THE KENTUCKY DEAL

Prominent Republicans and Democrats Agree Upon a Compromise Concerning the Legislature.

ELECTION LAW PROMISED

Governor Taylor Says His Personal Ambition Shall Not Interfere, As It Is Such a Law That He Desires Most Earnestly.

Louisville, Ky., February 6.—The peace conference at the Galt house last night between seven representatives of the Republican party and seven representatives of the Democratic party resulted in signing an agreement embodying six specific propositions which promise a settlement of the party difference which brought about the two state governments in Kentucky. The agreement in substance is as follows:

1. If the general assembly in joint session shall adopt a resolution ratifying the recent action adopting the contest reports and seating Goebel and Beckham, contestees, W. S. Taylor and John Marshall will submit without further protest.
2. All parties shall unite in an effort to bring about such a modification of the election law as will provide for non-partisan election boards and insure free and fair elections.
3. The conditions shall remain in statu quo until Monday, the general assembly adjourning from day to day until that time.
4. Nothing shall be done to hinder or prevent a joint session of the general assembly from taking action on the ratification of the resolution.
5. The state contest board shall meet and adjourn from day to day until Tuesday without taking any action on the contests for the minor state offices.
6. The state troops shall be removed from the state capitol at once, though with all necessary precaution for the public safety, this matter to be under the direction of Gen. Dan Lindsay, of Frankfort.
7. The Republican officials and officers of the state guard shall have immunity from charges of treason, usurpation, court-martial, or any other such offenses.

The agreement was signed by the following: Republicans—John Marshall, Judge John W. Barr, Dan Lindsay, T. L. Edelen, T. H. Banter, David W. Fairleigh, C. T. Ballard; Democrats—J. C. S. Blackburn, J. C. W. Beckham, Sam J. Shackelford, Robert J. Breckenridge, Urey Woodson, James B. McCreary, Phil Thompson.

It was stated by the Republicans present that Governor Taylor would agree to anything all of them signed. It was stated in the conference that the London session of the general assembly will be called off at once. Until Monday Governor Taylor will remain in possession of the executive buildings. The Republicans will recognize him and the Democrats will recognize Beckham as governor.

Frankfort, February 6.—Governor Taylor had just received a telegram giving the results of the Louisville conference when seen this morning by a correspondent of the Associated Press. He declined to discuss the matter. He said, however, that the passage of an honest election law for Kentucky was all he asked, and that no personal ambition of his should stand in the way of getting it.

London, Ky., February 6.—Only thirty-four representatives and ten senators are in London, and all are Republicans but Senator Hays. The town is quiet.

Frankfort, February 6.—Governor Taylor has refused, for the time being at least, to sign the agreement reached last night at Louisville. His advisers expressed the belief that everything will be settled peaceably.

Frankfort, February 6.—Judge Yost and Mr. Sweeney, Republican attorneys, arrived from Louisville at 10:30 o'clock. Gen. Dan Lindsay, of Louisville, was with them. They went to Governor Taylor's office, and the door was locked upon all outsiders. At 11:30 o'clock Governor Taylor said he would make no public statement regarding his attitude toward the resolution of the Louisville conference before to-morrow.

Covington, Ky., February 6.—The Goebel funeral train arrived here this morning. A long procession followed the casket from the depot to Odd Fellows' hall, where the body will lie in state until 10 p. m. It will then be returned to Frankfort by a special train to-morrow. At the capital it will lie in state until the funeral Thursday.

London, Ky., February 6.—Representative Bethune, of Rock Castle county, was elected speaker pro tempore of the house.

Judge Taft On Philippine Commission.
Washington, February 6.—The president has appointed Circuit Judge Taft, of Cincinnati, chairman of the Philippine commission.

Not Against International Bimetallism.
Washington, February 6.—The senate finance committee to-day reported a new section of the financial bill as follows: "That the provisions of this act are not intended to place any obstacle in the way of the accomplishment of international bimetallism, provided the same be received by the concurrent action of the world and at a ratio which shall insure permanency of the relative value between gold and silver."

Senator Elected in California.
Sacramento, Cal., February 6.—The legislature to-day balloted for United States senator. The senate vote was: Thomas R. Bard, Republican, 26; James D. Phelan, Democrat, 10. The assembly vote was: Bard, 53; Phelan, 20; White, 1. Bard was declared elected by both houses.

Redmond the Irish Leader.
London, February 6.—John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, was unanimously elected chairman of the United Irish Nationalist party.

Bryan's Movements.
Hartford, Conn., February 6.—William J. Bryan reached here to-day. After addressing a mass meeting this afternoon he went to Bridgeport, where he will speak this evening.

Want Polygamy Suppressed.
Washington, Feb. 6.—The rooms of the house committee on judiciary were crowded today with representatives of religious, missionary and social reform bodies to urge the need of a constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy. Many of those engaged in missionary work in the west stated the Mormon church is systematically propagating the doctrine of polygamy despite all denials.

OPPOSITION TO A TREATY.

The Agreement With England Concerning Nicaragua Canal.

New York, February 6.—A special to the Journal-Advertiser from Washington says: "At a hurriedly called meeting of various senators to-night (Monday) it was determined to oppose the ratification of the substitute for the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as it applies to the Nicaragua canal, which was signed Saturday. The leaders of the opposition are Senators Platt and Hawley of Connecticut, Mason of Illinois and several others. The treaty is regarded in effect by some of the most conservative senators on both sides as an offensive and defensive alliance with Great Britain, and closely associates the two countries in control of a purely American project; under its provisions the United States abandons the right to defend its own property in return for a promise of assistance from Great Britain whenever assistance for maintenance of the canal's neutrality shall be required."

Has Rockefeller Repented?
Chicago, February 6.—A special to the Chicago Record from Cleveland, O., says: John D. Rockefeller resigned as president of the Standard Oil Company last December, but the fact was kept secret until now. Vice President McGregor, of New York, has been elected president, and Secretary Squire, of this city, vice president.

New York, February 6.—The Evening Post says: The report from Cleveland to the effect that John D. Rockefeller has resigned the presidency of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, one of the subsidiary companies of the trust, gave rise to an impression that he retired from the position in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, now the main corporation. This is incorrect.

AMERICANS KILLED.

Insurgents Have Picked Off Several More Officers.

Manila, February 6.—The insurgents attacked the first battalion of the 45th infantry near Nao. A major and captain were wounded and one sergeant killed, but the details of the engagement are lacking.

Ships arriving from Legaspi report that General Pana concentrated a large force around the town, and made a sharp night attack on Major Shipton's battalion of the 47th infantry, which occupied a large convent as a fort. On a battery and a battery of machine guns were used against the insurgents. The casualties are unknown.

A corporal and four men, while patrolling the railroad near Metacalac recently disappeared, and are supposed to have been captured. A searching party looking for them was ambushed and a corporal killed.

Train Robber Identified.
Chicago, Feb. 6.—Patrick Crowe, arrested yesterday on suspicion of having been connected with the sensational robbery of the northwestern fast mail train tower "W" 46 miles west of here on October 13, was today identified as one of the quartet which secured the booty from the train, variously estimated at $25,000 to $100,000. The identification was made by trainmen.

CONGRESSIONAL.

THE HOUSE.
Washington, February 6.—The speaker laid before the house to-day the final conference report upon the urgency deficiency bill, and it was agreed to. The debate upon the diplomatic consular appropriation bill was resumed under an agreement to close the general debate at 5 o'clock to-day.

Mr. Gibson of Tennessee made a general argument in favor of expansion. The debate on the diplomatic bill continued. Mr. Gibson speaking in favor of the retention of the Philippines and Mr. Williams of Mississippi making an argument against it.

THE SENATE.
Mr. Pettus of Alabama offered an amendment to the financial bill, providing that the bill shall not be construed to affect the legal tender quality of silver dollars coined by the United States. Mr. Chandler proposed an amendment providing that a gold dollar of 25.8 grains and a silver dollar of 412 grains shall be the unit of value, and all forms of money issued or coined by the United States shall be maintained at that parity of value, and United States notes and treasury notes, when presented for redemption, shall be redeemed in gold or silver coin of such standard.

Mr. Jones of Arkansas gave notice of an amendment providing for a "urgency fund" of $50,000,000 in treasury notes. Mr. Caffery resumed his speech on the Philippine question.

Mr. Caffery characterized Senator Hoar as a worthy successor of Webster and Sumner. He said we must restore peace in the Philippines, see some government established there, then let them go their way and not involve our citizenship with the poison of theirs.

Mr. Butler of North Carolina spoke on the proposed suffrage amendment to the North Carolina constitution.

SAN PEDRO COPPER

The Santa Fe Gold and Copper Company Has Immense Bodies of Ore.

AGAIN ACTIVELY WORKED

The New Smelter Will Work Ore of the Lowest Grade and Modern Plant Is Being Erected for Extensive Operations.

Special Cor. New Mexican.
San Pedro, N. M., February 6.—The newspaper truth-seeker who comes here in search of facts finds this a country of magnificent distances, but surprisingly rich on every hand in mineral wealth.

First and foremost is the "Big Copper" group of mines, covering an area of 500 acres, owned by the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Company, a Boston corporation, and capitalized at $2,500,000. The main openings face the south side of the mountain, 900 feet higher than the town of San Pedro, and 9,000 feet distant therefrom. In the palmy days of 1882 1,000 men were employed in and about this property and the smelter, and $50,000 was distributed monthly among the denizens of this section of Santa Fe county. It is unnecessary to recount here the unfortunate litigation which put a stop to this industry and paralyzed the camp for so many years; but suffice it to say that all this has happily ended, and now there are visible signs of a new era that inspires everybody with fresh courage and spirit.

A New Mexican missionary donned overalls and jacket, and candle in hand, followed Supt. J. T. McLaughlin down the ladders in the 250-foot new shaft yesterday. This is a double compartment shaft, 45 feet in the clear, located about 1,400 feet east of the entrance to the old workings. The mine is worked on three levels, and 3,000 feet of new work has been done during the past year. One can stand erect and walk anywhere in the mine for

A DISTANCE OF FIVE MILES, proceeding between walls neatly arched overhead that are literally bespanned with garnet, peacock and azurite gold and copper ores, that weave themselves into beautiful pictures when played upon by the flickering candle light. These workings are 1,500 feet beneath the apex of the mountain. The walls are solid; there is no need of timbering; the mine is absolutely dry; the air is as pure as that on the surface. System and economy have governed everywhere, and Mr. McLaughlin has shown his master hand as a mine manager. For instance, at convenient points on the two upper levels ore chutes have been provided through which the ore as it is displaced is dropped down to the lower 250-foot level into the tram cars and run down grade to the buckets, whence it goes straight up to the surface. There is no lift or long shovel work; gravity is everywhere brought into play and everything goes down to reach the buckets.

CHARACTER OF THE ORE.
The ore is a sulphide, lying in three distinct blanket veins from 4 to 26 feet in thickness, the hanging wall being garnet, the foot wall black limestone, and so well defined that a child could readily point out the pay stuff. It yields from 2 1/2 to 30 per cent copper; 35 in gold and 3 ounces in silver per ton. Some very rich bodies of higher grade ore, 7 to 15 feet in thickness, have been encountered within the past thirty days. Forty men are employed on the day and night shifts at present; one diamond drill and one Burleigh drill are at work. As soon as the new boiler and air compressors now being placed can be started four more Burleigh drills will be operated. There are now knocked down and ready for the smelter over 50,000 tons of ore; 45,000 tons of low-grade ore is on the dump, and carries 5 per cent copper, 33 to 34 in gold and silver.

At the mouth of the new shaft a modern cage is being placed, and a force of carpenters is now finishing the new tram house, a building 30x75 feet, containing a new seventy-five horse-power engine, hoist, etc. The new galleys is of timber 1 foot square, and stands 45 feet in height. Immediately adjoining, but 200 feet below, is the site of the new 250-ton smelter, the machinery for which has been ordered. The old smelter could treat no ore yielding less than 10 per cent copper, but

THE NEW MODERN PLANT will handle profitably ore running but 2 1/2 per cent copper. With such a mine and such a plant no layman can undertake to guess how many millions dollars there is in this great copper mountain. About eighty men are on the company pay roll at present; they are paid on the 15th of each month. This number will be steadily increased as the new machinery is placed. At the new pump station below the town of San Pedro a building 30x75 feet, a forty horse-power boiler is in operation, and an eighty horse-power boiler has been placed in position after being thirty days on the road between here and Thornton station. It weighs 15,000 pounds. Compressed air and water now come from this station, but shortly a new air compressor plant will be put in at the mouth of the mine, and the power here will be used exclusively for pumping water through a 4-inch main up to the mine for use at the new smelter, etc.

Superintendent McLaughlin has grouped about him a very pleasant set of company employees, from shift bosses Wilmoth and Wickware up. C. J. Stone, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the civil engineer and assayer; H. M. Reddig, of New York City, bookkeeper; W. G. Shadrach, late of Virginia, company physician.

Brigham H. Roberts Arrested.
Salt Lake, Utah, February 6.—Brigham H. Roberts, who was arrested on his return from Washington Saturday on a charge of maintaining unlawful relations with Mrs. Maggie C. Shipp, has through his attorney entered a plea of not guilty.

Lawton's Body.
Indianapolis, Ind., February 6.—The body of General Lawton lay in state at the state capitol this afternoon. Thousands of people came from over the state, and business was suspended a portion of the day. To-morrow the funeral party will leave for Washington.

The Molinex Murder Case.
New York, February 6.—"We rest upon the case made by the prosecution," was the surprising announcement made at the beginning of to-day's proceedings by the chief counsel for the defendant in the case of Roland B. Molinex, charged with having caused the murder of Mrs. Katharine J. Adams by poisoning bromo-seltzer, which he is alleged to have sent through the mail to Harry S. Cornish.

The arguments were begun to-day.

THE BOER BUDGET.

Great Britain Believes That No News Is Good News.

London, February 6.—From Cape Town under to-day's date comes a statement that up to this morning nothing has been heard there regarding General Buller recrossing the Tugela river, while Field Marshal Lord Roberts, in a dispatch dated February 5, reports no change in the situation. In view of the latter's dispatches it seems hard to credit the circumstantial reports of an engagement by Buller's troops. The silence from the front and at home may be significant, and probably represents a period of preparation which precedes an important movement. While news of sharp fighting in the neighborhood of Colesburg can be fairly expected within a few days, it is not likely; it will assume greater proportions than reconnaissance and skirmishes for the purpose of holding an advanced position in the forthcoming main advance by way of Bloemfontein.

General French is strategically prohibited from running any serious risk. From Kimberly and Mafeking there is nothing new, so it can be presumed the intermittent bombardment of those places continues.

Cape Town, February 6.—The Argus announces that ninety guns have been dispatched from Pretoria to the front, and the Pretoria forts practically denuded of artillery.

Pretoria, February 6.—Adelbert S. Hay, the new United States consul, was received by the Transvaal government to-day, presented his credentials, and created an excellent impression. Modderspruit, February 6.—Messages from Ladysmith, dated yesterday, say continuous cannonading has been proceeding since 5 o'clock this morning, with the occasional roar of a "long tom." The firing continues.

THE CLARK BRIBERY.

Clark's Supporters Deny Getting Paid and Denounce Daily.

Washington, February 6.—In the Clark bribery investigation to-day State Senator Phillips, a Republican, who voted for Clark, testified that he told Clark if the Republicans voted for a Democrat for the senate the Democrat must be a protectionist. Clark then announced himself in favor of a tariff on lead, wool and other raw material, and as an expansionist, and wrote a letter defining his position. Phillips denied that he told Senator McKay that he could get $15,000 for a vote for Clark, or that Representative Ingersoll was to get $10,000 for his vote.

State Senator Cullen (Dem.), who had voted for Clark, contradicted flatly the testimony of Whitelaw to the effect that he was to have received $15,000 for a vote for Clark, saying he had not been offered nor received any consideration. He declared that Mr. Daly had said: "I will tell you, every man who votes for Clark will be published as boodler and bribe-taker. If you fellows elect Clark I'll see that he never takes his seat in the senate."

SAN JUAN COUNTY

The County Is Rapidly Increasing In Population Of A Very Desirable Class.

HOW AZTEC HAS GROWN

The County Is Destined to Join the Republican Column In This Territory, As It Grows In Prosperous Times.

Judge Granville Pendleton, who came down from Aztec last Friday to attend the meeting of the Republican central committee, returned home this morning. Judge Pendleton is doing more, perhaps, than any other individual in San Juan county to push that section of the territory to the front. He keeps two clerks busy sending out circulars compiled by him, advertising the San Juan county, and answering letters of inquiry about it, of which he receives on an average fifteen every day. As a result of such work, fifty families settled in and about Aztec last year, and all bought property. This year at least seventy-five to 100 families are expected from Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and other states. Judge Pendleton says that Aztec has doubled in population, and its buildings within the last twelve months. At present seven new residences and business buildings are under construction at Aztec alone, while Farmington and other sections of the county make equally as good a showing. What pleases Judge Pendleton most is that nearly all the newcomers are Republicans, and he feels confident that San Juan county will soon be in the Republican column with others of the new counties which are now growing under Republican prosperity.

Especially along the San Juan river, heretofore sparsely occupied, new settlers are taking up farms. Three ditch enterprises have been undertaken by men with capital to develop the splendid farm land along the river. San Juan county never suffers for lack of water, and the present dry winter therefore does not mean a crop failure. The prospects for a fine fruit crop are particularly good. All the newcomers are delighted with the weather, and are encouraging their friends in the east to come to the land where there is perpetual sunshine.

Capitalists this week commenced drilling for gas and oil at Farmington, and if they are successful similar work will be done at Aztec. All that San Juan needs now, says Judge Pendleton, is a railroad and statehood for New Mexico. With advertising and enterprise, everything else will be accomplished to keep on doubling the population of the county every few years.

Those who have poor looking letter heads should see the engraved and embossed stationery supplied from the New Mexican office. A thousand sheets cost but little more than inferior articles.

MAX. FROST, Secretary.
Santa Fe, February 5, 1900.

The press of Russia is now urging the czar to seize Mediterranean ports to which England has always barred the way. Doubtless the czar is willing to play the game if he holds a strong enough hand. It was this danger which England feared when she hesitated about going into war with the Transvaal. If Russia begins the move Great Britain will have to abandon the South African scheme or let Russia take what she wants.

At Carlsbad, Tularosa, Socorro, Las Cruces and in Sierra county the newspapers are agitating for efforts to be made to secure artesian water. Certainly nothing is of more immediate benefit to a town or community in the arid region than a supply of good subterranean water for irrigation or domestic use. Money expended in an effort to secure it is well disbursed, even if no water be found.

Henry Flagler, the Standard Oil Company magnate, has announced his decision to erect in the west sumptuous hotels such as he built along the coast of Florida. Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Roswell and other New Mexico towns would not object to having one of those palatial hotels, and it would be merely a slight return for the money of which New Mexico people are robbed by the Standard Oil Company.

Helping Many Counties.

When Hon. H. O. Bursum introduced a bill in the thirty-third legislative assembly giving citizens the right to refund their bonded debts, he probably had especially in mind his home county of Socorro. But the law is a good one, and many counties may receive substantial benefit if they act under its provisions. The Socorro Chief claims that the commissioners of that county, who are advertising for buyers for $180,000 worth of 4 per cent refunding bonds, have received an offer to take the whole issue at par. There will probably be better offers, but even on this basis the annual interest will be cut down $3,200. That is a substantial saving which resulted from sending a good man to the legislature to look out for the interests of the public. For many a year the work of the last legislative assembly will be gratefully remembered by the taxpayers.

In the last three years an increase of $100,000,000 in the gross earnings of railroads in this country has been recorded. The gross profits in 1899 alone were $130,000,000 more than in 1898, and the total traffic returns of all the railroads in the United States reached the enormous sum of more than $1,200,000,000 in a single year. A large percentage of this gain has been expended in improving the properties, and the larger part of all earnings went directly to the wage earners of the country. Such strides in the industry give an idea of the activity that prevailed in commerce and manufacture.

Santa Fe is called the Ancient because it is the oldest city in the United States from the standpoint of modern history. This name has a double significance, now that it is known that round about Santa Fe are the ruins of a multitudinous but extinct people, a people against whose age that of Egypt, of China, of Rome, seems but yesterday. The government should set these cliff dwellings apart as a national park and preserve them for future generations. There is no hope of ever finding a Rosetta stone to decipher the inscriptions which abound in the caves of the cliff dwellers, but, nevertheless, the ruins will ever be of intense interest to scientists and tourists.

One person in New Mexico who had been compelled by friendly newspapers with mention as an available man for United States senator has declined the honor with thanks, and an admission that he would not give up his law practice for the office, and could not secure it did he wish to do so. There are doubtless other citizens of New Mexico who have no desire to be elected senator, but there are not a few who would like to have the honor. Their ambition is laudable, and when the time comes it will be no trouble to find candidates worthy of the place.

The census completed in Cuba and Porto Rico shows that the yellow journals, as usual, prevaricated when, before the war with Spain, they stated that one out of every two Cubans had been starved to death by Weyler. The decrease in the population of Cuba can be more than accounted for by the withdrawal of 200,000 Spanish troops and 100,000 Spanish residents who returned to Spain after the war began. As the population decreased only 50,000 since the last census, the island really shows an increase of 250,000 in population, which is a greater per cent of growth than the Philippines will probably show after the war there is ended.

Evil doesers from other states no longer find New Mexico a haven of refuge. The governor of the territory, perhaps, signs more requisition papers than any other governor in the Union. The vigilance of the officers has made a law-abiding commonwealth despite the fact that a thinly settled, rough frontier country is generally a law-breaker's paradise. New Mexico, too, is much more successful in capturing its criminals who escape into other states than is Colorado, for instance. Self-government would be more of a success in New Mexico than it is in Kentucky, or even in Colorado.

Unless there is a decided increase in precipitation in northern New Mexico during the next few months water may be worth its weight in gold in the summer. With this knowledge it seems an awful waste of nature's bounty to see the water trickle away in numberless streams without doing any good, while if it were stored it would result in green fields and abundant crops. The prehistoric cliff dwellers were more economic with nature's bounties than is man today, who would rather sink $1,000,000 digging for gold where there is none than build a reservoir which in a year like this is sure to be worth a goodly pile of the glittering metal.

All the men whom witnesses said were bribed to vote for Senator Clark, and all those who acted as brokers for the sale of votes will doubtless go on the stand to deny the allegations. The Montana millionaire may retain his seat if the committee and the senate consider that a case is not made out against him. There were plenty of corrupt men arrayed upon both sides of the Montana contest, and the public will feel convinced that the coin of the senator flowed freely to secure the election. Never before did a senatorial contest reach the point where corruption of members of the legislature to such an extent was so evident.

The legislature of Mississippi has enacted a law to allow relatives of any person lynched to recover $3,000 damages from a county where the deed is committed, and declaring that a sheriff who permits lynching cannot remain in office. It is now up to the sheriffs, and the chances are that such officials will find ways and means in most cases to keep mobs from getting hold of prisoners. And the penalty will have a tendency to make taxpayers prevent irresponsible persons from causing the county to be mulcted. The law may possibly not be sustained by the courts, but its passage is evidence of good intentions upon the part of the legislature and an awakened public sentiment against riotous executions.

Porto Rico Trade.

President McKinley thinks that there should be no import duty upon any of the products of Porto Rico. If it is to be truly American territory, then the men who farm there should be allowed to ship their crops and the goods made therefrom into this country without having to pay duty. Porto Rico is nearer to New York by travel than New Mexico was in the days when the territory was created, and yet no one thought then of objecting to the products of New Mexico entering the states without paying duty. Of course, had selfish producers foreseen the many varieties of products which are now sent westward from New Mexico, and the articles which are to be made here in the future, there might have been schemes to impose a tariff for the purpose of holding New Mexico back, just as there now are in regard to Porto Rico. The American people can stand the free introduction of the products of the little island of Porto, which has a population of but 800,000. The sugar, oranges and other products can be consumed without making any industry in the United States unprofitable.

General Robbe having seized the ports from which hemp is shipped, and captured large supplies of the fiber from which rope is made, there should be a stop of cord manufactured for the purpose of letting the mouset of the Philippine stretch it when they are rounded up. And it might be that a few yards of it could be used to advantage in this country in settling scores with the men who have cheered the Filipinos on to murder American soldiers.

Expansion Helps the South.

Senator McLaurin of South Carolina is another southern man who sees the great possibilities of commerce with Asia through annexation of the Philippine islands and the opening of trade with China. He declared in a recent speech that any representative of the south in congress who opposes expansion across the Pacific is blinded to the true interests of his section, and wedded to a mere political sentiment. Cotton from the southern states will in a few years furnish the supply for the mills of China and all the Orient if territorial and commercial expansion be not checked. Then the southern states can depend upon an enlarged market and fair prices. The south will go forward more rapidly than ever in her history when the Asiatic market is opened.

Epidemics Can Be Prevented.

The plague appears to be a serious menace to Honolulu, but science and sanitation will conquer in the end, and the city be put into a condition where no epidemic can prevail. While disease cannot be wholly prevented, devastating epidemics may be. No well-regulated American city is ever greatly depopulated from such a cause. The yellow fever has been the foe that has decimated southern cities, but Memphis finally made herself safe by sanitary measures and a sewer system; New Orleans, by a plan to secure good water, furnish it free in unlimited quantities, compel all houses to have service from the city pipes and connection with sewers, is showing an intention to prevent any epidemic hereafter. Those who would preserve the public health can do so by being always on guard and intrenched with the sanitary improvements within the reach of most municipalities.

No Cause for Ill Health.

In the pure mountain air of New Mexico, with its dry, aseptic qualities, no malarial fever nor epidemics common to moist countries can ever prevail. Typhoid fever, from the use of polluted water, may prevail anywhere, or smallpox rage where people huddle together, in houses and breathe impure air, or where filth accumulates. But in New Mexico people who live in a cleanly manner, use plenty of good water internally and externally, and follow natural laws, have little to fear from diseases other than those inherited. Even these are to be modified in severity by local influences in most cases. Here the people escape the miasma of wooded and swampy lands, stagnant water and decaying vegetation, caused from excessive rains and soggy earth.

THE TERRITORIAL PRESS.

THANKS FOR JUDGE PARKER.

(Silver City Enterprise.)
Judge Parker has transferred $5,000 from the court fund, where it was not needed, to current expense, and the officers and employees of Grant county extended to him their heartfelt thanks, and they will ever remember this just and generous act on his part.

PAYING UP OLD TAXES.

(Taos Cresset.)
Since the delinquent taxpayers have found that there is no doubt about the cleaning up of the delinquents for eight years back they are coming in and digging up in pretty good shape. They have been told every year that these tax sales would be made, but as they never have been, the people have come to believe that it is only a bluff. Now that they find that delay is at an end and they deserve credit for the effort they are now making.

SPRINGER FOR STATEHOOD.

(Springer Stockman.)
It has been the business this week of several of our citizens to sound the community on the question, and only one man asked as to his views reported his opposition as a taxpayer opposed to statehood. The feeling of the county is from reports found to be about the same. There is no state in the Union that did not prosper when it emerged from a territory to a state. Take Colorado, for example, prior to 1876 and since. Eastern capital is loathe to invest in our territory; as a state it would be different, and our yet infant industries would be developed by outside capital as well as home that is lying idle. Signatures of taxpayers regardless of political affiliations prove the sentiment of this community in the matter in the face of arguments to the contrary. By the published list of taxpayers signing in favor of statehood it is seen that the letter to congress by two gentlemen is not the feeling of the taxpayers (an impression formed throughout the territory), but a statement that has misled many to believe the situation is other than it really is in fact.

ABSOLUTELY TRUE.

(Albuquerque Citizen.)
The Democratic party of New Mexico has always pulled back against any public enterprise.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at Fischer & Co's drug store.

Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S., and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely, building up my health and increasing my appetite. Although this was ten years ago, I have never yet had a sign of the disease to return.

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury; besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

New Mexico Wage Earners Save Their Earnings.

(Railway Age.)

In a plea for New Mexico's admission to statehood, by R. E. Twitchell, which has been issued in pamphlet form by the New Mexican Printing Company of Santa Fe, N. M., an interesting analysis of the deposits in the banks of the state is given to show why New Mexico has been, and is, in favor of the gold standard. It appears that, of the total deposits of $5,030,925, about 28 per cent, or $1,277,411, is deposited to the credit of "laborers and wage earners," as against only 6 1/2 per cent deposited by "capitalists," and only 2.3 per cent by "miners." It is the preponderating power of the wage earner—the great stake which that class has in the welfare of the community—as compared with any other class—that has made and kept New Mexico conservative in politics and sound in financial doctrine. It further appears that, of the total deposits of laborers and wage earners as given above, 60 per cent—or about $750,000—are the deposits of railway men, of whom there are between 5,000 and 6,000 in the territory.

E. A. FISKE,

Pictures of Electricity.
The photograph of lightning is science's latest achievement. These are called "electrophotographs," and are considered of great value in the future knowledge of electricity. It is well known that a person struck by lightning bears an impression resembling a tree. The electrophotograph has proved that this is because lightning itself has a tree-like shape, which always leaves a vivid impression wherever it strikes. In this respect it is similar to the famous medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which also leaves its impression—that of health—upon every one who uses it. This great specific for all stomach ills, such as dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, malaria, kidney trouble, and all ailments which arise from impaired digestion—it will not offend the weakest stomach.

He Got It.
Tram (in a husky voice to passer-by)—Say, dad, can't you gimme de price on a drink? It's so long sence I had a drop dat I can't see a swallow in de park widout me 'troat givin' a dry rattle.

What's that for?
He takes a bite of cake and then a bite of bread—says the bread makes the cake last longer.—Detroit Free Press.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Palm Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Hermitage, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Palm Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Heard Subornation.
The reason I can't get along with my wife is that she wants to submit all our differences to arbitration.

To arbitration?
Yes, she always wants to refer disputes to her mother.—Brooklyn Life.

His Salary Went On.
You are no congressman, she cried. It all depends, he straightly replied. I've been, although you said me nay. Upon the pay-roll, quite O. K.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effective cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

A Warning to France.
France has taken forcible possession of Kwong-Chau-Wan bay.
This may be one of those cases where she'll find she's trying to Chau Wan more than she can swallow.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Reporter—But I have a pass from the general manager.
On paper?
No; a verbal one.
Show it to me.—Exchange.

If the reader of this should chance to know of any one who is subject to attacks of bilious colic he can do him no greater favor than to tell him of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It always gives prompt relief. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Uncle Sam Is It.
Miss Roxy—Where's the umbrella I gave you?
Gayboy (her fiancée)—That is it.
Miss Roxy—Nonsense! The one I gave you had a silver handle. That has no handle at all.
Gayboy—Well—er—yes, you see, you don't put the handle up for the rain; I—er—put that up for the dust.—Philadelphia Press.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
During the early part of October, 1895, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient stage. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. S. EDWARDS, Publisher of The Review, Wyand, Ill. For sale by A. C. Ireland.

Know His Business.
Who is your favorite author? Inquired the young woman who is collecting autographs.
I don't know what his name is, replied Aguinaldo, but the man who wrote, "He who fights and runs away may live to fight another day," certainly knew his business.—Washington Star.

On Mountain Heights.

Everything glittered in the early morning light—the distant Alpine peaks, the sparkling roofs of the chalets, the dew on the mountain grass.

The air was clear, the sky blue, the snow brilliant. As one breathed a sense of freshness, of purity and of life thrilled through one's whole being and tingled to the finger tips.

On the height of Dent Jaume a gun sounded, a signal enthusiastically echoed in the villages below. Dent Jaume is rarely attempted. The ascent is most perilous. The fraying, deceitful rock crumbles under the climber's feet and breaks away from his bleeding fingers. It has only been scaled four times within record. But Saxon Harvard had now done it, succeeding in the first effort that he had made. The eyes of those who were early started were centered upon the stern and jagged summit where the hero and his two guides now stood, visible only, however, to those below through a powerful glass.

High up in the heavens the early sun lit the tips of the highest peaks. Not over a patch of yellow lichen nor spot of moss could live on the barren crags, but their feldspar formation imparted to them a marvelous brilliancy, and their detritus and gravel shimmered and glittered as though they had been sprinkled with the dust of diamonds. A sense of awe and pride, the satisfaction that accompanies a great success, possessed the youthful climber. He looked around at the infinite wealth of view, at the innumerable peaks white with eternal snow, at the thousand summits of Switzerland, which appeared to arise out of a sea of clouds, flushing in their weakening and glorified by the first shafts of morning.

Since Saxon Harvard left school climbing had been his sport. He had scaled the Jungfrau, the Matterhorn, Mont Blanc and a dozen others of less renown, but this ascent of the Dent Jaume gave him a rare one, the risk of life was greater, and though the peak was not of great height, its ascent was most difficult. Then he had luck in the weather. He had never seen the world before under the influence of such a gleam.

Below him, beyond the mist and the lower world was in mist and drapery of cloud, but as he looked this planet earth seemed gradually to become born into being under his eyes. The clouds melted. Day, moment by moment, stole lower down the heights. The mountain peaks, snow-clad, began to grow up out of the gloom and mystery of the ether world. "The cathedral" emerged in silent majesty out of a disappearing cloud. Dent Noire loomed like a giant specter in the dawn. The Dent du Midi, crisp and white, stood out in the blue. Above him, beyond the mist, the multitudinous peaks of snow white mountains; immediately about him the naked rocks with their marvelous morning hues and everywhere the scintillation and glitter of the feldspar. Every cloud now vanished. The visible earth was green in the valley; the hundred chalets of the village; the winding roads, the somber gorge, the cascades foaming from the mountain sides and falling by many a cataract into the yet lingering gloom in the valley, where the main torrent pursued its turbulent course, became continually more and more distinct—a vast landscape spread beneath his vision.

From Bonaveaux a party was ascending to meet him. He discerned them ascending like a little stream of ants. Taking his ax, he chipped upon a smooth surface of the summit one name—Eva.

Then he descended. Some of his relatives then—visiting Switzerland, his father, his sisters, legitimately proud of his feat, were laboriously climbing the zigzag mountain path above Bonaveaux. With them were porters carrying luncheon baskets and some people from his hotel—people whom he had never seen before and never deigned to see again. They had organized a picnic in his honor. He was to be lionized.

As modest as he was plucky, nothing could be more disagreeable to him than to be feted. He decided to avoid this party and had organized a mountain breakfast in his honor, and, instructing his two guides to continue their descent he struck a path which led him a little way up again toward the glacier.

Skipping along as nimbly as a chamois he traversed a narrow path until he approached the Chavanne Verre. The voice was unmistakable. It was Eva's. Rounding the crag which formed one of the sides of the cavern, he saw her as she sang. She was alone, as she thought, in the stillness. She was yet more lovely when she sang. Then her whole soul was made visible upon her face. Her eyes put on the splendor of genius her complexion became transparent, and her spirit was made luminous upon her face. She looked like a nymph of the mountains in that green and lofty solitude. He was awed by this apparition of beauty. Should he speak or pass?

He listened. The melody ceased, and he entered the cavern, each to welcome the other with a juvenile shout of joy.

They talked at once and together in the glory of the morning, of the altitudes, of all that was high and noble and exalted of the aspirations of life, of its opportunities for duty. She, of his heroism, of his nobility, of his bravery and of the grandeur of a courageous life; he, of her beauty, of the loveliness of art and of the sweetness of the life of the unattained heights in the domain of thought, of ambitions that enter only the dreamland of youth.

Eva fixed upon him her great, ardent eyes. He was the hero of all her reveries and she said simply, "Everything is possible to a man who has climbed the Dent Jaume."

"Yes, Eva," he repeated as he took her hand and held it throbbing in his own scarred and swollen palm, "everything but there is a height higher than any I have attempted yet, the highest, the best, the highest altitude of all. We will climb the plane together."

"What do you speak of?" asked Eva, softly, struck by the seriousness of his tone.

"Of love, Eva," he replied. "Of the highest altitude. The height of all love."—Illustrated London News.

Thought She Could Do It.
"Yes," she said after giving the matter careful deliberation, "I believe I can return his love."
Truly, when it came to a matter of love, it seemed easier to return his love than to return his many valuable presents. At any rate it was worth trying.—Chicago Post.

THE NEW COAT.

It is Long, Slim, Trim and Very Much Respected.

I like those soft felt hats they are showing now. They are like a well worn alpaca to softness and the ability to be punched and bent in every direction and look all the more stylish for it. The color is the pearly gray so fashionable, and the texture is a band of black velvet and two or three quills, none over 10 or 12 inches long. Some of them have the quills at the side, others starting from the front and curled over the crown.

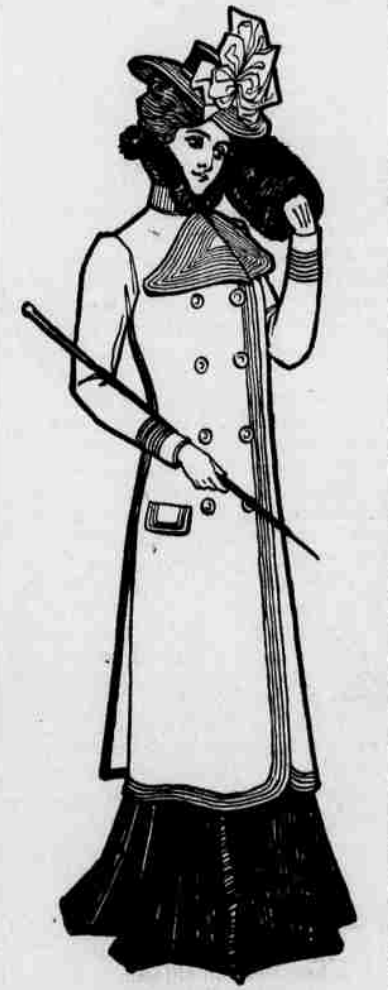

There was one I noticed with the quill just laid along the outside of the band as if it had fallen there and stuck fast. Indeed there were many ways of putting the quills on and of denting in crowns. These hats and the golfing capes go together and are seen often on Broadway and Fifth avenue than on the golf links.

These same golfing capes are among the handiest and prettiest garments for the young for runabouts. One does not always like to wear one's best tailor gown in the street, so a dark woolly stuff, a crepon or a plaid skirt, one of the soft and comfortable golf waists of colored flannel and a golf cape make a girl stylish, pretty and right up to date. One of these hats is the crowning point. The whole business has such a delightfully daring and unconventional air about it that the girls like it better and better.

The new jackets and wraps for real cold weather are now out. Collars could not be made higher without hiding the wearer's head completely. Where they are of melton, doeskin or cloth the collars and lapels are stitched in as many rows as they will hold. This makes them very stiff and stylish.

Eton jackets are stitched in fanciful designs around the waist and sleeves, and the revers and flat collar are faced with handsome fur of close pile. This collar and revers arrangement can be turned upward and then becomes a storm collar.

The pretty little short jackets are seen with and without tail suits and will be until the cold weather makes heavier garments necessary. Over them now there are worn three-quarter box coats for automobile riding. These are more comfortable than beautiful.

One of black kersey was made double breasted and had large bone buttons. Three clusters of three lines of close stitching formed the only ornament.

There is another style of coat, a long box shape, called empire. I don't know what unless it is because it looks like nothing worn during the "first empire" at all. But it is considered good form by the swell set, and that means success for it. So success to it.

It is made of fine coachman's cloth, melton, kersey and sometimes covert and even tweed, but it goes without saying that it must be in one color only and that from ivory white to drab, biscuit, mode and light tan are also suitable.

It must be long, slim, trim and stitched with black twist in bold stitches. At the sides it is open up quite half way to the waist. The collar, lapels, cuffs, pockets and side and back seams are all heavily stitched. It is lined with fancy satin. The collar is bordered with soft fur with long pile to match the color as closely as possible. A muff of the same kind of fur is in order for cold days. The illustration shows the coat. It must hang straight and smooth.

But if elegant simplicity prevails in these coats one can see enough of bewildering extravagance in the opera and ball wraps and visiting capes. Solomon in all his glory wore no such things as they are—crepe de chine in delicate tints, edged with fall after fall of rich lace, these headed by bands of seal, beaver or sable and the whole smothered around the neck with fur, lace and ribbon.

And don't think there isn't a sumptuous lining of silk founced and founced again with chiffon. I would be afraid to ask the price of these. As I fear my weak heart would not stand the shock.

Certainly there are cheaper and, to my mind, far daintier things than these in the way of wraps, but we rather like to hear about these, after all.

"I have long thought it my duty to write you a few lines to let you know what Dr.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. Euphemia Falconer, of Trenton, N. J. "I am twenty-seven years old, have been married ten years, I am the mother of four children. My first two boys were still-born, and I suffered everything but death."

"I was a nervous, thin, and feeble creature, and I could not increase my weight. I was reduced to 105 pounds. When I was three months along for my third child, I was taken with hemorrhage or flooding and came near having my life. I now weigh 165 pounds and when I begin to feel badly I take 'Favorite Prescription' which always helps me. I always tell my neighbors what helps me and a good many have taken your 'Favorite Prescription' with good results."

The "Favorite Prescription" has cured more women than all other medicines for women combined. It is the only preparation of its sort devised by a regularly graduated physician—a skilled and experienced specialist in the diseases of women.

Other medicines are sometimes sold on the plea that they are "just as good as the 'Favorite Prescription'." Don't believe it. Don't be imposed upon. Counterfeits are never as good as the genuine.

Over 250,000 women have endorsed "Favorite Prescription." They say there is nothing "just as good" and they know. Would you rather have the say-so of one dealer who makes an extra profit on the substitute, than the provable words of 250,000 women whose only object in recommending the "Favorite Prescription" is their desire to help their suffering sisters?

Reformation and Marriage.

He's a bigamist, we urged. I shall marry him to reform him! replied the girl, steadfastly.

Here we burst into derisive laughter. Reform a bigamist by marrying him? we exclaimed.

A bigamist is as likely to be reformed that way as anybody! said the girl, with quiet dignity.

Ah, perhaps she was right, after all.—Detroit Journal.

Bluff Called.

Mr. Bender—Marcha, last night it was so cold that my breath froze every time I breathed.

Mrs. Bender—Your breath froze? Pretty good story William, but it will hardly pass muster.

Mr. Bender—Why not, Marcha?

Mrs. Bender—Because alcohol never freezes.—Chicago News.

cio Sena, who is teaching school at Golden, was declared vacant, and Manuel Delgado was chosen to succeed him.

The council then amended the ordinance providing for an issue of $10,000 worth of bonds for street improvements so as to leave the denomination of the bonds to the option of the purchaser, instead of fixing it at $100. It is understood that an offer had been received for the bonds, but that the intending purchaser wants to have them in denominations to suit himself. The council then adjourned.

It pays to be enterprising. The New Mexican bargain columns will help you.

THE PROBATE COURT.

Proceedings in regard to a Number of Estates.

The probate court met this forenoon at 8 o'clock, with Probate Judge J. A.
Lucero on the bench.

Action in the matter of an account of Hon. T. B. Catron vs. the estate of Anastacio Sandoval was postponed until the first Monday in March. The claim is for about $2,000.

The following final reports were approved and the administrators discharged: Estate of W. C. Hurt, Mrs.
Hurt, administrator; estate of Edward Johnson, A. L. Kendall, administrator; estate of Dolores Gallegos, Charles Wagner, administrator.

A. C. Ireland was appointed administrator of the estate of Albert Collins.
The following reports were approved:
Estate of John Quinn, by Thomas
Gwin, administrator; estate of Rev.
A. Roux, by Rev. Paul Gibbort, administrator; estate of Frank Guyot, by Vicar General A. Fourcheu.

A petition was filed by the daughters of Frank Becker, of Santa Cruz, asking that the matter of the estate of their mother, Mrs. Caroline Becker, be reopened. The probate court had, at its last session, approved the final report of the administrator, Frank Becker, and discharged him. Notice will be served upon him to show cause why the matter of the estate should not be reopened.

The petitioners, Adelaide Becker de Velarde and Amelia Becker de Bustos, allege that their father secured from them receipts for their portion of the estate, amounting to $588.40, upon fraudulent representations, and despite their frequent requests has failed to pay over that sum to them.

The final report of Valentine Modrano, guardian of his minor brothers, was approved and he was discharged.
The report of Lars Larssen, guardian of his children, was approved.

PLACES BURGLARIZED.

A Quantity of Groceries and Dry Goods
Taken.

The store of J. S. Candelario, on San Francisco street, opposite Bridge street, was last night robbed of about $100 worth of merchandise. A large show window was broken and the burglar thus gained entrance. In going out he broke the glasses in the door so that it flew as far as the middle of the street.
When Mr. Candelario entered his store this morning he found spices, sugar and other groceries strewn all over the floor.
He discovered that not only groceries had been stolen, but a quantity of dry goods. On the floor he found a piece of paper dropped by the burglar which will furnish a clue to his identity. The case was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Huber for investigation. The burglary was a bold one, as it occurred in a part of town where people are constantly passing, even at night time.

A burglar also entered the barber shop of Octaviano Archuleta, a few doors below Candelario's store. Four panes of glass in a rear window were broken.
The thief also broke the glass in a small case and took away a clock. He tried to open a drawer in which razors were kept, but merely broke off the knob without opening the drawer. About midnight the criminal tried to trade the clock for a bottle of whisky at a saloon, but refused an offer of 50 cents for the timepiece.

Constable Frank Anaya this forenoon arrested Pedro Solano at his home near the arroyo on the northern boundary of the city on suspicion of having committed the burglaries. Solano was discharged from the penitentiary only about three months ago, having served a sentence for a similar crime.

Martin Mondrango was arrested at noon on the plaza by County Jailor James Spivy, there being a suspicion against him that he assisted Solano in the burglary. Mondrango lives near Hillside avenue, and has a family.

Deputy Sheriff Huber stated this afternoon that there are about six persons implicated in the burglaries, and that he will have the whole gang arrested by morning. The evidence he has against them, he says, is conclusive, as Salano made a partial confession this forenoon.

SHOOTING AT ALBUQUERQUE.

A Shoemaker Wounded a Barber and a Scissors Grinder.

George Brown last evening at Albuquerque shot George Harris, a barber, and Louis Blair, an old scissors grinder, who happened to be in Harris' barber shop. Harris is slightly wounded in the leg, but Blair's wound may prove fatal, as the bullet entered his shoulder, passed downward, and has not yet been found. Brown is a shooter, and his wife had been fined $15 in the police court. Brown heard that Harris had said disrespectful things about his wife in connection with the case, and immediately hunted him up and took three shots at him—with a revolver with the above result.

City Marshal Thomas McMillen, of Albuquerque, went to Lamy this morning, having heard that Brown had come this way. When he arrived at Lamy he learned that Brown had been caught in the railroad yards at Albuquerque. Mr.
McMillen came on to Santa Fe to await the next train down.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Cases From Bernalillo County Occupied the Justices.

In the supreme court this forenoon
Chief Justice Mills presided, and Associate Justices McFie and Parker occupied the bench with him.

Cases No. 867, Harry D. Johnson, appellant, vs. Frank P. McClure et al.,
appellees, appeal from Bernalillo county, and No. 868, Henry Lockhart, appellant, vs. H. C. Leeds et al., appellees, appeal from the district court of Bernalillo county, were argued and submitted.

Harry Johnson, the appellant in the first case, sued on a lien of $1,500 on the new opera house at Albuquerque for his services as architect. The lower court dismissed his suit.

The second suit involves the Washington mine and land. Lockhart claims to be the owner of the mine, but the lower court decided against him.

Prisoner Brought From Raton.

Deputy Sheriff A. P. Hill, of Raton, brought Gabriel Ralley to the penitentiary last night to serve a five-year sentence for larceny of cattle. Ralley had been sentenced with the two Jones
boys, who recently broke jail at Raton, and have not been recaptured. Ralley was out under bail, and when the supreme court decided against him and the two Jones boys he delivered himself up.
