A GREAT FLOOD OF ORATORY

Bryan Is Booked for as High as Eighteen Speeches a Day in New York.

CAMPAIGNING IN MARYLAND

Governor Roosevelt Made 14 Addresses Yesterday—He Was Frequently Interrupted—Bryan's New York Itinerary Prepared.

Kingston, N. Y., October 22.—Despite the serious strain of the numerous speeches yesterday Governor Roosevelt found his throat in excellent condition this morning. He was inclined to laugh over the numerous interruptions yesterday. He was assured that the country through which he was going to day would not produce the same kind of disorder. At 9 o'clock the train started up the Catskill mountains. Fifteen speeches will be made by the candidate. At Phoenixia Governor Roosevelt briefly referred to the fact that there were evils in the country and things that ought to be improved, but he said he would not join Bryan in trying to remedy them by destroying everything in the country. The next stop was at Shandaken.

BRYAN'S NEW YORK ITINERARY.

New York, October 23.—William J. Bryan's itinerary after he is finished with the national association of Democratic clubs on Saturday night has been prepared by the Democratic state committee. He will rest in this city on Sunday and start up the state on the New York Central railroad at 9:30 o'clock that night. He will make eighteen speeches on Monday, returning to New York for a few hours. He will start out again about midnight. On Tuesday he will make fourteen speeches.

Washington, October 23.—W. J. Bryan spent an hour and a quarter in the national capital to-day. About 1,000 people were awaiting him at the depot. He breakfasted with ex-Judge William K. Springer. At 9 o'clock Bryan was driven to the Baltimore and Ohio depot, where he made a brief speech on imperialism and civil service. About 5,000 people were massed about the depot. Bryan said: "I am not much of an admirer of that civil service which is suspended when a president is inaugurated until he can fill all offices with friends, and is extended by the president when he is about to retire, in order that he may protect his friends in office." Bryan left for Rockville, where he made the first of a series of speeches in a tour of Maryland.

CHEERS FOR ROOSEVELT.

Newburgh, N. Y., Oct. 23.—An immense crowd greeted Roosevelt's train here. This is the home of the Republican candidate for governor, B. B. Odell, and he was at the head of the crowd. Speaking took place in the court house square. When the two candidates appeared arm in arm a great cheer went up. Odell introduced Roosevelt.

THE RACE QUESTION.

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 23.—Bryan spoke here fifteen minutes to one of the largest crowds of the day and discussed all the issues of the campaign. Before leaving Huntington, Bryan's private car was decorated with the national colors. At St. Albans, Bryan devoted almost the entire attention to the race question and elaborated on an argument which he has heretofore made to the effect that the question is already made sufficiently serious by the race complications in this country.

ENTIRE POPULATION TURNED OUT.

Phoenixia, N. Y., October 23.—At West Hurley and Shokan about the entire population turned out to greet Roosevelt.

A VAIN BOAST.

Frederick, Md., October 23.—"You will hear people say that if I am elected I will not enforce the law. That is not the danger. They know that if I am elected I will put the same kind of striped clothes on the big thief that are put on the little one." This declaration was made by Bryan in his speech in this city to-day before a large crowd.

NO ENTHUSIASM FOR BRYAN.

Washington Junction, Md., October 23.—Bryan's first stopping place in Maryland was at Rockville, Montgomery county. There he addressed a fairly-sized crowd, which was only moderately demonstrative.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

The United Mine Workers Expect Its Speedy Conclusion.

Hazleton, Pa., October 23.—Around the headquarters of the United Mine Workers to-day the belief was unanimous that the end of the strike will come within a short time. President Mitchell, notwithstanding contrary reports, has set no date for the calling off of the strike. As soon as all the operators signify their willingness to pay a 15 per cent advance of wages until April 1 the national executive board will be called in session to vote on the ending of the contest.

A MEETING TO-MORROW.

Santon, Pa., October 23.—Thomas Nicholas, president of district No. 1, United Mine Workers, to-day admitted that the end of the strike is near, and that it would come in a very few days. A meeting of all district and national officers has been called for to-morrow, he said, and positive action probably will be taken, provided, however, that all coal companies guarantee a 10 per cent advance until April 1.

STRIKERS NOT LOSING GROUND.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 23.—Reports from a few collieries still in operation in this region show that the number of men at work today is not greater than last week. The mines remain heavily guarded. President Mitchell still refuses to divulge what move he will make if all the operators stop notices.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was stated that the agreement between England and Germany as to their future policy in China is especially satisfactory to this government, particularly as it is a recognition of the principles laid down in the Hay note of July 3, regarding the open door in China and maintenance of the integrity of the empire.

Stoveroff made a statement that he was hired by McAllister, Kerr, Death and Campbell to drive them with Miss Brosschler on Thursday night. They stopped at a saloon, where the girl, after drinking, became stupefied. Stoveroff said he understood she had been given knock-out drops. They placed her in a rig, where she became unconscious. They drove to the houses of two other physicians, but did not succeed in getting medical aid. The girl died. They then drove out to the place where the body was discovered and left it there.

THE FOUR CORNERS.

The Only Point in the United States Where Four Commonwealths Meet.

The Four Corners is a point marked by a huge stone monument suggesting by proper inscription that Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and Utah corner at that point.

It is the only four corners in the union, or the only points where the corners of four states meet.

SUBMERGED BY LAVA.

The point is in the midst of a large area that was at one time completely submerged by lava. So many tons of the molten rock were spewed from the volcano upon the tract that no vegetation has ever shown itself. Perfectly level, one can see for miles with no interruption to his vision whatever.

It does not appear that it would furnish a beautiful spot for a marriage altar, and yet it is the place where the Navajo lover and his dark-skinned bride are often made man and wife, and where their hearts and hopes and lives are welded, but a recent visitor to that section gives the following account of some of the ceremonies connected with a marriage celebration at that point: After the ceremony is over the invited guests of the tribe are some of them wounded and some of them prostrate from exhaustion, but still the idea of all this sacrifice is to wish that the bride and groom may enjoy one beautiful, boundless, shoreless sea of wedded bliss.

AN INDIAN WEDDING.

An Indian wedding at the four corners is different from a wedding at the Waldorf-Astoria. At the four corners it is the occasion for a dance, in which the guests become ugly, painted, writhing, howling, groaning monsters. They believe they must do penance in order for all the sins the bride and groom are liable to commit during their married life.

The god of marriage is a greedy one. They think he orders them to dance and tear their hair until death or exhaustion comes as a relief.

The bride is dressed in the copper-colored garment that nature gave her—barring a short skirt from the waist down nearly to the knees. The groom hooches the "conventional black" for a breech cloth with a lace border about it. When the ceremony begins the bride and groom stand in the center of a circle lit by the fires of a bear-flesh sacrifice. While the fumes arise from the burning animal the groom pierces his lip to show what he would do with that part of his anatomy should it ever let fall a word dishonoring his fair lady. She bows and takes him by the hand. The groom then cuts an artery in his arm, and as the blood flows from it he bathes the feet of the bride as an evidence that his blood and brain shall protect her as long as he lives.

A WEDDING MARCH.

By the light of the dim fire the bride and groom are seated beside the monument at the four corners. Around them in a barbaric circle the guests dance in breechcloths until sheer exhaustion compels them to faint and fall. After the first one has fallen the interesting portion of the dance begins. Every one becomes a maniac, and as they pass over his prostrate form they kick him and endeavor as best they can to extinguish his lamp of life forever. As a rule he soon gains consciousness, however, and is back in line again, bleeding and wounded, ready to bruise the prostrate form of some other one who falls out of the circle.

A BIG SPOUTER.

An Artesian Well at Roswell That Flows 1,800 Gallons a Minute.

The Mining Record published the picture of an artesian well recently drilled near Roswell. It says: "The flowing stream came boiling out of the 5 1/2-inch casing, and stands 24 inches above the top of the casing. The flow is estimated at from 1,400 to 1,800 gallons per minute. The rule heretofore has been to allow 100 gallons for every inch the flow stood above the casing of that size, but the flow is calculated at seventy-five gallons per inch per minute, which is believed to be accurate. When confined in an additional joint of casing it stood 12 feet 4 inches above the ground.

"The manner in which Eliza White and his crew of workmen have done this work calls attention to the fact that they have attained most satisfactory results with the Keystone driller. They work day and night, having two shifts, and usually finish a well in four, five or six days. The machine is powerful, and is equipped with heavy drills that go through anything."

The water in these wells is found in a layer of sand and gravel from 200 to 600 feet below the surface. As soon as the pipe is driven into this stratum the water rises. A number of wells have been put in, and with only a few exceptions, they all flow. This water is believed to come from the melting snow on the mountains, and percolates through the porous gravel until it finds a vent. The gravel is overlaid with a blanket of blue clay and putty-like alluvium. What is being done along the Pecos and Hondo rivers can be done in many other parts of New Mexico and western Texas, as well as other parts.

In making these wells, it is essential that the piping be carefully put in in such a way that the flow of water will be conducted to the surface. Unless this is done, the water may rise a certain distance and flow away through open crevices or dry strata of sand without appearing at the surface at all. These wells now being made in eastern New Mexico are being used not only for watering stock, but for irrigation, and form one of the cheapest known methods for getting water for this purpose. The amount of water to be obtained seems to be limited only to the number of holes put down, and wells have been put down within a few hundred feet of each other without seeming to lessen the amount of water discharged.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY.
For Vice President,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

For Delegate to the Fifty-seventh Congress of the United States, BERNARD S. RODEY, of Bernalillo County.

We favor home rule for and early admission to statehood of the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.—National Republican Platform.

McKinley will be elected, and so will Rodey, on the 6th of November next.

One of the New Mexican's maxims: "Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but being in, bear it, that the opponent will beware of thee!"

The New Mexican stands for regularity, honesty, fairness and decency in party councils and in party conventions, and will help to the line of what is right, proper and just in politics, let the chips fall where they may.

After election, and while contemplating the grand majority that will be received by Mr. Rodey, who stands for prosperity at home, prestige abroad, sound money and statehood, Mr. Rodey will have plenty of time to ask: "Why was I nominated, anyway?"

Larrazolo may be a bold speaker, but he is defeating himself by speaking too much. He shows his ignorance of territorial affairs every time he speaks. He is like the colored man who put his foot into his mouth every time he talked, his mouth was so large.

The latest canvass of the New York Herald, a supporter of Bryan for the presidency, gives McKinley a clear majority in the electoral college of 115 votes to 82. There is no doubt that there is no man who is more welcome to the people of New Mexico than McKinley.

It should be taken into consideration that McKinley has given out that he gives Bryan and himself only 189 electoral votes for certain. If he had made it 289 votes it would have pleased his associates more, and wouldn't have been more than 280 votes out of the way.

The capitalists who built the best sugar factory at Rocky Ford are turning their eyes to northern Colorado and securing data for the establishment of a factory in that part of the state. They are making contracts with farmers in that section for sugar beets to be raised next year, and are distributing the seed free of charge. If Santa Fe had an active board of trade it might persuade those capitalists to turn their eyes Santa Fe-ward.

It is the duty of every citizen throughout the territory to see to it that he is registered. There are vital interests at stake in the election on November 6, in which even New Mexico, although a territory, has a share.

General Weyer does not seem to be more popular in Spain than he is in the United States. His promotion to captain general of Madrid has so displeased the ministry that it has resigned, and great difficulty is found in forming a new ministry.

The United States is already benefiting by the British occupation of the former Boer obligatories. An order for several thousand coal trucks has been received for delivery at Cape Town, the prices of the American manufacturers being 20 per cent below those of the British firms, and the Americans being able to deliver them in just one-half the time that the British need. This is another triumph for American manufacturers, who pay better wages than the British, and are still able to undersell them. Verily, a protective tariff is a great thing.

The campaign of O. A. Larrazolo is on the point of collapse. Very little is heard of his speechmaking any more, and it would not be astonishing to have the Democratic campaign managers call him home and tell him to shut up. His brilliant oratorical powers, which were proved to be dross and a positive harm to his cause. No way the Democratic central committee can figure shows any chance of Larrazolo's election, and the fight from now on will be merely to keep down the majority of Hon. B. S. Rodey below the 3,000 mark.

The joy of achievement is one of the characteristics of the age. Many men nowadays labor not only for the wages they receive, but because they like to work. Whether it be the humblest laborer, the shrewd business man or the successful author, it is he who works for the joy of achievement as much as for the money that he receives. It is the man who counts the minutes to quitting time and who hates work, and works only because he must, who finds little real joy in life, and who is never successful in any undertaking of his.

The New Mexican does not descend to personalities in its columns; it leaves such to the Democratic-Pop. sheets and to a so-called Republican paper or two. All the capital made of personalities in this campaign our friends, the enemy, both on the Democratic side of the house and among some people who call themselves Republicans (although not such in fact), is welcome to. This paper, in its various publications, the Daily New Mexican, the Weekly New Mexican Review and El Nuevo Mexicano, is doing strong and constant work for Mr. Rodey and the Republican party. And the work is telling, and will tell successfully on November 6 next. Bernard S. Rodey and a Republican legislature will then be elected.

Hon. B. S. Rodey is making a good campaign. He is making votes wherever he stops to speak or to shake a hand. On the other hand, his opponent seems to be losing votes, judging from accounts of the meetings at which he spoke. His ability as a speaker and his talents as a man have been so exaggerated that the Democrats who hear him speak are disappointed in him. His brilliant oratorical powers consist in a redundancy of sonorous words without much reference to logic or truth, and his eloquence is merely an exaggerated form of gestures and a loud voice that may impress an ignorant man, but never a person of intelligence.

It is somewhat of a satisfaction to be assured that the anarchistic plot which resulted in the murder of King Humbert did not originate in the United States, although this country harbored the assassin previous to his deed. Americans have no love nor admiration for monarchs, but they hate still more the assassin who attacks his victim when he is helpless to defend himself. This country is a very big one, but it is not big enough to hold anarchists and assassins, and the people will countenance any measure, no matter how harsh, which will drive all men and women who believe in anarchy and assassination out of the country.

The fanatic Kurds are again massacring the Christians in Armenia. The sultan at Constantinople seems to be unable to prevent the recurrent massacres, and here is, therefore, another task for the powers similar to the Chinese trouble. Europe is being kept busy within the last three decades adjusting just such troubles in all parts of the world. It is this which has prevented a general European war, although each trouble brings complications which generally, for a time, threaten a war. It is apparent that despite the wars of late years the great nations are inclined more toward peace, and feel as nations the responsibility that they have for the welfare of people not in their immediate dominion.

To Congress He Will Go.

The voters of New Mexico are becoming aroused. They are beginning to understand clearly that Bernard S. Rodey is the man they should vote for. They see, and that also very clearly, that Larrazolo, who knows nothing about the territory, who is a temporary resident here, who has less than three years' residence in the territory, who is ignorant of the needs, wants and desires of the territory, who is an enemy of the sheep growers and wool raisers, who is not identified with the people here, is not the man for whom they should cast their ballots, and every indication is that they will not cast their suffrages for him.

On the other hand, Mr. Rodey, who is now campaigning over the territory, is making friends wherever he goes. He is winning golden opinions from all whom he meets and who listen to his speeches. He shows himself to be a good and forcible speaker, one thoroughly acquainted and identified with the people of New Mexico, their business, their efforts to better their condition and to obtain statehood, and proves himself to be in sympathy with every one of their interests. This is the kind of a man to have in congress, and such a man is Rodey, and to congress he will go.

TOO MODEST.

Hon. B. S. Rodey's Majority Will Easily Exceed 2,000.

(Albuquerque Journal-Democrat.)
The Silver City Enterprise, in its estimate of the majorities for Mr. Rodey, is altogether too conservative. It puts down Bernalillo county at only 500, and is equally moderate in its claims in most of the other counties, and yet its footings give him a majority of over 2,000. The election returns will make it necessary for the Enterprise to double its figures, at least. In Bernalillo county the usual Republican majority is about 900, but this being Mr. Rodey's home, and he being one of the most popular men in the county, reasons of a personal character will serve to swell his majority very materially. The most conservative estimates, by those who are acquainted with existing conditions, whether Democrats or Republicans, give him not less than 1,200 in this county.

The Democrats have talked so much about "trouble in the Republican party in Bernalillo county" that a number of Republicans in other parts of the territory have come to believe that there is something in it, but they may be assured once for all that such stories are absolutely untrue. There are a few so-called Republicans in the county who have regularly worked with the Democrats for eight or ten years past, and the only disaffection in the county is limited to this crowd. But there is nothing new in this; it is a very old trouble, and if all these persons vote with the Democracy they will simply vote as they have been voting for the last four elections, at least, and will therefore effect no increase of Democratic strength.

As a party man, Mr. Rodey will poll the full party vote of this county, and as a fellow-townsmen, who has always been a good neighbor and a good friend, and an upright, hard-working man, his vote in Albuquerque will be increased enough above the regular party strength, through personal reasons, to bring his majority fully up to the figures we have named.

A WORD OF PRAISE.

The Carlsbad Argus Appreciates Good Service for the Republican Party.

(Carlsbad Argus.)
The retiring chairman and secretary of the Republican territorial committee, John S. Clark and Max Frost, leave behind a record of successful management that has redounded to the interests of the party. Two years ago they piloted the vote of New Mexico into the Republican column, and by earnest and untiring labors have brought about a condition in party affairs that is most satisfactory. Their stewardship has been faithful, and the party is the beneficiary.

AGAINST LEASING PUBLIC LANDS.

Views on Western Affairs Expressed by Hon. Ringer Hermann.

"I am very strongly opposed to the leasing of public grazing lands," said Ringer Hermann, commissioner of the general land office, while at Denver. "It works an injury to the holder of smaller land, with fewer cattle, as it monopolizes large tracts of land adjoining him and cuts him off entirely. It monopolizes a big part of the public domain, which, in itself, is wrong. By this leasing of lands we would take away choice tracts that could be put to advantageous use in the agricultural line."

Mr. Hermann is en route to Washington after spending several days in the western states. Last evening he spoke at a Republican meeting at Windsor hall. To-night he leaves for Nebraska. "A question of some importance that is being discussed in the west," he resumed, "is that of allowing cattle to graze on forest reservations. The consensus of opinion is that such a system is feasible and should be allowed, so long as the natural growth in the forests is not molested. I am surprised at the condition of western forests. They are well preserved, owing principally, if not wholly, to the system of patrolling by which each ranger is held accountable for any fires in his territory. Campers are more careful about leaving embers. For the first time this fall in a third of a century one can see Shasta and such peaks from a distance. For years and years the smoke from forest fires obscured the grand peaks; now they stand out in bold relief."

"Here in the west your chief concern is the protection of mineral ground, then come the forests, and then the public extension of surveys. Land patents, mineral and agricultural, have never before been so expeditious as at present. I find there is little grumbling on that score. I am in touch with all the agents and learn from them that protests are very few, and none of them of serious moment. My trip west has been a highly satisfactory one in all respects."

Won't Win Many Votes.

(Las Vegas Republican.)
"Larry" knows that 75 per cent of the people of Old Mexico can't wear a suit of woolen clothes. They never get wages enough to pay for one, even at the cheap prices prevalent in that country. They are lucky if they get meat to eat once a month, and are forced to wear cotton shirts, cotton trousers, and the majority of the laboring men never wear any shoes at all. Wonder if he wants the laboring man of this country reduced to a similar condition? Better guess again, "Larry"; you won't win many votes when you talk of labor and labor conditions in Mexico.

They Were Overcome.

(Albuquerque Journal-Democrat.)
Mayor O. N. Marron and O. A. Larrazolo took in the Democratic convention at Gallup yesterday, and both talked long and learnedly to the benighted people out there, who believe the election of Bryan would insure free wool, lower wages and other such blessings. The convention was so completely spell-bound by the eloquence of the gentlemen that it adjourned until Tuesday without making any nominations, either to get time to recover from the effect of the addresses or to find out who would be the nominees of the Republican party Monday.

HON. MALAQUIAS MARTINEZ.

He Served His Constituency Well in the 32d and 33d Legislative Assemblies.

Hon. Malaquias Martinez is a citizen of whom Taos county is justly proud. He has served the county and the district faithfully, both in the council and in the house, and has made himself a name for honesty and ability. He has been again nominated to represent the district composed of Taos, Rio Arriba and San Juan counties in the legislative assembly.

Mr. Martinez was born in the town of Taos on December 5, 1859. He attended the public school at Taos, the Brothers' college at Mora, and several private educational institutions. After leaving Mora Mr. Martinez was a clerk and contractor in the employ of the United States government at Fort Union, and for a time was engaged in the stock business.

In 1890 he returned to Taos, and that same year took the census of Mora county. In 1893 he was elected to the office of superintendent of Taos county schools, holding that position for two years with ability and satisfaction to the people.

In the campaign of 1894 the Republicans of Taos county elected him as a representative to the thirty-first legislative assembly, but the Democrats deprived him of his seat. In 1896 he was elected on the Republican ticket to the house of the thirty-second assembly from Taos county. In 1898 Mr. Martinez was placed in the field as the candidate for the council by the Republicans of Taos, Rio Arriba and San Juan counties, and he was elected by a handsome majority. His services as a legislator and his clear record will assure his election on November 6, and there is no doubt but that he will serve the people of his district equally as faithfully in the future as he did in the past.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

It Appeals Strongly to the People of the Mesilla Valley.

(Dona Ana County Republican.)
The people of the territory in general and the Mesilla valley in particular should be in hearty accord with the Republican platform adopted at Santa Fe. It declares unequivocally for statehood, takes up the gauntlet in opposition to the Stephens bill, and favors the construction of the Elephant Butte dam. The entire platform will bear the closest analysis from critics.

An Astonishing But True Story

"My home is in Sidney, Ohio. I have been nearer death with consumption than any other living person in the world, and I want you to read this, so you time, and at the end of two years I had run into consumption. I coughed terribly, lost flesh, could not sleep, and became so dreadfully weak that I had to take to bed. In the following eighteen months I gradually reached the last stages of consumption. No less than seven physicians treated me and all gave me up saying I was incurable. I was absolutely helpless. The whole family wore themselves out caring for me. One day mother and sister came to my bedside, and said I had but a day or two more to live. Tears rolled down their cheeks as they sobbed the news. The doctors had declared I was in the last stage, and no human being could save me. I was willing to die, but before going to the cruel grave, I wanted to go out and see my dearly beloved town of Sidney once more. They told me such a thing was impossible—that I would surely die before I got back. But I insisted, and to gratify my dying wish, a carriage was fitted up with a bed of pillows, and to this I was carried and slowly driven around Court House Square. I got home more dead than alive. Through the mercy of Providence, someone brought a trial bottle of medicine said to be a consumption cure. No one imagined for an instant it was worth trying. But as a drowning person grasps at a straw, so I tried this medicine. I was better after taking two doses. Mother got more of the medicine and I took it, improving all the time. Today I am as well as any reader of this paper, and the medicine that cured me was Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. I declare before God and man that every word here printed is true."

This remarkable testimonial, on file in the office of Messrs. W. H. Hooker & Co., New York, proprietors of Dr. Acker's Celebrated English Remedy, is vouched for by them, as well as by prominent druggists of Sidney, Ohio.
Acker's English Remedy is sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee that your money will be refunded in case of failure. See ad. and get a bottle in U. S. and Canada. In England 1d., 2d., 3d., and 4d. Fischer's Drug Store.

COLDER WEATHER THAN USUAL.

A Remarkable Week from a Meteorological Standpoint.

Last week's weather differed somewhat from the usual Santa Fe weather. The temperature averaged 2 degrees a day below the normal, and the rainfall, 0.92 of an inch, was nearly three-fourths of an inch more than usual. The highest temperature was 82 degrees, on Friday afternoon, and the lowest 31 degrees, early Sunday morning, which is the lowest of the season. To-morrow promises to be more pleasant and warmer than the past few days have been.

There was a heavy frost Sunday morning, but owing to the movement of the wind and lack of humidity in the atmosphere the frost was not generally destructive, although the temperature was low enough to produce a killing frost. The chrysanthemums and sweet peas have not been injured, but the more delicate flowers, such as dahlias, nasturtiums and centaureas, were generally killed, except in places where they were quite well protected.

ALBUQUERQUE NOTES.

A Romantic Marriage—A Contract for 200,000 Pounds of Wool.

A few evenings ago, by appointment,
Miss Genevieve Dempsey left Albuquerque for Winslow, where the next morning after her arrival she was married to William Walsh, a young machinist working in the Winslow railway shops.
Walsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H.
Walsh, who reside in Albuquerque, bitterly opposed the union, especially the mother, and yesterday they publicly announced that they have disinherited their son.

The derailment of a freight engine and two cars on the Santa Fe-Pacific railroad near Albuquerque caused the delay of the western train yesterday.

The Albuquerque wool-scouring plant has contracted for 200,000 pounds of wool from the McIntosh sheep ranch at Chilili.

The mother of Rev. Bruce Kinney died at Chicago. Mrs. Kinney was a resident of Albuquerque for over a year.

A MUNICIPAL SOCIETY.

It Will Hold Its Next Meeting at Santa Fe
in January.

A municipal society for New Mexico was organized yesterday at Albuquerque.
Five cities were represented. Rat-ton sent William C. Murphy, J. J. Shee-ter and W. J. Wrigley; Las Vegas was represented by Mayor Coors, John Hill and R. C. Rankin. From Silver City came Mayor J. W. Fleming, Martin Maher and F. J. Wright. Hon. T. B. Catron was a delegate from Santa Fe, and Albuquerque had a committee present consisting of Aldermen Burkhardt, Beaver and McKee. Mayor Marron, of Albuquerque, was present.

J. J. Sheeter, of Raton, was chosen president, and F. J. Wright, of Silver City, secretary.

At the evening session, held in the office of P. F. McCanna, a committee, consisting of Messrs. T. B. Catron, W. J.
Wrigley and J. J. Sheeter, was appointed to draft resolutions. While the committee was out the other members of the conference discussed municipal matters and dwelt upon the good that could be accomplished through the medium of co-operation between the cities.
The report of the committee on resolutions advocated the securing of further legislation for cities and towns, and recommended another meeting of the conference in Santa Fe on the 23d of January. The report was adopted.

It is the aim of the society to hold frequent meetings, and by discussing laws which have proved successful in one municipality to be able to apply more able and economical methods of government.
