street Institutional church of Chicago, and let down the bars to all eligible young women, he figured without his host.
"There are not enough candidates in the entire Northwest to accommodate those seeking husbands," he said. "If there are, I shall be glad to hear from them at once." His desk is stacked high with letters from working girls and widows, spinsters and others of various ages, who say they "never had a chance." Thirty-six states and three provinces in Eastern Canada have been heard from to date, the farthest east being a town on the coast of Maine. There are also scores of letters from Boston, Springfield, Augusta, Portland, Worcester, Burlington, Manchester and other cities in New England, but the majority are from Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan,
New York and Missouri, with a sprink-came from Washington, D. C., and there are some from Montana, the Da-

RED SKINSSpirit of Chief Oliver Lott Has Winged
Its Flight to Happy Hunting Ground.Spokane, Wash., May 25.—When the spirit of Oliver Lott, chief of the Spokane Indians on the reservation at Miles, Washington, northwest of here, winged its way to "the happy hunting ground," a few days ago, the remnant of the once powerful tribe lost its best friend and counselor.
Chief Lott is credited by Captain John McA. Webster, Indian agent on the reserve, with having done more to better the condition of the Indians than the most diplomatic white man that ever lived. Possessed of a keen perception of his fellows' needs and a zealous desire to aid them, he fought their battles more than a dozen years, before and after the death of his father, a warrior chieftain, using diplomacy, of which the Indian knows the least. Immediately following his elevation to the chieftainship, four years ago, he sought to make the Indians adopt the ways of the white man and his efforts were highly successful in numerous instances. Lott lost his life by drowning in a shallow pool, being stricken by heart disease while getting a drink of water in Sheep creek. Following a brief period of mourning the tribe will elect a chief as successor to Lott.BASEBALL.
