JUDGE COOLEY IS CONFIRMED

Tariff on Lemons is Increased Ma- terially

SENATORS MAKE SOUR FACES

Did Not Relish Holding a Business Session on Memorial Day.

Special to the New Mexican.
Washington, D. C., May 31.—The Senate in executive session and upon favorable report of the committee on judiciary today confirmed the nomination of Alford W. Cooley to be an associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico.

Senator Elkins of West Virginia, on behalf of the independent oil producers insists upon a duty of two cents a gallon on crude oil.

Tariff on Lemons Increased.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—Senator Flint spoke on the tariff on lemons this morning, when the Senators with sour looks entered the chamber, compelled to act on a legal holiday. Flint proceeded to defend the amendment which proposes to increase the duty on lemons to one and a cents a pound. He declared that without competition with the California growers on the New York market, the price of lemons would increase. He said the small duty amounted to about one cent a dozen and said without this small duty, the lemon industry in California would be wiped out. Senator Root declared against an increase, saying that the lemon growers of California already are making 100 per cent and a further increase of the tariff would increase their earnings. He showed statistics indicating a profit of $530 an acre with expenditures amounting to $370. Flint met the statement of profits by saying that lemon growers have made only 4 per cent of the business. Perkins declared that if the Senators could have seen the barren wastes of California in the early days they would grant an increase upon seeing the fruitful valleys of the present. The amendment was put to a vote and carried. Gore said he believed there is a banana trust in this country and offered an amendment placing a duty of six cents a bunch on bananas.

Prehistoric Relics at Denver.

Washington, May 31.—Mrs. Virginia McClure president of the Mesa Verde National Park Association, has requested the director of the Smithsonian institution to permit relics from the park to be stored in the Capitol building at Denver until a permanent building for their preservation is erected in the park.

Masonic Lodge of Americans in London.

Washington, May 31.—President Taft has been informed that the English grand lodge of Masons had granted a dispensation for the organization of a Blue lodge of Masons at London, England, to be composed entirely of Americans. The dispensation was granted by the Duke of Connaught, grand master of the grand lodge of England. The duke and President Taft will be made the first honorary members of the lodge, which will be instituted in June.

Taft Was Disgusted.

Washington, D. C., May 31.—President Taft, accompanied by Captain Butt, his military aide, and another friend, sat through one act of a new play written by Charles Richman, entitled "The Revelers" in which the author fills the leading role, at the Belasco theatre.

At the conclusion of the act the presidential party left the box and did not return. It was said today that the open manner in which a phase of life along the great white way was exploited, disgusted the president and his precipitous exit, after planning an evening of enjoyment, was intended to express his resentment over the staging of the plays of this character.

Manager Marbury of the Shuberts, when seen with regard to the incident, said perhaps the president had been "a bit shocked."

"Is the play racy?" he was asked. "Well," he replied, "it's a little foxy, perhaps too foxy to suit the president."

MRS. WILLIAM E. ANNIS MAKES HER DEBUT

New York, May 31.—The debut in vaudeville of Mrs. William E. Annis, widow of the man shot and killed by Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., was made last night. She was well received and said she had been compelled to make her own livelihood and chose the stage.

FAST FRIENDSHIP ASSURED

Former Vice-President Com- pletes First Lap of Tour.

Tokio, May 31.—Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, and his wife, were received by the Emperor this morning. They were presented by Ambassador O'Brien and later "tiffed" at the Palace. The Emperor said he wished Fairbanks to carry back the best wishes of the Japanese to the United States and assured continued friendship.

ZEPPELIN MAKES MARVELOUS FLIGHT

Traveled 851 Miles in a Day and a Half—Has Slight Accident Upon Landing.

Goettingen, Germany, May 31.—Zeppelin's airship after traveling 850 miles in 37 hours will return to Friedrichshafen tomorrow without going to Berlin as first contemplated. While maneuvering in the open field near here, the envelope of the pointed bow came in contact with a tree and a small accident resulted. The count decided to wait to make repairs before proceeding, though the accident was slight. The count explained he didn't go to Berlin because of the loss of gas and considered it wiser to return home.

BLIND ORGANIST BISCHOFF DEAD

Washington, May 31.—Dr. John W. Bischoff, the blind organist of Washington, who lost his sight when two years of age, died early today.

For the past thirty-five years Dr. Bischoff has been the organist of the First Congregational church and was considered one of the greatest composers and organists of this country, among his compositions being "Good Night," "Sweet Dreams," "Unanswered" and "Bob O'Link."

MAIL TRAIN FROM EAST WRECKED

Topeka Kans., May 31.—Santa Fe passenger train No. 9, west bound, was wrecked at Peabody this morning and P. C. Thompson, postal clerk of Kansas City, was killed. The wreck was caused by a freight wreck on the east bound track. Considerable mail for New Mexico and Colorado from the east was destroyed or damaged.

PANIC WAS SEN- TIMENT DISASTER

E. H. Harriman Blames Judge Lan- dis for It

PREDICTS A WORSE FRIGHT

The Railroad King Appears Pessimistic on Eve of European Trip.

New York, May 31.—E. H. Harriman, on his eve of departure for Europe gave an interview today in which he said the decision of Judge Landis in finding the Standard Oil Company $29,000,000 was the direct cause of the panic of 1907.

"I know what I am talking about," he said, "I went through it all. It was a panic, a sentiment-disaster, caused by something which didn't happen. It frightened people into withdrawing money from circulation. The next panic will be more serious because it will be due to a shrinkage of business. We are on a saner basis than in 1907, but people keep going up higher each time and eventually the fall will be harder." He said the lasting prosperity of this country depends on its crops and said the tariff legislation doesn't amount to anything.

Wending Their Way to the National Cemetery Where Elaborate Memorial Exercises Are Carried Out With Great Solemnity.

Today the nation mourns her dead and throughout the length and breadth of the land, solemn pageants wend their ways to the various cemeteries, flower laden, to decorate the graves of those who fell in battle for their country's sake. The day in Santa Fe is being well observed. The Capitol building, the Federal building, the postoffice, the banks and most of the business houses have closed their doors, while the national colors adorn the fronts of the business blocks. This afternoon at two thirty the great Memorial Day procession formed on Lincoln avenue and after parading the city's principal streets proceeded to the National Cemetery where a program of unusual elaborateness was observed. The pageant headed by Chief Marshal Fred Muller assisted by a large staff of aides presented a noteworthy picture as it passed along its route. The order of the procession was as follows:

Hon. A. L. Morrison, orator of day. Citizens on foot.

UNVEILING OF LINCOLN STATUE

Tribute Paid to the Martyred Pre- sident

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Noteworthy Celebration in Quaint Old Kentucky Town.

Hogenville, Ky., May 31.—In this quaint little town, a statue of Lincoln was unveiled today. Mrs. Ben Hardin Helm, a close relative of Mrs. Lincoln, pulled the cord that released the drapery and disclosed the martyred President sitting in a chair and bearing the old careworn, kindly expression known all over the world. Special trains brought many from outside points.

Taft at Gettysburg.

Gettysburg, May 31.—The memory of the regularly enlisted men of the United States Army who fought in the Gettysburg campaign of 1863 was perpetuated today when a monument erected by an Act of Congress was unveiled in the presence of President Taft. The great shaft is one of the most conspicuous on the field and stands close to the "Bloody Angle" where the hottest action occurred. A great crowd met Taft who arrived after an all night ride from Pittsburgh. The President delivered an oration and immediately afterwards Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the President, unveiled the monument. Following the ceremonies, the President reviewed the troops. Miss Taft and other members of the Presidential party were the guests of Miss Lomax, daughter of General Lomax, the Confederate member of the Gettysburg National Park Commission.

The monument to commemorate the services of the regular army unveiled today is situated on Hancock avenue, a little south of the "Bloody Angle" where Pickett's men struck the Union line with such fearful results, to the invading army. The shaft is 85 feet high from the ground and is made of light granite from Ayr, North Carolina. On each side of the obelisk is a large bronze panel carrying a legend concerning the soldiers who fought and fell.

The President's Address.
Gettysburg, May 31.—President Taft spoke as follows:

"We are gathered on this historic spot to dedicate a monument to the memory of the officers and enlisted men who gave their lives for their country in the three days' battle. It is a tardy recognition of the nation's debt to these brave defenders whose allegiance was purely to the nation without local color or strengthening of local pride. The idea of the danger of a standing army entertained by our ancestors is seen in the constitutional restrictions and complaints registered in the Declaration of Independence. It always has been easy to awaken prejudice against possible aggressions of the regular army and professional soldiery. This has led to a varied and a changeable policy in respect to the regular army.

"To the little army of 25,000 men that survived the Civil War we owe the opening up of the entire western country. The hardships and trials of the frontier campaigns have never been recognized by our people and the bravery and economy of force compared with the task performed never has been adequately commemorated by Congress. As a result of the Spanish War together with a sense of our importance as a world power, has led to an increase in the army and it should not be reduced. The profession of arms always has been an honorable one. The general plan of the American people, if it can be said that there is a plan, is to have a skeleton of an army which can be turned into an army twenty times the size in times of necessity. With my intimate knowledge of the regular army, I have come here to testify the pride which the nation should have in the regular army and dedicate this movement to the predecessors of the present army on the field, on which they won undying glory and the perpetual gratitude from the nation they saved.

Hollingsworth Gets in Lick.

The principal exercises are at Arlington cemetery under the auspices of the G. A. R. Every grave was marked with an American flag. Representative Hollingsworth of Ohio, at the Soldiers' Home National cemetery, referred to the placing of the head of Jefferson Davis on the silver service presented

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.
By the flow of the inland river,
Whence the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave-grass
quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the dead.
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Under the one the Blue;
Under the other, the Gray.
These, in the robings of glory,
Those in the gloom of defeat,
All, with the battle blood gory,
In the dusk of Eternity meet—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Under the laurel, the Blue;
Under the willow, the Gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours
The desolate mourners go,
Lovingly laden with flowers,
Alike for the friend and the foe.
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Under the roses, the Blue;
Under the lilies, the Gray.

So with an equal splendor,
The morning sun-rays fall,
With a touch impartially tender,
On the blossoms blooming for all—
Under the sod and dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Broidered with gold, the Blue;
Mellowed with gold, the Gray.

So, when the summer calleth
On forest and field of grain,
With an equal murmur falleth
The cooling drip of the rain—
Under the sod and dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Wet with the rain, the Blue;
Wet with the rain, the Gray.

Sadly, but not with upbraiding,
The generous deed was done;
In the storms of the years that are fading
No braver battle was won—
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Under the blossoms, the Blue;
Under the garlands, the Gray.

No more shall the war-cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves our dead!
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Love and tears for the Blue;
Tears and love for the Gray.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I firmly cure all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

HELPFUL WORDS.

From a Santa Fe Citizen.
Is your back lame and painful?
Does it ache especially after exertion?

Is there a soreness in the kidney region?
These symptoms indicate weak kidneys:

There is danger in delay. Weak kidneys fast get weaker. Give your trouble prompt attention. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. They strengthen weak kidneys. Read this Santa Fe testimony.

Pasquale Yanni, College street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "Some four years ago I gave a public testimonial telling of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. I then stated that this remedy, which I procured at Stripling & Burrow's drug store had positively relieved me of pain in the back which had troubled me to quite an extent. My trouble was aggravated by my sitting at the bench and being in a stooped position, for at such times my back was especially painful. The claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills were positively carried out in my case, for not only did they give strength and tone to my kidneys, thus freeing me from backache, but they effected a cure that has been permanent up to date."

swered the last roll-call of the Lord, they will not have left their equals behind them, for they were the intrepid heroes who;

"Heard and answered Lincoln's call, above the battle's roar, We're coming Father Abraham, five hundred thousand more."

From that ever memorial night of April 19, 1775, when the Yankee farmer fired the shot that was heard round the world and drove Percy's redcoats pell mell into Boston, until now, the United States has been engaged in six wars (without counting the Indian troubles) in all of which we came out victorious—but only three of these wars were actually necessary for the establishment and preservation of the republic. First in point of time and importance was the war of the Revolution—then came the war of 1812, which the great Blaine aptly called the second war of Independence, for up to that time England had cherished the idea, that she would yet recover her revolution colonies, and it became necessary to drive her mercenaries once more into the sea to prove that her time of domination in America had passed away for ever. Then came the greatest Civil war that ever shook the world. Since then an entire generation has passed from earth; and it will not be deemed inappropriate to keep before the mind of the present generation some idea of the magnitude of the war that desolated the land for four awful years; not for the unworthy purpose of keeping alive hatred of our Southern brethren, God forbid, but to show the magnificent sacrifices that were made to preserve our glorious Union for them and us, and here are a few official figures that will throw some light on the subject:

The total number of men furnished by the states and territories was 2,859,132. Of these New Mexico furnished 6,561.

As this Territory was only about 12 years under our flag at the time, this was exceedingly creditable to its people, and it is still more creditable, when we know that this number was 2,501 more than Nevada, Oregon and North and South Dakota combined; it may not be generally known, but it is a fact that New Mexico gave 1558 more men than Colorado, and 3404 more than Nebraska; and yet all six of those, then, territories, are now states in the Union, and New Mexico is still knocking for admittance. I wonder if Mr. Beveridge is cognizant of these facts; and if so is his hatred of the Spanish-speaking citizens due to their having been more loyal to the government, than any other territory then organized? Please pardon this digression; and now to return. During the entire war there was over 2,200 battles and skirmishes fought, and the number of deaths from wounds and other causes were 304,369. How easy it is to read of that awful loss of life, but God only knows the pains, the anguish, the torture and weakness that accompanied that destruction of humanity. One thing, however, we do know and that is that there must have been an equal number of desolate homes in which the loved ones would never appear again. Oh, God pity the heart-broken wives and mothers, the aged, mourning fathers and helpless little orphans, whose hitherto happy lives were blighted and saddened by unavailing sorrow. How many brave men returned maimed and crippled for life we have no means of knowing, but there must have been at least as many more as those enumerated among the dead. Well might the immortal Sherman say that war is hell, and it is while it lasts. Thank God it comes so seldom. This is only a glance at our side of the horrors of the dreadful internecine strife; there is the other side and it was still more dreadful than ours. In the North with one or two exceptions, none of the battles were fought, there were no armies marching at will through our homes; we knew nothing of the devastation which always accompanies the passage of armies through a country even when they are under the strictest discipline. We never saw homes burned, fields devastated, cattle driven away from starving people, and the country laid waste. But the Southern people saw and suffered them all. Then, when the war was over the survivors of our Union armies returned home—they were received with open arms, joyful ringing of bells, triumphant processions, and thus they were welcomed back to a prosperous country—found occupation at their old-time avocations, and in a short time—a stranger passing through the land, could hardly believe that we had just emerged from a tremendous war, that had taxed our resources to the utmost limit. But, Oh my friends how different were the conditions on the other side. The unhappy remnants of the "lost cause," straggled South, foot-sore, hungry, ragged, defeated and disheartened; and when they reached, what had been, formerly their happy homes nothing but ruin and desolation met their sad eyes, no cheering crowds hailed their approach, with jubilant applause—gloom like a funeral pall enveloped the entire land. No doubt many of them envied their comrades who were sleeping their last sleep on the bloody battlefields. How the poor souls managed to exist, God only knows; but they did exist, in some manner, and their children exist today, and thank God enjoy all the liberties, rights and privileges their heroic fathers fought for; side by side with their Northern brethren. The victor can always afford to be magnanimous, so now instead of brooding over the battles of the Civil war, let us extend our gaze beyond them, and contemplate with patriotic ardor, the glorious fields of Long Island, Saratoga, Monmouth, Ninety-Six, South Mountain and the last magnificent closing scene of the Revolution at Yorktown. Or draw inspiration from (the only really respectable land battle of 1812) ever memorable New Orleans; where grim Old Hickory, with about 4,000 men, composed mainly of Tennessee and Kentucky riflemen, defeated 10,000 of the very elite of the British army, killing and wounding over 2,000 men in about 20 minutes, with a total loss on our side of 6 or 7 men all told. This battle was fought almost exclusively by Southern men, and their countrymen all over the land hail the superb victory as their achievement. Then it is the simple truth, that the greatest man of American birth, was a Virginian and every mind in this audience turns instinctively to one name above all others—be it of whom the great Byron says:

"Where may the wearied eye repose,
When gazing on the great;
Where neither gully glory glows,
Nor despicable state?"

Yes—one—the first—the last—the best—

The Cincinnati of the West,
Whom envy dared not hate
Bequeath the name of Washington,
To make man blush there was but one."

Now let "the dead past bury its dead," and let us turn our eyes to the future which is luminous with hope. If ever again we are engaged in a foreign war, the sons of America, from the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande, and from Passamaquoddy Head to the Golden Gate, will march to victory under the glorious old banner of stars, the only national flag on earth really worth fighting and dying for. Hall unconquerable flag, here in the holy presence of our mighty dead, we pledge thee anew our allegiance in life and in death.

"Flag of the brave! Thy folds shall fly,
The sign of hope and triumph high,
When speaks the signal trumpet tone,
And the long line comes gleaming on;
Ere yet the life blood, warm and wet
Has dimmed the glistening bayonet,
Each soldier's eye shall brightly turn
To where thy meteor glories burn.
And, as his springing steps advance,
Catch war and vengeance from the glance,
And when the cannon's mouthings loud
Heave in wild wreaths the battle shroud,
And gory sabres rise and fall
Like shoots of flame on midnight's pall,
There shall thy meteor glances glow
And covering foes shall sink beneath
Each gallant arm that strikes below
That lovely messenger of death.
Flag of the seas! On ocean wave
Thy stars shall glitter o'er the brave;
When death careering on the gale,
Sweeps darkly round the belled sail,
And frightened waves rush wildly back
Before the broadside's reeling rack;
Each dying wanderer of the sea
Shall look at once to heaven and thee,
And smile to see thy splendors fly
In triumph o'er his closing eye.
Flag of the Free heart's hope and home,
By Angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all they hues were born in Heaven,
Forever float that Standard Sheet!
Where breaths the foe but falls before us;
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's Banner streaming o'er us."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

ST. MICHAEL'S GOLDEN JUBILEE.

The Golden Jubilee of St. Michael's College is attracting attention all over the Southwest and Santa Fe should spruce up for the occasion for there is a large host coming from every town and from many villages throughout the Southwest to do honor to their alma mater. Says the Roswell Register-Tribune:

"There have been many historic celebrations held in this grand old Territory of ours, but few have been announced that have attracted such deep and general attention as the Golden Jubilee of St. Michael's College at Santa Fe, which was founded by the Christian Brothers, monks of the church of Rome, fifty years ago. This was a wild country then, and its development was at first slow. It has never been meteoric. But it has made history in that half century, and dozens of the graduates of this fine old school have helped to make it. You find them in every walk in life all over the Southwest today, doing their part in making the slope great, and living a rebuke to such bigots as that I spanked a bit a letter or two ago. The college is simply a part of the magnificent system of the Roman church in New Mexico, but its value to the general civilization can not be estimated. Remembering these things it is but natural that the alumni of this great school should take a keen interest in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the school, which will occur on the 19th, 20th and 21st of June. Santa Fe will carry out an elaborate program of entertainment, and the ceremonies will be taken part in by practically every worth while man at the Capital, who form a regular Duke's Mixture when it comes to religion, but are patriots all. Governor Curry, who has no religion except a soldier's adaptation of the Golden Rule, will welcome the boys, some of them now great grandfathers and men of affairs. Mayor Jose D. Sena, a son of the school, will turn the city over to them. The marked religious program will be led by Archbishop Pitaval himself, and during three days there will be a recurring round of events to ennoble the anniversary. New Mexico may well open its heart wide to the paeon of the golden jubilee of the great school which stands today as one of the grandest monuments we have to the consecrated lives of the Christian Brothers, who through the decades have made Christian Brothers sure enough out of thousands, and who are today more powerful for good than at any time in their eventful yet peaceful history, which has continued through wars and revolutions, the surge of years and the strivings of men. Of truth it will be an anniversary of New Mexico as well as of St. Michael's College that day." All of which is very true, except that Governor Curry, too, is a son of the great church, which reared Saint Michael's College.

THE LOCAL OPTION BATTLE.

A sidelight upon the local option battle at Santa Fe comes from the outside. Says the Roswell Register-Tribune:

"That local option fight over at Santa Fe is assuming national proportions. The beginning of the scrap was when the Women's Christian Temperance Union secured the passage of an ordinance by the Santa Fe city council, giving the saloons a time limit of December 31 to get out of business. The booze men contended that the people did not want the drink dispensaries closed, and sought to have the ordinance repealed. The city council then called an election to let the people vote on the matter. The saloon men, backed up by the Albuquerque 'Personal Liberty League' sought aid of Attorney General Clancy and Governor Curry by the injunction route, their contention then being that the council had no right to use city funds for defraying the expenses of the election. The W. C. T. U. saw their bluff and also raised the bet by promptly putting up the funds to pay for the election, showing at the same time that the city had no funds, and that it was an act of charity to both the liquor interests and the city to thus provide the sinews of war. It is reported on good authority that the Governor informed the 'Personal' etc., people that under the circumstances, he would not only not interfere with the election called, but would vote for the closing of the dampness joints. He promised, however, to not use his influence either way in the matter. If the drys win, it will set a rather hard precedent for the whisky men to overcome, for the drys having paid for the election, the wets will have to come along with a similar price before a reconsideration can be ordered. The New Mexican, the W. C. T. U., R. L. Baca, speaker of the 37th Assembly, Manuel R. Otero, receiver of the Santa Fe land office, Hon. Ben Read and many prominent citizens of the capital city are lined up on the side of temperance, and it looks so serious for the wets that they are seeking international intervention."

MEMORIAL DAY.

In the history of nations there never was another war like the conflict between the North and the South and God forbid that there should be ever another one. History is merely beginning to make a well-balanced estimate of its importance, of its tremendous sacrifices, of the heroic nature of the struggle. While to the survivor there remains a vivid remembrance of individual hardships, of individual sacrifices, of individual losses, it has taken almost a half century to gain the true perspective, to eliminate the bitterness and the prejudice that necessarily survived the war.

Therefore, the observance of Memorial Day gains in beauty and in significance with each year. As the gallant survivors in the North and South, of this war for the sake of principle and not for territorial aggrandizement, or for loot, totter towards their graves, the nation realizes more broadly and more deeply what these men have done not only for the nation but for all mankind. That within the life time of so many, the North and the South should have become completely reconciled; that in so many instances the Blue and the Gray are today observing the day jointly is a token of the permanence of the union and of the nation. Never has a nation outlived so intense a test by blood and fire of its right to exist. The observance of Memorial Day will be perpetual as is the nation and its significance will continue to be as great as that of the Fourth of July. With years, although always dedicated in particular to the men of the Civil war, the beautiful custom of decorating the graves will include those who lived and died in other periods. It is difficult to gauge and to compare the value of each life to the nation, for peace has its victories no less than war and each one who slumbers the long sleep has given something to mankind, has had some influence, has set in motion some action that ultimately redounds to the growth and benefit of the nation. Viewed in the light of the brevity of the life of the individual, mankind is ephemeral; viewed in the influence of the most insignificant act upon surroundings and posterity, it is indeed immortal. It is this that gives Memorial Day its broad significance, its holiness.

Many New Mexico parents at this time are selecting the colleges and universities which they desire their children to attend. More and more, each year, parents look to the moral atmosphere of the institutions as well as the town in which it is located, before they send their son or their daughter away from the hearth. The New Mexican knows of several instances that came to its notice last week, when decisions were made to send sons or daughters to the Colorado College at Colorado Springs, or the University of Colorado at Boulder, rather than to the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, or the University of California, at Berkeley, merely because the impression has gained ground, whether justly or unjustly, that the atmosphere at Colorado Springs and Boulder, is better than it is at Albuquerque or at Berkeley. This is to be regretted but it is a matter that both institutions and both towns have in their own hand, and which they can overcome by enforcing the laws strictly and by cultivating a Christian and moral atmosphere, by its faculty and pupils observing strictly the code of morals and ethics some may call Puritanic, but which after all, appeals to the majority of parents as the best safeguard for the welfare of their children.

These are hard days for the Democratic editorial writer. He cannot well criticize the inconsistencies of the Democratic statesmen in Congress, nor has President Taft as yet offered them much material for editorial comment, and they therefore must try to be funny in speaking of ex-President Roosevelt's hunting trip and somehow connect the Republican party with it. The Democratic party is dying for lack of an issue and because of the wonderful spread of hard, common sense among the American people.

THE G. A. R. BUTTON.

Before the last Legislative Assembly was a bill to protect the use of the G. A. R. button against fraudulent uses. It was a good measure. The following beautiful tribute to the buttons was written recently by George F. Stone, secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade:

"I have heard that our Lord's prayer has been inscribed on a disc the size of a dime, but on the Grand Army button is recorded the ineffaceable and living characters the history of Grant and Sherman and Lincoln, of Sheridan and Thomas and Logan, of Custer and Meade and Faragut and Porter; the history of the campaign of the Army of the Potomac, of the Cumberland and of the West; of the march to the Sea, of Vicksburg, of Forts Henry and Donaldson; of Atlanta, of the Wilderness, of Winchester, of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek; of sieges and battles and skirmishes; of days of daring and nights of waking, of weary marches by day and by night, in cold and storm and heat; of partings of lovers and maidens; of farewells of husbands and wives; of prayers and blessings from fireside and camp, ascending on high as a divine incense; of agony and death, in prison and hospital, of great captains and heroic soldiers, of valor on sea and land; of the proclamation of Abraham Lincoln giving freedom to four million slaves and wiping forever from the national escutcheon human slavery; of Gettysburg and Appomattox, of the downfall of a rebellion; of a reunited country, and of the perpetuity of the Union, with its countless and unspeakable and eternal blessings—a priceless gift from the great Dispenser of good things to men. This record shall never fade away. It shall grow brighter and brighter as the years go by, scattering sparks of inspiration among the generations as they come and go! And when time shall be no more, when all the sounds of earth shall be stilled, then the bells of heaven shall ring in commemoration of American patriotism and undying fame of the American soldier!"

A glance over the roster of territorial officials and employees demonstrates the fact that citizens of native birth and speaking the Spanish language are being given a much larger share of offices than ever heretofore. Several of the most responsible territorial positions are occupied by men of native birth and education and quite a number of the more important as well as the lesser clerkships are filled by them. Among the officials at the Capitol, the territorial treasurer, the territorial librarian, the clerk of the supreme court, the superintendent of education, the record clerk in the territorial land office, the assistant game and fish warden, several of the territorial mounted police, and a number of other employees trace their ancestry back to Spain or Mexico. Several of the district clerks and three of the five registers of the Federal land office are native-born. It demonstrates that the native people are as well fitted to hold positions of responsibility as are others and that the Republican administration with Governor Curry, who always has been a champion of the native people, recognizes this and acts accordingly.

The Albuquerque Journal recently dwelt upon the hardship that it was upon the teachers to compel their attendance at the normal institutes on Saturdays. This is altogether the wrong viewpoint. The word "privilege" should be substituted for "hardship," for it is indeed a privilege that the Territory gives to teachers to advance their standing, to improve their capabilities, to become more useful. It is the Territory, or rather its tax payers, who provide the means that give $15 to each holder of a third grade teachers' certificate for attending the institute. That is liberality, indeed a liberality that comes to no other worker of professional man. If a doctor, or a preacher, or a printer want to advance in their calling they must pay the expense out of their pockets. To say that the institute is in session on Saturday is to say that teachers are given twenty per cent more than they expected in the line of instruction and opportunity.

The two daily papers of Clovis have died a natural death. They were wise to die before their owners were involved in financial difficulties. It is one of the inevitable facts in the newspaper business, that a daily can not pay unless it has a certain number of subscribers and a certain amount of advertising patronage and Clovis has not yet reached the stature of a town that can support a daily paper, much less two newspapers, despite the alleged benefits of the publication law and the marvelous recent growth of the "Cut-Off" city.

That the landseekers continue to come, is apparent from the fact that the business of the federal land office at Roswell has been greater during the past month than during any previous month in its history. There had been a lull in entries especially in the Roswell district, but it was only the ebb that precedes a tremendous flood tide. Should this prove a favorable year for crops, next year will see the population of New Mexico pass the half million mark and the census may reveal a gain of almost two hundred per cent, in population in one decade.

Automobiles LATEST 1909 Models on Sale at Alexander's Garage

Representing the Mitchell, Moline, McIntyre and Zimmerman Factories. These factories are noted for their excellent cars, who, instead of building down to a cheap price car, build up to a machine standard, as good a car as a man would care to own. The Mitchell people have built $11,000,000 worth of cars within the past few years, and their current year's production will equal 18,000 cars.

The Moline car occupies a position of high favor among automobile users. Models "K" and "M" for 1909, are two models of still higher excellence than their satisfactory models of last season, and have proven themselves the cars for anywhere.

High wheelers in solid rubber tires are represented by the McIntyre and the Zimmerman cars. These cars can be furnished in 26 styles of commercial and passenger combinations from $250 up.

The people realize that the motor driven vehicles have proven good and is here to stay. It is erroneous to suppose that only expert mechanical engineers can own and operate a motor driven car, many ladies drive their cars.

At present quotations they are relatively cheaper than horses—cheaper to maintain. In its adoption you take nothing from the horse except that part which can better and cheaper be done with the motor vehicle. You drive the car yourself. You get the real zest of motoring by handling the levers and steering the car yourself.

Free road demonstrations are given to interested parties any time.

months farming south of town. He has 160 acres of oats planted on a portion of the Osborne farm, all of which is growing nicely and gives promise of making as fine a crop as any in the valley. The dry season has greatly retarded the growth of the oat crop, but it is heading out nicely, and while the straw will not be heavy the grain will doubtless be large and thrifty."—Carlsbad Argus.

"Looking every inch a ranchman, Hon. Solomon Luna returned to Albuquerque last night from two months spent at his sheep ranches in western Socorro county and in the vicinity of the Magdalena National forest. In view of the somewhat discouraging reports which are coming from other sections of the Territory we feel that we have fared very well," said Mr. Luna last night. "While I have known better seasons, sheep growers in the western part of the Territory have done fairly well and the losses have not been severe. The country is very dry after leaving the mountains and conditions in the eastern part of the Territory are probably more unfavorable than they have been for several years past."—Albuquerque Morning Journal.

S.S.S. MAKES A LASTING CURE

Not only its proven ability to cure, but its absolute safety as a remedy, has made S. S. S. the most extensively used of all medicines in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison. Unlike the strong mineral mixtures, which temporarily remove the outward symptoms and shut the disease up in the system, there to carry on its destructive work on the delicate and vital organs, S. S. S. strikes directly at the root, and by purifying the blood of every trace of the virus, completely and permanently cures the trouble. S. S. S. is Nature's blood purifier, harmless in its action and certain in its good results. It is made from a combination of roots and herbs, each of which has a definite and specific action in purifying the blood. Years were spent in selecting and proportioning the different ingredients, but when S. S. S. was perfected it soon demonstrated its superiority over all other blood medicines, and now, after 40 years, it is still the one and only certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. While driving out the poison from the circulation S. S. S. builds up and strengthens the system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. is your most certain reliance, and because of its freedom from mercury, potash or any other mineral, it is absolutely safe for every one. Home treatment book with valuable suggestions and any medical advice sent free to all who write.

The Most Common Cause of Suffering.
Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain, which is at first temporary, has become permanent, while in old people subject to chronic rheumatism, often brought on by dampness or changes in the weather, a permanent cure cannot be expected; the relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by all druggists.

PENITENTIARY EMPLOYES FIGHT

One is Charged With Assault and Battery and Heavily Fined.

Friday David Gonzales, yardman at the penitentiary, and Fred Thayer, night captain at the same institution, became involved in a fight on Cerrillos road. The outcome of the matter was that Gonzales came into town and swore out a warrant for Thayer, charging assault and battery. Thayer was arrested and brought before Justice of Peace Richard Alarid, who fined him twenty-five dollars and costs and also required a peace bond. Thayer is now confined in the county jail.

Blind Man Drunk.
The city police Friday arrested Juan B. Romero, a blind man, on a charge of drunkenness. Romero claims that he was forcibly ejected from one of the saloons and thrown into the street. The police, however, think that he was merely led to the door at closing time, but that he was so badly intoxicated that he fell over the door stoop, falling on the sidewalk.

GLEANINGS BY A PERIPATETIC PEN

LEST WE FORGET.
We see them pass with stalwart tread,
With visage grim and locks grey-streaked—
Their presence speaks of hosts of dead
That fell 'mid carnage war has wreaked.
They go to honor those who died
That this, our country might live on.
Sweet flowers are placed with tearful pride
Each martyr soldier's grave upon.
But who shall tell of those who passed
Mid trials which not of war were born—
Who battled on until the last—
Who braved defeat 'mid scoff and scorn.

Of those who fought in civil life
To better mankind's mortal sphere—
And who then, worn by dreiful strife
Expired, unfollowed by a tear.

Not that we take the fame deserved
From those who fought on gory field—
But that to those who else have served,
An equal share of praise we yield.
May 30th, 1909. H. R. H.

'TIS BUT A WISH.
With blood of martyrs drenched,
May all our battlefields
Grow green with harvests
Of most bounteous yields.

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Yesterday the Catholic churches celebrated Pentecost Sunday. The day was especially observed at the Cathedral, solemn Pontifical high mass being sung by Archbishop J. B. Pitaval.

This week is Ember week and Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are days of fasting and abstinence. Every Catholic unless ill or having received special dispensation must refrain from using meat on these days and must likewise fast.

Next Sunday is Trinity Sunday, the last day on which Catholics can make their Easter duty.

To many who are not familiar with the services of the Catholic church, the vestments used by the priest when saying Mass are a source of mystery. The following should make clear to the readers the purpose of the different vestments. When saying Mass the priest robes himself with six vestments.

First—The Amice is a white linen veil which the priest puts on over his head and shoulders. It represents the veil which the Jews covered the face of Jesus when they struck him.

Second—The Alb is a long white linen garment which reaches to the feet of the priest. It represents the white robe that Herod, in mockery, put upon our Lord.

Third—The Cincture, or Girdle, is the cord tied around the waist to hold up the Alb. It represents the cords with which Christ was bound.

Fourth—The Maniple, worn on the left arm represents the chains put upon our Lord and also the handkerchief with which Veronica wiped his face.

Fifth—The Stole is a narrow band which hangs down from the neck and is crossed on the priest's breast. It represents the cords with our Lord's neck and bound after his condemnation. It is also the distinct sign of the priestly office and is used in many other ceremonies and blessings.

Sixth—The Chasuble, or outer vestment, covers the body of the celebrant and represents the garment with which Christ was clothed in Pilate's court. The large cross upon the Chasuble reminds us of the cross placed upon Christ's shoulders. At Solemn Mass the deacon and sub-deacon wear vestments called Dalmatics which resemble the Chasuble worn by the celebrant of the Mass.

St. John's Methodist Episcopal. Yesterday morning the pastor of this church, Rev. E. C. Anderson, preached a sermon on the subject of temperance dealing quite largely with the local issue.

Last evening a Memorial service was held in this church in commemoration of the Union soldiers. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir. Rev. J. W. Purcell of the Presbyterian church read the scriptures and offered prayer. The text was taken from Exodus the twelfth chapter and the fourteenth verse: "And this day shall be unto you for a memorial." Rev. Anderson said in part:

The text reminds us of a memorial day which for centuries has been observed by the Jewish people in commemoration of the sparing of their first born when the destroying angel passed over the land of Egypt and also of their deliverance from bondage. So we have a memorial day observed in remembrance of those who preserved the Union and set the slave at liberty. And with a charity that increases as the years recede the gallant Confederate soldier is also remembered in a more kindly spirit than in former years.

Monuments have been erected to the memory of our heroes living and dead. All nations have thus honored their heroes. A lofty mound still marks the spot at Marathon where the brave Athenians successfully but with great sacrifice stemmed the tide of Persian invasion. A massive iron lion at Waterloo recalls the victory, triumphant arches and monumental shafts around which cluster inspiring memories. So too the pages of history commemorate the great deeds of the world's great men.

Our country though but a little more than a century and a quarter have passed since her birth is rich in her memorials of heroes and heroic deeds. Plymouth Rock reminds us of the Pilgrims. Bunker Hill monument reminds us of the revolutionary heroes. In the capital city of the nation stands a colossal statue erected in memory of the father of our country. On many a battlefield and in almost every county in many of the northern states monuments have been erected to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the Civil War. These are all magnificent witnesses to the patriotism and heroism of the great army who have now joined the bivouac of the dead and of the few old veterans who yet remain.

But better and more lasting than marble shaft is the written memorial of your deeds on history's page.

And better than marble shaft or histories scroll Decoration Day is a monument to your memory.

Our nation also, one and inseparable, stands a monument to our soldiers living and dead. But the best memorial is made up of the ten million black people who are now free physically and who are fast becoming free intellectually and spiritually.

This is a day of thrilling memories. Once more we recall the fact that slavery was one time permitted to exist on American soil. Sectionalism appeared. The South grown tired of northern interference with slavery matters began to talk of state's rights. The fugitive slave law so obnoxious to the north was enacted. Border warfare occurred in Kansas. Slave traders threatened to boycott the abolition merchants of New York, Garrison is mobbed in Boston. Bricks are hurled through the windows where Wendell Phillips is lecturing. Lovejoy is murdered. John Brown's raid occurs. Still men do not read aright the awful portents of the time till suddenly the flag at Sumpter is insulted. Then all is confusion and commotion. What memories for the soldiers themselves and the widows and orphans, the sisters and mothers of those who died in the conflict.

This is a day of instruction. A generation has passed since the war and we naturally inquire why it was fought. It was not fought on the part of the North simply to free the slave and on the part of the South to preserve the institution of slavery. Some say the war might have been avoided but we do not see how conditions being as they were it could have been avoided.

During the war 800,000 men were killed in battle and died of wounds and diseases. Today we can be proud of this only as an indication of the sacrifice and devotion of our citizens to what they conscientiously believe to be right. We cannot be proud of this awful slaughter of the strongest and bravest, the very flower of America cut down in the morning of life. Sometime the world will avoid this and by compulsory arbitration all national differences will be adjusted and men no matter how willing, brave and self sacrificing will no longer be allowed to suffer and die on the battle field.

This day reminds us of the patriotism, courage and devotion of these men. For love of country they left their homes and loved ones and their chosen professions. Colleges and universities were well nigh emptied and brilliant careers were cut short. In many instances those who returned came back burdened with debt, with health shattered and unable to follow their chosen profession. Some who might otherwise have made their names illustrious lived and died in obscurity.

Let us also remember the Confederate soldiers with somewhat of the same magnanimity which Lincoln and Grant displayed in their dealings with them. In defending the doctrine for the right, they too were brave. The northern soldiers had foemen worthy of their steel and besides we are brothers. In the Confederate cemetery at Richmond, Virginia, a large number of Union soldiers are also sleeping the last sleep and when the friends of the southern soldiers decorate the graves of their dead they remember also the northern dead. This lead the poet to write:

No more shall the war cry sever,
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead;
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment day—
Love and tears for the Blue;
Tears and love for the Gray.

Attorney General's Important Opinion.
Schools in incorporated towns not to be administered the same as those outside.

Hon. J. E. Clark, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Santa Fe, N. M. Dear Sir—Your letter of the 25th inst., relative to jurisdiction over school moneys in incorporated towns was received yesterday. You call attention to the fact that Section 20 of Chapter 97 of the Laws of 1907 provides that the county superintendent of schools shall have jurisdiction over all public schools within his county, except those in cities, and ask whether this provision gives the county superintendent such control over school funds of incorporated towns that the town board of education must obtain the approval of the county superintendent upon warrants drawn against the school fund in the hands of the county treasurer in the manner provided in Section 9 of Chapter 119, of the Laws of 1903.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S IMPORTANT OPINION

Schools in incorporated towns not to be administered the same as those outside.

Hon. J. E. Clark, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Santa Fe, N. M. Dear Sir—Your letter of the 25th inst., relative to jurisdiction over school moneys in incorporated towns was received yesterday. You call attention to the fact that Section 20 of Chapter 97 of the Laws of 1907 provides that the county superintendent of schools shall have jurisdiction over all public schools within his county, except those in cities, and ask whether this provision gives the county superintendent such control over school funds of incorporated towns that the town board of education must obtain the approval of the county superintendent upon warrants drawn against the school fund in the hands of the county treasurer in the manner provided in Section 9 of Chapter 119, of the Laws of 1903.

Section 1571 of the Compiled Laws of 1897, to which you call attention provides in effect that the town treasurer shall be ex-officio treasurer of the board of education and shall pay out school moneys upon warrants signed by the president and clerk of the school board.

Section 9 of Chapter 119 of the Laws of 1903, in terms refers only to districts "outside of incorporated towns or cities," and requires all the warrants presented for signature of the county superintendent to be accompanied with itemized statements of account.

There is no doubt that the act of 1907 puts the schools in incorporated towns under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent, but, it does not follow that because those schools are placed under his jurisdiction, that they are to be administered and managed in precisely the same way as schools of districts outside of incorporated cities and towns, especially as to the control and disbursement of money. There are many other matters, some of which are enumerated in Section 20 of the Act of 1907, pertaining to the statutory jurisdiction over schools, which have no necessary relation with the financial management, and, as repeal by implication are never favored by courts, it would be going too far to hold that the specific provisions of Section 1571 of the Compiled Laws are by implication repealed by the general language of Section 20 of the Act of 1907, which puts the schools in incorporated towns under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent. In addition to this, it is to be noted that in Section 30 of the Act of 1907, 35 sections of the Compiled Laws are specifically repealed, and two others specifically amended, but no reference is made to Section 1571. This may be taken as somewhat indicative of the legislative intent, but would not be controlling if there were irreconcilable conflict between Section 20 of that act and Section 1571. Those two sections are not so inconsistent that both may not stand, and therefore we should conclude that Section 1571 still remains in force.

Very respectfully,
C. W. CLANCY,
Attorney General.

MINES AND MINING

Oro Grande.—A shipment of one carload of ore was recently made to the El Paso smelter from the Delusion mine by Charles H. Knibbs, and two more carloads of the same grade of ore is ready for shipment. This ore was all taken out in the course of development work. There is also several hundred tons of low-grade ore on the dump that can be treated at the Oro Grande smelter as soon as it is started up.—On the Mamie claim, Joe Knocker is obtaining some high-grade gold ore and is building an arrastre for treating it.—Development work is being done on the property of the Treasure Mining Corporation in the Silver Belt district and some good silver ore with high copper values is being taken out.—Some high grade sulphide ore is being taken from the 150 foot level of the Jem mine.

Biliousness and Constipation.
For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by all druggists.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

Denver, Colo., May 31.—
Weather forecast for New Mexico: Fair weather tonight and Tuesday with stationary temperature.

Try our ground alfalfa meal. Best chicken feed or earth. Leo Hersch, San Francisco Street.

Train Report—All trains are reported on time today.

Decorating Graves Yesterday—Many of the graves in Fairview, Rosario and the other local cemeteries were decorated yesterday by loving hands.

Baptist Church at Artesia—The Baptist congregation at Artesia, Edgely county, proposes to erect a $15,000 church.

Flowers From California—A large box of beautiful blossoms for Memorial Day, was sent Judge A. L. Morrison, from Los Angeles, California, by his son Hugh Morrison.

Chicken wheat at Leo Hersch's.

Peddler's License—The impression which has been created that the city authorities will not permit outsiders to dispose of their produce at Santa Fe without a license is erroneous, so Mayor Jose D. Sena says.

Grays Win Second Game—The Santa Fe All American team was defeated at Albuquerque yesterday by the Grays whom they had beaten on Saturday by a score of 11 to 1. The score yesterday was 16 to 5.

Plans for Day Schools—The New Mexican has received the plans and specifications for day school buildings and outhouses to be erected by the Indian service at Taos and at San Juan and bids will be advertised for their construction.

Penitentiary Board Meets—Tomorrow the penitentiary board will hold its regular quarterly meeting. At this meeting Superintendent John Green will turn over the management and affairs of the penitentiary to the new appointee, J. W. Reynolds.

Editor Retires—Alice B. Weinbrenner has retired as publisher of the Lake Arthur Times and has been succeeded by William G. Gruber. Thus New Mexico loses one of its four women editors, and a good one at that even though she was a Democrat and a prohibitionist, a rather unusual combination.

Noon Arrivals at the Hotels—Palace: James A. French, Engle; W. W. Boughton, Carlsbad; J. S. Lea, Roswell; James McLaughlin, Washington, D. C.; Ben Weiller, New York; Claire: H. S. Young, Rochester, N. Y.; E. C. Nelson, Chicago; Mrs. T. P. Martin, John Martin, Taos.

Confessed to Arson—C. A. Tingley, a furniture dealer of San Marcial, Socorro county, has written to friends from El Paso, that he set fire to his building recently. He has not been arrested as yet. Tingley says he was led to confess by the fact that "God had shown all the Holiness people at El Paso that I had burned my store."

Territorial Experimental Station—The board of trustees of the Territorial day farming experiment station in Quay county will meet this week at Tucumcari to organize and to formulate plans for the year's work. Suitable buildings, and fencing are the first steps and the breaking the sod and the planting of trees, all of which is to be done at an early date.

W. C. T. U. Officers—Mrs. Patterson and Miss Sloan of this city have organized a W. C. T. U. at Estancia, which has elected the following officers: Mrs. Collier, president; Mrs. Bush, recording secretary; Elsie Preston, corresponding secretary; Carrie Menkenmeyer, treasurer; Mrs. Preston, superintendent of literature; Mrs. Lasater, superintendent evangelistic work.

School of Mines Commencement—The commencement of the New Mexico School of Mines takes place this week. Governor Curry will make the commencement address on Thursday. Addresses will also be made by Hon. W. E. Martin in English, and Hon. Estevan Baca in Spanish. The diplomas will be presented by Hon. Aniceto C. Abeytia of the board of trustees.

Want to See the Sprinkler—The city sprinkler is a familiar sight only to the people residing on or near the Plaza. The residents on Palace avenue and other streets express a yearning desire to make its acquaintance and to bid it a frequent welcome. They have a sneaking idea that their taxes help to pay for it as much as do the taxes of the present beneficiaries of the sprinkling system.

Three Murder Trials in Valencia County—In the district court at Los Lunas which convened today, three murder trials are docketed, that against former Mounted Policeman George F. Murray, against George Telles, accused of murdering a Russian peddler near Ketter, and a man named Calles accused with killing a man near Tome two years ago. Telles had been convicted but was granted a new trial.

Daily Tribune Organized—The Daily Tribune, the new Democratic organ at Albuquerque, has organized by electing Felix Martinez of El Paso, Texas, chairman of the board of directors; J. D. Hand of Los Alamos, San Miguel county, president; H. B. Ferguson of Albuquerque, vice president; O. N. Marron of Albuquerque, secretary and treasurer. The entire plant of the El Paso News, owned by Felix Martinez, has been shipped to Albuquerque by freight and will arrive there next week.

Temperance Rally—A big temperance rally will be held at the opera house on Wednesday evening, at 8 p. m., June 2nd. There will be addresses by Mayor Jose D. Sena, Judge McFie and A. B. Renahan. There will be a chorus of children's voices, a solo by Mrs. A. R. McCord and a solo by W. F. Robinson. There will also be a song in Spanish by Spanish children. In addition to these attractions, there will be some good moving pictures. Everybody invited.

Fire Loss at Elida—Word was received at Denver yesterday by the New York Underwriters of loss on the Commercial hotel at Elida, New Mexico. Companies reported interested in the fire are the New York Underwriters, $700, on the building and $500 on furniture, and the Fireman's Fund $500 on the building. The damage is reported at 75 per cent. Charles F. Wilson will adjust for the two companies named. It is stated that other companies were also on the loss.

The line-up of the Santa Fe team on Saturday was as follows: Jacob Safford, catcher; Edward Safford, pitcher; Michael Stanton, first base; Millet Clancy, second base; Moore, short stop; VanBurgh, third base; Kiefe, right field; Berardinelli, center field; Digneo, left field.

Will Send Many Tourists—The Denver and Rio Grande railroad has made an especially favorable rate to Santa Fe for all visitors to the New Mexico Educational Association at Denver next month and Major S. K. Hooper, general passenger and traffic agent of the road writes the editor of the New Mexican in speaking of the beautiful, illustrated pamphlet sent out by the thousands by the Denver and Rio Grande railroad: "We took especial pains in that publication to set forth the many interesting places in New Mexico for the benefit of the teachers, and we hope to send you many of the visitors when the convention meets in July."

BOOSTING SANTA FE ALL THE TIME

Board of Trade Has a Fine Record in Accomplishing Good for This Old City of Santa Fe.

The meeting of the Board of Trade Friday p. m. in the office of the Santa Fe Water and Light Company, was very interesting. In the absence of President L. Bradford Prince, Paul A. F. Walter presided, and Treasurer Carl A. Bishop acted as secretary. Corresponding Secretary Alfred H. Brodhead made an interesting report on the correspondence received and answered by him, and displayed magazines, booklets and other printed matter put out by boards of trade and Commercial Clubs in other cities. As chairman of the tree planting committee he made an informal report showing satisfactory financial condition. In this connection he read a letter from F. F. Gormley enclosing a donation for tree planting and containing well wishes for the work. A complete and final report of donations received and of expenditures will be published later. Treasurer C. A. Bishop also made an encouraging report.

Owing to the removal from the city of Don W. Lusk, Dr. J. A. Rolls was elected secretary to serve for the unexpired term.

There was a lengthy discussion of the Roswell plan of government in which Messrs. Brodhead, Stauffer, Bishop, McConvery, Sturges, Rolls, Owen, Walter, Lienau and others took part, there being divided opinion upon the advisability of adopting the plan. There was also informal discussion of the advisability of getting the business men and property owners together in one commercial body. Owing to the absence of so many members at the commencement exercises at the High School no formal action was taken. The next meeting will be held on the second Friday in June, at which time also delegates to the National Irrigation Congress at Spokane will be elected.

In discussing the good done for the community by the Board of Trade it was pointed out that it is an incorporated body that owns personal property and real estate, that it was instrumental in securing for Santa Fe the National Cemetery, in raising $1,200 for a road to the Cochiti mining district, in raising $1,000 to aid the building of the public library, in securing the additional ground demanded for the location of the Mary James Mission School, in printing and distributing thousands of pamphlets advertising Santa Fe, in planting the trees on Montezuma, Don Gaspar and Sparks avenues, in securing railway mail service on the Santa Fe Central railway, in sending delegates to various national bodies to represent Santa Fe's interests, in helping and furthering scores of worthy projects and enterprises from the erection of a cannery factory on the south side to assisting in efforts for military post, new depot, sanitarium, archaeological museum, and schools; that in the aggregate this work has resulted in the present prosperity of the city, its progress and advancement. It was also pointed out, that this work in the future can be made even more telling by bringing the business interests together in a commercial body having its own club rooms, its paid secretary and eschewing everything that smacked of politics, factionalism or personalities.

The minutes of the board from its incorporation in 1892 to the present were referred to and showed that over a hundred business men have been on the membership roll, that even in the early days such men as L. A. Hughes, L. B. Prince, Arthur Boyle, E. T. Webber, J. G. Schumann, R. E. Twitchell, C. W. Dindrow, E. L. Bartlett, Fred Muller, C. L. Bishop, A. Staab, C. H. Gildersleeve, George W. Knaebel, S. Spiegelberg, H. B. Cartwright, J. H. Crist, J. R. Hudson, and a host of others worked valiantly for the good of the town through the Board of Trade.

MISSION SCHOOLS*CLOSE

Mary James and Allison Institutions Reach the End of a Very Successful Term.

The Mary James Mission school and the Allison Mission school have reached the end of the school year, the pupils have been dismissed and the teachers are leaving for their homes. The past school year was an unusually successful one and a great amount of good was accomplished. Already applications for admission to the Allison school for girls are coming in in large numbers for the next school year. The Mary James school for boys has at this early date registered as many students for the coming season as it can accommodate and in addition has a long waiting list. Superintendent Irvin L. Tyler will leave on Wednesday with his wife and daughter for a two months trip to California.
