FIGHTING AT SAMOA

Decision of Chief Justice in Favor of Malieta Leads to Revolution and Bloodshed.

FOREIGN RESIDENTS FLEE

An American Warship Much Needed at the Islands to Put Down the Row and Protect Property.

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—A cablegram to the Call from Auckland, New Zealand, under date of Jan. 15, says that when the steamship Alameda left Apia January 12, a revolution had broken out on the Samoan Islands, and was being waged with much bloodshed and great destruction of property. The war ships Falk and Porpoise, the latter in command of Captain Sturdee, were then at the islands and were taking part in suppressing the uprising. December 31, the chief justice determined in favor of Malieta, some claiming that Mataafa was barred by the treaty of Berlin. On January 1, 5,000 of Mataafa's followers rose in rebellion and defeated 2,000 on Malieta's men, killing 13 natives and wounding many. The rebels burned 400 houses and razed the towns of Upolu.
Three consuls signed a proclamation recognizing the Mataafa party provisional government, pending instructions from the powers with President Rafael as the executive head. British residents have taken refuge in their consulate and American residents have taken refuge at the mission. An American war ship is urgently needed here.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 18.—Previous to the opening of the operators' and miners' interstate convention today, a general meeting of operators was held at the Monongahela house, and a scale was formulated. There is a general sentiment in favor of reduction in price of mining and against continuation of the eight-hour day. The miners presented a scale providing for considerable increase in wages and an eight-hour day.

Death to Bucket Shops.
Topeka, Kan., Jan. 18.—Representative

"bucket shops" illegal in Kansas. The owners of "bucket shops" and their em-away for Manila today. She sustained an accident to her propeller as she was water poured down on the flats below.

The big plants of the Standard Oil company, Cleveland paper mills, Eltek

ing concerns were damaged, but there was no loss of life. The break occurred while 30 men were at work in an artificial canal being sunk by the city en-gradual and safe outlet. These men escaped with not a second to spare.

MRS. PINKHAM TALKS ABOUT "CHANGE OF LIFE."

Women are Urged to Prepare for this Wonderful Revolution in the Economy of Their Life Blood—Mrs. Watson Tells How She Was Helped.

At no time is woman more liable to physical and mental dangers with hours of suffering than at the "Turn of Life."
The great want in woman's system is ability to properly adjust herself to the new conditions. The outlet, monthly, of blood is now being diminished and carried into the body for the supply food of its later years.
Daughters, you can now to some extent repay your mother's early care. She must be spared every possible exertion. You must help her bear her burdens and anxieties. This critical time safely over, she will return to renewed health and happiness.
That so many women fail to anticipate this change thus happily, is owing not merely to lack of care, but to ignorance. There is, however, no excuse for ignorance when experienced advice can be yours free of all cost.
Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., she has helped great numbers of women successfully through the Change of Life, and she will help you.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best tonic for uterine changes. It works harmoniously upon all these overwrought organs, invigorates the body and drives off the blues.

Read this letter from Mrs. DELLA WATSON, 534 West 5th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time during the change of life, and it has been a savior of life unto me. I can cheerfully recommend your medicine to all women, and I know it will give permanent relief. I would be glad to relate my experience to any sufferer."

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, Speaks Against United States Holding
the Philippines.

CHOATE TO BE AMBASSADOR

Arguments Before House Committee on Commerce in Favor of Nicaragua Canal Syndicate—Threats of Indian Uprising Reported Unfounded.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, withdrew the notice given yesterday of an executive session
today, on account of the announced speech of Senator Bacon, of Georgia, but gave notice that tomorrow, at the conclusion of the speech of Senator Turner, of Washington, he would ask the senate to go into executive session.
The bill defining jurisdiction of the circuit courts of the United States in certain cases was passed. Senator Bacon, of Georgia, then called up his anti-expansion resolution and made a speech against holding the Philippines.
The senate committee on foreign relations agreed, today, on a favorable report upon the nomination of Jos. H.
Choate to be ambassador to Great Britain.

THE HOUSE.

voted today to consideration of bills reported from the committee on interstate passed were small measures to improve the light house service.

The Grace-Cragin-Eyre syndicate, organized to construct the Nicaraguan canal, had a hearing today before the house committee on commerce. Colonel David McClure, attorney for the syndicate, made an opening statement reading a list of financiers in the syndicate.
The list included John Jacob Astor, Levi
P. Morton, Robert Goetz, William R.
Grace, John D. Crimmons, John A. Mc-
Call, E. R. Ladue, Warner Miller, W. B.
Sloan and many others prominent in banking and financial circles. These gentlemen, Colonel McClure stated, were satisfied with the practicability of an isthmian water way, and believed that the concession of Nicaragua to the old Nicaragua Canal Company, expires October 9 next. They were determined, therefore, to take up the matter where it was likely to be left when the old concession ended.

Mr. Hepburn has called up the Hawaiian cable bill.

The house committee on banking and currency definitely decided today to make no further effort at this session to urge the measure for currency and banking revision, known as the Mc-Cleary bill.

The secretary of the interior, in a communication to the house committee on Indian affairs, said investigations show that the reports of a threatened uprising of Indians on the northern Cheyenne reservation are unfounded.

No Washington Senator Yet.
Olympia, Wash., Jan. 18.—Today's vote in the joint session was: Wilson, 26; Foster, 24; Humes, 22; Ankeny, 8;
Lewis, Democrat, 28; Allen, 1. Necessary to elect, 54.

joint ballot for senator was cast today.
The votes stood: Johnson, Republican,
29; Marshall, Republican, 12; Roach,
Democrat, 15; Little, Republican, 8; Lamour, Republican, 8; Hanna, Republican, 6; McCumber, Republican, 6;
Cooper, Republican, 5; Hannafin, 6.

One of the causes for the suspension of so many Santa Fe conductors is said to be their inability to say "no" when a fellow railroader in hard luck appeals to be passed over the road.

Invitations have been sent out for tonight's installation of the recently elected officers of the Woodmen of the World was 26 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 69 per cent.

The continued freezing of water in the creek and the accumulation of ice
such as there has not been for 29 years, is the cause of the diminished supply of water power at the electric light works, and the consequent variation of the incandescent lights part of these evenings.

Druggist E. H. Ross, who came here and service.

It is safe to assert that the men who arrive at the legislature hall at 9 o'clock in the morning keep good night hours.

The New Mexico Normal school, of Las Vegas, has asked the council for an appropriation in order that the work of education may be extended.

Major Van Patten is now officiating
as translator in the council, while C. S.
Pedregon, of Las Cruces, occupies the position of interpreter in the house.

Hon. T. A. Finical, of Bernalillo county, is a hard student. Each morning before the session convenes he can be found in the council chamber poring
over law books.

The Omaha exposition for 1899, wants an appropriation to assist in the work of properly representing New Mexico,
and has presented a bill to the council.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18.

Governor Otero's message meets with universal commendation by the thinking and good citizens of the territory. This is as it should be.

More chance, probably, but nearly all the anti-expansion papers are sarcastic, bitter, morose and fond of bilious editorials. So are the boodie papers in New Mexico. Birds of a feather flock together.

A good road law is very necessary, that is true. Good roads are a prime requisite in this territory, where the railroad mileage is very small, compared with the vast expanse of country to be traveled over.

General Egan probably wishes he had not said it, by this time. It is no trifling matter to accuse the commanding general of the United States army, of falsehood, and the offender in this case will probably learn that it pays to keep a discreet tongue in his mouth.

A chewing gum trust is forming which will require $15,000,000 to organize. There seems to be money as well as satisfaction in the sticky article, but what would become of the trust if the girls were to sweat off?

The United States treasury estimates that the circulation increased during December, 1898, about $10,000,000, and for the year of 1898 the increase is about $176,000,000. The total money in circulation January 1, 1899, is $1,897,301,412, as against $1,721,100,640 January 1, 1898. The per capita circulation of the national banks, based on bonds, increased from $196,000,000 to $214,000,000 during 1898. January 1, 1899, the circulation was $150,000,000. It is today larger than at any time since 1886.

The sheep sanitary law has been of great benefit to the sheep growers of the territory during the past two years. It needs amendment in a few particulars in order to be of still greater service. It is understood that such will be made to the law at the present session of the assembly. New Mexico is one of the leading sheep raising and sheep owning sections of the Union. Reliable reports place the number of sheep within the territory at 4,200,000. The industry employs many thousands of people and supports many families. It can not be fostered and protected too much. It is a source of great wealth to the territory. The better the laws for the protection and care of sheep raising in New Mexico, the better for the people of the entire territory.

Judging from conditions as they exist in congress, civil service has not proven an unqualified success. Only a few years ago the total number of votes that could be mustered against the continuance of the civil service commission in the house was 30; last week, on the question of making an appropriation for the support of that commission against the measure. Civil service, at best, is hypocritical, and the administration of the rules governing the employment of clerks and other government help is worse, and the next congress, when asked for an appropriation to carry on the work of the commission, will repudiate the whole system. This is understood by the mugwumps and Miss Nipples in politics and there is much weeping and gnashing of gums in their ranks in consequence.

How We Appear Swim.

The Anti-imperialist league is still in pursuit of the 10,000,000 signatures to protests against expansion to be presented to congress. From a study of the Congressional Record, the New York Sun is able to show the rate at which imperialism is being smashed by the petitioners, as follows: Grand total of names, 3,271; grand total per day, 294; grand total of petitions, 244; grand average of names on each, 13.4; number of Massachusetts names, 1,141; number of New York names, 246. At this rate the annual signatures would be 73,000, or about one-tenth of 1 per cent of the population of the country.

Solicitor General Bartlett's re-appointment. The Albuquerque Citizen makes the following comment on the filling of the office of solicitor general by Governor Otero:

"It was learned while at Santa Fe yesterday, that General E. L. Bartlett, the well-known solicitor general of the territory, will succeed himself. His work as the advising counsel of the governor and territory has been of the highest type the past two years, and Governor Otero, appreciating this fact, has concluded to name General Bartlett for re-appointment. General Bartlett is one of the best lawyers in the territory, and the determination of the governor to have no change in the office of solicitor general will meet with universal approval from the people of New Mexico."

The New Mexican cheerfully seconds every statement made by the Citizen in the case.

Territorial Treasurer's Report.

The report of Territorial Treasurer Eldodt, including the business transactions of his office from November 30, 1896, to December 3, 1898, has been made to Governor Otero, and it makes an interesting statement of the financial condition of the territory.

The report shows that the total receipts of the territory for the two years, from all sources, were $796,196.70; the expenditures $680,449.41, leaving a balance on hand December 3, 1898, of $88,747.29. But in this connection Treasurer Eldodt makes an explanation, in which he calls attention to the fact that it is necessary to provide additional funds for the interest fund, which is now in arrears to the extent of $40,000, and that amount will be increased at the close of the present fiscal year, March 1, 1899, to $55,000, as shown by the following summary:

Treasurer's notes outstanding, given for loans to complete the payment of coupons. $25,000.00
Interest due up to date of this report. 1,574.10
Interest due January 1, 1899. 9,500.00
Interest due March 1, 1899. 15,425.90
Total arrearage to close of fiscal year. $51,499.00

About $25,000 of this arrearage existed two years ago, and the attention of the last legislature was called to the necessity of making some provision for its payment, but no action was taken. The remainder of the arrearage has arisen during the past two years, from the failure of the cash receipts from taxation to equal the appropriations. Interest coupons have been paid promptly, but in order to do so the treasurer has been compelled to borrow funds under the provisions of section 2607 of the Compiled Laws. To provide a tax for the purpose of wiping out the deficit in the interest fund it will require about a 3-mills levy, and as taxation is already heavy, the treasurer suggests that a short-term bond issue be authorized for that purpose.

Two tables in the report are worthy of deep study by tax payers and others, since they show that taxes are not paid as they should be. The first of these tables which is for 1896, shows that the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the territory is $36,891,102.48; that at the rate of taxation, 7.75 mills the revenue for the territory should have amounted to $285,906.64, but the actual amount of cash received was $186,225.97, or 65 per cent of the taxes levied. The second table, that for 1897, shows that the assessed value of the taxable property of the territory that year was $39,475,119.18; the rate of taxation, 7.80 mills, should have produced a revenue for the territory amounting to $307,656.88, but the actual amount of cash received was $225,940.25, or 73 per cent of the amount actually due the territory. Is there any wonder that there is a deficit in the territorial treasury?

The appropriations made by the legislature for 1897 were $212,330.00; the distribution of cash on those appropriations was 65 per cent, or $138,814.25; the appropriations for 1898 amounted to $193,080, and the distribution of cash was 71 per cent, or $137,070.17. The cash balances on deposit amount to $76,255.06, distributed among ten different banks, and the amount of interest received by reason of such deposits is $6,382.12.

The report also shows that 22 insurance companies have complied with the law passed by the 32d legislative assembly, requiring a deposit of $10,000 with the territorial treasurer, and that 12 out of the 22 companies deposited territorial bonds of different kinds, making a market for $120,000 worth of bonds.

The report also shows that the bonded indebtedness of the territory is $1,066,500, a small amount when compared with the wealth of the territory, and could be easily collected as they should be, it would not be long before a sinking fund of sufficient amount to pay off the different issues, when they fall due, would be on hand.

The report is filled with carefully prepared tables and data, and speaks volumes for the management of the office by Mr. Eldodt and his efficient clerk, Mr. Celestino Ortiz.

GREAT MINING CAMP

Hillsboro Unquestionably One of the Best in the Entire Southwest-- Mines and Mining.

RAILWAY FACILITIES NEEDED

Coal Fields Nearby—Speculative Promoters and Curbstone Operators Have Greatly Hindered Development—Something of Local Interest Told.

Hillsboro, N. M., Jan. 14, 1899.—Hillsboro is unquestionably one of the finest mining camps in the west. The resources of the district are practically limitless, and it needs but a touch from the magic wand of some capitalistic Moses to metamorphose Hillsboro from a Rip Van Winkle to a full fledged metropolitan dude.

After brief conversations with a few of the prominent business men, I became possessed of a case of blues, warranted not to run, crack, fade or ravel. Then I decided to visit the mines and ascertain for The New Mexican, just what sort of properties the district held, and whether any member of the business community really had a kick coming. I found from actual investigation that large amounts of ore, returning from $20 to $30 per ton, were being regularly shipped to the El Paso smelter and Silver City reduction works, and that vast quantities of low grade ores, valued from $5 to $20 per ton, were thrown over the dump to await local treatment or partially treated with ineffectual machinery. In some instances the ore shipped during development has more than paid the cost of opening properties, meanwhile a reserve of low grade ore is being created.

At Andrews I saw the return from an assay on a recent strike. The values given were $185 per ton. Later, I ascertained that a merchant in Hillsboro purchased a half interest in the property for $50. This property, with its fifteen foot shaft, would be worth anywhere from $10,000 to $100,000 in a live

Colorado district, but in Hillsboro is not considered of sufficient importance to warrant a boom.

After reviewing the shipments of various mines and seeing enough high grade ore to make me think that Hillsboro had the world by the narrative and a descending grade, I wondered why railway and smelting facilities were denied the camp.

A good way to acquire these necessities would be for each merchant and operator to stiffen his backbone, and place their shoulders to the wheel. A bright front on all matters affecting the district, cheerful words to the stranger within the gates, and assiduous and judicious advertising will in time boost the Black Range resources to the position of prominence which they merit.

The Hillsboro district has been kind to its merchants. A majority of them have accumulated comfortable fortunes there, and they owe the region a share of their money and energies in inducing capital to visit and develop the resources. As I take an inventory of my personal belongings and find 18 cents, a skate strap and a trunk full of worthless Cripple Creek mining stock, I am tempted to compare my condition to some Hillsboro merchants that I have in mind, and register a kick. I wonder if they realize that millions of dollars were spent in the Cripple Creek district before producing mines were opened. Such is the fact, and the money was lured to the district by enterprising merchants and promoters, despite the derogatory advice of shrewd business men, and the unfavorable reports of nearly every western geologist and mining expert.

In tomorrow's letter to The New Mexican will be presented the practical views of a practical man on the proper system for working the Hillsboro mines under present conditions. For my part, I rather favor the Utopian ideas of P. J. Bennett, editor of the Advocate. Mr. Bennett, is the Colonel Sellers of the district, and has schemes for millions and millions of schemes in his mind. Nevertheless, his ideas are feasible and some day his dreams will be realized. He is a bright writer, a practical miner and an optimist of pronounced stripe. He can do more to show a stranger the favorable and luring side of the district than anyone else, and he should be thoroughly appreciated by the community with which he has cast his lot. At present he is interested in numerous promising mining ventures and he is poised to sell his newspaper, which is operating on a sound and successful basis, and will devote his entire attention to mining.

Speculative promoters and curbstone operators have been the curse of Hillsboro from time immemorial. They have operated on jaw bone since Hector was a pup, fleeced the local merchants, gutted the surface workings of the mines and folded their tents and silently stole away. They left nothing but a bad reputation and they bequeathed that to the properties which they made people believe they were operating. This paragraph contains the history of Hillsboro. And it gives the outside world a knowledge of the obstacles which the present population must overcome and shows the disappointments which the merchants must relegate if they would crown failure with success.

The district will furnish any quantity of smelting ore, and coal fields are located within 35 miles. Surely a railway connecting the coal fields with the gold and silver fields is a project worthy of consideration, and not beyond the pale of possibility. This would solve the fuel problem for all time, and a market now exists for the product.

Of course it is a hard matter, when past production is considered, for the residents of the region to begin all over again at the bottom and work their way up. Incidentally, it occurs to me that it would be a physical impossibility for a man to excavate the above in digging a shaft. But such is the state of affairs at present, that the tangled skein of mismanagement and failure must be unraveled in order to convince capital that the region really possesses meritorious schemes for investment. It certainly does possess remunerative veins and fearless development and scientific management will demonstrate the truth of the assertion.

Hillsboro is located 20 miles from the railway. A daily stage, operated by J. W. Orchard, plies between Lake Valley, Hillsboro and Kingston. It is one of the finest stage lines in the territory, and sports the best vehicles, best horses and best looking driver in the southwest. The scenery along the route from Hillsboro to Kingston is said by globe trotters to equal anything in Switzerland.

Mr. Orchard is a genial gentleman and is enterprising and progressive, always willing for the best interests of his community. The stage line was put in at a cost of over $7,000, and the horses and rolling stock alone represent $5,000. Mr. Orchard takes great pride in his horses, and always keeps them in the best of condition.

The Union Hotel in Hillsboro furnishes the best of accommodations for the traveling public under the proprietorship of L. W. Galles. The table is supplied with the best that the market affords, every known delicacy of the season being shipped in. The hotel contains 18 rooms and is lighted by acetylene gas. Rates, $2.50 per day. Relative to the camp and its future, Mr. Galles said: "We have a good camp. As an evidence of my faith in the locality, I purchased this hotel recently, and I have no fear as to the outcome. After spending 10 years here, I moved to Arizona, and remained two years, but returned to Hillsboro, because I could find no mining region that equaled this. As an evidence of what the mines will do, I once leased the Opportunity, and after paying one-third of the proceeds to the owner, I found that the mine was worth $100,000, and I was being regularly shipped to the El Paso smelter and Silver City reduction works, and that vast quantities of low grade ores, valued from $5 to $20 per ton, were thrown over the dump to await local treatment or partially treated with ineffectual machinery. In some instances the ore shipped during development has more than paid the cost of opening properties, meanwhile a reserve of low grade ore is being created.

SHE BROKE HER CROSS.

Here is a case of a very charming young woman of central Ohio, who had grace, beauty and wit to commend her. Just as she was budding into womanhood a cloud came to darken her life. Her troubles weighed heavily upon her, and for a long time she would not—could not leave her house. She used to receive her friends stretched on a couch or leaning back in an invalid chair, and her friends were many. She was quoted as an example of Christian courage. She referred to her condition as "her cross," and everyone thought how brave and good she was to bear her burden with such fortitude. One by one her friends were joined to the men of their choice. She sent them all presents and received from each a piece of wedding cake, which she cried over a little, and didn't put under her pillow because it wasn't any good for her to dream. No man could marry her. A life of solitary suffering was hers. Yet her sad smile only got brighter as her cross got heavier. One day a young man found his way into that home looking upon this girl, he loved her. And so he came often and she grew to look for him, and learned to lean on him, and dreamed the pretty dreams that come to pure women whose hearts God has fashioned for happy love. But over all the prospect was the shadow of her cross.

"It could never be, never be!" she said it over and over again to herself every night as the tears slipped down her face. Then she got to saying: "If it only could be! If it only could be!" And she said this many times day and night. One day she lay on the sofa and began to say, "It shall be!"

"I'll break this cross to pieces or I'll die trying." And then she looked around for help. And by chance or providence there came a man whose hands—the book whose title and contents are referred to below. It appealed to her. Common sense was what she needed. She realized now that she had eyes, hands, organs, dimensions like her girl friends, who were matrons and mothers. She realized that it was not common sense that she should be born to be crushed by her cross.

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness were her inalienable rights and she wanted the full rights of a healthy, happy citizen. This is not a fairy story in that it ends amid the merry clank of marriage bells and with "they lived happy ever afterward."

It seemed a miracle to her friends to see this martyr, this patient cross bearer, get up from her sofa and begin to live. It was more strange when she took to golf, and the wheel, and went with all the ardor of one so long excluded from outdoor enjoyment. And stranger still of all that she became the mother of healthy, happy children. This is not a fairy story. It is the story of one person. It is the story of thousands of women. It is a composite picture of the life of a woman who, faced with suffering, channeled by tears. It is a story as true as the parable of the Prodigal Son, which was not the story of one man but the story of the type which repeats itself generation after generation and is as common to Europe as to Asia, to Africa as to America.

receiver of the mine and $635 per ton treatment charges, I made a success. The ore ran $50 per ton and made $200 concentrates. By the way, just mention that Aloys Preisner is Hillsboro's candidate for member of the board of equalization.

One Exception.

"Yes," said the heavy set man with the thick neck and the blue black chin, "the old days were the best—the old actors, the old plays, the old scenery, the old that old things are the best."

"Not eggs," said the watery eyed comedian in his high, shrill voice.

And a shudder ran around the room.

Spain's Sunken Ships Floated.
Perhaps the greatest mechanical feat of the century has been the raising of some of the Spanish warships which were apparently shot to pieces at Santiago. It seemed utterly impossible to float them because of the terrible damage inflicted by our guns, but the task has been accomplished. Diseases of the blood, stomach and liver frequently wreck the health so that there appears to be no chance of recovery. But when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is taken, the disordered system is speedily restored to its old-time vigor and tone. The Bitters will regulate the liver, bowels and digestive functions and purify the blood. You can buy this remedy in any drug store, and under no circumstances should you accept anything said to be "just as good."

Maud—Well, it was nobody but George who kissed me.—Till Bits.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.
"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Mr. Jas. A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.' " For sale by A. C. Ireland.

A Compromise.

Big Boy—I tell ye wot, Gimme a penny and Billy'll throw his away.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of la grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quiet at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

FASHION HINTS.
Notes of Novelties for the Approaching Winter Season.
Blue fox, sable and astrakhan are favorite furs. Indeed fur is already appearing and promises to be as fashionable this season as it has been for the last two winters. Plumes likewise not only appear in millinery, but are used as a decoration for house and evening gowns. Fibers of plumage are interwoven with unobtrusive and are employed as a fringe for ruffles and platings of gauze. Feather bands are much employed also.
Wings of gauze, lace and spangles are seen in great abundance on hats. They are used in pairs, and sometimes as many as three pairs appear on the same hat.

Falls with large ribs, suggesting what used to be called ottoman silk, is seen among the winter novelties. It is probably an outgrowth of the heavily ribbed silk and wool poplins which resuscitated last season. These poplins are still in vogue and are seen in a variety of plaids, appearing thus often in solid colors.
The picture given in today's issue shows a new bodice of suede cloth. It has a short basque ornamentally cut around the edge and forming a point at the back. The front of the bodice is half loose and has straight revers of cloth edged with a bias band of brown satin. A satin band also edges the basque and the slashed high collar. Satin bands decorate the front and the upper part of the sleeves, as well as the flaring cuffs, each band being fastened by a small steel button. The front of the bodice is finished by a cravat and coquilles of coral mousseline de sole, edged with brown ostrich plume fibers.
JUDIC CHOLLET.

BODICES.
Coats and Redingotes the First Favorites of Fashion.

Coat bodices are encroaching more and more upon general notice. The basque is usually rounded and is cut in one with the bodice, having flat coatfalls at the back with a row of buttons at each side. Many of the newest tailor-made gowns show this form of corsage or something analogous. With these coat bodices tight vests of fancy materials have returned and offer a field for the display of decorative buttons, enameled or crystal buttons of a round or octagonal form being preferred.

Among other novelties the empire collar, high and turned over upon itself, has appeared.
Long redingotes are not confined to a plain finish, but in cloth as well as in velvet are sometimes richly embroidered and rendered very elaborate. In all cases they are more suitable for carriage wear than for walking, for a long coat of any kind impedes movement. Plain and fancy ottomans, bengalines and velvets, rich brocades and drap de sole are all materials well employed for these garments, and very wealthy women have the color of the redingote match that of the costume with which it is worn.
The picture shows a carriage wrap of gros de Lyon of a silver gray tone. There is a deep circular roussette around the foot, embroidered with black velvet applications, and the two waistcoat plaits fall from a yoke similarly embroidered, having an embroidered bertha and valois collar. The collar is edged with silver gray plumage. The toque of ruby velvet is trimmed with silver gray feathers.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

Makes Weak Women Strong, And Sick Women Well.
For over thirty years this celebrated remedy has been making the lives of happier—healthier—safer.
Many thousands of women have testified to its wonderful effect.
It is the one medicine that can be depended upon when there is any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism. It purifies, heals, soothes, builds up. It is needed when backaches make life miserable—when a sickening, dragging, bearing-down feeling makes work a weary agony and play impossible—when disagreeable drains give proof of burning inflammation—when sick headache, nervous irritability, loss of energy and appetite are the reminder of unhealthy irregularity or painful periods.
"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 225 East College Street, Jacksonville, Ill. "I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pains in the lower part of my bowels, and such distress every month, but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman. Thanks to your medicine. I never forget to recommend it to all suffering women. I consider myself a living testimonial of the benefits of your Favorite Prescription."
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets help the effect of all other medicines by keeping the liver active and the bowels open. At all dealers—get what you ask for.

BOUND TO BE RIGHT.
She Didn't Argue When in the Wrong, But—
"It's sorry Oi am to see ye goin so soon," remarked Mrs. McShantee, as her guest, Mrs. McQuatter, arose to leave, "but as ye go through Mrs. Mickey Moylan's yard wud ye do me a favor?"
"Wid pleasure Oi wud," responded Mrs. McQuatter, leader of the Goat-ville Four Hundred. "Sure, I tuort, bein such near neighbors, ye an th' Moylans wud be unfriendly."
"They're not at home th' day," explained Mrs. McShantee, "an it isn't my Moylan O' want to," she added with suppressed emotion. "This mornin Mrs. Moylan gave me ballyhoo wid her veil tounge because my chickens scratched up her yard."
"Phwy didn't ye scolden her?"
"Sure wasn't she in th' right? My chickens had no call in her yard, an phwat end Oi do but stand an take phwat she said. It's meek enough Oi am, Mrs. McQuatter, when Oi'm in th' wrong. Ye'll never foind me makin throuble widout Oi have th' right on my soid. See?"
"Phwat is it ye want me to do as I pass through Mrs. Moylan's yard?" asked Mrs. McQuatter with a puzzled air.
"Oi want ye ter open th' kitchen door an let their billygoat out. They locked him in phlwu they wint down town."
"Sure Oi will that."
"Thankes, Mrs. McQuatter; it's a good fri'nd ye are. It won't be long before that billy goat goes over into this yard, an thim whin Mrs. Moylan comes home—hiven hilp 'er."—New York Weekly.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.
You are perhaps aware that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of la grippe. During the epidemic of la grippe a few years ago, when so many cases resulted in pneumonia, it was observed that the attack was never followed by that disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It counteracts any tendency of a cold or la grippe to result in that dangerous disease. It is the best remedy in the world for bad colds and la grippe. Every bottle warranted. For sale by A. C. ## Paint is to a Building what clothing is to the body. It is just as important. You should take as much care in selecting the paint to clothe your property, as you do in selecting the material to clothe your person. Paint preserves the building. Paint gives beauty to the building. In painting the labor costs more than the paint. There will be a large waste if the right paint is not used.

A Paper From Manila.

Muscleman Daniel Slezinger, of the 18th United States Infantry band, stationed at Fort Cavite, Manila, has favored a friend in the New Mexican office with a copy of "The American," published at Manila, P. I., for Wednesday, December 7, 1898. The paper is a six page daily publication of four columns to the page, 15 ems wide. A large cut stretches across the top of the first page with a big eagle perched over Manila, and beneath, "The American, equal rights for all." There are special and associated press dispatches from the United States with local write ups of various kinds, one of the latter being a sensation, "Brutal Murder of a Woman." The advertising is quite extensive, the whole of the last page being given up to a beer ad. The editor is Franklin Brooks. The make up of "The American" is suggestive of papers published in the United States half a century ago, but the reading matter is well gotten up, and the management enterprising. Accompanying the paper is an excellently executed water color drawing of the part of the walled city of Manila where the Spaniards made their last stand, after being driven in from their trenches and outer works, Mr. Slezinger being the artist.

McIntosh, Victor Ortega, B. A. Romero, Benjamin Sanchez, Pedro Sanchez, W. H. Schultz, Frank Staplin, Marcial Valdez, J. E. Wharton, Frank H. Winston, Mr. Speaker.

The journal was read in English and on motion of Mr. Sanchez the reading of the journal in Spanish was dispensed with.

Mr. Romero, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, stated that the committee desired to make a report.

His wishes were granted and the following report made:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
33d Legislative Assembly of N. M.
Mr. Speaker—Your committee on privileges and elections, to whom was referred the election contest of Pablo Trujillo vs. Benjamin Sanchez for the office of representative from the 7th legislative district of the territory of New Mexico, composed of the counties of Socorro and Sierra in said territory, have had the same under consideration and I am directed to report hereby to the house of representatives as follows:

From the face of the returns of the election, out of which this contest arose, it appears that in the county of Socorro the contestant, Pablo Trujillo, received 1,305 votes; that the contestee, Benjamin Sanchez, in the county of Socorro, received 1,255 votes and in the county of Sierra 415 votes, being a total of 1,670 votes and a majority of 5 votes over contestant, Pablo Trujillo.

Your committee, however, finds that in precinct 26 of the county of Socorro there were 11 illegal votes cast by persons who were not citizens of the United States, which were counted and returned for the said contestee, Benjamin Sanchez, and deducting these said 11 illegal votes as cast and counted for the said Benjamin Sanchez from the votes he received, as shown by the face of the returns, your committee finds that he received 1,659, and that, therefore, the said Pablo Trujillo received a majority of 6 of the legal votes cast at said election in the said counties of Socorro and Sierra, and is entitled to the office of representative from the 7th legislative district of the territory of New Mexico, and your committee recommends that the said Pablo Trujillo be declared elected to said office and sworn in to hold the same.

Mr. Llewellyn introduced the following resolution:

Be it resolved, by the house of representatives of the 33d legislative assembly of the territory of New Mexico: First—That the report of the committee on privileges and elections be and the same is hereby adopted.

Second—That in the judgment of the house of representatives Benjamin Sanchez was not elected to the office of representative of the 33d legislative assembly from the 7th legislative district of the said territory of New Mexico composed of the counties of Socorro and Sierra and is not qualified to hold said office, and it is the judgment of the said house of representatives that Pablo Trujillo was legally elected to said office and is qualified to hold the same.

Third—That the seat of the said Benjamin Sanchez be, and the same is hereby declared vacant as to him, and Pablo Trujillo be and is hereby admitted to a seat in this house of representatives as a member from the 7th legislative district of the said territory of New Mexico composed of the counties of Socorro and Sierra.

On motion of Mr. Gallegos the resolution was adopted.
