IS THIS A SAMPLE OF THE ALBUQUERQUE SPIRIT GENTLEMEN?

Will Mayor Sellers and the cxcclusion committee that net this year's' sample of the spirit of the Alburquerque inhabitants? That's what we're going to ask the people of Alburquerque this year. The spirit of Alburquerque is a very fine one. The people of Alburquerque are not only fine, but they are also very generous. They have a lot of money in the city, but they still give a lot to charity. The spirit of Alburquerque is a very fine one.

PROGRESSIVES

The attempt to oust Theodore Roosevelt from the White House is being made by men who have always been friends of the president. Theodore Roosevelt is a great man, and it is his duty to remain in the White House. The attempt to oust him is a great mistake. The spirit of Alburquerque is a very fine one.

THEY'RE REDEEMED NOW

The Shape of Things to Come in the Speech of Congressman Fred Valli

The Democratic Senator from New York, Mr. Fiorello Agnes, in his speech outlining the shape of things to come in the election, said that the people had been hoodwinked by the lie that the country was in a depression. Mr. Agnes said that the people must be educated to see the truth of the matter. He pointed out that the most needed item of government was an efficient, well-organized postal system. Mr. Agnes also said that there was no need to fear war, as the country was too rich to be involved in such a disaster.

INSANITY!

Mr. Frank L. M. Healy, prominent New York public official, who is well known as a neurologist, said that the disease of insanity was on the increase. He cited the example of a man who had recently been committed to an insane asylum. The man had been a prominent citizen before his illness, but now he was a helpless and broken-down creature. Mr. Healy said that the disease could be arrested by proper treatment. In the case cited, the man had been given a drug that had been found to be effective.

The Inventions of the Old World and of America.

The invention of the old world and of America is a subject of great interest. The automatic writing machine is an invention of the old world, and has been in use for many years. The invention of the telephone is an American invention, and has revolutionized communication. The invention of the airplane is another American invention, and has opened up new fields of exploration. The invention of the automobile is another American invention, and has made travel easier and faster.

THE PRIZE WEEK

The prize week at the New York State Fair opened today, and the people are looking forward to the excitement and fun that will come with it. One of the major attractions is the prize week, which features many different events, such as horse races, rodeos, and agricultural exhibitions. The fair is a great place to spend a day with friends and family, and there are many opportunities for people to win prizes and enjoy themselves. Overall, the prize week is a wonderful event that the people of New York are looking forward to.

NO MALICE!

Mr. John H. Robertson, a prominent New York citizen, spoke out against malice and prejudice in politics. He said that political differences should be based on principles, not on personal animosity. Mr. Robertson emphasized the importance of civil discourse and the need to respect each other's opinions, even if they are different. He called for a return to the principles of democracy and the values that the country was founded on.

LOOK AT IT SQUARELY

The views of the people have been heard. It is time to take a look at the situation squarely. We are facing a crisis, and we must take action to address it. The people are demanding change, and we must listen to their voices. It is time to stop playing politics and start focusing on the needs of the people. We must work together to find solutions that will benefit everyone. The time for compromise is now, and we must act quickly to make the changes that are needed.
OLD NINER DECLARES HE IS NOT AFRAID OF WILD BEASTS

New York, Oct. 1.—The Times today carried the statement that Mr. Adams, the well-known miner, declared he was not afraid of wild beasts, and that he would go into the desert and work in the gold mines at his own risk.

Mr. Adams said: "I have been a miner for many years, and I have been in many deserts. I have seen wild beasts, and I have killed them. I have been in the desert for many months, and I have never been afraid of them. I am not afraid of wild beasts, and I am not afraid of anything."

Mr. Adams was recently in the desert, and he said he was not afraid of the wild beasts there. He said he had seen many wild beasts, and he had killed them. He said he was not afraid of them, and he would go into the desert and work in the gold mines at his own risk.

SOME REASON FOR BEING A PROGRESSIVE

Our Citizens Height

In fairness to the public, it is necessary to call attention to the following statement:
The public is aware that the public is anxious to learn whether the facts are true or not. It is not in the interests of the public to have the facts suppressed. The public has a right to know the truth.

PROGRESSIVES IN IOWA ARE BARRIED BY COURT

Legends tell us that in the past there was a war in Iowa. It is said that the war took place in a certain county. It is also said that the war was caused by the following:

1. A difference of opinion between the Republicans and the Democrats.
2. A difference of opinion between the Republicans and the Socialists.
3. A difference of opinion between the Democrats and the Socialists.

There is no question as to the cause of the war. It is a well-known fact that the war was caused by the difference of opinion between the Republicans and the Democrats.

LITIGANTS CHANGED THEIR MINDS, WITH A 1,000-FOOT EXTRAVAGANCE

They are said to have been two litigants who, after a long and costly legal battle, decided that it was more expedient to settle than to continue the suit. They agreed that the expenses would be divided equally. However, the agreement was not carried out. One of the litigants claimed that he had paid more than the other, and the other claimed that he had paid less.

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

From its early stages Catarrh is a most governing complaint, many people do not realize just how serious this disease is until it has reached the very stage of pulmonary catarrh. The nose is an avenue of entrance to the head; its function is to protect the brain. Your nose is the very foundation of the whole system of the body. It is therefore a matter of the utmost importance to check the development of diseases, which enter through the nose and cause so much discomfort and suffering. It is essential to keep the nasal passages clean and dry, to maintain a proper balance of body fluids, to eat a well-balanced diet and to avoid exposure to cold or dampness. A healthy respiratory system is essential for overall health and well-being.
