CHINESE OUTRAGES

Fifty Missionaries Were Murdered and Their Remains Thrown to the Dogs.

WOMEN BRUTALLY SLAIN

The Foreigners at Shanghai and Amoy Insist Upon Exemplary Punishment Being Administered Upon Chinese—Americans Refuse to Withdraw.

Shanghai, September 4.—The American association agreed to request Special Commissioner Rockhill to ask President McKinley not to consent to the withdrawal of American troops from Peking, to refuse to recognize the emperor dowager and Li Hung Chang and to lend his influence toward the restoration of the emperor.

SHANGHAI VIEWS.

Shanghai, September 4.—Dispatches announcing that the American government refuses to agree to the withdrawal of the troops from Peking before satisfaction for the outrages upon and losses to its subjects is given, are applauded by the entire foreign colony at Shanghai. Any other policy, according to the business men and missionaries, would be a vital blow to the prestige of the foreigners. The local English papers fiercely denounce the proposals to evacuate Peking, and say that the Chinese would interpret the evacuation as a defeat. Masses of Chinamen now believe that the Chinese arms are victorious.

The European community continues to demand the destruction of Peking and the exemplary punishment of officials, deeming the indemnity and the paper promises of new treaties as inadequate. Undoubtedly the information in detail of the massacres of foreigners daily received, inflames this sentiment.

MISSIONARIES THROWN TO THE DOGS.

The dowager empress is living in the yamen at Tai Yuan Fu, Shan Si province. Fifty missionaries have been slaughtered in that yamen under her orders, practically in the presence of the vicerey. Their bodies were thrown to the dogs.

The empress ordered the commissioner to investigate the conduct of the southern vicerey who made a compact with the foreign consuls and their degradation is expected.

HORRIBLE OUTRAGES.

No investigation of officials opposed to the foreigners has been ordered. The Associated Press representative learns from official sources the facts of the killing of several American women missionaries who were led about the country naked, repeatedly outraged and finally killed by a method too revolting to be described. Such incidents make a lenient policy unpopular in Shanghai, where all the victims had friends.

Placards appeared today in all public places exhorting foreigners to make any compromise with the government, attacking Li Hung Chang, quoting the remark to Consul General Goodnow credited to Earl Li that the "foreigners in Peking except the ministers were no account."

PEACE COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED.

London, Sept. 4.—Shanghai reports that the imperial edict issued at Tai Yuan Fu appoints Li Hung Chang, Yung Lu, Hau Tung, (tutor of the emperor) and Prince Ching commissioners to negotiate peace. According to a special dispatch from St. Petersburg in dealing with the question of Manchuria, the Russian officials repudiate any intention permanently to occupy or to annex Manchuria. The dispatch adds that the Russians will claim no territorial concessions provided the other powers refrain from so doing, and expressing a hope that the question of indemnities can be settled by the co-operation of the allied powers.

AGITATION ENDED.

Paris, Sept. 4.—The French consul at Canton under the pretext of cables that the French gunboat Comet arrived at Canton. The trip to Swatow ended the agitation against the foreigners in the region north of Kouang Tung. The consul reports that a missionary had been attacked and wounded in the district of Fat Kong, 100 kilometers from Canton.

A MESSAGE FROM CONGER.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Minister Conger has been heard from again, his last advice being dated Peking, August 30. The state department decided to make no statement of the contents of the message beyond the simple announcement that it did not mark any material change in the situation at Peking.

THE GERMANS AT PEKING.

Berlin, September 4.—An official dispatch from Taku announces the receipt of a telegram from Peking, dated August 25th, saying that the German troops have taken possession of the hill within the imperial city. The dispatch adds that two thousand additional Italian troops reached Taku.

REPORT BY GENERAL CHAFFEE.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The following dispatch was received today by the war department from General Chaffee: "Taku (no date). The written report of the operations up to the relief of the legations will be forwarded as soon as possible. Present conditions are that hostilities practically have ceased, and only occasional shots are fired from cover. A small party is repairing the telegraph line and foraging. No considerable body of Chinese troops (boxers) have been discovered here or along the line of communication."

"We hear Li Hung Chang has full power but he is not here. Will the United States keep a military force here until terms of peace are arranged? There are now in China about 5,000 effective, the sixth cavalry, light battery F of the fifth artillery, battery third, the ninth infantry, the fourteenth infantry and 1,000 marines. I think this is an ample force for the U. S. unless political reasons, not apparent to me, demand a larger force. I shall take 5,000 as the basis of my requirement for supplies. If the troops remain they must winter in tents and conical wall tents will be required, one tent to ten men. The escort wagons mentioned in dispatch of the 18th will be required immediately. I have mules for the most part shipped. No more pack trains are required, wagon transportation is best. Water is falling in the river rapidly. Must soon haul the supplies forty miles.

THE ARKANSAS ELECTION.

Little Rock, Ark., September 4.—Unofficial returns of a state election have been received from a few counties up to noon today. The indications point to a light vote. He declared that if the fight on the record of the Democratic administration were made hot enough he could win.

THE VERMONT ELECTION.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 4.—After one of the hardest campaigns in the history of Vermont politics, this state voted today for a full state ticket, two congressmen and county officers. The weather was ideal, and an unusually large vote was cast.

LETTER CARRIERS CONVE.

They Have Grievances, Too, That They Want to Have Righted.

Detroit, Mich., September 4.—The annual convention of the National Association of letter carriers began here today. The full representation is 730 delegates, of whom 600 were present. President Parsons read his annual report. The Philadelphia case, in which the carriers complained of unnecessary hardships was sustained by the department as against the postmaster, was indirectly referred to in the president's treatment of those questions. He referred to "isolated instances in which postmasters set up their personal judgment against authority, custom, etc." President Parsons advised the bringing of such cases before the department and if necessary before the president of the U. S. since he is held largely responsible by the people for the conduct of his appointees. The report of the secretary-treasurer showed receipts this year of $30,742 expenditures $30,730.

At Las Cruces there seems to be quite a lot of car and their chassis is attributed to overloading. The horses belonged to Barney Gibbs, of Pecos City, Tex. The Texas & Pacific refused to accept them and returned them to the Southern Pacific, which road promptly returned them to the Texas & Pacific.

Proxies will only be recognized if held by citizens of the same county from which delegates giving proxies were elected.

County conventions must be held on or before Saturday, September 29, 1900. County committees will take proper action and call county conventions at such times and places as they may deem best before or on that date.

The chairmen and secretaries of the county conventions are earnestly requested to forward true notice of the proceedings of such names of the delegates elected to the Republican county convention to the secretary of this committee by the next mail after the call of such conventions.

Where there are no regularly organized county committees the members of this committee are authorized and directed to perform the duties of the county committee and act accordingly.

Chairman of the Republican Territorial Central Committee.
MAX FROST, Secretary.

Of course, Jefferson Davis was elected governor of Arkansas. There are some people in that state who voted for him because they thought they were voting for the leader of the Confederacy just as some Democrats in the Blue mountains of Pennsylvania are still voting for Andrew Jackson.

Thus far there isn't a single city that has complained to the director of the census for having been credited with too many inhabitants.

The United States, which was a borrower under President Cleveland in times of piping peace, has become a lender under President McKinley despite heavy war expenses.

Talk of the building of new railroads in and through New Mexico is very brisk again. This much is certain that New Mexico needs more railroads and that they are bound to come sooner or later. The only questions are when and how.

New Mexico educational, charitable and penal institutions now have a royal domain to their credit which assures them a steady income. If some day, upon that land water is developed, New Mexico institutions will be self-supporting in a very liberal manner.

Omaha has a companion in misery. Sioux City, in Iowa, only a short distance north of Omaha and on the Missouri river too, has lost 12.42 per cent in population since 1890 and now has only 33,111 inhabitants. Other Missouri river towns are now looking forward with some trepidation to the census returns still to be heard from.

Figures often tell a story better than many words. The following official table of the value of exports since 1890 tell a tale that every one can read:

1890 (Harrison)	$ 85,203,878
1891 (Harrison)	1,015,742,001
1892 (Harrison)	800,293,405
1893 (Cleveland)	663,307,599
1894 (Cleveland)	1,082,007,603
1895 (McKinley)	1,210,394,905
1896 (McKinley)	1,258,911,221
1897 (McKinley)	1,370,463,921

Simultaneously with the commencement of the campaign in Kentucky a new outbreak of rebels in the Philippines is reported. Thus far the Philippine disturbance has cost the most blood but there is no telling before the votes are counted, but that Kentucky will ask for that distinction. Elections in Kentucky always are more or less interesting.

The decline in the price of lambs and wool is a foretaste of what will happen if Colonel Bryan is elected president. While prices are double of those under the Cleveland regime yet they show a decline owing to the fear that there may be a change of administration and with it a change of policy. If the anticipation has such an effect, what would the realization of those fears do?

The United States government takes pretty good care of its wards in this territory, the Pueblos and the Apaches. It not only provides schools for them, but it also helps them along in a material way. As long as the government does not deem the people of New Mexico fit to take statehood so long it should deal as liberally with them as it does with the Indians. That this is not done is apparent and is certainly an injustice which can be redeemed only by giving New Mexico statehood at the next session of congress.

Every day the truth is illustrated that a healthseeker who has regained his health in New Mexico should make the territory his permanent home. To go back to the old home in the east is to extend an invitation to consumption to take possession of the body again, and a second attack is generally hopeless even in New Mexico climate. Even a prolonged visit to the damp, bacteria laden air of the east may prove dangerous. There are exceptions, of course, but those exceptions only serve to prove the rule.

The New York Republicans have nominated a strong state ticket. All differences have been put aside, and that means that both the Republican state ticket and the electoral ticket will be elected in November. The Republicans of New York maintain a strong party organization and when election day comes around they, of late, manage to bury all personal differences. That always means victory for them. It also means victory for the Republicans in other states where the same principle of fighting out differences within party ranks and presenting a strong front to the common enemy prevails.

President Grant suggested a method for an educational qualification for voters which is again compelling some attention. He said in a message to congress in 1875: "Make education compulsory so far as to deprive all persons who cannot read and write from becoming voters after the year 1890, disfranchising none, however, who may be voters at the time this amendment takes effect." That would have given fifteen years time to those who cast their first vote in 1890 to learn to read and write and at the same time would have disfranchised no voter up to that date, whose early education had been neglected.

The workman who is dissatisfied with the present state of prosperity reigning in this country and desires to change it by voting for the Bryan ticket, should compare the wages he receives with the wages paid laboring men and mechanics in Great Britain. The average pay of all workmen on the English railways, from passenger porters to managers is only $6.10 per week. Out of 250,000 employees, fewer than 10,000 receive over $10 per week, while nearly half receive less than $5 a week. The average wage per hour for locomotive engineers is less than 16 cents an hour and for firemen less than 9 cents an hour. The wages of engineers are considered high when they run up to $12.50 per week.

New Mexico is getting a good deal of free advertising out of the cliff dwellings. The big daily papers of the country are publishing illustrated articles on the subject and the magazines are discussing it. This means that scores of people will come to New Mexico next season to visit and view these wonderful prehistoric remains. New Mexico people should post themselves on their peculiarities, their probably history and the theories advanced concerning them. Let it not be said that New Mexico people do not know of and do not appreciate the wonders at their very door.

The demand made by some fire eaters that Pekin be destroyed and razed to the ground should not be heeded. It is not the city that has brought on the present trouble but a few high in the councils of the imperial family who are responsible and to whom the destruction of Pekin would be of far less concern than to the misguided populace. To destroy Pekin for the outrages committed there would be on par with destroying American cities for the race riots that occur occasionally or for unjustifiable lynchings which are a frequent happening. The practice of destroying and razing to the ground large cities for the wickedness of some of their inhabitants may have been in the days of Sodom and Gomorrah, but the custom is not in accord with modern civilization.

The South African republic is no more, and in its place the state of Transvaal has been added to the British dominion in South Africa. Paul Kruger should have foreseen this, for there were enough prophets to tell him. Had he given in to British demands the republic would have been saved and the lives of thousands of brave men would have been spared. War should be only the last resort on part of a weaker nation. Instead of being precipitated to right trivial grievances. The fate of the Transvaal republic and the Orange Free state is deplorable but it was inevitable after the republics had struck the first blow that brought on the war that annihilated them.

Colonel Twitchell Not a Candidate

The New Mexican is in receipt of a letter from Col. R. E. Twitchell, in which he says that he is in no sense a candidate for the Republican nomination for delegate, and could not accept the nomination even if the same were offered to him, which is altogether unlikely. Colonel Twitchell is working hard for the success of his party, and is looking for no reward other than the success of the party of which he is a humble member. He also says that the country of San Miguel is in better shape politically than ever in the last ten years, and that with good candidates for county offices and delegate the county will return an immense Republican majority. The opposition party has no organization in the county, and what there is of it is being run by a lot of political "has-beens" and degenerates. At the meeting of their club last Friday night there were present by actual county sixty-eight people, over one-fourth of whom were residents of the old town, while at the Hammer and Tongs the large Rosenthal hall was crowded with enthusiastic ladies and gentlemen, there being over 200 occupying chairs and many standing up. The party is handicapped in not having a daily newspaper in Las Vegas, but affairs may so shape themselves in a few days that an up-to-date morning or evening daily may make its appearance. If this happens the people who read the papers will hear something drop and no mistake. Seventy-five per cent of the support which the present daily gets comes from Republicans, and they are getting very tired of being abused by persons to whom they give a large portion of their daily bread.

Greatest of All

"Every one in San Antonio, Texas, says that Ackers' English Remedy is the greatest thing ever put up for coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup and consumption. Have been using it over four years for all forms of throat and lung troubles, and have yet to come across a case where it failed. We have four little ones in our family, and neither my wife nor I have ever lost a night's sleep because of throat troubles among the children. I guess that is more than any other family can say. Ackers' English Remedy is just as effective for grown-up people as for the young. It seems to go straight to the place where the trouble lies in the throat and bronchial tubes and lungs. It soothes and heals the irritated tissues, loosens up the phlegm and mucus in the breathing passages, quiets the nerves, invigorates the constitution and stops the coughing. My advice to parents is to always keep a bottle in the house. It will be a constant safeguard against croup." (Signed) F. G. ZIMMERMAN, San Antonio, Tex.

Sold at $10.00 and $15.00 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 6d. per bottle. THE CLIFF DWELLERS

An Interesting Visit and Excavations Made in Pajarito Canon by California People.

FIFTY PIECES OF POTTERY

Some Peculiarities of the Communal Buildings—Large Artificial Reservoir Found with Big Cedar Trees Growing in the Bottom.

(Los Angeles Times.)

Northwestern New Mexico is becoming known as one of the most interesting sections of our country. For the student of history and archaeology it possesses peculiar charms. The land rises in a succession of terraces. These terraces are intersected with many deep gashes, forming narrow canyons, with walls of basalt, lava or tufa and red sandstone. The lower terrace, from a lack of water, is practically a desert, almost destitute of tree and shrub. The second terrace is of considerable extent, embracing thousands of acres, covered with pine and cedar. The third terrace is of a light, ash-colored tufa, and rises abruptly from 150 to 300 feet above the plateau. The first 100 or 150 feet is a steep slope covered with debris of volcanic ash. The next 50 or 100 feet is nearly vertical. In the soft rock thousands of cliff dwellings have been dug. The distant view shows only dark spots on the face of the gray cliffs, but on coming nearer the openings become distinct and a few show the entrance surrounded by a wall of masonry.

Of these abodes of a prehistoric people one of the largest and most interesting is found in the Pajarito canon, to the west of the Rio Grande, about thirty-five miles from Santa Fe. Dr. George L. Cole and Fay C. Cole have just returned from a two months' archaeological research in this section. They located several very large buildings, made a careful study of the buildings and mounds, and were rewarded by a fine collection of stone implements, pottery, skeletons, etc. We give our readers a brief account of their find in the Pajarito canon.

This cliff is over a mile long, and the west and south face is filled with dwellings or cave lodges, as they are sometimes called. The doors are low and narrow, the entrance must be made by stooping, sometimes by crawling on the hands and knees. These rooms are mostly circular in form, resembling the half of an egg shell, the highest point being in the center. They are from 8 to 19 feet in diameter, 5 to 7 feet high. From some of the larger rooms smaller ones lead off, entered by a narrow oval opening 3 or 4 feet high. Sometimes three or four rooms are connected by interior passages. An interesting part of these rooms is the cavities dug in the floor and covered with flat rocks. These were the granaries, bins for storing corn and seeds. In the cliff dwellings in the Verde were found similar cavities in the side walls, so carefully closed and plastered over that it was difficult to locate them. Some of these cavities were found to contain bones of children, ears of corn, and two or three varieties of beans, together with beads and other trinkets; but few relics are found in these rooms. At several points along the cliff are stairways, places for the fingers and toes, leading to the top. On the top of the cliff above the cave lodges are the remains of a large communal dwelling. This building is 325x736 feet, built on the three sides of a court, which conforms to the contour of the cliff and extends to the very edge. The walls of this, as of nearly all of the great buildings on the top of the cliff, lie north and south, and in the absence of the compass it is a matter of surprise that they should be so exact. The main court is 182x225 feet. On the west side is a large burial mound, cornering on one of the two kivas located in the court. This mound was carefully excavated by Dr. Cole's party, and a number of skeletons were taken out. These skeletons were not as well preserved as those found in the Santa Clara ruins, owing to the fact that the bottom of the mound, where they had been, was cemented, and thus held moisture. This mound was especially rich in pottery, some two or three pieces being buried with each body. Over fifty pieces of pottery were secured from it, besides several pipes and flutes. There are four passageways or hallways leading out from the court—one on the east, one on the north and two on the west side. One of those on the west side is a small arched door, the center of the main building. Around the court, as well as on the outside, the walls are double. The building was put up in pyramidal form, being two and three stories high, and must have contained from 1,200 to 1,500 rooms. There are over 600 rooms on the ground floor. These rooms are of good size, being 12, 24x14 and 24x16 feet, and 7 feet high. They were nicely plastered, sometimes tinted. In some places finger prints are found in the plaster, showing that travelers were unknown to the builders. Evidences that rooms were used for different purposes still remain. In one the inhabitants made their metal and las manas; the marks of the stone hammer are still visible on pieces in process of construction. In another they fashioned their arrows; instruments for chipping the obsidian and grooves for the polishing of the arrows were found here. In still another their musical instruments were manufactured; some finished flutes and others partly finished were secured. Another room was doubtless a sleeping apartment, another a store room, and yet another was the kitchen or living room. In the well-constructed fireplaces in this last room, half buried in ashes, were cooking vessels; some containing what seemed to be dough, others the bones of birds. It would appear as if the owners left this building unexpectedly and hurriedly, even while the meal was being prepared.

To the northwest, about 100 yards from this building, is a large reservoir, with cedar trees of considerable size growing out of the bottom, testifying to the great age of the ruins. There are also two kivas on the west. These kivas, or estufas, were council chambers and lodge rooms, places where the men assembled to discuss the affairs of the town. Some of them were used for religious purposes, others as places of social resort and lounging places for the idle. Besides the usual stone implements, such as metates, las manas, mortars, pestles, axes, hammers, knives, etc., many curious relics were found here. Among these was a phosphorescent stone, used to reproduce and represent the lightning in night dances in the kivas. Bone awls and needles, drills made of something like a flint rock, bits of basket work, cloth, strings made of a sort of hemp fiber, and from the yucca, and over fifty pieces of pottery of the more ancient type, white and black, red, with geometrical figures, were also found.

The question naturally arises who these people were who constructed such great buildings, and whence they came. A great many theories have been advanced, but the question is far from being settled. There are those who ascribe to the cliff dwellers a marvelous antiquity. Others regard them as quite modern. The truth probably lies between the two extremes.

COUNTERFEITING
Was once punishable by death in England, a fact which led a judge in passing sentence upon a man convicted of that crime to say: "I can hold out to you no mercy here, and I urge you to make preparation for another world, where I hope you may obtain that mercy which a due regard for the credit of our paper currency forbids you to hope for now." This was certainly severe, and yet counterfeiting of any nature deserves rigorous punishment. One which has occasioned much misery is the imitation of the well-known dyspepsia cure, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Don't be deceived. Santa Fe is the Natural Center of Mining Operations in New Mexico.

MINERAL ALL AROUND IT

The Golden Coochiti Within Easy Reach—Gold, Silver, Copper, Lead, Coal, Iron, Mica, Turquoise Found Within 50 Miles of Santa Fe.

The New Mexican has the satisfaction of exclusively publishing the first map showing the numerous mining districts naturally tributary to Santa Fe, N. M., ever placed before the public. It was drawn and engraved expressly for use in these columns, and will be found accurate, complete and instructive. It is deserving of careful study on the part of every one interested in the future growth and prosperity of the Capital city and the localities immediately enveloping it. Especial attention is called to it in detail.

MANY FACILITIES.
It will be observed in the first place that Santa Fe is the only city in this region that enjoys the advantages inevitably accruing from location on two competing railroad lines, the great Santa Fe system affording it direct rail communication with the east, west and south, and the Denver & Rio Grande railroad connecting it directly with northern New Mexico and Colorado and all points in the east, west and south, and thus in one important respect at least its transportation facilities are superior to those of any other city in New Mexico or Arizona. Right here it should be noted that it is located on two rival express lines reaching all parts of the country; offers a choice between two competing telegraph lines with all quarters of the globe, and is soon to be brought into close communication with all the principal cities and towns of Bernalillo, San Miguel, Mora, Colfax, Taos and Rio Arriba counties by means of projected telephone lines. It is also connected with all the tributary mining districts by an excellent system of wagon roads.

THE COCHITI.
About thirty-five miles almost due west of Santa Fe as the bird flies, in the rugged yet not lofty mountains on the other side of the swift-flowing Rio Grande, is located the famous Cochiti mining district, the great and enduring value of whose mammoth gold and silver bearing quartz ledges has been demonstrated beyond a peradventure. The mineral belt of this district is about six by seven miles in extent, and is literally riddled with parallel veins of quartz, varying in width from 5 to 50 feet, that all carry values in the precious metals. Several of these large ledges have already been extensively developed, and practically all of the ore at present being taken out yields handsome profits at the cyanide mills on the ground. The surface showing of ore is truly wonderful, and as development work proceeds mining men become more and more convinced that it is destined to prove a second Cripple Creek. This district is reached direct from Santa Fe in six hours by means of a well-equipped daily stage line or by private conveyance. The road is good. The immense resources of the district invite an early extension of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Santa Fe to Bland.

CERRILLOS DISTRICT.
It will be observed that the Cerrillos mining district is located in Santa Fe county, nearly south of this city, and is reached by railroad, as well as by good wagon roads. It is quite extensive, and remarkably varied in its mineral resources. It embraces the famous turquoise mines of Tiffany and others at Turquoise, about eighteen miles south of this city; the promising gold, silver, lead and zinc mines around Cerrillos, about twelve miles further south, and the immense anthracite and bituminous coal measures at Madrid, a mile or so further south and west.

OLD PLACER DISTRICT.
Then come the rich and extensive auriferous placer deposits and mountains of gold-bearing quartz in place in the Old Placer mining district, which embraces Dolores and the 57,000 acres of richly mineralized land known as the Ortiz mine grant. These ledges and placer deposits have been worked for several hundred years, and have yielded several million dollars in gold. The Ortiz mine grant has been sold to a powerful syndicate, headed by Thomas A. Edison, and the world-renowned inventor expects soon to demonstrate the practical utility of what he regards as the crowning invention of his life by rescuing the gold from the sand, gravel, cement and quartz of this grant by means of an electrical process of his own, and without the aid of water. The construction of his experimental plant is now well under way. After thoroughly testing the appliance the success of which is not doubted, reduction works of mammoth proportions will be constructed.

USE FOR IT.
John Hardwick—The Americans in the City of Mexico have sprung a new word. Here is a society item saying that "Champagne Charley gave a boozical last week."

Mrs. Hardwick—That's the very name for your mother's mince pies that you blow so much about.

In India, the land of famine, thousands die because they cannot obtain food. In America, the land of plenty, many suffer and die because they cannot digest the food they eat. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures all stomach troubles. Ireland's Pharmacy.

NEW PLACERS DISTRICT.

A few miles southwest of Dolores is situated the extensive New Placers mining district, which comprises the numerous rich gold and silver bearing lode claims in the hills around Golden and in the neighboring Tuerto mountains; the great gold, silver and copper mines around San Pedro, two miles further south, and several miles of pay placer ground. This district unquestionably holds values to the amount of millions of dollars, and as development work is prosecuted the showing constantly improves. Two groups of copper mines near San Pedro, known as Santa Fe No. 1 and Santa Fe No. 2, embracing sixteen patented claims, were recently transferred to the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Mining Company for a consideration estimated to be equivalent to $750,000.

COPPER AND MICA.
Northwest and north of Santa Fe, in Rio Arriba county, are deposits, where large kidneys of almost pure copper have been found on the surface, and big bodies of good copper ore are known to exist; the promising Headstone mining district east of Tierra Amarilla; the valuable mica mines west and south of Tres Piedras, now being operated by a strong Colorado Springs company; and over 1,000 acres of pay placer lands extending up the Chama river from Abiquiu, and including much of the adjacent mesa land, as well as the river bed.

TAOS COUNTY WEALTH.
East of Rio Arriba and north and northeast of Santa Fe is fruitful Taos county, which is traversed by the Santa Fe division of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, and is reached from this city by good wagon roads. In this resourceful county are found the Ojo Caliente mining district, the copper mining district east of Embudo, the Amizett gold and silver mining district east of Tres Piedras, and the cluster of rich gold districts north and northeast of Taos, known as the Rio Hondo, Keystone, La Belle and Red River districts. Further east, in Colfax county, are the profitable gold mines of the well-known Ellza-bethown and Baldy districts, and the mines near Cimarron. The mines in all these districts are undergoing systematic and extensive development work, and many of them are realizing their owners steady yellow profits at the mills and smelters.

A NEW DISTRICT.
Immediately east and northeast of Santa Fe is the Pecos river forest reservation, partly in this county and partly in San Miguel county. This reserve covers a section of the rugged Santa Fe range of mountains, in which are found many promising surface indications of gold, silver, copper, iron and coal, and it is confidently believed that the development work now in progress will soon disclose much pay material. Copper, iron, mica, and coal that burns readily, have been discovered on the surface within two or three miles of this city. A large body of fire clay of superior quality has been opened about two miles up Santa Fe canon, and it is now supplying the pottery and brick-making plant with much of the clay used. Several lode claims carrying gold quartz nearly resembling the Cochiti quartz in appearance, are being opened on the eastern slope of the Santa Fe range, about fourteen miles east of this city.

THE NATURAL CENTER.
From this brief sketch and the excellent accompanying map, it will be perceived that the capital city of New Mexico is so fortunately located that it ought to command the trade of nearly all the mining districts of the large and resourceful region indicated, besides the steadily increasing volume of business incident to its being the official and political center of the territory.

QUESTION ANSWERED.
Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of indigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Ireland's Pharmacy.

above every other medicine stands the record of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a remedy for diseases of the blood, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. The claim is made that the "Discovery" will cure ninety-eight persons in every hundred who are suffering from the diseases for which it is prescribed. That claim is based upon the actual record that it has cured ninety-eight per cent. of those who have used it, and the number of the reaches to the hundreds of thousands. Will it cure you? Try it. It is a wonderful medicine and has worked wonderful cures.

Let no dealer sell you a medicine said to be "just as good." Just as good medicines don't cure.

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 333 Walnut St., Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad that I had to lay off quite often two and three days a week, my stomach would bloot, and I would belch up gas, and was in awful distress at such times. I had been treated by the best doctors in this city but got no relief. I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint and advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' in connection. 'These medicines I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top and better than I have for ten years.'"

An Angel of Peace.
I like to hear a man speak well of his wife, she said.
Who's been doing it now? he asked.
Mr. Brown, she answered. I heard him say no man could quarrel with such a wife as his.
Oh, yes, he said. He explained that to me afterward. He says her ability to talk precludes the possibility of any man's getting in a word of a controversial nature.—Chicago Post.

Chinese are dangerous enemies, for they are treacherous. That's why all counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are dangerous. They look like DeWitt's, but instead of the all-healing witch hazen they all contain ingredients liable to irritate the skin and cause blood-poisoning. For piles, injuries and skin diseases use the original and genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Ireland's Pharmacy.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?
A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Bosch's German Syrup." It not only kills and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. THE LECTURE TONIGHT.

Professor E. L. Hewett Will Speak About the Cliff Dwellings.

The free lecture at the court house this evening at 8:30 o'clock by Professor E. L. Hewett on the prehistoric remains near Santa Fe, should be largely attended. The subject is a fascinating one and the lecturer is thoroughly conversant with it. It is a subject that is now being widely discussed in the magazines and the newspapers of the country. The Los Angeles Times last week published an illustrated article upon it that the New Mexican reproduces today. The Globe Democrat also had a full page illustrated article on the same subject on Sunday. After the lecture a class will be organized for the study of the subject.

In the case of the voluntary bankruptcy of Joseph D. Morris, of Taos county, two-thirds of the creditors met at the office of Hon. B. M. Read, U. S. commissioner of bankruptcy, and elected as trustee Higinio Romero, sheriff of Taos county. His bond was fixed at $2,000.

Plenty of Game.

There is said to be an abundance of all sorts of game in the Santa Fe mountains this season—more than at any other time in very many years. And the sportsmen are going after it early, it appears. On the day that the open season commenced, on Saturday last, Juan Romero, of Quemado, killed a fine buck "with horns" at the head of the Rio del Medio, and John Ball also shot a big fellow near the Viles ranch.

CURFEW ORDINANCE

City Council Adopted a Curfew Law at Its Session Held Last Evening.

STREET IMPROVEMENT TALK

Charges Brought Against the City Marshal—Provision Made to Feed City Prisoners, Who Will Be Compelled to Work on the Streets.

At the city council's meeting last night the street car franchise which Col. George W. Knaebel asks for in behalf of Denver capitalists was brought up again and briefly discussed and laid over for definite action by the council at an adjourned meeting to be held on Friday night next.

Upon request of the Woman's board of trade a "curfew" ordinance was passed. It is to go into effect on Saturday night next, and under its provision no children under the age limit of 15 years are permitted to be out on the public streets or plaza at night. During the months October to April the fire bell will sound the curfew at 8 o'clock each evening and at 9 o'clock during the months from April first to October. After the bell is sounded any child or youth below 15 years found upon the streets unaccompanied by parents or guardian or without a note indicating that he is on an errand for some one having authority over him, will be liable to arrest and fine.

Alderman Lankard stated that numerous complaints had been reported concerning the official conduct of the city marshal and he considered an investigation necessary. He presented a set of other charges alleging that the marshal had collected fines and failed to properly account for them, and was also derelict in other duties at respects the care and improvement of the public streets. The charges were referred to the committee on public affairs, of which Alderman John Patterson, is chairman, and it was agreed that this committee shall meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow and investigate them.

Alderman Patterson made a strong appeal for better care of the streets. He said one cause of the existing difficulty was the lack of funds to feed prisoners, and he stated that vagrants and others arrested for petty offenses had actually been turned loose without punishment for the reason that no provision was made for feeding them while in jail. Such offenders he thought ought to be detained and forced to work out their fines on the streets, and to the end that such a policy shall be inaugurated at once he moved that a certain cash balance of $50, or so much of it as is necessary, be turned over to the finance committee to be expended in providing food for prisoners who are to be made to pay their fines in street work. A resolution to this effect was adopted.
