MARCHING IN MUD

Even the Mules Broke Down When Going After the Filipinos This Morning.

MANY INSURGENTS KILLED

General Schwan Took a Town Today, But the Rebels Fled Before He and His Command Arrived with Artillery and Troops.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Reports from De Malaban are that General Schwann's column is approaching the town marched through country so muddy that all the mules collapsed. He occupied the town without fighting, the insurgents retreating under cover of crook beds. Later, reconnoitering in force southward, General Schwann came upon trenches where hidden insurgents poured several volleys upon the general and staff. The rebels resisted stubbornly. Reconnoiterers consisting of Captain Gerry with a battalion of the 13th regiment and two guns of Riley's battery, drove the insurgents two miles, fighting all the way. They found a field place and several wounded and sick Filipinos flying red flags and captured 55 insurgents, including three officers. Many Filipinos, dead, were strewn along the fields. The American loss was one officer and seven men wounded. Schwann's main column started at daylight this morning along a fearful road on the left bank of the river, flankers being thrown far out and Major Budd's battalion on the right bank covering the flank, rendering the fire from the insurgent trenches ineffective. Major Budd returned to Santa Cruz before dark. The natives seem to be generally supporters of the insurrection but few have arms. There was much firing at American soldiers from native huts.

A "Hawsty" Day.
New York, October 11.—It is a lucky thing for many persons in New York that the yacht club race committee decided yesterday not to race today. The weather is abominably foggy, with little wind and an attempt to race today would certainly have resulted in another failure.

FUNSTON'S OPINION.

He Says That the Filipinos Are Not Capable of Self-Government.

San Francisco, October 11.—General Funston who arrived last night on the Tatar with the Kansas volunteers said: "The Filipinos are pretty good fighters and some are good shots but the majority of them are poor. He added that while the Filipinos were intelligent he did not think they were capable of self government. He declared he was not a candidate for the vice presidency and said he expected to be mustered out very soon.

Major Webster Dead.

Chicago, October 11.—Major George O. Webster, U. S. A., retired, died in the post hospital at Fort Sheridan yesterday from the effects of fever contracted in the Philippines a few months ago while commanding a battalion of the 4th Infantry. Webster was an old Indian fighter and saw active service with the 4th Infantry in Cuba and Luzon.

Fire Eating Southerners Fight.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 11.—In a saloon in Alexander City last night Dr. H. Cameron, president of a land and mining company and Dr. Mahoney of Covington, Ga., engaged in a duel with pistols at close range. A dozen shots were fired. Each combatant received two bullets. Mahoney is dying and there is hardly a chance of Cameron's surviving. The men had been the best of friends. The cause of the rupture is a mystery.

"The Mill Cannot Grind with Water That's Past."

A fagged out, tearful little woman said this in telling her cares and weaknesses. Her friend encouraged by telling of a relative who was cured of just such troubles by Hood's Sarsaparilla. The little woman now has tears of joy, for she took Hood's, which put her blood in prime order, and she lives on the strength of the present instead of worrying about that of the past. Told Her Friend—"After having gotten on my neck 42 years Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured me. I was so glad I told friends about it and a lady in Wisconsin who read of my cure told me she also took Hood's for the same trouble and was cured. She thanked me." Mrs. Anna Sutherland, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Boers are Ready.

Volskrant, Transvaal, Oct. 11.—The entire first draft of the Transvaal and Free States Boers is mobilized. Generals, commandants and field cornets inspected the various strategic points on the border.

Germans Helping Boers.

Pretoria, Oct. 11.—A German detachment posted a big gun in Free State on the Natal border in a position to aid Wakkereboom. Five hundred burghers assisted in having the gun up an almost inaccessible cliff.

COAL AND TIMBER ENTERPRISE.

Alamogordo the Heart of a Country of Dual Industries.

In discussing the work accomplished by the El Paso & North-eastern railway and associate corporations Chas. B. Eddy says: "All our plans have been carried out as we originally intended, except in two particulars. Our project did not at the outset contemplate a branch into the mountains for the timber. We have built 25 miles of road for this purpose, from Alamogordo, and have let the contract for 30 miles more. This will take us to the top and down into the valley of the Sacramento. Nor did we contemplate a branch to the Jarillas, which we have also built. We had no expectation of tapping such a vast wealth of timber and minerals along the road.

"We now have 104 miles of railroad in operation, including the two branches, but excluding sidings. The distance from El Paso to Capitlan is 105 miles. It is the Salado or Capitlan coal fields we are tapping. The White Oaks coal fields are ten miles from Carrizozo station, which in turn is 20 miles this side of Capitlan. Besides the extensive coal fields at Capitlan there are vast deposits of lead, copper and silver all about Capitlan. It will become an important shipping point for these minerals. Next to the coal in point of importance, however, are the great deposits of iron ore, chiefly magnetite and hematite, which deposits have not been opened up to any extent yet. There are a few prospect holes, some as deep as 50 feet, and very promising. A thorough test of the iron ore has been made at the Colorado steel works, and their report is it makes as fine Bessemer steel as any iron from the United States. It will be a great thing for El Paso if we can get it manufactured here.

"So far I have not been able to get anybody interested in it. Manufacturers say they can make iron at the big plants in the east and ship it out here cheaper than it can be made here. But I shall not give it up.

"I expect to estimate that the Salado coal basin that we have tapped covers an area of about 7,000 acres. There are two seams, one about 50 inches thick, the other about 60 inches. Both veins are good coking coal, and in point of quality the coal is as good as the best that comes over to the market. It has been thoroughly tested. It burns with a slightly red ash, and without any cinder whatever. It holds its shape perfectly, never cracks. The coal is well suited for all steam purposes.

"We started in to make this purely a present for anything further. We are satisfied to make and keep it a local road, because as such it will pay handsomely. But in view of the railroad situation I am confident that it is only a question of time when some of the larger roads will build it to meet us."

Court Notes.

In the district court today in the case of Matias Dominguez vs. Albino Ortega et al., for the partition of the De Vargas land grant, Judge McFie, by consent of counsel, appointed Amado Chavez, Esq., master.

In the case of H. L. Ortiz vs. Virginia C. de Maestas for professional services rendered, Judge McFie gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $50 and costs. The defendant failed to make an appearance and judgment went by default.

District Attorney R. C. Gortner presented a motion setting forth his services at the present term and asking allowance thereof against the court fund; also asking the court to designate an amicus curiae to object to the same and to raise fully the question of the propriety of same as a claim against the court fund. A question has been raised in other districts as to district attorney's fees and the proper payment thereof, and it is Mr. Gortner's wish to have an absolute determination of the controversy. Judge McFie designated Solicitor General E. L. Bartlett to act as amicus curiae in the matter.

Court was occupied today with the case of Frederick A. Clifton vs. A. C. Sweet et al. Clifton claims to have sold several mining claims on the Chama river in Rio Arriba county for $15,500 and sued for $4,500 commission and interest. The defendants deny that the sale has been made.

Argument in the case of Abraham Staab vs. J. H. Blain was completed this afternoon. The case grew out of the opening of Bridge street from Water street to San Francisco street. Staab claims damages and possession of the lot which was given to Blain by the city as compensation for donating the land for Bridge street.

This term of district court will end tomorrow.

County Commissioners Resign.

E. M. Hastings, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Colfax county, has resigned. Governor Otero will appoint a successor after returning from Chicago.

THE LAST WORD SAID

England Has Been Nagging the Little Republic to Get Her to Make a Break.

FRENCH PAPERS REJOICE

There Is Little Left for the British Cabinet to Do as the Preparations for Hostilities Have All Been Made.

London, Oct. 11.—The Transvaal ultimatum to Great Britain expires at 10:10 New York time. A cabinet summoned for Friday will be held, although there will be little left for it to decide, as everything has already been prepared for the approaching hostilities. The delivery of an ultimatum by the Boers is regarded as a triumph for Chamberlain's diplomacy, in that he forced the Transvaal government to move first.

Paris, Oct. 11.—The Paris press is delighted over the Boers' ultimatum to England. One paper says it remained for a handful of Dutchmen to say to Great Britain what France was eager to say to her after the Fashoda affair, but did not dare.

The Freight Car Famine.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—One of the most serious car famines ever recorded exists among the big railroad terminals at Chicago. Several roads report that the congestion of business has assumed the proportions of a blockade. In addition railroad officials find it impossible to obtain enough extra men. Thousands of cars built for the Rio Grande road by an Indiana firm have mysteriously disappeared on route to the west. It is said they are being used by roads short of cars and will be held until the famine is over.

Troops Reach Cape Town.

Cape Town, Oct. 11.—The British first class cruiser Powerful, Captain Lampton, arrived to-day having 500 infantry on board.

Lewd, Hatch accidentally shot himself at his brother's sheep camp near Fruitland. His brother had left a Winchester learning against a tree and the young man in seizing it by the muzzle, discharged the gun. The bullet struck him in the hand, passed out at the wrist glanced off from one of the ribs, coursed around the body through the flesh and lodged near the spine. Hatch will recover.

The onion crop in San Juan county is unusually large this year. M. A. Brachvogel & Co., of Durango, bought the entire output of onions of Messrs. Gilmour and Hubbard on the Aztec—Farmington road. The crop is 40,000 pounds, mostly Yellow Danvers, though several thousand pounds are the Large Red and Silver Skin varieties.

TELEGRAPH WIRES DOWN.

Up to 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the telegraph wires were not working and the New Mexican is consequently without the usual quantity of news dispatches.

THE MAL PAIS.

A Desolate Strip Made by An Ancient Flow of Lava.

The Mal Pais, a crater 17 miles from White Oaks, Lincoln county, is attracting much attention from newcomers to Lincoln county. An old lava flow 45 miles long extends from the crater southward down the Carrizozo valley. The immense river of lava is 2½ to 5 miles wide and is dotted with a scrubby desert growth that has accumulated in small spots of earth in fissures of the lava. Coyotes and wolves roam over these bad lands. Battlesnakes and horned toads are the only other living inhabitants. The rough, gaunt and sharp pointed peaks, sticking up promiscuously over the surface make travel over it impossible except on foot and even that is destructive to shoe leather. Tradition has it that the lava flow destroyed cities and many people.

Territorial Funds.

Territorial Treasurer J. H. Vaughn to-day received from Juan B. Martinez, collector of San Juan county, $28.45 of 1895 taxes; $2.43 of 1896 taxes and $45.03 of 1898 taxes, of which latter amount $26.05 is for territorial purposes and $9.48 for territorial institutions.

"I GAVE little thought to my health," writes Mrs. Wm. V. Bell, 230 N. Walnut St., Canton, O., to Mrs. Pinkham. "until I found myself unable to attend to my household duties.

"I had had my days of not feeling well and my monthly suffering, and a good deal of backache, but I thought all women had these things and did not complain.

"I had doctored for some time, but no medicine seemed to help me, and my physician thought it best for me to go to the hospital for local treatment. I had read and heard so much of your Vegetable Compound that I made up my mind to try it. I was troubled with falling of the womb, had sharp pains in ovaries, leucorrhoea and painful menses. I was so weak and dizzy that I would often have severe fainting spells. I took in all several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and used the Sanative Wash, and am now in good health. I wish others to know of the wonderful good it has done me, and have many friends taking it now. Will always give your medicine the highest praise."

Mrs. A. TOLLE, 1946 Hilston St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was very thin and my friends thought I was in consumption. Had continual headaches, backache and falling of womb, and my eyes were affected. Every one noticed how poorly I looked and I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. One bottle relieved me, and after taking eight bottles am now a healthy woman; have gained in weight 95 pounds to 140 pounds, and everyone asks what makes me so stout."

The body was recovered soon after and taken to Magdalena, where the funeral was held.

GOLD, COPPER AND IRON.

Many Mines at Pinos Altos, Hanover and Santa Rita Producing Largely.

John L. Burnside and Burr Gillette made the final payment upon two-thirds interest in the Copper Rose and Native Copper, east of Santa Rita peak. They formerly worked the mines under lease and bond. J. A. Lucas retains one-third interest in the property, but it is bonded to Mr. Burnside.

The Gillette shaft on the Pinos Altos Gold Company's property has reached a depth of over 700 feet at that point, or 1,000 feet below the upper workings of the mine at the apex of the mountain. Drifts are being run at the 700-foot level and the shaft carried toward the 1,000-foot level.

Work has been begun on the Uter group at Pinos Altos. The group was recently purchased by an eastern syndicate.

The new shaft on the Olympia at Hanover is down 20 feet, but no pay ore has been reached yet.

Gilchrist & Dawson are extracting large quantities of copper iron ore from the Jim Thayer and Jim Thayer No. 2 at Hanover. The ore is largely copper sulphide, and contains good values in gold. The tunnel on the Hanover No. 2 is now in 260 feet. The crosscut tunnel is being driven to intersect the vein at the bottom of the main shaft.

Michael Hughes and Warren Houghs leased their mine at Hanover to Owens Bros.

The new main shaft upon the McCarty, of the Modoc group at Hanover, has reached a depth of 55 feet. The shaft is 6x12 feet in the clear, large enough for two compartments. The bottom of the shaft is in good shipping ore. At the depth of 65 feet a drift 125 feet in length from the old shaft will be intersected. The drift shows ore on every side. The new shaft will be sunk to a depth of 200 feet without interruption. In doing the small amount of development work noted above, 1,100 tons of copper-bearing iron ore was taken out and shipped to the Silver City reduction works.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11.

Admiral Dewey is not quoted by the anti-expansionists since he landed upon the shore of this country and declared that the country must go on to finish the task it has undertaken, and that for the present the Philippines must be left for self-government. And the same element failed to draw from the admiral any severe criticism of General Otis, which they expected to use to stir up the country into demanding from the president a change in command on the islands.

The increased mileage and the additional business the Santa Fe railway will have when its line into San Francisco gets into operation will make work for many more trainmen on the route through New Mexico, and also necessitate a great increase in the force in the shops at various places. There are already about 500 mechanics employed in the shops at Albuquerque, and the number is liable to be doubled within a year. Securing a larger share in the California business and dividing the growing traffic of the Orient will make additional trains necessary upon the Santa Fe route.

The department of agriculture announces, after exhaustive investigation, that when irrigated lands begin to suffer from alkali the cause is excessive irrigation upon higher lands, the salts in the soil sinking and appearing where the water rises upon lower levels, and where drainage is imperfect. Open sandy lands having good drainage are not so affected. Where alkali has already formed deep and loose tillage of soil to check evaporation is recommended, while the cultivation of hoed and deep-rooted crops has a tendency to remedy the evil.

In all the cities, these racing days, crowds of people stand in front of bulletin boards to read of the movements of the yachts. The majority of the people never saw a sailing vessel, but the love of sport of this kind is inherent, and the man or boy who has seen pictures of races in a general way understands the contest. He knows that the best that money and skill can produce is engaged in a trial, and that the whole world watches with eager interest. Whether he be British or American, his pulse will thrill when his national favorite leads.

Venezuela Must Pungle.

Ex-President Harrison is probably more interested in the outcome of the present revolution than any other American. The government of Venezuela agreed to pay him a fee of $250,000 to argue their side of the matters submitted to the board of arbitration in the dispute with Great Britain. No sooner had he performed his duty than the natives got up a revolution and overthrew the government before a check could be given to the attorney. If the new government does not recognize the obligation and pay the gentleman from Indiana, the United States, if she should follow the European style of collecting debts, may send the battle-ship Indiana down there with orders to shell the Venezuelans unless they shell out, and Mr. Harrison will get his fee. That would be dead easy now, since the skill of American gunners has been proved. No bunco game like this upon the part of a revolutionary country will be permitted against the able Hoosier lawyer who has served this country as president.

To Conserve Flood Waters.

While New Mexico is looking forward toward action by the general government in the matter of constructing storage reservoirs for flood waters, agitation upon the necessity of saving the waste of streams is going on in California. A state convention has been called for next month. The subject for consideration will be the water available for storage and the methods by which storage may be effected. The utilization of waste water will not only add to the value of every acre of land now under cultivation, but it will give value to land now comparatively worthless. It will relieve the people from the apprehension of "dry" years. There are, in fact, no dry years. There is always an abundance of water, but not always enough after a large percentage of waste is deducted. In certain localities farmers lose a crop about every third year, and only look for partial crops the other two years. Rain ceases to fall in May, and harvest commences the latter part of June. If the fall has been heavy up to the middle of May the yield will be fairly good, but if April and May are dry months the work of the season is lost. There may be two-thirds of the amount of rain needed to mature crops, but the lack of the other third renders the two-thirds comparatively valueless. The work of the association has been taken up with attention with many difficulties. Existing water rights must be recognized. A comprehensive water storage system would doubtless conflict with interests based upon present conditions, but this fact should not be allowed to stand in the way of the utilization of the source of wealth which now runs to waste each year.

It is announced with a flourish of trumpets by the newspapers along the Santa Fe line that at the Harvey eating houses, after the new time card goes into effect, passengers will be allowed five minutes more than formerly in which to wrestle with slinkers and daily with pie. Another result of prosperity. In Democratic days it did not take much time to eat all that the average man could allow himself.

If the "Aunties" Would Let Up.

In the last conference with a spokesman sent to General Otis, the representative of the insurgents declared that they were well posted, and knew that the war against them was being waged by politicians whom the people would soon rebuke. It is only natural for the insurgents to believe that, for their agents and friends in this country, as well as the foreign merchants who are selling guns to the Filipinos, lead them to take such view. If Colonel Bryan and all others who talk against the administration plans would only keep for a few weeks and join in declaring that the war must be ended victoriously, the hopeful fellows who think the United States will quit short of triumph would themselves quit.

A Prosperous Industry.

The wool-scouring plant at Albuquerque is the largest of this character in the southwest, now employing fifty people. One-half are women, who are paid good wages. The establishment is contemplating taking up the manufacture of blankets. There is no reason why wool should be sent east to be made into fabrics and shipped back to the southwest. New Mexico has cheap labor, fuel in abundance for factories, and a big western market, which could be controlled because freights can be saved to and from the east by making territorial wool into marketable goods here and disposing of them in the west. The Albuquerque enterprise is operated by local capital, and must be of substantial benefit to the trade there, as well as an advantage to shippers, who can send clean wool to the east without paying freight on dirt. There are half a dozen places in New Mexico where there should be wool-scouring plants, and the more blanket factories the better, for there is business enough for all.

Will Never Give Up The Mines.

A telegram yesterday stated the news that the Boers had issued an ultimatum had a steady effect upon the mining stock market in London because it was regarded as insuring war, which speculators consider would result in bringing the gold fields of South Africa into a dependency of Great Britain. The mining men have been seeking to bring on the war for this very purpose, and while the mines may be seized and property damaged by the Boers while hostilities continue, the companies are willing to make this sacrifice in order to secure freedom from Boer domination. The great profit made by leading companies of the Rand is sufficient to guarantee that the mines will never be given up by the British as the result of hostilities. Of thirty of the most prominent mining companies in the Transvaal not one pays less than 15 per cent on its capital stock, and only two less than 20 per cent. Eight of the companies actually pay from 100 to 300 per cent in dividends annually, while one, the Johannesburg Pioneer, pays 675 per cent. In 1896 the total paid in dividends by Transvaal gold mines was $7,450,000, while in 1898 it reached the enormous figure of $24,450,000.

Assaults of the "Aunties"

The anti-Otis newspapers have started a new cry against the commanding general. This is to the effect that he permits the archbishop of the Catholic church to be the real governor general, and that the Catholic orders against which the natives have striven are allowed to continue taking all the profits that are made by a monopoly of lands and irrigation canals. This complaint comes from the Philippines, and certain American papers, notably the Times in Washington, takes up the matter and charges that Otis was appointed to command in the islands through the influence of Archbishop Ireland and Senator Elkins, and is a Roman Catholic. This is quite a change in the method of attack upon Otis at this end of the line, for but a few weeks ago an attempt was made to arouse Catholic indignation by a story to the effect that Otis' army was despoiling the churches. There is evidently an organized movement to crowd the president into supplanting General Otis before he has a chance to show what he can do with a larger army. And nowhere is the matter pushed with so much vigor as in the Washington paper, which indicates that some military or government clique is seeking the change for its own purposes.

The Horticultural Fair.

The success of the territorial horticultural association in holding a creditable fair in the year when the frost did more damage than at any period since the work was taken up is gratifying, for it shows that the interest of the people is keen. Exhibits were made from almost every section of the territory where frost left any fruit to mature. The people in the various counties now recognize the importance of the horticultural industry, and exhibitions of this sort stimulate interest not only among residents, but from the outside. The time is coming when the annual fair of the territorial horticultural association will be as widely advertised and attract as many visitors as such occasions do in the eastern states, and all of New Mexico will be made famous as a fruit region in the markets of the United States. The active members who were unwilling to forego a fair this year because a lapse of interest might result, deserve credit for the zeal with which they labored. Foremost among them, of course, was Hon. L. Bradford Prince, the president of the association, who, with his usual enthusiasm in work for the benefit of the public, and with pride in horticulture in his adopted land, which is warranted by its importance, contributed so much to make the occasion interesting and satisfactory to exhibitors and attendants upon the fair. The success attained in a poor year warrants the prediction that with favorable circumstances in 1900 there will be such an exhibition as the territory has never made.

THE TERRITORIAL PRESS.

PLACE FOR A SMELTER.

(Alamogordo News.) A smelter for Alamogordo would be a paying proposition from the start. Coal, water and timber are plentiful and close at hand. The ores from the Javillas, the White Oaks country and the Nogal section would create plenty of business for the smelter. This is the time and here is the place. Let the people of Alamogordo bestir themselves and secure such a business enterprise for this city.

AFTER LAURELS OF KANSAS.

(Aztec Index.) Henderson Bates left with us recently some good specimens of corn grown by him. Seed was planted the last of May, and the crop has all matured, with a yield of forty or forty-five bushels to the acre. San Juan county is coming to the front as a corn country.

PRESS COMMENT.

WOULD BE TOUGH ALL AROUND.

(Washington Post.) If the Kansas people are not careful they may drive Jerry Simpson into taking up his residence in Massachusetts. JERSEY'S PROFIT FROM TRUSTS. (Chicago News.) While the attorney general of Ohio is urging the supreme court to take up the anti-trust cases the secretary of state of New Jersey is reporting that 1,945 corporations were created in that state this year, and that they paid the commonwealth $728,023 in incorporation fees. Of this $728,023 it is safe to say that about $700,000 was paid by so-called trusts, not one of which is in any sense a New Jersey enterprise, and not one of which will ever be seen or heard of in that state except as its products may be sold there and as it maintains a nominal "head office" in the rooms of some lawyer in Jersey City. Whatever the supreme court of Ohio may say about the existing trusts, the state of New Jersey will go on licensing others to do business in Ohio as well as elsewhere. This is one of the difficulties of the trust question.

PROSPEROUS MEXICO.

(San Francisco Bulletin.) The only excuse Maximilian could give for coming to Mexico was that the Mexican people could not govern themselves. Maximilian was not renowned as a governor of peoples, but it was assumed that as he was a member of a governing family he could do better than the nation. Differences of opinion arose on this point between him and the Mexican people, which the Mexicans settled by putting the would-be governor to death. Since that time the Mexicans have been governing themselves. It is the fashion to say that their president is a despot and rules with an iron hand, but no one pretends that he does not rule wisely. He has manifested wisdom in keeping peace with the rest of the world. The states of Central America have offered him some provocation to expand, but the offer has not tempted him. He is occupied in building up the industries of the country.

NO ROOM FOR DISCUSSION.

(Indianapolis News.) We are willing to debate with any man the question of the future government of the Philippines. That is a subject on which men may differ. But we cannot see that there is any room for difference or debate on the question of enforcing on the rebellious Tagals the acknowledgment of our authority, and of the obligation on our part to present to the world a peaceful government in the Philippines. The political party that should draw back or oppose this would meet the overwhelming condemnation of the American people.

NOT SECTIONAL.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.) Expansion and its antithesis are not quite so sectional as is sometimes supposed. Edward Atkinson and William Lloyd Garrison, of Boston, as opponents of territorial acquisition, are matched by Henry Wade Rogers and J. Lawrence Laughlin, of Chicago, and by one or two persons equally prominent in St. Louis and other western cities. A person's position on that question is not determined by his longitude. Perhaps the number of contractionists is larger in proportion to population in the east than it is in the west, but they are undoubtedly in the minority all over the country. If a vote were had on the question of the retention of the territory gained in the war of 1898, free from all connection with any other issue, retention would undoubtedly have a large majority in the aggregate, and it would probably carry four-fifths of all the states.

NEW RAILWAY FROM DEMING.

An Old Project Revived and Work to Begin Within a Month.

(Herald, City of Mexico.)

One of the most important railroad concessions granted in late years was that secured yesterday by Mr. A. O. Bailey, of Columbus, N. M. As a result, within the next thirty days, work will begin on an extensive line of road extending from Deming, N. M., to Aguiavampo, Sinaloa, on the Pacific coast. This will be a tremendous project, crossing, as it will, the Sierra Madre mountains and extending for some distance through the Yaqui country. Mr. Bailey was seen by a Mexican Herald reporter, but refused to go into details concerning the route to be selected by the projectors of this line, on the ground that the engineers' report on part of the route has not yet been completed. This project has been in contemplation for a long time, but no steps toward securing a concession were taken until a syndicate had been formed and a sufficient amount of capital guaranteed to build the road. The syndicate formed by Mr. Bailey is composed of New York and London millionaires, and there will be no delay whatever in pushing the road to completion, as the management only awaited the granting of the concession to commence operations. "Work will be commenced in about thirty days," said Mr. Bailey, "and the building of the road will commence from Deming, N. M. It will cross the border at Columbus, N. M., making a distance of thirty-five miles to be built in the United States. The road will then pass through part of the state of Chihuahua, and will touch Guerrero, the mining camp, and will here connect with the Chihuahua & Pacific road, now in course of construction. On the way to Aguiavampo it will pass through the Jesus Maria mining country.

"Where will it cross the Sierra Madre, Mr. Bailey?"

"I cannot say as to that," he replied. "The road will eventually be extended to Topolobampo, but for the present we will build only to Aguiavampo."

"Do you receive any subvention?" asked the reporter.

"We asked for none. I did not obtain this concession for the purpose of hawking it around or looking for capital to build the road after the concession had been granted. I succeeded in forming the syndicate first, and then applied for the concession. We are building this road purely on a business venture. We believe the resources of that country even as they are developed will support a railroad now, and the building of this line will open up many properties that cannot now be worked with profit."

Mr. Bailey declined to name his associates, but they are all substantial men. The fact that the building of this line is contemplated will prove a great surprise, as no publicity whatever was given to the matter. It will be a matter of great interest to miners and prospectors in the states of Chihuahua and Sonora, as it will traverse a section of the Sierra Madre which is rich in mineral, but which has always been considered inaccessible to the poor man on account of lack of transportation, and many rich properties lie undeveloped on account of the difficulty of getting machinery to them and the costly journey to Chihuahua, which has been the nearest shipping point for those who could not treat the ore on the ground.

A Strike Epidemic.
Strikes are serious things, and in view of the number that have occurred it is well to remember that until the cause be removed, dissatisfaction will deplete work and prove a menace to society. But it is not only the commercial life which has been stricken. The whole country is groaning under the strike of the stomach, and many people make the mistake of trying to suppress the symptoms instead of removing the cause. There is but one sure way of curing the ills which arise from a rebellious stomach, and that is by an honest use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Use it for indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver or kidney trouble, and see that a private Revenue Stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

Grand Strategy.

Well pleased, the dictator mounted his bicycle and wheeled rapidly inland followed by his capital in an automobile. —Detroit Journal.

LOST—A POCKETBOOK.

"Dear me! I am constantly astonished to see how many are with money," groaned the girl in gray.
"My! I don't know," replied the girl in blue. "My rich old aunt seems able to take very good care of hers."
"Only think! I found a pocketbook lying on the sidewalk in front of Bargis & Co.'s a bit ago. It has $54 in it and no card or other marks of identification."
"Speaking of pocketbooks makes me think of Irene. She had only 94 cents to her name and needed a lot of things which she had quite forgotten while her money held out. She had a delicacy about asking her husband for any more until he had paid and forgotten one or two little bills, so she decided to lose her pocketbook, which was shabby anyhow. Then she tearfully told her husband about it. Somehow he seems to have got the impression that there was $15 in it."
"Goodness! Then he told her to advertise it?"

"Worse! He advertised it himself. Still, Irene didn't feel badly about it, for she always forgets to keep a card in her pocketbook. But this time it happened to contain a note concerning her arrangements for the summer trip which she had not yet broken to her husband. Somebody found it, identified it, and brought it for the reward. Of course there was only 94 cents in it, and just as Irene came in her husband was about to send for a policeman to arrest the finder. She had to confess and—"

"What happened then?"
"Oh, Irene says the temperature of the house has gone down so much that she thinks she will not need a summer trip anyhow. Isn't that a story without a moral?"
"It is, dear. If her name and address had been in the pocketbook she might have been a summer trip and $50 better off and nobody the worse."
"Except her husband, M'h'm! By the way, I saw you walking with Jack Treadway yesterday."

"Did you? Yes, we happened to meet—accidentally. I—er—that is, I hope you will understand, Evelyn. Jack and I are real platonic friends, and—"
"I was sure of that, dear, when I saw how beautifully you blushed when he spoke to you."
"I'm sure I don't know what you mean by blushing. I—ah—I might have choked or something just then. I am glad that I am not one of the people who find it impossible to appreciate platonic friendship. The majority seem unable to understand it."
"But what shall you do with the pocketbook you found?"
"I shall take it home and read all the lost advertisements in the morning paper. When I find its owner, I shall return it to her with a scathing rebuke for her carelessness. She quite deserves it."

"I know that, dear, but if you must rebuke somebody better choose a man. He takes it so much more easily. Oh, by the way, have you met Jack's sister? She is here visiting him, you know. He is devoted to her, and she has enormous influence over him, they say."
"I met her yesterday, just for a moment. The fact is that I am waiting for her now. We are to meet her brother and all lunch and then go to the matinee together."

"How nice! Especially as you are only platonic friends and she will not be in the way. Dear me, I can't help thinking of the woman who lost that pocketbook. Her state must—"
"She richly deserves it. I shall tell her so. I never lost a pocketbook or a cent of money in my life. Oh, I do hope Miss Treadway will really like me. I am prepared to like her enormously."

"Yes, you are sure to be congenial. She talks about her brother all the time. I have noticed that when people are platonic friends they—"
"Are naturally rather interested in each other," said the girl in gray stidily.
"Exactly. Why, here comes Miss Treadway now. How queer she looks! Quite—"
"Oh, something must have happened to Jack. Suppose he—"
"So sorry to keep you waiting," cried the girl in brown, rushing in, "but something dreadful has happened, and—"
"Is—he is hurt?" stammered the girl in gray.

"Why? What made you think that? He is in Seattle, and— Oh, phew! You must mean Jack. He is all right. When you said 'he,' I naturally thought of Angus."
"Then what has happened?" asked the girl in blue calmly.
"I've had my pocket picked. I never could have lost my pocketbook any other way. I am so careful. What shall I do, girls? I haven't had it since leaving Bargis's, and the thief—"

"Was it a seal leather, silver trimmed one?" asked the girl in gray eagerly.
"Yes, and I'm sure my card was in it, though this once I might have forgotten to include one. I am so careful that I don't know how—well, I must just get Jack to replace the money, that is all. He is saving now too. I don't see why. He has no patience, either, with a woman who loses money, and it had $54!"
"Sixty-four dollars! Then I found it," cried the girl in gray.
"Bargis's payment, and—"

"Oh, you darling!" cried the girl in brown. "Give it to me quick, and we will go to meet Jack. I shall tell him what a jewel you are!"
"Why, where is it? I—oh, Evelyn! Did you notice it when we sat down?"
"Why, no," said the girl in brown.
"You said you found it, and—"
"It isn't here. I put it carefully in my pocket, and now it is gone. Oh, what will you think of me? I've lost your pocketbook again."

"I think it was extremely careless of you, that is all, and the girl in brown told, and here comes Jack." —Ella Armstrong in New York Journal.

Generous.
"I am willing to bear my share of the expenses of procuring the divorce, Harold," remarked the mistreated wife who had been freed from her bonds.
"No, Georgiana," said the ex-husband, with a wave of his hand. "You have always bought my ties. I will pay for the untie." —Chicago Tribune.

Jeniority.
"You're only one," said the solitary figure.
"Yes, but I stand before a long row of ciphers," was the answer.—Cleveland Leader.

Talking it over at the Club.
From the Chicago Times-Herald.
How did Brunstet act when you got him home last night? I never saw a man in such a maudlin state as he was when we put him in the back. I hope you fellows know enough to keep cool when his wife appeared upon the scene.
"Oh, yes, we kept cool. She emptied a pitcher of ice water on us while we were carrying him up the steps."

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

This morning dawned cloudy with a cold, moist wind blowing from the mountains but the sun dispelled the clouds and Santa Fe enjoyed another halcyon October day.

By some means or other an omission occurred in the report of the proceedings of the Horticultural Association so that the Santa Fe railway company did not appear among the corporations thanked for assistance. That company as usual helped along the worthy enterprise.

The theatrical company which gave the "Wild Goose Chase" at the local opera house Friday and refused to play here Saturday because of a small audience, met with equally hard luck at Las Vegas and disbanded there, several cubans, the company's findiam employment while others left for parts unknown. An effort was made here to seize their trunks, but through some legal technicality this was unsuccessful.
To the credit of the manager of the company, however, he is said to be making an effort to pay all bills.

A number of adobe houses on the south side are being kalsomined, which gives them a neat appearance and is besides a good way of disinfecting them.
It is a process which every adobe house in the city should undergo.

ing put on the house owned by Mrs. T.

THE SUNDAY LAW.

The Young People's Societies Ask for Its Enforcement.

The executive committee of the City Union of the Young People's Societies at Albuquerque has addressed the following memorial to Judge Crumpacker of the Second Judicial District court for Bernalillo county:

Dear Sir:—The City Union of the Young People's Societies, composed of societies of young people belonging to different churches in Albuquerque, has directed us, their committee, to address this communication to you.

We desire to call your attention to the flagrant violation of the Sunday laws of this territory by many of the merchants of our city, and perhaps without exception by the saloon men.

We believe that a strict observance of these laws will result in very material advantage to our city in every way.
While we think that a proper observance of the Sabbath is a religious duty, and that as such it blesses all who conscientiously observe it, we are also satisfied that the Sunday rest is a beneficial provision for the needs of all living creatures. We regard the fact that a rest day conduces to the health, comfort and happiness of all, as proved beyond doubt by the experience of men.

With these views we are especially distressed at the wanton violation of the laws of the territory, designed to restrain men from allowing their love of gain to violate a law of nature, and thus infringe upon themselves and others, the resulting evils.

We are frank to admit that there are difficulties in the way of the enforcement of these laws. In so many instances the law has been treated as a dead letter that undue severity might result from punishing the violators of the law. If, however, your honor should publicly notify the transgressors that the officers of your court had been instructed by you to strictly enforce the law and to see that the violators of the law were brought to punishment, there could not be any reasonable complaint if punishment followed future violations of the law.

We are satisfied that this matter is wholly in your power and control and for that reason we respectfully submit it to you for such consideration and action as to your honor may seem fit.

We are also reliably informed that many who keep their places of business wide open on Sunday would gladly welcome the enforcement of the law, as they only keep open because others do.
The great mass of the employees would be particularly benefited by strict enforcement of the law.

We are especially moved to lay this matter before you at this time from statememorial papers that three of the district judges—Judge Mills, Judge McFie and Judge Leland—have already taken action looking to the enforcement of the Sunday laws.

We assure you of our confidence that you will not hesitate to do your duty as you see it, and that you have the good of the community quite as much at heart as we have.

If you have catarrh, rheumatism, or dyspepsia, take Hood's Sarsaparilla and be cured as thousands of others have been.

MINES OF THE MOGOLLONS.

The Cooney Makes a Shipment That Nets
the Lessees $7,200.

The shaft of the Deep Down mine at Mogollon is being sunk in good ore which pays for development work as it proceeds.

Colonel E. C. Bennett, manager of the Maud S. at Mogollon, has decided to resume work. A new shaft will be sunk.

The Little Fannie at Mogollon has attained a depth of 420 feet. All of the old workings are being retimbered.

High grade free milling ore is being taken out of the Golden Eagle at Mogollon.

Ore from the Nebuchadnezzar at Mo-gollon is to be run through the Copper Queen mill.

Mogollon ran over 57 per cent copper and a good value in gold and silver.
The shipment netted $7,200.

Buying More Locomotives.

The Santa Fe Railway company last week received bids for 55 consolidation and 30 mogul locomotives. The moguls in working order will weigh 75 tons each, but as the entire trackage is now of new, heavy, steel rails the weight of these monster machines will not spread the track.

Pentitentiary Notes.

The brick machine at the penitentiary is finished and will be in operation by the end of the week.

Superintendent H. O. Bursum purchased at Kansas City 35 mules for the penitentiary at $140 a piece. They will arrive at the penitentiary this week.

Tom Ketchum's arm has entirely healed and he is again in perfect health.
This is a credit to the skill of the penitentiary physician, Dr. Desmarais, for when Ketchum was brought to the prison it was thought that his injuries would prove fatal.

Francisco Aguero, the trusty who was recaptured in Lincoln county after his escape from the street gang on Palace avenue, had his good time allowance taken away from him and was introduced to the spanking machine.

Superintendent H. O. Bursum has sent out 200 blank proposals for bids for supplies for the penitentiary. The penitentiary funds are in splendid shape that all supplies will be paid for in cash, and merchants awarded contracts will not have to wait for their money.
