On Dec. 18, the Central Bank reported a US$1.255 billion reduction in the foreign debt between January and October this year. As of Oct. 31, the total was US$16.17 billion. Public sector debt dropped by nearly 13% to US$10.306 billion. In contrast, the private sector's foreign debt increased 4% over the January-October period, for a total of US$5.864 billion. Medium- and long-term loans account for 87% of Chile's total foreign debt. (Basic data from Spanish news service EFE, 12/18/91)
