try Previously Cleared, But Again Occupied by the Filipinos After Retirement of Americans.Manila, April 22.—General Lawton took the field at daylight today with the North Dakota regiment, two battalions of the 3rd Infantry, the 22d Infantry, two guns of Scott's battery, three troops of the 4th Cavalry and Gale's squadron equipped in light marching order. This force started at 5 o'clock this morning over the Novaliches road, traversing the country previously cleared of rebels, but subsequently re-occupied by them. It is to be presumed that General Lawton by this movement will outflank the enemy before joining General MacArthur north of Novaliches.
The Dakota regiment first encountered the enemy in front of Novaliches at 8 a.
m. The rebels opened fire but the fire was silenced 15 minutes later, the enemy retiring in bad order, the Americans advancing along the rough roads around Novaliches. They were considerably annoyed by the fire of rebel sharpshooters from a jungle for two hours. At 2 o'clock this afternoon rebels were in the field and our troops were compelled to take a brief rest in the shade the heat being overpowering.THE DEPARTMENT NOTIFIED.
Washington, April 22.—The War department received a cablegram from General Oles announcing the formation of a new flying column under the command of General Lawton and the initiation of a new campaign to clear out the jungle north of Manila up to the foothills and up to the termination of the railroad at Bulacan.A Pugilist Killed.
Pittsburg, Pa., April 22.—"Kid" Lavelle, of Chester, Pa., known as the South African cyclone, is believed to be dying at Homestead from the effects of a knockout blow delivered by John Cavanaugh in a prize fight last night.
The doctors' efforts to revive Lavelle proved in vain.Coloradoan Dies in Texas.
Denver, Colo., April 22.—B. L. Carr, former attorney general of Colorado, died today at Mineral Springs, Texas.
He was a native of New Hampshire, 57 years old. He enlisted at the outbreak of the civil war, and made a fine record.
He served a term as department commander of the G. A. R. He was a Buffalo, N. Y., April 22.—The laborers employed in the Union car works at Depew struck today. They have been receiving $1.25 per day and want $1.50.

Baraboo, Wis., April 22.—Four young people were run down today by the Northwestern fast mail at Crawford's crossing. Bennie Tuttle, Kittie Marshall and Nellie Welch were killed.Lynchers Not Convicted.
Charleston, S. C., April 22.—The jury in the Lake City lynching case reported inability to reach a verdict. The case goes over to the next term of court for re-trial."In Union There is Strength."The strength of every human being consists in the union, the harmonious working together, of every part of the human organism. This strength can never be obtained if the blood is impure.
The blood goes to all parts.
Purify it, or there can be no "union" and therefore no health or "strength."Hood's Sarsaparilla is the standard prescription for purification of the blood. It never disappoints.Eczema.—"My daughter had eczema and it affected her eyes. The doctor said it was incurable. Her skin is now smooth and white and all on account of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken it for weakness and can now walk three or four miles easily." Mrs. E. A. Haver, Sank Centre, Minn.Sick Headache.—"For years I tried different medicines for my sick headaches.
Found no relief until I used Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is marvelous in the cures." Mrs. Henry Miller, Dunkirk, N. Y.Indigestion.—"Hood's Sarsaparilla stands high in our family as the cure for indigestion and loss of appetite. It is excellent." Mrs. W. H. Cunniff, 119 E.
Chestnut Street, Waltham, Mass.Scrofula.—"After 20 years of suffering with a cancerous sore on her nose and having it removed by physicians, my mother is happy for being completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It took 11 bottles to accomplish it. Her face is smooth, no scar." Miss E. A. Stokes, Epping, N. H."The statement of my daughter is exact." Joan Stokes, Epping, N. H.Crip.—"Was in very bad condition after an attack of grip. Nothing helped me and I almost gave up hope. I am strong and feel better now than in twenty years, all because I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which made my blood rich and pure." JOHN O.
DUNCAN, 849 Russell Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.Rheumatism.—"Inflammatory rheumatism caused me suffering so that I could not sleep or walk. Had no appetite and medicine seemed useless. Finally used Hood's Sarsaparilla which took away all pains." Mrs. STELLA NORMAN, Marion, Ohio.Hood's Sarsaparilla of a Blast.Cerrillos, N. M., April 22.—The cause of the gas explosion in the Cook & White coal mine, at Madrid yesterday, is assumed to have been a shot. It is known that black powder often throws a small fire in this case it encountered gas which exploded.About 175 men were working in the mine at the time, but the explosion was confined to the third left entry in which five persons were working and who were all killed. The names of two Polish miners who were killed are not known.

The other three unfortunate were miners Fred Alro and John Piva and driver Edward Watts.Young Watts was a bright lad of 16 whose parents, until the last few days, resided in Cerrillos. His funeral will be held here, from the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon.Capt. Jack Fleming, territorial mine inspector, is expected to arrive tonight.An Ex-Governor Dead.
Manchester, N. H., April 22.—A cablegram received from Hamilton, Bermuda, today, announces the death of ex-Governor Frederick Smith, 80 years old.A ROMANTIC MEETING.One of the Earp Brothers Finds a Long Lost Family.Portland, Oregon, April 22.—Virgil Earp of Prescott, Arizona, wife and daughter met in this city after a separation of 38 years. Mr. and Mrs. Earp were married at Oskaloosa, Iowa, in 1860. A year later Earp went to the war; a report came back that he died.
After the war, Earp returned to his former home but his wife and daughter had disappeared. After several years both Earp and his wife married again, each believing the other dead. Mrs.
Earp, whose name is now Eaton, has been a resident of this city many years.
He lived in Arizona 15 years.An English Notable Dead.
London, April 22.—Sir John Robert Mowbray is dead.DRIFTING WITH THE DEAD.A Boat Swept Out to Sea with Living Men Returns with Skeletons.San Francisco, April 22.—The steamer City of Para, from Central American ports brings news that while the vessel was at Corinto an open boat containing the remains of nine men who perished months ago drifted ashore there. The men died in agony. Not a drop of water nor a particle of food was in the boat.
In December last Louis W. Maslen of the El Triunfo Pier Company, three port officials and five boatmen went out to the mail company's steamer lying in the offing at 23 Triunfo. A gale overtook the boat, soon after it got away from the steamer. It was never seen again until it floated into Corinto harbor.The Missouri Booming.Kansas City, April 22.—The Missouri river continued to rise for the past 24 hours, though not so rapidly as for the past four days. Squatters on lowlands are moving their effects to higher ground. The farmers are getting stock to safe places. At Kansas City, Leavenworth and St. Joseph, much land is already under water, but no serious danger has resulted.There is a break in the Payne levee about 200 feet wide. The levee is a mile long and protects the Burlington track, the depot and part of the town of Hamburg, 80 miles north of St. Joseph.
Bags of sand are being used to repair the break.Omaha, Neb., April 22.—The river rose several points last night, and a large portion of the bottoms is overflowed.
A strong current which cut across from Florence lake washed out some track.
No main line is yet under water.TRIAL OF MRS. GEORGE.Her Son and Former Husband Testify in Her Behalf.Canton, Ohio, April 22.—The third week of the trial of Mrs. Annie George, for the murder of George D. Saxton, a brother of Mrs. McKinley closed today.
The case will probably go to the jury Wednesday. The sensational feature of the trial has been the appearance as a witness for the defense of the son and di-voiced husband of the defendant. Although the latter secured damages from Saxton as well as a divorce with Saxton as correspondent, he testified strongly in favor of his former wife, stating that they always lived happily until they met Saxton. Mrs. Althouse remained in hiding and attorneys for the defense restored their case on an act established by testimony of Mrs. Klingler. Robbitt on behalf of the state began this morning. It was especially sought to show the accused might have left the scene of the tragedy after the shooting and reached Florence Klingler's home at the hour named by that witness.A Colonel Shoots Himself.Memphis, Tenn., April 22.—Colonel Lewis M. Clark, of Louisville, a well-known racing judge, committed suicide today at the Gaston hotel by shooting himself. He had been indisposed.Hobart May be a Candidate.Washington, April 22.—Upon the highest authority it can be stated that there is no truth in the report that Vice President Hobart has decided not to be a candidate for vice president.
Mr. Hobart has not reached any conclusion as to his course next year.Rio Grande Lands.A number of interesting cases have arisen in connection with made lands in the Rio Grande river, which the general land office in Washington will be called upon to decide. The Rio Grande has formed islands and peninsulas, which shift every few years. For some of the land, homestead entries have been made or timber claim patents issued.
It has been held that lands so formed cannot be settled under the homestead act, and that the mere planting of cottonwood saplings upon such does not make it a timber claim.An Ex-Sheriff Pays Up.C. W. Haines, ex-sheriff and collector of Chave county, has sent to Territorial Treasurer Eldred $2,876.52 which he had kept out of his collections to pay himself for transporting prisoners to the penitentiary, and for a better expedient. The collector general decided that Mr. Haines could not legally do this.MAZET'S COMMITTEEWitnesses Who Fail to Answer

Officials Sent Him to Bawdy Houses to Take Orders for a Certain Brand of Whisky.New York, April 22.—Counsel of the Mazet committee this morning called attention to the committee and witnesses to penal code sections which provide a year imprisonment or fine of $500 or both for refusal to attend or answer questions propounded by a committee of the legislature. He said the counsel would cite contemptuous witnesses to the constituted criminal authorities of this county for indictment and punishment.If it were possible for the grand jury of this county to spare time to deal with cases of contempt, counsel for the committee would request the governor to appoint a judge to hold an extraordinary term of Supreme court and impanel an extraordinary grand jury before which the matters could be brought.Dr. O'Sullivan, representing city departments, referred to Clarke's announcement as "intimidation." Samuel Meyers refused point blank to answer a question whether he had been employed by any member of the city government or police department to go to disorderly resorts and solicit orders for Maryland whiskey. Chairman Mazet directed counsel to take steps to bring Meyers before the court for contempt as soon as practicable.Evidence was presented showing that Crocker was not assessed for personal property for the past four years.MARKET REPORT.New York, April 22.—Money on call the case of Santiago Baca vs the board of county commissioners for Bernalillo county. The plaintiff sued for $1,190.96 and $1,124.88, the alleged balance due him for commissions as assessor in the years 1893 and 1894 respectively. The officer was paid 75 per cent of his commissions at the time and the remaining 25 per cent was retained until the taxes assessed should be collected or shown to be uncollectable. It was to recover this 25 per cent that the suit was brought. Judge Lee holds that an assessor is not entitled to commissions on assessments made for school purposes. As the plaintiff in this case received more than the amount of the commissions on the taxes collected, the county will not be obliged to pay the commissions claimed.Chief Justice Mills has appointed ris of Thornton, and W. W. Jones of

Has Caused Comment.Washington, April 22.—A cabinet officer is authority for an absolute denial of the story that the cabinet yesterday discussed the alleged conspiracy in this country to weaken the United States in the Philippines.Secretary Hay in reply to a direct question said the statement was erroneous that the cabinet had been discussing any person or set of persons in the United States with treason.
That was as far as he cared to go. Inquiry develops a probable basis for the story in some exchanges of opinion not only among cabinet officers, but among close friends of the administration ever since the submission of the peace treaty to the senate, to the general effect that great encouragement had been given Aguinaldo by the attitude of opponents of the president's policy among American public men. There also have been some expressions on the part of adherents to the president's policy as to the ill effect upon the public of frequent publications of letters from dissatisfied volunteers in the Philippines.Did Not Go to Samoa.Berlin, April 22.—The semi-official

SATURDAY, APRIL 22.

That German consul seems to be a thorny sort of a Rose, but Admiral Kantz, the American commander with a German name, knew how to handle him without gloves.

The Quay political fight has left Pennsylvania with one elected senator and without provision being made for a deficit of $3,500,000 in the treasury. The people who used state money without paying interest and who appropriated interest paid by others, could probably afford to put up enough to enable the commonwealth to meet current expenses.

Carter Harrison has succeeded to the title of the young Lochinvar of the west, the picturesque term given to Colonel Bryan when he first loomed up. It looks as if the hero-worshipping Democrats are fickle and have relegated the Nebraska Lochinvar to the retired list.

There is hope for Aguinaldo still for General Lawton has not caught nor skinned him. The peace commission has power to grant amnesty to all offenders who will be good and Aguinaldo can surely secure a star engagement in an American dime museum.

The New York Herald's proposition to trade the Philippines for the British West Indies attracted much attention, but has generally been ridiculed on this side of the ocean. The press and public men generally think that the British possessions have neither commercial nor national future, while the opposite is the case with the Philippine archipelago.

The Governor of Pennsylvania has appointed Matthew Quay senator to hold until the legislature again meets. The governor probably had some score to even up and accomplished it by this endorsement. But the appointee will hardly be allowed to serve in the senate unless he be elected. The senate is the judge of the qualifications of its members and has decided in similar cases that where a legislature fails to elect the vacancy cannot be filled by appointment.

The March foreign trade figures, just made public by the treasury department, show a falling off of $8,000,000 in exports, and an increase of $11,000,000 in imports, compared with the figures of a year ago, so that the month's trade balance is $31,670,000, as compared with $51,000,000 in March, 1898. Though last month's trade balance was so much less than those of previous months for a long time past, it was large as compared with the records prior to the past year and a half. An average balance of $31,000,000 a month would amount to $372,000,000 in a year, a sum which would make necessary large shipments of gold or of securities to this country in settlement. For 18 months there has been an average excess of exports over imports of about $50,000,000 monthly.

Colorado seems to be the only state where silver politicians have any life left in them after the violent shock of being run over by the prosperity train rolling across the country, freighted with all manner of blessings for the nation. Messrs. Teller and Shafroth have recently made an appeal for fusion, with a view of again having a local silver party. Colorado, however, is now prosperous, with an output of gold, in which she leads all states of the Union; with cattle and sheep interests that are again profitable; with coal mines that represents a great income; with railway building that demands labor; with farming operations that support a large population. The people are all busy, and Mr. Teller will find his appeal unheeded.

The high price of copper has stimulated a great rush for copper mines and promoters and brokers are scouring the country in order to secure properties to sell. None of them desire to look at gold mines and it is evident that none have confidence in the copper boom continuing. They would make hay while the sun shines. Gold mines will keep, for the price of the product is the same every day in the year. Gold is quoted today at the same price it was 20 years ago, and the price will be maintained through the copper boom and for a long time after it has subsided and been forgotten. The tremendous inflation in the value of copper stocks and the fancy prices being paid for copper mines and prospects will result in disaster. The people who buy them are simply speculating, though they think that they are mining, probably. When the bottom has fallen out of the copper boom investors will blame the mining industry and condemn it as an unsafe business. Copper mining properly speaking, will continue to be profitable, however, as well as gold mining.

The mine disaster at Madrid yesterday was lamentable. Catastrophes of that nature are of frequent occurrence in coal mining districts but nevertheless they could generally be avoided. The trouble is that men in dangerous vocations are so accustomed to the danger that they often neglect the commonest safeguards and are reckless in their dangerous work. It is to be hoped that the disaster of yesterday, whatever the cause, will be the last accident of that nature to occur in the Cerrillos coal fields.

Kentucky has just learned through a judicial decision that the law under which she has been selling negroes at auction for a term as a penalty for vagrancy is unconstitutional. Or, if it has been known all the time, justice has closed her eyes, because it was not known what else to do with such offenders. The vagrant, black or white, is a troublesome personage, for he is without pride as an incentive to energy. He is minus any of the attributes that go to make a man, and is intent, if it can be said that he is ever intent, on escaping work and responsibilities.

Copperheads in Boston.

After settling Aguinaldo there will still remain the task of pacifying Boston for the government to undertake. How badly this is needed can be judged from the following report in the Boston Globe of a recent meeting of copperheads in that city:

"The Temple was practically filled except the upper balcony, which was unoccupied. The president's policy was several times hissed. The name of Dewey received not half a dozen hand-claps, but the mention of Aguinaldo and citations from his proclamations were received with repeated demonstrations of genuine enthusiasm."

Think of Americans in mass meeting hissing the conscientious work of one of the best presidents the country has ever had, and not even applauding at the name of that typical American hero, Dewey, while the professional sell-out rebel, who is fighting American troops, burning the towns of his own people and having their throats cut if they do not join in his cause, is cheered. There ought to be one more tea party in the city of culture, but it ought to be conducted by volunteers from all over the country, and the degenerate descendants of former Americans who loved their country should be tossed overboard.

Trust Troubles in Texas.

The Texas legislature is about to pass an anti-trust law that is alarming insurance combinations. Insurance companies and agents all over the state are making frantic efforts to stir up opposition to the measure by calling public meetings to condemn the enactment of the law. This particular measure may be unjust, but the chances are that the legislature is entirely justifiable in attempting to break up the insurance combinations, which stifle competition by refusing to co-operate in insuring property with any company that does not go into the pool. The combination companies will permit insurance to be divided between companies in the pool, but will promptly cancel a policy if part of a risk is given to a non-board company.

The people are generally long suffering, and do not unite to suppress abuses until they become very oppressive. Trusts and combines have only themselves to blame, usually for antagonistic legislation. It may happen, it is true, that a legislature goes too far, but if the trusts and combinations wish to escape oppression they must cease to oppress competitors and treat the public less arbitrarily.

Results of Republicanism.

Hon. Pedro Perea, delegate to congress, has spent several weeks traveling over the territory finding out things in general, and one of the things that he has ascertained, he says, is that there is not an idle man in New Mexico who would accept employment as a laborer. Laboring men, of course, have found this out too, and they know that it is directly due to the election of the Republican party to power, and the measures put into force by that party. The country at large had no confidence in the ability of the Democratic party. Business men and capitalists are conservative and would take no risks while the Cleveland party was in power, nor while there was a chance of the Bryan agitators, including Altgeld, getting where they could turn things topsy-turvy. As soon as this danger was over times began to improve. When the Republicans came in and restored the old system of business management, capital was ready for every legitimate enterprise, in the west as well as in the east. The mills and factories became rushed, railway building was renewed, millions of dollars were put into mines, the price of wool, cattle and sheep advanced, daily wages were increased in most classes of labor, and new industries innumerable were established. This is the condition of matters all over the country at the middle of the four-year term for which President McKinley was elected. It is not a condition about which one hears from afar, but of which he can have no visible evidence. The proofs are at hand in New Mexico, as well as in every other part of the country.

Webster Then—Hear Now.

When Senator Hoar began his anti-imperialistic philippics in the United senate, and afterwards continued the same on the Boston lecture platform, he evidently failed to remember that history was repeating itself in his case. Had the matter been called to his attention, the amusing outcome of the original might have induced the sage of Concord to modify his position. Just 51 years ago, Daniel Webster, also senator from Massachusetts, took almost identically the same stand now occupied by Senator Hoar, on the proposition to

A SMALL SPOT MAY BE CANCER.

MOST VIOLENT CASES HAVE APPEARED AT FIRST AS MERE PIMPLES.

The greatest care should be given to any little sore, pimple or scratch which shows no disposition to heal under ordinary treatment. No one can tell how soon these will develop into Cancer of the worst type. So many people die from Cancer simply because they do not know just what the disease is; they naturally turn themselves over to the doctors, and are forced to submit to a cruel and dangerous operation—the only treatment which the doctors know for Cancer. The disease promptly returns, however, and is even more violent and destructive than before. Cancer is a deadly poison in the blood, and an operation, plaster, or other external treatment can have no effect whatever upon it. The cure must come from within—the last vestige of poison must be eradicated.

Mr. Wm. Walpole, of Walsworth, S. D. says: "A little blotch about the size of a pea came under my left eye, gradually growing larger, from which shooting pains at intervals ran in all directions. I became greatly alarmed and consulted a good doctor, who pronounced it Cancer, and advised that it be cut out, but this I could not consent to. I read in my local paper of a cure effected by S. S. S., and decided to try it. It acted like a charm, the Cancer becoming at first irritated, and then discharging itself altogether, leaving a small scar which soon dropped off, and now only a healthy little scar remains where what threatened to destroy my life once held full sway. Positively the only cure for Cancer is Swift's Specific——because it is the only remedy which can go deep enough to reach the root of the disease and force it out of the system permanently. A surgical operation does not reach the blood—the real seat of the disease—because the blood can not be cut away. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place. S. S. S. cures also any case of Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood, Poison, Ulcers, Sores, or any other form of blood disease. Valuable books "On Cancer and Blood Diseases" will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

include New Mexico and California within the limits of the United States. Hon. Whitelaw Reid, the distinguished editor of the New York Tribune, and an influential member of the Paris treaty commission, brought this fact out well in his recent speech at the Lincoln dinner of the Marquet club at Chicago. Senator Webster was conjuring up the same visions of the destruction of the constitution as Senator Hoar, and proclaimed the same hostility to new territory.

Said he: "There would not be 200 families emigrate to New Mexico for agricultural purposes in 50 years. I can not conceive of anything more absurd and more affrontive to all sober judgment than the cry that we are getting indemnity by the acquisition of New Mexico and California. I hold they are not worth a dollar."

In view of the since proven value of these acquisitions, Senator Webster's philippic sounds amusing. It does not accord at all with the facts of history, and it is seen that he was suffering, as Senator Hoar is now, from political night mare. Senator Hoar's criticisms of the administration's Philippine policy are based on an absolute misconception of the situation and issues involved, and in later years, the fallacy of his position will be realized by many who believe now that his views are correct.

Arkansas has passed a law to break up insurance combinations in that state and all of the pooled companies now refuse to do any business there, even withdrawing loans made in Arkansas. This is doubtless done to induce the business element to have the law repealed. Business men in large numbers are seeking to have this done at the instance of insurance agents, but the attorney-general says the law is a perfect success. So far from receding from its position, the Arkansas assembly has telegraphed congratulations to the Texas legislature upon the introduction of a similar bill into the legislature of that state. Missouri a few days ago passed a law that will break up the insurance pools in Kansas City and St. Louis. The trusts will find out after a while that there is a way to reach them all when the people get weary of being bled beyond reason, for the people make both the law and the courts. If constitutional guarantees interfere with the enforcement of laws, then it is the people who can remake the constitution.

Governor Roosevelt certainly strikes the keynote that vibrates through the hearts and consciences of the American people when he refers to the national duty of the United States not to shirk work that has come as a result of the recent war with Spain, and thus stand before the world as remiss, simply to escape a serious task. Speaking in Chicago a few days ago, Governor Roosevelt said:

"The guns that thundered off Manila and Santiago left us echoes of glory; but they also left us a legacy of duty. If we drove out a medieval tyranny only to make room for savage anarchy, we had better not have begun the task at all. It is worse than idle to say that we have no duty to perform and can leave to their fate the islands we have conquered. Such a course would be the course of infamy. It would be followed by utter chaos in the wretched islands themselves. Some stronger, manlier power would have to step in and do the work; and we would have shown ourselves weaklings, unable to carry to successful completion the labors that great and high spirited nations are eager to undertake."

THE TERRITORIAL PRESS.

WHAT IS NEEDED. (Albuquerque Journal Democrat.) The increase of value in real estate, predicted for the entire country and already manifesting itself in New Mexico, will fall of its greatest good in this section if we only raise prices on one another. A vacant lot may increase in value from $1,000 to $2,000, but so long as it remains vacant its increased value serves only to increase the owner's taxes. The owner is really not as well off as he was when the lot was worth but $1,000. What is needed to utilize an increase in value, is an increase of opportunity for sale. The bringing in of capital for investment of individuals for new enterprises, so that the lot may be sold for $2,000, when before it could not be sold for $1,000—this is what Albuquerque needs.

FITTED FOR THE POSITIONS. (Lordsburg Liberal.)

The new board of immigration appointed by Governor Otero got together last week and elected ex-Governor Prince president and Colonel Max Frost, ex-secretary of the headquarter of the board were removed from Albuquerque to Santa Fe. Probably there are not two men in the territory as well fitted for these positions as these two. For years Governor Prince has made New Mexico, its people, its climate, its resources, and its possibilities a study and undoubtedly knows more about them than any other man. Colonel Frost, from the experience he had while holding this office before, from his wide acquaintance through the territory and from his capacity for hard work, is equally well fitted for the secretaryship. While holding that office before, Colonel Frost issued a report on the territory that was the most complete thing of the kind ever published, and is today a standard reference book. The board of immigration will do something good for the territory.

THE MORPHINE HABIT INCREASES.

It is stated by prominent physicians that the number of morphine fiends is increasing. Owing to their delicate nervous organization, the habit finds the greatest number of its victims among women, although men too are not exempt. They take the deadly stuff whenever they feel depressed or have a slight ailment, and before they realize find themselves in the grasp of a practice which can but end in the grave. This morbid craving comes from a run down condition of the nervous system and blood. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters taken faithfully will tone up the system, strengthen the stomach and make the blood pure, and it will help the liver and kidneys to do their work. It is good for everyone, especially at this time of the year.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM.

Kenna, Jackson Co., Va. About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions, and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A. THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers, we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Refreshments.

Chief, said the aide, as they sat in the wilderness, the American Commissioners have arrived in Manila. Heavens! groaned Aguinaldo. Can they also shoot?—Philadelphia North American.

Pneumonia is one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases. It always results from a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and perhaps prevent an attack of pneumonia. It is in fact made especially for that ailment and has become famous for its cures over a large part of the civilized world. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Can you afford to neglect your cold when so reliable a remedy can be had for a trifle? For sale by A. C. Ireland.

A LOVER'S RUSE.

"And he has red hair." This was the way with which Bertha Vernon always ended her objections to marrying her cousin, Tom Manning, which her parents and his were so foolishly anxious to accomplish. Foolishly, we say, because if they had not betrayed such anxiety, but had let the young people come together naturally, their hopes would have stood a fair chance of being realized. As it was, it seemed to be the very last thing that was likely to happen.

They had not met since they were children, and were not likely to while left to their own devices, which, certainly, were very fertile in contriving to avoid everything that was likely to bring them in contact.

Whenever Tom visited his Uncle Vernon, Bertha was sure to be impressed with the ideal that it was the most fitting time for her to pay a long promised visit to some lady friend and which kept her out of town so long as he staid.

And whenever Bertha visited her Uncle Manning, Tom was equally sure to have some important business engagement to call him out of town while she was at his father's house.

Thus they continued to play at cross purposes until the patience of those who had planned the match was nearly exhausted.

And now, to complicate matters and make them still more discouraging, a rival had stepped into the field, a Mr. Henry, a distant relative of the parish clergyman, who had come to Greenville to spend the summer months.

There seemed to be a strong attraction between the two the first time they met, which ripened, in an incredibly short space of time, into the warmest affection. But of this the parents of Bertha were in blissful ignorance, they being away on a visit to Tom's father with the avowed intention of bringing the young man back with them, to Bertha's great disgust, who confidentially informed her lover, as Mr. Henry now was, that she had half a mind to run away and not see him.

She then gave him a detailed account of her grievances, together with her many reasons for detesting Cousin Tom, ending her decidedly uncompromising remarks as usual with:

"And he has red hair!" Mr. Henry stroked thoughtfully his tawny beard, an amused smile playing around his mouth.

"Some people have been so discourteous as to hint that my hair is of a reddish tinge. I have a very vivid remembrance when I was of some one calling out to me as I was riding by, 'Look out, your head's on fire!'"

"How ridiculous!" laughed Bertha. "Why, your hair is just a beautiful chestnut brown."

"I am glad you think so, my love. You say that you have never seen your Cousin Tom since he was a boy?"

"No. And he was one of the most disagreeable boys I ever saw yet, never so happy as when plaguing some of us girls. He broke the head of my wax doll, stoned my pet kitten and dug up the choicest plants in my garden and was such a torment generally that I was glad when he was out of my sight and hearing. And he is coming tomorrow, so papa writes, and I know that for. But I'm determined on one thing, that I never will marry Cousin Tom."

The young man looked down smilingly into that flushed and earnest face, which had never looked so lovely to him as now.

"Be frank and tell him so, then. I will be there, too, and we will see which will win the day, Cousin Tom or I."

The shadows of twilight had gathered around the quiet corner where Mr. Vernon and his nephew sat in earnest converse.

The former arose as Bertha entered, her heart beating very fast at the thought of the ordeal she knew was before her.

"My daughter, here is your Cousin Tom, who has come for the express purpose of asking you to be his wife. What is your answer, yes or no?"

Bertha did not even raise her eyes to the dim outline of the form that was sitting on the sofa, but her tones, though low, were very firm as she said:

"It is no, papa. I am willing to give Cousin Tom the regard that is due to his position to me and to you, but I cannot marry him."

Leaving Cousin Tom to reply, who now emerged from his obscurity, Mr. Vernon quickly slipped away.

"Supposing I won't take no for an answer!"

The sound of that familiar voice made Bertha raise her eyes quickly to the face of the speaker.

"Mr. Henry!"

"Thomas Henry Manning, at your service. Forgive me, darling, he whispered as he looked into Bertha's white, bewildered face. 'I wanted to see and judge my little cousin for herself.'"

"It's a shame," pouted Bertha, doing her best to look angry and failing miserably. "You've taken a mean and unfair advantage of me."

"I know it," responded the culprit, with an air of mock gravity. "And now what is to be done I can't imagine, as you have over and over again declared that you never will marry Cousin Tom."

"And he has red hair!" This was the inevitable rejoinder of the husband of Mrs. Tom Manning whenever she alludes to the extraordinary beauty of their firstborn.

But the fond and happy mother declares this to be a base slander.

"To be sure," she is fain to acknowledge, "Tommy's hair did border a little on the red at first, but it is growing darker every day and is now the prettiest shade of auburn you ever saw—of all the world just like his father's."—New York News.

YOU NEED A DOCTOR MANY TIMES WHEN YOU DON'T CALL ONE.

You say to yourself, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll feel all right after a while"—and doctors' visits are expensive. And so you work along enduring your pain till your pain puts you in bed—and then the doctor comes. Maybe he helps you—maybe not. But his bill follows just the same.

Why not avoid both severe sickness and bills by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Write fully stating all your symptoms and Dr. Pierce will prescribe for you free of charge. He is chief consulting physician to the great and world-famed Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute and when you write to him you are consulting one of the most experienced and successful specialists in the world.

In his thirty years' constant practice Dr. Pierce has tried and proven the marvelous efficacy of certain prescriptions of his and these are on sale by all dealers in medicines.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a cure for diseases of the throat, lungs, blood and nerves. It works on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. It is a tonic, alterative and blood-maker.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a specific for all diseases of women.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and constipation and so help to cure nearly every disease of mankind.

Miss Emma Lee, of Wilford, Shary Co., Ark., writes: "I was suffering severely and tried several doctors but received only a very little relief. Your medicines have done wonders for me. I have catarrh, also female complaint. As soon as I had taken the bottle I could see the medicine was helping me."

"My sister has taken 'Favorite Prescription.' She was down in bed and could not walk where she pleased."

His Clever Answer. "I learn," she said reproachfully, "that you were devoted to no fewer than five girls before you finally proposed to me. How do I know that you didn't make desperate love to all of them?"

"I did," he replied promptly. "You did," she exclaimed. "Certainly," he returned. "You don't suppose for a minute I would be foolishly enough to try for such a prize as you are without practicing a little first, do you?"—Chicago Post.

CAUSE FOR PAIN.

Bill—Old Squeakers took gas and had a tooth out.

Jill—Did he, indeed? "Yes, and he said it hurt more with the gas than it would have without it."

"How's that, I wonder?" "Why, don't you understand? He had to pay for the gas."—Yonkers Statesman.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE.

"Why don't you have a woman's page in your paper?" asked the visitor from "town."

"We have," said the editor of the Jazeville Gazette. "I always use the same page for the births, deaths, marriages and divorce suits."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BAD AS HE LOOKED.

THE CUSTOMER SEEMED TOUGH AND PROVED SO LATER.

Much to the Discomfiture of the Restaurant Keeper, Who Thought His Features Boded His Real Character and Acted Accordingly.

It happened in a restaurant not far situated from the busy downtown district. That there were no arrests was due to the fact that the policeman who had been called to the place about two minutes after the waiters had finished cleaning up the debris of broken dishes, bottles and glasses, and the victim had been taken to a nearby physician for repairs.

As the stranger entered the restaurant the trained eye of the waiter sized him up as one of the class of big-bores, overbearing fellows met in all public places of a big city; one who if allowed his way would terrorize the peace loving people who happened to be near, but who would succumb and confine himself to the space occupied by his unwieldy self if given to understand that size and "tough" were not special terrors for a man with pluck enough to back up his rights and self respect.

In brief, he was a good specimen of the "bad" man whose broad shoulders, big hands and ugly face terrorized women and children wherever he happened to be.

He gave his order in the manner expected. The waiter received it meekly, carefully arranged the linen, served the meal and inquired of further wants as faithfully and promptly as if serving one of the regular patrons, who always concluded with a remembrance to John in the shape of the old change the waiter hoped when the bill was paid.

The butter was vile, potatoes not sufficiently fried, meat required an ax—in fact, everything connected with the meal was unsatisfactory to the "bad" man. This was just what was expected and accepted by the waiter with the resignation that accompanies acceptance of the inevitable.

When he grew abusive, the proprietor, who had been observing the man since his entrance, was appealed to. The "bad" man refused to accept or pay the meal, nor would he listen to reason from the proprietor. Reasoning wasn't his forte.

His arguments were made with fists, and he had made up his mind on the subject under discussion, and nobody could change it. He also intimated a desire to clean out the restaurant in order that possible future customers should not be made victims of, as he had been.

The proprietor at this time was endeavoring to restrain himself, but from the determined expression on his face had the "bad" man been observant he would have discovered that unless he changed his something would happen, and that it would happen to him. When in emphasizing an expressed determination not to be swindled the "bad" man appeared to forget himself and brought his fist down on the table with sufficient force to jar a dish from the table, causing it to fall to the floor and break, the proprietor, known as a man of determination, but few words, lost his self restraint.

Then it happened. He too, hold of the "bad" man and started to drag him out of his chair and to the front door. It did not last long. When the excitement was over, the waiters dragged the quiet but determined proprietor from beneath the mass of crockery, glassware parts of the table and other remnants accumulated during the battle, while the "bad" man walked slowly down the street and into a place where, judging from the absence of excitement, he found the edging more to his liking.

All of which led to a remark by one customer who had been apparently disinterested spectator that "sometimes people are as tough as the look."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

MRS. THORNTON'S MEXICO TRIP.

Mrs. W. T. Thornton will remain as the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. P. Victory, at Santa Fe during the summer.
Mrs. Thornton speaks in a very interesting manner of her recent visit to Mexico. Her description of the trip to Jalapa and of that city, near which her husband's mining interests are located, gives a very vivid picture of life in Mexico. Mrs. Thornton made the trip to Jalapa over a mountain trail, in a sedan chair carried on an Indian's back. This was in March and the weather was very warm for the season. It took four and a half hours to cover five miles, mostly up steep mountain paths, and Mrs.
Thornton in her uncomfortable position had to look over the ground that she had covered.

At many places steps had been cut in the rock and overlooked stupendous precipices. Every once in a while the carrier would stop at the edge of such a precipice to take breath. The sedan chair, with Mrs. Thornton, would hang over the precipice and with every move of the Indian she imagined that she would slip out of the chair into the depths below. Jalapa is a quaint little city of 4,000. The city band gives frequent concerts on the plaza. The interior of the houses, Mrs. Thornton says, are generally furnished very beautifully and even extravagantly. People live mostly in the rear and in the second story of their houses. The wide corridors are tiled and all the rooms open upon the well kept patio. The windows have inside board shutters. There are only a few Americans at Jalapa and she was greeted as the first English speaking woman who had stayed at the city.
The climate never gets very warm.
Mrs. Thornton was at Jalapa during the dry season but she says it would be called a very wet season in Santa Fe.
The rainy season, when there is a continual downpour of rain, lasts two months.

The town is all hills and the streets are as narrow as Burro alley in Santa Fe. They are not wide enough for teams, and the only vehicles in use are two wheeled carts. Burros, mules and Indians or Mexicans serve as beasts of burden. What the burros cannot carry the men carry. One carrier carried two of Mrs. Thornton's trunks at the same time upon his back for a distance of a mile up hill and seemed rather to relish it. The streets slope towards the center. A gutter is formed in the center of the street and all the drains from all the houses on the street empty into that, producing an awful smell. The sidewalks are paved with flat stones and are scarcely wide enough for two persons. The plaza is without trees. A murmuring fountain is surrounded by beautiful flower beds, and the walks of the plaza are all paved with flat stones. There is also a small park in front of the cathedral. From the plaza a beautiful view is had of Mt.
Orizaba, almost 18,000 feet high. It is an extinct volcano covered all the year with snow.

The biggest day of the week is Sunday when market is held at the plaza.
Tropical fruits of all varieties, some imported to the taste, and some very luccious are sold as well as a little of everything imaginable. The bananas, which are red, are remarkably luscious and much better than the best that ever reach the northern markets. The strawberries in the beginning of March were also the finest that Mrs. Thornton had ever seen. Taking all in all Jalapa is an interesting picturesque town and Mrs. Thornton was loath to leave it.

The Jalapa hotel accommodations are poor but the private boarding house at which Mrs. Thornton stopped was an ideal hostelry, the meals being especially good. The hostess not only kept the boarding house but was a school teacher besides, receiving $400 a month for her services as teacher. All the floors are tile work, which makes them very cool, especially on damp days. All the rooms look out upon a lovely patio resplendent with fragrant and showy flowers.

Ex-Governor Thornton is at the city of Mexico. His large mining interests and around Jalapa keep him so busy that he will hardly come north this summer.

Mrs. Keller, of this city, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George L. Wyllis, at Roswell.

Mr. T. Lujan and family of Taos are in the city on business, and visiting friends.

Mrs. Otero gave an informal but very pleasant luncheon at the executive mansion last evening to several friends.

Rafael Romero and son, Vincent, of Mora, have been guests at the Montezuma, at Las Vegas Hot Springs. From there Master Vincent went to Notre Dame, Ind., to attend the university.

Mrs. Rapp gave a luncheon Wednesday at her pretty home. The decorations, consisting of apple blossoms, were very beautiful. Those who attended the luncheon were: Mesdames M. A.
Otero, H. H. Arthur Seligman, Hughes, Whitman and Elske.

Charles K. Stauffer, of South Bethlehem, Pa., a Lehigh Valley railroad official who has been at Colorado Springs the past two years for his health, has decided to make Santa Fe his future home and will arrive here next week.
He will reside at the Creamer cottage on the south side.

Miss McKenzle this afternoon entertained the Santa Fe Reading club at her beautiful home on Palace avenue.
Miss McKenzle is a charming hostess and her guests were delightedly entertained. Literary games were played and pretty prizes awarded to winners.
Tea was served in an informal manner.
The members of the club are Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Shelby, Mrs. Schenck, Miss Crook, Mrs. O'Leary, Miss O'Leary, Miss Kelly, Miss Crawford, Miss Massie and Miss Kelly.

visitor in this city yesterday. Mr. Sher-ard is devoting the summer to sight seeing in the west and is spending considerable time in New Mexico. He was very favorably impressed with the climate and the quaintness of Santa Fe.
He went from here to Albuquerque, Mr. Sherrard is an official of the Carpenter steel works at High Bridge, N. J., which furnished the projectiles used in the battle of Santiago and that destroyed Cervera's fleet. The visitor says that the east feels the prosperity boom even more than does the west and that especially in the export trade there has been a stupendous growth in the last ten months.

Hon. T. B. Catron is expected to return from his eastern trip tomorrow.
