

9-25-1899

Santa Fe New Mexican, 09-25-1899

New Mexican Printing Company

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/sfnm_news

Recommended Citation

New Mexican Printing Company. "Santa Fe New Mexican, 09-25-1899." (1899). https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/sfnm_news/7559

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the New Mexico Historical Newspapers at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in Santa Fe New Mexican, 1883-1913 by an authorized administrator of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

SANTA FE NEW MEXICAN.

VOL. 36,

SECOND EDITION

SANTA FE, N. M., MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1899.

CITY AND NORTHERN MAIL. NO. 183

Diamond, Opal, Turquoise
Settings a Specialty.

Watch Repairing
Strictly First-Class.

S. SPITZ,
—MANUFACTURER OF—

MEXICAN . FILIGREE . JEWELRY

—AND DEALER IN—

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, SILVERWARE, CUT GLASS, DECORATED CHINA.

Examine Eyes free of Charge for Prescription Lenses.

No. 4 BAKERY.

Cartwrights Cartwrights

SOUTH SIDE OF PLAZA.

Souvenir China

We have just placed on sale a line of souvenir china, made especially for us in one of the more famous German potteries. It consists of A. D. coffee, tea, B. and B. plates, cake plates, bonbonnières, candlesticks, etc. Each piece is decorated with a reproduction of a photograph of "Old San Miguel Church" or the "oldest house in the United States." Prices small—25c and 50c.

Fresh Poultry and Fish

We receive dressed poultry on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Fresh fish every Friday.

Fresh Candies, Nuts and Fruit

We always have a good assortment.

Potatoes, Flour, Hay and Grain

We are large handlers of these staples; move our stock rapidly and thus insure our customers against receiving old goods, while our prices will always be found correct.

Teas and Coffees

We give special attention to this department and can give best values at any price. Good quality black, green or mixed tea, 50c per lb. This grade is usually sold at 60c to 70c per lb.

Strawberries, Raspberries, Blackberries

We are now receiving these fruits packed on ice, by direct express from California, on Mondays and Fridays.

CHAS. WAGNER FURNITURE CO.

(Incorporated Feb. 2, 1899.)

Practical Embalmer and Funeral Director.

TELEPHONE 88.
(Residence Over Store.)

The only house in the city that carries everything in the household line. Sold on easy payments.

CARPETS AND RUGS.

Glassware and Queensware,
Large stock of Tinware.
Woodenware, Hardware, Lamps, etc.

Lower Frisco St. Santa Fe, N. M.

COAL & TRANSFER, LUMBER AND FEED.

All kinds of Rough and Finished Lumber; Texas Flooring at the lowest Market Price; Windows and Doors. Also, carry on a general Transfer Business and deal in Hay and Grain

CHAS. W. DUDROW, Prop

THE NEW

MEXICO
COLLEGE of AGRICULTURE
and MECHANIC ARTS.

Offers Practically Free of Charge Four Collegiate Courses
Education!

Equal in rank to those of any other State
A. & M. College in the United States, with one or two exceptions. A one year course in Stenography—thorough and complete—with special facilities for training in English-Spanish stenography.
Health! Residence in the healthiest locality in the world.
Altitude, 4,000 feet; above the clouds; little rain; no snow; perpetual sunshine; warm, cloudless winter days. Hundreds of people regain health in Southern New Mexico each winter.
Happiness! Strong College Athletic Association; best athletic grounds and strongest football team in New Mexico. Excellent tennis courts and equipment. Literary society meetings weekly. Pleasant dormitory life.

Write for Catalogue to the President,
Medilla Park, N. M.

Twenty Professors
and Instructors.

$50,000 Worth
Of Equipment.

Experimental Farm of over 100 Acres.

New Girls' Dormitory.

Excellent Wood-working Machine, and Blacksmith Shops.

INSURGENT CAPTURE

One of Dewey's Little Prizes Burned by the Insurrectionists Near Manila.

TWO DISPATCHES FROM OTIS

Several Tribes Raised the American Flag and Others Wish to Confer in Order to Make Terms for Early Surrender to General Otis.

Manila, September 25.—It is reported that the insurgents have captured the United States gunboat Urdaneta in the Orani river, on the northwest side of Manila bay, where she was patrolling. One officer and nine of the crew are missing.

Washington, September 25.—The gunboat Urdaneta, captured with the crew at Orani, about twenty-five miles from Manila, on the bay of Manila, is a little craft not much larger than a small tug. She was captured by the navy early in the war, and has been on police duty in the bay for months past. She drew supplies from the battle-ship Oregon, and was manned from the Oregon's crew. According to last reports the boat was last May under the command of Naval Cadet Welborn G. Wood, but the personnel of the crew is not a matter of record, being subject to frequent changes. Wood was appointed to the naval academy from Oregon, had passed the academic course, and was performing sea service at the time of his capture.

Washington, September 25.—Two important dispatches from General Otis at Manila were made public by the war department to-day as follows:

"Manila, September 23.—Hughes, Illoilo, reports Lopez and sixty-four armed men surrendered to Byrne at Castellana, Negros. Elitio, in that island, has sought conference. A chief of insurgents at Panay wished to know what promise could be given them in case of formal submission. He was told no answer was possible until a surrender and his force is disbanded."

"Manila, September 24.—Bates returned from Jolo on 21st inst., having placed garrisons at Siasi and Bungam. Tawal, Tawal group, one company at each place. Affairs in archipelago satisfactory. Bates saw chief of insurgents. Zamboanga still anxious to receive United States garrison on condition of withdrawal should Aguinaldo succeed in Luzon. Proposition not entertained. Zamboanga having trouble with more Datus in vicinity, who have raised the American flag. Dato, Cagayan, Sulu island, visited Jolo; gave adhesion and desired to raise the American flag instead of Spanish flag on the island. American flag will be raised there; ready to give six months' notice in order to establish an archipelago customs regulations under protocol between Spain, Germany and Great Britain of 1885. Bates report forwarded by mail.

(Signed) "OTIS."
Manila, September 25.—The United States gunboat Petrel, sent to investigate the reports that the Urdaneta was beached opposite the town of Orani, on the Orani river. She was overtaken with bullets and burned, and the following guns with their ammunition captured: One 1-pounder, one Colt automatic gun, one Nordenfietd 25-millimeter gun. The crew of the Urdaneta are prisoners or have been killed. Further details are lacking.

San Francisco, September 25.—The United States transport City of Para arrived to-day from Manila. The Para had on board members of the 23d United States infantry, 23d infantry, 14th infantry, 3d artillery, 4th cavalry and 18th and 19th signal corps, who enlisted under general order No. 40, and are known as volunteer regulars. All the returning men enlisted in California.

San Francisco, September 25.—The transport Valencia, which arrived from Manila yesterday with companies A, B, C, F, I, J, 1st Montana volunteers, on board, was docked early to-day. The soldiers disembarked and marched to the Presidio, where they went into camp. They had a fine reception. The men were decorated with wreaths and flowers as they left the transport.

Vice President Hobart Better.
New York, September 25.—Vice President Hobart, who is at his home at Paterson, N. J., is steadily improving.

Boiler Makers Make A Demand.
San Francisco, September 25.—At a meeting of striking boiler makers a motion that the men at all shops at work on all transports (whether government or chartered) stay out until the eight hours guaranteed by law on government work is granted them on all transport work, was unanimously carried.

"The Laborer is Worthy of His Hire."

But a wage-earner can get more for his personal services if in strong and vigorous health. The blood is the life-giving and strength-making part of the system. If it is pure, all is well; if not, it should be purified with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which makes the weak strong.

Can Eat—"Was tired out, had no appetite until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It built me right up and I can eat heartily."—Ella M. Hager, Alhol, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

THE TRANSVAAL TROUBLE.

No News from England Today of Much Importance.

London, September 25.—Another week opened with the Transvaal situation marking time. No news has yet been received of the delivery at Pretoria of the last British dispatch. The next big news will be the decision arrived at by the volksraad of the Orange Free State, whose secret deliberation is expected to close to-morrow. It will come as a great surprise if the volksraad does not decide to link arms with the Transvaal. Neither jingoes nor the anti-war party are very proud of yesterday's meeting in Trafalgar square, which proved nothing except that a mob is always jingo. A telegram received from Calcutta announces the departure of the transport Sedhana for South Africa. The last transport for Cape Town leaves India to-morrow.

Cape Town, September 25.—A great number of Johannesburg refugees arrived here to-day. The relief committee is paying every attention to those in need of assistance.

The foreign office this evening gave out the text of a letter of the secretary of state for the colonies to the British high commissioner in South Africa, dated September 22. The letter says it is useless to pursue discussion on the lines hitherto followed, and the imperial government is now compelled to consider the situation afresh and formulate its own proposals for final settlement of the issues created in South Africa by the policy constantly followed for many years by the government in South Africa.

A Black Sheep Prescher.

Columbus, O., September 25.—Rev. John M. Life, chaplain of the 7th Ohio volunteers, was to-day found guilty by the Ohio Methodist conference of conduct in becoming a minister of the gospel in using disrespectful language to Rose Lee Burch, daughter of the Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment, and was expelled from the ministry. An appeal was taken. The charges were preferred by the girl a year ago, and created a great sensation.

Judges Who Put Up.

New York, September 25.—The Mazet committee took up to-day the subject of contributions by judicial candidates for campaign expenses, and examined several judges. The witnesses who contributed $4,000 to $10,000 each for the purpose indicated were unanimous in saying that the fact had no influence upon them in their judicial capacity. As to the propriety of the practice, there was a division of opinion, though the majority expressed a willingness to bear a proper proportion of the cost of election. Chairman Mazet said the committee wished to learn the views of the judges on the question of the propriety of the law forbidding candidates for the judiciary to contribute campaign funds.

Sunday Baseball.
St. Louis, September 25.—St. Louis 6, Louisville 7; Louisville 5, Cleveland 1.

Woman Strangled Herself.

Dorchester, Neb., September 25.—Winding willow withies about her neck, Mrs. H. S. Steinhilber ended her life two miles east of town. Throwing her weight backward she leaned until she choked to death. A neighbor found her dead.

MARKET REPORT.

New York, Sept. 25.—Money on call firm at 6 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5 1/2 @ 6 per cent. Silver, 58 1/2; lead, 54.40.

Chicago.—Wheat, Sept., 74 1/2; Dec., 73 1/2. Corn, Sept., 35; Dec., 30 1/2. Oats, Sept., 22 1/2; Dec., 22 1/2. Kansas City—Cattle, receipts, 14,000; butcher stuff steady, others 5 to 10c lower, weak; native steers, $5.00 @ $6.25; Texas steers, $2.25 @ $5.00; Texas cows, $2.55 @ $2.85; native cows, $2.55 @ $3.85; native cows and heifers, $1.50 @ $5.00; stockers and feeders, $3.00 @ $4.50; bulls, $2.50 @ $4.00. Sheep, weak to 10c lower; lambs, $3.50 @ $5.25; muttons, $3.00 @ $4.15.

Chicago.—Cattle, receipts, 24,000; lower; beefs, $4.40 @ $6.70; cows and heifers, $1.70 @ $5.00; Texas steers, $3.50 @ $4.25; stockers and feeders, $2.75 @ $5.00. Sheep, 25,000; lower sheep, $2.75 @ $4.40; lambs, $4.00 @ $5.70.

An Artist Dead.
New York, September 25.—Jared B. Flagg, Sr., artist, died suddenly of heart failure, aged 80. He was one of the oldest members of the national academy of design.

The Kearsarge On Trial.
Rockport, Mass., September 25.—The battleship Kearsarge started on an official trial off this point to-day, crossing the line at 10:25.40.

The Kearsarge crossed the finish line at 2:47:10, having taken four hours, twenty minutes and thirty seconds for the run. The estimate shows she exceeded seventeen knots by a fraction.

Denver's Festival.
Denver, September 25.—Carnival week opened with favorable weather and every indication of a large attendance. A new feature is the street fair, occupying eight blocks. The queen of the Festival of Mountain and Plain will be publicly crowned this evening by Rex, who now rules the city of frivolity. The city is gaily decorated and the streets are fast filling up with visitors.

For Shooting At A King.
Belgrade, Serbia, September 25.—The court this morning rendered judgment in the case of prisoners on trial for some time past charged with attempted assassination of former King Milan of Serbia, July 6, when he was shot at by Bosnian named Knezevic and Pasich. The leaders of the conspiracy were sentenced to death, ten others sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment, one to nine years, and seven for five years.

Coming to the Horticultural Fair.
The details are all complete for the successful holding of the horticultural fair at Santa Fe, the first week in October. The fruit exhibits now here will be taken to Santa Fe, with large additions from several successful fruit growers.—Albuquerque Citizen.

MISS GRANT'S MARRIAGE.

Duly Celebrated at Newport by Two Ceremonies.

Newport, R. I., September 25.—The Episcopal marriage service, supplementing that of the Russian orthodox church that was observed yesterday, which made Prince Cantacuzene Count Speranski of Russia and Julia Dent Grant, daughter of Brigadier General Frederick Grant, and granddaughter of General Ulysses S. Grant, husband and wife, was celebrated at All Saints' chapel here at noon to-day. The assembly of notable invited guests made the ceremony one of the most brilliant ever witnessed at Newport.

Bishop Potter officiated, but in accordance with the laws of the state of Rhode Island, Rev. Dr. Porter, of Emanuel church, in this city, read that portion of the service which legally united the distinguished pair. A reception followed the wedding ceremony at the Palmer residence, and late this afternoon the prince and princess left for New York and St. Petersburg.

A Brief Revolution.

Buenos Ayres, September 25.—A revolution broke out at Catamarca to-day for local government of that province. The government re-established order after a fight, during which seven were killed and twelve wounded.

Republican Change in Maryland.

Baltimore, September 25.—United States Senator Wellington to-day resigned the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee in accordance with a recent written request from Governor Lowndes, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. Thomas J. Shryock was elected to succeed him.

Hoyt's Spanking Machine.

Hartford, Conn., September 25.—Before the prison congress to-day a paper on the punishment of prisoners, prepared by Warden Clarence P. Hoyt, of the Colorado state prison, was read. Hoyt advocated the use of a paddle in punishing prisoners, and stated that its use had a more lasting effect than a term in a dungeon.

Tipplate Mill Burned.

Tipton, Ind., September 25.—The Atlanta tipplate mill burned to-day. The loss is fully $100,000.

Colorado Governor in New Mexico Mine.

Judge McFie, in speaking of the Torpedo mine, owned by a company mostly of Chicago and Las Cruces capitalists, which filed incorporation papers Saturday, says that the property is a new one, having been discovered only within the last six months, although prospectors have been walking over it the last twenty years. Only about 50 feet of development work has been done on the mine so far, but nevertheless 22 feet of the vein has been laid bare, and the walls on either side have not yet been reached. The ore is a good grade of copper. The mine is located near the Memphis, at Organ, Dona Ana county, Governor Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, is one of the directors, and it argues well for New Mexico mining interests that the governor of the great mining state of Colorado is taking an interest in mining in this territory.

Guadalupe's Distress.

Washington, September 25.—Consul Ayne reports to the state department from Guadalupe the loss of property from the recent tropical hurricane amounts to at least $5,000,000. Forty deaths and over 200 seriously wounded are reported in various parts of the island. The city is a mass of wreckage, and the harbor front is lined with debris of boats. The consul says the fruit crop is a total loss. Famine threatens the island, he says. The series of misfortunes the island has passed through, earthquakes, destructive fires and a financial crisis, will probably force the colony to appeal to the outside world for assistance.

The Tobacco Workers.

Washington, September 25.—The industrial commission to-day listened to a statement concerning the operations of tobacco workers of the international union from E. C. Evans, of Louisville, Ky., founder of the order. He said about 80 per cent of the tobacco manufactured in the United States was produced by two combines. He expressed an opinion that such combinations are not beneficial to labor. In one case wages had been reduced from $2.50 to $1.25 per day after consolidation. The commission will not meet again to take testimony until October 5.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 74,651]

"I was a sufferer from female weakness. Every month regularly as the menses came, I suffered dreadful pains in uterus, ovaries were affected and had leucorrhoea. I had my children very fast and it left me very weak. A year ago I was taken with flooding and almost died. The doctor even gave me up and wondered how I ever lived."

"I wrote for Mrs. Pinkham's advice at Lynn, Mass., and took her medicine and began to get well. I took several bottles of the Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and can truly say that I am cured. You would hardly know me, I am feeling and looking so well. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me what I am."—Mrs. J. F. STRETCH, 461 MECHANIC ST., CAMDEN, N. J.

How Mrs. Brown Was Helped.
"I must tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than any doctor. I was troubled with irregular menstruation. Last summer I began the use of your Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles, I have been regular every month since. I recommend your medicine to all."—Mrs. MAGGIE A. BROWN, West Pt. PLASANT, N. J.

Chinese At Manila.

Washington, September 25.—Secretary Root has received a cable message from General Otis regarding the Chinese situation in the Philippines. He says a shipload of 700 can be loaded without serious interference with military operations. Otis discusses at length the subject of Chinese Philippines. A dispatch was referred to the state department where it was made the subject of a conference between Acting Secretary Hill and the Chinese minister.

The Chinese will be landed, but without recognizing the right of the Chinese government to demand this. On the other hand, the Chinese government, while permitting the men to land, does not in any manner concede our right to apply the Chinese exclusion law to the Philippines, and stands by the principles enunciated in the formal protest made last week by the Chinese minister here against General Otis' action declaring the Chinese exclusion laws to be in force in the Philippines.

Pennsylvania Regiment Goes West.

Harrisburg, Pa., September 25.—The new 28th regiment left Camp Meade to-day for service in the Philippines. The troops went over the Pennsylvania railroad, and will be stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco, before embarking for the far east.

C. M. SHANNON'S MINE.

Again Reported As Sold for a Very Large Sum.

Information was received from Clifton yesterday conveying the news that ex-Collector of Internal Revenue Chas. M. Shannon, of Clifton, and Gen. Hughes, the latter of Denver, have sold their group of copper claims on Chase creek, seven miles above Clifton. The expert who is now on the ground with Thompson and Sholter, and who spent two weeks making an extended examination of the properties, says they are the finest in the Rocky mountain region, better even than the Arizona holdings. The purchasers are the Thompson Development company, of New York, and Butte, Mont., and the price paid is nearly a million and a half dollars. The purchasers include Holter, the mining man of Butte, Montana.

The company will erect very extensive works on the river near Morenci.—Tucson Star.

MAXWELL GRANT SETTLERS.

It Is Feared That They Will Resist the Officers.

Denver, September 25.—J. P. Dunlevy, a prominent business man of Trinidad, is in the city. He had a conference with respect to the efforts being made to remove settlers from the Maxwell land grant. Dunlevy's efforts are being directed to a peaceful settlement of the affair, as he is of the opinion any efforts to remove settlers by force will lead to trouble. The people have been living on the land, many of them, twenty years, and are not going to leave the crops and improvements without protest, which may go beyond words. Dunlevy hopes to secure a peaceful settlement of the controversy by a compromise which will be fair to settlers on the grant. Congressman Shafroth said nothing could be done except to have congress pass a bill permitting settlers to take up other lands in lieu of those they have, without being required to live on them five years to obtain title.

Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

Denver, September 25.—The stockholders of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, at a special meeting this afternoon, authorized an increase of the capital stock to $25,000,000, of which $2,000,000 is preferred and entitled to 8 per cent dividends. The directors are authorized to issue $12,000,000 additional stock in payment for property and improvements.

A. Walker Co

Sell Everything That is Good to Eat!

Fresh

Meat.

In this line we keep nothing but the very best; money can not buy anything better. It is fit for a King

Fresh

Bread.

Our bread is made fresh every morning from Best Patent high grade Kansas flour, with Fleischman's yeast. Try it!

Fresh Spring Chickens and Turkeys on ice Mondays and Fridays.

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES EVERY DAY.

FLOUR, GRAIN, HAY, POTATOES, ETC.
AT ROCK BOTTOM PRICES.

THE ONLY EXCLUSIVE

Grain House
IN THE CITY.

Corner 'Frisco and Sandoval Streets.

LEO HERSCH.

An Unparalleled Record
THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE
SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

On its Fortieth Anniversary, July 26, 1899, had on its books
Outstanding Assurance for over a Billion Dollars

$1,000,000,000

which is more than twice the amount accumulated by any other company in the world during a similar period of its history. Its Assets amount to over which is more than twice the amount held by any other company in the world on its Fortieth Anniversary. Its surplus amounts to over which is also more than twice the amount held by any other company at the end of its Fortieth year.

$270,000,000

$60,000,000

WALTER N. PARKHURST, General Manager,

New Mexico and Arizona Department,

Resident Agents—
S. E. LANKARD,
GEO. W. KNAEHEL, SANTA FE.

ASST. G. F. & P. AGT)

Telegraphing to Mars.

The idea that we may possibly be able sometime to communicate with the planet Mars is a perfectly sound one. Those who laugh at it merely emphasize their lack of knowledge of the march of progress. Years ago man with his family could not cross a stream a hundred yards wide. He could communicate with his fellow men only so far as his voice would reach. Medical science knew no positive cure for dyspepsia. But we have progressed. Steam crosses the ocean, electricity communicates across the continent, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has proved a boon to humanity. It strikes at the root of almost all sickness—the stomach, and cures indigestion, constipation, biliousness and dyspepsia. A private Revenue Stamp should cover the neck of the bottle.

After Deep Thoughts.

And what did Lot say when he saw that his wife had been turned into a pillar of salt for looking back? Can you tell, Robert?

No, ma'am.

Just think for a moment and see if you can't remember.

Robert (tentatively, after a pause)—Rubber neck.—Brooklyn Life.

Bringing Him to Time.

Bobby—I think Tommy Jones is the meanest boy I ever knew.

Mamma—What has Tommy been doing now?

Bobby—I said I was going to be a poet when I grew up, and he said he'd be an editor, and wouldn't print any of my poems unless I'd be his horse every time.—Harper's Bazar.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

A PROMINENT VIRGINIA EDITOR.

Had Almost Given Up, but Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

READ HIS EDITORIAL.

(From the Times, Hillsdale, Va.)

I suffered from diarrhoea for a long time, and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but not noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man to-day, and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by A. C. Ireland.

No Room for Argument.

Critics (looking at a picture of the impressionist school)—If that's high art, then I'm an idiot.

Cynicus—Well, that is high art.—Tit Bits.

His Way.

Hicks—There is one thing you can say with truth about Pincher. He always keeps his word.

Wicks—And anything else he gets hold of.—Boston Transcript.

As usually treated a sprain will disable the injured person for three or four weeks, but if Chamberlain's Pain Balm is freely applied a complete cure may be effected in a very few days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, cuts, bruises and burns. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Higher Criticism.

The savage held his temper admirably. Nature, he replied, with a comprehensive gesture, is our Bible.

Then of course you have no Higher Criticism, exclaimed the Enlightened Man, shuddering.

Oh, but we have, protested the savage vehemently. Why, there are among us any number of advanced thinkers who wonder, for instance, if there isn't too much salutariness in the bread fruit. Yes, sir.

Here we see that the mind is alike impatient of fetters no matter what man's corporal condition be.—Detroit Journal.

A WORD TO MOTHERS.

Mother of children affected with croup or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form, and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. The great success that has attended its use in the treatment of croup and croup has won for it the approval and praise it has received throughout the United States and in many foreign lands. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Politeness Tested.

He—The great trouble with Gabley is that he talks too much.

She—That's strange. When he has been with me he scarcely said a word.

He—Oh, he is too much of a gentleman to interrupt.

Wheels.

I feel as if I had wheels in my head; groaned the man.

It must be the truck you ate for dinner, rejoined his wife innocently enough.

Health is Wealth.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

Red Label Special Extra Strength.

For Cures of Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT

The ORIGINAL, ALL OTHERS IMITATIONS.

Is sold under positive Written Guarantee, by authorized agents only, to cure Weak Memory, Disturbance, Wakefulness, Pains, Rheumatism, Quins, Night Sweats, Piles, Dropsy, Lack of Confidence, Nervousness, Lassitude, All Pains, Youthful Errors, or Excessive Use of Tobacco, Opium, or Liquor, which leads to Migraine, Consumption, Insanity and Death. At store or by mail, $1 a box for 30 days, with written guarantee to cure or refund money. Sample package, containing five days' treatment, with full instructions, 25 cents. One sample only sold to each person. At store or by mail.

AN EPISODE IN PASTS.

By Frances Porcher.

They had been discussing a new novel which dealt with a hero with a past.

"I think if she had really loved him she would have been willing to accept his sacrifice without any questions," she said.

"Would you?" he asked.

"Why, yes—if I loved him—What's the good of prying into all the nooks and corners of the years that have gone in a man's life? They are gone, and you can't help them or undo them or—anything, and if ghosts can sleep where is the comfort in starting them to walking about? But—suddenly facing about—"I don't believe in one privilege for a man and none for a woman. If a woman takes a man's past without a question, then he has no right to stir up her ghosts, you know. I believe in fair play at any rate."

"But you know," he said, "good women have no pasts."

"But good men may have, eh?" she asked.

"Well, it is the same old story—a man may be a fool in his folly and yet be good, but let a woman be never so little a fool in her folly, and, lo, she isn't good a bit!"

"I didn't say that," he answered, looking indignantly down at her flushed cheeks, "and I believe I like you best when you champion your sex. Go on, dear. You are very pretty today."

But she looked down at the toe of her shoe and said nothing.

After a moment he reached out and drew her closer. "Sweetheart," he said in a low voice, "we have no questions to ask, no ghosts to walk about. We can safely take each other's 'pasts,' so let's be happy in our present."

They had been married a month or two, and no day that passed had flown by without a record of "questions." They had really been an unusual couple, and each felt rather proud in the depths of his and her secret soul that such had been the case. To be sure, each was certain that the other had told all that had ever happened of his or her own sweet will and because of the sweet delight of rendering confidences unasked, but still—well, an ordinary man and woman might even then have suspected hidden depths and have sought to plumb them.

"Tonight they were both very quiet; he, looking over her head into the coals that glowed and flashed and flickered like the moods of a human soul; she, with her elbow on his knee and her eyes half shut behind her open palm.

"What is it?" he asked.

"Nothing," she said, without moving. "I must have been far away, for I can't recall of what I was thinking. I dare say I wasn't thinking at all."

"Do not accept that," he retorted, half halfhearted. "A person always thinks and it is no compliment to me if you are close enough to touch me and are yet far out of my ken. I know you were not asleep."

"No," she said, resting her chin on her hand and opening wide her eyes; "no, I wasn't asleep. But you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

"I was not far away," he answered, "at all odds. I was just wondering how I could ever be good enough for you." And he lifted her up to his knee and smoothed back the soft curls of her hair.

She turned her face down on his shoulder. "Don't," she said. "I pray—really I do—every day, that you will always believe I am good. I am not half the woman I ought to be, no, not half." And then she began to cry.

"If there were, you would never forgive me," she said, drying her eyes and lifting her head to look into his face.

"No," he said, "but you? What were you thinking? You were just as still as I."

<

RAZORS RAZORS

ought to be of the finest steel and so capable of taking and keeping a keen edge. Our friend finds his razor all right, of course, because it's one he bought here. No one has any use for a poor razor. To attempt to shave with one is inflicting self-punishment. We guarantee our razors to be all in every case. They never fail to give absolute satisfaction to every purchaser. Shaving outfits like ours are cheap at $3.00. It's the same with all our cutlery. Our prices are the lowest in town for first-class goods.

W. H. GOEBEL,
The Hardwareman.

Highly
THE HIGH PRICED PHOTOGRAPHER.
(SUCCESSOR TO T. J. CURRAN.)
Not the Cheapest, But the Best.
West side of the Plaza.

The Palace Hotel...
FIRST CLASS IN ALL PARTICULARS.
No expense will be spared to make this famous hostelry up to date in all respects. Patronage solicited.

The Sign of the RED LIGHT
WEST SIDE OF PLAZA.
CALLS ATTENTION TO
"OUR PLACE."
Here business is conducted on Business Principles. Here can be obtained Strictly First Class Goods in the form of Liquid Refreshments and Cigars.
W. R. PRICE, Proprietor.

H. S. KAUNE & CO

HENRY KRICK,
SOLE AGENT FOR

Lemp's St. Louis Beer.

ALL KINDS OF MINERAL WATER
Guadalupe St. Santa Fe

ALBUQUERQUE STEAM LAUNDRY,
GEO. F. AMBROSE, Agt.

Leave orders at Slaughter's barbershop. Basket leaves Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock and returns on Friday. We pay all express charges.

JACOB WELTMER
Books and Stationery

PERIODICALS

SCHOOL BOOKS,

SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

Stationery Sundries, Etc.
Books not in stock ordered at eastern prices, and subscriptions received for all periodicals

GREAT VARIETY OF NEW MEXICO VIEWS.
GO TO

Kaadt's PHOTOS.
FOR ALL KINDS OF Lower Frisco Street.

EUGENIO SENA,
Manufacturer of

MEXICAN FINEST JEWELRY

AND STERLING SILVER SOUVENIR SPOONS

All kinds of jewelry made to order and repaired. Fine stone setting a specialty. Singer sewing machines and supplies.
San Francisco St. Santa Fe, N. M.

A FLAG PRESENTED.

Carleton Post Is Presented with a Historic Banner.
Charles A. Scheuchert has presented a fine flag to Carleton post, G. A. R., which had waved over the grave of ex-Governor Charles Bent, a grandfather of Mr. Scheuchert. As will be remembered, Bent was the first American governor of New Mexico and fell in the Taos massacre. His grave is in the National cemetery in this city. Carleton Post acknowledged the present in the following letter from Adjutant W. S. Fletcher: "I am instructed to inform you that at a meeting of Carleton post, G. A. R., held last night, it was unanimously agreed that it would accept the custodianship of the very beautiful United States flag tendered by you to the post for safe keeping. You can rest assured that it will be tenderly cared for and very highly prized. In our post hall it will have the post of honor next to our own banner, and on each coming Memorial day will decorate the grave in the National cemetery of your patriotic grandfather, Governor Charles Bent."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. D. Hughes left yesterday afternoon for the southern part of the territory on business.
H. S. Winans representing a Chicago Paper Company, is in the city on business.
Roberto Montoya who arrived Saturday night from Cerrillos to attend the Duran-Raez wedding, left this afternoon for his home at Cerrillos.
Mrs. Hank Fisher left over the narrow gauge this morning on a visit to Denver.
Paul Wunschman, the Santa Fe insurance agent, went to Embudo this morning on a business trip.
J. G. Sanchez, who has been in Santa Fe several weeks, the guest of Rev. and Mrs. M. Madrid, left this morning for his home at Antonio. Mr. Sanchez is a brother of Mrs. Madrid.
Mr. and Mrs. Bacharach and son arrived last evening from Las Vegas, and will for several weeks be the guests of Mrs. Ifield, the mother of Mrs. Bacharach.
Miss Elsie Ifield will leave some time this week on a trip to Europe. She will accompany Miss B. Strousse, of Philadelphia, who is a visitor in this city several months ago.
Miss A. Rohn and Miss M. Lehrer, tourists from Chicago, spent Sunday in the city sightseeing, and this morning left over the narrow-gauge for Denver.
R. C. Hills, geologist of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, arrived last evening from Denver. He came here to look up several mining prospects near this city, including the manganese and coal property of Milo Hill.
J. J. Sheridan, deputy United States marshal, arrived Saturday night from Albuquerque.
Hugh Smith, ex-collector of Colfax county, and owner of the Palace hotel at Raton, is in the city on business.
W. H. Hahn, of Albuquerque, arrived in the capital last night and left this morning over the narrow gauge for the Santa Luis valley in Colorado, where he intends to buy a car load of horses.
Charles Blanchard, a traveling man from Las Vegas, called upon local merchants to-day.

Jacob Posner arrived from New York last night, and this morning left for Tres Piedras, where he will be employed in the store of Felix Grant. Mr. Posner was in New Mexico two years ago, and then returned to New York. He, however, liked this territory so much more than his old home that he resolved to return.
R. L. Zimmerman is at the capital from Cochiti, on a visit. He is in New Mexico for his health, and recently came from Louisville, Ky.
D. A. Coble, the Rincanado mining superintendent, is in the city on business.
Jose M. Gonzales and two sons, Francisco Casados and two sons, Francisco Miera and son, Francisco Garcia and son, Epifanio and Jose M. Garcia and two sons arrived in the capital from Union county last night. The young men of the party will enter St. Michael's college.

Sheriff H. C. Kinsell went to Espanola this morning.
Hon. Mr. R. Otero and family returned home last evening from Albuquerque.
Ralph McFie has returned from a trip to Albuquerque.
Wolcott Ley, special inspector of the internal revenue offices, is in the city today inspecting the local revenue office.
Col. C. G. Coleman has returned from Taos and will leave this evening for Washington, D. C.
E. G. Stoddard and Henry Stoddard, of New Haven, Conn., are in the city in conference with Hon. T. B. Catron in reference to matters of the Waddingham estate. E. G. Stoddard is a banker of New Haven, and is one of the administrators of the Waddingham estate.
W. G. Rock and D. C. Allard started this morning for San Pedro and Golden to be gone several days. They will examine the placers in that part of Santa Fe county.
J. B. Lamy will this evening go to Denver.
Harry Potter left last evening for Denver.
G. Dignee and son left Saturday evening on a visit to Denver.
Charles Belnet and bride are expected home this evening from Ohio. Mr. Belnet is the night operator and ticket agent at the Santa Fe depot.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.
The electric lights at the deaf and dumb asylum on the south side were turned on for the first time last night. The lights are seventeen in number, and the current is supplied by the electric light plant at the penitentiary. The wiring was done by I. Sparks, manager of the local telephone exchange.
It was understood that an English edition of the Boletin Popular was to make its appearance Saturday. For some reason or other the paper was not issued, and its object is to attack leading men of both parties and the territorial administration in particular.
The son of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Lopez, aged 13 months, died Saturday night and was buried this forenoon in Rosario cemetery, Charles Wagner being the funeral director. Mr. and Mrs. Lopez live at Canoncito, and arrived in this city Saturday evening on a business visit to G. Hunter, brother-in-law of Mr. Lopez. The child took sick immediately upon their arrival, and died two hours afterward.
James Spivy, the jailer at the county jail, has informed Judge McFie that since the Sunday law has been enforced on three Sundays not a single person has been arrested for drunkenness. It seems that most jags in Santa Fe were heretofore experienced on Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff Huber returned home this afternoon from an overland trip to Valencia county, where he summoned witnesses for the Trujillo murder trial now occupying the attention of the district court. Mr. Huber saw considerable game on the way, especially antelopes.
Francisco de Aguerro, one of the convict trustees at the penitentiary who escaped while working on the Palace avenue sewer some weeks ago, was brought back to the penitentiary Saturday by W. E. Martin who had gone to Lincoln county after the fugitive.
Pablo Lucero y Vigil, of this city, who was working on a section gang of the Santa Fe railroad, Saturday had his left leg broken and bruised while at work at Las Vegas. He was brought to St. Vincent's hospital in this city for treatment.

H. S. Lutz, agent of the Santa Fe railroad, announces to-day that the company will sell round-trip tickets October 3, 4, 5 and 6 from any point on its lines to the horticultural fair and the occasion of conferring the pallium upon Archbishop Peter Bourgade at this city on one fare.
"Two heads are better than one." If the one you have is dull and heavy you need Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will give you prompt relief.
HORTICULTURAL FAIR.
The Governor Will Deliver the Opening Address.
Governor Otero has kindly consented to open the horticultural fair formally on October 4.
The exact hour for the opening ceremonies has not yet been fixed, but it will probably be at 1 o'clock. The exhibition itself will open at 10.
A meeting for final arrangements will be held this evening at the water company's office. All superintendents are requested to be present, as well as all others interested.
Exhibits for the fair are beginning to arrive already. The exhibit made at Albuquerque by the agricultural college, Mr. Casad, Mr. Stockton and others, was shipped here directly. Mr. Casad has returned to Mesilla to obtain a fresh supply of fruit before the fair.

BEAUTIFUL SKIN
Soft White Hands
Luxuriant Hair
Produced by
Cuticura SOAP
The most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath, and laundry. It is preventive of pimples, blackheads, redness, and oily skin, red, rough hands, itching palms and shagreened nails, dry skin, and falling hair, and simple baby blemishes, because the only preventive of the cause, viz., impurities and clogging of the pores.
Sold everywhere. FORTY-THREE CENTS. Price, 25c. Box, 50c. Use it daily. Beautiful skin, hands, and hair, and

Hon. Victor Ortega, ex-member of the assembly from Santa Fe county, is in the city from his home at Chimayo.
J. P. McNulty, who is in charge of the American Turquoise company turquoise claims near Bonanza City, came into town last evening and will remain a couple of days.

Arthur Austin, who has been a clerk in J. G. Cragger's store at Bland, has accepted a position as stenographer for Solicitor General E. L. Bartlett and assumed his new position this forenoon.
George L. Ulrich, of White Oaks, was a visitor in the capital to-day.

Miss Dovie Day, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Day will leave this afternoon on a visit to Fresno, California.

William W. Field, a Denver attorney of the firm of Wolcott & Vail, is in the city on court business, and will remain several days.

COURT AT CARLSBAD.

General News Items from the County of Eddy.

At court at Carlsbad, Ignacio Minjares was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years and to pay a fine of $500 for larceny of a mule. Ware, Johnson and Morrow, charged with horse theft, were granted a change of venue to Chaves county. Macario Balenzuela, guilty of larceny and burglary, was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Bruce Jones was found guilty of stealing cattle, after the jury had deliberated all night. Samuel Stevenson, who assaulted E. H. Gamble with a deadly weapon in 1893, was found guilty after an hour's deliberation by the jury. Dr. F. G. Moehlan was declared insane and ordered to be taken to the Las Vegas insane asylum. W. H. McGinnis was indicted for assault to murder and his bond was fixed at $5,000. Seven indictments were found for violating the Sunday law and the seven accused men were fined $15 and costs, a total of $33. Marion Buck pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.
Bishop J. M. Kendrick confirmed a class of seven at the Carlsbad Episcopal church.
Manuel Ward, of Carlsbad, was thrown from a horse and suffered a broken collar bone.

I. W. Rogers and family removed from Carlsbad to El Paso, where Mr. Rogers will engage in the hotel business.
A new fire department is to be organized at Carlsbad. The city council has appointed D. W. Gerhart chief.

Spring of '99 chicks at the Bon-Ton.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

The electric lights at the deaf and dumb asylum on the south side were turned on for the first time last night. The lights are seventeen in number, and the current is supplied by the electric light plant at the penitentiary. The wiring was done by I. Sparks, manager of the local telephone exchange.
It was understood that an English edition of the Boletin Popular was to make its appearance Saturday. For some reason or other the paper was not issued, and its object is to attack leading men of both parties and the territorial administration in particular.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Lopez, aged 13 months, died Saturday night and was buried this forenoon in Rosario cemetery, Charles Wagner being the funeral director. Mr. and Mrs. Lopez live at Canoncito, and arrived in this city Saturday evening on a business visit to G. Hunter, brother-in-law of Mr. Lopez. The child took sick immediately upon their arrival, and died two hours afterward.
James Spivy, the jailer at the county jail, has informed Judge McFie that since the Sunday law has been enforced on three Sundays not a single person has been arrested for drunkenness. It seems that most jags in Santa Fe were heretofore experienced on Sunday.
Deputy Sheriff Huber returned home this afternoon from an overland trip to Valencia county, where he summoned witnesses for the Trujillo murder trial now occupying the attention of the district court. Mr. Huber saw considerable game on the way, especially antelopes.
Francisco de Aguerro, one of the convict trustees at the penitentiary who escaped while working on the Palace avenue sewer some weeks ago, was brought back to the penitentiary Saturday by W. E. Martin who had gone to Lincoln county after the fugitive.
Pablo Lucero y Vigil, of this city, who was working on a section gang of the Santa Fe railroad, Saturday had his left leg broken and bruised while at work at Las Vegas. He was brought to St. Vincent's hospital in this city for treatment.

H. S. Lutz, agent of the Santa Fe railroad, announces to-day that the company will sell round-trip tickets October 3, 4, 5 and 6 from any point on its lines to the horticultural fair and the occasion of conferring the pallium upon Archbishop Peter Bourgade at this city on one fare.
"Two heads are better than one." If the one you have is dull and heavy you need Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will give you prompt relief.
HORTICULTURAL FAIR.
The Governor Will Deliver the Opening Address.
Governor Otero has kindly consented to open the horticultural fair formally on October 4.
The exact hour for the opening ceremonies has not yet been fixed, but it will probably be at 1 o'clock. The exhibition itself will open at 10.
A meeting for final arrangements will be held this evening at the water company's office. All superintendents are requested to be present, as well as all others interested.
Exhibits for the fair are beginning to arrive already. The exhibit made at Albuquerque by the agricultural college, Mr. Casad, Mr. Stockton and others, was shipped here directly. Mr. Casad has returned to Mesilla to obtain a fresh supply of fruit before the fair.

U. S. Weather Bureau Notes.
Forecast for New Mexico: Fair to-night and Tuesday.
Saturday the thermometer registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 78 degrees, at 1:45 p. m.; minimum, 54 degrees, at 8:00 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 66 degrees; mean daily humidity, 16 per cent.

Yesterday the thermometer registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 79 degrees, at 1:45 p. m.; minimum, 50 degrees, at 8:10 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 64 degrees; mean daily humidity, 18 per cent.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

A More County Murder Case.
The case of Entomio Martinez, charged with the murder of Juliana Fresques, near Mora, in January, 1898, is on trial in the district court at Raton.
Martinez is accused of murdering the woman while she was asleep in her house and that she stood between him and another woman. It is on a charge of venue from Mora county and will not be concluded until Tuesday.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

A More County Murder Case.
The case of Entomio Martinez, charged with the murder of Juliana Fresques, near Mora, in January, 1898, is on trial in the district court at Raton.
Martinez is accused of murdering the woman while she was asleep in her house and that she stood between him and another woman. It is on a charge of venue from Mora county and will not be concluded until Tuesday.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

A More County Murder Case.
The case of Entomio Martinez, charged with the murder of Juliana Fresques, near Mora, in January, 1898, is on trial in the district court at Raton.
Martinez is accused of murdering the woman while she was asleep in her house and that she stood between him and another woman. It is on a charge of venue from Mora county and will not be concluded until Tuesday.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the year so far, a reception having been given on the Friday preceding by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., organizations that have been in existence in the college for more than a year past. On this occasion the attendance was very large, and being given in honor of the new students, it afforded an excellent opportunity for old and new students, as well as teachers, to become acquainted, as well as to welcome new faces.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.
Items of Interest Concerning a Thriving Institution.
Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Mesilla Park, N. M., September 23.—The enrollment of students at the college still continues, and the total number in attendance is greater than ever before at this time of year. The proportion of students from outside and distant points is much larger than usual.
Dr. F. W. Sanders, the president of the college, left on Thursday last for Mesilla, Mont., to attend as a delegate from the college the national irrigation convention. Dr. Sanders will be absent about eight days.
Mr. H. Casad, assistant agriculturist, is representing the college in charge of the college exhibit of fruits, etc., now at the territorial fair at Albuquerque.
Pending the establishment of a regular public school at Mesilla Park, the residents of that town have arranged for the opening of a private school. At a recent meeting of the Mesilla Park school association Miss Myrtle Balloy was elected as teacher for the ensuing year. The school will be opened in a few days. It is entirely distinct from the college, and is established as a convenience for those families who move to Mesilla Park to educate their older children, but who have young children who are unable to enter the college, but who desire to go to school.
Among the students in the college this year are the following from Santa Fe: Misses Maude McFie, Alva Glidden and Mary Swope, and Manuel R. Otero. Ralph Easley and Reginald McKenzie. The three last named are very active in the athletic interests of the college. Mr. Otero having been elected treasurer of the athletic association at a recent meeting, and Mr. McKenzie base ball manager. The base ball players are out every afternoon, after the close of the day's work, on the athletic field, and are very much in evidence. The season's foot-ball team is also being organized.
A delightful time was enjoyed on Friday evening, when the matron and young ladies of the dormitory gave a dance. The attendance of students and instructors was large, and the evening was spent most enjoyably. This is the second social event of the