CAPTURE OF PEKIN

The Chinese Imperial Court Has Established Its New Capital at Shen Si.

SOME FIGHTING ON THE ROAD

Bengalese Troops in the Lead Because They Did Not Mind the Heat—The Japanese Were the First in the City.

London, August 18.—Admiral Bruce telegraphs the Admiralty: "Pekin was captured on August 15th. The legations are safe."

RECEIVED BY PRINCE CHING.

London, August 18.—Second edition of the Daily Telegraph publishes a dispatch from Shanghai, which says: "The allies entered Pekin unopposed, and met a friendly reception from Prince Ching. All hostile elements already have escaped from the city. The Imperial court left for Shen Si on August 11th with the Manchus. The Kausu troops have gone southwest with the object of drawing off the allies and preventing them from following up the court."

CHINESE DEMORALIZED.

New York, August 18.—The couriers report that after capturing Ho Hsi, the allied forces marched on Matou, says a special cable to the Journal and Advertiser from its correspondent at Che Foo under date of August 15th, via Shanghai, August 17th, General Tung Fuh Shiang, with a large army barred their way, but they fought him back nine miles, completely demoralizing his army, preventing it making a stand at Matou, which was taken with trifling loss. The American troops are suffering severely, many falling out of the ranks exhausted. The Chinese were preparing enormous trenches at Ho Hsi Wu, with which to flood the country, but the rapid advance of the allies surprised them before they turned in the water, and they dropped their spades and fled.

BENGALISE IN THE LEAD.

The Chinese army split into three, one retreating to Pekin, one remaining to resist the advance, and a third moving south. The allies are led in their advance by a squadron of Bengalese cavalry, big turbaned Indians who enjoy the heat from which the white men suffer. Tuesday they turned the enemy's flank, and captured many standards and bugles, killing 35, including one officer. They lost only one horse. The Japanese cavalry engaged the enemy's front at the same time, acting as infantry.

THE LEGATIONS.

The messengers from the legations are getting through the Chinese lines daily and reporting to the allied commanders. They say that the Chinese government brought strong pressure to bear on the ministers to induce them to leave the city, thus to save China the disgrace of a capture of Pekin. The British are sending up another Lyddite gun, and the Russians two more batteries. The sixth cavalry has been reinforced by Russian troops and the entire regiment has gone to the front.

RUSSIAN ATROCITIES AROUSE CHINESE.

New York, August 18.—"Russian atrocities at New Chang have excited the Chinese," says a cable to the Herald from New Chang under the date of August 11th, via Shanghai 17th, "it was reported that 15,000 Chinese are coming here determined to recapture the Chinese city at any cost and the Russians sent a torpedo boat to Port Arthur for reinforcements."

THE CAPTURE OF PEKIN.

Shanghai, August 18, 10.30 a. m.—The general attack on Pekin began on August 15th in the morning. The enemy obstinately resisted. The same evening the Japanese demolished the Chang Chang Lang and the Tong Chi gates, and entered the capital. The other armies entered by the Tong Chi gate. They sent detachments to the legations, where the ministers were found safe.

AUSTRIAN MINISTER WOUNDED.

Vienna, August 18.—The Austrian foreign office received a dispatch announcing that the Austrian acting minister at Pekin, Dr. von Roet Rosthorn, is slightly wounded.

THE NEW ORLEANS AT WU SUNG.

Washington, August 18.—The cruiser New Orleans arrived at Wu Sung, the port of Shanghai. She has on board 300 men, including 40 marines. It is understood that the British forces landed today and will be followed by the French and German landing parties. It is not expected that the Americans will land a party.

A BLOODY BATTLE.

Tokio, August 18.—General Yamaguchi wires from Pekin under the date of August 16th as follows: "The allies attacked Pekin early yesterday, opening with artillery on the eastern side. The wall was obstinately held by the enemy. The Japanese and Russians were on the north of the Tung Chow canal. The Americans and British on the south side. At nightfall the Japanese blew up two of the eastern gates of the Tartar city and entered. In the meantime the Americans and British entered the Chinese city by the Tung Pien gates. Detachments of each force were sent towards the legations. The parties met near the legations and opened communications. All the ministers and staffs were found safe. The Japanese loss was over one hundred killed, including three officers. The losses of the allies not ascertained. Four hundred Chinese were killed."

A RUSSIAN VICTORY.

London, August 18.—The following dispatch was received by the Russian war office at St. Petersburg from General Alexieff: "Port Arthur, August 13th.—General Fleischer, with a force of all arms, captured Hsi Cheng on August 12th, after three days of fighting. The Chinese loss is four hundred men and four guns. Five hundred Chinese retreated with eight guns."

A TRANSPORT ARRIVED.

Washington, August 18.—The following cablegram was received at the war department from Brigadier Barry, of General Chaffee's staff: "Taku, August 17th.—The Indiana transport arrived on August 16th.—All are well and will go to the front. Pekin was taken August 15th and the legations are safe. The Indiana carried a battalion of the 15th infantry, which was trans-shipped from the Sumner at Nagasaki."

MISSIONARIES ALL KILLED.

New York, August 18.—The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions received the following cablegram today: "Che Foo.—Definite news via Tien Tain says that the missionaries at Pao Ting Fu are all killed. (Signed) W. O. Elterich."

Elterich is the Presbyterian board's member at Che Foo. It was thought that the Presbyterian missionaries at Pao Ting Fu numbered three, and altogether there were ten foreign missionaries at that place.

AN INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENT.

Washington, D. C., August 18.—As the result of an exchange of cablegrams between the powers concerning the affairs at Shanghai an agreement has been reached by which all the admirals of the several powers represented at Shanghai will act concurrently in watching the Chinese Yangtze fleet instead of having this duty performed entirely by the British admiral at Shanghai. This Chinese Yangtze fleet consists of four cruisers and several torpedo boats and destroyers. As many transports are carrying troops to China, it has been deemed necessary to see that the Chinese warships did not attack the unprotected transports. The United States cruiser New Orleans will participate with other foreign ships there in this duty.

ARCHBISHOP CHAPPELLE'S REPORT.

It is Said That He Is Strongly in Favor of the Friars.

Washington, August 18.—Archbishop Chapelle, the apostolic delegate to the Philippines, has written to one of the pastors here that his investigation of church affairs there is about ended, and he expects to make a personal report to the pope early in November. It is not stated, however, whether his views on the retention of ecclesiastical property by the local friars coincide with those of Dr. Nozales, the archbishop of Manila, who is outspoken in their favor. For some time past there have been rumors that Dr. Chapelle is strongly in favor of the friars. Chapelle intends to spend the winter in France.

NO POLITICS.

The Typographical Union Convention Reconsiders a Political Proposition.

Milwaukee, Wis., August 18.—The International Typographical Union today reconsidered the proposition of Delegate Bandow, of Cleveland, bearing on politics, which was adopted yesterday. The measure as reconsidered was killed, the vote being two-thirds against its adoption. The proposition called for a unit of action of the International Typographical Union upon the political field and severing all members from their affiliation with all political parties of the exploiting class.

A resolution of interest to publishers throughout the country was introduced by Delegate Hays of Minneapolis, and adopted as follows: Resolved, That it is the sense of the International Typographical Union that subordinate unions should adopt conciliatory measures at all times when changing their scale of prices, and before any change is adopted, it should be submitted to all publishers who are interested. Also, that the International Typographical Union, when requested, shall allow a representative of the American newspaper publishers association to be heard on important changes of laws affecting their interests.

AN ANARCHISTIC PLOT

Fourteen Foreign Anarchists Detained at the Barge Office on a Terrible Charge.

TO MURDER THE PRESIDENT

A Conspiracy to Assassinate President McKinley Discovers in Time to Frustrate Its Aim—United States Secret Service Agents at Work.

New York, Aug. 18.—The Evening World today prints the following relative news received from Washington yesterday of the detention at the barge office of Notable Maresca and Michel Weida, supposed to be anarchists who arrived yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. These men are understood to have come to this country as conspirators, whose object, it is alleged, was to assassinate President McKinley. The World says: "Instead of two, a high government official informed the Evening World, 'there are fourteen anarchists under arrest and detention in the prison of the bureau of immigration, and charged with being in a conspiracy to assassinate President McKinley and have been taken singly and in pairs from incoming ocean liners within the last ten days.' The United States secret service agents learn that an anarchist circle in Naples cast its net to determine who should be the assassin. Eleven Italians and three Austrians were selected. Closely followed, they sailed from different ports. Their object was to strike individual blows at the president at the same time. That would make success sure. As fast as the men arrived, the secret service agents, disguised as emigrants, went among them and they were arrested."

A DIABOLICAL PLAN.

New York, August 18.—As far as is known, according to the Evening World, the plan was for each man to proceed to Washington on a certain day, surround the president and await an opportunity to strike. The blow was to be by pistol and knife. One, it was certain, would be successful. The question of escape was not considered, the men being willing to sacrifice their lives for their principles.

TYPICAL ANARCHISTS.

Chief Hazen refused to give the technical charge on which Maresca and Weida are detained. He said that Maresca is a typical anarchist. A number of papers in Italian were found on the two men and turned over to Commissioner Fitch. No weapons were found.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The ceremony of officially announcing the awards made to exhibitors at the Paris exposition took place this afternoon. It was not less magnificent in pomp than the ceremony attending the formal opening of the exposition. The announcement of awards occurred in the Salles des Fetes, which was extravagantly decorated. Fifteen thousand persons attended the exercises. President Loubet presided, and all the officials of Paris were present. President Loubet thanked all the participants for the aid they have given in making the exposition a success.

Las Vegas Notes.

Serafin Polanco, a native of Italy, who came to this territory 40 years ago, died at Las Vegas. He was aged 85 years. Albert Harvey was married to Miss Young, daughter of Abraham Young, two months ago, the fact having just been announced.

The streets in East Las Vegas are to be labeled and the houses numbered preparatory to introducing the free delivery system.

Las Vegas people are urging the settlement of the Las Vegas grant matter. It is argued that as soon as that is settled 25,000 acres around the city will be put under irrigation and the 55,000 to 57,000 sent away every month for eggs, butter and poultry will remain at home. It is believed that the cultivation of the land in question will give employment to 3,000 or 3,500 people.

AN ELABORATE REPORT.

The report of Walter McMillan, the superintendent and agent in charge of the Mescalero Apache Indian reservation, in Otero county, has been received at the Interior department at Washington. It was an exhibition at the office of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs as one of the most elaborate and newest reports of the kind ever received by the department. In addition to the hundred or more typewritten pages, there are no less than fifty photographs of scenes on the reservation, which are made part of the report. There are many expert photographers in the employ of the government, and they declare that the work in the report equaled anything that has come to their attention.

The reservation is situated in the southeastern portion of New Mexico, and in describing the conditions existing at this time, the superintendent has made liberal references to the photographs. He recommends that the reservation should not be opened to settlement, nor should mineral entries be allowed. He points out that in the section which has already been opened the land has been denuded of its timber, but not improved, nor have the homesteads been given up. He says that the mineral does not exist in paying quantities in any part of the reservation, and he also points out that the destruction of the timber will result in a lack of rainfall. In this contention he gives facts, dates and figures, supported by photographs taken at different times.

The report shows that the Indians have located ranches in the watered valleys of the reservation as follows: Tularosa, thirty-four ranches and school farm of 200 acres; Silver Springs, fourteen ranches; Elk Springs, thirty-six ranches; Nogal, five ranches; Carrizozo, nine ranches. There are eight scattering ranches and three more in the Rinconada.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

John H. Walker and 7-Year Old Son Had a Terrible Mishap Near Cerrillos Yesterday Afternoon.

MR. WALKER IS HORRIBLY BURNED

John H. Walker, the well known deputy United States mineral surveyor, was terribly hurt by a stroke of lightning yesterday afternoon. He is prostrate at his home today, blind, deaf, and horribly burned, if not fatally injured or maimed for life. In another room, tenderly watched over by his grandmother, is his little son, Douglass, aged seven years, unable to open his eyes.

It all happened about two o'clock yesterday afternoon while Mr. Walker and his two assistants, Clay and Joseph Davis, sons of Capt. H. M. Davis, were engaged in surveying some mining claims in the Cerrillos district a few hundred yards from Michael O'Neill's cabin. A heavy black cloud hung above them and there was considerable thunder and lightning and a sprinkle of rain. Mr. Walker had his transit in position and had just signalled Clay Davis, his flagman, who was a hundred yards distant, when a blinding flash of lightning struck him in the forehead. He fell back unconscious. Every vestige of clothing was stripped from his body, save only the waistband of his under-drawers, and most of it was burnt up instantaneously. The deadly current seems to have passed down the front of his body, burning his mouth, his face, and passing down both legs, rippling open both shoes and his socks with such force that they fell from his feet. Little Douglass was standing about ten feet away and was also knocked violently to the ground, unconscious and blinded. Joseph Davis was standing some distance away and was only slightly shocked. The transit was only slightly damaged.

As quickly as they could recover and realize what had happened, the Davis boys lifted the weightless lifeless forms of father and son, and conveyed them to O'Neill's cabin where water was applied to their bodies and everything possible done awaiting the coming of Dr. Palmer, a messenger having at once been dispatched to summon him from Cerrillos and telephone Addison Walker at Santa Fe. Dr. Palmer attended the cases until seven o'clock last evening, when A. Walker and a physician from here arrived on the scene and made arrangements to bring them in. They reached the Walker home at two o'clock this morning and from that time A. Walker has been constantly at his brother's bedside. Mr. Walker rallied somewhat this morning and regained consciousness, but he is so severely burned about the body and limbs and suffers such pain in his head that it is at this time scarcely possible to state how his injuries may terminate. He is at this time able to articulate and rationally talk a little, but is both deaf and blind. His father, Hon. J. H. Walker, of Raton, has been sent for.

District Attorney R. C. Gortner and A. C. de Baca appeared for the territory, and G. A. Solignac for Garcia. County conventions must be held on or before Saturday, September 29, 1900. County committees will take proper action and call county conventions at such times and places as they may deem best before or on that date.

The chairmen and secretaries of the county conventions are earnestly requested to forward true notice of the proceedings of such names of the delegates elected to the Republican county convention to the secretary of this committee by the next mail after the call of such conventions.

Where there are no regularly organized county committees the members of this committee are authorized and directed to perform the duties of the county committee and act accordingly.
JOHN S. CLARK,
Chairman of the Republican Territorial Central Committee.
MAX FROST, Secretary.

The anti-imperialists are busily engaged fighting windmills these fine days.

Kentucky murder confessions are of almost daily occurrence and are about as true as the friendly professions of the Chinese government.

A long or short campaign in this territory matters not. The Republican nominee for delegate will be elected over the Democratic nominee.

It is never too late to mend. A life-long Democrat, 100 years old, at Mr. Vernon Hill, will vote for McKinley and Roosevelt this year.

The Kansas City Times says that a "broad-gauge conservatism" is one of the characteristics of Mr. Bryan. It is very hot in Kansas City and cool heads are evidently scarce.

It is of the greatest importance to the people of this territory that a Republican delegate to congress should be elected next November. Republican success in the coming election means statehood, and indeed speedy statehood, for New Mexico.

"Prosperity at home and prestige abroad." That's the motto, and after the Chinese get through with the present little imbroglio they will think more of American prestige and will respect this Republican motto greatly and with very good reason.

The Las Vegas Pop daily is still indulging in pipe dreams as to Democratic success in the territory this fall. It also engages in hashish imaginary directions to the Republican party what to do in the matter of offices and nominations. And that is all the good or harm it does in any direction.

Mr. Bryan wants to go "red shirted" into the White House. The consent of the governed in South Carolina, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, and North Carolina is not necessary to his election at all, but assassinating United States soldiers in the Philippine islands by rebels against the authority of the United States is gladly welcomed as a means to make votes for Mr. Bryan.

Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee, is hard at work to convince Senator Marion Butler that his recent defeat in North Carolina was brought about by the Republicans. Of course, every man, wearing a red shirt and carrying a Winchester shot gun during the recent campaign there was a Republican. No doubt of this in Senator Jones' mind.

Governor Beckham, of Kentucky, has called an extra session of the legislature to amend the Goebel election law. It is feared that its provisions are not sweeping enough, and Governor Beckham and his advisers will leave no stone unturned to make sure of the election returns in favor of Bryan in November.

Teachers themselves are asking for more stringent laws to govern the attendance at county normal institutes and for a higher grade of proficiency of the instructors in public schools. The education of the young is the most sacred duty entrusted to the state, and, above all, the territory should see to it that the public schools of New Mexico and their teaching force compare favorably with those of other states.

It speaks well for the healthfulness of the climate of New Mexico that the territory has a number of persons who claim to be centenarians. A few months ago a woman who was 102 years old died in Taos county. This week a woman over 110 years old died at Hatch, and a man who celebrated his one hundredth birthday anniversary two months ago looks hale and hearty and can be seen daily at Las Cruces taking a walk for a constitutional.

The letters of anti-imperialists to Aguinaldo, which were captured by General Funston some time ago, have been translated by the authorities at Washington, and would be sufficient to bring several of the anti-imperialist leaders to the gallows. If they lived under an administration not so lenient as the present one. They prove themselves traitors by advising Aguinaldo and his Tagals to keep on with the insurrection, and by giving moral and substantial aid to people in rebellion against the United States.

Not so long ago it was believed that China had a population of over 400,000,000, and that Peking was the largest city of the world. While no census has been taken of the Chinese, yet travelers and close geographical students maintain that China has not more than 200,000,000 people, if that many, and that Peking has not more than 750,000 inhabitants, while Canton, the most populous city in the empire, does not quite reach the 2,000,000 mark. An accurate census would probably reduce even these conservative figures. The yellow peril is not so mighty as some writers would have it appear.

The name of Captain A. B. Fall is seriously being considered by some of the Democratic bosses of New Mexico for the nomination of delegate to the 57th congress. Captain Fall has announced that he is not in sympathy with the Kansas City platform in many points. He may get the nomination anyway, as he is a stronger minded man than each and every one of the Democratic bosses in the territory. It looks as if he would make the Democracy of New Mexico dance to the tune that he composes. As far as the Republicans are concerned, nothing the Democratic bosses may do will affect the even tenor of their ways. The party in convention assembled at Santa Fe, October 3d next, will select a standard bearer who will be elected, and that is just about all there is to it.

Capitalists in London are formulating plans for a gigantic fruit garden in the Sudan. The immense area of that part of Africa is to be transformed into an orchard to supply all of Europe with the fruits that can be raised only in a hot and moist climate. France, not to be outdone by Great Britain, is reclaiming the Sahara desert by artesian wells, irrigation works and plenty of forests, and as better fruit can be raised under irrigation in a humid climate, the fruits from the Sahara will bring better prices than the Sudan fruit. In view of this it is a shame that while France is reclaiming the proverbially arid Sahara desert the United States government is doing practically nothing in the much more promising arid southwest.

A Poor Policy.

Walter McM. Lutterell, superintendent and agent in charge of the Mesquero Apache Indian reservation, in a report to the commissioner of Indian affairs opposes the throwing open the reservation to settlers. He even opposes the making of mineral entries. This position seems strange when the report also shows that the Indians have selected their allotted lands, having taken possession of the best watered and most fertile parts of the reservation for their own use. The rest of the reservation can be of little benefit to them and it would be poor policy to exclude settlers from it who would improve the land and would develop its mineral wealth if such exists. It should be recognized that reserving millions of acres of land for the exclusive use of two or three hundred Indians not only retards the growth of the districts in which the reservations are situated, but also has an influence in keeping the Indians from settling down to till the ground and to become self-supporting.

A Lesson to Americans.

In some ways China is ahead of some parts of the United States. Every boy is compelled by law to attend school a certain time of the year. Among the poorest classes, where the struggle for existence is fierce and unrelenting, among what are known as the coolie class, scarcely an individual can be found who cannot read and write, too, not haltingly and with difficulty, but freely and, so far as can be understood by the observer, accurately and understandingly. It must be remembered too that the Chinese coolie through the steady and persistent use of the straw mat of life. As soon as a piece of work is done, while waiting for a fresh job, or even standing in line waiting his turn to deposit his package, bale or cask, the coolie plays with a stick or a bit of bamboo, writing a character over and over, or studies a few characters on a bit of paper brought from a pocket. Thus the minutes of waiting are employed in the acquisition of one or more tiny bits of knowledge.

A Big Difference.

The difference in national prosperity in 1896 and 1900 is strikingly illustrated by comparing the quotations for the leading stocks on the stock market. On August 15, 1896, Atchafalpa preferred stock was quoted at 16 1/2, and today it stands at 70 1/2; Missouri Pacific stock stood at 17 1/2, while now it is quoted at 51 1/2; Union Pacific stock was 5 1/2, and today it is 59 1/2; Boston & Montana was sold at 74 1/2, and now sells at 308; Calumet was 200, now it is 740. Copper sold then for 11 cents, and today it brings 16 1/2 cents. Wool was quoted below 5 cents, while today it brings 9 to 10 cents, and would bring 15 to 16 cents a pound if it were not for an actual, although unfounded, Bryan scare. These differences in values mean a difference of millions of dollars in the wealth of the American people, and tell in dollars and cents the difference between a Democratic and Republican administration. Do the voters of this nation want values to shrink again as they would in case of Colonel Bryan's election? No sensible person would answer yes to that question.

Her Husband's Story

"My name is E. J. Sprong, and my address is 16 Bondman Block, Taos, N. M. I want to tell how thankful I am that my wife's health has been restored to her. About a year ago she caught a dreadful cold, which settled in her lungs."

chial tubes and lungs. She certainly had bronchitis, and I think consumption, too, and we despaired of her life. She had a tightness and soreness in the chest, and it was difficult for her to breathe. There were darting, sharp, dull and heavy pains, with constant coughing and expectoration. Each day she was worse than the day before. I was advised to get Acker's English Remedy, and did so, but my wife only shook her head and said: "Another dollar thrown away." She took the Remedy, however, and said the effect was magical. In less than an hour there was a remarkable change. She got better at once, and in a short time she was entirely well and strong again. The cure was permanent and there has been no relapse. I don't know what Acker's English Remedy is made of, but I am sure it contains something that fortifies the system against future attacks. My wife is in better general health now than ever, and you can't imagine how happy she is for her recovery. She tells everybody about Acker's English Remedy, and so do I, for I believe it to be our duty to the public to help every sufferer who has throat and lung troubles. My neighbors say it is a sure specific for croup, and has saved the lives of hundreds of little ones around in this vicinity alone."

POLITICS IN NEW MEXICO.

Republican Enthusiasm and Republican Strength Growing Steadily.
(Omaha World Herald.)

Judge Ben S. Baker returned Thursday from an extended visit in New Mexico, and cheerfully takes it upon himself to wipe out some unfavorable impressions that have prevailed concerning the climate of that territory. A great deal has been written concerning the heat of that section, and one celebrated writer has declared that Pluto's throne was erected just half a mile from the territory.

"While away I visited Las Vegas Hot Springs and Santa Fe," said Judge Baker. "I know the general impression in regard to New Mexico is that it is hotter than comfort demands, but the facts are that Las Vegas and Santa Fe are simply delightful as to climate. A person never suffers with the heat in the least, either day or night, and the climate is healthful and most pleasant at all times. In addition to this, the people are very hospitable and congenial."

"While I was at Las Vegas their Republican club, known as the Hammer and Tongs Club, prevailed upon me to give them a political talk, which I did, appearing in company with Ex-Governor Prince. The opera house was well filled, and there seemed to be a great degree of Republican enthusiasm and Republican growth in that vicinity. Four years ago they were able to secure but eleven singers to a membership roll for a McKinley and Hobart club, but this year they have formed a McKinley and Roosevelt club of over 300 registered members. There seems to be but little doubt that Hon. Sol Luna will be nominated by the Republicans as delegate to congress, and his election, if he is nominated, is conceded by the Democrats."

THE HALF CENT.

A movement is on foot to put a one-half cent coin in general use in the United States. Several suggestions have been made to the government, and a document was presented, signed by the heads of the big department stores in the various large cities throughout the country, showing the needs for this money in making change. Progress finds many methods of improvement, but for half a century past, in spite of many imitations, nothing has arisen to equal Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the greatest benefactor of the human race has ever known. This medicine cures constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness and sleeplessness, also prevents malaria, fever and ague. Be sure to get the genuine with our Private Revenue Stamp over the neck of the bottle.

Craps.

Once upon a time there was a Purist who was always looking for a chance to lusty upon refined Linguistic Distinctions.

I wonder, quoth this Person, if it is correct to say Craps are, or Craps is? Craps are, of course, said the Dialect Novelist, in a low, tense voice.

The Purist started precisely as if stung, but confessed no comment.—Detroit Journal.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor, who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and he said 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more, and was entirely cured." For sale by A. C. Ireland.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors, but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of Pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Fischer & Co.'s drug store.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by Fischer & Co., druggists.

Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. Ireland's Pharmacy.

Also Two Girls Who Seemed to Need No Protection.

A QUARTER of a century ago, when the valleys and bottom-lands of Pennsylvania were decked in the abundant growth of timber which was nature's heritage, any self-respecting log jobber, if his attention had been directed to the desolate Kettle Creek region, would have turned up his nose disdainfully and passed on to greener fields, says a Williamsport (Pa.) correspondent of the N. Y. Sun. But the days when a contractor could choose his place of residence are practically past, and so it was that "Hank" Bellman was reduced to the extremity last fall of erecting his shanty and starting operations in the heart of the jungle-like forest overlooking Kettle Creek. The camp is situated into a little patch of clearing ground far above the mountain top. A narrow turnpike winds up to it from the highway hundreds of feet below, and beyond it, extending into the wilderness, great wastes of fallen trees, stumps and piles of hemlock bark show what the woodsman's ax has been doing all winter. Directly surrounding the shanty the trees have not all been removed, and on the frosty winter nights, when the snow hangs in great layers upon the heavy branches and the air is so crisp and keen that sound travels through it with as much precision as a shot from a megaphone, the panthers and catamounts climb up into the tall timber and wake the slumbering echoes of the forest, as well as the boys in the camp, with their wild and dismal howlings.

One of those nights came about a month ago. The panthers and wildcats yelled more furiously, it seemed, than they had done before during the winter, and added to their wailing was the voice of the north wind as it tossed the snow against the weather-beaten sides of the shanty. For that night the shanty was crowded enough for the boys. When supper was over and the storm showed no signs of abating they all gathered together in the big "lobby," which is home, club, society and Sunday school to them, and prepared to make the best of a night indoors. Now these woodmen are not the sort of men who can spend an evening over a book or enjoy themselves at any time diversion, and on this night even Jack poker had no charm for them. The fact is that they were just in the mood to listen to one of Bill Blake's stories.

"Say, Bill," said one of the woodmen, "what t'arnal cussedness ever possessed you to leave the good job you had in the Slate Run camp last fall and come up to this pesky hole?"

Bill Blake puffed contentedly at his pipe for a moment, after which he said:

"Well, mebbly I had a purty good reason, if I wanted to tell."

Then he laughed quietly. Nobody spoke, and when Bill had finally gone over the details in his own mind, he continued:

"You see I'd never have gone to the Slate Run job in the first place, but for one thing. Down at the city, where I had a lovely suit as coachman for a rich lady, I got knocked out in a love affair. You needn't grin, Shorty. I kept myself purty spick-an-shan on that job, an' if I do say it, they wa'n't many han'somer riles alingers drivin' down the pike. Wall, who the gal was don't matter, an' it hain't no one's business who the dude was 'at cut me out. I only mention the incident for the sake of explainin' why it was 'at I ever went back to the lumber business at all."

"You see, everything went sort o' contrary with me in town after that. I got sick of the whole business, an' all the time while I was drivin' them spankin' hosses through the streets my mind would keep a-runnin' back to the old camp life, where I knowed they wa'n't like to be no dudes nor no gals to play hide-an-peek with a feller's heart. So back I goes to the old Slate Run job, where I was well known an' only had to whistle to get work."

"Wall, the very first night I spent in the camp I made up my mind it wa'n't no use for me to try to get away from the gals. Right in that camp they was two as purty gals as you'd care to see—niecees of the boss' wife, I guess, a-sittin' there, they told me for their health. I found out afore I was in the camp very long 'at they was a little too healthy for that place as it was, an' you'll see purty soon what made me think so."

"The damsel started right in by flirtn' with me, an' they was so winesome 'at I forgot all about the city gal right away. I met 'em half way in the flirtn' game an' it seemed to me 'at was in clover. The other fellows was all gettin' jealous of the way the gals was shinin' 'round me; but it wa'n't exactly my fault if they wa'n't in it, so I didn't bother about that. Wall, things went on lovely for about a week, an' one night the gals says to me, they says: 'Let's go along down an' get some apples.'"

"Now the o'chard was quite a ways below the camp an' it was closed in by a big board fence about six feet high. Of course, I went. We had a jolly time goin' toward the o'chard an' the gals seemed more lovin' to me than ever. When we got there an' I seed the high fence I wanted to help the gals over, but they says: 'No, you go fast, an' then we'll board up.' So of course I went. I put a board up to the fence an' I waited there an' I didn't hear a sound from the other side."

"Yes," says I to myself, "I see what they're at; they don't want me to help 'em over after all." Then I says out loud, sort o' pleasant like: 'Oh, I thought you'd change your minds, purty dearies!' But they wa'n't no answer, an' I began to get kinder mad. I was jest startin' to look over the fence an' see what was the matter when I heard a growl behind me an' turned 'round quick. Landa o' rattlesnakes, boys, what a sight met my eyes! There was a big, ugly-lookin' cinnamon b'ar standin' under an apple tree an' a-lookin' right at me. Wall, I'll bet those beautiful locks of mine stood on end like porcupine quills. They wa'n't no use feelin' for a gun, 'cause I knowed I didn't have any, not even a jackknife or weapon of no kind. It was a leetle hot proposition then I wanted to tackle jest then, so I bade Mr. Bruin a hasty farewell an' made for the fence."

"But now, boys, come the trouble in earnest. It was an easy enough matter to get over that fence, but when it come to gettin' back, why that was a different thing. I seen I couldn't do it nohow, an' so I jest stood an' turned my back to the fence an' waited. Bruin was within three feet of me then, an' he riz up onto his hind feet an' stood thar movin' his head about in a threatenin' manner an' motionin' at me with his big, ugly paw. The moon was shinin' out bright an' clear above us, an' as he stood thar between me an' 't was one of the most skeery-lookin' sights I ever seen. He didn't appear to be nervous or disconcerted in the least, an' I made up my mind I wouldn't be nervous either. So, lookin' straight into his face an' reckonin' the distance, I picked out a spot on the big feller's jaw an' jaw give him such a kick with my big cow-hide boot 'at he yelled with pain."

"You can bet I didn't wait to see the result, but I jest took it across that o'chard as if the devil was at my heels. Lordy, how my feet did welt the ground! At last I seen a hole in the fence where a board was gone, and as I went, I reached it all right, an' was jest about half way through when I heard a shufflin' an' pantin' behind me 'at made my blood freeze up in knotty little lumps. Boys, did you ever know a b'ar could hunt? Well, I have had the fact drilled into me in a purty forcible way; for what knocked me through the fence at such a lively gait that night was nothin' more nor less than that b'ar's head. I was knocked into a heap on the outside of the fence, an' thar I laid, huggin' the ground an' shiverin' an' expectin' every second to find Bruin on top of me."

"Wall, I was purty sore when I got back to the camp, but I didn't say nothin' 'bout that an' the gals put up a nice leetle story, tellin' me how when they saw the b'ar they was so skeert they couldn't say nothin' an' jest ran back to the house. I took in everything they said, an' the next night when they ast me if I wanted to go 'long down with 'em an' explore the old mine, I was jest tickled to death to get the chance. We took an old mine lamp with us, an' when we got thar I started in ahead, carryin' the light. The old drift hadn't been worked for years, an' dirty water was drippin' from the roof an' coverin' my best coat as I groped my way in, never doubtin' 'at the gals would follow. I had only got a dozen feet or so, an' was jest turnin' 'round to see if the damsel was gettin' on all right when I stumbled over somethin' an' went sprawlin'. The light went out in the flurry an' the fust thing I knowed they was a deep growl 'at echoed through the mine an' somethin' had hold of me by the bootleg."

"It was pitch dark in the hole, but a flood of moonlight to one side told me whar the openin' was. With an awful effort I jerked my leg free an' scrambled to my feet with the intention of makin' a dash towards that flood of moonlight. Wall, I had only jest nicely got onto my feet an' turned around when I felt somethin' shoot between my legs an' tip me back. I clutched wildly in front of me an' got my hands imbedded in the shaggy hair of Bruin—for I knowed right well by this time what it was. The b'ar shot out at that drift at an almighty rapid gait, an' I didn't dare drop off for fear of buttin' my brains out against the sides, so I jest laid flat an' hugged tight, watchin' for a good chance to make a leap."

"Wal, I kin sit here now an' laugh with the rest of you, when I look back at it; but you kin bet they wa'n't no fun in it fer me jest then."

"Right outside the mouth of the drift was a little decline, an' at the bottom of it was a pool of water that was made by the leetle stream flowin' out of the mine. I was all ready, an' as soon as I seen 'at I was out in the open air again I jest all off, easy as you please, from the b'ar's back an' struck right in that pool of water. Wow! But I did get a nice duckin' an' no mistake."

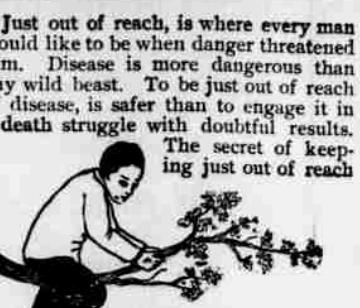

"The first thing I done was to cuss myself for bein' such a blamed fool as to drop in that water, an' then I pulled myself up onto my feet an' proceeded to look myself over. Never lettin' up on my cussin' for a minute, I meandered back to the camp an' jest sneaked in an' went to bed without sayin' nothin' to nobody. It was a leetle late when I got around the next mornin', an' I judge my surprise, fellers, when I went behind the fence an' seen one of them blamed gals feedin' an' old b'ar outen a tin pan!"

"I seen how the whole thing was in a second. Them gals had been makin' game of me all the time, an' the b'ar 'ad been makin' me so much trouble was nothin' but a tame one 'at wouldn't hurt nobody. Fust I had a notion to go in an' get my shooter an' put an end to the 'tarnal thing for spite, but I concluded it was best to curb my temper an' let it go. The fellers had all gone to work, an' I knowed if I waited until they got back they'd be onto the thing an' have an awful leg on me, so I jest got my togs together an' scratched out as quietly as I could."

"Yes, this is a lonesome, pesky hole, an' no mistake, but they ain't no dudes here nor gals to play hide-an-peek with a feller's heart an' he payin'. I'm durn glad of it."

PLAYED OUT.

Dull Headache, Pains in various parts of the body, Sinking at the pit of the stomach, Loss of appetite, Feverishness, Pimples or Sores are all positive evidences of impure blood. No matter how it became so, it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Ackers' Blood Elixir has never failed to cure Scrofulous or Syphilitic poisons or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. For sale at Fischer's drug store.

Just out of reach, is where every man would like to be when danger threatened him. Disease is more dangerous than any wild beast. To be just out of reach of disease, is safer than to engage it in a death struggle with doubtful results.

The secret of keeping just out of reach of disease is in keeping the blood pure and rich. Pure blood offers no breeding ground for disease germs. Rich blood creates a vigorous vital force to resist disease. This ideal condition of the blood is best obtained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In thousands of cases where there has been obstinate cough, bronchitis, spitting of blood, weakness or other ailments which if neglected lead on to consumption, "Golden Medical Discovery" has healed the disease and put the life just out of reach of the destroyer.

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant contained in "Golden Medical Discovery."

"After using about five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my bowels seem to be all right," writes Mr. J. W. Price of Clark, Monroe Co., Ohio. "He was very bad when I commenced to give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' The doctors claimed he had consumption and we doctored with them until he was past walking. It has been ten months since he stopped taking your medicine and he is still in good health. We are very thankful to you for saving our son."

Free. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free by Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of stamps to defray expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered edition, or 31 stamps for same edition in cloth binding.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of indigestible food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Ireland's Pharmacy.

BURNED TO THE GROUND

The Handsome Ramona School Building on Buena Vista Hill Became the Prey of Flames This Forenoon.

HOUSE AND FURNITURE INSURED

The handsome pressed brick and stone structure on the heights at the head of Gaspar avenue and known as the Ramona school building was destroyed by fire this forenoon. The fire was apparently of incendiary origin, and is said to have been started by a tramp. The main part of the building was occupied by Mr. W. H. Goebel, the hardware merchant as a family residence, and in the east wing were the headquarters of the Mesa Golf Club. Mr. Goebel is an early riser, has breakfasted about six o'clock and reaches his store before seven o'clock. Soon after he left home this morning a tramp appeared at the rear part of the house and in a rather insolent tone demanded his breakfast, observing that Mrs. Goebel was there alone with the children. Having had so many calls of the kind and not caring to encourage hobos to come about the premises since last spring when tramps set fire to the frame dormitory near by and destroyed it, Mrs. Goebel declined to give the tramp food and directed him to leave the grounds. She went into the house and looked through the window, but the visitor had so suddenly faded from view that she concluded he must have gone into the cellar. Plumber Davis arrived at the house just before eight o'clock and, at Mrs. Goebel's request, he went into the cellar, which is a large, deep and dark room beneath the main building to see if the tramp was not concealed there. Mr. Davis groped around the room without a light, but found no tramp. The plumber finished his task and departed, but Mrs. Goebel still felt quite nervous over the incident. She took the children and went to the house of a neighbor, where she was in the midst of relating the circumstances when one of the neighbor's children saw smoke in volume arising from the rear of the Ramona building and notified Mrs. Goebel of the fact. She was not greatly alarmed then, saying there was no fire in the house at all and it could not be possible that the building was burning. Hurrying home, however, she found the passage leading to the cellar in flames and the first and second floor rooms so full of stifling smoke that it was impossible to save anything beyond a scant supply of wearing apparel. The alarm was given and several persons got upon the ground and undertook to get out some of the furniture, but except two or three mattresses and a few chairs nothing was saved in the main building. The Golf Club's equipment was saved.

A twelve-inch water main runs in thirty feet of the house, but the nearest fire plug is 3,000 feet distant, so only the chemical engine had to be relied on to battle with the flames. When R. C. Huber and a force of volunteer firemen reached the scene the flames had not broken through the windows and were confined to the cellar passageway and kitchen at the rear part of the house. But after the first charge in the chemical engine had been exhausted there was no water at hand with which to connect a second charge, access to the domestic supply hydrant having been cut off by the flames. Finally the firemen secured a supply of water from the faucet in the Golf Club's room, but by that time the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to cope with it, and the handsome structure went to wreck in the presence of several hundred helpless spectators. Mr. Goebel has his household effects insured in Lankard's agency for $1,000, having added $400 insurance a few months since, after the golfers took quarters in the east wing. On the building there is $4,000 insurance, $2,000 in the Orient and as much in the Fire Assurance Company, both represented locally by S. E. Lankard. The building was erected in 1880 by the University of New Mexico corporation at a cost of $8,500 and was used as an Indian school until a few years ago when the government withdrew its support from denominational schools, this being run by the Congregationalists. At this time the American Missionary Society has under consideration a proposition to take charge of the University of New Mexico's property here, which included the Ramona building and 24 acres of land on Buena Vista hill and the Whittall hall property and establish a college here. Ex-Governor Prince is president and Wm. M. Berger secretary of the University of New Mexico corporation. As to the origin of the fire Mr. Davis statement gives further color to the theory that it was of incendiary origin, as he states that when he was repairing the plumbing in the kitchen at eight o'clock, the fire in the family range had died out.

Hewitt to his camp, going by rail to Buckman and thence by team to the canon. Some Biscuit and Cake are light, sweet and wholesome, while others are sour, heavy, bitter, unpalatable. The same flour, butter, eggs and sugar are used; what makes the difference?

It is all in the baking powder.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder always works uniformly and perfectly. It can be depended upon every time to make the food light, sweet, delicious and wholesome. This is because it is scientifically and accurately combined and contains the purest grape cream of tartar, the most healthful of all fruit acids, used for a hundred years in the finest leavening preparations.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., CHICAGO.

NOTE.—There are many alleged cream of tartar baking powders upon the market sold at lower prices, which prove, upon analysis, to be alum powders in disguise. Avoid them, as they make the food unwholesome.
