DISASTROUS FIRES

Five Persons Burned to Death This Morning--Heavy Property Losses in Cleveland.

FIREMAN BURIED IN RUINS

Large Manufacturing Plant Totally Destroyed--Boarding House in Memphis Veritable Death Trap--Fire Department Unable to Extinguish Flames.

Memphis, Tenn., March 24.—In a fire in the boarding house of Mrs. Nolan, 104 Court street, this morning, four persons lost their lives and several others were seriously injured. The dead are:
Mrs. Chapin, a widow; Roy Chapin, her son, aged 10; Chester Chapin, aged 4, and Dick Smith. Mrs. Chapin was a steno-grapher. All four were suffocated. The seriously injured are: Robt.
Campbell, leg broken; Katie Floyd, stenographer for the mayor, burned about the face; Paul Martin, badly burned about face and arms. Several others are also injured, but not seriously.

LATTER PARTICULARS.
An unknown woman is missing. It is feared she perished in the flames. William not Dick Smith, one of the victims, was a painter and paper hanger. Miss Lloyd was badly burned. Her bed was a fire when she awoke, and she leaped through a window to the ground, 20 feet below. She lay on the ground 15 minutes before being discovered.

DISASTROUS BLAZE AT CLEVELAND.
Cleveland, March 24.—A fire broke out early today in the building department of the Dangler works, was also destroyed. Loss at the Dangler works is estimated at $300,000; on the screw plant $150,000. Falling walls buried Lieutenant Roth, and the body has not been recovered.

Sherman Safely Moved.
Santiago, March 24.—John Sherman was safely moved today from the American liner steamer Paris to the United States Cruiser Chicago.

Hard to Down a Good Man.
Pekin, March 24.—It is learned on good authority that Li Hung Chang is again to return to power.

To Be Punished for Kidnaping.
Chicago, March 24.—Gerald Lapiner, the abducted boy, accompanied by his mother arrived in Chicago today from Painesville, Ohio. The child looked pale and thin. He quickly recognized his brothers and sisters. Mr. and Mrs.
Lapiner will return to Painesville to appear Monday, when proceedings against the abductors will be initiated. Lapiner says he will devote all his energies to the punishment of those responsible for the stealing boy. He believes the old couple with whom child was found were not alone in the work, and the motive for kidnaping was to hold the boy for a ransom.

Requisition papers have been sent to Painesville, and are expected to result in the speedy appearance of Collins and Mrs. Ingersoll at Chicago to stand trial.

Wages Increased at Cincinnati.
Cincinnati, O., March 24.—The local Iron Foundrymen's Association, after long consideration of the demands of the members of the Iron Moulders' International Union for increase of wages, decided to grant a 10 per cent increase, to take effect May 1. The parties interested also agreed upon a plan for a yearly adjustment of wages through an annual conference. The agreement affects 3,000 employees.

VOLUNTEERS COMING HOME.

Twenty-three Regiments in Cuba to Reach United States by April 25--Difficult Undertaking.

Washington, March 24.—Adjutant General Corbin has undertaken to get all the volunteers out of Cuba by April 25, fully two weeks within the limit set by the president. The difficulties of the undertaking may be realized when it is remembered that 23 regiments must be transported by sea to the United States ports within one month.

Took a Flying Trip.

Thomasville, Ga., March 24.—President McKinley and a large party made a flying trip to-day to Tallahassee, Fla.

PROPOSALS FOR NEW MEX- ICO BONDS.

Territory of New Mexico.
Office of the Territorial Treasurer,
Santa Fe, N. M., March 22, 1899.
Sealed proposals for the purchase of sixty thousand dollars Capital Rebuilding Bonds of the territory of New Mexico, Second Series, will be received at my office in Santa Fe, New Mexico, up to Monday, May 1st, 1899, at 10 o'clock
a. m., when the proposals will be opened and the bonds awarded to the highest and best bidder, provided the bid is not below par.

These bonds are coupon bonds of the denomination of one thousand dollars, dated May 1, 1899, bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, principal and interest payable at the National Bank of Commerce in New York. The bonds are payable thirty years from date, with the right to the Territory to pay them at any time after twenty years from date. The bonds are issued for the purpose of providing funds to complete and furnish the territorial capitol now being erected at Santa Fe, and to lay out the grounds thereof, under and by virtue of an act passed by the Thirty-third Legislative Assembly of the Territory, approved March 15, 1899, and which act was duly authorized by the Congress of the United States of America, by Act approved March 1st, 1899.
For copies of the Act and further particulars apply at my office.

SAMUEL ELDODT,
Territorial Treasurer.

HOUSED TO DEATH

Twenty-three Negroes Are Being Run to Earth and Hung Near Texarkana.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Plot to Start a Race War Proves a Boomerang for Originators--Saturnus Humor of a Corner's Jury.

Texarkana, Ark., March 24.—Twenty-three negroes are being housed to death by enraged white citizens in this vicinity. It is not known how many are dead, but 10 bodies have been found, and more are probably swinging from trees in lonesome spots. This bloodthirsty race war was started by the assassination of a white man and a discovery that 23 negroes had entered into a conspiracy to commit more murders.
At an inquest to-day a verdict was rendered that the men "came to their deaths from natural causes or were frozen to death." There is some doubt where the lynchings occurred, it being near the state line, either in Little River county, Ark., or Bowie county, Tex.
The inquest was held by a justice of the peace.

One of the dead men, Joe King, is one of the negroes who was whipped by whites on Wednesday near Comfort.
Just after the lynching of Duckett a constable went to King and told him Duckett had been lynched for the assaulting of farmer Stockton. King replied he knew all about the Stockton killing, and said the farmer ought to have been killed sooner. He also intimated that others would be killed before the matter was settled. A crowd of indignant whites took him to the woods, where he was thoroughly whipped and released. It is not known where or by whom he was afterwards strung up, but he no doubt fell into the hands of a lynching party organized after the plots of the negroes to start a race war had been unearthed.

Trouble in the Democratic Camp.

New York, March 24.—The Times says: It is announced that Oliver H. P.
Belmont, who withdrew from the committee on invitations and speaker of the Democratic club dinner, has decided not to attend the function of the Croker club, but will, instead, partake of the dinner. This information was given out by one of Belmont's business associates. In resigning from the Democratic club's committee, Belmont gave as his reason the fact that the dinner had dwindled from a national to merely a local significance. His latest move, it was said, was for the purpose of emphasizing his disapproval of the operations of the managers of the Democratic club dinner.

Honduras Must Give Indemnity.

Washington, March 24.—Dr. Hunter, United States minister to Honduras, had a talk with Secretary Hay today, preparatory to starting for his post. The most pressing matter with which the new minister is charged, is a request from the United States government for reparation and indemnity in the case of the American, Pears, who was wantonly killed by a sentry during a revolutionary disturbance in Honduras.

Parts of Two Bodies Found.

New York, March 24.—During the forenoon, parts of two bodies were found in the ruins of the Windsor hotel.
R. A. Morrill, who claimed to have been the first to turn in the alarm, and Detective Harry Niehoff, of the Windsor hotel, were examined today by Fire Marshal Seery, who is conducting an investigation into the origin of the fire.
Marshal Seery intimated that witnesses heretofore examined had given some important information, but said it could not be made public yet.

RANCOR AND HATE CONTINUE.

Proceedings Being Taken in Different Parts of Cuba Against Parties Charged with Crimes Committed During the War--A Halt Called.

Havana, March 24.—That Cuban and Spanish rancors and hatreds, the outgrowth of war conditions, are still actively pursued in Cuba, is evidenced by a communication recently sent Governor General Brooke by Senator Llanusa, head of the department of justice and public instruction. He says it is a matter of daily occurrence that in different parts of the island proceedings are being taken against those who belonged to guerrilla and other Spanish forces during the war for crimes imputed to have been committed in that time. "Cuba's peace," Senator Llanusa adds, "requires that this be stopped. If we opened the door to such accusations we should soon have a series of actions against Cuban leaders and resident Spanish soldiers which would constitute a continuation of the war with other arms."

Governor General Brooke will issue a decree that civil and military judges must dismiss all actions against the troops in the field for or against Spain during the war for acts committed then.
Further, the governor general will order an immediate release of all men now held in custody on such charges.

Another Combination.

New York, March 24.—It is reported that the Newark manufacturers of fertilizers are about to effect a combination.

Mail Service in Cuba.

Washington, March 24.—Chief George W. Beaver, of the salary and allowance division of the post office department, who accompanied Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith to Cuba, returned to-day. He reports the postal service in Cuba is closely following the lines of service in the United States in every respect, except in registration mail matter. The postmaster general closed contracts to provide the Havana post office with modern appliances. Special stamps for Cuban service are being furnished, together with stamped envelopes, with designs symbolical of Cuba.

DECISIVE BATTLE

EXPECTED SOON
If Filipinos Are Defeated They Will Disappear in Swamps and Mountains of Interior.

CAN NOT STAND

BAYONET CHARGES

Rebels Massing for Desperate and Final Stand Against Americans--Escaped
Spanish Prisoners Gave Valuable Information Concerning Conditions.

Manila, March 24.—Two Spanish prisoners who escaped from the rebels at Polo to the lines of the Kansas regiment report that the Filipinos have concentrated their forces at Malabon and Polo. They add that only Aguinaldo's body guard is at Malolos, and the rebel leaders apparently intend to stake their fortunes on a fight at Malabon, where it was expected an engagement would take place yesterday. If defeated, it is asserted, the rebels intend to disperse to the swamps and mountains. The rebels were putting their Bolos in front, believing the Bolo men's charms will avert the bullets. Bolo men of the Filipinos greatly outnumber the riflemen in their ranks. The rebels are further said to have admitted they cannot withstand American shells and bayonet charges. The escaped Spaniards corroborated the stories of a food shortage among the rebels, and stated that hospitals are short of supplies.

WILL MAKE A DESPERATE STAND

The rebels are heavily massed in trenches opposite our lines on the north.
Aguinaldo evidently believes a blow will be struck soon at Malolos, the Filipino capital. Prisoners brought in within 24 hours say the rebels will make the most decisive stand they have yet taken. The second line of defenses occupied by the rebels is between San Mateo and Mambalao. There are rows of trenches there, and an advance by American troops can only be step by step, with resistance to be expected at every trench.

The enemy is active in the vicinity of Malabon preparing defenses. They keep well under cover. A small body emerged from the jungle yesterday and fired upon the Kansas troops in the trenches, fatally wounding Privates Cohen and Murr. The Oregon volunteers and 22d infantry marched to the front to-day.
General H. G. Otis' brigade struck its tents this morning, and an early move is probable.

A LARGE SIZED HEN ON.

Washington, March 24.—It is understood here that General Otis, within a week or 10 days, will begin the movement which is expected to mark the destruction of Aguinaldo's army. Although stragglers and fugitives may infest the island of Luzon for some time it is believed after Otis delivers his next blow the insurgent army as an organization will have ceased to exist. Otis has procured 13 gunboats formerly owned by the Spanish government which are to play an important part in the development of the campaign.

Many troops engaged on the outer lines up to the date of General Lawton's arrival at Manila have been withdrawn to the water front, and a complete reorganization of the army is in progress.
Re-enforcements now arriving are being used to maintain the strength of lines running from Manila to Pasig, established by Wheaton's flying brigade.
It is believed Otis will place a complete brigade on board of vessels, steam rapidly northward, and land them beyond the insurgent headquarters at Malolos.
If this movement succeeds, as it should,
if made with rapidity, the insurgent army will find itself completely penned in, with no opportunity for retreat. If this plan is carried out the insurgents can not avoid a decisive conflict, which must end either in their breaking through the American lines or surrender. It is evident that Otis expects the latter, for he already advises the war department that the insurrection cannot last much longer.

AN OPERATION AVOIDED.

Mrs. Rosa Gaum Writes to Mrs.
Pinkham About It. She Says:
DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I take pleasure in writing you a few lines to inform you of the good your Vegetable Compound has done me. I cannot thank you enough for what your medicine has done for me; it has, indeed, helped me wonderfully.

For years I was troubled with an
ovarian tumor,
each year growing worse, until at last I was compelled
to consult with a physician.
He said
nothing could be done for me but to go under an operation.
In speaking with a friend of mine about it, she recommended Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, saying she knew it would cure me. I then sent for your medicine, and after taking three bottles of it, the tumor disappeared. Oh! you do not know how much good your medicine has done me. I shall recommend it to all suffering women.—Mrs. ROSA GAUM, 720 Wall St., Los Angeles, Cal.

The great and unvarying success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in relieving every derangement of the female organs, demonstrates it to be the modern safeguard of woman's happiness and bodily strength.
More than a million women have been benefited by it.

Every woman who needs advice about her health is invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass.

COPPER AND GOLD

Substantial Progress is Being Made at Jarilla Mining Camp in Otero County.

PERMANENT DEVELOPMENTS

Not a Poor Man's Camp, As from $5,000 to $20,000 is Necessary to Prepare the Ground for Production.

The Jarilla mining camp, located four miles off the line of the El Paso and Northeastern road, in Otero county, and to which a branch road has been built, is one of the most promising mining camps in this territory. The Eddy brothers, the chief promoters of the railroad running through that country, and who have done so much for the welfare of New Mexico, are the largest owners in this future great camp, and are making permanent and substantial improvements on their properties, as they are well satisfied with the ore bodies discovered. Hoisting and carriage apparatus are being set up, and the diamond drill is marking out large bodies of hematite ore with gold values 100 feet down. The building of the railroad right to the dumps of the producing mines makes wagon haul unnecessary, and thus even third-class ore is made to pay through increased carriage facilities. And as the bodies of low-grade ore are very extensive, and can be handled economically because of railroad facilities, the railroad company will have an immense tonnage to haul.
The Eddys have marketed 3,000 tons of ore assaying $15 to $60 per ton in gold, while small pockets yield from $1,000 to $8,000 of the yellow metal. It is reported that a car load of this ore, or rather wire gold, is being sacked for refining, but the management will not give out facts or figures until "the returns are all in."

Assays from trial shipments of ores from various other claims in the camp run out 12 to 15 per cent copper, and $4 to $18 gold per ton. So valuable are the claims in Jarilla camp held that $15,000 was recently refused for half a claim, 300x1500 feet. The owners of this particular claim are Dan Kelly, of the El Paso hardware firm of Fassett & Kelly, and S. O. Smith, who was a poor miner. They have developed a fine ore body, and can ship 60 to 75 tons per month. The St. Louis United Copper Company have discovered a great body of copper ore, and will sink a large shaft. The Orian Mining Company, composed of El Paso capitalists, is making a careful prospect in starting development; and the Jarilla Gold Mining Company, of El Paso and Boston capital, will thoroughly prospect with diamond drills.

The grounds of the district have been snapped up so greedily that it is claimed that all the ground within a radius of five to ten miles has within the last 30 days in particular been located and staked out. So there is no room left for locations; and as it costs from $5,000 to $20,000 to put ground into a profitably working condition, men without means had better remain away and try elsewhere. New Mexico, Texas, Colorado, California, Tennessee, New York and Pennsylvania capitalists are pushing in with large means, and William Church, of Denver, and A. W. Gifford, formerly an extensive operator in old Mexico, are in the swim. The ore output is shipped to the El Paso smelter, which will ere long have to increase the number of its stacks in order to handle the increase of business forced upon it.

For Killing His Sweetheart.

Bismarck, N. D., March 24.—James W. Cole, a negro who on December 12 shot and killed his sweetheart, Miss Harriet Ford through jealousy, explained his crime on the scaffold today. Cole made a farewell talk and then called to the officers to pull the trap.

Billy Bryan's Peripatations.

Memphis, Tenn., March 24.—William J. Bryan arrived at Memphis this morning, and was escorted to the Peabody hotel, where a public reception was held this afternoon. To-night Bryan will deliver a lecture under the auspices of the Nineteenth Century Club, after which he will leave for Little Rock.

SHOT THE JUDGE

Who Refused to Approve of His Bill of Exceptions and Perhaps Fatally Wounded
Him, As Well As An Innocent Bystander.

Dallas, Tex., March 24.—At Sweetwater today, F. P. Woodruff, a lawyer, shot Judge John H. Cochran in chambers, with a revolver. The trouble grew out of the court's refusal to approve a bill of exceptions in a lawsuit. Cochran attempted to defend himself, and a bystander named R. P. Watts was shot in the hip. Watts and Judge Cochran are in a critical condition, and Woodruff is under $3,000 bonds. Cochran is ex-speaker of the Texas house and was a candidate for governor in 1894.

Teddy Will be There.

Albany, N. Y., March 24.—Governor Roosevelt stated to-day that he would, if possible, attend the proposed reunion of rough riders to be held in the west June 24.

Yes, Satisfactory to Russia.

London, March 24.—It is semi-officially announced that Anglo-Russian negotiations in regard to China have assumed a practical shape, and an early satisfactory agreement may be assured.

No Duty on Binding Twine.

Washington, March 24.—The secretary of the treasury has issued an order for the free admission of binding twine into the United States from Canada.
This is because the new Canadian tariff puts binding twine on its free list when imported into that country, and our tariff law only imposes a duty on twine when imported from countries which make that article dutiable.

Will Be in This Country Tuesday.

Washington, March 24.—Mrs. McCallum, John Sherman's daughter, received to-day a cablegram saying that Mr.
Sherman would sail to-day on the cruiser Chicago, and requesting her to meet the party at Fort Monroe on Tuesday.

A Good Outlook.

Sheriff Kissell is back from a trip through the southern part of the county, and says a careful survey shows that Santa Fe county is in better shape than it has been for the last 10 years.
All of the mining properties are doing well, and miners and prospectors are flocking in to have a hand in the general prosperity which is making south Santa Fe county now a marked place.
All of the mine owners are improving their properties, including their mills, and the great improvement being made at the Ortiz mine has been noted in The New Mexican. The Santa Fe Copper Company is developing with a good force, and the San Lazarus has a force of 10 men developing and opening up its properties. Then the Hazleton has seven men at work, and other mines are swinging along in good shape. Everybody has work, and hard times are unknown.

Mineral Surveys Ordered.

Official mineral surveys have been ordered by the surveyor general in the following places: Willow placer, mineral survey No. 1,041, Red river district, Taos county; Short Order group, survey No. 1,042, a, b and c, comprising Short Order, Iowa No. 2 and the fraction, in the Cochiti district, Bernalillo county; mineral survey No. 1,039, Leap Year group, comprising Leap Year, California No. 2, Peerless and Monmouth lode, Burro mountain mining district, Grant county; mineral survey No. 1,040, a, b, c and d, Calate group, comprising Calate, Calate No. 2, Bonanza and Baby Blue lodes, in Burro Mountain district, Grant county; mineral survey
No. 1,043, Corner Lode mining claim, Cochiti district; amended survey of Coeur de Leon lode, No. 970, in Burro Mountain district, three and one-half acres filed.

FRIDAY, MARCH 24.

And now even Belgium wants a slice of China. Poor old Chinese empire.

If the provisions of the Duncan revenue law are faithfully and energetically carried out by assessors and collectors there will be no deficit in the territorial treasury during the next fiscal year.

Important laws passed by the assembly are being published by this journal daily, as being of interest to the people. Read The New Mexican and keep posted.

The New Mexican is paying special attention to mining matters in the territory. Mining is one of the leading industries of the Sunshine territory, and if the mining industry is profitable it means a great deal for the prosperity of the entire people.

John Sherman is not dead, but is slowly recovering. The report of his death was started by a New York yellow journal. Unreliability seems to be the natural characteristic of the average yellow journal and free silver papers.

Spain has become a chronic mendicant. It now appeals to the Red Cross authorities in the United States to assist in liberating the Spanish prisoners in the Philippines. The proud Spaniards might have at the same time asked for the assistance of the anti-imperialists to restore Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines to Spain.

In Colorado spiciness is added to the municipal campaign by the nomination of women for local offices. Petitioner government may not be a bad change for communities which have for years languished in the clutches of incompetent men officeholders.

In some parts of Colorado and Wyoming snow blockades are still the order of the day. In the Yellowstone National park the unprecedented fall of snow has caused the death of many deer, antelopes and elk. It is expected that the snow will remain on the ground in the park until May. A great contrast to New Mexico weather, where willow and maple are blooming and the grass sprouting in the sunshine at this time.

Modern travel is so convenient that before long they will be sending infants around the world, unattended by older persons. A transatlantic steamer last week landed six children, ranging in age from six to eight years, who had come alone from different parts of Europe, and were on their way to different western towns. None of them could speak English, and had never traveled a long distance before. At Denver, on Sunday, a lot five years old arrived at the union depot after having traveled from Fort Worth, a distance of 1000 miles, without an attendant.

Recently published statistics have awakened New York to the fact that it has no longer a monopoly of the foreign and domestic trade of the United States. New Orleans, Galveston, Newport News, Chicago, Denver, Kansas City, San Francisco and other cities show such tremendous gains in trade that New York has become alarmed and is making frantic efforts to check these intruders on its commerce and its prestige. Manhattan island will always be a trade center, but it is no longer a universe in itself, which the rest of the country has to come if it wants to import or to export, to buy or to sell its things.

There is something of a difference between the financial expectations of English and Scotch capitalists and manufacturers and the same class of men in the United States. For instance, ship-builders on the Clyde are satisfied with profits of 3 to 6 per cent per annum. American builders would be paralyzed at the idea of any such standard being established in this country. Expectation of inordinate profits, and that, too, in a short time, is characteristic of the American investor, whose rush for the almighty dollar is so continuous and so severe. European investors are satisfied with moderate compensation, but the American will take the earth if he can.

One of Denver's preachers on last Sunday gave utterance to the following sensible thought:

"My religion is not a religion to be forced upon men. If it does not meet with a hearty approval in all unbiased minds, it is not a religion at all, but is a dogma, and men are to be congratulated for rejecting it."

The same thought might be made a corollary in politics and other activities of life where truth and personal opinion are often antagonistic to each other.

The story that 1,000 children had died of smallpox within a year in Santa Fe county, published in an esteemed Albuquerque contemporary, reads like a tale from the Arabian Nights. When one remembers that Santa Fe county has no more than 20,000 inhabitants, the gullibility of people who believe such gross, some fairly tales is astonishing. The story would be laughable if it were not that it is positively malicious, and works great harm to Santa Fe county and to the territory. Tourists and visit-ers are kept away from New Mexico by such fairy tales, and people who make such wild statements should be called to strict account, and the paper that unwittingly publishes them should be honest enough to refute them.

Some of our more or less esteemed contemporaries are again worrying themselves over the territorial administration. Let them worry; they can walk the floor. Certainly no member of the territorial administration is. These gentlemen think they are getting on well.

The free delivery letter system was put in force at Victor, Colo., on Monday morning. Three carriers cover the city. The houses have been numbered and the streets named, a fact which had some bearing upon securing the system for Victor, and now helps to make the system work smoothly from the start. As far as importance is concerned, Santa Fe is far ahead of Victor, though the latter town has a slightly larger population, and it seems strange that Santa Fe should be denied what has been granted to Victor. The New Mexican believes that if Santa Fe streets were named and the houses numbered the free delivery system could, by proper effort, be secured for this city. It would not only mean the employment of three or four of the city's residents at salaries aggregating $3,000 a year, but would also prove a great convenience to local business people and other residents, and might be the means of securing several additional mails to Santa Fe, whose mail facilities at the present are none of the best.

William Jennings Bryan and Banquets.

Colonel William J. Bryan has delivered a homily and given his opinion upon the non-political topic of banquets. The Colonel must have been slightly missed when the invitations to some important political banquet had been sent out, for he delivered himself somewhat as follows: "One of the most famous banquets of ancient times was the Babylonian feast, given by the king to a thousand of his lords on the last night of his reign. One of the noted banquets of modern times was the dinner given at Delmonico's in honor of Mr. Blaine, near the close of his campaign. It was so widely criticised by political opponents that some thought it lost Mr. Blaine enough votes to change the result of the election in the state of New York."

Colonel Bryan continues to prove to the satisfaction of his admirers that the Democratic party is the party of cheap banquets, of $1 to $3 a plate, while the Republican party is the party of expensive banquets, of from $5 to $10 a plate. The moral he draws from this imaginary condition is that the Democrats are the people, while the Republicans are the nabobs.

The deliverance is in the usual strain of the colonel, with a flavor of aceticism and sour grapes added thereto. There is great consolation in the fact that, according to election returns, there are more nabobs than people in this country.

Trusts.

This country has many pessimists, and this class believes the nation is going to the bow-wows because within the last few months nearly every industry has organized itself into a trust. Now, the word trust has a very wide meaning, and it is the favorite bugaboo that demagogues hold up to frighten a people. Whenever a legislator wants to make the impression that he is a friend of the people he introduces an anti-trust law in the legislature or in congress. The anti-trust legislation so far enacted is very formidable, but it has to this day failed to kill trusts, and, what is more, no anti-trust law ever will kill trusts.

Trusts are a product of evolution. They are a natural result of competition. Competition may be the life of trade, but it is the death of the business man. Therefore, business men and capitalists unite and form trusts to kill competition. This is not done, as many foolishly believe, by raising prices, but by lowering them to such a notch that no one can successfully compete with them. Trusts have cheapened the necessities and luxuries of life, their action has been beneficial in many respects, and becomes dangerous only when unfair means and coercion are employed by them to suppress competition, as for instance in the case of the Standard Oil Company. In a certain sense the United States government is a gigantic trust that has acquired the sole right to govern 75,000,000 of people. The post office department is a trust that has absorbed the business that was formerly a source of profit to thousands of private mail carriers and mail agents. Every large business is to a certain extent a trust, and it would be as foolish, if it were not also impossible, to abolish trusts as to prevent any co-operation of individuals for profit, for pleasure or for other purposes. Trusts have come to stay, legislation cannot abolish them; it can only keep them from using their power in a vicious and in an oppressive manner. Trusts prevent the waste, the injustice, the mercilessness of unbounded competition, and as such cheapen to the consumer all products they control. It is for that reason that the average man can look with complacency upon the formation of the iron trust, the glass trust, the wire trust, the smelter trust, and the hundreds of other trusts being organized every day at present. He seems to feel that trusts are a sign of prosperity and as inevitable a part of commercial and industrial evolution as the introduction of labor-saving machinery and the discovery of new chemical and mechanical processes.

PROTECTION OF STOCKMEN.

Two Laws Intended to Prevent Larceny and Abandonment of Live Stock—Penalties Imposed.

For the protection of live-stock raisers against the depredations of thieves the last legislature passed and the governor approved the following bill, which is now law:

Section 1.—That hereafter persons engaged in the business of butchers or of buying and selling dressed meats in the territory of New Mexico shall not, after the passage of this act, buy from any person or persons any dressed beef, or the carcasses or portions thereof of any sheep or goat, unless the person offering such meats or any part of them for sale shall at the same time exhibit to said butcher or dealer in such meats the hide or hides of the animal or animals from which said meat was taken, and until such butcher or dealer in dressed meats shall have entered in a book, to be kept by him for that purpose, a full and complete description of such hides, giving the ear marks, brands of each hide so exhibited separately, and also the color, character and age of the animal from which each of such hides was taken, as nearly as possible, at the time.

Sec. 2.—That the record of the marks and brands and description of hides of animals, the meat of which is purchased by butchers or dealers in fresh meats, as provided for in section 1 of this act, shall be preserved by him, and at all times kept in a convenient place for the inspection of the inspectors appointed by the sanitary board of cattle owners and of any other persons who may be interested in such hides, or the animals from which the same were taken, and to the officers of the law.

Provided: Any person selling or offering for sale any fresh meats as described in this bill, the same having been killed within the territory, shall produce at the time of said sale or offer for sale the hide of the animal or animals the meat of which he sells or offers to sell, and provided, further, that any person in this territory having in his possession any meat or meats from animals killed in the territory shall display, upon demand of any inspector, peace officer or citizen, the hide or hides of such animal or animals the meat of which he may have in his possession.

This proviso shall not apply to nor be in force against persons who may have purchased meat from any person or persons who have displayed to the purchaser the hide or hides of the animal or animals from which said meat was taken.

Sec. 3.—That any butcher or dealer in dressed meats in the territory of New Mexico, either at wholesale or retail, who shall purchase the carcasses of any cattle, sheep or goats, or shall buy any portion of the carcasses of any such animal or animals, without having first inspected the hide or hides of such animals and making the record of the marks and brands of such sheep or goats, if any, and without having made the record, the marks, brands, color and character of each hide as hereinbefore provided, shall be deemed to be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, in any of the courts of this territory having jurisdiction of such cause, shall be fined in any sum not less than $25 nor more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for a term not less than six months nor more than three years, or both, in the discretion of the court trying the cause.

Provided, that this act shall in no wise apply to dressed meats of any and all kinds which may or shall be shipped into this territory from any other state or territory, nor to the meats purchased by one dealer from another authorized butcher or dealer in dressed meats who has complied with the requirements of this act and with the laws now in force relating to butchers.

Sec. 4.—All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

FOR PROTECTION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

The new law passed by the 33d legislative assembly, entitled An act to protect personal property from loss by abandonment, makes the following provisions:

Section 1.—Any person or persons to whom live stock of another is intrusted by the owner or his agent for the herding, care or safe keeping of same, upon contract for a valuable consideration, shall neither leave nor abandon the same without giving reasonable notice to the owner or his agent to enable him to supply the place of such person or persons, to whom the property may have been entrusted, from which injury or damage may result to the value of such property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment not exceeding 90 days in the county jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 2.—This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

PROPOSALS FOR ELECTRIC LIGHT SYSTEM.—Department of the Interior, Office of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. Indian Warehouse, No. 1602, State St., Chicago, Ill., and at the above school. For further information application should be made to A. H. Viets, Signed, W. A. JONES, Commissioner.

CAUSE OF THE WAR.

History is studied as it is made these days. A German school teacher the other day asked her class what led to war with Spain.

"Canned beer!" promptly answered a beefy looking boy.

Postage to Be Reduced to 1 Cent.

The enormous increase in the number of letters carried in the U. S. mails makes it certain that the rate of postage must eventually be reduced to 1 cent an ounce. The president who succeeds in getting such a measure through congress will hold a high place in the esteem of the people, but no higher than the esteem in which everybody holds Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This medicine has an unequalled record in reducing the sickness of mankind. It gets at the starting point of disease by acting upon the stomach direct, helping that important organ in its duty of digesting food. It makes good appetites, allays nervousness, stimulates the kidneys and makes run down man or woman feel like a new person. Try it.

Addenda.

Poker, said the missionary, has broken many a happy home.

And many a husband's head, incidentally, remarked the irritable man in the rear of the hall.

—Philadelphia North American.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Sufficient Explanation.

I wonder why it is so rare for a man to marry his first love?

Generally because a woman of thirty-five has too much sense to marry a boy of eighteen. —Indianapolis Journal.

My mother suffered with chronic diarrhoea for several months. She was attended by two physicians who at last pronounced her case hopeless. She procured one 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and five doses gave her permanent relief. I take pleasure in recommending it as the best on the market. —Mrs. F. E. Watson, Aiken, Ala. Sold by A. C. Ireland.

Another Victim.

Now, said the beef examiner, how did the beef strike you?

Flat in the stomach, replied the high private, sentimentally. —Philadelphia North American.

A. R. De Fluitt, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Criticism.

His comedy lacks motive. Well, lack of motive goes to remove the presumption of criminal intent. —Detroit Journal.

A Liberal Education.

His parents have sent a great deal of money upon his education, haven't they?

I should say so. You ought to feel his muscle. —Detroit Free Press.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth. —D. S. Meakle, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Their Names Unknown.

Foreign Novelist—I want to "do" America incognito—to be totally unknown and unrecognized wherever I go.

American (in London)—Nothing easier old chap. All you've got to do is to assume the name of one of our former Vice Presidents. —Judge.

Gratitude's Demands.

If we took time to say "Thank you" for all our mercies, there would be none left in which to complain.

A MAN'S USE.

"The longer I live the more unnecessary seems to me the companionship of man," the first vice president was saying emphatically. "Except for a few primitive uses, the world might very comfortably progress without him. Certainly he is no aid to society, no particular good in the daily offices of life, no strong factor in its daily pleasures, no."

"I beg your pardon," interrupted the charter member. "Do you ever go into a candy store?"

"The question is irrelevant, but I do, madam; occasionally I do."

"Do you go generally with a gentleman or alone?"

"Madam, as I before stated, I go sometimes into a candy store, but not often, and always unaccompanied. In fact, I find such difficulty in getting waited upon that"

"I know it!" gasped the charter member exultantly. "I know it! To attend defenseless ladies in candy shops is one of the first uses of man. I've gone alone. I've wandered to the bonbon case and bought a well dressed dame behind it to put me up a pound of maroons glass. She never heard me!"

"The recently I have moved on to the chocolate division and ordered some of the dusky mixed, but the maiden fair was invariably waiting with lavish smiles upon some bewildered man and was asking him how he would like the box tied with heliotrope ribbons or with pink!" So I have progressed from maroons to peppermint drops and then back to molasses candy and burnt almonds.

"Perhaps at the end of the line I found a new girl, all unaccustomed as yet to the business, and she would deign to fill me a box with exactly the sort of sweets that I didn't want."

"I confess that is a good deal like my own experience. But what of it?" asked the vice president impatiently.

"Simply that I found a remedy. Now when I want to get a box of candy in a hurry I just coerce one of my male friends or relatives into accompanying me. Immediately one of the pretty girl clerks comes smiling up, and we are served instantly! Anyhow, I've discovered another vital and important use for man. We need him every time we go into a candy store!"

"Of course she does," whispered the vice president savagely, "for then he takes the check and she takes the candy. No wonder she has good times and money in the bank!"

"Really," said the oldest member, beaming over her glasses, "I wonder if that doesn't explain an odd little experience of mine?"

"Tell it, tell it."

"Well, a few months ago, having come from a business club session, I met my brother-in-law and we went into one of those nice candy shops and soda water places all in one. I thought I would take a cup of chocolate or beef tea to refresh me, but my brother-in-law saw a sign announcing milk punch, and suggested that we try some. It was good. I tasted of milk and it tasted of something else. I liked it."

"A few days later Clarissa and I went in together and ordered milk punch. It came—and it tasted just like milk! I was disappointed, but I know how things will occasionally go wrong, so I said never a word. In the meantime I had told several other women about the delicious milk punches at X's. They went after them, but told me that they really couldn't see what I had raved over. The beverage seemed to them a good deal like milk dashed with a little nutmeg and sugar."

"Again and again have I sought the same counter for the same beverage, but never again have I found it as I did with my brother-in-law."

The club sat silent for a minute or two, and then began an ominous musical swelling through the ranks and increasing in volume until it passed from "Let's go and try for ourselves" to "We will go at once."

And they did go. They invaded that soda water place, occupying every seat around the counter and every spidery metal chair about the hard little round tables so shining and suggestive of artificial teeth. As one woman they ordered milk punch. It came, and it was milk! There was a flash of comprehension from member to member, and then the plaint began at the top and was taken up by each along the line, exactly as soldiers under the roll call.

"I want sprits in mine!" "I want sprits in mine!" from the stern rotund of the president to the frightened squeaking treble of the newest member. The individual hairs stood on end upon the heads of the white jacketed and aproned young men behind the counter, and the girl clerks cowered over against the mirrors so that their reflection would be doubled, and they should feel the safety of numbers.

"Are they escaped from the asylum?" "Are they clean crazy?" "Have they been drinking?" passed from terrified mouth to mouth.

The Hand and Disease.

The study of physiognomy and of the hand is curiously interesting. It is now generally admitted that a person's character can be gauged with a very considerable degree of accuracy by a visual analysis of the features, and the same remark applies, with less force perhaps, to a study of the hand. The fact that in certain diseases the expression of the face and the appearance of the hands are fairly reliable indices of the nature and progress of the disease is too well known to require further emphasis. It would certainly appear to be more likely that the study of the hand is deserving of closer attention than is usually bestowed on the subject by medical men in general practice. —Exchange.

THEY HAD TO BET.

WITH THEM 'T WAS THE FASHION, LIKEWISE A PASSION.

And When One Lost All Did He Quit? Not a Bit—He Gambled With Money That to Him Would Fall, and Then He Felt Small.

He entered the restaurant with an air that said very plainly: "Here I am at home."

He sauntered slowly through the room until he arrived at a cozy table in a corner, and there he sat down in a manner that implied his familiarity with the spot, for he knew just where to rest his hat and stick and gloves without any searching. A waiter busied up to him and placed a menu and offered his attentions in the way waiter have, but the man did not seem gratified by the appearance of the servant. On the contrary, he fidgeted in his chair and otherwise displayed all the symptoms of strong discontent.

The waiter, however, ventured to question the patron as to his wishes, whereupon the gentleman remarked: "But, you know, you are not my waiter. I've been coming here every night, and I've always sat at this same table, and I've always had the same waiter. I am quite satisfied with him, and I would rather have him than some one who doesn't know the way in which I like things. There he is over there. I wish you would send him to me."

The waiter promised to do so and went away. But he did not send the other waiter. The patron waited in vain, and after a little, seeing the familiar waiter looking in his direction, he beckoned to him. This, too, was quite unavailing. The gentleman began to lose his temper, and the return of the first waiter gave him an opportunity to speak angrily.

"Well, you haven't you sent that waiter to me?"

"Beg pardon, sir," was the reply. "He was busy and couldn't come."

"He isn't busy now, for there he stands doing nothing," was the retort. "Go and send him here."

The servant departed on his errand with much reluctance, and with equal reluctance the other servant approached the gentleman. When he had at last arrived, the impatient patron asked testily:

"What in the world is the matter? Why don't you wait on me? I've always given you good tips, and I like to have the same waiter. What is the meaning of this?"

"Well, sir," quoth the waiter, "you see, sir, it's the tips."

"The tips! What do you mean?"

"Well, sir, you see, sir, we was having a little game of cards, me and the waiter who came to wait on you. We played most all night, and I had awful luck, sir. I lost all my money and a suit of clothes and my watch, and then, when I hadn't anything else to bet, why, sir, I bet you—and, sir, I lost!"

Weary Woman Stands Up.—The hard-worked saleslady—the tired shopper, the worn-out mother, with babe in arms—she one and all stand up. Man, chivalrous man, sit down. This is the daily spectacle in modern street cars. Any competent physician will tell you that woman is peculiarly unfitted to bear the strain of long hours upon her feet. Unless she takes special pains to build herself up in a womanly way, this unusual demand upon her strength will result in a serious weakness and disease of the delicate organs which distinguish her from man. The encroachments of these maladies are heralded by general weakness and lassitude, headaches, despondency and irritability, weak back, pains and dragging-down sensations. Neglect of these symptoms means invalidism, insularity or early death.

There is a remedy that will strengthen and build up woman's special organism, that she may withstand the strain of long hours upon her feet, and escape the maladies that would destroy her general health and her capability as a wife and mother. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It builds up the muscles that support and strengthen the organs peculiar to the sex. It enables her to stand without feeling pulled down and without pain or extreme weariness. It cures all womanly weakness and disease. It fits her not only for a healthy, happy wifehood and motherhood.

Mrs. Clara Nelson, Los Angeles, Cal., Box 31, writes: "I had female trouble, and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, together with the advice given in his book, cured me of five years' sickness."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

Wifely Devotion. "Miranda, dear," the young husband said in a shaking voice, "I must say goodbye now for four long weeks. Keep up a good heart, my own. I shall write to you every day. Remember I am thinking of you, dearest, every second, and the time will not pass so drearily. When you feel lonely sit down and write me a good, long letter. I shall not be gone a moment longer than my business detains me, and will send a telegram the instant I start for home. Be brave, dearest. The separation will be no harder for you than it is for me!"

"Ralph, dear," said the young wife, holding him by a button of his coat and looking up into his face with swimming eyes, "have you paid all your life insurance assessments up to date?" Chicago Tribune.

Both Clever. Lawyer (from Skedunk)—You think I must have lots of idle time? By George, I can beat any man in 40 mile of my town playing checkers!

Lawyer (from Spiketown)—I can't play checkers, but I can lean back in a chair and balance it on its hind legs for fifteen minutes by the watch, and there ain't another man in my congressional district who can do that.—Omaha Bee.

Trying to Comfort Him. "I always feel nervous this time of year."

"Why?"

"Afraid my salary will be cut."

"Well, what of it?"

"It worries me."

"Why, you'll have as much as usual, but your creditors no doubt will feel it."

—Chicago Record.

More Extortion.

Onelist—There, it's out. It was a grain of sand.

Victim (winking his eye rapidly)—Yes, I guess it's gone. How much?

Onelist—Five dollars.

Victim—If it had been a birdshot you'd have charged me a hundred, I suppose. You're a blamed swindler!—Chicago Tribune.

BLYKINS A CYNIC.

HE INDULGES IN SNEERS AT PHILISTINE SOPHICAL PHRASES.

Tells His Wife, When She Tries to Argue, That She Is in a Sea of Thought With a Punctured Life Preserver.

Mr. Blykins was in a skeptical frame of mind. He had been sitting glum and silent for some time. His wife essayed conversation once or twice, but her efforts met with no encouragement. She realized that his own thoughts were of more importance to him than any which might be suggested by an outside consciousness and relapsed into silence. She had some curiosity, but she knew from experience that the easiest way to have it satisfied was to wait until his overcharged intellect began a spontaneous disclosure. This soon occurred.

"They make me weary!" he exclaimed as he closed with a bang the book over whose reading he had fallen into a reverie.

"Who do, dear?" she inquired disinterestedly.

"People. Folks who write things. These essayists and poets and philosophers who start out to make you think that if you will only buy their books and read 'em life will be a path of roses, with all the thorns neatly shaved off the stems."

"The book you were just reading was written by a very wise man," she ventured to suggest.

"That's what you say," he answered. "That's the way they fool the public and get their publications sold on all newsstands. This man has a piece about the value of time. Among other things he says: 'Take care of the precious minutes. They never will return.'"

"That's perfectly true," commented his wife.

"How do you know?" he inquired.

"Because it has been said so often before."

"That explains the whole process. Say something short and say it often enough, and people will take it for granted. How does he know the precious moments never will return? It's like that old nonsense to the effect that the mill will never grind with the water that is past."

"That's perfectly true, too," she answered with conviction.

"No, it ain't. What becomes of the water after the mill is through grinding with it? The clouds take it up and pour it down in rain somewhere. It flows through springs and creeks and rivers and into the ocean, and the clouds take it up and drop it again. It's constantly going the rounds. It may take a long time, but if it's a good, durable mill it'll keep up the same old grind with the same old water."

"That's the way nature works. She uses old material over and over again, sometimes in one shape and sometimes in another. But it's there. How do we know that these are new precious minutes?"

"How do we know that they ain't the same old minutes being worked off on us again like the water that runs the mill? They don't care so long as they can make it all sound nice and get their books sold."

"But when you come to put what they say to the real test you're like a man out on a sea of thought with a punctured life preserver."—Washington Star.
