ARMORY IS DEDICATED

Secretary N. Jaffa Delivers Splendid Speech

LARGE CROWD PRESENT

Seventy Five Couples Enjoy Dance That Last Well Past Midnight.

Last night the new armory was formally opened and dedicated. The first regimental band was on hand and supplied the music for the occasion. At 9 o'clock the large hall was well filled with people and shortly after Secretary Nathan Jaffa was introduced as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Jaffa made a rather brief but forcible speech. He spoke of the great value of having a representative National Guard and took occasion to laud the local boys. It was his desire he said to see the local guard constantly increase in numbers and trusted that all possible encouragement would be given. When he had finished speaking, the hall was turned over to the dancers who were eagerly awaiting the event. In all there were over one hundred and fifty people on the dancing floor. The hall was gayly decorated with the national colors and an abundance of electric lights made the place a most delightful one. The First Regimental Orchestra supplied the dance music, much to the satisfaction of those present. The dancing kept up until the wee small hours of the morning when the happy throng disbanded.

PRAY FOR RAIN TO STOP

Precipitation for Nineteen Days in Black Hills and End of Deluge not Yet in Sight.

Rapid City, S. D., June 11.—During a storm hundreds of tons of rock and earth became dislodged and descended into a flume canal of the Downie Wright Foundry Company, cutting off the water power and causing the water to sweep over the sides of the ditch and inundate a large area. Reports have been received from the hills that many small buildings have been washed away but so far as can be learned there have been no fatalities.

The town of Underwood is flooded tonight and the residents are gathered at the Northwestern railroad station awaiting a relief train.

Rapid City, Box Elder, Sturgis and Black Hawk are all suffering from the floods.

THE LAUGH ON LAFOLLETTE

Senate Votes Down His Twenty-Four Amendments

NO SHODDY FOR WARREN

Cummins Warns That Tariff Will Ruin Republican Party.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—When the Senate convened this morning numerous amendments were offered by LaFollette providing an ad valorem for specific rates in the wool schedule were taken up for the purpose of voting on them "En bloc" as Vice-President Sherman announced. Cummins announced he would vote for them, not so much because they are right, but because the finance committee recommendations were wrong.

At 2:15 this afternoon the Senate voted down the twenty-four amendments to the wool schedule offered by LaFollette. The vote was 44 to 32. Cummins argued for the justice of his plan for compensatory duty on the products of the wool manufacturers to allow them to pay a higher price for wool than do foreign competitors. He said to levy duty on goods partly cotton as if all wool, would give domestic manufacturers too great an advantage. Warren said the idea was to keep shoddy goods out of the country. Cummins said the Senators were ruining the party to let such a wool schedule go off.

President Again Beaten at Golf.
Washington, D. C., June 11.—Defeat was again the portion of President Taft as a golf player yesterday afternoon. Taking General Clarence Edwards for his partner, the president attempted to avenge the drubbing administered to them Wednesday by John Hays Hammond and Senator Bourne. The two latter triumphed again, however, by a score of two up.

AMERICANS MAKE BEST CATHOLICS

Golden Jubilee of College at Rome the Occasion for Much Pleasant Oratory.

Rome, June 11.—The ceremonies in connection with the Golden Jubilee of the American College in Rome were continued today with a grand banquet in the refectory of the college. One hundred and forty dignitaries of the church, including cardinals and high officials of the Vatican, sat down to the repast.

Archbishop O'Connell proposed the toast to the United States. He described the love the people had for the church and the Pope and especially their love for their country. Riches, the development of industries and the spread of commerce, he said, are the supports of the country, but without the vital spirit of religion, a country is without a soul. The greatest security in America against the dangers of license, he declared, consists in the liberty of the church.

Manager Falconi, the apostolic delegate at Washington, gave a toast to the American hierarchy. He said that he loved America, because Americans are among the best subjects of the holy see throughout the world.

TWISTERS IN TEXAS

Passenger Train Blown From a High Bridge

SMALL TOWN DESTROYED

Steel King Pulled From in Under by His Better Half.

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—During a terrific wind storm last night, a passenger train on the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad, was blown from the track on a high bridge across the Brazos river, between Knox City and Benjamin, Texas. J. E. Stafford of Crowell, Texas, a passenger, was killed and seven were injured, none of them fatally.

Details received by E. Dickinson, vice president and manager of the Orient are meager. All wires to Texas points are down. There were a few passengers on the train which was running twenty miles an hour when the accident occurred. A terrific rain and wind storm had been encountered by the crew all night. As the train passed upon the bridge a sudden blow sent it rolling into the almost dry bed of the river below. The baggage car and three coaches toppled over but the weight of the engine prevented it from falling. That more were not injured is due to the fact that it was only ten feet high at the point of accident. A further dispatch says that at a section of Camp Deep Water, Texas, was completely destroyed.

Almost Wiped Out Village.

El Paso, Texas, June 11.—A tornado last night almost destroyed the little town of Hamlin, in central western Texas, on the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad, 75 northeast of Big Springs. Three were seriously injured at Hamlin.

The loss was not discovered until the train had departed. The sack taken was a through pouch from Chicago to St. Louis, and contained mail for New Mexico, Colorado and California points.

MARK TWAIN ADVISES TEMPERANCE

In Smoking, in Drinking and in Marriage

SPEAKS TO GIRL GRADUATES

He Is Not a Prohibitionist By Any Means and Says So.

Baltimore, Md., June 11.—Mark Twain came to this city yesterday to talk to the girl graduates of Timothy's School. Following Edward F. Martin of New York, he said that as Martin advised them what they should do, he would advise them what not to do.

"There are three things, young ladies, I advise you not to do. Don't smoke—that is, don't smoke to excess. I am 73 1/2 years old and I have only smoked 73 years of that time. Don't drink—that is, don't drink to excess. Don't marry—I mean to excess."

NEW MEXICO'S OLDEST CITIZEN

Leaves Capitan, Lincoln County, for Leavenworth, Kansas, to Enter Soldiers' Home.

Capitan, N. M., June 7.—"Uncle John" Ritter, probably the oldest English-speaking resident of New Mexico, left Capitan this morning for Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Mr. Ritter arrived at Santa Fe, October 31st, 1849, nearly sixty years ago, as a member of the Third U. S. Dragoons.

After serving his term of enlistment in the Dragoons, Mr. Ritter became an employe in the quartermaster's department and was stationed at Santa Fe, as forage master and corral boss, for nearly 30 years, coming to Fort Stanton in Lincoln county in 1887, where he remained until the abandonment of that post by the military in 1892; since 1892 he has resided at Capitan, where he has acted in the capacity of postmaster or assistant to the postmaster until a few months ago. For several months past Mr. Ritter has been incapacitated for any sort of work on account of the infirmities of age and through the efforts of his friends he has been admitted to the Soldiers' Home at Fort Leavenworth.

Mr. Ritter's recollections of people and events during the period of his residence in the Territory are very clear and interesting and if properly recorded would make a valuable addition to the history of the early years of the American occupation of our "Land of Sunshine." Mr. Ritter is also said to be the oldest as well as the oldest member of the I. O. O. F. in New Mexico and is a member of the Santa Fe lodge. It is quite doubtful if he ever again sets foot upon New Mexico's generous soil, but his numerous friends will ever cherish tender memories of him and drop a silent tear when he shall depart for that home beyond this vale of tears.

MORLEY SELLS HIS HOTEL

D. T. Hoskins is the Purchaser of Chicago Hostelry Said to Be Worth Half a Million Dollars.

Chicago, June 11.—Rev. Richard A. Morley of Las Vegas, N. M., the millionaire clergyman, who has made large sums of money in New Mexico land, has sold the Kenwood hotel in this city which he recently purchased to Daniel T. Hoskins also of Las Vegas. The Kenwood which is an eight-story fireproof apartment hotel building, is one of the finest structures of its kind in the city and contains forty-eight elaborately furnished apartments of four to twelve rooms each. Only a nominal consideration is given in the deed, but the first deal valued the property at $300,000. The conveyance to Hoskins is subject to an incumbrance of $150,000.

EL PASO COLLECTOR ON STAND

Tells How Chinese Were Smuggled Across the Dry Bed of the Rio Grande.

Chicago, Ill., June 11.—John T. Priddy, United States customs inspector at El Paso, Texas, was a witness in the Chinese smuggling case today. He told of the capture of Jose Parra and Carlos Sevedera, two of the octette indicted on the charge of smuggling Chinese across the border. HARRIMAN KEEPS TAB ON PUBLIC

He is Close Student of Newspaper Criticism

GIVEN TABULATED REPORT

It Tells Him What Papers Are Favorable and What Unfavorable.

Chicago, June 11.—The way E. H. Harriman keeps in touch with public sentiment is disclosed by Julian Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman roads, who says that Harriman receives each month a tabulated report from agents in every territory entered by his roads showing the number of newspapers favorable, number unfavorable, and the character of the criticism. Quotations are also sent from the principal writings concerning Harriman. It is stated that Harriman regards the reports as valuable and as aids in detecting any friction between the roads and the public.

LEE MONUMENT UNVEILED

Vicksburg, Miss., June 11.—Today the unveiling of the Lee monument took place. The weather was excellent and a large crowd was in attendance. General C. A. Evans delivered the following address:

"Our thoughts and feelings today concentrate fitly on the patriotic life of Lieutenant General Lee, as we shall always associate with the great events in which he acted his distinguished part," said General Evans. "I will make his well known life the theme, his character an example, and his career the suggestion of the citizens patriotic duty. What a noble man he was! Not merely a titular nobleman without the noble graces, but a monumental nobility, proven by his deeds, belonged to him without other escutcheon. This monument declares his fame and our country will accept it as a part of its own glory."

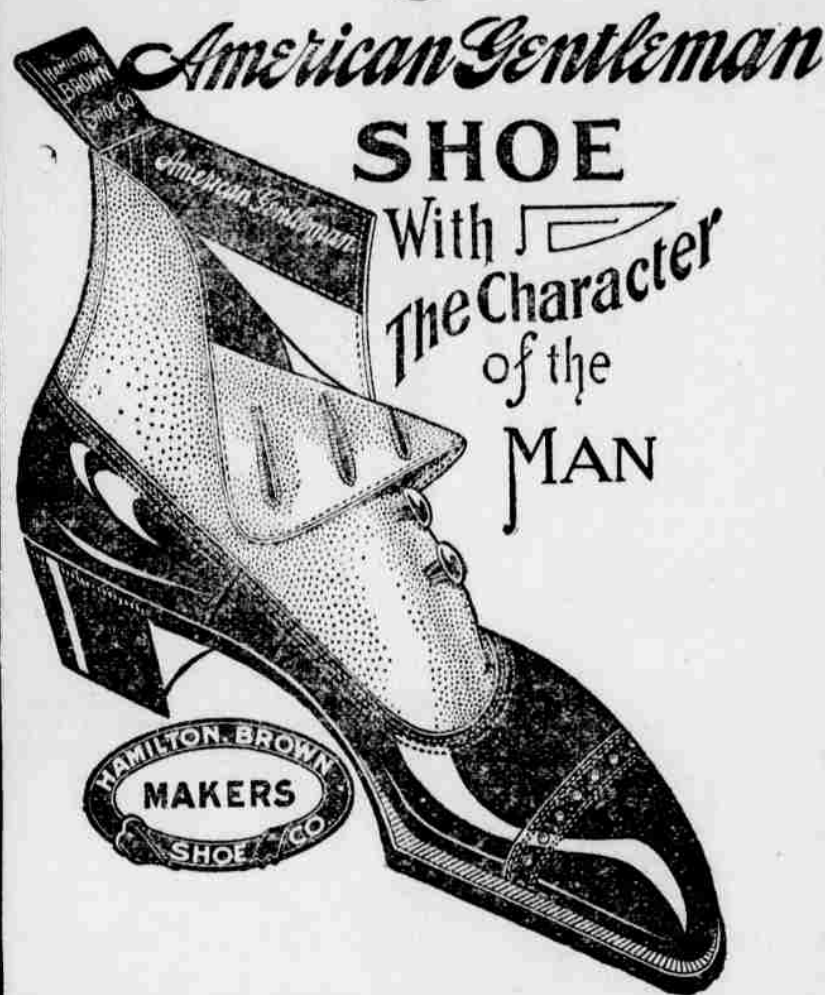

General Evans spoke of "the four years brilliant military career of the great Confederate soldier," which he declared could be expanded into volumes by narrating the wonderful incidents of that vast war in which he achieved the fame the country delighted to honor. "At the close of his war life," said General Evans, "in full vigor of his thirty-two years, there can be found no unfitness for public service in any trait or quality of character; or act of his bright career, which suggests a cause of any kind why the honors of this remarkable memorial should not crown him. Not a cloud lowered around his name. If it be becoming in man to be brave he had that excellency of manhood, for the best ideas of chivalry were exemplified by his courage, since he fought as a patriot without malice toward his enemy. * * * His hand never withheld what was another's due. His tongue did not falter in praise when it was merited by a foe. His heart flowed with limpid charity for all, and his life was passed in faithful service of man and God. He will be remembered forever in the biography of Americans as a type of the true citizen; the courageous, skillful, generous leader in war; the ardent Confederate comrade, the true gentleman, the affectionate husband and father, and above all, the consistent Christian man."

In concluding, General Evans declared that the people of the North and the South should more perfectly know and more kindly consider one another. "They should mingle without prejudice," he said, "without distrust, and for mutual benefit, not for partisanship or sectional gain. Let East and West interchange courtesies and not complaints; let South and North cultivate fairly a more general fraternization instead of recrimination. The evident quartet of sections, East, West, South and North can be made an advantage and not remain a hindrance; and the civic union by states of a homegentic kindred citizenry will secure safely and forever the purest blood on earth, and show to all nations of this age the example of the best government in the world."

One ship drives east, and another drives west
With the selfsame winds that blow,

For miles above Domingo, the waters of the Rio Grande are alive with ties, representing a winter's work in the woods and the big spring time drive of the Santa Barbara Tie and Pole Company. A. B. McGaffey of the company reached Albuquerque today after an absence of nearly a week during which he has been actively superintending logging operations.

"The most important thing about the drive from our standpoint," said Mr. McGaffey today, "is that we have demonstrated that we can drive logs down the Rio Grande in either low or high water and do it successfully. Last spring, we waited for low water and used every precaution. We expected to do the same this season but after our ties were afloat, the river rose to the highest mark of the season and our drive came down like the California limited on a level track. But to our satisfaction, we made the drive with every element of success and over a hundred men are now at work pulling the ties from the river at the big boom near Domingo. We find that not only can we drive the ties down the river at high water, but we can actually do it cheaper and more expeditiously. Next year when we get ready, we will start, without regard to whether the river is high or low. If anything, we will give preference to high water."

The scene at Domingo is a strange one to this part of the country although a familiar sight anywhere in the great lumber regions of the North.

The river is alive with ties and as far as the eye can see, they are still coming downward with the tide. The great boom catches them and the lumber packs, many of whom are from the northern lumber camps, hastily haul them ashore. By special machinery, they are lifted from the river, swung inland and dropped aboard flat cars on the company's siding, ready for shipment to the tie treating plant south of this city. The first shipment will come through next week and from that on there will be a train load or two daily until the quarter of a million railroad ties, are delivered to the plant.

The work of taking out the ties goes on day and night. The night crew sleeps in tents and hastily built bunk houses and works by the light of huge bonfires which crimson up the sky for miles in the vicinity. The scene is an active and interesting one. Many of the men fall into the water but they are so accustomed to it, that they do not think of changing clothing and scramble onto the treacherous boom to work as hard as ever.

Charles Connors, a foreman in charge of logging operations, had a narrow escape from death, a few days ago. He fell from the boom into the swift current and became entangled in a big cable and a rope. He was submerged for several minutes but succeeded in freeing his hand and getting it above water. The force of the current drove him against the cable, painfully bruising him. For almost an hour he remained in the water when a native laborer made his way to the spot and after an exciting period, finally cut the ropes and set the foreman free.

Despite his harrowing experience, Mr. Connors merely crawled out, sat down for a few minutes and then went to work near the same spot where he so nearly lost his life.

A lumber jack, who was smoking a pipe, caused much amusement today. He slipped from one of the logs on the boom and went head first into the water, which was very swift and deep at that point. He dived like a duck, came up and scrambled out, without losing the pipe from his mouth. The only remark he made was:

"Now, dum it, me pipe's out."—Albuquerque Citizen.

No Need of Suffering From Rheumatism.

It is a mistake to allow rheumatism to become chronic, as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. NEW MEXICO INVITED

TO TRINIDAD CELEBRATION. Trinidad, Colo., June 11.—Arrangements have been made for a big Fourth of July celebration here, the feature of which will be a Marathon race open to Colorado and New Mexico.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

KIT CARSON SURMOUNTS MONUMENT

New Mexico's Great Scout and Pioneer Immortalized in Statue to Be Erected at Denver.

Denver, Colo., June 11.—With the sagacity of less than thirty years ago fresh in its memory, the west declined to glorify the Indian by a triumphant statue surmounting the Pioneer's monument which will be erected in Denver.

New York and the East, with its recollections of the redskin lost in over 100 years, will do what the Western pioneers and trail blazers refused to do, and will place a heroic figure of the Indian in the harbor of New York.

Kit Carson, that intrepid and picturesque man, who was one of the first to follow the star of empire, and was the embodiment of the spirit of the West, was selected as the ideal figure to typify the true pioneer and the true West, while the East is now searching about among the living Indians of today for a model for its statue.

The two incidents furnish a curious contrast. The West and its pioneers knew the real Indian, the Indian of the warpath and the Indian of reservation peace; New York knows him only as he is taken there by "wild west" shows.

Statue Successfully Cast. The bronze figure of Carson has been successfully cast in France, and the first photographs were received in Denver by John S. Flower of the real estate exchange, from Frederick MacMonnies, the famous sculptor.

When it was first proposed to place upon the Pioneer's monument the figure of a naked Indian, mounted upon a horse, such a storm of protest was raised that Denver was talking about little else for a time. The News was the first to open the battle, and the pioneers immediately fell into line. They declined to be parties to any attempt to glorify the redskins whose painted warriors were leaving a trail of blood and desolation throughout the West a comparatively few years ago.

Their arguments were so strongly presented that MacMonnies himself finally came all the way from France to get a better insight into the situation. And his judgment was that the pioneers were right. So he set about choosing another model, and finally decided that the great scout, Kit Carson, who is sleeping quietly in the quaint old village, Taos, well represented the spirit of the Western country and of the pioneer.

Relics Are Sent Abroad. Carson's rifle, powder pouch, hunting coat and other effects were gathered up and sent to France the State Historical Association, and other organizations, as well as individuals contributed material and historical data to aid the sculptor, and the result is shown in the photographs received by Flower.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

TEST OF SCIENTIFIC FARMING.

The crucial test of scientific farming in New Mexico is being made this month, for in June, the last drop of moisture in the soil is needed to sustain plant life until the coming summer rains in July. As a consequence, there is frantic work on the part of farmers to disc and to harrow in order to retain the little moisture that may still be in the soil, but in most instances that work comes too late for it can not take the place of the work that should have been done last fall and winter. It is no wonder therefore that word comes from the Estancia valley and elsewhere that crops in high and exposed places are withered while in the draws they look well, it being evident that the soil in the draws has retained its moisture while the highlands have dried out. Scientific farming demands work and the farmer who would slip out of the work of preparing the soil in winter had better get into some other business than farming without irrigation in New Mexico. Says Campbell's Dry Farmer:

"An objection to the Campbell system of farming that was new to the writer was advanced the other day when he was talking with a farmer of this county. This man is handling two sections of good land and is doing well enough to be perfectly satisfied; in fact, he wears a sort of a 'Sunny Jim' smile all the time.

"His objection to the Campbell system is that it involves so much work. Now this man is not one who slips out of work—he works hard and makes it win. But he has an idea that the Campbell system is particularly adapted to small farms.

"Of course this idea is wrong. The Campbell system requires work, but the difference in the amount of labor required is not sufficient to be an objection to it, even if a man wants to farm his thousands of acres. It makes a man do more studying of the conditions, and that is an argument in its favor. It makes him plan ahead and keep ahead of his work, other arguments in its favor. Then there is the compensation. This man in his conversation said he sowed his wheat in the old way, doing all his work carefully, and pastured his young calves on the field during the winter. In the spring he sold his calves at a good price and let the wheat make what it would. This year the crop was about seven bushels per acre. The men who Campbellized their wheat business reaped four times as much. Which method paid better?

"The question, however is whether the system under consideration is too laborious or not. To the man who has studied the methods of 'dry' farming carefully, there is only one answer acceptable for he knows that there is not too much work in it for any farm of any size. But if there were an unusual amount of labor attached to it, why not do the work and get the pay for it? Isn't a yield doubled or tripled worth lots of extra work? Who gets the best pay—the man who plows and harrows and then thrashes ten bushels an acre, or the man who does these things according to system, even if that should double the work and harvest a thirty bushel crop?

"Labor is the price of success and excellence in farming as well as in any other line of work. Brains and muscle make a mighty good combination in any thing, when the brains are exercised along the lines made conspicuous by H. W. Campbell and the muscle responds, there are sure to be results far in excess of the old method of work, no matter how much thinking is done with it. Our good friend of this county is very successful in his way and says that after a while the Campbell system will prevail, but he does not see his way clear to adopt it now. There are many like him, but it is only a question of time until the labor objection will be withdrawn and all these good folks will be enjoying the fruits of their labors under the methods now only subjects of conversation among them."

The British did not leave much of their belongings when they evacuated America after the Revolution, but last week a British treasure ship was struck in the Delaware in the vicinity of Fort Mifflin, not far from Philadelphia. While the government dredge Cataract was working near the fort, the suction pump became clogged and when it was brought to the surface it was found to contain several fancy and costly helmets that had been worn by English soldiers. An effort will be made to raise the entire boat which is supposed to contain some of the gold coin sent to this country to pay off the Hessian hirelings.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PUSH.

The plans have been completed for the Scottish Rite Cathedral at Santa Fe; the ground has been bought and paid for upon which it is to be erected; about $100,000 are on hand toward the construction of this magnificent building which will be the finest structure in the Southwest, and an issue of $100,000 six per cent bonds has been authorized to raise the funds needed for rearing the cathedral.

Now is the time for the people of Santa Fe to push. They will not be asked to donate a dollar to the structure, but they will be invited to take part of the bond issue which will bear six per cent interest, and behind which stand not only the credit of the Scottish Rite Masonic body including some of the most prominent and wealthiest men of the Territory, but which is also secured by the building itself. The issue is limited to $100,000 and under no circumstances will an additional issue be authorized. The rate of interest, six per cent, is not high, but when four per cent bonds bring a high premium and money lies in banks earning at the most three per cent, then a six per cent bond secured as is the Scottish Rite Cathedral bond, can be considered a good investment. Santa Fe is expected to take $50,000 of these bonds, the remainder will be taken outside of the Capital, for the Territory recognizes that Santa Fe is the logical place for the building; that here, in the historic home of Masonry in the Southwest, it will be a fitting monument to a great order and to the pioneers who have belonged to it from the time of Kit Carson. It is also recognized that the climatic conditions at Santa Fe are ideal. Whether reunions are held in summer or in winter, in spring or in autumn, it will be equally pleasant for the visitor. Being also the only town, outside of Deming, in the Territory, having three independent railroad systems and being located near the geographical center of the Territory, no special argument was needed to induce the Scottish Rite Masons to locate the Cathedral here.

As to Santa Fe, the Cathedral will mean the coming here each year of several hundred of the best citizens of the Southwest; it will mean an advertisement that will reach far beyond the boundaries of the Territory; it will add an architectural monument of which the city will have every reason to be proud. It will mean the bringing to the city of thousands of dollars annually to find their way into the channels of trade. The payment on the bonds subscribed will be in easy installments. Therefore, the glad hand should be extended to the soliciting committee and every one should subscribe to the best of his ability. Now is the time to push for Santa Fe!

CAN'T BEAT SANTA FE CLIMATE.

There was a time when people thought that Denver and Colorado Springs were climatic rivals of Santa Fe. But that time is no longer. Official statistics have dispelled the illusion for good, and the well posted man now knows that Santa Fe has by far the best all-the-year-around climate in the West. Every day, thus far in this month, for instance, has been one of sunshine, of moderate warmth in the day, at no time exceeding 81 degrees and reaching 80 on only one day, and down to 42 degrees at night. It is different at Denver and Colorado Springs, as can be glanced from the following Jeremiad in the Denver Republican of yesterday:

"Unless something which closely resembles a decided change happens in the weather line pretty suddenly the far famed balmy Italian climate of Denver is due for a grand farewell appearance. Men who have never cussed before (and women, too) have learned in the last few days to use language which would make a pirate or a mule driver hang his head in sheer shame of his incompetence. To be frank, and drop the everlasting line of boosting talk the weather is 'rotten,' summer is a farce, and sunshine is but a matter of distant memory.

"Still hope springs up in the midst of the dampness. It never used to be like this, we tell all the visitors, but they only grin and wink wisely. They think the Denverite who attempts to explain the weather is like the mother when her most dutiful youngster commences to demonstrate his native meanness before the company, who murmurs 'what can the matter be with the child, I never knew him to act this way before.'

"The temperature for the first nine days of June has been 11 degrees under normal, and the rainfall for the same time was .19 inch over normal. The record for sunshine is not worth printing. Last evening the downtown stores and offices had to be lighted at half past five, and the rain drizzled on intermittently from noon until midnight. A report from the weather bureau last night, of conditions in the Middle West for yesterday, showed only two cities that enjoyed clear weather. The rest of the 36 localities were cloudy, partly cloudy, or rainy.

"Denver is not the only sufferer but it goes harder with us than with the rest, because we have seen better days. One would not believe the pathetic tale, that the city which we now see water soaked, and smeared with mud, with dark clouds enveloping the dreary scene was once the proud and haughty beauty who had sunshine to throw away and pleasant days every week. In those days—but what's the use of going over it again it only makes us grouchy than we were before. Let us remember the words of the prophet when he said, 'The lights are always doused before the grand transformation scene.'

Although it is a keen disappointment to many sections, that the reclamation service will not decide upon any new projects during the next few years, yet, it is wise to rush the completion of the projects now under way. Works such as those at the Elephant Buttes, at the head of the Mesilla valley, have a tendency to tie up all irrigation enterprise on the Rio Grande and tributaries and it is the part of wisdom to finish what has been begun with all the available means at hand, instead of scattering them over many new projects. Instead of seven or eight years, the time calculated for the completion of the Engle project, it should be finished during the next two or three years so that private enterprise may know exactly what conditions it must meet in the enterprises it contemplates on the Rio Grande and tributaries.

There are vacancies in the positions of Commissioner of Education and Assistant Commissioner in Porto Rico. President Taft appoints the commissioner and the latter appoints his assistant. The proper thing, of course, would be to appoint some Porto Rican to the place and if not that, then some one from New Mexico where educational conditions have been similar to the conditions in Porto Rico on account of the predominance of Spanish speaking children and old world ideals. New Mexico has succeeded in establishing a fine public school system and among its educators, half a dozen could be named who would make ideal candidates for the vacant place in Porto Rico which pays the snug sum of $4,000 a year besides free residence in the government palace at San Juan.

The year 1908 was a black one for New Mexico's mining interests for the Territory's production of copper was less than one-half of what it was the year before or only 4,999.91 pounds against 10,140.140 pounds in 1907, while the lead production was less than one-third in 1908 what it was in 1907, or 586 short tons against 1,927 tons the year before. Colorado experienced the same sort of a set-back in production of copper which fell from 33,000,000 pounds in 1907 to 13,000,000 pounds in 1908, but Arizona had an increase from 256,000,000 pounds to 290,000,000 pounds.

It is a bitter lesson that was taught the cattlemen of Crook county, Wyoming, that violence and unlawful acts will not prevent the cattle range from passing into the hands of sheep owners and from these to farmers and homesteaders. It is inevitable evolution that they sought to hinder with deeds of violence and they paid the penalties besides losing all right to the range a year or so sooner than they would have otherwise.

The capital city of Wyoming, although a good deal busier place than Santa Fe, will take a day off and do nothing but pull up dandelions. In Santa Fe it is noticeable that people who have the least to do have their yards most full of dandelions, while some of the busiest people manage to keep their yards clean. It is the old maxim: "If you want to have something done quickly select the busiest man you know to do it."

Idaho has applied to Uncle Sam for its third million acres under the Carey Act. Idaho has during the past five years doubled its population on account of the advantages given it by the Carey Act. There is every indication that New Mexico, with better land and with milder climate, will repeat the story of Idaho. Watch New Mexico and Santa Fe grow during the next five years!

That the season is backward is indicated by the fact that thus far no report has reached the New Mexican of the intention of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company to standard gauge its line from Antonito to Santa Fe or of having surveyors in the field for running a line from Fort Garland to Taos and thence to Santa Fe by way of Santa Cruz and Tesuque.

The Optic says that the census supervisors for New Mexico will be worth $5,000. It is rude to shatter such dreams, but as a matter of fact, the salary will be a measly $1,500 a year, and the job will last only eight months. The fees will be $1.00 for every thousand names enumerated or at the most $400.

The antics of Francis J. Heney no longer attract much attention or admiration on part of the great public. The crest of the wave of muckraking has evidently passed.

Automobiles LATEST 1909 Models on Sale at Alexander's Garage

Representing the Mitchell, Moline, McIntyre and Zimmerman Factories. These factories are noted for their excellent cars, who, instead of building down to a cheap price car, build up to a machness standard, as good a car as a man would care to own. The Mitchell people have built $11,000,000 worth of cars within the past few years, and their current year's production will equal 18,000 cars.

The Moline car occupies a position of high favor among automobile users. Models "K" and "M" for 1909, are two models of still higher excellence than their satisfactory models of last season, and have proven themselves the cars for anywhere.

High wheelers in solid rubber tires are represented by the McIntyre and the Zimmerman cars. These cars can be furnished in 26 styles of commercial and passenger combinations from $250 up.

The people realize that the motor driven vehicles have proven good and is here to stay. It is erroneous to suppose that only expert mechanical engineers can own and operate a motor driven car, many ladies drive their cars.

At present quotations they are relatively cheaper than horses—cheaper to maintain. In its adoption you take nothing from the horse except that part which can better and cheaper be done with the motor vehicle. You drive the car yourself. You get the real zest of motoring by handling the levers and steering the car yourself.

Free road demonstrations are given to interested parties any time.

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS

After Other Remedies Fail

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 733-8th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.

NO NEW RECLAMATION PROJECT

Policy of department of Interior Will Be to Complete Reservoir and Irrigation Schemes.

Denver, June 11.—With reference to the difficulties which the United States reclamation service is meeting in undertaking new projects it may be of interest to know the controlling factors which appear to render it difficult for new projects to be undertaken at the present time. The condition is, briefly, as follows:

Various projects undertaken by the reclamation service throughout the West generally were originally estimated as liable to cost something like $10,000,000. Owing to increased cost and scarcity of labor, materials and unforeseen difficulties, etc., the cost has amounted to much more than the estimates, so that it is now expected that at least $60,000,000 will be required for the completion of the projects already undertaken. The money furnished is limited, and the amount available up to the present time is not sufficient to complete the projects already undertaken.

Settlers Want Uncompleted Projects Finished First.

For the last two or three years an effort has been made to eke out the amounts available by certificates of indebtedness, paid to settlers and others for services rendered, these certificates to be redeemable in payment for water rights. There have all along, been serious doubts as to the legality of these certificates of indebtedness and it appears that the present secretary of the interior has decided, after investigating the subject, that they are not legal, and consequently the United States reclamation service is obliged to complete the projects which it has already undertaken without assistance of any kind from outside sources. Naturally those localities that have uncompleted projects where settlers have been waiting for years for the completion of the irrigation works, are bringing all possible pressure to bear to get their own projects completed, and in fairness to them it would seem as if this should be done before new projects are undertaken. For example, with the funds now available it will require several years before the Uncompahgre valley can be completed, and the same is true of the North Platte project in Wyoming and Nebraska, and a number of others of the more important reclamation projects. Delay Prevents Private Capital Development.

The Rio Grande project is an especially good illustration of a new project under consideration, the reclamation service being unable to undertake this work on any businesslike basis, but still preventing the construction of reservoirs by private capital on the Rio Grande and its tributaries, with the end in view of itself utilizing all the available water, although it may be years before there will be any possible fruition of this proposition. Under these conditions Secretary Ballinger undoubtedly feels that he must consider the claims of those who have projects already under way, the completion of which will be materially delayed by the undertaking of new projects, to the serious injury of those who are awaiting such completion.

ORGANIZED IN A SALOON

Society in the West to Annihilate Church and Present Form of Government.

Trinidad, Colo., June 11.—Additional facts concerning the "Human Brotherhood" Society, organized here in a saloon Sunday by the Italians, gathered by the police, show that the national society of New Jersey is busily organizing branch societies throughout the West and is providing these societies with newspapers and other literature of socialistic nature. Another committee of organizers has been sent farther West, where Italian people reside in large numbers, for the purpose of organizing them into one universal brotherhood to affiliate with and be under the dictation and supervision of the head society at Paterson. Its object is to destroy the Catholic church and all government.

It was also stated from a responsible source that a meeting similar to the one held here was held in Denver two or three weeks ago, when about 75 Italians joined the brotherhood.

TRIBUTE TO JUDGE REYNOLDS

Jurist Well Known in Santa Fe Retires From the Circuit Bench to Resume Law Practice.

The Saturday Union Record of St. Louis pays the following tribute to Judge Matt G. Reynolds, who has just retired from the circuit bench in St. Louis, and who was formerly U. S. attorney of the court of private land claims at Santa Fe, printing at the same time a very life-like half tone picture of the esteemed jurist:

"The public hears with much regret the retirement of Judge Matt G. Reynolds from the circuit bench. He has been a faithful, conscientious and fearless interpreter of the law. Always a man of remarkable if not extraordinary self control and a man of high ideals in the discharge of public and private duty, he will be missed from the judiciary as no man has been for a long time. Impressed more than the ordinary sitting judge with the duties of the bench, he has always tempered the justice of his judgments with a spirit of leniency and mercy whenever it was possible without oversteering the completeness of the law.

"Seemingly abrupt sometimes, no man has been ever more ready to compromise judicial dignity with all that was fair and considerate than he. He goes from the bench to re-enter law practice in St. Louis and will be associated with Thomas B. Harlan. He long ago expressed a desire to get back to himself again, where his time would be his own and where he could make more money with perhaps less exacting duties than the bench demands at a salary absurdly low. In general, he has been long regarded as an unselfish public servant who cared neither for plaudits or feared criticism, so long as he felt conscientiously that he was right. As to his reputation as a lawyer, there is no need of its discussion.

"Beyond the fact that he has been rational in his field of action and thought in his profession, much of his talent has been hidden in the exclusiveness of the bench. He is one of the not many lawyers who do not follow in a circle, but is alive to the moment, in either its exigencies, perplexities, problems or intricacies. Judge Reynolds has been always fair to the 50,000 organized workmen in St. Louis without being unjust to any of the business interests that make up the city or the state. With all of these attributes of mind and character, Judge Reynolds comes rightfully by his force of intellectual comprehension and the dignity of his place among the people. His return to active law practice is of interest not only to the thousands who know him personally but the many more thousands who know him by his work.

"This writer believes that the noblest qualities of a man are not represented in his ambitions, in his money getting habits, in his likes or dislikes, or any other attainment or effort represented by a commercial standard, but by his character as it is interwoven and exemplified through his personality, and so we have found Judge Reynolds, distinguished citizen, jurist and lawyer."

Judge Reynolds will probably be in Santa Fe soon to go on his annual fishing trip with Page B. Otero and others of his friends in this city.

Would You Think of Eating Salt Pork Every Day?

Lard is hog fat—so is salt pork. Both are indigestible and often unhealthy. Until Cottole was placed on the market, people had to use lard for all frying and shortening purposes—they had no recourse. But now there is no excuse for eating lard-soaked pastry and jeopardising your digestion with lard-soaked food. Cottole is a vegetable product—pure, healthful, digestible. It contains no hog fat. Even a dyspeptic can eat and enjoy Cottole food without the after-pangs of indigestion. Once give Cottole a fair trial and you'll banish lard from your kitchen forever.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottole a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottole is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

SALE TOMORROW

All in Readiness for Opening Performance at Elks' New Opera House.

On Thursday evening June 17th will occur a memorable event for the city of the Holy Faith, an event which should have been chronicled many years ago but which has been left for the local lodge of Elks to accomplish, namely the opening of a modern, safe and comfortable place of amusement, the Elks' theater. The management has secured for the opening performance one of the strongest repertoire companies on the road, the El Renal Stock Company, and an exceptional treat is offered the people of Santa Fe for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 17th to 19th. The plays will be The Wolf, Texas Ranger, Utah and The Devil, all plays of high musical merit.
The Elks have sacrificed a great deal of their own ambitions in giving Santa Fe this beautiful theater and in return ask the unanimous and continuous support of the people to make their undertaking a success. The tickets for the opening performances will be on sale at the Fischer Drug Company's store tomorrow morning at following prices: Box seats $3; parquet and dress circle $1.50; balcony $1.50 and gallery $1. All of these may be had for the opening season of on until the last minute in order that the occasion may be one of unqualified

GRAND ACUTION SALE OF LOTS

In The Beautiful Residence Addition to Santa Fe, Adjoining the Indian School

This fine level tract offers the only chance for the expansion of our growing beautiful city, on account of the Mountains surrounding us. It is bound to be the ideal residence part of the city. These lots will be sold at Auction without Bid or Reserve on the ground at 2 o'clock Tuesday, June 15th.

Believing it is better to have the property in the hands of the people, rather than hold for big prices, we have made arrangements to close out the entire tracts in Texas, Oklahoma and elsewhere.
Before offering this property for sale in other states, the people of Santa Fe will be offered the choice pick of the whole tract.
