HOAR'S MORAL LAW

What He Thinks the Government Should Declare With Regard to the Island Peoples.

ADJOURNED FOR HOLIDAYS

Senator Pettigrew Bobs Up Again to Claim That Facts in Regard to the Spanish War Are Suppressed.

THE HOUSE.

Washington, December 20.—Three-fourths of the seats in the house were empty to-day, the majority of the members having already left for their homes to spend the holidays. After the reading of the journal Mr. Payne moved for adjournment. The Democrats, in a spirit of good nature, voted against the motion, and with the dissenting Republicans defeated it on a rising vote. Thereupon Mr. Payne demanded the yeas and nays.

The motion was defeated, and Payne was subjected to some good-natured chaffing by Richardson.

Mr. Grover secured the floor for a brief reply to the remarks of Mr. Gaines yesterday, and after some further routine business the house adjourned until January 3, 1900.

THE SENATE.

Washington, December 20.—The presiding officer laid before the senate a communication from the regents of the Smithsonian Institution, suggesting in the form of a joint resolution the appointment of former Secretary Olney to fill the vacancy on the board of regents caused by the death of Dr. William Preston Johnson, of Louisiana. Senator Hoar of Massachusetts thought this a most unusual proceeding. He said it would be as proper for the justices of the supreme court to suggest to the president who should fill a vacancy on the bench. The resolution was left on the table.

Senator Hale of Maine had read from the clerk's desk a proclamation issued by General Brooke in Havana on turning over the civil government of Cuba to his successor, General Leonard Wood.

"This proclamation," he said, "must arrest the attention of the senate committee on Cuban affairs and of the country. It is a most remarkable statement of the progress made in Cuba. If General Brooke be right, peace and good order have practically been established on the island, and the people will be ready at an early date to enter upon a government of their own. General Brooke is to be congratulated upon having accomplished a vast work. It is much greater than I supposed. I see the dawn of the time when the Cuban people will be able to set up a government of their own. General Brooke having been displaced, will soon come north, and when he arrives will receive our congratulations upon his great work."

The matter was referred to the committee on relations with Cuba.

Senator Fairbanks introduced a bill granting a pension of $2,000 a year to the widow of General Lawton.

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts introduced the following resolution:

"Whereas, the American people and the several states of the Union have in times past, at important periods in their history, especially when declaring their independence, establishing their constitutions or undertaking new and great responsibilities, seen fit to declare the purposes for which the nation was founded and the important objects the people intend to pursue in their present action; and,

"Want of Watchfulness Makes the Thief."

Many cases of poor health come from want of watchfulness. But if you keep your blood pure no thief can steal your health. The one effective, natural blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Disordered Blood—"My father has long been troubled with disordered blood and weak back. Hood's Sarsaparilla made him strong and healthy; he works every day." A. S. Wykes, S. Easton, Pa.

Humor—"When I need a blood purifier I take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures my humor and is excellent as a nerve tonic." J. S. Eaton, Stafford Springs, Ct.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-detracting and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Whereas, the close of the great war of liberation by the United States of the people of Cuba and Porto Rico, in the western hemisphere, and the Philippine Islands in the far east, and the reduction of those peoples to a condition of practical dependence upon the United States, constitute an occasion which makes a declaration proper; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That this republic adheres to the doctrine which were in the past set forth in the Declaration of Independence, and in its national and state constitutions; that the purpose of its existence and the objects to which its political action ought to be directed are the ennobling of humanity, the raising from the dust of its humblest and coarsest members, enabling persons coming lawfully under its power or influence to live in freedom and in honor, under governments whose forms they are to have a share in determining and in whose administration they have equal share.

"Its most important and pressing obligations are:

"1. To solve the difficult problem presented by the presence of different races on our soil with equal constitutional rights. To make the negro safe in his home, secure in his vote, equal in opportunity for education and employment, and to bring the Indian to civilization and culture in accordance with his need and capacity.

"2. To enable great cities to govern themselves in freedom, honor and purity.

"3. To make the ballot box pure as a sacramental vessel, and the election result as perfectly in accord with laws and truth as the judgment of the supreme court.

"4. To banish illiteracy and ignorance from the land.

"5. To secure for every workman and for every working woman wages enough to support life and comfort, and in old age leisure and quiet, as befits those who have an equal share in a self-governing state.

"6. To grow and expand over the continent and over the islands of the sea just so fast, and no faster, as we can bring into equality and self-government under our constitution peoples and races who will share these ideals and help to make them realities.

"7. To set a peaceful example of freedom which mankind will be glad to follow but never force, even freedom upon unwilling natives at the point of the bayonet or at the cannon's mouth.

"8. To abstain from interfering with the freedom and just rights of other nations and peoples, and remember liberty to do right necessarily involves liberty to do wrong, and that American people have no right to take from any other peoples their birthright freedom because of a fear they will do wrong with it."

The senate committee on foreign relations to-day authorized a favorable report upon the two treaties negotiated with Great Britain and Germany for a dissolution of the tripartite agreement for the control of the Samoan Islands.

Senator Bacon, one of the new Democratic members, was the only opponent of the treaty, and he did not seek to delay reporting it to the senate. He opposed the acquisition of the island of Tutuila, contending that the consent of the islanders should be first secured. He was met on this proposition with a statement that the natives were only wandering tribes, and with the argument that the United States could not afford to forego the opportunity to secure complete control of Pago Pago harbor, which this treaty furnished.

Senator Harris of Kansas announced his withdrawal from the committee on agriculture. Thereupon, Senator Cockrell of Missouri presented a resolution filling the vacancies on the committees on agriculture, claims, forest reservations, interstate commerce, the Philippines, and pensions, by the appointment of Senator Allen of Nebraska. The resolution was adopted.

Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, chairman of the military affairs committee, drew a sharp speech from Senator Pettigrew by a motion to reconsider a resolution previously introduced by Pettigrew and passed directing the secretary of war to forward to the senate a full report of the committee appointed by the president to investigate the conduct of the Spanish war.

Senator Pettigrew declared this a most unusual proceeding, and demanded to know whether "it is part of the studied policy to suppress the information."

In reply Senator Hawley disclaimed any intention to endeavor to suppress the facts. He made the motion simply that the matter might be considered by the committee with a view to ascertaining the availability of the matter asked for.

Mr. Cockrell of Missouri believed the report of the investigating committee should be communicated to the senate, and at his suggestion the resolution was reconsidered, and the request was made of the president, if not incompatible with the public interests, to communicate the testimony and report of the committee.

Senator Allison of Iowa thought, too, the senate ought to have the testimony and report. The resolution was amended by Mr. Cockrell and passed without dissent.

The senate, after an executive session, adjourned until January 3, 1900.

London's Scramble for Gold.

New York, December 20.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co. will ship $500,000 in gold to Europe to-day.

London, December 20.—On the stock exchange to-day the general tone was decidedly firm.

Paris, December 20.—It is rumored that the Bank of Russia has advanced the Bank of England $200,000.

The Kentucky Contest.

Frankfort, Ky., December 20.—Though notices of contest have been prepared against both Governor Taylor and Lieutenant Governor Marshall, they will probably not be served until Friday. The delay in serving the notices is said to have been planned to prevent the taking of depositions prior to the meeting of the legislature. Taylor's managers say counsel for the Republicans will not confine themselves to rebuttal of the grounds of contest laid down in Goebel's notice, but will attempt to show fraudulent frauds in many large Democratic counties.

Railway Dividends.

New York, December 20.—The New York Central Railway Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent, an increase of a quarter from the last quarter. The directors of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern have declared a regular semi-annual dividend of 3 1/2 per cent.

Trepassing on a Porter's Gane.

Omaha, Neb., December 20.—A Missouri Pacific train was held up last night just out of Kansas City by three robbers, who searched the occupants of the Pullman, securing $150, several gold watches and other pieces of jewelry. They stood the trainmen up by themselves and refused to take anything from them.

Ex-Banker Pardoned.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The president has granted a full pardon to James H. Bacon, convicted in 1896 and sentenced to imprisonment for seven years in the Utah penitentiary for making a false report to the controller of the currency of the condition of the National Bank of Salt Lake, Utah, of which he was president.

The method of making his report, it is asserted by Controller of Currency Dawes and his predecessor, was well understood by the department and until this time had not been the subject of official complaint. Attorney General Griggs, in reviewing the case, says the evidence did not warrant finding him guilty.

Federation of Labor.

Detroit, Mich., December 20.—The American Federation of Labor to-day unanimously re-elected all the old officers and the following fraternal delegates to the British congress: John R. Lennon, Bloomington, Ill., secretary of the journeymen tailors' union; W. I. Pearce, Indianapolis, secretary of the united mine workers.

Louisville, Ky., was selected as the place for the next convention.

Another Convict to Go to Texas.

Juan Bernal, charged with the murder of Ranger Fusselman of Texas, was indicted for the crime this week by a grand jury at El Paso. Bernal is at present at the New Mexico penitentiary in this city, where his sentence has expired and is being held for the Texas authorities. Fusselman was killed ten years ago while pursuing a gang of cattle thieves near El Paso and Geronimo Parra who was recently sentenced in Texas to be hanged for the murder was one of Bernal's pals and was convicted on the same charge. Parra, too, had served a sentence at the New Mexico penitentiary and was indicted while still a convict here. Fusselman was murdered more than ten years ago near El Paso.

THE BRITISH GUNS

It Is Doubtful Whether They Are In the Possession of the Boers.

BRITISH ORDNANCE INFERIOR

The War Department Roasted for Not Having Long Range Artillery and Claiming Made That the Boers Were Better Off In This Respect.

London, December 20.—It still seems doubtful whether the guns that General Buller abandoned at Colenso are in possession of the Boers. According to a dispatch to the Associated Press from Durban, sent off on the evening of the battle and just received here, the guns remained where they were left by the British troops, and were covered by the heavy guns of General Hildyard's brigade, occupying an entrenched position.

The dispatch added that the Boers thus far had not attempted to cross the river and carry away the guns, while advice to the Associated Press from Pretoria, under the same date, say an official Boer dispatch reports two guns, thirteen wagons and a quantity of ammunition captured, besides 200 prisoners.

Further accounts of the Tugela river battle emphasize the ignorance of the British intelligence department in regard to the disposition of the Boer forces. The British were not aware the Boers were entrenched along the series of low-lying hills immediately northward of Colenso bridge until a staggering fire compelled them to retreat when the attack seemed about to succeed.

The Boers were also in greater strength than anticipated. It becomes clearer, also, that the British guns were lost in attempting to get within effective range of the Boer artillery, showing the latter outranged the British ordnance, which, in spite of numerical superiority, was wholly inadequate to reply to the long-range Boer guns.

The British war office comes in for scathing denunciations from the Times to-day for not providing effective artillery. It is pointed out in this connection that the longer range naval guns participating in the same attack escaped.

London, December 20.—There was no news this morning to enlighten the general situation. The war office reported that General French reconnoitered northward of Arundel December 19. After shelling the Jansfontein farm, three miles eastward of the Boer position, the New Zealanders advanced and occupied the farm. The Boer guns then opened, and the Boers advanced to attack until ordered to retire.

The last news from Mafeking, dated December 6, says a desultory bombardment was continuing, and sharpshooters engaged in smart duels morning and evening. The dispatch describes a novel method of sending messages adopted by some Boers. A 5-pounder shell fired into the town did not explode. It was opened and found to contain a letter as follows:

"Dear Powell (Colonel Baden-Powell).—Excuse iron messenger. No other means communicating. Please tell Mrs. mother and family all well. Don't drink all the whisky. Leave some for us when we get in."

The sender's signature was torn off. London, December 20.—A special from Durban, Natal, dated Saturday, December 16, says it is rumored that General Buller called for volunteers to recover the abandoned guns, and a party issued from the camp after midnight and brought in the guns uninjured.

Aberdeen, December 20.—Jas. Bryce, M. P., in a speech here to-day severely attacked Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, and denounced his "methods, manner and whole conduct," and said he hoped it would not be much longer possible for him to "do his best to excite the hostile feelings of Germany and alienate, throw back and do all possible injury to a close understanding between us and the United States."

London, December 20.—Revised lists of British casualties at the battle of Colenso show 137 non-commissioned officers and men killed.

London, December 20.—The Globe says there are rumors that the Duke of Connaught will succeed General Lord Roberts as commander-in-chief of the Irish forces.

To Help Mrs. Lawton.

Washington, December 20.—Adjutant General Corbin and others to-day issued an appeal for contributions for the purpose of paying off the mortgage on the late General Lawton's property in California.

The Cattle Quarantine.

Washington, December 20.—The secretary of agriculture to-day issued an annual order, effective January 1 next, establishing a federal quarantine against splenic or southern fever among cattle. The order prohibits the transportation of cattle except under certain regulations into another territory from a quarantined district, which is substantially the same as last year. The most important change is the withdrawing from the quarantined area of that portion of California north of a line drawn easterly from San Francisco.

The New York Market.

New York, December 20.—The stock market ran along until late in the afternoon to-day almost in a normal condition, then evident pressure to liquidate in Brooklyn Transit gave birth to a fresh brood of rumors of financial embarrassment in influential quarters. Brooklyn Transit unsettled the whole. Extreme declined were Brooklyn Transit, 33 1/2; People's Gas, 5 1/2; Federal Steel, 6; Rock Island and Atchafson preferred, 2 1/2 each.

Navy Helping Army in Luzon.

Washington, December 20.—Admiral Watson to-day cabled the navy department as follows:

"Manila, December 20.—The gunboats Concord and Pampanga, on the 18th inst., with two companies of infantry, captured Romblon. John James, a seaman, was wounded in the knee, the only casualty in the navy. The Newark's battalion landed from Callao and occupied Campana, north of the coast of Luzon. Burwell and Wheeler are co-operating with General Young like one service, landing battalions and doing excellent work daily north and west of Luzon."

Santa Fe Deal for Foreign Traffic.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—The Examiner says the Santa Fe people have a traffic arrangement with the Kosmos Steamship company, a German organization. The steamship company is to deliver to the Santa Fe at San Diego the products of Mexico, Central America and South America destined to places in this country, especially points west of Chicago and St. Louis. In turn the Santa Fe will deliver to it under an agreed through rate American products destined to Pacific ports and the various countries of Mexico, Central America and South America.

The Kosmos company as a competitor of the Pacific Mail. It also means the entrance of the Santa Fe into Mexico, Central America and South American fields of trade as a competitor of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Mail companies.

Training Ships Wanted.

New York, Dec. 20.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says: The navy department proposes to ask congress for $1,000,000 to build two first class training ships of 3,000 tons displacement, they to be sheathed and provided with auxiliary sail power as well as steam propulsion. Such ships are declared to be indispensable to maintaining a force of skilled seamen to work the warships now in fleet.

Body of Lieut. Brumby Viewed.

Atlanta, Ga., December 20.—The body of flag lieutenant T. M. Brumby arrived from Washington this morning and lay in state at the capitol two hours, being viewed by thousands. The funeral will take place from the cathedral this afternoon with military honors.

The Michigan Legislature.

Lansing, Mich., December 20.—Gov. Pingree sent a special message to the house to-day asking the passage of a joint resolution that would authorize Attorney General Oren to institute proceedings toward receiving the money claimed to have been lost by the state through the military board's alleged transaction with the Henderson-Ames company of Kalamazoo. The house unanimously passed the resolution. The house also passed the Pingree joint resolution submitting to the people a constitutional amendment to permit similar taxation of all forms of property. The vote was 88 to 8.

ELEPHANT BUTTE CASE.

How the People of New Mexico May Get Water.

Las Cruces, December 19.—This is in all human probability the last day of the trial of the Elephant Butte dam case, with all its vast import and consequences to the people of this territory, and upon the future of this western country.

Judge Burch, attorney for the government, resumed his argument this morning and continued the same until a late hour in an exceedingly unconvincing strain of speculation and theory rather than with conditions and facts as established beyond controversy by the witnesses who testified in the case.

The arguments of Hon. W. A. Hawkins and Judge A. B. Fall are yet to be made for the defense, and when these gentlemen shall have spoken it is confidently expected that the theories and false premises presented by the government will be exploded and sent sky-high, while the truth and the facts will shine forth through it all as bright as the noon-day sun, and seen, known and felt by everybody. It is true that justice may yet be delayed and slow in coming, but that it will come is as certain as that we live and God reigns.

This great western world was not created, with all its great resources in soil, climate, mineral wealth, health and happiness, to be turned out and over to the Indian, coyote, bat and owl, just because water on the surface is a little bit scarce and will not quite hold out for all purposes it is needed by the people of Texas and our sister republic of Mexico. Your correspondent contends that there is water enough for everybody and everything upon earth, if not right at hand, it is close by, and is obtainable by hard work. It is obtainable everywhere by digging for it, and the sooner the people go to digging deep down the sooner the supply will be obtained.

People are leaving the Mesilla valley because it does not rain enough to keep them from digging for water to make crops. They dig down 10 feet and get enough to drink, but before they will dig down 200 feet and get all they could possibly use for any purpose, they leave the country. This state of things cannot last. We must stand our ground and go to digging. Gold, copper and all the precious metals are obtained by digging for them. Everything valuable in life we have to dig for. Old Mother Nature never fails to do her part, but man never or scarcely ever does his. If he suffers he is at fault.

But, to return to the case in court, whatever the decision there may be, the result that will follow will be the same. The rivers of the United States are becoming less navigable year by year, and the time is coming when nine-tenths of them, like the Savannah river and many others I can name, will have to be abandoned for navigation by steamboats and the people will have to fall back upon the railroads. The days for steamboating on the Rio Grande even near its mouth are well-nigh ended, and the contention over it is time and money worse than wasted, and ought to end at once. E. C. WADE, SR.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 20.

When Speaker Henderson was chosen to preside over the house he addressed the Republicans, called attention to the slender majority, and said each Republican should be as a soldier, ever ready for duty, and all should work together. Upon the vote on the currency bill not one of them voted wrong. A number of Democrats voted for the measure, but all such were from New York. Some others did not vote. The same division in that party will be found on the Philippine policy.

The rival cities which have long laughed at Philadelphia as a slow town are now chagrined. The sleeper waked and arranged a secession of the Republican national convention. At the decisive moment St. Louis evaded several old scores with Chicago by voting for the eastern city, which stood ready to furnish a suitable hall, foot all the bills of the convention to the amount of $100,000 and put up a check to guarantee that she would keep her word. The lively western city which counted on the convention coming her way had not looked for such a trick, and was not ready to let money talk, nor to assure the committee that there would be a hall suitable for the convention. Chicago is mad and St. Louis is glad.

How pleasant it is to see children of one family together dwell in unity. But one must look elsewhere than among the Democrats for such a picture. The party is to-day in an unhappy condition. Colonel Bryan has set the party policy and will have the support of the organization because it is considered not worth while to struggle against him, when victory awaits the Republicans next year, no matter who may be nominated by the Democracy, nor what may be the platform that party may favor. Some of the aspirants for the presidency at a future date, Carter Harrison, for instance, are quite content to let the Nebraska carry the banner next year, believing that his defeat then will permanently remove him from the field and leave room for some one else.

In the language of the street, the senate did not do a thing to Senator Pettigrew when he introduced a resolution calling upon the war department to know whether Admiral Dewey recognized the insurgent government, and whether an insurgent vessel flying an insurgent flag accompanied American vessels upon an expedition. The object of the resolution was to stir up a fuss and try to show that the Filipinos were entitled to recognition. The senate did not wish to hear from the South Dakota oddity, and by a vote of 45 to 20 the resolution on the table, and but for senatorial courtesy might have thrust him under. That was an early and fair test as to whether that body wished to hear anything about the pesky pest of the Philippines.

Many of the eastern papers declare that the recent slump in the selling price of trust stocks on the New York market was the result of President McKinley's recommendation that anti-trust laws should be made that would reach every form of combination injurious to business, and the decision by the supreme court hostile to pooled corporations. The decision of the supreme court as to one style of combination shows that when congress passes a law to fit the new methods of trusts, the court will be apt to sustain such enactment, for the principle is established that the general interests of trade and the public should be protected from practical combinations by individuals and companies to prevent and restrict the natural laws of trade and the right of everybody to engage in business and buy where he pleases.

Carter Harrison's Record.
Carter Harrison, who aspires to the governorship of Illinois as a stepping stone to the presidency, has certainly made himself strong with the Chicago element that believes public office is a private snap. He has turned the city over to an assortment of his followers, who have worked the municipality for all that it is worth, and now it is bankrupt and run as a wide open city by the criminal element, which stands in the henchmen of the ambitious mayor. At the eleventh hour the mayor has called upon the public officials to effect some sort of reform in the management of public affairs, so that he may have a cleaner house when his claims for the gubernatorial office are finally submitted to the people. Mayor Harrison has permitted the city business and treasury to be as badly managed as did Governor Altgeld the affairs of the state, and therefore can be counted upon to make as good a governor as did Altgeld.

Trusts Being Punished.

With the speculative feature of the trusts collapsed, the most of them will have to go out of business. The terror they inspired a few months ago has already been largely dissipated by the failure of many of them to get into action. The trusts in oil and sugar, which the country has with it, since their formation many years ago, are the greatest offenders, and should be squelched. But of the thousand and one organizations which a few months ago were being incorporated in New Jersey, by far the larger portion were merely stock-selling schemes to dispose of property upon which the promoters had bonds. Most of them have cut no ice in the world of production and legitimate trade, and were not expected to, except by the victims who bought stock. These schemes were on a par with those of fake mining companies that sell stock in properties they may own or merely have a chance to buy if enough stock can be sold at fictitious prices to pay for the mines or prospects, and still leave the majority of the stock in the hands of the promoters. The latter figure on ahead of the game, even if the mines never produce.

A Thankless Child.

Editor Hitecock, the Democratic aspirant who was not appointed senator from Nebraska, has published a card thanking his friends for support and saying he deeply feels the sting of ingratitude. The Populist governor appointed ex-Senator Allen, Populist, but did not do this until he received a telegram from Colonel Bryan requesting him to do so. It will be remembered that Editor Hitecock gave Colonel Bryan a place as sub-editor of the World-Herald in order that the politician might keep his stock at par in Nebraska. In fact, for years the paper has seemed to have no other object in life than the election of Colonel Bryan to office. It has helped maintain him, which the Populists secured the senator once, the governor several times, and the Democracy but little as a reward. In the last election the retired senator secured a judgeship, and the Omaha editor expected to have a clear field for the appointment as senator for the interim until the meeting of the legislature, relying upon the indorsement of his old associate. But Colonel Bryan evidently considered that the support of the Populists could be better held by him next year in Nebraska if he indorsed Allen instead of Hitecock, and that the Democrats of the state would have to support him anyway, so friendship and obligations were thrown aside. Colonel Bryan had a chance to send a Democratic senator to Washington, for Governor Poynter, who owed his election to the presidential candidate and the efforts of the paper owned by Hitecock, virtually left the selection to Bryan. But Democrats who are disposed to blame him for not standing by one of the faithful should remember that Bryan was on record other than as a Democrat not long ago, when he voted for Weaver for president against the Democratic nominee, and has a fellow feeling for the Populist successors of the Weaver hybrids.

Strong Committees.

The senate Republican committee on the Philippines are able men, and will work out problems submitted to them for government of islands in an able manner. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts is as strong an expansionist as his colleague is an anti-expansionist, and is younger, and more in touch with the spirit of the age. With him are those sturdy workers, Hale of Maine, Allison of Iowa, Proctor of Vermont and Davis of Minnesota, who represent the various sections of the country from which they were sent, and McBride of Oregon for the Pacific coast. The junior Republican member, Beveridge of Indiana, has more personal knowledge of the Philippine islands and the people thereof, with conditions prevailing there, than any other senator, because the young man had the energy to go to the new possessions of this country and investigate after the war commenced. And he had the good sense when he returned not to air his views.

For Cuba were selected such experienced men as Senator Platt of Connecticut, a wise and conservative legislator; Davis of Minnesota, Cullom of Illinois, Spooner of Wisconsin, McMillan of Michigan and Chandler of New Hampshire. All are conservative men of poise and good judgment. For Porto Rico Senator Foraker, who was an enthusiast in favor of driving Spain from the West Indies, heads the committee. With him are associated Senators Fairbanks of Indiana, Nelson of Minnesota, Dewey of New York, Perkins of California, McComas of Maryland and Gallinger of New Hampshire. On each committee are able lawyers, capable of devising systems under which local governments may operate satisfactorily.

Causes of "Tight Money" in Financial Centers.

The New York panic on the stock market is declared by financiers to be largely due to the recent supreme court decision in the Addyston trust case, followed immediately afterward by the president's message to congress urging the necessary legislation to restrict trusts. These properties have gone out of fashion with investors and speculators. But the main cause of tight money is trade is active everywhere, and prevents money from accumulating in the metropolitan banks. The great banks of Europe, those in London, Paris and Berlin, are all protecting their gold reserves by abnormally high rates of discount, indicating an unusual strain. British reverses in the Transvaal, and the cutting off of that source of gold supply, have materially added to the tension in London; and this country is shipping gold to that point instead of importing, as is usual at this season. This exposure to a foreign demand on the American gold supply comes at a time when her own resources are fully taxed. Activity in the retail trades is absorbing an enormous amount of currency, which, in spite of recent increase, is insufficient for present requirements. Many of the trusts are also larger borrowers than usual; while funds sent out for crop purposes are returning much more slowly than usual. No undue expansion of credits can be observed; and this great demand for money is simply the result of phenomenal trade and industrial activity.

The New York banks are taking care of mercantile customers at the 6 per cent rate, but speculators must pay high for money, especially if industrial stocks are ordered as security. England, instead of getting gold from South Africa, is now shipping gold to that country to maintain the armistice. The object of the Bank of England advancing its rate to 6 per cent, with the possibility of it going still higher, is to draw gold from other sections of the world. France, Germany, Austria, Russia and America all are resistant, as wherever gold is lost in this struggle, contraction followed by liquidation is a natural sequence. There is, therefore, a process of loan contraction going on more or less in all these money centers with the object of being prepared to meet emergencies.

PRESS COMMENT.

RHODES.

(St. Paul Pioneer Press.)
That is a nice little plan of the Boers to exhibit Cecil Rhodes—if they catch him—in an iron cage. But it makes the public realize that the doughty burghers are not quite so highly civilized as has perhaps been supposed by their admirers and sympathizers.

BETWEEN UPPER AND NETHER STONES.

(St. Paul Dispatch.)
What the oil monopoly has done at the one end the coal trust has done at the other; while the oil monopoly arbitrarily puts up the price of the poor man's illuminant, the coal trust, with equal capacity, stands between him and the fire and lets him shiver until he shall have put up an extra dollar for his ton of fuel. The trust is an abomination and an almost unmitigated evil, but it is no worse than the monopoly. Both grow fat off the leanness of the poor man.

EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYEE.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)
Manufacturers know when they are making money and when they are running behind. It is impossible to raise wages when profits are falling. But the thing which employers sometimes fail to take into account is that employees know almost as well as they do when there is an increase in the profits. They may not know the figures on the books, but they can estimate an increase in output or receipts, and they feel the spirit in the air as quickly as a barometer indicates moisture.

A DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

(Philadelphia Times.)
There would be much to be said in favor of this proposed department if assurance could be furnished that a man familiar with the problems of commerce and industry would always be placed at its head. The commerce of the country is making tremendous strides, and it could doubtless be further advanced by a wise administration of our consular system and a proper revision and administration of our navigation laws. With an efficient business man of the first rank to administer such a department, it could be made of great service to our commercial and manufacturing interests.

REQUISITES FOR STATEHOOD.

(New York Commercial Advertiser.)
Governor Otero's plea for statehood for New Mexico will serve once more to emphasize the fact that the older and bigger this republic grows the more exacting will be the terms of admission for new states. It won't do to present statistics of population; the test is also one of intelligence and education. Territories on the rim of more settled states must approximate in political capacity to those states before they can share in the authority of congress. But repeated attempts and repeated failures are a wholesome educating process, and by means of it the territories will know before long just what they have to do to become states.

EXPANSION OF AMERICANISM.

(Kansas City Star.)
With the extension of the United States to what are up to this time called and considered foreign countries, there is to come the expansion of Americanism, which means a great deal more than the raising of the American flag and the appointing of a number of federal officeholders. No territory has ever been absorbed by the United States and remained as it was in the matter of civilization. No country attached to the United States has continued Spanish or French or Mexican or Russian or Indian of any variety. All the annexed districts have become in government, in manners, in language, in ideas, American. They have conformed to the pattern in the American ark. Prior to this change, it is safe to say that it has, in each instance, been declared impossible. The prophecies uttered of the impossibility of the reclamation of the province of Louisiana would make a book much larger than the works of the Prophet Jeremiah, including all his lamentations, and so with the others, down to what was formerly called worthless and frozen Alaska.

TURNING TO PRACTICAL ISSUES.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)
A large majority of the sane silverites now begin to see that their cause is lost, and they will abandon it on that account. It is useless to fight against fate and against the tendencies of civilization. Silver has forever dropped to a subordinate place as compared with gold. The silver which is in circulation as dollar coins and as certificates will continue in circulation, and it will be held up to its face value in gold, even though the market price of the metal goes far below its present level. This amount of token currency can easily be expanded, but the increase is in the gold element chiefly. Silver will be an issue in the coming canvass, for the Republican gold standard bill will prevent Bryan from dodging the question, but after the overthrow which will come to his side in that canvass there will be no further fight on that metal, and the persons who have been championing it will drop it and turn to practical issues. Most of the silver Republicans are making that change of base now. It is safe to predict that half or two-thirds of the men who followed Teller out of the Republican party in 1896 will be back in their old places next year, and that the party's majority will be much greater than it was then.

AMERICANS, NOT HESSIANS.

(St. Louis Star.)
Wisconsin does not give the Hon. Mr. Schurz much encouragement. A canvass of the German Republicans of that state demonstrates that nine out of ten of them favor the President's Philippine policy. The average German does his own thinking.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERSHIP.

(Nashville Banner.)
Long-headed Democrats want their party to be something more than an anti party. They want it to be a party at the forefront in patriotic and progressive policy, ready to heartily promote every plan that gives sure promise of the advancement of the public interests. A mere opposition party, which is always pulling back or obstructing, which shapes its course upon a policy of opposing whatever the other party advocates, that bases its hope of success largely on the prejudice engendered in past political antagonisms, and that seeks by expediency methods to combine all disaffected elements and the cranks and vagabonds in an organization to oppose the party in power, cannot succeed and cannot build for the future.

THE CUBAN MALCONTENT.

(Kansas City Star.)
The massing of Cuban negroes against the United States and violent language on their part will tend to foster a sentiment in favor of annexation. Such an agitation will be taken as an indication that the independent republic of Cuba, if inaugurated, is to be a negro government, if there are blacks enough to make it such. That proposition would be most distasteful to the white Cubans and the Spaniards who will continue to remain in the island. An independent Cuba would, under any circumstances, bear a strong resemblance to Hayti, without putting it under the control of a line of Souloques—even though republican in name. Against such a consummation white Cuba may make a decided objection, and to it annexation to the United States may be preferred, even though it involve the holding of some few of the appointive offices by Americans.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrhs; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Great Salt Lake Disappearing.
The Great Salt Lake is gradually drying up. Geologists claim that it will be entirely gone in another century. There will be nothing but a gleaming bed of salt to mark the site of one of the wonders of the world. This is the way of all life, and yet we may prolong our stay on earth if we will. No mortal is free from the menace of sickness, and yet if the bowels are kept regular and the blood pure by occasional doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, much sickness may be prevented. It cures all such diseases as constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness and inactive liver or weak kidneys. To avoid imitations be sure that a private Revenue Stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

A SURE CURE FOR COUGH.
Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of cough is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land, and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by A. C. Ireland, druggist.

Drew the Line.
No sir, I never ride on a railway train on Sunday, never read a Sunday paper on Sunday, never go out pleasure riding on Sunday and never go to an entertainment of any description on Sunday. I'm opposed to that kind of thing on principle.

Then, of course, you never eat a hot Sunday dinner, because it's cooked on Sunday?
Well, that's different. I'm no crank.—Chicago Tribune.

If you have a cough, try it," it may be accepted as an honest expression, worthy of credence. For sale by A. C. Ireland, druggist.

DISCOVERED BY A WOMAN.
Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its claws upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. At Fischer & Co.'s drug store; regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

SURE SIGN OF PROSPERITY.

Great Rise in Wool Values a Conspicuous Vindication of the Protective Tariff.
Vindication of the doctrine of a protective tariff, wherever it may be found in the growth of American industry, is most conspicuous just now in the status of the wool market. Wool and woolsens of customs duties to such an extent that the trade is in a condition of prosperity unprecedented during twenty years.

Not since 1879, say the brokers and dealers in wool, has there been so phenomenal a rise in prices. The scope of this rise in values may be summarized in the statement made yesterday by a prominent firm of dealers in wool, that in 1895 and 1896 the average price of the raw material paid to the American farmer was from 10 to 11 cents a pound. To-day the price is in the neighborhood of 21 cents a pound.

This phenomenal advance in the market value of the clip has opened the eyes of men in the woolen business with amazement. They understood its meaning, but they did not expect its results so soon.

A member of one of the most prominent firms in the building where the wool exchange made its effort to transfer to New York the activity in that trade from Boston, Philadelphia and Charleston, said yesterday:

"The prices for wool are astounding. I think that the reason for this rise in values of this staple is an indication of the prosperity of the country. It is a result of the operation of the old law of supply and demand. You cannot get away from that element in the market. There were, of course, large importations of wool when the article was duty free. There followed, after the enactment of the Dingley tariff, an enormous output of manufactured goods. The shelves of every department store and every smaller retail shop in the country have been laden with these goods. They have been sold, and most of them have been sold at a fair profit. "What is the result? There is an immediate pressure upon the manufacturer. There is an immediate demand for the raw material. Prices of wool rise, as a matter of course, it is a natural response to a law of trade. But every one in the business recognizes that this rise in price is as solid as it is phenomenal."

William L. Strong, former mayor, corroborated this view. He said the demand for wool was one of the most wholesome evidences of prosperity in any country. He declined to express any opinion in detail as to the wool market, but he said:

"The time has come when, in the most general sense, the prosperity predicted before the enactment of the present tariff law has arrived in fact. The prosperity began to come three years ago, but it is really here now. That is why the retail clothing stores are depleted of their stocks; that is why the manufacturers are looking for more raw material."

"It is not necessary to go beyond the relation of supply and demand for an explanation of present conditions."

One of the brokers in the Wool Exchange building said:

"I look beyond the tariff. That has had its effect, which is perhaps emphasized just now. But the truth is that the duties upon many other kinds of raw materials have had their influence upon the price of wool. There are to be taken into account all the incidental results of prosperity. There are to be counted the greater ability of the average citizen to buy; there are to be considered the larger demand for labor and its consequent earnings; there must be added to these the wider appreciation of our people, especially in the north and west, of the value of manufactured goods as a material for clothing."

"Then, is another result of this condition that less shoddy is used in the process of manufacture. More and more wool enters into the finished product. This is one of the results of a protective duty on wool that cannot be ignored."

A statement that will be welcome to the general public is that this soar in the price of wool will not affect the price of clothing. At least, such was the statement repeatedly made about the wool exchange building yesterday. Several brokers said that a rise in the price of raw wool as great as 40 per cent would not increase appreciably the price of such a suit of clothes as is worn by the average business man, although it might be made the excuse for an increase in prices in some fashionable tailors' shops. It is the labor more than the material that determines the cost of an ordinary suit of clothes.

The effect of the higher prices of wool upon the annual American clip is expected to be tremendous. The Australian clip has been diminished by drought and disease. This has had its effect upon the world's market, but it is only a single factor in the case. The chief element is the increase in consumption.

The total annual consumption of wool in the United States alone was a year ago more than 821,000,000 pounds. This was divided between the domestic clip, the imports of foreign wool and the wool contained in imported woolen goods.

The value of this yearly consumption in the United States was estimated in 1898 as $162,000,000.

The people of the United States today are consuming more woolen goods than any other civilized nation on the globe. Fifty years ago this country, with a population of 17,000,000, was using annually 45,615,326 pounds of wool of all classes.

To-day its population of more than 72,000,000 is using 601,808,202 pounds of foreign and domestic wool, not including wool contained in imported goods. In other words, the increase in population from 1840 to 1897 was outstripped far by the corresponding consumption of wool, which increased 1,218.02 per cent.

KIDNEY CREAM BALM is a positive cure. Apply it to the nostrils. It is quickly absorbed. It kills the bacteria. It is sold by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 50 Warren St., New York City.

THE LIGHT THAT SAVES.
One dark night during the siege of Santiago Harbor a Spanish Torpedo boat darted out under cover of darkness to launch its deadly missile against an American war vessel. If she had been struck she would have gone to the bottom. What saved her? Was it her big 13-inch guns? No, it was her searchlight: the dazzling white beam of light that shot straight out like a sword-thrust through the darkness, revealed the approaching danger.

What is it that saves thousands of men from death every day in the year when the deadly foe of disease is creeping unsuspected upon them? It is the white light of science; the educated understanding that reveals the source of danger and indicates the exact point of attack.

While the ordinary doctor gropes around with the feeble tallow-candle light of stereotyped, conventional routine treatment, a physician like Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., instantly illuminates the subject with the clear-day-light ray of practical knowledge; the irresistible search-light of advanced and life-sustaining science.

"I was afflicted for four years," says John F. Zingheim, 355, of No. 2 Lark St., Amsterdam, N. Y., in an earnest letter to Dr. Pierce. "My suffering was extreme and I could do no work at all, and after much hesitation, I wrote you, I am very happy to state that your advice has done me great good. You advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and also his Pleasant Pellets, and here I state that they have cured me. I wish to thank you most heartily for what you did for me. All suffering has vanished and I have gained about twenty-five pounds in weight. I used only one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of the 'Pellets.'"

Do not hesitate to write to Dr. Pierce. He will send confidential advice absolutely free. Send six one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, for paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Complete Scientific Medical Adviser. Cloth-binding ten stamps extra. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In the face of all these figures it is a fact, surprising in itself, that wool is being exported. There is an unprecedented scarcity of wool in London, and the foreign manufacturer now actually is buying raw material in the United States, great as is the demand for it here. But there have been shipments to this country of Australian wool, on which a duty has been paid.

Statistics computed only a short time ago seemed to show that two years' supply of wool was available. But there is every evidence of scarcity. The market is excited, prices are going upward, and the tension is such between speculators, growers and manufacturers that the wool market, usually tame, has acquired something of the feverish excitement of the stock exchange.

There have been sales of more than 47,000,000 pounds of wool since January 1, and this is regarded as a year likely to break all records. Quotations fluctuate every day, but their tendency is higher, especially in fine wools. Best Australians are in the neighborhood of the dollar mark, and California has been quoted at between 57 and 58 cents.

Auction sales of wool will open today, and there are predictions of yet higher prices.—New York Press, November 21, 1899.

My son has been troubled for years with chronic diarrhoea. Some time ago I persuaded him to take some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using two bottles of the 25-cent size he was cured. I give this testimonial, hoping some one similarly afflicted may read it and be benefited.—Thomas C. Bower, Gloucester, O. For sale by A. C. Ireland, druggist.

ing all" that they lose strength of nerves, appetite, digestion, health. For-stored by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has put many a business man on the road to success by giving him good digestion, strong nerves and a clear brain. It does the same thing for weak and tired women.

on the store in direct violation of the statutes of the territory. The company

GENERAL LAWTON'S DEATH.

Shot While Exposing Himself Recklessly to Bullets.

A dispatch published yesterday stated that General Henry W. Lawton was killed on an expedition to San Mateo.
A later press report gives the story of the casualty as follows: General Lawton started Monday night in a storm to capture the Marquina valley, where General Geronimo had a force. San Mateo was attacked at 5 o'clock, and a three hours' fight ensued. General Lawton was walking along the firing line within 300 yards of a small sharpshooters' trench, conspicuous in the big white helmet he always wore, and the light yellow rain coat. He was also easily distinguishable because of his commanding stature.

The sharpshooters directed several close shots, which clipped the grass near by. His staff officer called General Lawton's attention to the danger he was in, but he only laughed, with his usual contempt for bullets.

Suddenly he exclaimed "I am shot!"
clenched his hands in a desperate effort to stand erect, and fell into the arms of his staff officer.

San Mateo lies between a high mountain behind and a broad, shallow stream in front, with wide sandbars, which the insurgents' trenches and buildings command. The Americans were compelled to ford the river under fire. It was while lying in the rice fields and vollying across preparatory to passing the stream that General Lawton was shot. All except the officers were behind cover. A staff officer was wounded about the same time, and one other officer and seven men were wounded.

After three hours' shooting the Filipinos were dispersed into the mountains.

The troops filed bareheaded through the building to which General Lawton's body was taken, and many a tear fell from the eyes of the men who had long followed the intrepid Lawton. The entire command was stricken with grief, as though each man had suffered a personal loss.

Mrs. Lawton, wife of the late General Henry W. Lawton, is at present at Manila, and not at Oakland, Cal., as stated yesterday.

LAND GRANT DECISIONS.

Supreme Court Passes Over One in Valencia County and One in Taos.

Assistant United States Attorney W.
H. Pope to-day received word from Washington that the supreme court has affirmed the action of the court of private land claims with reference to the Antonio Chavez and Joaquin Sedillo land grants, both located on the west side of the Rio Grande river, between the pueblo of Isleta and Los Lunas. The two grants contain about 26,000 acres, and were claimed by Colonel J. Francisco Chavez and the Indians of Isleta.
The supreme court held in its decision that the titles which had been recognized for 150 years by both Spain and Mexico before New Mexico became part of the territory of the United States should not be disturbed. The area claimed was 230,000 acres, but the land court had reduced it to 20,000 acres. F.
W. Clancy, of Albuquerque, appeared for the claimants. The supreme court at the same time reversed the opinion of the court of private land claims in the Petaca grant case. The Petaca grant is one of 139,000 acres of timber land in Taos county, claimed by L. Z.
Farwell and M. Z. Farwell, lumbermen of Tres Piedras. The court of private land claims confirmed the grant as a whole, but the supreme court reversed
the decision in so far that it only confirms the small allotments of agricultural lands along the Petaca river, which amount to only a few hundred acres. Solicitor General E. L. Bartlett and Hon. T. B. Catron appeared for the claimants of this grant.
