And Here is Our Democratic Friend.
Washington, June 3.—Representative Stephens of Texas, introduced a House resolution disapproving the publication of the legal notices act of the New Mexico legislature. It was referred to the committee on territories.

Judge Cooley's Confirmation. Special to The New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., June 3.—The nomination of Hon. A. W. Cooley for associate justice of the New Mexico supreme court, which had been favorably recommended for confirmation by the Senate Committee on Judiciary, a few days ago, was confirmed unanimously by the Senate yesterday afternoon. He will leave Washington for New Mexico in a few days. Mrs. Cooley will go to Massachusetts until fall.

Senator Warren presented and had ordered printed a pamphlet of 73 pages on the wool trade of the United States and pointed out the necessity for protecting the industry. It also goes into details of the hide and leather industry proving the necessity of protection for that branch of the industry.

Senator Aldrich Explains.

Washington, D. C. June 3.—Senators Aldrich and Stone, engaged in a warm debate this morning over the recent remark concerning the action of Germany in sending a statement of prices in that country with a view of influencing tariff legislation here. The remark of Aldrich was based on a request by the State Department to Germany asking for the rate of wages in Germany. The information was sent but with the request that the names of the manufacturers be not used. Stone read a telegram from Berlin showing that the German people had taken offense at Aldrich's remarks because of the prominence of the speaker. Aldrich declared he had made on charge against the government but said he was talking about manufacturers who sent information with the understanding that it was not to be used in the enforcement of customs laws. He said it was not a question concerning the German government. He said any attempt of a foreign government to influence legislation is impertinent. Stone insisted that there could be no mistake about Aldrich's remarks being directed toward Germany, but Aldrich said he was speaking in the abstract.

Aldrich rehearsed the whole affair and said he had no intention of criticizing or affronting the German government and could not see why Stone was so interested unless he represented Germany. "That remark is an impertinence," said Stone. "Yes, worse than an impertinence." Aldrich paid no attention to the remark and continued that he represented America and could not see that any foreign power had been injured. Stone represented the "stigma" placed on him and said that a deliberate affront should not be offered any foreign power.

ARTESIA IS VERY VERY PROSPEROUS

Engineer Sullivan Visits Lower Pecos Valley

WARNING TO WELL USERS

They Must Case or Land Will Be Ruined by Seepage.

Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan returned today from an extended trip over the southeast and south-central portions of the Territory. Mr. Sullivan made this trip, lasting practically three weeks in his automobile, and had the opportunity of seeing the country very minutely from Santa Fe to Roswell, from Roswell to Artesia and later to Carlsbad. From Artesia Mr. Sullivan took a buggy trip up the Pecos stream system, running into Cuervo canon, Bluewater creek and into the Sacramento valley stream system south of Alamogordo.

In making this trip, the Territorial Engineer made a very close study and examination of the artesian belt of the Territory. This belt extends from a few miles north of Roswell and to several miles south of Lakewood, New Mexico. There are in the neighborhood of eight hundred artesian wells in this section, the larger portion of which are doing exceedingly well as regards to pressure and supply and irrigating practically 20,000 acres of the very best land in the whole Southwest. Great activity is taking place in this district both in the agricultural line and in the settlement of towns and the business districts. A great many people are coming into this section who are energetic, enterprising and who are now joining in the movement of boosting that section with perhaps more enthusiasm than the older residents. The towns in the artesian belt, Roswell, Dexter, Lake Arthur, Greenfield, Hagerman, Artesia, Dayton and Lakewood are experiencing a very rapid growth, which unlike a boom is substantial and is the result of having the real articles as soil, climate, water supply both artesian and surface flow. The town of Artesia itself is especially remarkable for this growth in building of business blocks, residences and the great interest shown in the matter of public improvements. A $50,000 school will soon be built by the Methodists which will place Artesia in the lead with educational advantages. Fine automobile roads are to be found everywhere connecting these towns that would compare with the country roads of the Northern and Central states, there being more automobiles in the lower Pecos valley than in the rest of the Territory combined.

Although the fruit crops this year will not be up to expectations, the farmers are busy growing those fruits which escaped the unusually late spring frost of this year. Alfalfa and other crops are doing splendidly and are bringing top-notch prices with a local market. The farmers are catering to the production of small fruits in a very pronounced manner, there being several local canning factories in this section.

While very much gratified with the growth and development of the southeastern portion of the Territory, Mr. Sullivan in reply to a question by the representative of the New Mexican as to what were, if any, the conditions which were not so favorable to increase this rapid development and progress said:

"Yes, there is one thing which struck me rather forcibly and which I regret is not being taken up by the residents of these communities with more strict regulations and supervision and that is the distressing condition of a great many of the artesian wells. The lack of proper handling of these wells in regard to casing is the only obstacle I find in the way of future development. Much water is escaping into the soil and coming to the surface owing to the fact of the improper casing of these wells. In a number of instances I have actually found the water appearing on the surface and ruining the land. The water has been escaping in this manner from a great many of the wells for evidently some considerable time and the condition of the land is becoming very bad being practically subbed out in many places. This condition could be averted by a more active supervision in the construction and re-casing of the wells. The casing should in every case go as far down as to come in contact with the impervious strata, thus cutting off any chances of water escaping and coming to the surface. The pressure of these wells varies

TWO INCORPORATION FILINGS

Judge McFie Sustains Demurrer to Complaint From Las Cruces

A. T. Koch of St. Louis, a nephew of Congressman Bartholdt, today assumed his duties as clerk of the Carey Act Board and Good Roads Commission of the Territory. He will have his offices with Territorial Engineer Vernon L. Sullivan.

Notary Public Appointed.

Elbert J. Harmon of Wagon Mound, Mora county, was yesterday appointed a notary public by Governor Curry.

Incorporations.

Incorporation papers were filed in the office of Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa by the French Steam Laundry Company of Griggs street, Las Cruces, Dona Ana county. The capitalization is $20,000 divided into 200 shares of which $16,000 is paid up, the stockholders being John S. McClure, 80 shares; Ralph E. French 44 shares; F. M. Hayner, 2 shares, and Thomas Tate, 34 shares, the first three named being the directors.

Incorporation Amendment.

Papers were filed today in amendment to incorporation filings, which certify that the name of the C. L. Pollard Company at Espanola, Rio Arriba county, has been changed to the Espanola Mercantile Company.

Demurrer Sustained.

Judge John R. McFie in chambers today sustained the demurrer to the complaint in the case of John A. Lee, et al., vs. Frank W. Parker, et al., which was brought to Santa Fe from Las Cruces upon change of venue by consent of the litigants. The county had bought in at delinquent tax sale some property which the plaintiffs failed to redeem within the statutory three years and which they now asked to redeem.

BIGGEST SINGLE CLIP OF WOOL

Dozen Buyers Bidding for Crop of Hon. Solomon Luna at Magdalena, Socorro County.

"Hon. Solomon Luna and an ever dozen wool buyers, representing practically every big firm of wool dealers in the country, left Albuquerque at midnight last night for Magdalena where the buyers will submit sealed bids today for the entire wool clip from the Luna ranches which Mr. Luna has stored there ready to ship. The clip is the largest single lot of wool in New Mexico. It is high grade and competition for it is keen. A whole train of Santa Fe freight cars has been ordered to Magdalena to take the clip out when the sale has been made. There is much interest among wool men generally, outside of the buyers, as to the price which this clip will bring. It is conceded that it will bring the best price being paid in New Mexico. The quantity is not known definitely, but is understood to be well above 300,000 pounds."—Albuquerque Journal.

COLORADO AND LELAND BARRED

Scrap on Within Ranks of National Amateur Athletic Union Over Dual Meet.

New York, June 3.—John J. Dixon, chairman of the National Amateur Athletic Union, this morning ordered the suspension of the University of Colorado and Leland Stanford University track teams for the National Amateur Athletic Union on the declaration of Chairman Bert Martin of the Rocky Mountain division of the Union and neither team may be able to compete at the conference meet at Chicago on Saturday. The charge is that Colorado and Stanford competed in a dual meet without the sanction of the National Amateur Athletic Union. Both will fight the ruling, claiming that it is not necessary to have sanction for a dual meet. This position is also taken by Dr. George K. Herman, who will referee the Chicago meet.

SHOES MUST FIT EVERY TIME

Court Rules That Women May Take Plenty of Time in Trying on Foot Wear.

Chicago, Ill., June 3.—A woman may take all the time she wants in trying on shoes in a store and if they pinch her feet after she gets home she may demand her money back. This is the ruling of Judge Gemmill in a case where Miss Louise Jacobson sued a State street store for the return of her money. When the shoes hurt her she came back for her money and was offered a memorandum slip. She sued and the judge held that the store must devote all the time the customer wants in trying on shoes, when the proprietor based his defense on this plea.

FEDERAL BUILDING SANTA FE'S PRIDE

Improvements are Constantly Being Made

CREDIT DUE BARDSHAR

Has Spent Much Time Trying to Add to the Attractive- ness of the Building.

Among the many attractions that delight the eye of the tourist and sightseer that comes to Santa Fe, the Federal building with the magnificent lawns surrounding it stands second to none. Yet it was not always thus for the building itself, though prominently inviting because of its architectural pulchritude for a long time had for its surroundings, only little more than about six acres of barren sand, drifted here, there and everywhere and anything but attractive. But four years ago Henry P. Bardshar, who was appointed internal revenue collector, was given charge of the building and the ground on which it stands. In spite of his arduous duties as collector he still found time, and this frequently, to look after the making of improvements about the building as well as to improve the appearance of the large acreage of ground. Due to his zealous efforts it was not long ere a cement sidewalk encircled the entire six acres, making a most delightful promenade for the citizens of Santa Fe as well as for visitors.

Soon after Bardshar took up what one would have deemed an impossible task, that of turning the six acres of arid, sandy soil of barren appearance, into magnificent lawns of soft, velvety grass, rich in greenness and profusely intermingled with clover. The lawns are now unquestionably the most attractive in Santa Fe. Though a small portion of the grounds is still uncovered by grass, this deficiency will be speedily remedied as workmen are daily engaged in taking care of the place.

Not content with having so wonderfully beautified the Federal building grounds, Bardshar immediately gave orders for the planting of a large number of trees about the place and personally supervised their planting. The trees consist of poplars, elms and maples. Though now but saplings, it will not be many years before they will become stately and add still greater charm to the surroundings. In addition to improving the grounds about the building, many improvements have been made about the building itself. A hot water heating apparatus has been installed, modern toilets for ladies and gentlemen were provided and lately storm doors placed at the entrance of the building, besides other improvements too numerous to mention.

Praised as Public Servant.

The great care and energy exercised by Bardshar as custodian of the Federal building is strictly in line with the faithfulness and exactitude with which he conducts his office as internal revenue collector.

On the eleventh of the past month, U. S. Internal Revenue Examiner H. B. Taylor, came to Santa Fe and made his examination of the office of internal revenue as well as of the affairs of the office. As a result of the visit an official report was sent to Washington by the examiner, to the effect that the local office had been found in excellent condition down to the slightest detail. The grade given was No. 1 being the highest possible mark obtainable. In addition to praising the business conditions of the office the examiner went on to speak highly of the office force, stating that they had been found to be exceedingly courteous and obliging. Referring to Bardshar, the examiner stated that the collector deserved great credit, for it had been found that he personally attended to and supervised all business of the office.

System and business methods are everywhere evident in Bardshar's office and the internal revenue collector is recognized as one of the progressive and loyal citizens of the town, who has the welfare of the community at heart. In view of this no one need wonder over the extensive improvements made in and about the Federal building.

STRIKE RIOTS IN PHILADELPHIA

Street Car Employees in Ugly Mood

MORE THAN HUNDRED HURT

Big Walk Out on Baltimore and Ohio This After- noon.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 3.—Conditions are quieter this morning following last night's street car riots in which more than 100 men were hurt. When the company attempted to operate its cars with non-union crews the union men set on them and mobbed the cars. After the effort the cars were sent to the barns.

This morning there was a sensation when it was reported that the elevated and subway employees had joined the strikers. It subsided however, when it became known that it was only an accident to the elevated. The ugly feeling engendered by last night's rioting was illustrated by a number of riots this morning, which were the largest since the strike began. Four hundred additional policemen were sworn in this morning. The head of the police reserves said that 10,000 extra policemen would be called if necessary.

Big Strike on Baltimore & Ohio.

Baltimore, June 3.—A general strike of the machinists in all the shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has been ordered to take effect at 2 p. m. today.

The strike is the result of the introduction of the piece work system in the Mont Claire shops and will affect about 850 employees in various shops.

CHAVARRIA NOW HAS A JOB

Santa Clara Pueblo Indian Who Married a White Woman Had Hard Time of it at Denver.

Denver, Colo., June 3.—After having been forced to become a hod carrier and to do odd jobs because of his inability to speak the English language, Albino Chavarria, the Santa Clara Pueblo Indian, who came to Denver from Santa Fe, and who married Miss Cora Marie Arnold, some time ago against the wishes of her entire family and in spite of the suicide of her stepfather from brooding over her infatuation, has at last obtained employment by which to support his wife. The Indian has been hired by Mrs. Elitch-Long at Elitch's Gardens where a place has been made for him as a gardener. The man is an expert in agricultural work of all kinds, besides having an intimate knowledge of forestry and plant life.

Albino, as he is called, does not understand the directions of the overseer, and has to be given orders by means of signs. When all else fails, Mrs. Long is called for and she then gives the orders, as she speaks fluently Spanish and Indian dialects. Mr. Long says that the man is one of the best workmen on the place because of his expert knowledge of farming and the fact that he is a steady untiring laborer. His present occupation is the first chance he has had to make anything like a decent living and the couple have been in very straitened circumstances.

The Indian's wife fell in love with him while he was exhibiting several summers ago at the city park on the occasion of one of the big conventions. She announced her infatuation to the family and was seen with the Indian frequently. In spite of the attitude of her friends she went to Santa Fe and married Albino. Just previous to this her uncle drowned himself in the Gulf of Mexico and left a will which disinherited Cora Arnold if she should marry the redskin. Shortly after their marriage the couple returned to Denver and lived together. Their presence in the city as man and wife occasioned much comment and they were practically ostracized. Until Mrs. Elitch-Long took pity upon the man he was unable to find anything to do and often did the most menial services to obtain a little money with which to support his wife.

THE DAILY ROUND UP.

AN ELIZABETHAN POEM.

Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a woman's fair?
Or make pale my cheeks with care
'Cause another's rosy are?
Be she fairer than the day,
Or the flow'ry meads in May,
If she thinks not well of me,
What care I how fair she be?

Be she good, or kind, or fair,
I will ne'er the more despair;
If she love me, this believe:
I will die ere she shall grieve;
If she slight me when I woo,
I can scorn and let her go.
If she be not fair for me,
What care I for whom she be!

HEED THE WARNING.Many Santa Fe People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brick-dust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequently rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they cure sick kidneys, and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Santa Fe people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Hilario Baca, Delgado street, Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "I feel so greatly pleased with the benefit I obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Stripling and Burrows' drug store, that I am glad to recommend them. Off and on for three or four months I was subject to a pain in my back and I felt it severely at times, especially when I stooped, lifted or brought any strain on the muscles of my loins. Owing to the persistency of the annoyance I was led to believe that the cause was some disorder of the kidneys. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time I noticed an improvement and before I had finished one box I was cured. I have not had a symptom of the trouble since. I will recommend Doan's Kidney Pills whenever the opportunity occurs."

NEW MEXICO AND THE CIVIL WAR

Judge A. L. Morrison Incidentally Makes a Few Remarks About Our Good Friend Senator Beveridge.

Memorial Day of this year, will long be remembered as one, that as the ancient Romans used to say should be "Marked with a white stone"—it was in every respect dedicated to the sacred memory of the heroic men who died that their country might live—it amply proved that the passing years, renders their memory more dear to the grateful people, they served so nobly. Never in my whole life have I been so impressed with the simply dignity, the grandeur and decorum of the American character; and I am certain that in no city in the Union, could be seen a more orderly, intelligent and patriotic assemblage of women and men. Even the children seemed to be impressed by the gravity of the occasion. Thank God we have at last arrived at the time when Southern and Northern people can mingle like children of the same great mother, loving with all our hearts the glorious banner of stars, of which George P. Morris wrote, nearly half a century ago:

"The union of lakes, the union of lands, The union of states none can sever, The union of hearts, the union of hands, And the flag of our Union forever, and ever, The flag of our Union for ever."

One of the strongest proofs of the Union of the Blue and the Gray that I remember during the day, was my meeting with a Southern matron, with her two daughters, who reminded me of those gracious Southern ladies who are so charmingly described by Hopkinson Smith and Nelson Page; she entered so earnestly into the patriotic spirit of the ceremonies and expressed herself so much pleased with the kindly sentiments spoken about the South, that I regret every on present did not hear her. This is the spirit every good American should, sedulously cultivate. Now is the time to decide, once for all, that the "bloody chasm" is closed, never to be reopened again, through all the ages of the future. I ask a little of your valuable space to refer again to the numbers furnished by New Mexico and her sister territories to the government during the Civil war, as I wish to give them more in detail, they are taken from the Statistical Record of the Armies of the United States during the war, compiled by Captain Frederick Phisterer, from the official records in the War Department, as follows, and hence are thoroughly reliable:

Oregon Cavalry, for three years' service, one regiment.

Infantry, for three years' service, one regiment.

Total, two regiments; number of men, 1,773.

Nevada Cavalry, for three years' service, six companies.

Infantry, for three years' service, three companies.

Total, nine companies; number of men, 1,080.

Washington Infantry, for three years' service and over, one regiment.

Number of men, 964.

Nebraska Cavalry, for three years' service and over, one regiment; for three years' service, four companies; for nine months' service, one regiment.

Infantry, for one years' service, two companies.

Total, two regiments and six companies; number of men, 3,157.

North and South Dakota Cavalry, for three years' service, two companies; number of men, 206.

New Mexico Cavalry, for three years' service, one regiment; for six months' service, one regiment; for three years' service, five companies.

Infantry, for three years' service, five regiments; for three months' service, one regiment and eleven companies.

Total, eight regiments and sixteen companies; number of men, 6,561.

When we remember the small population, then in this Territory, the fact that only about thirteen years had elapsed since it was taken under the United States flag, and that the overwhelming majority of the people were of Spanish descent, and could not speak the American language at all, the above number of men given to the Union army, is exceedingly creditable to them and shows a marked contrast to the other six territories then organized, all of which have been states years ago, while New Mexico is still in the waiting class.

I might add to the above that during the Spanish war we more than filled our quota, but that did not help us a particle. I would like to ask Dog-In-the-Manger Beveridge, why the people of New Mexico were good enough for soldiers forty-six years ago and also eleven years ago, and still are not good enough for citizens? But I must go. Mr. Beveridge the justice to say that he has one good reason (?) for his hostility to the Spanish-speaking people of New Mexico, some of them speak English, but on the other hand the great discoverer who made it possible for the Hoosier Statesman (?) to be a Senator was as ignorant of the language as any sheepherder in our mountains.

No doubt Mr. Beveridge would have refused the service of De Grasse, Lafayette, Rochambeau, Kosciuszko and the French soldiers and sailors who crossed the ocean to fight for our independence, because they could not talk English. Now as Mr. Beveridge is such a sturdy stickler for the English language, he surely must know that thousands and tens of thousands of aliens come into the United States every month and they know no more about English (and never will know) than Atilla or Alaric, still they are considered perfectly qualified to become citizens and Mr. Beveridge has never opened his mouth to make the slightest protest against their admission as such. Perhaps it is because they produce the gentle Anarchists and "Black Hands," that the Hoosier politician has been so silent about their being so readily ground through the mill into which they go as raw, very raw, material and come out full fledged citizens. But this is too large a question for the small brain of Mr. Beveridge, who is a man of one idea, and whose intellect (?) is too limited to admit another; so for the present we will bid him Adios.

Yours respectfully,

A. L. MORRISON.

HEARING BY INTER-STATE COMMISSION

Will Look Into the Matter of Discriminating Freight Rates of Which Complaint is Made.

Spokane, Wash., June 3.—Compromise rates, suggested by the Hill line in the Spokane case, on which the Interstate Commerce Commission will give a hearing at Washington, D. C., on June 9, were rejected by the shippers here following a closed conference with J. G. Woodworth, traffic manager of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, and W. P. Kenney, assistant traffic manager of the Great Northern Railway company, who sought to show that the proposed schedule would result in benefit to the people of Spokane. The railway officials admit they failed in their mission.

A. W. Doland, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, announces that the shippers will insist upon the enforcement of the commodity rates ordered by the commission, also that Spokane will petition in its supplemental proceedings, involving more than 1,200 commodities, that cognizance be taken of rates from points east of Chicago. The commission will be asked to order rates on Western shipments from Eastern and Atlantic seaboard points which will bear the same relation as those fixed from Chicago and Missouri river points to Spokane.

"The real adjustment for which we are contending is a rate to Spokane on west-bound shipments that will not be more than 82 per cent of the rate to the Pacific coast," said Mr. Doland. "A decision to that effect was given by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its first finding in 1892. We are willing to pay for actual service, mile for mile, taking into consideration the size and weight of the article and the number of transfers, but we will continue to protest the payment of coast rates, plus the rate back to Spokane. We do not believe we ought to be forced to pay more on a shipment of goods from New York to Spokane than the shipper on the Pacific coast pays for a haul 400-odd miles longer."

"We have received encouragement from practically every community west of Denver between the Canadian and Mexican lines, where the Hill, Harriman and other lines have wrung millions of dollars in excess of just and reasonable rates from the people of the interior, and it is expected the larger cities will be represented at the hearing."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

PLANT TREES.

Even greater than the need of forest and range preservation, is that of tree planting. It is in reforestation that the main work of the forestry service should lie and the greatest efforts should be made to educate the public. By far the greater force of men has been employed in lines outside those of planting, and to every ten or twenty men in inspection and office work, only one devotes himself to nursery or reforestation. Among the host of chiefs and clerks and rangers and supervisors in New Mexico, there are less than a dozen men who devote themselves to the work of replacing the vast forests that have been cut down. Says the Denver Republican on this very subject, and the Denver Republican, like the New Mexican, is very friendly to the Forestry service and Chief Forester Pinchot, and fully appreciate what they aim to do and have accomplished for the nation:

"The last issue of 'Science' contains an article on timber consumption in which it is stated that estimates show that the annual consumption of timber in the United States is twenty-three billion cubic feet, while the forest growth is only seven billion feet. It is said that 'the figures are based upon a large number of state and local reports collected by the government and upon actual measurements.'

"It is upon figures of this kind that estimates of the speedy exhaustion of the timber supply of the United States are based; and were there no other factor to be considered, some excuse might be found for the hysteria which is so frequently manifested in regard to the future of this country in respect of its timber supply. But, fortunately, the common sense of the American people is a factor; and upon it we may depend for a solution of the problem.

"Attention is often directed to what Germany has done to maintain an adequate supply of timber; and there is no question that the example set by that country is one which the American people might well emulate. But what is it but the planting of trees that saves Germany from a fate as deplorable as that feared for the United States? It was the common sense of the German people expressed through their government which caused the adoption of a policy of extensive tree planting, from which the forest development of Germany has come.

"Possibly the hysteria concerning the danger of timber exhaustion will produce good by forcing public attention to the importance of tree planting. But after all there is not much occasion for this, since the need of a greater timber supply will make planting profitable; and when it becomes profitable to produce timber, there will be no lack of men to do the planting.

"While not disposed to minimize the importance of the subject, we may suggest the probability that the annual growth of timber is underestimated. In small wood lots, along the roadsides and in the corners of fences there is upon nearly every farm a scattered growth of timber of which probably little account was taken in the foregoing estimate of the annual product. But in any event there is no occasion for alarm on account of the over-consumption of timber, since the remedy to be found in tree planting may be so easily applied. Already, appreciating the need of planting, some of the railroads are setting out forests in order to insure a supply of ties in the future; and private enterprise will not be slow to give attention to the subject as soon as the danger of exhaustion becomes imminent and the need of planting more urgent."

Attorney General Wickersham does not propose that any public servant in his jurisdiction shall be falsely charged with misdemeanors and irregularities, when there is no ground for such charges. It is too often the case in and out of the civil service, when a certain job looks good to another man, to bring charges against the incumbent. Too often, these charges are made the starting point to work a good man out of his job, for the mere purpose of making room for another, often less worthy. But Attorney General Wickersham, after thoroughly investigating a recent case, that of a U. S. judge and a U. S. attorney, at Dallas, Texas, announced that the charges "were wholly without foundation and cruelly unjust." In the meanwhile, the instigator of the charges has been convicted for perjury and fraudulent use of the mails. A few instances of that kind will put the false affidavit men out of business, even in New Mexico.

THE HARPOON.

A novel publication has come to the editorial sanctum of the New Mexican. It is called "The Harpoon," a Magazine that hurts." It is published at Phoenix, Arizona, and is aimed to stop the abuses in the Railway Mail Service. The first number appeared on June 1, and it is a vigorous one. The writer knows well that the abuses spoken of do exist, that the railway mail clerk is the most maltreated of public employees and takes great risks of life and limb for paltry compensation that is cut into by expenses for lodging and board at terminals at the other end of his run from his home. He must go to distant places for so-called "case" examination and is hampered and harassed in his duties by traditions and regulations that are the growth of years and cling to the postal service like barnacles to an old ship. Unfortunately, these same bureaucratic methods are encroaching upon other branches of the public service, such as that of the forestry, and therefore, strong agitation at this time against that kind of advance in the wrong direction, may do a world of good and certainly, no harm. The New Mexican is confident, from what it knows of Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock, that these abuses in the postal service once brought to his attention, will be eradicated as promptly as his prerogatives will permit. Some of them, however, are entrenched in laws and customs which the postmaster general is powerless to disregard and therefore the results of the agitation by "The Harpoon," may not be immediate, but they will be certain to come, nevertheless, not only in the postal railway mail service but in other branches and bureaus of the government.

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger has decided to economize. He will after next year cut off a large number of special agents and also make reductions in the Indian service. Whether this is wise or not, remains to be seen, but it is an example that is being followed in other branches of the government service, for other departments have been asked by President Taft to exercise economy, and cabinet officers have been ordered to make definite cuts in the appropriations they will ask from Congress. In such branches, as the Forestry service, the cost of administration has grown through the establishment of district offices and multiplying the merely supervisory officers who sit at desks or trot from place to place with no definite task in view, except, perhaps, to stir up trouble and more expense. Of course, these things will adjust themselves finally and it is well that President Taft is taking a hand in enforcing economy, for the running of this government has become a very expensive matter and it will take good management to keep the expenses within the income.

Millionaire Arbuckle believes in the cry "Back to the Soil," and has begun the work of acquainting college students with the soil during their vacations. On his eight hundred acre farm, during the summer, he intends to employ students who are working their way through college. Without degrading the value of a college education, it is apparent that many of the men taking a college course are merely wasting their time and would be of more service to themselves and to the commonwealth if they were to engage in some trade or some work in which there is an opening for young men, and not only an opening, but a demand. Very few of the trades are overcrowded, and skilled, sober, reliable mechanics are at a premium in most lines. Farmers too, who will mix common sense with theoretic knowledge, are pretty sure of success, while many a college graduate has a hard time holding on to a small salary that is barely sufficient to keep himself in bread and butter and clothes.

While on the surface political agitation has simmered down and there is not a ripple on New Mexico's political seas, yet, the work preliminary to a scramble for office under the state government-to-be has begun and the fight for Senatorships inaugurated. There are little incidents here and little straws there, to show that gunshoe politicians are very active. Even in the newspaper world, momentous changes are impending that will have great influence on the result. Behind the establishment of a daily Democratic organ at Albuquerque, lies a whole ocean of ambition and a world of political combinations and plots.

When it becomes established that making exaggerated statements in mine promotion means a year in the U. S. penitentiary at Leavenworth, and a fine besides, then the business of the promoter will become less popular. Before the late legislative assembly was a bill introduced by Ex-Governor Prince which had in view penalizing wild-catting, but it failed of passage for well defined and well understood reasons, just as failed local option, the printing of the revised laws, new county measures and other meritorious bills that ran counter to the saloon-corporation combination. However, Uncle Sam is looking after these matters himself much more vigorously than in the past and is dealing dishonest promotion schemes such a blow that for a time even legitimate enterprise will be adversely affected, but that in the end will result in much good. No worthy enterprise will lag long when the public once understands that misrepresentation in circulars and through other media will be punished.

The Anti-Saloon rallies that culminated last evening in a crowded meeting at the opera house at which good, sensible speeches were made in favor of closing the saloons, augur well for the success of the anti-saloon campaign at the polls on next Tuesday. The strange part of the campaign is that the saloon advocates have held no public meetings, no rallies, made no addresses or presented no arguments on their side of the question. They have been invited to make use of the columns of the New Mexican free of charge, but thus far have declined to give to the public any reason to demonstrate that saloons are a good thing for a community and that it would be a distinct loss to close them.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma, is a wonder. He is astonishing his colleagues with his erudition, his grasp of vital facts and his industry and energy. It detracts nothing from the fame of the Oklahoma Senator that it is a woman, his wife, who coaches him and enables him to be of such great usefulness to his constituency. Senator Gore is a Democrat and looks at things, or compels himself to look at affairs, from the Democratic standpoint, but he is doing his country a service nevertheless, for a vigorous opposition to the majority is always a healthful sign. If statehood for Oklahoma has done nothing else than to bring into prominence, Senator Gore, it has been worth while.

Congresses and conventions galore will be held in the West this summer and each of them wants to have delegates present in large numbers from New Mexico, so that it has become difficult for the appointing power to select representatives who will attend. It is an advantage to New Mexico to be represented at these gatherings and therefore those from this Territory who know they will be at a certain place where such a convention will be held, should notify Governor Curry or the board of county commissioners or board of trade or other body entitled to representation so that they may receive official recognition and thus do their commonwealth a service.

There is much significance in the rush for desert lands by homeseekers in Arizona. It means that for every land seeker who goes to Arizona there will be twenty coming to New Mexico. The chances of success in dry farming are just twenty times as great in this Territory than they are in Arizona. Incidentally, this rush of the land hungry is bound to increase business and population in New Mexico towns. Santa Fe, especially, will within another year or two, experience unprecedented growth and advancement that will make it a city of 20,000 or 30,000 almost over night.

The National Brewers' Association takes a somewhat inconsistent position. It rejoices because the sale of beer during the past year was a quarter of a million dollars greater than in the preceding year and almost in the same breath deplores the advance of Prohibition and urges measures to prevent its final triumph. If the advance of Prohibition increases the consumption of beer, it is a fatal step on the part of the brewers to stop its advancement.

The president of the New York Central Railroad expresses his faith in the immediate prosperity of the company; while President Ripley of the Santa Fe is still inclined to be pessimistic. There is more truth than poetry in the motto of the St. Louis boosters that prosperity or a panic are mere states of mind and that by thinking cheerful thoughts and talking optimistically, a panic may be turned into a boom.

Measles, though fortunately in a light form, are prevalent in Santa Fe again. The city has not been without some form of contagious disease or the other for many months. It is the penalty the people must expect to pay for tolerating unsanitary conditions. The existence of these conditions is the very strongest argument that could be advanced for a change in the form of municipal government.

The Territorial penitentiary is in new hands and there will be decided changes for the better in the form of administration. The new warden and the re-organized board of commissioners will bring about results that will mean efficiency and economy. There will be greater unity of action and stricter supervision than ever before.

Automobiles LATEST 1909 Models on Sale at Alexander's Garage

Representing the Mitchell, Moline, McIntyre and Zimmerman Factories. These factories are noted for their excellent cars, who, instead of building down to a cheap price car, build up to a machless standard, as good a car as a man would care to own. The Mitchell people have built $11,000,000 worth of cars within the past few years, and their current year's production will equal 18,000 cars.

The Moline car occupies a position of high favor among automobile users. Models "K" and "M" for 1909, are two models of still higher excellence than their satisfactory models of last season, and have proven themselves the cars for anywhere.

High wheelers in solid rubber tires are represented by the McIntyre and the Zimmerman cars. These cars can be furnished in 26 styles of commercial and passenger combinations from $250 up.

The people realize that the motor driven vehicles have proven good and is here to stay. It is erroneous to suppose that only expert mechanical engineers can own and operate a motor driven car, many ladies drive their cars.

At present quotations they are relatively cheaper than horses—cheaper to maintain. In its adoption you take nothing from the horse except that part which can better and cheaper be done with the motor vehicle. You drive the car yourself. You get the real zest of motoring by handling the levers and steering the car yourself.

Free road demonstrations are given to interested parties any time.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Under this heading, the New Mexican is willing to publish expressions on the local questions now pending, that of abolishing the saloons and that of adopting the Roswell plan of city government. The communications should not be more than a column in length, should be typewritten on one side of the paper, and should be free from personalities. They should be signed, not for the purpose of publishing the name, but as a guaranty of good faith.

A Saloonkeeper for Temperance.

After his debate with Mayor Rose at Milwaukee on the liquor question President Samuel Dickie received a remarkable letter from a saloonkeeper of Toledo—C. Bartholomew, doing business at 624 Monroe street. Dr. Dickie was suspicious of the letter at first, but on investigation found it entirely genuine and written in good faith. Mr. Bartholomew has kept a saloon for many years, but is so disgusted at length with the business that he is getting out. His letter expresses confidence that the prohibition champion will easily get the better of his antagonist in the saloon debates and offers him a number of suggestions for his arguments. The writer says:

"There is nothing in the whole universe that equals the waste produced by liquor. Every drink you take represents nothing—simply nothing. Liquor is the promoter of nearly every evil. I have watched the new beginner year after year. I have watched him develop from a shy, timid drinker to a rough and ready drinker, willing to get full at any and all times. It is the coming generation that we must protect. While prohibition may not exist exclusively in time to come, it will be the means of exterminating tens of thousands of grog-shops, which will lessen the inducements of our boys to drink. The saloon is soon to become a thing of the past. The brewers, the saloonkeepers and the distillers realize the fact, and they are making the fight of their lives, but it has availed them nothing up to the present time. They are falling not one by one but forty to eighty and a hundred at a lick. The liquor element are holding up their time-worn statistics to show that if it were not for the brewery and saloonkeepers to pay the tax and use up the products of the country, the great and glorious United States of America must fall. Now, Mr. Dickie, you just tell Mr. Rose for me that the laboring community can well afford to pay the tax direct from their own pockets, and they would be saving 100 per cent on the amount they were formerly spending for booze."

J. Fanning O'Reilly, identified with the liquor business in New York City, writes to Mida's Criterion of Chicago, a trade journal for dealers in wet goods: "It is hard to disguise the fact that the trade as a whole is suffering from persistent agitation aimed at its very existence. So far as the retail trade of this and adjoining states is concerned, it seems to be sick unto death. It has got to the point where it refuses to respond to treatment, for no day seems to know what the next day may bring forth." Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular says: "Comparing the present demand for spirits and alcohol with that of two and three years ago at this season of the year, the decrease is enormous."

Worcester, Massachusetts, is now on its second year of no-license. Three or four times before Worcester had voted out its saloons, but always after a single year of exile the whisky dealers got back. But this time the vote has gone dry twice in succession. The record of 1908 was in such marked contrast with that 1907 and all industrial and civic conditions were so much better, that the case for prohibition was far too plain for reversal. One of the typical items of statistical difference was a decrease of arrests for drunkenness from 3,924 to 1,843.

Forest Service Clerks Examination.
Albuquerque, N. M., June 3.—The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination June 16, at Phoenix, Prescott and Tucson, Arizona; Fayetteville, Ft. Smith, Little Rock and Texarkana, Arkansas; Gainesville, Jacksonville, Key West, Miami, Pensacola and Tampa, Florida; and Albuquerque and Las Vegas, New Mexico. This examination is held to secure eligibles from which to make certification to fill existing vacancies, at $900 per annum, in the position of forest clerk in the Forest service, and vacancies requiring similar qualifications as they may occur at salaries of $900 to $1,200 per annum.

Eligibles from this examination will be subject to appointment in forest supervisors' offices on the Apache, Sitgreaves, Garces, Srook and Cocconino forests in Arizona; on the Datil, Gila, Zuni and Alamo forests in New Mexico; on the Ozark forest, Arkansas, and on the Chotawhatchee forest in Florida. Many of the places of appointment are very desirable from a residence point of view.

The duties to be performed consist of carrying on office correspondence, keeping up files, and conducting routine business during the absence of the forest supervisor in the field. The Forest service does not furnish either houses or subsistence, and appointees will be expected to report at places of employment at their own expense.

The examination will consist of spelling, arithmetic, penmanship, letter-writing, copying from rough draft and typewriting and stenography. Applicants should at once apply either to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or to the secretary of the board of examiners at any place mentioned above, for application form 304.

MEN PAST FIFTY IN DANGER.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint. Sold by all druggists."

Badly Sprained Ankle Cured.

Three years ago our daughter sprained her ankle and had been suffering terribly for two days and nights—had not slept a minute. Mr. Stallings, of Butler, Tenn., told us of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. We went to the store that night and got a bottle of it and bathed her ankle two or three times and she went to sleep and had a good night's rest. The next morning she was much better and in a short time could walk around and had no more trouble with her ankle.

The New Mexican Printing company has ready and for sale up-to-date and correct compilations of the territorial incorporation laws, price 75 cents, of the territorial road laws, price 50 cents, and of the territorial mining laws, price 50 cents per copy. These can be purchased by applying in person or by mail at the office of the company.

If your Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are weak, try at least a few doses only of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by Stripling-Burrows Co.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

The Great DANDERINE Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results.

It enlivens and invigorates the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, resulting in a continuous and increasing growth of the hair.

Letters of praise are continually coming in from nearly all parts of the country stating that Danderine has renewed the growth of hair in cases that were considered absolutely hopeless.

A lady from Brooklyn writes: "After a short trial my hair stopped falling, and I now have a lovely head of hair, very heavy and over one and a quarter yards long."

Danderine stimulates the scalp, makes it healthy and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp invigorator known. It is a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a small bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land; 3 sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00

Free To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the

Solomon Luna to a check. The case against G. F. Murray charged with murder, is on trial and the jury has

Why Lights Are Out—Manager
Frank Owen of the Santa Fe Water and Light Company explained today that it is almost impossible to keep street lights burning on upper Palace avenue, because as soon as put up, they are broken by miscreants ranging all the way from boys to hack drivers. New globes were put on the lights on May 17 and by May 19 they were broken and thus the experience is repeated because outside of the vicinity of saloons there is little police protection in Santa Fe. Mr.
Owen also explains that while the city pays only for 52 street lights, the company furnishes 63 altogether.

WILL TEST CONSTI- TUTIONALITY

Judge Parker Refuses to Grant Writ of Mandamus to Compel Issue of License.

A hearing was heard before Judge F. W. Parker at Las Cruces, in the mandamus proceeding instituted by John H. Rapp against E. B. Venable, as probate clerk, to compel the issuance of a liquor license for the town of Central, Grant county, the clerk having refused to issue the same because the provisions of the act of 1905 which prohibits licenses being granted to saloons within certain limits except those already established.
Mr. Gnollenberg appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Neblett for Mr. Venable. After hearing argument Judge Parker refused to grant the writ. It is understood that appeal will be taken to the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the act in question.

SPANISH WAR VETER- ANS TO ORGANIZE

A Plan is Now Under Way to Organize a Local Camp so as Not to Be Behind Other Cities.

In order that Santa Fe may no longer remain the only city of importance without a camp of Spanish war veterans, every effort is to be made to get together every local man who fought in the war of 1897 and organize a camp of U. S. war veterans.
Nearly every city of size throughout the country is represented by a local camp. In Santa Fe there are any number of persons who fought in Cuba, Porto Rico or the Philippines, in the cavalry, the infantry or in the navy. All of these are requested to place themselves in communication with Henry P. Bardshar, at his office in the Federal building. It is desired to discuss the matter of a local camp and to take steps towards organization as soon as possible. Mr. Bardshar has been in communication with Thomas J. Lynd, National Aide de Camp U. S. W. V., at Ft. Bayard, New Mexico. Mr. Lynd is very enthusiastic over the idea of organizing a camp in Santa Fe and will do all possible to aid in bringing the matter to a successful focus. It is anticipated that no trouble will be experienced in arousing sufficient local interest as already a number of those who served in the Spanish war have expressed themselves favorably and have displayed a willingness to get down to business.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WANTS CLEAN STREETS

A Committee is Appointed to Compel the City Council to Take Action.

At its last meeting the Commercial Club discussed the matter of keeping the streets of Santa Fe in a clean and sanitary condition. As a result, a committee was appointed for the purpose of bringing the filthy condition of the streets to the attention of the city council and insisting upon prompt action being taken by the city fathers to place all streets in a clean condition and keep them so. The Commercial Club intends to back up its committee to the fullest extent so that good results may be accomplished.

ARTESIA IS VERY PROSPEROUS.

from nothing to twenty-five pounds at the surface of the ground thus it is apparent what an enormous pressure there would be five hundred to a thousand feet below the surface. A small leak or bad joint in the well casing would allow a large amount of water to escape not only diminishing the flow of the well but the same leak will eventually do damage to lower surrounding country."

Mr. Sullivan took up a number of matters in connection with water right applications at Artesia and Carlsbad.
